Capitol Digest

Court of Appeals Judge James B. Milliken said he believes it may be legally possible to amend the state constitution more than twice during one legislative session.

The constitution forbids submitting more than two amendments to a vote of the people at one election and restricts each amendment "to no more than one subject."

However, Milliken told the House Elections and Constitutional Amendments Committee he believes "one subject" can be interpreted to cover a broad area, such as Kentucky's entire judicial system.

He said many other constitutional amendments could similarly be made in another stage amendment, as long as the changes "are germane to the subject matter."

"I don't think, for instance, that you should try to couple a cities amendment with a judicial amendment," Milliken added.

He emphasized, however, that he was only giving his opinion as a member of the state high court.

"I wouldn't want to commit the rest of the court on this," he said.

SUIT ASKS REWRITE OF MICHIGAN RULES

The Appalachian Research and Defense Fund filed suit in Franklin Circuit Court asking that the state Department of Economic Security be ordered to rewrite its criteria on who can qualify for free medical health care.

Attorneys for the fund said the suit was filed on behalf of all Kentuckians who might be disqualified for free medical help under two paragraphs of the Kentucky Public Assistance Manual of Operations.

They said the sections noted forbid free medical aid to anyone working more than 30 hours a week and to anyone working more than three-fourths of the number of hours a week usually required to do the type job he has.

The suit contends this policy discriminates against the working poor and asks the court to declare the paragraphs unconstitutional.

ATTENTION FARMERS
If you don't lime it, why plant it
Why Soils Need Lime

Only a few crops grow well on acid soils because they require calcium and magnesium which are replaced by applications of agricultural limestone. This material not only corrects the soil acidity, but also supplies the plants with the needed calcium and frequently magnesium.

Soil pH, which is a measure of the acidity or alkalinity of the soil, affects the availability of all elements which influence crop production. An application of liming material to an acid soil increases the availability of plant nutrients which are important to crop production. Among these are nitrogen, phosphate and others. Liming reduces luxury uptake of potassium by the plants and reduces the availability of aluminum and iron manganese which are harmful to plants if they are present in sufficient quantities in the soil. Liming also helps increase the number and activity of beneficial soil bacteria. It helps improve the physical condition of the soil by supplying the calcium needed by leguminous crops to increase their growth. It increases root development and permeability of the soil.

Lime is the most economical factor involved in crop production on most soils in the humid areas, as they are acid in varying degrees. The application of needed fertilizers is also one of the most economical factors in crop production. The wise use of water - both rainfall and irrigation - is still another factor involving crop production. However, the one which is most frequently by-passed is the application of agricultural limestone and this is the first step in a sound fertility program on most soils in the humid area. Failure to apply this material limits crop production and wastes fertilizer dollars as well as the producer's capital investment and his labor in crop production.

"We are such stuff as dreams are made on..."
 W. Shakespeare

Life would be pretty dull if people couldn't dream. Take that boat you're always dreaming about. Just thinking about it makes you feel pretty good. But you won't just have to dream if you buy U.S. Savings Bonds. Because Bonds can make your dream boat a reality.

Now Bonds mature in less than six years. Which means maybe it won't take forever for your ship to come in.

Just knowing you've got the safety and security of U.S. Savings Bonds working for you can make dreaming for anything a lot more fun. Because with Bonds, the good times and the good things can really happen.

So, don't give up dreaming. Just keep buying U.S. Savings Bonds—they're the stuff dreams are made of.

Now, if Bonds give you a dream when you buy them, you'll want to know how to get the most out of them. There are many ways to buy them, and you can get them in many ways. You can buy them in small amounts, or you can buy them in large amounts. You can buy them in many ways. You can buy them in many ways. You can buy them in many ways.

Why Americans own 54 billion dollars worth of U.S. Savings Bonds.

One good reason is the Payroll Savings Plan. About three-fourths of all Bonds are purchased through the Plan. It's helping Americans save more money than they ever dreamed they could. That's because the Payroll Savings Plan is such an easy way to save. All you do is sign up where you work and the amount you specify is set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. It's the easy way to build a nest egg.

You've got your reasons to save money. There's one great way to do it peacefully. Join the millions who are buying Bonds the Payroll Savings Way.

Gov. Ford's Consumer Bills Pass House, Now in Senate

Three additional bills in Gov. Wendell H. Ford's consumer-protection legislative package passed the House and were sent to the Senate for final approval.

