At this late date we have no way of knowing all the professional men in the early history of Rockcastle County. We are especially short on information as to early doctors. James Maret gives the name of Dr. Josiah Joplin as the first regularly licensed doctor to practice in Rockcastle County. Dr. Joplin was born in Virginia, and we do not know the date of his coming to Mt. Vernon, except that it was between 1820 and 1880. He died here at an advanced age, but I have not yet determined the date of his death or where he was buried. Very likely his grave will be found in the Adams burial plot on what was formerly known as the Jesse Livesay place, which belonged at the time to William (Devil Bill) Adams. His only daughter, Elizabeth Adams, who first married John Crawford, after his death married Dr. Joplin. "Devil Bill" also owned what was later known as the old Noe place on which was situated the big log building operated as a tavern for many years. During temporary arrangements between Adams and his wife he would live with his son on the Livesay place, and his wife and daughter would occupy the original homeplace. Such an arrangement was in effect at the time of Bill's death, but in the meantime or sometime after, Dr. Joplin had married the widowed daughter and had erected an office building in the front yard, where he saw his patients. I remember seeing both the old log tavern and the doctor's office during my youth and young manhood. Just when they were torn down, I do not remember.

While Dr. Joplin is listed as the first regular practicing physician there is a tradition of a Dr. Love, or Lovings, who was what was then known as a "Water Doctor," who was here before the advent of Dr. Joplin. Willis Adams, former resident of Mt. Vernon, was back here on a visit after the family had moved to California. He was one hundred years old at the time of this visit but still possessed a good memory. He told me of an incident in which he and Dr. Joplin had a fight, which was a result of a misunderstanding. They were engaged in a rough-and-tumble fight, merely for the purpose of seeing who was "the best man." Adams called on Dr. Love to attend his opponent, who had been carried into the Adams home and put to bed. Dr. Love diagnosed the skull fracture and refused to render treatment, saying he was afraid he couldn't handle the job. Bill told him that a man who had no better opinion that that of his own ability wasn't fit to be a doctor and gave him until sundown to get out of the county. They say he never returned. Full particulars of this affair and its final outcome will be treated elsewhere in the book in a more detailed account of the Adams family.

Other early doctors were Dr. S. W. Brown, Dr. W. P. McKee, Dr. J. L. Brown and Dr. Hundley. There were many herb doctors, both male and female, in addition to which almost every family had a member, usually the grandmother, who attended to most of their "natural" ailments as best they could. I would like to have the names of some of the better-known of these before beginning to try to assemble a list of the medical men in the county in more recent years. It is no trouble for many of us to remember when there were many more doctors in the county than at present. There were always three or four in Mt. Vernon, a couple in Brodhead, one or two in Livingston and generally as many as two in Wildie, besides country doctors serving the needs of smaller rural districts. And while we are on the subject, when did Dr. Laswell begin practice in Mt. Vernon?

Speaking of dwindling numbers, the same is true in the case of lawyers. Even from the very beginning, Rockcastle County was well supplied with these. At that early date it was much easier to gain admission to the bar; and since there were few professions open to the average young man other than medicine and the law and since it was a little harder to get to be a doctor (though not much, at that), a lot of them would read law for awhile under the tutelage of an established attorney and acquire enough knowledge to pass the bar.

James G. Carter came to Rockcastle from Ohio during the Civil War. He was for eight years County Attorney, often being called upon to preside as Circuit Court Judge. He was on the bench when the Negro, Tom Pearl, was sentenced and hanged for attempted rape. He was law partner with Sam Burdette and they enjoyed a big practice. Judge Carter was living at Cummins Station, near Mt. Vernon, when the railroad came through. He had a wooden handcar made so he could put it on the tracks and come to town whenever he wanted to. James R. Cook and William Horton were also practicing attorneys. John Fish was an early attorney and also was serving as County Judge in 1773 when the new Court House was finished. J. K. McClary was one of the brightest legal talents of the day. G. W. McClure studied law while serving as County Judge and was later admitted to the bar. Charles Kirley was also a popular attorney and Isaac Stewart and F. H. Reppert had their law offices in the corner of the Court House yard. They erected their building with Sam Burdette and they agreed that they would have to remove it, at their own expense, any time the Court so ordered. J. W. Brown was in the early years of his legal experience. He had secured the appointment to West Point Military Academy; but soon after entering, he came home on sick leave and never went back. In addition to practicing law, he taught school, was elected County Superintendent of Instruction and did occasional duty as County Judge, though never elected to that position.

