WHAT TO DO IN APRIL.....

The month of April is crowded with nature's activities, and at no other time of the year is there a greater change in the appearance of the outdoors. It is a month of new life everywhere - new lambs, new squabs, new chicks. Grass grows freshly green on the pasturelands. Buds swell and open in the apple orchard. Wildflowers push their way through the thatch of the hayfields and the thick forest carpet of last fall's leaves. The birds have set out on their northward journey and, as the poet says, "Gladness is born of the April weather, and the heart feebly is as light as a wind-tossed feather" - or at least it should be.

With everything coming our way, one of the main things to do in April is to enjoy it. Don't let your work cause you to ignore or miss out on the enjoyment of the recurring wonder of this month. Work hard if you must, but whether you live in the city or in the country, let up for a few moments each day, look around, listen, and be refreshed in both body and spirit.

April, especially for the farmer and gardener, is a busy month. There are fruit trees and shrubs to be scanned for caterpillar egg masses and, if cedars develop brown galls, these should be pulled off and destroyed before they can produce spores that spread the disease to apple trees. The smooth-barked trunks of newly-planted trees should be wrapped with burlap or heavy paper to prevent sun scald. And before the grass gets any higher on the lawn, go over the area thoroughly and remove large gravel, stones, sticks, or anything else that might come in contact with the riding blade of the powermower.

This is also a good time to check the sprayer and duster so as to have them in good shape for use against insects and diseases that will soon make their appearance in the garden. Buy the pesticides you expect to need, too, but get only enough for this season's use - storing left-over garden chemicals from year to year is never a good idea.

By this time, many early vegetables have already been planted. But wait until the danger of frost is past to plant the more tender vegetables such as beans, sweet corn, cucumbers, tomatoes, muskmelons, watermelons, okra, and pepper.

In the latter part of April, early-planted crops - such as radishes, beets and carrots - may need cultivating and some of them may need thinning, says C. R. Roberts, Extension vegetable specialist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Cultivating will help you "get ahead of the weeds" and give some extra time for doing a little fishing - another important thing to do in April.

In the flower garden, the beauty of the tulips is there to enjoy this month. As they will, remove the spent flowers and don't let seeds form - but do not disturb the tulip foliage. The flower bed can be prepared for May planting and, according to UK Extension Floriculturist Benny Tjia, petunias can be started in most parts of Kentucky in late April, since these flowers can withstand temperatures down to 29 degrees.

Other things well worth doing in April include checking the beehive to see how well the bees are faring after the winter, setting out strawberry plants, and putting in an order for sweet potato plants. (The word is, they may be scarce this spring!)

Also, if such is desired, saplings may be transplanted to the yard with a good chance that they will grow and, horticulturists say April is one of the best months for transplanting holly trees.

Indeed the thirty days of April are busy days. They mark the recurrence of that age-old miracle of spring. It is good to be busy during this period, but as the old hillbilly saying goes, "if you are too busy to enjoy it, you are just too busy."

VITAMINS FROM VEGETABLES

Most new gardeners will be growing vegetables in 1974 because they have been motivated by the high cost of living. Others will do it because that's the only way to enjoy fresh home-grown flavor. Vegetables are also our most important source of vitamins, and better tasting than any vitamin pill.

The principal nutrients for which vegetables are best known are iron, vitamin A, Vitamin C, riboflavin and carbohydrates.

Vitamin A, as such, is not found in plants, but there are substances known as Provitamin A that are converted to Vitamin A by the body. Dark green and deep yellow vegetables are excellent sources of Provitamin A. Examples are spinach, broccoli, chard, kale, turnip greens, carrots, winter squash, cantaloupes and pumpkins. Vitamin A helps keep skin healthy, promotes growth and helps keep the linings of your mouth, nose, throat and digestive tract healthy.

Vitamin B is really a complex of nutrients such as Riboflavin (found in leafy green vegetables), thiamine (found in dried peas and beans), and niacin (found in fresh peas and beans). Without these three nutrients all kinds of horrible things can happen - lack of niacin will damage your digestive track and nervous system; lack of thiamine will prevent body cells from obtaining energy from food and cause poor appetite; while lack of riboflavin can damage eyes and skin.

Vitamin C helps hold body cells together and strengthens walls of blood vessels. It helps to heal wounds and aids strong bones and teeth. Cantaloupes, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, raw cabbage, collards, sweet peppers, turnip greens and tomatoes are important sources of Vitamin C.

Vitamin D is generated freely by sunlight - which is what you get plenty of while working in your vegetable garden. Its vital role is to help the body use calcium and phosphorus to build strong bones and teeth, especially in growing children.

Other essential nutrients such as iron, calcium and protein are also found in fresh vegetables and help the body to grow properly.

Store-bought vegetables are not as good as home grown vegetables for supplying essential vitamins and nutrients. The fact is that the fresher the vegetable the higher the nutrient content, since vegetables start to lose their vitamins the moment they are picked.

So, the next time you find yourself in the garden pulling weeds, loosening the soil and waging war on insect pests, take comfort in the fact that you are benefiting in three important ways: (1) saving money; (2) growing better flavor; and (3) feeding your family more vitamins.

Check with your local County Extension Office for information on growing the different vegetables for your garden. *****

Down On The Farm

Well, farmers have been busy the last few weeks with their farm chores. There has been lots of things to do, like seeding tobacco beds, grass, and legumes, plowing, cleaning out the barns and the many extra jobs of mending fences, machinery and buildings.

A lot of this work can be done on bad days like checking over our equipment, and most important of things a farmer can do, is to use pencil and paper to plan and map out the things on the farm that will bring the most income per dollar spent. This will not only make you money but will be much easier when you have records and plans to present to your creditor when borrowing money.

