game reappeared in Northern Kentucky after being approved 4-1 in Newport.
However, on Sept. 17, 1970, Campbell County Circuit Judge Paul Stapleton enjoined Newport from continuing bingo as a result of a suit brought by Samuel Koslosky and Robert A. Stith.
Newport Commissioner John Peluso asked the Court of Appeals to rule on Stapleton's order.
The high court upheld the ruling, citing section 226 of the state constitution which reads: "Lotteries and gift enterprises are forbidden and no privileges shall be granted for such purposes and none shall be exercised and no scheme for similar purposes shall be allowed."

FAIR PLAN, GUARANTEE
FEDERAL BILLS WILL BE OFFERED

State Insurance Commissioner Robert Preston announced his department will propose two bills for the 1972 General Assembly designed to protect insurance policyholders.

He made the announcement while addressing 600 delegates to the Kentucky Assn. of Independent Agents convention in Louisville.
He said one bill would establish a guarantee fund association capable of "balancing out" policyholders in the event of a company going bankrupt.

The other would be a revision of the Insurance Department's Fair Access to Insurance Requirements (FAIR) plan under which businesses which otherwise might have difficulty obtaining insurance can get coverage.

The plan currently exists only under temporary legislation.

ed 130-foot Chimney Top Rock to collect litter left by the thousands of tourists who flocked to the gorge in recent years.
Oscar Gerald, Sierra Club conservation chairman, said the project's objectives were twofold.
"The first is to get the area clean, of course," he said. "But, secondly, we want to help impress people of the problems involved—littering, waste disposal and the inconsiderate attitude of many of our fellow men."
This year's haul of rubbish was somewhat less than the 15 tons collected last fall when the first cleanup was held.
The most littered area was a ditch along Ky 77 west of the Nada Tunnel where piles of cans, bottles and other junk were collected.

8) PEDESTRIANS KILLED

More than half the pedestrians killed on state highways are either under 15 or over 64 years of age, according to a study by the Kentucky Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee (KTSCC).
Arthur E. Beard, KTSCC executive director, said a study of State Police records show 47 or 48 pedestrian fatalities in 1970 were under 15 and 34 were over 64.

Those two groups represented 54 per cent of the total pedestrian fatalities in the state.
Beard said the same relationship held true with injuries, with 59 per cent either under 15 or over 64.
The study also shows most pedestrian accidents occurred on Fridays and Saturdays and most frequently between 2 and 6 p.m.

"They dropped off sharply after 11 p.m. and started again at 7 a.m.," Beard noted.
"There was also a notable decline beginning at 9 a.m. and picking up again at 11 a.m., and then starting heaviest at 2 p.m."
He said the four circumstances contributing most often to pedestrian accidents, in order of occurrence, were: inattentiveness, speeding, drinking and failure to yield right of way.

"YOU AND THE DRAFT"

I-A with an unexpired lottery number at the end of the calendar year 1970, were moved into a reduced selection group at the beginning of 1971.
Quite frankly, many young men in the 1970 priority selection group (born between 1944-1950) whose lottery number had not been reached by their local board were skeptical about abandoning their deferment for a I-A classification. However, time has proved that the local board gave these young men good advice and they have the satisfaction of knowing their vulnerability for military service is reduced.

This year, the same good information is being furnished to young men born in the year 1951 who are deferred and have a lottery number above 125. It is our sincere hope that each Selective Service registrant in classification I-B, II-A, II-C, II-D, II-E, or III-A, when he receives his letter from the draft board, will immediately notify his local board that he wants to be considered for Class I-A. Prompt action will assure that such young men have taken the proper step to further lessen their vulnerability for military service under existing regulations.

"Don't forget to wear your galoshes!"

Mothers always used to say things like that, and they still do. "Be careful when you cross the street," and, "Don't gulp your milk!" sound as familiar to kids today as they did a couple of generations ago.

And we think that's good. Because it's a demonstration of caring which is carried from generation to generation — and caring is what funeral service is all about.

