

County Agent's Notes

By: R. Lee Durham

If you're fed up with being fooled when you buy a bull, here's good news! Now you can buy bulls with "seed tag" information, but the tag won't talk about germination or purity. It will specify weaning weight, 365 day weight and weight per day of age; information that predicts how a bull will breed.

Selection is sponsoring a sale of bulls with this kind of genetic predictability. The sale will be April 8 at the Paris Stockyards in Paris, Kentucky beginning at 12:30 p.m. About 40 bulls that have just completed tests at the Kentucky Central Bull Testing Station near Paris will be sold. Ninety bulls of Angus, Hereford, Follid Hereford, Charolais, Santa Gertrudis, Red Poll and Simmental breeding have been tested at the station. Only the topperforming 2/3 will sell. At the testing station the bulls were all fed the same ration, in the same building and all were exposed to the same temperatures and stresses. In short, the bulls had an equal chance so one can have considerable confidence in the performance information.

So if you'd like to raise your bull buying batting average, plan to attend that sale on April 8. You can get a catalog by contacting our office.

Choosing Crop Variety Is Important Decision

Choosing the right crop variety is now making a big difference in your pocketbook later on. Your decisions on variety selections are among the most important you will make this year. Selecting the right variety can increase income $10 to $15 per acre on your corn or soybeans. Likewise, it could mean an extra $1,000 on the tobacco crop or an additional ton of high quality hay.

High yield, disease resistance, easy harvesting and standability are some of the most important factors farmers look for when choosing crop varieties. High yield is the most sought for characteristic, and most farmers are willing to accept faults in other areas to get this trait. You should not take for granted that your present variety is best for your farm. If you haven't tried other varieties and made some changes in the past three or four years, some of the new varieties which have been released may out-produce your present one. The Rockcastle County Extension office has information on varieties currently recommended for this area and can help you decide what varieties will best suit your farm.

The University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station through its variety testing program measures crop performance data throughout the state. The results provide unbiased evaluations of corn hybrids, soybeans, tobacco, small grain and forage varieties. After careful evaluation and proven performance for a minimum of three years, the superior varieties are placed on the recommended variety list. Thus these varieties are known to be adapted to Kentucky conditions before they are recommended.

Many new varieties are released each year, making variety selection more and more difficult. Even though an advertisement or salesman claims high yields and increased disease and insect resistance for a new variety, it is wise to check with the extension office or the Experiment Station before planting your entire acreage to that variety. Most farmers like to try a small acre of a new variety the first year.

Don't take for granted that you are now planting the best possible variety. The choice of a good variety can increase your limited acres, and now is the time to make that choice.

Check Percentage of Pure Live Seed

A simple index of seed quality can be a key factor in helping you produce a good crop this year. This index is the percentage of "pure live seed" (PLS) in a seed lot. It is the percentage of seeds in a seed lot that will produce normal, viable seedlings under ideal field conditions.

You can use this index to determine seed value and seedling rate. However, the index can be determined only if a seedlot has been tested for percentage of pure live seed and germination. The formula for determining pure live seed is to multiply the pure seed percentage by the germination percentage. For example, Lot A, with 99 percent pure seed and 95 percent germination, has 94 percent pure live seed. Lot B, with 90 percent pure seed and 70 percent germination, has 63 percent pure live seed. Lot A is obviously of higher quality and would produce a higher field stand if both lots were planted at the same seeding rate. Lot B would produce less than 70 percent normal seedlings and low quality seed.

There would have to be a large difference in price for Lot B to be worth as much as Lot A. You can figure the value of each seed lot by dividing the price of the seed by the percentage of pure live seed. For example, if Lot A were soybeans selling for $4.50 per bushel, and the price is divided by the 94 percent PLS, the price per bushel of pure live seed is $4.78. If Lot B sells for $3.50 per bushel, this price divided by 63 percent gives a price of $5.56 per bushel.

