

Cong. Tim Lee

Carter Comments

Congressman Tim Lee Carter last week joined with Senator John Sherman Cooper in supporting the burley tobacco price support program, and in urging burley growers to vote in the referendum on Tuesday, May 4.

Senator Cooper and Congressman Carter urged burley growers to keep their price support program by voting for it in the referendum on May 4, as they have done every three years in the past. Speaking at Berea, Cooper said the price support program "is clearly in the best interest of all burley growers—large and small" and that the "the program will be a better program than acreage, and fair to all, whatever their present acreage and wherever they are located." Fifth District Congressman Tim Lee Carter had hoped to join Senator Cooper at the Berea meeting, but the House of Representatives was voting the day on extension of the Appalachian Regional Development Program.

Senator Cooper emphasized that the referendum is not to choose between the acreage allotments used in the past and the price support program. The Congress has passed the burley price support program and the President has signed it. Acreage controls for burley tobacco have been ended. Poundage will be the method of control in the future, if two-thirds of those voting approve. If so, you will have the 90 percent price support program for burley tobacco, and it will be the best for you.

"But unless two-thirds of the burley growers in all the States vote for the program," Cooper said, "there will be no price support—and there will be unlimited production of burley tobacco, which would drive down prices. I believe that would be a disaster for burley growers in Kentucky."

"We know the vital importance of the burley tobacco price support program to thousands of farm families in Southeastern Kentucky, and to rural communities and businesses," Representative Carter said, "it would be a terrible blow to lose the price support program."

The Kentucky Senator and Fifth District Congressman pointed out that the new program includes safeguards and advantages to growers not available under the old acreage program, or under the acreage-poundage plan proposed several years ago. For example, the law guarantees that no farm quota be reduced more than 5 percent in any year.

Senator Cooper and Dr. Carter said that they are especially glad that the poundage program includes a special small farm provision, which Congressman Carter was instrumental in securing in the House of Representatives. Growers now having one-half acre or less could be reduced only half of whatever reduction may be ordered in 1972 and 1973.

Senator Cooper, who introduced and sponsored the bill in the Senate, said the poundage plan as finally adopted was supported by all Members of Congress in both houses representing burley districts. In presenting the advantages of the poundage plan, he called attention also to its crop insurance and logging features.

Each farmer has now received his poundage quota, Congressman Carter pointed out, and is in a position to make a sound judgment whether he wishes to produce and sell that amount, with price support, or to have no production controls and no price support.

Dr. Carter noted also the 35 percent increase in price support announced recently for the 1971 crop, and said he had been informed by the Department of Agriculture that price support levels under poundage would continue to increase each year.

Without the change to poundage, Cooper said a 30 percent under the acreage program this year, with further cuts proposed year after year. He pointed out that effective controls are the essential requirement of having 90 percent of parity price support, and that if a surplus was allowed to continue to build up, the program would lose public support, and could not be maintained by its friends in the Congress.

"The poundage plan is an opportunity to save our tobacco price support program," Mr. Cooper declared, "and I hope we have made it possible for you to do so. It will maintain the income of burley farmers, and the agricultural economy of rural areas throughout Kentucky."

"I was very glad to work with Senator Cooper on the new program," affirmed Representative Carter. "I believe every farmer should consider this matter, and go to the local voting places and vote on May 4, in the interest of the future of the program, and in his own interest."

Burley Price Supports Announced For 1971

Price supports on the 1971 crop of burley tobacco will average $71.50 a hundred pounds, a gain of $2.90 over the average level of supports on the 1969 crop.

The Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, which administers the price support program in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Missouri, said the increase represents a 35 percent increase in the price support, the system used to relate supports to the costs of the things which farmers must buy.

The application of price supports to the 1971 crop depends, however, on whether growers voting in the May 4 referendum accept marketing quotas and supports by more than 66 2/3 percent.

About nine per cent, or more than 47 million pounds of burley, was taken under price supports from the 1970 crop.

The increase in support prices for 1971 means gains in the various grades of burley, prices for which will be set later.

For the 43,176,556 pounds taken by the Burley Co-Op in the five states in which it handles the program, an average of $72.57 was paid, reflecting a volume of higher-priced grades taken under supports.

Nearly 500 million pounds of burley are currently held by the associations handling the price support program. Heavy increases in recent years in these stocks, and steadily increasing yields per acre which were complicating the burley supply-demand situation, were the reasons why the control phase of the production control-price support program was changed.

The Burley Co-Op reiterated that growers should be certain they know that they must pass the program offered in the May 4 referendum if there will be no price supports on the 1971 crop.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

The "insurance" feature of the program provides that: if marketings from a farm are less than the farm's quota in any year, the difference will be added to the farm's quota for the following year. A farm also may over-market its quota by up to 10 per cent without penalty and with price support. The excess is deducted from the farm's quota the following year. This feature protects growers in the event of a crop failure.

Individual farm quotas are based on a production history system over the last five years, adjusted as necessary and within limits stated in the new law.

Cooper Urges Growers To Pass Referendum

Senator John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) last week urged burley growers to keep their price support program, and to vote for it in the referendum on May 4, as they have done every three years in the past. Speaking at Berea—which he said he chose as convenient to as many burley growers as possible from all areas—Cooper said the price support program "is clearly in the best interest of all burley growers—large and small," and that a poultage program "will be a better program than acreage, and fair to all, whatever their present acreage and wherever they are located."

Senator Cooper emphasized that the referendum is not to choose between the acreage allotments used in the past and poultage controls, "the Congress has passed the burley poultage bill and the President has signed it. Acreage controls for burley tobacco have been ended. Poultage will be the method of control in the future, if two-thirds of those voting approve. If so, you will have the 90 percent price support program for burley tobacco, and it will be an effective program.

"But unless two-thirds of the burley growers in all the States vote for the program," Cooper said, "there will be no price support—and there will be unlimited production of burley tobacco, which would drive down prices. I believe that would be a disaster for burley growers in Kentucky.

