A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By: Roy Martin

It seems only a few weeks ago, instead of months, most of us were asking others, "What are you going to do on your vacation?" Vacation time was just around the corner. Now the corner has been turned - for most of us.

We hope those of you who vacationed in resort areas... beaches... golf courses... boating, fishing... inns, hotels and motels... camps... family reunions... in different cities and states had a wonderful time, filled with fun and unforgettable pleasant experiences.

And we hope you did not have to unpack the first aid kit! Incidentally, we know (and envied) some who vacationed in the classic exercise of sun bathing right here at home. And now, the summer vacation season is over.

In the Fall, Winter and Spring seasons ahead, we hope you continue to read these thoughts every week. We hope you find a thought now and then to cause you to ask, "Why does this mean to me?" We hope you can then ask, "How can I adapt the thought to myself?" We hope what you read here can, in some small way at least, relieve you from worry; give you encouragement, hope and confidence - if and when needed. We hope too that many of you will continue to express your thoughts, pro and con, to us in person, phone or letter. Your response and your thoughts give us encouragement, hope and confidence too.....

City Council Meets

At Monday night's meeting of the Mt. Vernon City Council, look up several routine items of business concerning the city and the city's boat dock.

Concerning the former Mt. Vernon City police cruiser, the Council voted to advertise twice for bids on the car. The council also voted to notify the bonding company of Y and S Construction and ask them to repair settled blacktop around manhole covers and ditches on U.S. 150.

Concerning the boat dock, Mayor Ed Winstead told the Council that the boat dock needed supplies, such as bait, snacks, etc., in order to accommodate fishermen and other boaters. The Council agreed to put $400 into stocking the bait shop.

Considerable discussion was held as to the purchase of boats and motors to have to rent to fishermen. The Council finally decided to purchase two boats and motors but no definite motion was made on the matter.

To date, the City has spent over $5,000 on the boat dock and camping area.

Garbage "Smasher"

A new innovation in the art of garbage disposing has recently hit the market. It is called the "Trash Smasher." This ingenious machine which was patented recently in Los Angeles, California is a dishwasher-sized appliance which will compact an average week's garbage for a family of four into a water-proof sack weighing 20 to 30 pounds.

An electric ram crushes the refuse-bottles, cans and all, to one-fifth its original size. At the end of each one-minute cycle, the garbage is sprayed with deodorant and germ killer. The machine will sell for about $240.

We understand that a local appliance store has one of these appliances on display. Maybe these are the answer to the city and county's garbage disposal problem they have yet to come up with a better idea.

You And The Draft

Recently a lay leader of a small church in this state asked how a local board could distinguish between frivolous and nonfrivolous information provided by a Selective Service registrant seeking a deferment from military service as a conscientious objector.

When the question was asked it first seemed to be one that could be categorized as of the $64,000 type because it involved sincerity of the person making the claim versus the collective judgment of a local board as to what really was frivolous or nonfrivolous statements.

However, after a few seconds of careful thought the criteria for classification of conscientious objectors recently provided each local board by the Director of Selective Service, should be most helpful in determining whether the statements provided by the registrant could be considered frivolous or nonfrivolous.

We have the deepest respect for the fine line of judgment exercised by each local board member in the classification process. If a young man's file is properly documented, plus a timely and courteous personal appearance, or both, the answer to whether the information is frivolous or nonfrivolous should be more solvable.

We are firm believers that through the eyeball to eyeball conversation, which is permitted by a personal or courtesy appearance, the membership of the board will be better able to determine the sincerity of the young man and based on the facts presented whether he should be considered for a conscientious objector classification. If the local board is convinced that the information is frivolous rather than nonfrivolous the young man still has a right under law to make a timely appeal.

The last manually operated telephone exchange in Wisconsin has been converted to dials.

In Yalta, a popular musical record cost between $30 and $50.

Three Injured In Wrecks Last Week

Two wrecks in Rockcastle during the past week, injured three seriously and two others slightly.

Tuesday morning, September 8, two county residents were injured seriously when their car left U.S. 25, about 2.1 miles south of Mt. Vernon.

Injured were Mrs. Phyllis Jean Toney, 28, of Route 2, Livingston, driver of the car, and Billy Gambrel, 19, Route 2, Mt. Vernon, a passenger in the car. Both Mrs. Toney and Gambrel are patients in a Lexington hospital. Another passenger, Travillian, 70, of Livingston, was admitted to the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital and released Wednesday.

According to police reports, the car was traveling north on U.S. 25 when it left the roadway on the left side and went over a bank.

