Social-Security News

Medicare payments for Rockcastle County residents totaled $211,107 in calendar year 1968, reports James Mustian, manager of the Somerset social security office. This is the local share of over $5 billion in nationwide Medicare payments in a report just compiled by the Social Security Administration. 1968 is the latest full year for which figures are complete.

Medicare is divided into two parts: hospital insurance and medical insurance, which helps pay doctors' bills and other out-of-hospital medical expenses. In Rockcastle County, hospital insurance payments to the 1,354 persons enrolled totaled $162,191. Medical insurance payments to the 1,286 persons enrolled came to $48,916.

Nationwide, 79 percent of those enrolled in medical insurance received services covered under the program. Of these, 58 percent had bills totaling more than the $50 deductible. The average Medicare payment in these cases was $180.

Mustian noted that there are still a few persons not enrolled for the medical insurance part of Medicare. Enrollment is still possible for those born after October 1, 1901, however, March 31 is the deadline for anyone born before October 1, 1902.

AREA SCHOOL GETS USE OF HOSPITAL FARM

The use it has been given of Central State Hospital's 450-acre farm, at Anchorage is expected to enable the Jefferson Area Vocational School, Jeffersontown, to provide more practical training of more students as well as expand the number of courses offered.

Stanley B. Moore, chairman-coordinator of agricultural programs at the school, said its courses are not only open to Jefferson County residents but to students and adults of Shelby, Oldham, Trimble, Bullitt, Spencer, Henry, Meade, Hardin, Nelson, Marion and Breckinridge counties.

Homemaker's Help

By: Faith N. Plummer

Getting spring and summer clothes out of storage is one of the nice things about warmer weather. But it's just as important - although not as much fun - to store winter clothes properly.

First, go through your winter wardrobe and take out those clothes you didn't wear either this past winter or the one before. Why not give these to someone who can use them or throw them away instead of using valuable storage space for them? Check all the other garments for rips, missing buttons and other needed repairs and mend them if they're worth saving. If you know hems or seams will need to be changed next fall, this is a good time to take them out - before the garment is laundered or cleaned.

Next, launder all garments that are washable. Don't starch them, for starch attracts silveryfish and crickets. There's no need to iron them, either, for this will have to be done again next fall. Clothes that need extra dry cleaning should go to the cleaners, but ask them to leave off the pressing - this, too, will have to be done when the garments come out of storage.

Dry cleaning or washing is the best way to make sure the garments are free of moths, but brushing and sunning also gets rid of moths, moth eggs and larvae - the larvae do the damage to clothes. Be sure to brush the garments thoroughly, especially in the seams, folds and pockets. And remove all spots and stains - they'll "set" during storage and be hard to remove next fall, and they also can attract insects.

Put the clothes in a chest or storage bag or wrap them in heavy wrapping paper and seal them. On each package so you'll know what it holds. For added protection against moths, you may want to spray the clean garments with a moth repellent or use "moth balls." Be sure to follow directions and observe the cautions on the container label. Remove plastic buttons, buckles and other plastic ornaments before storing the garments - and don't use plastic hangers. The plastic could cause staining or melt into the fabric, especially if the garments are stored in a warm dry place of if "moth balls" are put in with them.

Remember, too, that putting clothes in a cedar chest doesn't guarantee protection from moths. Cedar oil vapor does kill small moth larvae but not older, larger ones. And as a cedar chest gets older, there's less cedar oil vapor. A cedar chest that's several years old may give no more protection than any other six-inch container.

TRAINING SERVICES
Assistant Fire Chief John Cox, conducted a demonstration and training period for the employees of the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital on March 13.

Mr. Cox explained the use of the different types of fire extinguishers; how they work, how to use each type, kinds of fire for each to be used on, and other essentials of this type for fire fighting. A question and answer session followed the instruction period. The evacuation plan for the hospital was reviewed, with Mr. Cox explaining the reasoning behind the different things that were included in the plan. It was noted that both Cox Funeral Home and Sparks Funeral Home would make their facilities and services available for transfer of patients, in case this was necessary.

Another discussion was held with Mr. Cox providing answers to a number of questions that had arisen during the course of the meeting.

