INCOME TAX-SCHOOLS FOR FARM TAX PRACTITIONERS

The UK Cooperative Extension Service is sponsoring income tax schools this fall for those who prepare income tax returns for farmers. While the schools will be oriented toward the preparation of the farm tax return, information about all types of tax returns will be presented.

Instructors for the schools will be provided by the Internal Revenue Service, the Social Security Administration and the Kentucky Department of Revenue.

Dates and locations of the schools are:

- November 9 - 10: Elizabethtown Community College; November 12 - 13: Henderson Community College; November 17 - 18: Hopkinsville Community College; November 19 - 20: Paducah Courthouse; November 30 - Dec. 1: Maysville Community College; December 2 - 3: Highland Community College; December 7 - 8: University of Kentucky Carman Conference Center, Lexington; December 9 - 10: Somerset Community College.

Anyone interested in attending any of these schools should contact Stephen G. Allen, farm management specialist for the Department of Agricultural Economics at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

POLLUTION, A MOST PRESSING PROBLEM

Most people agree that pollution is one of our most pressing, if not critical, problems today. Few, however, seem to think there is little, if anything, they can do about it. Very few regard themselves as polluters, when in reality, we all fall in that category.

We may not throw beer cans or pop bottles on the highway, or dump garbage at some convenient spot out in the country, but every time we drive a car, flush waste down the drain, or dispose of trash, even legally, we are actually contributing to the pollution of the earth.

Pollutants, according to an ecology specialist, are the residues of things we make, make use of, and then throw away. As the countryside becomes more crowded, there is no "away" left. As a consequence, one neighbor's living space becomes another neighbor's garbage dump.

Contrary to what we may think, anti-pollution experts say there is something we can do about the situation. First, we can acknowledge that we are all polluters, and that the struggle for a better environment takes place in the home as well as in the laboratory and legislative chambers.

It may not seem glamorous or even important to start in our own backyards, but neatness is contagious. One neat yard leads to other neat yards, and soon the whole neighborhood is clean.

Also, as UK Community Development Specialist, W. H. Bridges, has found in Eastern Kentucky, once a group starts to clean up their own neighborhood, they invariably become concerned with other and bigger community problems. With leadership, they start thinking and working on community water systems, garbage dumps, landfill projects, and watershed programs.

If words were capable of cleansing the environment, we would have attained ecological purity months ago. Unfortunately, action isn't quite that simple. To attain that desirable condition, there must be money and much of it. There must also be individual awareness of the situation, much concern, and tremendous effort.

Industry and government are spending millions to clean up the environment, and the people must contribute too. So, according to the experts, if each one of us, everyday, will think about the problems of clean air and water and litter prevention, and do just a little bit about them, then we will begin to make progress.

Who, the people, are the ones who can save America from pollution and keep it beautiful—and it sure is worth a try.

administration but Host has the edge.

Aside from those implications, ions, Forgy's move points up the fact that state universities' salary scales pretty well enable them to hire anyone they want from state government.

"And Forgy himself says: 'The flow should be reversed.' But it certainly won't be reversed while presidents of state schools all are paid more than the governor and many of the presidents' top aides make more than most state commissioners.

That's not to say that the schools don't deserve to have and to pay adequately top people. But something's out of balance somewhere.

Forgy will be on the other side of the firing line when college and university budget requests go to the governor's aides next time.

By delaying and applying a handcrafted "formula" the schools bypass any effective review by the Council on Public Higher Education.

So their budget requests arrive in untrimmed form at the level where decisions are made on a practical money basis, without adequate educational insight into the real value of programs.

And it seems that's just the way the schools want it.

The next legislature may see an all-out fight between higher education and the so-called common schools.

The other sides seem ready to write off the Kentucky Education Association as being in the camp of former Gov. Bert Combs.

But he's handling the situation carefully, addressing the Kentucky Youth Assembly, Combs said, "We have done something about education—perhaps not enough."

