A LITTLE KNOWN PLANT
 Ginseng is probably one of our lesser known plants in the United States although it grows wild all along the Eastern seaboard. This herb is the source of the drug, Ginseng, which is a stimulant.

We also know that flowers from one shop are a great comfort to the ill. Send an arrangement to a sick friend, and see him perk up. Place your order by telephone.

Frankfort Watchline

Sometimes sheer sanity creeps in. A move to help Kentucky schools with their problems selling bonds makes so much sense the question is why not before. It boils down to this—banks where local school districts deposit their money can now put up school building revenue bonds to insure that the deposits would be paid off no matter what. As with most public funds in Kentucky, depositing or school money must be secured by collateral owned by the bank but held in escrow. On school deposits, only U.S. Government securities were accepted. And Kentucky banks now own 52 million dollars worth for school-deposit collateral. Not all will shift to school bonds, of course. But a new market does exist now—when interest rates are a real burden on districts needing to build schools. Jefferson County, for example, must pay 7 1/4 per cent on its latest bond issue approved by the state. The state has less than banks can earn on many U.S. securities. But school building revenue bonds have attractive tax exemptions. And if a Russellville bank guarantees the Russellville school district's deposit with bonds issued by the district—all approved by the state—what could be fairer? As a matter of fact, Russellville banker, Robert L. Kirkpatrick, Jr., has been pushing the idea for some time. He drew bi-partisan support from Democratic State School Supt. Weldon Butler and Republican Deputy Finance Commissioner Lawrence Forsy. Now Kirkpatrick wants the plan expanded to collateral for city and county deposits, saying that all told it might save taxpayers some interest on 250 million dollars worth of various Kentucky bonds. He could have lots of others joining Education Department experts in asking why we haven't done it before.

Questions may be coming too for the state merit system. The Court of Appeals rulings that 22 Highway Department employees ousted by Gov. Louie Nunn's administration are entitled to their jobs are clear victories for the system and its procedures. They're not quite so clearly Democratic political victories. As minority members of the State Personnel Board after Gov. Nunn took office, Republicans often did seem to join in his view that "the state has the merit and employees have the system." But once Republicans gained a majority on the board, they have set a course of letting the chips fall where they may, ordering a number of fired Democrats reinstated and standing firm.

Still, there's the question of back pay that could run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars for those fired wrongly. The state isn't supposed to pay except for value received. So it possibly could come down to personal responsibility for firings. Certainly the Legislature will want to look at this. And it surely should want to check on a system that finds an employee forced to fight more than two years to get a final ruling. "I'm the Governor" Dept. While talking casually, Gov. Nunn recalled that one of his commissioners had done something he didn't exactly like. Without changing expression, the governor told an aide, "When I see him, remind me to stop him." The platform is coming soon, even if splinter at a time. But none should top of one perennial who stood firmly on one plank: Local option moonshining.

Commencement exercises were held Wednesday night, June 24 at Mt. Vernon Baptist Church. Pastor J.H. Allen, served as principal for the school which was in session eight evenings.

Hunting & Fishing

The Commonwealth is almost 200,000 surface acres of water better off than it was in the "good old days"—the time before the big building spurge by the U.S. Corps of Engineers, TVA and private enterprise. That was the time when all of Kentucky's fishing was done the miles of run-off state and the many farm ponds. The big lakes were things to dream about, things that many states to the north had but which we in Kentucky did not have. But the high hills and deep valleys of Kentucky are ideally situated to lake building. By placing dams across the deep ravines many miles of water were impounded. And when properly impounded those lakes lessened the danger of floods for the areas below the dams, and also provided more fishing places for Kentuckians who prize them—always one of the more desired recreational pursuits in the commonwealth.

More than half of Canada's people live in the area of the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence River. An earthquake at Charleston, S.C. in 1886 destroyed 6,000 buildings, did $5-million damage and caused 92 fatalities. New men's hats have wider brims. "Physical Exams" (Cont. From Front) hind 13 dams totals 183,965, headed by the three titans, Lake Cumberland with 50,250 acres; Kentucky Lake with 48,100 acres within the state and Barkley with 45,600 acres all of which lie in the commonwealth. Before many years pass there will be an additional 15,450 acres available for fishing and other recreational uses as well as for flood control. There'll be Cave Run Reservoir with 8270; Laurel River Reservoir with its 6060 acres and Carr Fork Reservoir which will impound 1120 surface acres. To be sure there are other lakes on the drawing board, but when they'll be built no one knows and many hope they will never materialize, claiming that enough of Kentucky's fine hunting lands and scenic beauty already has been covered with water.