Another accident early Sunday morning which occurred 1.4 miles south of Mt. Vernon on U.S. 150, seriously injured Walter Benjamin Price, 18, of Route 1, Mt. Vernon.

According to state police, Mr. Price, driver of the vehicle, was traveling east when his car left the road on the right side, knocked down two mailboxes, bounced off a rock bank and back into the road. The car traveled 435 feet after leaving the road before coming to its final resting place.

A passenger in the car, Phillip Bullock, 19, of Route 3, Crab Orchard, received minor injuries in the accident.

Price was admitted to the local hospital where he is still a patient.

Vote Is Set For Bishop Successor

A special election will be held November 3 to choose a successor to the late State Sen. Fred Bishop of the 19th Senatorial District. Bishop, of Manchester, died several weeks ago and Gov. Louis B. Nunn issued a writ of election Tuesday setting the vote the same day as the regular elections for this year.

The district comprises Rockcastle, Jackson, Owsley, Laurel and Clay Counties. Bishop was a Republican. Each party is allowed to select its own nominee.

Senior Citizens Forum To Be Conducted Here

Louie B. Nunn has asked committees throughout the commonwealth to conduct Older Americans Community Forums for Kentucky's senior citizens during the week of September 21-26.

"I urge all older citizens, all state and local public agencies and private organizations serving or having an interest in our aging population, and all adults with older parents to participate in these Community Forums," Governor Nunn said.

President Nixon has called a White House Conference on Aging in November, 1971, to launch a more realistic and more comprehensive national policy for older Americans.

Locally, the Community Forum coordinator in Rockcastle County is Zl Graves, and the forum will be held in the Courtroom of the County Courthouse on September 25 from 1 p.m. until 3:30 p.m. Forum chairman is Mrs. Carrie Baker of Mt. Vernon.

School Board Opens Three Bids On New County High School

Bids were opened Tuesday afternoon at the Rockcastle County Board of Education office for the new county high school.

Four construction companies submitted bids but only three were considered. The other bidder, R.A. Blevins Construction Co. of Campbellsville, failed to sign his bid, as required by law, and after much discussion, the architect for the project, Donald B. Shelton, recommended to the School Board that the bid be considered "no bid." The board agreed with this recommendation.

Of the other three bids submitted, Forbes-Morris Building Company was the low base bidder on the project, with a bid of $1,888,000. The other two bidders, Hacker Bros. Construction Company of Corbin and Ernest Simpson Construction Company of Glasgow submitted base bids of $1,672,888 and $1,745,600, respectively.

With all fourteen additive alternates figured into Forbes-Morris' bid, their total bid came to $2,074,700. The estimate on the total project had been $1,700,000. Of course, these alternates, which included such items as bituminous paving, curbing and lighting, language lab equipment, lockers, vinyl asbestos floor tile, gym equipment, etc., could all be contracted for later by the school board as the money became available.

According to Superintendent Charles Parsons, the bids will now have to go to Frankfort and the State Department of Education to be studied before the bid can actually be awarded.

Bryant Bros. Broken - In

Thieves entered the business house of Bryant Bros. on Main Street in Mt. Vernon some time Monday night and made off with five shotguns and five rifles. Logan Bryant, owner of the store, estimated his loss at $500.

This was the second time in less than two weeks that Bryant Bros. have been robbed. The first time was Friday night, September 4, when an automatic rifle, shotgun and gas pellet gun were stolen. City Police arrested three juveniles and recovered the stolen merchandise from underneath the Signal building.

However, at a juvenile hearing September 7, all three were proven not guilty.

State Police are investigating the Monday night break-in. On Sunday night, September 13, two juveniles were arrested by City Police, who allegedly caught them in the Rockcastle Farm Service. One of the juveniles was the same one who had been arrested September 4 and was entering Bryant Bros. A hearing on this case is set for Thursday, September 17, in Juvenile Court.

Graydon Cummins of Pine Hill is shown holding a 4-inch Copperhead which he killed in his garden near his home. Mrs. Cummins was in the garden picking tomatoes when she put her hand near it. The snake was killed to strike but Mr. Cummins stopped all that with a well placed pistol shot.

Judge Carter Proclaims "Constitution Week"

County Judge Charles Carter signed a Proclamation early Wednesday morning, September 16, designating the week of September 17-23 as Constitution Week in Rockcastle County. This was the first time in the history of the county that a Proclamation of this nature has been signed.

Governor Louis B. Nunn and President Nixon signed similar proclamations proclaiming Constitution week in Kentucky and throughout the nation.