It will be a considerable task to bring together the names of early ministers in the county. Since we have the records of such a small proportion of the rural churches, we do not know the names of the ministers who served many of them. One of the best known of the older ministers was Rev. Martin Owens, who performed the marriage ceremony for a record number of couples in the early days of the county. Ranking next to him in that respect was Rev. James Peter Hiatt. Later in life he officiated at the wedding of my father and mother at the home of her father, T. J. Coffey, on the headwaters of Reinfre Creek. In the very beginning of Rockcastle County the noted circuit rider, Raccoon John Smith, preached in the old Boones Fork Church House near Brodhead. Later, a still more noted divine, Rev. George O. Barnes, conducted a whirlwind series of revivals at Mt. Vernon. Rev. Barnes had formerly lived for awhile in Rockcastle County in his early youth and often referred to it as home. He preached in about every county of Kentucky in most of the big cities of the nation and finally in practically all European countries. He says in his book "Without Purse or Scrip," long out of print and hard to find, that he made a "clean sweep of the lawyers; and converted practically every one of them in Rockcastle." He comments on the folk at Mt. Vernon as being the hardest he had seen to get started, but among the most energetic and responsible once they were aroused. Brother Abzill and Brother James Chestnut were also among the earlier ministers in Rockcastle.

We hope, with the help of our readers of these articles, that by the time the book is ready for completion, we will have a more complete list of county ministers. Aside from those we best remember, such as Bro. Alf Pike, Bro. Green Fish, Bro. John Carmichael, Bro. Richard Moberly, Bro. Dillard Parker, Bro. William Durban and others, we have found mention in Court House records of the names of ministers licensed to perform marriage ceremonies, as follows: Charles Kirley, B. B. Van Nura, Eugene Snodgrass, A. F. Duval, Theo. Pigg, Nimrod Smith, L. R. Reynolds, Elisha Gadd, Jesse Overby, James M. Cummins, William McNew, James W. Riddle, W. C. Chastain, John Elder, N. P. Mullins, Frank Decker, W. B. Brantman, W. T. Woodall, D. Gentry, O. M. Wallin, E. M. Carmichael, John Croucher, T. D. Mullins, W. J. Chastain, W. M. Alcorn, D. Langford, James D. Kirby, Fred Sears, H. L. Ponder, and P. Hampton. These cover the period from 1870 to 1934 only. In the final list will appear others licensed between 1934 and 1974. This will not give us a complete listing of Rockcastle County ministers, so we will be glad to have names of others submitted by our readers.

Kentucky Utilities Expects 1974 Expenditures To Be $62,326,000

Kentucky Utilities Company expects to spend $62,326,000 during 1974 to strengthen and improve its electric facilities serving 265,000 customers in 73 Kentucky counties.

More than half the amount will go for new generating and environmental control equipment at 42 major coal-burning power stations.

An estimated $22.5 million is scheduled to be spent during the year on construction of the second 500-megawatt generating unit at the Ghent plant on the Ohio River in Carroll County. This unit which will cost an estimated $118.7 million is to be in operation at the beginning of 1977. The first Ghent unit began production in December, 1973.

The company's anti-pollution expenditures are expected to run almost $10 million for the year. Included are $5.2 million in its program under way to eliminate fly ash emissions from existing coal-burning plants by installing electrostatic precipitators and $3 million toward the installation of a system to remove fly ash and sulfur dioxide discharges at the Green River plant near Central City.

Also included in the 1974 construction budget were transmission and distribution line and substation projects and other facility improvements in the service network which covers much of the state and supplies the energy requirements of approximately one million Kentuckians.

News & Views
 From Your
 Rockcastle Co. Library

Since February is the birth month of George Washington, I thought you might be interested in some facts about this famous man. Washington the man proves to be more remarkable than Washington the legend. Fatherless at eleven and lacking the opportunities for education he had embarked on a career as surveyor by the time he was fifteen. When he was twenty; his half brother, Lawrence, died leaving George their father's estate, Mount Vernon. Soon afterwards George was appointed a major in the colonial militia. When the Governor of Virginia needed a courier to go on a harrowing winter journey to the French on Lake Erie, George volunteered.

Washington was the only person who possessed the judgment, experience, and dedication to organize and lead in the Revolutionary War, and it was he who labored longest and most wisely in setting the new constitutional government. He set precedents for all presidents who followed him, shunning both military government and monarchy, which he could so easily have encouraged. When all was done, Washington retired to Mount Vernon to become a private citizen on a level with his countrymen.

Washington also was associated with a very, very American tradition, the cherry pie. While browsing through the recipe books in the library, I ran across a very unusual cherry pie recipe.