Then other government agencies got into the act—producing farm ponds here, there and everywhere at very little cost to the landowner. And this brought on an added duty for the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources—stocking, free of charge, those ponds with a balanced family of fish, intermingling the largemouth bass and the bluegill. It is necessary to tell the story about the farm pond productivity in order to populate the great waters of Kentucky with an adequate number of fishermen. It is from farm pond fishing that the big lake fishermen are produced. They get their deep yen and know-how for fishing, Kentucky style, in the smaller ponds, which they soon outgrow. And then they are ready for the big challenge that the lunkers in the larger bodies of water present. Because of this—good fishermen and plenty of water—fishing has progressed to its present heights in Kentucky. There's a ample water for even more fishermen and as their number increases there'll be still more places for them to fish from year to year. Right now the total acres of water impounded be-

Danville Firm Submits Low Housing Bid

The firm of J.T. Gogons Co., Inc., Danville, submitted the low bid of $448,000.00 for the construction of ten low-rent homes for the elderly and twenty regular units, to the City of Mt. Vernon for their Municipal Housing Project, last Thursday.

A representative of the firm, along with Jess Bullock, chairman of the Municipal Housing Project Committee, and Carl Clontz, City Attorney, were in Atlanta, Georgia Tuesday to confer with officials of HUD on whether or not the contract could be awarded at the bid price.

A decision should be made by HUD at the Washington level within the next thirty days, according to Mr. Bullock.

Two Wrecks Injure Three

Three Rockcastle countians were injured last week in two separate automobile wrecks in the county.

Last Friday, Glenn Brown, 15, of Mt. Vernon, while traveling south on the Chestnut Ridge Road, lost control of his car. According to State Police reports, Brown left the road on the right side and then crossed back over the road and struck a tree. Ronnie Bradley, 17, also of Mt. Vernon, a passenger in the car, and Brown, both received Class B injuries.

Sunday afternoon, Eddie B. Doan, 24, of Route 1, Mt. Vernon was traveling south on Highway 1249 when the right rear wheel of his car came off causing him to lose control of his car. He hit a rock embankment and turned over. Doan, who was alone at the time of the accident, was also listed by State Police as receiving Class B injuries. His Convertible was completely demolished.

Funeral services were conducted Monday June 29 at 10:00 a.m. at the Sparks, Dowell and Martin Funeral Home Chapel by Rev. Bradford Coffey. Burial was in the Elmwood Cemetery in Mt. Vernon.

HYPO Service Discontinued

The Highway Post Office (HYPO) service to Mt. Vernon has been discontinued as of June 26, according to Mt. Vernon Postmaster James O. Smith.

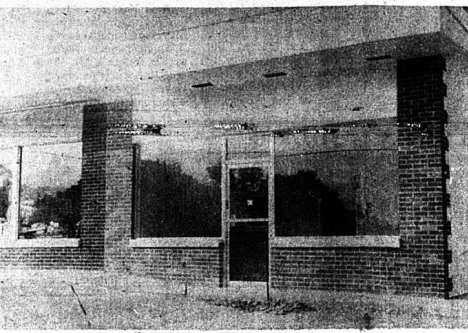

The cutback came when eleven HYPO trucks and three transport trains were discontinued over a three-state area. All except one HYPO was left in operation between Cleveland and Cincinnati. The curtailment in services means that if you want your mail to go out a certain day, you must have it in the Post Office by about 4:45 p.m. and it must be taken inside, otherwise, it will not go out until the following day.

Physicals For First Graders

Jackson County R.E.C.C. Annual Meeting Set For July 10

Jackson County Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation in McKee, has set July 10, at 7 p.m., as the date for its annual membership meeting. Jackson County RECC is one of twenty-two rural electric cooperatives which will hold its annual meeting during the month of July in Kentucky. This year's meeting marks the 32nd consecutive year that the cooperative has held an annual membership meeting.

The program at the Jackson County RECC meeting promises to be filled with information of value to the more than 20,000 members which the cooperative serves in 7 counties and parts of 8 other counties.