He said raises in the 1960s stemmed the outflow of teachers.

But he added: "We have got to give school teachers a modest raise."

When money gets into Kentucky politics, all bets are off.

The courts are expected to rule that the one-man one-vote guideline must prevail in remapping Kentucky's legislative districts.

But Combs' running-mate Tor Spolker, Julian Carroll, says: "I favor the Kentucky Constitution interpretation of reapportionment which states a county cannot be split to achieve reapportionment."

The Franklin County grand jury followed a well-worn path in zig-zagging around the question of who may have broken what part of the state's law on lobbying in the 1970 legislature.

The grand jury's position is that the law is obscure. We've always found the toughest lobbying pretty obscure too.

HUNTING AND FISHING

A "quiet" period has been declared again this year for hunters. It immediately precedes the opening of the small game seasons. It is effective as of November 1 and extends through November 18 at midnight. During this "quiet" period a person may not hunt either protected or unprotected birds or animals except deer in the legal gun deer season which opens on November 14 and continues through November 16, or geese in the goose season which opens on November 16 and the shagout season on raccoons. Other than for those pursuits, a person has no business in the field with a gun, unless there is an animal or bird that is doing damage to his property, in which case the owner of the property may shoot the animal or bird, providing he informs the conservation officer of the circumstances and providing he turns the killed animal or bird over to the officer who will dispose of it, most likely by giving it for food to a publicly supported institution, such as an orphan's home.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By: Roy Martin

At election time, and up to the very minute you cast your vote, the influence of other people has had some sort of effect on you. Remember that. It's important! And if you have ever thought the people in government exercise too much influence, remember another thing. Government is one thing and one thing only, PEOPLE! If and when we think people in government have too much influence, we have ourselves to blame. We, the voters, have far more influence than they. OUR votes influence THEM.

The best way NOT to influence the people in government is simply to stay away from the polls. But, when you DO vote, whether it be for men or issues, you cast YOUR influence. Obviously, before you can influence people in government, you have to influence yourself to vote.

The attempted influence by others before election can be accepted or rejected by you. When you stand in front of the silent, secret voting booth or in front of the whirring voting machine, YOU are the one who is doing the influencing. Be an influential! VOTE! Cast YOUR influence!

Times Have Changed, But Not Cox Service

True, the Horse-drawn hearse as compared with the new motor coach makes it seem like a whole different world. But it isn't - not the real world.

Life's bound to change, techniques have changed. Priorities have changed. People, however, are much the same as they were and have always been.

"The hurts, the happiness, the fears, and the hopes inside people," go on and on as the landscape changes. So in a way the service we provide today for our friends and neighbors are not too different than those provided by our founder, W.A. Cox, over sixty years ago.

His philosophy, one of using his talents in service to his fellow man without exception of race, religion, creed, or circumstance has remained with us through the years.

TITLES WERE HIS BUSINESS: Two Eastern Division and one World title as offensive line coach with N.Y. Giants. Six Western Division and five World championship titles with Green Bay Packers. DEPENDABILITY COUNTS!

A tribute to newspaperboys by the late Vince Lombardi

"A coach really appreciates a dependable performer," said Vince Lombardi, the late head coach of the Washington Redskins and one of pro football's all-time coaching greats. "He's the man that wins the big ones for you. You count on him to deliver—and he never lets you down. Newspaperboys are like that too: Reliable, hard-working, on the job in all kinds of weather. As newspaper subscribers we all appreciate the year-round good service we get from our carriers—and when that Newspaperboy Day comes around, we ought to tell them so!"

"HUNTING & FISHING"

Except for the provisions listed above, hunting in Kentucky is shut down, tight, during this pre-hunting season.

the reason for the "closed season" is simple. It's an attempt to prevent the harvest of small game, and other game as well as deer, by those individuals who would literally "jump the gun" on the hunting seasons. In the past violators did not wait until the season opened to take rabbits, and squirrels and quail as well as many other species. They would, under the guise of hunting legal game and it was necessary for the officer to find illegal game on them or to see them shoot game for which the season had not opened before he could make an arrest. Hunters dodged this game on person feature, by, for instance, killing a rabbit or quail and hiding the kill out until night, when they would go back and bring the illegal harvest home. It was most difficult to make a case when the illegal hunter was accosted in the field. But now, things have changed.