The Kentucky Senator pointed out that the new program includes safeguards and advantages to growers not available under the old acreage program, or under the acreage-poultage plan proposed several years ago. For example, the law guarantees that no farm quota can be reduced more than 5 percent in any year.

Senator Cooper said that he was especially glad that the poultage program includes a special farm provision. Growers now having one-half acre or less could be reduced only half of whatever reduction may be ordered in 1978 and 1979—that is, not more than 2 1/2 percent. After 1979, Cooper indicated that further reductions may not be needed, and cited USDA figures which show that total income from the crop could be expected to increase.

Senator Cooper, who introduced and sponsored the bill

Four county F1B-graders carried off top honors in the recent Posture Poster Contest. The contest is sponsored state-wide by the Kentucky Association of Chiropractors and locally by Hazel Noble, D.C. The posters were judged on forcefulness of message, originality, neatness and art work. The four local winning posters will go on to compete on the district level and then be entered in the state contest and could go on to national competition. The four local winners are, from left: Rhonda Gay Barnett, Brothard School, first place; Dennis McClure, Blue Springs, second place; Shari L. Martin, Brothard School, third place and Dana Lynne Craig, Roundstone School, fourth place.

In the Senate, said that the poultage plan as finally adopted was supported by all Members of Congress in both Houses representing burley districts. He explained how the acreage control program got into difficulty—through increasing yields per acre and a recent decline in the use of burley tobacco. In presenting the advantages of the poultage plan, he called attention also to its crop insurance and leasing features.

Each farmer has now received his poultage quota, Senator Cooper pointed out, and is in a position to make a sound judgment whether he wishes to produce and sell that amount, with price support, or to have no production controls and no price support. Cooper noted also the 3% increase price support announced recently for the 1971 crop, and said he had been informed by the Department of Agriculture that price support levels under poultage would continue to increase each year.

Without the change to poultage, Cooper said a 30 percent cut would have been ordered under the acreage program this year with further cuts proposed year after year. He pointed out that effective controls are the essential requirement of having 90 percent of parity price support, and that if a surplus was allowed to encourage better use, the program would lose public support, and could not be maintained by its friends in the Congress.

Recalling that he had secured, in 1948 with the late Senator Barkley, 90 percent price support for tobacco—whenever two-thirds of the growers vote for the program Senator Cooper said he believed farmers have his deep and continued interest in their well-being.

"The poultage plan is an opportunity to save our tobacco price support program," Cooper declared, "and I believe I have made it possible for you to do so. It will maintain the income of growers, farmers, and the agricultural economy of rural areas throughout Kentucky."

Senator Cooper concluded, "I urge burley growers to keep their price support program—I think you will want to do so."

Brodhead FFA Banquet Held April 23

The Brodhead Future Farmers of America Chapter held their annual parent-son banquet last Friday night with about 160 members, parents and guests present.

Several awards, in different areas, were presented to FFA members during the evening. These included:

Ernie Graves, who received a trophy for placing first in Impromptu Speaking in Hogs.

Darrell Whitaker received a trophy for first place in Impromptu Speaking in Beef. He won first place in this division during competition in the South Bluegrass Federation and will compete at the state level at the State Convention June 3.

Darrell also won first place in the chapter in Beef and Corn Production and was awarded the Leadership trophy for his participation in the Chapter. Darrell has attended the state and national convention, leadership training and has held the secretary and president's office in the chapter as well as serving on several committees.

Tommy Adams received a trophy in Impromptu Speaking in Dairy and Tobacco and received a superior rating in tobacco and dairy in district competition and also received the Chapter Star Farmer Plaque. His present supervised occupational experience program includes two pure bred registered Holstein cows, 50 acres of corn, 1 acre of alfalfa and one-half acre of Burley Tobacco. He has served as president and vice president of the chapter.

Ricky Hasty received a trophy in Chapter Creed Speaking, in which he received a superior rating in the district contest.

Tommy Lunstford received a trophy in Hog Production.

Jim McKinney received a trophy in chapter Public Speaking, in which he received a superior rating in district and fourth place trophy. Jim also received a first in record keeping.

Jimmy French received the best notebook award.

HONORARY MEMBERS-- Shawn Hamm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Ray Hamm of Versailles, won first place for his original essay on Pollution during Earth Science Week. ## Littering Is Problem On Lake Linville Littering on Lake Linville has been expressly prohibited by the Mt. Vernon City Council, but it seems to be a growing problem in the area, according to Mt. Vernon Mayor Ed Winstead.

Mayor Winstead said recently that effective immediately no further warnings would be given those caught littering but that fines would be imposed. Mayor Winstead further said that boaters on the lake are prohibited and that the picnic area should be cleared by picnickers after use. Cook-out equipment will be available as soon as possible, the Council has decided.

Also concerning the lake, Mayor Winstead pointed out that the lake has now been two-lined and signs have been posted in different areas of the lake with the restrictions for that area specified on them. One of the most important rules to remember about the (Cont. to D) ## ramblings

by: perlina m. anderskin

Something kept telling me last week that I was forgetting an important news item but needless to say it wasn't until Thursday, when it was all over with, that it finally dawned on me. Of course, I'm talking about forgetting to mention the little item that fast time went into effect Sunday morning at 2 a.m. That was not the only thing I forgot after berating myself several times for my forgetfulness, I serenely arose at my usual time in the morning and I began getting my family ready for Sunday School and church. Everything was moving along nicely when my son came in and informed me that his friend next door had told him it was 10:30 a.m. instead of the 2:30 a.m. we thought it was. Well, we went on to the church but I felt sort of funny all day because an hour was snatched from me in the morning and I can use all the hours I can get.

Bradley Burdette Dies April 23

Bradley Burdette, 75, of Redford Valley, passed away Friday, April 23 at the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital.

He was born in Rockcastle County September 23, 1895 the son of the late Anderson and Harriet Ramsey Burdette and was a retired farmer, a veteran of World War I and a member of the Buckeye Christian Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Julie Reynolds Burdette of Redford Valley, one daughter, Miss Onelia Burdette of Valley, one son, Dr. Rudolph Burdette of Mt. Vernon, two sisters, Mrs. Addie Cummins of Lexington and Mrs. Zula Mae Adams of Bedford, Ohio; three grandchildren, Rudy, Jeffery and Kay Burdette, all of Mt. Vernon.