Mrs. Graves Names Red Cross Workers

Mrs. ZI Graves, Team Leader for the 1249 to Highway 80 section of the county in the Red Cross Fund Drive, has announced the appointment of several workers for this section of the county.

These workers are: Mattie Wheat, from the city limits of Mt. Vernon on 1249 and continuing to Blue Springs School; William McClure, beginning at Blue Springs School and continuing on to Gum Springs then over the Wabed Road and 1152 to intersection of 461. Anna Mae Mize will work Pongo Ridge and Bloss Road, and Ruh Pearce will begin work at Pongo and continue south to intersection of Highway 80 plus all connecting roads.

Everyone please take note of the worker in your general section and if by some chance they fail to contact you, please contact them.
"Two years ago," Mrs. Graves said, "Rockcastle County was reported to be the only county within the U.S.A. without an active chapter. Interested citizens made it active by hard-work. Now let's not let it become inactive again by our negligence. Give of time, money, and yourselves. There is no use for Rockcastle County to be last in everything."

ing man. Through his knowledge of Kentucky agriculture, we can expect many more contributions from him," Barnhart added.
Phillips holds his bachelor and master's degrees from the University of Kentucky and was graduated from Mount Vernon High School in 1944. He served as county Extension agent in Harlan and Pulaski counties from 1948 to 1951.
In 1952, he was appointed State Extension Specialist for grain crops and worked with farmers state-wide. Phillips' work in grain and no-till production have been instrumental in helping Kentucky farmers set new yield records and farm land that once was unsuited for row crops.

He was named Progressive Farmer magazine's Man of the Year in Service to Kentucky Agriculture in 1969. He received the Epsilon Sigma Phi's Meritorious Award in 1967, and was named "Specialist of the Year" in 1969 by the Kentucky Extension Specialist Association.

Phillips and his wife, Frances, formerly of Harlan county, are the parents of a son, William, and reside in Lexington.
Phillips will be replacing Garland Bastin, who has served as acting assistant director for the past year. In his new role as State Program Specialist in 4-H, Bastin will develop and coordinate 4-H agricultural projects, primarily for farm youngsters—but also for urban and suburban youth who are interested in the plant and animal sciences.

THE MAYFLOWER
 Some individuals may be referring to the ship that their ancestors came to America when they talk about the Mayflower, but flower-fanciers are talking about a creeping shrub known as the Mayflower. The real name of the shrub is Trailing Arbutus.

The Mayflower is a wild shrub which produces a beautiful and fragrant pink and white flower. This flower usually blooms in May, and this is the reason for the name, Mayflower. The Trailing Arbutus is a member of the family of Ericaceae, which includes the strawberry tree, a favorite for ornamental gardens in the southeastern section of the United States.

Just about everyone loves flowers. We do. Now is the time for you to place your floral order with us for a special arrangement for a friend or relative. Telephone your order. We deliver locally, or wire flowers.

S. H. Phillips Named Asst. Extension Director

S. H. Phillips was named Assistant Director of Co-operative Extension Service for Agriculture by the University of Kentucky's Board of Trustees today (March 10).

Phillips, a native of Conway and Wildie in Rockcastle County and former Extension Specialist in grain crops, will assume his duties as chief of the County Extension Agents for Agriculture April 1.

In this new role, he will be responsible for directing the work of the agricultural agents who are located in most of the Commonwealth's 120 counties. These agents work directly with farmers and agri-business people and last year alone made well over 600,000 contacts through educational meetings and individual consultations.

In recommending the appointment, Dr. Charles E. Barhart, dean of the College of Agriculture and director of its Extension Service, noted that Phillips' leadership in grain crops, especially no-till corn and soybean production, has gained him a state-wide and national reputation.

We in the College of Agriculture and the people of the Commonwealth are fortunate to have the services of such an outstanding

Mr. and Mrs. Charle Payne Die Tuesday, March 18

Charlie Payne, 64, and Mrs. Montie Payne, 62, both of Brodhead, passed away at their home Tuesday, March 17. Mr. Payne was born at Brodhead on August 5, 1905, the son of the late Robert and Mima Payne. Mrs. Payne was born at Ottawa on September 30, 1907, the daughter of the late John and Fannie Weaver. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

They are survived by three sons, Charles E. Payne of Pensacola, Florida, Floyd Payne and Phillip Payne, both of Indianapolis, Indiana, ten grandchildren also survive.

