

Inspiration Rally Is Nov. 7

A sports broadcaster and minister for twenty-seven years with one congregation, Russ Martin, now national director of evangelism for the Revival Fires ministry, comes to lead a rally of inspiration with the Brohead Christian Church Tuesday, November 7 at 7 p.m.

Sharing with him will be the Southland Gospel Couriers, famed singing foursome from Lexington, Kentucky. The Joe Wrights and Mike Campbells combine for pleasing gospel songs geared to bless listeners everywhere.

Lloyd Jones, minister of the Martin, minister with First Christian Church, Miami, Oklahoma, for twenty-seven years, has done play-by-play broadcasting for college and high school football, basketball, baseball and golden gloves boxing for the past twenty-four years. He is his own TV sports show — "Russ' Corner" — and has interviewed such sports figures as Casey Stengel, Willie Mays, Leo Durocher, Mickey Mantle, and Steve Owen.

The format of the rally includes great music by the Gospel Couriers and a stirring, inspiring message by Martin. A major emphasis on the total work of Revival Fires, a ministry with twenty facets including a weekly program seen on 120 TV stations and overseas crusades, will be made at the close of the rally.

Lloyd Jones, minister of the Brohead Church, is inviting people far and wide to attend the rally. The Revival Fires TV program is seen each Sunday in this area on WLEX, Channel 18 at 8:30 a.m.

3. At the age of 36, I am mature enough to be level-headed in making important decisions which affect you and your children.
4. I get along well with the rest of the board members which enables us to work as a team to get things done.
5. Keep me on the board and I will work toward completion of the football field and other unfinished phases of the new school. Don't change horses in the middle of the stream.

by: perlina m. ardenkin
Well, first of all, we need to offer our apologies to the Democrats of Rockcastle County for our non-coverage at their Democratic Rally Monday night. Our intentions were good, but our memories were faulty, as usual. Again, we do apologize...

Help! I need a Brothead correspondent. It has been some weeks now since we have had anyone in that area who has the specific duty of gathering news and we're getting behind on the happenings there. There is a "little" money involved so if you think you might be interested or know someone we could get in contact with please call us at 256-2244...

The election time jitter will soon be over and I'll be glad, with as curious nature as I have anyway, the last couple of weeks before the election always drive me to distraction with wanting to know the outcome. If you think I'm going to keep rambling and tell you who I hope wins, you're wrong. I have strict instructions from my husband that I keep my opinions to myself at least where it can get back to him and he does read this column occasionally. I have often thought that it might be a good idea if I announced myself publicly for the candidate whom I did not want to see win because it seems that whenever I do get behind always winds up there, behind. But that, I suppose, is reverse psychology and a little tricky for me...

The Rockets basketball team is "laying them low" in scrimmaged games, we understand. Although I haven't seen them yet, I have been told that they have already won two scrimmaged games and look pretty sharp. Their first game is November 14 at Amvets Hall, 35 and 27 at the Phoenix Hotel in Lexington where it will be on November 17. Then, arch rival Clay County has to come to town November 21 and don't think they won't have a fight on their hands this year, at least we hope so. Anyway, the reason should be an interesting one under the guidance of head coach, Bill Riddle, and we urge you to come and lend your support...

On Wednesday of this week, we received a letter to the editor from a supporter of one of the school board candidates. Ordinarily, we would have run this letter without question, since it was signed. However, since this week is the last week before the election next Tuesday, we decided that it would not be ethical to run the letter since the opposing candidate would have no opportunity to defend himself. We do encourage signed letters to the editor but must insist on fair play for everyone...

The case of the disappearing paycheck and what to do about it.

Some people learn the hard way. Paychecks disappear fast.

Day-to-day living expenses eat up a lot. And maybe part goes in the savings account for this year's vacation or another immediate goal.

A good chunk of that money seems to disappear by itself.

So it's no wonder that when it comes to long-term goals, or when an emergency comes up, there simply aren't funds to meet the need.

Unless there was a nest egg building up all that time.

A good way to build that nest egg is with U.S. Savings Bonds. The easy way to buy them is to sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. An amount you specify will be set aside from your paycheck and used to buy Bonds.

And while you're going through grocery bills, car repairs, vacation weekends, kids' toys and nights out on the town, you'll know you're saving money too.