Funeral services were conducted Monday, April 26 at the Dowell & Martin Funeral Home Chapel by Bro. Cecil Dullay, pastor of the church.

OVERWEIGHT TRUCKS FINED

Highway haulers, Inc., a trucking company with offices in Corbin who have been hauling strip mined coal to the Red Hill Coal Co., also of Corbin, was fined $1,299.50 in county court Tuesday. The fines came after pleas of guilty were entered to three counts of being overweight.

The citations were issued by officials of the Department of Motor Transportation. The three truck drivers involved, who had originally entered pleas of not guilty, were cited by the DMT while hauling coal on the Red Hill Road.

In another overweight hauling case, a truck driver for Conn Robinson Contractors of Danville, and the company, were found guilty of being overweight.

The truck driver, who was hauling dirt to the site of the new county high school on the Old Brodhead Road, entered a not guilty. However, a jury found him guilty and assessed the fine at $150.20.

Farmers Will Vote May 4 On Burley Tobacco Referendum

Burley tobacco growers in Rockcastle County and elsewhere in the eight-state burley belt will vote at ASC community polling places next Tuesday (May 4) on the question of whether they will accept a newly adopted system of marketing quotas based on acreage and acreage price supports and production controls.

Growers will be voting yes or no on this question on the referendum ballot.

"Are you in favor of marketing quotas for burley tobacco for the three marketing years beginning October 1, 1971?"

Since the program based on acreage quotas is the only one being offered, it must be accepted by 65 2/3 per cent of the growers voting in the entire burley belt or there will be no price supports on burley in 1971—and burley production will be unlimited.

In this connection, the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association, which has handled the price support program since its inception in January, 1941, said growers should be certain they understand that there is no alternative to the program being offered.

Jack Layton, the co-op's vice president for public affairs, said "there apparently has been some misunderstanding about the situation in this referendum. Growers should keep in mind that without this program there will be no price supports. When the new law was passed, the old acreage allotment program was ended, and price supports now depend on whether growers accept the program offered May 4."

Revival Set For Mareburg Baptist

Revival services will begin May 3 and continue through May 9 at the Mareburg Baptist Church on U.S. 150.

Bro. James Hamilton will be the evangelist for the services which will begin each evening at 7:30 p.m. Paul Harper will be the song leader.

Raymond Obitz, pastor, and the congregation extend an invitation for the public to attend these services.

to decide between acreage quotas or no program, which have not been effective in controlling production to the point of avoiding increasing surpluses of burley taken under price supports.

Yields per acre have risen sharply — from about 1,600 pounds-per-acre in 1960 to near 3,600 pounds in 1970. Holdings of burley taken under price supports totaled nearly 500 million pounds in May.

The new program, passed by Congress after a series of hearings, is designed to get supplies in line with demand, to stop a "self-defeating" race for higher yields, to level off the flow of burley to the price support "pool," to

All persons engaged in the production of the 1970 crop of burley are eligible to vote in next Tuesday's referendum. Results from each county will be filed with the state ASC office in Lexington and with the USDA in Washington.

The average support level on the 1971 burley crop under marketing quotas—depending on the success of the referendum vote—will be $71.50 a hundred pounds, an increase of $2.90 from the average level of $68.60 on the 1970 crop. Nine per cent of the 560 million pounds of the 1970 crop was taken under price supports.

Burley quotas for Rockcastle County farms have been sent to producers by the county ASC office after U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Clifford W. Hardin proclaimed marketing quotas for burley. The Secretary announced the May 4 referendum date when he announced a national marketing quota of 555 million pounds for 1971.

County Tax Assessment Up Two and One-Half Million

Rockcastle County's tax assessment for 1971 is up over two and one-half million dollars, according to the First Reappraisal filed last week by Property Valuation Administrator Robert Cromer.

The total assessment for 1971 is $43,539,075 as compared to last year's assessment of $40,922,410. The biggest gain reflected in 1971's assessment is over $750,000 in new homes constructed in the county last year. There was also a loss in total real estate of $100,250 in merchant's inventory, homes burned, etc.

The 1971 assessment total breaks down as follows with last year's comparable figures in parentheses beside them:

Total Real Estate $30,949,795 ($29,704,970); Tangible Personal Property (motor vehicles, airplanes, boats, inventory, etc.) $6,714,935 ($6,301,145); Manufacturing Machinery: $433,800 ($428,100); Livestock, Farm Machinery: $2,214,970 ($1,949,640); Stocks and Bonds: $2,419,370 ($2,028,590); Annuities: $17,715 ($16,870)

Bank Shares $839,690 ($727,235).

According to Mr. Cromer, the assessment includes 4,366 motor vehicles, 173,156 acres of farm land and 75,282 acres in fire protection on which a tax of 3c an acre is paid. This money goes toward paying for fire fighting facilities and men.

The Equalization Board will meet May 10 to hear any appeals by taxpayers.

Mrs. Joan Brock Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Joan A. Brock, 28, of Brodhead, passed away suddenly Monday, April 26 in Mt. Vernon.

She was born in Cincinnati, Ohio on October 25, 1942, the daughter of Mrs. Lucile Owens Belcher and the late Denver Belcher of Brodhead. A social worker for the State of Kentucky, Mrs. Brock was a member of the Brodhead Christian Church.

Capital Digest

Gov. Louie B. Nunn last week dedicated a $2.5 million aeronautical training center in Somerset, the first of its kind in Kentucky and one of the few in the nation.

The facility is a division of the Somerset Area Vocational School and is designed to meet increasing needs for aircraft maintenance personnel and provide a two-year course of study.

The first class of 30 students, all high school graduates, was enrolled Feb. 1 and will be trained as aircraft power plant or air frame mechanics.

The idea for the aeronautics complex was conceived in 1965 by James P. McCarty, a retired U.S. Air Force major who heads the school, and H. D. Nee, regional supervisor for the vocational school.

