In memory of our mother, Mattie [Whitaker] Cromer, who passed away November 29, 1964:

Please God hold Your arms around her. Keep her in Your loving care. Keep her in Your loving care. Make up to her for all she's suffered

And everything that was unfair: To all of you who still have your mother, Love and cherish her with care For you'll never know the ache Till you find she isn't there. The Family

IN LOVING MEMORY, of Burgess Hysinger, who passed away four months ago, July 10th, 1973:

His footsteps are silent, his voice is still. His body lies resting on a little green hill. His soul is at rest in our Heavenly Home, where sickness and sorrow and death are not known. He left us lonely. God knows why.

We hope to meet him in the sweet bye and bye. Should you go first, and I remain, one thing I would have to do: walk slowly down the path of death, for soon I'll follow you.

I'll want to know each step you take. That I may walk the same. For some day down that lonely road, you'll hear me call your name.

Mrs. Pearl Hysinger and Family

County Agent's Notes

BEEF CATTLE FACTS:

All cattle need to receive Vitamin A during the winter feeding period; from Thanksgiving until the first day of pasture in the Spring. Cows should receive approximately 30,000 I.U. per head per day. Stockers or feeders need 10,000 I.U. per head daily and cattle on a full-fed fattening ration receive 20,000 I.U. per head per day. These are minimum requirements.

If cattle are receiving additional feed, a vitamin premix can be mixed with the feed according to daily intake. If cows are on a dry roughage ration, mixing the vitamin premix in loose salt is the recommendation. Salt intake for a cow on a dry roughage ration is approximately 1/2 ounce per day. Adding Vitamin A at the rate of 60,000 I.U. per ounce of salt will suffice for the beef cow herd.

Mix only what the cattle will clean up in a seven to ten day period so that intake may be checked and loss of Vitamin A will be held to a minimum.

Winter Tetany - Beef producers with fall calving cows report brood cows dying with symptoms of grass tetany. It can be from the same cause, magnesium deficiency, or from an energy deficiency or a combination of the two. In any case, a metabolic disturbance is caused and good feeding and management will reduce those losses.

Magnesium deficiency (hypomagnesemia) and its causes and prevention is explained in Extension Bulletin ASC-16. Death of a cow due to ketosis or low energy usually occurs when a cow is on a low plane of nutrition and normally four to eight weeks after calving. More than likely, it is one of the better cows that produces the better calf. Feeding of additional energy feed such as grain or corn silage can help alleviate the problem.

When a dry pregnant cow calves and is nursing her calf, her nutrient requirements double for all practical purposes. Feeding the beef female and her daily requirements are outlined in detail in Extension Bulletin ASC-8.

Check-List for Pre-Winter

1. Keep mineral boxes filled with Ca, P, and salt.
2. Fall calves should be vaccinated for blackleg, and malignant edema, castrated, and dehorned early in the calf's life.
3. Plan for good winter water supply. Solid water will not meet the bill or meet daily intake needs.
4. Don't forget winter lice control by the use of well-charged backrubbers.
5. Utilize stalk fields after corn picking as a source of fall feed.
6. Supplement herd with Vitamin A as explained.

7. If your farm has no handling facilities, now is the time to plan one to build this winter. One headgate is cheaper and less painful than a broken bone.

BROWNING'S RETURN FROM FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Browning have just returned from Florida where they spent two weeks speaking in churches about their work among the children of this area and speaking of God's Plan of Salvation. The Brownings received a good many pairs of shoes and clothing for men, women, boys and girls, of all ages, and these items are yours for the asking by calling 256-4847 for an appointment. The Brownings are also planning another big Christmas, at their home, for all children this year and they are asking for help-and helpers to make this the best Christmas ever for children. ....

Fuel Shortage - Fuel shortages have already hit many Kentuckians, and state officials fear the situation is worse than previously expected. John Stapleton, director of the Office for Mandatory Allocation, said the increased need and decreased supply have led to a critical situation for many people affected by allocation regulations. Another spokesman for the office said they are now trying to meet home heating and farming needs on a day-to-day basis until the federal government can enact long range solutions.

