EAST AND WEST MEET FOR EASY EATING

Marco Polo, according to food history, brought back the pasta dough to Italy from China. What a wise choice of imports! We've taken advantage of the versatility of pasta and combined mini ravioli — those bite-sized ravioli delights — with snow peas, a favorite vegetable of the Chinese, plus good old American sausage. This is a super casserole, pasta, meat and vegetables, with around-the-world appeal, easy to prepare easy to eat.

MINI RAVIOLI & SNOW PEA CASSEROLE

- 1 lb. sausage links
- 1/2 cup chopped onions
- 3/4 cup sliced celery
- 3 tablespoons water
- 1 beef bouillon cube
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen Chinese snow peas
- or 1 package (10 oz.) frozen green beans
- 2 cans (16 oz. each) Chef Boy-a-dee Mini Ravioli
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- Parmesan cheese

Fry sausage until brown and crisp; remove from pan and drain on absorbent paper. Drain fat, reserve 1/2 tablespoon in pan. Sauté onions and celery in fat until tender. Add water, bouillon cube and snow peas. Cook for 4 minutes. Add Mini Ravioli and stir gently. Pour into a 2 quart baking dish. Top with sausage and bake in pre-heated 375° F. oven for 20 minutes. Garnish with Parmesan cheese, if desired. Serves 6.

Orlando, retired, to Lucille Hines, 53, Orlando, housewife, May 5, 1975.

WHAT'S HAPPENING AT MYVES

We would like to welcome Mrs. Smith back after a long illness.

Miss Stewart's Class

We are getting ready for Mother's Day. We have made fringed newspaper flowers, and today Melvin Machal is coming over to show us how to make clay pots.

We are also getting ready for camp. Camp starts May 12th and ends May 23rd. The camp is located at Newker Camp outside of London. We always have so much fun, and learn so many new things.

M is for merciful, magic, and marvelous.
O is for outstanding, obedient, and obliging.
T is for talented, truthfulness, and tactful.
H is for heavenly, hearty and happiness.
E is for untrusting, endearment and endurance.
R is for radiant, readiness and respectful.

All of these are products of MOTHER.
When we summarize ideas from each other
Coming from ten girls and twenty-one boys
From the statements above through giggles and joys.
We love you, Mother!

MOTHER

God gave us flowers

The birds and the sun,
The pretty dew drops sweet
Then he gave us Mother Dear
To make it all complete.

This is the theme of our study this week as Mrs. Jordan's first graders work on an art project for Mother's Day gift.

When asked, "What do you say that a mother is," some of the answers were:

Mother is: nice, a teacher, lovable, sweet, kind, good, pretty, a nurse, a queen, fancy, beautiful, an angel, charming, wonderful, precious, a smiling face, shining eyes, never tells a lie, cares for us, a parent, a washing machine, a dish washer, the beginning of our family.

MRS. COX'S FIRST GRADE

We planted seed in boxes early in the spring. We watered and watched them sprout and grow into nice plants. We were happy when Tuesday came when we could take our tomato and flower plants home.

Caroline Machal has been excited over her four white kittens. She has been telling us how Mother Cat is caring for them. She has decided to give one to Paula Jean Blevins, so they will keep us informed about them.

MISS BARRETT'S THIRD GRADE

Miss Barrett's third grade has been busy making spring projects. Last week we made crayon stained-glass windows and name mobiles which we hung in our rooms. This week we're making flowers to make a spring bulletin board.

Kathy Hasty

STARS AND STRIPES

Mrs. Blevins' third grade class has been studying the flag. We have learned what each color, star, and stripe stands for. We talked about the many different ways we can show respect for our flag. Several of the students memorized the poem, "I Am An American" by Olive W. Burt. The class is now learning the Star-Spangled Banner under the direction of Beth Baker and Jennifer Cox.

The climate of the week was a drawing of the Kentucky Derby. We have a beautiful bulletin board of the race track and horses. Ronnie Bullock's horse number 4 was the winner of 1975.

MRS. SMITH'S THIRD GRADE

Our boys and girls have worked very hard this year. We had a good time. Most of us have new books to read. One group is taking an interesting trip to different countries. Right now we are in Europe visiting England and Norway.

We are glad spring is here because we like to be outside. Everyone is looking forward to vacation time. We want to take part in the summer playground and do other things that we enjoy.

MRS. FALIN'S FOURTH GRADE

We had a lot of fun this last week acting out a play, "Sour dough Sally," in reading class. We also learned a lot about our largest state, Alaska.

We have been studying our 4 basic food groups in health and making up nutritious menus for breakfast, lunch, dinner, and snacks.

Did you know that Alexander Graham Bell turned down 2 million dollars for his patent on the telephone? The class wrote about what they would have done if they were Bell, sell the patent or develop their own company. You'd be surprised how many held out for making money on their own company. We're going to have some rich young people from Mt. Vernon someday.

It's not official yet, but we got the attendance banner this month.

MRS. ROBERT'S FIFTH GRADE

We are studying the mid Western states in Geography.

Happy Birthday to Matt Tester.

Those on the Honor roll the last six weeks were: Mary Baker, Carolyn Browning, Renita Creech, Cindy Cromer, Valarie Fields, Scott Hansel, Scott Henderson, Willie Hiatt, Jack D. Lewis, Doyce Mullins, Kandy Owens, Debbie Reynolds, and Clayton Robinson.

The class is giving a play "The Razzle-Dazzle Smothers Brother's Show" Tuesday.

REPORTER'S SCOTT HANSEL

MRS. HALE'S SIXTH GRADE

We lost the attendance banner back to Mrs. Dawson, but we will get it back next month.

Two of the names that were left off the Honor Roll were Sandy Smith and Rhonda Rowe.

REPORTER BARBARA RENNER

TELL HIM SO

If you hear a kind word spoken Of your worthy soul you know. It may fill his heart with sunshine. If you only tell him so.

If a deed, however humble Helps you on your way to go Seek the one whose hand has helped you. Seek him out and tell him so.

If your heart is touched and tender Toward a sinner, lost and low It might help him to do better. If you'd tell him so!

Oh, my sisters, Oh, my brothers, As our lives rough path you go, If anyone has ever helped you, Do not fail to tell them so!

CHURCH SERVICES

The public is cordially invited to attend interdenominational services at the House of Prayer, located on the Goodtown Road near Oakgrove Baptist Church #2.

Services are held each Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. with Sunday morning services at 10 a.m. and Sunday evening services at 7:30 p.m. Marvin Blevins is minister of the church.

