You & The Draft

This week we would like to relate a situation which conceivably could have become a dilemma for Herman, who was unable to document his Selective Service file with evidence which would assure him a lower classification than I-A.

The readers of this column know that the Military Selective Service Law requires a young man to register within five days after reaching his 18th birthday. One exception to the rule is that if a young man is on active duty at the time he becomes 18 his registration is delayed until after separation from the armed forces.

Herman was born October 5, 1947. He did not register until January 1969. When he completed his Selective Service Questionnaire he indicated that he had served in the army from February 1965 through February 1968 and had been given an honorable discharge. Herman did not provide the local board with additional proof of military service.

The clerk of the local board initiated a request to the Army Records Center for verification. A response to the inquiry was not forthcoming and the local board had no other choice but to classify Herman I-A.

Following the I-A Classification Herman documented his file with a copy of his marriage certificate and a copy of a birth certificate for a son thereby earning a Dependency Classification (III-A).

In January 1971 his wife divorced him and she was awarded custody of their child.

captain by an Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Station.

The clerk of the local board was positive that Herman had performed active military service and she was determined to prove it. Since additional requests for verification had not been acknowledged and Herman could not, or did not provide further acceptable proof of his military service, the clerk of the board called our office for advice.

A telephone contact was made with the Military Records Center and they responded by providing us with the information needed to confirm that Herman had performed sufficient active duty to entitle him to a IV-A Classification and nullify a future tour of involuntary active military service.

We hope that we have reported to you here not only will impress Herman, but all other young men of the importance of providing their local board with documentation that will assure that they are placed in the lowest classification to which they are eligible.

Q. Is there any printed free information about conscientious objectors?
A. Yes. The Selective Service has recently published a pamphlet entitled "Conscientious Objectors." A copy can be secured from the local Selective Service Board.

Q. I joined the army before I was 18. I was given a hardship deferment after one year of active duty. Am I required to register for the draft and if so, what will my classification be?
A. You are required to register under the Military Selective Service Act of 1967 as amended. If you have had more than six months of active duty and have been honorably discharged you are eligible for consideration of a IV-A Classification, which denotes complete service.

Rights of the Unborn
There was no doubt that the trucking company was liable for the collision at a downtown intersection. And there was no doubt that the trucking company was liable for injuries suffered by the expectant mother in the other car. But later the woman's baby was born blind. Was the trucking company liable for that too?

In a court hearing, the company said a child could not collect damages for something that happened before it was even born. Yet, the court held the company legally responsible for the child's blindness. The judge said:
"There should be a legal right in the newborn child to begin life with a sound body."
This viewpoint, while not universally accepted, is steadily gaining favor. At least, if the accident takes place after the unborn child has become "viable." Courts have decided it is fairer to put some burden on the defendant than to leave the child uncompensated for a real handicap.
However, it is not always clear that the accident truly did cause the child's affliction. In another case, a child was born mentally retarded after his mother had been hit by a careless motorist. But this time, there was no clear evidence connecting the two events. Refusing to hold the motorist liable, the court said a damage award would have been based "not on facts but on conjecture."
More unusual was the claim brought on behalf of an illegitimate child against his own father, seeking damages for the "shame" of his birth.
But the court saw this as a forerunner of countless lawsuits by disgruntled children against their parents:
"One might seek damages for being born a certain color, another because of race; one for being born with a hereditary disease, another for inheriting unfortunate family characteristics; one for being born into a large and destitute family, another because a parent has an unsavory reputation."
Fearing to throw open a Pandora's box of litigation, the court decided to turn the claim down.

Local DAR Ladies Attend Conference

A record number of members of the Berea Laurel Ridges Chapter and Rockcastle Chapter DAR attended the 75th Annual State Conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution held at the Phoenix Hotel in Lexington, March 24th and 25th.

The meeting was opened by a procession enhanced Chapter Banners carried by regents of the eighty three chapters of Kentucky. Eighty of these banners had been silk screened by Mrs. Wilson A. Evans of Berea and completed by members of Berea Laurel Ridges, Rockcastle and Bryan Station Chapters. The conference was presided over by Mrs. Wilson A. Evans, State Regent.

During the morning session Miss Frances Moore of Berea, State Resolutions Chairman, presented resolutions.

Following the afternoon session, the members went to Duncan Tavern Historic Center at Paris where the John Fox, Jr. Memorial Library Extension was dedicated. Under the leadership of Mrs. Evans, the library has been enlarged, refurbished and air-conditioned. Several pieces of furniture and ten paintings from the home of the late John Fox, Jr. in Big Stone Gap, Va. were placed in the library.