The lead bill in the package, a consumer fraud law, already has passed the Senate and is being considered in the House. The three House bills are: *HB 176, which would give buyers up to three days to cancel any contract for unsolicited goods signed in their home.

*HB 175, would give consumers up to three months to complain of faulty merchandise in cases in which their credit agreement with the store was bought up by a finance company. The faulty merchandise then could be used as a defense for holding up payment on the goods.

*HB 174, permit any credit payment that is more than twice as large as the average of the previous payments to be refinanced at the original interest rate. Measure Would Give Magistrates Powers

Sen. Michael Moloney, D-Lexington, introduced a bill that would give Kentucky's 120 counties the "power to run their own governments."

The home-rule measure would authorize fiscal courts to "exercise all rights, powers, privileges and franchises not in conflict with the State Constitution or statutes."

"It lets them deal with local situations as they seem fit, instead of having to come in (to the legislature) and get all this special legislation," Moloney said.

Under present law, fiscal courts have been described as little more than the state's financial and administrative caretakers and lawmaking powers are vested in the General Assembly.

Moloney's bill would give actions taken by fiscal courts the same force of law as those taken by the General Assembly. Senate Passes Four Prefiled Bills

The Senate passed four bills, all products of the interim committee system, aimed at automobile accidents, child adoption and better protection for children.

The first two measures would alter car accident reporting procedures and allow interstate reporting of traffic-law violations. Senate Bill 6 would increase from $100 to $200 the minimum damage in an auto accident that would require a written report to the state Department of Public Safety.

THEY HAVE NEW LEASES ON LIFE thanks to medical science. Louis B. Russell, Jr., the world's longest-living heart transplant recipient, is pictured with four-year-old Betty Willis of Noblesville, Ind., who has undergone heart surgery five times, and now wears her third pacemaker, a battery-charged power source attached to her heart to keep it beating regularly. Russell, an Indianapolis school teacher and leading Heart Fund volunteer, received his new heart three and one-half years ago.

Sen. Norman Farris, R-Somerset, who introduced the bill for the Interim Committee on Highways and Traffic Safety, said the measure would ease the strain of reports that now causes filing problems.

The other measure, Senate Bill 23, would enact a compact allowing reciprocal reporting among states of traffic violations and uniform screening of drivers licenses.

Senate Bill 26 would prohibit the Department of Child Welfare from disapproving a child adoption on the basis of race.

The final measure, SB 27, would empower Department of Child Welfare workers and law enforcement officers to enter a premises and remove a child under 18 if a report has been received that the child is endangered by maltreatment, sexual abuse or gross neglect.

Adds Strip Mining To Super Agency Measure

Rep. Joe Clark, D-Danville, introduced a bill that would bring strip mine regulation under the control of the new umbrella environmental agency proposed recently.

He earlier had excluded strip mining from the new agency which would administer most of the state environmental activities and said a super agency, covering all such matters, would be too cumbersome.

The time Clarke said strip mining was excluded "because there is more involved in (it) than just environmental considerations."

Under his new bill the Reclamation Division would be

RESOLVE DAILY TO PROTECT YOUR HEART

Most people only make resolutions on New Year's Day, but the Rockcastle County Heart Association urges everyone to resolve daily to protect their hearts against heart attack.

The Rockcastle County Heart Association proposes that all citizens of Rockcastle County reduce their risk of heart attack by taking the following steps:

- * Eat foods low in saturated fats and cholesterol,
- * Control high blood pressure.
- * Don't smoke cigarettes.
- * Maintain normal weight, and
- * Exercise moderately and regularly.

The more risks a person has, the greater the chance of suffering a heart attack.

Should heart attack occur, the symptoms may vary, but these are the usual warning signs:

- * Prolonged, heavy pressure or squeezing pain in the center of the chest, behind the breastbone.
- * Pain may spread to the shoulder, arm, neck or jaw.
- * Pain or discomfort is often accompanied by sweating, Nausea, vomiting and shortness of breath may also occur.

The decision to obtain help should not be left to the patient alone, but is also the responsibility of his family or friends.

The need to act promptly when symptoms occur is urgent, says the Heart Association, since most of the 674,000 annual heart attack deaths occur outside the hospital before victim receives medical treatment.

ASCS MEASUREMENT SERVICE AVAILABLE

Farmers may request farm measurement service at the Rockcastle County ASCS Office when they come in to sign up in the (feed grain, wheat) set-aside programs, says Delmer New, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The ASCS measurement service is available at a nominal fee, Mr. New said, and offers farmers a convenient and economical way to make sure their acreages are in compliance with the farm programs they have signed up for.