Another important thing most of us, as farmers, fail to get done is to make a will or some arrangement in disposing of our estate after death. There are ways we can set up to leave our estate without a lot of cost in lawyers and court fees, and also taxes, if property is fixed in time.

If you as a farmer want to learn more about how to save your estate and be assured it will be left to the ones you wish, let me know, and I will set up a meeting and will have someone who knows the legal procedure to instruct us on what can be done. If you are interested in how to prepare your will, please contact me. *****

spring of dark greens, a slice of red tomato - or maybe an apple ring.

Mature dry legumes, dry peas and members of the bean family including navy, pinto, and soybeans, are outstanding among the vegetables for their protein content. And, they also contain B vitamins, iron and other nutrients.

Buy nonfat dry milk in as large a package as you can store and use without waste. It keeps and it helps to stretch many of your food recipes.

Vitamin K is essential for the manufacture of a substance that helps blood to clot. It's widely distributed in a variety of foods such as green and leafy vegetables, tomatoes, cauliflower, egg yolks, soybean oil and any kind of liver.

Why do we need calcium? It's needed to clot blood and make nerves and muscles function properly and to develop bones.

Children (especially) may be short of Vitamin C because they do not eat enough citrus fruits or juice, tomatoes, raw cabbage or other foods which are rich sources of that vitamin.

Social Security Earnings Report Due by April 15

People who earned over $2,100 and got one or more monthly social security retirement or survivor checks in 1973 must submit an annual report of their earnings to social security by April 15 according to social security officials here.

The report shows how much was earned in wages and self-employment income last year by people who got social security payments - as well as how much they expect to earn this year.

"The report will be used to determine if people were paid the correct amount of social security benefits for 1973," said a spokesman.

People who were over 72 in all months of 1973 do not need to make an annual report for social security. People who get social security checks and have questions about the annual report or need a reporting form can call, write or visit any social security office, the spokesman said.

RCHS Principal Meets With School Board Concerning Drugs

RCHS Principal Cleston Saylor was invited to Monday night's regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education to give the Board a report on the extent of the drug problem at the high school.

Mr. Saylor gave the following report to the Board:

"My staff and I are keeping a close watch on the problem. Over the past several weeks Mr. Capriello and I have investigated several cases. We have investigated and followed up on every suspect, every lead, and every rumor. We have searched lockers and looked in every conceivable place for drugs. We have been unable to find any trace of drugs on the school premises.

For example, in one instance a girl had told others that she was taking drugs. When we confiscated her materials and had them analyzed, they turned out to be pills prescribed by a local doctor for medical purposes. In another instance, materials turned out to be dried rag weeds. Many kids tell these things as practical jokes or to get attention from others.

"Our schedule is so tight at school that students are under teacher supervision at all times leaving very little chance for such mischief. You can rest assured that if I find proper evidence I will report it to the Board. However, there are indications that a few students may be experimenting with drugs away from school.

"I am making it known to students and parents that if a student is found to have harmful drugs in his/her possession at school, the student will be expelled and both parents and law enforcing officers will be notified."

As a follow-up, Superintendent Parsons asked the Board to approve the setting up of a committee to form a policy dealing with drugs. Mr. Parsons said the Committee would include a cross-section of area teachers, parents, students and central office staff. The motion passed unanimously.

There will be no salinity days approved this year to make up for snow days missed by the children in the winter. Mr. Parsons told the Board Monday night. Mr. Parsons said he had received a letter stating that the State Board of Education had reaffirmed their policy that all school children must be taught a minimum of 175 days.

Therefore, school will let out now May 30th with May 27th a holiday for Memorial Day and two KEA days in April.

During the meeting, the Board also revised their pregnancy policy for 1974-75. Mr. Parsons told the Board that a recent Supreme Court decision had declared as unconstitutional policies which forced a teacher to take a leave of absence several months before birth.

Mr. Parsons said the new ruling stated that anything other than an enforced "two weeks" before birth was considered arbitrary.

The Board decided to adopt a policy which would leave the decision to a teacher quitting and returning to work solely to her doctor; but, also requiring a doctor's statement for both.

In other action, the Board:

approved Jimmy Mullins as a substitute teacher, subject to certification; approved the purchase of a television set for Broadhead School through state bids; approved the salary schedule for 1974-75 which includes an approximate 7% salary increase from the Foundation Program for all teachers and certified personnel and approved a revised physical examination policy for teachers and other certified personnel, custodians, bus drivers, cooks and office personnel.

The lighting of the new football field also came in for its share of the discussion by the Board and it was decided that an attempt to raise $12,000 for the project would be spearheaded by Coach Glen Polly and the Athletic Boosters Club. Mr. Parsons said he felt there were an adequate number of individuals, businesses and civic organizations in this area to make the project feasible.

Fiscal Court Meets.....

The Rockcastle Fiscal Court voted Tuesday at its regular meeting to accept the County Road Aid Program for 1974-75 as presented to the Court by Alfred Sparks, Highway Department Representative. Mr. Sparks told the Court that, in addition to the over 136 miles of roads and 9 bridges maintained by the state presently, two roads were being added to the program this year. The roads added are the Lake Road from U.S. 25 to the Boat Dock and the Old Nigger Town Hill Road.

During the meeting, the Court also heard from Larry Burdette, director of the Rockcastle Civil Defense, who told the Court that the $6,000 grant, which had been approved for the local ambulance service a couple of weeks ago when an emergency basis had not as of yet been received. Mr. Burdette told the Court that the Ambulance Service was once again in dire straits financially and that unless the grant was forthcoming within the next few days, the Service would be unable to continue operation beyond the end of this week. He said that collections from the Service's runs was amounting to about $300 per week which barely met the Service's expenses while there were no funds at all for salaries from collections. Mr. Burdette also told the Court that collections for ambulance calls made were running far below what they should be and this was another factor which was contributing heavily to the Service's financial woes.