Mr. Payne is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Ethel Moeman, of Bardonia, and one brother, Jimmy Payne of Mt. Vernon. Mrs. Payne is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Deal of Lockland, Ohio and Mrs. Nell Simpson of Crab Orchard, and one brother, Herman Weaver of Columbus, Indiana.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday, March 19, at the Watson Funeral Home with Bro. J.B. Allen, officiating. Interment will be in the Methodist Church Cemetery.

Arrangements are by Watson Funeral Home.

There seems to be some confusion about how long the mayor, appointed by the Mt. Vernon City Council to replace resigning Mayor Clyde Linville, will hold office.

The generally accepted idea is that his appointment will be for the remainder of Mr. Linville's unexpired term which would take him through 1973.

However, Attorney Carl Clozok tells us that after checking the Kentucky Statutes covering this office, he finds that the appointee will only serve until the general election in November of this year when the Mayor's race will be put on the ballot.

So that takes care of that dispute.

Property Evaluation Administrator Robert Cromer tells us that there was $510,700 spent on new construction in Rockcastle County in 1969. According to statistics, this amount is as much percentage wise per population as the amount spent on construction in Jefferson County.

Robert Hbris of Route 1, Brodhead, tells us that vandals entering a tenant home on his property last Saturday night and damaged it extensively. Mr. Hbris said he had just $2500 to have the home remedied inside and all of this improvement was demolished.

Bombings, terrorsms, muggings, and vandalism; seems to be the order of the day across the country and it is a shame. It is getting worse all the time and the citizens seem to be any progress being made toward stopping it.

Speaking of law enforcement systems, ours in Rockcastle County doesn't seem to have been caught napping much in February anyway. Sheriff Billy Kirby reports that in February there were 81 arrests made on a variety of charges ranging from public drunkenness to selling liquor.

However, he also reports that within the last couple of weeks things have slackened off a little. Do you suppose law breakers are reforming a little or just steering clear of this area?

According to County School Superintendent Charles Parsons, schools in Rockcastle County will end on June 16; that is of course with no more days missed because of bad weather. It looked for a while Sunday night as if we might have another siege of bad winter weather.

Maybe Someone up there has finally decided that we have had more than enough

12 Accidents Reported In County In Four - Day Period

Twelve accidents occurred in Rockcastle County from Wednesday, March 11, through Sunday, March 15, according to State Police records.

Probably the most serious accident occurred Sunday about 5:30 p.m. when Nancy Carolyn Arrasmith, 29, of Walton, lost control of her car 1.7 miles south of Mt. Vernon on Interstate-75.

According to reports, Mrs. Arrasmith was traveling north on the Interstate when she lost control of her car while crossing an icy bridge, skidded and wound up in the northbound emergency lane facing south.

Mrs. Arrasmith then got out of her car and was standing about five feet in front of it when she was struck by a car driven by Gregory Lynn McKnight of Everts.

Mr. McKnight, also traveling north on the Interstate, had also lost control of his car crossing the bridge and slid onto the shoulder of the road striking Mrs. Arrasmith and continuing on and striking her car.

Mrs. Arrasmith was listed as sustaining Class A injuries. On Saturday, Robert Bryan Wood, 45, of Ft. Myers, Florida, was proceeding south on Interstate-75 when a gust of wind struck a trailer he was towing. According to police reports, Mr. Wood applied his brakes to straighten the trailer, up and the car and trailer jack-knifed. The car crossed the median and rolled over. The trailer broke loose and damaged 75 feet of guard rail.