That's good to know.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 9 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months if it's the first year, and 10% if it's the second year. Interest is compounded if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When interest has been credited, you can cash in. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax liability is deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.
Join the Payroll Savings Plan.

Rogers Again Hits Marijuana Law

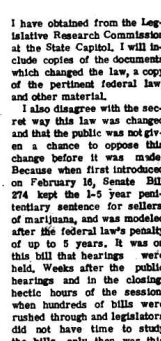

Statement of Commonwealth Attorney Harold D. Rogers

With the approaching election, I have received from statements on the July 1 licensing of the pusher of marijuana so as to keep this crucial matter of the welfare of our taxpayers out of partisan politics. This matter is about anybody's politics. However, by the statement printed in the October 17 Commonwealth Journal, certain parties have stirred the matter up again and I cannot let the statements' untruths stand uncorrected.

The statement finally admits that the new drug law reduced the penalty for pushers of marijuana from a penitentiary sentence (1-5 years) to a stay in the county jail "with no minimum penalty."

As Commonwealth Attorney my opposition to this new law is that it licenses the pusher. I do not argue with the lenient treatment for innocent users. Apparently, 86% of Kentuckians share my concern with punishing the pusher as is shown by the Courier-Journal poll published Sunday. I ask all who agree with me to voice their opposition by letter or otherwise.

So that anyone interested in the facts may see for themselves what I have been talking about, I am placing on public display at 9 a.m., Tuesday, in the Pulaski County Courthouse (in the Circuit Court Clerk's Office) copies of the actual bill as introduced and as changed and passed, which

Revenue Sharing Payments Are Delayed Due To Errors

Reprinted from the Louisville Courier-Journal, Issue of Wednesday, November 1, 1972.

Federal revenue-sharing payments to state and local governments have been delayed more than a month due to errors in U.S. Treasury Department calculations of fund allotments to Kentucky and other states.

A Treasury Department spokesman said yesterday that payments, originally scheduled for late October, have been postponed until the first week in December.

Earlier calculations on how $2.3 billion in federal revenue-sharing funds will be divided up between state and local governments included numerous errors, he said.

Some were due to mechanical failures in the department's computer system, he said. Others were "input" errors resulting from incorrect or incomplete information fed into the system.

It is expected that Kentucky's $97.3 million total allotment will remain unchanged in the new calculations. However, the amount individual city and county governments receive in the state may vary considerably from two earlier accounts prepared by Sen. Cook and Kentucky congressmen for information ever since Congress passed a landmark revenue-sharing bill last month.

The matter is close to their pocketbooks. Virtually every governmental unit in the state will benefit from the bill. Many are hard pressed for cash for essential government services.

One third of Kentucky's $97.3 million share will go to state government. The remaining $64.8 million will be distributed to city and county governments under a complex formula that considers such things as population, tax collection and poverty of an area.

errors and that these errors caused problems in the field," he said. "When this information got out it raised people's anger."

Meanwhile, a Cook aide said yesterday that the Kentucky senator is preparing another "broadside" against Shultz. He declined to elaborate.

The matter is a ticklish one. Dozens of city and county government leaders across the state have been pressuring Cook and Kentucky congressmen for information ever since Congress passed a landmark revenue-sharing bill last month.

The matter is close to their pocketbooks. Virtually every governmental unit in the state will benefit from the bill. Many are hard pressed for cash for essential government services.

One third of Kentucky's $97.3 million share will go to state government. The remaining $64.8 million will be distributed to city and county governments under a complex formula that considers such things as population, tax collection and poverty of an area.

Treasury and Census Bureau officials have discovered that much of the data needed to determine these factors is outdated or sketchy.

"The whole object of the delay in sending out checks is to utilize new census information," a Treasury spokesman said. "We're refining our data trying to ensure that we make as few errors as possible."

The exact amount that each locality will receive will not be known until late November, he said.

The delay has two political advantages for the Nixon administration. First, it insures that Democrats will be unable to complain that the administration is "playing politics" by sending out checks right before the election. Second it avoids outcries against the administration from mayors whose allocation will be less than estimates published earlier.

The first checks to be mailed out in early December will include half of each local government's share of the federal revenue-sharing pot for 1972.