When you consider only the price, Lot B at $3.50 per bushel looks like a bargain, but when you consider the quality value of the PLS index, Lot A is a much better buy.

All certified seed has been tested to meet minimum standards for purity and germination, and so it is easy to determine PLS for certified seed. Certified seed is 100 percent guaranteed to be genetically true to variety, free from certain weed and other crop seeds, and have a high germination percentage. Therefore, when you buy certified seed for quality, figure the percentage of pure live seed, and ask for certified seed.

YOU & THE DRAFT

The Selective Service System has issued its last major group of regulation changes and thus ended more than two years of almost constant reform in "draft" policy and registrant rights.

A regulation issued on March 10 concerned procedures for personal appearances before a board and appeals among other subjects. The administrative hold on personal appearances and appeals which has been in effect since late 1971 has now been removed, and "draft" registrants are assured the procedural rights incorporated in the 1971 amendments to the law.

The regulations set a 15-day time limit following the mailing of a Notice of Classification card for a registrant to request a personal appearance before his board or an appeal. If a young man fails to respond within the 15 days due to reasons beyond his control, his local board may grant an extension.

A registrant must be given at least 15 days notice of a scheduled personal appearance before his local board or appeal board. The new regulations also allow a registrant to have up to three witnesses appear in his behalf at his local board appearance, require that a quorum of the board members be present, entitle him to 15 minutes for his presentation and provide that the board must furnish him with the reasons should he receive an adverse decision on his classification request.

The registrant under the new regulations is entitled to have a personal appearance before a quorum of the State Appeal Board and should the vote of this appellate board be less than unanimous the young man may appear before the Presidential Appeal Board. Both boards do not furnish the registrant with the reasons should he receive adverse decisions on his classification request.

He is not allowed to have witnesses appear in his behalf before the state or presidential appeal boards. Another change announced on Pamela Cummins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Cummins of Mt. Vernon, represented the Mt. Vernon Woman's Club in piano competition at the Kentucky Federation of Womens Clubs spring meeting at Stoner Hall at Somerset Community College on Saturday, March 18. She was among thirteen students from other areas in Kentucky to compete. This was the second time for Pamela to represent the club in competition. In 1970, she received a Superior rating at Harlan.

Pamela has been active in piano and organ since the age of nine. Presently, she is organist for the First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon, pianist for the glebe club at Rockcastle County and pianist for the Rockcastle County Band.

She is a former student of Mrs. Rose Adams of Mt. Vernon and is presently studying piano under the direction of Robert Lewis at Berea College and organ under Mrs. Morris Todd of Berea.

Pamela will enter the Conservatory of Music in Cincinnati, Ohio this summer for a special session.

Trapshooting

Trapshooting was announced to 'shooters of the Rockcastle County area this week.

At the Mt. Vernon owned Reston Valley Boat Dock and Camping Area last Saturday afternoon, a group of 20 shooting enthusiasts gathered to watch R. Barrow of Berea win a fishing rod and reel as top shooter of the day. The trap was purchased from Willie Kidwell of nearby Brodhead. Mr. Kidwell assisted with installation of the trap to insure that the younger shooters of our county can enjoy a sport which he has participated in for more than thirty years. He noted with pride that several shooters present were of the 12 to 16 year age group.

Despite the wintry weather, the shoot was a success and another trapshoot is planned for Saturday, April 8 at 2 p.m. On the rifle and pistol range Mr. French of Berea captured top prize with a score of 27 out of possible 30 points.

Local Cab Driver Has "Strange" Sunday

Local cab driver, Logan "Butter" Wilcott, underwent a strange and exasperating experience Sunday which involved a fifteen and one-half hour search afterwards for the fare driver there.

According to Mr. Wilcott, it all began early Saturday morning when he was hired by Werdan Grant, 75, of Chicago, Illinois to drive him to Luerer to study some trees there. Mr. Grant told Mr. Wilcott that he was a geologist by profession mainly interested in the study of trees.

