FORD REALTY & AUCTION

The Youth Group of the Hickory Grove Holiness Church held a Bake and Craft Sale Saturday on Main Street in Mt. Vernon to raise money for the group's activities. Forest Ranger Steve Bullen, above, has been gathering walnuts to be used for growing seedlings. The Forestry Department will plant the walnuts this year, and then the Seedlings will be transplanted in 1976. Mr. Bullen said that walnuts were scarce this year due to late freeze in the Spring. Last year, 460 bushels were collected in Rockcastle County.

Students Getting Social Security Checks Should Report Changes in Earnings

Students 18-22 getting social security checks should report changes in their earnings, school enrollment, and marital status to social security, according to social security officials here.

Over 650,000 students 18 and over get monthly social security payments because a parent gets disability or retirement benefits or has died. Students can continue to get payments to age 22 or slightly beyond for undergraduates—as long as they remain full-time students and unmarried.

"Students getting checks should notify social security immediately if they marry, leave school, or start attending on a part-time basis so we can stop their monthly payments as required by law," a spokesman said.

Changes in total yearly earnings from part-time or temporary jobs can also affect social security payments to students.

"If you're a student getting payments and know your earnings for 1974 will be over $2,400, you should report that to social security," the spokesman said. "Otherwise, you might get benefits you'll have to pay back later."

Social security payments are reduced by $1 for every $2 earned over $2,400 in a year. No matter how much they earn for the year, people can get their full social security payment for any month in which they neither earn $200 nor do substantial work in their own business. To test an oven, use a bit of white paper. If it burns, the oven is too hot for anything. If it turns a delicate brown, it indicates pastry heat; for cake it will be dark yellow. Light yellow shows the proper heat for biscuits and sponge cakes.

The ROCKETS' JAYVEE team have had a successful season to date with a 3-1 record. Last Thursday night, they suffered their only loss of the season to London 16-8 and Tuesday afternoon, defeated Bush 20-12. Next Tuesday night, the Jayvees travel to London for a rematch in their last game of the season. In the top photo, Billy Hackworth, No. 88, goes over for the score; the middle photo shows Hackworth making another long gain and the bottom photo shows No. 24, David Owens, gaining yardage for the Jayvees.

Rockets Defeat Lynn Camp; Play Trimble This Friday

The Rockcastle ROCKETS took the measure of Lynn Camp Friday night and extended their win column record to five against one loss.

Even though Lynn Camp racked up more first downs (18 to 11), the Rockets' defense held them at critical points in the game and only yielded one touchdown in the third quarter.

The Rockets' first score, in the second quarter, came on a short run by quarterback John Clontz; Clontz also went over for the two point conversion, giving the Rockets an 8-0 half-time lead.

In the third quarter, Clontz broke loose for a 53-yard run and the Rockets' second score and also made good the two points try.

The score in the fourth quarter came on a 78-yard run by Kenny Burton and Tommy Smith gave the Rockets two more to end the scoring at 24-8.

Kenny Burton was the star for the Rockets in the rushing department with 183 yards on 9 carries. Tommy Smith carried 77 times for 28 yards and John Clontz picked up 147 yards in 18 carries. The Rockets rushed a total of 346 yards as opposed to 270 yards for Lynn Camp.

Defensively, the Rockets were led by Jerry Pensol, who returned to the team Friday night after being sidelined since the opening game with a broken finger. Pensol was credited with five tackles and 13 assists; Kenny Burton got four tackles and three assists; David Hunt, four and 13; Shannon Franklin, three and eight; Tommy Smith, three and nine; Clontz, three and three; and Larry Baker was credited with recovering a Lynn Camp fumble at a crucial time.

The Coaching Staff praised the defensive efforts of Pensol and Kenny Burton with one of his better offensive games.

This Friday night, the ROCKETS begin a four-game home stand with Trimble County at 8 p.m.

JAYVEES WIN AGAIN
The Rockets Jayvee team

THE ROCKETS DEFENSE has been stingy this year, except for the Sayre game, giving up only two touchdowns in five games. In the above photo, No. 37, Jim Melton, Lynn Camp's fine 215 pound running back, tries for yardage around right end. Visible for the Rockets' defense is No. 60 Billy Baker, No. 80 Jim Browning, No. 76 Shannon Franklin and No. 20 Jerry Pensol - and, with his arms around the legs of Melton is Bobby Boreing. Melton carried the ball fifty-five times during the game but could only get the ball across the goal line once. This Friday night will be parents' night at the Trimble County game. There will be special seating for the players' fathers with their son's number on the back of their chairs.

played a thirty-five man squad London team last Thursday night and came away bested, on the scoring end, 16 to 8. The Rockets actually held London well but two long runs were the difference in the ballgame.

David Owens went over for the Rockets' only score of the game.

Monday afternoon, the Jayvees defeated Bush 20-12 and will take on London in a rematch next Tuesday night at London.

LES ELECTS OFFICERS....

Grade 7 - President, Brian Owens; vice president, Kevin Cook; secretary, Donna Smith; and treasurer, Kim Howard.

OPINIONS FROM OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Among opinions released last week from the office of Atty. Gen. Ed. W. Hancock were the following:

Residency Question Arises In Brandenburg - Meade County Attorney James R. Watts stated that a magistrate had been elected and took office in January, 1974, but soon after taking office, he purchased a home outside of the magisterial district in which he had been elected. Could he still represent that district in fiscal court when actual residence had been established in another? The subsequent opinion states that under Kentucky law, a magistrate, being a constitutional officer, is required to reside within his district. To do otherwise would result in automatic removal from office or he would be subject to ouster action. A definition of residency would be dependent upon actual occupancy of the residence chosen for some time, however, short, in order that the change of residency can become effective. However, a move intended to be temporary would be exempt from the rule. There must be an absolute intent to change his place of residence.

quested an opinion regarding the legality of the Mt. Sterling - Montgomery County Recreation Commission going to the ballot to levy a recreation tax. The Office of the Attorney General indicated that under Kentucky law, there is no authority given either to the commission to initiate such a move or the city to undertake it on the commission's behalf. And it follows that there is no authority for placing such a question on a ballot for consideration by the voters.