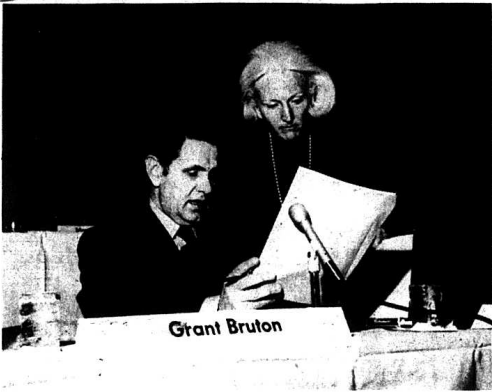

A pageant, "Home and Country," written and narrated by Mrs. Owen Scott, was presented on Wednesday evening commemorating the Seventy-Fifth Annual State Conference. Mrs. Walter Payne Coleman of Lexington, representing Miss Mary Deaha, a native Kentuckian, who was one of the Four Founders of NSDAR in 1890, was presented in costume, followed by representatives of past state regents and past and present state regents and the State Regent Elect in person- each in costume at the time of her tour of office. Each Regent was accompanied by a page bearing her chapter's banner.

Mrs. Wilson Evans, present State Regent, was accompanied by Miss Jane Moore of Frankfort, member of Berea Laurel Ridges Chapter. The backdrop for the pageant, a large replica of the 1890 NSDAR Seal, had been painted by Miss Donna Phipps of the Berea College Art Department.

When State Officers for the coming three years were installed on Thursday morning, Mrs. V. Gordon Walker of Berea was installed as State Registrar.

Those from Berea Laurel Ridges Chapter attending were Mrs. Wilson Evans, State Regent; Mrs. V.C. Walker, State Corresponding Secretary; Miss Frances Moore, Chapter Regent; Miss Gladys Parrish, Mrs. Clyde Jones, Mrs. George Lytle, Mrs. A.M. Hitt, Mrs. D.C. Churchill, Mrs. W.P. Those from the Rockcastle Chapter attending were Miss Janie Ramsey of Berea, Mrs. Elbert Eversole, Regent, Mrs. Joe Henderson, Mrs. Gilbert H. Adams, Mrs. Harry Mullins and Mrs. Roy Green.

Berea Laurel Ridges Chapter and Rockcastle Chapter received the State Honor Bell Gold Awards and Chapter Yearbook Blue Ribbon Awards. The Berea Chapter received the State Constitution Week Award. Mrs. Morris Todd is chapter Constitution Week Chairman. This included work done by the Rockcastle Chapter which, while not organized during Constitution Week, carried out a full Constitution Week Program under the leadership of Mrs. Wallace Williams and Mrs. Otis Miracle. The fine cooperation of the Berea Chapter which sponsored the organization of the Rockcastle Chapter enabled the new chapter, which has been organized for only six months, to receive these honors.

At the Regents' Club Luncheon on Tuesday, Mrs. J. Everett Baah of Jackson, on behalf of Governor Nunn, presented Mrs. Wilson Evans with a commission as a Kentucky Colonel. Mr. Wilson Evans was the speaker at the State Officers' Club dinner on Tuesday evening, speaking on "Communication."

Berea Laurel Ridges Chapter and Rockcastle Chapter congratulate Mrs. Wilson Evans on her achievements and outstanding record as Kentucky State Regent for 1968-71.

noted, was in the food stamp program now in operation in 72 Kentucky counties. Here 269,962 people—up 9,998 from December—were issued over $7.5 million in food coupons. Of this amount, more than $4.5 million was in free bonus stamps—a contribution of USDA's Food and Nutrition Service to Kentucky's war on hunger.

There were 54,987 needy people in Kentucky's other 48 counties who were provided supplementary food through the distribution of USDA donated foods in January. This was an increase of 1,932 over December.

James said much credit to the increased number of persons on the food programs could be given to the efforts of concerned community leaders to see that all eligible needy people are provided assistance.

Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Bullock of Route 1, Mt. Vernon celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary at their home on March 14. Six of their ten children were present for the occasion. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Bullock and family of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Renner and family of Indianapolis, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bullock and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dalmas Bullock and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Benton Bullock and son and Mrs. Wanda Cromer and son, all of Mt. ## Mother and Infant Die In Car Wreck

The Mt. Vernon Day Care Center for Exceptional Children is now in operation in the basement of the Christian Church. Mrs. Joe Young of Mt. Vernon is the teacher and Mrs. Floyd Owens is aide. Seven children, ages 5-13, are presently enrolled in the program, which is sponsored by the Southeastern Ky. Mental Health Center (SEKMHCC), and is under the direction of David Cole, Supervisor of Mental Retardation for a six-county area. Posing difficulty is the transportation arrangements, three more children will be enrolled in the program. The maximum number of children which can be handled by the local personnel with their present facilities is 12.

Local EKU Students Are Teaching

Eight students from Rockcastle County are among 443 seniors from Eastern Kentucky University who have begun student teaching in schools throughout Kentucky. They are assigned by EKU's College of Education to school systems throughout the state, 178 to elementary schools and 265 to secondary schools. Physical education has the greatest number of EKU student teachers in the secondary schools, with 57; the social sciences (history, political science, sociology) have the next greatest, 56. Some others are art, 19; English, 29; foreign languages, 15.

