Cong. Tim Lee

Carter Comments

Congressman Tim Lee Carter pointed out that there are an estimated 600,000 heroin users in the United States today, and the abusers of other drugs, such as amphetamines and barbiturates, number far more. Narcotics addicts spend an estimated $17 million daily on heroin, which amounts to around $6 billion annually. The average addict must spend from thirty to one hundred dollars daily for heroin, and most of them support their habit through criminal activities. Kentucky's Fifth District Representative was a sponsor of the Drug Abuse Office and Treatment Act, which the President signed into law on March 24 of this year.

Carter explained, "I have worked long and hard for programs that will effectively combat the appalling incidence of drug abuse in our nation, but concern for this tragic situation must not only be expressed by our nation's lawmakers; it should be a real concern of all citizens who are deeply interested in controlling and eliminating the blight of drug abuse in our society."

Congressman Carter continued, "In order to give each citizen the opportunity to join in this battle, the President has directed that a National Heroin Hotline be established and manned 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Although it seems that almost no one is safe from the menace of heroin and other drugs, this new system will permit individuals to do their part in our efforts to win this war on what has become a major problem in our country."

"I urge all public spirited citizens who have information on drug pushers to dial, toll free, the telephone number 800-368-5363 in order to provide information that will enable government law enforcement officials to seek out and eliminate these pushers and traffickers. The use of this telephone number is entirely voluntary and the identity of the caller will be protected if he prefers."

"I am sincerely hoping," Congressman Carter concluded, "that drug abuse in our nation can be significantly curtailed in the years to come. The efforts of our citizens will, to a large degree, determine whether this becomes a reality."

NOTICE: Notice is hereby given of a meeting of sportsmen for the selection of candidates for the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission for the Sixth Wildlife District (to conform with KRS Section 150.092) to be held on Tuesday night, June 6, 1972, at 7:30 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, at the Court House in Richmond, Kentucky. At this time, five candidates will be selected by the sportsmen assembled, one of which will be appointed by the Governor to serve on the Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission for a term of four years. Only those sportsmen residing in counties comprising the Sixth Wildlife District are eligible to vote. The counties are: Anderson, Boyle, Casey, Clark, Estill, Fayette, Frankling, Garrard, Jessamine, Lee, Lincoln, Madison, Mercer, Powell, Rockcastle, Scott and Woodford. Arnold L. Murchel, Commissioner, Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources, 36x1

ATTENTION: All Customers in the Northern Rockcastle County Water District. Since construction of the water line is due to start any day, it is approved that you put up a stake just inside your property line where you would like your meter to be installed.

The next thing to do is contact the resident engineer, who is James Winstead, Mt. Vernon, Phone 256-4847. If he approves the site, you may go ahead and lay your water line to your house. It is important that you do this because your water bill will start the day your meter is installed and water is available. This work must be done according to the State Health Department Plumbing Code.

The material to be used is specified in the letter you received from the State Health Department. According to the State Health Department, there can be no cross-connection such as wells or cisterns hooked up with this water system.

The engineer will determine who needs water reducers and these will be furnished by the water district.

We must have your correct mailing address, so please notify Mrs. Byron Baker, Route 3, Box 60, Mt. Vernon.

If you have any questions or need further information, call 256-2288 days or 256-4383 after 5:30 p.m.

To: Mama and Daddy (Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Peters) by Daughter, Virginia Holt

The wonderful life you have lived is made for you a home in Heaven in wait.

Because the Bible tells us so, Your burdens have been hard to bear.

But God has always been there. Each step of the way, God helps you each day.

Memories are precious and dear. Because you are always near. Helping others is your joy. For you'll never be forgot. For this' you worked day and night. To raise us right. There's a better place above. Awaiting those we love. Of all the rest, Our prayers are the best. Parents' love is never last. No matter what the cost. Our prayers are with you always. You are with us each day. No task is too great for you to bear. Whether it's cloudy or fair. Put not a post, but our love is there and you know it. Wishing you many more happy healthy, prosperous year with the Lord.

gone out of their way to make everything as authentic as possible. They have received good cooperation from county residents and with Mr. and Mrs. Carlotta's gift of fitting everything together beautifully, the place is really a marvel....

For those of you who have been wondering when we were going to move the piano off the front porch, we finally accomplished it. It made quite a conversation piece the first few months it sat there but finally the value of that died out.

we had it tuned and taken inside. Nobody could play at our house so my oldest daughter and I have begun taking piano lessons. I'll have to admit it does get a little embarrassing sometimes for my daughter to hear our piano teacher fussing at me just like she does at her and then there are the times when my children's friends visit them and I'm sitting there laboriously pounding out "Old MacDonald Had a Farm" with one hand and the little nine-year-old girls who have already had lesson a couple of years stand back and blubber at me....

Sixth Annual A&C Fair To Be Held May 25-28

The 6th annual Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsman's Fair will be held May 25 - 28 at Indian Fort Theater near Berea. Over 20,000 visitors are expected to attend the four day festival, which brings together nearly 100 of Kentucky's finest artists and craftsmen. Artists, craftsmen, musicians and puppeteers will fill the grounds with a festive mixture of color and sound. Craftsmen will be working in pottery, wood, weaving, quilting, candles, cornshuck dolls, chairs, iron and other contemporary and traditional Kentucky crafts. Artists display oils, acrylics, prints, batiks, and the many other products of their talented hands and minds. Free musical programs, with a variety of entertainers, will be presented daily in the amphitheater. The Summer Puppetry Caravan will present daily programs in a special tent, complete with fun and music for the whole family. An educational exhibit area, featuring the finest work of Kentucky Guild members, will fill one section. A separate tent will display work from members unable to be present for the Fair. Also on display will be the reconstructed stage and grounds, remodeled in preparation for the re-opening of "Wilderness Road," the outdoor drama which will open June 29 in Indian Fort Theater. Ample free parking will be provided on the grounds, and concession areas will provide refreshments. Hours of the Fair have been changed from prior years. Opening day, May 25, the gates will be open from 12 noon to 9 p.m. On Friday and Saturday, hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. On Sunday, the gates will open at 10 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. Admission is $1.00 for adults; 50¢ for children. Special admission rates are available for groups of 15 or more.