Plans were submitted to state and federal agencies the following year, and in 1967 grants totaling $400,000 were made available to start construction. A local campaign brought in more than $60,000 and a 15.4 acre site was purchased adjacent to the Somerset-Pulaski County airport. Now said he foresees the day when the school will be expanded to offer pilot and stewardess training as well as the present aircraft technical courses.

STATE ENGINEERS AGREE ON RIVER DAM QUESTION
The state and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers have reached agreement on the site and the resulting water level of the controversial Red River Dam in Powell County, paving the way for the start of construction next year.

The question of water level of the dam's reservoir was resolved on a compromise basis which sets the seasonal water level at 703 feet above mean sea level, and its flood-control level at 759 feet.

The dam will be located on the North Fork of the Red River, about a mile and a half above the junction of the river's North Fork with the main river. This is about a mile northeast of the Mountain Parkway.

The site is 5.2 miles downstream from a site chosen earlier by the Corps of Engineers. The original dam site was dropped after conservationists protested it would flood parts of the scenic Red River gorge in Powell, Menifee and Wolfe counties and would damage the area's natural beauty and wildlife.

Governor Nunn, who sided with the conservationists and whose influence was instrumental in provoking the site change said the new site "will effectively protect the unique environmental features, save the most attractive and scenic areas, provide needed flood protection and meet the water supply needs for Kentucky's Bluegrass area for decades to come."

Construction of the dam is expected to be finished in 1975 or 1976, at an estimated cost of $19 million.

COURT UPHOLDS HARPER'S REFUSAL
Secretary of State Kenneth Harper's decision not to accept candidacy papers from William Richard Barkley for a state House of Representatives seat because they arrived after the filing deadline has been upheld in Franklin Circuit Court.

Barkley, in a suit filed earlier, had sought to have his name placed on the May 25 Democratic primary ballot for the 4th District House seat.

He said he mailed his candidacy papers from the Paducah post office by registered mail at 1 p.m. March 30, the letter arrived at the Frankfort post office at noon March 31, but was not delivered to the secretary of state's office until April 1.

Harper had declined to accept the papers because they arrived after the midnight March 31 deadline. Judge Harts placed Barkley on the ballot, citing a previous Court of Appeals decision that the papers must be in the secretary of state's office before the deadline and a postmark is not sufficient.

A spokesman at the Frankfort post office said Barkley's delivery problem stemmed from his failure to send the letter special delivery.

STATE HEALTH COUNCIL HEARS PITCH FOR PAID MEDICAL CARE

Prepaid health organizations were offered as a possible solution to the problem of high-cost medical care in a special presentation before the state health planning council recently.

Tom Ludwig of Cincinnati, health representative of Group Health Assn. of America Inc., told the council about seven million persons nationwide who are not covered by prepaid plans and receive health care from physicians in group practices under a contract arrangement.

Following the presentation, the council adopted a resolution to support studies of such alternate methods of health delivery.

The resolution noted an "apparent need to consider" alternate plans with emphasis on more efficiency and more effective financing of health care.

Dr. C. Hernandez, director of epidemiology in the state health department, stressed preventive medicine in any type of comprehensive medical service program.

Addressing the cost problem, he said, for example, 70 cents can prevent a tetanus death.

MEDICAID DOCTOR FEES DOWN, TOTAL COSTS STILL GOING UP

The state Department of Economic Security announced a reduction in fees paid in 1970 to physicians and pharmacists under the Medicaid program, but predicted that soaring hospital and laboratory charges and the addition of some 24,000 new Medicaid clients every year would push the cost of the entire program steadily upward in coming years.

Commissioner Merritt Dettz said the department paid almost $1.2 million less last year to doctors and pharmacists than in 1969, but predicted that Medicaid, which cost $152 million in 1969-70, will cost $64.1 million this fiscal year and a projected $77.9 million next fiscal year.

Dettz said that by 1974-75, if current trends hold, the tab may reach $127 million. The federal government pays roughly three-fourths of the cost.

Dettz said he was pleasantly surprised at the savings in the payment of doctor fees, noting, "The controls that we built in to curb overutilization apparently have worked."

But he added, "The inflation in the institutional health field is eating up the dollars we manage to save elsewhere."

He said there is a broader awareness now among people who are eligible for benefits, and pointed to a dramatic rise in the welfare category known as Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

Dettz said 100 new people come into Medicaid every month from this group, including 600 babies. In contrast, only 125 persons monthly are added to Medicaid from the categories of aged, blind and disabled recipients.

STATE SEEKS TO TRAIN DISADVANTAGED FOR JOBS

The state Personnel Department is preparing to apply for federal funds to train some 250 disadvantaged persons for "public service careers" in state government.

Under the plan, the U.S. Department of Labor would provide a least $50,000 for orientation, counseling and follow-up services to the disadvantaged for a wide range of jobs.

Governor Nunn, who recently gave the long-considered program a boost with a memo to state agency heads urging their support in applying for the job, said that state government has a tremendous need for such a program which will "employ and train disadvantaged citizens, including veterans from Vietnam who are in serious need of employment."

The funds will also be used to upgrade skills of present employees, the governor said.

The 250 new employees would fill existing vacancies funded under existing agency budgets. The state's application for federal funds is due to be submitted to the Department of Labor about May 1.

MONOLITH ACCEPTED

The Kentucky attorney general endorsed nothing more controversial than Gov. Louie Nunn, but the Republicans are laughing too.

Gov. Nunn had requested the opinion after the Kentucky State Aerie, Inc., Fraternal Order of Eagles informed him it wished to present such a gift for the Capitol grounds.

The opinion said a stone so inscribed should not violate the constitutional requirement for separation of church and state because it could be considered "a replica of a recognized code of law or moral conduct."

TOM DUNCAN'S Frankfort Watchline

The very nature of political reporting means the public misses much of the campaign flavor.

Reporters concentrate on important, interesting matters.

News editors try to set ground rules for fairness, for example by publicizing charges actually voiced by a candidate himself and by responding to interpret immoderately for him.

The goal is good, but the result sometimes is that those viewing a race only through the media don't see the in-fighting.