Producers may request acreage measurement for any farm program purpose, but most of the requests come from farmers who want to be certain their acreages comply with program regulations under the feed grain, wheat or cotton programs.

Each producer determines which acreages he will need measure. Some cotton producers prefer to have an exact measurement of their acreage, since full set-aside payments may be earned only if at least 99 percent of the farm allotment is planted. Sometimes, feed grain and wheat program participants want their acreage measured to make certain they have planted enough crops to maintain their base or allotment history.

"Many participants in the set-aside programs feel measurement is especially valuable in order to be guaranteed compliance with set-aside acreage requirements," Mr. New said. When a farmer goes by measurement service from his County ASCS office, he guaranteed he has met the set-aside acreage requirements of the farm programs he has signed up for.

Sign-up in the 1972 set-aside programs is scheduled February 3 through March 10. Participating farmers will certify at a later date to the set-aside acreage on their farms and list the acreage planted to program crops.

On-farm spot checks will be made at random on farms in the county. Errors in farmer measurement service from his

Transition Bill Nears Final Action

A gubernatorial transition bill already passed by the Senate, took its first step toward final passage with favorable reporting by the House State Government Committee.

The measure is designed to ease the transition of the governor-elect from the time he's elected in early November until his inauguration in early December.

It was recommended by the Citizens' Committee on the General Assembly and in line with recent moves to upgrade the legislature this session.

The committee also favorably reported Senate Resolution 4 that would direct the Legislative Research Commission to launch a study of the use of interlocking tax-to-finance public schools.

Courts in several states have ruled the practice unconstitutional and at least one decision is expected to come before the Supreme Court.

State School Supt. Dr. Lyman V. Ginger recently said Kentucky has "outgrown" the property-tax system of school financing.

News About Kentucky

If you're like the majority of Kentuckians, you've probably heard several relatives, friends and neighbors coming down with the flu or some anonymous "bug" producing fever, chills, sore throats, aches and pains.

And more than likely you've heard constant murmuring that this is going to be a big year for the flu, especially the Hong Kong flu.

According to Dr. C. Hernandez, director of the State Health Department's Division of Epidemiology, the rumors may turn out to be more fact than fiction.

"Based on the current pattern of cases of influenza reported to the department each week, we are anticipating an average, rather than a severe, flu season," Dr. Hernandez said.

"So far, there have only been regional outbreaks in the state, but if these continue, we'll probably be getting as many cases of influenza as we did three years ago when we had a flu epidemic."

Weekly records kept by the division show a cumulative total of 12,100 cases of flu reported across the state through the fourth week of the 1971-72 epidemiological year (based on weeks of the year when a disease is most likely to be predominant).

This compares with reported cumulative totals of 2640 cases for the fourth week in 1970-71, 4061 cases in 1969-70 and 24,419 cases in 1968-69, the last year for a flu epidemic.

"There have been outbreaks of flu—the Hong Kong influenza virus—in certain parts of the United States—Connecticut, Massachusetts and New York for instance," Dr. Hernandez said.

"Likewise, there have been isolated outbreaks of flu in Kentucky, in the western part of the state, Louisville and Jefferson County.

"But as yet a statewide flu epidemic doesn't exist," he emphasized.

Hernandez also reported that the organism has been isolated as type A, Asian Influenza—the Hong Kong type.

He said that as measures taken by the epidemiology division when an epidemic threatens, Dr. Hernandez explained the division's goals are twofold: to identify the existence of an epidemic and the organism producing it.

"We utilize the local health departments located in each of Kentucky's 120 counties in doing so," he continued. "Private physicians are required by law to relate cases of communicable diseases to our local health departments on a weekly basis.

He said this record is kept along with a general description of the individuals catching the disease—their age, sex and occupation. See if the disease is particularly contagious to a certain group of people.

"These figures form the basis for monitoring the status of an epidemic, such as influenza. There were 6433 cases of flu reported for the week of Jan. 24-28 alone. Figures for the same week last year revealed 54 cases, with 1200 cases in 1969-70 and 4900 cases in the 1968-69 epidemic year.

"Although knowledge of whether or not a disease is in the epidemic stages is not particularly beneficial to the individual, it is of great help to physicians across the state," Hernandez said.

"By showing the medical community, individuals with a high risk involved in catching a disease such as influenza—the aged and patients with chronic illnesses—can be vaccinated and the epidemic's mortality rate can be decreased."