Registration Books Now Open

Voter Registration Books are now open, according to County Court Clerk Clifford Bales.

Mr. Bales said that from now, until some time in May before the primary, anyone desiring to re-register, change precincts, change political affiliations, etc. may do so by coming into the Clerk's office.

Mr. Bales also expressed his thanks to the public for the cooperation which was shown during the last election when the new voter lists went into effect. He said that through the efforts of the election officers, commissioners and the voters themselves, the new law presented no great difficulty in Rockcastle County.

Lawrence Family Is Farm Family of Year

In District competition the William H. Lawrence family of Route 1, Brodhead, was selected as First Runner-up in the annual Farmers Home Administration Farm Family of the Year program according to Robert C. Winn, County FFA Supervisor for Rockcastle County. The District is comprised of 15 counties in the Eastern and outer Bluegrass areas.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence operate a dairy farm of 124.3 acres in the Quail area of Rockcastle County. They have four children at home: Teresa, 17 years, Frankie, 15 years, Kathy, 10 years, and Linne, 8 years.

THE ROCKCASTLE ROCKETS basketball team will journey to Owensida this Friday night to open their 1973-74 season, under the direction of head coach Bill Riddle and assistant coach, Charles Norris. The Rockets will then be idle for a week until the Thanksgiving Tournament which begins Friday night November 23 at 7 p.m. when Williamsburg and Crab Orchard clash in the opener. The second game will be between McKinlay and

Appliances on Rise In Rockcastle County

Rockcastle County has become a strong market for cars and for major household appliances, the latest figures show.

Local families, despite the restraints brought about by higher taxes and by the skyrocketing cost of living, have been spending a considerable part of their disposable income for such luxuries and for better living generally.

It has been going for the purchase of food freezers, air conditioners, new cars, stereos, TV sets and other big-ticket items.

As a result, the proportion of local families who have been acquiring such equipment or have been replacing their older models with new ones has been on the rise.

The findings are detailed in the new County and City Data Book, released by the Department of Commerce. It covers all sections of the county.

In Rockcastle County, one set of figures shows, of the total number of local households, the ones with air conditioners constitute eight percent. The ratio in 1969 was one percent.

Similarly, there has been a marked increase in the number of food freezers in the area. The proportion of homes that are air-equipped at the present time is listed as 29 percent, as against the 1960 figure of ten percent. The survey has also taken count of the telephones in residential use. It finds that household units that have telephone service amount to fifty percent. By way of comparison, in 1960 it was twenty-two percent.

The increase in the number of cars in operation in Rockcastle County is another indicator of the rising standard of living in the area.

The government's figures show that the proportion of local families with one or more cars has reached seventy-seven percent, an increase over the prior total of 65 percent.

Compared with a possible maximum rating of four hundred, which would apply if every family had all of the four types of equipment mentioned, the local population scores 164. Its 1966 score was 98.

The survey indicates that the acquisition of household appliances and other durables is directly related to income, and that when income rises, as it has been doing locally, people tend to spend more in that direction.

Community Service Set for Nov. 21st

In past years, the First Christian Church and the First Baptist Church of Mt. Vernon have joined together for a Special Thanksgiving service on Wednesday evening before Thanksgiving. Beginning this year, the service will be a Community Thanksgiving service and all members of the Christian community in the Mt. Vernon area are invited. Because of seating space, the service will continue to rotate between the First Christian and First Baptist Church buildings, but we encourage and expect participation from many of the area ministers and church members.

Brother Jack Bruce, minister of the First Baptist Church will be bringing the special Thanksgiving message this year. The combined choir of First Christian and First Baptist will present special music. The service will be at the First Christian Church on West Main Street at 7 p.m. on November 21.

We at the host church would like to extend a cordial invitation to everyone in the community to join with us in this special time of the year and lift hands together in giving Thanksgiving unto God.

Fuel Short Locally

If it's a bad winter and you are a new comer to Rockcastle County, you may get a little chilly for a while. This seems to be what the nationwide fuel shortage boils down to here at present.

Since there is so much concern over the fuel shortage and its projected worsening, we decided to check the three local major suppliers of home heating oil and propane gas and try to find out the situation locally.