Manager Farmer said that "information regarding rural electrification developments, improvements in the local electric system, and information regarding new techniques in the supply of electric energy will be brought to the attention of the cooperative's member owners."

Continuing, Mr. Farmer pointed out that one of the most outstanding developments in the work of rural electrification, has been the formation of the National Rural Utilities Cooperative Finance Corporation (CRFC). "CRFC," he said, "is likely to be very instrumental in helping rural electric cooperatives across America to remain viable and valuable businesses on the rural scene."

The new institution will provide supplemental financing to rural electric cooperatives, thus adding to the funds which are available through REA for rural electric cooperative use.

As a result of these national changes and the many improvements which have taken place locally, the up-coming annual meetings promise to be informative and challenging to those who attend. Rural electric cooperatives throughout the state are urging their member-owners to attend since the meetings provide a means for cooperative membership to participarticipate in and learn more about the progress which is taking place in the rural electrification program.

A spokesman for Jackson County RECC also said that the entertainment at this year's annual meeting promises to be the best ever. Sandy Rucker, a Country and Western singer of Nashville, Tenn., will be the attraction.

FORMER RESIDENT JAMES PRICE, DIES
James Thomas Price, 80, of Lockland, Ohio, and formerly of Mt. Vernon, passed away Wednesday, June 24, in Lockland. He was born in Rockcastle County on September 10, 1889, the son of the late Granderson and Elizabeth Grider Price.

Survivors are five daughters, Mrs. Marie Dowell, of Lockland, Ohio, Mrs. Luella Danko of Springdale, Ohio, Mrs. Edna Banks of Middlewood, Ohio, Mrs. Elizabeth Hansel of Mason, Ohio, and Mrs. Jane Bolmer of Dixon, Tenn.; four sons, Kenneth Price of Westchester, Ohio, Charles Price of West Palm Beach, Fla., Edwin Price of Reading, Ohio, and James Price of Rayne, La. One son and his wife, Mrs. Lillie Pittman Price, preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning, June 27, at the Cox Funeral Home Chapel with Bro. Eugene Bradley officiating. Burial was in the Elmwood Cemetery.

Fiscal Court Meets; Sets Tax Levy, Raises Judge's Salary

At the June 30th meeting of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court, a tax levy of 53¢ per $100 assessment for all property, subject to taxation, except bank shares, was set by the Magistrates. The assessment is 2¢ lower than last year since the school tax was lowered by this amount from 34.6¢ to 34.4¢.

The breakdown of the levy is as follows: General Fund 12.8¢; Health Dept. 2.5¢; Library Fund 1.3¢; Agriculture Dept. 1.75¢; Soil Conservation .25¢ and school tax 34.4¢. Bank shares will be taxed at the rate of 19¢ per $100 assessment and the franchise rate was set at 18.6¢. In addition, there will be a poll tax of $2 for every male citizen between the ages of 18 and 65, a 3¢ per acre forest land tax, and the state will get 1.5¢ per $100 assessment on real estate.

15.0¢ per $100 of tangible property, and 25.0¢ per $100 on intangible property.

In other business, the Magistrates voted unanimously to accept $100 per month for office expense plus $15 per diem (which is paid each time the court meets). The Magistrates had originally received $50 per month salary besides the $15 per diem but under HB 125 which passed the State Legislature this year, the Magistrates can receive the $100 a month expense money each month instead of $50 in salary.

The court also voted to increase the County Judge's salary to $9600 a year from the $3990 he had originally been set at. The increase stemmed from a suit filed in May of 1969 in Rockcastle Circuit Court by then County Judge elect Charles Carter. In Judge Carter's suit, he requested that the order of the court, in setting the County Judge's salary for the next four years, be set aside since it was not done legally. Circuit Judge Lawrence Hall filed his opinion on the suit last Friday in Judge Carter's favor and the Magistrates complied with his findings.

The $9600, which the court voted to pay Judge Carter, will be paid by the county as a salary to him. In addition, Judge Carter receives $200 a month from the state in expenses for a total of $12,000 a year. Under an amendment passed by the 1970 Legislature, he can receive $12,600 a year in salary and fees, an increase of $3,000 over the old figure. Besides the County Judges, County Attorneys, Sheriffs, County and Circuit Court Clerks, and Jailers may now all receive $12,600 a year in salaries and fees.

