

SAFETY

STARTS WITH A STOP HERE!

DRIVERS! STOP AND THINK ABOUT THIS MESSAGE; TRAFFIC-SAFETY DEPENDS ON YOUR ATTITUDE!

One of the biggest differences between a safe driver and one who has a record of accidents is each driver's mental attitude. The safe driver is a person with a mature outlook — he knows that operating a motor vehicle is not kids' play; he knows that the machine under his guidance can be a lethal weapon. It can kill. The safe driver knows that traffic rules have been designed not to "catch him up," but to keep him safe. He knows, too, that driving skill is not enough; it must be combined with common sense and courtesy. Have a safe driver's attitude!

$500 Goal Set For Local Arthritis Drive

A goal of $500.00 to support the arthritis-fighting programs of the Kentucky Chapter of The Arthritis Foundation was announced today by Mrs. Charlie Hines, chairman of the 1971 campaign.

The drive will culminate with a door-to-door Arthritis Victory March September 14, 1971. Mrs. Charlie Hines said.

Mrs. Hines is Rockcastle County's representative on a "team" of professional football players, coaches and other volunteers across the county who are aiding The Arthritis Foundation. Leader of the Arthritis Victory Team is national chairman Webb Ewbank, coach of the New York Jets.

"Victory over arthritis will take money and manpower," Mrs. Hines declared. "Funds are needed to provide medical and information services for arthritis sufferers in Kentucky and for research seeking the final answer to arthritis."

"And right now we need manpower and womanpower--volunteers to join the Victory Team and take part in the Arthritis Victory March to raise these funds," she said. Arthritis, the nation's number one crippling disease, affects 17 million Americans, 1,118 right here in Rockcastle, Mrs. Hines said. And for many of them, arthritis is a kind of living hell, a nightmare of pain and gradual crippling.

"Medicine has the know-how today to prevent much of this suffering, but we don't have enough doctors and clinics and other facilities and services to help everyone with arthritis who needs help," she continued.

"And with government funds for research being cut back, arthritis research is slowing down when it should be speeding up."

"That's what this 1971 Arthritis Victory Campaign is all about...seeking contributions to fight this serious and disabling disease...to relieve human suffering...and to keep vital research going," Mrs. Hines said.

Quotas May Now Be Leased and Transferred

Burley tobacco growers are being reminded that farm marketing quotas may now be leased and transferred to other farms. This new provision will enable growers to assemble more economic units for Burley tobacco production, or to discontinue production and lease their farm quotas. Lease and transfer provisions already apply to other types of tobacco.

Lease and transfer of Burley tobacco quotas will be permitted among farms located within the same county. Pounds for transfer to any one farm are limited to the smaller of 15,000 pounds or 50 percent of a farm's cropped, times the farm yield, minus the burley quota before transfer.

While transfer of burley crop can be made up to February 15, 1972, Burley producers were urged by Mr. Fagus to make their transfer agreements prior to the opening of the markets if possible. Any owner with a Burley tobacco quota may transfer the quota, within limitations, up to five years, but the transfer must be to another Burley farm within the same county. To be effective, all transfers must be approved by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Burley growers who experience crop losses this year have two alternatives for managing their unused quota. A grower may elect not to use the quota this year and it will be added to next year's farm quota, or he may lease it to another farm.

Before the local markets open, tobacco producers will be asked to indicate whether Burley was planted on their farms, and whether a pesticide containing DDT or TDE was used on the tobacco after it was planted in the field. Support loans cannot be made to producers who used a pesticide containing DDT or TDE on their Burley or other tobacco crops. Marketing cards will be issued to growers who indicate they have tobacco from their farms available for marketing. Producers who expect to sell at more than one warehouse during the same period should request more than one marketing card from their ASCS office.

Draft Bill Passage

Put Off Until Sept. 13

Spurring President Nixon's request for passage now, the Senate Thursday put off until Sept. 13 consideration of a two-year draft bill that calls for a negotiated deadline for U.S. withdrawal from Indochina.

Nixon endorsed the war-pole declaration, which would be the first ever enacted by Congress, as a reasonable compromise. But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said that the declaration was no substitute for his amendment to declare as U.S. policy a nine-month deadline on troop withdrawal, provided American casualties are reduced.

Before the draft is extended, he said, the Senate should debate fully the U.S. role in Southeast Asia and the policy of the administration. "What kind of people are we?" he cried from the floor of the Senate. "Why are we in Southeast Asia? What for? At what cost?"

