TO THE VOTERS OF BULLOCK, NORTH MT. VERNON, AND WEST MT. VERNON PRECINCTS

Public Education is probably the most progressive idea ever developed by modern man. Applying the concept is expensive and complex, however, and only the most skilled, enthusiastic, and dedicated administrators truly succeed.

In my campaign travels to homes, talking with parents and taxpayers, I find several prevalent concerns: (a) that every child in Rockcastle County gets the best possible education; (b) that every dollar be spent wisely; (c) that the school system not be used as a political base; (d) that board members represent those who elect them and not become "rubber stamps" for a system; and (e) that school leaders devote themselves to the development of a responsible school program, forgetting the development of a political power machine. If elected, I pledge to work toward eliminating these concerns.

As most of you already know, I am not obligated to any faction. I sincerely solicit your vote and influence on one basis only -- that I might strengthen public education in Rockcastle County, always representing the interests of our children.

Japan - Big Customer Of U.S. Farmers

Rockcastle County residents are well aware that U.S. - Japanese trade is extensive, Shelle Mullins, Chairman of the Rockcastle County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, commented recently.

"Almost everyone recognizes that Americans are important customers for Japanese goods. I wonder how many of us realize that the Japanese are major customers for American goods, especially for American farm commodities.

"In fact, Japan imports more U.S. agricultural products than any other country in the world -- a record $1.1 billion worth during the 1970 fiscal year," Mr. Mullins said.

He pointed out that feed grain, soybeans, wheat, cotton, tobacco are important farm crops in Rockcastle County and that exports of these farm products to Japan have gone up dramatically in recent years.

More than six million tons of feed grains were shipped to Japan last fiscal year -- just about one-third of U.S. feed grain exports. Soybean exports to Japan had a 23 million dollar value, and wheat exports $136 million. Japan is our best cotton customer, taking one-fourth of its cotton from the U.S. and Japan bought $50 million worth of tobacco from the U.S. during the last fiscal year.

The ASC Committee chairman reported that Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin recently took note of the American - Japanese trade story, calling it unprecedented.

"It is this principle that led Japan to look to efficient practices on the broad farm lands for the feed grains needed to satisfy its people's rising demand for livestock products.

As a result, imported feed grains have triggered a rapid expansion of Japanese livestock production. This has brought Japanese consumers more meat and poultry at better prices; it has opened opportunities for Japanese farmers for new and profitable livestock enterprises; it has meant an important and expanding feed grain market for world agriculture.

"Almost the whole range of U.S. farm commodities finds Japan a leading customer.

"Japan wants, needs, and can afford these products, and the U.S. can supply them in any system of international trade in which price, quality, and availability are the primary factors.

"In a world of competition, export expansion means salesmanship and service as well as price, quality and availability. The producers and marketers of the major U.S. agricultural products have understood this, and they support some 68 private trade organizations formed to develop markets overseas in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture. This is of course, a mutual effort -- with many strong Japanese organizations bringing to it their special knowledge, their special abilities."

In closing, Agriculture Secretary Hardin gave special recognition to the trade organizations for the three commodities which last year accounted for two-thirds of total U.S. agricultural exports to Japan -- feed grains, soybeans, and cotton.

Social Security News

Housewives who employ help around the house on a regular basis have an important mailing chore to perform before October 31, according to James Mustian, Social Security Manager in Somerset.

It is the summer quarterly report of wages and the social security contributions and the payment due by the end of October for the months of July, August, and September covers all household employees who are paid cash wages of $50 or more by one employer in a calendar quarter.

Contributions are based only on cash wages. Cash or tokens given to the worker for cash fare count as wages. But the room and board allowance for a "live-in" domestic employee does not count.

The worker and the employer each contribute 4.8 percent of the worker's wages to social security. In some cases, the employer may choose to pay the entire 9.6 percent contribution himself. But it is the employer, Mustian pointed out, who is responsible under the law for making the reports.

More than a million household workers -- maids, cooks, cleaning women, gardeners, handymen, and babysitters -- are earning social security protection through the wages reported for them, Mustian said.

Information about social security for household workers is available from any social security office.

Loosestrife AND WATER

Water gardens are gaining in popularity in this country, but water gardens must be complemented with flowers outside the actual confines of the water. A plant that does very well in moist soil around a water garden is the Loosestrife.

The most common Loosestrife is the species which produces lovely purple flowers completely surrounding the spike-like stems of the plant. It reaches heights of upwards of four feet. Loosestrife is a very little care since it is one of our most hardy perennials. If you need beautiful flowers in your garden, Loosestrife is a good choice.

And when you need beautiful flowers professionally prepared and arranged, call us. Only the freshest and most lovely flowers go into the arrangements prepared in our shop. We deliver locally.

Peace of mind is sought by many people in many places. They find it evasively elusive and wonder why. Troubled hearts abound. If an elementary fact was accepted, they would find peace of mind is attainable. And maintainable.