Mr. Wilcott said that on the return trip from Luerer, he was asked by the man who hired him, Wilcott would have to drive him to the Smokies to study trees there. Mr. Wilcott named his price, it was according to the two left for Tennessee the same day.

After spending the night at Sevierville, Tennessee, Mr. Grant to the top of one of the mountains and Mr. Grant left the car saying he wanted to use the car again. This was at 11:30 a.m. After some time had elapsed, Mr. Wilcott said that he grew concerned for the man's safety and began to search for him in the direction he had left in. Mr. Wilcott said at that elevation, 18 inches of snow covered the ground, and after searching for some time he returned to the car and began trying to flag down cars to ask them to bring help in the form of a state trooper.

The troopers, being informed of the situation, arrived with bloodhounds. Mr. Wilcott then returned to the motel where they had spent the previous night and got some articles of clothing the man had worn the previous day and from this scent, the dogs were turned loose on his car.

The man was eventually found at 3 a.m. Monday morning, on the side of a mountain under a tree. Mr. Wilcott said the man was quite inebriated with him for obtaining help in the search for him, stating that he could have "made it all night okay." At this time, Mr. Wilcott said, the temperature was 36 degrees and it was still snowing although the snow later turned to rain.

The Tennessee Troopers, according to Mr. Wilcott, told him to take the man back to Kentucky with him but Mr. Grant had other ideas. With only a few hours sleep in the motel, he awakened Mr.

families for three days of recreation, while they fish, will be pleased to know that activities have been planned for non-fishing visitors--movies, rock and bridge, and tours of the parks. A special rate of $31.00 plus tax per person, which includes lodging and meals from Friday evening dinner until Sunday lunch, will be offered.

Three trophies are waiting for winners in the following categories: Largest Crappie, Largest Bass and overall Largest Fish. Door prizes will be an added attraction.

The newest tackle and fishing equipment will be on display and demonstrations of special kinds of bait fishing, as well as how to use a fish locator, will be given at various times.

The program for the week-ends will be the same at each resort park.

Friday evening, after a welcome by the park superintendent of recreation, the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources will show a film on fishing and water safety. Carl Thomas, of the Kentucky Parks Department, will instruct anglers on how to file a fish; and Carl Stout, director of recreation for all Kentucky state parks, will talk about Kentucky's recreation areas.

Fishermen catch fish every day in Kentucky, and Kentucky's Parks Department thinks one of the lucky ones could be you. Foster-Grandparent Program Provides Personal Care

By Shanna Columbus
State News Bureau

FRANKFORT, Ky.—Five days every week 71-year-old Mrs. Crevela Newton and Mrs. Fannie Brown, 81, both of Shelbyville, drive to Louisville so they can visit their "grandchildren."

On these visits, however, the women do more than have fun. They spend four hours feeding their grandchildren and teaching them to communicate and learn other self-help activities, even though all are in their teens.

The children are patients at Louisville's Hazelwood Hospital, a recently converted state facility for the severely mentally retarded.

And Mrs. Newton and Brown are their "foster-grandparents"—concerned, elderly people who are trying to develop each of their children a special one-to-one relationship.

These Shelbyville women are typical of 69 other elderly citizens across the commonwealth, who are participating in the Department of Mental Health's Foster-Grandparent Program.

Began in 1967, the federally funded program was initially set up to benefit the nation's older persons, said program director Mrs. Gerald Bandy.

"The idea was conceived," she explained, "to give the elderly something useful they could do in addition to giving them means of obtaining extra money for their work."

To be eligible, a person must be 60 years of age or older and in a low income bracket, not exceeding $2000 for a single or widowed person or $2800 if married.

In return for their services, foster-grandparents receive $1.60 per work hour, travel allowance, a meal at the facility and a yearly physical exam.

"Once they get started in the program, however," Mrs. Bandy continued, "the grandparents become so involved with their children that they would keep coming even if they didn't receive compensation."