STRIP MINE INCREASES
VAULT KY. TO HO. 1
COAL STATE

Kentucky's coal industry, thanks to a boom in surface mining, has surpassed neighboring rival West Virginia to become the nation's leading coal producer.

U.S. Bureau of Mines statistics show Kentucky produced 106.5 million tons of coal through Oct. 16, or 1.4 million more than West Virginia, the nation's leader since 1951.

State coal industry officials attributed the success to a "spectacular increase in surface mining, whereas West Virginia keeps losing deep production and is late in getting into the strip mining business."

Other factors also were noted such as the continuing coal strike which has "virtually shut down" West Virginia mines while affecting only about 40 per cent of Kentucky's production.

However, all sources agree the overriding factor is Kentucky's recent boom in surface mining—both strip and auger type.

Last year surface mining yielded 65.7 million of Kentucky's 125.3 million ton total production. West Virginia's total for the year was 144 million tons of which only 27.5 million tons—19 per cent—came from surface mining.

350 VOLUNTEERS JOIN GORGE CLEANUP

A small army of about 350 conservation-minded volunteers invaded Red River Gorge Nov. 6 to pick up tons of litter from trails, roadsides and riverbanks.

The second annual Red River Gorge Cleanup was sponsored by the Cumberland Chapter of the Sierra Club which covers Kentucky and Tennessee.

Volunteers included Boy Scouts, teachers, students, outdoorsmen and even white families.

They swarmed up and down steep banks, along narrow creekbanks and even descend-

Frankfort Watchline

Gov.-elect Wendell Ford is embarking on one of those quests that never can succeed completely.

But it's one that even if partially successful can pay dividends to Lt. Gov. Ford on and on.

Ford's "impossible dream" is to bring the Democratic party in Kentucky into real unity.

One of the first post-election indicators to surface was the list of those proposed for leadership posts in the House.

And the reaction shows part of Ford's problem.

The list, although not ironclad, put backers of former Gov. Bert Condit in the forefront--Norbert Blume of Louisville for speaker, John Swinford of Cynthiana for Democratic floor leader and William Reynolds of Floyd County for caucus chairman. The only man on the slate who backed Ford in the primary against Condit was Billy Paxton of Central City, tabbed for speaker pro tem.

Fortunately, some who battled for Ford through the rough early days were upset. But Ford figures to be able to pacify his real friends. And he may be gaining some added strength.

The Byrse slate certainly can be defended on ability.

And a Ford aide said, "We want to get away from this Combs people and Ford people talk and the business of east against west."

Also there's the factor of having Ford backers firmly in the saddle in the Senate.

The kicker, though, is Kentucky Democrats' ability to stir up a fight among themselves. It's never a dull party.

The biggest problem for the incoming administration, aside from getting the right people and avoiding the wrong, is working out the budget and revenue package.

And although the voices of doom already are clamoring, Ford's aim is to carry out all his campaign promises.

Some may have to wait, but he hopes not to turn his back on anything promised.

Two factors will be crucial. Ford believes he can save much more through reorganization than most observers estimated.

And general fund revenue has been running well ahead of estimates this fiscal year. If that trend continues it

Congressman Tim Lee

Carter Comments

Congressman Tim Lee Carter of Kentucky pointed out today that for most students, it is not too early to begin thinking about employment for next summer. Each year there are a limited number of opportunities for summer jobs with the Federal Government. These positions range from regular office jobs to Park Rangers, and are located throughout the United States.

The Fifth District Representative explained, "Approximately 15,000 jobs in the following categories are filled each year from a list of about 150,000 eligible persons: (1) 2,000 career-related professional positions at grades GS-3 and 4, for which educational background is directly related to the jobs being filled, (2) 4,000 clerk and carrier jobs with the Postal Service, and (3) 9,000 clerical jobs in such positions as typist, stenographer, clerk, office machine operator and others."

"The number of jobs available is relatively small, and a person's chances of appointment depend upon (1) the number and kind of summer jobs in the area where he or she applies, (2) the number of applicants in that area, and (3) the applicant's qualifications."

Congressman Carter cautioned, "There are many more applicants than positions available. It would not be wise, therefore, to apply for summer work solely with the Federal Government."

