wooden plaque from the Louisville newspapers. Poster contest district winners will each receive a wooden plaque from the newspapers. District runners-up and school winners in both contests will receive certificates.

The best essay and best poster in each of Kentucky's 121 Soil and Water Conservation districts will be judged for state awards. First place in the essay contest will earn a $500 U. S. Savings Bond, second place a $200 bond, and third place a $100 bond. State awards in the poster contest are a $100 bond for first place, $75 bond for second, and $50 bond for third place.

The six top winners, their parents and teachers will be honored guests at the annual Farm Awards Luncheon in Louisville next March where the top prizes will be awarded.

The change came principally in the number of independent school districts, which dropped from 21,782 to 15,782 in the period. The reduction was due, for the most part, to reorganization and consolidation of districts.

On the other hand, the number of special districts - with functions relating to bridges, toll roads, soil conservation, public housing and the like - has been on the rise. They now total 23,886, as against 21,264 in 1967.

school. The Board decided instead to withhold $20,000 of the payment as a rebate to the school on the high electric bills paid by the school when the building was first put in use and another $5,000 for minor items which the Board wants the contractor to make right.

In other business, the Board granted a four-months-leave-of-absence to Mrs. Nancy Parkerson; approved five substitute teachers, subject to certification: George Carlos Carlotta, Cheryl Morgan, Cola G. Wilson, Byrda McCall and Debra Newman and approved Gene Centers as a bus driver for the Sand Hill run at a salary of $200 per month.

CARD OF THANKS...Words can't express our deep appreciation to all those who have been so kind to us since my accident. The donations, the cards, those who stayed with us in the hospital. The concern everyone has shown is sincerely appreciated. Thanks again to every one.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stevens

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family of Mrs. Lora E. Hayes was so kind during the illness and death of our loved one. A special thanks to Dr. Arvin and staff of Rockcastle County Hospital, Dr. Long and Dr. Hensch and staff of Central Baptist Hospital, Lexington, to the ones who sent flowers and brought food, the singers from Freedom Baptist Church and Wallace Proctor, the ministers Bro. Gibbs, Bro. Bundy and Bro. Brummett for their comforting words, the pallbearers and Cox Funeral Home for their kind and efficient service.

May God bless each one.

Mr. Thomas C. Hayes and Children

"BASS RECORD"

The fish must be weighed immediately and verified by at least one witness. The fish will be inspected for freshness, marks or signs of illegal catch. The fish must be caught with a rod and reel, or cane pole. Check with the Renfro Valley Boat Dock for complete details.

TAILORING WORKSHOP TO BE HELD

Due to many requests, a tailoring workshop will be held on Tuesday and Friday afternoons, 1 to 4 p.m., starting on November 16. The workshop will be conducted by Cheryl Witt, County Extension Agent for Home Economics and is sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service. The meeting is open to all and there will be no fee.

The workshop will be for experienced sewers and contain information on custom techniques as well as speed methods. Each participant will be expected to construct a women's or men's jacket or coat during the workshop. The classes will be limited so register now by calling 256-2403. The place will be announced later. The workshop will be ending the week before Christmas so it will be a chance to make someone special something special. An evening class may also be held if enough are interested.

PLAIDS AND SPECIAL FABRICS DEMONSTRATION

Do you have problems working with plaids or napped fabrics? How do you get the plaids to match? If you are interested in learning special tricks in pattern layout and cutting of fabrics, you will be interested in attending a special demonstration given by Cheryl Witt, County Extension Agent for Home - Economics. The demonstration will be held on November 26, 1 p.m., at the PCA Building in Mt. Vernon. If you are interested in attending, call 256-2403.

There will be an Adult Class "Getting Ready For The Holidays," offered in the Home Economics Department at Rockcastle County High School, beginning Thursday, November 8th at 7 p.m. All ladies interested in decorating ideas, gift making, gift wrapping, and Holiday foods, are invited to attend. For information, call 256-4816 and ask for one of the Home Economics teachers.

ARMY PRIVATE ELLIOTT STATIONED AT FT. HOOD

Army Private Boyd D. Elliott, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Elliott, Route 2, Mount Vernon, is serving with the 1st Cavalry Division at Ft. Hood, Texas.

Pvt. Elliott is a rifleman in the 2nd Battalion of the Division 7th Cavalry.

The 1st Cavalry Division, with a record of distinguished combat action since the days of the Mounted Trooper, was the first U. S. Army Division to be organized under the Airmobile concept. After service in Vietnam, its colors were returned to Ft. Hood, Texas, in May 1971, and the Division has undergone yet another reorganization. It is now the 1st Cavalry Division (Tripart).

Tripart stands for the triple capabilities of major maneuver elements of armor, airmobile infantry, and air cavalry. The Division is now composed of three brigades, one for each capability, together with artillery and support units.

Combining the knock-out power of armor, the maneuverability of airmobile infantry and the firepower of air cavalry is believed to have unlimited tactical possibilities. The Division is testing the experimental concept at Ft. Hood.

It's a matter of personal concern

Personal attention and dedication to serving Rockcastle Area families is a matter of individual concern with each member of the staff at the Dowell & Martin Funeral Home.

Our staff is active in serving our community through a wide variety of organizations. They are a part of the Rockcastle way of doing things, helping to make this County a better place to live and work. Their association with Rockcastle Area families gives them a close familiarity with the needs and desires of those they serve and a deep personal responsibility for assisting families throughout the entire funeral experience.

This personal consideration, backed by years of experience is an important part of the Dowell & Martin tradition of service. It is just one more reason why more Rockcastle Area families recommend Dowell & Martin.

An Open Letter Of Appreciation To Coach Glen Polly

The Rockcastle County Jaycees would like to take this means of expressing our appreciation to you, Coach Glen Polly, your staff and the football team for a winning season in your second year of coaching in Rockcastle County and first year of coaching a consolidated high school team.

We deeply appreciate the time and effort put into this achievement and feel sure that we also express the sentiments of the entire county of Rockcastle. Not only have the efforts of the coaching staff and football team been made manifest through the winning season but Coach Polly's individual contribution to the football program is also obvious.

We feel that a strong sports program is necessary to a good school system and we also feel that the sports programs in Rockcastle County are increasingly becoming programs in which the citizens of this county can take pride.

