County Agent's Notes

County Agent

WHAT TO DO IN FEBRUARY
Although February is just a bit too early for actual gardening, traditionally, if not officially, it does mark the beginning of the garden season. This is the month in which old-time gardeners plant edible pod or "salut" peas.

How long this pea-planting custom has been going on, no one knows for sure but for generations, and with usually good results, gardeners have planted peas on February 14. Sometimes they planted them on this particular day even if the snow was a-flying and the ground frozen so hard they had to dig it up with a coal miner's pick.

With the new and improved varieties of edible potted peas now available in seed stores and mail order catalogs, this vegetable can be planted much later, but as an experiment any dedicated gardener might profit by planting a row or two of peas sometime during this month.

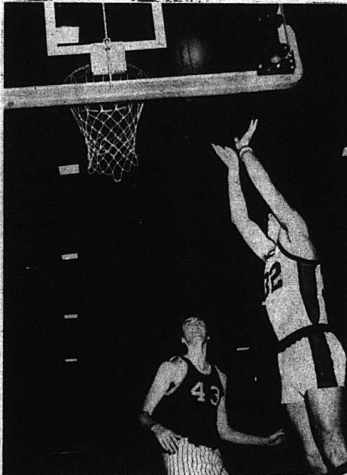

Since gardening requires tools, an inventory should be taken now and whatever needed should be secured. Tools on hand should be sharpened, rehandled, and otherwise made ready. This is very important because few things are more frustrating than to start out to do a job and discover the right tool with which to do it is missing or inoperative. It's somewhat like going out to plant and finding the seed missing.

If any restless gardener wishes to force the season and have fresh rhubarb before his neighbors, here's how gardeners in the old days used to do it.

About the middle of the month, secure a bushel basket - any kind of an old fruit basket

MODELING - Mrs. Diana Lequire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ester A. Thomas of Livingston, is a recent graduate of a modeling school in Charlotte, N.C., an extension of a New York modeling school. Mrs. Lequire is a 1965 graduate of Livingston High School and attended college at Lexington prior to modeling school.

JOHN CLONTZ, who had the pressure of the last shot of Tuesday night's game with McCreary County, to try for a one-point come-from-behind victory by the ROCKETS, goes for two earlier in the game. John's last shot almost made it but not quite and the ROCKETS lost 54 to 53. Also in the picture is McCreary County's big 6'10" center, Tindel, who grabbed off a number of rebounds during the game but really presented no problem to the ROCKETS in scoring from the inside.

will do - cut out the bottom, place over a clump of rhubarb in the garden, and cover the open top with a piece of glass. Bank the basket with soil or barnyard manure and get ready to have fresh rhubarb pie at least a couple of weeks earlier than usual.

February is also a good month in which to control San Jose scale and some types of fungus diseased in the orchard. Spray fruit trees with a lime-sulphur solution. Also, if the size of the orchard needs to be increased, get an order in immediately for fruit trees. Dwarf trees are ideal and come highly recommended by horticulturists for home orchards.

Then February is a good time to have the soil tested and to secure fertilizers called for by the tests before supplies run out. And if all this isn't enough to keep the impatient gardener busy, UK Extension Garden Specialist C. R. Roberts lists some additional jobs worth doing during the month.

Check vegetables being kept in storage and remove those showing signs of decay. Prune backyard fruit trees, but not flowering shrubs. Wait until after they have bloomed to do this.

If the soil becomes dry enough, spade or plow the garden in preparation for cool season vegetables such as cabbage, broccoli, and cauliflower. Also give some thought to securing and putting out some asparagus crowns this year. This delicious vegetable, high-priced at the grocery, grows well in most parts of Kentucky.

Something else also most likely to be profitable, especially on bad weather days, is to reread Lincoln's 'Gettysburg Address' and do a little visiting with the local County Extension Agent. Always able and willing, he can provide information, technical assistance, and advice on how to make this another good garden year.

SOME FARMERS CAN SAVE

TAXES BY INCOME AVG.