Peace of mind can only be found in ourselves. Not elsewhere. In our troubled minds we seek help from psychiatrists, psychologists, tranquilizers and medicines. They all have their place, but none of them can take the place of Christian ministry and Christian testimony. A rebirth of faith is needed to bring about a quietness of spirit and a freedom from fear. Only then can emotional conflicts be overcome.

Peace of mind can be likened to a harvest. To reap the harvest we must plant seeds of love, compassion and understanding. As the seeds grow, the weeds of selfishness, greed, jealousy and pride must be plowed under. Actually, to reap the harvest of a peace of mind, we give up nothing of value. We gain a lot...

Ray Adams, 52, of Route 1, Brodhead, passed away Monday, September 28 at the St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington after an illness of several weeks. He was born in Rockcastle County on July 23, 1918, the son of the late Allensworth and Lucy Kirby Adams. He was a farmer, veteran of World War II, a member of Ashland Lodge #420 F.A.M., of Mt. Vernon, and a member of the Poplar Grove Baptist Church.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Gladys Shivel Adams of Route 1, Brodhead, three daughters, Mrs. Betty Purcell of Mt. ## Board Buys Noe Property; Approve Bond Sale, Award Bid

The Rockcastle County Board of Education voted, at a special called meeting Monday night, to purchase five acres of land from C.H. Noe, which adjoins property now owned by the board, for $22,000. Mr. Noe will retain a life estate in his home, situated on the land, yard and garden, for his and his wife's lifetime.

The purchase of the property was necessitated by the fact that the board had to have at least a portion of the land in order to have sufficient room for the new high school. When stakes were driven outlining the new school, most of which will be situated on the same tract now occupied by the vocational school, it was found that the school could not be built without acquiring at least a portion of Mr. Noe's land. The board originally requested the State Department of Building and Grounds to let them purchase a 175 foot strip of land from Mr. Noe perpendicular to their (the board's) property. However, the Department of Building and Grounds turned thumbs down on the partial purchase and told the board they would have to take the entire five acres.

After considerable discussion, the board voted to pay the $22,000 for the land and to agree to Mr. Noe's condition of a life estate in the house, yard and garden for his and his wife. Generally, the board will be responsible for everything concerning the property except maintenance of the house and insurance on it. On the motion, board member Virgil Mullins abstained. The board also approved the sale of $1,650,000 in bonds with which to finance the new school and awarded the construction contract to Forbes-Morris Building Company of Lexington, subject to sale of the bonds.

After devotion, led by Bro. Charles Shivel, Mrs. Carter Baker, chairman of the conference, asked those present to state their problems.

ment and assistance in filling out legal forms (such as insurance, social security, income tax, wills, etc.). However the most pressing problem, and the one mentioned most by those present, was insufficient income. Some of those present who were welfare programs or were recipients of VA pension stated that their income was sufficient for food needs but insufficient to provide bathroom facilities, running water in the home, a new roof, etc.

Other areas mentioned in the testimony included: inadequate employment opportunities; insufficient transportation. (Cont. To B)

GAS BANGER IN SILOS

Farmers should take precautions against autocutting and poisonous gases formed from fermenting silage in all silos shortly after filling begins.

Many lives have been lost because of carelessness in entering a silo which has become a danger to life. The autocutting gas is mostly carbon dioxide, while the poisonous gas is nitrogen dioxide. The nitrogen dioxide is orange yellow and 2 1/2 times as heavy as air at room temperature. As the temperature rises, its color becomes darker and its density becomes lighter. The gas, being heavier than air, collects and remains in any depressed or enclosed space when there is not a strong, free movement of air.

Some precautions farmers should follow are: During and immediately after filling period, run the blowers on the silage cutter several minutes before anyone enters the silo. Make an easy test for nitrogen with starch-iodide paper, which turns blue in the presence of nitrogenous compounds. If the paper turns blue when you lower it to the bottom of the silo, stir the air to disperse the gas. To test air for carbon dioxide, lower a lightened lantern to the bottom. If the lantern continues to burn, it is safe to enter the silo. If it goes out, the air has not been stirred to dilute the gas.

A FULL COOK-OUT—WHY NOT?
Hold it! Don't put your barbecue gear into mothballs yet. Those crisp days of autumn are perfect for a cook-out. Turn your October into Indian summer with the "sizzle soups" of a thick, juicy steak broiling over charcoal. Buy your steaks for the cook-out according to U.S. Department of Agriculture grades—USDA Prime, Choice or Good—the three top quality grades for beef. Select steaks cut at least one inch thick or even better yet, 1 1/4 or 1 1/2 inches. A quick review of "broilables" would include Tenderloin (filet mignon), the most tender of all steaks.

STATE MAY SWITCH CAR BUYING
With more than $1 million of the taxpayers' money riding on the outcome, the State of Kentucky may go outside the automobile industry's "big three" this year in placing orders for, perhaps 1500 vehicles for the State Purchasing Director N.B. McCubbin said American Motors will offer the customers discount, and Chrysler already has said it "will meet competition."

