Disabled Workers Should Apply Promptly For Monthly Social Security Payments

Workers who face a possible long-term disability should apply for social security benefits as soon as possible to avoid loss of payments if they may be entitled to, according to social security officials here.

Social security pays monthly cash benefits to eligible workers and their families if the worker is severely disabled and cannot work for a year or more. "Back payments can only be made for up to 12 months," a social security spokesman said. "So you shouldn't delay your application—even if you're not sure you'll qualify for payments."

About one of every 12 workers who get social security disability payments doesn't get all of his back benefits because he didn't apply soon enough, according to the spokesman. "If you're disabled and haven't applied for benefits, call any social security office and apply as soon as possible," he said. "Or ask a friend or relative to call for you."

It can help speed up the processing of the claim if the disabled worker has certain information ready when he applies, the spokesman noted. "For example, we'll need the names and addresses of doctors and hospitals involved, dates of treatment, and a brief history of the disability," he said.

To qualify for payments, a worker must be disabled before 65. "He must have worked long enough on jobs covered by social security. That's generally at least 5 years of work during the 10 before the disability began," the spokesman said. "But younger workers can qualify with less covered work—as little as 1½ years for workers under 24. Most jobs are covered."

The disability can be a severe physical or mental impairment that prevents any substantial work for

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bales of London and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bales were called to Knoxville, Tennessee, where they will attend the funeral of Miss Ruth Overbay.

Mrs. Frank Norman and daughter, Eva Marie, and Mr. and Mrs. George Philps attended the funeral of his brother, Rev. J.L. Philps at Bartonsville last Sunday.

Mrs. Cleo Manthey helped her grandfather, Charlie Moore, celebrate his 85th birthday, Saturday with a beautiful dinner. Several guests were present.

Mrs. James Peters and Mrs. Lela McClure were in Somerset last Tuesday on business.

Mrs. Wagne Durham and Mrs. Pearl Halcomb were in Corbin and London Thursday shopping.

a year or more.

Because of a recent change in the law, starting in January 1973, social security payments to workers after the disability began, and the first check will be delivered early in the 7th month. Under the old law, payments began in the 7th month after the disability started, and the first check was delivered early in the 8th month.

Social security pays $390 million a month in disability benefits to 3 million people—17 million disabled workers and 13 million members of their families. The average payment to a disabled worker with a wife and children is $855 a month. In selected cases, social security helps pay for vocational rehabilitation services from State and local agencies, the spokesman said.

of four persons who died in a head-on collision in Trimble County several hours before the holiday week end officially began.

The official count began at 5 p.m., Wed., Nov. 22 and ended at midnight, Sun., Nov. 26. As compared with the Thanksgiving Day week end of 1971, the official count this year now stands at six fewer deaths.

State police said that single car accidents accounted for seven of the deaths reported, while two others died in multi-car crashes. The remaining three victims were pedestrians.

All but one of the victims were killed within their home counties. The sole exception was a 20-year-old male from Fairborn, Ohio who was found dead at the scene after his car ran off the road in Morgan County and struck a telephone pole.

Only two of the holiday deaths occurred on Kentucky's interstate system. One involved a pedestrian who was struck by a passing car on the Bluegrass Parkway near Lawrenceburg and died en route to the University of Kentucky Medical Center at Lexington.

The other victim, identified as Michael Craig, 26, of Shelbyville, was killed on 84 in Shelby County when her car ran into the rear end of a truck. State police said she was the oldest person to die on Kentucky highways that week end. The youngest was James Larry Goodwin, 16, of Philpot, who was listed as a pedestrian fatality.

State police also reported investigating a total of 478 other traffic accidents during the long week end. Motorists charged with drunken driving totaled 14. In addition, the trooper cited another 1583 drivers for other moving violations such as speeding and reckless driving.

The holiday week end death toll brought the fatality count in Kentucky to 997 persons, as compared with 907 on the same date one year ago.

Cook chicken about 45 minutes in a unit tender; remove from broth and remove skin and bones when cool enough to handle. Separate into small pieces.

Combine chicken, salt and water in a large pan. Simmer covered about 2 hours or until meat is tender. Add bouillon cubes and celery. Cover and simmer 10 minutes.

Sir in noodles. Cover and simmer for 7 to 10 minutes or until noodles and celery are tender.

Add a little hot water if a thinner soup is desired.

You & The Draft

Because it now appears that the nation's draft boards may lose their induction authority on July 1, 1973, reorganization of our present system of draft offices will be necessary.