Department of Education To Begin Consumer Classes - Consumer education has been recognized as an integral part of modern education and as the movement accelerates, the only problem encountered concerns how best to carry out the 1974 Kentucky Consumer Education Act which calls for a "comprehensive, state-wide program in consumer education."

Brodhead School To Get ETV Cable; Board Decides

The Rockcastle County Board of Education met Monday night, at its regular monthly meeting, to contract with Jim Wilcox of Brodhead to install a television cable at Brodhead Elementary School. The Educational Television system had been requested for the school by several teachers and by Bije Towery, principal.

Supt. Charles Parsons presented three proposals to the Board which Mr. Wilcox had made for installing the cable. The cable will be hooked to his antennas (Mr. Wilcox's) located near Brodhead which serves the residents of the town.

Mr. Wilcox's first proposal was to install the cable in all thirty rooms of the school for an initial cost of $1,000 plus provide service and maintenance under a five-year contract at a cost of $100 per year.

The second proposal called for installing the cable in metal conduit at a cost of $1,900 and providing service and maintenance for $100 per year with a five-year contract.

The third proposal, and the one accepted by the Board, called for installing the cable in all classrooms at an initial cost and providing service for the cable at a cost of $250 per year with a five-year contract.

A safety feature long needed in this county was finally installed this week when workmen from the District Office of the Department of Highways began installing guard rails on Ky. 1004 (Brook Creek Road). The road runs along the side of a steep hill, is narrow and the very real danger of a car, or a bus load of children, going off the road and down the steep, long incline was ever present. According to Magistrate Ernest Mason, he put the guardrails on his list of priority improvements needed by the Department of Highways as soon as he took office.

Coroner Says Malnutrition and Exposure Caused Death of Red Hill Resident

Kenneth Mullins, 58, of Red Hill was found dead near his home late Friday afternoon by two members of the Tri-City Rescue Squad.

According to Coroner Bill Dowell, Mr. Mullins died from malnutrition and exposure and he placed the time of death at approximately Wednesday morning.

Mr. Dowell said he called the Rescue Squad early Friday morning after receiving a call from John Clark of Red Hill. Mr. Clark reported that Mr. Mullins had not been seen since some time Tuesday and he was concerned as to what might have happened.

Paul Hansel, Director of the local squad, said Monday that he, Eddie Moore and Dickie Collinsworth went to the area early Friday morning to try and ascertain when Mr. Mullins had last been seen. They were told by residents of the area that he (Mr. Mullins) was seen going toward Jackson County some time Tuesday. They immediately checked with police and hospitals in both Jackson and Madison Counties and could turn up no trace of his whereabouts. Later Friday, Rescue Squad member Eddie Moore and Constable Virgil Alcorn returned to the site of Mr. Mullins' trailer home and searched the surrounding area. They found him about two hundred yards from his home, lying in a gulley partially obscured by brush.

The men said he was only clad in a shirt, sweater and undershorts. Mr. Mullins was born December 6, 1915 in Rockcastle County, the son of the late Bert and Wixie Durham Mullins.

He is survived by two brothers: Ted Mullins of Kokomo, Indiana and Russell Mullins of McKee and several nieces and nephews.

Rep. DeMarcus Asks For Special Legislative Session

Suggests Cutting Taxes With $200 Million

During the past weeks, I have been very much opposed to a special session of the Kentucky Legislature to allocate a $200 million surplus (?) in state funds, fully realizing that any action of the Legislature as it is presently constituted would be a rubber-stamp of the Ford administration.

Secondly, a decision of the pending litigation now in the courts as to whether the Constitution gave sole power to the Legislature to appropriate tax monies or gave that power to the Governor. A definitive decision along these lines is badly needed but knowledge of the state's pace the Kentucky judiciary travels and knowing also that any special session would moot this question, I have hesitated to speak out. I know that any projections in revenue which would be given to the members of the Kentucky General Assembly by the Wendell Ford administration's so-called experts in the state Revenue Department would have no more credibility than the projections that were given in January, 1974, and which they now say are grossly inadequate.

Regardless of the above reasons, I have now decided to call upon Governor Wendell Ford to call a special session of the Kentucky General Assembly, not to spend money but to cut taxes for the following reasons:

(1) Double digit inflation helps no one but the tax collector and blights the public treasury.

(2) The farmers of this state have had their worse year in some time, losing approximately 25% of their tobacco crop due to the weather, and, to a lesser extent, their soy bean crop approximately a 20% increase in their property taxes due to the Kentucky Department of Revenue forcing up assessments on farm property when the price of beef cattle has dropped off over 50% in the last several months and every article the farmer has to buy has gone up and every article he sells has gone down;

(3) According to the referee in bankruptcy for the U.S. District Court for the western district of Kentucky, bankruptcies are at an all-time high in Kentucky and from all indications will go higher as the farmers will not have enough money to pay their outstanding bills and many more small businesses will hit the wall.

(4) The Wendell Ford administration in less than three years has taken more money out of the taxpayers' pockets than any other four-year state administration in history.

Therefore, I propose to opt taxes by the following methods:

(1) A tax cut to farmers and small businessmen who have been hit the hardest in the form of a direct grant from the State Treasury.