Band Boosters Organized

The new Rockcastle County Band Booster Club was organized this week with approximately fifty members present at the first meeting. The new officers elected were: Mrs. Donald Thompson, president; Mrs. Floyd Stokes, vice president; Mrs. Sue French, secretary; Bobby Proctor, treasurer; Co-chairman of public relations, Mrs. Tom Payne, Jr. and Mrs. June Stewart.

The main item of business discussed was the ways and means of acquiring much needed new uniforms to outfit the RCB Band.

Some band parents have already donated one new uniform to the band, and the band is hopeful that other interested individuals and businesses might do the same. The band has received one donation of 31,000 besides the other donations, which by-the-way, can be sent to Bobby Proctor at Broadhead, treasurer of the Band Boosters. One uniform costs $125, and the band needs 100 this year, so you can see that this task in raising money is a great one and needs the support of the entire county.

The RCB Band is having a real attractive plaque made up on which to engrave all the names of those who donate one or more uniforms and the plaque will be displayed permanently at RCB.

State Aid Funds To Be Distributed To Towns

Governor Wendell H. Ford and Highway Commissioner Charles Pryor, Jr. today announced a distribution of state aid funds to the cities and urban areas of the Commonwealth. In Rockcastle County the distribution includes: Broadhead, $3,478.97; Livingston, $1,529.18; and Mount Vernon, $7,414.88.

I promised to find some way to help our cities deal with their problems thru state aid. As Governor I recommended this program to the 1972 General Assembly and saw appropriate legislation passed.

The amount allotted each place is determined by its population as shown by the 1970 federal census. All incorporated cities are eligible to share as well as unincorporated areas which the census found to be urban in character. Programs for unincorporated urban areas having no name have their locations in the name of their county.

JOHN NICHOLS'

Frankfort Watchline

Dee Huddleston just might be reaping dividends because of the recent removal of the 5-cent sales tax from food. Deliberately planned for Oct. 1 or not, it seems a stroke of good fortune for the Democratic senatorial nominee. The Republicans, of course, insist the timing is political and that Democrats had pledged to take off the tax immediately, which, of course, the Democrats deny. Believe who you want, but it looks like the timing a month before the election has paid off. The Huddleston people tell us much of his purported gain in recent weeks is connected with the pleasant surprise housewives have encountered in grocery-buying lately—finding themselves with a few dollars more on a big shopping visit because most food items no longer are taxed.

Ah, yes, that poll that shows the upward movement—or momentum or whatever in several critical areas.

Strictly from the Democratic side, you'll hear that the John Kraft poll has never called a race in Kentucky wrong in almost two decades and that he has a Democratic client. Of course, he does not predict outcomes, but the poll results all but do so.

From a bird's eye view it does appear Huddleston is gaining considerably. But, as the GOP would reply, some rise was to be expected. The real question is the cut-off point at which Huddleston can survive.

In other words, how much of a margin by President Nixon in Kentucky can be withstood?

A high state's administration source told us weeks ago 80,000

Lovern, executive director of the Kentucky Municipal League, to a recent conference of the league at Lake Barkley State Park.

He had a chance to prove it when three male speakers called out on the eve of the first full session—Huddleston, former Gov. Louis Nunn and Lt. Julian Carroll.

A campaigner helper to Nunn, the Republican nominee for U.S. Senate, said Nunn was surprised to receive by mail a copy of the league's program with his picture and listing a scheduled luncheon address.

ASSESSMENT MESS—Franklin Counties are used to reading about assessment and tax problems in other counties, but the matter has come home to roost here—with the state Revenue Department raising the whole assessment structure almost 25 per cent.

Furthermore, the state has been attempting to out the local assessor, who said he just isn't leaving.

Not to mention hundreds, maybe thousands of Franklin County residents who are as highbanded in justice in the new assessments. Oh, well, hope, before the Nov. 7 vote.

THE MAN WHO...—Huddleston quipped to a Democratic crowd the other day in Northern Kentucky that in case they didn't know him, "I'm the one who brought President Nixon to Kentucky."

The reference is to the Democratic claim that Nunn, in deep trouble, had to ask the president to come to Ashland last week.

SCRATCH THAT ONE!—There's the one about the earnest youth just employed as a press aide on Gov. Ford's staff.

The assignment: Prepare a short Labor Day statement for the governor for the news medium.