All three dealers told us that they have been cut in their allocations from their suppliers from five to ten percent, and all three dealers said they were combating the shortage at present by not taking on new customers.

If you are new to the area or for any other reason have been a fuel oil or propane gas user before and find yourself having difficulty getting supplied, about your own recourse is to write to: Regional Director, Office of Oil and Gas, 1375 Peachtree Street, N.W., Atlanta, Georgia, 30309.

In your letter you should state your case and there will supposedly be steps taken to alleviate these cases. But for right now, there really doesn't seem to be much change in the status quo for users who have purchased gas or oil before from a local dealer unless there is a "long, cold winter" or there should be further reductions made in allocations.

"GOOD GUYS FINISH LAST" would probably be the sentiment that Roy Martin of Mt. Vernon would express if you talked with him in the last few days. A look at the above ambulance, which belongs to Dowell and Martin Funeral Home, of which Mr. Dowell is a partner, would explain his reasoning. It seems that Mr. Martin was heading to Lexington on Interstate-75 last Thursday night to pick up a patient at a hospital there when, just this side of the Rockcastle-Madison line, he saw a young lady standing in front of her car, which was sitting in the northbound emergency lane with the hood up. He thought he might help out and pulled his ambulance over behind the car and turned his red light on to keep traffic off of them. He said that as soon as he turned his light on, a man stepped from in front of the car and began firing at him with a hand pistol. The first shot connected through the windshield and, at that point, Mr. Martin left the ambulance. Two other shots were fired through the windshield of the ambulance and then the man and woman jumped back in their car and took off, headed toward Berea. Mr. Martin, who felt too shook up to continue his journey, accepted a ride from a passing motorist on into Berea and reported the incident. No arrests have been made as of yet.

Frankfort Watchline

What an easy task it is to analyze an election... after the races are over. To assign blame, to pluck out of the air all the political rationale behind what the voters did.

Well, we're going to have our semi-annual go at it, and who can challenge us? Ours is most likely as good as the others. To us, the defeat of the proposed annual sessions and "cluster" amendments is perhaps more meaningful than the outcome of the legislative and the Jefferson and Fayette County contests. It reinforces a view which seems to have become shakier in these other amendment times... that Kentuckians just don't want anyone messing around with their constitution unless they can be shown a valid reason for it.

The last time they did tinker with the ancient document was a few years ago when they passed an amendment to help senior citizens acquire homestead exemptions. But even now, we're hearing some rumblings around these legislative halls that the homestead exemption is not doing what it was intended to do. True, it's helping the elderly, but sometimes the elderly and poor - who truly could use some financial help are not one and the same.

The people rejected annual sessions four years ago and have done so again. When will the lawmakers learn that the voters are not convinced that the path to strength and integrity in their branch of government is to meet more often?

This, you'll recall, was a recurring theme of pre-annual sessions advocates... that to prevent continued domination by the governor, they needed to become stronger, and to become stronger they need to meet every year, and so on.

We feel that one answer to that is that the courage to stand up to a governor has no bearing whatever on how often the Legislature meets.

The thought falling by the wayside by not so heavy a margin, was sort of a combination of neither fish nor fowl. Perhaps the one section that everyone could agree with was that the Kentucky Railroad Commission should have been done away with.

But that sheriffs should succeed themselves? We think there is a deep suspicion in local communities throughout the state that no such power ought to be given to a law officer who would get entangled to the detriment of good government. But that line of thinking would lead one to ask why practically every other county officer is allowed to stand for re-election.

And really, some blame should be laid at the feet of the annual session maneuver for dragging the other proposal down with it.

The education aspect of the cluster amendment now seems to have provided the voter with six of this or a half-dozen of that. At least that's what the voter may have thought. Few appeared to have been stirred by allowing the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to be appointed rather than elected.

Now the voters get a chance to pick their state school chief. The governor picks the seven members of the State Board of Education. That's the way it's going to stay.

Otherwise, the superintendent would have been named by an elected board. Not an earthshaker, really, except to those who supported it. We guess Kentuckians want to keep electing the man who runs their schools.