If a hunter is in the field with a gun, an officer knows pretty well that he is a violator unless he is engaged in the hunting of geese or deer during their seasons which overlap the "no hunting" ban. And so the act of crowd hunting or ground hunting no longer must be used as a substitute for the illegal hunter and it is relatively easy for an arresting officer to make his case stick.

That's the reason for the tight regulations and that's the reason that the law abiding crowd and ground-hunter must be punished. Again it is the law violator for which the laws are made, but everyone, of course, must abide by them. Game law violators do not end when the small game season officially opens. There'll be those who hog more than their legal possession limit; there'll be the night rabbit hunter who will spotlight rabbits on the roads from an automobile or from a tractor. He may not think so, but that pertains who does this is just as much a law violator as one who hunts before the season opens.

MY LAL 4, by Seymour Hersh. A report on the massacre and its aftermath.

PAPER PEOPLE, by Michael Grater. This imaginative book explores some of the creative ways in which human figures of all kinds can easily be cut, folded or molded using inexpensive sheets of construction or wrapping paper, aluminum foil or newspaper.

A FART FOR A POLICEMAN, by John Cressy. This new European Western story focuses on the British film business, threatened by what looks like an international effort to crush the industry.

PEOPLE WHO PULL YOU DOWN, by Thomas Baird. This entertaining novel is a heady blend of the everyday, the fantastic and the picturesque. It begins with a mystery: why should an upright and somewhat formidable American lady of 75 abruptly kick over the traces and run away from home?

THE PROMISE, by Bernard Ellis. A book that invites the consideration of students and provides pastors, parents and others with meaningful reflection of new morality claims. THREE, by Sylvia Ashton-Warner. This novel comes to powerful grips with the essential strength and danger of family love: the desire to protect loved ones from themselves, and the compulsion to live their lives for them.

Carter Questionnaire Results Announced

Congressman Tim Lee Carter made public today the results of his Sixth Annual Questionnaire, which was mailed to each postal patron in the Fifth Congressional District in September.

It is interesting to note that those answering the survey expressed strong support for legislative changes on matters on which Congressman Carter has introduced legislation. Sixty-eight per cent favor the present military draft system of limiting Daylight Saving Time from Memorial Day to Labor Day; ninety-one per cent are in favor of a Constitutional amendment to permit prayer in public schools; sixty-one per cent favor exempting an only son from military combat duty and ninety-one per cent desire stronger law enforcement against polluters.

In summarizing the results, Congressman Carter stated, "It is clear that the people of the Fifth Congressional District place high value on work and on an honorable conclusion to the Vietnam War and a more conservative approach by the Federal government. The efforts of those who responded are appreciated, for they will assist me greatly, and I shall try hard to reflect the feelings of my constituency in future legislation."

The results of the questionnaire are as follows: Federal gun registration laws, 67% Yes; Having Daylight Saving Time only from Memorial Day to Labor Day, 68% Yes; Passage of a Constitutional Amendment allowing prayer in schools, 51% Yes; 50% banking of tobacco, 40% Yes; Stricter enforcement of laws to insure less pollution of our water, air and land, 90% Yes; Use of veto by the President if he believes an appropriation bill is inflationary, 72% Yes; Replacing the present military draft system with an all-volunteer Army, 52% Yes; Allowing Federal police officers, with a warrant, to enter a house without knocking, if they believe evidence being sought would be destroyed, 68% Yes; Exempting an only son from military combat duty and ninety-one per cent desire stronger law enforcement against polluters.