(2) A raise in the exemptions on the state income tax so that wage earners in the lower brackets will be relieved from paying high income taxes.

(3) Consider lowering the state sales tax across the board, which is one of the highest in the nation.

(4) Lower the cost of automobile license tags from $12.50 to $5.00, which was one of Governor Ford's campaign promises.

(5) Repeat the increase in gasoline tax which the Wendell Ford controlled 1972 Legislature raised from 7c to 9c a gallon.

All or any combination of the above, could be done within certain limits to take up the $200 million plus surplus (?) This money belongs to the people of Kentucky, not to Governor Ford.

Over the past several days I have talked to many of my colleagues from both sides of the aisle and I find them in complete agreement for this type action. A majority of them with whom I have talked, including myself, are willing to serve without pay in this special session so that the people of Kentucky can have a much needed tax relief in their time of need.

It is entirely up to Governor Ford.....the candidate who bills himself as the proven tax cutter. The people of Kentucky now await his action, so that they may have some proof.

JOHN NICHOLS'

Frankfort Watchline

Well, another non-issue will be biting the dust between now and that fateful day at the polls on November fifth.

It's that business about what Kentucky senator accepted free plane rides from whom...how many...and what he's supposed to have done for them.

The guy who raised the issue has proven he's a muckracker. That's all. It keeps his readers' interests devoted to the outpourings of a man whose image feeds on the carcasses of others' reputations.

But he stopped just a tad short, didn't he? Why didn't he probe the comings and goings of the rest of the Kentucky Congressional delegation? If the man had gone ahead and done what good writers do, he'd have found out that getting free plane rides just isn't all that unusual among our elected representatives.

The burden falls on the writer to prove that Ashland Oil got anything in return for free transportation. Apparently, he cannot. If that basic tenet of good journalism had been acknowledged, the story probably wouldn't have been written in the first place.

You wonder what got it all started. Could be the guy had it in for Cook. Or it could be someone else whose interests in Marlow Cook don't include another team in the U.S. Senate.

If our muckracker's careless probe had dipped down into the Bluegrass, he's have learned that congressmen and senators aren't the only ones who get free plane rides hither and yon. Yes, even governors and lieutenant governors accept them. And they apparently don't see anything wrong with it if their motives are pure.

= That's Cook's position, but the damage is done. The man wrote his columns. He made his charges. Others picked up on them. The issue now stands by itself far out of proportion. But it's got to be an issue that as far as both candidates are concerned does not exist.

We're confident that Gov. Wendell Ford, Cook's major foe in the current Senate race, is not going to bring it up. He'd better not. Not with Cook keeping close tabs on Ford's relationship with another member of the Kentucky energy industry and the allocation of $3 million to put backline in some coal gasification planning.

And we would find some plane rides there, too.

But how about all of these plane rides? We'd rather it wasn't done, but it is. It's not illegal. It's not hidden, is it? We'd much prefer the taxpayer would foot the bill for the trips. But, look at it this way, it's actually saving some money because the costs of all junkets between home and Washington by our Congressional delegation are rebated. Unless, of course, the trips are for political reasons.

And the number of rides involved is a rather hollow angle because if a man can be bought for a dozen trips, he can be bought for one. But, again, where's the proof in all these insinuations?

Then comes another raft of inferences dealing with cars and members of the tobacco industry. Sure, we've seen Cook getting off a tobacco company airplane. What was he doing there? Why he was on his way to the dedication ceremonies for a new plant that firm had built.

Nothing wrong or underhanded there that we can see.

The side effects of these kinds of poison pen broadsides will probably make a dent in Marlow Cook's campaign battlewagon. A small dent, we'd think. Maybe not. It could well be as if the battlewagon ran over a skunk... an awful smell that'll go away after a little while.

So, to stories of free plane rides and implied favors, we accord a loud and raucous Watchline raspberry along with a hearty "so what?"

We must guess that this Washington columnist has come down with a bad case of watergate leprosy... it sort of eats away at his perspective.

Good Show, Harold - A sort of halfhearted pat on the back for House Minority Leader Harold DeMarcus who wants Gov. Ford to call a special legislative session to cut taxes... now that the word is out that the state anticipates a $200 million revenue surplus.

No politics there... well, maybe.

It would put the governor on true center with his "proven taxpayer" slogan a campaign or so ago.

DeMarcus knows Ford won't do it. The minority leader has some slight stake in the governor's surplus allocations. It's hard to see him picking at Ford unless he knows all's secure.

Good idea, though. We'd predict smiles on the faces of all Kentuckians with a tax cut for the farmers... with a low earners tax exemption... with a sales tax cut... with a $15 license tag... if the two-cent gasoline tax were vaporized.

And the lawmakers serve in that session without pay? Why, such a public-spirited outpouring would surely silence — they care about today's youth and are willing to volunteer time to help kids. Their reward is the satisfaction of watching young people grow and learn. Last year, ninety-six Rock-castle County residents — and 15,000 other Kentuckians — volunteered to work with 4-Hers. But that wasn't enough. Many other young people want to get involved in 4-H, but new clubs must be organized first, and that requires more leaders.

National 4-H Week, October 6-12, is a good time for you to join the ranks of 4-H leaders. For more information on how you can get involved with 4-H, contact the Cooperative Extension Office at the Courthouse in Mt. Vernon by calling 256-2403.

FIT IN FASHION...