This whole discussion undermines the basic conservatism of the GOP and its allies. It revises any existing checks and balances.

Meantime, the legislative race went about the way most observers expected, with the Democrats gaining some in both chambers.

And, of course, this contributes further to the amazing decline of the Republican Party, which, come to think of it, was in power here in Frankfort only two years ago. More on this in some future columns, but don't be draping the black crepe just yet - the GOP still survives. Maybe just and doing a little gasping, but still alive.

That landslide victory of Todd Hollnbeck in keeping his Jefferson County judgeship also has possible significance in the U. S. Senate race next year.

More on that, too, later. Watergate and its impact? We think there was a little bit but how do we prove it?

Cutback Reaction - This amusing, if frank, response to the president's appeal for voluntary citizen help in cutting back the use of energy was overheard here the other day: "As I was looking along the interstate, doing between 90 and 90, I was reminded of a friend's reaction to the president's speech about conserving energy. He told me that he leaped up as the president was in mid-sentence, ran to his thermostat and cranked it up to 78 degrees."

ramblings...

by perline m. anderkirk

Got all bleary-eyed and patriotic feeling over the President's message last week asking us to voluntarily help conserve energy and, probably, along with other Americans, felt an attitude of "Keep your old oil, we'll show you to the Arab countries," coming on.

We discussed other ways we could conserve fuel (although when you have already put two adults and five children into two bedrooms you should have done your share). We decided that we would hold our speed down to 50 m.p.h. on the highways and felt certain that the majority of other motorists would also.

Boy, did we ever get fooled! I decided Saturday to take all the children and go to Lexington, driving 50 m.p.h. of course. Well, let me tell you - until they make it mandatory for everyone and there are State Policemen out there ready to write tickets for people going over 50 - you can forget it!! I'll have to do the regular speed. I found out immediately that on the entire Interstate there seemed to be only one driver observing the 50 mile limit, and that was me!

These odds are no good. Transfer trucks passed us up like we were sitting still and other cars would go around with the drivers giving us a look, plainly said, "What's your game?" (Cont. to 8)

Put Apples On The Agenda For Fall Meals

There are many different varieties of apples so you should know which kind is suitable for a particular use. For fresh eating (including apple bobbing), look for Delicious, Jonathan, McIntosh, Staygreen or Winesap - all red varieties. Or, look for the Golden Delicious, a yellow variety that is fine for eating out-of-hand.

You will want a tart or slightly acid variety for pies and applesauce. Gravenstein and Jonathan, both reds; Grimes Golden, Yellow Transparent, both yellows; or Newton, a green variety, are good for use in pies, tarts and applesauce. Baked apples make a good fall dessert and for this purpose you will need a firm, fleshed variety of apple. For baking, look for the Northern Spy, Rome Beauty, Winesap or York Imperial, all red varieties. A green apple, the Rhode Island Greening, is also good for baking.

Check for quality when buying apples. USDA or similar states grades are sometimes shown on packages of apples. U. S. Extra Fancy apples are top quality. They have the best color, shape, and general appearance. U. S. Fancy apples are next best. U. S. No. 1 apples may have less color and more russeting, a lay or solid netting on the skin, than U. S. Fancy, but this does not affect the flavor.

When the grade is not given on apples, look for firm, crisp apples with good color for the variety. Avoid apples that yield to slight pressure and those with bruises.

And, remember that all season good advice, buy city what you can use or store without waste. Apples should be stored in the refrigerator.

Cranberries and White Hats - Every Western movie fan knows that good guys generally wear white hats. And every smart cranberry shopper knows that good cranberries bounce - bad ones don't. This unique characteristic of cranberries is used to tell the "good guys" from the "bad guys" during processing.

Cranberries which pass the bounce test are good and packaged for marketing fresh or frozen, or sent on through the processing channels where they emerge in a variety of products - whole berry cranberry sauce, jelled cranberry sauce, cranberry-orange relish, cranberry juice cocktail. These products enable us to enjoy the tangy goodness of ruby red cranberries throughout the year with the greatest of ease.