Surrounding counties rate show Pulaski County with 8.2 percent unemployed; Lincoln County with 12.4 percent; Laurel with 5.8 percent and Madison with 3.5 percent.

ELECTRIC MANAGER TO TELL C.V.A.D.D. DIRECTORS ABOUT ELECTRIC SURCHARGE

Lee Roy Cole, General Manager of the Jackson County Rural Co-operative will be on the program of the Cumberland Valley Area Development District Executive Meeting in Harlan May 14th.

Mr. Cole will explain the reasons behind rising power costs, why the surcharge is necessary and what can be expected in the future.

This program was requested by members of the Board at an earlier meeting.

This meeting will be a luncheon meeting at 12:00 noon at the Mount Aire Motel and will be addressed by mayors, county judges and interested citizens of the eight county Cumberland Valley Area which includes Bell, Clay, Harlan, Jackson, Laurel, Knox, Rockcastle, and Whitley Counties.

FUNDS ANNOUNCED FOR 1975 FARM CONSERVATION IN KENTUCKY

ASCS State Committee Chairman James C. Finley has reported that $4,731,501 is the initial allocation of funds for the 1975 Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) in Kentucky.

"With the recent announcement of the cost sharing program by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), authority to develop practices needed to solve farm conservation problems is being delegated to each of the USDA's farmer-elected county ASC committees in consultation with the county program development group," Finley said.

He said all approved practices in effect under the 1970 national ACP are eligible. Practices developed by county ASC committees will be subject to approval by the State ASC Committee in consultation with the state program development group.

The $4,731,501 allocation for Kentucky includes $3,699,000 to finance ACP in 1975, and $1,032,501 to fully fund the long-term agreements signed under the 1974 conservation program. The national funding is currently projected at $144,250,000 for ACP and $33,750,000 for remaining 1974 long term obligations.

"As announced earlier, $190 million will be made available for program operations, and will share with farmers between 50 and 75 percent of the cost of carrying out needed practices," Finley said.

"SCHOOL BOARD"

stressed at the meeting that this retirement age was for all employees of the school system. Mr. Parsons also informed the board that he had requested two additional EMR units for next year — one at Brodhead Elementary and one at Mt. Vernon Elementary.

A SOUP TO COME HOME TO

The word homemade evokes fond memories in most of us - memories of Mom, apple pie and the other good things which came from her kitchen. In winter, she knew there was nothing better than a warming soup to come home to. Now we don't often take the time for made-from-scratch soups. Here's a soup recipe that's so easy there's no reason not to make it. The creamy soup gets its delicious flavor from a blending of mixed vegetables - peas, carrots, corn, lima and green beans. Serve with PREMIUM Saltine Crackers which have been a favorite since they won a prize at a county fair back in 1876.

CREAMY MIXED VEGETABLE SOUP

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 1 (10-ounce) package frozen mixed vegetables, thawed
- 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 3/4 cups water
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 3 chicken bouillon cubes
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
- Few dashes ground nutmeg
- Snipped parsley

PREMIUM Saltine Crackers

In saucepan melt butter or margarine; add onion and sauté until golden. Stir in vegetables and sauté a few minutes. Stir in flour; then next five ingredients. Bring to boil; then simmer, covered, about 15 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Blend in electric blender until smooth. Sprinkle with parsley and serve with PREMIUM Saltine Crackers. Makes 6 (about 2/3 cup) servings.

IN MEMORIAM DELA MAE VANDANT

Five lonely years have passed since you went to be with the Father. We have only the memories that no one can take from us. We've seen bad times, but we thank God for the few years we had with you. To us three children, you were the greatest mother of all, although we can't understand why we were left alone. A place in our heart still aches for you but with memories of a mother like you, we couldn't go wrong.

WIN FRIENDS 3WAYS

The real secret of an attractive personality is to offer other people the food they're hungry for.

1. Acceptance. Accept people as they are. Allow them to be themselves. Don't insist on anyone being perfect before you can like him. Don't fashion a moral-strait jacket and expect others to wear it in order to gain your acceptance. Above all, don't bargain for acceptance. Don't say in substance, "I'll accept you if you do this or that, or change your ways to suit me."

2. Approval. Look for something to approve in the other person. It may be something small or insignificant. But let the other person know you approve that, and the number of things you can sincerely approve of will begin to grow. When the other person gets a taste of your genuine approval, he will begin to change his behavior so that he will be approved for other things.

3. Appreciation. To appreciate means to raise in value, as opposed to depreciate, which means to lower in value. Let other people know that you value them. Treat other people as if they were valuable to you. Don't keep them waiting. Thank them. Give them special, individual treatment.

LEADING THE WAY - Members of the Mt. Vernon Girl Scout Troop led the Boone Trail Walkers through Mt. Vernon Tuesday. The Walkers had been in Rockcastle County since Sunday night and after leaving Rockcastle County were scheduled to stop in Madison County for a celebration before ending their walk at Boonesborough in Clark County.

at Renfro Valley Lodge following the meal. Mr. Moore, Sr., well known Boone historian and himself a descendant of the Boone family, gave an interesting talk following Mr. Latre's history of Boone in Rockcastle County. The concluding address was given by Bro. Ernie Johnson, pastor of the Mt. Vernon Christian Church whose subject was Col. James Maret and the old Mt. Vernon Commercial Club which set in motion the movement resulting in the building of Boonesway and the beginning of good roads in the Kentucky mountains as well as a system of inter-state tourist highways. Prof. Opp Bussell, author of "The Boonesway Man," and an authority on Maret, had been scheduled for this talk but was unable to attend and graciously allowed Bro. Johnson the use of his notes.

Wednesday, the walkers moved on to Berea where an extensive program is planned for their reception. Thursday, they will be in Richmond for an all-day celebration, attended by Governor Carroll and staff and Friday they move on to Boonesborough, the end of their journey and the climactic observance of their whole trip.

The officers of the Rockcastle County Improvement Council are Roy B. Brown, President; Wayne Stewart, Vice-president; H. Lee Durham, Secretary; Clay A. Colson, Treasurer.

THE ARMY RESERVE. IT PAYS TO GO TO MEETINGS.

Water and Industry Prospects were topics of discussion at the meeting of the Rockcastle County Improvement Council Tuesday April 28th, according to council chairman, Roy G. Brown. A representative from the Kentucky Department of Commerce, Bob Lancaster and East Kentucky Rural Electric Co-Op, Leonard Neff had been in the area meeting with council members concerning industrial development. There is a real need for our towns and counties to be prepared with information about water, electrical rates, local taxes, possible factory sites as well as labor supply and quality. "Mt. Vernon stacks up pretty well," according to Mr. Lancaster. "The improvements council is well prepared -- very cooperative."