Three passengers, in a car driven by Donald Ray Sutor, 33, of Toledo, Ohio, were injured last Friday

OTTO F. DEBOARD DIES AT LONDON

Otto F. Deboard, 57, of Brodhead, passed away at the London Hospital Saturday, March 14. He was born in Rockcastle County on July 27, 1912, the son of the late Henry and Nannie Blarton Deboard.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Cozetta Stroud of New Albany, Indiana and Mrs. Kathleen Ragins of Fredricksburg, Ohio, one son, Ivan E. Deboard of New Albany, Ind., four sisters, Mrs. Ethel Bowling of Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. Retha Moore and Grace Deboard, both of Mt. Vernon, and Mrs. Edna Hayes of Fairborn, Ohio; three brothers, Bill Deboard of Brodhead, Arthur Deboard of Dayton, Ohio, and Ely Deboard of Fairborn, Ohio, and 11 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, March 16 at the Cox Funeral Home Chapel with Bro. Homer McNew officiating. Burial was in the Deboard Family Cemetery, Watson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

when Mr. Sutor lost control of his vehicle on an icy bridge, causing his car to slide onto the median strip and roll over.

Diane Renee Sutor, 9, and Deborah Lynn Sutor, 9, both received class B injuries and three, Lee Sutor, 32, received Class A injuries.

MRS. SARAH J. COFFEY DIES MARCH 13

Mrs. Sarah J. Coffey, 73, of Oak Ridge, Tennessee, passed away at the London Hospital, March 13. She was a native of Rockcastle County, the daughter of the late William and Fleury Smith Ramsey, and a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors are two sons, Lloyd Rigby of Cottonwood, Arizona and Fred Rigby of Richmond, Indiana, one daughter, Mrs. William Davis of Oak Ridge, Tennessee; two sisters, Mrs. Mae Ballinger of Wildie and Mrs. Harriett Berry of Disputanta, one brother, Alben Ramsey of Wildie, 13 grandchildren and several great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Elmer Coffey, and one son, James Rigby.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, March 16 at the Cox Funeral Home Chapel with Bro. Homer McNew officiating. Burial was in the Deboard Family Cemetery, Watson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Elj Chastean, 34, of the Climax section, was seriously injured Tuesday when he failed to negotiate a curve on the Climax Road and crashed into a tree. Mr. Chastean was enroute to jury duty in Mt. Vernon when the accident occurred. State Police said the road was in an icy condition at the time of the accident. He was taken to the Berea Hospital and later transferred to a Lexington hospital.

A Michigan couple sustained Class A injuries early Thursday afternoon when they wrecked about 1.5 miles south of Mt. Vernon on Interstate-75. David Shecker, 55, of Madison Heights, Michigan, driver of the car, told State Police that a trailer which he was towing started weaving causing him to lose control of his car. The car slid sideways and overturned completely demolishing the trailer. Mr. Shecker's wife, Ann, 57, was a passenger in the car.

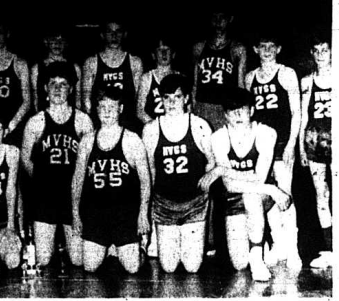

BENEFIT SHOW FOR LEAR FAMILY

A benefit show will be held Monday night, March 23 at the Combs Grand Theatre in Mt. Vernon. All proceeds will go to the Wayne Lear family who lost their home and all their possessions in a fire Sunday, March 8.

A public attack by Sen. Carroll Hubbard, Mayfield, on "the leadership abilities" of fellow Democrat, Lt. Wendell H. Ford, Owensboro, was part of "the talk of the town" this week.

First open party break during the current session of the biennial General Assembly, Hubbard's assault on the president of the Senate and possible candidate for governor, came via a statement distributed to newsmen.

It said in part:

"Although this statement is my own, I am aware that thousands of Kentucky

Democrats, including many legislators, share my views.

"As a first-term senator, I have become increasingly disappointed in the leadership abilities and foresight of Lieutenant Governor Ford.

"During the present crises-filled 1970 Kentucky General Assembly, the head of our party has come up with only two major ideas or plans."

"Ford answered in part: 'I view my job for the rest of the session at I have from the beginning: to work in behalf of things that are constructive and

Thanks Tigers

When basketball started at Brodhead for the 1969-70 season, things looked awfully dark. We had lost practically all our starters and much of our bench from the year before. The season started off with five straight losses but I kept telling myself we would improve.