Although nothing concrete came out of the discussion as to how the service could be helped financially by the Court, Mr. Burdette was assured that Judge Thacker and County Attorney James Lambert would again contact Frankfort to see if they could speed up the $6,000 in grant money. Late Tuesday night, Mr. Burdette told this reporter that he had contacted Rep. Tim Lee Carter late Tuesday afternoon and had been assured that he would also try to expedite the money through the interminable red tape at Frankfort.

In other business, the Court passed unanimously a motion that would refer the Dog Warden former sheriff Billy Kirby) to make a report on the activities of his office each month to the Court, including the sale of dog licenses and disposition of dogs picked up.

The Court, however, on a tie vote, failed to pass a motion by Magistrate Ernest Mason that a portion of the former Parsons Equipment Building in Mt. Vernon be rented as a garage for all the county's equipment, at a rental of $150 per month. Mr. Mason told the Court that he felt it would provide for better usage of the trucks and other equipment if they were kept in a centralized location rather than at various places around the county. Mr. Mason's vote was seconded by Magistrate Chester Whitaker and Magistrate W. H. "Bill" Wren voted yes on the measure.

However, Magistrates Danny Sargent, Boone Cromer and Judge Hubert Thacker disagreed that keeping the trucks in Mt. Vernon rather than at the homes of the driver would be best and, consequently all cast "no" votes which threw the motion into a tie and failure.

TOM HANSEL

Tom Hansel, 85, of Mt. Vernon passed away Thursday, March 29, 1974. He was born October 18, 1888 in Rockcastle County, the son of the late John and Samantha Gentry Hansel. He was a retired mechanic and was a member of the Pine Hill Missionary Baptist Church.

Survivors are: four sons, Ely of Frankfort, Joe of Mt. Vernon, Billy of Cincinnati, Ohio and Jack of Mt. Rev. Harold D. Tallant, church evangelist of Highview Baptist Church in Louisville, will conduct revival services at Mt. Vernon First Baptist Church. The services will be held April 8 through April 14 at 7:00 P.M. with special music, youth meetings, Kida Kapers, and Nursery Provided. If transportation is desired, call Rev. Jack Bruce, pastor, at 256-2522.

future growth requirements. Other changes would change the extension telephone rate to $1.40 for residences and $1.90 for business customers.

All together, these increases would produce approximately $1,486,000 in additional revenues. However, federal, state, and local governments will take about 53% of this amount in taxes, leaving the company with a net increase of $724,168.

Thomson emphasized that Kentucky Telephone has not had a general increase in sixteen years. "It's a fact of business life that you have to earn enough money to keep service up to par to make it reliable and dependable. It costs money to add the lines that provide improved grades of service, to buy and install modern communications equipment, and to pay competitive wages. Right now, what we charge for basic service just isn't enough to do all that and we have had to ask for an increase," he stated.

"We've all seen costs rise during the sixteen years since our last increase, and I'm sure we would agree that nearly everything costs more today," said Thomson. "Yet, the telephone company has had to meet those costs on a price structure set sixteen years ago. We've used every cost and operating efficiency available to meet the challenge of those rising costs and have now reached a point where increased revenues is the only means available to us to offset today's higher costs of doing business."

It may be almost springtime for us, but it is also the time that football coaches start thinking about fall in the terms of Spring Practice. And that is exactly what is going on now with the RCHS Rockets under the direction of Coach Glen Polly and assistant coaches Jim Cox and Larry Travis. Over forty boys turned out for spring practice which began last week. A contract has been let for grading, drainage and seeding of the new football field at the high school but chances for its use this year are out since financing of the project will take at least two years.

JOHN NICHOLS'

Frankfort Watchline

The dust hasn't even settled from the quiet battling over which Democrat could get the most political advantage from the recent session of the Kentucky Legislature, and we already must plead guilty to having snubbed the Republicans.

That often happens, though, because more excitement and news generates usually from the folks in power, not those who'd like to be.

We'd say that much of the Republican hopes for getting back into state government next year rides on Marlow Cook's fortunes against Wendell Ford in the upcoming U. S. Senate runoff.

Many think that, with the Julian Carroll forces behind him, Ford will run away from Cook at the starting gate. But that might not be enough. There's a negative aspect to this shotgun wedding between two recently warring Democratic party factions.

We in Kentucky have become used to having constant tugs of war in the Democrat Party. Democrats rationalize it as they say it's healthy. It may be healthier than what's happening now, because we think lack of uniform motivation might leave something to be desired from that party's point of view.

Sure, they both want Ford to go to Washington. The Ford folks want it as a next step to a vice presidency ... or something. But the Carroll people want him to win just so he can be gone and give their man a ten-month free ride in the governor's chair. One more thing ... we're pretty sure that J. R. Miller, the man who blundered most of the Democratic successes in recent years, is not very pleased about the potential of Ford's leaving the governor's job early ... and that's another element of Ford's disharmony to consider. You see, Miller's not one of Carroll's biggest fans and though he's not still party chairman, we'll bet he still commands a lot of attention in the inner circles.

We said all of that to say this: the governor's a heckuva good chance of going back to Washington for another half dozen years. He's an incumbent ... they're hard to beat. He's a Republican and remembering the days of Cooper and Morton, we think Kentuckians still find something good in having at least one in the Senate.

Gov. Ford the other day said the race would probably be on the record of the other man, then he tied Cook tightly to Pres. Nixon and criticized the race would not be on the record at all but on Watergate.