North Pole Cherry Pie
 1 (9-inch; Graham Cracker Crumb Crust
 1 quart vanilla ice cream
 1 (1/2 pound)ounce) can cherry pie filling

(1) Bake and cool the Graham Cracker Crumb Crust. (2) Let the ice cream stand at room temperature until it softens slightly. Spread the ice cream evenly in the cool crumb crust. Freeze the pie for three or four hours. If you want to keep the frozen pie for a day or two before serving, put it in a plastic bag and store it in the freezer. (3) An hour before serving, spread the cherry pie filling over the ice cream in the pie. Return it to the freezer, until time to serve. Makes six servings.

Not Social Security
 Even though the Social Security Administration runs the new U.S. Government program, supplemental security income is not the same as social security.

The money to pay supplemental security income comes from general funds of the U.S. Treasury. Social security benefits are paid from contributions of workers, employers, and self-employed people. Social security funds are not used to pay supplemental security income. People who get social security checks can get supplemental security income, too, if they are eligible for both. *****

Personal effects or household goods also do not count as assets in most cases. Insurance policies or a car may not affect eligibility either, depending on their value.

Income People Have
 People can have some money coming in a bill get supplemental security income.

The first $20 a month in income generally isn't counted. Income above the first $20 a month (apart from earnings) generally reduces the amount of the supplemental security income payment. This includes social security checks, veterans compensation, workmen's compensation, pensions, annuities, gifts, and other income.

People who work while they are getting supplemental security income can earn as much as $65 a month without any reduction in their Government payments. The payment is reduced $1 for each $2 in earnings over $65 in a month. For eligible people who live

Some places use more energy!

Even with 24-hour use, you can save electric energy and money in operating your refrigerator and freezer.

The right size unit for your family is important, of course. So is location. A refrigerator located right next to heating equipment, or in direct sunlight, has to work harder and cost more.

Be sure there are no air leaks through faulty seals around doors. And don't put hot foods into your refrigerator or freezer.

Electricity is too good to waste!

Down On The Farm

By: Roy G. Brown
Assistant Vice President
Cumberland PCA

Dr. Russell Bredahl, Beef Specialist, University of Kentucky, will be with us Friday, February 22nd at 1 p.m. in the PCA Conference Room. Dr. Bredahl will discuss Utilization of the Forage Crops that we will produce in 1974.

Output per man-hour on farms is 3.1 times higher than it was twenty years ago. In manufacturing industries, output per man-hour is 1.7 as great as twenty years ago. Thus, output per man-hour on farms is increasing nearly twice as fast as in industry. An unmatched record of efficiency.

Farmers have mechanized, or automated, and farm workers have become more productive. In 1952, one farm worker supported sixteen people with food. Now he produces enough for fifty-two people: three times as many as twenty years ago. Nowhere else in the world are farm workers so productive. In 1952 one person out of seven was living on a farm, producing agricultural products. Now one person out of twenty-two lives on a farm. This has released people to produce other wealth and services including the luxuries of life.

New agricultural technologies over the past two decades have benefited both producers and consumers. They have enabled farmers to offset higher cost with a larger volume of output, while consumers have benefited from relatively low prices.

The average income of farm people still lags 17% behind the average income of non-farm people. During the most recent ten-year period when other industries were establishing new records, farmers averaged only 3.9% return on the equity of their capital investment in farming.

This means we "down on the farm" must do the job better to "make more in 1974."

and capable of producing food at less cost, which reduces the family expenditure for food.

Many people will be raising gardens this year for the first time. Some of the gardens will be small back yard plots or mini-gardens, while others will have larger plots. The Extension Service has made available several publications to aid the home gardener which are free for the asking.

Rockcastle Recollections (Cont. from 8)

We are still in need of family histories. If you cannot give a complete family tree, let us have the names of the first of your family to come to Rockcastle County. If you can tell us where they came from, when they first came to Kentucky and from what country they first came to America, it will be interesting and greatly appreciated. I find that we will not be able to allow space for records down to the present, but would like to get all we can from as far back as we can. Several families connected with Rockcastle County history and deserving of a place in this book are not yet included, because we have been unable to locate any records on them. Members of today's generation are going to have to give us what help they can to enable us to list them. For instance, the Bullock family, one of the most numerous in the county, will have to be left out, unless one of the many descendants living here or elsewhere, can tell us something of their origin. Another important family on which we had no data until recently was the Belthrum family. Mrs. Mary Purcell has recently submitted records on them, based on which we can round out the family history. She also gave us a good start on the earlier members of the Lewis family, which we were missing.

The time is rapidly approaching when I am going to have to sit down and actually start writing the manuscript for the printed book, working from notes already collected. If you have thought of sending in any useable material, please don't wait until too late to get it in.

this helps the economy. Imagine the savignars in gasoline that would result if every homeowner could be encouraged to turn their yards into beautiful flower gardens to admire and enjoy on the weekends. Maybe this is the true meaning of "flower power."

