

CASH EARNS CASH - A suggestion which has been accepted by the U.S. Army has earned William Cash, Jr., Pine Hill, a cash award of $810.00. An employee of the Lexington-Blue Grass Army Depot, Cash proposed a new procedure for destruction of communications security equipment. Adoption of his suggestion resulted in a $21,864.63 savings for the Lexington installation. Colonel John F. Dennington, depot commander, made the presentation to Cash.

was affected in less than two and one-half hours after the call was received by the Squad. Mr. Hansel said that he would personally like to compliment the members of the Squad and others who assisted in this operation. He also noted that in this one particular case, the training which the three men had received really proved invaluable.

Members of the Squad participating in the operation besides Mr. Hansel were: Gary Hassel, Eddie Moore and Dickie Collingsworth all of whom attended the three-day school, and Leon Frith. The Rescue Squad may be access road to her property on Lake Linville be built. Mrs. Lyons had met with the Council last month and reminded them that when the Lake was built, the Council in office then, had promised her a road to her property. Two members of the Council, James Robinson and Chester Hellard, visited the site this month and, after talking with Mrs. Lyons, reported to the Council that an agreement had been worked out, subject to approval of the Council, whereby the road going to Bennett Hatt's property would be extended to Mrs. Lyons' property at a cost to the Council of approximately $300. A motion was made to make this extension providing both Mrs. Lyons and Mr. Hatt's sign releases relieving the City of further obligation in the matter.

Councilman Virgil Alcorn made a report on a request of Pete Hurd's which he had investigated, that the Council extend the sewer line approximately two hundred feet to Mr. Hurd's home on Sand Springs Road or Town Hill. Mr. Alcorn told the Council that with the extension approximately four to six more lots would be served and Mr. Alcorn made a motion that the City undertake this project when possible. The motion was passed unanimously with the provision that Mr. Hurd understand that there were other priorities and that the project would have to be placed in line with them.

Other Business

In other business, the Council failed to take any action on the $800 allocation for the Rockcastle County Library, requiring a motion to have the two meters in front of the Hen House Cafe the new bus station) moved to the front of the William L. Kincer building (the site of the bus station previously) on Main Street and that the curbing in front of the Hen House Cafe be painted at the expense of Denver Miller.

operator of the Cafe and passed a motion, on a request by Roy Lucas, to put a pipe across U.S. 25, at that site at a later date water could be run to houses there.

"Homeowners"

homeowners spent an estimated $1,005,000 in the past year for upkeep and improvement, based upon the latest government reports on average outlays per housing unit in the regional area.

It amounted to an average expenditure of $278 per unit, in contrast to the $222 spent in 1970. The national average was ## $366.

Just how much has been going into home improvements is indicated in data compiled by the Department of Commerce, which has been conducting similar surveys throughout the country.

Its figures show that some $18.9 billion was so spent in the past year. That was $1.4 billion more than in the previous year. The increase was due, in part, to the higher cost of labor and materials. Mostly, however, it reflects the attitude of homeowners. Their feeling, in general, is that with economic conditions as they are, they will be in their present locations for a long time to come.

A breakdown of the $18.9 billion outlay shows that $10.8 billion of it was for additions, alterations and major replacements and the other $8.1 billion for maintenance and repairs.

How did Rockcastle County residents spend their $1,005,000 share of it? A good part of it went for interior painting. Other major expenditures were for exterior painting, roofing, plumbing and kitchen and bedroom remodeling. The area reports indicate.

Also visiting at the Reppert home this week is Mrs. Reppert's daughter Mrs. Roger Morris (Carolyn) of West Palm Beach, Florida.

Peace attend church and Sunday School. Count your blessings and see what God does for you everyday. - If you are a Christian, live a Christian life and lead others to the Lord. God expects that of all of us.

Here's a poem I'd like to share with you entitled "Living Sermons"

There isn't a word that a preacher can say
No matter how lovely or true,
Nor is there a prayer, that his

That can preach such a sermon as you.

You vowed to serve Christ and men know you did,
They watch the things that you do;
There isn't an action of yours that is hid
Men are watching and studying you.

You say you're no preacher, yes, but you preach
A wonderful sermon each day.
The acts of your life are the things that you teach
It isn't the things that you say, and also thanks to the

If Christians were Christians, as they do profess
Men would notice their glorified men and say,
What wondrous thing they possess
Who follow the meek "Nazarene."

O, Christians, remember you bear His dear name,
Your lives are for others to view.
You are living examples, men praise you or blame and measure all Christians by you.

"Let others see Jesus in you."

God bless you all in my prayer: Come, worship with us at Fairview anytime. You are always welcome. We still have four services weekly.

In precious memory of George W. Murphy, Sr. and Lloyd P. Murphy.

Our loved ones departed from this mortal life to the great eternal life. We miss them so much, their voices and footsteps are gone. But we still have the precious memories they left behind. We also will remember their last words.

"There was a better home waiting for them."

And we believe that on the 7th day of August, 1974 at the sunrise hour that Daft Murphy was waiting with open arms to welcome his son Lloyd.

We believe there was much rejoicing at this reunion.

We can join them and take that trip to the Heavens our Lord and Savior has prepared for all that would accept his gift of everlasting life.

Who will be next? And how many of us will be ready to join our loved ones?

Small fruits such as strawberries and the brambles should not be left planted. In areas this far north the soil is subjected to alternate freezing and thawing, and shallow rooted plants may be injured seriously by having their roots heave loose from the soil.

Ford Receives Plaque of Appreciation - Gov. Wendell H. Ford received a plaque of appreciation for "making possible the GEI) high school equivalency series on Kentucky Education, Television, and throughout the nation." The plaque was presented to the governor by Dr. Lyman V. Ginter, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and by O. Leonard Press, Director of KET.

Energy Conservation Tip

Night Light - Only about five percent of the average annual bill comes from lighting. So, it doesn't make sense to use bulbs that are too low in wattage and run the risk of eye strain or accidents. Also, night lighting on your porch and in the house has been found to be the best protection against criminal break-ins.

