What will you do with the $40 you save buying an electric dryer?

That's right, a modern electric dryer costs up to $40 less to buy than other types. Think of all the things you could buy with that money. And operation is practically trouble free because there are fewer moving parts to wear out or get out of order.

With an electric dryer, you never have washday weather worries. And your clothes come out fluff, state colors bright, smelling sunshine fresh. There's no ironing, yellowing or fading either, because the modern electric dryer is flameless, odorless. There's even a special cycle to keep the press-in permanent press fabrics. See your dealer today for all the details.

Buy an electric dryer NOW get an automatic electric blanket FREE! While supplies last. Electric blanket free. Your choice of 100% cotton or 100% wool. Other goods in promotion. See your dealer for details. Expires September 1, 1971. November 30, 1970.

Show Your Patriotism

Among certain people, patriotism is considered a bad idea... but this is only because they do not understand what patriotism is. It is not a matter of scolding change and saying that everything about America is right, it's a matter of wanting to correct what is wrong and preserve what is right... always based upon a love for the ideals upon which this nation was founded.

You should show your patriotism. It is not something to be ashamed of. And if someone tells you that your patriotism brands you as resistance to change, explain to him that he's missed the point.
For an attractive flag decal to display on your car or home window, write, phone or stop by our offices.

BE PROUD THAT YOU ARE AN AMERICAN.

Construction Should Begin Soon On New High School

Construction will begin soon on the new Rockcastle County High School in Mt. Vernon. Bids will be opened September 15 in the office of School Board Superintendent, Charles B. Parsons for the 95,000 square foot building to be located adjacent to the Harry M. Sparks Vocational School. The new facility, as designed by the Lexington firm of Donald B. Shelton, Architects Engineers and Associates, is planned for 900 students and will incorporate some innovations which are new to this area of Kentucky. Most notable will be the use of integrated component sub-systems which speed construction time and provide a highly flexible interior which adapts well to changes in space allocation, curriculum changes and future building additions. Movable partitions and interchangeable modular lighting units will be the most obvious visual characteristics of the new system as well as classrooms without doors and carpeted library and corridor space. The large spans of the steel structure, although not visible, will contribute much to the flexibility of the total interior space. Laminated wood beams spanning 125 feet will support the roof of the gymnasium which will seat over 2,500 for basketball. Other accommodations of the school will include Vocational, Agricultural and Industrial Arts Shops & Instrumental and Choral rooms. The gymnasium/auditorium is planned for an addition in the future of a little theater which will utilize the stage from the side opposite the gym. Landscaped terraces and canopied walkways on the sloping site between the new high school and the present vocational school will eventually complete the campus.

Power Failure Hits

A power failure, involving six counties, occurred early Wednesday morning at the main KU switching station at Dix Dam during a severe thunderstorm. The failure did not involve any of the companies generation facilities in any way, according to local KU officials. The affected were Anderson, Mercer, Boyle, Garrard, Lincoln, and Rockcastle Counties, serving approximately 20,000 customers. Service was restored initially by alternate transmission supply from the southern end of the KU system. Subsequently, the Dix Dam equipment failure was isolated and service was restored through normal distribution from Dix Dam. The interruption in service occurred at 9:17 a.m.

Restoration to Rockcastle and surrounding areas began at 9:58 a.m. with restoration completed at approximately 10:30 a.m. "We would like to emphasize that this power failure did not involve any generation facilities or lack of generation capability. Service was restored entirely within the UK system capability," local KU manager Jerry Hayes said.

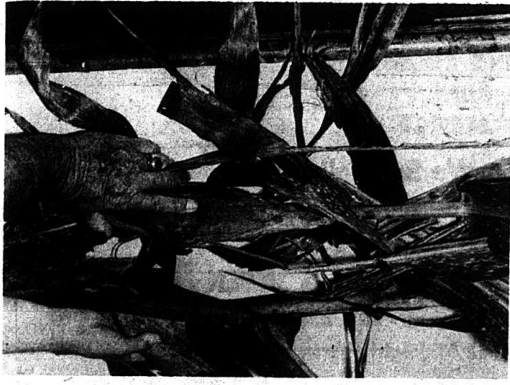

ALL-DAY SING IS SEPTEMBER 27

Four Injured In School Bus Accident

Four school children were injured last Friday afternoon about 4:30 p.m. when their school bus left the road, went over an embankment and overturned. Injured were Blossom Novella Cannon, 15, daughter of Cal Hays, 14, Martha Ann Kirby, 14, and Fredia Gelan Kirby, 11. All four were taken to the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital where three were treated for Class B injuries (bruises and abrasions) and released. The Abbey child was released Sunday. According to State Police reports, Keith Singleton, driver of the bus, stated that the steering mechanism locked causing the bus to go over an embankment and overturn. The accident occurred above the lake on the Lake Linville Road.