Soon something developed in the team that is hard to beat, the desire to win. Never in my coaching career have I had a group of boys taken into the hearts of fans like these boys were. The fans came out everytime we played because they knew these boys would fight to the end no matter what the score.

As the season progressed, they showed signs of improvement and in February they did something that we have never done before. The team beat their three close rivals, all in the same week. These boys proved that if the desire to win is present your skills don't have to be as great. I feel the boys going to the regional tournament climaxed a good year.

I want to take this opportunity to thank my basketball team and the people who followed us so faithfully all year. A special thanks to John Hamm, my assistant, who worked as hard with these boys as I did.

Thanks Again,
Billy Riddle
Basketball Coach, BHS Tigers

in the best interest of the people of Kentucky."

"I hope Senator Hubbard will view his responsibilities in the same light."

NEA Probers
Check Kentucky Schools

It probably will be two or three weeks before the National Education Assn. (NEA) decides whether to conduct a full-scale investigation to determine if sanctions should be imposed on the Kentucky school system.

This estimate was made by Miss Martha L. Ware, an NEA associated secretary for special studies, this week as she and two other NEA representatives engaged in a three-day preliminary investigation.

The NEA study is being performed at the request of the Kentucky Education Assn., which recently ended a six-day teachers' strike without obtaining its objectives, including a rise in salaries.

The imposition of sanctions is an attempt to rally a boycott of a state by teachers, business and industry.

Saturday Classes
May Solve Problem

Classes on Saturdays may be necessary in some of the state's 193 public school districts to make up time lost by the six-day teachers' strike which began Feb. 23, school superintendents were told at a meeting called by Wendell Butler, state superintendent of public instruction.

Kentucky law requires 175 teaching days during the school year, and the term must be completed by June 30 - termination of the fiscal year.

Schools which do not meet the deadline, face budget and possible accreditation complications.

35,218 PW Cases Reported In State

Since the current epidemiological year began last Sept. 1, Kentucky has 35,218 reported cases of influenza, with a peak of 31,157 in February, the Department of Health announced.

Dr. Calixto Hernandez, director of epidemiology, said the number of cases was up from last year, but the illness was not as widespread.

More Ship Mine Control Urged

The lack of progress in proposed strip mine control legislation brought some 50 to 100 persons to the Capitol for a protest demonstration as the General Assembly entered the final two weeks of its regular session.

A petition urging Governor Nunn to support new laws against strip mining was presented in his absence to one of his aides when demonstrators visited his office after the rally.

A study shows a need for 75 million new living places within the next 30 years.

Ky. Legislative Report

In the bustle of activity that marks the closing days of the Kentucky General Assembly (March 20 is the last day) the Senate put to sleep another so-called priority item in the Kentucky Education Assn.'s legislative package.

It was done by tabling a vote of 21-17 a measure that would have allowed public school teachers and their school boards to enter into professional negotiations on salary and curricular matters.

Senate Majority Leader Walter D. Huddleston, D-Elizabethtown, said after the vote "it's pretty obvious that the members of the Senate don't want to pass a PW bill...if we couldn't get votes to prevent tabling, I don't think we can get them for 'reconsideration'."

Sunday Closing Bill Amended, Reported Favorably

A House committee amended the local option provision of the Senate Sunday closing bill, SB 6, and then reported it out favorably.

The House amendment, in which the Senate would have to concur, would make the local option portion subject to approval of the voters and then have it apply county-wide.

As approved by the Senate, the bill would allow city or county government to decide which type of businesses other than groceries and drug stores could remain open on Sunday.

The measure would allow groceries and drug stores to remain open statewide.

Gov. Nunn Signs Tax Bill

Governor Louie B. Nunn has signed into law a bill that will tax Kentucky Production Credit Associations in the same manner as savings and loan associations.

House bill 22 was signed into law February 18 at the state capitol in Frankfort.

Before passage of the new legislation the nine Production Credit Associations in Kentucky were subject to all possible tax statutes. This made them unlike similar financial institutions. In the past there has been no statute which designated how Production Credit Associations would be taxed.