"Applications should be made as early as possible. There will be three dates on which the Summer Employment Examination will be administered. For the test on January 8, the application must be received by December 3; for the test on February 12, the application must be received by January 7; for the test on March 1, the application must be received by February 2. These tests will be administered by the Civil Service Commission in the following Kentucky cities: Ashland, Bowling Green, Covington, Fort Knox, Frankfort, Glasgow, Harlan, Hazard, Hopkinsville, Lebanon, Lexington, London, Louisville, Madisonville, Mayfield, Maysville, Middleboro, Owensboro, Paducah, Paintsville, Pikeville, Richmond, and Somerset."

Congressman Carter explained, "Persons interested in taking the test may use an application card FORM 5000-AB which may be obtained from college placement offices, post offices in the previously mentioned cities, and the U.S. Civil Service Commission. In addition, you may write to me, Congressman Tim Lee Carter, and request the booklet entitled, 'Summer Jobs in Federal Agencies.' I shall be pleased to send you this information."

IN MEMORY
 Of MATTIE A. (Whitaker) Cromer who passed away November 29, 1964.

The memory of someone dear is like a thing of gold. That never dulls or tarnishes. Or grows the least bit old. Seven years have passed since that sad day. When one we loved was called away;
 God took her home, it was His will;
 But in our hearts she liveth still.

The Family

Time's running out in the time-saver contest!

Your entry to win a flameless electric clothes dryer must be in by November 30!

No purchase needed. No slogans to write. Enter as often as you like. If you're a KU customer just sign an entry blank in any participating appliance store in our service area on or before Nov. 30, 1971. Six free electric dryers will be awarded. Complete contest details will be found on the back of each entry blank. Visit your dealer today.

"Why buy two when one will do?"

You're always a winner with an electric dryer!

And every time you dry clothes electrically you'll admit it. The many, many hours you save. The work you save. The weather worries you save. The money you save, because you can launder clothes often -- get by with fewer clothes. Just one snowsuit, for example -- quickly drying during soup-n-sandwich. And an electric dryer is the best money-saving friend permanent press clothes ever had.

See your dealer for the helper no woman would ever give up -- an electric clothes dryer.

No hang-ups with a flameless electric clothes dryer!

Capitol Digest

A group of Eastern Kentuckians has filed a massive legal brief with the state Division of Strip Mining and Reclamation, demanding that it revoke strip-mining permits for some 30 companies operating in their area.

The brief, filed by attorneys of the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund representing local citizens, is the most comprehensive attack ever launched against Eastern Kentucky strip mining.

It charges all the companies listed have been cited by the state for at least five, and in some cases, 15 violations each and demands their permits be revoked under state laws which provide that no additional permits will be issued to operators who "repeatedly have been in non-compliance and violation."

Those launching the attack include prominent members of the Citizens League to protect the Surface Rights and other anti-strip mining groups.

They charge that, though strip mining regulations exist, most of the companies have never been fined by the division, nor had their permits revoked.

The attack is being leveled, not only at those companies named, but at "any companies having in common the same owners, officers or operators as the 30 named companies," bingo is illegal lottery, high court rules.

The Court of Appeals has outlawed bingo in Kentucky, regardless of whether or not it is for charity—because it violates the state constitution as a form of lottery.

The game flourished in Northern Kentucky until outlawed in U.S. District Court in 1968.

Bingo for charity was legalized by the 1970 General Assembly in counties of more than 75,000 population where there was local option and the

MORE THAN A HALF CENTURY OF SERVICE

"A Responsibility"

In recent years, the cost of many things has increased. During a time of illness, medical and other expenses can become a great burden.

We, the Funeral Directors, have a responsibility to our community; to provide a funeral service for every person at a time of need regardless of their financial status. The Funeral Service profession is established on dedication and the highest degree of service, not finance. We consider it an honor and privilege to be requested at a time of need and to be given the opportunity to serve those left behind. Dedication and personal service is our concern.