Burley Damaged By Rains City Council Passes 1974-75 Budget; Include Garbage & Ambulance Services

THE CONDITION OF TOBACCO already housed by Henry Owens, Route 1, Mt. Vernon, can be seen from the above photo. Mr. Owens, who raised four acres of Burley, said that his tobacco had been badly house-burned due to the unusually heavy rains we have had over the past two weeks. H. Lee Durham, right, said that in his estimate an approximate ten percent of the Burley Crop in Rockcastle County had been lost due to weather conditions. The bottom photo shows a field of tobacco which had already been cut but not housed when the rains came. The crop is on the farm of Billy McKinley, also of Route 1, Mt. Vernon. Mr. Durham said that late tobacco was in much better shape than the early crop.

Mr. Durham said that late tobacco was in much better shape than the early crop.

Muggy weather and too much rain the past couple of weeks have given Rockcastle County tobacco farmers trouble as far as the cutting and housing of their Burley crop is concerned, according to H. Lee Durham, County Extension Agent.

Mr. Durham said that approximately ten percent of the county crop had been lost due to house burn, to loss of bottom leaves on stalks on tobacco not yet cut, and from tobacco damaged after being cut but not gotten out of the fields. Mr. Durham also said that suckers were coming back out on tobacco not cut because the "sucker control" chemicals had been washed off by the rain.

However, Mr. Durham said that the late tobacco was not suffering as severely as the early crop.

Statewide, it's just as bad or worse with Bill Baiden of Danville, Vice Chairman of the Governor's Council on Agriculture, reporting it as "one of the most frustrating years we've (tobacco growers) have had."

Last year, a total of 1,102 acres of tobacco was produced in Rockcastle County with an average yield per acre of 2,200 pounds for a total poundage of 2,424,014. Growers received a total of $2,244,636.96 for the 1973 crop with an average of $92.60 per pound.

Total allotment for 1973 was 1,952 pounds with undermarketing in 1973 at $70.961. Effective one hundred percent of the 1974 quota is 3,804,484 pounds.

PLUMBING INSPECTORS HERE ON WEDNESDAYS

The Plumbing Inspector is now at the County Health Department on Wednesday afternoon from 1 to 2 p.m. The Inspector will be there each week on Wednesday until further notice.

GENERAL SURGERY NOW PRACTICED HERE

Dr. Don E. Cloys, General Surgeon, is now at the Rockcastle County Hospital each Thursday for the practice of General Surgery. Dr. Cloys has been associated with Pattie A. Clay Hospital in Richmond since July 1, 1968.

Include Garbage & Ambulance Services

The Mt. Vernon City Council passed the Expense portion of the 1974-75 budget, Monday night, as proposed by Mayor Roland Mullins, with only one change in allocation and one dissenting vote, that of Councilman Chester Hellard.

Councilman Hellard actually took issue with three items which Mayor Mullins had proposed in the budget - the $2,000 to the Ambulance Service and Garbage Collection Service each and the $1,000 for improvement of the City's parking lot located behind Main Street.

Mr. Hellard told the Council and also County Attorney James Lambert and County Judge Hubert Thacker, both of whom were present for the meeting, that "since it is a county garbage pick-up problem, it should be taken care of by the county (government) even if it means extra county taxes." County Attorney Lambert answered this with the statement that an added tax was not the answer at this time since this year's tax bills were already made out and there was no way that they could be changed to reflect additional tax at this time. Councilman Hellard then said, "I just don't want to pay twice for it (garbage collection service)," that he felt that by paying for his own garbage collection, since he lived in the City, and by paying for the County's system through taxes he would be paying twice along with other residents of the city who also paid individually for garbage pick-up at their homes and businesses.

When the matter of whether or not to include the $4,000 for the two service items to the City's expense budget, actually came up for a vote, Mayor Mullins told the Council that he had arrived at the $2,000 figure for garbage collection from the fact that, in years past, the City had been spending approximately that sum to maintain the City Dump, which they no longer were required to do. He also said that if the County could guarantee an ambulance service to the people for $10,000 a year from the County and $2,000 from the City, then it was, in his opinion, a bargain since he knew that other counties in Southeastern Kentucky were paying many times this amount and still having severe problems with providing an ambulance service. However, Mayor Mullins re-treated easily from his $1,000 budget allocation for improvements at the City's parking lot behind Main Street when Councilman Hellard and other Councilmen took issue with the allocation, saying that they felt that since there had only been $2,750 budgeted for city streets that this money ($2,000) could better be spent on the City's streets rather than on the parking lot.

On the question of whether or not to assist the Central Ambulance Service financially with the $2,000 proposed allocation by Mayor Mullins, Councilman Hellard stated he felt that this service also should be provided for by an added tax rather than by a piecemeal financing.

The Council finally passed the budget after getting assurance from Buddy Cox, a representative of Central Ambulance Service who was present, that the service would continue at least until May 31, 1975, when the present contract between the Ambulance Service and Fiscal Court expires. They also decided to pay the $2,000 to the garbage collection service out monthly rather than in a lump sum, in case the service ran into severe enough financial trouble after a few months that the operation had to be discontinued, then the City would not be out the entire $2,000 for a service no longer available.

Budget Figures

The $83,120.91 budget approved by the Council for Fiscal Year 1974-75 breaks down as follows: Income - Property Tax, $18,000; Business Licenses, $4,500; Franchise Tax, $7,000; Lease on Boat Dock, $4,300; Parking Meters, $4,500; Fines, $12,000; Miscellaneous, $300; and balance from 1973-74 operation, $2,320.91. Expenses - Streets, $3,750; Payroll, $18,800; Fringe Benefits, $2,300; Fire Department, $700; Emergency Fund, $1,000; Building Maintenance, $700;

Police Car Maintenance (including gas and oil), $2,800; Garbage Collection, $2,000; Ambulance Service, $2,000; Utilities, $5,180; Phone, $500; Jailor, $3,000; Office Supplies, $350; Postage, $200; Printing, $700; Planning, $300; Insurance, $2,500; Miscellaneous, $300; Police Car (purchase of a replacement for present car), $3,500; and Fire Truck Fund, $2,540.91 for a total of $53,120.91.

Boat Dock

The Council also took under advisement another matter before them concerning the Renfro Valley Boat Dock, presently leased to William Ramsey. Mr. Ramsey had presented the Council with a letter in August notifying them of his desire to be released from his contract within sixty days.

The letter charged the City with violating the terms of the lease agreement by continuing to allow pre-lease property owners to launch boats at will and to moor boats free. In the letter, Mr. Ramsey told the Council that in 1973, he lost $4,900 operating the dock and that the 1974 figures would be comparable.

