Heat Up Some Memories With Chunky Soups

Years ago, the big soup kettle simmering all day on the back burner of the stove was sort of an American institution. Now, thanks to canned Chunky Soups, treating your family to the home-style goodness and flavor of delicious soup is as easy as opening a can.
 Choose from the four original Chunky Soups... Chunky Chicken, Chunky Beef, Chunky Turkey, or Chunky Vegetable. Or, try one of the two new additions... Chunky Cream Chowder and Chunky Sirloin Burger.
 Ready to heat and serve, Chunky Sirloin Burger makes a great main course for a busy day. And, while the soup heats you'll have time to whip up a sweet 'n' simple dessert... Chocolate-Banana Parfaits.
 For extra flair and flavor, garnish bowls of Chunky Sirloin Burger Soup with a dollop of Sour Cream-Horseradish Topping just before serving.

SOUR CREAM-HORSERADISH TOPPING
 Combine 2 tablespoons sour cream and 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish. Spoon on 2 servings of Chunky Sirloin Burger Soup.
 CHOCOLATE-BANANA PARFAITS
 1 package (about 4 1/2 cups) whipped topping
 1/2 cup chocolate instant pudding mix
 1 medium banana, chopped
 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
 1/2 cup ground cinnamon
 Prepare pudding as directed on package. Combine remaining ingredients. In 4 parfait glasses, alternate layers of pudding and banana mixture. Garnish with additional walnuts. Makes 4 servings.

"ASC NEWS"

It means producers make their own farm management decisions. The Government doesn't decide for them," Mr. Ballinger said.

He added, "It also means for 1972 that a lot of decisions must be made this winter, since sign-up for the 1972 feed grain and wheat program is set for January 17 through February 25. Because of the option which the Secretary of Agriculture must decide on by mid-March, that sign-up period will not be extended, and farmers who may want to participate should underscore it on their calendars right now.

"As soon as official detailed program information is received in the County ASCS Office, we will get it out to farmers via mail, meetings, and all news channels. Phone calls, visits and letters of inquiry from farmers will be welcome."

Coat-Of-Arms Chosen For New High School

The shield or coat of arms committee met Oct. 26, 1971 with the full 12 member students committee and presented the art work and history of the coat of arms for the new Rockcastle County High School.

The committee at large accepted the shield by a unanimous vote of 12 to 0.

Serving on the student committee are: Bonnie Hallard, Livingston High School; Elizabeth Allen, Mt. Vernon High School; Jennifer Poynter, Brookhead High School and Tommy Stewart, Mt. Vernon High School.

The hand and the laurel wreath stands for sports, and our victories.

The torch symbolizes the importance of education, and sports combined. The artist's palette represents our dependence on the arts.

The banjo stands for our musical heritage handed down to our forefathers through folk music. It also depicts our main tourist attraction—Rantle Valley Kentucky.

The KV doors closed October 28.

The state's second oldest institution for juvenile delinquents, Kentucky Village, has served its purpose.

The KV doors were closed forever Oct. 28 only 20 minutes after the facility's last resident, a girl, left the premises to join a foster home.

Following is an explanation by the committee of the various symbols on the shield:

The clasped hands symbolize the growing friendship among the students.

The link chain joins the schools under one name, forming the lasting bond of unity.

The scroll denotes the passing of knowledge, and the history of the new school. The open end of the scroll depicts the past, the open face the present, and the rolled end, the future.

The graduation cap symbolizes the students' achievement by education.

The hand and the laurel wreath stands for sports, and our victories.

The torch symbolizes the importance of education, and sports combined. The artist's palette represents our dependence on the arts.

The banjo stands for our musical heritage handed down to our forefathers through folk music. It also depicts our main tourist attraction—Rantle Valley Kentucky.

The banner on which is printed the word (Youth) represents the students who will benefit from, and for whom the new high school was built.

The oak sprays surrounding the shield symbolize the strength of the united schools as one.

Bowling News

ARTICLES REQUESTED ON MEDICAL CRISIS

The growing crisis in medical and hospital care throughout the country has brought numerous requests to the Rockcastle County Library for books and magazine articles on the subject, according to Librarian Aline Davis.

"Up-to-date books are still limited, but there has been a flood of magazines articles on the problem," the librarian said.

You & The Draft

In November of each year many newspapers, as a reminder to their readers and an "extra" service to their advertisers, publish the number of shopping days before Christmas. Some subscribers take the message seriously while others are "putter-offers" until the last minute. You may recall that because of the winding down of hostilities in Vietnam, the Selective Service System began making an all-out effort to tell young men in the First Priority Selection Group with an unreach number it would be to their best interest to be in Class I-A on the last of the calendar year.

If they are in I-A, they will then become eligible to be moved to a lower selection group, which in lay language means their vulnerability for military service will be further reduced.