CARBON MONOXIDE POISONING:

The current energy crisis may be accompanied by an increase in carbon monoxide poisoning. Fuel shortages will spawn the use of various devices for providing additional heat in homes. Fireplaces and other heating facilities which have not been used recently may be placed into operation. Catalytic heaters, charcoal-burning units, and similar devices may be used indoors or in confined spaces. Many individuals will undoubtedly resort to "make-shift" measures to prevent the loss of heat from their homes, including installing additional insulation, sealing cracks and crevices, covering windows with plastic, and using other measures which tend to make the home "airtight." Any measure that reduces the amount of air movement into a home, coupled with a defective heating device or the improper use of a combustible fuel indoors, enhances the potential for poisoning by carbon monoxide.

FERTILIZING LAWNS:

Your lawn should receive an application of fertilizer in late February or early March. Apply 20 pounds of 10-10-10 fertilizer per 1,000 square feet or 10 pounds of 20-10-5 fertilizer per 1,000 square feet. The fertilizer should be applied before the grass greens or actively growing to prevent burning. You might consider one of the slow-release nitrogen fertilizers. This type of fertilizer is more expensive but they provide a longer effect.

Court Gives $1,000 To Ambulance Service

The Rockcastle County Fiscal Court agreed at a special meeting Friday to give the Tri-City Ambulance Service $1,000 to provide ambulance service to the citizens of Rockcastle County until Tuesday, March 5, the next regular meeting of the Fiscal Court.

The special meeting was called for 10 a.m. but was not officially held until a couple of hours later after the Magistrates and County Judge had discussed the situation privately and then began negotiating with the members and officers of the Ambulance Service on the amount the Court could come up with which would be acceptable to the Ambulance Service.

The Court's first unofficial offer of $200 per week was turned down, after discussion among the ambulance service crew, who said that the $200 per week was not sufficient to meet the financial demands of the service. The men then countered with a figure of their own, $500 per week, as being the minimum they could operate on until the end of this fiscal year, June 30th.

After much private discussion among the Court, a proposal was then made to the men that the service be given $1,000 on which to operate until March 5 at which time the matter would be taken up again at the regular Fiscal Court meeting.

It has been decided to take the $1,000 from Revenue Sharing funds which had been allocated for Health but which, Judge Thacker said, he did not think would be needed for that purpose.

What the Court will do at their March 5th meeting to further fund the Service has not been decided as of yet.

Miss Karen Sue Allen, 15, of Route 2, Mt. Vernon was killed instantly early Saturday morning when the above car, in which she was a passenger, left Ky. 1787 and struck a tree. Driver of the car, Steve Gabbard, also of Route 3, Mt. Vernon, died Monday, February 18, from injuries received in the crash. Two other passengers are listed in critical condition in a Lexington hospital. [See story elsewhere on front page].

RGHS To Open 49th District Tournament

Coach Bill Riddle and his Rockcastle County Rockets open the 49th District Tournament against Oneida Institute Tuesday night at the Rockcastle County High School gym.

The Rockets have been improving with every game during February. This game will be a rematch of the first game of the season in which Oneida defeated the Rockets. But, the young Rockets have improved greatly since that game and with great fan support could possibly go all the way. Clay County, the No. 10 team in the state, will be the favorite to win the championship. They have the state's outstanding player, Gary Gregory, a fancy play making guard. Clay County is in the opposite bracket from Rockcastle.

This year the "B" team from each school will play for the "B" team trophy. This game will be a preliminary to each "A" team game and will start at 6:20.

Thursday night the upper bracket will be matching Clay County vs. Anville; Friday night, the winner of Rockcastle County and Oneida will play Jackson County. Saturday night will be the finals.

No season passes will be honored during the Tournament.

Red Cross Volunteers To Help With Program

Red Cross Volunteers will be at the Farm Bureau office in Mt. Vernon each Thursday, beginning March 7, from 10 to 4 p.m. to take applications for the Supplemental Security Income for the aged, blind and disabled - a new government program recently instigated.

This new program has taken the place of Federal-State programs of public assistance payments to people who are 65 or older or blind or disabled.

Applicants will need their social security numbers and amount of income.

blind or disabled can have a basic cash income - for one person less than $140 a month and for a married couple, at least $210 a month. These amounts will increase to $146 and $219 a month in July, 1974. A single person earning $159 or less can qualify, or a couple with an income of $224 or less can qualify.