Again, we tip our hat to Coach Glen Polly personally for a job well done.

THE ROCKCASTLE COUNTY JAYCEES
Paul Hansel, President

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people of Rockcastle County who voted for me or helped me in any way during my campaign for County Judge.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bales visited Asie Stokes in a London Hospital Sunday and visited Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bales of E. Bernstadt.

David and Larry Mahaffey spent last week with their grandmother Mrs. Jane Smith.

Mrs. Evelyn Blackburn and daughter Mrs. Walter Lee Oliver of Berea accompanied her son Randolph Hammond to Veterans Hospital in Lexington Tuesday.

Mrs. Jane Smith was in Lexington Monday shopping.

Miss Arnetta Halcomb is able to be out after being confined to her home for the past ten days with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Vasa Vukosajev and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Stedham and family of Cincinnati were here Sunday to help her father W. R. Moore celebrate his 84th birthday. A bountiful dinner was served by his daughters. Mr. Moore is still confined to his home with a broken leg. Henry Loderwick of Cincinnati spent the weekend with his mother Mrs. Carrie Loderwick.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Smith Kelley of Hamilton, Ohio, who passed away last week. Mrs. Kelly was formerly of Livingston.

Cecil Budine is a patient at the Rockcastle Hospital. We wish him a speedy recovery. Mrs. Tilman Milburn and son Timmy of Erlanger spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Hamer.

SNIDER

Mrs. Nola Owens of Johnetta and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carpenter of Route 3, Mt.

Vernon visited Mrs. Owens' brother in Louisville over the weekend.

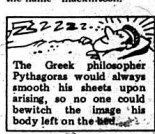

DRY FASHION
The early Spanish explorers and one latter-day resident of Scotland had one substantial thing in common—the development of the raincoat. We wear raincoats as a matter of course today, but, according to the Teacher's Scotch Information Centre, their invention was comparatively recent. The earliest Spanish explorers made a clumsy move in the direction of waterproofing. They were constantly plagued by the handicap of wet feet, so they tried painting their own rough shoes with a milky substance that the natives used to keep the dampness out.

In 1770, a chemist, Joseph Priestley, discovered by accident that a congenial bit of this white sap would "rub" out pencil marks, so he named it "rubber."

But it was not until 1823 that Charles Macintosh established a plant at Glasgow, Scotland, to make really waterproof articles from rubber. He turned out quantities of double-thickness fabrics, having two layers cemented together with India rubber. Raincoats of this material were popular in no time, and in tribute to the man who made them possible they were given the name "mackintosh."

Couple Charged With Murder Of Local Man

An 81-year-old man and his sister are being held in the Rockcastle County Jail on charges of Willful Murder following the Saturday night shooting of Gene Baker, 31, or Orlando.

According to Coroner Bill Dowell, Mr. Baker was shot eight times, four times with a .38 caliber weapon and four times with a shotgun, from the home of Jim Parris and Minerva Rose, between Big Hill and Climax in Rockcastle County. The shooting occurred Saturday night, November 3 between 9 and 9:30 p.m.

7 Governmental Units In Rockcastle Area

How large is the governmental establishment in Rockcastle County, compared with that in other communities across the county?

How many separate governmental bodies have been set up to administer the affairs of the local population?

According to a special survey conducted by the Census Bureau, there are more such agencies in operation locally than in most other areas.

The facts and figures are brought out in a 475-page report, just released by the Department of Commerce, entitled "Governmental Organization." It is the first study of the kind since 1967.

Such data is compiled every five years to determine what it takes, in number and makeup of governmental units, to provide residents of each community with school services, water supply, police and fire protection, sanitation, health and welfare needs and the many other required services. In Rockcastle County, it is shown, these functions are carried on through 7 governmental bodies, 6 of which have property-taxing power.

A breakdown of the total reveals that there are three municipal governments in the county, no township governments, one independent school district, the county government itself and two special districts.

In terms of the population served, the number of these public agencies is greater than in most localities, the survey shows. Locally, there is one such agency for every 1,757 residents.

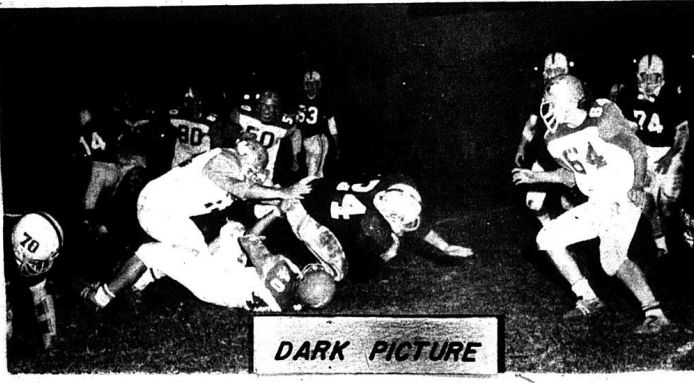

This compares with one for every 2,679 in the rest of the United States and with one for 2,836 in the State of Kentucky.

Nationally, there were 78,369 local governmental units in the country at the beginning of last year, a decrease of 3,030 since 1967.

DARK PICTURE

No. 24, Tommy Smith, runs hard for yardage in the Mercer County game last Friday. The ROCKETS finished the season on a winning note. They won their last four games in a row.

Damon Harrison, Commissioner of The State Department of Commerce, was guest speaker for last Friday night's Fourteenth Annual Farmers-Businessmen's Banquet held at the Rockcastle County High School. Agent Lee Durban served as Master of Ceremonies for the Banquet.

Title I Changed Due To 10% Budget Cut

The Rockcastle County Board of Education voted Monday night, at their regular monthly meeting, to make five changes in the Title I Program, as originally set up, in order to compensate for the $26,150 or 10% of the total budget funds which were recently impounded by the President.

The changes, made upon the recommendation of the State Department of Education, are: (1) Discontinue substitute teachers for the Title I Program; (2) Reduce teaching supplies and material costs by approximately one-third; (3) Reduce office supplies cost; (4) Reduce the community services program (Clothes, shoes, glasses, etc. purchased for needy children from the Program's funds); (5) Reduce employment of all Title I aides by 2 1/4 months next spring (end of seventh month of school).

