Graduation exercises for 10 members of the Maple Grove Elementary School fifth grade were held at the Brush Creek Holiness Church Thursday evening, May 20. Two students, who received the highest honors, are shown in the above photo. Roger Reynolds, left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reynolds, Jr., received an award for not missing a spelling word for two consecutive years and Michael Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mason, did not miss a spelling word this year. Not only have these boys excelled in spelling but they received highest honors in all subject areas. Both will attend Livingston High School this fall.

The Democratic primary lost some flavor because State Treasurer Thelma Stovall was unopposed for Secretary of State. But Secretary Kenneth Harper says he's ready to run full tilt into the unbecoming liars' den in the fall. So things should liven up.

In Memory

Of my dear husband, Lincoln Whitaker, who passed away one year ago the 30th of May. How sad and heart breaking the day became so sudden. God called him to be with him. How I miss his sweet and kind words and his smiling face. We worked and loved our home so much together. It's so hard for me to go on without you, it's not home without my dear loving husband any more, but one of these days I hope to meet my love one in a brighter and better world. Sadly Missed By Wife, Pearl Whitaker Mother, Father, Friends & Relatives

APPEALS COURT RULES

ON LICENSES, OBSCENITY
The Court of Appeals has held that the state cannot suspend a person's driver's license if the drunk-driving conviction on which that action was based is in question or under appeal.
The rulings were in response to attempts by the Public Safety Department to require circuit judges to abide by suspension orders by the department.

In other action the high court:

• Affirmed a Bullitt Circuit Court ruling which permanently forbade the Ohio River Sand Co. from operating a public nuisance by causing pollution.

The court rejected the sand company's contention that it should not be penalized because it did not cause any more pollution than did similar operations elsewhere.

GRUBBS SAYS ADVERTISING HELPS ATTRACT INDUSTRY
Commerce Commissioner Paul W. Grubbs said he credits a stepped-up program by his agency advertising and research into new energy sources with keeping Kentucky "in the forefront among states."

In a recent address before the Assn. of Business Communicators in Louisville he said the energy source research is especially important now at a time of nationwide shortages of energy fuels, when the need for development of new fuel sources and speeded up production processes is perhaps reaching crisis proportions.

Grubbs said one of his largest and most successful advertising campaigns featured "refining" the "under the Kentucky plan." "Our advertisements, which appeared in major periodicals throughout the country, called attention to the eight industrial financing plans available in Kentucky and how a financing 'package' could be tailored to individual needs."

The commissioner said that about 150 leads were developed from the program and that four companies have located in Kentucky.

On another topic, Grubbs said the state's industrial development efforts are "proceeding under the firm conviction that economic growth and a clean, healthy environment are compatible."

"We cannot allow the problem of environmental pollution to halt our forward progress," he stated, "it must be brought out into the open, and workable solutions found."

STATE'S REVENUE UP THIS FISCAL YEAR

Money coming into the state's general fund last month was less than for April 1970, but the total for the fiscal year through April was 7.8 per cent above last year's rate.
The monthly report filed jointly by Revenue Commissioner J.E. Lockett and Finance Commissioner Albert Christen showed general fund receipts last month were $27,252,760, down from $40,460,471 in April 1970. The total, however, for the first 10 months of this fiscal year was $441,693,553, up from $417,823,641 for the same period last year.

Road fund tax receipts for the 10-month period were $147,284,561, a five per cent boost over last year's rate.

Sales and use tax receipts for the year through April totaled $237,438,011, a 7.2 per cent increase over the same period last fiscal year.

Individual income tax receipts for the period were up seven per cent, totaling $124,433,927, although they were down for the month because of accelerated refund payments this year, Lockett said.

POLICE COMMUNICATIONS BENEFIT FROM GRANTS

Two major regional police radio networks are among projects which will benefit from four state Crime Commission grants announced recently by Governor Nunn.

Newport police will get $50,406 for new communications to tie its police radio in with Fort Thomas and Campbell County law enforcement agencies. Campbell County received a similar grant last month.