The Western Rockcastle Water District was discussed. Preconstruction applications can still be taken for $75.00 instead of the $300.00 fee which will be charged after construction is complete. The water district has been made possible through a U.S. Department of Agriculture Farmers Home Administration Grant loan totaling $983,000.00 and a 400,000 grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission which was obtained through the assistance of the Cumberland Valley Area Development District which serves eight counties including Rockcastle. The Board of Directors of the C.V.A.D.D. which approved the action consists of mayors, judges, and interested citizens from Rockcastle, Bell, Clay, Harlan, Jackson, Knox, Laurel, and Whitley Counties.

THE SKY-HIGH COSTS OF A CLEAN ENVIRONMENT

$82 Million to meet governmental standards

Providing electricity for you while maintaining a clean environment is an expensive combination. We have already spent nearly $14 million to meet air and water quality standards. We will spend an additional $11 million in 1975. By 1979 the total will reach $82 million.

These millions of dollars are being invested in cooling towers, electrostatic precipitators and sulphur removal equipment at our power plants. All of this equipment is required by today's strict governmental standards for electric generating stations. Old stations as well as new stations.

A clean environment and ample, dependable electricity are essential to our service area. We're trying to comply with environmental regulations. But regulations that force installation of unproved equipment, or are unnecessarily stringent without benefits that justify the cost unduly affect your electric service costs. Remember, clean air and water have a price tag.

Electricity... use it wisely.

THE BOONE TRAIL WALKERS visited Great Saltpeper Cave Monday while in Rockcastle County. The night before was spent at Fort Sequoyah on the Rockcastle River. In the above photo are,

Rockcastle Countians Host Boone Trail Walkers

The Boone Trail Walkers passed through Mt. Vernon Tuesday afternoon, escorted by the City Police, two vehicles from the Ambulance Service and the local Girl Scout Troop. The official Boone Trail group consisted of R. Ivey Moore, leader, of Wilkesboro, N.C.; Ivey Moore, Jr. of Lenoir, North Carolina; Marshall Ralph Hooker, Greenfield, Missouri; Art Lane and Charles Burke of Richmond; George Cord of Corbin and Ralph Marcum of Sand Gap, Lane, Burke and Cord had flown to Wilkesboro, N.C., earlier to walk back to Boonesborough with the party and Marcum joined them here for the activities in Mt. Vernon and Renfro Valley.

Due to change in schedule, they were unable to spend extra time at Ft. Sequoyah and Renfro Valley and on Monday, John Lair and Carlos Carioftis took them over parts of Boone's original path which he cut across Rockcastle on his way to the river. The walkers were shown points of interest, such as the site of one of Boone's road camps at a spring on the farm of Pitz Moberly, near the old Cove schoolhouse, and the spot at the confluence of Parker's Creek and Rockcastle River where the skeleton of Boone's hunting companion, John Stewart, was discovered and identified by Boone five years after having been killed by the Indians, the first white man killed by savages in Kentucky.

Tuesday night, the walkers were guest of the Rockcastle Lions Clubs at a dinner meeting

Walkathon Set For Saturday, May 23rd

Registration for the walk will be from 8 to 9 a.m. at the Vocational School and once a participant in the walk is registered, they will not be allowed to leave the vocational school grounds until the walk begins. The walk will follow the same route as in previous years. Also this year there will be several prizes awarded to walkers including a 10-speed bicycle donated at cost by Estill Hodges of White Auto Store and two savings bonds. Anyone interested in participating in the walk should contact the Vocational School between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. week days.

Effective May 15th, Rockcastle County will once again be in a quarry as to what to do for an ambulance service unless the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court can come up with a plan right away. The problem came about on Tuesday when, at the regular meeting of the Fiscal Court, the Magistrates were informed by Bud Cox, a director of Central Ambulance Service, that effective May 15th the ambulance service would no longer be administered by them (Central Ambulance Service). Mr. Cox told the Court that the Central Ambulance Service Board had decided that they no longer wished to manage the service and that they were willing to turn over the two ambulances to the county in lieu of the county's paying off a note at the Bank of Mt. Vernon for something over $7,000. Mr. Cox said that this was a fair arrangement since the vehicles are worth at least twice as much as the value of the note.

Mr. Cox also stressed that the directors of the service (himself, Billy Dowell and Frank Watson) have all served without pay and that the services of his wife as a bookkeeper have also been free to the county. He said that under no circumstances would they be willing to operate the service another year under the same setup. The radio equipment used by the service belongs to Mr. Cox but he informed the court that he would be willing to donate this equipment to the county also. Following Mr. Cox's appearance before the Court, the Magistrates decided to have a called meeting for this Friday afternoon at 1 p.m. to discuss what steps they would take to see that an ambulance service was provided for the county.

Also during the meeting, Harold Ballinger, representing the Rockcastle County Extension District Board, met with the Court requesting an increase in

School Board Guaranteed 85% Of Title One Funds

At the regular meeting of the Rockcastle County Board of Education Monday night, Supt. Parsons reported on a recent meeting concerning the Title I program, which he attended. Mr. Parsons told the board that 85 percent of last year's Title I budget had been guaranteed or approximately $197,217 and that the additional 15 percent may be forthcoming within the year. Supt. Parsons also said that a new requirement of the program was that only the percentage of hours spent by supportive Title I personnel, such as librarians, nurses, counselors, etc., with eligible Title I children during the school day can be paid for (salary-wise) with Title I funds. The board may have to pick-up part of the salaries for some of these Title I personnel.

Mr. Parsons also noted that there would be sufficient funds to re-employ all Title I teachers and he also told the board that a new requirement this year was that 50 percent being paid with a federal grant under the Highway Safety Act and the other 50 percent being paid from local funds. The board also approved a revised school calendar which would make June one of the last day of school and would delete Memorial Day as a holiday. $4,000 in matching funds were approved by the board for the "Rehabilitation" Program which is directed by Tommy Harold Mink and also approved two substitute teachers, Fred Robinson and Jennifer Spiers, subject to certification. The public address system at the high school will be upgraded with the addition of five 49" column speakers mounted on ceiling pads at a cost of $1,152.00. The work will be done by a TV and Electronic firm in Danville and will be installed before the graduation ceremonies.