In Kentucky, our present system of county draft offices will be replaced by regional offices, reducing the number of locations from 120 to approximately 35. Although the timetable for the reorganization is not yet firm, we anticipate the change-over from county to regional offices will be completed by June 30, 1973.

Reorganization plans are being coordinated with Gov. Wendell Ford.

All regional sites have not yet been determined. Under current plans, records from approximately four or more counties will be maintained in a regional office county by county. The central office will be located in the largest community in the region.

Under the regional concept, a local board with unpaid members will continue to function in each county. Draft board members' duties will remain the same, primarily the classification of registrants. Local boards will continue to meet each month and a secretary from the regional office will attend each meeting. The registrars will receive new classifications at each meeting, and mail Notice of Classification forms to registrants.

The proposed cutback in offices really is not a new idea. When the Selective Service Law was re-enacted in 1948, a provision was made for tri-county local boards.

We wish to emphasize that, under the regional concept, a local board with five unpaid members will continue in each county. Young men still will be able to register in their home counties, although the law does provide that young men may register away from home for convenience.

Letting each young man know when and where he must register is something we will deal with through newspaper advertising, radio spots and counseling in the schools. In cases where these methods do not work effectively, a letter from the draft board will be used. The board will provide a toll-free telephone number whereby registrants can obtain general information.

Rockets Squeak By Berea And Crab Orchard

The Rockcastle Rockets edged by a slim Berea, 64 to 61 in a home game last Friday night. It wasn't one of the Rockets' best games of the season - although Clayton Cash scored 21 points which is his high for the season.

The Rockets were down much of the first quarter, in fact at one point by five points, but were ahead at the end of the first quarter 15 to 14.

The second quarter was much the same with Berea leading almost the whole way and at half-time 36 to 32. The Rockets made the first two points in the last minute and Berea missed a several open game that would have tied the game and probably sent it into overtime.

The Rockets "B" team also got a 36-34 win over Berea which

School Board Seeks

The Rockcastle County Board of Education opened the one bid received for employees compensation insurance for their regular meeting Monday night. The bid, for $3,892 on a per-roll of over $1,300,000, was placed by State Farm Insurance. The board accepted the bid.

The resignation of Mrs. Terry Cummins as music teacher was accepted and Mrs. Margie Wilcox, former music teacher, was hired as her replacement.

The board also agreed to submit an intent to purchase three new school buses next year. Superintendent Parsons told the board that the intent would be filed with the State Department of Education in order that the local board might take advantage of the lower price obtainable on a state-wide bid. The board plans to purchase one 54 passenger bus, one sixty passenger bus and one 66 passenger bus.

In other business, the board approved the use of school buses for the Restro Valley Christmas Party; authorized a resolution agreement between Hymer Ford Sales of Berea and the Board of Education for a new car to be used in driver education courses. The car is furnished by Hymer Ford with Mullins with a gift in appreciation and repairs; decided to leave the January meeting date on the first Monday as usual even though it falls on New Year's Day; signed a letter of no-conflict of interest required as part of an audit of the school board's records by J. Courtney Horton, CPA and discussed the purchase of a used pallet truck for use on the Mullins Truck Road as a school bus. At the conclusion of the meeting, Chairman Rudolph Burdette presented outgoing board member Virgil Hines with a gift in appreciation of his services to the board over the last years.

Attorney General Opinion Given On Taping of Board Meetings

In answer to an inquiry from Superintendent of Schools Charles B. Parsons, the office of the Attorney General recently ruled on the right of a local radio station to make a tape recording of school board meetings for the purpose of broadcasting by radio the following day.

The opinion was given following a letter which Mr. Parsons wrote to Ray Coran of the State Department of Education November 14, asking for advice on the subject. Mr. Coran, a member of the Department's legal staff, returned the letter to the Attorney General's office for an opinion.

In the written opinion, the answer was "negative." Carl Miller, an assistant Attorney General, stated, "A school board has full control over its meetings. It may allow them to be open meetings attended by the public or may hold them in a private session closed to the public. The only restriction on the board is that its minutes constitute public records and may be inspected by any interested citizen. A local radio station may obtain a copy of the minutes and read them over the air if it wishes to do so."

The opinion further stated, "The right of the public to be informed does not include the right to make tape recordings of court sessions or government meetings..." "If the school board does not wish to have its meetings recorded on tape, it has full authority to prohibit the presence of a tape recorder in the meeting room."