Invitations will be mailed Oct. 1 to all four companies to submit bids on or about Oct. 25. McCubbin expects American Motors will offer the customers discount, and Chrysler already has said it "will meet competition."

Without the customary discounts offered by the State for quantity purchases, the State could not afford to place its customary orders," McCubbin explained.

Bidules vehicles ordered for the State, McCubbin's office will be handling orders for a number of cities and counties which, under a 1970 law, are permitted to use the State purchasing office to effect savings.

STATE IS PREVENTED FROM COMPLETING AND ISSUING BINGO RULES

Legislation by the Campbell County Circuit Court, State Revenue Commissioner James E. Luckett is unable to completely issue the rules which the General Assembly ordered him to prepare for the conduct of purportedly legalized bingo games.

THOUSANDS EXPECTED AT DRUG-ABUSE PARLEY

Thousands of educators and concerned citizens are expected to attend a Kentucky conference on the use of dangerous drugs and narcotics.

The conference will meet in Louisville, at the call of Gov. Louie B. Nunn, at a November date to be announced later, few industries in Kentucky.

Capital investment by new industries in Kentucky and expansion of industries already here total more than $1 billion since Governor Nunn took office. This represents 32,500 new jobs. State officials point out.

The State Commerce Department is starting a new campaign to attract industry to over 300 Kentucky communities where less than 6 per cent of the inhabitants are employed in manufacturing.

INSURANCE FIRM ACCUSED OF TEACHER-CORRUPTION

Educator and Executive Insurers, Inc., of Columbus, Ohio, must show cause Sept. 30, at a hearing before the Kentucky Department of Insurance, why its license to do business in this state should not be suspended or revoked.

Michael J. Seiler, a Lexington junior high school teacher, charged the company would not sell him a professional liability policy unless he joined the Kentucky Education Association.

NUNN ASKS FAIRNESS IN POUL-WATER RULES

"Kentucky must be given the same treatment as other states" in water pollution standards, Governor Nunn warned the Federal Water Quality Administration.

While the federal government is trying to get Kentucky to adopt 93 degrees as the maximum temperature on thermal discharges into the Ohio River, West Virginia is allowed 93 degrees, Illinois 90, and Missouri, 92, Nunn said.

As a result of the governor's protest, a conference soon will be held to set uniform requirements.

TOM DUNCAN'S Frankfort Watchline

Has anybody here seen Kelley?

That's the question Capitol Press Room reporters kept asking as the aftermath of the first real disclosure of testimony in the case involving highway bids.

Kelley—Public Service Commission Chairman Harold Kelley—just wasn't around.

But we've learned that his testimony taken by deposition doesn't agree with the testimony of James Watson, Gov. Louie Nunn's executive assistant.

Just how deeply the differences will cut must be decided in the courtroom, not in the much looser operation of deposition taking.

But some of the personal antagonisms involved in the administration, may flare into the open.

Ironically, the tale of talk about a possible $200,000 pay-off if low-bidding contractors would bow out of the picture quietly could extend instead of shorten Kelley's term on the PSC.

Although his relationship with Gov. Nunn has been close, the Asland Democrat's days in the $18,000-a-year job have been numbered because he's also close to former Gov. Bert Combs.

And, in almost an aside in the deposition, Watson quoted Kelley as acknowledging he'd asked a contractor to let Combs use a bid plan in campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor.

A reliable source says Gov. Nunn confronted Kelley with that report and Kelley replied, "Of course I did, I'd do the same for you."

But whatever the pushed on the governor's "tax, Kelley isn't likely to be conflated of the PSC while the Highway case is bubbling.

When accusations start flying it's hard to pin anything down.

It should be made clear that no one accused former Highway Commissioner Goss of any wrongful intent.

Aside from problems of bringing up volatile school questions while a campaign is brewing, Gov. Nunn is standing pat on his administration's record.

Gov. Nunn is ready to challenge federal officials to an open debate on their position on temperature standards for rivers.

And he may dare some of his toughest critics to sit in, Kentucky Department of Insurance, why its license to do business in this state should not be suspended or revoked.

Michael J. Seiler, a Lexington junior high school teacher, charged the company would not sell him a professional liability policy unless he joined the Kentucky Education Association.

Insurance Commissioner Robert Preston said teachers who don't belong to KEA can buy coverage from the Ohio Casualty Insurance Co. under a special plan.

Gov. Wendell Ford means to oppose Parks Commissioner James Host's plan to lease campgrounds for private development and operation, and he thinks an outside study will back him up.

Ford's opponent for governor—Combs—already has stated his opposition to the lease plan.

It could boil down to a straight out fight on the Property and Buildings Commission—and Combs has the votes there.

In the commission's discussion of the campground question, Atty. Gen. John Breckinridge—a candidate for Lieutenant governor remarked:

"The last time I wasn't for office..."

Gov. Nunn interrupted, "No body remembers that, hey, back."