The Council decided to ask Mr. Ramsey to meet with them to discuss the matter before connected with operation of the dock.

KU Franchise

Marvin "Skip" Whitaker, local Kentucky Utilities Manager, was before the Council asking that the Council renew KU's 20-year franchise to provide service to the City. Mr. Whitaker stated that the Council, although the present franchise did not expire until 1980, that KU desired the re-letting of the franchise for two main reasons. One, that several franchises in the state expired in 1980 and the renewing of Mt. Vernon's now would help prevent a logic in 1980 and that should KU have to go on the money market for additional capital, it would be to their (KU's) advantage to have a franchise until the year 2000 rather than a franchise with only a few years remaining on it. The Council passed unanimously a motion to advertise for the franchise beginning with this week's issue of the Signal.

Two committee reports were also acted upon by the Council. One concerned the request by Celia Lyons that an (Cont. to 12)

BICYCLE AND BIKE CLAIMED.....

Sheriff Manuel Shepherd reported this week that the Mini-Bike and Bicycle which he had recovered and which he announced in last week's paper, had been claimed.

The Mini-Bike was claimed by Mabel Saylor of Route 3, Mt. Vernon and the Bicycle belonged to Shane Bullock of Mt. Vernon.

ADAMS FARM SOLD.....

The sixty-three acre farm of the late Ray Adams on Chestnut Grove Road was sold at Public Auction on September 7th, to Russell Parsons of Route 1, Brodhead and Capt. and Mrs. John H. Egan of the USAF for $49,000.

The sale was handled by Ford Realty and Auction Company of Mt. Vernon.

RECA TO MEET.....

The Rockcastle County Education Association will hold a dinner-meeting Thursday evening, September 19, at the Rockcastle County High School. The dinner-meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. and will honor retired teachers.

All retired teachers and administrators are cordially invited to attend. Plaques will be presented to teachers who retired at the end of the last school year.

Mrs. Laura Baker, 108 Dies At Lexington

Mrs. Laura Baker, the oldest living Kentuckian and a native of Rockcastle County, died Friday, September 6th in Lexington at the age of 108. Mrs. Baker was honored last year by Governor Wendell Ford who presented Mrs. Baker with a certificate and medal as part of the statewide opening of the Bicentennial Celebration and in observance of the fact that she was the oldest living native Kentuckian. Mrs. Baker was born November 30, 1865 in Rockcastle County, the daughter of the late Jones and Tabitha Ard.

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY HOMEMAKERS TO MEET

Don't miss the fun. Be sure to come to the county-wide homemakers' meeting Friday evening. The theme for the meeting is "Kentucky Heritage." The program will celebrate Kentucky's bicentennial by looking back two hundred years to homemakers and homes of the past two centuries. Each homemaker club member is invited to attend and asked to wear a costume representative of the dress of two hundred years ago. There will also be a pot-luck meal. The meal will begin at 6:00 p.m. and will be held at the Brodhead Grade School. The meal will begin at 6 p.m. and will be held at the Brodhead Grade School. Election of county officers will also be held during the meeting. Plan now to be at the Brodhead School on Friday, September 13th.

Mink Injured In Fall Over Cliff

Willie Mink, about 47, of near Climax was injured early Sunday morning when he fell off a cliff near his home and landed on a ledge approximately thirty feet down. Members of the Rockcastle County and Tri-City Rescue Squad were called to the scene by the Central Ambulance Service, who were unable to affect the rescue operation themselves.

Paul Hansel, Director of the Rescue Squad, said that they were called about 1 a.m. Sunday morning, and after arriving on the scene, lowered a stretcher to Mr. Mink, who was then tied to the stretcher by members of the Squad who had crawled to the ledge which ran downward from behind the cliff from the top. The stretcher was then lowered to other members of the Squad, who packed Mr. Mink out over the hill. Mink was treated at the local hospital for several lacerations and then taken to a Lexington hospital for treatment of a reported broken kneecap, fractured jaw and other injuries.

Mink told members of the Squad that he was walking to work with his brother-in-law with a faulty flashlight when he walked over the cliff. His fall was arrested by vines and a small tree and he came to rest on the small ledge. Nearby residents heard Mr. Mink calling for help and called the Ambulance Service.

Mr. Hansel said that three members of the Squad, who were present, had attended a three-day school at Grayson which covered this type of rescue operation. The rescue (Cont. to 12)

The results of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court's decision last week to only empty garbage containers once a week can be seen in the above photo. The top photograph was taken on U.S. 25 North of Mt. Vernon and the other one on U.S. 25 South of Mt. Vernon. Monday night, the Mt. Vernon City Council agreed to back up the County in helping to finance the service and County Judge Hubert Thacker held out hope that in a called meeting scheduled soon of the Fiscal Court, something could be worked out to alleviate the problem. Prior to the Fiscal Court's last decision, garbage had been picked up daily from at least four containers near the city limits of Mt. Vernon.

Frankfort Watchline

We're not so sure we buy Gov. Wendell Ford's criticism of the treatment by the media of the Red River Gorge dam as a top issue of the U.S. Senate campaign. Given its emotional value, we think it's still highly important.

That's not to say that it's the overriding campaign argument. It's just where the people's heads are these days, to use the vernacular.

And you can't expect the voters to ignore the sense of their leaders.

Marlow Cook, the man whose U.S. Senate seat the governor covets, says that it's not up to the governor to choose the issues. That's the people's job, he says.

Ford would like to steer the campaign's attention away from the dam and over to inflation. He'd like to push Cook's face in the mud puddle of the economic pinch we're all in. Ford says that the issue that's on most people's minds.

But, let's take another look at the dam and see what's new. But, let's take another look at the dam and see what's new. One thing that's new is about $400,000 in flood damage during the past week in Powell County, as the Red River left its banks and wiped out a good part of the county's farm crop.

Fifty-four hundred acres flooded. It makes you wonder to take another look to see what can be done to keep it from happening again. Apparently, there's just one thing: control the river.

Ford accuses Cook of creating a myth in planned television ads on the dam. Apparently Cook feels it's THE ISSUE ... he recently did a bunch of filming in the gorge for use soon.

The myth appears to be the charge that Ford would dam up and wipe out all the natural landmarks, campsites and nature trails in the Red River area. Well, a look at a map of the planned fifteen-hundred acre lake is revealing.

The only landmark of importance to naturalists that would be touched is a connotation of birch-sycamore trees. And that's only in high water.