Good fit is fundamental for a fashion-right look whether you are a home sewer or not. Achieving good fit, choosing right size pattern, and basic alterations techniques will be the topics of a special interest meeting. The lesson will be held on Thursday, October 24th at 7 p.m. at the PCA Building in Mt. Vernon. The meeting is open to anyone interested and will be taught by Cheryl Witt, County Extension Agent for Home Economics. If you are interested in attending, call 256-2403. This will be the first in a series of monthly lessons dealing with timely topics of interest to the family which will be open to the public.

—The Carter Blanton Farm—

Down on the Farm...

By: Roy G. Brown
Assistant Vice President
Cumberland Production
Credit Association

Well, we are in the middle of Fall. The most beautiful time of year...when the leaves turn all the pretty colors, corn fields have turned brown, along with other crops that have matured.

It is a time of year for ripening of late apples, chestnuts, wild grapes, persimmons, hazelnuts, hickory nuts, pumpkins, and the many others that have bid summer goodbye.

see the corn that has turned brown, ready to be picked, the meadows still green and the many beautifully-colored trees in the background of the woods that boundry the farm.

We have already had several killing frosts that have hastened the turning of crops and leaves.

It is good to get out and drive over Rockcastle County and enjoy the most beautiful scenery of any place you can go.

If you don't believe this, just try it sometime and see what beauty there is "DOWN ON THE FARM."

Rockcastle Co. Library

We, the public, need books to widen our horizons, deepen our understandings, and give us broader social insights. We also need books that minister to our Merriment or deepen our appreciation of beauty. We need books of fantasy, and down-to-earth realism.

Children tend to love the biographies of people that they have studied in their history books. That is one of the reasons for the popularity of the series of some one hundred books known as The Childhood of Famous Americans. These books are listed for children seven years old and over. They are interesting and will keep your child's reading on an even keel throughout the summer. These are all written by Augusta Stevenson.

Listed are some to ask for at the Rockcastle County Public Library:

George Carver, Boy Scientist; George Custer, Boy Of Action; George Washington, Boy Leader; Israel Putnam, Boy Soldier; John Fitch, Steamboat Boy; Kit Carson, Boy Trapper; Molly Pitcher, Girl Patriot; Nancy Hanks, Kentucky Girl; P. T. Barnum, Circus Boy; Paul Revere, Boy of Old Boston; Sam Houston, Boy Chieflain; Sitting Bull, Dakota Boy; Squanto, Young Indian Hunter; Tecumseh, Shawnee Boy; U.S. Grant, Young Horseman; Virginia Dare, Mystery Girl; Wilbur and Orville Wright, Boys with Wings; and Zeb Pike, Boy Traveler.

THE FUEL ADJUSTMENT CHARGE

Is the increase in the cost of coal we burn to generate the kilowatt hours you use. When the Fuel Adjustment charge causes your electric bill to go up, remember it is not a change in your electric rate. It simply reflects an increase in the cost of coal used to generate the electricity you use.

Every day we burn thousands of tons of coal to generate the electricity our customers need. And the average cost of coal purchased has gone from $9 to $19 in less than a year. (We're able to keep it that low only because we buy about 90% of our coal under long term contracts. Coal on the open market is bringing from $25 to $35 a ton.)

A base fuel cost has been approved and set in our rate. The Fuel Adjustment charge is only the additional cost above that base cost that we have no choice but to charge to our customers. We pass along precisely and only the increase in the cost of coal used to generate the electricity you use.

Buying in huge quantities, stockpiling and obtaining long term contracts are only some of the ways we combat the rising cost of coal. But all our efforts can only partially offset the huge price increases. The difference must come from the Fuel Adjustment charge.

County Agent's Notes

By H. Leo Durhan

ORNAMENTALS.....

Fall has arrived and with it bright red, yellow, and intermediate shades of our native forests. Learn to identify the red color of Red Maple, Sourwood, Tupelo, Sweet Gum, and Dogwood and the yellow of Beech, Tulip Tree, Yellowwood, Aspen, and Birch. All of these native trees can add much to the October residential landscape.

If you've started some new grass, now it when it is three inches tall, but don't cut it lower than 1 1/2 inches. Rake leaves often. Accumulations of leaves shade out lawns during a time when plants are stooling and filling in empty places. If you haven't fertilized your lawn yet, it is not too late to do so.

October is also planting time. Most deciduous trees and shrubs can be planted now as they lose their leaves. Wait 'til next spring to plant the thin-barked species such as Magnolia, Dogwood, Birch, Virex, Ailanthus, and Yew. Support trees with stakes to protect them from rocking in the winter wind and injuring root systems. Also, it's a good idea to wrap young tree trunks and mulch them heavily for this first winter.

If all your trees are planted, spend some time and effort with daffodils and other bulbs. The results will be most rewarding next spring and for years to come if you make the right selections now. Daffodils are especially adapted for Kentucky gardens as are Scillas, Grape Hyacinth, Crocus, and several other small, spring-flowering bulbs. Locate Crocus where rabbits are not likely to bother (there is one thing to be said for a rabbit proof chainlink fence!).

After frosts kill the tops of Dahlias, Begonias, and other tender bulbs, wait seven to ten days, then dig and dry them. Be careful not to leave them out on a frosty night. Most store well in dry vermiculite in a cool dark basement. If temperatures can be kept below 55° F. Don't dig Tuberoses, Dahlias, and Cannas until next Spring.

FAULTY HEATING SYSTEM CAN PRODUCE DEADLY GAS

You can't see it, taste it or smell it, but it can kill you. Carbon monoxide is making its cold weather rounds in the home. Produced when fuels such as wood, coal, oil and natural gas are incompletely burned, carbon monoxide is odorless, tasteless and colorless and deadly.

According to Jesse Brooks, agricultural engineer for the UK College of Agriculture Coper-ative Extension Service, properly-working heating equipment produces only a small amount of carbon monoxide. But when heating equipment is not working right or not properly vented, dangerous amounts of the gas may seep into a room or house.