Supt. Parsons said that at present there are funds allocated for the Title I Program through the end of December of this year. During the meeting, the Board also rejected a payment of the over $92,000 still owing Forbes-Morrison Contractors on construction of the new high school. (Cont. to 10)

"NO MORE WRESTLING" SAYS ROCKCASTLE JCS

The Rockcastle County Jaycees have decided not to sponsor any further wrestling matches in Rockcastle County due to the conduct of the crowd at Mt. Vernon last Friday night. The Jaycees say that thirty-three windows in the school were broken out during the near riot, started when the crowd took sides in a brawl between two wrestlers in the ring. Of course, the Jaycees themselves are responsible for any damage done in the building during an activity sponsored by them.

At one point, law enforcement officers had to use mace in controlling the crowd.

NUMBER TOLD FOR RESCUE SQUAD

The number which you may call and reach the Tri-City Emergency and Rescue Squad is 256-4800.

The squad, a non-profit organization, provides emergency ambulance service.

CELTAR TAPIDS TO HOLD CHRISTMAS BAZAAR

The Cedar Rapids Ladies Auxiliary will hold its Annual Christmas Bazaar at the Clubhouse on Saturday, December 1st from 12 Noon to 4 p.m. and on Sunday, December 2nd from 1-5 p.m.

Many items, such as Christmas Wreaths, Christmas decorations, Handmade Gift Items will be on display, along with baked goods, candies, etc. The public is invited to the Bazaar.

So, be sure to attend and look over the many items.

ATTENTION 4-HERS!!!

The Louisville Times-Courier Journal 4-H Award of Excellence program is held each year for 4-Hers throughout Kentucky. Many 4-Hers in Rockcastle County have received forms but have not turned them in. Our deadline to send them into the state has been extended so we will extend the county deadline. 4-Hers will have until November 15 to turn their forms into the County Extension Office.

Any 4-Her who has a form and does not plan to fill it out, turn it in so that others may use it.

BAKE SALE ITEMS NEEDED...

During the December 8th ballgame between the ladies and men at Mt. Vernon Elementary School, a bake sale will also be conducted. If you could help out by donating some items for sale, please contact Mrs. Joyce Baker or Mrs. Patsy Hopkins.

Also, in last week's Signal, the name of Mrs. Carol Hamm was inadvertently left off of the list of those to whom names would be interested in playing on the women's team. The other members to contact, besides Mrs. Hamm, are Mrs. Julie Harris and Mrs. Betty Henderson.

BASS RECORD BROKEN...

A six-inch black plastic worm produced a five-pound fifteen-ounce large mouth Bass for Larry Skinner of 622 Glades Road, Berea, shattering the previous official Lake Louisville record held by Ronnie McClure. Ronnie's record was established in April of this year and weighed in at five pounds and twelve ounces. Ronnie's Lunken fell for a purple nine-inch plastic worm.

There have been several unconfirmed reports of larger Bass being caught from the Lake, some going as high as six and one-half pounds; however, they have not been validated or confirmed by the Renfro Valley Boat Dock.

It is general belief that there are many Lunkeners waiting to be pulled out. The Renfro Valley Boat Dock is offering $50.00 in merchandise for the first eight-pound or over Bass to be caught from Lake Louisville. To qualify, a pound must be registered with the Boat Dock prior to fishing.

Thacker Wins Race; Amendments Lose

Republican candidate Hubert Thacker won election to the office of Rockcastle County Judge over his Democratic opponent, Ernie Tolle by a two-to-one margin: Mr. Thacker polled 1,864 votes to Tolle's 932, carrying all fourteen precincts except the Brown precinct, which Mr. Tolle won by 7 votes.

Judge Hubert Thacker

Court of Appeals Judge Pleas Jones lost to his opponent Kenton Cooper by 11 votes in the county (476 to 465) but won the election district-wide.

Rockcastle County went along with the state voters and constitutionally defeated both Constitutional Amendments. On Constitutional Amendment No. 1, the voters gave the measure 210 "yes" votes to 722 "no" votes and on Amendment No. 2, the difference was 716 to 220.

Mrs. Virginia Sowder won election to the office of Mt. Vernon Police Judge by handily downing her opponent, Jesse Baker, 329 to 116. Mrs. Sowder has been serving out the unexpired term of her husband, Walter Sowder, who died in office.

In the Police Judge's race at Livingston, William "Bill" Gilford defeated his opponent James Eversope, 49 to 17 and in the Police Judge's race at Brodhead, Ed Brown won out over his opponent, Lee Taylor, 79 to 33.

In the only opposed Magistrate's race, in District 4, Republican W. H. Wren easily defeated his Democratic opponent, George Parsons, 474 to 150.

An unofficial tabulation of contested races will be found elsewhere on the front page of this week's issue.

Rockets End Season With Winning Record

The Rockcastle Rockets ended their first winning season of the last decade by soundly defeating Mercer County 34-14 on Mercer's home ground.

The defense got things rolling for the Rockets when, in the opening minutes of the first quarter, Billy Brock picked up a fumble and ran it all the way to the pocket.

The Rockets' second score came on a 10-yard run by Quarterback John Clontz, who also scored two other touchdowns during the game - one on a 58-yard run after intercepting a pass and one on a 60-yard run. Other scores came on a 42-yard pass play from Clontz to Mark Bray. The two after-touchdown conversions came on carries by Tommy Smith and Billy Brock.

Bray also kept Mercer backed up with some fine punting averaging 36 1/2 yards for three punts.

Leading ground gainer for the Rockets was Clontz who picked up 171 yards in 10 carries. Stanton Hayes also helped the cause with 10 carries for 55 yards.

Altogether, the Rockets picked up 239 yards rushing and 73 yards passing. It was a dangerous night for Mercer to go to the air; they completed five passes out of 22 attempts but saw three picked off by Clontz, Casey Carroll and Kenny Burton. Mercer also lost two fumbles to the Rockets.

Defensively, the Rockets were led by Billy Brock who was credited with three tackles and two assists. Stanton Hayes was next with 7 tackles and one assist and Casey Carroll did his bit with five tackles and two assists.

The Rockets finished a fine year for football in this county with a 5-4 record and our personal congratulations are extended to Coach Glen Poley, his coaching staff and the team for a highly enjoyable season.

CONSERVATION CONTESTS' DEADLINE IS DECEMBER 1.