Quite frankly, there are still some "doubting thomas" and "johnny come lately," in 1970 Raymond Gray, born August 7, 1948, was classified II-A. His Random Selection Number from the "lottery" of December 1969 was 168.

The highest Random Selection Number reached in the local board in which Ray was registered in 1970 was 165.

The "draft" board in late November notified Ray it would be to his best interest if he voluntarily requested the dropping of his deferred classification (II-A) and became I-A.

Ray at this point was a "doubting thomas."

It is understandable why Ray had some skepticism about "abandoning" his deferred status since he had gone the "full nine yards" in documenting his file to prove to the satisfaction of the local board that his occupational deferment of "II-A" merited continuation. We would like to point out that to be a priority selection group, a draft registrant must be in a class available for military service. As Ray was in II-A he was not a member of any priority selection group.

In mid-January, this young man recognized the wearing of a "that of a doubting thomas" was a serious mistake and came to our office seeking intervention.

He wanted us to ask the draft board to reclassify him into I-A and direct them to put him into a lower priority selection group.

He recognized that he was a "Johnny come - lately" and, unfortunately, there was nothing that we could do for this young man because in January we could not predict what the highest RSN for 1971 would be.

In May 1971 Ray lost his II-A deferment and was reclassified I-A. However, the highest RSN reached before the expiration of the induction authority was 125.

When Congress enacted a new law, the RSN of 125 was established as a cut-off for 1971, Ray's year of prime vulnerability terminates on December 31.

If he is in I-A on that date, he will be eligible to be moved into a reduced priority group in January 1972.

We hope that relating what happened to Ray will have some impact on young men born in 1951 with an RSN above 125 when they receive their letter from the draft board suggesting that they become I-A in order to may reduce their vulnerability for military service.

We kid you not that this is good information from the draft board and there is not any valid reason why a young man receiving a letter of this type should be either a "doubting thomas" or run the additional risk of becoming a "Johnny come-lately."

JUDGES TO MEET

Circuit judges from across the state will gather at the Northeast Holiday Luncheon in Louisville Nov. 16-18 for the first Kentucky Sentencing Institute.

The three-day event, sponsored by the Kentucky Crime Commission in association with the Kentucky Assn. of Circuit Judges and the National College of State Trial Judges, will acquaint judges with penitentiary programs and the need for uniform sentencing.

U.S. POSTAL SERVICE

November is "last-off" time in Kentucky, it's during that month that most species of small game become legally huntable and also when gun hunters may seek out Kentucky's big game -- the deer.

For many years hunters have looked upon the third Thursday in November as the day on which the rabbit, quail and ruffed grouse become legal game. Along with these species the squirrel season reopens for the remainder of November and throughout December.

The third Thursday in November is the 19th, this year, and that is the signal for hunters to hit the fields.

What they find is problematical but the best guess, as based on numerous surveys and talks with people in the fields, indicates the quail hunt will be well pleased with a population as large if not larger than last year's crop.

The rabbit hunter, of course, has had tough luck in some areas for the past few years, and indications are that the crop this year will about parallel the number found last season. Also, as was the case last year, the populations will be good in some areas and down in others.

This spotty pattern for the cottontail has been the trend for the past few years and is due to continue for at least another season.

The population will be guided as usual by the amount of food and cover available in the various locations.

The grouse crop also is unpredictable in the eastern Kentucky mountains where the principal populations are located.

Field men say estimating the number of these fast flying woods birds is most difficult this year due to the abundance of food in the valleys, on the plateaus and on the mountain tops. With this condition the birds have not yet bunched up and may be found in these areas but not in great numbers.

For instance, in past years when food was scarce the grouse congregated in the area of the food, but this season they are scattered far and wide due to the great amount of various foods.

Squirrel hunters already have sampled the crop this year and will be granted additional days beginning November 18 and continuing through December.

Can deer hunters will have their filing beginning Nov. 13 and extending five days through the seventeenth. Only bucks with forked antlers and hinds may be taken statewide except in three counties--Edmonson, Barren and Hart--where either sex deer will be legal for the gun hunter.

And now, for the limits. Only one deer may be taken in the entire year by either gun or bow and arrow.

Rabbit and squirrel hunters may harvest six per day or have 12 in possession after two or more days of hunting. The bag limit for quail is 10 per day or 20 in possession and the ruffed grouse hunter may kill four per day or have eight in possession after two days, if he is lucky.

Remember, hunting is a privilege and not a right. Ask the landowner before going on his property and also remember hunting can be a pleasure, or it can bring tragedy.

Be careful for the safety of yourself and the fellow hunters. And, thirdly, remember that hunting licenses are required. Check to be sure you have yours.

Being a funeral director isn't for everyone. The hours are unpredictable... you are continuously exposed to grief... you become the subject of a lot of bad jokes... and, when you have a sick friend, you can't visit him because people will say you're a "culture" and you can't stay away because his feelings will be hurt.