Brooks lists some safety precautions to help free your home from the possibility of carbon monoxide poisoning. You can do these things yourself, or have a reliable heating company send one of its servicemen.

Make sure that heating equipment is vented into a safe chimney, whose walls are tight and well-maintained. Keep the chimney clean: remove soot, broken bricks, bird nests and anything else that might keep gas from escaping. Test chimney to see if it draws well by placing a lighted match near the clean-out or other opening. If smoke is drawn up the chimney, it is drawing properly.

Check vents pipes to make sure there are no holes or loose connections where gas fumes can seep back into the home. Use habachies and other charcoal grills outdoors only. Avoid Brooks, unless proper instructions for gas flames is provided. Never attempt to grill a steak in the garage or closed-in porch.

Symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning are drowsiness, headaches, dizziness, confusion, nausea, muscular weakness, and unconsciousness. However, do not depend on the symptoms to warn you of possible danger. If someone is overcome by carbon monoxide gas, get him or her out and immediately begin mouth-to-mouth rescue breathing.

HOT SILAGE

This title does not mean we put silage in a furnace and warm it for the cow's breakfast. In making farm visits, we have found that many dairymen have filled their silos with forage which is too dry. The silage cannot be packed tight enough and respiration and heat are produced while the silage is fermenting. If this heat is great enough (which it is in many cases), it results in making the protein in the silage unavailable for digestion and utilization by the dairy cow. This condition can be recognized by a dark brown color in the silage and a caramel sweet taste and odor. If this odor exists, it does not mean that the silage should be thrown away, but it does mean that more protein will need to be supplied in the concentrate ration. The condition is most prevalent in haylage, but may show up in corn silage this fall due to unusual weather which has delayed corn silage harvest. Hay is also subject to heating and exhibits the same color and odor.

I'm so thankful she is still able to visit in our home. If your parents are still living, be good to them. They are precious and I'm saddened and sorry to have to say this but many of our elderly parents today aren't wanted or welcomed in their children's homes. It's a shame how they are treated. But we have a just God who will repay us for our acts and deeds whether they be good or bad. So, remember your parents - they are people, too. And love them, respect them and visit them while they are still living. One day "Maybe sooner than you think" they will be gone.

schools to help provide education for the children of Blue Grass Army Depot employees; the employment of five substitute teachers, subject to certification - Renee Burdette, Diane Hill, Vicki Smith, Della Seogins and Jane Smith and approved the rental of the Brohead Ag shop and classroom to Billy Cass of Brohead under a two-year lease for a rental of $200 per month. The lease may be terminated, if the need for the space arises, upon thirty-day written notice.

Also during the meeting, Board Member Mrs. Ernest Mason brought up the question of no heat at the vocational school. Supr. Parsons said that no coal had been purchased for the school by the state, who handles matters such as this for the vocational school, because it was almost impossible to get a bid from coal suppliers due to the fluctuating price of coal at present. However, he told Mrs. Mason that Mr. Cain, Vocational School Supervisor, was handling the matter and that the lack of coal was not due to a lack of funds since the funds would be forthcoming from the state when a bid could be obtained.

Kennel Operators Must Conform to Both State and Local Ordinances

Boone County Dog Warden Troby Craig asked for an opinion as to whether or not a pet store owner, currently holding a city permit, need obtain a kennel license from the dog warden. It was the opinion of the Attorney General's Office that since a kennel is defined by law as any establishment where dogs are kept and confined for the purposes of breeding, sale, show or sport and even though a city has a right to license dogs, anyone meeting these conditions also must obtain a kennel license from the dog warden. Therefore, the pet store owner must obtain a license for each dog over six months of age.

Social Security Questions and Answers

Answers

Q. Once you start getting supplemental security income payments, does it mean you'll continue to get them indefinitely?

A. Not necessarily. If you're getting supplemental security income payments, your situation will be reviewed periodically by social security to determine whether you're still eligible. The program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 or over or blind or disabled.

Q. I hear that people can get supplemental security income payments if they agree to get rid of their resources over $1,500. Is there a time limit?

A. People with little or no income who are 65 or over or blind or disabled may get supplemental security income payments conditionally if they agree to dispose of resources over $1,500 within time limits—generally 6 months for real property and 8 months for personal property. These payments may have to be repaid when the resources are sold. Some things—such as a home or car of reasonable value—don't count as resources. For more information, call or write any social security office.

If you use your gas stove for heating dishwasher, try to save gas this way. Place a dishpan filled with water in the gas oven directly after serving the meal and close the door tightly. The water will be hot by the time you are ready to wash the dishes and no extra gas will have been burned.

Brodhead Fire Dept. Report

Purchase of Equipment

The Brodhead Fire Department wishes to announce the purchase of new equipment, made possible by the citizens of Brodhead and surrounding areas, with donations of money to the Department.

The money donated by you fine citizens of Rockcastle County was spent to benefit you and was used only to buy equipment needed in a fire or similar disaster. None of this money was spent to buy protective gear for the firemen.

The equipment which the Department purchased is as follows:
 *A 3,000 Watt Generator - This is used to supply emergency electricity when the electric is off or in a location where no electricity is available. We didn't have this equipment during the April 3rd tornado; if it had been available, it would have saved for itself on that night alone.

*A Waterous Flotation Pump - This was purchased with the other equipment outside the city limits in mind.

This pump floats on the water source it is placed in, whether it be a pond, creek or any water reservoir and gives us a source of water available in the country where our water supply has always been short. This pump is 2 1/2 inch suction and 1 1/2 inch discharge.