ENGLISH DAISIES BLOOM EARLY
A favorite of gardeners for hundreds of years has been the English Daisy. This flower blooms early in the Spring and continues to produce glorious flowers until mid-Summer. In fact, these daisies will bloom even longer in moderate to cool climates.
Common colors in English daisies are dazzling white, blushing pink, and blood red. These flowers are terrific when grown in great masses of color. Of course, they are often planted to form garden borders, and they serve this purpose very well. There are large and small varieties of the English Daisy, but the larger bloom seems to be the most popular.
Flowers are just great for any occasion. Trust us to fill your floral orders with great care. Only arrangements which are "just right" are allowed to leave our shop. We are as close as your telephone.

To The Voters Of East Livingston, West Livingston & South Mt. Vernon Precincts

Voters in Educational District Number One have an extremely important decision to make Tuesday who is to represent you, your children, and your tax dollar for the next four years. I have tried to see all of you during these past few weeks and your responses have meant much.

- It is my strong conviction that a good board member must allow:
- The Board of Education to be your Board of Education.
 - The schools to be your schools.
 - The improvements to be for your children.

Furthermore, the Board Member must be willing to gladly accept the grave responsibility of serving, as he accepts the responsibilities of father in home, taxpayer and citizen in the community, and employee on the job. If elected, I pledge to accept this responsibility.

I wish to thank each of you for your encouragement. Your vote and influence will be sincerely appreciated. I am number one on the machine in Educational District No. 1.

Mrs. Jack Rigby of Broadhead recently came across some old pictures taken in the last school year (1933-34) of Langdon Memorial School. The school, which was situated on the site now occupied by the home of Dr. George Griffith in Mt. Vernon, burned shortly after the two photos were taken. The top photo is of a group of freshmen girls. They are, from left: Ola Webb Laswell, Janie Lee Payne, Susie Tolliver, Mae Baker, Mary Margaret McAtister, Jewell Dodd, Beulah Thacker, Mildred Frith Rigby, Louvaster Coffey, Agnes Richards and Ellen Findell. The bottom photo is of a group of students who also attended the last year. From this area were Della Webb, Alberta Dillingham, Garna Dillingham, Ola Webb Laswell, Mildred Frith Rigby, Ruth Albright and Catherine Cummins Graves.

Ghosts and goblins, devils and fairies abounded at the Cedar Rapids County Club Monday night for the first annual Halloween Party for children ages 1-12. Over 75 children attended the festivities and games and entertainment was provided by the Mt. Vernon Girl Scout Troop. Winners in the four prize categories were: Cassandra McCauley, spookiest girls' costume; Kelly Payne, most original girls' costume; Lee Cain, spookiest boys' costume and Bobby Bailey, most original boys' costume.

Election Roundup

About the only thing interesting in Tuesday's General Election will be in the six precincts involved in the two school board races.

County-wide, all voters will have a choice between incumbent Rep. Tim Lee Carter, who has only taken opposition from Democrat Lyle Leonard Willis, the $48,300,000 General Obligation Bond issue and Mrs. Fred Bishop, who is running to fill the unexpired term of her late husband, Fred Bishop. Mrs. Bishop has no opposition and will serve until the November General Election when the winner will take office.

Voters in West Mt. Vernon, North Mt. Vernon and Bullock precincts will have a choice between Wayne Van Hook and Dr. Rudolph Burdette, both candidates for the County School Board. Preston Nunneley presently holds this seat.

In the West Livingston, East Livingston and Bullock precincts, voters will be asked to choose between Murphy Martin, Jr. and Billy Burdine, candidates for the school board seat being vacated by Mrs. Yashti Mullins.

Unopposed in the election is Will "Burr" Gifford, candidate for Livingston Police Judge, (unexpired term). This vacancy was created by the resignation of M.H. Clark, who won the seat in county-wide elections in 1969.

Mills Wagner of Livingston, is the only city councilman for Livingston remaining of the five who were elected in 1969. Four men have filed for these seats and are unopposed. They are: M.H. Clark, James Baker, Thomas Kirby, and Clyde Fordyce.