Mrs. Bandy pointed to Mrs. Newton and her relationship with one of her foster-grandchildren, 16-year-old Debbie, as an example.

After working as a grandparent with Debbie for four years at Frankfort State Hospital and School, where the program was begun, Mrs. Newton said she wanted to move to Hazelwood with the youngster when the new facility opened.

"She wanted to be able to stay with her child," Mrs. Bandy said. "And this meant a lot to all of us, for Debbie can't speak and she could have easily gotten lost in the shuffle of a move that involved so many."

On becoming a foster-grandparent, Mrs. Bandy explained, the person is assigned two children at either Hazelwood, Frankfort State or Outwood Hospital at Dawson Springs.

The grandparent then goes through an orientation period where he learns about the national program and becomes more informed about mentally retarded children.

After meeting his foster-grandchildren, he is shown the abilities the children have along with things important for them to learn.

"We don't try to give our grandparents technical things to do with the children," Mrs. Bandy stressed. "We like them to work with the children in self-help activities like teaching them to comb their hair, wash their hands and enjoy recreational activities."

Hospital Approved By Medicaid And Medicare

Representatives of Medicaid and Medicare met with the Board of Directors of the Rockcastle County Hospital Thursday, March 16 for an inspection tour of the facilities.

During that sixty-day period several hundred changes or improvements had to be made by the Board in the hospital's administrative set-up and to the facilities.

A great deal depended on the outcome of this tour since the hospital had been cut off from receiving payments for Medicaid patients December 10 and were also notified that they were in the process of being cut off from Medicare.

This was all accomplished and the inspection team arrived for their tour on Thursday of last week. Following their inspection of the premises, the hospital was notified that it was up to Medicaid and Medicare standards and could once again accept patients with medical care from these two health organizations.

However, a sixty-day extension was obtained from Medicare by the Board of Directors which assumed control of the operation of the hospital recently when it was turned back over to the county by the Baptist Association.

Making up the present Board of directors are William Bailey, James W. Lambert, Wayne Stewart and Robert Cromer.

Calamity Days Approved

The revised school calendar for 1972 will give students and teachers a Spring Vacation April 10th through 14th. The Spring Vacation was made possible as a result of the State Department granting five calamity days and the fact that school has been closed only seven days this year.

Two days will be added to the end of the school term as make-up days. Students will have another break on May 23 as this date is designated as a teacher conference day.

The calendar is expected to be approved by the State Department and the local Board of Education. School will close on May 24th if no additional days are missed. However, one or two rural schools which have missed extra days will be required to make up the additional days.

Barnett Re-Elected Rep. Co. Chairman

Ministers Found Guilty On Vagrancy Charge

A six-man county court jury found two ministers guilty of vagrancy Tuesday in Hockcastle Quarterly Court and fixed their fine at $10 and cost.

The jury's action came after an all-day trial which drew a crowd so large that the proceedings had to be moved to the circuit courtroom upstairs and the spectators still stood three rows deep in the rear.

The case that had stirred much controversy throughout the county, and particularly in Mt. Vernon, since their arrest Tuesday, March 14, on charges of Vagrancy brought by Robert Sigmon and Sim Brown, both of Mt. Vernon.

Jerry Cox, of the law firm of Allen, Clontz and Cox, acted for the men as defense attorney and at the beginning of the proceedings pointed out to County Judge Charles Carter that a three-judge Federal Court had declared the Vagrancy Statute of Kentucky unconstitutional. However, it was all to no avail as Judge Carter told Mr. Cox that in his opinion the decision by the Federal Court did not affect the Kentucky law since the state legislature had never acted to repeal it.

Thus began the chore of selecting a jury suitable to both sides and the hearing of the case with its multitude of prosecution and defense witnesses.

