

Tommy Mullins goes in for a lay-up against two very big odds during the Cumberland-Broadhead game. Also in on the play action was No. 15, Dennis Harris, and No. 50, Terry Burton. Mullins pulled several plays off like the one above to help the Tigers to their narrow victory over the much taller Cumberland team.

County Home Agent Tells Highlights of Homemakers Annual Meet at UK

Rockcastle County Homemaker club members who attend next week's annual meeting of their state association on the UK campus in Lexington will tune in on "What's Right with America." According to Cheryl Witt, County Extension Agent for home economics, they'll also hear about the many opportunities for cultural enrichment available through local club activities.

Oddvar Berg of Sheffield, Alabama and "Epsy" Johnson, a Laurel, Mississippi homemaker, will be the speakers handling these subjects during the Kentucky Extension Homemakers Association's March 21-24 conference.

The Reverend Berg, pastor of the Old Brick Presbyterian Church in Sheffield, will swing through Kentucky on a nationwide lecture tour praising the American way of life. He brought his family to this country in 1966, following 2 years at a professor at the Royal College in Brussels, Belgium. From 1940-1960, he was a missionary in the Belgian Congo. In 1968, he and his family became United States citizens. He is a native of Oslo, Norway. His talk at 11 a.m. Friday will wind up the 4-day conference.

March 21 and 22 of the KERA conference have been set aside for special board and committee meetings. General program opens at the Memorial Coliseum at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday with a welcome from state president Mrs. Philip Harrison, and a special tribute to the late Myrtle Walden, who was for three decades Kentucky's state Extension leader for home economics. This will be followed by a reception and exhibits at the Student Center.

Several homemakers are attending this annual event from Rockcastle County. Any homemaker wishing to attend can call the Rockcastle County Extension office.

Medicine That's Yummy—Just Don't Call it Candy
Medicine you give a small child may taste great, but don't call it candy, and don't make a big deal of it. A matter-of-fact attitude about taking medicine is best.

"Too many small children turn up in hospitals each year because they helped themselves to "candy" from the medicine cabinet."

"You don't want a child to love medicine, and you don't want him to hate it, either. That's why it's better not to comment on whether the medicine taste good or bad. Instead, stress the fact that it will help him get well or feel better."

"A young child's taste sense isn't fully developed. He's likely to be neither eager nor reluctant to take his medicine on the basis of taste alone. So, be matter-of-fact about the whole thing, and read directions aloud to give him the idea that it's to be taken only at certain times. You've probably been cautioned often to store medicines and other dangerous household agents out of reach of children. By anyone who has seen a small child monkey his way up a cupboard, using the shelves like rungs on a ladder, knows that "behind lock and key" is a better piece of advice. If you can't lock up the medicine, then at least put it up high, behind other items on the shelf, perhaps in the kitchen where you spend a lot of time. If your little one doesn't see you put medicine away or get it out, there's a good chance of its being "out of sight, out of mind," as far as he's concerned.

Don't Use Feminine Sprays Until They're Proved Safe

Many feminine-hygiene sprays have been put on the market without being adequately tested first for either safety or effectiveness. That's a conclusion reached in an article from the January issue of Consumer Reports.

These particular sprays and deodorants are classified as cosmetics, not as drugs, as such, promarket testing is not required and labels need not list ingredients, even though some people are hypersensitive to certain chemicals. Many contain hexachlorobenzene, currently suspect because chemical tests have shown it to cause brain damage in lab animals.

One manufacturer has admitted that his product can cause "irritate painful reactions in some women," the Consumer Reports article says. If the Food and Drug Administration doesn't reclassify feminine-hygiene products as drugs, another course of action could be to enforce the section of a current law that declares a cosmetic mislabeled if it doesn't disclose the consequences that could result from its use.

In the meantime, the best advice available on these feminine-hygiene deodorants seems to be "Don't use them."

COOPER, COOK, CARTER ANNOUNCE GRANT & LOAN

Senators John Sherman Cooper and Marlow Cook and Fifth District Congressman Tim Lee Carter announced recently the approval Thursday in Washington of a $183,000 loan and $84,000 grant from the Farmers Home Administration to the Northern Rockcastle Water District for the first rural community water system in the county.

The additional funds will enable the water district to construct a water system including 18 miles of new distribution lines to serve customers in Roundstone, Fairview and Wildie.