But we're not complaining. We know there are disadvantages to every job, and ours has an unusual redeeming feature: it provides the satisfaction of knowing we've helped others at a time when help is needed most.

Carter Comments

For the past several years, legislation has been pending in Congress calling for an amendment to the Constitution which would permit prayer in schools and other buildings supported with public funds. The proposed amendment is House Joint Resolution 191.

Kentucky's Fifth District Representative explained "It is my belief that this proposal would serve to clarify our First Amendment guarantees of religious freedom. It would not, as some would have us believe, undermine the First Amendment. In addition, it would also contribute to the religious foundation of our nation."

On Prayer Amendment

"In these rapidly changing times," Congressman Carter continued, "let us recognize our great heritage; let us promote public morality, decency, and honesty; let us permit voluntary, non-denominational prayer in our schools. Our religious background, in this nation, is our heritage. It will continue to act as an influence for stabilization up on our youths in this increasingly permissive society."

Congressman Carter continued, "I want to emphasize that without such an amendment to the Constitution, and a rededication to our religious heritage, we could very well see the day when every reference to God in public ceremonies and prayers in our schools. This might also include our national religious celebrations such as Christmas and even the Chaplains' prayers in the Congress."

ramblings ...

Well Mayor Ed Winstead has a laugh at my expense last week when he got to tell me that in my unofficial tabulation of the City Council race, I picked up the same figures for the East Mt. Vernon precinct and North Mt. Vernon precinct. You will find a corrected tabulation this week on page three of the Council race also. We also noticed, too late as usual, that in our front page story of the election, we had mislabeled Mr. Jasper as receiving 390 votes when the correct figure should have been 309. A simple matter of transposing but I couldn't even blame it on the typesetter as she gleefully pointed out while waving my newspaper (and making me) quiet my anger and

Time to take pen in hands moments, a bill to allow an income tax deduction to working taxpayers of up to $4,800 a year for the salary of someone to care for children under 14 or disabled dependents, has been favorably reported out of committee by a vote of 10 to 1 and has been sent to the Senate for debate later this week. The President reportedly does not favor the bill however, and if the measure should be passed by Congress he could still veto it forcing a 2/3 majority in Congress to make it law. So, now is the time for all of us to write our congressmen writing Senators John Sherman Cooper, Marlow Cook and Rep. Tim Lee Carter my thoughts on the subject to write our congressmen and make our wishes known (of course if you're against the measure I don't care whether you write or not).

Now that the election is history, I have a few words to say concerning an anonymous letter subscriber. If you will recall, the week before the election on Tuesday, the State Democratic Party paid for a pre-printed advertisement to be inserted into our paper. After the papers were mailed out of here my husband received a phone call at home from one of our subscribers (who refused to give his name) who let us know in no uncertain terms what he thought of us for putting all that "Democratic Garbage" in his paper that week and telling us that that was the last "Signal" he would buy from us. It was kind of funny in a way but in another way it wasn't. The man's idea of Democracy was obviously what that head that he supported should be free to quit whenever they wished in put out that others who differing viewpoint should be muzzleed. Well, whoever you are to give us a name at least this Signal so that we can make it crystal clear to you and anyone else who is interested in this important advertisement from anyone which we feel is not deliberate slander, libel or just plain lies and that since we are the only newspaper in the county we could in no way justify the refusal of our au-

Mrs. Hurst Dies

Burial was in Danville, Indiana.

Help Our Library

Did you ever come to a time in your life when your revenue was not sufficient to cover your current expenses for one month and there was no guaranteed revenue to meet the next two months' bills?

This is the situation the Rockcastle County Library Board now find themselves in. Their cash on hand was not sufficient to pay all of their October bills (part of the salaries, bookmobile expenses, etc.), they have around $50 in the bank and no guaranteed revenue forthcoming until the first of the year. Meanwhile, the rent, salaries, bookmobile expenses, library material bills and other expenses mount up.

There is of course the possibility that some taxes now being collected will be turned over to the library later in November but when you get down to it that only "padding" in the pay "roll" will be the money, if used now will not be available for next year's operation for which it is budgeted and it will be the same story then.

The expenses for the library are by no means out of the line, in fact, for services rendered to the people of Rockcastle County, the cost to each taxpayer is minute. The library receives a little over $5,000 a year from tax money and this amount plus a little over $2,000 (an amount by no means guaranteed to the library) which is received from the State Department of Libraries is what the library operates on. It is not enough. In a good year, the library must borrow three to four hundred dollars in operating funds to run them until revenue is made available but this year it didn't even stretch that far.

We realize this is not a good time of year to ask for donations (which is tax deductible) with all the added expenses of winter and the holidays coming up. But, if each person who used the library who was fined this year (and that would include the biggest majority) would give a donation, no matter how small, this present crisis might be eased and time would be bought for a more organized approach to obtaining the needed services rendered to the people of Rockcastle County.

In addition to donations from individuals, contributions to the library would be a worthwhile cause for civic organizations who usually like to know that their help is going to benefit the most people.