The deadline for principals in Kentucky to submit their schools' winning entries in the 1973 Conservation Essay and Conservation Poster Contest is Friday, December 1.

The contests are public service programs of The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times. The subject of this year's contest is "Fish and Wildlife Conservation: What Can I Do?"

Each principal should send his school's top essay or poster to the office of his local school system superintendent for processing and forwarding for district judging. Soil and Water Conservation Offices in each county will coordinate the district judging.

Contest winners in the essay contest will each receive a $25 U. S. Savings Bond and (Cont. to 10)

JOHN NICHOLS'

Frankfort Watchline

J. R. Miller and Julian Carroll have at last come out publicly and said what they've been telling their buddies privately for a long time. But who can you believe?

In recent stories by the Associated Press (Miller's version) and the Louisville Courier-Journal (Carroll's version) each says things that don't jibe if put together. For example, Carroll contends that he has not told anyone he's running for governor, but that Miller is practically campaigning for the job. Both... protests the former Democratic Party boss. He doesn't know his plans along that line, but everywhere he goes he spots Carroll's election campaign tracks. This is the question of how influential Miller is on Gov. Wendell Ford.

Carroll says "J. R. pretty well made him governor" with the implication that Ford is deeply obligated to Miller. Miller says no man dominates Ford and had better not try it. He sees Carroll trying to drive a wedge between Ford and him with such remarks.

Here's one: How about who's been a better Democrat? Why, if you believe Carroll, he's the pragmatist of political loyalty and decency, just trying to keep the party united and avoiding sidehows and splintering diversions like the U. S. Senate race.

But maybe you believe Miller, who views Carroll as "self-serving" and "selfish" user of "Nixon-type tricks" and a man who should not be trusted too much.

Come to think of it, if they both ran for governor, wouldn't it be a heck of a primary?

The question is whether it would destroy the party and the answer to that one is, we think, of course not. Not any more than previous factionalism did.

But if he said it's a bad idea, his detractors would get out loud that maybe Carroll didn't need any financing help because he's a fat cat and has lots of big money waiting in the wings.

So, maybe we won't hear from the candidates on that one for a while.

What's The Good Word? - We get a good line from Rep. Terry McRayner from Greenup quite often. Here's his latest contribution "With active Presbyterian Carroll, and active Baptist Hubbard, and preachers Gene Huff and Walter Strong and Tom Ward down there in the Senate, the biggest fight they're going to have this next session is who's going to give the invocation."

In fact, Combs was fond of saying during his losing campaign for governor that Kentucky Democrats are like cats - you hear them squalling and battling all night long, expecting to find no survivors the next day. But in a few months, all you see are more cats.

Sort Of A Trap - It was anticipated the other day at a meeting of the legislative subcommittee on campaign contributions and spending that a couple of potential candidates for governor in 1975 might show up and say something.

Why? Well, under consideration was a proposal that would have the next governor's race partially financed with state funds.

L. Gov. Carroll could not attend as he had planned because of a death in his family, but the statement he sent in his stead did not make mention of the revolutionary idea.

Carroll did make several construction suggestions dealing with the monitoring of campaign giving and campaign spending, but nothing on the idea that the state match some of the donations, or give tax credits, or give tax deductions to large organizations and corporations.

But it was mentioned to us that the Lt. Gov. was wise to pass up the subject for the time being. Why? Well, we were told, it was sort of a trap.

If he said it's a good idea, along would come his fans and charge that, yes, of course, he must be the money, being on the outside as he is with the party establishment.

But if he said it's a bad idea, his detractors would get out loud that maybe Carroll didn't need any financing help because he's a fat cat and has lots of big money waiting in the wings.

So, maybe we won't hear from the candidates on that one for a while.

Charles Parsons, Superintendent of Schools, also asked us to mention the fact that the school system has only been allotted 90% of the gasoline for November of this year that they were able to purchase last year.

Mr. Parsons said that to compensate for the 10% cutback, the schools would have to cut out such extracurricular activities as student buses for trips to ballgames and some field trips.

It wouldn't hurt all of us, myself included, to sacrifice some of the driving that we have always been used to in order to help ease the present energy crisis somewhat. I have just about decided that my share toward conserving it will be a "no" to the children when I am asked to chauffeur them and their friends around. It was getting to be a bore anyway.....

Have you heard about the near riot at Mt. Vernon School last Friday night over the wrestling match the Jaycees brought to town? I wasn't there and have really heard only rumors but, after my initial shock, I kinda' thought it was funny. After all, everyone should be aware by now that all wrestling matches are gigger from start to finish, you know - one of those "I'll win tonight and you can win the next time we meet" things - and, to think that anyone could take a match seriously enough to actually want to fight someone over it struck me as funny. It probably really isn't, but there are so few things to laugh over these days that you find yourself grasping for straws. The Jaycees have wisely decided to forego the sponsoring of any further wrestling matches in the area.....

This is probably as good a place as any to congratulate Coach Glen Polly and the Rockcastle Rockets on what is practically a first for Rockcastle County - a winning football season. The Rockets looked good all year, even in their losses and we suspect Coach Polly has gotten football over the hump in this county. Fan support throughout the year was really good and, no doubt, that also contributed to the team's desire for a winning season.....

Levis Cash, 60, Route 1, Crab Orchard, October 31, 1973.

Larry Marvin Mink, 19, Mt. Vernon, service station attendant, to Darlene McHargue, 18, Route 1, Brodhead, November 1, 1973.

Mr. Pansy McCay said she was very pleased with our article on her work among the needy of this area in last week's Signal but asked us to mention an item which we forgot to include in the original story. It seems that each November a transfer truck is sent to this area from up North loaded with items to be distributed to the poor and for many years, John Lair gave Mrs. McCay the use of the Big Barn at Renfro Valley.

Mrs. McCay asked us to please mention this and the fact that when the property at Renfro Valley was purchased by Hal Smith of Tennessee, Mr. Smith also told Mrs. McCay that the Barn could still be used for this purpose. Mrs. McCay did not wish to seem ungrateful and asked us if we would make it a point to mention Mr. Lair and Mr. Smith's kindness this week.....

Charles Parsons, Superintendent of Schools, also asked us to mention the fact that the school system has only been allotted 90% of the gasoline for November of this year that they were able to purchase last year.