Mr. Cromer says that anyone falling into the above category please drop by his office in the Courthouse at their earliest opportunity to assess the property.

HANCOCK TERMS MEASURE FOR SHERIFFS UNCONSTITUTIONAL
Atty. Gen. Ed Hancock says a House-passed bill designed to protect Kentucky sheriffs will actually be a disservice to the officers.
The measure, now before the Senate Counties and Special Districts Committee, would exempt sheriffs in counties containing cities of the first class from liability for the actions of their deputies.
In a legal opinion to committee chairman Sen. Edwin Freeman, D-Harrodsburg, Hancock said the bill in his opinion would "not actually provide (the sheriffs) with any protection from acts of their deputies."

project is to improve Kentucky's social service system in the area of infant and child learning and development inter-agency cooperation. The projects funded for the first year include services in family planning and nutrition. It is hoped that day care can be implemented in the second functioning year of KIPP. In the initial stages of KIPP only low income families with children under 6 will be eligible. This eligibility will be determined by the County Intake Team composed of the Intake Supervisor from the Dept. of Economic Security, Child Welfare and Mental Health and the KIPP Nurse from the Health Department. The KIPP project is being coordinated and evaluated through the Human Resource Coordinating Commission in Frankfort. The Regional Coordinator for Development District 13 is Mrs. Faye Cochrane. One of her responsibilities is the County Task Forces, which in each county has the responsibility of establishing priority needs in that county which will be implemented by the County

KIPP staff of the four participating agencies named.

It is important to remember that Day-Care is a "coming thing" and that it is up to each local community to acquaint itself with the steps involved in obtaining a day care center. Any citizen or group interested in bringing the Mobile Day Care Unit to Rockcastle County, please contact the Department of Child Welfare office located on the second floor of the county courthouse.

The bill vetoed, Senate Bill 13, would amend various sections of statutes relating to administrative regulations and create a permanent subcommittee to review administrative regulations.

Governor Ford said a drafting error "inadvertently made it

A bill has been introduced to alleviate the error which caused the veto. *****

an eye-sore from the interstate."

The Council discussed for sometime what alternatives they had to closing the dump altogether since they could not afford to cover the dump every day and in bad weather, such as that we were experiencing on February 18, could not get to the dump at all to cover it. The dump has been covered recently to the tune of $260 for a dozer and operator and the Council finally decided to request that a representative of the State Health Department meet with them to discuss the dump problem.

Three street lights will be installed in the City of Mt. Vernon the Council decided during the meeting. A petition was read to the Council which contained the names of 10 residents of Paul Street in Owens Subdivision requesting lights to be installed on the street.

The Council voted to install two lights on Paul Street and one on Ferguson Street. *****

BRODHEAD TIGERS WIN 13TH REGION

by: perlina m. anderkn

The Brodhead Tigers made history last week when they emerged from regional tournament play as CHAMPIONS of the 13th Region. This is the first time in Brodhead's 63-year history to attain a berth in State Tournament action, which got underway Wednesday night, and only the second time in the history of the county to "go to the state."

The enthusiasm which has been engendered county-wide by this team has probably never seen its equal in the history of basketball in Rockcastle County. It has come at a particularly opportune time too in that the support shown these boys has probably done more to unify the residents of Rockcastle County into one segment instead of three, an idea particularly appealing with the consolidation of the three high schools in September. And, finally, it is a fitting way for Coach Bill Riddle to end his coaching career at Brodhead High School and begin a new career as basketball coach of the Rockcastle Rockets. Perhaps our tribute to Coach Bill Riddle was best put by Assistant UK basketball coach Joe Hall who was interviewed at half-time during Saturday night's championship game when he said, "Brodhead is the best coached ball club I have seen all year."

It is a well-coached club and a look at their season and tournament records this year proves that beyond a doubt. Last Wednesday night, the Tigers took on Knox Central, who had defeated Brodhead by four points earlier in the season. The Tigers were said the first three quarters of the game being down twelve points at half-time and ten points at the start of the fourth quarter. But they came through when they needed to and forced a deadlock at the end of regulation play. In an overtime, the Tigers outstayed Knox Central to gain the right to meet Cumberland by a score of 60 to 58. Then it was on to a battle royal with Cumberland. They're a tough, big and good basketball-playing bunch of boys but the outcome of the game was never really questioned by most fans there as early foul trouble on a couple of their key players helped Brodhead, over the hump and excellent substitute playing by six-foot-four Larry Lavefers gave the Tigers the extra help they needed in the height department. Lavefers was called on to substitute for starter Dennis Harris, who came down with the flu last Monday but dressed for all three games. However, both Friday night against Cumberland and Saturday night against Middlesboro, he was able to play only minutes.