At present, it seems to be up to the citizens of this county and particularly to the users of the Library. As we have said, your contribution, no matter how small will be appreciated.

Frankfort Watchline

"We're going to do things different from the way they've been done."

That's the view Gov-elect Wendell Ford has given his top administrative aide, William Wester, as they begin a new administration to Kentucky the next four years.

Wester, with a dozen years in various state agencies, says the organization always has been formed from the top down.

"We'd like to work from the delivery of service up," he says, adding that Lt. Gov. Ford "is an absolute nut on delivering service to the people—and that has to be the decisive factor."

Wester, 39, was one of the few who could just about keep up with Ford's driving pace during the long campaign grind.

He put in more than regular hours in the lieutenant governor's office—and countless hours on the campaign.

The very fact that he is so close to Ford reflects one of Ford's strengths.

They met while Wester was on the budget staff in the Finance Department and Ford was former Gov. Bert Combs' assistant.

Later, Wester served a half-dozen years as deputy commissioner of health for administration and 18 months as top aide to Legislative Research Director James Fleming.

As lieutenant governor, Ford is chairman of the LRC.

And when Wester moved across the hall to Ford's office, the race really was on. Ford still was playing his cards carefully, but Wester acknowledges, "I thought he wanted to run."

Ford's ability to pick—and win—such people gave him a boost that few foes could believe.

Ford to this day probably underestimates his own intellectual ability—something unheard of among politicians. But it gives him a real secret weapon—listening to clearly brilliant minds like Wester and LRC Director Fleming.

Some of Ford's choices for top-level appointments may pull a few eyebrows from their moorings.

Opposition spokesmen repeatedly charged that he had promised the choice spots two and three—or a half dozen—times over.

The fact is that he probably made as few such commitments as anyone in a long, long time. Perhaps ever.

As he told one person he approached about a key spot only after the election, "Jean (Mrs. Ford) didn't buy her inaugural gown ahead of time."

Prediction dept.: State Democratic Chairman J.R. Miller, the original Ford ramrod, won't take any position in the administration. But he'll keep on providing some sleepless nights for Republicans.

Halt-off dept.: Republican candidate Tom Emberton, a truly first class person, showed better in his concession speech than he had throughout the campaign. It obviously was delivered by a man of real substance, style and class. He was himself then.

Patience dept.: Senate Majority Leader Walter "Dee" Huddleston put aside his ambition to run for lieutenant governor in order to give full attention to the Ford campaign.

And at a time when most of the "pros" were saying Ford couldn't win the primary. Now the easy-going but hard-working Huddleston has to be rated a reasonable chance to go to the U.S. Senate.

The inner circle of the Ford campaign was perhaps the whitest ever. Ford and Miller show their intense aides to the public. Huddleston his calm. But Fleming and Wester are inveterate jokers. Neither is sure which one first labeled Miller, who is pictured as the meanest guy in the valley.

Pollution can be taxing

Some people oppose pollution-stopping measures because they may increase taxes. The problems of pollution can only be solved when we, as citizens, recognize that it costs money to fight pollution.

Support government efforts to replace open pits with sanitary landfills, efficient incinerators, or modern recycling facilities. Urge local officials to provide adequate litter receptacles. Encourage community action for a new sewage treatment plant if it is needed. Support sensible ordinances to govern installation of commercial and industrial signs.

Find out what you, as a local citizen, can do to fight pollution, then do it.

People start pollution. People can stop it.

Capitol Digest

Gov. Louie B. Nunn has officially opened a 20-mile section of the Daniel Boone Parkway between London and Manchester.

Some 300 persons gathered at the Manchester exit for opening ceremonies which included remarks by Highway Commissioner B.E. King and Phillip Lee, executive director of the International Bridge, Tunnel and Turnpike Assn.

Governor Nunn told spectators the new turnpike will enable thousands to come and see "four beautiful mountains" and "called the new road a "corridor of opportunity for the eastern Kentucky area."

The new parkway is the most expensive per mile and according to some—the most beautiful ever built in Kentucky.

Because of the rough, mountainous terrain it had to cross the parkway cost $1.1 billion per mile or about $22 million for the London-Manchester stretch.

Completion of the new section raises Kentucky to second place in the nation in total toll road mileage.

NON-PAYING TENANTS MUST HAVE HEARING

A panel of three federal judges has labeled unconstitutional two Kentucky laws that permit landlords to seize and sell—without a hearing—a tenant's property for nonpayment of rent.

The judges struck down KRS 383.040 and KRS 383.050 because they don't require a hearing at which a tenant can "choose for himself whether to appear, default, acquiesce or contest" the landlord's proposed action.

Landlords were permanently enjoined under the decision "from seizing or selling property" under the provisions of the two state statutes.