An abundant supply of cranberry products are available now. Be one of the good buys, and add the good berry with bounce to your fall menu.

Cranberry Cookies Cranberry cookies boast the perky goodness of fresh cranberries.

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
3/4 cup brown sugar, packed
1/2 cup milk
3/4 cup milk
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 egg
3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Cream butter and sugars together. Beat in the milk, orange juice and egg. Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda, and salt. Combine dry ingredients with creamed mixture and blend well. Stir in chopped nuts and cranberries. Drop by teaspoonful onto greased cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for ten to fifteen minutes. Makes about twelve dozen tea-size cookies.

Cranberry relish contributes colorful, zesty goodness to any entree, be it chicken, turkey, meat, or fish. Make your own Cranberry-Apple Relish (Cont. to 9)

Rockcastle Recollections

© John Lair

A few more Rockcastle County firsts, mostly from old Signal articles by James Maret.

First sewing machine owned by Mrs. Pauline Smith. It was a Wheeler and Wilson, cost $100 and was bought from Thornton Hackley, Garrard County. Charles Murphy got the sewing machine agency and set up an office in the Kirtley House, one of Mt. Vernon's hotels of earlier days.

First calendar clock owned by Henry Maddox, on Copper Creek near Wilmore's Chapel. (Lee Coffey had an early one which is now in my museum.)

First horse mill was erected by Frederick Houk on what is known as the Andy Hiatt place. The second was built in Mt. Vernon by James Terrill on a lot not far from where the old depot was erected. The mill was later owned by G. W. Proctor. (Does anyone know where the mill stones or any old part of either of these mills can now be found?)

Caleb Guinn of Scaffold Cane owned the first metal cane mill and John S. Gadd on Clear Creek brought in the first molasses evaporator.

In the old days store goods were hauled to local merchants from Louisville or Lexington. John and Sid Meyers, Granville Allen, William Christopher and E. W. Hansell were among early teamsters engaged in such transportation. It generally took from five to six days to make the round trip to Louisville and back. Harrison Carpenter and D. N. Williams once paid a bonus for a rush order and the wagons travelled to Lexington and back, a distance of 120 miles, in only forty hours. (In 1973 it takes an hour and a half to make the trip.)

R. G. Williams and Joseph Reynolds, first postmasters, were appointed by Salmon P. Chase in 1861.

First railroad and express agent was J. L. Joplin. First telegraph operator was Joseph Johnson.

The first reaper in the county was owned by Mr. Bowers. James M. Crawford, near Boone's Fork, in the Brodhead community, had the first mowing machine. Captain Jack Adams brought in the first cook stove. First wheat fan belonged to James Cooper of Line Creek. First wagon tire shrinker was in the blacksmith shop of H. C. Gentry.

First drugstore was instituted by W. M. Webber. Dr. M. L. Meyers installed the first dental chair.

First bank was the Bank of Mt. Vernon, established in 1900. (I have asked Robert McKenzie, The President of the Bank, to give us the complete history of banking in Rockcastle County. It will appear in an early issue.)

First garage and automobile sales agency in the county was put in by the Bryant Brothers, Oscar, Emmett and Logan. Logan is presently working on the story of transportation in the county and Signal readers may expect his report soon. The Bryant Brothers also brought the first radio to Rockcastle County and it was the one used many years ago when we broadcast from WLS, Chicago, a special program in installing Aladdin Lamps - the first in the county - in the Rose Hill Church house.)

First to enlist in the Union Army were Dr. Milton Frazer, M. C. Miller, Jack and Granville Maret. First to join the Confederate forces were James and Lewis Smith and T. T. Wallace. (Frazer became a captain in the Union Army and had a most interesting history. He was an ancestor of the O'Mara family and lived here after the war in what is probably the oldest house now standing in Mt. Vernon.)

THE MOUNT VERNON SIGNAL, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1973 PAGE SEVEN

Dr. Joplin was the first established medical practitioner. There persists a rumor that a man named Love, a so-called "Water Doctor" practiced here for awhile at an earlier date, being run out of the county by "Devil Bill" Adams when he refused to treat a man for a skull fracture sustained in a fight with Adams. When he pleaded his fear of not being able to handle the case, Adams is said to have told him that any man who did not have the courage of his profession had no business with a profession and gave him until sundown to leave the county. He reportedly made it by a wide margin.