And the Democratic primary for governor is getting down to some real in-fighting.

Former Gov. Bert Combs is slapping the U.S. Gov. Wendell Ford over the 1966 strip mine bill, passed when Ford was a state senator.

"Wendell equated, watered and gutted and finally in the end when he knew the bill was going to pass voted for it. But it been up to him to break it a tie, I'm confident he would have voted against the bill."

Combs' aim isn't only to cast doubt on how steeply Ford is backing the strength for real leadership.

Meanwhile, Ford is chomping at Combs' resignation from the U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, saying: "Last year, just after Congress ordered all federal judges to disclose the amount and sources of their income, Bert Combs quit a lifetime $40,000-a-year job as federal judge and, for some reason, decided to run for governor again. The reason is mysterious..."

Ford's goal is to get voters questioning Combs' motives. And it fits in with a campaign depicting Ford as offering a new lead in government, not hamstrung by old ties.

Of course, these "needles" don't give the campaign's full flavor.

But to Kentuckians the aroma should be familiar.

Democrats continue to joke about the campaigning of Republican candidates, who've endorsed nothing more controversial than Gov. Louie Nunn, but the Republicans are laughing too.

They're gearing up for a long haul, well-behaved race including personal contacts until the Democratic nominees are selected.

And Tom Emberton and his running-mate, James Host, are shaking new hands than a bout on Derby Day.

Host tells the story on himself of campaigning at Bargyville and shaking hands right into the ladies room of a bank.

"No jokes, please... about bank security."

Those not knowing Western Kentucky counties could have taken a newspaper headline in a campaign depicting Ford as offering a new lead in government, not hamstrung by old ties.

It said: Combs to Campaign in Graves Friday.

Not that Kentucky haven't voted a few Tomstones, but...

Upcoming battles for the educational dollar may eclipse anything seen. Elementary and high schools already are jousting with the state colleges and universities.

Inside higher-education ranks the University of Louisville is bidding for full state support and Northern Kentucky State College is voicing its right to grow to full stature.

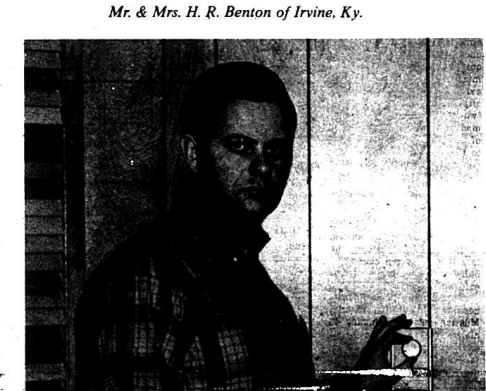

And Western Kentucky University now sounds a note sure to be echoed by other regional schools: it's formally challenging this statement by the Council on Public Higher Education.

"A 4% appears to be much more economical and educationally advantageous to strengthen some of our existing programs at the University of Kentucky and the University of Louisville rather than initiate new doctoral programs elsewhere at this time."

Western President Derow Downing says a study may prove otherwise.

Sympathy Dept.: Any reporter misled by that usually infallible source—a candidate—might do well to take the view of a magazine editor responding to a letter tearing to bits a story written by a supposed expert. The editor's note said: "You don't think the little s-o-b took advantage of our ignorance, do you?"

"Electric Heat gives us 8 rooms of perfect comfort FOR ONLY $244 A YEAR!"

"That's a lot of great comfort for the money," says Mr. Benton. "And with electric heat you don't run into those painful extras like maintenance and repair bills."

"Imagine what a difference it makes to me, too," adds Mrs. Benton. "All those rooms to keep clean—but no problems at all, because electricity is as clean as electric light. A real time, work and money saver."

Security

"Many folks have the mistaken idea that they must wait four or six months before filing for disability," so said James Mustian, Manager, Somerset Social Security Office. This erroneous notion sprang from an incomplete understanding of two basic requirements: one that a person must supply current medical evidence four or more months after the disability occurred, two—that no payment can be made for the first six months of disability. "Actually it helps to file immediately after becoming disabled," Mustian went on to say. "In this way 50% of the requirements are carefully explained and there is sufficient time to meet these requirements without holding up benefits. Payments can then be made promptly without the delay in filing the papers caused by delay in obtaining essential evidence.

To further speed up processing of disability claims, Mustian suggests phoning in claims. "It's no longer necessary to visit the office for a face-to-face interview. In many cases we are able and quicker to phone from the comfort of your own home. Our number is 476-8181. Please call us to apply for disability benefits as well as for all other social security needs."

NEA-KEA-Combs Plan Will Cost $196 Million

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford, at a press conference here last week, said he is "unilaterally opposed" to the NEA-KEA-Combs plan calling for $196 million in new taxes.

"I believe the people of Kentucky had better take a hard look at the NEA-KEA-Combs tax plan, Ford said referring to the National Education Association, Kentucky Education Association and his opponent, Bert Combs.

"1. They propose to double the tax on cigarettes from 3 cents to 6 cents per pack. This is a tax on Kentucky's number one farm cash crop, tobacco, which already is under assault and in deep trouble. I am unilaterally opposed to this tax increase.

"2. They propose to remove the present ceiling on your property taxes so they can be raised to $1.50 on full value assessments. I am unilaterally opposed to this proposal.

"3. And, most terrifying, they propose to make your property assessors, your tax commissioners, appointed officials of the Governor rather than elected by you. In other words, the man who sets the value of your property on which you pay your property taxes will no longer be responsible and responsible to you, but to the governor and his revenue commissioner in Frankfort. I am unilaterally opposed to taking away the people's ability to elect their tax commissioners," Ford said.

The Lieutenant Governor said he strongly supports "quality education for all Kentucky children and I have a program."

"But I am not in favor of

Woman's Club Meets Mrs. Evans Elected Vice President General

The Mt. Vernon Woman's Club met Tuesday night at the Rockcastle County Library with 25 members and two guests present. Mrs. Hazel Owens presided.