Of fifty-nine landmarks for which the gorge is noted, fifty-eight are to be untouched by this compromise lower site dam agreed upon six years ago by Senator John Sherman Cooper.

If you believe that Ford's motives are essentially pure in pushing the dam - that he's not just doing it to keep the support of that great Congressional dam-builder, Carl Albert, then you've got to believe that his decision for the dam was a pretty non-political move.

As we've said many times before, it certainly was not calculated to attract many votes outside Powell County.

Ford calls it, however, the best of two worlds. The gorge's natural sites will be preserved, as will all the flora and fauna which come under federal protection. There will be flood control and there will be guaranteed water quality and quantity on the Kentucky River.

That's really what bugs us. Here in Frankfort, we'd hate to see a return to the days twelve years ago when there was little water coming our way that taking out the filth from Lexington and Versailles left little more than pure chemicals. Soap wouldn't suds in it.

At this address, we care a heck of a lot less about the natural beauty of our scenic wilderness than we do about enough water for those we care about. That's survival, plain and simple. Our blind selfishness will probably bring letters of outrage from our more earnest environmentalists pals. But the water bills around this capitol city jumped just a few weeks ago four times their earlier size. Ominous signals?

One thing we've been missing that we'll probably see before long is a parade of Red and Kentucky River area community officials supporting the governor's position.

The issue is important enough, we think, to have brought these heavy guns out before now.

Here we have Lexington which is the fifth fastest growing city in the U.S., the second largest city in the country off a body of water and located in Central Kentucky, the 14th fastest-mushrooming region in the country. All that sipping at the stream we know as the Kentucky River. It's almost scary.

Sure, the economy's important, very important. But we disagree with the governor that we need to hear more. And we'd like to hear something from Cook, too, about flood control and the amount and condition of our water supply.

"If Ford's so concerned about the economy," Cook quipped the other day, "why doesn't he forget the dam and save us all about $32 million?" Let's hear something better than that. *

WHERE AM I? - Got hold of a Marlow Cook campaign agent the other day. These are opening remarks thereon: "Senator Cook will spend the upcoming week in Kentucky's Pennyrile area ... which is characterized by rolling fields and rocky hillsides. The western coalfields are in the area and many a Kentucky farmer." A wag over at Democratic Headquarters was heard to wonder out loud if they do this often for the Senator when he's in a strange state. *****

I was taken to task quite severely this week in a letter received from "A Subscriber."

ramblings...

Let me say at this point that the letter would have been published in its entirety if the "subscriber" had seen fit to put a name at the end of it. Anyway, their main bone to pick with me was over my failure to print a story on the recent closing of the Clow Corporation. Of course, this is true, as you all know, but what you may not know is that if no one, in any position of authority, chooses to make any comment as to the whys and wherefores of the closing, then our hands are tied. I did make several attempts to get a statement as to the reasons behind the closing but was firmly told "no comment." So, since they are not a government agency whose records are, by law, open to the public, what could I do - except print rumors and hearsay which I chose not to do. (Cont. to 7)

60 ACRE FARM more or less

SAT., SEPT. 14th - 10:30 A.M.

Located - 1 1/2 Miles out of Mt. Vernon on Carter Ridge. Turn off U.S. 25 at Hubbard's Pepper Station (South of Mt. Vernon) on to old U.S. 25 - Go one hundred yards and turn right on Carter Ridge Road. Follow auction signs to sale.

This farm has sixty acres more or less. It has approximately ten to twelve (10-12) acres in grass and under fence. There's an additional eight (8) acres that has been cleaned and dozed but no grass sowed, and there is much more that could be productive pasture-land. Stock water is supplied by two good ponds.

Tobacco allotment on the farm is 1572 pounds.

Improvements consist of the above-pictured modern house. It has a living room, kitchen, two bedrooms, and bath. Other features include hardwood floors, fireplace, gas furnace heat, automatic washer hook up, overhead insulation, and storm doors and windows. The house has city water.

In addition to the house, there's a combination stock and tobacco barn and a dandy storm cellar.

Being located so close to town and having city water, mail, and school bus service and a panoramic view of the Kentucky hills, it is an ideal place to live for the young and old. There's plenty of privacy.

SPLIT PEAS BRING IT ALL TOGETHER

A large dry pea harvest, which the U.S. Department of Agriculture expects to do this year, should mean lots of split peas to serve separately or with soups, dips, meat loaf and casseroles.

Peas are among the oldest cultivated plants. Remains of them have been found beneath the ruins of 5,000-year-old dwellings in Switzerland.

They were discovered in the relics of ancient Troy and were frequently mentioned by Greek and Roman writers.

Peas can be divided into garden and field varieties. Field peas, produced in the United States in Idaho and Washington are processed into split peas.

Specialty grown whole peas are dried and their skins removed by a machine. A second machine then breaks the peas in half.

Split peas cook faster than whole peas. To retain their shape until cooked through, more cooking will force the peas to disintegrate, forming a soup or puree.

Split peas have a mild but distinctive flavor and an ability to combine well with many foods.

Dry peas are an interesting and versatile food and add variety and protein to meals. They are used in soups, casseroles, dips, hors d'oeuvres or in vegetable side dishes. They combine well with meats and make an excellent ingredient in stuffing for peppers.

Green dry peas have a more delicate flavor than yellow dry peas. Yellow dry peas, however, have a more subtle flavor, and they are very popular in the Southern and Eastern parts of the United States. They are also preferred in Eastern Canada, the Caribbean and South America.

Dry split peas are mainly used for split pea soup. These are specially grown whole peas that are dried and that are broken in half after their skins are removed.

Whether you buy green, yellow, whole or split peas is really a matter of choice. They can be used interchangeably in many recipes.

Try to buy your peas in cellophane bags or other see-through types of packages such as cardboard boxes with a cellophane "window."

Peas should have a bright uniform color. Loss of color usually indicates long storage, lack of freshness and a product that will take longer to cook. Eating quality, however, is not affected.

Look for peas that are uniform in size. Mixed sizes will result in uneven cooking, since smaller peas cook faster than larger ones.

Cracked seed coats, foreign materials and pinholes caused by insect damage are signs of a low quality product.

Dry peas should be kept in tightly covered containers and stored in a dry, cool place.

Stored in this manner, they will keep their quality for several months. After opening a package, don't mix the contents with that of other packages or it will also result in uneven cooking. Older peas take longer to cook than fresh ones.