The main goals of the program are to teach the children self-help and socialization and to teach them anything which will make them more acceptable to their family and society in general. It is hoped that eventually the program will be a part of the public school system in this county as it is in some of the other five counties which come under the Southeastern Ky. Mental Health Center.

Three of the seven children in the program are brought to the church each day by a county school bus. The other four are transported by a bus which belongs to SEKMHCC. The church provides the facilities and heat free of charge and the teachers salaries are paid by the SEKMHCC.

Along with their other work, the children who meet it are given help by Mrs. Bill Gregory, who is presently working on her master's degree in speech therapy. Mrs. Gregory donates her time to the program.

The program, although in its infancy here, is obviously a success. From short observation of six children and

The above car is the one in which Mrs. Glenna Blaire Singleton, 31, of Pleasure Ridge Park, and her eight-month-old daughter, Sherri Lynn, lost their lives Saturday night, March 27. The accident occurred near the Rockcastle-Lincoln County line on U.S. 150. Mrs. Singleton and her daughter were passengers in a car driven by her husband, Ernest. Another child, Timothy, 5, was also in the car. Mr. Singleton and Timothy are patients at Barre Hospital. The Singleton car was struck by another car driven by Benjamin Franklin Jones, 25, Route 3, Crab Orchard (in Rockcastle County).

3,567 Countians Get Food Stamps

There were 3,567 low-income people in Rockcastle County receiving aid through the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (food stamp) commodity distribution program in January as compared to 3,609 in December, Russell H. James, Southeast regional director of the USDA's Food and Nutrition Service, reports. At the same time, James revealed that the total number of Kentucky people on the USDA food programs in January was a up 11,950 over the previous month. In January there were 324,949 participating as compared to 312,999 persons a month earlier.

The major increase, it was (Cont. to 12)

Bro. Davis Is Evangelist For Wildie Revival

Dean Davis, former minister of the Wildie Christian Church and presently a missionary to Nooka, Zambia, Africa will be returning to the Rockcastle County area to hold a Pre-Easter Revival Meeting at the Wildie Christian Church April 5 through 11. Bro. Davis and his wife, Judy, and their children, Jimmy and Cindy, are on a year's furlough from the mission field. They have served there the past three years.

Bro. Davis ministered part-time to the Wildie Christian Church from January, 1958 through April, 1958. After the short term ministry of Bro. E. Roy Gentry, Mr. Davis was called to serve as the full-time minister. This he did from June, 1957 through April, 1960. He is a graduate of Johnson Bible College and has served churches in Tennessee and North Carolina prior to going to the mission field. Bro. David A. Woods, minister at Wildie, wants to urge all to come and bear this dynamic messenger of the Good News about Jesus Christ!

DAR To Meet Friday Evening

by: perlina m. anderkin

Well, in last week's paper we told the story about a Pulaski County Dairy farmer who had three cows to each have a set of twins within three weeks of each other and made some smart remark about the dairy farmers of this county having to go home to top that. Grandpa should have known better, huh... Anyway, Bobby Blevins of Route 1, Crab Orchard did top it. Mr. Blevins informed us that within 14 days of each other three of his cows had a set of twins. The only other comment we have on the subject is that perhaps you other dairy farmers ought to find out what Mr. Blevins and Mr. Livestary are feeding their cows to make them so prolific. Now to you like that for a big word, if you know what it means you will also know why I of all people use it.

I know I will probably make somebody mad with my next comment but it can always be laid down to my being old-fashioned (at least more and more every day). Anyway, have you noticed lately how store clerks, hospital nurses, dental assistants and secretaries and doctors nurses are wearing pant suits. Like I say, it is no doubt a throw-back to my early days as I secretary when the uniform was a neat dress or skirt and blouse and always stockings and high heels. I kind of makes you register a double-take when you have been used to it to go into eyes doctors, dentists and doctors' offices in Lexington and see all the women in pant suits. I'll have to admit I don't like them but I have a tendency to change of fads after they aren't the "thing" any longer.

LHS Homecoming Set For April 17

Livingston High School is planning a Homecoming to be held at the Livingston School Gymnasium April 17 at 8 p.m., according to Mrs. Sharon Eversole, chairman of this year's homecoming. The theme will be "Oriental Gardens."

Mrs. Eversole said that past homecomings have been quite successful and plans are now being made to set up a scholarship fund from the proceeds of future homecomings. Entertainment for this year's banquet will be provided by "The Windy Rhymers," a group of which Dutch Phillips, an alumni of Livingston High School, is a member. Another group, "The Graduates," will also entertain. This group is composed entirely of past graduates of Livingston High School.

Alumni Banquet Set For Broadhead

The annual Alumni Banquet will be held at Broadhead School April 10 beginning at 7:30 p.m. The classes of 1911, 21, 31, 41, 51 and 61 will be honored and tickets are $2 per person.