The Fair is sponsored by the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen, a non-profit organization of over 400 Kentucky's most creative residents. Since 1961, the Guild has worked to develop and promote the arts and crafts of the state. The Guild, in addition to the Fair, operates the Guild Gallery in Lexington, for the exclusive sale of members' work.

Six Injured In U.S. 25 Collision

Four Rockcastle and two Laurel County residents were injured last Friday evening when their car collided with a car driven by Mrs. Ruby Lee Moore, 49, of London on U.S. 25 one and one-half miles north of Mt. Vernon.

Injured in the crash were Donald Ray Galliff, 37, of Mt. Vernon, driver of one of the cars and his three passengers, Mrs. Olie Galliff, 65, Route 3, Mt. Vernon, Ronnie Brunley, 6, Route 3, Mt. Vernon and Billie Jay Galliff, 6, Mt. Vernon. Also injured were Mrs. Moore and her grandson, Gary Wager, 9, also of London.

According to state police reports, Mrs. Moore was traveling north on U.S. 25 when she made a left turn in front of Galliff and was struck on the right side. Two witnesses who witnessed the crash stated that they did not see Galliff approaching but did see Mrs. Moore make the turn and then the accident. Galliff told police that Mrs. Moore turned in front of him.

Mrs. Moore and her grandson were taken to the University of Kentucky Medical Center where they are still hospitalized. Occupants of the other car were taken to Berea Hospital.

by: perlina m. anderson

I was shocked and terribly saddened Monday when I heard of the attempted assassination of Gov. George Wallace. The first thought that entered my mind was "What is our country coming to?" Since I have had more time to sort my feelings and thoughts out though I realize that you cannot share society as a whole for the four atrocities which have been committed against political leaders in our country within the short span of nine years. I do more than anyone else, know what or who to blame. I do believe that if the assassination of President Kennedy had never occurred then the one might not have been committed. It seems that when one fanatic thinks of something like that and does it then it begins a horrible chain of like happenings. I suppose those things are especially hard for us, living in the rural area in which we live, to reconcile since we can only imagine the way of life in big cities and the events which happen there, I for one don't want to have to do any more than imagine them.

I do fear for what this latest occurrence can mean to our country in the way of hand gun control legislation and in the way of different campaigning by our political candidates. I suppose the blame is on the man for campaigning by way of a safe television studio or through advertisements in newspapers rather than by way of laying his life on the line to meet the voters publicly. It is a sad day in the history of America when a political candidate cannot express his views openly without going in fear of some unbalanced person gunning him down.

For once we're right and about a pitted matter, it wrong. Our as in last week's paper for the Jaycees Cross coming to town Saturday which stated the show times at 8 and 8 p.m. was right. Not the 6 and 6 p.m. times as shown on the posters scattered throughout town. Remember, if you purchase your tickets in advance from any Jaycees, they will be sold for $1.00 each, children and adults. However, if you wait until showtime Saturday, it will cost you $1.25 for each child and $1.50 for each adult. For some of us, that's quite a savings.

Give Mr. and Mrs. Carlotta a little longer to get everything ready and then put Fort Sequoyah on your "list 23 a must" place to visit. We were down Tuesday to get some pictures for the paper this week and came away assured that the trip would be well worth your time. In fact, last year we visited a frontier town in Virginia where they told us they really packed the tourists in on week-ends and what is at Fort Sequoyah has them beat on all points. The setting is beautiful and the Carlottas have (Cont. to 12)

First and Last MVHS Graduates Honored At Commencement

Graduation exercises were held Thursday night, May 11 for 78 members of the Mt. Vernon High School class of 1972. John Lair, a member of the first MVHS graduating class of 1914, delivered the commencement address.

The other two members of that class, Jamie Thompson of Rochester, N.Y. and Robert McKenzie of Mt. Vernon, were also on hand for the exercises. Thus, there were present both the first and last graduating classes of the school, with an interval of 58 years between.

MRS. ALICE ALBRIGHT DIES IN BEREA
Mrs. Alice Albright, 67, of Livingston passed away Tuesday, May 9 in Berea after a long illness. She was born in Laurel County on May 10, 1895, the daughter of the late Robert and Ann Tankersley.

Survivors include one son, Warren Albright of Birmingham, Alabama; one sister, Mrs. Evelyn Blackburn of Livingston; one brother, Robert Tankersley of Louisville and four grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband, Sam Albright.

Funeral services were held Thursday, May 11 at the Watson Funeral Home Chapel in Berea, headed by Rev. C. D. Burberry. Interment was in Albright Family Cemetery.

APPALAOSHA HORSE SHOW IS SUNDAY, MAY 28

Mrs. Cummins Graduates "With High Distinction"
A total of 141 graduating seniors were honored for academic excellence Sunday, May 14, during the 65th annual spring commencement exercises at Eastern Kentucky University.