Whole peas should be soaked before cooking to reduce the time required for cooking. Split peas used in soup may be boiled without soaking. If you want to use split peas for other purposes, however, you'll find they hold their shape better if soaked for a short time before cooking.

They are a good vegetable to accompany a meat entree. To make 2½ cups of cooked split peas (6 servings), begin with one cup dry split peas, two cups of water and ½ teaspoon salt.

Wash and drain the split peas. Put the split peas and water in a pan, bring to boiling and boil two minutes. Remove from heat, cover and let soak ½ hour. Then add salt and bring to boiling. Cover and boil gently about 20 minutes until tender.

Do not stir. Casseroles are the one good way to feature the split peas' versatility in steaming with other foods.

Top-Of-Steve Casserole

1 small onion
1 lb. ground beef
2 cups cooked or canned tomatoes

½ cup uncooked rice
½ cup water
1 tbsp. sugar
2½ cups cooked split peas

Salt and pepper, as you like
Chop onion. Put ground beef and onion in a pan. Cook until meat is browned. Drain off fat. Add tomatoes, rice, water and sugar. Cover and boil gently about 25 minutes until rice is tender. Add split peas, salt and pepper. Heat slowly until hot. Makes six one-cup servings.

Pea-Stuffed Peppers

6 medium green peppers
1 cup cooked yellow or green split peas
1½ lbs. hamburger
1 pk. of dry onion soup
1 beaten egg
2 cans tomato-cheese sauce

Remove tops and membranes from peppers. Pre-cook in salted water for five minutes. Remove from water and place in glass baking dish, open side up. Combine soup mix with hamburger and brown in cooking oil. Remove from heat and add the peas, egg and one can of the sauce. Mix.

Stuff peppers and top with the other can of sauce. Bake for 45 minutes in 350° oven. Serves six.

Rev. Ray Dean filled his regular appointment at Fairview over the weekend with good attendance. But due to the holiday (Labor Day) weekend, our Sunday School attendance was down to eighty-three. We think God for each one who attended and hope the ones who were on vacation or visiting had a wonderful time.
We also thank God for the good rains we have received during the past week. God always knows best, although we hear much complaining about the weather. We all need to be more thankful for the great blessings of God, because He blesses us far beyond what we deserve. Think about it. Are you and your children attending Sunday School and church services regularly?

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the relatives of Mrs. Ernie Daugherty of Fort Mitchell and Mrs. Mildred Gatloff of Fort Thomas. May God bless and comfort their loved ones in their time of sorrow.
A speedy recovery is wished Mrs. Liddie Reppert, who has been a patient in the Rockcastle County Hospital since Sunday morning and Mrs. Barbara Peters of Fairview and Mrs. Lizzie Isaacs of Boone who are hospitalized in the Berea Hospital. Our prayers are with them.
Attending the Ordination service at the Brodhead Baptist Church Friday night were Rev. Ray Dean, Cletus Peters, Buddy

Gabbard and Garfield Gabbard, deacons of the Fairview Baptist Church.

Rev. C. R. Daley of Louisville, editor of the Western Recorder religious magazine spoke at the Fairview Church

Past Presidents of the Association were honored at the Banquet and presented with a gold gavel commemorating their service. They were: John Lair, Logan Bryant, Mrs. Adams, who made the presentation, Mrs. Elmer Hopkins and Mrs. J. D. McFerron. Paul Owens, guest speaker, is in the foreground.

Sunday, September 1st on "How Baptists Work Together," through the cooperative program. We enjoyed his sermon so very much. It was so interesting and worthwhile. We thank God for people like Rev. Daley who give so much of their time and talent for the sake of others.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Chasteen of Hamilton, Ohio recently spent a few days here with his brother Mr. Hubert Chasteen and Mrs. Chasteen. While here they, along with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen, visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Adams and family of Wildie.

Mrs. Lucille Ponder and daughter Edith Rae spent the weekend in Indiana visiting Mrs. Ethel Whipple of Greensburg and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Mullins of Holton. They returned home Sunday accompanied by Mrs. Ponder's parents Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Mullins who had spent the past few weeks at their farm there.

Prayer meeting services were held last Wednesday night at the home of our pastor Rev. Ray Dean of Boone. After services were over, the members surprised him with a birthday party and many useful gifts. The birthday cake was baked by Mrs. Johnny Gilliam of Berea and was served with punch. Everyone had a wonderful time. Many happy returns of the day, Bro. Dean. May God bless you through life. You have meant a lot to us at Fairview.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Gabbard and daughter Gail visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Calmes in Irvin Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Alexander and grandson Mark of London were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander and family. Mrs. Hazel Mullins Borst of Port William, Ohio and her mother Mrs. Maggie Wren of Indiana, wife of the late Walter Wren, formerly of Fairview, visited Mrs. Mona Treon Friday. They also visited Mrs. Hubert Chasteen while here. We enjoyed seeing them so much. They moved away from here 45 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pickle and family recently enjoyed a trip through several mid-western states. They enjoyed most the Eisenhower Center in Abilene, Kansas where they visited Pres. Eisenhower's home and the Museum, also the Chapel where he is buried, then on to Dodge City and Boot Hill. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Agee in Junction City, Kansas. They returned home a week later through Oklahoma, Arkansas and Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lanter of Paris visited her mother Mrs. Della Bullens of Macedonia, Kentucky.

Mrs. Hubert Chasteen, Mrs. Janet Adams, Connie and Ricky, and Mrs. Darlene Church, Tammy and Tonya attended the Miller-Valley View School Reunion held at Valley View, Ky. Sunday, August 25th. O'Connell Cox visited Mrs. Mona Treon last Sunday and attended church services at Fairview Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ponder and family spent the past (Cont. to 12)

BOOKS IN THE NEWS: There's a new cookbook on the market that provides detailed instructions for altering each recipe to feed almost any size crowd. It's entitled, "The Cookbook To Serve 2, 8 or 24." It's written by Barbara Kraus. Included in the cookbook are the favorite dishes from restaurants around the country, including the original Lindy's Cheesecake.

Special tips on freezing and refrigerator storage also are provided.