Five police agencies along U.S. 31 in Central Kentucky will share a $46,693 grant. The money will be used to furnish a radio network linking police of Elizabethtown, Muldraugh, Radcliff, Vine Grove and West Point. That grant is the first step in a program to form a radio link among police agencies of the eight-county Lincoln Trail region, Governor Nunn said.

Owensboro police will receive $8250 to equip a training center in police headquarters, including a 66 seat classroom and a physical training area.
Mayeville police will get a $2066 grant for portable communication equipment.

TOM DUNCANS

Frankfort

Watchline

This was a campaign of questions, not answers.
And so one really struggled with a big one: What would you do if the Court of Appeals knocks out the rollback law on property taxes?
That's the "itty" kind of question politicians try to dodge. But a court ruling could take it out of the itty class at any time.

And a ruling either way could make the issue a centerpiece of the fall campaign. Although both major Democratic candidates for governor said they oppose tax increases--except a severance tax--simply letting local agencies raise rates could be something else.
Republicans, of course, offered no answers except they're for good government, plenty of studying and no promises until fall.

But take a look at some of the intriguing questions that floated around--you may have some answers now, but this is being written BEFORE the voting.

Did former Gov. Bert Combs' endorsement of the Kentucky Education Association's legislative package mark the burning point of the campaign?

Combs saw it as stirring rank-and-file school people to a real effort for him. But Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford took it as an opening to make his main campaign thrust on the question of taxes.

Did charges of conflicts of interest and questionable dealings accomplish anything at all except to give Republicans ammunition?

Ford people pussy-footed around the matter of mineral rights dealings until the momentum seemed gone. And Combs' quibbling over a $400 tab for a lobbyist seemed to take the edge of other charges.

And the big question--did the public really care? Reporters pretty well agreed the public didn't ahead of time. But the answer probably shows in the vote--a Democratic turnout of 400,000 or so indicating little interest, a vote in the 450,000 or up range showing the public was silent, not apathetic.

The general feeling was that a light vote would favor Combs because of organizational strength and financing.

But after all the hands shake, miles traveled, charges levied and promises made, the whole thing probably boils down to a couple of basic matters:

Did the span of years since Combs was governor erode more foes than friends?

And did Ford succeed in pinning the "tax-man" label on Combs? While you're answering those, try figuring out what will be an issue this fall except Gov. Louie Nunn's record--and taxes.

Gov. Nunn denies that the Health and Geriatric Authority is ready to plunge into that 10 million dollar deal with American National General Services, Inc., of Owensboro on personal care homes.

As soon as the Court of Appeals upholds the law setting up the authority, American National, former State Sen. E.W. Richmond, said: "Now we can enter the contract and go about our business."

And Gov. Nunn quickly called a meeting of the authority for June.

But he said it's for another reason, that Richmond hasn't talked to him, adding: "As of now, there is no agreement--there may never be an agreement."

Cong. Tim Lee

Carter Comments

For the third time in the past five years, a nationwide rail strike, which began on Monday, May 17th, virtually shut down train services across the country. Kentucky's Fifth District Representative, Tim Lee Carter, explained that, "although the strike was initiated by the 10,000 members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen, members of other crafts respected their picket lines, thereby closing off all rail operations on Monday and Tuesday."

In an effort to forestall the adverse economic consequences of an extended rail shutdown, both the House of Representatives and the Senate acted immediately on proposals to return the signalmen to work. By late Tuesday night, Congress had passed legislation to halt the two-day-old strike, and President Nixon signed it into law shortly thereafter.

Congressman Carter stated that, "the measure, as passed, requires the striking signalmen to return to work until at least October 1. It also requires that the railroads pay union members a retroactive increase of 13.5%."

Speaking of the effects of the strike, Representative Carter said, "Although many trains were running by Wednesday morning, it will probably take several days for the nation's railroads to get back to normal operations." As the strike reached its second day, came increasingly apparent, in the automobile industry, "thousands of workers were put on shortened schedules or sent home for indefinite periods of time. Also affected were steel producers, coal mines, and feed plants."