All the school principals in the county met with the board to ask whether or not they (the principals) would be backed by the board should the need for corporal punishment arise in their schools. The board reviewed with the principals the policy concerning corporal punishment and assured the principals that they would have the backing of the board in the administering of reasonable corporal punishment. The architect's estimate on the initial phase of seating at the new football field was also discussed. The estimate for the 500 seats is $23,000 but Mr. Parsons told the Board that he felt this project could be brought in for less money by using workmen furnished by the County Judge under the CETA program and by contracting the materials themselves. No definite action on the project was taken by the board.

Mr. Parsons also noted during the meeting that there had been some question as to whether or not the mandatory retirement age of 70 for school employees applied to for school employees including janitors, cooks, bus drivers, etc. He (Con't. to 13)

Fiscal Court Again Faces Ambulance Service Problem

The extension department's tax rate from 1.75 cent per hundred dollar assessment to 2.5 cent. Mr. Ballinger told the court that these funds were used to provide supplies and pay for a secretary and that the increase was needed to keep pace with the increased cost of supplies.

Mr. Ballinger told the court that the extension service had not had a rate increase since 1970 when they dropped their rate back to 1.75 cent from 2.00 cent which they got in 1967-68 and 69. He also stressed to the court that agriculture was important to the county in that almost $4,000,000 was brought into the county annually from tobacco sales and another million-and-a-half from the dairy industry in the county, not to mention the pepper and cucumber crops. Mr. Ballinger told the court that it had been thought that the expected increase in the county's tax assessment would make up the difference needed but that after working up the extension service's budget, it was found that without an increase in the tax rate enough revenue would not be garnered to fund the service.

After some discussion, Magistrate Ernest Mason made a motion that the rate be increased to 2 cents per hundred dollar assessment and the motion passed with all magistrates voting yes except Magistrate Chester Whisker.

In other action, the Fiscal Court granted the Progressive Women's League the right to use the library's recreation room once a week for dancing lessons for children three years and up, granted the Western Rockcastle County Water District easements along county roads for the laying of water lines where property owners easements cannot be obtained and approved the return of the responsibility for the maintenance of the Three Links Road from Wally Phillips house to Three Links to Rockcastle County from Jackson County on the request of Mr. Phillips and other residents of the area.

The above 10-speed bicycle will be given to the March of Dimes Walkathon participant who has the most sponsors in the upcoming Walkathon scheduled for Saturday, May 17th. The bike is on display at the Bank of Mt. Vernon. Shown in the photo are, from left: Mrs. Perline Anderson, county chairman; Mr. Hodges, who gave the bike to the walkathon; and Tony Hopkins, who is in charge of organizing the Rockcastle County Jaycees part in the walk.

The Mt. Vernon Recreation Council's Radio Auction Tuesday night garnered over $350 (see preceding page). The auction will run at least through Thursday night over WVKV from 5 to 7 p.m. In the above photo phone workers shown are, from left: Mrs. Lorene Noe, Mrs. Joyce Baker and Mrs. Iris Young. Mrs. Mary Ponder was also working the phones. The number to call to bid on items is 256-5135 or 256-5140. Billy Ray Taylor, playground director, says that the deadline for submitting loan requests to him is May 23rd.

Kentucky's legislative system being what it is, the effectiveness of the interim legislative committee system is probably as difficult to measure as anything in state government.

For all practical purposes, the legislative process to exist between the biennial sessions, at least in the view of some students of the Constitution.

Even if this view is accepted, however, there now seems to be little doubt that the legislature is alive and functioning and getting ready for the 1976 session.

The best sign of this functioning is the log of bills legislators or committees have requested be drafted by the Legislative Research Commission.

If the log is an indicator, then the General Assembly is alive and well. As of last week, bill draft requests are in excess of 140 and climbing, between four and five times as many, as had been requested as of this date two years ago.

While no bills are officially pre-filed until November 15-one must wait until after the elections to see who, for sure, is coming back-Phil Conn, director of the LRC, is encouraged and relieved by the activity thus far. The relief, for Conn, is likely the greater of the two motions involved.

In past years, the Legislative Research Commission got its first bill request, even for such major items as the education financing bills, after the General Assembly was in session.

The crunch was terrific, and Conn notes that with the pressure so heavy, not always were the bills what they should be.

Now, he notes, the research staff has time to do the proper, thorough job of writing a bill in light of past and current legislation on the books, and get it in tip-top form when it comes before the full General Assembly.

"Some of the legislators are wising up and getting bill requests in early," Conn notes. "They are finally realizing that when the legislature is in session they can't get this special attention."

Some legislators requested several bill drafts as early as last year in anticipation of the crunch.

"Sometimes we'll draft a fancy bill and the legislator will be beaten," Conn notes, but adds that even then, if the bill is complicated and important, the defeated legislator will often pass the draft on to his opponent and it might yet be introduced.

Conn is looking for an even longer list of bills to come before the General Assembly in 1976 than came in 1974.

He describes it as a continuing pattern in the General Assembly that no amount of interim work and pre-filing will cure in the long run. His hope is that the crucial, complicated bills will be handed to the Legislative Research Commission early enough for them to do an adequate job.

There is also, he notes, be several hundred bills drafted that, as usual, never get introduced for one reason or another. Some of these are used for leverage on other legislators, some are weighed in the balance and determined not to be timed right, some become outdated before the legislature convenes.

While bill draft requests may be the only somewhat concrete measure of legislative activity, there are other, more wisp measures.

One of these is frequency of committee and subcommittee meetings and hearings. These, too, are on the upswing and while some think many of the meetings are a waste of time, others claim the opposite. Some legislators also note that too many meetings add too much of a load to what they think is a part-time job.

Yet another measure is the press coverage of interim activities. This seems to be on the upswing as well, although this is just an impression that is difficult to measure.

However, if something is really happening, then it is more likely to be thoroughly covered in the state's media. The General Assembly committees do seem to be more involved in unusual incidents retroversial issues.

The Tornado: Earth's Strongest Windstorm

WATCH/WARNING

Although the tornadoes that devastated Kentucky last year occurred on April 3, studies of tornado incidence by month between 1953 and 1971 show that more strike in May and June than in any other months.

Anyone who experienced the horrors of the 1974 tornadoes knows how quickly they can strike, and how little warning the individual has. Tornadoes are spawned by severe thunderstorms, but are not always preceded by advance notification because forecasting has not developed to that point.

There are two categories of tornado announcements:

The tornado WATCH

The watch tells people they may go about their business as usual, but to keep an eye on the sky and in touch with their radios or TVs. The watch simply says tornadoes may develop.

The tornado WARNING

The warning tells of an actual sighting, or a radar sighting, and urges those in the danger path to prepare to take immediate cover.