Kristi Wikker provides an inside look into Senator George McGovern's presidential campaign in her book, "How To Lose Everything in Politics Except Massachusetts." Ms. Wikker says she was invited to join the campaign as deputy news secretary by McGovern's national political adviser, Frank Mankiewicz. "It's something everybody ought to do once," she says. "But, in her own words, "When it was over, I needed a psychiatrist." Ms. Wikker says she saved all her clippings and releases and wrote the book in six weeks, with no thought of having it published. Now, she's planning to write another book, but she says, it will not be about politics.

New books received at the Library include:

The Story of Paper Money, by Yasha Berenier.

Trouping: How The Show Came To Town, by Philip C. Lewis.

The American Indian, by Herbert L. Marx.

The Russians, by William Henry Parker.

The Cumberland, by James McCague.

The Terrarium Book, by Charles M. Evans.

Give Us This Day, by Ronald Frederick Delderfield.

Side By Side, by Willie Snow Ethridge.

Among the new books received from the Dept. of Libraries are:

The ABC's of Needlepoint, by Hope Hanley. An easy guidebook for beginners.

Aliens From Space, by Donald E. Keyhoe. The real story of unidentified flying objects.

The American Revolution: Mirror of a People, by William P. Rindel. Revolutionary America is vividly brought to life.

Appliance Service Handbook, by George Meyerink. This guide will enable the reader to service appliances and simple machinery within a short time.

Armageddon In The Middle East, by Dana A. Schmidt. An expert's interpretation of the continuing Arab-Israeli confrontation.

Bright Eyes, by Dorothy C. Wilson. The dramatic story of a courageous Indian woman and the injustices she exposed.

Code Arrest: A Heart Stop, by Edward B. Dietrich. The story of the many-sided battle against heart disease.

Code Maintenance and Repair, by John D. Hirsch. The author solves the mystery of fixing and maintaining your car.

Corporate Wives - Corporate Casualties, by Robert Seidenberg. The problems and anxieties of wives of executives are examined.

Danger to Elizabeth, by Alison Plowden. The fascinating account of the many threats to the life of the Queen of England.

The Deep South States, by Neal R. Pierce. The people, politics and power in the seven deep South states are analyzed.

The Edge of Someone Else's Rainbow, by Robert Rosner. The story of three people - an ecron, a cop, a librarian (yes, a librarian) whose lives cross in an attempt to recover $188,000 stolen money.

Family Book of Crafts, by Louisa B. Hellegers. A compilation of handiwork projects for any member of the family, regardless of age.

Fever!, by John G. Fuller. The hunt for and taming of a new killer virus.

Fix Your Chevrolet, by Bill Toboldt. A handbook of time and money-saving information.

Fix Your Volkswagen, by Larry Johnson. VW owner's and mechanic's handbook of repair and maintenance.

Flight To Freedom, by Kent Durden. A sequel to Gifts of an Eagle, Lady, a golden eagle, is freed and reclaims her natural heritage.

Handkits For Babies, by Caroline Carr. A comprehensive hand knitting book for babies' clothes from birth to one year.

The Garage Sale Manual, by Jean Young. Complete guidance for planning and running the garage sale in all its forms.

Home Free, by Kathryn Gottlieb. A guide to buying secondhand, used or preowned furnishings and using them with a flair.

I'm No Hero, by Charlie Plumb. The story of a POW who faced an isolated world of degradation, loneliness, tedium, hunger and pain.

Joseph P. Kennedy, by David E. Koshoff. His complete life story, from Irish slum to prominent politician.

The Mayor Of Old Jack, by Wendell Berry. A touching and sensitive story of an old man as he reviews his entire life.

Nashville Ark., by Marie-Madeleine Fourcade. The memoirs of the young woman who led the Alliance network for the freedom of France.

Pain, by Arthur S. Fresnoe. An analysis of pain and how to relieve it.

Tender Loving Greed, by Mary A. Mendelsohn. An expose of the nursing home business.

To See The World Afresh, by Lillian Moore. An anthology of poets whose poems throw new light on the problems of the world today.

Uri, by Andrija Pucharich. The spectacular story of a young Israeli, Uri Geller, and his psychic abilities.

Perhaps I was wrong; but I don't think so. Even though I realize what an economic blow the closing of Clow was to this community, I did not want to print off-the-record information which could possibly have done more harm than good as far as the possibility of another factory locating in our community.

One last thing, this paper stands ready to accept constructive criticism at any time. The only thing we insist upon is that it come from a source identified to us and to the public after all, whenever we make a statement editorially or in a news story every readers knows precisely whose door to drag the cat to if they don't agree and we feel that is right. At the same time, we also feel that it is only right that if our readers choose to criticize us through the same media that they are identified and bear the same responsibility that we do. "Not said."

I haven't had this column in some weeks for several reasons. For one thing, this summer season has simply exhausted me - I canned everything in sight until I couldn't buy anything to can in anymore then there was the problem of getting a first, third, sixth and eighth grader ready for school and all the ramifications that entails, and thirdly, world events have new light on this as rapid and mind-boggling speed that I have been unable to focus my attention on anything except the worry that some catastrophic event was inevitable. How's that for a mouthful! Anyway, I hope with the coming of fall and the settling down of the routine at our house to be able to once again take the time to leisurely sit down and write this column, a chore I enjoy tremendously when I am not too snowed under.

Speaking of mind-boggling events, President Ford really unleashed the tigers Sunday when he announced a full pardon for ex-president Nixon. Don't think I am going to get in the middle by saying whether or not I agree, especially since I don't really know myself, but I do have to admire Ford for taking this action now rather than waiting until after the November elections as most "Politicians" would have done (unless it was a deal worked out prior to his selection by Nixon as vice-president and that's isn't a line of thought I care to follow at all). Anyway, the shaky situation of our economy has made me revert to liking life one day at a time again as I suppose we are really supposed to do anyway.

Rockets Defeat Panthers For Second Win 34-0

The Rockcastle Rockets had an easy time with the Cumberland County Panthers last Friday night for their second win of the season 34-0.

The Rockets had to kick off to the Panthers to open the game but it was all down hill for the Panthers after that. They managed to gain only forty-nine yards to the Rockets' 195 yards and garnered only five first downs to the Rockets' 11.

Joe Clontz went eight yards for the Rockets' first score and the conversion was made good by John Clontz on a run. Tommy Smith scored the second time on a 15-yard run. John Clontz scored again for the Rockets on a 3-yard run and Tommy Smith went in again on a 4-yard run to end the Rockets' scoring in the first half. None of the extra point tries on the last three touchdowns of the first half were good and the Rockets had a half-time lead of 18 to 0.