Mr. Parsons said that to compensate for the 10% cutback, the schools would have to cut out such extracurricular activities as student buses for trips to ballgames and some field trips.

It wouldn't hurt all of us, myself included, to sacrifice some of the driving that we have always been used to in order to help ease the present energy crisis somewhat. I have just about decided that my share toward conserving it will be a "no" to the children when I am asked to

NEWS & VIEWS

THE ROCKCASTLE CO. LIBRARY

How long has it been since you spent some time in the Rockcastle County Public Library? Well, if it has been over a week, you have missed a lot. New shipments of books are arriving regularly from the Department of Libraries. We have just received a new shipment of books for all ages.

Since Halloween is still fresh on the minds of everyone, the Rockcastle County Public Library would like to share some of the more scary ones with you.

The Inner Steps, by Sara Cardiff. Lily and Cris Vooghees set off one Friday evening to begin their honeymoon at the luxurious Hudson River estate which Cris will be one day inherit.

Lily arrives at Voorhees Manor a carefree bride, but as the lovely summer days pass, she becomes enmeshed in the violent tensions that lurk beneath the surface of the elegant life of Cris's family. Worse, Lily seems to be falling prey to the same psychological - or supernatural - relentless force which pursues her handsome husband.

Sybil, by Flora Rheta Schreiber. Sybil is the true story of a shy, timid, self-effacing young woman and of the many selves she assumed. Since early childhood, Sybil had had "Black-outs," "missing" days, long periods during which time - days, weeks, months, sometimes years - seemed to have been taken from her.

The Tightrope Men, by Desmond Bagley. Few shocks can compare with the pure terror of looking into a mirror and finding a completely unknown face reflected back. But this experience is only a prelude to the bizarre events that await the hero of Desmond Bagley's latest novel of intrigue: Storms The Savage Sea, by Douglas Robertson. At 10 a.m. on June 15, 1972, a 48-foot schooner Luette, sailed by a Scottish ex-farmer and his family, was attacked by killer whales in the Pacific and sank in 60 seconds. So began one of the great adventure stories of our time - an epic of courage and endurance in the face of the most crushing odds.

"THIRTY DAYS AT ADP-GED" - Ken Relaford, left, and Mrs. Sue Sims, adult basic education teacher with the Fayette County Schools, admit that the algebra text they're holding doesn't contain this formula, but it's one that worked for Relaford. He's the first resident of the Kentucky Rescues' Alcoholism Demonstration Project (ADP), to earn a General Education Diploma (GED) during his 30-day stay at the Lexington facility.

For you that are not quite so brave, there are books in the Rockcastle County Public Library, also. Be sure and stop in and browse through the many books and take something to suit your individual taste.

Do you miss out on all the fun and relaxation that reading a good book brings? Many people for one reason or another cannot read a book. Maybe the print is too small and hurts their eyes or perhaps it is due to a physical disability. Do you know that there are hundreds of people across the state with these problems?

Whatever the cause, there is no reason not to enjoy books if you live in Rockcastle County. Go to the Rockcastle County Public Library or ask the Rockcastle County Bookmobile Librarian about talking book machines for the physically handicapped. They are provided free of charge for anyone needing them. The applications for the talking machines are in the library.

Also, stop in at the Rockcastle County Public Library and look at the large print books. They are written in large, clear print that is easily read. Among the titles are:

- Larramee's Ranch, by Max Brand.
- Black Mesa, by Zane Grey.
- The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, by Samuel Clemens.
- With A Delicate Air, by Pearl S. Buck.
- The Doorbell Rang, by Rex Stout.
- Murder is Easy, by Agatha Christie.
- The Trees, by Conrad Richter.
- The Long Chase, by Max Brand.
- Smack The Earth Turns, by Gunga Hasty Carroll.
- To Kill A Mockingbird, by Harper Lee.

These books are available at your library. Stop in and see all the other books there just waiting for you to check out. Call about these and other the Rockcastle County Public Library offers you. The telephone number is 256-2288.

LIBRARY SERVICES FOR THE ELDERLY

As people live longer and enjoy healthier lives, the public libraries have found it necessary to reassess their programs and to place greater emphasis on programs and services for senior citizens.

So says an approved federal project for selected Kentucky Communities initiated in 1971 by the Institute of Lifetime Learning of Washington, D. C., a service organization of the National Retired Teachers Association of Retired Persons. I could not agree more whole heartily. The public users of library services: "How can I use the Library? I don't have any way to get there." "I wonder if the librarian would stop coming to see me if I told her I couldn't read." "At night, do you honestly think I'd go to the library, now, do you?"

We are honestly seeking such questions in order that we can better provide answers for some of the more important members of our population - senior citizens.

County Agent's Notes

WHAT TO DO IN NOVEMBER

November is a month in which there is a dreary haze on the far horizon, a threat of snow in the air, increasing frosts in the mornings, and showers of leaves dropping down from the trees. It is the month when the garden enters its long, long sleep.

For the homeowner, however, activity does not cease. There's the job of removing the fallen leaves which, if not raked up and removed, will smother out the grass on the lawn. Also the garden must be cleaned up, and stalks, stems, and other crop residue raked up and, when possible, composted.

If young fruit trees or ornamental shrubs have been set out, it will be well to take measures to protect them against the depredations of rabbits and field mice. When snow is on the ground, rabbits seem to like nothing better than the bark of young fruit trees. Protect these trees by wrapping them with a layer of tar paper or surrounding them with a collar of chicken wire.

When snowed in, mice will often gnaw on the roots of shrubs and fruit trees. This can be prevented somewhat by withholding the mulch until after the first hard freeze. Early mulching will provide mice with the opportunity of taking up residence for the winter under the soft mulch, where they will be ready to feast on the roots when the weather grows cold and the snows come. A good rule for mulching young trees and shrubs is: do not apply it until the ground is well frozen.

In the flower garden, the early days of November bring the last call for safe planning of herbaceous perennials and spring-flowering bulbs. And, when chrysanthemums have finished flowering, their stems should be broken off within a few inches of the ground. Perennials such as iris and peonies should be cut back, too, and the debris removed, according to Benny Tjia, Extension floriculturist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. November is also your best month to prune roses.