"It's about time the Congress woke up, as the American people have woken up, to the cost, the casualties, the corruption, the drug addiction," Mansfield said. The House approved the compromise draft bill Tuesday, and Sen. John C. Stennis (Cont. to 2)

Squirrel Season Opens August 21

If the squirrel hunter so desired he could spend almost one-third of a year in Kentucky woods legally hunting the bushy tails. Actually 116 days have been decreed as legal squirrel hunting time, more than for any other species of protected wildlife in the commonwealth.

This year the season opens Aug. 21, continues through the remainder of that month, through all of September and October, after which there is a lull until Nov. 18 when the second phase opens. That last part will continue through the remainder of November and closes Dec. 31.

The long season may be one reason that squirrel hunting is the No. 1 harvest of wildlife, numerically, in Kentucky. And there must be a pretty good supply of squirrels over a five-year period would not be available. Biologists of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources believe 1971 will produce another moderate crop of both the grey and fox squirrel (sometimes erroneously called the red squirrel). They base their prediction on observations in the woods by field men, and on the fact that last fall a fair supply of mast (squirrel food) was produced in the state and elsewhere. That always reflects on the squirrel crop the following season.

The mast crop is one of the most reliable indices of the upcoming population. If there is a good supply of food produced in a given summer (enough to last through the following winter) then a hearty robust squirrel breeding stock is available.

If the food is not available, much of the broodstock will not make it through the winter and those that do will not produce the good, strong type of young, and the population will suffer.

But biologists say the mast crop was about average last winter and therefore the papa and mama squirrels made it through the cold months fairly well. This has resulted in an average crop of young, and points to a good hunting year for the Kentucky squirrel hunter.

Squirrel hunting is a statewide endeavor. There's hardly a county that does not offer targets for these hunters. The grey squirrel is universal in scope and from the banks of the Mississippi to the Big Sandy, Kentucky mimrats will be plinking at this most elusive animal. In the central Bluegrass section, with its state's finest pastures and wide fields, the fox squirrel will be the target. The latter may be the sharper of the two species, when it comes to outwitting the hunter, probably due to the fact that it has a better view of his adversary as he approaches.

One note to the squirrel hunters: (Give the best hunting is later in the season. In the early days a hunter may become discouraged because he does not see the number of squirrels he expects, but this does not mean they're not present. In all probability, they'll show up about that time in the fall when they start storing out and other food for winter use. So if the first few trips are lousy, don't give up. The squirrels are there and you'll find them at a later date.

Squirrels may be hunted with shotguns that hold no more than three shells in the barrel and magazine combined, or with breech-loading rifles less than .240 caliber. Shotguns loaded with slugs or buckshot are prohibited as are all breech-loading rifles of .240 caliber or above.

These restrictions are placed on the weapons, not so much to protect the squirrels as to prevent hunters from illegally cracking down on a deer in the squirrel hunting season. Squirrels may, however, be taken with all types of muzzle-loading weapons. The limit is six per day or 12 in possession after two or more days of hunting.

Broadhead Sewer and Water Project Is On The Move

A little inconvenient but a welcome sight in Broadhead is the laying of the sewer line, the new sewer line, which is scheduled for completion by June 1, 1972, will service almost all residents of Broadhead. Charles Williams is the contractor for the sewer line project.

NEW SEWER PLANT-- Charles Alfred Mullins, extreme left, engineer for Crawford & Crawford Engineers, gives instructions to workers on the sewer plant under construction in the Robbins Bottoms behind the Bowder Nursing Home in Broadhead. The plant is also scheduled for completion June 1, 1972 and is being built by MacGregor and Neal Construction Co. of Lexington.

Workers for the J.M. West Construction Co. of Cookeville, Tennessee, contractors for the water line project in Broadhead, are shown as they cross Negro Creek with the line near Farmers Feed Mill. REACHING YOUTH--Arley Stanley strolls through the woods at Camp Shawnee in Floyd County with four youths enjoying the camp activities. Stanley was one of many local citizens who joined members of state agencies in treating 11-13-year-old youths from economically-limited families to a week of fun and forestry. The camp was part of Youth Outreach, a pilot project in juvenile delinquency prevention, sponsored by the Department of Child Welfare. (Richard Upchurch Photo)

Topdress Grass Pastures Now to Increase Fall and Winter Forage

"Put unimproved grass pastures to work this fall. Proper fertilization will greatly increase forage production," says Dr. K.L. Walls, Extension soil specialist. Full soil samples now to determine amounts of lime, phosphate, and potash you can profitably apply. Topdress these along with nitrogen between August 15 and September 15. He points out that your needs for fall and winter grazing should determine how much nitrogen, up to 70 pounds per acre, to apply. Nitrogen will stimulate fall growth of grasses to give higher yields. Sugar content of grasses, especially fescue, increases rapidly after freezing temperatures. By keeping livestock off topdressed fields until after freezing temperatures you will have higher quality forage as well as more winter grazing. Use temporary fences so fields can be strip-grazed. This will increase pasture utilization and reduce wastage. UK research indicated that the feed quality of fescue in the field does not appreciably begin to deteriorate until around the first of