But Cook has been a good Senator and he's criticized Nixon when he had to and, in our view, cannot be painted with that ole black Watergate brush. We'll know one thing after this Senate race ... we'll know whether Watergate's generosity hurt the Republicans at the polls or not.

It ought to be one fine, close race ... one of the hottest and best Kentucky's had in quite a while.

Then we turn to the quest for the governorship by the Republicans ... keeping in mind that Cook can win ... and there's a long list of names on the GOP horizon.

There's former Gov. Louie Nunn. We're told "no" he won't run again ... that he's happy practicing law in Lexington. But we were told "no" he wouldn't make that Senate race against Huddleston either.

There's Tom Emberton, quiet and likely wondering if he ought to try it again. Another who's served the party in many jobs is former Highway Commissioner Eugene Goss ... his is a name that's recognized.

How about Jim Host? No, we're told, he's going to stay away from state government for a while. And we thought maybe the two Congressmen, Snyder and Carter, might consider giving Carroll a challenge for the governor's job ... but probably not. They've got it made and would be foolish to give it up voluntarily ... but this fall one of them might have to give it up at the polls and either would be an attractive governor's candidate. What about Bob Gable, the coal fellow who ran against Nunn in the last GOP Senate primary? Well, if he's to judge his popularity by that race or by the misfortunes he's undergone in recent skirmishing over broadform deed legislation ... he'd probably forget politics. But we may hear from Gable anyway.

In Louisville, there's Ed Schroering, the party's big city bulwark ... but those Ed Hancock punchers are probably still rining in his ears from the '71 attorney ge general's race. Maybe County Chairman Mitch McConnell will give it a try.

Tell you what we think ... we're convinced that the next Republican governor's candidate will come from the party's legislative ranks. Senate Minority Leader Gene Stuart would make an attractive candidate ... as would House caucus chairman Larry Hopkins ... and you can't deny that House party floor leader Harold DeMarcus has the campaigning color that's foolproof when it comes to luring votes.

Men like these have most recently had the public's attention ... they are the Republicans easily recognized ... and a lot happened during the '74 session of the Kentucky Legislature that will give them plenty of campaign fodder.

61 DAIRY CATTLE

PROPERTY OF WYLER BROS. (FRED AND AL)
CRAB ORCHARD, KENTUCKY

SALE WILL BE HELD ON THE FARM LOCATED 9 MILES SOUTH OF LANCASTER, 3 MILES NORTH OF CRAB ORCHARD ON HIGHWAY 39
RAIN OR SHINE - IN CASE OF RAIN, SALE WILL BE HELD IN LARGE BARN. PLENTY OF PARKING OFF THE ROAD.

Wyler Brothers have put together a farming operation that, in all honesty, is to big for them to handle, considering the shortage of help. Therefore, they have decided to go out of the milk business and devote their time to crops and beef cattle.

Wyler Brothers started this herd almost 30 years ago with mostly purebred cows and have since that time through proper selection of breeding stock and artificial insemination built a milking herd that is unequalled in this part of the country.

These cows are tested and have the necessary health papers. Ages given sale day. Five - 1 yr. old, eighteen - 2 yrs. old, eighteen - 3 yrs. old, fourteen 4 & 5 yr. old, six 6-7-8 yr. old. Some of these cows are in full flow of milk and some to freshen later. These cows are big type holsteins and will help to improve most any dairy herd.

Work has already begun on many improvements to be made at the Club this year. The Golf Course will be rated by the Kentucky P.G.A. so that it will meet all requirements for Tournament play. This will also enable our golfers to establish a handicap that will be in keeping with other golfers throughout the State.

A new riding mower for the greens had been purchased, as well as all new flags and new ball washers.

The swimming pool will be completely repaired and a whole new filter system installed, so we can look forward to a beautiful clean pool this summer.

The Croquet Court still needs a little more volunteer help to complete it, as well as the donation of a few dozen bricks.

And, finally, a reminder to all female members of Cedar Rapids: The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet at the Club Thursday night at 7:00 - and we'll be expecting you all!

OTTAWA
Mrs. Maggie Herrin and Mrs. Anna Wright have been visiting in Ohio where Mrs. Wright was invited to attend the 57th Annual Celebration for Blair Products Dealers. She was also invited to bring a friend to the Convention which was held at the Netherland Hilton Hotel in Cincinnati. Each dealer received a gift and refreshments were served. While in Ohio they visited friends and relatives: Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Laswell and family.

PHILIP ARGENBRIGHT, operator of the Restro Valley Standard Oil Service Station, has been nominated and selected to appear in the 1974 edition of "Who's Who in Kentucky," which is a compilation of biographical information on outstanding citizens in Kentucky. To be considered for listing in this publication, one must have distinguished themselves in business, government or civic awareness within their own community.

"RATE INCREASE"

he said.
Thomason pointed to several categories as examples of how the company's expenses have gone up in the last six years. He stated that total operating taxes have gone up 104%, from $520,714 in 1967 to more than $1,063,744 in 1973; maintenance costs have increased 103%, from $467,088 to $945,856; and total operating expenses have climbed 90% from $2.3 million to more than $4.4 million.

The company representative also cited efforts to improve service as a major cost area.

"Since 1967, we've put a total of over $20 million into projects to make the customer's phone work better. We've added lines and cables to provide upgraded service; built new offices, and added modern communications equipment in every office in our serving territory; and concentrated on other projects to meet our service commitments."

"We have made progress during this time, but we also know that there is still much to be done. Right now we estimate that an additional investment of $24 million will be required in the next three years.

"We know we can't meet Kentucky's service needs without putting additional money into service improvement projects; yet we can't build new facilities without capital, and we can't get that capital unless we're earning enough to attract the investor who lends us the funds to build."