First Circuit and County Court Clerk was James Terrill. First Circuit Judge was Joseph Evans, of Barbourville. First jailor was James Proctor and Col. William Smith was the first surveyor, with Thomas Fish his deputy. (Both these men, together with Thomas' brother, Col. William Fish were veterans of the War of 1812.) We are greatly in need of information on county officers during the earlier days of its existence. If any reader knows the names of any of these and the dates of their service I would greatly appreciate hearing about it. It would take so much time for me to run these down individually that I would never have time to finish our proposed county history. And while on the subject, I want to appeal again for information on the earlier churches of the county. I am, almost, sure that in practically every church congregation in the county there is someone who could tell me when their church was organized, the names of earlier preachers, etc. Such information would be of interest to everybody reading this book and a county history is not much of a history unless it has a good section devoted to the religious activities of its people.

First egg cases were used by Willis Adams, Jr., who was in business with his father, Jack Adams. Before that time, eggs had been shipped in tubs, boxes and barrels, with considerable breakage involved. First lucifer matches introduced by either M. C. Miller or Alfred Smith. First barrel of coal oil brought to Mt. Vernon by W. A. Brooks. First private electric lights installed in G. T. Johnson store and residence February 1st, 1907. Mrs. E. H. Kirtley owned the first coal oil lamp in Mt. Vernon. She sent to Lexington for it by Dr. Robert Redd who was then attending school there. Everybody was afraid of it and children were for a long time sent out of the room for safety when it was being lighted. (I myself can remember when parents would grab up a lamp and throw it out in the yard when the flame ran too high in it.)

First monument was erected by Jonathan S. Langford on a lot in the Mt. Vernon Cemetery. It was made of Rockcastle freestone and is still in a good state of preservation.

 blem, stupid? I persevered but it was a harrowing experience and one I wouldn't care to repeat right away.
 It was perfectly obvious that unless it is made mandatory - people will not voluntarily slow down....
 One of the local oil dealers tells us that truck drivers say that when they shift down to stay within a 50 m.p.h. limit they actually use more gas and oil than at a higher rate of speed. I don't know, I am a little cynical where truck drivers are concerned. I have fought for my right-of-way at the corner of Main and Richmond Streets with them too many times for me to put a great deal of faith in what they say (Wow, will I ever hear from truck drivers and their wives now!).

 But, any driver who has ever gotten behind two trucks on the Interstate and watched them start up a long grade side by side, knowing full well they can't pass anything up but managing to keep car traffic piled up behind them, knows what I mean. I've seen that malevolent gleam in their eye when there is a confrontation at an intersection where a car actually has right of way but he hesitates and gives a truck that fraction of a second he needs to barrel on through, and you have, too. Oh, well, as I said I suppose now I'll get a bevy of letters from truck drivers, especially their wives, but that is the way I feel....

 A friend, Mrs. Faith Plummer, called me this afternoon with blood in her eye over the conduct of a highway department employee which she had witnessed. She said that while waiting for traffic to be let go on Highway 150, where blacktopping work is being done, she saw an employee of the department finish his lunch and, nonchalantly, chuck the remains across the road into the weeds. She said it really burned her up at the time and she thought she time it right and you'll save electricity!

Do Your Part To Conserve Energy

ITS TIME TO USE ELECTRICITY USE IT WISELY

Full load washing and drying saves hot water, saves your electricity, too. If your water heater is electric.

You simply can't help saving many, many hours of time and work with an automatic electric clothes dryer on the job - whenever you want, whatever the weather. If you can time it for full-load drying, you'll save electricity, too - a real asset in conservation. Incidentally, you'll save clothes, too - because electric heat is clean and gentle, keeps clothes sunshine fresh and wearable longer. And the permanent press cycle saves ironing.