*A Mini Foam Maker - This equipment was purchased because of the rising increase in flammable liquids in our community being used by consumers and also large supplies of flammable liquids transported in our community. This foam is the only sure way to control a fire of gasoline, fuel oil, kerosene, and all other flammable liquids.

The Department is still in need of some equipment. We have some on order and will order other equipment at a later date.

The men of the Brodhead Fire Department have worked hard in building what they feel is a fine Fire Department.

Citizens, you are the people we serve, so come in and look over the equipment. If you wish to look at some of the equipment, the Department meets the second and fourth Thursday night of each month at 7 p.m. - or contact Chief Clarence E. Bradley, and he'll arrange for you to see the equipment.

National Fire Prevention Week

One reminder, in closing, National Fire Prevention Week is October 7-12. During this week, citizens, do something in fire prevention and try to put all Fire Departments out of business. You'll probably never put Fire Departments out of business, but you, as citizens, can make their job a lot easier.

Kentucky Initiates Soil Erosion Survey - The Div. of Conservation of the Ky. Dept. for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection will begin a broad survey to identify critical soil erosion areas in Kentucky and establish stabilization measures to control sedimentation. The Division's sediment control program was established in 1974 by the General Assembly and has been financed for the next biennium with $347,000 in state budget funds.

Kentucky's hunters need to shape up - physically, that is. A sportsman who is confined behind a desk for most of the year or who is out of shape for any reason, may have his long-awaited hunting trip foiled by fatigue and sore, aching muscles.

Even the hunter who already has gotten in some dove and squirrel hunting should not be complacent about his physical condition, since generally little physical exertion is required in pursuing these species. Later trips for rabbits, quail, waterfowl and grouse can be much more demanding.

This particularly is true of grouse hunting, which occurs in the mountainous regions of Eastern Kentucky, where an entire day may be spent climbing steep ridges and scrambling over rocks and logs in quest of the elusive ruffed grouse.

If you are over forty, any exercise program should begin with a visit to your family doctor for a good check-up. Then a daily exercise program, particularly for the legs and back, should be followed faithfully.

And while the hunter is getting in shape, he should not forget that probably his hunting dog also is out of condition. Even a good dog won't be able to endure over a few hours of hunting after a summer of inactivity unless he, too, gets some pre-season exercise. A trip to the vet also is in order, both for a physical check-up and for necessary booster shots and worming. With proper pre-season conditioning, both you and your dog will be able to put in a full day of hunting come November.

This also is a good time to make sure that your guns are in top safety condition and to start getting your shooting eye back in shape by practicing on some moving targets. Many of the sportsmen's clubs throughout the state have both trap and skeet ranges, and if you are not a member, now would be a good time to join, not only for the shooting facilities but also for the fellowship with others who share your interests in the out-of-doors.

Other pre-season activities can include obtaining permission to hunt from farmers or checking out some of the one million-plus acres of public hunting land in the state. Copies of "Places to Hunt," a guide to these public hunting areas, are available from the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Capital Plaza, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

CONSUMER COMMENTS
 Kentucky has two laws which help give protection to the consumer who purchases books or magazine subscriptions from salesmen who come to the door. One of these is the home solicitation sale law, which applies to sales solicited in person at the residence of a buyer who agrees to the purchase at his residence. It does not apply to sales under $25.00 or if prior negotiations were made at an established sales room. In any contract subject to the law, the seller must place a conspicuous notice of the "buyer's right to cancel," which provides that the buyer has the right to cancel the sale and not be bound by the contract if he gives notice in writing before the end of the third business day after the contract is signed. Until the seller has given the notice required of him, the buyer may cancel by giving notice in any form and even after the three days.

The other law regulates sale of printed material either for cash, or on contract or by subscription. It requires each salesman who solicits orders to register with the county court clerk of the county in which he sells (prior to July 1, 1974 with the sheriff or chamber of commerce). The registration gives information about the identity and address of the salesman and the company he represents. It is effective for one year. If he does not register in the contract, any person to whom he sells in the county, whether in person or by telephone, at home or elsewhere, may consider the contract void and refuse to be bound by it.

But bear in mind, that if the sales contract is paid for by credit card or other loan device, the lender usually will have to be paid, and the buyer must look to the seller to recover the full amount of the sales price.

Registration of a salesman does not mean that any public official has approved or even considered the value or soundness of the product being sold. Information of this type should be obtained locally from informed persons. For instance, before buying encyclopedias or other sets of educational books, get the advice of school teachers and librarians.

But, require the salesman to show his registration card before dealing with him. For answers or suggestions to aid with consumer problems, Kentucky residents may call on the toll-free Consumer Hotline, 1-800-972-2960, or write the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection, Room 34, Capitol Building, Frankfort, Ky.

Rockcastle Recollections

By John Lair

To those of us of the Old School who can remember when recess games of antneyover, town ball and stink base were the only sports connected with school, it is downright amazing to note the extent to which organized athletics have infiltrated the educational program today.

There has always been some form of athletic competition in Rockcastle County, but only in comparatively recent years has it been entirely taken over by the schools. A few years ago, baseball was the 'big game.' Both Mt. Vernon and Brodhead always managed to have a good team, with Wildie the other member of the triumvirate rather than Livingston. In fact, little Wildie, especially during the time of the Phillips and Fish boys, often kept the teams from the two bigger communities pretty much on the run. Very few schoolboys, however, took part in these games, the teams generally being made up of older boys and young married men.