The document was passed on to members of the Capital Press Corps, but remained on desks unread for much of that day.

Then another Ford staff member happened to be wandering down press row, picked up the statement, scanned it at a hurried glance.

A quick correction followed. The statement, praising the Ford administration's accomplishments for labor, cited enactment of a new minimum wage law.

The young man hadn't realized his boss had read that bill.

PROBLEMS, PROBLEMS...—"We in municipal government are used to dealing with unexpected problems," said Glenn

'REVENUE SHARING'

The second half will be mailed out in early January, according to officials.

Mayors and county judges should expect their revenue-sharing allotments to vary in the future as more data become available and as the yearly national outlay increases. Total payments nationally will increase each year, reaching a level of $6.5 billion by 1976.

Local governments will be able to spend their share for almost any government services, except education.

Under the law, governors and local government officials must establish special trust funds for their revenue-sharing income and publish reports in local newspapers on how they plan to spend the money.

VOTE FOR LARRY BURDETTE FOR SCHOOL BOARD

YOUR VOTE IS NECESSARY - Make It Count by Voting for LARRY BURDETTE FOR SCHOOL BOARD

To The Citizens And Voters Of East Mt. Vernon Precinct (Who Vote At The Library), Roundstone And Conway Precincts

I would like to take this opportunity to tell you why I am running for School Board and why I think you will not regret voting for me. First of all, I would like to clear up a misunderstanding. Some people question why I say I am independent. I do not mean to say that I am running on an independent ticket. As you know, the whole district is allowed to vote in the school board race, regardless of what party they are registered in. By being independent, I mean to say that no certain group or "gang" is running me. I am running on my own, which I will prove.

I also want to apologize for not being able to see everyone in my district. Because I am running on my own, I did not have people being paid to work for me or to do my work while I campaigned. However, I have visited several people in my district recently and have heard some of their problems and concerns for our children. Several have told me that when they had a problem, they found that they really had no one to speak up for them. Who are our school board members working for, the people or someone else? I think the members of the school board are to work for the interest of our children. Their concern should be only for our school children and helping them in every way that they can, to get an education. They should work for the people and speak up for them when they have problems, and work together to accomplish things that will benefit our schools.

How much do we know about our school system? The people have a right to know where every penny of their tax money goes. Sure, we are told of one new school and school buses (there must have been some mistake about that because one week we were told of 17 new 66 passenger buses that were bought and the next week the number had dropped to 15). But does this tell everything? Do we know it all? From reports from some of the families, I think we need more buses. Families in one of our communities have stated that one of our panel (small) buses is so old and unsafe that their children come home from school so sick that they have to go to bed. The fumes are escaping from the exhaust into the bus. I think this should be corrected by repairs or replacement. Why should a certain bus haul over 80 pupils when our buses are only 66 passenger buses? This is unwise and unsafe for our children.

In some of our communities leaving is a problem. From the time some of the children leave home until they return, they are gone for 9 hours or more. Why don't we work together in working out some solution to this problem, such as adjusting some of the bus schedules? Has the interest really been in our children? It was reported recently that there was not enough money to buy a bus that was needed, why? Ask yourself, is this in the best interest of our children or someone else? Think it over, friends, Think about our children first when you vote.

My opponent, who is running for re-election states that he is against higher taxes. Please look at your property tax bill that you received from the Sheriff's Office recently. Why are the school taxes higher now than they were last year?

If elected for School Board, I will put the children first. I will work for the people of my district and give them a voice. When they have problems concerning their children's education in any way, I will speak for the people of my district and help to overcome these problems. I will let the people know the progress we are making in educating our children. I will have nothing to hide from the people and I will work to perform my duties to the best of my ability and in the most honest and sincere way that I can.

WHAT A WASTE WE TAXPAYERS MUST SUFFER!

Lamb Pinwheels Spark After-The-Auction Gathering

It's the year of the flea market! Blame it on nostalgia, blame it on the ecology craze... whatever the reason, recycled relics are finding a permanent place in the hearts and homes of millions of Americans.

"Junque" hunting is fun, so why not gather some friends for a day of auctions... then plan an "after-the-auction" roundup at your place to compare treasures and to refuel!