"If what we earn is inadequate in comparison to what other companies earn, then the investor will turn away from us and put his money elsewhere. And it must be remembered that this borrowed capital provides the main source of funds for building needed facilities and adding other improvements."

"We simply have to produce adequate earnings in order to provide adequate service. We have an obligation to provide the best, most reliable service possible, but can only do so if we have the money to do that job," he stressed.

4-H Project Groups Are Cooking and Sewing - 4-H'ers throughout the county have been busy the past two months working on their projects after school. Shown are a clothing project group and a foods project group both at Brodhead. Thanks go to the projects leaders who gave time and effort in working with the youth, and to school officials for letting the 4-H'ers use their facilities. In Mt. Vernon foods, knitting and clothing groups met. Mrs. Charles M. Baker worked with the foods. Mrs. Roland Mullins met with the clothing group, and Mrs. Phillip Davis is teaching a group to knit.

In the Brodhead area, Mrs. Lew Hunt is shown working with a sewing class. Mrs. Noretta Thompson taught 26 4-H'ers to cook and good nutrition. Mrs. Wayne Taylor is working with a foods group in the Quail area and Mrs. Bobby Proctor is presently teaching a group of girls to sew. Mrs. Jerry Mullins is assisting girls at the Livingston School with their clothing projects. Mrs. Paul Hamm, County 4-H Foods Chairman and Mrs. Leo Hopkins, County Clothing Chairman, set up the projects groups and assisted in training the leaders. Next year it is hoped to have project groups in other projects and in all the schools.

NEWS SUMMARY
State Government's
Week of Activity
In Brief

New Legislation Signed - The 1974 General Assembly sent approximately 400 pieces of new legislation to Gov. Wengell H. Ford for his signature or veto. The Governor has ten days after legislative adjournment to sign or veto any bill passed the last ten days of the session. Measures signed into law this week include House Bill 503, which requires plastic lamination and identification photos on drivers' licenses; House Resolution 29, which petitions the U.S. Congress to call a constitutional convention to outlaw the busing of students to achieve racial balance; and Area 4-H Speech Contest Well Represented - Representing Rockcastle County at the Wilderness Trail Area 4-H Speech Contest in Manchester last Saturday were Pam Mink, daughter of Elmo Mink of Brodhead; Lisa Mardis, daughter of Kenneth Mardis of House Resolution 30, which authorizes the Legislative Research Commission to make a feasibility study for a school of veterinary medicine at Murray State University.

Livingston and Robyn Arnold, daughter of James Arnold, Jr. of Brodhead. Lisa Mardis was chosen area champion in 11-year old girls and will represent the area at the State 4-H Talk Program in June. We should be proud of the fine job these girls did.

The yard was established in the early 1100's, when Henry I of England decided it should be the distance between the point of his nose and the tip of his thumb.

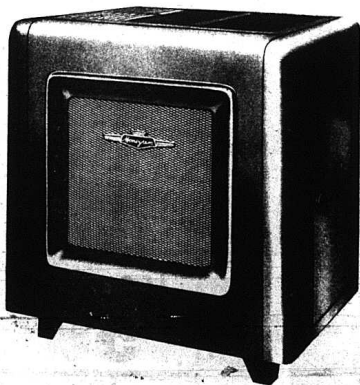

Introducing A New

MODEL B-80
WOOD HOME HEATER

FINE QUALITY CONSTRUCTION FOR TROUBLE-FREE PERFORMANCE

- 1. DIE-FORMED CABINET
The cabinet is constructed of heavy gauge steel and die-formed to eliminate sharp corners. The cabinet is finished in highlite Brownstone high temperature baked enamel. Legs are re-inforced for sturdiness.
- 2. HEAT-GUIDE LOUVERED TOP
The sectional louvered top guides the heat in all directions for more comfortable, even heating.
- 3. FULL LENGTH CABINET DOOR
The access door is die-formed and fits flush with the cabinet side. It is large enough to permit easy loading or ash removal.
- 4. AUTOMATIC THERMOSTAT
Start the fire, load up, then set the thermostat to the comfort desired... it's that automatic! A bi-metal coil, super sensitive to heat, controls the air to the fire that, in turn, controls the heat in the room. Electricity is not required.
- 5. AIR INTAKE DAMPER
It opens automatically when the thermostat calls for more heat. As it opens it permits fresh air to the fire evenly distributed under the grate.
- 6. CAST IRON FLUE COLLAR
The flue collar is constructed of solid cast iron to withstand the hottest heat for years of dependable service.
- 7. FLOOR HEAT BLOWER SYSTEM
This easy to install optional kit pulls air down from the ceiling, forces it over the inner unit then pours the heat out over the floor. It eliminates over heated ceilings and requires less fuel.

WOOD HEATING ECONOMY - AUTOMATIC HEATING COMFORT !

"HEAT-MASTER" INNER UNIT
The combustion chamber is specially engineered to provide an even air flow for fast heat transfer. It is die-formed of heavy gauge steel, electrically welded and protected with zinc oxide. The firebox is lined with firebrick that won't expand or burn out. The firebrick retainers are constructed of durable aluminum steel. Both doors and door frames are constructed of heavy duty cast iron and both are sealed with asbestos gaskets for air-tight, thermodynamically controlled performance. The full length ash pan is 2 1/2" deep and is easy to remove. In every detail, the wood burning home heater is manufactured to Monogram's highest quality standards.

DEPT. STORE IN BERA

This animal is owned by John Anthony Holbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Holbrook of Broadhead. The weight at eight months and two days of age was 980 pounds. (Breed 50% Chianina, 25% Charolais, 25% Holstein) Visitors are welcome to come and see the Chianina.