In writing the panel's opinion, U.S. District Judge Rhodes Bratcher noted, "It is elementary that the right to be heard is a fundamental requirement of due process of law and that this right has little value unless a person has the concomitant right to be informed that a matter is pending and also the right to choose for himself to appear, default, acquiesce or contest."

CREATE HAS TAKEN 978 FROM WELFARE ROLLS

The State Department of Economic Security announced some 978 Kentuckians have been employed since May 1 under its Community Resources for Employment and Training Effort (CREATE).

Some 185 persons received jobs in 31 counties under the program during September according to Economic Security Commissioner Merritt S. Ditz, Jr.

He added that 15 welfare cases were discontinued during the month because the recipients now are able to support themselves.

"Private citizens are working hard on the local level to provide jobs and needed volunteer services for welfare recipients," Ditz said.

"All Kentuckians should extend their appreciation to these people who have made

Mrs. Gail Huecker, executive director of the Metropolitan Social Services Department of Louisville, will be chairman of the task force.

Canned Beans & Franks Are A Boon To Baby-Sitter

Baby-sitters are special people. Without them many of us would have a hard time seeing the latest movie, sampling the food at that new restaurant, or visiting favorite friends for an evening.

One sure-fire way to maintain good rapport with your favorite baby-sitter is to make sure the children are well-fed and happy before she arrives. Often though, an early engagement makes it impossible to "pre-fee" the kids, so do the next best thing. Have on hand a special treat... something that will delight the children and that's easy to prepare, as well.

Beans & Franks in Tomato & Molasses Sauce is the perfect solution. Kids love the sweet molasses and tomato sauce, and there's something about those tiny little franks that's just plain fun.

Instruct your baby-sitter to heat them straight from the can. Or, lay out extras like crushed ginger snaps, pineapple chunks, and raisins so she'll have no trouble preparing Ginger Beans... a very special dish.

- GINGER BEANS
- 1/2 cup pineapple chunks in unswetened pineapple Juice, drained
  - 1/2 cup unswetened pineapple Juice
  - 1 can (16 ounces) Campbell's Beans & Franks in Tomato & Molasses Sauce
- In saucepan, combine all ingredients. Heat; stir now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Of course, this column wouldn't be complete without a comment on the weather and especially when we get sudden a change as we did last week in looking back over some of last year's issues of the Signal, we found where the first snow fell on November 4 so it could be wrong, I guess, but did you ever unexpectedly have to buy seven pairs of gloves? It can get expensive especially since it will no doubt warm up again for a few days, the gloves will get lost along with sweaters, caps, etc., and I will just have to buy all over again...

Hellard - Poynter

Miss Verla Mae Hellard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Hellard, became the bride of Jerry Lee Poynter, son of Mr. and Mrs. P.L. Poynter, Friday, August 13 at 7:30 in a candlelight ceremony at St. Dunstons Chapel in Berea, Bro. Wolfe of London, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Lois Oliver, London, organist and vocalist, played "Love Story," "The Quest" and the traditional wedding march. She sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law. She wore a full length gown of imported silk taffeta designed with an empire bodice edged with seed pearls, satin and silk braid. The high seeded pearl neckline was accented with satin braid. Slender long sleeves of organza were attached to the short puff sleeves. The puffed sleeves were gathered with seed pearls and satin. The round cuffs were also accented with seed pearls and satin trim. The four tier veil was held in place by a large satin bow. The veil was made of silk illusion and the bottom layer formed the flowing train. She carried a cascade of baby white carnations centered with six yellow roses. The roses and carnations were entwined with ivy.

Mrs. Wilane Adams, Lancaster, served as matron of honor. She is sister of the bride. Her floor length gown of mint green satin brocade featured an empire waist encircled with a moss green band that formed a back bow.

The neckline was identical to the bride's. The full sheer sleeves were enhanced by french cuffs made of satin brocade. Her headpiece was identical to that of the bride. Her short pouf veil was four layers of illusion. She carried a long stemmed pastel yellow rose with mint green streamers.

Misses Bonnie Sue Hellard, sister of the bride, and Phyllis Joan Shepherd, served as bridesmaids. Their dresses were styled identical to that of the matron of honor but were pastel yellow satin brocade. They carried longstemmed yellow roses with yellow streamers.

Danny Dale Adams, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man. Ushers were Samuel Stallsworth and Robert Calvin Webb, friends of the bride and groom.

Miss Ann Stewart of Mt. Vernon, kept the guest register. Mrs. Hellard chose a yellow knit dress with brown accessories and a white carnation for her daughter's wedding.

The groom's mother wore a pale blue knit dress with beige accessories. Her corsage was also a white carnation.

A reception was held at the chapel in the Fireside Room immediately following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace table cloth and centered with a three tier wedding cake decorated with silver leaves and white roses. The cake was topped with a bride and groom and an arch with a white wedding bell. Freestanding at the bride's table were Mrs. Carolyn Jackson, Mrs. Sue Allen, Mrs. Gertrude Bales and Mrs. Lois Oliver.