"Local council stations" referred to by Mr. Parsons was WRVK Radio Station in Restro Valley. Two representatives of the station, Larry Burdette and John Grider, were present at Monday night's regular meeting of the board and taped the meeting. The matter was not discussed prior to or during the meeting and neither Mr. Parsons nor any board member raised any objections to the taping. After the meeting, Mr. Parsons asked Mr. Burdette when the tape would be broadcast and was told sometime the following day. Mr. Burdette then asked Mr. Parsons to supply him with a copy of the minutes and was told that although he (Mr. Burdette) wouldn't make him (Mr. Burdette) a copy, the minutes would be available to be copied as soon as they were written up.

Mr. Parsons was asked after the meeting by the Signal reported also present when the board had decided to let the meeting be taped. Mr. Parsons stated that he had not discussed the subject with the members and had decided to wait and see if they would be disagreeable to having the meeting taped. According to Mr. Parsons, after the meeting broke up, he was telephoned by Mr. Burdette and asked if the tape could be cut and spliced to be used in the radio station's newscast of the meeting. Mr. Parsons said there were still four of the five board members present in his office when the tape came and he asked them their feelings on the tape being edited. Mr. Parsons said they (the board) all agreed that if the tape were used on the air, it would have to be in its entirety and not edited.

The radio station did not use the tape at all. *****

County Opens Grader Bids; Discusses Garbage Collection

Bids for a new county grader were opened at Tuesday's meeting of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court. The low bidder was Kingsley Equipment Co. of Lexington. The bid for John Deere equipment. Their bid of $17,300 was for a grader with 85 horsepower and 100 horsepower which for in the specifications, a majority of the Fiscal Court felt that the difference in horsepower didn't warrant the extra money.

The Court then went on to a discussion of a garbage collection system for the county. Several men were on hand to talk with the Court about the system but the Court decided that specifications should be drawn up by the Court and bids taken from those interested. Judge Carter gave the Fiscal Court a list of areas in the county where the collection should be made. The list was as follows: Hill South of Mt. Vernon; Rader; Lamer; Pine Hill; Calloway; Lamo; Red Hill; Brush Creek; Maple Grove; Cilmay; Green Hill; Roundstone; Wildie; Dispenza; Scaffold Case; Conway; Seider; top of the hill at the Broadhead-Conway Road; Copper Creek; Gum Sulphur; Bowlegs Ridge; Hill at Nigger Creek; Frank Gentry Road on Highway 70; Quail; Willallie; Hwy. 461 near Denney's; Forestry; Sand Springs and Blue Springs. It instituted, the Court hopes to make the service mandatory and without charge to users. The Court told those interested that the next time an article put in the paper after specifications were drawn up.

Leslie Gay, County Attorney for Lexington, is a member of the Cooper, also an attorney from Pulaski County, met with the Court to discuss the Public Defender system currently being set-up in the state under the new law passed by the last Legislature.

Mr. Gay told the Court that each Judicial District (Rockcastle and Pulaski Counties comprise a Judicial District) would have three methods of setting up the system in their district. According to Mr. Gay, one method would be a non-profit corporation formed by the counties and the corporation would provide an attorney for indigent defendants as needed. The attorney's fee would be set by the Court and paid from the $14,000 allotted to this district. Another method, Mr. Gay said, would be the county system whereby an incorporation would be formed and the Court, before whom the defendant eligible for a Public Defender was first tried, would appoint an attorney who would be paid from the $14,000 available. (The $14,000 is from monies allocated by the State for fees for attorneys working as Public Defenders). The third alternative, according to Mr. Gay, would be to do nothing but the County would have to let an attorney be appointed by State Public Defender Anthony Wilhoit. Mr. Gay said that this would be the most desirable of the three plans since by this method, the entire $14,000 would be paid to the attorney appointed and the two counties would jointly be liable for all of the overhead expenses of the office except the salary of the attorney. The attorney appointed would not be eligible to practice private law any where in the state during his appointment.

However, Judge Carter disagreed with the interpretation of the law and said that it was the way he read it was that the two counties would be liable for the expenses of the office of Public Defender only if an appointment by the State Defender was not made. The County would take any action on the proposal.

Frankfort Watchline

State Democratic Chairman J.R. Miller surely can be excused if he exudes pride over helping elect the first Democrat to the U.S. Senate in 16 years. It was one of his prime goals, and maybe Miller can relax awhile. But a valid question at this time is: What next?

For, if the Democrats can finally get on of their own installed at Washington at long last, why not the second senator in 1974?