If you are warned that a tornado is approaching...

- At home, open some windows then take shelter in the basement or under heavy furniture in the center of the house. Stay away from outside walls and windows.
- Schools should have plans for moving students to shelter areas or to an interior hall on the lowest floor.
- In an office building, go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor or to a designated shelter area.
- In shopping centers, go to the designated shelter area. Don't go to the parking lot or your car.
- Mobile homes are very vulnerable to strong winds and should be evacuated when strong winds are forecast. Plans are available for securing mobile homes with cables. If there is no designated shelter, leave the mobile home park for protected ground.

● In open country, move away at a right angle to the tornado's path. If there is no time, lie flat in the nearest depression. Shield your head.

Tornadoes generally occur between 3 and 7 p.m. They usually move from southwest to northeast, and are from 300 to 400 yards in width (but can be as much as a mile in width). They move across country at speeds of from 25 to 40 miles an hour. The destructive power of the tornado comes from the extremely strong rotary winds and the partial vacuum in the center of its vortex. It's the vacuum in the tornado's "eye" that causes normal air pressure inside a closed building to blow walls and windows out.

Save with a cold check.

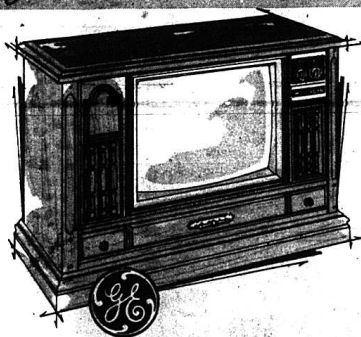

Think of the air in your refrigerator as money. You might as well, because you pay to make that air cold.

So check the door seals for air leaks. Don't keep doors open any longer than you need to. When frost becomes one quarter inch thick, be sure to defrost.

Electricity is money. Ask us how to save both.

Do It And Diet

TIPS TO HELP YOU

Even if you're on a diet, you can enjoy delicious dishes like pot roast without feeling guilty. If you substitute artificial sweetener for sugar, you'll cut down on calories without cutting down on taste. Now there is a whole cookbook filled with recipes custom made for sugar substitutes. And here is just one diet idea from "The Sugar Free Cookbook."

OLD STYLE POT ROAST

- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 4 pounds beef rump, round or chuck
- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 2 carrots, sliced
- 1 onion, sliced
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 cup water
- 4 drops Sweeta liquid concentrated sweetener

With these imaginative recipes, you can have the sweetness of sugar without the calories or the cost.

vegetable oil. Add all remaining ingredients. Cover, simmer about 3 1/2 hours or until beef is tender. Remove meat. Strain liquid in pan, reheat, serve with beef. (Calorie savings approximately 72.)

The book contains many delicious recipes, from soups to desserts. It's a $1.95 value in bookstores but you can have it for 50¢ to cover postage and handling, and the word "Sweeta" in the liquid concentrated sweetener's cardboard packaging by writing to P.O. Box 1507, Trenton, New Jersey 08607.

WEATHER STATIONS GIVE 24-HOUR WEATHER

Now, you've got the weather when you need it in more than 75 areas around the U.S. continuous 24-hour-a-day weather reports are being broadcast by the National Weather Service's expanding weather/warning network.

The weather broadcasts, which are updated every two to three hours, can be received within a radius of 50 miles from the new 1000 watt transmitters, and 25 miles from older 300 watt units. Seventy-seven transmitters, which reached one-half the United States population in early 1975, will be joined in the coming months by 269 more throughout the country.

The continuous weather reports, on special frequencies of 192.4 and 192.55 mhz, are especially useful for sportsmen, campers, pilots, motorists and travelers, as well as providing homeowners and farmers accurate, up-to-the-minute local weather forecasts.

Radio manufacturers are now producing a wide variety of reasonably priced radios capable of receiving the weather frequencies. For example, General Electric offers six "instant weather" radios, including portable and clock radios. These allow the listener to switch from standard FM or AM stations to the local weather frequency at the touch of a button.

In short, whether you want the weather for business or sport, you can now have it 24 hours a day.

Mrs. Mary Adams, Mrs. Mary McWhorter, and Mrs. Julia Hunt visited Hubert Hunt at the St. Joseph Hospital Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gervin Singleton and children of London spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ed McWhorter. Craig and Leslie Singleton, Micky Prewitt, and Mary McWhorter visited Mrs. Nannie Craig Saturday.

SEARCHING FOR YOUR ANCESTORS

Who were they? When were they living? Where did they come from? How did they come to Kentucky? When did they come to Kentucky?

Hunting for ancestors is like solving a mystery or working out a puzzle. The above questions are some that confront those hunting ancestors. As you work farther back from the present it is a great thrill to discover each little bit of information about your ancestors and a great joy to discover ancestors that you had not known about before.

The genealogical Research workshop to be held by the Rockcastle Chapter DAR at Roundstone School Saturday,

May 17th, 1975 at 10:30 a.m. will explain how to start this ancestor search and records available, with Mr. John Lair speaking on "Tracing Your Ancestors." Mrs. Wilburn Walker of Bryan Station Chapter of Lexington, Kentucky will speak on "The Westward Migration," with maps she will chart the various routes taken by the early settlers as they moved westward from the Atlantic Coast. Mrs. V.G. Walker of Berea Laurel Ridges Chapter will speak on the use of Census Records and the old handwriting. This meeting is open to the public. For reservations, please call Mrs. Joe Henderson 286-2319 before May 14th. In Berea call Miss Janie Ramsey 986-3083 for reservation.

The registration fee of $2.00 includes a buffet luncheon.

Pepper Production-Selection of Field, Soil Preparation and Fertilization

Both bell and pimento peppers when properly cared for have proven to be a good cash crop for farmers in about half the counties of Kentucky. The field you choose for the peppers is of extreme importance. The field chosen for peppers should be well drained; free of residual herbicides such as Atrazine (do not follow corn where Atrazine was used the previous year); avoid fields that have grown up in weeds the previous year; fence sod ground is very desirable for peppers. Sod should be plowed under several weeks prior to landscaping and avoid bottom land where high humidity can become a problem causing more likelihood of disease - slightly rolling land or upland areas are desirable.

Soil Preparation: Fall plowing is desirable. Plowing in the spring may be delayed because of rain and adequate soil preparation is often difficult to achieve. Corn stem blight disease is more likely to be a problem on late plowed ground. After plowing, disking the soil at a depth of about 6 inches is desirable. A second disking in the spring two or three weeks after the first disking will help to eliminate early germinating weed and grass seeds. Disk 2 to 3 inches shallower than the first disking to prevent pulling weed seeds to the surface of the soil. A third disking may be advisable just prior to transplanting. Fertilizer should be applied prior to this disking if the fertilizer is broadcast.