MRS. LUCY M HIGGINS DIES AT COVINGTON

Mrs. Lucy Mae Higgins, 68, of Covington, and formerly of Mt. Vernon, passed away Wednesday evening, October 21 in a Covington hospital after a long illness.

She was born in Rockcastle County March 15, 1902, the daughter of the late Clay and Winnie Creesh Miller and was a member of the De Courtesy Baptist Church.

Besides her mother, Mrs. Winnie Miller, she is survived by her husband, Willie Higgins of Covington; two brothers, Mill Miller of Orlando, Edd Miller of Mt. Vernon, Bradley Miller of Burlington, Virgil and Manuel Miller of Covington; two sisters, Mrs. Hazel Baker of Mt. Vernon and Mrs. Rachael Barron of Covington. She was preceded in death by a son, Bernice Clay Higgins.

Funeral services were held Saturday, October 24 at the Howell - Martin Funeral Home Chapel, by Bro. C.R. Easter and Bro. Lester Arnold.

Burial was in the Johnetta Cemetery.

Mrs. Roscoe Adams has asked us to ask our readers to check and see if anyone has a picture taken in 1909 of the old Mt. Vernon Railroad Depot. The picture was taken on Saturday Sunday and is a color postcard. If anyone has a picture like this, Mrs. Adams would appreciate borrowing it to have a copy made.

Did you know that under the Federal Monday Holiday Law enacted in 1968, that beginning January 1, 1971 there will be at least five three-day week ends each year?

There really isn't too much to ramble about this week. I think I'll mainly use the space to try and get out of the dog house with a few people.

I haven't really made any mistakes (well, not too many anyway) just neglected to mention a few things when I should have....

First of all [I] take the space and commend Coach-lik Earl Hammous and the Mt. Vernon Peewee Football team.

The Peewees, grades 5-6, finished their season recently with a 2-3 record. Their last game was with Burgin and they won 24-0. Larry Kirby, David Owens and Earl Lewis Hammous all scored for the Peewees and Burgin couldn't move the ball against Mt. Vernon's defense.

Larry Kirby is one of the best little leaguers we have seen anywhere and this is not taking anything away from the excellent blocking he received from teammates. He's fast and has that great determination necessary to a good football player.

There was a Ladies' Scramble Tournament held recently at the Cedar Rapids Country Club and we failed to get a picture. I'm going to look out and be on the winning team one of these days and don't think there won't be a picture then. Anyway, the winning team was captained by Mrs. Dale Bray. Other members of the team, which shot a five-over-par Sams, Mrs. Jess Bullock and Mrs. Francis Whitehead. A couple of weeks before that there was a couples tournament and we also failed to get a picture of the winners (we didn't win that one either). Mr. and Mrs. Charles "Tuck" Baker came in first in that one with a total score of 49. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clontz were second....

STUDENTS TO SERVE ON SAFETY COMMITTEE
 Seven high school students will be appointed by Gov. Louis B. Nunn to serve on the Kentucky Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee.

The governor announced this step can be completed at the first of seven regional meetings of high school students concerned about the rising rate of traffic fatalities among young people.

At the meeting, in the University of Kentucky Student Center, Nunn pointed out that one-third of the nation's 58,400 traffic deaths last year involved drivers under age 24. Almost 4000 of the drivers were under age 18 and 20,000 were between 18 and 24.

"Statistics for non-fatal accidents are equally alarming," the governor said. "Two hundred ninety-three thousand drivers involved in non-fatal accidents in 1969 were under 18."

Nunn noted that over 2 million persons were injured in U.S. traffic accidents last year, and "Drivers in the 18-to-24 age group were involved in 1,354,000 property-damage accidents."

The governor added: "Traffic accidents are the No. 1 cause of death among Americans between the ages 15 and 35. Among male teen-agers, highway accidents claim more lives than all diseases combined."