Local Day Care Center Now In Operation

Mrs. Glenna Blaire Singleton, 31, of Pleasure Ridge Park and her eight-month-old daughter, Sherri Lynn, became Rockcastle County's first traffic fatality for the year Saturday night when the car in which they were passengers was involved in a two-car collision on U.S. 150, eight miles west of Mt. Vernon.

Mrs. Singleton and her child were passengers in a car driven by her husband, Ernest Singleton, Mr. Singleton and another child, Timothy, 5, were also injured in the wreck.

Mr. Singleton told State Police that he was traveling west on U.S. 150 when a car, driven by Benjamin Franklin Jones, 25, Route 3, Crab Orchard (in Rockcastle Co.), traveling east, topped a rise in the wrong lane. Mr. Singleton further said that he attempted to get off the road to avoid the collision. The impact occurred in the westbound lane near the edge of the road.

Mrs. Singleton was killed instantly and the infant was dead on arrival at the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital.

No charges have been filed in connection with the accident at this time.

Besides her parents, Mr.

and Mrs. Massie Blaire of Boone, her son and husband, Mrs. Singleton is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Bill Patrick and Mrs. Dorothy McCracken. Sherri Lynn is also survived by her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Singleton of Brodhead. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Fairview Baptist Church, where Mrs. Singleton was a member. Burial was in the Fairview Cemetery.

Rominger Funeral Home in Berea was in charge of arrangements. *****

Named To Dean's List

Brenda Gay Hodges, a senior at Cumberland College in Williamsburg, was recently named to the Dean's List with a 3.67 quality point standing (based on four points).

Mrs. Hodges is majoring in biology and medical technology and minoring in chemistry. She is now in the professional semester and began student teaching March 29.

Mrs. Hodges is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stephens of Mt. Vernon, and is married to Jerry Hodges, also a senior at Cumberland.

A familiar face is missing from the scene at the Bank of Mt. Vernon since Mrs. Laura McHargue, an employee there for the past twenty-five years, has begun her retirement. Mrs. McHargue's easy manner, varied interests and efficiency in her work have endeared her to her fellow workers as it has to all who know her. Of course, if you are acquainted with Mrs. McHargue at all, you will realize that the word "retire" really isn't in her vocabulary since her time will be well filled with her many hobbies. She was honored by her fellow workers Friday, March 26, with a dinner at the Cedar Rapids Country Club. The directors, officers and employees of the Bank of Mt. Vernon, along with the many customers of the bank whom she has served so well so long, would like to wish Mrs. McHargue well. With the youthful spirit which she possesses, we are sure she will enjoy many years of pleasure and happiness.

As can be seen from the above photo, play time and an exercise period are part of the daily schedule for the seven children now enrolled in the Mt. Vernon Day Care Center. In the top photo, Mrs. Floyd Owens, aide, leads the children in pantomiming a record. In the bottom photo, the children are shown working off some of their excess "steam" with a variety of play and exercise toys which the school offers. The children attend school one-half a day, five days a week in the basement of the Mt. Vernon Christian Church, Mrs. Joe Young teaches the class.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker of Orlando celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary reception. Those attending were Mrs. Carrie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Estill Philbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Philbeck, Miss Pamela Baker, Mrs. Dillard Kirby, Miss Judy Mason, Carolyn Miller, William Sexton, Miss Peggy Phillips. Mr. and Mrs. Baker have six children and five grandchildren.

Mt. Vernon and Mrs. Ada Pittman of Covington; five sons, Daniel and Hugh Robbins, both of Mt. Vernon, Harve Robbins of Alexander, Va., Paul Robbins of Norwood, Ohio and Edie Robbins of Walden; one brother, James Harve Cromer of Corbin; 31 grandchildren, 57 great grandchildren and several great great grandchildren. Her husband, William Stuyven Robbins, preceded her in death.

Hancock Here Campaigning

Ed W. Hancock of Monticello, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General in the May primary election, was in Rockcastle County on Wednesday in behalf of his candidacy. Hancock, who is 46, has several years experience in state government. He is believed to be the first candidate for Attorney General who is both an attorney and a certified public accountant. While here Hancock visited with local officials and met other citizens of the county. He expressed regret that his schedule would not allow him time to meet and talk with more people. He plans on trying to visit each county in the state before the primary election. Hancock believes in stricter law enforcement by the courts and providing for speedier trials for those accused of crimes in order to restore respect for the law. Additionally, he supports giving the Attorney General authority to confer, cooperate, advise and review with law enforcement officers and prosecuting attorneys concerning the investigation, accusation, trial and disposition of felony cases.

TURNUPIKE AUTHORITY SELLS MORE BONDS

The Kentucky Turnpike Authority has sold another $90 million in revenue bonds to a group of financial institutions to continue work on the state's new toll roads.