The Rockets only scored once in the second half and that was on a 6-yard run by Kenny Burton and John Clontz went in for the two extra points.

In the Statistical Department, the Rockets were, as follows: passes, 1 for 5 for 20 yards, penalized 50 yards, 195 yards on rushing and 11 first downs.

Billy Baker averaged 32 yards a punt on the four punts he kicked (getting off a 43-yarder at one time) and Cumberland got no punt return yardage.

Individually, the Rockets rushing statistics were: Joe Clontz, 10 carries - 40 yards; Kenny Burton, 7 carries - 25 yards; John Clontz, 13 carries - 56 yards; Tommy Smith, 8 carries - 62 yards; David Owens (a Freshman), 1 carry - 2 yards; and Lewis Hammons (Freshman), 1 carry - 3 yards.

Hammons was called on to quarterback when Clontz developed a leg cramp in the fourth quarter and Owens went in as running back.

The Rockets had two interceptions during the game, one by Joe Clontz with a return of 47 yards and Mike Carr one for a return of 14 yards. Carr also recovered one Cumberland fumble.

On defense, Billy Baker was credited with 3 tackles and 6 assists. Shane Bullock got 3 tackles and 2 assists; Joe Clontz, 2 and 1; Tommy Smith, 2 and 7; Jim Browning, 2 and 5; Larry Welch, 1 and 8; Shannon Franklin and Mike Carr, 1 and 7 each and Bobby Boreing, 1 and 6.

This week, the Rockets journey the same route, only a less distance, to Adair County at Columbia for a 7:30 p.m. game. This Tuesday, the Rockets Junior Varsity team takes on Hazel Green at 7 p.m. at home. In a game last Thursday afternoon at Hazel Green, the Junior Varsity played Hazel Green to a 0 to 0 deadlock.

SCHOOL IS IN SESSION
WATCH FOR CHILDREN!

Energy savings and year round comfort... the extra values in an electric heat pump

Its full name is "reverse cycle" heat pump. In winter, it can heat your home for fewer "on" hours than conventional electric heat. In summer, it takes you from cozy warm to refreshingly cool by functioning as an air conditioner. You can't ask for more efficient use of electricity than that.

And proper insulation helps reduce electricity consumption even more, both summer and winter, for maximum comfort and efficiency. Be sure you or your contractor calls us for proper insulation standards and a free operating cost estimate.

Kentucky played an important part in the War of 1812. With a total population of only four hundred thousand, she furnished more than twenty-five thousand soldiers for this second war with Great Britain, or a little more than six percent of the total American force involved. Of one thousand eight hundred and seventy six Americans killed during the war, twelve thousand, or about sixty-four percent were Kentuckians. This high casualty rate was occasioned by the fact that Kentucky troops made up the largest part of the Northwestern Army under General William Henry Harrison. At Tippecanoe, at the River Raisin, Ft. Meigs and Ft. Stephenson, our troops met the might of the British and the Indian Confederacy in the fiercest encounters of the war.

It was in this area of the conflict that practically all the volunteers from Rockcastle County performed. Only one officer, so far as we can ascertain, was involved in the New Orleans campaign, Lieutenant Loftus Cook, under Captain Jonathan Owsley, of Lieutenant-Colonel Gabriel Slaughter's 1814 Regiment of Kentucky Detached Militia. This company, organized November 10th, 1814, for the New Orleans Campaign, carried a roster of eighty-eight men, among whom were such names as Bryant, Berry, Ball, Burton, Bowman, Lavender, Lawrence, Newcomb, Parsons, Prewitt, Reynolds, Roberts and Singleton, all of which are good Rockcastle names and indicate the possibility that they might have enlisted from this county. This impression is further heightened by the fact that company records show a John Brook went as a substitute for William Peaslee Hiatt, Jacob Bowman as a substitute for William Bethuram and Zachariah Hill for Bennett Hiatt, all of whom were living in Rockcastle County at about that time. This company was signed up for six months' duty on November tenth, 1814, and since the Battle of New Orleans occurred January eighth, 1815, they were never in the field. Slaughter's regiment when it finally got into position on the field the night before the battle of January 8th. Many of the troops were without arms when they left Kentucky, and since the transports promised them never arrived, they had to depend on their own efforts to secure boats of any kind to take them down the Mississippi. They were also without uniforms, tents and supplies, and the powder furnished them after rifles had been issued was not of the best, a part of it, we blush to report, having been made with saltpetre obtained from the works at Great Saltpetre Cave. Without being aware of these conditions, General Andrew Jackson publicly criticized the Kentucky troops for inefficiency, which later lost him a lot of votes in the state.

Of Rockcastle troops who saw service in the Northwestern campaign, probably the first to leave was Captain later General William Smith's company, of the Kentucky Battalion of Mounted Volunteers, enlisted September 18th, 1812. The roster was as follows:

- |                              |                   |
|------------------------------|-------------------|
| William Smith, Captain       | Solomon Griffin   |

| William Fish      | John Sloan       |
|                   | Stephen Tait     |

On September 1st, 1812, a company headed by Captain William Spratt, with Johnson Dysart as his lieutenant, was formed but there is no indication that this was a Rockcastle company, although such names on the company rolls as Terrell, Sutton, Renfro, Bailey, Colyer, Lawrence, Mullins and Ramsey might lead us to believe that it was.

On August 13th, 1813, Captain Johnston Dysart's company of Kentucky Mounted Volunteer Militia, enlisted in Rockcastle County, under command of Colonel William Williams, of Madison County, was mustered in at Newport, Kentucky, made up of the following:

- |                               |                   |

William Adams, familiarly known as Devil Bill, served in the War of 1812, in Company R, commanded by Captain W. M. Ellis, but it is doubtful if he enlisted from this county; he has been unable to find any certain indication that he moved to Rockcastle County until after the close of the war, but find him here in 1816. William Lawrence, a Revolutionary War Veteran, also said to have enlisted from Rockcastle in the War of 1812, but we do not know the name of his company. There may have been other Rockcastle Citizens who saw service in this conflict, as records are by no means complete in the office of the Adjutant-General of the State of Kentucky. Then, too, it will be noticed from consulting the company rosters that some of our boys seem to have served more than one enlistment. Since most of them were signed up for only three or six months, they could easily have gone from one company to another.