Fertilizing: It is best to fertilize your ground for peppers based on a soil test. Your county agent will make recommendations for you based on your soil test results. The pH for peppers should be between 6.0 and 7.0. A 5-20-20 fertilizer or similar analysis is usually best for peppers. Too much nitrogen is a common cause of failure with peppers. A grower should apply enough fertilizer to get 40 to 50 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre. If 5-20-20 fertilizer is used, this would mean the application of 800 to 1,000 pounds per acre if applied broadcast and disked in. If banding equipment is available, you can apply fertilizer in half the application in half. The selection of a good site, proper soil preparation and adequate fertilization is essential for good yields and good profits with peppers.

What To Do in May
Plant annuals and bulbous plants such as dahlias, tigridias, tuberous begonias, etc. Weekly plantings of gladioli will give cutting flowers for an extended time. Divide fallolids.
Plant tender vegetable transplants after danger of frost is over. Make succession plantings of green beans, corn, etc. to insure a continuous supply of fresh produce.
Sow seeds of cabbage, cauliflower and broccoli now in order to have transplants ready for the garden by July 15 for the fall crop.

Control insects and diseases. On ornamental watch for leaf miners especially on rosewood and holly. Dimethoate does a good job. Bagworm larvae may be controlled easily with malathion or sevin. Control weevils, rhododendron and mimosa by painting the trunks at 10-day intervals in May and early June with Thiodan or Methoxychlor. Control scale on many plants - watch euonymus and lilac especially Dimethoate works well.
Put out slug bait for slugs. Follow your fruit spray schedules (get one from your county Extension agent).
Control insects and diseases on vegetables (get spray schedules from your county agent).
Foray this spring, dactylis, rhododendrons and azaleas should be pruned after flowering. For lilac, prune off the flower cluster, but do not remove any buds just below the cluster. This is the site of next year's flowers. See your county agent for publication on pruning of ornamentals.

MOTHER

God made this wonderful universe
And gave it all its glory.
'Tis ready 'till long to rest in verse.
Or even as a story.

Let's take out a tiny part
More precious than all other.
Very truthfully from every heart,
We'd have to say 'twas Mother.

God sent the birds, the sunshine
To gladden all the world;
He sent the foliage of the flowers,
In radiance unfurled.

He sent the June, the stars, the moon.
In poorly dew drops sweet:
And then He sent us Mother Dear,
To make it all complete.

All pain and sorrow she tried to bear
For how these test our faith,
God's kind, sweet love was always there
And she never held no hate.

We heard her pray from day to day
That God would grant her
To guide her children along the way.
Through every blessed hour.

He heard and answered her request,
And kept us ever near:
Dear Mother did her very best
Through heartaches, pains and tears.

To help raise all six to adulthood,
With families of our own;
May we follow in her footsteps
And raise ours as she has shown.

Thank God, for Mother's guiding light
Which brightened all our way:
Lead us to build a Christian home
And taught us how to pray

Money can not buy a ticket,
Nor license to drive a car,
To Mother's home this year
The distance is too far.

We will take our flowers
And place them on the green sod
Because Mother's home now
Is in Heaven with her God.

WOMAN'S CLUB ESSAY WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Gloria Jean Smallwood, a student at Roundstone Elementary School, and Gwen Harris, a student at Rockcastle County High School, won first places in their divisions in the recent Mt. Vernon Woman's Essay Contest.

Entrants were asked to write on the subject, "The Flag: A Symbol of Freedom". Reprinted below are the two essays:

The Flag: A Symbol of Freedom

By: Gloria Jean Smallwood
Roundstone Elementary School

For generation after generation of Americans, our flag has been the banner of hope and freedom. This flag is a symbol of a country that has grown from a small group of thirteen colonies to the United States of America consisting of fifty sovereign states.

This flag started with thirteen stars on a field of blue and thirteen stripes of alternating red and white, one for each of the original thirteen colonies. This flag had fifteen stars in the War of 1812, twenty-nine stars in the Mexican War, thirty-five stars in the Civil War, forty-five in the Spanish-American War and since 1897 we have added stars to our flag. This beautiful flag is planted firmly in our American faith. Old Glory represents our churches, schools, homes, and businesses. It symbolizes our country and the rights of the people it represents.

This flag has been a great inspiration to untold millions. Many men have followed our flag into battle with great courage. Many men have also died for the freedom it represents. To Americans everywhere - our flag means honor.

People in our country have hoped and prayed that they might go on enjoying the life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness that has been given to us from our forefathers. There are many people among us today who would do away with our government and flag. We must not let this happen.

Many people are discouraged about the shape our country is in today. But I am sure that as long as we have people dedicated to our country and our flag, our nation will not fall. I believe in the end Old Glory will rise higher than ever and our nation will be greater than ever. Let it be our prayer and struggle that we never forget the history and tradition which has made our flag a symbol of freedom.

The Flag: A Symbol of Freedom

By: Gwen Harris
Rockcastle County High School

Our flag is a symbol synonymous with our country and its struggle for freedom. Many times during this struggle

TO THE PEOPLE OF ROCKCASTLE COUNTY

ENERGY

In the 1974 Session of the Legislature, LEONARD HISLOPE voted for a research and development program designed to establish Kentucky as a pace-setter in helping obtain energy self-sufficiency.

Plants are now being designed for the gasification and liquification of coal into natural gas, oil and gasoline. This will create many more jobs for Kentuckians and the petro-chemical by-products could cause many more industries to come to the 15th Senatorial District.

When you elect me your State Senator, not only will I vote for the development of the Commonwealth, I will also vote for the interest and welfare of all the people of Rockcastle County.

My name LEONARD HISLOPE will be the third on the ballot under the office of State Senator.

YOU ONLY HAVE ONE MOTHER

We only have one mother,
Patient, kind, and true,
No other friend in all the world
Will be so true as you.

For all her love and kindness
She asks nothing in return,
Should all the world forsake you
To mother you can turn.

Many sleepless hours you've caused her
When you were cross or ill,
Many a tear she's shed for you
Tho, grown you cause them still.
So every time you leave her
O whether you come or go,
Give her a kind word and a kiss,
It's what she craves I know.