The interest rate for the sale was 8.492 per cent, down from the 7.159 per cent interest paid on $100 million in bonds sold earlier in the year for the roads.

The latest sale brings to $340 million the total amount of bonds sold for the five new toll roads, leaving $60 million yet to be sold under the Turnpike Authority's initial authorization of $400 million.

The roads involved run from Henderson to Somersart, through Owensboro and Bowling Green, and from London to Hazard.

CANDIDATES CAN FILE UNTIL MIDDNIGHT MARCH 31

Secretary of State Kenneth F. Harper has announced his office will be open until midnight March 31 to receive late filings for multi-county and statewide elective offices.

Midnight March 31 is the official filing deadline for the May 25 primary and November 2 general elections.

"The statutes require the secretary of state to receive filings until midnight of the final filing day," Harper said. "We will keep the office open for the convenience of any citizen who wishes to file."

Some 113 candidates already have filed for the primary.

BOARD WOULD BAN GIVING STAMPS FOR MILK

A group of new regulations recommended by the Kentucky Milk Marketing and Anti-monopoly Commission would, if approved, exclude some dairy products from trading-stamp credits.

Under the present rules governing milk sales, stamps can be given on dairy products with a grocery order, based on total over-the-counter grocery sales.

According to James E. Claycomb, executive secretary of the state agency, trading stamps are considered by the commission as "something of value" and constitute a form of discounting or pricecutting.

Among products which would be excluded are fluid milk, sweet cream, sour cream, skim milk, flavored milk, buttermilk and condensed or concentrated whole or skim milk for use in fluid-milk products.

Also excluded would be cottage cheese, ice cream and ice cream mix. Butter, cured cheeses and cheese spreads would still count in the trading stamp exchange.

The new regulations will go into effect this spring after the recommendations are approved by the dairy processors and distributors and revisions are made in the law.

PRESTON OPPOSES INSURANCE PLAN

State Insurance Commissioner Robert Preston has said he opposes proposed federal legislation designed to induce states to adopt "no-fault" automobile insurance systems.

Instead, Preston said he favors a voluntary approach to "no-fault" plans to compensate auto accident victims.

"No-fault" insurance is first-party insurance designed to compensate accident victims for their losses as soon as they occur, rather than after a determination of fault has been made.

First-party, or "no-fault" insurance now is available on a voluntary basis, but not enough people are interested in buying it, Preston said.

Three insurance companies have been approved by the state Insurance Department to write such policies in Kentucky. Premiums cost about $7 extra per year, Preston said.

Preston prefers a plan that would pay an accident victim immediate out-of-pocket expenses. To obtain more money, a victim would have to go to court and prove fault.

PROPERTY COMMISSION OKAYS BONDS

The state Property and Buildings Commission has transferred $250,000 in general-obligation bond proceeds to the Mental Health Department for renovation of Hazelwood Tuberculosis Hospital in Louisville as a facility for the mentally retarded.

Mrs. Lillian Press, executive assistant to Mental Health Commissioner Dr. Dale H. Farabee, said the building will be transferred to the Mental Health Department July 1.

She said the department will move about $90 of the severely mentally retarded to Hazelwood from the Frankfort State Hospital and School, which is to be closed when new facilities for the retarded in Somerset are completed.

The Property and Buildings Commission also approved:

- A $5.5 million bond issue for Morehead State University for construction of the Federal Hall classroom building, for construction of a building for the Appalachian Technical Institute, and for renovation of the university's boiler plant and heating system.
- Interim financing of the first $4.4 million worth of construction at the new Northern Kentucky State College in Campbell County, Groundbreaking for a five-story academic-administration building which will be the hub of the new campus has been set for March 31, with Governor Nunn attending.

DAVIES GETS POLICE DEPARTMENT

Davies County will soon have for the first time a police force working at the county level, made up of five state policemen.

The new arrangement, first of its kind in Kentucky, was made possible by federal matching 75-cent-a-minute fighting funds. Davies County will put up half of $95,000 a year to get its five-man force. The money will pay all salaries and cover the costs of cars, telephone, office space and such.

Under the plan, a sergeant, a detective and three troopers will be assigned for local duty, mostly in the suburban areas outside Owensboro. The force will begin work in mid-April.

Police Director Larry Boucher said the success of the plan depends on the city of Owensboro giving the force jurisdiction inside city limits. This is anticipated, he added.

Boucher said he believes such other counties as McCracken and Warren, which do not have a police county police, will find the plan attractive and make possible a statewide enlargement of the state police.

Davies County Judge Pat Tanner lauded the arrangement and said the best part of it is "we will have a police force without political interference or involvement."

TOM DUNCAN'S

Frankfort Watchline

"Batten the hatches, Albert's out campaigning.

Not Albert Benjamin "Happy" Chandler—although he's on the road too—but Finance Commissioner Albert Christen.

And he's threatening to wreck Kentucky political traditions.

Christen is bringing up the question of taxes—taxes to pay for the campaign, expenses, programs and proposals.