Savory pinwheels are in order, and homemade Lamb Pinwheels with Mushroom Gravy make perfect fare for nostalgia fans. The filling features finely chopped lamb mixed with canned Mushroom Gravy and spiced with the zest of onion, garlic, and rosemary. To achieve the charming pinwheel shapes, just spread the lamb mixture over a rectangle of biscuit mix dough and roll tightly. Slice after baking and serve piping hot with the remaining gravy.

Fantry handy canned Mushroom Gravy assures consistently smooth results... it's the fuss-free way to spruce up even the simplest of dishes.

LAMB PINWHEELS WITH MUSHROOM GRAVY

1/4 cup chopped onion	1 can (10 1/2 ounces) Mushroom Gravy
1 small clove garlic, minced	1 1/2 cups finely chopped cooked lamb
1/2 teaspoon rosemary leaves, crushed	1 cup biscuit mix
2 tablespoons butter or margarine	1/4 cup cold water

In saucepan, cook onion with garlic and rosemary in butter until tender. Add 1/4 cup gravy and lamb. Combine biscuit mix and water, following package directions for rolled biscuits. Roll into rectangle (14 x 8"). Spread meat mixture over dough to within 1/2-inch of edges. Starting at long edge, roll tightly in a jelly-roll fashion. Place on baking sheet. Bake at 450° F. for 15 minutes or until brown. Cut into 8 pinwheel slices. Heat remaining gravy; stir now and then. Serve over pinwheels. Makes 4 servings.

Apples Continue Their Tempting Ways

Apples have been hailed by mankind through the ages as being a fruit so tempting that none could resist its charm.

Probably the best knowledge about apples is that they tempted Adam in the Garden of Eden with an apple. Another Biblical legend is that King Solomon, in his wisdom, halved the apple as a fruit of healing.

An equally interesting story is that Atlanta, a beautiful agricultural city, challenged every man who sought her hand to a race. If he won, she would marry—but if he lost, he would die. Because she was so beautiful, many men accepted the terms, and many died.

One day, Hippomenes, one of the suitors, prayed before the race to Aphrodite, the goddess of love. She answered his prayers by giving him three golden apples. Following her instructions, he dropped them, one by one, during the race.

Each time, Atlanta was tempted to stop. But she resisted and stopped to retrieve the apple, thus losing the race and winning a husband.

Today's consumers are luckier than ever, because today's apples are even more tempting than ever. Modern agricultural techniques provide an abundant supply of beautiful, flavorful apples. And, right now, they are in especially plentiful supply.

One fact stands out clearly in most of the legends and fables that surround the apple—that it was a flawless apple.

Although he might have the help of the goddesses in picking good quality apples, we do have the assistance of guides.

Specialists suggest that you select the variety of apple for its particular use. For eating out-of-hand, they suggest such varieties as Delicious, McIntosh, Stayman, Golden Delicious, Jonathan and Newton are best for making pies and applesauce. While firmer-fleshed varieties such as Rome Beauty, Northern Spy, Rhode Island Greening, Winesap and York Imperial are widely used for baking.

When buying any of these varieties, look for firm, crisp, well-colored apples. Apples must be mature when picked to have good flavor, texture and storing ability. Immature apples look color and usually are poor in flavor.

Most apples are marketed by grade, and many consumer packages show the variety, the grade and the size, U.S. No. 1 and combinations of these grades. The qualities of color, maturity and lack of defects determine the grade.

For really good eating that will tempt the palate of almost anybody, try one of the following recipes for that all-American favorite, "Apple pie."

- Old Fashioned Apple Pie
 - 6 to 8 large tart apples
 - Pastry for 2-crust pie
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 - 2 tablespoons flour
 - 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- Pare apples, cut in quarters. Remove cores; slice thin. Line 9-inch pie pan with pastry. Mix sugar, flour and spices, rub a little sugar mixture into pastry. Place sliced apples overlapping in the pie pan. Add remaining sugar mixture, and dot

Who's helping you hold down health care costs?

Here's what KENTUCKY-BLUE CROSS and BLUE SHIELD® are doing:

We represent the consumer in matters relating to the cost of health care. Even if you are not a member of Blue Cross and Blue Shield you benefit from what we do to encourage cost consciousness in providing health care services.

It's true that the price of health care has gone up, like most other prices. Some increases couldn't be avoided if we are to continue to improve our medical facilities and services, and we will want the best health care possible when illness and injury strike.