Many Kentucky farmers had their highest incomes ever in 1973. If you are one of these farmers, you should take a look at income averaging as you prepare your 1973 income tax returns. That is the advice of Stephen Q. Allen, Extension Cont. to 12

Farm Management Specialist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.
Allen says income averaging can provide large tax savings in some instances. Income averaging may help if your 1973 taxable income after taking itemized deductions and personal exemptions is as much as 120 percent greater than your average income for the three preceding years plus $3,000.

If you qualify, you compute your tax on the averageable income (that income over 120 percent of the four-year average) by finding the tax on the first one-fifth of the averageable income and multiplying the amount of that tax by five. In doing this, you avoid the effect of the progressive tax rates on the top four-fifths of your averageable income.

To illustrate the possible tax savings, assume that your 1973 taxable income was $28,000. In 1972, your taxable income was $5,000; in 1971, $5,000; in 1970, zero; and in 1969, $6,000. Your tax for 1973 using the regular system would be $7,100. By averaging, the tax would be reduced to $5,503 - a tax saving of $1,597.

Complete information on income averaging can be found in Internal Revenue Service publication, 506, "Computing Your Tax Under The Income Averaging Method," available at IRS Offices and from most tax practitioners. To take advantage of income averaging, you must work through Schedule G when you file your tax return. Detailed instructions and eligibility requirements are included on the schedule. *****

The battle is over
The victory is won,
Our dearly beloved
Is with God's dear Son.

He worked and he labored
His Savior to please,
The welfare of others
More important than ease.

A farmer, a trainman, a preacher and more -
A parent of five
Were the titles he wore.

He read, he believed
And he preached it, too,
The blessed word of God
That he found so true.

We loved him, we'll miss him,
This servant so rare,
But he's home with his Lord,
In that great land so fair.

So don't weep and don't mourn
As those without hope,
He is happier now
Than our mountain slope.

In closing, I will say
What he would relate
Accept Jesus now
Before it is too late.

Mr. Brown used alternatives which the Council is working on to getting proper access to the land including the one which looks the most promising of having an access road from US 150 over the old wooden bridge. Mr. Brown said that if this plan were decided upon and agreed to by L & N, the state would possibly bear the cost of constructing the overpass.

Of the $200,000 needed, $120,000 would be used to buy the land and approximately $80,000 used to run utilities to the site and for some grading. Money to retire the mortgages to the KIDFA Loan Program and to local financiers would come, hopefully, from sale of tracts of the land to industries.

At Monday night's meeting of the Rockcastle Improvement Council, officers for 1974 were elected. They are: Roy Brown,

Mr. McKenzie Honored By Baptist Association

At Baptist Men's Day, held Sunday, January 27 at the First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon, Robert B. McKenzie was honored for his "Outstanding Service" to the First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon.

Mr. McKenzie, known widely as "Mr. Bob," has been a member of the local congregation for sixty-six years. He was ordained a deacon and elected church treasurer approximately twenty-five years ago.

He taught school for two years; worked for the government during World War I at Jeffersonville, Indiana; worked for the L & N Railroad at Corbin for four years; at the Bank of Mt. Vernon for several months; then was cashier of the Wallen's Creek National Bank for three years then returning to the nineteen great grandchildren. Interment was in the Mt. Moriah Cemetery at Withamsville, Ohio.

WRWA Meets

At a meeting with the Board of Directors of the Western Rockcastle Water Association Monday, January 21, 1974, it appears that the Association is very close to meeting the requirements of the Farmers Home Administration for financing of the water project. As soon as FHA approval is received, the Association expects to authorize the Engineer to proceed with the final Plans and Specifications which are needed before construction can begin. The Engineer expressed the opinion that unless unforeseen difficulties are encountered, construction could begin in late spring or by late fall. It is expected that water rates, as finally approved by the Kentucky Public Service Commission, will be reasonable and compare favorably with rates charged by other water districts and water associations.

At this point, the reaction from the girls themselves, their parents, school officials and just plain spectators, seems to be a good one. Most of the comments seem to center around the theme of "It's about time a little of the money spent on athletics in the county went to the girls."