Robert Sigmon was the first prosecution witness to take the stand and he held the jury that the men came to his house and after asking if he believed in Jesus Christ then asked for a donation. Mr. Sigmon was followed by several other witnesses for the prosecution but the men's request for donations from any one else was never again affirmed.

The defense witnesses all testified to their belief in the men's sincerity in the work they were doing and several of them, who had been called on at their homes by the two men, testified that they were not asked for donations. The defense brought out testimony which stated that the men were in possession of a bank account of over $100, that they were employed and that they had a place to live in Mt. Vernon.

Before closing arguments by the attorneys, Judge Carter directed the jury to find the defendants either guilty and fix their fine at $10 and cost and/or 30 days in jail or to find them not guilty and set them free.

Following the closing arguments, the jury adjourned. After deliberating for about an hour, the jury returned and gave their verdict of guilty and fixed their fine at $10 and cost.

Mr. Cox filed a writ of Habeas Corpus with Circuit Judge Lawrence Hall on Wednesday asking him to rule on the legality of the Vagrancy charge. The decision from Judge Hall is expected to be forthcoming shortly.

Five Ohio residents were injured last Friday morning when their Ford van and the camper it was pulling overturned about two miles north of Mt. Vernon on Interstate-75. State police reports say that the Stoner vehicle was proceeding south on I-75 when it came from behind a highway cut and encountered a strong cross wind off Lake Linville. At the same time, a passing semi-truck overtook him and created a vacuum. The combination of the two forces caused the camper to sway and flout out of control. It jackknifed, rolled over and overtook the van. Receiving Class A injuries were Albert Lewis Stoner, 46, driver of the van, Deloris Stoner, 34; Delene Lanette Stoner, 4, all of Dayton, Ohio, and Marlene Cruze, 27, Greenville, Ohio. Another passenger, Roy Antony Stoner, 6, also of Dayton, received Class B injuries. Mrs. Stoner and Miss Cruze were taken to the Rockcastle County Hospital and later transferred to Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington, Mr. Stoner and his two children were treated at the Rockcastle County Hospital.

John Nichols' Frankfort Watchline

Despite the flurry of post-mortems on the recent legislative session, there will be many more report cards--and the basic argument will be whether special interests or public interests were better served in 1972.

A hasty look back is hardly the proper way. But we'll venture that the consumer had it good--for a chance--and, come to think of it, so did the coal people, who were selling loudly over the severance tax and assorted plans to extract more money from them.

We touched bases with a veteran Frankfort watcher, who said, quite frankly, that he was disappointed in the Legislature's performance.

She is starting her 23rd year in the Capitol, having begun as a freshman House member in 1950, when the pay was $10 a day.

She recalls the how and cry, then about the need for legislative upgrading, for more compensation. She remembers when, to put it tactfully, the caliber of lawmakers was not high.

But some of those dark days are gone. The days have ended where there was no continuing legislative committees. The days are gone when the only woman legislator was forced out of committee meetings because they were held in the men's wash-room.

Our veteran says the vigor, the youth, the knowledge, the competent aid for the General Assembly these days makes her glad old times are gone.

"I guess I just expected too much this year," she said. "The Legislature never got moving."

She talks of an intangible, unsettled feeling from the past three months, as though the legislative engine never really crum from the last-minute paper crush? Was it the lawmakers, who look more than 30 working days to pass a basically non-controversial bill? Was it the leadership which sat on its haunches instead of keeping a check on the bill's status? ... Was it the administration which somehow lost the bill in the final traffic jam? Or was it the general veteran legislator who heads the House Enrollment Committee? We're only asking. We don't know.

Swallow That!--The legislator who helped mastermind perhaps the most memorable incident of the session--the release of a turkey in the House--pleaded "no contest" in a secret House hearing, and later confided that when the gobble ran wild, he thought of Robert Frost poem: "God, if you'll forgive me the little tricks I have played on you, then I'll forgive you the big trick you played on me."