You can profitably fertilize pastures this fall that are to be renovated after the first of the year. If additional fall grazing is desired from a field which is to be renovated, apply 25-50 pounds nitrogen per acre between August 15 and September 1 along with the needed lime, phosphate and potash for the legumes. You should graze the grass so it will use all the nitrogen before the clover is seeded the following spring. Otherwise, grass will crowd out the clover. This is why a lower than normal rate of nitrogen is recommended.

Budworms Becoming Active
These rascals could stand in our way as far as producing the Quality Leaf we need this year. The pest is not now active all over the state, but we better be out watching our tobacco patches so we can give him the proper welcome. These light brown to green caterpillars, which reach a length of approximately one and one-half inches when full grown, eat holes in the buds and thereby reduce yield and quality of mature leaves. If infestations aren't checked in time, severe stunting of plants may result. REMEMBER, the sooner you detect an insect problem, the more effective and the cheaper are the controls.

Don't let your control efforts create another problem for you. I make reference to Chemical Injury. Insecticide sprays are not formulated to drown insects. You remember last year we had a lot of reports of bud-burning. In most cases where this occurred, the insecticide was applied by a hand- or knapsack sprayer. When sprays are used, nozzles should be held at least 12 to 15 inches above the buds. This avoids too heavy concentrations in the tender bud area. Light coverings of sprays or dusts are most desirable. REPEAT, don't attempt to DROWN! THE WORMS. The bud-burning possibilities are even greater if emulsifiable concentrates are used in excess of recommended rates. This particular formulation of insecticide employs a solvent which is a contact-killing material is dissolved, and many such solvents are caustic to plant tissue.

and the corn is up in a matter of a week or so. The corn plant is available so they hop on. Chemical controls for this pest on field crops are not to be effective. Some protection would be achieved by using a soil systemic material, but how much is questionable. Generally, we wouldn't apply preventive controls anyway since this is such an odd-ball pest. Cultural controls would do some good, since we do know this insect's life cycle and habits. Clearing of fence-rows about mid-August, and field margins, could significantly lower the numbers of this pest. AUGUST PLENTIFULS - Wheat and wheat products will be featured in the month of August according to the USDA. Also to be on the plentiful list: fresh pears, fresh plums and purple plums, summer vegetables, peanuts and peanut products, fluid milk, broiler-tyrers, and cranberry sauce and juice drink. August is also sandwich month, so this is a good time to use cracked whole wheat bread in your Dietrich or combination sandwiches.

MRS. ASHLEY HONORED - Mrs. Linda Ramsey Ashley of Lexington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Russell Ramsey, has been selected to appear in the 1971 edition of "Outstanding Young Women of America." Mrs. Ashley is a former high school teacher and has also been employed with the Department of Child Welfare. Over 3 million widows and children are receiving monthly social security benefits based on the earnings of a deceased husband and father. Congress has agreed to the need for extension of the draft and a raise in military pay, designed to recruit soldiers for all all-volunteer force.

You & The Draft

Undoubtedly the 27th day of this year (Aug. 5) will affect the future of young men throughout the land who were born in 1952...

According to Congressman Carter, the Dutch are attempting to solve their problem in a rather unusual manner... He said that "youth hostels and other gathering places are subsidized by the government..."

Representative Carter stated that he could not agree with the methods used by the Dutch in the solution of their drug problem... "More emphasis should be placed on education, stricter enforcement regulations should be employed, and sincere efforts at rehabilitation should be attempted..."

In London, Congressman Carter and the other members of the Marihuana Commission met with officials in the Home Office, which has responsibility for drug addiction problems...