Any of our county boys who saw service with Colonel Gabriel Slaughter's regiment in the Battle of New Orleans could lay claim to having taken part in one of the most one-sided and unusual battles ever fought. The official report on casualties showed seven hundred British killed, fourteen hundred wounded and five hundred captured, a total of twenty-six hundred men. The loss of the Americans was six killed and seven wounded, a total of thirteen.

The hero of the day was Ephraim Brank, from Muhlenburg County, Kentucky, expert rifleman, who stood on top of the American breastworks and sighted and fired the long-barreled Kentucky fintlock rifles as his comrades loaded and handed them to him. With the long range of these rifles and his unerring aim he was able to shoot down most of the British who were before they could lead their troops near enough for their musket fire to become effective. A British officer wrote later that following the battle he saw a thousand men, dead or wounded, on a limited part of the field and that they were all in British uniform, without a single American among them.

NOTICE OF SALE OF FRANCHISE

By virtue of a resolution hereof passed by the City Council of the City of Mount Vernon, Kentucky, directing the undersigned to advertise for bids and sell a franchise to use the streets, avenues, alleys and public places of the City of Mount Vernon, Kentucky, for the purpose of owning, operating, equipping and maintaining a system for the distribution of electric energy, the undersigned, as City Clerk of the said City, will on the 30th day of September, 1974 at or about the hour of 2:00 o'clock P.M. sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder at the City Hall in said City, a franchise for the purposes above set out.

Said franchise is more particularly described and fully defined in a proposed ordinance granting and creating the same and said proposed ordinance defines the terms and conditions upon which said sale will be made, and is in full as follows:

Ercel Cromer
City Clerk, Mount Vernon, Kentucky.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MOUNT VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. That _____ the purchaser and grantee of this franchise, his or its legal representatives, assigns, heirs and assigns, hereunto and hereinafter, be, and is, subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth, authorized and empowered to acquire, construct, install, own and operate in and through said City, a system of works for the generation, distribution and transmission of electrical energy from points either within or without the corporate limits of this City and the inhabitants thereof, and to install, own and operate in and through said City, corporations and municipalities beyond the limits thereof, and for the sale of same for light, heat, power and other purposes; to erect and maintain poles, wires and other apparatus necessary for the operation of said system in, upon, across and along each and all of the streets, avenues, alleys and public places, within the present and future corporate limits of this City to have and hold, as by law authorized, any and all real estate, easements, water and other rights in and to the City to have and hold, as by law authorized, to use any and all such streets, avenues, alleys and public places while constructing or operating said electric system or works; and to cross any and all streets and streams in this City for the purpose of constructing, maintaining or extending such electric system and other apparatus as may be necessary or convenient for the proper distribution of electric energy in and through this City; if, after any pole has once been erected, the City Council shall order the removal of said pole to another location, the City shall pay the cost of making such relocation, unless due to widening, grading or reconstruction of the street or highway, in which case the purchaser will relocate at its expense. In any extensions of the present distribution system, additional poles shall be placed under the supervision of the City Council.

SECTION 2. The purchaser shall indemnify, and save harmless the City from any and all damages, judgments, decrees, costs and expenses, including a reasonable attorney's fee, which the City may legally suffer or incur or which may be legally obtained against the City for or by reason of the use and occupation of any street, avenue, alley, or other public place in this City by the purchaser pursuant to the terms of this franchise, or legally resulting from the exercise by the purchaser of any of the privileges herein granted; and, if any claim shall be made or asserted against the City for damages alleged to have been sustained by reason of the occupation of any street, avenue, alley or public place or the exercise of any privilege herein granted, the purchaser shall immediately notify the City in writing of such claim, and the City and the purchaser is hereby given the right and privilege to defend or assist in defending such suit, in the name of the City.

SECTION 3. The purchaser shall extend its electric light or power lines and install additional equipment whenever there is assured to it from additional business to be derived therefrom a reasonable return upon the investment required to install such equipment.

SECTION 4. The purchaser shall have the right to make and enforce reasonable rules and regulations necessary to the proper conduct of the business and protection of its property.

SECTION 5. The purchaser shall have the right to charge for electrical energy supplied within the City, rates that are reasonable and that are subject to regulation by the Public Service Commission of Kentucky.

SECTION 6. This franchise and all rights and privileges granted hereunder shall be in full force and effect for a period of twenty (20) years from and after the date when this franchise is granted to the purchaser.

SECTION 7. This franchise may be transferred by the purchaser and the word "purchaser" whenever used in this franchise shall mean and apply to any and all the successors and assigns of the purchaser.

SECTION 8. An additional consideration for the grant of this franchise, the purchaser will pay to the City a sum equal to 5% of the gross revenues received by the purchaser, on and after January 1, 1980 or on and after the date when the grant of this franchise becomes effective, whichever is later, for electric service rendered within the City, as determined by the Public Service Commission of Kentucky. The amount payable to the City for each full calendar year during which this franchise is in effect, shall be computed on the basis of revenues received between January 1st and December 31st of such year, and payment shall be made on or prior to March 1st next following such December 31st; the amount which may be payable to the City for a portion of a calendar year at the commencement or termination of the term of this franchise shall be computed on the basis of revenues received during such portion of a calendar year, and shall be payable not more than 60 days after the termination of the period for which payment is made. Should any license tax, occupational tax or any other tax, charge or fee be levied or imposed on the purchaser or any person or entity under this franchise, the amount payable to the City shall be payable only to the extent that it exceeds the sum of all such taxes, charges or fees.

SECTION 9. It shall be the duty of the City Clerk, as soon as practicable after the closing of this ordinance, to sell at public auction, to the highest and best bidder, the within franchise at the City Hall on some day to be fixed by him after advertising the proposed franchise to be sold, and the date of sale thereof once a week for three consecutive weeks, in the Mount Vernon Signal.

The person who purchases the within franchise shall receive no bid for less amount than the total expense connected with the making of said sale, including the cost of advertising and he shall report his actions hereunder at a subsequent meeting of this Council. This Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Save while you bake and broil!

Cooking is one of the major energy users in most homes so you should know that top-of-the-range cooking costs more than oven cooking in the long run.

Surface units are on the whole time they're in use. But an electric oven is on for only part of the time it's used. It uses less energy because it cuts off when the right temperature is reached, and its insulation holds heat in.

You also can warm foods and plates in an already heated oven without using more energy.