These stalks of corn, taken from a cornfield of Charlie Bussell's on Bridge Ridge, are indicative of the corn crop in Rockcastle County since the Southern Corn Blight struck. H. Lee Durham, County Extension Agent, reports that about 12% of the county's 4,000 acre corn crop is affected. Statewide, it is estimated that 10 to 20% of the state's one million acres of corn may be affected. In the Wilderness Trail Area, of which Rockcastle is a part, approximately one-fourth of the crop is infected with Harlan County being the hardest hit (a reported 45%). According to Mr. Durham, the best salvage method on a crop hit by the disease is ensiling. And, if you're a farmer you probably know what that means, I don't.

With added responsibilities for combating crime, the Kentucky State Police Force is expanding and should reach full strength before this year ends. If the entire class of 46 cadets graduates on Dec. 11, it would bring the force to its fully authorized level for the first time (except for a two-month period in 1962) since 1959.

Public Safety Commissioner William O. Newman is keeping his fingers crossed. The State Police now total 606, but the authorized strength is 651. If Newman loses only one trooper by resignation in the next three months, or if only one cadet flunks, then the authorized level would be reached by graduation day.

The class, which recently began a rigorous 15-week training schedule is the largest in the history of the State Police Academy.

Under the law passed by the 1970 General Assembly, Newman plans to add 60 more troopers next year.

The new State Police director, Col. Larry G. Houchar, has been in charge of the Bureau of Training for the last five years.

SEPT. 22 HEARING SET ON GO-GO GIRLS RULES

Declaring that go-go girl acts in bars in some Kentucky cities are too extreme, State Alcoholic Beverage Control Commissioner Shirley Palmer-Ball has set a public hearing for Sept. 22 on proposed regulations.

The intended rules would specify in detail what exposures, gestures and activities would be forbidden, higher council to make its own study.

Instead of hiring a New York consulting firm to carry out a survey ordered by the 1970 General Assembly, the State Council on Public Higher Education will make its own study of Kentucky's publicly supported colleges and universities.

The council reached that decision after Gov. Louie B. Nunn backed the State Finance Department's refusal to allow the use of $47,000 already allotted for other purposes.

The council is composed of nine citizen voting members and eight college presidents

Things may jell quickly on the Republican side of the race for governor.

Public Service Commissioner Thomas Emberton is ready to start running openly before too long.

206 TO BE TRAINED IN SHOE FACTORIES

U.S. Shoe Corp. plants at Vaneburg, Prestonsburg and Flemingsburg will train 206 Kentuckians for full-time employment.

The program is being financed by $149,706 federal funds—part of a $225,045 grant allotted to the Norwood, Ohio, company. The rest of the grant will be spent on similar instruction at four plants in Indiana and seven in Ohio.

KENTUCKY ADMIRALS HOLD PICNIC SEPT. 6

Kentucky Admirals will hold their third and final picnic of the summer Sunday (9-6) at Ft. Boonesborough State Park, near Richmond.

Sponsored by the State Department of Natural Resources, the organization of boating enthusiasts promotes Kentucky travel and litter prevention.

KENTUCKIANS HELP BATTLE WESTERN FOREST BLAZE

Twenty-five trained men from the Kentucky Division of Forestry are among the hundreds flown to Washington State from distant areas to help battle major fires in the Wenatchee National Forest.

Altogether, over 8000 men are fighting to control the fires, in remote areas about 100 miles from the Canadian border.

Under the terms of a regional compact, Kentucky could call on Southeastern states for help in the event of a similar crisis.

CAROLINA POWER FIRM BUYS KENTUCKY MINES

In an effort to safeguard its fuel supply, the Duke Power Co., which serves wide areas of Parks Commissioner Robert Gable are battling time—and odds—in a search for enough support to sway the governor.

Gee says he won't enter a primary if Gov. Nunn endorses someone else. Bug Gable, who left the administration earlier, says he's not discounting any possibility if he can find enough strength.

Parks Commissioner James Host's statement that he's not running, at least now, was taken here as a bid for the lieutenant governor slot no matter who gets administration backing for governor.

Another possibility if Emberton gets the nod is Budget Director Lawrence Forgy Jr., who's changed his mind about running and now is eyeing the No. 2 spot.