Republican Marlow Cook of Louisville holds that post, by virtue of a 1968 victory over Democrat Kabornus Peden, who emerged from almost a dozen rivals in her primary and then ran out of money in the final weeks of the general election.

Furthermore, Cook's triumph by 36,000 was not overly impressive, even if it had Breashtitt administration was backing Lady Peden wholeheartedly.

Some Democrats always have regarded Cook as vulnerable when he comes up for election again. Their reasons may or may not be logical, but last month's senatorial outcome strengthens that thinking. In short, the pendulum seems to be swinging to the Democrats.

Now, as we recall, two men seem to be carrying in their hip pockets Miller's implied blessing to tackle Cook.

They are Breashtitt and John Y. Brown Jr., who also needs no further introduction. You may remember that Breashtitt bowed out of a Senate primary against Dew Radcliffe after a chat with newly-elected Gov. Wendell Ford and Miller.

Breashtitt implied afterwards—he never said so flatly—that he received a promise of Ford-Miller backing for a 1974 thrust against Cook. Then along came Brown, doing yeoman work for Kentucky and national Democrats— which mainly meant raising lots of money. How do you ignore someone like that?

We're guessing Brown will be the Democratic nominee. After all, Breashtitt has had his taste of public service and now is comfortably seconed as an official for Southern Railway.

But, wait a minute. All is not coming up roses between the Ford-Miller combine and Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll, who seemingly is in line for governor in 1976.

Occasionally we see a puff of smoke and, lo, the name of another potential gubernatorial candidate floats in the breeze, a name other than Julian Carroll.

Like state Senate President pro-tem William Sullivan of Henderson, Campbell County Judge Andrew Jolly and Adl. Gen. Richard Frymire of Madisonville.

Still, Brown appears to head the list, and at this point there is some confusion.

Obviously Brown can't be senator in 1974 and governor in 1976. So what's cooking?

There's a wild report that Ford might resign as governor and run for the Senate. A week ago, we'd have said "nonsense," but in Washington the other day, Ford would not rule out the chance that he might run.

It would seem that Miller and Carroll should hold summit conference eventually.

However, there is an aura of coolness between the two, it dates back to other times and other races. But that's another story.

Felty Lawmakers— Though they've been away from their desks and smoke-filled rooms for almost five months, some of Kentucky's lawmakers showed the other day that they take their combative spirit along wherever they go.

During a committee debate over whether or not the governor should be asked to call the special session to spend the state's revenue-sharing bonanza, a couple of legislators bristled.

Committee chairman William Kenton of Lexington, a Democrat, had said he thought the whole thing was a play to the press, and also said something about a rump session.

Up jumped Republican Bruce Bythe of Louisville to say he was astounded. Democrat Nick Katopis of Bowling Green joined him, saying he resented being called part of a rump session.

Kenton apologized and oil was spread on the waters, but for awhile it seemed like old times.

Housing Problem—Dew Radcliffe and family are looking for a house in the Washington area, of course, and inevitably real estate people mail enticements to rent or buy their offerings.

The senator-elect was enchanted by a picture of one home—on the Potomac River, no less—and read interestedly, until he came to the last line.

It said, as a kind of clincher, that the house had last been appraised for $235,000.

Letter To The Editor

Mr. Larry Burdette, the school board member, and John Grider from WRVK Radio Station were on hand at Monday night's school board meeting with their tape recorders and microphones.

The tape recorder was turned on the moment the chairman called the meeting to order and was permitted to run the entire length of the meeting which lasted about one hour.

School board members and secretary were a little tense and discussions were slowed because of the new experience of being taped for radio broadcasts.

At the end of the meeting

Mr. Larry Burdette asked for a copy of the minutes. Mr. Charles Parsons, secretary to the board told Mr. Burdette that he could come back to the office and see a copy of the minutes as soon as they were written up possibly on the following day. Mr. Parsons told Mr. Burdette that he could come to the office and see a copy of the minutes since this is the customary procedure.

Other visitors at the meeting were Mrs. Board member from the Mt. Vernon Signal and Mrs. Giesna Baker.

Shortly after the meeting ended John Grider called the school board office and asked if he could cut and splice the tape and use only the parts he wished to hear.

Four members of the board were still present at the time of the phone call. When asked their opinion about cutting the tape they agreed with the superintendent not to allow WRVK to cut and splice and only use parts. They felt that if any part of the tape was used for broadcasts that it all should be used.

It was felt that if only portions of the tape was put on the radio the public would get a distorted picture of the school board meeting.