The tigers trailed the first quarter by a score of 10-12, but on a beautiful 35-foot last second shot by Ronnie Brown, went to the dressing room with a 31-29 lead. The Tigers came out strong in the second half and by the end of the third quarter had pulled out to a six point margin and held off a strong fourth quarter rally by Cumberland to get their chance at Middlesboro.

Tom Mullins led Brodhead with 19 points, Clayton Cash pitched in 14, Terry Burton and Ronnie Brown contributed 11 and 10, respectively and Lavefers got 4.

The fans were treated to a brilliant exhibition of hot shooting by Cumberland's Larry Collier, who netted 31 points, over half his team's total. But, this wasn't as much as it could have been if Lavefers hadn't of executed some of the prettiest blocks you'll ever see in high school basketball. This Saturday night, before a crowd from Rockcastle County estimated at 2,000, Tiger fans saw their team come back from an 11-point deficit in the first quarter to beat defending 13th Region champion Middlesboro, 43-37.

The Tigers didn't look too good the first few minutes of action, it seemed for a while as if all Middlesboro's big 6'8" junior center, Robert Mayhall, had to do was stand under the basket for the pass into him and reach up and put it in. But, three quick fouls on him early in the game, slowed his action considerably not to mention Brodhead's excellent coverage of him after the first quarter. Mayhall managed only seven points during the game and eventually fouled out late in the fourth quarter after riding the bench most of the second quarter.

Tom Mullins put through 14 points in the first half but was hampered early in the second half when he picked up his fourth foul. He managed to finish the game without fouling out and had a total of 15 points to show for his efforts.

When it's all said and done however, you cannot say too much about the consistently good play of guard Clayton Cash. He was responsible for coolly sinking two foul shots in the first game against Knox Central in overtime which gave Brodhead their winning margin and his ballhandling and playmaking throughout the tournament was excellent. But, again, you cannot lay their successes to any one player. It was a team effort, egged on by a crowd of enthusiastic fans, and all put together by Coach Riddle.

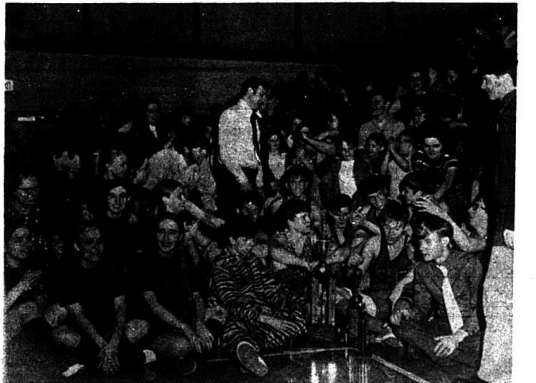

This team from Brodhead will long be remembered as the one team, among many successful Brodhead teams, who made it; as the one who was among the "Sweet Sixteen" and regardless of the outcome of State Tournament play this team will always hold a special place in the hearts of basketball fans throughout the county.

Well, since we have done nothing since last Saturday night except replay the Regional basketball tournament when two or more people get together, getting a paper out this week has been a little harder than usual. There is one thing we would like to make clear concerning the tournament, however, and that is the winning of the regional cheerleading trophy by the Brodhead cheerleaders. We have heard several fans ask if this trophy is automatically given to the cheerleaders whose team wins the regional championship. This is not true. The cheerleaders of each team in regional play are judged just as they were in the district. And, right now, we take this opportunity to salute the Brodhead cheerleaders for being judged the best cheerleading squad in the regional tournament. They are good cheerleaders and no one worked harder than they to keep the crowd yelling for the Tigers throughout play. Congratulations girls, and let's hear you equally loud and long at Louisville.

Thought I was going to quit before I said anything about the fiasco which occurred following the Cumberland-Brodhead game didn't you. No such luck. We were highly disappointed in the action of the Cumberland fans and highly pleased with the reaction of the fans here. It is our hope that the fans were well taken care of and that these activities at our new high school that we can make these fans feel as welcome as we did at Middlesboro.