Plans were made for a dinner meeting in May at Boone Tavern in Berea. All members signed a card to be sent to Mrs. Carrie Baker who is a patient at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington. Miss Christine Kueger introduced Mrs. Laura Durham, Librarian at Mt. Vernon School, who spoke on library work and Mrs. Alon Davis showed new books and explained how the library made available pictures, films and records.

Hostesses were Mrs. Logan Bryant, Mrs. Robert Cromer, Mrs. Gertrude Hilton and Mrs. Jack St. Clair.

During the 80th Continental Congress of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, which was held in Washington, D.C. April 19-24, Mrs. Wilson Evans of Berea was one of seven women elected to the office of Vice President General.

Mrs. Evans is a member of the Berea Laurel Ridges Chapter DAR and has served the chapter twice as Regent and is Honorary Chapter Regent. She has also served as chapter Registrar, Chairman of Good Citizens, Chairman of Junior American Citizens and in many other capacities.

On the State level she has served as Chairman of Approved School Libraries, Librarian, Recording Secretary, Fourth District Director, Vice Regent, and Regent.

Mrs. Evans has also served as a member of the advisory board for both Kate Duncan Smith DAR School in Alabama and the Tamassee DAR School in South Carolina. A plaque placed in the Counselor's Room at Kate Duncan Smith School honors Mrs. Evans, who was principal of the school 1971-1979.

Mrs. Evans has served the State Regent seven chapters and the Chapter Regents Club were organized, a Kentucky Cookbook was published, and the State Society contributed more than $8,000 toward the erection of the Katherine Pettit Dormitory at Hindman Settlement School, $1,000 to the Constitution Hall renovation.

Mrs. Wilson Evans

$1,500 for the Counselor's Room at Kate Duncan Smith School, and the John Fox, Jr. Memorial Library at the State Headquarters in Paris was enlarged, redecorated and air conditioned.

During twenty-one years of scouting, Mrs. Evans has served as leader and neighborhood chairman of five counties of Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council and has also served as Vice President of the Council. She is Co-Chairman of Candy Strippers at the Rockcastle Hospital and has directed baby sitting classes for teenagers. She is a member of the Colonial Dames and of the Daughters of American Colonists, the Kentucky Historical Society, the Madison County Historical Society, the Berea Progress Club and the Union Church.

Mrs. V.G. Walker of Berea an associate member of the Rockcastle Chapter, attended the conference.

One of the highlights of the Congress was the opening night speech given by President Richard M. Nixon, who was accompanied by Mrs. Nixon. In the voting for National Officers held April 22, the group headed by Mrs. Donald Spicer of California was elected.

The Public Relations Committee presented an NSDAR Continental Congress Award to the Berea Laurel Ridges Chapter for an outstanding series of articles on the organization of the Rockcastle Chapter, written by Mrs. V.G. Walker and assembled by Mrs. Wilson Evans. The Rockcastle Chapter received a Gold Honor

The Fundamental Purpose of the Funeral —
The Most Significant Function of Your Funeral Director . . .

SERVING THE LIVING

St. Augustine said it about 400 A.D.: "The laying out of the body, the burial rites . . . are more of a consolation to the living than of assistance to the dead."

Since that time many others qualified to speak from the religious, psychological, sociological or medical point of view have agreed.

A minister who is a leading authority on grief, stated: "There are eight specific purposes and values of the funeral that every person should come to know and understand:

A funeral faces the reality of death — does not avoid it;

A funeral provides a setting wherein the religious needs of the bereaved may be satisfied;

A funeral provides faith to sustain grief;

A funeral frees one from guilt or self-condemnation;

A funeral helps one express feelings;

A funeral directs one beyond the death of a loved one to the responsibilities of life;

A funeral, in a personal way, helps one face a crisis with dignity and courage;

A funeral, above all, provides an environment where losing friends and relatives can give the help needed to face the future with strength and courage."

Fayette Aluminum Inc.

"J. T. Grant - Owner"

The Fayette Aluminum Co. Inc. is located at Irvine Road in Richmond, Phone 623-6045 for estimates on aluminum sidings and awnings. They also invite you to stop in and view their beautiful selections in carpeting at mill outlet prices. They also like to stress the fact that they take anything of value in trade on any job.

sun protection - their awnings go a step further in protecting you from the sun rays by eliminating the blanket of hot air which is present under the older type awnings. They are ventilated from top to bottom allowing the hot air to escape through the top of the awning. Second, rain protection - these awnings are so constructed that they stay on your house or business through all types of weather and are guaranteed storm proof. It is a great relief to know you need not close your window when it rains. Third, appearance and durability. Their awnings are made of life time material and are the most beautiful awnings money can buy. Each awning is custom built so you can be assured that the proper type and size will be used. Fayette Aluminum is the authorized dealer for awnings in this area and we, the authors, suggest in this 1971 Review that you contact them first.

Rockcastle River Resolution Approved

The controversy rage between the conservationists and the promoters of industry and tourism over the impoundment of the Rockcastle River.
The conservationists want the river to remain a "Wild River" and to be protected from the pollution of strip mining operations now operating in the headwater area of the river. Development associations in counties surrounding the river are fighting for dams on the river which would, in their opinion promote commerce, industry and recreation in this area.
The Cumberland Valley Area Development District, with offices in London, previously approved and adopted a resolution passed by the Rockcastle County Improvement Council which supports the impoundment of the Rockcastle River.
The resolution reads as follows:
WHEREAS, Rockcastle and its adjoining counties continue to be handicapped by less than adequate industrial and commercial enterprises;
WHEREAS, it has long been known that substantial water impoundment is a necessity in attracting same;
WHEREAS, the Rockcastle River has long been considered for tandem impoundments,
WHEREAS, to realize implementation of this plan would greatly enhance this area's potential for increased commerce, industry, and recreation;
THEREFORE, the Rockcastle County Improvement Council does hereby fully resolve and declare their support for a complete program of flood control and impoundments for power and recreation on the River.