Belle Jackson and Randy Jackson, niece and nephew of the groom, distributed rice packets.

The bride will graduate in December from Eastern Kentucky University with a major in elementary education. Presently she is student teaching at Kenwood Elementary School in Louisville. The groom is a 1971 graduate of Eastern Kentucky University and is attending the University of Louisville Dental School.

DO YOU KNOW ABOUT OSHA?
 On December 29, 1970, the 91st Congress of the United States enacted Public Law 91-596, better known as the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, or the Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970. Some excerpts taken from the booklet, A Handy Reference Guide, will illustrate the scope, purpose, and mandatory nature of the law on all employers.
 Purpose of the law - "to assure so far as possible every working man and woman in the nation safe and healthful working conditions and to preserve our human resources."
 Coverage - "every employer engaged in a business or industry and commerce who has employees."
 Duties of Employers and Employees - "Each employer has the duty to furnish each of his employees places of employment, free from recognized hazards causing, or likely to cause, death or serious physical harm."
 The employee has the duty to comply with these safety and health standards.
 Administration - "Secretary of Labor" "The Occupational Safety and Health Review Commission."
 Occupational Safety and Health Standards - "Job safety and health standards consist of rules for avoiding hazards which have been proven by research and experience to be harmful to personal safety and health. It is the obligation of all employers and employees to familiarize themselves with those standards which apply to them and to observe them at all times."

 Workmen's Compensation - "This act does not in any manner affect workmen's compensation."
 Assistance From Small Business Administration - SBA act is amended to provide loans to small business for alterations of equipment, conditions, method, etc. to meet the OSHA law.

Notification of Proposed Penalty - "The Department of Labor shall notify the employer by certified mail of the penalty proposed to be assessed." The employer has 15 days within which to contest. If the employer fails to notify the Department he intends to contest, "the citation and the assessment shall be final."
 Time for Abatement of Hazards - "A citation shall prescribe a reasonable time for abatement." "Employees have the right to object to a period of time fixed," "15 days" for abatement."
 Failure to Correct Violation Within Allowed Time - "employer fails to abate," "Secretary of Labor notify the employer by certified mail of such a failure and of the proposed penalty." Assessments shall be final unless corrected within 15 days.
 Penalties for Violations - "Willful or repeated violations up to $10,000 for each." "Serious violations up to $1,000 each."
 Record Keeping - Employers are required to keep and make available records on certain employee activities. Also keep accurate records and make periodic reports of work related deaths, injuries, and illnesses.
 Statistics - "Secretary of Labor is required to develop and maintain collection, compilation and analysis of statistics on work injuries and illnesses."
 Protection Against Harassment - "No person shall be discharged or in any manner discriminated against because he exercises any right under the act."

Seasonal Household Nuisances
 Ordinarily elm leaf beetles and clover mites each year migrate into homes about this time. So far we have few or no complaints of it happening this year. Several complaints of the hackberry psyllid have been received. They gather at windows and doors in large numbers and are small enough to come through the screens. Under a magnifying glass they vaguely resemble aphids or minute cicadas, members of the same insect order in which psyllids belong. Household sprays are of little use, because more psyllids come along as quickly as you can kill them. They originate from (Cont. to 7)

Farm News & Reports

The use of a field tiler was demonstrated last week to 22 farmers in the county at the farm of Albert Long on the Owens Road. During the demonstration, about 80 to 90% of the fescue was torn up in a field which had already been limed and in March the field will be seeded with red clover and white clover. The tiler is available at the Cumberland Production Credit Office in Mt. Vernon on a rental basis. After the demonstration at the Long farm, the group then went to the farm of Roy Brown where they observed a field which had been seeded with three varieties of Red Clover last March. They were also served pork patties and all the trimmings at the Brown farm. Present for the demonstration and shown in the above photo are: Joe Gentry, Eldon Brown, Roy Brown, S.T. Powell, Clay Colson, Bill Norton, Tommy Mick, Earl Roberts, Jack Owens, Kenneth Evans, Extension Specialist in Agronomy at the University of Kentucky, Wallace Proctor, Kenneth Stewart, Albert Long, H. Lee Durham, Bill Anderson, Buck Farthing, Walter Durham, Russell Parsons, who also brought along four high school boys, Harold Ballinger and Marshall Scoggins.