IT WAS ALL OVER BUT THE SHOUTING—as the Brodhead Tigers look home the top two trophies from regional tournament play last Saturday night by defeating heavily favored Middlesboro 43-37. In addition, the Tiger cheerleaders were judged the best cheerleading squad in the regional tournament. The crowd of Rockcastle fans, a portion of which is shown in the above photo, were overjoyed to get the chance to follow their "Tigers" to the State Tournament.

IT'S ALL OURS is probably what these Brodhead ball players were thinking as they walked off the floor with the regional championship trophy, the first in the history of the school. Middlesboro fans and players seemed stunned that they thought of as the impossible happened to them and Brodhead just celebrated almost all night. Over 1,000 fans reportedly met the squad about 2 a.m. Sunday morning at Mt. Vernon and escorted them to Brodhead cheering all the way.

VOLUME 83 - NUMBER 27

THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 1972

Council Meets; Discusses Pool Tables, Dump

The Mt. Vernon City Council voted Monday night, at its regular monthly meeting, to repeal Ordinance No. 230 which prohibited pool rooms or tables within the City of Mt. Vernon.

The action was brought about by a controversy over the installation of two coin-operated pool tables in the Snack Bar on Main Street, owned by Mrs. Marie Tolan and operated by Earl Price. The tables were installed in February and were closed down by Mayor Ed Winstead for two days until a meeting of the City Council could be held to discuss the issue. At that meeting, Attorney John Allen read an opinion given by City Attorney Carl Clontz stating in effect that the ordinance prohibiting pool tables within the city limits of Mt. Vernon was probably lawful since the last decision which was handed down on this question was in 1924. At that time, the courts ruled that a city could prohibit pool tables within its city limits. However, Mr. Clontz further stated in the opinion that, since it had been so long since a decision was made on this particular question by a court, the ordinance might not stand a court test. He further said that the $50 license fee per table, which is supposedly the fee charged in Mt. Vernon was not lawful since Kentucky Statutes rule that a city cannot charge more per table than the state charges and that limit is $10 per table.

At that February meeting, the Council decided to let Mr. Price operate tables until the regular meeting of the Council in March (last night's meeting). The question was the first one taken up on the agenda.

Several of the councilmen expressed the feeling of them and their constituents that allowing one business to operate might invite a rougher element to get into the same business thereby causing a public nuisance. They were reminded by Mr. Clontz that any business was subject to being closed down by the police department if their business did constitute a nuisance and therefore this question should cause them no real problems. Mayor Ed Winstead spoke in favor of repealing the ordinance since it would provide more recreational facilities for the younger set in town. Most of the other councilmen seemed to agree personally but seemed reluctant to make a motion that the ordinance be repealed. There was some discussion on repealing the old ordinance and writing a new one restricting pool rooms to Main Street between Richmond Street and Church Street, however, Councilman Chester Hellard and Dennis Halcom did not like the idea of discriminating in this manner and stated their view that if the ordinance was to be repealed then it should be just that, repealed with no restrictions.

Lee Edwards, whose company furnished Mr. Price with the tables, told the Council that he would not install any other tables in Mt. Vernon without first consulting with the Council and obtaining their approval. Mrs. Tolan also assured the Council that the business would be operated in a manner with which no one could take offense.

Finally, the Council unanimously voted to repeal the old ordinance.

As the next order of business, the Council took up the all-time problem of the city dump. The most recent problem deals with a letter sent to the Council by Jerry L. Hurst, Associate Sanitary Engineer, Division of Solid Waste, Department of Health.

The letter reads as follows: "On February 18, an inspection was made of the dump owned and operated by the City of Mt. Vernon. This is in violation of two laws and must be ceased as soon as possible.

Enclosed is a copy of "Kentucky's Solid Waste Disposal Laws and Regulations" of which the City of Mt. Vernon is violating K.R.S. 211.707 and K.R.S. 211.717. To inform you of the penalties that may be brought against the City of Mt. Vernon, you should read K.R.S. 211.992. If this office is not notified by April 3, 1972, of your intentions and schedule to close and properly cover this dump, the necessary legal procedures will be initiated to force compliance. Be assured of our continued interest in this matter."