FURTHER, the Rockcastle County Improvement Council requests and solicits the support of the Cumberland Valley Area Development District, Inc. in this endeavor.
The Council authorizes the Chairman to forward this Resolution to:
Honorable Louis B. Nunn, Governor of Kentucky; Honorable John Sherman Cooper, Senator from Kentucky; Honorable Maxlow Cook, Senator from Kentucky; Honorable Tim Lee Carter, Representative from Kentucky.

Local Farm Bureau Approves New Program

County Farm Bureau President Wallace Proctor issued a statement here this week urging burley tobacco growers in the county to vote "Yes" in the burley referendum to be held May 4.
President Mr. Proctor said a "Yes" vote is vital because the question to be decided is whether to continue price supports and production control for burley tobacco or to have no burley program at all.
"If two-thirds of all the growers voting in the referendum vote 'yes'", President Mr. Proctor added, "price supports and production controls will remain in effect for burley tobacco."
"If the necessary two-thirds 'yes' vote is not secured," he continued, "there will be no burley price supports or control in 1971 and," he added, "there will be no supports or control in future years unless approved by growers in a referendum."
"Defeat of the burley program in the referendum could be disastrous for growers in this county and throughout the burley belt," President Mr. Proctor continued.
"If growers do not have price supports and production controls," he continued, "they will be at the mercy of the buyers who can pay whatever they want for the tobacco and buy it in whatever limited quantities they desire."
"Growers would have no guarantee of a minimum price for burley, as they have with price supports," he added, "nor would they be able to sell the tobacco in the government pool if buyers paid it over. Farmer would be pitted against farmer for a share of the market and stability in burley prices would go out the window."

The county Farm Bureau president said defeat of the burley price support-production control program not only would hurt farmers but would damage the total economy of the county.
He concluded:
"Tobacco is a major factor in our economy, and its future is directly related to the future of all the people in this county and throughout Kentucky. I sincerely hope growers will vote 'yes' and maintain the price supports and the county a program which has made production of burley tobacco a profitable and worthwhile enterprise."

Madco Motors

"Edgar McDonald - Owner"
For many years, automobile dealers considered "used cars" as a sideline to the business of selling new models.
Things have changed in recent years and one of the big reasons is the kind of business operated by the Madco Motors. They believe that the used car buyer is just as important as the new car buyer. They are determined to give each customer the finest quality, the best warranty and the best possible price. They have a large "family" of customers who return because they know that integrity, service and assurance of quality are pass-words here.
The safe way to buy a used car is at Madco Motors, located on Big Hill Ave. South, phone 623-6500, in Richmond, because all their cars have been inspected by a master mechanic and are backed by a warranty.
They take personal pride in every used car they sell. One-stop financing and insurance service truly makes them a "one-stop" headquarters for your automotive needs.
As businessmen who appreciate an ethical, honest firm, we, the writers, of this 1971 Town and Country Review give our highest commendation to this company.

Glyndon Hotel

You can be assured that when you contact this company for any type of heavy hauling, the goods will be loaded properly and safely delivered to their destination on schedule. They also have all the necessary equipment to handle refrigerated or frozen food commodities.
Through their use of modern equipment and the latest approved hauling methods, the work they do for you will be the best you can buy and at the lowest possible price.
The narrators of this 1971 Town and Country Review salute the management of this company for their honest and fair business dealings and the high quality and dependability of their work. Remember to contact the Chamberlain Trucking for the best heavy hauling service available as well as refrigerated or frozen food commodities.

Independent Service Garage

"Charles Stiles - Owner"
When the people of this area look to someone to take care of any mechanical problems they might have with their car or truck, they generally head straight for the Independent Service Garage at Steep & Altamont in Richmond. Phone 623-1549.
They are well known expert specialists in all types of expert automotive repair and service. They use only the latest equipment and handle any size of job in the shortest time and at reasonable rates.
Automatic transmissions are a complicated mechanism so don't trust it to a "hammer mechanic." Take it to an expert, one who has been especially trained and has the proper equipment to service automatic transmissions.
They are your local expert service center for automatic or standard transmissions.
In this 1971 Town and Country Review, we, the compilers, take great pride in representing this reliable shop to the readers of this issue. When you take your car to the experts at the Independent Service Garage you can be assured that the work is done according to factory techniques and that you will not have to take it back a second or third time for the same problem.

Roselawn Rest Home

"Mr. & Mrs. James A. Goodlett - Owners & Operators"
The Roselawn Rest Home is located at 416 N. 2nd. in Richmond. Here they offer complete care of the aged, sick, and convalescents.
This nursing home is well located, has plenty of sunshine, never enough noise to bother, yet near enough to town so friends and relatives of guests can call without inconvenience.
Heating, ventilation and sanitary arrangements are most completely planned for the comfort of the patient and all methods are approved by the supervising medical authorities.
All rooms are light and cheerfully decorated, and have that home atmosphere which has a good psychological effect.
Their food is prepared by a specialist on diets under the most sanitary conditions, giving the guests well balanced meals, nourishing and appetizing, for rebuilding the health and strength so completely lost by the inactive person.
This and the surrounding territory is very fortunate in having a nursing home, "So like a home." The authors of this 1971 Review are proud to make particular mention of this well-run rest home who open their doors to all.

Randall & Logsdon

This noted firm is located at 220 West Irvine in Richmond, phone 623-2340. They feature expert front and alignment, brake work, wheel balancing service, and exhaust systems. They are also equipped to handle the Ford twin beam axle.
Wheels out of line and out of balance cost the car owner many unnecessary dollars. Tires are expensive. Careful balancing and aligning is very reasonable. Be wise, economize by letting this firm balance the wheels on your car. They only use the very latest equipment and best materials, and you will receive only quality workmanship.
Don't be one of the persons who says after the wreck, "I wish I had good brakes." Countless lives are lost each year due to faulty brakes.
In this 1971 Town and Country Review we, the drafters, commend Randall & Logsdon upon the splendid services rendered to the people of this section for 50 years.