This feeling of unity and the great vocal support given us Saturday night at Middleboro had a great deal to do with our winning. The best feeling, however, was taking the floor at Freedom Hall and having the same tremendous support from your county and many fans living outside our county today but still loyal fans. As each of the Brodhead High School I can't stop writing without giving a very very special thanks to Mr. Towery and the Brodhead faculty, our pep club, student body and wonderful Brodhead fans that followed us all year.

A Letter

To the People of Rockcastle County

On behalf of The Brodhead Tigers and myself, we would like to extend our thanks to you--the followers of this years team. The words written and spoken about our team were the kindest things that could have happened. The whole county seemed to become fans as went into tournament play. When we reached the finals in the region there was a unity that had never been seen in our county before. Many people said, "I didn't think I would ever see this county back anything the way it has this ball-team."

The cheerleaders were the greatest--without them there would have been a great void in our morale and support. Before finishing, I would like to thank Mr. John Hamm, the best assistant any coach could have. To a group of young men known as the 1972 Tigers, words can't express my feelings for you. All the praise I have received should have gone to you, Tigers, you made me look good.

Thanks To Everyone From the bottom of my Heart William (Bill) D. Riddle

P.S. A special thanks to a Basketball widow, my wife, *****

The Livingston F.H.A. Chapter held its seventh meeting March 22 in the Home Economics Department. The meeting was called for order by the president Bonnie Heiland.

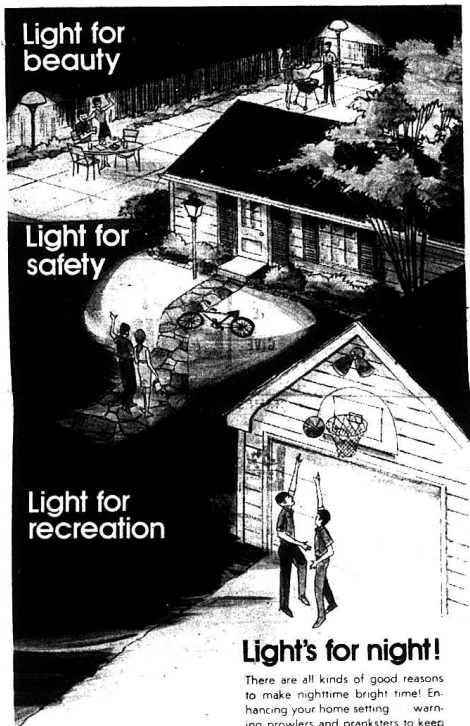

In the business meeting, we discussed activities to raise money for our F.H.A. banquet. Plans are being made for the banquet, but no definite date has been set. Our F.H.A. members are selling the following items: cook book, $3.50; candy, $1.00; brag book, $1.00 and booties, $1.00. The club decided to sponsor a car wash April 1 at the Livingston High School Gym.

We have made much progress on the honor roll plan and are now working on the Care project.

If anyone would like to make a donation to the CARE project, please call or write Livingston School. *****

GOVERNOR CALLS GAS TAX A LEGISLATIVE DECISION

Gov. Wendell Ford praised the "responsibility shown by the legislature" in passing his two-cents-per-gallon gasoline tax increase.

Highway Conference which includes state and private industry personnel involved in all phases of roadbuilding.

Gov. Ford said the legislators "considered all the alternatives" before backing his recommendation for the increase and added that "there was no other choice for responsible leadership to take."

"I do not believe Kentuckians favor postponement of the day of financial reckoning by going for another bond issue and thereby adding to the debt retirement burden that already is heavy," he said.

Gov. Ford originally proposed the tax as an alternative to the sale of general obligation bonds for financing highway construction.

He called for proper maintenance of existing roads as well as continued highway construction.

"We must continue to whittle down the debt we have incurred to build what we have," the governor said.

REMOVAL OF DAMS EXPECTED TO GO SMOOTHLY

State engineers say they expect no major problems in dismantling two Eastern Kentucky coal slag dams which Governor Ford ordered removed last week.