Sixty-seven graduated "with high distinction," attaining an academic point standing of 3.6 or higher for at least three years of residence work. Another 74 were graduated "with distinction," maintaining a grade standing of 3.4 to 3.6.

Among those who graduated with high distinction was Mrs. Terry Joyce Cummins, Mt. Vernon.

Mt. Vernon High School, first public high school in Rockcastle County, was organized in 1910, just one hundred years after the creation of the county. Of the class of 1914, Mr. Thompson worked as a chemist in the Department of the Interior from the time of his discharge from World War I until his recent retirement. Mr. McKenzie began working in the local bank 51 years ago, soon after graduation and is now its president. Mr. Lair had a more varied career but is best known for his creation of the Renfro Valley complex which is now world-famous.

Valuedictorian of this year's class was Judith Ponder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Ponder of Mt. Vernon. Salutatorian honors went to Patty Ann Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kirby, also of Mt. Vernon.

Individual honors for this year were as follows: Chorus, Yvonne Carmack Band, Pamela Parrott; Commencement, Linda Frances Cummins; Science, James Nathan Mullins; Home Economics, Bonnie Isaacs; Mathematics, Judith Ponder; English, Linda Frances Cummins; Latin, Pamela Parrott; Industrial Arts, James Edward Hayes; Agriculture, William Franklin Stewart; Athletics, Jack Horwath, Library, Lois McClure and Social Studies, James Edward Hayes.

Nineteen From Here Receive Degrees From EKU

A total of 1,686 candidates received degrees Sunday, May 14 at Eastern Kentucky's 65th spring commencement.

Dr. Robert R. Martin, EKU president, conferred the degrees during the program in Alumni Coliseum that climaxed the commencement week end.

He presented honorary doctoral degrees from the University to the commencement speaker, Dr. Robert M. Worthington, associate commissioner of the U.S. Office of Education, Washington, and to Allan W. Oetar, executive director of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

The week end activities included the Senior Luncheon Friday, May 12, Alumni Day, Saturday, and the baccalaureate Sunday at 11 a.m., with a sermon by Dr. Ed Tullis, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, Ashland.

This spring's class brings the total of degrees conferred by Eastern to 23,442, more than half of which, 15,327, have been conferred since 1960.

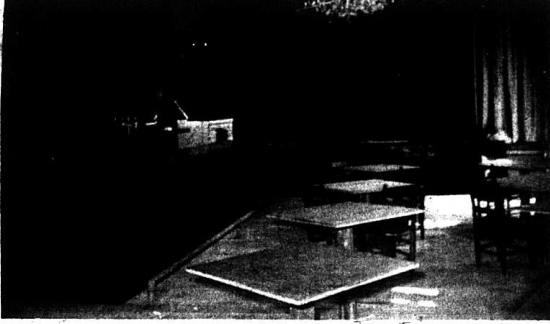

The graduates, listed for Rockcastle County are:

- Onna Katherine Owens, Brodhead, Master of Arts in Education; Earl Clinton Cummins, Mt. Vernon, Master of Arts; Jenny Lee Barnett, Phyllis Joan Shepherd and Carol Ann Stewart, all of Mt. Vernon; Claudenia B. Cash and Deborah Gail Watson, both of Brodhead; and Vera H. Poynter, Livingston, Bachelor of Science; Phillip Wayne Hunt, Mt. Vernon, College of Business; and Lee Adams, Brodhead, Associate of Arts; Ruth Ann Allen, Betty Jo Brown McKinney, Glenda Fay Osborne, all of Brodhead; Terry Joyce Hargrave Cummins, Clyde William Phillips, both of Mt. Vernon; Calvin Robert Webb, Livingston, Bachelor of Arts; Larry Edmond Daugherty, Brodhead, Bachelor of Science; Judy Holman Doyle, Brodhead; Associate of Arts; Virginia Lee Hunt, Mt. Vernon, Bachelor of Science.

HONOR STUDENTS-- Miss Judy Ponder was named Valuedictorian and Miss Patty Kirby, Salutatorian of the 1972 senior class at Mt. Vernon High School. Miss Ponder is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Ponder of Mt. Vernon and will enroll at the University of Kentucky this fall where she plans to major in Home Economics. Miss Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kirby of Mt. Vernon, will enroll at Berea College in the fall.

Opening Soon Is "New-Old Attraction" At Fort Sequoyah

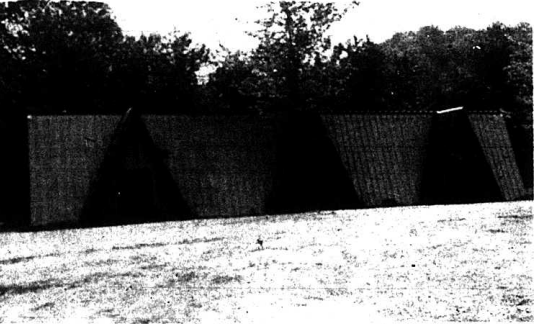

THE PALACE is sure to be one of the major attractions at Fort Sequoyah Indian Village and Riverboat Town this summer. The inside of the saloon is an exact replica of the old dance-halls even to the player-piano which can be seen just in front of the stage. Plans are to have can-can dancers to entertain the sight-seers at the village and Sarsaparilla will be served at the "bar." The huge mirror hanging behind the bar once decorated the old Livingston Drugstore.

When Fort Sequoyah, south of Livingston, opens this summer, the only way to recognize the attraction will be by its signs and even they will be different.