The new program was instigated last year by County Elementary and Athletic Director Preston Parrett who told the School Board that he felt it was time to make some arrangement for girls to share in the athletic programs at the schools along with the boys. His idea of beginning with a 7th and 8th grade girls team in each school was approved by the board and inter-school competition began last week.

At this time, there is no program for the girls on the high school level and RCHS Principal Cleston Saylor said, when contacted Tuesday, that he did not anticipate a program in the high school until probably the Spring of 1976. Mr. Saylor said that he felt that the high school program would have to wait until a feeder system from the grade schools would warrant a high school team and until surrounding high schools, which would offer the competition, should also be involved in the programs.

There is a bill at present before the general assembly which would, if passed, require any high school having a boys' team to also have a girls' team. However, Mr. Saylor said that even if this bill passed, he felt that the bill would allow schools adequate time to set up the program and that it would still be the Spring of 1976 before there was a girls' team at the high school.

To date, the Livingston girls' team, coached by Mr. Parrett, seems to have the edge on the other three county

New Order of Sports in County; Girls' Basketball Program Begins

Look Out, Boys! That area reserved for so long for boys is being heavily invaded by the girls - spectator basketball is taking on an entire new dimension with the addition of girls' basketball teams in all four of the county's consolidated grade schools.

At this point, the reaction from the girls themselves, their parents, school officials and just plain spectators, seems to be a good one. Most of the comments seem to center around the theme of "It's about time a little of the money spent on athletics in the county went to the girls."

To date, the Livingston girls' team, coached by Mr. Parrett, seems to have the edge on the other three county teams. Livingston has soundly defeated Brodhead and Mt. Vernon and edged Roundstone Monday night by four points.

After personally viewing Monday night's game between Brodhead and Mt. Vernon, which Mt. Vernon won 16 to 6, it seems that the girls, besides their playing ability, are going to also have to work on their sportsmanship. Of course, and please don't get me wrong, girls, I am highly in favor of the girls. I realize that if the girls had been playing the game in competition since the fourth grade as the boys have done - neither of these areas would probably have been a problem.

All in all, the program seems to be fulfilling a need which has gone begging since the year one in our schools and the efforts of Mr. Parrett in establishing the program on the elementary level are, we are sure, greatly appreciated by the girls themselves.

Now, if that sticky problem of not enough dressing rooms can just be worked out!

Colder December Weather Means Higher Electric Bills

Even if you set back your home thermostat and carefully followed the other energy saving suggestions during December, your heating bills for the month may run higher than for December, 1972.

Blame it on the weather, says Kentucky Utilities Company. Data from the three major weather stations nearby - Lexington, Knoxville and Bristol show that last December was about 20 percent colder than the December before in terms of degree days, a measure of the heat needed to keep your house warm.

Although unpredictable weather didn't cooperate by letting some heating customers see the savings from the energy conservation programs sponsored by KU and others, the company assures its customers that they can benefit in lower bills, as well as helping solve national energy supply problems by following good conservation practices including full insulation.

Other measures which will save energy and energy bills suggested by KU are:

Use of storm windows and doors to keep cold air out and heat from coming down (Clear plastic tacked across windows can help serve the same purpose).

Seal up cracks. Weather strip and caulk windows and doors.

Keep chimney dampers closed or block off fireplaces when they are not in use.

Let the sunshine in by keeping shades up and draperies open during the day, but close shades and draperies during the night for added insulating effect.

Defrost the refrigerator before the ice gets a quarterinch thick. Leave refrigerator doors shut as much as possible. Make sure door gaskets have a good seal.

Keep the freezer full. Use your dishwasher only when you have a full load.

Save hot water with shower instead of a tub bath. Repair leaky hot water faucets.

Wash full loads of clothes. It saves time, hot water and electricity.

Keep your appliances in good repair. When they don't operate efficiently, they require more power and you don't get full use from them.

Also, be careful not to leave appliances on when they're not being used. This is especially true for items like televisions, electric blankets and room heaters.