Health Fair Committee Finalizes Plans

The Rockcastle County Health Fair Committee met last week to finalize plans for the Health Fair which is coming to Rockcastle County the week of July 20 through the 25. The Fair is being funded by the Presbyterian Church and sponsored by the Council of the Southern Mountains. The local Rockcastle County Action Group is co-sponsoring the Fair for the county.

The Health Fair is just that, a Fair, with all the emphasis on health. There will be a doctor, a minister, at least two registered nurses, and a team of helpers.

Linda Ocker of Berea is the director of the fair. These are people who are concerned about the health problems of other people. So, in an atmosphere of a fair, anyone can get a free physical check-up. Find out why they have been feeling bad or make sure they remain feeling good. Dr. Shepherd, our county health doctor, and the two county health nurses, Mrs. Norma Lyons and Mrs. Jeannie Mullins, are also helping with the planning of the Fair. There will be physical check-ups including Diastolic tests, heart check-ups, eye tests, pap smears, family planning information, and literature, plus other services. Patients will not be treated but if there are problems, they will be found. There will also be entertainment and fun.

All this is free to everyone. There will be five locations for the Fair, at Climax, Brush Creek, Scaffold Cave, Blue Springs, and Mt. Vernon. The exact locations and dates will be announced in next week's Signal. Please come and take advantage of these services. Make this a fair worth everyone's time. Residents of Rockcastle County should feel very fortunate in obtaining this Fair since there will only be six held this year in a five-state area. So watch for details and plan to be there.

1776 INDEPENDENCE DAY 1970

You And The Draft

This week our office received a letter written to the President by the wife of a registrant. It was sent to us because the mailing address of the writer was in this state.

Executive Order No. 11527 to phase out occupational and paternity deferments had generated deep concern as to whether a husband's occupational deferment would be extended at the expiration of the termination date of the current Class II-A deferment.

The question is timely, however, if the wife failed to provide her husband's full name, selective service number, and random selection number. We could not identify her husband as a registrant on a local board in Kentucky.

The registrant had attended college in another state and with this meager clue we were able to identify the local board having jurisdiction over his registration.

Perhaps we could have answered the questions but our answers might have been moot because of the husband's random selection number.

So we returned the correspondence to the Washington headquarters for re-channeling. The intent of relating the incident is to point out to those seeking answers to questions concerning selective service classification, that they must provide the full name of the registrant, his selective service number, and his random selection number.

Q. I have been found acceptable for the draft and was ordered to report for induction. However, the induction order was subsequently canceled and I was reclassified III-A. For hardship reasons until July, 1970, if the deferment is not renewed will I be drafted this year? My random selection number is 9T.

A. If you are reclassified III-A, you are not eligible for military service and have exercised your full procedural rights, it is reasonable to assume your local board will order you for induction shortly thereafter, as your random selection number had already been reached. However, if the local board has other registrants with a lower random selection number who are I-A and available, you will not be ordered for induction until after they have been. We cannot be definite as to date, as the call levied on local boards vary from month to month.

Q. I am a full-time college student, classified II-S, married, and my wife is expecting a baby in July. Am I eligible for a III-A classification as a father?

A. No, you are not eligible for a III-A classification as a father, because you are presently classified II-S. After having been classified II-S, you are not eligible for a III-A (paternity) classification. All future III-A (paternity) deferments being requested after April 23, 1970, shall not be binding due to the President's Executive Order issued on April 23, 1970.

Q. I plan to graduate from Pharmacy School this June. Will I be allowed to take my internship before being drafted?

A. Any registrant who is a graduate of a Pharmacy School will be continued in Class II-A to complete his period of internship. The internship consists of 52 weeks of not less than 40 hours per week. At the present time it is possible for a registrant to serve his internship with the exception of two or three months by the time he graduates from a college of Pharmacy. After January 1, 1973, it will be necessary that a minimum of 13 weeks of internship be acquired after graduation from an accredited college of Pharmacy.

Q. I live 500 miles from my local board and have been ordered to report for physical examination. Is there any way I can have this transferred closer to where I am now living?

A. Yes. Go to the nearest local board to where you are now living and sell them that you would like to transfer for physical examination. They will prepare a request for transfer.

A test project using helicopters to rush highway accident victims to hospitals is planned in South Carolina.