Throughout the past winter months, Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle Carlottis, owners, have been working with an East Tennessee engineering firm to redevelop the attraction. And redevelop it they have to the extent that the site required a new name to go along with everything else and will now be known as Fort Sequoyah Indian Village and Riverboat Town.

The decision to renovate the popular tourist attraction was made after interstate-75 bypassed the business causing a serious loss in trade. It would have been possible to move the attraction as others did, but Mr. and Mrs. Carlottis decided not to. As Mr. Carlottis said, "I believe we have something worth showing people, both tourists and our local friends. Fort Sequoyah (Cont. to 8)

A VERY DECORATIVE ENTRANCE to the town is the new metal building which has been erected and which fronts U.S. 25, inside the building will be a restaurant and gift shop. There will also be a campground for trailers located near the river.

John Nichols' Frankfort Watchline

The Republican senatorial primary is, in a way, an exercise in futility for the four candidates trying to best form Gov. Louie B. Nunn.

Having said that, let's refrain even from calling the Democratic version a contest. Dee Huddleston hardly needs to lift his little finger to glide to victory.

If you're a Democrat, you can safely ignore the race. There will be enough party followers—we're not calling them back, you understand—to make Huddleston the nominee and the state administration's hope for the first Senate post in 15 years.

Back to the Republicans. The exercise may be futile in the sense of one defeating Nunn, but it could forestall some trends.

An example of what we mean: If Nunn's total next Tuesday is not well ahead of the combined total of his two nearest opponents, it might show grass roots dissatisfaction within the party.

Robert Gable, the coal and lumber executive, has been running the longest, spending a good deal of money and almost wind up second.

W. Howard Clay, a native Eastern Kentuckian practicing law at Louisville, is bound to collect enough votes, at least in Jefferson County, to obtain third place.

Now, what if Gable and Clay collected enough votes combined to compare favorably with Nunn's tally? It could be an embarrassing result to the former governor.

He seems to have anticipated a bit of unrest in his backyard, having indicated he does not plan to campaign extensively, that Gable has respectable support, that his (Nunn's) friends should, after all, get out and vote for him instead of relaxing overconfidently.

In the final days we have detected a few signs that Nunn is a bit concerned with Gable's tireless efforts. In all fairness, that does not mean an upset is in the making.

It just confirms Nunn's practical attitude about politics and his determination never to take anything for granted.

One thing that seems to have hurt Nunn is his filing in the last 25 minutes before the deadline after previous indications he was out of the race.

One of the more amusing aspects of the GOP primary is the subtle effort by Nunn supporters to imply that President Nixon wants him to win—and the emphatic retort by Gable backers that they KNOW from White House sources it ain't so. Oh well.

SWITCHEROO—Listed as a $1,000 contributor to Huddleston's campaign is none other than Lester Burns of Manchester and Somerset.

Burns is a Republican. He ran unsuccessfully for attorney general in 1967 on the successful Nunn gubernatorial ticket.

But we're told reliably that Nunn afterwards failed to reward Burns with any high state post and the two fell out.

HANGING ON LIKE GLUE — Sen. Edmund Muskie may be down over most of Kentucky, but Gov. Wendell Ford, who backed him early, still acts like nothing happened and as if Muskie is going to get the Democratic presidential nomination.

Maybe, and all this is heart-warming if you're inclined that way.

But Ford is a realist, and he believes some candidate closer to the center is needed for Huddleston to grab a strong shirttail in November.

SOUR JULEPS?—Overheard from a veteran Capital watcher who for some reason received no invitation to this year's Derby Breakfast at the governor's mansion:

"Thank God this is one Derby Day when I didn't have to have country ham for breakfast."

Should we add that several thousand guests thought otherwise?

Capitol Digest

Gov. Wendell Ford has called special elections for May 23 in the 6th Senatorial District and in the 44th, 50th and 67th Legislative districts.

The writs were issued by Ford after U.S. District Judge Mac Swinford ruled the elections must be held in districts defined by the 1971 reapportionment of the General Assembly.

William A. Logan resigned from the 6th District senatorial seat to become chairman of the state Public Service Commission.

The vacancy in the 67th Legislative District resulted from the resignation of James E. Murphy to become Newport police judge.

Bernard Keene left his 50th District post to become the new distillate spirits administrator, and James Youcm resigned as representative from the 44th District in Jefferson County to become commissioner of labor.

Actually, new district lines were drawn during the 1972 regular session of the legislature, but since the elections will select lawmakers to complete terms of persons elected in the old districts, the old boundaries will be observed.

The special elections are being held in conjunction with the May 23 primary to save taxpayers the expense of a special election later this year, Governor Ford said.

OHIO RIVER BOATERS TO SEE STRICT LAW ENFORCEMENT
The newly reorganized Kentucky Division of Water Safety will strictly enforce boating safety and anti-litter regulations on the Ohio River along the state's northern border this summer.

B.N. Dossset, deputy director of the Water Safety Division, said the division's boat patrols will cover the river between Ashland and Carrollton.

"The patrols will check every craft, large and small," Dossset said. "Each operator must have his permit and identification of some kind with him at all times."

He added that a Kentucky license will be required for all boaters using the Ohio River, which is under Kentucky's jurisdiction.

No Kentucky license is required for boating on tributaries of the Ohio River which are in Ohio and Indiana.

The Water Safety Division, abolished in 1968, recently was reactivated by Governor Ford.

WON'T LEASE PARK CAMPSITES TO PRIVATE OPERATORS

The state Parks Department will not lease campsites areas to private developers in the foreseeable future, Parks Commissioner Ewart Johnson says.