On the Democratic side, the camps of both Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford and former Gov. Bert Combs are building the base for a long drive.

Former Democratic State Chairman J.R. Miller has been poking into the mountain strongholds of Combs strength and putting together a corps of Ford workers.

With congressional and Court of Appeals races still ahead, neither has come up with much fireworks, sticking mainly to endorsing conservation, opposing inflation and the like.

But Ford may have tagged one issue when he said he would not veto a change in the Sunday-closing law if one passes in 1972.

That could produce some real high-level debate.

Changing-scene Dept. When former Gov. Combs invited newsmen to the press conference to announce his candidacy, the note said, "For further information or assistance, please contact Mr. John Fitzwater."

Two and a half months later, Lt. Gov. Ford announced that Fitzwater is heading his "Young Kentuckians for Ford."

In the announcement, Fitzwater is quoted as saying, "We should not go back in history when we have the leader today."

Capitol Press Room wags are barred from puns about giving 'em Fitz or water under the bridge.

The proposed new regulations of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board hinted to this column a month ago by Commissioner Shirley Palmer-Ball are not aimed just at specifics.

They do pinpoint restrictions to curb bootlegging, gambling, prostitution and go-go girls. But the very detailing of rules also aims at a continuing problem the board faces in handling cases—the often used defense that a regulation is vague, that the circumstances of the alleged violation don't fall within the rule exactly even though the lighting in a nightclub made a dancer appear nude when she wasn't.

So the board proposes spelling things out even to what portions of a dancer's anatomy must be covered—in such terms that even one free-wheeling newspaper backed away from printing it.

The death of Circuit Judge Coleman Wright of Shelbyville left a vacancy where there just aren't many Republican lawyers—and less chance a Republican could win the seat in an election.

So, despite strong party feelings, Gov. Nunn appointed a Democrat to the bench, George Williamson of LaGrange.

As aide said Judge Williamson was recommended highly to the governor. But he added: "Still it was like swallowing a cocklebur."

A LITTLE KNOWLEDGE IS A DANGEROUS THING?

Not where arthritis is concerned. Arthritis is our most widespread chronic disease... and modern woman is its chief victim.

A little knowledge about it can be a very valuable thing. It can make the difference between control and crippling.

Instead of pretending to yourself that those pains and swellings will go away... that it won't really get worse... that you may be imagining the whole thing...

Instead of wearing a little copper bracelet on your arm... or indulging in other fantasies...

Instead of smiling bravely when you want to cry inside...

Use this little knowledge: something can be done. And see a doctor. Do just what he tells you. He'll help you realize how much can be done about arthritis. If you act in time.

Another thing. To give help. The Arthritis Foundation needs help. For research to find cause and prevention. For services to patients. For finding new ways to prevent and correct disability. For training specialists. For finding and testing new drugs. For spreading knowledge.

Now that you know... let's help each other.

County Agent's Notes

By: H. Lee Durham
FOLLOW THESE STEPS IN RENOVATING OLD LAWS (LATE AUGUST OR SEPT. BER)

1. Dig out as much of the undesirable grass and weeds as you can.
 2. If you have not had a soil test in the last two years, apply 50 to 75 pounds per 1000 square feet of ground limestone.
 3. Apply a complete fertilizer, one containing nitrogen, phosphate, and potash. Fertilize to get 1 pound of nitrogen per 1000 square feet (2 pounds if using water-insoluble sources of nitrogen). A 10-10-10 fertilizer contains 10 percent nitrogen. In order to get 2 pounds of actual nitrogen you would have to use 20 pounds of 10-10-10. There are many grades and analyses of fertilizers on the market. All do a good job when used properly. The so-called "specialty" fertilizers, those formulated especially for turf, are quite good and easy to use.
 4. Make bare areas to loose soil.
 5. Seed bluegrass or bluegrass-creeping red fescue mixture at the rate of 1/2 pounds per 1000 square feet. Rake to cover seed lightly. In lawns with no bare areas, do not seed, but fertilize, water, and mow properly to thicken the turf.
 6. Water until seedlings become established.
 7. Fertilize again in late fall.
 8. Continue to mow as long as the grass grows.
 9. Do not treat seeded areas with any herbicides. If you spot-seed, then you can spot-treat with herbicides on broadleaf weed control in those areas that you did not seed in. If you do not seed, then you can control broadleaf weeds with herbicides either this fall or next spring.
 10. uk experts recommend FALL APPLICATION OF PHOSPHATE AND POTASH
- The best time for Kentucky farmers to fertilize with phosphate and potash is whenever it is needed and convenient to do so, according to Dr. Kenneth L. Wells, University of Kentucky College of Agriculture soil specialist and Warren C. Thompson, specialist in forages at UK.
- According to the UK experts, recent research has shown that with heavy applications of phosphate or potash, these two fertilizers rarely move much below 12 to 18 inches in the soil. In fact, phosphate is not likely to move much beyond where it is placed. Even after four years of topdressing under experimental conditions, the highest concentrations of the two fertilizers was in the top six inches of soil, so leaching loss is not considered important for phosphate and