The Daughters of the American Revolution are sponsoring the objectives of "Constitution Week" in commemoration of the anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution.

Citizens are urged to pay special attention during Constitution Week, to the federal constitution, the advantages of American citizenship, and to the purposes of government as set forth in the Preamble to the Constitution. Citizens are also urged to honor the U.S. Flag during Constitution Week.

The strip-mining research program shortly to begin in Kentucky is expected to serve as a national model.
Gov. Louie B. Nunn announced that the Appalachian Regional Commission has indicated approval of a $550,000 grant to finance the program. New mining techniques, erosion control and revegetation are among studies to be made.
Elmore C. Grinn, director of the Reclamation Division of the Natural Resources Department, said federal officials were impressed with the Kentucky project because of its adaptability to use as a model for other states.

STATE COOPERATION HELPS SOLVE WATER PROBLEM
State cooperation assures the Pineville area that a badly needed water system will be constructed.
Using material excavated in rebuilding the middle section of U.S. 25-E between Pineville and Middletown, the State Department of Natural Resources will impound 9000 acre-feet of water by damming Cannon Creek halfway between the two cities.

The City of Pineville plans to build a new water-treatment plant, 30 miles of new pipe and dam a 245-acre reservoir. The dam, 140 feet high, will be halfway between Pine Mountain State Park and Cumberland Gap National Historical Park.
The new pipelines will serve more than 1500 households and businesses beyond the Pineville city limits.
The present treatment plant processes up to 500,000 gallons of Cumberland River water daily. The new plant will have a million-gallon capacity, designed for easy expansion to 2 million gallons.

SEPT. 22 HEARING SET TO CURB SALES TO BOOTLEGGERS
A public hearing will be held by the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board Sept. 22 on proposed rules that would make it more difficult for licensed retailers to sell to bootleggers.
The hearing would be limited to one case of liquor or three 24-unt cases of beer in seven days. Retailers would have to keep sales records and report delivery routes.

NUNN VOICES CONFIDENCE IN MAJORITY OF STUDENTS

"I know you will want to be among the vast majority of responsible students who are working constructively . . . to build a better future and to make sure that our colleges and universities continue to fulfill the educational purposes for which they were established."
In those words, Governor Nunn expressed his belief that campus disruptions can be avoided. The governor sent a personal letter to some 60,000 students attending publicly supported colleges and universities in Kentucky.
"All of us must be concerned that disruptive and violent action on the campus may encourage a public and legislative backlash that could drastically affect the academic freedom we cherish," Nunn wrote.

TOM DUNCAN'S Frankfort Watchline

State university presidents are starting another round of requests for bond issues to finance student housing, mainly for married students.
One who's taking a cool look at the big money proposal is Finance Commissioner Albert Christen. And he wants the Council on Public Higher Education to do some checking too.
Christen says estimated costs run around $20,000 a unit—and no matter how it's packaged that's like providing a $20,000 house.
In one case, he held a school to mobile-home units — at hardly one-fifth the cost.
"And we could sell them when they're through with them," Christen says.
He opposes concentrations of student-housing on campuses as philosophically as well as financially.
Without referring to campus disorders specifically, Christen says: "One of the worst things we're doing is herding students into campus housing—and we're proving it every day."
Christen confirms that he's thinking of spelling out just what type automobiles will be provided state university presidents.
And he's thinking in terms of the "low-priced three's"—but the top models, fully equipped.
Morehead President Adron Doran triggered the idea by asking to lease an Oldsmobile 98 luxury sedan for $171 a month.
Christen isn't too much taken with the leasing plan—since a leased car doesn't carry the state seal or any other identifying marking.
And he doesn't like providing more luxurious cars for others than top administration people as the commissioners of highways and public safety—who're assigned a Plymouth, Ford or Chevrolet—even though commissioners don't get anything like Dr. Ford's $37,500 salary.
But perhaps what rankles most is that Dr. Doran's "request" was dated August 21—for a

Constitution Week September 17 - 23

The week of September 17-23 is Constitution Week by act of Congress and proclamation of the President and Governor. The purpose of the observance of this week is to revitalize appreciation of our Constitution and our country. Instead of complaining so much about what may be wrong, let us think of the many things that are right with America. There is no other country as free as ours. There are no other people more energetic, creative, progressive, generous, warm-hearted, nor happier than ours. Let us stress in words and spirit the blessings of liberty. Let all citizens fly their flags. (Reprinted from the Berea Baptist Messenger)