Garlan VanHook, working well against the Indians' big 6'10" Tindel, garnered 18 points; Paul Travis and John Clontz, both playing excellent defensive games, got 11 each; Casey Carroll, who had a hot hand for the long-outside shot, got 8 and Eddie Hammond, who is looking better each game after being side-lined due to illness, got 5.

In the B-Team game, the Rockets won easily with the help of several long outside shots by Bill Henderson in the fourth quarter.

Bro. Sams Assumes Pastorate In Indiana

Bro. Ronald Sams, pastor of the First Christian Church in Mt. Vernon for the past year and a half, resigned recently to accept the pastorate of the Central Christian Church in Mays, Indiana.

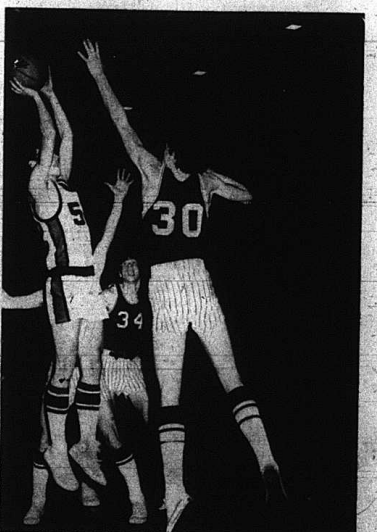

Bro. Sams, who preached his last sermon here Sunday, January 27, came to Mt. Vernon with his family from Bedford, housed there will replace present equipment and will make the new numbering system possible.

Collins suggested that customers, who use stationary, business cards, or other printed material containing their telephone numbers, keep the number change in mind when ordering new supplies. Shortly before the change-over to the new system, customers will receive a number sticker for their telephone dial showing their new telephone number.

CASH NAMED KENTUCKY COLONEL

Lloyd C. Cash of Mt. Vernon was named a Kentucky Colonel by Governor Wendell Ford on January 9th.

GARLAN VANHOOK, No. 52 for the ROCKETS, faced this situation several times during Tuesday night's game with the McCree County Indians but managed to persevere quite often and end the game with a total of eighteen points for high scorer. No. 30 for the Indians is Tim Stephens, a GT forward, who is quite a ballplayer. Stephens was second high scorer for the Indians with eighteen points. The ROCKETS' loss to the Indians by one point was the second loss for the year for the ROCKETS to McCree. They were defeated on the Indians home court by three points earlier in the season.

Unless you have had a chance to view an elementary girls' basketball game recently, you have missed an experience. Believe me, what the girls lack in ability they more than make up in enthusiasm. Personally, I think the program is a good one and needs to be extended even into the high schools. There is presently a bill under consideration in the Legislature which would require any high school that has a boys' basketball team to also have a girls' team.

What this will do to the sports picture locally remains to be seen; but, there is no doubt that all the girls involved are highly enthusiastic about the program and have wanted a chance to participate for some time. As of yet, there is no program in the high school but, if the bill in the Legislature is passed, a program will be begun there also. But, back to the lighter side. Monday night while watching the Mt. Vernon girls play at Brodhead, my son (who considers himself the last word in anything about the game of basketball) was watching a classmate play and remarked, "Do you think we ought to tell her that you don't normally guard your man when your team is on offense?"

Of course, there are incidents like this throughout the game including quick flare-ups of temper which they will have to learn to control. Naturally, it all goes back to never having been coached to play the game as the boys have been so things can only improve. The only question I have is - if the girls are going to start playing basketball will there be boy cheerleaders elected for them? One cheerleader's mother who had overheard her son and his friends remark that they were going to cheer for the girls' team since the girls had cheered so faithfully for them, ended the discussion with the remark, "I don't care if you cheerlead for the girls or not, but I am not going to buy any more uniforms..."