It seems that one E. Andrew Morris, also with the Division of Solid Waste was driving along Interstate-75 on February 18 and noticed the dump site from the road; whereupon, he drove to the dump and inspected it on the spot. Mr. Morris shot off a memo to Mr. Hurst stating that he had visited the dump and that "the waste material is not being disposed of in the proper manner of the last of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. Not only is the waste not being handled in a proper landfill operation, but it is also

Forest Fires Burn Over 400 Acres Saturday

Over 400 acres of woods and grass were burned by Forest Fire Saturday afternoon and night. According to Forest Ranger Stephen Bullen, the first fire Saturday was reported about 2 p.m. at New Hope near the coal tipple. 25 acres (10 acres of woods) were burned over. Then, about 4 p.m., a fire was reported in the Cope Hollow at Dixie points and 30 acres (5 in woodland) was burned over. This fire was reportedly caused by debris burning.

Then, so as to not let the fighters get too long a break, there was twenty acres reported on fire at Lamerco on the Rockcastle River about 8 p.m. This was a grass fire which it is believed was caused by fishermen.

And the big one was reported about 10 p.m. on Sand Hill and encompassed some 350 acres before it was brought under control. It is believed arson was the cause of the fire since there were some 14 places where the fire broke out.

John Nichols' Frankfort Watchline

Despite some speculation before the legislative session began that Gov. Wendell Ford and Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll would openly split simply has not happened and certainly is unlikely in the remaining days.

There has been an air of expectancy and plenty of rumors. The situation was made to order in a way—Carroll was the running mate of former Gov. Bert Coombs defeated by Ford in the gubernatorial primary and therefore the Ford-Carroll team was not necessarily the choice of either politician.

As an example of how Carroll could have struck in the final hours—had he wished to do so—there is the industrial loan bill. During all the hubbub over it, newsmen in Press Row caught Carroll leaving for the day and tried to pump him. How did he feel about the controversy?

"I'm going to have white beans and omelette for supper and nothing's going to stop me from going home to my wife's cooking," the lieutenant governor said with a smile.

The incident was typical of Carroll's efforts to keep from fighting with the governor.

Why won't Carroll tangle verbally with Ford? The more pertinent question is: Why should he?

The two don't openly disagree on much legislation.

Carroll knows that a lieutenant governor is in a poor position tactically to strike at a governor constantly—no power, no patronage, no financial resources to compare with the chief executive.

The timing would be bad in any event. There is another session in 1974 and a governor customarily is weakened during his second session because everyone knows he is going out fairly soon.

Those are just a few reasons why Carroll, even if he were in a competitive mood and ambitious to be the next governor, would hesitate before such premarital combat.

A Fowl Mood. While being chewed verbally last week by a woman legislator he'd been oking with House Speaker Norbert Blume said something about the strain of the long legislative session going to the lady.

Well that strain came home to roost when some practical joker looked a wild flapping turkey in the House in response to passage of the industrial loan bill—criticized as a turkey because of rumored contributions by the loan interests to the administration's campaign.

Blume's first reaction was a series of dignified chuckles.

Then he became angry and bemoaned the damage to the House's dignity.

It really is a serious matter to disrupt a legislative chamber's proceedings that way and Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll who presides over the Senate was visibly upset at the news, vowing it would not happen in the upper chamber.

But to most of the public and observers it was funny. And after the poor fowl died from injuries suffered during capture one Republican quipped:

"The wrong thing died. They killed the turkey when they should have killed the bill."

Spelling Lesson. A stenographer in one of the legislative offices must have misunderstood when transcribing dictation in which her boss called on party colleagues to send a barrage of telegrams in protest against something.

It came out with him exhorting the faithful to send "a mirage of telegrams."

Dear Editor:

The Rockcastle County School Board is to be commended for its selection of Mr. Bill Riddle as head basketball coach of the new Rockcastle County High School. The people of Rockcastle County will not be disappointed.

Although a proven success at winning games, perhaps Mr. Riddle's greatest asset is his ability to keep basketball in its proper perspective within the total educational process. Interest in his players extends beyond winning games and into preparation for life after playing days are over.

CAMPBELL RECEIVES PH.D. DEGREE

Wallace Campbell, director of the Upward Bound Program at West Virginia Tech, recently received his Ph.D. degree in the Sociological Foundations of Education from the University of Toledo. Dr. Campbell's dissertation was concerned with the effects of poverty on the achievement of children from low and middle income rural families.

Dr. Campbell, who assumed his duties at Tech last June, is well aware of the problems his Upward Bounders face. He is a native of a rural community near Hyden and has worked as an assistant director of the Upward Bound program at Berea College, where he also received his B.A. degree. He earned his M.A. from Eastern Kentucky University.