The new legislation will not substantially increase or decrease tax revenue from Production Credit Associations, but will now define the basis for taxation on the state level. It will not affect federal taxes now being paid by the associations.

The bill passed both houses of the Kentucky legislature unanimously and had the full support of leaders in both parties.

Production Credit Associations now have over $142 million in short and intermediate term loans outstanding to farmers in Kentucky.

A New Strawberry Patch
 It's time now to locate, make arrangements for, and order plants for your new strawberry patch, be it large or small. By planting in March and giving proper care during the 1970 growing season, you can have the best picking beds of all in 1971. Plant Earldawn for early-season fruit, Pocatotas for mid season berries, and Tennessee Beauty for late berries. If weeds are a problem, you might want to set some Blakemore, because they are vigorous and make lots of plants that help crowd out weeds.

On the other hand, if you have had trouble with red-stem root rot you will need to use some of the red-stem-resistant varieties such as Sunriser, Surecrop, Redchief or Guardian (listed from earliest to latest). Sunriser and Surecrop have been giving good results for several years, while Red chief and Guardian are brand new varieties introduced in 1968 and 1969.

Pesticide Curb for Tobacco Growers
 Tobacco producers will be required to certify that they have not used pesticide products containing DDT and TDE on their 1970 tobacco crop plantings if they wish to be eligible for price support, the U.S. Department of Agriculture announced March 10. U.S. exports of tobacco face sharp reduction if DDT and TDE continue to be used.

Growers are being urged by USDA tobacco program officials to use alternate materials which are available and demonstrated to be effective in controlling plant pests.

Approximately 35 percent of all U.S. grown tobacco is exported, and several foreign countries that are now large importers of U.S. tobacco have indicated that they will set very narrow pesticide (DDT and TDE) tolerance on cured leaf, starting in January 1973. It is essential for growers to meet these standards now because most of the 1970 crop that moves under loan will not likely be sold and exported prior to 1973, the Department pointed out. Tobacco is usually stored and aged for extended periods before being used.

Newspaper Tax Bill Remains in Committee
 Proponents failed by 18 votes to take from committee for a House vote the bill which would impose a tax of 2 cents per copy on all newspapers published, printed or distributed in Kentucky with a circulation of 10,000 or more.

Landowner Considers Timber Production A Good Investment

Mr. Ewell Lawson, of Stony Fork, Kentucky, has been planting and caring for trees for fifteen years now and he is still as enthusiastic about timber production as when he planted his first pine in 1955. On his 23 acre farm, Mr. Lawson has planted 19 acres of tree seedlings. His plantations range in age from 15 years old to the 1 year old planting he planted last spring. Mr. Lawson has planted white pine, shortleaf pine, loblolly pine, yellow poplar, and black walnut. He has fenced his plantations off to prevent livestock damage, and this year he is improving his pine and poplar plantations by removing trees of undesirable form or species, grapevines, and pruning his white pine. Mr. Lawson obtained his trees through the Bell County ASCS Office from the Kentucky Division of Forestry. Division Forestry Service Foresters have worked with Mr. Lawson over the years in planning what species to plant, tree spacings, and giving assistance in timber stand improvement work.

Mr. Lawson's land is very steep and not really suitable for farming. Trees keep the land from eroding while increasing in value. Mr. Lawson's land is worth much more now with his fine looking pine plantations than it would be grown up in weeds or even as pasture. Mr. Lawson realizes the value of caring for his timber by keeping grapevines, and poor quality cut trees out, by pruning selected trees, and by thinning when his timber becomes too closely crowded.

Other landowners in the state could profit by following Mr. Lawson's example. There are 46,000 acres of non-stocked forest land in Kentucky. This land should be planted in trees. There are 28,000,000 acres of pole size timber in the state, much of which needs improvement. There are also many acres of mature sawtimber which could be marketed for a selective cut and many acres where livestock should be fenced out.

Financial assistance in doing this type of work is available through the County ASCS Office. Technical assistance is available from the Division of Forestry, Box 31, Pineville, Landowners can find out what type of improvement their timber needs by requesting a Preliminary Examination by a professional forester from the Division of Forestry.