The public is again reminded that school board meetings are open and visitors are welcome.

Charles B. Parsons, Sec. Rockcastle Co. Bd. of Educ.

NOTICE: Students and Parents During the next few months we face the common problem of bad weather which might necessitate the cancellation of school.

In case of snow, ice or other hazardous conditions please listen to WRVK Radio Station, Radio Valley or to WRVK Radio 84 Louisville for cancellation announcements. Both radio stations will be notified by 6:30 A.M. in case of cancellations.

You are urged not to call the radio station since so many phone calls will hinder their work and make it harder for them to get the news out.

What do you want... a home you don't have to paint?

The 3-bedroom OXFORD

Jim Walter builds a better buy!

Actually our homes do require painting... but not very often. Here's why... the siding used by Jim Walter Homes is hardwood. We call it "wood made better" because modern technology has made it possible to imitate upon lumber, nature's own building material. We actually take the trees, pull them apart, put them back together again and make it almost entirely impervious to dry rot, warpage and other deficiencies usually associated with wood. Then, in the factory, our hardwood siding is primed for painting, and the backside is surface-sealed to prevent absorption of moisture, a natural enemy of paint. It is then practically non-porous, meaning that you use less paint and you paint less often. And if you dread the tedious chore of painting windows, rest again... Jim Walter Homes installs aluminum windows that never need to be painted.

So once in a while you'll have to paint your homestead, but in the long run you'll be able to spend more time relaxing, playing golf or lying back in your hammock. Whatever you enjoy doing for relaxation, you'll be able to do more of it... and enjoy living in your new home by Jim Walter besides.

Before you get too relaxed, though, here's how a little work can save you a lot of dollars... the amount depends upon how much interior work you do for yourself. Jim Walter Homes will build a two, three or four bedroom home on your property, completely finishing the outside, including the first paint job, but stop at almost any stage of interior completion. You can pocket big savings by doing all or just a little of the inside finish work. To make it even more convenient, we'll furnish the material and include the cost in your mortgage payments.

OVER 20 "BETTER BUY" MODELS BUILT ON YOUR PROPERTY... Call your local Jim Walter Homes' manager for complete information and the cost of building on your property. He'll show you the more than 20 different two, three and four bedroom models, some with two baths, and he'll explain how qualified property owners can get INSTANT MORTGAGE FINANCING. Q. When I was 65 last spring, I signed up for medical insurance under Medicare. I now have three doctor bills to send in for payment. Must I fill out and send in a request for payment form with each doctor bill?

A. No. One request for payment form (SSA-1490) can be used for several bills from one doctor, or even bills from a number of different doctors if they are in the same geographical area.

Q. I signed up for both parts of Medicare over a year ago when I became 65. Now my doctor has told me I'll need to go to the hospital soon for an operation. Will you mail me a hospital insurance claim form so I'll have it when I go in the hospital?

A. You won't need a claim form. The hospital will take care of all the paper work for you. Just show your Medicare card to the admissions office when you check into the hospital.

M.M. 2 John B. Carson and Mrs. Carson arrived in Sasebo, Japan November 13 aboard the U.S.S. White Plains. They will be making their home in Sasebo, Japan where he is stationed. ment in each meal accounts for the largest percentages of the weekly food bill. And one sure way to cut down on that percentage is to use broiler-tryers as your entree as often as possible.

So, it should be good news to the economy-minded homemaker that broiler-tryers are in especially plentiful supply during December.

One of the best ways to cut costs with chicken is by buying it whole. But, one of the disadvantages to buying a whole chicken is that many families don't like all parts of the chicken. However, this needn't be a real problem—just fry or broil your favorite parts and bake what's left for chicken salad or use in a cooked dish such as chicken and dumplings or chicken soup.

To help you use up those "extra parts," or the whole chicken if you really want to, try the following recipes:

CHICKEN-MACARONI SALAD
3 cups (about 8-ounce uncooked) elbow macaroni, cooked
1 cup celery, diced
2 cups chicken, cooked and diced

2 tablespoons minced onion
1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

1 teaspoon salt (if meat is unseasoned)
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 or 2 eggs, hard-cooked and chopped
Combine ingredients, except eggs; mix gently. Carefully mix in eggs or save them for garnish if desired. Chill before serving.

CHICKEN & DUMPLINGS

1/2 cup flour
1/3 cup water
4 cups hot chicken bouillon
1 quart cooked chicken, large pieces
1 cup flour
1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk

Mix flour with the water to make a smooth paste. Gradually blend into the hot broth or bouillon. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Add turkey and salt as needed. Simmer, covered, while preparing dumplings. Stir occasionally.