You can only have one mother,
None else can take her place,
You will know how much you need her

When you miss her loving face,
Be careful how you answer her,
Choose every word you say,
Remember she is still your
mother

Tho she is growing gray,
You can only have one mother,
O take her to your heart,
You cannot tell how soon the time

When death you two will part,
Many heartaches you've caused her

While you were out in sin,
Many a prayer she's breathed
for you

That God would bring you in,
Let her know you love her
dearly,
Cheer and comfort her each day,
You cannot find another mother
When she has passed away.

When death has claimed her
Be careful body
And she's at rest beneath the soil,
Remember all her loving

BILLY DOWELL

ROY MARTIN

DAVID SHIVEL

Service

EVER WONDER WHY MORE FAMILIES RECOMMEND DOWELL AND MARTIN FUNERAL HOME?

Maybe it's because of the sincere and personal service provided by every member of the Dowell and Martin staff. Personal attention is given to every detail so that nothing will be overlooked. Even after the funeral service, the Dowell and Martin people will help in arranging social security benefits, insurance policies, or veterans benefits. Anything to help families in their very difficult times.

Or maybe it is the beautiful surroundings that create a feeling of warmth and peace... A home-like atmosphere.

Or maybe it is the sincere dedication that each member of the Dowell and Martin Funeral Home Staff has to helping people when they need it the most. Each individual family has different desires and wishes. We are here to obey each and every request.

Or maybe it is all of these reasons that more families recommend Dowell and Martin. The Order of the Golden Rule thinks so and that is why they selected the Dowell and Martin Funeral Home to be their only member in Rockcastle County.

"ESSAYS"

our flag has been the rallying point toward which the young rebels have marched. The history of the flag itself exemplifies this march to freedom.

Independence was declared on July 4, 1776, but the struggle continued. It was not until June, 1777 almost a year after the adoption of the Declaration of Independence that the Continental Congress adopted a design for the flag of the new nation. From that moment on the flag has symbolized a nation built upon liberty and freedom.

The flag was to have thirteen alternate red and white stripes and thirteen white stars on a blue background. This was to represent a new constellation, a new star in the world - the United States of America. The hope of the early colonists was that this star of freedom would always shine brightly to light the road of peace for the world. How far have we traveled on that road of peace? How brightly is the star now shining?

These are the questions of youth, not only of this generation, but past and future generations as well. The question can only be answered in the lives of individuals.

Freedom is a word used loosely by young people today. For many people the concept of freedom has changed drastically. Today, it is the freedom to do whatever one wants to do, freedom from responsibility and duty. This is not the freedom of our forefathers. The freedom for which our flag is a symbol is freedom simply to be free to contribute something good to the world. In this sense the flag symbolizes freedom at its best. In a larger sense it not only represents freedom, but it also represents courage and hope. Without these there can be no freedom. I am still young enough and idealistic enough to believe in courage, hope, and freedom. In my mind the flag of this country symbolizes America at her best.

MOUNTAIN MOMENTS

BY: K. Maynard Head

OVERHALLS

Sometimes I wonder what the world is coming to! The current nostalgia craze seems to indicate that we have a desire to return to the past, but even those who never lived "in the past" appear to be headed in that direction.

Take my son, David, for example. He is wearing today, of all things, a pair of overalls! Years ago, a child of his age never wore overalls - just for the fun of it. They were worn for work. And when worn over another pair of pants, they served to keep one warm on a chilly morning. Besides that, all sorts of good things could be carried in the bib. Like a pocket watch on a chain. Or a plug of tobacco.

My grandfather, Caney Head, always wore overalls, or as he called them, over-balls. Even on Sunday when Pappaw went to the little Primitive Baptist church where he worshipped, he wore his newest pair with a white starched shirt. And he looked dressed up!

As a child I often sat with him on the front porch swing late in the afternoon and Pappaw told us stories and events of his younger days which entertained us until bedtime. Several times during the evening, he cut a piece of chewing tobacco off the plug he always carried. It looked good, but it was much later before I had my first (and last) chew, and I'll tell you about that in a future story.

I could always tell when it was time to go to bed. The tree frogs croaked a little louder, the swing squeaked more often, and Pappaw looked at his gold watch with a kind of serious expression on his face.

If I had not already fallen asleep, as I did occasionally, he told Mammaw it was time for bed. She then took us to the bedroom my brother and I shared when we visited them and tucked us in. This was necessary in a feather bed because we had to be helped in and it was easy for the cover to fall off before you settled in good.

Early the next morning Pappaw awakened us for breakfast. I always smelled coffee perking, bacon frying, and biscuits baking in the oven before I opened my eyes. Pappaw had his overalls on, and I used to think he slept in them!

I sometimes wonder if polyester had been invented years ago, if Pappaw would have worn knit overalls!

Charles Hurst, of Hamilton, Ohio, and Mrs. Mabel Taylor of Richmond, Indiana visited their sister, Mrs. Mattie Burton and Grover Burton a few days ago.

Clinton Thompson visited Grover Norton recently. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Long are visiting their children in Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hamm visited Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hasty Sunday night.

Lloyd McKinney is ill in the Rockcastle County Hospital. A speedy recovery is wished for him.

Recent guests of Mrs. Zora Burton were: Mr. and Mrs. Grover Burton, Mrs. Clara Mae Denney, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Clarence Eastham, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Burton, Mrs. Gail Lee Ledford, and Nichole of Richmond, Mrs. Ola Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ping of Indianapolis, Indiana, Edward K. Cook and G.D. Burton.

Friday, May 2nd, Edward K. Cook, Jr. and his friend, Professor John Butler of Mountain City, Tennessee made a business trip to Davidson College at Charlotte, North Carolina recently to arrange with that college for Eddie's daughter, Stephanie Lea Cook, to become a college student there when the autumn terms begins at Davidson College.

Edward K. Cook and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Myrtle McQueen of Shady Valley, Tennessee, have arranged to fly from Bristol, Virginia to Ansbang, Germany Friday May 8th where Superintendent Cook will continue his position in American Schools overseas.

Mrs. McQueen will attend services in the overseas schools there where her granddaughter, Stephanie Lea Cook will be graduating. After a month of touring interesting cities, institutions and friendly homes in German, Italy, France, England, Belgium, Switzerland, and North Africa, Mrs. McQueen and her granddaughter will fly back to America where they will reside in Shady Valley, Tennessee while Stephanie prepares to enter Davidson College in early autumn.

Estate Brown and E.K. Cook took a truck load of tobacco fertilizer to Sturgeon in Owsley County recently and spread it on tobacco patches there for the Cook, Gabbard, and Wilson families.