The Chianina (like a-sui-nal came to Rockcastle County from Italy, via artificial breeding. The Chianina of Italy is the largest breed in the world. Mature bulls stand over 75" at the withers and weigh over 4,000 lbs.

Characteristics of this hardy breed are rapid and continuous growth to twenty-four months, absence of calving problems, high proportion of lean meat and efficient conversion of feed for up to twenty-four months. Chianinas have set both price and growth records because of the traits.

When crossbreeding, these characteristics are passed on to the offspring. For Rockcastle, this will mean more and better beef from fewer cattle at a lower cost.

There is only the 1/2 blood Chianina in the United States Kentucky and Rockcastle County.

Probably the first Chianina to arrive in Rockcastle was purchased in Bloomington, Illinois at the Chianina Sella Auction Sale, November 27, 1972, by C. C. Crawford Farm, which included six 1/2 blood Chianina Chianina breeders in Rockcastle County; namely, Bill Adams, Kenneth Carter, Monroe Renner, Nathan Clark, John E. Holbrook, C. C. Crawford Farm, Mark Jasper, Dewey Alcorn, Harley Adams, Gene Lawrence, and Robert Cromer.

PROCLAMATION

By The Governor

Of The Commonwealth of Kentucky

To All To Whom These Presents Shall Come:

WHEREAS, the auction way of selling is one of the oldest methods of bartering known to man, dating back in history to before 1000 B.C. and today, throughout the United States and all the free countries of the world, the auction method of selling real or personal property is growing rapidly; and,

WHEREAS, All of the United States tobacco, more than 60 percent of all meat animals in America are marketed via the auction method, and many other food products, including fruits and vegetables, eggs and produce, fish and other commodities are also marketed in this way; and,

WHEREAS, Valuable works of art, rare coins and antiques of all kinds are nearly always sold at auction, where their true value can be effectively determined; and, sales of all types, including businesses, farm dispersals and estate sales, are very popular, and no sale today should be considered too large or too small for the auction method of selling; and,

WHEREAS, Leading auctioneers in Kentucky and the nation are continually striving to render better services to their clients through mutual exchanges of ideas and experiences; and they conduct their business according to the code of ethics set out by the National Auctioneers Association;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WENDELL H. FORD, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do hereby proclaim the week of April 1-6, 1974, as in Kentucky, and urge all citizens of this Commonwealth to appreciate and honor the services auctioneers provide for our economy and people.

DONE AT THE CAPITOL, in the City of Frankfort, this the 25th day of March in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred Seventy-four and in the One Hundred Eightysecond.

THE FBLA Club of the Harry Sparks Vocational School attended a Regional Conference last Saturday, March 30 at Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond. These four girls all received awards in different divisions. They are, from left: Brenda Moore, first place, data processing; Linda Brummett, third place, penmanship; Judy Sowder, first place, clerical and Janetta Reynolds, first place, junior accounting. LaJoy Parrott, not present, also received a second place in Junior Steno.

Joyce Hansel, far right, was elected Vice-President of the Region replacing Miss Lori Kindred, center, outgoing vice-president, also a student at the Harry Sparks Vocational School. Pam Phillips, far left, was elected secretary but could not accept the office since no two officers can be elected from the same school. All first and second place winners will advance to the state competition which will be held at the Seelbach Hotel in Louisville April 25-27. State winners will go to the National Conference which will be held in San Francisco, California in June. The local FBLA Chapter also took three second place chapter awards. They were: Best Chapter Scrapbook, State Project "HELP" and Largest Chapter Membership.

Reclamation Enforced - Secretary Thomas O. Harris, of the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, announced that strict enforcement of state strip mining reclamation regulations has caused a record number of temporary mine closings and fines since January 1. So far this year, Harris said, nineteen strip mining permits have been suspended and $39,000 in fines collected, as compared to thirty-five closings and $46,050 collected in fines during all of 1973.

The Revival is in progress at the Baptist Church here. Rev. Arnold Pennington of Copper Creek is the evangelist; the pastor Bro. Prewitt and the congregation invite everyone. We're glad to report Mrs. Bertie Mink is able to be back home after spending a few days in Mt. Vernon Hospital.

Mrs. Danny Mullins is on the sick list and is being bed, her daughters are spending some time with her, and we wish Mrs. Mullins a speedy recovery. Mrs. Pearl Burdette and Chris spent Friday night with her daughter Mr. and Mrs.

Your Rockcastle County Bookmobile is scheduled to be in the following areas the week of April 7-13:
April 8 - Brodhead and Copper Creek; April 9th - Green Hill - Conway - and Boone; April 11th - Maple Grove, Climax, and Three Links.

AUCTION

of the late Mrs. Betty Parsons

18.71 ACRES

SAT., APRIL 13th-10:30 a.m.

Located at Rentro Valley, Ky. near Sigmon's Grocery. Watch for auction signs at the property.

The property will be offered in two tracts then combined, selling whichever way brings the most money.

Tract #1 - Has 710 ft. frontage along U.S. 25 and contains 12.07 acres. City water is available to this tract. In addition, there's a pond and creek for stock water. This tract is a good baby farm in itself or it would be ideal for residential or commercial development.

Tract #2 - Contains 6.64 acres and city water is also available to this tract. It, too, is a good baby farm.

When combined, the two tracts total 18.71 acres and have a 392 lb. tobacco allotment. Being strategically located near the world famous Rentro Valley, the potential for this property is unlimited. Don't miss this sale if you're in the market for acreage.

TERMS - 20% down day of sale; balance due in thirty (30) days upon delivery of deed. Announcements day of sale to be precedence over printed matter.