Persons now drawing a gold colored check are not eligible. This doesn't mean that every eligible person gets that much in his supplemental security income check every month. Some people get less because they already have other income. Some get more because they live in a State that adds money to the Federal payment.

Things People Own - If a person who is single (his spouse) can have assets - things he owns - worth up to $1,500 and still get payments. The amount for a couple is $2,250. This

'74 Quota Announced; Referendum Called

Marketing quotas for the next three successive crops of Burley tobacco have been proclaimed by Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz and a grower referendum is scheduled for February 25 through March 1, reports Harold Ballinger, Executive Director of the Rockcastle County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

He said growers will decide by their votes in the referendum whether marketing quotas and price supports will continue in effect for the next three crops of Burley tobacco. The quotas can continue in effect only with approval of at least two-thirds of the producers who vote in the referendum. The quotas will apply to all Burley tobacco producers. If marketing quotas are approved, the 1974 Burley crop will be supported at an average of 85.8 cents per pound.

Anyone, regardless of race or color, who had an interest in growing Burley tobacco in 1973 may vote, Mr. Ballinger added.

The marketing quota for the 1974 crop is 608 million pounds, about eight percent larger than the 1973 quota.

Legislation provides that poundage quotas established for any farm any year shall be increased for pounds not sold from the farm quota during the preceding year. If total marketings are 575 million pounds or more, the total undermarketings of 1973 farm quotas will increase 1974 farm quotas by about 90 million pounds.

Wreck Takes Lives Of Two Teenagers

An accident early Saturday morning, February 16th, has claimed the lives of two Rockcastle teen-agers. Dead are Karen Sue Allen, 15, Route 3, Mt. Vernon, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Irene Gibson and Claude Allen, who was pronounced dead on arrival at the Berea Hospital Saturday morning and Steve Gabbard, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gabbard, also of Route 3, Mt. According to State Police reports, the Gabbard youth, driver of the vehicle, was traveling south, at a high rate of speed, from Scaffold Cane to Disputant when he lost control of the car, coming around a curve, and hit a tree. The accident occurred about 6 a.m. The sixteen miles North of Mt. Vernon on Ky. 1787.

Mullins Charged...

Gilbert Mullins, 18, of Mt. Vernon has been freed on $2,000 bail following the alleged knifing of John Ray Allen, 18, of Route 1, Mt. Vernon, in the breakfast room during the Rockcastle County - Jackson County basketball game at the high school last Friday afternoon.

Mullins was arrested early Saturday morning at his residence by Sheriff Manuel Cutting. He was charged with cutting and wounding. A preliminary hearing was waived to the Grand Jury.

Allen, who was stabbed once in the right side of the chest, has been released from the Rockcastle County Hospital.

Local Outlay For Cigarettes - $795,000

How much effect has the campaign against cigarette smoking, begun just ten years ago by the Surgeon General, had on residents of Rockcastle County?

Are they smoking more or less than they did in January, 1964, when he issued the warning that cigarette smoking was a hazard to health and to life?

The findings are that many people heeded the warning and quit permanently. Others cut down on their consumption but found it too difficult to give it up completely.

The downward shift has been offset, however, by the growing use of cigarettes by teenagers, especially young girls.

The net result is that, despite all efforts on the part of the Public Health Service, the National Cancer Institute and others to get the people to give up cigarettes, there are now some 52 million smokers in the United States, which is two million more than in 1964, when the campaign began.

The facts and figures come from national statistics compiled by the Department of Agriculture and from area reports released by the tobacco industry and others.

In Rockcastle County, a breakdown shows, approximately 2,524,000 packs of cigarettes were sold in the past year.

Related to the local population over 18, this was equivalent to 309 packs per capita.

Throughout the United States as a whole, by way of comparison, the average was 298 packs. It was 208 packs in the East, South Central States.

With the feeling that most of the smokers who could be turned away from cigarettes have already been turned and that the smoking-habit "will continue for the next several decades, at least," the National Cancer Institute is trying a new approach.

It will seek to reduce the risks connected with smoking by developing a less hazardous cigarette that will mimic the pleasure-giving properties of present-day cigarettes.

What will the rising taxes levied on cigarettes, smoking has become a more costly habit.

Residents of Rockcastle County spent some $795,000 in that direction last year, or about $97.30 per smoker, it is estimated.

WILLIAM M. GILFORD

William Murriel (Buddy) Gilford, age 51, of Livingston, passed away Monday, February 18th, at his home. He was born in Perry County, Kentucky, on September 7, 1922, the son of William Gilford and the late Lois Murriel Gilford and was a Veteran of World War II and a member of the Livingston Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bobbie Jean Gilford of Livingston; one daughter, Mrs. Sheila Ann Hines of New Lebanon, Ohio; his father, William Gilford of Livingston; one brother, Clarence Welford of Detroit, Michigan; and one sister, Mrs. Virginia Mason of Columbus, Ohio.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday, February 21 (today) at the Dowell and Martin Funeral Home with Bro. Steve Day and Bro. Carl Moore officiating. Burial will be in the Elmwood Cemetery.