Dr. Campbell resides with his wife, the former Jane Shivel, daughter of Bro. and Mrs. Charles Shivel of Mt. Vernon, in the Faculty Apartments in Montgomery, Alabama.

Mr. Otis Cox, Jr. of Pineville, Ky.

"Would I buy another electrically heated mobile home?"

I certainly would!

And I'd recommend it to anyone else."

Mr. Cox agrees with his wife that the very nature of mobile home living — compactness and convenience, cleanliness and comfort without a lot of fuss — makes electric heat practically a must. And not only is the cost reasonable — to convert or buy a standard electrically heated mobile home — but the trouble-free operation saves many maintenance dollars.

Like Mr. Cox, nine out of ten families who enjoy electrically heated mobile homes would buy another.

Ky. Legislative Report

State Savings Bond Measure Gains Committee Approval

A plan to make Kentucky the first state in the nation to issue savings bonds was unanimously approved by the House Appropriations and Revenue Committee.

The measure, sponsored by House Majority Leader John Swinford, D-Cynthiana, would establish a Kentucky Savings Bond Authority which could issue bonds with a maturity of 15 years.

Speaking at a hearing on the measure, state Finance Commissioner Don E. Bradshaw said the plan might be frowned upon by the federal government.

"The federal government is not going to like this," he told the committee. "It competes with savings bonds and ours are exempt from taxation."

Bradshaw said the project's aim is to save money by refinancing high-interest turnpike bonds.

He estimated the bonds could yield 4.5 per cent interest at the outset, though the rate would vary with market conditions.

The savings bonds, unlike general-obligation bonds, would not be backed by the full faith and credit of the commonwealth, but Bradshaw indicated the security would be adequate.

No-Fault Supporters Launch Ad Campaign

The battle over the no-fault auto insurance bill spread far outside the General Assembly as supporters launched a public relations campaign to get the measure out of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

With the 1972 session rapidly drawing to a close, proponents of the measure still are hoping to get it onto the Senate floor for passage before time runs out.

The campaign included newspaper advertisements throughout the state with endorsements for no-fault from the U.S. Department of Transportation and other agencies. The ads included messages urging passage of the bill that could be cut out and mailed in.

Basically, no-fault would provide for payments by a motorist's own insurance company, regardless of who is at fault in an accident.

Opponents of the bill, which include Judiciary Committee Chairman Sen. William A. Logan, D-Madisonville, charge it will deprive citizens of the right to sue and cost more than current insurance.

While the advertising campaign was hitting the streets, another effort to report the bill at a regular committee meeting failed.

Sen. Edwin Freeman, D-Harrodsgburg, urged the body to "either get the bill out or not" or at least take some action, but was voted down.

House Passes Amended Presidential Primary Bill

The House of Representatives passed the presidential primary bill with an amendment that would bar candidates seeking more than one party nomination and independent candidates.

It would provide for election of national-convention delegates at the regular primary election on the first Tuesday after the fourth Monday in May.

Several lawmakers praised the measure and expressed displeasure with national conventions as a means of selecting presidential candidates.

"I don't like conventions—I don't like county conventions, state conventions or national conventions," said Rep. Fred Morgan, D-Paducah, a long-time proponent of presidential primaries. "I don't like having the candidates for president chosen in smoke-filled rooms in Chicago or Miami. I am looking forward to the day when we have a national primary election."

The amendment, sponsored by Rep. Nicholas Kafogis, D-Bowling Green, would exclude candidates such as Alabama Gov. George Wallace who ran as an independent in 1968 and now is seeking the Democratic nomination.

Candidates would get on the primary ballot by petition of at least 1000 registered voters of a party, appointment by a presidential-candidate selection committee or by appearing in at least two open primaries and getting at least 5 per cent of the total vote cast.

Cigarette Tax Bill Voted Down By Panel

A subcommittee of the House Appropriations and Revenue Committee unanimously voted against passage of a proposed three-cent-a-pack increase in the state cigarette tax.

The recommendation now goes to the full committee for consideration.

A public hearing was held on the proposed bill and only its sponsor, Rep. Nicholas Kafogis, D-Bowling Green, spoke in favor.

Several tobacco industry spokesmen criticized the increase and urged continuation of the current three-cents-per-pack tax, one of the lowest in the nation.