"Railway strikes such as this one are too costly to the public and jeopardize the welfare of our entire nation," Representative Carter asserted. "It is my hope that the latest railroad crisis will improve the chances that Congress will pass legislation establishing permanent machinery for the settlement of labor disputes in the transportation industry. In the interest of the consumer, it is necessary to find a means to arrive at a decision fair to both management and labor. This can be achieved through a National Labor Court representing both labor and industry." (Cont. to 8)

Make your home young and carefree!

Start living the total-electric way

So much to enjoy -- so little to worry about. No wonder any home becomes younger and carefree when you make it total-electric. An all-electric kitchen for easier, more efficient food storage, meal preparation and clean-ups. More convenience in your all electric laundry -- including a fast-recovery water heater. And, of course, electric heat -- flameless, clean, cozy and precisely controlled, with maintenance problems practically nil. A total-electric home keeps its value too, because it's forever modern.

Total-electric living is the way of today and tomorrow. Ask us about it.

1.17 ACRES OF COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

Located on U.S. 25, Richmond Street in Mt. Vernon, Ky.
Look for sign at the property.

This sale is to settle the estate of the late Mr. Ernest and Mr. S.E. Bullock.

As you can see from the above plat the property has a 190 ft. road frontage along U.S. 25 and a depth of 280 ft. Improvements consist of a frame store building which is presently rented as the Attic. Also included is an apartment building which has two apartments, and both are now rented.

This property is superbly located near a cluster of motels, a residential area, only two blocks from Main St. and two miles from I-75. With the scarcity of good commercial property in Mt. Vernon, it is truly a once in a lifetime opportunity when property of this calibre is offered for sale. The property is ideal for most any type business such as a supermarket, restaurant, motel, small shopping center, or any other business which would require plenty of parking space. This lot is level and would require very little excavation. Due to its strategic location and large size, the property holds excellent potential for commercial development.

AIR CONDITIONING

smartly-styled
Frigidaire air conditioners provide big area cooling

- Thermostat for automatic operation
- Engineered for quiet performance
- Four-way adjustable air distribution
- Washable, removable air filter

CONTROLS FOR EVERY COMFORT CONDITION

The controls are neatly concealed behind the sliding front panel. They can be adjusted to meet a variety of cooling, venting or air circulation needs. To operate, first turn the THERMOSTAT control to a comfortable setting. This level of comfort is then maintained automatically under most normal conditions. Second, set the COOLING control to one of the "cool" positions, depending upon the rate of cooling you want. High Cool will provide a quicker cool down of living areas for fast relief from heat and humidity. The High Fan and Low Fan settings are for air circulation without cooling. The VENT control provides efficient removal of stale or smoke-filled room air, by exhausting it to the outdoors.

These Frigidaire air conditioners will cool, circulate, dehumidify and filter room air.

EXCLUSIVE 3-WAY GUARANTEE
Backed by General Motors

1. One full year on all parts and labor. Frigidaire warrants this Room Air Conditioner for one full year for repair of any defect.
2. Five years on refrigerating system. Frigidaire warrants the refrigerating system of this Room Air Conditioner for four more years for repair of any defect.
3. Five years on rated cooling capacity. If at any time within 5 years after date of delivery to the original purchaser, this Frigidaire Room Air-Conditioner while in proper operating condition fails to deliver its rated capacity, under the conditions and within the tolerances prescribed by AHAM's Standard CNI, Frigidaire Division of General Motors Corporation will replace this Room Air Conditioner with a current model of same rated capacity at no cost to the owner or user.

Library Notes

A shipment of new books has been received from the Department of Libraries. Among them are:

ALL AFRICA, by Eliza Duggan. An informative book that brings into focus the divergent parts of a vast continent.

THE CIRCUS, by Mildred S. Fanner. A fascinating collection of pictures, prose, and poetry, chronicling the circus from the days of ancient Rome to the modern era.

A CURIOUS LIFE FOR A LADY, by Pat Barr. The story of Isabella Ball, remarkable Victorian lady, who made a name for herself in the world of travel.