Although he admitted the practice has been used successfully in other states, Johnson maintained Kentucky is not ready for it.

It's my suggestion to Governor Ford that we remain as we are," he said. "I don't think it's wise to get outside the control of the parks system. We might lease it to (someone) down the road who is not running it right... and we get the black eye."

As to how long the present policy would continue, Johnson said a change may be possible later.

"Who knows what's going to happen two years from now? It may be a complete change of attitude."

TO ASK U.S. APPROVAL OF SEWAGE FINANCING PLAN

Governor Ford requested the federal Environmental Protection Agency to approve Kentucky's new program for assisting local governments in building sewage treatment facilities.

Approval of the Kentucky Pollution Abatement Authority, created by the 1972 General Assembly, will increase the federal share in financing treatment facilities from 33 to 55 percent.

The new state agency is authorized to issue Pollution Abatement Authority revenue bonds to raise funds, and will contribute 25 percent of the cost of sewage treatment plants.

Local governments will be required to pay the remaining 20 percent and to repay the state matching funds. Governor Ford said the immediate effect of federal approval will increase grants on at least 56 projects planned for this fiscal year.

ATTORNEYS DRAFT LOAN-LAW PROPOSAL

A proposed law allowing the state to regulate savings and loan associations has been drafted by attorneys representing the Kentucky Savings and Loan League, the state Department of Banking and Securities and the Legislative Research Commission.

A special legislative subcommittee investigating the need for reforms in state-chartered savings and loan associations asked the attorneys to draw up the proposal.

The proposal would authorize the state banking commission to issue rules and regulations for such firms, and provides for public hearings before they are put into effect.

Present statutes do not specifically define the banking commissioner's power to make regulations.

Thomas Ainley, LRC staff aide to the subcommittee, said the group hopes to have the "stop-gap" legislation ready in time for the special session of the General Assembly which

BATS NEEDED

David Fessler, assistant professor of biology at Somerset Community College, is presently undertaking a study of bat populations in southeastern Kentucky.

He is interested in locating any bat colony and will remove the animals free of charge. If any readers know of existing colonies of these animals located in Rockcastle and surrounding counties, please contact Mr. Fessler by sending a card to him at Somerset Community College, Somerset, Kentucky 42601. Your help in this matter will be appreciated.

"CAPITOL DIGEST"

Governor Ford is expected to call in June.

The subcommittee, part of the Interim Committee on Banking and Insurance, was formed recently after state Banking Commissioner Lenny R. Hall placed two Louisville building and loan associations in receivership.

ington Monday after suffering a stroke.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Carter of Lameroy were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Griffith Sunday.

Mrs. William A. Lodenmark and Mrs. Pearlie Holcomb attended graduation exercises at Eastern Kentucky University Sunday where Miss Jane Hancock received her Master's Degree.

Mrs. Estell Jones visited her sister in Bloomfield last week.

Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, who attends college in North Carolina, arrived at the home of her aunts, Misses Frances and Josephine Dickerson, Friday. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Will Dickerson, and son, William of Dayton, Ohio arrived Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Clark were Sunday guests at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clark, of Loveland, Ohio where they all celebrated Mother's Day with a number of other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Arhgenbright have returned from a vacation in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hammond and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Hammond, all of Mt. Vernon visited their mother, Mrs. Fannie Hammond, Sunday.

Mrs. Fannie Hammond visited her daughter, Mrs. Joe H. Hamm and Mr. Hamm recently. A son was born recently to the Hammonds who also has two daughters.

You & The Draft

Since the resumption of draft calls in April, our office has received some interesting inquiries from people who could be directly or indirectly affected.

In one such inquiry, Lydia Sue, who was suing her husband, relationship with her and her child, he was no longer eligible for the 3-A deferment. If Jonathan was reclassified 1-A by his draft board, because his lottery number was 019 he probably would be drafted, provided the token draft calls continue.

Up to this point, we have purposefully omitted one fact that may have a bearing on the case. This was that Lydia Sue had told us that Jonathan was 5'11" and weighed 250 pounds.

If the weight and height given was correct, under current standards set by the Department of Defense he would be found not qualified for military service. We did not tell her this; the Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Station (AFES) determines a young man's acceptability for military service.

If Jonathan were processed for a physical examination and disqualified for being overweight, he would be eligible for consideration for Class 4-F.

The point that we are trying to make is that, in order for a young man to receive a "qual" treatment with his peers, it is necessary that the local board have full and current information to determine availability, but the examining station determines his acceptability.

COME TO 4-H CAMP
 Most 4-H'ers in Rockcastle County know about 4-H camp. But I'm sure there are some "new" friends who would like to know more about 4-H camp. Here's some questions I'll answer for you.

What's Happening at Camp?
 4-H camp offers a variety of education, fun and exciting activities. Some of the things you can do at 4-H camp are swimming and boating, archery, hiking, sports, crafts, folk games, and other recreational studies, vespers and campfires.

Where is 4-H Camp?
 4-H'ers from Rockcastle County attend the J.M. Felner Memorial Camp in Levi Jackson State Park outside of London, Kentucky.

When is 4-H Camp?
 The regular camping session will begin at noon on Monday, July 10, 1972, and continue until Friday afternoon, July 14, 1972. Three other counties will be camping with Rockcastle County 4-H'ers. They are Whitley, Clay, and Bell counties.

Who will be at the camp?
 The 4-H camp has a permanent staff consisting of a manager and instructors for the entire summer. 4-H agents from three counties attending the camp and club leaders will be on hand to keep order.