Subcommittee chairman, Rep. Victor Hallard Jr., D-Versailles, said in a report to the full committee that current problems facing the tobacco industry would only be complicated by a tax increase.

"Any raise in the cigarette tax .. might well have a direct or indirect effect," he said.

"The subcommittee feels a further increase in tax is unnecessary and unwarranted at this time."

16 More Bills Signed, One Vetted By Gov. Ford

Governor Ford signed into law 16 more bills passed by the General Assembly and vetoed one measure because of a drafting error.

Among those bills signed were three consumer protection measures, all part of a large consumer package backed by the Ford administration.

Those signed would restrict referral selling, protect users of consumer credit and regulate home solicitation sales.

Other bills signed would al-

NOTICE OF FILING OF PETITION FOR ANNEXATION OF TERRITORY TO THE NORTHERN ROCKCASTLE COUNTY WATER DISTRICT AND NOTICE OF TIME OF HEARING ON SAME.

Notice is hereby given by the Rockcastle County Court that a Petition was filed in said Court by the Commission of the Northern Rockcastle County Water District on February 17, 1972, petitioning this Court to annex certain territory adjoining the District, and lying within Rockcastle County, said Petition states that the District is in the process of financing the construction of a new waterworks system to serve the residents of the area now embraced by the District and to provide water and water services to the territory hereinafter described. Said Petition states that there is no separate water system serving said area described herein and that the only water available for use by the residents thereof is water pumped from wells or cisterns or carried from springs, which water supply is inadequate. A hearing will be held on said Petition, on the question of the annexation of said territory to said Water District and on any related matters on any day of March, 1972, at 9 a.m., E.S.T., in the Rockcastle County Court, in the Courthouse at Mt. Vernon, Kentucky.

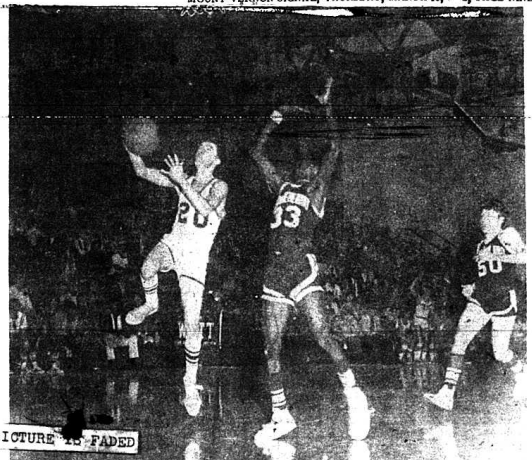

The following constitutes a description of the territory sought to be annexed to the Northern Rockcastle County Water District, as described in said Petition.

DESCRIPTION OF AREA TO BE ANNEXED BY THE NORTHERN ROCKCASTLE COUNTY WATER DISTRICT, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY, KENTUCKY

Beginning at the juncture of U.S. 25 and the Chestnut Ridge Road and lying within one-half mile of either side of Chestnut Ridge Road and running in a Southwesterly direction with said road for a distance of two miles.

Anxiously awaiting the pass from Tommy Mullins is No. 22, Larry Lafavers, stationed handily under the goal. Lafavers looked extra good during the tournament playing in a substitute role and during the Cumberland-Brodhead game blocked at least six shots and sunk two quick field goals at a crucial point in the game. Waiting help out if necessary is No. 33, Ronnie Brown, for Brohead.

PICTURE IS FADED

Driving for the basket during Friday night's regional tournament semi-final game is Clayton Cash. Cash had brought the ball down court after a steal and although he missed on the field goal attempt he was fouled and made the two points from the charity stripe. Fouling Cash on the play was No. 33 for Cumberland, Larry Cockrel, who netted 31 points for the game.

Statement of Nondiscrimination

Within thirty days after the first publication of this Notice on February 24, 1972, any resident of the Northern Rockcastle County Water District or of the above-described territory proposed to be annexed to said District, or any other party having any interest in the matter may file with the County Court Clerk of Rockcastle County, Kentucky, at his office in Mt. Vernon, Kentucky, objections and exceptions to said Petition, or to any part thereof, and to the action sought by said Water District, or to the entry of an Order effecting such annexation, and he may be heard at the time of the Hearing set out above.

This Notice is given pursuant to an Order of the Rockcastle County Court, dated February 17, 1972. (Signed) Clifford Bales, County Clerk, Rockcastle County