PROGRAM DEPENDS ON BONDS OK BY NOV. 3 VOTE
 On the Nov. 3 ballot is a proposal to issue $48.3 million in bonds for improvements in the state's mental health system, correctional facilities and other institutions and to establish a loan fund in behalf of small farmers.

Approval of the bond issue by majority vote would create a $400,000 fund which would guarantee loans, up to $7500 each, to help Kentucky farmers buy operating farms and improve existing land. The purpose is to counteract the trend among many small farmers of leaving the land and moving to the cities. The bonds also would provide for:

- Two new children's treatment centers and general renovation of present archaic state mental health facilities: $18 million.
- A new type of correctional institution and a 100-bed facility adjacent to a mental health hospital for the confinement, care and treatment of mentally disturbed offenders: $18 million.
- A vocational-technical institute in western Jefferson County: $8 million.

HEARING FOR OPPONENTS OF PHONE-RATE RESET
 A hearing for opponents of South Central Bell's proposal for a $14.8 million-a-year increase in telephone rates has been postponed from Oct. 29 to Nov. 30.

At that time, opponents of the projected rate increase can present evidence and also can cross-examine South Central Bell witnesses.

Permission has been given to the Kentucky attorney general's office to intervene in the hearing—against higher phone rates.

WESTERN KY. U. BARS DANGEROUS SPEAKERS
 Western Kentucky University's board of regents has put into written form its long-standing policy of barring from the campus any outside speakers who would present a clear and present danger to the normal functioning of the university.

John Lyne, student body president, agreed with the policy declaration. He commented that it is not so much a matter as how it is worded but how it will be applied.

The regents directed President Dero G. Downing to go ahead with the purchase of 232 acres to be added to the WKU 55-acre farm south of Bowling Green.

KENTUCKY TO GET POLLUTION-FREE CARTON FACTORY
 Ground will be broken in early January in Nicholasville for a $13 million, 200,000 square foot plant which will manufacture cartons of various colors.

The announcement was made by State Commerce Commissioner Paul W. Grubb and Jack W. Warner, president of the Gulf States Paper Corp., which operates in 17 states.

STATE PRESSES LEXINGTON TO END WATER-POLLUTION
 A hearing will be held Nov. 11 by the State Water Pollution Control Commission on a complaint that the City of Lexington is not moving fast enough to improve its Galesway sewage-treatment plant.

If found guilty on all counts, the city could be fined as much as $1000 a day—although such a maximum penalty is rare. The charges against Lexington involve responsibility for the pollution of West Hickman Creek.

TOLL-ROAD CONSULTANTS ARE AWARDED CONTRACTS
 Contracts totaling $6.6 million have been awarded to 10 Kentucky firms for consulting engineer services on two toll roads now being built.

The contracts include one for $1.5 million to the Brighton Engineering Co. of Frankfort, general consultant on the Bowling Green-Somerset and Bowling Green-Owensboro

SENATOR'S SUIT SEEMS TO CLEAR LEGAL ROAD FOR REDISTRICTING
 A suit filed by State Sen. Charles Upson, R-Williamsburg, in U.S. District Court at Lexington seeks to clear the way for crossing county lines in reapportioning State legislative districts.

At issue is the Kentucky Constitution's prohibition against splitting counties—versus the U.S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" philosophy.

The banquet was originally scheduled for November 7. All masons and their wives are invited to attend.

CONTROL COMMISSION ON COMPLAINT THAT THE CITY OF LEXINGTON IS NOT MOVING FAST ENOUGH TO IMPROVE ITS GALESWAY SEWAGE-TREATMENT PLANT.

If found guilty on all counts, the city could be fined as much as $1000 a day—although such a maximum penalty is rare. The charges against Lexington involve responsibility for the pollution of West Hickman Creek.

MAJORITY OPPOSE RADICALS, NUNN SAYS
 An overwhelming majority of Americans will stand firm against attacks now being made on the nation's churches, homes, schools and laws, Governor Nunn says.