We work closely with the providers of health care to make sure only needed and necessary increases are implemented.

But if you're concerned about health care costs, there are ways you can help. Don't ask your doctor to put you in a hospital unless it's really necessary. Don't stay longer than you must. Every day someone spends a hospital unnecessarily adds the cost of health care for everyone.

You are not alone in the struggle against high health care costs. Blue Cross and Blue Shield are with you.

Our only business is helping you get good health care you can afford.

Questions and Answers

Q. I have hired a woman to stay with my mother as a companion while she is recuperating from an operation. Should I report her earnings and pay the social security contributions on the wages I pay her?

A. Yes, if you pay her cash wages of $80 or more in a calendar quarter (3-month period of the year). For more information, go in touch with any social security office. Ask for the free leaflet, Social Security and Your Household Employees.

Q. Since I will be 62 later this year, I plan to apply for reduced monthly social security retirement benefits a couple of months before my birthday. I understand that I can earn up to $1,680 a year without losing any benefits. From what date do I begin counting the $1,680—from the date I apply for benefits or the date I become 62?

A. Neither. Start counting from the first of the year toward the $1,680, even though you apply for benefits and become 62 later that year. However, regardless of your total earnings for the year, benefits are paid for any month in which you do not earn over $140.

Q. I am 65 and have Medicare, but my doctor does not accept direct payment from Medicare and has sent me an itemized bill. How can I file a claim for the amount Medicare will reimburse me over the $50 annual deductible?

A. Follow the directions outlined in Your Medicare Handbook. Fill out Part 1 of the Request for Medicare Payment form and attach the itemized bill. Then mail the itemized bill and the form to the address shown in the upper left-hand corner of the form. You'll find extra copies of the form at most doctors' offices or at any social security office. If you have any problems understanding the form, call

Killer Kite

"Kite weather" sent eight-year-old Jimmy into an open field to try his luck. Using a thin copper wire for a string, he soon had his box kite soaring into the sky.

Then, tragedy. Jimmy's kite crossed a high-tension power line and deadly voltage crackled downward, killing him instantly.

Could the power company be held legally liable for the boy's family? In a court hearing, they blamed his death on the fact that the high-tension line had not been insulated.

However, the court held the company not responsible. The judge said Jimmy's use of copper wire instead of an ordinary string was too unusual to have been foreseen and guarded against.

Courts generally agree that power companies cannot be expected to take precautions against freak accidents. Nevertheless, since electricity is such a dangerous product, they do carry a higher-than-average burden of responsibility.

In another case, a boy's kite snagged on a power pole. When he climbed the pole to retrieve his kite, he touched an uninsulated line and suffered a bad burn.

This time, three factors weighed against the company:

- 1) that the pole was right next to a playground;
- 2) that it had steps, easy for children to climb; and
- 3) that no DANGER signs had been posted.

A court duly awarded damages to the injured boy, saying that the company could fairly have foreseen this kind of an accident.

And tree climbing is even more foreseeable than pole climbing. Thus:

A boy got a shock from an uninsulated wire that crossed through the upper branches of a tree in front of his house. Sued later for damages, the power company pointed out that there was nothing in the tree—no snagged kite, no frightened child—no tempting fruit—that would justify the boy's venture into the treetop.

But the court held the company liable anyhow, for misjudging human nature.

"The immemorial habit of small boys to climb trees," said the court, "is a habit which corporations stretching their wires over such trees must take notice of."

Student Finds Inspiration In Summer As Senate Page

When Craig Crawford was looking for a summer job he went straight to the top in his chosen career — the United States Senate.

Craig, 16, spent the summer months as a page in the Senate chambers in Washington, running errands for the men who hold a post Craig someday hopes to occupy himself.

While Craig, the first page, appointed by U.S. Sen. Ed Durney, R-Fla., hopes to become a senator, his ambition does not stop there. He is already eyeing the top job in the nation — the presidency.

Craig, a junior at Oak Ridge High School, described Durney as "real sharp" and "a hard worker." He is also a staunch fan of President Nixon and once obtained 1,000 signatures on a telegram to the President supporting his position on Vietnam, China and Russia.

"Being a page made me want even more to become a senator," Craig said, although he admitted, "They have long hours and it's hard work."

lounge. He told me to stand by the door and not let anyone in," Craig recalled.