Capital Digest

Louie B. Nunn has authorized the Department of Finance to take $1.1 million from the state's General Fund surplus to meet an insufficiency in the minimum foundation school program.

The Governor's action came Finance Commissioner Albert Christen that an increase in funds for the foundation program "did not jeopardize the necessary and essential functions of other ongoing state programs."

The action was made necessary because the final calculations for the minimum foundation program showed that actual need in the current fiscal year was $225.7 million, $1.1 million more than the $224.6 million appropriated by the 1968 General Assembly.

"Sound management of the state's fiscal affairs has allowed us to avert what would have been a financial crisis in some school districts," the governor said.

He concluded that his move to bolster the foundation program would have been impossible "without the alterations in the state general fund tax base we successfully sought in the 1968 session of the General Assembly."

General fund tax collections, which are now estimated to be $500,000 above the original $523.5 million estimate, and a small surplus carry-forward from the past fiscal year made the governor's action possible.

The budget permits the governor to use any available funds for the foundation program should its complicated formula estimates fall short of actual needs.

Christen said funds would be immediately channeled into the school accounts so there will be no delay in the foundation checks which are coming due for the state's 193 school districts.

GOVERNOR FILES TO AIR GUARD CAMP
 Governor Nunn flew to the Travis Air National Guard station at Savannah, Ga., where the Kentucky Air National Guard was in summer camp.

Nunn probably is the first Kentucky governor to fly in a jet fighter—9 tactical aircraft of the 123rd Tactical Reconnaissance Wing.

The governor presented joint services commendation medals to:

PEACE OFFICERS ENCOURAGED BY GOVERNOR NUNN'S STAND
 Law officers and enforcement officials generally hailed the stand taken by Gov. Louie B. Nunn in his recent address to the Kentucky Peace Officers' Assn. (KPOA).

"When a community is more concerned for the protection and rights of the victims of crime than for the perpetrators of crime, that community will be able to rally full public support against crime," Nunn told the conference here.

The Governor urged peace officers to set an example of leadership and to become mobilizing agents of law enforcement determination to prevent the spread of lawlessness.

U OF LOUISVILLE HEAD PRAISES NUNN'S CHOICE OF TRUSTEES
 Woodrow M. Strickler, University of Louisville, president, praised the 10 appointments made by Governor Nunn to the board of trustees of the school which is just entering the state university system.

Nunn named five Republicans and five Democrats:

Republicans: Chairman Edwin Middleton (reappointed); Drs. Fielding Harrods Creek (reappointed); Drs. Fielding Rubel and Hoyt Gardner, Louisville surgeons; William H. Kendall, L&N Railroad president, and Stuart Mitchell, investment advisor.

Democrats: Woodford Porter (reappointed); H. Charles Grawemeyer, businessman; Mrs. Mason C. Rudd, housewife, Ben J. Talbot Jr., lawyer, and Owen C. Hammons, a United Auto workers representative.

EDUCATION COUNCIL OR AND JUDGE NAMED
 To fill the circuit judgeship created by the 1970 General Assembly by Boyle and Mercer counties, Governor Nunn appointed Henry V. Pennington II of Danville.

Former Jefferson County Judge Armin Willig was named to the Kentucky Council of Public Higher Education.

State Rep. Eugene Stuart, R-Louisville, and President Adron Doran of Morehead State University were appointed to the Southern Regional Education Board.

Hecht Lackey of Henderson was named to the Henderson Community College Advisory Board.

COVINGTON BRIDGE NAMED FOR NEWSMAN
 The new bridge to replace the condemned Covington-Cincinnati CLC span now being demolished will be called the Clay Wade Bailey Bridge for the Kentucky Post & Times-Star reporter who has covered the Capitol for 42 years.

The governor announced the name choice at the Covington "Requiem" for the old bridge, which he said had fallen victim to the neglect of past administrations because maintenance on the bridge too often amounted to just "a promise and a coat of paint."

The $30 bridge was one of 171 bridges found to be in poor condition when he took office, the governor said.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By: Roy Martin

In our 4th of July celebration we ought to thank God our fore-fathers were so deeply religious. Some of them could have made a name for themselves in the pulpit as well as in affairs of state.