Where do you stay while at camp?
 There are six cabins for boys and six for girls with twelve in each cabin. Your cabin mates will be about your age. An advisor will stay in each cabin. Each camper brings his or her own sheets, blanket and pillow as well as toilet, wash cloth, soap, etc. 4-H'ers will be able to live in a cabin with their friends as well as new friends from this county and others. You'll learn citizenship and getting along with other people.

What does it cost to go to camp?
 The registration fee for 4-H camp is $15.00. This includes three hot meals a day from noon Monday through Friday, and snacks to keep you going between times. Also included in the fee is fishing, swimming, and use of camp equipment. Some of the craft items are purchased.

How do you get to camp?
 The 4-H council of Rockcastle County will help provide transportation to and from the camp. Parents are welcome to bring their 4-H'ers to camp and to visit the camp.

Who can go to 4-H camp?
 Any 4-H'er who wishes can attend the 4-H camp. The ages for regular camp are for ten to eighteen year olds. Fourth graders can attend the special fourth grade camp or attend the regular camp with a brother or sister who is in 4-H.

What is week-end camp?
 4-H'ers who wish to attend a two day camp can go to the week end camp to be held Friday and Saturday, July 7 and 8, 1972. A special event of this camp is the judging activity. You can learn to judge soils, horse furnishings, meats, clothing, foods and horse-manual. A swimming party is planned for Friday evening. The cost will be $4.00 plus the cost of swimming. The camp will end on Saturday at 3 p.m. 4-H'ers who qualify after attending this judging camp will be able to participate in the State 4-H judging activity at the State Fair in August. 4-H'ers may attend the week end camp or the regular camp or both if they wish. The registration is due by June 21, 1972.

When do you have to register?
 The registration form and the

A $160 PEACE MARCH — Would you believe a baker, two lawyers, an auctioneer, and banyo player make up the above photo? Granted, it's hard to believe from their costumes but their apparel was appropriate for the job at hand Sunday afternoon. It all began during the radio address held last week for Mt. Vernon's Summer Recreation Program. Someone came up originally with the idea of holding for John Allen, third from left in the top photo, to walk barefoot from his home on West Main Street to the Rockcastle Steak House. Other enthusiastic bidders joined in and someone then came up with the idea of adding Sam Ford and Jess Bullock to the march in the form of Sam Ford pushing Jess Bullock from the Jayces Canteen to the Steak House. Then someone added the feature of having James Lambert accompany them dressed in ladies' clothes and of course music was needed so "Old Joe" Clark was persuaded to accompany them "a pickin' his banjo." Needless to say, it brought quite a crowd to town on what would have been an otherwise peaceful Sunday afternoon and provided a $160 on the summer recreation program. And, if you're interested, Sam Ford didn't get Jess Bullock all the way up the Steak House's hill. We understand that he had to quit close to the top, climb into the steved barrow and let Jess complete the climb. The bottom photo shows the crew walking along U.S. 25 almost to the Steak House.

How do you get to camp?
 The 4-H council of Rockcastle County will help provide transportation to and from the camp. Parents are welcome to bring their 4-H'ers to camp and to visit the camp.

Who can go to 4-H camp?

What is week-end camp?
 4-H'ers who wish to attend a two day camp can go to the week end camp to be held Friday and Saturday, July 7 and 8, 1972. A special event of this camp is the judging activity. You can learn to judge soils, horse furnishings, meats, clothing, foods and horse-manual. A swimming party is planned for Friday evening. The cost will be $4.00 plus the cost of swimming. The camp will end on Saturday at 3 p.m. 4-H'ers who qualify after attending this judging camp will be able to participate in the State 4-H judging activity at the State Fair in August. 4-H'ers may attend the week end camp or the regular camp or both if they wish. The registration is due by June 21, 1972.

TWO-YEAR SCHOOL FUNDING WILL REPLACE PORTABLE CLASSROOMS
 Educational funding approved by the 1972 General Assembly will eliminate the need for portable classroom units in Kentucky, according to Dr. Lynn V. Gieger, state superintendent of education. Gieger said 3000 inside portable classrooms are presently being used in Kentucky, while those which can no longer issue bonds will be able to also exist structures.

House Bill 335, the Department of Education's budget bill, provides for a $100 increase per classroom unit for capital outlay allocation during each year of the 1972-73 biennium. Gieger said this money would allow school districts which still had bonding capacity to construct new buildings, while those which can no longer issue bonds will be able to also exist structures.

He said the increase would provide for the construction of classroom units, thereby eliminating the need for mobile classrooms.

Senators granting 6 per cent increase in salaries and operating expenses during each year of the biennium, HB 335 also provides 190 new classroom units for teachers of exceptional children.

In spite of the new vocational education units, Gieger said, there will still be a need for about 100 more units in the area. As far as the units for exceptional children are concerned, he said he is "heavily committed to the department and will not turn down a (qualifying application) for a single unit (for special education) for the next two years."

The superintendent reiterated his "philosophical" opposition to Senate Bill 355 however, which established a bureau for exceptional children within the Department of Education and responsibilities of the bureau should be left to the department and the legislature. At any rate, he said, the bureau cannot be established because the General Assembly did not provide funds for their apparel.

Other new legislation Gieger discussed included: SB 285 which authorizes establishment of kindergarten, or pre-school readiness, programs. Gieger said he expects every school district in Kentucky to have an operational kindergarten program within four years.

SB 18 which authorizes a referendum to amend the state constitution by providing for an elected non-partisan state Board of Education, which would appoint the superintendent of public instruction.