Additionally, the division is concerned with collecting as many blood samples and throat washings as possible to isolate and identify the virus producing the epidemic.

In many instances members of the epidemiology division travel to communities themselves to collect the samples and save the time involved in freezing and shipping the samples to the Frankfort office for laboratory tests.

Dr. Hernandez noted that 25 blood specimens taken from victims in the Louisville area are presently being examined for virus isolation. Once identified by the division's laboratory technicians, the virus isolations are sent to Atlanta for additional identification.

The medical community then is notified immediately of the report.

As for any precautions disease-prone citizens should take to avoid catching the "flu bug," Dr. Hernandez prescribed the same ones he would prescribe should a flu epidemic occur: "Follow the basic rules of hygiene and stay away from large crowds whenever possible.

"Whenever there are a number of people in relatively close quarters, the air can become heavily loaded with virus particles during an epidemic. It is almost impossible to stay out of the path of coughs and sneezes."

$1,300 Is Goal Of Heart Fund Drive

The Rockcastle Heart Volunteers have set a goal of $1,300 to be used in the fight against heart and blood vessel disease which annually are responsible for more than 54 percent of the deaths in this country, according to Mrs. Martha Clegg, Heart Fund Campaign Chairman.

"These diseases claim more than a million lives, striking men and women of all ages," said Mrs. Cox. "Heart attack, alone, kills more than 674,000 persons a year."

"Current statistics also reveal that one out of eight Americans suffers from some form of heart and blood vessel disease," she said.

However, since 1950 there has been a decline of approximately 18 percent in the death rate from heart and blood vessel diseases for persons below the age of 65.

"Despite remarkable achievement in controlling the number one health problem," Mrs. Cox said, "greater efforts are essential to reduce the death and illness which result from heart and blood vessel disease."

"The Heart Fund Campaign will be conducted through February," Mrs. Cox said, "and will reach its highpoint on Heart Sunday, February 27."

when two-million volunteers throughout the nation will visit friends and neighbors to distribute heart-saving information and collect funds to support the Heart Association's vital work.

The Kentucky Arthritis Foundation announced today Mrs. Fred Murrell, whose address is Box 83, Mt. Vernon, has been appointed Memorial Gifts Chairman for Rockcastle County.

Link Heart Attack 'Epidemic' To American Style of Living

(This is the first of a series of three articles presented during Heart Month by your Heart Association to inform readers of this newspaper about the latest advances in combating heart attack.)

If a contagious epidemic ran rampant throughout the United States, it would claim more than 600,000 persons, state of disaster would be declared and the halls of Congress would echo with demands for preventive measures, while across the country men, women and children would line up in emergency immunization centers.

An epidemic of this kind in the United States. Heart attack is killing more than 670,000 men and women annually.

Why don't Americans react to heart attack as they would to any other mass killer disease?

Some of the reasons may lie in the fact that heart attack, which is the nation's leading cause of death, is not contagious, although there may be a family history of this form of cardiovascular disease. And, public apathy can also be explained by the common feeling that heart attack is inevitable and nothing can be done about it.

Unlike other epidemics, there is no mass immunization as a means of heart attack. But there are things every man and woman can do to help protect themselves and their families from this ruthless health menace.

In extensive studies of the personal and medical histories of heart attack victims, certain habits, or risk factors, are revealed which show that millions of Americans, especially those in the prime of life, are endangering their hearts by the way they live.

The common conditions and habits that medical scientists have discovered are high cholesterol levels in the blood, high blood pressure, cigarette smoking, obesity, and lack of exercise. It appears that any one of these risk factors increases the chances of a heart attack, and that a combination of two or more multiplies this risk.

Many of these conditions start early in life. By the time thirty Americans reach their thirties or forties, they are already potential heart attack victims.

A person can harbor several of these risk factors without realizing he is a candidate for heart attack. As a precaution, and to increase his chances of living a longer and healthier life, the American Heart Association recommends that all individuals take the following steps to protect their hearts:

- See your doctor regularly for a physical check-up. This will enable him to find out if you are one of the millions of Americans who suffers from high blood pressure or high blood cholesterol without realizing it.
- Eat less saturated (animal) fats and cut down on foods with high cholesterol content.
- Don't smoke cigarettes. Studies have revealed that men who are heavy smokers have twice the risk as non-smokers of having a heart attack.
- Maintain normal weight for your height and age.
- Adopt a program of regular, moderate exercise compatible with your age and physical condition.

These are a simple health program which any family can follow without a radical change in its life-style. The immediate benefit would be the reduction of risks which may eventually result in heart attack.