Hunting & Fishing

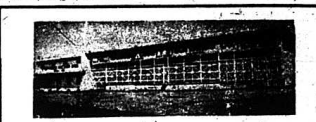

Recently a roundup on the season, rules and regulations for duck hunting was given, but there was not enough space to cover goose hunting requirements in Kentucky which are formulated by the Department of Interior in Washington and its advisory groups along with the State Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.
The dates this year are as follows: state-wide the goose hunting season opens on November 16 and continues through January 24. On the Ballard County Wildlife Management area, the season opens on December 1 and continues through January 23 since there is no Sunday hunting on this area and since January 24, the

County Statistics

Usually an artistic needler of reporters, Combs says: "My problem isn't being misquoted too accurately."
The daily and possession limits are five, the same as last year. But the makeup of these limits is considerably different this season.
The daily bag limit may consist of two Canadas or two whitefronted or one of each. For instance, a hunter may kill two Canadas, two blues and one snow, or one Canada and one whitefronted and fill out the limit with blue or snow geese; or he may have two Canadas but no white-fronted or two whitefronted and no Canadas and fill out his daily limit with blue or snow geese.

Possession limit: Four Canadas but no whitefronted, plus a snow or blue goose. He may have two Canadas plus two whitefronted plus a snow or blue. He may have three Canadas and one whitefronted plus a blue or snow. He may in no case have more than two whitefronted in his possession limit of five.
There also is a change in the regulation of shipping geese, which should be of interest to goose hunters. Geese may not be transported, shipped or delivered for transportation or shipment by common carrier, the postal service or by any person except as personal baggage of the hunter taking the birds. This makes it possible for a hunter to have in his possession after two or more days of hunting, four Canadas, and either a snow or blue, or two Canadas is usually adequate. Shrubs can usually be fed at the same time. Those shrubs which continue to grow unduly late into the fall should not be fed heavily with nitrogen. Usually one to two handfuls of 10-10-10 fertilizer per moderate size shrub is about right. Very large shrubs can benefit from more; smaller ones should have less. On shrubs which are still succulent apply 5-10-10 or similar formulas. Using 20-10-10 is all right for many of the others. In the Bluegrass region use ammonium nitrate at one-third the rate that a 10-10-10 is used elsewhere.

The benefits of phosphorus fertilization of mature shrubs and trees has never been shown. Young plants need it, but it transfers readily from place to place in the tops of mature woody plants.

Most herbaceous perennials and annuals benefit. Woody plants whose tops are removed annually such as roses, butterfly bush and white-lying an adequate phosphorus

FALL ALFALFA MANAGEMENT

Alfalfa must have top-level management especially during the late summer and early fall. Keeping established stands and getting high yields next year depends on:

Fertility: Topdress fertilizer between now and frost-down. Fall fertilization improves plant growth and helps the plants to better survive winter freezes and thaws. An acre producing 5 tons removes about 75 pounds of phosphate (P205) and 225 pounds of potash (K2O). You need to apply two pounds of Boron annually. Soil testing is the best guide to the kind and amount of fertilizing needed to fill the gap between what the soil furnishes and what is needed from fertilizers.

Lime is a must to top production. The pH ought to be 6.0 and maintained at this level.

Harvest Schedule: Don't harvest (cut or graze) alfalfa from around mid-September to frost-down. Alfalfa needs from 5 to 7 weeks to recover between harvests, whether it be by grazing, by mower blade, or by killing frost. If it is harvested in the period between mid-September and frost-down, the stockpile will be reduced in vigor and next year's production will be reduced, especially the first cutting.

In the Winter: If you decide to harvest your frost-down alfalfa, do a thorough job of it. This herbage makes excellent hay, silage, or green chop. When grazing, use temporary fences to limit the area for grazing. This will make the animals clean up the crop and eliminate the steep portion where many alfalfa weevil eggs overwinter.

FALL SETTING OF SPRING-FLOWERING BULBS AND LILIES

From mid-September through October is the best time to set your spring-flowering bulbs and most lilies. The Madonna Lily should have been set earlier for it produces a rosette of leaves in the fall. Bulbs are more often set in beds or borders than are peonies, so the soil can be prepared wholesale rather than plant by plant.

Depth of setting will vary with the type of bulb. A light winter mulch is advisable for newly set beds of bulbs but is not needed for established beds in Kentucky. The mulch prevents heaving due to alternate freezing and thawing.

Often spring-flowering bulbs are planted among other perennials, or annuals are planted in the bulb beds for summer color. Perennials make excellent companion plants for roses.