The governor spoke at the 180th anniversary celebration

HELD AT HISTORIC STAMPING GROUND (Scott County), said to be the second oldest town in Kentucky.

"Our most cherished institutions are under attack," the governor said, but the traditional "Kentucky respect for laws and love of God" will triumph.

PROGRAM DEPENDS ON BONDS OK BY NOV. 3 VOTE
 On the Nov. 3 ballot is a proposal to issue $48.3 million in bonds for improvements in the state's mental health system, correctional facilities and other institutions and to establish a loan fund in behalf of small farmers.

Approval of the bond issue by majority vote would create a $400,000 fund which would guarantee loans, up to $7500 each, to help Kentucky farmers buy operating farms and improve existing land. The purpose is to counteract the trend among many small farmers of leaving the land and moving to the cities. The bonds also would provide for:

- Two new children's treatment centers and general renovation of present archaic state mental health facilities: $18 million.
- A new type of correctional institution and a 100-bed facility adjacent to a mental health hospital for the confinement, care and treatment of mentally disturbed offenders: $18 million.
- A vocational-technical institute in western Jefferson County: $8 million.

CONTROL COMMISSION ON COMPLAINT THAT THE CITY OF LEXINGTON IS NOT MOVING FAST ENOUGH TO IMPROVE ITS GALESWAY SEWAGE-TREATMENT PLANT.

If found guilty on all counts, the city could be fined as much as $1000 a day—although such a maximum penalty is rare. The charges against Lexington involve responsibility for the pollution of West Hickman Creek.

WAYS TO SERVE ON SAFETY COMMITTEE
 Seven high school students will be appointed by Gov. Louis B. Nunn to serve on the Kentucky Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee.

The governor announced this step can be completed at the first of seven regional meetings of high school students concerned about the rising rate of traffic fatalities among young people.

At the meeting, in the University of Kentucky Student Center, Nunn pointed out that one-third of the nation's 58,400 traffic deaths last year involved drivers under age 24. Almost 4000 of the drivers were under age 18 and 20,000 were between 18 and 24.

"Statistics for non-fatal accidents are equally alarming," the governor said. "Two hundred ninety-three thousand drivers involved in non-fatal accidents in 1969 were under 18."

Nunn noted that over 2 million persons were injured in U.S. traffic accidents last year, and "Drivers in the 18-to-24 age group were involved in 1,354,000 property-damage accidents."

The governor added: "Traffic accidents are the No. 1 cause of death among Americans between the ages 15 and 35. Among male teen-agers, highway accidents claim more lives than all diseases combined."

TO THE VOTERS OF EAST LIVINGSTON, WEST LIVINGSTON, & SOUTH MT. VERNON PRECINCTS

I have filed as a candidate for school board member of Educational District No. 1. I am a 1957 graduate of Livingston High School, 32 years old, a veteran and have three children.

I pledge four years of dedicated service to the best interest of all our children. I think our children's interest should come first. To put the pupil's interest first naturally teachers must be included in the planning of school programs and curriculum changes. Teachers are the ones who ultimately carry out all educational programs.

I feel that we have dedicated and well qualified teachers who are devoted to our children and their educational interests.

I pledge to study our educational system very closely and work for any improvements that will upgrade education in Rockcastle County. While putting the children first I will give great consideration to parents and taxpayers.

I will make every effort to see that the taxpayer's money is used wisely and that your taxes are not raised.

Your support and influence will be appreciated on November 3.

IN MEMORY
Of Lloyd Batley Pickle, our darling, who died one year ago, October 31, 1969.

Little black haired boy
With the smiling happy face,
You went away and left us
To live in a better place.
The shock of having to give you up
Was sudden and severe
No one thought that October day
That death was so very near.
The grief I've felt no one can tell
And didn't even get to say farewell.
But we'll meet on Heaven's shore

And be together forever more.