Last week this column dealt with the Thanksgiving turkey. The trimmings for the turkey need to be planned as well. Traditionally, mashed potatoes or candied sweet potatoes, cranberry relish and pumpkin pie are the accompaniments to the holiday turkey. Some variations you might like to try are candied yams, cranberry fluff salad and pumpkin ring cake.

Cranberry Fluff Salad: 2 cups chopped cranberries (2/3 pound), 1 red apple, coarsely grated, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup miniature marshmallows, 1/2 cup whipping cream, 1 cup chopped nuts, 6-8 drained pineapple slices, 6-8 crisp lettuce leaves.

Combine chopped cranberries, grated apple, sugar and marshmallows. Let stand in refrigerator 8 hours, or overnight. Just before serving, whip the cream and fold in

Mountaineers Hope For Winning Season

"It seems as though we'll have a winning season," said Coach W.C. Sergeant of the Berea Mountaineers in an interview last week. "The team has unending enthusiasm that is essential for winning in basketball."

The enthusiasm of the players is one of many strong points as far as the Berea team is concerned. The enthusiasm helps to form a bond among the players giving them co-operation and ability to work together.

Berea Mountaineers are depending on speed, quickness, and ball handling to pull them through to a winning season. Each player is capable of scoring in the games because of individual abilities.

However, the Mountaineers have one weakness Coach Sergeant said, "Height." The height of the players ranges from a small 5'7" to a medium 6'4". Yet, with concentrated efforts to speed the problem is alleviated somewhat.

One interesting fact about the Berea team, no players are awarded scholarships. Each member of the team plays because of personal interest, and the team is composed of good players.

Following is a roster of the Berea Mountaineers:

Bowling News

The center lusters moved up slightly on the Rockers in play last week of the Ruckcastle Mixed Bowling hold a three game lead over the Center Dusters, who are in second place, and a five game lead over the third-place team, the H. Lo's.

Benny Brewer had high game for men last week with 222, followed by James Noe with a 210 and Dale Bray with a 206. High Series for men was led by James Noe with a 571, Bill Reynolds had a 552 and Dale Bray a 560.

Alice Faulkner had a 179 for the women's high game, followed by Virginia Winstead with a 170 and Ada Noe with a 162. Mrs. Faulkner also had high series for the women with a 447, followed closely by Mrs. Winstead with a 446 and third was Evelyn Mullins with a 438.

Mt. Vernon Opens Season At Lynn Camp

The Mt. Vernon Red Devils will open the 1971-72 basketball season Tuesday night when the team travels to Lynn Camp.

This will be the final season of basketball for Mt. Vernon High School.

Coach Jack Laswell, beginning his 25th and final year as head coach, has been working the squad very hard for the past five weeks getting the team ready for its final year of play.

Coach Laswell lost the entire starting five from last year's fine team, Dale Coffey, Thomas Coffey, David McCauley, George Powell and Rudy Burdette.

This year the team will be small and inexperienced, but will have fair speed and good shooting. Troy McClure and James Mullins are the only two lettermen returning from last year's team and have been looking good in practice. Other positions on the team are wide open and will be manned by inexperienced sophomores and boys who did not play last year. These boys are Lyndon Smith and Mark Bray for the center position, Casey Carroll, Jerry Hackworth and Johnny Saylor at guard, Paul Travis, Glenn

Blue Devils Lose Two

The Livingston Blue Devils dropped two games last week for a 0 and 4 record in regular season play thus far.

Friday night, November 12, the Devils journeyed to Hustonville and were defeated 62 to 51.

High scorer for the Devils was Ronnie Owens with 16, followed by Darrell Smith with 12, Willie Hammonds 7, Earl Wyatt 5, Roger Jackson 4, Roger Thomas 3, and Doug Bullock and John Cotton 2 each.

Saturday night, the Devils were also away to take on a good Owsley County team. The Devils were defeated 82 to 58 in that game but things weren't as bad as they could have been since until they met Livingston, Owsley had been averaging between 90 and 95 points a game.

Willie Hammonds led all scorers for the Devils with 17, followed by Smith with 12, Cotton got 10, Bullock and Owens, 7 each, Wyatt 2, and Jackson and Eddie Hammonds, 1 each.