November is also a good month in which to clean out berry patches and prune tangles or ornamental vines. Cutting out and removing dead canes from the berry patch or diseased wood from the flowering vines will send extra strength surging through the remaining wood and lessen the risk of disturbing tender shoots after they are growing next spring.

If any time is left after the leaves have been raked, the garden cleaned off, and all the other jobs mentioned taken care of, the lawn furniture can be repainted, the gutters cleaned out, the bird feeder nailed up, and the lawn mower sharpened and oiled.

But in doing all these and a lot of other things, remember, as it says in Psalms, to "give thanks to the Lord, for He is good." And don't forget to eat turkey, which is also good, and when Indian Summer comes, get out on the hills and look at the scenery. November is a good month. Enjoy it.

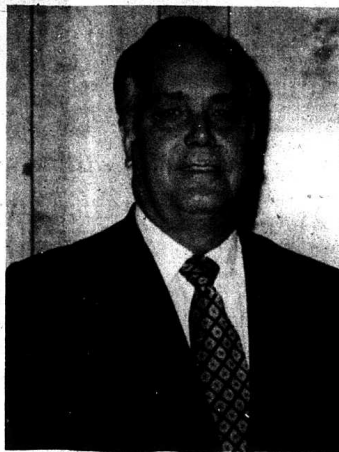

STRAWBERRY WINTER CARE

Strawberries are scarce nationwide. If you now have a planting, large or small, care for it. If you have none, plan to set a few or many in 1974. A mulch of clean straw applied on top of the rows, at the rate of 1 1/2 tons (3000 pounds) per acre or 25 to 30 pounds per 100 feet of bearing row, will help prevent winter damage, will help keep down weeds and grass and will help keep berries and pickers clean. A good time generally to apply mulch is between Thanksgiving and Christmas. A late fall cultivation, between the rows before mulching, will destroy any winter weeds, such as chickweed or henbit. Then a final fall chemical weed control spray before mulching, of Dacthal, or Dymid (Enide) or Tenoran will help prevent the regrowth of chickweed and henbit and will also help prevent new weed and grass growth next Spring. Strawberries are worth caring for!

Registered Voters Counted - Secretary of State Thelma Stovall has announced that 1,418,021 Kentucky residents are registered to vote in the November election. Although this number is approximately 40,000 less than the number registered before the 1972 re-registration law was instituted, Mrs. Stovall said she is pleased with the figure. The original prediction was 1.2 million voters on the rolls at election time.

Revenue Receipts Increase - The Executive Department of Administration and Finance and the Department of Revenue have announced that state revenue receipts for the first quarter of the fiscal year have increased 7.9 percent over last year's first quarter. General fund receipts were $188,570,347 - 5.5 percent over the estimated figure. Revenue Commissioner John Ross said that if present trends continue, the year's estimate of $775 million will be exceeded.

30 YEARS SERVICE - Robert Nunneley, Mt. Vernon, has been recognized for 30 years of service with the federal government. Mr. Nunneley is a maintenance systems analyst with the US Army Maintenance Management Center located at Lexington Blue Grass Army Depot. He received a pin and certificate during ceremonies at the Army installation.

Inmate Population Drops - Corrections Commissioner Charles J. Holmes has announced that the inmate population at the Kentucky State Penitentiary at Eddyville has dropped to 952 - the lowest figure since 1944. Holmes said reasons for the decrease were fewer transfers from the La Grange Reformatory, Assignments of prisoners to minimum security facilities at Blackburn and Frenchburg and assignments of more prisoners to Frankfort work work details. The Corrections Department is planning for the Eddyville inmate population to decline further in coming years. Holmes added, to make Eddyville a "smaller, more manageable institution."

Rockcastle Recollections

© John Lair

Monday, November 5, I delivered to the Margaret L. King Library, on the University of Kentucky campus, at Lexington, a number of old copies of the Mt. Vernon Signal to be microfilmed and placed in their permanent files. The copies of the Signal I had time to get together in recent years, plus the large collection of Ralph Griffin had accumulated and which were given to me by his wife after his death, make up the most complete file of them now in existence.

This collection includes a few copies of the paper when it was published as The Mountain Signal, the first issues of which came out in 1887 when the first copies were issued. Two of the best of these were obtained from Mrs. Daisy Miller, who also has in her possession an old volume of the paper, published in 1810 and containing among other things of interest to Rockcastle County the act forming the county and setting out its boundaries, which will be reprinted in detail in our history itself.

Numerous accounts have been printed in the Signal from time to time recalling business and professional men of the town and county in the 1890's but only in the December 23rd issue of the Mountain Signal for 1887 have I found actual dates of the founding of the various businesses of the county and who was responsible for starting them. Incidentally, in some cases the facts do not coincide with dates given in James Maret's exhaustive list of first events in Rockcastle.

Mr. Maret, by the way, in his articles from time to time in comparatively recent years gives us some county history in a wider field, than any other writer or historian of the county has even done. His list of firms has been prepared and given by others writing on happenings of the past and have probably been carried many times in the columns of the Signal but for the benefit of younger or more recent subscribers who are not familiar with them, many of them are being repeated here.

The first telegraph line was built by the U. S. Government through the county from Camp Nelson to Cumberland Gap during the Civil War. Its local office was opened in the Joplin Hotel, in 1862. The first operator was Peter Jones and the next was Johnny Nagle. Messages came through printed off on narrow strips of paper instead of being transmitted by sound.

First acoustical telephone was installed by J. E. Vowels, James Maret, and J. L. Whitehead, who strung a line from their places of business to the railroad depot. Electric telephones were installed by A. H. Bastian, Jim Maret and A. E. Albright in 1896. One of the business teleboards is preserved in the Renfro Valley Pioneer Museum.

W. H. Kirtley owned the first two-horse carriage. J. L. Joplin was the second man to buy one, paying $400 for it. It was in active use for twenty-five years and parts of the running gear were still around after fifty years.

W. L. DeGraff had the first bicycle, a high-wheeler he sometimes rode over the rough roads between Mt. Vernon and Livingston, generally having to walk and push it more than half the way.

First concrete block building in Mt. Vernon was built for Jones Fish, with George Johnson a close second. That must have been around 1908 or 1909. I remember that Jesse Fish and I helped our fathers, Rev. Green Fish (Jones' brother) and Thomas Burke Lar, tear down the old log store building that Fish's concrete block building replaced.