Craig, who delivered messages from McGovern's aides, was the only person other than a stenographer allowed in the room during the sessions.

Although he is a Young Republican, Craig said he admires Egan and considers him one of the finest senators he met. "Although I don't agree with his political views, I liked him very much. He once took me into his office and talked with me for 15 minutes."

Before reporting to Washington for the job, Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crawford, 4228 Brandies Ave., toured Norway, Denmark and England. Craig, a linebacker on the Oak Ridge Junior varsity football team, served as president of his sophomore class and was voted most outstanding Oak Ridge 10th grader. He is president of the junior class this year.

He is also a member of the Honor Society and past president of the Student Council, does volunteer work at Sunland Hospital and is a junior deacon in his church.

Craig is also one of 24 Oak Ridge students selected for an experimental program called PhiLites to combat drug abuse.

"PhiLites means friendship in Greek," he said. "That's the idea of our club — it's a peer group idea on the drug approach."

"Not so much on moral issues do we approach young people but on problems drug stem from, like home relationships," he said.

Next semester his Positive Community Action Class, instructed by Bill Weldon, plans to take the program to the junior high schools.

A civic-minded youth who stumps for his favorite candidates and issues, Craig was foreman of one of the first

Youth Juries in Orange County and was praised by former Juvenile Court Judge J. Chester Kerr for his leadership and recommendations. Craig is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crawford, Sr., of Randolph Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Ben S. Craig of Mt. Vernon.

The case of the disappearing paycheck and what to do about it.

Some people learn the hard way. Paychecks disappear fast.

Day-to-day living expenses eat up a lot. And maybe part goes in the savings account for this year's vacation or another immediate goal.

A good chunk of that money seems to disappear by itself.

So it's no wonder that when it comes to long-term goals, or when an emergency comes up, there simply aren't funds to meet the need.

Unless there was a neat egg building up all that time. A good way to build that nest egg is with U.S. Savings Bonds. The easy way to buy them is to sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. An amount you specify will be set aside from your paycheck and used to buy Bonds.

And while you're going through grocery bills, car repairs, vacation weekends, kids' toys and nights out on the town, you'll know you're saving money too.

That's good to know. *

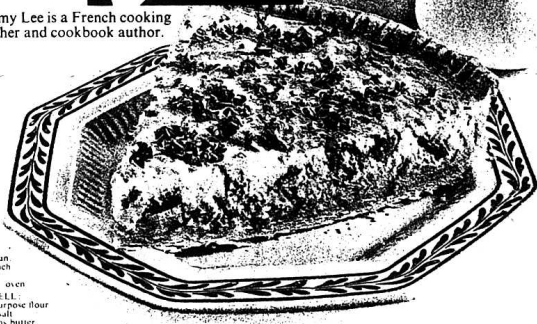

Now U.S. Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years. 10% interest when held to maturity of 10 years. Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. Who's the thief? They can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America. Join the Payroll Savings Plan.

Make chef Jimmy Lee's Cheese Pie tonight.

Jimmy Lee is a French cooking teacher and cookbook author.

- Buttered pie pan
- 1/2 cup (1 1/2 inch) shortening
- Preheated 375 oven
- PASTRY SHELL:
 - 1 cup all-purpose flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 cup water
 - 1/2 cup butter
 - 1/2 cup lemon juice
- FILLING:
 - 1/2 cup sliced bacon cooked and crumbled
 - 1/2 cup Swiss cheese
 - 1/2 cup tablepoons packaged bread crumbs
 - 1/2 cup light cream or half and half
 - 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper
 - 1 tablepoons butter
 - 1/2 cup (1 1/4 oz.) evaporated milk plus 1/2 cup water may be beaten with eggs
 - 2 tablepoons chopped parsley, OR scallions

To prepare Shell: In a bowl mix together flour and salt. Cut in butter and lard until mixture resembles coarse meal. Gradually add water and lemon juice mixing lightly with a fork. Roll out on lightly floured surface 1/4-inch thick and 13 inches in diameter; place in pie pan. Trim off excess dough around edge; decorate edge with lines of a fork. Cut waxed paper into a 12-inch square; butter one side and place buttered side down on bottom of shell. Pour 2 cups uncured rice or beans onto waxed paper (this keeps pastry flat while baking). Bake 8-9 minutes. Remove waxed paper and rice. Return shell to oven and bake 10 minutes. To prepare filling: Sprinkle 2 tablepoons cheese and bread crumbs over bottom of pastry shell. Top with 1/2 the cooked bacon. In mixing bowl beat eggs, cream, mustard, salt and pepper until well blended. Stir in remaining cheese. Pull out oven rack. Place pan on rack. Fill with egg mixture. Sprinkle remaining bacon on top; dot with butter. Bake 30-35 minutes or until a knife inserted near center comes out clean. Sprinkle over parsley OR scallions. Let stand 10 minutes before serving.