Doc B. Chandler of Brodhead was in the Signal office Tuesday and brought us a clipping from the March 1, 1984 issue of the Signal which had belonged to his mother, Mrs. Rose Chandler, now deceased. The column was written by Col. Jim Maret and was entitled "Notes and Clips." It concerned Rockcastle County in 1894. Some of the items in the column are of particular interest since even an original out-of-towner such as myself can pick out local and family names familiar in town even now, such as: "Jack Adams and Son were general merchants in a building just across the street from the Joplin House where U. G. Baker's store is today," "About this time, W. H. Cox, a native of Pennsylvania, moved into town from southern part of the county and opened a blacksmith shop and wagon works. The Cox wagon earned a fine reputation throughout the county for its stability." "Fritz Krueger operated the first Mount Vernon line kila." "Jack Adams and family's residence some years before 1883, occupied the lot where R. A. Sparks home is located today on West Main Street." "C. G. Williams of Mt. Vernon is standing a law office in Louisville." "The oldest

MRS. BILLY JOE HOWARD

Kelsey - Howard

The marriage of Miss Lisa Kelsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis Kelsey, and Billy Joe Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Howard, was solemnized at 3 p.m., Sunday, December 16, 1973 at the First Christian Church in Mt. Vernon with Rev. Ronald W. Sams officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, wore a designer gown of imported Chantilly lace and ivory Peau de soie. The high neckline, bishop sleeves, empire waist, and A-line silhouette added to the beauty of the attached chapel train. Her headpiece was a profusion of lace motifs and bell buds sparkled with pearls. It held her full bridal veil of English illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and babies breath interspersed with red floral buttons and English holly.

Honor attendants were Mrs. Dale Scoggin and Miss Mitz McCauley. They wore floor length gowns of scarlet velvet enhanced with ivory lace and self ruffles. Their profile hats were of matching velvet accented with ivory lace. They carried scarlet velvet muffs with a cascade of white snowdrift pom-poms and red floral buttons. The bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth Allen and Miss Lida Henderson, wore emerald green velvet gowns and hats, identical in detail to those of the honor attendants. They carried muffs of emerald green velvet with a cascade of white snowdrift pom-poms and red floral buttons. James Edward Mullins, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Serving as best man was Bill Kelsey, brother of the bride.

Dale Scoggin served as groomsman. Ushers were Keith Riddell, cousin of the bride, and John McCollum.

A reception was held at the Rockcastle Steak House immediately following the ceremony. Assisting at the bride's table were Mrs. Lucas Mullins and Miss Phyllis Shepherd. Miss Margaret Allen kept the guest book.

To get the most value from the meat you buy, compare the actual amount of lean (the protein part) to the amount of waste (bone, fat and gristle) in each pound. Learn to judge value by the cost per serving of the meat you buy rather than the cost per pound.

Figuring cost per serving sounds more complicated than it actually is. Here's a handy guide to help you figure the number of servings you can plan on from the meats you usually buy.

- **For meat with no bone or fat (like ground beef) allow 4 to 5 servings per pound.
- **For meat with little bone or fat (like a chuck roast) allow 3 to 4 servings per pound.
- **For meat with medium bone or fat (like a chuck blade steak) allow 2 to 3 servings per pound.
- **For meat with a large amount of bone or fat (like a turkey) allow 1 to 2 servings per pound.

Here are recipes that will help to cut your family's food bills:

"The Value of a Smile"
It costs nothing, but saves much. It enriches those who receive, without impoverishing those who give.

It happens in a flash, and the memory of it sometimes lasts forever. None is so rich that he can get along without it; none so poor that he is not enriched by it. It creates happiness in the home, fosters good will in business and it is the sign of "good friends."

It is rest to the weary, daylight to the discouraged, sunshine to the sick and Nature's best antidote for trouble. Yet it cannot be bought, borrowed, or stolen, for it is something that is of no earthly good to anyone until given away. If you meet folks who are too burdened with grief or worry to smile, just give them one of yours.

For nobody needs a smile so much as those who have none left to give.

I don't know why reading about life fifty and one hundred years ago always fills me with nostalgia. It probably is because from reading about life then, you get a sense of an unburdened, peaceful life with very little in material things but a slower-paced existence where such things as drugs, soaring crime rates, pollution, over-population (aren't it the one to be worried about that), etc. were not problems yet. Of course, there were very real problems then. So many of the diseases that are not even in existence today or that we have cures for today and there was no doubt corruption in government then also.