Friday night, November 19, the Devils play McKinney there and then go into play at the Thanksgiving Tourney at Brohead.

Tigers Beat Anville; Lose To Model

The Brohead Tigers opened their 1971-72 home basketball season last Friday night with a 78 to 52 win over Anville. The Tigers led all the way and the game was never in question. Scores at the quarter stop were: Brohead 29, Anville 15; Brohead 44, Anville 25; Brohead 68, Anville 37 and the final 78 to 52.

Mullins led all scorers with 22 points, followed by Burton with 18, Brown with 16, Harris got 11, Cash 8, Pat Crawford 2 and Derrell Proctor 1.

Saturday night, the Tigers, according to Coach Bill Riddle, "didn't lose one, they gave it away" as they went down to defeat 62 to 54 to Model at Richmond. Coach Riddle said his team is about 15 to 20 point better team than Model but they just couldn't make anything work the second half when they only scored 19 points after scoring 35 the first half.

The Tigers led 22 to 19 at the end of the first quarter; 35 to 31 at half-time and trained by one point 42 to 43 at the third quarter stop but in the fourth quarter, things really fell apart when Model scored 19 points. Brohead's 12.

The Tigers are home to a tough Powell County team Tuesday night. Coach Riddle also expressed appreciation of the turn-out last Tuesday night which was parent night for the Brohead ballplayers and cheerleaders. Mr. Riddle said that attendance was almost 100% at the game and reception afterwards.

County Agent's Notes

By: H. Lee Durban
Snow Before December? Odds Against It

Snow on the ground before December? Don't bet on it! Snow totaling 1-1/2 inches or more over a 24-hour period, doesn't often come before early December in most Kentucky communities, says A. B. Elam, climatologist for Kentucky at the U.S. Weather Service Office, University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

In 1970 the earliest snowfall of one inch or more was measured on November 4th at several locations. There were 5 inches on the ground at Hensley Settlement, elevation 3252 feet on Cumberland Mountain in Bell County. One inch on the ground was reported on Big Black Mountain, elevation 417 feet in Harlan County. About one inch was reported in or near the Southern Blue Grass at Danville, Richmond, Waynesboro and Mt. Vernon.

with Dec. 15 the average date of the first snow—and there's only one chance in 20 of an early November snow.

The best chance hit in a big way only five years ago (Nov. 23, 1965), when the state's biggest early snow of the century piled up to 17 inches deep in some section of central Kentucky. Elam says the earliest snow in Kentucky since Weather Bureau records began was on Oct. 10, 1906, where there were "heavy flurries north and east."

Last year was an exception too. The earliest 1-inch snow was Nov. 4 in the southern Bluegrass area. And, on that date high up on Cumberland Mountain in Bell County, Hensley settlement had 5 inches of snow on the ground.

Rose-Winter-Care

How many roses do you lose each winter? Disregarding a particularly cold season, the average should be none.

Special winter protection applied at the right time is the key to success with hybrid tea and floribunda roses.

Generally, apply protection in November about the time the ground starts to freeze.

After mounding with soil, tie all the canes together to keep them from being blown about and loosening the root system.

The styrofoam cone is a more recent winter protection innovation. Some growers experience good success with cones, while others have gone back to simple mounding. If a cone is used it is still advisable to mound the soil. The rose stems should not be placed under the styrofoam cap until temperatures are in the twenties.

Placing the cone on the plant too early can lead to problems. If the temperature climbs, so does the air within the cone. This new micro-climate situation provides an excellent site for disease growth and spread.

Some cones have removable tops that are taken off when the temperature rises and replaced when it falls. These work, but there is always a chance that the gardener will forget to replace the top when it gets cold.

Removable tops are excellent homes for mice. Mice extensively damage rose cones by gnawing the stems. It is best to place a poisoned bait around each cone to eliminate this problem.

Performance-Tested Bulls Sired for Nov. 20 Sale

Sixty-three, performance-tested beef bulls will be sold to the highest bidders at the Hardin County Fairgrounds at Elizabethtown on Saturday, November 20.