Mix flour, baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt thoroughly. Add milk, stirring 10 times. Drop dough from a tablespoon onto the me t and broth, making 12 dumplings.

Cover tightly and simmer 15 minutes without lifting the cover of the pan.

CHICKEN NOODLE SOUP
2 1/2 to 3 pounds cooked, frying chicken
1 tablespoon salt
6 cups water
8 cubes chicken bouillon
1 cup chopped celery, leaves
4 ounces noodles, uncooked

County Agent's Notes

By: H. Lee Durham

What to do in December
"Under the snows of each December lie buds of next year's May, remember, O'aks the snows lie up year's flowers, and always shed life happy hours."

This wrote the late nature poet, Douglas Millich, who, no doubt, was also a gardener at heart and who, when winter closed in as it generally does this month, exchanged the hoe for a pen and kept up his spirits by writing about gardening.

Actually there's not much one can do this month in the way of gardening, but there are some things that can be done to enhance the chance of a better garden in the "happy hours" ahead.

One thing is to remove any thick, tangled weed or grass patch still remaining from last fall. Such a patch makes a snug winterharbor for field mice and hibernating insects. If local ordinances permit, these thickets can be destroyed by burning. If this method is used, however, be sure to choose a windless day and take precautions against the fire getting out of hand. Also before burning muntz egg cases that may be present on tall weeds. One certainly wouldn't want to destroy future colonies of these extremely beneficial insects.

Also fruit trees and ornamental shrubs can be checked for cocoons and eggs of insects which may emerge as pests come spring—particularly eggs of tent caterpillars. Close examination of apple or wild cherry tree twigs may reveal small, dark, amber-colored collars of eggs that will hatch into colonies of these leaf-eating pests. The eggs can be removed with a stiff brush or the twigs can be cut away and burned.

Another humane and useful thing a gardener can do is set up feeding stations to attract and sustain birds that will help in searching out and destroying insect eggs and hibernating bugs.

A platform erected in some sheltered spot and kept stocked with table scraps, cracked corn, or commercial wild bird seed, and a piece of suet in a basket made from chicken wire and swung from a tree limb, will do the trick. Don't start this bird feeding, however, if you can't keep it up. Birds soon learn to depend upon this source of food and starve if it stops. Certainly they will leave and you may have less help with insect problems come spring.

During December, and for that matter, the rest of the

Some of the Greatest Gift Ideas are Electric!

Personal gifts seem to have more meaning when they make life easier and more enjoyable. That's why an electric gift says so much to that special someone. And electric items are accurate and reliable. All powered with clean, flameless, economical electricity.

Mother's Day? How about a hairdryer... an electric toothbrush... a decorator clock... or a warm electric blanket? Father's Day? Delight Dad with an electric razor, an electric charcoal starter, a handy power tool set, or a radio for his workbench. Wedding? What newlyweds couple would not appreciate an electric blender, a knife sharpener, electric can opener, or a beautiful lamp.

When gift time rolls around, buy an electric gift! It's a present that will last and last. And it shows you care enough to give something practical and useful.

Electricity — the cleanest energy you can use.

have read these columns over the past year and years, the best of the season to all of you from all of us.

Calf Feeding, Housing and Management

Many farmers have been shipping dairy calves in from out of state, often with disastrous results (75 to 90% deaths). This problem has been investigated by veterinarian organizations with some undesirable practices being going through 2 or 3 sales barns before shipment, calves being shipped without adequate food or rest, exposure to many calf diseases, inadequate veterinary inspection, etc. If a dairyman is considering shipping calves to raise your own, and the second best is to rent a truck or take your own truck and do your own shipping of the calves. Upon arrival, calves should be fed whole milk for a week until the stress of moving has subsided. Then switch them to a high quality milk replacer (most companies have a high and low grade replacer). Consult with your veterinarian on a disease prevention program. Clean, dry draft-free quarters with adequate ventilation are essential. Offer high quality hay and a good calf starter (University of Kentucky formula is available at your County Agent's Office). If cold housing is being used, wood stalls are desirable. Elevated stalls require intensive care to keep down odors and remove manure regularly. Individual stalls until after weaning are necessary for best results, and calves need concentrate mix and stored roughage until six months of age, and concentrate (4 lbs. a day) until one year of age. Above all, feed and inspect the calves regularly (twice a day) to keep ahead of potential disease problems.