ASC NEWS

Between now and the sign-up period for the 1972 Farm Set-Aside Programs, January 17 - February 25, local producers will be carefully studying all their farm management options, according to Harold Ballinger, County Farm Program Official.
 Details of the feed grain and cotton programs for 1972 were announced in mid-October by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The 1972 wheat program had been announced by USDA in mid-July.
 Essentially the 1972 Set-Aside Programs expand on the policy of leaving to farmers the determination of what "mix" of crops to plant on their farms. At the same time the programs are designed to increase farm income, help farmers get maximum return on investment, and reduce excess carryover supplies. Mr. Ballinger added that for feed grains, the 1972 program raises the qualifying set-aside to 25 percent of the base acreage and offers farmers two new options for additional voluntary set-aside. It also raises the feed grain set-aside payment to include in the 1972 Feed Grain Program are corn, grain sorghum and barley.
 A wider choice in offering their 1972 plans is making to farmers with feed grain bases or wheat allotment since they may sign up for program participation and plant soybeans, corn, grain sorghum, barley or wheat, - singly or in any combination - to protect their farm base or allotment history.
 As in 1971, set-aside programs put no limits on crop acreages. On the grain program participating farms, land will be available on all production, with national average loan levels of $1.06 per bushel for No. 2 corn, $1.79 per hundred weight for grain sorghum, and 86 cents per bushel for barley.
 The loan level for soybeans will continue at $2.25 per bushel, for oats at 54 cents per bushel, and for rye at 89 cents per bushel. All soybean, oats and rye production is eligible for loan without being tied to farm program participation.
 Detailing the feed grain set-aside program for 1972, Mr. Ballinger cited provisions as follows:
 For corn, farmers who sign up will set aside a qualifying acreage equal to 25 percent of their farm's corn base, for which they will earn payments of 80 cents a bushel on the established farm yield times the acreage set-aside.
 At sign-up, a farmer may also, if he chooses, agree to set aside up to 10 percent more of his corn base, for which he will receive payment of 52 cents a bushel times the established farm yield on this additional acreage.
 To assure that sufficient land is taken out of production Secretary Clinton S. Harlow is asking farmers, at sign-up, to offer to set aside an additional 5 or 10 percent, at the 82-cent-a-bushel rate. If the total set-aside is less than 38 million acres the Secretary of Agriculture will announce by mid-March whether one or both of these offers will be accepted.

 For grain sorghum - The details are the same as for corn, except that the payment rate for the qualifying 25 percent set-aside of the grain sorghum base will be 76 cents a bushel, and the payment rate will be 49 cents a bushel for the 10 percent additional voluntary diversion and for the 5 or 10 percent offer, if accepted.
 For barley - Farmers who sign up will set aside a qualifying acreage equal to 25 percent of their farm barley base, for which they will ear payments of 64 cents a bushel up to 20 percent of their established farm yield times acreage set-aside. At sign-up a farmer may agree, if he chooses, to set aside up to 20 percent more of his barley base, for which he will receive payment of 42 cents a bushel times the established farm yield on this additional acreage.
 Farmers have many choices to make in the 1972 Set-Aside Program, emphasized Mr. Ballinger. First of all, he said, is the choice by farmers who have feed grain bases or wheat allotments on whether to participate in one or more of these voluntary programs. If a producer has a farm with feed grain bases and wheat allotment, he could participate in none, some or all of the programs at a choice, without penalty for non-participation.
 For corn and grain sorghum farmers who decide to participate, another choice will be whether to sign up for voluntary set-aside up to 10 percent of their bases, and also whether to offer to set-aside 5 to 10 percent more at the option of the Secretary of Agriculture.
 Barley producers who decide to participate will be choosing whether to offer voluntary set-aside up to 20 percent of their farm base in addition to their qualifying 25 percent set-aside for participation.
 Other choices to be made in relationship to program participation include decisions on what crops to plant in view of potential farm yields and markets; what financing will be sought; whether to put in new farm storage facilities, buy new machinery, lease land, or improve drainage; how to manage storage and marketing of previous-year crops; whether to plan for more intensive input per acre, in terms of fertilizers, herbicides, pesticides, land preparation, and crop cultivation.

 "The set-aside farm programs are designed to give farmers as much latitude as possible, consistent with the aim of improving farm income."
 (Cont. to 9)

THOMAS JETT, president of the Citizens State Bank of Whitesburg, stands outside his bank in the county seat of Bellard County. Jett, along with other businessmen in the county, are sold on the economic importance of barley tobacco. "Barley," says Jett, "is equal to a good-sized industry." Other farmers would place equal reliance on the golden leaf, which economists say it worth $1.5 billion annually to our Commonwealth.

IN KENTUCKY...

TOBACCO IS NO. 1

Tobacco, as most Kentuckians know, is the state's leading cash crop. Tobacco accounts for 32 percent of farm income in our state, and is worth $300 million annually to Kentucky's farm families. Of equal importance is the fact that tobacco provides jobs and income for thousands of other Kentuckians engaged in its marketing, processing, and retail sale. Tobacco, it is estimated, generates $1.5 billion each year within our economy. Tobacco is, indeed, Kentucky's Number One product. As such, it has a story to tell, and that's why Kentucky's Burley tobacco farmers bring you this message: Burley farmers believe it's time to speak up for what's good about tobacco. So they're talking. Are you listening?