What happens when these risks go uncorrected will be discussed in the second article in this series.

Baptist To Turn Over Operation Of Hospital

What has been rumored for some months is now concrete fact. The Rockcastle County Baptist Association will discontinue their operation of the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital as of June 4, 1972.

The action came about at a special meeting of the Rockcastle County Baptist Association Executive Board, held February 5, at which time a motion was made by Johnny Bullock and seconded by Willie Cope that read as follows: "That we, the Executive Board of the Rockcastle County Baptist Association, recommend to the Executive Board of the Rockcastle County Baptist Association, that they work with the Executive Board of the Hospital, the Fiscal Court of Rockcastle County and a group of men who plan to form a new corporation and take over the operation of the hospital. A member of the new corporation will work with the chairman of the Executive Board of the hospital to bring the hospital up to the standards of Medicare; that sixty (60) days be given for the Medicare standards to be met.

That at such time as the transfer of control and operation can be made, the Rockcastle County Baptist Association relinquish all right of ownership, control and operation of the hospital to the Fiscal Court of Rockcastle County to lease or convert to other uses as they deem necessary to serve the people of the county.

The above recommendation was then adopted by the Executive Board of the Rockcastle County Baptist Association with the note that the Moderator of the Association (Bro. Mike Bryan) will work in any way necessary with the County Judge, in making the transfer.

The June 4 date comes in since in the original agreement between the Fiscal Court and the Rockcastle County Baptist Association there was a specification that if the agreement should be terminated by either party there must be 120 days notice given.

The "group of men" mentioned in the motion is, as we understand it, a group of private citizens who are in the process of forming a corporation to assume the operation of the hospital upon the discontinuance of its operation by the Baptist Association.

Mrs. Cassie Jones, 77, of Orlando passed away Wednesday, February 9, in Covington.

The body is at the Dowell & Martin Funeral Home where arrangements are incomplete at this time.

LOUIS FRANK DOOLEY DIES IN OHIO

Louis Frank Dooley, 75, of Dayton, Ohio, and formerly of Rockcastle County passed away Friday, February 4, in Dayton.

He was born in Rockcastle County on August 15, 1896, the son of the late Joe and Laura Coffey Dooley, and was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include two daughters. (Cont. To 4)

The above auto, driven by Albert Leach of Livingston, along with two owners was involved in a freak car accident early last Saturday morning which claimed the life of Earl Dean Lovell, 26, of Route 4, Mt. Vernon. According to State Police reports, Leach struck the body of Lovell, which was lying on U.S. 25 south of Mt. Vernon, after Lovell had been thrown from a car which had earlier wrecked, driven by David Wade Hines of Route 2, Mt. Vernon. Leach in trying to avoid Lovell struck a car parked in the northbound lane belonging to Linda Overbay.

School Board Meets; Open Equipment Bids

Bids for Science and Home Economics equipment were opened at Monday night's meeting of the Rockcastle County Board of Education. Low bidder on the Science equipment at $8,331.40 was School Service Company of Frankfort and Central School Supply in Louisville submitted the low bid of $1,786.00 for the Home Economics equipment.

The Board accepted the two low bids subject to the approval of the architect, Donald B. Shelton. A leave-of-absence was approved by the Board for Clint Phillips, effective January 15, and Mrs. Judy C. Martin, effective March 3. The Board approved the hiring of Diana Vogelsberg as music teacher under Title and of David Hines as teacher for the fifth and sixth grades at Maple Grove.

Several other appointments were also made by the Board. Linda Mullins was hired as teacher aide for Climax School and several bus drivers were hired, subject to meeting requirements. Hired as bus drivers were: Lloyd Vance to replace Hense Renner, Bobby Jones as substitute driver at Brothead and Evelyn Mullins to drive route of Delbert Galt in addition to her regular route.

Three substitute teachers, Ruth Brown Allen, Virginia Hunt and Lawrence Bales, were also employed, subject to certification.

The Board also granted a request by Bill Shackelford of Livingston that he be given an extension until March 15 to pay the $1,750 which he bid for the school's property recently sold at Livingston by sealed bids.

A new roof for the Harry Sparks Vocational School was discussed by the Board. Superintendent Charles Parsons told the Board members that he had met at the school with the architects of the project (Clodfelter and Johnson), the construction company representative, a man from the La-Follette Sheet Metal Co., a representative of the manufacturer of the tiles for the roof and the roofing subcontractor to discuss the leaks and that a compromise had been arrived at whereby the four companies would be held liable and the school board would all share equally in the cost ($2,000) of a new roof for the school. In addition, Mr. Parsons said that it seemed to definite blame could be placed for the leaks and that a compromise had been arrived at whereby the four companies would be held liable and the school board would all share equally in the cost ($2,000) of a new roof for the school.