One Director was re-elected and three new ones elected for three-year terms at Saturday night's annual meeting of the Cedar Rapids Recreation Center's stockholders. Re-elected was J. C. Newland of Broadhead and newly elected were: Mrs. Joann Mullins, Mrs. Ann Henderson and GILL CRAIG. Directors in the above photo are, seated, from left: Mr. Newland,

JOHN NICHOLS'

Frankfort Watchline

After four weeks, the Legislature's budget hearings may wind up this week, and it's a good time to wonder what's been accomplished.

Well, any legislative inquiry at the governor's spending plans is for the taxpayer's benefit. The longer it takes, the better, despite those little vibrations of impatience we're picking up from the governor's office.

Little or nothing is going to be changed by the General Assembly in the $4.4 billion document, but remember a decade or so ago? Those business very long and deal whenever the administration thought the time was ripe, briefly scanned by legislators who could not possibly have digested them, and hurriedly approved when the governor said to do it.

A few mavericks would kick up a fuss... others would earnestly try to grasp what the budget contained and a few days might be consumed in futile questioning of scattered officials.

The current hearings are a fresh change. True, most lawmakers don't know enough about the 530 pages filled with numbers, statistics and testimonial. But at least they're taking the time to talk with representatives from just about all the state agencies.

Actually, the game is being played in relays, each member of the joint appropriations and revenue team an "expert" in a field. That way some expertise can be brought to bear on reluctant witnesses.

What's produced is often valuable information that would otherwise have gone unnoticed, along with some open animosity in at least one instance.

Last week, State Auditor Mary Louise Foust, got to shouting at House Democrat Thomas Givhan of Shepherdsville because she resented some of his questions. Givhan didn't shout back, but quietly persisted in asking about the procedures of Miss Foust's office.

The matter dates back to when Givhan was Bullitt County Attorney and the county was hit with a critical audit from Frankfort.

But most of the hearings have been quiet, though some state officials confide that they worry that Republican committee members are laying in ambush for them. Mines and Minerals Commissioner H. N. Kirkpatrick is one of the unhappy ones.

After he testified the other day, he complained "I memorized every item of our budget," waving the fat document with both hands, "and what do they spend an hour asking me? Why about House Bill 64 (the controversial oil and gas deep drilling measure) which I'm not an expert on."

Who ever said that a little politics now and then is banned from such goings-on?

Those Varmints - There's a wild game feed every now and then put on by Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll and associates. It's become something of an "in" event in Frankfort and parts hereabout. To the most recent one, lawmakers and press were invited.

We didn't go because of a bout with the flu, but we're mad to understand by the distaff members of the Press Crops that women were first invited... and then uninvited. We're nonplussed at that bit of news.

Isn't what's good for the gander good for the goose? Anyway, the gals were instead told about a cultural event at the old mansion to which they were more than welcome.

That won't do, they said... it's the principle of the thing, they charged... and there were threats of picketing one event or the other... or both.

One of our colleagues here summed it up rather nicely, though. "There's no discrimination involved, ladies," he smiled. "You are just not wanted there."

By Mistake? - Lexington Democrat David Van Horn told the Kentucky House the other day that a letter addressed to a fellow with a similar name wound up on his desk by mistake.

Could he, by mistake of course, open the letter and see what's in it? He was told to allow his conscience to guide him.

Wonder what happened to the letter? It was addressed to State Republican Party executive Larry Van Hoose.

Bad News - All the fuss currently being stirred by the Republicans over who got on KET after the governor's speeches and under what circumstances is missing the point we believe.

We just simply don't think anyone from the governor's office or Public Information should be asked to have anything to do with KET. We think it's improper. Press Secretary Tommy Preston disagrees.

KET is understaffed, badly staffed, or just doesn't know in such circumstances, there are others it can ask.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Conley

Bowling - Conley

Freedom Baptist Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Judy Gayle Bowling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bowling, to Mr. Richard Conley, son of Mrs. Nevada Conley of Picketon, Ohio and formerly of London, and the late Mr. Wesley Conley. The double ring ceremony took place on January 27 at 3:30 p.m. Brother Michael Bryant of Corbin, Kentucky performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was escorted down the aisle by her father. She was attired in a long-sleeved, floor-length gown of snow white velvet. The fitted bodice was covered in wedding lace with matching lace on the sleeves and on the bride's headpiece. The Victorian style headpiece supported a floor length mantilla and a blusher veil of white tulle. The bride carried a center orchid corsage surrounded by white roses, baby's breath, blue netting, and ribbon, all mounted on her white Bible.