You and the Draft

Normally we would not discuss a letter signed "interested neighbor, etc." However, recently we received a letter of this type and the question asked probably is of the type that has concerned many individuals since young men have been selected to serve in the armed forces through random selection.

The writer identified as a puzzled parent had less than ten kids for the System because one twin son of a neighbor had been inducted in July and the other had young men were employed by the city as firemen and both had the same random sequence number. We were concerned that the board may have erred. Upon review the facts given by "puzzled parent" were correct.

What the writer did not know was that the young men were not registered in the same local board because of the address given at the time of registration. A registrant's random sequence number must be reached within his local board. Each month the local board must select registrants with the lowest random sequence number who are I-A and acceptable and must not deliver any young men for induction with a random sequence number above that authorized.

We would also like to point out that young men who have enjoyed a deferment usually revert to the I-A available pool at the expiration of such deferment unless their deferment is continued or they are eligible for a lower classification. If their random sequence number had been reached while they were deferred they would go before other registrants with a higher random sequence number, which had subsequently been authorized.

Q. I am an only child; doesn't this make me eligible for a deferment as a sole surviving son?

A. No. A sole surviving son is defined as the sole surviving son of a family in which the father or one or more sons or daughters were killed in action or died in line of duty while serving in the armed services of the United States, or subsequently died as a result of injuries received or diseases incurred during such service.

Q. My random sequence number is 190 and I am anxious to know how close my local board is to my number. Can I find out what numbers are called each month from my local board?

A. Yes. The random selection number of registrants ordered for induction is a matter of public record and you may obtain this information at your local board.

Q. My II-S classification expired on August 14, which was the end of the summer session at a college in this state. I plan to re-enroll for the fall term on September 10. The college told me that they would have to submit a Student Certificate to the draft board upon re-enrollment.

cause I have a high "lottery number" I do not want this student classification any longer. My question is, is it mandatory that the college submit the Student Certificate under these circumstances?

A. No. In Class II-S you will be placed any registrant who has requested such deferment and who is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction at a college, university, or similar institution of learning, such deferment to continue until such registrant completes the requirement for his baccalaureate degree, fails to pursue satisfactorily a full-time course of instruction, or attains the twenty-fourth anniversary of the date of this

BLIGHTED CORN MAY BE FED
 Southern corn leaf blight is causing both myths and questions. The most pressing question is: Can grain, green-chop, silage, and stalk be safely used as livestock feed?

Based on a limited number of controlled feeding trials, University of Kentucky College of Agriculture plant and animal scientists say "yes."

They have checked the results of other Southern agricultural experiment stations where corn is harvested earlier, and they found that the blight produced no toxic substances in the corn plants. However, there may be excessive moldling in blight-damaged grain and silage. These will be the usual molds that develop in grain damaged by other causes and silage in silage not properly picked and stored.

Mississippi State University researchers observed no instances of deaths in test animals fed severely blight-damaged, green-chopped corn. Other stations doing similar studies have reported no toxic symptoms.

When Mississippi scientists sacrificed the they found no signs of poisoning or toxic substances.

Members of the Agronomy, Plant Pathology, Animal Sciences, and Veterinary Science departments of the College of Agriculture who made the survey say they have checked out rumors of animal deaths resulting from feeding blight-damaged corn. They found these to be untrue. No deaths or sickness in animals that were fed blight-damaged corn in any form have yet been reported.

These most recent findings support previous statements of the College of Agriculture Cooperative Extension Service specialists concerned with this disease.

FHA WILL WORK IN CHARITY DRIVE
 Cystic fibrosis and other lung diseases of children will be fought by residents of Mt. Vernon in the first time, it was announced today by the Mt. Vernon Future Homemakers Chapter of the Breath of Life Campaign for the Mid-South Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

The campaign for funds will be held September 10th through 19th. The month of September has been proclaimed "Children's Lung Disease Month" by Governor Louie B. Nunn. Funds collected in the drive will be used by the Mid-South Chapter to support nationwide research projects coordinated by the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation and for the Chapter's local patient service program, which includes an equipment loan closet and drug program, and for public and professional education.