For additional information or copy of plat of property, contact Mr. Jack Parsons at 256-2288 or 256-2470, or

© John Lair

Rockcastle County, the 52nd formed in the state, was established in 1810 out of parts of Lincoln, Madison, Knox and Pulaski and named for its principal stream, the Rockcastle River.

Its boundary line had its beginning at the mouth of the Horse Lick fork of Rockcastle River, continuing down the river to where Madison State Road crossed it at Crews' Ferry; then continuing with that road to John Peart's residence, at the Hazel Patch. From there it followed a direct line to where The Reserve Line crossed Rockcastle River, then followed the Reserve Line to where the Crab Orchard Road crossed Bee Lick Branch; then above English's Old Station (formerly located near Crab Orchard but now long since disappeared) and then a direct line to the nearest point in the Garrard County line following the Garrard County line to Copper Creek. Going up Copper Creek to its head, it struck straight across to Roundstone Lick, at Boone's Gap. The line continued to near the residence of Misses Bartingtons, then on to a point near where Thomas Höttern then lived, from which point it struck a direct line to Horse Lick Creek, over half mile below the Double Licks, then down Horse Lick to the point of beginning.

This was the original survey of Rockcastle County in 1825 by the Reserve Line south of Rockcastle River when Laurel County was formed and the dividing line pushed north to the river. In 1858 a part of Rockcastle County was also taken in the formation of Jackson County.

I am having considerable trouble getting correct information on The Reserve Line mentioned above. It is said to have been a part of the boundary line of a body of land reserved for veterans of the Revolutionary War who were awarded land grants for their services. Russell Dyche, in his history of Laurel County, expresses the belief that the Military Reserve was surveyed by William Henderson, in 1783 or 1784, representing the Virginia Land Commission, which met at St. Asaphs (now Stanford, Ky.) October 13, 1779. Collins' History indicates that the office of the Virginia Military District was opened by Col. Richard C. Anderson July 20, 1774, at the Falls (now Louisville) and says the first entry was made in the name of William Brown, at the mouth of Cumberland River. In my opinion, these were two separate operations and the Reserve Line which was made a part of Rockcastle's boundary line is the one mentioned by Dyche and surveyed by William Henderson, who was engaged in surveying the line between Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee, at which time the Pinnacle Rock near Cumberland Gap was designated as a marker in that line.

A rumor, or tradition, which I have been unable to verify, persists that at a later date a representative of the Legislature from Rockcastle County had a slight change made in the line between this county and Laurel so as to change this gentleman's residence from one county to the other, for his own personal benefit in the matter of selling liquor. I have been told that this change was made, involving a few acres at the south end of the railroad bridge at Livingston. Hope to get straightened out on this before our book goes to the printers. Can anybody tell me anything about this?

I have also heard that during a period when one county was wet and the other dry, some enterprising individual had stocked up a flatboat as a sloop, anchored in the middle of the river, that could quickly move from shore to shore as circumstances dictated. I do not have a record of how the county voted wet or dry in different years, but seem to recall having noticed in the legislative acts of 1870 an amendment allowing liquor to be sold in Rockcastle County on a physician's prescription only, indicating that the county was dry at that time. Around the heyday of the town of Livingston, when it was the terminus of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, or during the big coal and lumber operations, Champ Mullins ran a big saloon there and amassed a considerable fortune for that day and time.

In reading some of the various acts passed in 1810, when the county was formed, when the census was taken during that same year, it was provided that copies be left on view in the homes of Stephen Langford and Henry P. Buford, those being named as the two most public places in the new county. Henry Buford was one of the first magistrates in the county and William Buford was assistant to the Marshall of The Kentucky District and took the enumeration for Rockcastle County; in this their first census report, Uriah Gresham was some sort of an officer in the new county, but his position was not designated.

When the county was organized there were 1,731 people living in the territory which it embraced; of which 163 were slaves. It is interesting to note how evenly each group was divided as to sex. There were 317 males under ten years of age, and 318 females; 128 males between ten and sixteen and 120 females; 114 males between the ages of sixteen and 26 and 126 females; between the ages of twenty-six and forty-five there were 126 males and 137 females. There were seventy-six males past forty-five and sixty females past the same age.

Another legislative act of the same year allowed the Rockcastle County Court to pay a bounty for wolf heads, allowing $1.50 for animals above six months of age and $1.00 for those six months or younger. The bounty claimant had to swear that the wolf had been killed in the county and also swear that he had not knowingly allowed any female wolf to escape death and thus increase the breed. After issuing certificate for payment of the bounty, the Justice of the Peace who had heard the claim was personally charged with the responsibility of destroying the head, to prevent its being taken elsewhere and again presented to claim bounty money.

It was also provided that a permit must be obtained for building a water mill. There was also the strange provision that anyone carrying fire to within twenty yards of any such mill would be subject to a fine of $2.00.

It is interesting to note that in the same year the Legislature passed an act entitled "An act for the benefit of Joseph Barnes, Samuel Snoddy, John Kincaid, William Baugh, Nathaniel Lewis, Daniel Bates, William Woods and David Kincaid." It seemed that these Rockcastle citizens had obtained a grant of two hundred acres around the Double Lick on Horse Lick Creek, where they were attempting to locate a salt works by blowing and digging for salt water. It was agreed that if they were successful in obtaining a considerable quantity of salt water, the wood they would cut from two hundred acres of land would not be sufficient for boiling it down. The purpose of this act was to allow them to take up any unappropriated land, up to two thousand acres, for which they were to pay at the rate of twenty cents per acre, with four years in which to pay for it. If the proposed salt works were not in successful operation within two years, the land was to revert to the Commonwealth.