The structures, located in Knott and Letcher counties, were condemned after an investigation of dams in Kentucky similar to the one which recently collapsed in West Virginia.

David H. Rosenbaum, an engineer with the Division of Water in the state Department of Natural Resources, said only the Letcher County dam is impounding any water and drainage should be no problem.

"The water behind the dam contains no silt or coal dust and is relatively clear," Rosenbaum said.

Removal of the Letcher County dam will be the joint responsibility of the county and the Beth-Elkhorn Coal Co., while the Knott County structure will be removed by the McCulloch Consolidated Coal Co.

Rosenbaum said there is no immediate danger from the dams but they are considered for falling to meet proper standards.

He added that the inspection program still is in progress.

MINE DEATH REDUCTION 'ENCOURAGING'

A five-month downward trend in Kentucky coal mine fatalities has been called "encouraging" by U.S. Bureau of Mines Director Elbert F. Osborne.

The drop in fatalities began last October and only four deaths have been reported during the last two months compared with 13 in the same period in 1971.

"We're not in a position to say this is a trend," Osborne said recently, "but our reports from the field are that the operators are sincerely working toward greater safety in their mines and are emphasizing greater training of the workers."

In addition to the reduction in fatalities, the number of deaths per million man-hours also dropped.

Officially considered this a more reliable indicator of mine safety conditions.

This year, during January and February, the rate was 0.57 fatalities per million man-hours worked. Last year for the same two months the rate was 1.65—almost three times higher.

1-65 BRIDGES TO GET ROUTINE REPAIRS

The state Highway Department announced it will begin minor repairs this summer on some 39 bridges along a stretch of I-65 between Elizabethtown and the Ohio River.

Bids already have been taken for work on bridges along the North-South Expressway section of the interstate running through downtown Louisville.

Bids for repairs on 14 or more bridges from Watterson Expressway south to US 31W in Elizabethtown will be opened April 6. No cost estimate has been given.

The repairs, including patching and sealing of holes and light sealing treatment of bridge decks, probably will begin in May and last until November, a department spokesman said.

Traffic will be maintained at all times during the work.

Sub bridge repair work is done routinely about every five years.

STATE GIVES BOOST TO NO. KY. VO-ED PROGRAMS

The state Department of Education has approved a comprehensive plan to upgrade and expand vocational education programs in Northern Kentucky.

Construction of two new vocational extension centers in Kenton and Campbell counties has been approved to fight "a serious lack of educational services" in the five-Northern Kentucky county area.

The centers are in addition to two such facilities already in Boone County and the Newport City school district.

Expected to be complete within two years, the centers will be constructed with federal and matching local funds and serve an estimated 19,000 junior and senior high students. Some night classes also will be offered for adults.

Centers also have been approved for Ohio, Bullitt and Pike Counties although funds have not yet been allocated.

toasted salad, and hot buttered rolls.

- Combine cottage cheese and canned pears for a great salad treat; top with small cubes of ellied cranberry sauce. French dressing goes well with this combination.

- Bake an egg in a mashed potato nest and sprinkle with grated cheese. Serve with grilled ham and buttered toast for a hardy breakfast.

- Serve frosty-chilled apple juice with a scoop of vanilla ice cream for fun-time treat.

- Mix equal amounts prune juice and milk for a smooth throat quencher. Serve cream cheese-stuffed pitted prunes and canned pears, on lettuce for a tasty salad.

- Drizzle with salad dressing thinned with a little of the syrup from the canned pears.

- Use cranberry juice cocktail as the liquid when preparing a jellied seafood salad.

- Use three parts applesauce and one-part marshmallow cream to make a festive topping for prune-nut bread.

- Cover bottom of a gelatin mold with canned pear halves placed outside down. Prepare strawberry gelatin mold with cranberry juice and pour over pears. Chill until set, then cut so each portion contains one pear-half. Serve on a bed of lettuce with a top-knot of whipped cream cheese, or a dollop of sour cream.