FACES FROM THE PAST, by H. Kitchum. A distinguished prose stylist has purchased testaments for each baby born at the hospital. Any donations will be greatly appreciated.

Canned Pasta—Perfect For Camper's Pantry

Camping the country has really caught on... especially now that there's less "roughing it" and more enjoying it. Dump firewood, pesky mosquitoes, and lumpy bed-rolls are a thing of the past... well-equipped trailers and campgrounds are the new vogue.

Camp cooking, too, has changed. Efficient campstoves and convenience foods, like canned macaroni and spaghetti products, have made it possible for campers to enjoy a wide variety of easy-to-fix dishes.

Have the kids try this combo when it's their turn to man the camp kettle. Simply double up Macaroni 'n Beef in Tomato Sauce and "SpaghettiOs"—they're great for quick lunch dishes and hearty snacks. Canned Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce with Cheese and Macaroni & Cheese likewise are good to team with leftovers for practical dinner dishes.

DOUBLE-UP STEW
2 cans (16 ounces each) macaroni & cheese prepared mustard
1 can (16 ounces) "SpaghettiOs" with sliced franks in tomato sauce
1 can (16 ounces) "SpaghettiOs" with sliced franks in tomato sauce
In saucepan, combine all ingredients except cheese. Heat, stir now and then. Serve with Parmesan. Makes 6 to 9 servings.

brought to life some of the unforgettable American characters which are so integral to the nation's past, high play, by Harmon H. Bro, Ph.D. A discussion of methods of "turning on," reaching truth and beauty, without the benefit of drugs.

THE MAN WHO DARED THE LIGHTNING, by Thomas Fleming. In a vivid biography, Fleming reveals Benjamin Franklin, the man whose unique faith, courage, humor, and wisdom presided over the birth of the American nation.

THE ONLY YANKEE, by Richard B. Watson. A delightful story that recaptures the atmosphere of small-town rural southern Indiana of the 1920's.

PENHALLOW, by Georgette Heyer. Steadily building suspense characterizes this novel by one of Britain's most famous writers.

PROTOCOL FOR A KIDNAPING, by Oliver Black. Another novel of intrigue by the author of the Brass-Co-Between.

ing meal on Friday and a night's lodging at camp.

If you are interested in attending this camp please let me know by Friday, June 4,

2,4,5-T

The following statement dated April 5, 1971, regarding 2,4,5-T has just been received from the Office of the Secretary, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C.

"2,4,5-T is a very effective herbicide which is widely used for controlling brush on rangelands and undesirable broad-leaf trees in forestry programs.

This chemical should be used in such fashion that no residues will result in food or feed. Milk cows should not be grazed on treated areas for a few weeks after treatment, and meat animals should not be permitted to graze freshly treated areas for a few days prior to slaughter."

There has been no change regarding the suspension of 2,4,5-T for use in home lawns lakes, ponds, and on ditchbanks.

Anthracnose In Tobacco Plant Beds

Another name for a Del-montoo steak is a rubeysteak. It has a well developed flavor and is tender.

When you store fresh trout remember that the temperature and humidity are very important. Poke a few small holes in a plastic bag to provide ventilation and to let out some of the moisture which accumulates.

Polyram
Spray - 1 oz. in 3 gal. water
Dust or wettable powder - 80 W. Ferbam
Spray - 5 tablespoons per gal. water
Dust or wettable powder - 15% Zineb

Spray - 2 1/2 tablespoons per gal. water
Dust of wettable powder - 10% Maneb

Spray - 1 teaspoon per gal. water
Dust or wettable powder - 2%

Apply the spray, dust or wettable powder weekly, using enough to give uniform coverage of the tobacco plants. As the plants grow larger, more of the control material will be needed to cover them.

FOOD TIPS
Freeze dried poultry may be held at room temperature up to two years if the container has a good, solid seal.

Of course, quality of the original product will depend on the condition of the raw poultry; care with which it was freeze-dried, and the seal of the container according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.