For example, Washington wrote, "I am sure that there was never a people who had more reason to acknowledge a divine interposition in their affairs than those of the U.S." John Adams wrote, "I have been a church going animal for 76 years, from the cradle." ... Franklin wrote, "I believe in one God, Creator of the Universe" and it was he who moved, "That henceforth prayers imploring the assistance of Heaven be held in this Assembly every morning." Congress continues the practice to this day. Jefferson, during his trying days as President, began a writing, "The Life and Morals of Jesus of Nazareth." It was later translated into 3 languages. Alexander Hamilton, just before his duel with Aaron Burr, wrote his wife, "The consolation of religion, my beloved, can alone support you; and these you have a right to enjoy. Fly to the bosom of God and be comforted."

These sort of men founded our nation with faith. They differed in their religious beliefs but they all agreed the religion of every man must be left to the conviction and conscience of every man. This is our heritage. Lets give thanks for the "Faith of our fathers... living still!"

INSECTS ON PEPPERS

The two insects which are most likely to be troublesome this year on peppers are the pepper maggot and the European Corn Borer. These two may become a problem without you realizing it. They feed mainly on peppers and may have destroyed several pods before you find them. They frequently enter the pepper when it is small causing it to develop a soft rot. The pod may remain on the plant for weeks before soft rot occurs, or they may decay soon after insects feed on them.

There is no way to know when these insects will be a problem, although they appear to be worse during wet weather. The following material may be used for control of the pepper maggot: endosulfan (Thiodan), 2% emulsifiable concentrate, 50% wettable powder, or 3% dust. The European Corn Borer and corn earworm can be controlled by using Sevin. The 80% sprayable, 50% wettable powder or 5% dust formulations can be used.

Spray or dust weekly when plants start to bloom and repeat 3 to 5 times. Follow the manufacturer's recommendations for their use.

When the first peppers that set on the plant reach the size of an orange, sidedress with 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre. This should be worked into the soil or else put on just before a rain.

CONTROL VEGETABLE INSECTS NOW

Many of the vegetable crops are now at a growing stage where they are vulnerable to insect invasions. Flea beetles, cutworms, and aphids are the first insects to look out for. The recommended chemicals for controlling vegetable pests are listed in a booklet, Misc. 384, "Chemical Control of Insect Pests on Commercial Vegetable Crops in Field and Greenhouse." It is available at your county agricultural Extension office.

Many of the recommended insecticides, such as Systox, Di-Syston, Phosdrin, Parathion, Lannate, Thiodan, and Thimet are very hazardous to humans and require special protective equipment during mixing and application operations. They should not be used by untrained persons or in the home garden.

Some of the insecticides recommended in Misc. 384 are also suitable for home garden use, but all pesticides should be handled with respect, according to label directions and precautions. Bacillus thuringiensis for control of cabbage looper, and tomato hornworm is a biological control which poses no hazard to humans. Although it is not mentioned in the booklet, Bacillus thuringiensis is sold under the trade names, Thuricide 90 TS and Btiorol.

ANTS

The pest in entering houses in search of food. Spray outside foundations with 1/2% dieldrin or 2% chlordane. Get the emulsifiable concentrate material and mix it with water and spray the soil a foot out from the house and up the foundation a foot. Do this spraying at monthly intervals. It wouldn't hurt to spray window sills, too.

PLANTING FOR CONTINUOUS COLOR

If you anticipate that your annual flowers will not bloom during the latter part of the summer, start some quick-growing plants directly outdoors. Marigolds and zinnias are good choices. Most varieties of these two groups will bloom in six weeks and continue blooming until fall frosts.

Now is the time to start biennials and perennials from seed. To get the most plants from a seed packet, sow inside in a pot or flat container and transplant to 2 1/4 inch peat pots. Keep the peat pots indoors until the plants are large enough to withstand the hot drying conditions outdoors. But be sure they

Clean, flameless electric heat is your invisible housekeeper

... permanent, full-time, live-in help!

It's nice to know that electric heat is on the job. The fresh, clean, odorless air softly drifts from room to room... out of sight. And while warming your home, it's helping to give you a head-start on housework.

You see, flameless electric heat doesn't make dirt. It's the cleanest form of energy known. Naturally you save hours of housekeeping time. With gentle heat sweeping through the house you save money on cleaning drapes and furniture. With clean air quietly wiping the walls, you decorate less often. More savings.

That new home stays bright and clean. One of the several types of installations will be just right for your home—with room-by-room control if you wish. You'll "play it cool" with modern, electric heat as your invisible helping hand.