Prospective buyers will have performance data available to help them identify the fast-growing bulls, according to Russell Bredahl, Extensive beef specialist at the College of Agriculture. Fast-gaining bulls are a good bet to sire calves with heavy payweights, he explains.

Extension conducts a statewide, on-the-farm performance-testing system, and all of these bulls to be offered at the sale have been included in this program.

Hunting & Fishing

Although the goose hunting season in Kentucky begins Nov. 15, not much action is expected until the cold, blustery weather hits the birds' principal environs in western Kentucky.

This belief is based on reports from the goose country of Wisconsin where a population of 239,000 geese were reported. These birds will be pushed out by frigid weather which is on its way.

Right now, at the Ballard County Wildlife Management area where hunting becomes legal Dec. 1, the goose flock is estimated at 10,000, about par for this time of year.

ley and Kentucky Lake areas indicate the crop is about the same as usual for this period, which means that not too many will be harvested until the main flock comes through.

Many flocks of ducks already have come through and the Ballard Management officials say there are approximately 14,000 on the confines there, with a greater predominance of mallards than in the past few years.

The population of ducks, as reports trickle in from the nesting areas, is believed about that of last year, again with a better crop of mallards than any other species.

Right now, at the Ballard County Wildlife Management area where hunting becomes legal Dec. 1, the goose flock is estimated at 10,000, about par for this time of year.

up of mallards or black ducks. But, back to the geese— they are hunted principally in the extreme western part of the state and only stragglers are found in the central or eastern areas.

In western Kentucky, the big lakes -- Barkley and Kentucky -- pull in some geese, yet the principal flocks will be found farther west in the flatlands along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

In addition to a valid hunting license, the waterfowl hunter must also have a duck stamp which may be purchased at post offices and which must be signed by the buyer to be legal.

Waterfowl hunting and the hunter should become accustomed with all these rules before going afield.

You & The Draft

In the same way excessive inventories often cause businesses to reduce their stocks through seasonal sales, the Selective Service System prior to mid-1970 had over-stocked its available manpower pool.

Under regulations in effect then, local boards did not have a choice in determining the size of its available manpower pool—that is, if a registrant was not eligible for a class lower than I-A, he became a source of manpower for calls levied upon the board.

TOBACCO IS NO. 1

Tobacco, as most Kentuckians know, is the state's leading cash crop. Tobacco accounts for 32 percent of farm income in our state, and is worth $300 million annually to Kentucky's farm families.

Tobacco is, indeed, Kentucky's Number One product. As such, it has a story to tell, and that's why Kentucky's burley tobacco farmers bring you this message.

35 coughs a mile

Air pollution is a big problem. In fact it may seem to be too big a problem for the man on the street. But it's not. There are a lot of things all of us can do to clean up the air we breathe.

We can reduce automobile exhaust by maintaining our car's anti-pollution devices. Or by buying a car with just enough horse power to meet our driving needs.

We can keep gasoline-powered tools in top operating condition; we can support local, state, and national clean-air programs; and as employers we can initiate anti-pollution measures.

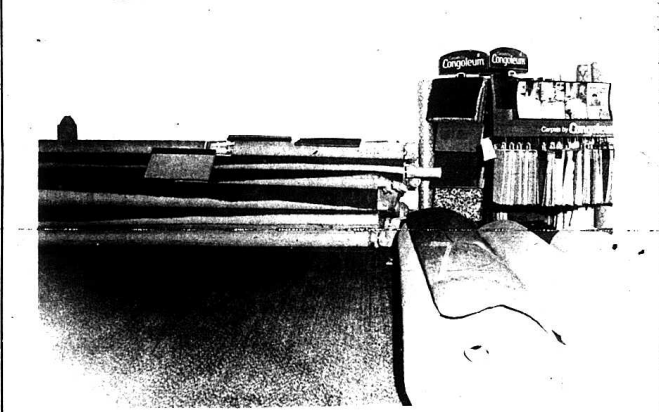

People start pollution. People can stop it.