At present, the superintendent is elected on a partisan basis and cannot hold consecutive terms. Gieger said the amendment, if approved, would "give continuity to the office" of the superintendent because he would be able to hold his office as long as the board renewed his contract.

N-S Boat Regatta To Be Held June 10-11

Sleek boats, screaming over water at fantastic speeds; breathtaking free falls from a mile above the earth, and fancy performers on skis. This is just part of the fun and holiday atmosphere which will prevail when the Somerset-Pulaski County Chamber of Commerce sponsors its third annual regatta on Lake Cumberland June 10-11.

The event is the North-South Championship boat races, a spray-clouded battle between "Yankee" and "Rebel" drivers for gold, glory and just plain pride. It is described as one of the biggest outboard racing events of the year, second only to the world championship. Oscar Hornsby, general chairman of the event, pointed out that the local chamber of commerce is furnishing $2,500 for cash prizes. In addition, trophies will be presented to the winners in each class, including perpetual trophies and the General J.J.B. Williams plaque for the outstanding driver in the meet.

The North-South championship idea was conceived by Claude Fox, a veteran of the National Outboard Association and a former race driver. Each driver, regardless of his geographic location, is competing for individual honors, prize money and points for national standing. The race also carries bonus points toward the national (Cont. to 8)

SECOND PLACE TEAM winners of Rockcastle County Mixed League were the Gutter Dusters, shown in the above photo. Members of the team are Mr. and Mrs. James Noe and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reynolds. Mr. Noe received a trophy for third high average, men and Mr. Reynolds took trophies for high series, men and second high average, men.

Older Youth Conference Held At Washington, D.C.

The Kentucky 4-H Older Youth Conference was held on April 8-15, 1972 at the National 4-H Center in Washington, D.C. The emphasis for the week was on citizenship, with leadership development. The purpose of the conference was to help 4-H'ers develop a greater understanding and appreciation of American Heritage, our national government and the democratic way of life. Highlights of the week included visits to famous monuments, a day at the nation's capitol, a trip to Mt. Vernon, the home of George Washington, and discussion groups and speakers on citizenship.

The delegates from Rockcastle County was Marela Lamb, an (Cont. to 8)

ROCKCASTLE CIRCUIT COURT
Civil Action File No. 2371

BENTLEY ALLEN, and wife, GERTRUDE ALLEN, PLAINTIFF, VS: NOTICE OF SALE
RANDLE ALLEN, ET AL. DEFENDANTS.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Rockcastle Circuit Court entered on May 9th, 1972, in the above styled action, a partition action, I shall offer for sale at the court house door, Main Street, Mt. Vernon, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction on the 27th day of May, 1972, at the hour of 10:30 a.m. 1972, or thereabouts, for cash or upon credit of six (6) months at the option of the purchaser, the following described real property, to-wit:

Lying and being in Rockcastle County, Kentucky, between Roundstone Creek and Singleton Valley, and more particularly bounded and described as follows: Beginning 50 feet more or less West of a culvert at a stone set up on the lower side of State Road #1004; thence running southward 90 feet to a stone corner; thence a West course 100 feet to a stone corner; thence a North course, 60 feet to a stone corner and back to State Road #1004; thence an East course with said road 100 feet to the beginning corner.

For the purchase price, if the purchaser does not pay cash, he must execute bond with approved surety bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, said bond having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

"Don't bother me now ... I'm busy!"

There was a time when the funeral director (or "undertaker" as he was called then) didn't need to be personable. Or specially trained. Or even polite. About all he needed in those days were a hammer and some nails, along with enough lumber to put together a "coffin."

Times have changed, and we're glad they did. Today, if a funeral director doesn't like people — if he doesn't really want to help and know how to help others in countless ways — then he's in the wrong profession.

NOT MANY Businesses which were in existence during the turn of the century have been overlooked by the Carlotties in rebuilding their Riverboat Town. The section above shows a general store and steamboat company, the Oregon Trail Outfitters, a doctor's office, the local Marshall's office and jail, a barber shop, an Apothecary and the post office. Most of the items in the general store are completely authentic and came from local business houses and residents.

THE FORT SEQUOYAH GAZETTE AND LAND OFFICE will be one of the top attractions at Fort Sequoyah this summer since it will feature an actual print shop exactly as they were equipped at the turn of the century. Adjoining the Gazette office is the Riverboat Inn.

YOU WILL actually be able to buy ice cream as well as film and other necessary tourist items at the Ice Cream Parlor located adjacent to the Bank. The Bank features the entire inside fixtures which were once used inside the former Peoples Bank at Mt. Vernon. Situated behind the Ice Cream Parlor and Bank is the little red schoolhouse.

"FT. SEQUOYAH"

is built right on the site of a real Indian Village.
After the decision to change the attraction, the engineering firm studied the site and developed comprehensive plans for an attraction that will be popular with tourists and local residents. And, that study is no longer on paper. It is standing in the form of Fort Sequoyah Indian Village and Riverboat Town.
A look at what is now at Fort Sequoyah is impressive and deceptive since all that can be seen from the road is an originally designed metal building. Not until you walk into this building and down a few steps do you realize that the building hides an authentic early western town. Of course, real Indians will still be very much a part of the attraction.
The town itself features an actual post office built in 1916, a bank, general store, tavern, blacksmith shop, barber shop, doctor's office, school house and several other structures.
But what will really stand out as a unique offering is the "Rockcastle Queen," the riverboat.
The "Rockcastle Queen" is an authentic replica of a paddle-wheeler that once plied the Mississippi River fascinating all would-be Tom Sawyers.
The boat at Fort Sequoyah will busily traverse the Rockcastle River carrying passengers, approximately 25 at a time, over one of the most beautiful "Wild Rivers" in the nation.
The keynote of the town itself is probably "authentically" since a great many of the items came from residents of the county such as the grocery in the general store, which was once used in C.F. Mullins' Grocery at Livingston, the complete office of Dr. R.G. Webb of Livingston, which has been restored in the town, the post office, which was built in 1916 by Mrs. Carlottia's great-uncle and used at McWhorter, Ky. in Laurel County for many years; the top of the school house which came from the old Hazel Patch School and of course, the old inside fixtures from the old Peoples Bank of Mt. Vernon.