THE WEATHER

It could have been worse, we suppose, but the one-inch of snow that fell last Thursday was just a preview of things to come since we were really outopped Sunday morning for four consecutive days and has been out since last Friday and it looked like a good chance for it to be out at least through Thursday of this week since the sun was having a hard time melting the ice on the side roads. Haven't checked my Almanac yet to see if everything is going "According to Hoyle" weather-wise, but guess six inches of snow in February isn't too unusual.

Freak Accident Claims Life Of Dean Lovell, 26,

Earl Dean Lovell, 26, of Route 4, Mt. Vernon, was killed early Saturday morning in an accident on U.S. 25, 2 1/2 miles south of Mt. Vernon.

According to State Police reports, Lovell was a passenger in a car driven by David Wade Hines of Route 2, Mt. Vernon. Hines told police that he was traveling north on U.S. 25 when he hit a slick spot on the road, lost control of his car, crossed lanes and struck a bluff two or three times, finally coming to rest facing west into bluff. Hines told police that Lovell was thrown from the car during the accident. Another passenger, Elias Kirby, 21, was not injured.

A second accident, minutes later in the same location, was also on what apparently was Lovell's life. State Police say that Albert James Leach, 20, of Livingston was traveling south on U.S. 25 when he came upon the scene of the accident and according to witness (s), struck the body of Lovell (s), in the southbound lane crossing into the northbound lane where he struck a car, belonging to Linda Overbay, which was parked in the northbound lane. Roger Danney of Chestnut Ridge was sitting in the car at the time it was struck. The two cars then came to rest head-on in the northbound lane with Lovell lying near the west side of Leach's car. Leach stated that he was not sure he struck the body and one of the witnesses at the scene of the accident. Police that Leach did not get over the body but rather stood dead.

Frankfort Watchline

A Republican legislator edged up to a news reporter after Democratic Gov. Wendell Ford finished reading his hour-long budget message and asked:

"What do you think of the new budget?"
"I don't really know yet, but it sounds pretty good to me," the newsmen said.
"I think it does, too," the GOP lawmaker replied.
"And I just might say so."

How many other Republicans share this secret feeling that maybe Ford's administration has come up with much more good than had in the two biennial budgets?

We think more than a few, though the GOP leadership will deny it and attack verbally on all fronts when the time comes. Whatever the new budget represents, it is a departure from the past in the sense of shifting the tax burden. Not an about-face, mind you, but a long step in one direction.

And that direction is towards a greater tax burden for business and special interests and a correspondingly lesser burden for families.

It was all outlined in principle in a recent University of Kentucky study which contended that this state's tax burden really is heavier than it might seem from routine per capita figures.

The gist of the UK report was that Kentucky imposes proportionately more taxes that cannot be "offset" than do other states.

For example, a 5-cent sales tax can't be "offset" in the sense of being passed on to someone out of Kentucky, except maybe summer tourists.

But, a 5 per cent severance tax on coal, which would be the first such state levy, can be passed on to buyers elsewhere because 85 per cent of the coal goes out-of-state. Of course, the coal operators would view it another way. They would answer in effect: If you can't sell the coal because you have to charge higher prices, how is the commonwealth of Kentucky going to collect these new taxes?

But, we will venture to guess that for the next few years Kentucky's coal will sell well, severance tax or not, and that the tax yield will exceed the projected $40 million or so annually in the new budget.

Of course, Ford fudged a little on taxes, and only his devoted supporters will deny it. He promised $200 or added tax other than severance. He has offered for higher corporate income taxes and for a 2-cent raise in the gasoline tax.

The corporate part Ford calls "tax reform." The road fund part he says was not what he included in his no-tax promise.

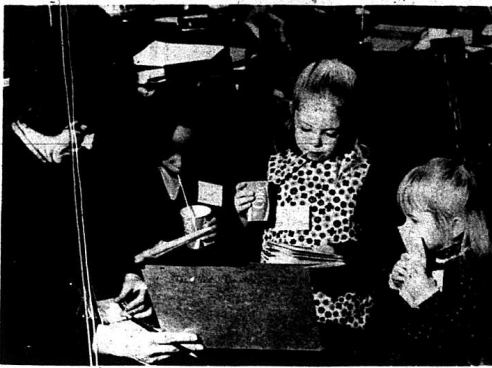

Well, as they say in Shakespeare or somewhere: a tax is a tax by any other name.