Mrs. Tommy Baird, organist, presented a program of nuptial music and Mrs. Lee Durham was the vocalist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of chiffon and chintilly lace over a fitted taffeta sheath. Her veil was caught to lace petals edged with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of miniature white carnations, sweethearts roses and babies-breath with a white orchid on a white Bible.

The maid of honor was Miss

The reception was held at Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was covered in pink with an overlay of white lace, centered with a bouquet of pink miniature carnations, sweetheart roses and baby breath. Garlands of table boxwood, accented with pink sweetheart roses, united the four-tier wedding cake with the silver candelabras holding pink litghted tapers.

Serving were Mrs. Johnnie Coffey, Widdie; Mrs. Herna Smith, Berea, both aunts of the bride; Mrs. Gary Coffey, Glendale, sister of the groom; Mrs. Thany's Hodges, Mt. Vernon, sister-in-law of the groom; Mrs. Ray Cummins, Mrs. Bill Baitley and Mrs. Ernest Stanton, Miss Faye Smith of Mt. Vernon, aunt of the bride, kept the guest book.

Pink rice bags were distributed by Laura Lee Durham.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Stephens chose a pink silk dress with wedding ring neckline and short sleeves with matching accessories. Her corsage was of miniature pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Hodges, mother of the groom, was attired in a short sleeved silk, street length dress of mint with appliques of white lace encircling the natural waistline. She wore matching accessories and a corsage of miniature white rosebuds.

The bride will be a senior at Cumberland College in the fall where she is majoring in biology and medical technology with a minor in chemistry.

In order to address ourselves to the needs and problems of our senior citizens at the Governor's Conference, I feel our senior citizens themselves should have the opportunity to tell us what their needs are, whether they be in areas such as income, health, housing or transportation, to mention a few. To extend this opportunity to them to speak up concerning their needs, I am urging statewide participation in these September Forums," the Governor said.

Approximately 150 Older Americans Community Forums will be held throughout the commonwealth. Older Americans will have a major role in planning and staffing the forums and older Americans will be the speakers. County, city and state government officials and members of the state legislature will serve on listening panels. Professionals serving the elderly may attend as a "listening" gallery.

Don Valentine, executive director of the Kentucky Commission on Aging, said, "Never before and possibly not again for many years to come will so many voices be raised level in the soil.

Most annual flowers and bulbs will not benefit from fall fertilization. Many perennial flowers will.

The idea with shrubs, trees and herbaceous perennials is to get these minerals into the plant parts which live over winter in order to be ready to go when spring comes. Early spring fertilization is often too late to obtain good results in the spring recent research has shown.

Educators Named To Honor Edition

Supernatural Charles B. Parsons, announced recently by the Board of Education, D.A. Robbins have been selected to appear in the 1970 EDITION OF OUTSTANDING EDUCATORS OF AMERICA. Those named earlier this year, they have been chosen for the awards publication on the basis of their civic and professional achievements.

The Outstanding Educators of America is an annual program designed to recognize and honor those men and women who have distinguished themselves by exceptional service, achievements and leadership in education. Each year 7,000 of our country's foremost educators are featured in this national volume.

Nominations for OUTSTANDING EDUCATORS OF AMERICA are made by the presidents, deans, superintendents, and other heads of schools and colleges. Individuals who have first-hand knowledge of their endeavors and accomplishments.

The educators included in this biographical history receive a high honor. They are chosen for national recognition on the basis of local standards of excellence.

Former Vice-president Hubert Humphrey, who wrote the introductory message for the 1970-edition, says of the men and women included, "The greatest strength of any nation is its human resources. These are the men and women who by their actions in the classroom today mold the course of history. Our hope is the nation's confidence in their hands. As we honor these teachers, we are reminded of their awesome duty. As they have our confidence, we must give them the tools to wage Jefferson's 'vigilant against ignorance.' We'll men and women like these we know that our faith in education has not been misplaced."

Guidelines for selection, include an educator's talents in the classroom, contributions to research, administrative abilities and any civic and professional recognition previously received.

Record Attendance At State Fair

A record 533,972 people attended the 1970 Kentucky State Fair, announced Don Johnston, executive director of the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center. The previous record for paid attendance was set in 1967 when 521,673 attended the fair.

Johnston credited several factors for the increased attendance including a 30 per cent increase in free entertainment, a new midway with more rides and reduced prices, a new Rodeo, an increase in livestock and commercial exhibits, and the more colorful appearance of the grounds with a higher level of cleanliness.

The executive director also attributed the record attendance to the high quality of the paid entertainment available at the fair. He cited the Three Dog Night concert which set an attendance record for a single performance, and the capacity crowd at the World's Championship Horse Show the final night of the fair.