The large building which directly faces U.S. 25 will house a restaurant and a new craft shop featuring many excellent hand-made Kentucky crafts.
When Fort Sequoyah Indian Village and Riverboat Town opens soon, it will offer an exciting time for Kentuckians and tourists alike. And, it can't be described as a unique "new-old attraction."

"N.S. REGATTA"

standing, a special attraction for the area.
For the North-South Championship event, the nation is divided into northern and southern sections. Points, based on the order of finish, are totaled for drivers from both competing sections of the country and the team with the most points is declared the winner.
The high-point driver of the team is awarded a trophy and is declared either "General U.S. Grant" or "General Robert E. Lee."
A perpetual plaque has been created to bear the name of each General. J.B. Williams, trophy winner. It will remain in Somerset and the winning driver will be presented a small replica of the trophy to keep as a reminder of his performance here.
The North-South Championship has been staged 20 times with the Rebels winning 11 times and the Yanks taking home nine titles.
The Boat Races are being held in June this year instead of May (as usual) because of better weather conditions. This will allow both racers and audience to have a more enjoyable week end. Eleven races will be held each day.

New Record Program Open to Dairymen

Dairyman whose herds are not on a production testing program can now take advantage of a new simplified record program. It is called "Basic Production and Management Program."

The program is designed for dairy farmers that do not want official DHIA records, but do want basic information to use for more efficient herd management. The records are tabulated at a processing center in Raleigh, North Carolina as unofficial private records.

Since the records are unofficial, there are no rules to follow under this program. Cows can be identified by tag name or neck chain number. Ear tag or registration numbers are not necessary.

A dairyman has several options under the program. He can weigh the milk himself. He can base production records on either two consecutive milkings per month or one milking per month. Butterfat can be tested on a monthly, bimonthly, or trimonthly basis, or the plant test can be used for each cow in the herd.

Reports containing production information and herd summary information are mailed back directly to the farmer each month. Several special management lists are also available.

The machine processing cost of "Basic Dairy Production Records" is ten cents per cow per month. This can be a very low cost program, especially if a dairyman weighs his own milk and no laboratory tests are made on individual cows. For additional details on the program contact the Rockcastle County Extension Office or the State Extension Dairy Office at the University of Kentucky in Lexington.

Many accidents are caused by faulty brakes, yet too many drivers put off checking their brakes until defects make them dangerous. The most important safety feature of any motor vehicle is the braking system, which must be able to bring the vehicle to a safe stop in order to avoid an accident.

In Pennsylvania, for example, where compulsory vehicle inspection is a semi-annual affair, authorities said one out of every three cars needed brake service, in one large city, this compulsory inspection turned up a 30 per cent rate on brake defects.

pesticide safety record. We haven't had any cases that have gained national attention, but we have had some accidents that could have had serious consequences.

This winter a farm supply store burned, but two strokes of luck helped keep the danger down. First of all the store was low in stock at the time of the fire and secondly, weather conditions carried the smoke high into the air over the town that was in the smoker's path. The fire and police departments were ready to evacuate the area in case the smoke blew into the town.

In cases of warehouse fires or accidental spills of large quantities of dangerous pesticides, emergency squads should be aware of the extreme hazards and be prepared to take the proper action. For technical advice in case emergencies call the Pesticide Safety Team Network (513 691-4300) in Cincinnati. If necessary, a team of experts will come into the area to give technical assistance.

In all cases accidents or poisonings you should notify Mr. Edsel Moore of the Kentucky Department of Health by phone (502 564-3722).

Many accidents are caused by faulty brakes, yet too many drivers put off checking their brakes until defects make them dangerous. The most important safety feature of any motor vehicle is the braking system, which must be able to bring the vehicle to a safe stop in order to avoid an accident.

In Pennsylvania, for example, where compulsory vehicle inspection is a semi-annual affair, authorities said one out of every three cars needed brake service, in one large city, this compulsory inspection turned up a 30 per cent rate on brake defects.

A random check of cars by a leading automotive business magazine showed every second car in need of brake attention. Defects ranged from minor pedal adjustments to replacement of critical parts, and two out of five needed retuning.

Then in California, the State Highway Patrol conducted a study to determine the causes of some 400 accidents. They found that 115 cars had defects, over one-third of them in the brake system. Of the cars charged directly with mechanical failure, defective brakes caused 12 out of 27 accidents.

Compulsory inspections help find these defects, but not all states have such inspections, and not all drivers are conscientious about checking their brakes. So what can you do to be on the safe side? Keep a careful eye on the other fellow, and double-check your own brakes at frequent intervals. Your reflexes may be fast as lightning and you may be an extremely skillful driver otherwise - but all this may go for naught if, in a time of traffic crisis, your brakes fail to function properly.