That's not the way it's done. You talk about that AFTER election day. At least you do if you're a candidate.

But Christen just never has caught on to the thinking of government planners. A taxpayer's dollar still represents a dollar's worth of work to him.

So he's daring the candidates to confront the question of where they'll get the money to carry out their promises.

Since they probably won't, Christen is putting some cost estimates of his own various proposals—for example 33 million dollars a year for the state to fund kindergartens.

Present revenue sources simply won't provide for that, to say nothing of other educational demands, help for local governmental units and other pressing needs.

And Christen puts an accurate peg in one of the worn out explanations of how a candidate will do it without increasing taxes—by raising government aid proposals.

"He who talks about full reorganization of state government all at one time is just yapping."

Christen isn't yapping.

The political point to be flag over coal dealings by former Mines and Minerals Commissioner Ambrose Mandt was not the question of possible conflict of interest.

The target of Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford's forces was the use of the environmentalists, those often at odds with coal operators.

Ford strategists have written off most operators as being for former Gov. Bert stands while testing public sentiment.

His answer to a question on the Sunday closing muddle was:

"Some form of local option in the way of Sunday closing, without any question I think, will go back into the General Assembly this time, at least from what I've been able to gather.

"It would depend on the form of the bill and generally on the bill itself as to what my position would be on that."

"Now that's getting back to bedrock traditional campaigning."

Take a look at two views from inside the Nunn administration: Deputy Personnel Commissioner William Moore—"Action is being initiated to bring about a more efficient government for Kentucky, a better place in which to work and an improved image of our employees."

Finance Commissioner Christen—"Let's face it; we have a sick government and it is in need of constant reform...Modern government is really unworkable."

To which can only be added, just be thankful you're not

U.S. DESIGNATES HISTORIC SITES IN KY.

The National Park Service has added eight sites in Kentucky to the list of places worthy of preservation.

The sites are:

- * The old Statehouse, the lieutenant governor's mansion and the "Corner of Celebrities" in Frankfort. The Corner of Celebrities is a square block which has contained the homes of numerous state and public figures since Kentucky's founding.
- * White Hall, the home of Cassius Clay, in Madison County.
- * Federal Hill, best known as "My Old Kentucky Home," in Bardonia.
- * Locust Grove, the home of George Rogers Clark, in Louisville.
- * Big Bone Lick, in Boone County, an archeologically important site that is part of a state park.

Federal grants of up to 50 per cent of the cost are available for purchase and development of sites that are listed in the national register and that are also part of a state historic preservation plan.

The State Heritage Commission and Spindtop Research are currently working on Kentucky's preservation plan. A survey just completed has produced an inventory of 2000 existing historic sites in the state.

The state plan, which will propose means and priorities of preservation, will be forwarded to the U.S. Department of Interior by June 1.

MRS. BERNARD DALTON

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cummins of Berea announce the marriage of their daughter, Beverly Conn, to Bernard Dalton, son of Bernard Dalton, Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. Christine Dalton, Berea, Sunday afternoon, February 28 at Danforth Chapel in Berea. Officiating was Rev. Albert Gene Griffin, a cousin of the bride, who is pastor of Porter Memorial Baptist Church in Lexington. Valette Jennings sang "I Love Thee" and The Lord's Prayer, accompanied by Eddie Mac Wray at the chapel organ. The bride's floor-length gown was of white satin, with empire waist, victoria sleeves and neckline, and with a pale pink ribbon trimmed with white embroidered flowers down the center front. The gown had a chapel train, trimmed with embroidered white flowers. A beaded cap held her waist-length veil of illusion. She carried a white bible with white carnations. Maid of Honor was the bride's sister, Belinda, who wore a floor-length cranberry velvet gown with a pink satin sash. Cousins of the bride, Kay Kavanaugh and Karol Cummins, served as bridesmaids, wearing pink chiffon blouses with floor-length cranberry velvet skirts. The flower girl was Tina Cummins, sister of the bride, who was dressed identically to the maid of honor. Each of the bride's attendants carried a single pink carnation. Eric Smith served as best man, while Jeff Atwell, Jim Lawson and Ken Kavanaugh ushered. Serving at the reception, held immediately after the ceremony, in the Fireside Room, were Mrs. Margaret Cummins, Mrs. Ann Grey, Misses Katrina Fowler, Robin Hamilton and Juanita Grey. Miss Becky Spokin kept the guest book. Out of town guests attending included Larry Harmon, Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. John Harmon, Jr., Ottumwa, Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Steven Harmon, and Mrs. Brenda North, Norwood, Ohio. Mrs. Roy Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gabbard and family, McKee; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Epley and family and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Harris and Connie, Somerset, and from Lexington came Mr. and Mrs. Roland Barnett and family, Phillip Prater, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Fowler and Mrs. Ed Wolf, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard McQueen. The bridal couple returned to Berea after a two-week honeymoon in Florida. The bride will again make her home with her parents while Mr. Dalton is in basic training in the U.S. Air Force.