As much as I yearn for a time when life was all black or white and the family unit seemed more solid, I don't suppose I would trade it for life today with all the conveniences that we now take for granted. Can't you see all these working mothers without their automatic washers and dryers, dishwashers, plumbing, central heating, convenience foods, etc. But the vicious circle comes back to the fact that if we weren't caught up in such a frenzied existence all these "conveniences" might not be necessary. But, I'm dreaming again and that never works because we all must take the portion of life granted us and make the best of it whatever period of time it is in.....

Gracious, I can get melancholy easily these days. I think it is partly due to the fact that I am through with Winter, regardless of its intentions toward me. But, I take heart from the fact that I recently received in the mail information for ordering tickets to the Reds' baseball games; and, when spring training and exhibition games arrive - can Summer be far behind?.....

WE'RE COMMITTED TO CONSERVE OUR ENERGY RESOURCES

We face a serious crisis! Hardships for Kentuckians and people all over the nation can be expected because their south and central energy to meet demands. Sixty percent of the world's population uses 35 percent of the world's energy and that's right here in the United States. Personal efforts, previously taken for granted, will be altered. In other words, we will definitely be forced to make changes in our living styles. Kentucky, like other Midwestern states, is beginning to adapt and this spirit of cooperation will go far in making the challenge. We've met many challenges throughout the period of our state's history and this is no more we can meet and conquer. Conservation is a major commitment in state government. It is the major goal throughout our area. Conservation is the key.

HERE'S WHAT YOU CAN DO...

IN THE HOME:

- Make energy conservation a family affair. Get everyone conservation conscious... and remind one another.
- We have become used to it in hot weather we cool our homes too much, when it's cold outside we overheat them. This winter, turn the thermostat down to 65° or less, and when the family goes to bed at night turn it down even more.
- Use electric appliances sensibly. Wait until you have a full load before starting the dishwasher or washing machine. When lights aren't being used, or the television isn't being watched, turn them off.
- Prevent heat loss by sealing cracks and openings around doors and windows.

- If you have unused or seldom-used rooms, close them off. It won't take long to heat them up if they are needed.

ON THE ROAD:

- Don't drive at all if you don't have to. Get into the habit of walking on short trips (it'll do you good, too).
- Form car pools - not only to and from work, but for the weekly shopping trips, to the beauty parlor, taking the youngsters to their activities.
- When you drive, stay under the 50-mile-per-hour speed limit - avoid jack-rabbit starts... keep your engine tuned to get maximum performance.

AT WORK:

- Encourage your employer to conserve power, and cooperate with him in his efforts.
  - Watch for possible power losses (such as washing steam pipes) and report them.
  - Turn off equipment when you're not using it.
  - Make sure areas not being used are secured. With all unnecessary lights and equipment turned off.
  - If you're the boss, don't overlight... use just the wattage necessary, and eliminate advertising signs that use a lot of power.
- When each of us is doing these things, we'll be setting an example for our fellow workers and the rest of the nation to follow.

"Farmers make more in 1974 down on the farm" is the new theme for our forage program that is starting here in Rockcastle. We have already had three meetings with good attendance of interested farmers. We might ask "How or what can I do as a farmer to make more in '74", as was brought out in the meetings.

Forage Crops Specialist Kenneth Evans from the University of Kentucky along with others talked about a program that would help. One of the first things is a farm map and land use plan from your S.C.S. then soil test, land preparation, right kind and amount of seeds, fertilizer, lime and dates of seeding. I would say the very best farmers in Rockcastle can double their production of crops with this plan and rotation of grazing, clipping and management, also we need to do a better job of harvesting our hay crops - the right time to cut can make a big difference in feed value. When this program is put into effect, it will not increase our income unless we utilize these crops into money. Livestock is our best way to turn them into cash. Your PCA believes in this program so much we are willing to finance it all the way, and any other service or help we can provide to see that we, the farmers, "make more in 1974" and years to come.....