FOOD CLIPS

Yes, the transparent wrap on prepackaged meat, poultry or fish is designed for refrigerator storage on one or two days.

Don't boil - just "hard cook."

For hard cooked eggs just bring the water to simmering and simmer 20 to 25 minutes. Don't let the water boil. Plunge eggs at once into cold running water and leave until cold.

Did you ever try scooping an orange out (remove membranes from the shell) and spooning sweet potato mixture into the pulp? Place in a shallow baking pan for 20 minutes until tips are lightly browned. Sweet potatoes are a good source of vitamin A.

Potatoes with green skins may be bitter. Try to select potatoes that do not have deep eyes, no cuts or blemishes or signs of decay. They should be firm, smooth and well-shaped.

Surface skin is formed when milk is heated in an uncovered pan. It's due to a drying out of fat, minerals and protein on the surface. The skin holds steam in, causing the milk to foam and boil over. You can prevent the skin formation by using a lid - or stirring the milk.

Do you wonder why carrots look dark sometimes after cooking? It's usually the result of the scorching sugar present in the vegetable.

Don't forget a close-fitting lid is needed to hold in steam-which is a good way to tenderize meat. However, if the steam is allowed to escape, the meat will not cook evenly.

Be imaginative, use tooth juice, meat stock or bouillon for marinating your lower grades of meat.

What is wrong about prolonged high heating of meat? It becomes dry, tough, poorly colored and reduced in weight.

Work to the wise cook: If an egg is cooked too long or the cooking temperature is too high the protein shrinks and makes the white tough and the yolk mealy.

Making a meat loaf? Handsome meat as little as possible because excessive mixing gives a firm, seemingly less tender food.

Livingston FHA To Launch CARE No-Go Tea

The Livingston Chapter of Future Homemakers of America are launching a Tea to celebrate CARE's 25th year of service to mankind by inviting friends to a Silver Tea to which no one need attend.

These young women, are mailing a tea bag and CARE napkins along with a note that tells of CARE's accomplishments and inviting them to have a cup of tea at home at their leisure and then send the money they saved by doing this to CARE where it is so urgently needed.

CARE, the international aid and development agency, was founded by 25 service agencies primarily to send food packages overseas to needy refugees and relatives caught in the tragic aftermath of World War II. During the past 25 years, CARE aid has reached people in 73 countries with some 41,250,000 American and Canadian donors contributing $222,900,000 to send over 100,000,000 packages of various types such as countless tons of bulk shipments.

This year, CARE will be operating in 35 countries, feeding over 25,000,000 people daily, 94% of which are children. These massive feeding programs are designed to end malnutrition which impairs the physical and mental growth of these impoverished people, making them unable to help themselves to a better life. After regaining their health, these needy are encouraged and supported by CARE to begin to help themselves through a series of community projects designed on self-help principles. In 1970 for example work was completed or under way on the construction of 167 nutrition centers for 62,900 children, 248 schools for 32,500 students and 928 potable water systems for close to 400,000 townspeople who did not have access to clean water.

In addition, various tools, seeds, fertilizers, livestock and other food production aid brought training and assistance to 1.4 million farmers, agricultural students and farm family members who wished improve their food production.

If you would like to participate in this F.H.A. sponsored No-Go Tea call 453-2121 and the members will send you an invitation that says:

Dear Friend:
You need not dress up and you won't need your car. It won't be noisy, overcrowded or far, so will you please attend CARE's Silver Anniversary Tea.
With our most cordial invitation to you, we need a tea bag and a paper napkin too.

You'll need your kettle, your best saucer and cup. You must come by chair - then no need to get up! As you enjoy your tea, turn your thoughts for a while to the purpose of the moment, and then, with a smile -

Send your personal contribution to CARE with your own name and address! Thank you for CAREing!