Health Dept. Employees Get Pay Increases

Later pay checks will grant local health department employees in April—three months ahead of schedule.

In announcing the 10 per cent salary increase, Gov. Louis B. Nunn said the merit System Council for local

LEARNING IS FUN—Although born deaf, 4-year-old Jimmy Martin finds that it is fun to listen and learn. With the aid of a Y cord, a progressive home learning program and encouragement from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Martin, of Louisville, Jimmy will be able to attend public schools at a normal age. (Gary Robinson Photo)

Health Departments recommended the new salary schedule which takes effect April 1.

Commenting on the pay raise, Commissioner of Health William P. McElwain said, "We are begrudgingly ask and expect more from local health departments. Both Governor Nunn and I want people out there who can plan and deliver the type of health services which modern technology has made available for combating disease and pollution."

"We felt that with this salary increase we can continue to build a staff capable of providing the quality of services which the public has a right to expect."

The pay boost comes three months earlier than planned due to unanticipated savings. This year's allocation of state funds to county health departments included no appropriations for salaries. Annual health employees' salaries have not increased since July 1969.

Recommendations for higher salaries followed a study of local health department pay scales requested by Dr. McElwain.

A CORRECTION...

In last week's paper, we ran a story concerning an $1,800 judgment which was awarded Mrs. Dessie Scheffler of Lincoln County against Everett Cash and the Rockcastle County Board of Education.

In the story, we stated that the damages were awarded for medical expenses for Mrs. Scheffler which were incurred by her after her car was struck by a county school bus. This statement was in error. There was no actual contact between the two vehicles.

By: H. Lee Durhan.
Liverwort Causes Damage In Tobacco Plant Beds
If your tobacco plant bed was treated in fall and covered with plastic this past winter, check it for growth of liverwort, suggests Dr. J.H. Smiley, UK Extension tobacco specialist.

This strange-looking little plant can cause damage in plant beds by competing with the tobacco seedlings, he says. It is dark green, fleshy, flattened, and shaped something like a rosette, and it grows on moist, bare soil, appearing in early spring.

Questions and Answers

Q. I read that Congress passed the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act. Are any of my social security contributions going toward paying for the "black lung" benefit?

A. No. These benefits are paid out of general revenues. They are not social security benefits. Although the Social Security Administration will administer the program through 1972. After that, the Labor Department will be responsible for the program.

This law provides cash benefits to coal miners who are disabled by "black lung" disease and to survivors of miners who died from the disease.

A claim for these benefits can be filed by visiting or writing a letter to any social security office. The letter should state that it is an application for benefits under the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act. It should show the name and social security number of the coal miner and the address and telephone number of the applicant.

Q. I am a widow with four young children. I expected my social security benefits to stop when I went to work full time. But I still get the same amount every month. Why?

A. With four young children your family is still entitled to the maximum benefit amount based on your husband's earnings. Families with three or more survivors entitled to monthly benefits usually get this maximum. Since your four children continue to collect social security, your family keeps getting the same amount—the family maximum—whether you work or not. Stopping your check and increasing the amount paid to each of your children could cause an interruption in your payments. For this reason, and to save administrative costs, the checks continue in your name.

Q. My wife collects social security as my dependent. She just started working and will make more than $1,680 this year. How will this affect our checks?

A. Your check will stay the same because your benefit is only affected if you work. But your wife's benefit will be reduced according to the amount she earns.

Q. I am a 62-year-old teacher. I will not work during June, July, and August. I get pay checks for these months. Can I get social security retirement benefits for this period?

A. Yes. You are considered retired in any month you do not earn over $140 in wages or do substantial work in self-employment. Since you aren't working in June, July, and August, you are not earning pay in those months. The paychecks you get actually are earned during other months.

Q. My husband and I have been receiving a single monthly check with both our names on it. He died before endorsing the check. What must I do with the check?

A. You can return the check to be re-issued in your name. If you have an immediate need for the money, visit your social security office, and they will stamp the check so you can cash it without your husband's signature.

Q. I lost my social security card. Must I get another social security number?

A. No. If you use more than one social security number, there is a chance you may not get credit for all of your earnings. You should get a duplicate card with the same number at your social security office.

Q. My husband and I receive a single social security check with both our names on it. Can we receive separate checks?

A. Yes. Checks for married couples usually are combined to save administrative costs and to save check cashing fees. But, if you'd rather get separate checks, just send a written request, signed by you or your husband, to your social security office.

Have a question about social security and its retirement, survivors, disability or Medicare benefits? See your telephone directory for the telephone number and address of the nearest social security office.

Liverwort is found primarily in fall-planted beds that were covered with plastic during the winter. Apparently, the plastic provides a good environment for liverwort growth.

First found in Kentucky tobacco plant beds about 1965, liverwort has appeared in most areas of the state. Several farmers have already reported liverwort in plant beds this year, Smiley notes.