The courthouse was the first brick building erected in Mt. Vernon and the Joplin Hotel was the second. They were considered marvels of the age.

Maret said the oldest house in Mt. Vernon was the Langford House, known at the time of his writing as the Matilda Hook Place. It was first erected as a fort and before 1810 had been converted to a residence and the first session of Rockcastle County Court was held there before the first log courthouse was erected. There is some debate as to whether the fort was originally built by Stephen Langford or William Henderson. Up until it was practically destroyed in recent years, porch holes were visible in the old logs of which it was constructed.

Rockcastle's first member of the legislature was General William Smith (Maret's grandfather) born in 1778 and an officer in the expedition on the Wabash during Indian Wars. He died in 1849 and is buried beside his wife in Mt. Vernon Cemetery. Incidentally, his grave is in a sad state of disrepair. I would be willing to share with someone the expense of fixing it up before it is completely destroyed. General Smith at one time owned most of the land in and around Mt. Vernon and built and lived in until his death the big old log house in the edge of Mt. Vernon, toward Renfro Valley, later occupied by the parents of Attorney C. C. Williams and lately by Mr. Green Carpenter who tore it down and put up an early motel on the site.

First party to start to California from Rockcastle during the Gold Rush, in 1850, consisted of J. R. Lawless, Oscar and J. J. Williams, Elietta Terrell and Harry Smith, a colorful man. After reaching Missouri, it was found that they did not have the stock of provisions required for their party and were not allowed to go on. Lots were cast to see who would have to turn back and J. J. Williams had to come home. Three months later the remaining party reached the gold fields. There Oscar Williams died of Typhoid fever.

First to go South with a coffin of slaves for sale was Billy Smith. He left Rockcastle at the outbreak of the Civil War with eight negroes. One of them, George Mullins, escaped near Morristown, Tennessee, and came back to Mt. Vernon. Many oldtimers can remember him. Apparently, nothing was done with him for this escape. The remaining seven slaves and the money invested in a plantation near Magnolia. Smith also had a large store and died a wealthy man, but none of his Rockcastle relatives ever realized anything from his estate.

First emigrant to Texas was George W. Smith, a lawyer. He settled at Columbus and became judge of the Supreme Court of Texas under Confederate Government. In spite of war losses, he had accumulated an estate of $100,000 at the time of his death.

First tomatoes were cultivated by Henry Frederick, a German. Maret were afraid to eat them. My grandfather Lair told me that when he was a small boy they were considered an ornamental vine, called Love Apples, and considered poison.

First coal was shipped out of Rockcastle by Miller and Denny, from Pleasant Valley station on the I & N, later known as Cove. Other important coal shippers of the county were Cash Crook, at Pine Hill, then bigger than Mt. Vernon, and George Samsbrook, who later had extensive mines at Livingston. Prior to that, a few bushel of coal had been taken out of the county by wagons.

The first oil well was sunk on Brushy Creek, in the southwestern part of the county, when James Kincaid drilled for salt water on the Jep Mullins farm. They brought up a black ooze which covered the ground all around the mouth of the well. Nobody knew what it was and referred to it as "that black stuff."

First Masonic Lodge was Ashland No. 370, organized in 1850. Charter members included Col. R. G. Williams, Charles Kirtley, William H. Kirtley, J. C. Williams, J. L. Joplin, C. Moore, and Jack Wilson. Lodge number later changed to 640.

Odd Fellows Lodge organized in Mt. Vernon in 1870. J. T. Clark, Charles Kirtley and J. L. Joplin were among the first members. No lodge meetings were held after 1874.

Maret reported that Judge Alcorn, of Lincoln County, told him that in looking up some old papers he found that a man by the name of English and others had laid out a town at the head of Dix River in 1782. He said the town was laid out on a scale as big as that of Middleboro, Kentucky, and was named Garden City. Later when Maret inquired around the community the oldest inhabitants at that time could not remember ever having heard of it. If plans had been carried out, this would have been a town a good many years before Mt. Vernon was even dreamed of.

First brass band organized in Mt. Vernon in 1869. George Sevance was instructor and leader and members included William Poynter, Bennett Joplin, Dude Owens, Charles Stewart, J. E. Vowels and G. B. Bragg.

THE PLAY CONTINUES TO BE THE THING ON KENTUCKY STAGES

In Grandma's day - when

"Life With Father was touring the country, it was considered quite an outing to travel by train all the way to Louisville, Cincinnati or Dayton to attend the theater.

Perhaps those who packed sandwiches to take along for the ride gave birth to the idea of food and theater in a package.

Whatever the origin, today's dinner theaters are enjoying a booming popularity, although current titles might give Grandma a jolt - "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running," "Last of the Red Hot Lovers" and "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds."

Present theaters with their plush chairs and multi-course meals also provide quite a contrast to the environment of yesteryear's stage. Chances are Grandma's folks often had to adjust to seeing the living room sofa in new surroundings.

Wooden folding chairs were placed in rows on the basketball floor and benches were used early to visit and get a good seat. After much conversation and rearranging of chairs, the gym darkened and eyes were riveted to the velvet curtains or borrowed bedspreads pinned over a clothesline.

Because funds were limited, props were often requisitioned from members of the audience. Thus, it was hard for Grandma and the rest of the family to lose themselves immediately in the performance for they often had to adjust to seeing the living room sofa in new surroundings.

Although vast changes have been effected since those frugal times, the theatre is still great entertainment and during November most colleges and universities in the state offer stage performances.

Since the Commonwealth continues to emphasize good family life where older generations are loved and respected, why not include Grandma and Gramps in a theatre outing? If a college or university visit cannot be arranged, then take them to a dinner theater.

Don't be surprised if Gramps remembers when "She" thought an improper pinch was one of Grandma's charms. He recalls that "He" commented years ago about short skirts not leaving much to the imagination. However, neither is an old a logy as their youngsters might think.

"Would higher gasoline and automobile taxes help alleviate the shortages?"

"They probably would help, but they would only be half a solution. You can discourage the use of gasoline by higher taxes, but you cannot create more supply with taxes. The best way to balance supply with demand is to let prices seek their natural level."

A TERRARIUM GARDEN

Terrariums are gardens enclosed in glass. They are easy to construct, and require little care. The glass enclosure for a terrarium may be any container that transmits light - a globe, a fish tank, or large brandy snifter.