The maid of honor, Miss Linda A. Jones of Mt. Vernon, was attired in a floor-length, empire waist gown of oriental blue velvet. The gown was trimmed in white fur around the hem and the neckline. The maid's flowers were mounted on a white fur muff and she wore a matching white fur headpiece. Bridesmaid was Mrs. Ted Cook of London, sister of the groom. She was attired in a gown identical to that of the Maid of Honor with identical accessories.

Flower girl was Miss Phyllis Anne Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Harper of Mt. Vernon. She was attired in a gown identical to that of the Maid of Honor. She carried a "white basket" with "baby" carnations and baby's breath.

Best man was Mr. Ted Cook of London, brother-in-law of the groom. Mr. Kermit Bowling of Richmond, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Mr. Tony Conley and Mr. Perry Conley, brothers of the groom, were ushers.

Mr. Alan Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hammond of Mt. Vernon, was ringbearer. The pillow he carried was decorated with baby carnations.

A selection of wedding music was played on the piano by Miss Jean Winttingham of London, Miss Donella Hatchum of McKee, Kentucky sang "We've Only Just Begun," "O Promise Me," and "The Wedding Prayer."

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Cedar Rapids Country Club. The bride's friends table was decorated with a four-tier wedding cake and floral arrangements. Floral arrangements were on the mantle piece while a fire burned in the fireplace. Assisting in serving was Mrs. Harold Jones, Mrs. Clayton Hammonds, and Mrs. Jerry Hansel, all of Mt. Vernon.

The guest register and the gift register were kept by Mrs. Larry Daugherty of Richmond, Ky. After a honeymoon in Florida, the couple are making their home in Picketon, Ohio.

DO WE NEED ENERGY!

The United States needs energy. In fact, the U.S. with only 6% of the world's population, consumes 30% of the world's energy supply. Our use of energy has doubled in the past ten years. Twenty-five percent of our total energy is consumed in and around the home, in offices, hotels and stores. Approximately 5% of the nation's total energy is wasted in the home. This wasted energy also represents wasted money.

This use of energy does not include energy consumed in our automobiles whether for business or pleasure. In all, transportation accounts for one-third of your total energy consumption. Energy used in transportation is used at only 25% efficiency.

Good management and saving practices have always been good business. Good management and saving practices apply even more today in relationship to our major energy sources: coal, gas and oil. If these fuels are used to produce electricity they will not be available for transportation, industry and many other needs. Consumers are being forced to re-set priorities in the use of short supply resources for greater efficiency.

Affluent spending and using our resources in times of assumed plenty has led to waste and inefficiency of all our resources. Energy has been one of the most misused resources in the home and, therefore, needlessly increased our spending. Check to see how many lights are left on while you watch television. How many people complain of rooms too warm or too cool as the seasons change and how many extra trips to the grocery could each family count in one week? The list mounts as we decide to take a good look at our management practices.

Consumers must reduce or eliminate the waste of energy in and around the home. This not only conserves energy but helps to offset increases in energy costs which are inevitable. Managing energy is an attitude which must be developed and practiced much the same way we do saving money, food or our time.

If each household cuts back on energy consumption 5%, that would be a savings equivalent to a supply of energy to 2-1/2 million households. What can we as consumers do then?

1. Keep the thermostat turned a little lower and close off unused areas.
 2. Install tight fitting storm windows or doors.
 3. Caulk around the old windows and door frames to insure a tighter fit - heat loss may be reduced by one-half.
 4. If garage is attached to the house, keep the garage door closed.
 5. Open draperies or roll up the shades in daytime where there is a sunny exposure to take advantage of solar heat.
 6. Use utensils that fit the range unit and don't forget to use tight fitting lids when possible.
 7. Place the utensil on the range unit before turning on the heat. Food will continue to cook three to five minutes after the electrical unit is turned off.
 8. Replace worn or damaged gaskets around refrigerator doors.
 9. Don't hand wash dishes before putting them in the dishwasher.
 10. Wash full loads in the dishwasher to conserve hot water and operation costs.
 11. Use lower wattage bulbs where higher light levels are unnecessary.
 12. Fluorescent lighting is most efficient than incandescent lighting.
- The list is endless. We can begin to conserve energy when we become aware of the ways we have been wasting energy.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT REPORT
By: Rick Anderkin

Ramblings.....

by: perline m. anderkin

The Girls' County Basketball Tournament opened at Mt. Vernon Elementary School Monday night with Mt. Vernon losing to Livingston in the first game by six points.