TURKEY TIME
In two weeks one of the nation's great holidays, Thanksgiving, will be upon us. Now's the time to start planning. Perhaps Thanksgiving, as far as menus go, is one of our most conventional meals. This is because it is a family day and represents people of all ages.

Turkey is the most conventional food for the Thanksgiving feast. As to quantity plan on 3/4 to 1 pound per serving (ready-to-cook weight) when buying turkey. If you are buying a boneless turkey roll, 3 to 4 servings per pound may be expected.

What kind of turkey do you really want? Know what it should look like by checking the various classes of turkey—(1) Fryer-roaster, usually under 16 weeks old, tender-meated, soft-skinned, smooth textured skin, flexible breastbone, cartilage (2) Young Tom or Young Hen—usually 3 to 7 months, tender-meated, may have less flexible breastbone cartilage (3) Yearling Hen—under 15 months, reasonable tender-meated and with reasonably smooth-textured skin (4) Mature Turkey or Old Turkey, in excess of 15 months, has coarse skin and toughened flesh. Look for the USDA shield-it certifies the grade or quality of the bird. (Grading services is provided on a voluntary basis - for a fee paid by the producer.) In thawing a purchased frozen turkey, the time will vary according to the size of the bird. You may thaw it in the refrigerator on a tray which will take 18 hours to 2 days if it is unwrapped and 1 to 3 days if kept in its original wrapper. The turkey can also be thawed in its original waterproof wrapping by running cool water over it. Small birds take 3 to 4 hours, the larger ones will take 8 to 7 hours. Do not allow the turkey to thaw at room temperature all day or overnight. This method lends to ideal conditions for bacterial growth and may result in food poisoning.

New 4-H Clubs Formed

Chilled fresh turkey can be held 1 to 2 days to the refrigerator. The giblets (heart, gizzard, and liver) should be removed and stored separately. Heat oven to 325. Rinse turkey with cold water; drain dry. Fill the neck (wishbone) cavity loosely with stuffing. Sawed neck skin to back. Tuck wing tips behind shoulder joints. Spoon stuffing lightly into body cavity. Do not pack it, as stuffing expands during roasting. Tie string securely around the tail, then tie the ends of the legs to the same string. Or push the legs through the band of skin above the tail. Place turkey, breast side up, on rack in shallow, open roasting pan. Brush with softened butter or margarine. Insert a meat thermometer so bulb is in center of the inside thigh muscle. Be sure that the bulb does not touch the bone. Roast, using times below as a guide, until thermometer registers 165. Baste or brush occasionally with pan drippings or butter or margarine. When the turkey is about two-thirds done, cut the cord or band of skin at the tail to permit the head to reach the heavy-meated joints. To prevent excessive browning, cover turkey with a loose tent of aluminum foil or a fat-moistened cheesecloth over the legs and breast.

Ready-to-cook weight and hours:
6 to 8 pounds, 3 to 3 1/2 hours; 8 to 12 pounds, 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 hours; 12 to 16 pounds, 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 hours; 16 to 20 pounds, 5 1/2 to 6 1/2 hours; 20 to 24 pounds, 6 1/2 to 7.
To test for doneness when not using a meat thermometer: About 20 minutes before cooking time is up, press the thick part of the drumstick between fingers protected with paper towels. If meat is done, it will feel very soft. Or move the drumstick up and down. It should move easily or twist out of the joint. Remove turkey to heated platter and let it rest for 20 minutes while you make gravy. This resting will help make carving easier.

Proportions for pan gravy:
Thin Medium Thick
Fat 1 tbs. 2 tbs. 3 tbs.
Flour 1 tbs. 2 tbs. 3 tbs.
Liquid 1 cup 1 cup 1 cup
(broth, milk or water)

Put the fat from the roasting pan into a bowl, leaving all brown particles in pan. Let fat rise to top of drippings. Skim off all fat and put into another container. Use the meat juice left in the bowl as part of the liquid for the gravy. Measure the amount of fat needed for gravy back into roasting pan. Blend in flour until smooth. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until bubbly. Remove from heat. Add liquid, which should be cool or lukewarm, all at once, stirring constantly, scraping up all the brown bits from pan, until gravy comes to boiling. Boil 1 minute. Taste and season as desired.

Stuffing or Dressing:
4 cups bread, stale or toasted, or cornbread, cut into 1/2 inch cubes; 1 to 1/2 cups boiling water, stock, or hot milk; 4 tablespoons fat, melted (more if water is used); 1 teaspoon salt; Pepper to taste; 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon sage, powdered; 1/4 cup celery, if desired, finely chopped; 1 tablespoon parsley, if desired, finely chopped; 1 egg, if desired, slightly beaten.

Add seasoning to bread. Mix lightly with fork. Melt fat in liquid, and mix bread, taking care that bread does not become soggy. Add beaten egg if desired. Stuffing may be cooked apart from bird in an oiled pan. In that case, baste frequently with stock from cooking bird. Sufficient for 3 1/2 to 4 pound bird.