I remember some pretty outstanding players, especially on the Mt. Vernon team. One was Walter Drew, whose only concession to wearing a uniform was to turn his cap around so that the bill hung down the back of his neck, as generally affected by country boys in riding in the mule race at the Brodhead Fair. Walter, in good hands, would have made the really big time, instead of the small leagues he managed to get into. A favorite trick of his was to be pitching with three men on base, two outs, and two strikes and three balls on the current batter, wind up and let the ball go, to which boys from surrounding counties would come for tryouts with his team. I can't recall any who graduated into the big time from these try-outs, but he did pick up three or four boys who showed promise and put them under contract.

The schools were a bit slow in taking up baseball as a competitive sport, the main reason being that not many of our schools had, at one time, as many as nine boys to make up a team. The thing that bit like a house fire here as well as elsewhere, was basketball. Most any school or community had five boys that wanted to play, in the days before it became a game for giants.

The schools were a bit slow in taking up basketball as a competitive sport, the main reason being that not many of our schools had, at one time, as many as nine boys to make up a team. The thing that bit like a house fire here as well as elsewhere, was basketball. Most any school or community had five boys that wanted to play, in the days before it became a game for giants alone. The size of the community meant nothing, as witnessed by Little Carr Creek, which started the nation when they played for the National High School Basketball Championship in Chicago and barely lost it in overtime periods. They played against the biggest teams from the biggest high schools in the nation and their starting five was their finishing five. They had no substitutes to bring along. I am glad I was in Chicago at that time and saw every game they played. We'll never see the likes of them again.

It was along about 1910 when we boys in the Mt. Vernon High School heard rumors of a game called basketball. We had never seen a game played - in fact, had never seen a basketball, but we found a Spalding catalog in which they were advertised. The cost was a stumper. They wanted $4.50 for one of them, with postage on top of that. We didn't think there was any use that bothering the school about it. So far as we knew, the school had never spent that much money in a jump sum on anything not directly connected with strictly scholastic matters. We decided to appeal to the merchants and businessmen, and finally raised the money, although there is no record of any single individual chipping in more than fifty cents.

With the ball came a book of rules and instructions and we sat down and tried to figure it all out. Uncle Henry Gentry, I believe, made the iron hoops in his blacksmith shop, and it wasn't too far to carry the poles from the woods at the edge of town. We found a level spot in the schoolyard, assembled the goals, marked off the sidelines with lime, then wondered what to do next and took another look at the instructions. I recall Logan Bryant, Herbert Cox, Ben Fishback, myself and some other boy making up the first team. We finally found five other fellows game to try it and we played our first game of basketball, pausing frequently to consult the rule book.

After we were getting pretty well along with it, we started looking about for a victim and immediately thought of Brodhead. We had to get word to them, somehow, about getting a ball and rule book and learning the game, being careful to see that they had as little time as possible, so they wouldn't learn too much about it. At that day and time, for anyone from Mt. Vernon to try to open negotiations with Brodhead was about like trying to establish diplomatic relations with Russia; but since I lived out in the country, between the two towns, I was chosen to make the necessary arrangements.

When the team arrived in Brodhead, where the first game was to be played, not only the team, but half the population, was on the grounds to see what form of devilment Mt. Vernon folks had dreamed up to inflict on their boys. I do not know who played on that first Brodhead team. I saw only Everett Watson, the forward I had been assigned to guard, requiring my undivided attention at

LATHAM, SMITH, OWENS REUNION TO BE HELD...

The Latham, Smith, and Owens and Broyles Reunion will be held October 20th, the third Sunday. All friends and relatives are cordially invited. A basket lunch will be served at the Harry Sparks Vocational School. The Reunion will be held at the RECC Building in Somerset and will begin at 10 a.m.

CELEBRATES FIRST BIRTHDAY

Misty Yvonne Bray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Bray of Mt. Vernon, celebrated her first birthday Sunday, September 15th. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John W. Burke of Brodhead, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dale L. Bray of Mt. Vernon.

VAN WINKLE JOINS NAVY - Michael Duane Van Winkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Van Winkle of Route 4, Mt. Vernon, enlisted in the U.S. Navy on September 30th. Following the wearing-in ceremonies in Lexington, Virginia, Van Winkle departed for Orlando, Florida where he is now undergoing basic training. Mike was able to use the training he received at the Harry Sparks Vocational School to enter the Navy as a designated electrician in the advanced pay-grade of E-3 ($336 per month). He is a 1974 graduate of Rockcastle County High School.

all times. Bearing in mind that neither team had ever seen a game of basketball played, also remembering that it was understood by both sides that as long as you had your man on the ground he would find it very difficult to throw a goal, you can imagine the scene of carnage which ensued.

But at that, it was not much rougher than the average basketball game of that period. Boys playing under the effete present-day rules, whereby they are restricted from personal contact or ungentlemanly conduct, would marvel at the many forms of mayhem then allowed by the rules, or rather the lack of them. It was not even considered inelegant to trip up an opponent, wrestle the ball from his possession (if you were man enough) or make judicious use of the knees and elbows, provided the referee didn't see it. Actually, there was a lot of money on the referee didn't see, and sometimes purposely overlooked. Referees of the day, either from a sense of politeness or fear of personal injury, seldom encroached upon the field, but gave utterance to their decisions from the sidelines. Generally they were somewhat reluctant to announce a decision at all, for whatever it was, it brought riotous disapproval from one side or the other.