African violet, maranta, begonia, coleus, cecion, dracaena, hy, pepomia, philodendron, pothos, and wandering Jew are commonly planted in terrariums. Some of the plants that need high humidity can be grown in a terrarium when high humidity cannot be supplied in the open air.

Step one should be to place a one-inch layer of gravel, pebbles, broken flower pots, or charcoal in the bottom of a container.

Step two. Dig moss from the woods (a small amount only) and line the sides of the container below level with the moss against the glass.

ROCKCASTLE CIRCUIT COURT
Civil Action File No. 2531

MID-STATE HOMES, INC., PLAINTIFF

V: Notice of Sale

JOHNNIE L. DILLON and JEAN DILLON, his wife, DEFENDANTS

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Rockcastle Circuit Court, rendered on October 26, 1978, in the above-styled cause, to subject the hereinafter described real property to a lien held by plaintiff in the amount of eight thousand four hundred nine dollars and fifty cents ($8,409.50) with interest at six per cent (6%) per annum from July 5, 1973 until paid, together with plaintiff's costs, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door, Main Street, Mount Rockcastle County, Kentucky, to the highest bidder at public auction on the 24th day of November, 1978, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M., Local Time, or thereafter, upon credit of six (6) months, the following described property, to-wit:

Beginning at a natural sand stone, corner of Oscar Chestnut at a line, thence northwesterly 70 yards with the line of Oscar Chestnut to a stake; thence north-easterly approximately 70 yards with Wendell Renner line to a big black oak; thence continuing with the Wendell Renner line, southeasterly to a stake at the lane; thence with the lane; southwesterly 55 yards to the beginning corner, and containing one (1) acre, more or less.

And being the same real property which the defendants, Johnnie L. Dillon and his wife, Jean Dillon, obtained by deed dated September 9th, 1972, executed by Wendell Renner, et ux., of record in Deed Book 93, page 103, in the office of the clerk of the Rockcastle County Court, Mount Vernon, Kentucky.

The terms of the sale will be as follows: The property will be sold to the highest bidder on terms of ten per cent (10%) of the purchase bid in cash at the time of sale, the balance in six (6) months, with the purchaser being required to execute bond with surety thereon to be approved by the Commissioner, to secure the unpaid balance of the purchase price; said bond to bear interest at the rate of seven per cent (7%) per annum on date of sale until paid and the bond shall have the same force and effect of a Judgment and shall remain and be a lien on the same property until fully paid. The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all of the purchase price in cash, or paying said bond before maturity by paying the principal amount thereof together with all interest accrued thereon until the date of such payment. The purchasers shall be required to assume and pay all taxes assessed against the said property, which shall become due and payable in the year 1974, and which are commonly referred to and known as the 1974 State and School Taxes, and thereafter.

Then prepare a soil mixture of equal parts of garden soil, sand, and peat moss, enough for a layer one to inches deep.

If you boil root and tuber vegetables in their skins - they will retain practically all of their Vitamin C, thiamin, and other nutrients. Baking is also a good way, and so is steaming under pressure. The practices of holding- and re-heating vegetables causes additional losses of nutrients, particularly of Vitamin C.

Use a long pair of tweezers - or a spoon - to put the plants in place, but avoid getting soil on the leaves. After the plants are in place, clean the leaves with a dry brush. Do not spray the plants. (Atomizer type "waterer" is excellent for this.)

Cover the container with a sheet of plastic or a piece of plastic film. Then place the terrarium in a location where it has bright light, but never any direct sunlight. Sunlight heats the air inside the terrarium and kills the plants. Turn the terrarium occasionally so the plants in it grow uniformly. Don't overwater. Water only often enough to keep the soil moist.

Caution! Different practices of handling and preparation can alter the condition of your food before it is consumed. Careless handling or improper preparation can rob your family of the nutritive values you think you are providing. The answer is to try to conserve those values - right from the start.

Food values and flavor may be conserved in vegetables simply by trimming, storing and cooking vegetables with care. Fresh vegetables usually need some trimming, peeling or scraping before they are cooked or served to remove damaged leaves, bruised spots, skins and inedible parts. But, did you know what the leafy parts of collard greens, turnip greens, and kale have much more vitamin A value than the stems or midribs? That the core of the cabbage, as well as the leaves, is high in Vitamin C?

Carrots, sweet potatoes, potatoes and other roots and tubers retain their most important food values reasonable well if they are kept cool and moist enough to prevent withering. Have you ever noticed that tomatoes become soft and watery and subject to decay if ripened in the refrigerator? They need bright sun at temperatures from 60° to 75°.

In cooking vegetables, it is best to remember that they must be cooked just until tender in just enough water to prevent scorching. Cover the pan to prevent the escape of steam and vapor - vegetables will cook quickly in a small amount of water. Did you know that if you use a large amount of water in cooking cabbage - for instance, four times as much water as cabbage - the retention of Vitamin C drops to less than 50 percent?

FOOD CLIPS -
Remember - Vitamin C is more easily destroyed than other food values, conservation of Vitamin C is often used as an index to the retention of other nutrients.

How do you conserve food values? Trim, store and cook vegetables with care. One example is to keep in mind that the core of the cabbage, as well as the leaves, is high in Vitamin C.

If you're looking for something different for company - why not stuff a breast of lamb or veal; pork chops, shoulder of veal, lamb, or pork; lamb or pork crown roasts, spareribs, and tenderloins.

Don't forget the old rule of thumb - generally speaking, if there is less than a 7 cent price spread per dozen eggs between one size and the next smaller size in the same grade, your best buy is the larger size.

Brown eggs or white eggs?

The color does not affect the nutritive value, quality, flavor, or cooking performance. What does cloudiness or milkiness in eggs indicate? Merely that carbon dioxide which is naturally present in a fresh shell egg has not yet escaped through the shell. The white becomes clearer as the egg ages.

Did you ever wonder why the egg white sometimes sticks to the inside of the shell? Basically this is just because the Use older eggs (not the ones you purchased today) if you are preparing hard-cooked eggs for salad or for slicing. Why? They are usually easier to peel.

No, the cloudy or slightly milky white substance occasionally found in eggs does not affect the use of the eggs - as above note indicates, it's a normal characteristic of fresh eggs.