The National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation expanded its program to include all children's respiratory disorders due to the fact that six out of seven patients treated at the 110 C/F "Innate-Centers throughout the county were found to have respiratory diseases other than cystic fibrosis. While their conditions have different causes and are not inherited like C/F, they are benefited by new drugs, equipment, and treatment procedures that have brought relief and prolonged the lives of C/F patients. The Foundation's expanded program now includes diagnosis and expert treatment for children with chronic bronchitis, asthma with lung damage, childhood emphysema, bronchiectasis, and other respiratory afflictions whose symptoms closely resemble those of cystic fibrosis.

Cystic fibrosis affects the lungs and pancreas, causing severe breathing and digestive difficulty. Without constant medical attention, physical therapy and drugs, cystic fibrosis children would not live. One baby in approximately every thousand is born with cystic fibrosis, resulting from a basic biochemical defect which causes the body to produce abnormally salty sweat and a thick gluey mucus that clogs the air passages and interferes with digestion. Untreated, 50 percent of such infants in the past died before they were a year old and most of the others before they reached school age. Now with early diagnosis and expert treatment, many are living into their teens and early adulthood.

To The Voters In Bullock, North Mt. Vernon, and West Mt. Vernon

I realize that the needs of our children are greater each year, and that we must grow to meet these needs. After completing school each child is expected to compete in a job market where his talents and skills must be developed to his potential. Each child is faced with the challenge of establishing a better, safer place in which to live—functioning in the age of space travel, the computer, modern education worldwide communication and scores of other fields of opportunity.

I sincerely solicit your vote and influence that I might work toward putting the children's interests first in the educational program for Rockcastle County.

Mrs. Marion Clyde Burchette, Jr.

Carloftis - Burchette

The marriage of Miss Don Carlette Carloftis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Carloftis of Livingston, to Marion Clyde Burchette, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Clyde Burchette, Sr., of Barbourville, was solemnized at 8:00 p.m. Saturday, August 8, at the Livingston Baptist Church. Rev. James Chrisman officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Vows were exchanged before an altar of pink and white Killion daisies entwining a bridal arched, flanked on either side by baskets of pink and white Killion daisies and cathedral tapers in branched candelabras.

Miss Laura Lee Durham, pianist, presented a program of nuptial music and accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Durham, vocalists. Mr. Durham sang "Because" and Mrs. Durham sang "Oh, Puritan Maid." During the ceremony, Mrs. Durham sang "The Wedding Prayer" while the couple knelt on a white prie dieu.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white silk organza over peau-de-sepie fashioned with an English neckline, the empire bodice embellished with pearl and sequin embroidered Alencon lace appliques, low square, scalloped neckline and off shoulder puffed sleeves caught with pearl encircled organza bows. The A-line skirt, high-lighted with jeweled lace motifs was styled with a full Watteau back panel extending into a chapel train. Her short tiered French illusion veil was held by a cluster of pearl and crystal encircled lace petals and organza roses. She carried a Cattleya orchid surrounded with Stephanotis.

Miss Koula Carloftis was her sister's maid of honor. She was attired in a floor-length, A-line gown of pink silk shantung. Her headpiece of pink illusion was attached to a matching band. The cascading bouquet she carried was of continental flowers with long streamers of deep pink. Bridesmaids were Miss Detsy Carloftis, sister of the bride, Miss Owen Burchette, sister of the groom, and Miss Peggy Wade. Gowns identical to that of the honor attendant were worn by the bridesmaids. Each carried a French bouquet of continental flowers.

Miss Whitney Halcomb was flower girl. Ring bearer was Master Jon Carlos Carloftis, brother of the bride. Serving as best man was Mr. Wayne Halcomb of Fort Knox. Groomsmen and ushers were George Carlos Carloftis, brother of the bride, Darrell Collinsworth, son of Ralph Eddy Lynch of Barbourville, Junior usher was Robert Dustin Carloftis, brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carloftis chose a day length gown of maise silk linen, fashioned with a V neck-line, outlined with a re-embroidered peau-de-sepie floral pattern which formed a high rise bodice and brief sleeves. She selected a single Gamella worn on the back of her hair for her flower.

Mrs. Burchette, mother of the groom, chose a rose crepe day length gown with a wedding ring neckline, accented by a self belt with lace and long tapered sleeves. Her flower was a white orchid worn on the shoulder.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship room of the church. The bride's table was covered with an applique and cutwork imported linen which was a family heirloom passed on to the bride from her grandmother, Carloftis. The arrangement of pink and white