Liverwort can be killed by sprinkling the plant bed through the cotton or canvas with a bluestone-lime mixture (3 lbs. bluestone and 4 lbs. hydrated lime in 50 gals. water). Apply it at the rate of 1 qt. per square yard—50 gals. will cover 200 ft. of bed, 9 ft. wide, or 150 ft. of bed, 12 ft. wide.

More detailed directions for applying this bluestone-lime mixture are available from your local Extension agent.

TOMATO VARIETY
Jet Star is one of the best tomato varieties for Kentucky, according to Field Trials conducted at Lexington last year. Twelve varieties were grown (unpruned), trellis (pruned), and black plastic mulch (unpruned) culture. Yields were recorded for the first three pickings, and fruits were graded as marketable or unmarketable. Unmarketable fruits were further separated into ground spot and/or rot, small size, deformed, and blossom-rot categories.

Tips on "Buying Lawn Seed

On the first pretty day every spring, thousands of home owners rush to their lawn supply store to buy grass seed. But the various displays of different types of seeds often confuse the homeowner—he just doesn't know what type is best for his lawn.

Hayden Watkins, turf management specialist for the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture has some tips for these befuddled grass planters.

"A homeowner can pay $3.98 for one pound, or $3.98 for five pounds," Watkins explained, "and the seed he chooses depends on the type of lawn needs."

"Price should not be the yardstick in measuring what you buy in lawn seed," he warned. Here are some tips on avoiding the pitfalls which trap many seed buyers:

—Read the label. It should tell the buyer what kind of lawn seed is in the package, the percent of each kind of mixture, its germination percentage, where it was grown, number of seed aged, and number of crop seed. These labeling procedures are required by the Kentucky law to protect the consumer.

—You should decide what type of seed you need before you go to the store. Most Kentucky lawns will be a Kentucky bluegrass or a mixture of Kentucky bluegrass and other grasses, Watkins said. For reseeding, Kentucky bluegrass should be used, preferably one grown in Kentucky or the variety Kenblue.

"Both of these types have proven superior to all other varieties in test here at UK," Watkins said. However, red fescue or other fine leaf fescue may be present in the seed bag if it is a mixture, and Watkins reports, "this is good, because red fescue grows very well in shaded areas. They are often mixed with Kentucky bluegrass when there is expected to be some shade in the home lawn."

Other lawn grasses such as bentgrass may be present, but Watkins does not recommend them. "They demand too much watering and management for most home lawns in Kentucky," he said.

Tall fescue, although an excellent turfgrass by itself, should not be used in a mixture, Watkins explained. "If you want a tall fescue lawn, then you should seed straight fescue, Kentucky 31 or Kenwell, at a rate of 8 to 8 pounds per thousand square feet of lawn."

Other grasses that may be found in lawn mixtures are Meadow fescue, annual or Italian ryegrass, perennial ryegrass and redtop. None of these merit consideration for a home lawn in Kentucky, Watkins emphasized.

Lawns of 100 percent tall fescue may be desirable where there will be lots of activity or play.

"Remember, that according to law, the content of each package of seed sold in Kentucky, must be labeled correctly," the UK specialist said. "So homeowners should read the labels—and heed what's on them."

For further information on types of grasses which can be used on lawns, consult your local County Extension agent.

Hunting & Fishing

Croppie, despite recent cold, snowy days, already are moving into the shallower waters of the lakes and their spawning forays cannot be too far off.

Water temperatures have advanced into the fifties, especially in the shallow water sections, and this has induced the croppie to head toward the spawning grounds although as yet they have not visited them. When the temperatures hit the 60-degree mark in the tributaries then they'll move in, there to deposit their eggs and, at the same time, provide fishermen with excellent sport for a three-to-four-week period.

This spawning movement occurs in all lakes, in streams and actually in ponds in the early spring. In the deeper lakes, however, this is not so evident as it is, for instance, in Kentucky Lake, which is known as the Croppie Capital of the World during the "run."

Sure, the croppie will be caught in great numbers in other lakes. Many will be taken from Lake Cumberland from "right in the top" of the partly submerged willow bushes. They'll be caught at three to four feet deep.

In other lakes they'll be taken in the same manner, but often at depths of 8 to 10 feet around fallen tree-tops or under debris that has congregated in the inlets and bays. When taken in this manner the croppie are staging their spawning "run," but it is not as evident as it is in Kentucky lake.

There is no mistaking the "run" in the aquatic impoundment. It has more acres of shallow water than any other lake and the shallow water is sprinkled with a growth of small trees and bushes and shrubs. The water in these areas may be only one or two feet deep.

At Kentucky the croppie will move right into the shallow water to deposit their eggs. They'll be there, coming and going, for a period of three weeks if the weather is favorable. And they'll be caught by cane pole fishermen who dabble a minnow roughly a foot below a sink-