THE FAMILY LAWYER
Hair Conditioning

Freddie was delighted at the reading of Uncle Dan's will, that he was supposed to inherit a large sum of money. But there was a catch. The money would be his only on condition that he give up cigarettes.

In short order, Freddie challenged the validity of this anti-cigarette clause.

"Uncle Dan had no right to try to control my private life in this way," he complained in a court hearing. "My personal habits including smoking, are no one's business but my own."

However, the court ruled that

Freddie would have to either give up his cigarette habit or lose the money. The judge said that since the money belonged to Uncle Dan, he had a right to put strings on his gift if he so desired.

Of course it is natural, for a person making his will, to want to shape the character or conduct of his heirs. Nevertheless, the law does impose limits as to how far he can go. Consider this case:

A man left money to his daughter, on condition that she not only give up cigarettes herself but also make her husband give them up.

This time, a court decided the man had gone too far and held the anti-smoking clause null and void. The court said he had asked his daughter to do something that was not fairly within her power.

Furthermore, in close cases, the courts are inclined to let the heir keep the bequest, even if he has not lived up fully to the expectations expressed in the will.

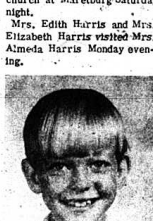

Thus:

Another man was worried about his son's dissolute friends. He provided in his will that the son should have certain valuable real estate, so long as he did not become a "drunkard and a vagabond."

As things turned out after the man died, his son did indeed become a drunkard. But he never did become a vagabond. Accordingly, not having acquired both of the vices specified in the will, he was held still entitled to the real estate. The court said it was reluctant to take away an inheritance unless the will left no real choice.

TO THE CITIZENS OF ROCKCASTLE COUNTY

As a former school teacher in Rockcastle County for seven years, holding both a B.S. Degree in Commerce and a M.A. Degree in Education with emphasis in Principalship, I feel that I am qualified to speak out on the present school board election.

One and one half years ago, when Rockcastle County was going through a school crisis, I conferred with the Chairman of the School Board, Mr. Preston Nunnelle at his home. Mr. Nunnelle, who had been a board member for several years revealed a keen insight into the situation when he said that the fallacy of the system is the manner in which the Superintendent must perpetuate himself. Coming from the Chairman of the Board of Rockcastle County Schools, this was indeed, a revealing statement.

From current and past observations, that statement means to me, that the Superintendent must become actively engaged in selecting and supporting board members to perpetuate his office and those that adhere to his policies. These words of Mr. Nunnelle seem to hit at the very heart of the problems that encompass our County School System at this time.

If an administrator performs his duties as he should, if he possesses the qualities of leadership that he should possess, if he deals fairly and justly with all, if he endorses sound, progressive policies, and if he devotes his full time and energy to carrying out those policies, I see no reason at all why he must resort to politics to perpetuate himself. I have yet to find one sound argument for incorporating politics within the school system, but I can propose many reasons why we should strive toward a system completely free of politics.

I do say that I will soundly support any individual, any program, any cause, any policy that I believe is dedicated to building a better school program and one that represents the welfare of every individual in Rockcastle County.

I hold no malice toward any person or any group of people, but I cannot in good conscience, wholeheartedly support a system that must rely upon the tactics of perpetuation that prevails in the Rockcastle County School System at this time.

Respectfully submitted,
Billy Hatt

I earnestly solicit your vote and support in the school board race on Nov. 3.

In this, my last article before election time I wish to thank each of you for your help and cooperation. I would also like to clear up a rumor that has been spread. I wish to restate my objectives.

1. Completion of the new High School.
2. An improved academic program.
3. A strong athletic program.
4. To serve four years as an independent board member.

 Please remember church Sunday School. Hope everyone is at peace with yourself, with God, with your family and your neighbor. We need to wake up and ask God to forgive us of our sins and heal our land. We Christians need to live like Christians, so others can see Jesus in us. It is so wonderful to be one of God's children. Thank the good Lord for everything. God bless you all.