Letter To The Editor

My Friends:
Let me take this means of reporting to you, and to thank you from the bottom of my heart for your prayers and faithful news in my days of trials and afflictions. I was at the brink of death with an operation from which I was given, by my doctors, only a twenty percent chance of living. But I had the MASTER PHYSICIAN on my side, and I had your prayers. I actually felt your prayers and they were answered. My talk with the Lord and his promise is vivid and true! My drinking was not the whole cause of my sickness and need of operation, but it certainly was harmful and added to my physical and mental and spiritual sickness.

I am progressing well, but as natural, it will be sometime before I am fully recovered. I need your continued prayers, and help. I promise to live clean and refrain from drinking. With the Lord's help and your help, I can make it!

I love you because you have stood by me. You could have easily turned aside and took the attitude that I was lost and had brought all the trouble upon myself.

My pastor, Rev. Barnes, and others came to see me every day I was in the hospital. It is wonderful to be alive and to know that my people are standing by me in my efforts to continue in living a better life!

As ever,

using canned cranberry sauce and seasonally available fresh apples.

Cranberry-Apple Relish
1 apple, medium tart
1/2 cup diced celery
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons bottled horse-radish
1 pound can whole berry cranberry sauce.

Core apple. Put through coarse blade of food chopper, or finely dice. Mix other ingredients. Let stand in refrigerator several hours for flavors to blend. Makes one pint relish.

Canned cranberry sauces - a pair of favorites. Jellied cranberry sauce is smooth textured, firm enough for slicing, but can easily be stirred when mixing with other food and spices. Whole berry sauce boasts the crispy crunchiness of the tangy cranberry skin.

Abundant supplies of cranberry products are available now. Stock up now for all. Choose whole berry cranberry sauce, jellied cranberry sauce, cranberry orange relish, and cranberry juice cocktail.

Cranberry Sauce For Hamburgers

1 pound can jellied cranberry sauce
1/4 tsp. seasoned salt
2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. instant minced onion dash red pepper

Beat jellied cranberry sauce until smooth and velvety. Stir in remaining ingredients. Keep chilled until ready to serve. Then serve hot or cold with hamburgers. Makes about one pint.

Cranberry-Pineapple-Mint Topping

1 lb. can whole berry cranberry sauce
1 C. crushed pineapple, drained
1/4 tsp. peppermint extract
Mix ingredients together and spoon over vanilla ice cream.

At the age of seventy, Alex Napier of Brodhead says "It's still a thrill to be a good marksman." His trophy for this year's deer hunting season was a ten-point buck, which he killed in the Copper Creek section of the county. The deer dressed out at 156 pounds.

Makes about 2-1/2 cups topping.
kind and efficient service. May God bless each and everyone who helped in any way.

The Allen Family

I wish to thank each and everyone who helped last week when I had two heart attacks in the Mt. Vernon Post Office - I also thank the Lady and the Taxi Driver who took me to the hospital - and thanks to all the nurses and Doctor Arvin at the Hospital. God bless everyone.

OPINIONS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TITORNEY GENERAL

Among opinions released this week from the office of Atty. Gen. Ed W. Hancock were the following:

Hot Party Cranwiches - This piping hot snack can be assembled ahead, stored in the refrigerator then popped in the oven at the last minute. Make biscuits as big or little as you like, bake until golden, split, and spread deviled ham onto each half. Slice a can of jellied cranberry sauce into rounds, cut rounds with biscuit cutter, and place one round atop each ham-covered half biscuits. Top with strips of processed cheese. Bake on cookie sheet in moderate 350-degree oven until heated through and cheese melts.

Cranberry Mint Punch - This warm tasty punch teams equal amounts of cranberry juice cocktail and pineapple juice. Heat, pour into mugs or cups, and add a couple of after-dinner mints just before serving.

Frosty Cranberry Pie - This pretty pie is mighty tasty, too. Fold 1-1/4 cups cranberry-orange relish into one pint softened vanilla ice cream. Spoon into an eight-inch baked and cooled pie shell. Freeze until firm. Decorate with whipped cream for serving.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to our friends and relatives who were so kind to us during the death of our husband and father, Elsie Allen. We thank everyone for the beautiful flowers, the pallbearers, the singers, to those who sent food, and especially to Bro.