Who knows the location of what was called The Double Lick on Horse Lick Creek? If you know where the line between Jackson and Rockcastle Counties crosses Horse Lick Creek, you can locate the Double Lick, because the survey shows that the line crossed the creek one half mile below the Lick. If you are familiar with the location, can you tell me if there are still signs of digging or blasting which was done to find salt water? Do you know if salt was ever made there, or if the venture was successful? *****

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to make a comment on our Recreation Center at Conway. There are some who are complaining about the noise and saying it is open on Sunday.

It is not open on Sunday, and the noise is all on the inside and not outside. It disturbs no one.

It is run by a very nice and decent boy who grew up in this community, and everyone knows him. There is no drinking or rough housing there.

We mothers know where our sons are and are not worried about them. We know they are not in Mt. Vernon or Berea with a bunch of drunks and dope addicts.

The ones who are complaining surely don't have sons, or they don't care where they are, or who they're with.

These are all community boys who go there and it's well run. I think the ones who are complaining had better stop and ask themselves, "Do I know where my son is?" and be thankful for the Center.

Again, it is not open on Sundays and harms no one, but does a lot of good.

Thank you, Ronnie, for opening a place for our boys to have fun. You certainly have my vote of confidence.

So, come on parents, get behind this Center and keep it open for our boys.

Next time, save in the shower!

The average shower bath uses about one half as much hot water as a tub bath. So if you shower, you save the cost of heating about five gallons of water.

There are many ways to save: Leave your electric water heater thermostat at its factory setting. Repair dripping faucets. Use cold and warm water cycles for washing clothes. And choose the shower for bathing.

Beside saving money, you'll save energy.

Well, I did it again. In last week's paper, I forgot that things have changed a little and the local ambulance service is now a separate entity and goes by the name of Rockcastle Ambulance Service instead of Tri-City Rescue Squad. The mishaps came when I was detailing the account of last week's bomb scare at the Rockcastle County Hospital and passed along the Hospital's "Thanks" to the Tri-City Rescue Squad for their swift and efficient work in helping evacuate patients to other locales. Of course, Tri-City Rescue did help, but I meant to say Rockcastle Ambulance Service instead - does that mean I was only half-wrong? Anyway, my apologies to both Rockcastle Ambulance Service and Tri-City Rescue Squad for my blooper.....

Have just got to repeat this remark overheard in a local grocery store. "I think I'll work it out somehow so that my husband's check comes directly here and that way, cut out the middle man...." That's alright, I really didn't think it was that funny, either, it's too close to the truth these days.....

Our typesetter Kathie Station is waxing enthusiastic these days about the advantages of having a motorcycle to glide from home to work and around town on. She insists that the savings in gas would be tremendous besides the fun part. I don't know. I have been fearful of the things ever since I was about seven and a neighbor showed us the scars from where she had been thrown from a bike in downtown Lexington. I realize that the accident rate probably is no higher on a cycle than in a car but you have to admit, there is less protection when you do take a spill. Besides, with seven in our family, I haven't quite figured out exactly how I would place the side-cars to make it a family affair.....

Our own State Representative William Harold DeMarcus was named the "Most Valuable Law Maker" for the Republican Party during the 1974 Kentucky Legislature. Mr. DeMarcus received personal congratulations from Senator Marlow W. Cook, who has a battle on his hands this fall from Gov. Ford for his Senate seat. I like Senator Cook and admired the fact that he was one of the few Republicans in Washington who managed to keep his skirts clean of the Watergate mess. Of course, he has a vote-getting opponent to put down in order to return there.

Back on the subject of Rep. DeMarcus, I noticed a column on him in the Ashland Daily Independent by Gary W. Auxier entitled "Capital Stidelights," some weeks ago and it was a funny piece. Mr. Auxier wrote concerning Rep. DeMarcus' oratorical style on the House floor.

The article quotes Mr. DeMarcus' routine opening on a controversial bill like this, "It was a beautiful day today. The birds were singing and the clouds disappeared from the sky and the farmers were out working in the fields. And they come home after a hard day of honest work and sit down and turn on the television and open their newspaper and find that the Kentucky General Assembly is in session - and a cold chill runs up and down their spine. What is the Legislature going to take away from me today?" they will ask."

Mr. Auxier also printed, what he described as an excerpt from "A. W. Harold DeMarcus Sampler," gleaned from a few minutes of a short speech before the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce in Louisville.

On Gov. Ford: "I didn't hear him use the term 'proven taxcutter' once last night. That will go down as the biggest one ever told since Pharaoh's daughter told her father she got Moses out of bullrushes."

On the Republican minor: "I don't know what he's worried about the Republicans for. I've already introduced a bill to put us on the endangered species list."

On his Democratic legislators: "Most of them are smart. They can all read the bills....but they have to go to the governor's office to get him to explain them."

"You know, there are some religions that bow to the East three times a day. They bow to the governor's office three times a day ... and he bows to the Paradise Generating Plant of the REA home base for Democratic Party power broker J. R. Miller!"

On House Speaker Norbert Blum: "He's the most even-tempered man I have ever known. He's mad about something all the time."

Now don't get mad at me, local Democrats. I thought it was a funny piece and did not put up the fact that Mr. DeMarcus has a sharp, dry sense of humor - a necessary quality for any lawmaker.....

"Converting to electric heat was so logical...don't know why I didn't long ago."

John C. Newman, Greenville

Believe Mr. Newman. Converting your home to electric heat makes a world of sense when you add proper insulation. Makes for a new world of comfort, cleanliness, and freedom from maintenance worries. Too proper insulation, storm sash and weatherstripping keep winter in its place - outside - reduce heating cost and conserve energy.

KU has established standards for proper insulation. So the instant you decide to convert to electric heat, make another logical move - call KU, or have your contractor call, for free consultation and cost estimates.