Cheerleaders, an organized unit, were undreamed of as yet, but there was cheering, nonetheless. If the girl of your fancy could be heard calling your name and imploring you to run over the big bum who kept getting in your way, you were inspired to greater feats of daring than could now be seen on any gymnasium floor. And speaking of floors, I will remember the night our team played its first game inside a gymnasium that had a floor, it also had a very low ceiling, and the hometown team was practiced in angling the ball off the ceiling and into the basket from almost any position. The game was played at Columbia, Kentucky, former hometown of our townsman, Mr. Murray, who drove us to the game in his Ford touring car. With himself, the five boys on the team and a friend or two he invited along, the car was somewhat crowded. I rode seated astride the right rear door, half in and half out, and felt no noticeable discomfort on the way over, but perfectly miserable all the way back, a state of feeling to which the fantastic score by which we lost the game may have contributed somewhat.

INTERSTATE PROPERTY New Restaurant and Motel Site

Friday, Oct. 18th - 1:30 P.M.

New Restaurant Building

One Mile View Approaching Restaurant Before Exiting Off I-75.

Adjacent to I-75 and U.S. 25, fifty-two [52] miles South of Lexington, Kentucky; fifty-nine [59] miles North of the Tennessee line on the Mt. Vernon - Livingston Exit of I-75.

MOTEL - Consists of approximately four (4) acres with a motel footer already poured. This tract has a 10,000 gallon sewage treatment plant ready to use for a motel or many other types business. The footer can be used either for modular units or conventional motel (with ample space for up to eighty units).

RESTAURANT - All new 40' x 80' brick structure equipped with new modern Vulcan-Hart equipment. This excellent facility is total electric and has wall to wall carpet. There are two dining rooms, one of which can be divided into two party rooms. The seating capacity is 148. It's situated on a lot measuring 90' x 400'.

The owners reserve the right to offer the motel site and restaurant separately, then combine them, selling whichever way reflects the best returns for owners.

OPPORTUNITY - When combined, there's a total of approximately five and one-third (5 1/3) acres. The properties both have city water and good blacktop entrance road off U.S. 25. This property is located adjacent to I-75 and has a full mile view before exiting from I-75, eliminating the need for signs. This property, being so strategically located only two (2) miles from the world-famous Renfro Valley and near Mr. John Lair's Great Saltpetre Cave, offers a rare opportunity. The Mt. Vernon - Livingston Interchange is presently being lighted and already has service stations.

There's ample space for other businesses and to expand present operation. This is without a doubt one of the finest locations on I-75.

Your birthday, Bob
 Has come again
 The day we loved so well
 I wish that you were with us,
 Our love for you, we could tell.

No presents, Bobby, just some flowers
 I'll lay on your grave.

Sometimes it's hard to under-

 We loved and missed you so.
 But we must never question
 God.

Just why you had to go.
 Perhaps before tomorrow comes
 We can clasp your hand and God will wipe away our tears.

Lean hard, my child, take thou my hand; Some day I'll make it plain.

There may be mountains rough and steep
There may be valleys lone,
There may be jagged rocks, or thorns.
But thou art ne'er alone.

For I'll go with thee every step;
Thy pain and grief I'll share.
So lean the harder, child, of mine.
I've placed the burden there.

Dear Lord, I may not understand
The way Thou leadest me.
Suffice to know that Thou, Oh
God,
The path ahead doth see.

RESTING IN HIM
By: Cornell K. Wilmoth

(My presence ~~is~~ with thee, and I will give thee rest. Exodus 33:14)

I do not understand, dear Lord,
Why this has come, nor see
Why days are dark and nights
so long,
And clouds o'ershadow me.

Dost thou not understand, my child,
Why clouds o'ercast the sky?
That without rain no rainbow bright
Could be, and flow'rs would die?

So in thy life, my precious one,
Shall I send only sun
To wither, scorch what dormant lies;
And little raindrops shun?

Come lay thy weary head and rest
Upon my breast - no pine.
This is from me, I know what's best
Thy beauty to refine.

Just trust me when through paths unknown
I lead - perchance with pain.

EKU RECEIVES FEDERAL GRANT FOR 8-CO. NURSING EDUCATION PROJECT

Eastern Kentucky University has been awarded a $300,000 federal grant to implement a cooperative nursing education program for eight Eastern Kentucky Counties.

The counties are Pike, Knox, Laurel, Rockcastle, Jackson, Breathitt, Perry and Knott. The grant was announced by EKU by Congressman Tim Lee Carter and Carl D. Perkins.

Under the project, students recruited from these counties into Eastern's Associate of Arts (2-year) nursing program will be prepared to qualify and serve as registered nurses, with emphasis placed on their returning to work in their home counties.

The project provides for work experience in cooperating health care agencies.

The eight-county project is an expansion of a program that Eastern has conducted in Pike County for three years. Mrs. Charlotte Denney, chairman of the EKU Department of Nursing, said the Pike County project has been "extremely successful."

She said money for the eight-county project will enable Eastern, with help from health-care agencies, "to address the need for preparing nurses to serve in counties where the shortage of such professionals is acute."

Governor Wendell Ford broke ground Monday for construction of a Health Education and Services Building at Eastern. The structure will house Eastern's two-year and four-year nursing degree programs, the environmental sanitation program, and the student health service.

Inflation hasn't changed the price of ashes.

But it has changed the price of your home. For example, if you bought a $20,000 home in 1968 - today it's worth about $27,000. Don't be left with a costly pile of ashes. See me about a State Farm Homeowners Policy that will cover your home for all it's worth... and keep it that way with automatic Inflation Coverage.

Gold cash can be saved!

Refrigerators and freezers serve you day and night, so they offer real opportunities to save.

Filled to capacity, but not overfilled, a freezer or refrigerator runs most economically. But be sure your unit is not set to run colder than is necessary. The manufacturer's recommendations can save you energy and money.

Carefully check the seal around all doors. Air leaks cause the unit to overwork, wasting electricity and money. Obviously, you save most if your unit is the right size for your family.

Electricity is too good to waste!