Woman Does 'Men's Jobs' for 50 Years; 'Slows Down' to Get Social Security

Petite Mrs. Ada Vess of Charleston, West Virginia, has been working since she was 14 — at such he-man trades as lumbering, rail-roading, masonry, meat cutting, carpentry, papering, plastering, and painting.
 After 50 years of man's work, Mrs. Vess now 64 — has decided to slow down a little and collect her monthly social security retirement benefits, which she earned as a self-employed carpenter and painter. But she quickly adds, "I sure don't plan to quit."
 Social security beneficiaries under 72 continue to get full benefits every month if they earn $1,680 or less in a year. Benefits are reduced when earnings go over $1,680 a year. But no matter how much they earn in a year, they can get a social security check for any month in which they earn $140 or less and do no substantial work in self-employment.
 People over 72 can work and earn as much as they want without having any social security benefits withheld.
 Despite her 87-pound size, Mrs. Vess manages a ladder as if it were a dust mop. In her semiretirement, she plans to take "some inside painting jobs and other piddlin' little jobs." According to Mrs. Vess, the only reason for her semiretirement is a case of emphysema, which makes climbing difficult.
 Born in 1907 near a lumber camp, Mrs. Vess followed her father into rail-roading by operating a lever-type car. "I just picked up the building trade naturally," she says. "Both my grandfathers were stone masons and carpenters."

 She began papering and painting when she was 14. She learned plastering while she was painting a house where a plasterer was working. She added meat cutting to her talents when she worked in a chain store for a few years.

 How have men on the job reacted? "We got along fine," Mrs. Vess says.

WOMAN WORKS 50 YEARS AT "MEN'S JOBS" — Mrs. Ada Vess of Charleston, West Virginia, is busy at her latest man-type job — remodeling a house. After 50 years of working on such jobs as railroading, masonry, and meat cutting, the 87-pound woman plans to slow down a little and collect monthly social security retirement benefits.

Mrs. Earl Stamper

Owens - Stamper

Miss Ma va June Owens became the bride of Earl Stamper on Saturday, July 17 at the First Christian Church in Mt. Vernon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Owens of Route 1, Mt. Vernon. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lenos Stamper of Rochester, Michigan.

Bro. Brad Coffey performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with five seven-branched candelabra featuring white tapers, yellow ribbons and greenery. Two arrangements of white Killian daisies and yellow daisy pom-poms completed the setting.

Miss Tricia Easterly served her cousin as flower girl. She wore a gown of light lemon-yellow chiffon and carried a white basket of yellow petals.

Rob Smith of Cincinnati served as best man. Ushers were Henry Shull of Leeco and Bob Lowery of Poole, Michigan. Mrs. Owens, the bride's mother, chose a sky-blue crepe dress and a co-ordinated lace jacket for the wedding. She wore white accessories and a white cymbidium orchid.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Stamper, chose a dress of pastel pink and matching accessories. She also wore a white cymbidium orchid. Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the basement of the church. The bride's table was covered with a white circular cloth eyelet. The four tiered wedding cake was topped with a wedding cross of gold and flanked by six white tapers. The diamond covered punch table was centered by a cluster of twelve slender tapers entwined with ivy. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Harris Craswell of Kingston, Tennessee, Mrs. Hollis Easterly of Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. Herbert Broyles of Somerset, and Mrs. Lowell Frazer of Melbourne, Florida. Miss Gina Frazer, also register.

For traveling the bride chose an aqua crepe dress trimmed in delicate white lace. She wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet. After a two-week honeymoon in Florida, the couple will make their home near Boonesboro. *****

Personals

Recent visitors of Mrs. John Pittman and Jean were her daughters, Mrs. Paul Bon-cutter, and Mr. Boe-cutter and sons of Dayton, and Mrs. Terry Farrell, Mr. Ferrell and children of Florida. *****

If you don't lime it, why plant it

Why Soils Need Lime

Only a few crops grow well on acid soils because they require calcium and magnesium which are replaced by applications of agricultural limestone. This material not only corrects the soil acidity, but also supplies the plants with the needed calcium and frequently magnesium.

Soil pH, which is a measure of the acidity or alkalinity of the soil, affects the availability of all elements which influence crop production. An application of liming material to an acid soil increases the availability of plant nutrients which are important to crop production. Among these are nitrogen, phosphate and others. Liming reduces luxury uptake of potash by the plants and reduces the availability of aluminum and iron manganese which are harmful to plants if they are present in sufficient quantities in the soil. Liming also helps increase the number and activity of beneficial soil bacteria. It helps improve the physical condition of the soil by supplying the calcium needed by leguminous crops to increase their growth. It increases root development and permeability of the soil.

Lime is the most economical factor involved in crop production on most soils in the humid areas, as they are acid in varying degrees. The application of needed fertilizers is also one of the most economical factors in crop production. The wise use of water - both rainfall and irrigation - is still another factor involving crop production. However, the one which is most frequently by-passed is the application of agricultural limestone and this is the first step in a sound fertility program on most soils in the humid area. Failure to apply this material limits crop production and wastes fertilizer dollars as well as the producer's capital investment and his labor in crop production. To get a better picture of soil needs, a soil test made by an accredited laboratory is recommended.