*1 tall can (14 1/2 oz.) evaporated milk plus 1/2 cup water may be beaten with eggs and seasonings in place of the 2 cups light cream or half and half.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return
Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

- Q) When cleaning house, I came across some records I used to prepare my 1970 tax return. Can I throw them away?
- A) No. You should keep tax records that support an item of income or a deduction at least three years from the date the return was due or filed, whichever occurs later. Records of property transactions should be kept for as long as they are material in determining the cost or other basis of your property.
- Q) I sold my home at a loss. Can I deduct the loss on my tax return?
- A) No. A loss on the sale or exchange of your residence is not deductible. In addition, should you buy a new home, this loss would have no effect

- on the basis of your new residence.
- Q) I just sold my summer cottage and I plan to buy a new summer home in a few months. Can I postpone the tax on the gain I realized on the sale?
- A) No. If you have more than one residence, only the sale of your principal residence qualifies for the rule allowing the postponement of tax.
- Q) This year I will probably receive more than $200 in interest and taxable dividends in addition to my salary. Do I have to file a Federal estimated tax return?
- A) No. Because of a change in the tax law, you do not have to file a declaration of estimated tax (Form 1040-ES) merely because you have in-from cattle and calves exceeded that from tobacco. Cash receipts for farm products were $945,627,000, while total gross income was $1,095,700,000, which included the value of products consumed on the farm, government payments, etc. Cattle and calves returned $280,046,000, which was 26.5% of total cash receipts. Tobacco accounted for 28.7%, dairy products 13.7%, hogs 9.5%, and eggs and other livestock products 4.0%. Let's talk about how to use farm information sources more wisely. Where can we get the best information to guide us in our farming? All of us nowadays must get information from other people to help us in doing our own jobs well. Our physicians must depend on what they learn from other physicians and from medical research. Our scientists and engineers have reported in technical papers, in conferences, and in books, I, as a county agent, depend on research bulletins and magazines, and on what you farm people tell me. More and more as a farmer you must depend on technical specialists for information which will enable you to make the best decisions in your farming operations. Today, there are more than a dozen different sources of farm information used by farmers. These include newspapers, radio, television, farm papers, the Extension Agent, Soil Conservation Service, representatives of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation, Vocational Agriculture, Salesmen and dealers in farm supplies, and other farmers. The biggest problem each farmer has therefore is not in finding someone to give him help and advice, but in finding the right one for the particular problem at the right time.

Research with Kentucky farmers shows that the most successful farmers in general get farm information from a larger number of different sources than do less successful farmers. There are two main reasons why getting information from a wide variety of different sources is helpful. In the first place the more different persons, agencies, or sources you have frequent contact with, the more likely it is that you will hear by chance about a new idea or practice that you can use to good advantage in your own farming operations. In other words by having contact with many sources you tend to increase your opportunities to learn about things that will be helpful to you. The second reason, and perhaps the most important one, why using a variety of farm information from the source that can provide the most useful information. For instance, you can get timely farming tips and a limited amount of information about many new farming ideas by listening to information radio programs, reading the farm page of newspaper, or reading farm magazines. But since these programs and articles are prepared for large numbers of farmers whose farm situations differ, the specific details you may need are often omitted.

For information and advice on the applicability of a particular practice to your situation, you must turn to other sources. No farmer of course needs to be told to check with his neighbors about their experiences with a new variety of seed, or a new method of livestock breeding. But, for an increasing number of new farm practices specialized technical skill is required which only agricultural specialists in the Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, or other agencies can provide. The most successful farmers maintain regular contact with representatives of these agencies for the purpose of obtaining the most specialized information and advice available. It really pays off. *****