The second game of the night, between Brodhead and Roundstone, was close the whole way. With about a minute to go, Roundstone had a chance to score and win by four points on two different free throw attempts. The first of each attempt was good and Roundstone led by two points. Then with sixteen seconds to go, a Brodhead player was fouled and made both baskets on the one-and-one situation to tie the game up.

Roundstone took the ball down the floor and attempted unsuccessfully to score. Brodhead had the ball and Paula Proctor was fouled bringing it up the court.

On another one-and-one attempt, Paula made the first basket and missed the second, with two seconds showing on the clock, to give Brodhead the win.

Brodhead and Livingston advanced to the finals and will play the championship game Thursday night, preceded by the battle for third place between Mt. Vernon and Roundstone.

I really didn't plan on having this column this week - just because - but Wednesday Mrs. Ora York called me with an item that I wanted to print and couldn't think of anywhere else to get it in. It seems that Mr. and Mrs. York's son, Albert, 18, a student at RCHS has an aquarium and Tuesday one of his goldfish became the proud mama of 49 little goldfishes. Now, not being an expert on this sort of thing (goldfish wise, anyway), I can't really say whether that's unusual or just sounds unusual - it's probably comparable to a woman having six at a time or something.....

Well, now that I've gotten started, I might as well meander along. For one thing, if you like basketball on the elementary level - this is your week. Monday night the girls' basketball tournament began at Mt. Vernon with Brodhead and Livingston emerging to go to the championship game Friday night and Mt. Vernon and Roundstone to play the consolation game and Tuesday night, the Livingston Lions' Midget Tournament began at Livingston with - you guessed it - Brodhead and Livingston emerging to go to the championship game Thursday night and Mt. Vernon and Roundstone to play the consolation game.

It's sort of amusing these days to notice among ourselves and our friends the differences caused by the gas shortage and increased price. For ourselves, we don't take the long, slow rides through the countryside that we used to almost weekly (much to the dismay of our older children who would have much rather been home playing basketball, riding bikes, etc.) and I think twice now if there is a good movie in Lexington that I'd like to zip over and see. Of course, my husband had decided quite outspokenly what his priorities are for the use of gasoline and enough to go fishing on the list. Of course, I like fishing, too - but, feel guilty because it's a sport in which the children can't participate and besides babysitters are expensive these days, too. I do believe I will manage a couple of trips this Spring anyway and don't worry, if we have any success at all, you will be the first to know. I just happened to think of a good example along the "mixed emotions" line. A friend of ours was telling us Tuesday of the success he and his wife had fishing for croppie over the weekend. He said that his wife really loved to fish and did so for about four hours by herself while he slept in the boat. He said she caught quite a few during that time. The "mixed emotions" come in on my part because although I have finally managed to keep a stiff upper lip and run a hook through the minnow's head I haven't as yet brought myself to the point of taking hold of a wriggling fish and pulling the hook out of his mouth. Maybe if I lined up 15 or 20 baited poles, in a time like that, and caught one to a pole I could keep them on the hook in the water until Jim woke up to take them off for me. I'm really not as much trouble as I sound on a fishing trip. As I say, I can finally hook a minnow (worms are out of my league yet) I can throw out the concrete blocks we use for anchors with the best of them. I pack a pretty fair snack for the trip and I am just full of good advice for everyone else on the trip as to the best way to catch their fish - so, all in all, I'm not really that bad to have along, right?.....

"B" Team Games Start At 6:20 - Admission - $1.25

Although these two photos taken during the game between Brodhead and Roundstone during the Girls' Basketball Tournament Monday night are impossible for me to identify as to players, their intent comes through quite clearly. Brodhead beat Roundstone by one point with two seconds showing on the clock and, although we arrived too late for pictures of it, Livingston defeated Mt. Vernon in the first game by six points.

That the rates or charges aforesaid shall be billed monthly on or about the first of each month, and all bills for such service shall be considered due and payable ten (10) days after rendition. If a bill is not paid as aforesaid within such ten (10) day period, there shall be imposed a penalty on each bill not so paid, in an amount equal to ten percent (10%) of the charges (other than taxes) shown on the face and amount of said bill not so paid. The balance not paid within the first thirty (30) days after said due date, the charges shown on such bill shall be deemed delinquent, and the City may enforce and collect any such charges remaining delinquent for a period of thirty days.

If any deadline date specified herein falls on a Sunday or legal holiday, such deadline shall not expire until the next secular day thereafter.

SECTION 17. DEPOSIT IS NO EXCUSE FOR DELINQUENCY.