Moberly's Phillips 66 Service

"Ronald Moberly - Owner"
Moberly's Phillips 66 Service located at Lexington Road & L-75, phone 623-2431 for wrecker service. This is the place to take your car to make sure you are getting the best service. They specialize in tune-ups, brake service, minor repairs, and tires; batteries and accessories are available to fit your budget.
We all like to feel certain we are giving our automobile the best of care. The next time you're in town stopping, drive your car to this deluxe service station for complete servicing while you shop. The attendants at this station know their business from A to Z, and you can be assured that a lube job here means more than just a quick greasing to you.
They feature the Famous Phillips 66 products that have proved their excellence for years in use. You can expect good mileage and top performance only by giving your car the best. The next time you are in town, stop at the Moberly's Phillips 66 Service.
In making this 1971 Review, we, the organizers, point with particular commendation to this fine service station.

BURLEY GROWERS UNITE

Price Supports or NOTHING

We the sponsors of this page feel it is important enough as lending institutions and business people to set forth the facts on the burley referendum on May 4. We feel that the May 4 referendum vote on the tobacco price support program will have an important impact on the economy of our county. In order to maintain the present borrowing power of farmers we feel that a YES vote is absolutely necessary. A NO vote will make it necessary for us to adjust our lending policies in such manner as to seriously hurt the farmers borrowing power. We urge all tobacco producers to vote YES on this important question thus assuring a profitable program for all growers.

A YES VOTE MEANS - The present tobacco growers will continue to have price support.

- Grow tobacco at less cost and labor.
- Grow better quality tobacco with a larger use of tobacco.
- Built in insurance - if you don't grow your full quota this year it can be added to next years quota.
- Leasing up to 15,000 pounds within county.
- Minimum price support for 1971 71.5 cents.

A NO VOTE MEANS - No price support.

- No tobacco program of any kind.
- Destruction of Agricultural Economy in Rockcastle County and Kentucky.
- Opens Up The Tobacco Production To Commercialized Farmers in All States.
- Over Production and Low Prices.

County Agent's Notes

By: H. Lee Durhan

Area 4-H Demonstration Day - Jeffery Wayne Saylor was named champion in the general demonstration division on mixing colors and Carolyn Lamb was selected as area champion in the clothing demonstration division at the 4-H county demonstration day held at the Jackson County High School, Saturday, April 24. Jeffery and Carolyn will represent the Wilderness Trail Area in the state 4-H demonstration contest which will be held at the Kentucky State Fair, August 18, 19 &

Carolyn was also winner of the area speaking contest in her division held at Pineville, March 27, and will compete in the state 4-H talk meet July 9 & 10 at the University of Kentucky. Other 4-H members from Rockcastle County who participated in the area demonstration contest and awards received are as follows: Debbie Lavigne, blue animal science; Albert James York, blue, horticulture; Priscilla Napier, blue, dairy foods; Joy Norton, blue, other foods; Kimberly Anglin, red, health; Debbie Shehan and Marcia

Lamb, blue, home furnishings. When to Cut Hay

Every farmer who keeps livestock needs a lot of high quality hay. Usually he can use more than he used the previous year. If you are wondering about the right time to cut hay, the following schedule may help.

Alfalfa and Alfalfa-grass mixture - First-Year Crop (seeded fall 1970 or spring 1971). Cut first crop at full bloom. Cut the remaining crops at 5- to 6-week intervals. Older Stands: Cut first crop at bud stage and the remaining crops at 5- to 6 week intervals. Do not harvest a cutting after September 10. However, you may cut again when the plants turn yellow after a killing frost or freeze. When you have a grass-alfalfa mixture, cut to favor the alfalfa.

Red Clover - Cut at early-bloom stage.

Straight Grass - Cut from when plants are in "late-boot" to not later than when seed heads come out of the boot. Mixed Grass and Clovers - Cutting time often becomes a compromise between the ideal time for the clover and the grass. Attention should be given to cutting before seed forms.

Lespedeza - Cut at early bloom. A full-grown cow will eat from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 tons of high quality hay each winter (50 to 100 full-cow halves). A full volume of high quality hay often makes the difference between a little and a large profit.

Clover Mites

Clover mites are tiny 8-legged creatures smaller than a period on this page. They feed on clover and grasses where they usually cause little harm. They sometimes are a pest on ivy. When they migrate indoors in large numbers, they are particularly annoying to people who have a fear of them or who confuse them with chiggers. Clover mites do not "bite." When you try to brush them from the surfaces they are on, they are crushed and leave a blood red stain that is a nuisance to remove.

Pyrethrin aerosols are recommended for a quick knock-down of those mites that gather on the walls or around windows and doors inside the home. Pyrethrin sprays must hit the mites to kill it. For longer lasting effects inside the home, prepare sprays of 0.18% lindane, 2% chloroform, or 1-2% malathion. Spray around doors, windows, and other places where the mites may enter. Do not overdo or treat more areas than is necessary.

Boxelder Bugs

Boxelder bugs are about 1/2 inch long, oblong-shaped, and mostly black with reddish markings. They feed mostly on boxelders but they also survive on ash, maple, and fruit trees. They are not important as pests on trees. It is when they invade homes in large numbers where they may stain walls and fabrics with feces that they are a problem.

They produce a foul odor when crushed. You can control them by cutting down host trees, screening them out of homes, or vacuuming them up as they accumulate around doors and windows. If these methods are not practical or desirable, spray boxelder trunks and other areas where they gather with a 2% chlordane spray. Prepare the spray by mixing 11 tablespoons of 45% EC per gallon of water; or 2 level cups of 40% WP per gallon.

VOTE YES FOR PRICE SUPPORTS

The New Law Providing For Marketing Quotas On a Poundage Basis Eliminated The Acreage System of Controls, and it Is FALSE That There Will Be Any Other Program To Provide Price Supports.

The New Proposal Has Several Other Advantages Such As The Carry-Over Provision For The Unused Part Of Your Quota And The Provision For Leasing Of Quotas

BUT UNLESS PRICE SUPPORTS ARE KEPT BY A YES VOTE BURLEY WILL BE SWEEPED INTO AN ERRATIC MARKETING SYSTEM THAT WILL ERASE THE STABLE ECONOMY IN EFFECT FOR THE LAST 31 YEARS.