Where's the Party?—A new Public Information Department photographer showed up at the start of a news conference called by a group of freshman Republicans. House members critical of the Democrats.

"Is this where the freshmen are to meet?" he asked.
"Yes," one puzzled Republican said. "The freshmen Republicans."

"Oops," he winced, and fled back to his Democratic supporters to see if they gave him the wrong address.

A few minutes later he was back, apparently having been informed that the administration was covering the Repub-

This month the Heart Association asks the public to join the battle against heart attack, stroke, high blood pressure, rheumatic fever and inborn heart defects. Heart Fund contributions will speed the development of greater advances in treatment and prevention to vitally needed to combat these diseases which strike one of every eight Americans.

We urge you to support the Heart Fund. The best Valentine you can give is a gift from the heart, to protect the hearts of those you love.

Make Pantyhose Do Service
Down to Very Last Thread

Leg-bugging tights and pantyhose are part of the winter fashion scene. They can be an expensive wardrobe bust if you don't put them on correctly, give quick attention to mending small snags or runs, and wash and dry them carefully after each wearing.

Most pantyhose packages give put-on directions, and these tell you how to insert your hands gently from the toe, one leg at a time. Then insert your hands into the gathered panty section and stretch it evenly. To remove, ease the hose down from waist to ankle and tug on toe portion to help feet slip out. Snags and runs are trimmed and filed smooth so they won't snag hose or wear a hole in them.

Soil and perspiration can make nylon deteriorate. Washing slows down this process and also returns elasticity. Expect little color fading, but hose gently by hand or machine in warm, sudsy water. If you use your machine, wet pantyhose and tights in a mesh bag to prevent tangling. They can be dried by machine, too, if you keep them in the mesh bag using a low setting for just long enough to dry them. After handwashing and rinsing, blot excess moisture in a clean towel and hang them up by the waist to dry.

Stop runs up the leg with nail polish and wear them under boots, knee socks, or over-the-knee socks. Stop-down runs with nail polish and wear them with your longer skirts and pants. You can also wear two pairs of pantyhose, cutting off the "bad leg" of each. Once they're completely hopeless, you can cut them up and use them as rags for pillows and cuddly cloth animals.

More tips: segregate pantyhose-and-tights in your drawers according to what you wear with them.

Don't shake the cup when measuring flour! Just spoon unsifted flour lightly until cup is overflowing. The measure will be more accurate if you do it this way.

What's the difference between dough and batter? Dough is any mixture thick enough to be rolled or kneaded. A mixture that is thin enough to pour or drop from a spoon is known as batter.

Like a browned pie crust? Sprinkled a little sugar on the top and it will brown lightly. Be sure to store cakes with cream or custard fillings or frostings in the refrigerator. For gravy - if drippings are scant, add a bouillon cube to the liquid.

The school is being sponsored by Cumberland Production, Citizens Bank, The Bank of Mt. Vernon, Stewart Fertilizer and Rockcastle Soil Conservation Supervisors. Dr. Kaiser will present his program of a 365 day forage supply matched to the nutritional needs of the spring calving herd, which includes alfalfa and corn silage. Dr. Bredahl will talk about breeding and selection of beef cattle and performance testing.

Horticulture Notes

Deciduous plants can be pruned at this time provided you keep certain things in mind. If you prune flowering shrubs now, you remove flowers that would have bloomed in the spring. Shrubs that have not been pruned in a long time may be pruned now by removing some of the older branches along to the ground to thin the plant, reduce the height, and encourage new growth. Shrubs often make a growth in late fall causing long undrained branches to grow across the walk or slap against the house. These branches should be removed at this time.

February is one of the best months of the year to prune trees. Many of our trees tend to bleed or give out sap when pruned during the growing season. By pruning now you can avoid this.

An important point to remember when pruning trees is to treat the wound. If it is 1/2 inch or more in diameter, Good tree wound dressings are now available to the homeowner. The tree wound dressings come in quart containers and in pressurized cans.

February is a good time to fertilize the lawn. By fertilizing in February bluegrass, which is a cool season plant, will begin growing rapidly in late winter and early spring. A good thick stand of bluegrass will discourage crabgrass which usually germinates in late April or May. Most of the crabgrass will be up and crowded out by a thick stand of bluegrass. A soil test will be beneficial to you in determining fertilizer needs.

With the exception of September, February is the best month to sow bluegrass on those barespots in the lawn. Usually between 1/4 to 1/2 pound of seed should be sown to each 1000 square feet of lawn area. Sow your seed as soon as possible and use the best seed you can get.

There is a new variety of bluegrass available to homeowners. It is called "Bluebird." This bluegrass was developed here in Kentucky and has good resistance to disease and drought.

The later part of February is a good time to prune grape vines, but not when the wood is frozen. In pruning keep in mind that this year's grapes will be borne on the part of the vine that grew last year. Therefore, the vines should be rather severely pruned, leaving only the main stem of the plant along with part of last year's growth.

Heart and blood vessel diseases afflict one in eight Americans and claim more than a million lives annually. Fight this number one health menace with a generous contribution to the 1972 Heart Fund.

SET-ASIDE OPTION OFFERED TO PRODUCERS

As sign-up opened in the 1972 voluntary programs for wheat, sorghum and cotton producers, a new set-aside option was offered to corn and grain sorghum producers by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

A higher set-aside payment rate can be earned by producers who agree to reduce their farm's corn-sorghum acreage below last year's planting.

At the same time, all previously-announced options remain open to feed grain producers, according to Paul Fuqua, Kentucky Farm Program Official. Provisions of the wheat and cotton set-aside programs are unchanged. Additional set-aside options for wheat had been announced in January.

Producer sign-up in the 1972 farm set-aside programs opens February 3 and will continue through March 10 at ASCS County offices throughout the Nation.

Under the new option for feed grain producers with corn-corn-sorghum acreage, the payment rate for up to at least 10 percent and possibly 15 percent voluntary additional set-aside will be the same as the qualifying set-aside rate -- 80 cents a bushel for corn and 70 cents a bushel for grain sorghum. ASCS will accept up to 10 percent of this voluntary set-aside when offered by the producer at sign-up. The remaining 5 percent will be at the option of the Secretary of Agriculture, with a later announcement as to whether it will be accepted.

If he chooses this new option, a producer will hold his 1972 corn-sorghum acreage at not more than last year's acreage minus twice the additional set-aside acreage.

Producers who choose the new corn-sorghum option in the feed grain program will forego the option previously announced for additional voluntary set-aside for corn, grain sorghum, and barley.

Explanations of all 1972 set-aside programs and options--except this new-corn-sorghum option--have been presented to farmers, Mr. Fuqua said. Details of the new option are currently being made available to farmers.

The ASC Committee Chairman expressed hope that every farmer will make sure of understanding all program options before making a sign-up commitment.

When a producer signs up, he chooses among the options open to him. In each case, he agrees to set aside a percentage of his land and to comply with all provisions of the farm set-aside programs. By participating in the voluntary farm programs, farmers will earn set-aside payments and their program crops will be eligible for Commodity Credit Corporation loans.

Warm Welcome For Snow Folk

You have just spent the morning tackling the expert trails or perhaps you are still conquering the bunny slope! Anyway, it's an invigorating day, and now you're ready for warm greetings from a crackling fire, chattering friends, and hot 'n' hearty chow.

A great tummy warmer for vigorous appetites is the Hot "Hoagie"... better known to some as a dogwood, hero or submarine. The sandwich filling is a scrumptious mix of ground beef, sliced salami, organo leaves, garlic, and canned Beef Gravy simmered together until bubbling hot. The key ingredient is hand-canned Beef Gravy that lends a beefy goodness and delicious moistness to the combo.

Many public ski lodges provide open-hearth for cooking. So, for fun and convenience, pre-cook filling mixture in the morning and keep cold in the back of your car or in a snow bank. At chow time, simply warm up the mixture and pile on the rolls. Garnishes of shredded cheese, shredded lettuce, and sliced onion make a yummy finishing touch.

What a way to top off a ski day!

HOT "HOAGIE"

1 pound ground beef
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) Franco-American Beef Gravy
3/4 pound sliced salami, cut in strips (1 cup)
1/2 teaspoon organo leaves

Generous dash garlic powder
4 to 8 long hard rolls, slit and toasted
Shredded lettuce
Thinly sliced onion
Shredded Cheddar cheese

Pre-prepare meat. Pre-cook meat. Add gravy, salami, organo, and garlic. Cover, cook over low heat 5 minutes. Stir, now and then. Serve on rolls, garnish with lettuce, onion, and cheese. Makes 4 to 6 sandwiches.