GROVER EVANS DIES

Mrs. Mattie Burton and Mr. and Mrs. E.K. Cook were called to Jackson County Thursday, May 1st to attend the funeral of their cousin and friend, Grover Evans, who was more than 90 years old.

Mr. Evans was first cousin to William Earl Hurst, John Hurst and Jim Hurst. His father, Sam Evans, was a brother to Jim Evans and Jack Evans and to the Louis Evans who married John M. Hurst who first built Poplar Grove Church.

The funeral was held in Justice Funeral Home near Bradshaw with burial at the Evans Cemetery near Green Hall, Kentucky.

Many relatives went from the funeral services to visit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Thomas Evans near Tynes where Grover and his only living sister own a trailer home in which they have been residing.

Rockcastle Recollections

John Lahr

Since this week was marked by the passing through the country of a group of hikers on the Yadin River region of North Carolina (Daniel Boone's home country) on their way to Boonesborough, Kentucky as a feature of our 81-Centennial Celebration, it might be well to take up this week's space in a discussion of the different trails followed by Daniel Boone on his various journeys to the state.

Since we are concerned primarily with his trails across Rockcastle County we will have little to say about his first incursions into the wilderness that was to become Kentucky. In 1767, with two or three companions, he crossed the Blue Ridge Mountains and reached the headwaters of a branch of the Big Sandy River in the edge of eastern Kentucky. Pushing on later, they reached Salt Spring, near Prestonsburg, where they were snowed in and camped for the winter, shooting deer and buffalo and other wild game that frequently visited the spring to lick the salt deposits there. Returning home at the end of this hunt, they returned in glowing reports of the abundance of game for hunting and trapping, which had aroused Boone's interest to the point where he never subsided.

In 1769, Boone with John Finley, John Stewart, and three others, set out from Boone's cabin the first of May, well equipped for a long stay in the unknown wilderness. After passing through Cumberland Gap and following the Watauga Path for some distance, they bore the west and camped near the headwaters of the west branch of Rockcastle River. This was in Jackson County, as was also the principle part of the Big Hulf area which they visited. For two years Daniel Boone remained in the wilderness, sometimes with companions, sometime entirely alone. During that time he roamed over a big expanse of country, including the neighborhood of Great Saltpetre Cave and the headwaters of Dick's River, but he failed to establish trails and it is impossible at this late date to know definitely what paths he pursued.

Boone was determined to make his future home in Kentucky, and in 1773 started out with a party of about forty, including his brother, Squire, and some of the Bryans, members of his wife's family, all with children, livestock and earthly possessions, on the move to The Promised Land. They got only as far as Powell's Valley when they were attacked by Indians, who killed Boone's son, James, and several others. Most of the party gave up and returned home, but Daniel Boone and his family settled down on Clinch River, determined to go on when the opportunity presented itself.

The next year, 1774, Governor Dunmore wanted to send a scout into the interior of Kentucky to warn various parties of engineers to stop their surveys and come back to the safety of the settlements. Daniel Boone was the natural choice for the job, and with his friend Michael Stoner, another famous frontiersman, they set out to search the Wilderness for the few scattered surveying parties. It is quite likely that on this journey Boone for the first time followed a definite, established path across Rockcastle County, coming to Hazel Patch, then bearing west to strike Skaggs Trace near the entrance of Skaggs Creek into Rockcastle River. Following Skaggs Creek to the headwaters of Negro Creek, striking the beginning of Dick's River at present Broadhead, leaving Rockcastle at the Lincoln County line and on to Harrodsburg, where a new settlement was just beginning to be built up. After warning the surveys, the two scouts returned home, probably over the same route.

By spring of 1775 Richard Henderson and company had closed the deal with the Cherokee Indians for a vast tract of land, including all of Kentucky between the Kentucky and the Cumberland Rivers and a part of Tennessee, and had employed Boone to cut a path from Long Island to a location for a fortified settlement on the Kentucky River.

On the tenth of March, 1775, the road-cutting party got underway. It numbered about thirty picked woodmen and hunters and included Boone's brother Squire, his hunting companions Stoner and Gütcher, his neighbor, Richard Callaway, Captain William Twitty with his own party of seven, which included Felix Walker, who kept a diary of the trip. When they reached Hazel Patch, instead of turning to the left to follow Skaggs Trace they started cutting a new road across Rockcastle County, striking the Rockcastle River at the mouth of Parker's Creek, down which stream they had evidently traveled from near Hazel Patch. Crossing the river, they turned down its right bank to the mouth of Trace Branch, which they followed toward its source, then crossing over Gauley Mountain and down to Crooked Creek, that night making their first camp in Rockcastle along that stream. Going down Crooked Creek to its confluence with Roundstone Creek they followed it north to where it joined by Brush Creek. Bearing to the left here they hit on Cove Branch and made their second camp on land now owned by Piez Moberly. This was at a never-failing spring which many years later served as a source of drinking water for the Cove schoolhouse. In 1915 the DAR erected a marker at this spot, which Plezax and a few years ago dug out of the mud, where it had fallen in neglect, and it has since been replaced in its original location. After leaving this camp site the party crossed over Buckeye Ridge, at a spot not far from the old Buckeye Church House, where it struck Renfro Creek about two miles above its confluence with Round Stone Creek. There is some uncertainty as to where it lead from here. Richard Singleton, a longtime student of Boone's movements in the county, believe that they continued across Renfro Creek, probably up the draw where James Taylor now lives, and across the ridge in the Green Hill section and down again to Round Stone Creek, which they followed on through Boone's Gap and into adjoining Madison County. Others believe that at Buckeye they followed Renfro to Round Stone, which they followed from there to Boone's Gap, rather than cutting across by Green Hill.

Felix Walker, who left a journal of their expedition says that soon after crossing Rockcastle River they encountered rough going on account of brush and fallen timber, through which they had to cut their way for a distance of around twenty miles. This was particularly bad in the region of the mouth of Brush Creek, where it flowed into Round Stone, which accounts for Brush Creek being so named. This was possibly the result of a blow down such as occurred in this county last year in much of the same territory. It is also a matter of history that when Dr. Thomas Walker came to Rockcastle River, just twenty-five years before Boone's road-cutting crew came through, he also found big areas of downed trees along its shores, which only goes to show that our eyecone of last year was not the first to visit Rockcastle County.

In going over Boone's old trace it appears that in some localities he seemed to veer away from what would have been the natural route for buffalo (which he followed) to travel. This may be explained by the fact that in some cases the original trail they made may have been blocked fallen trees, forcing them to detour around the obstructions or take a new route.

At any rate, in addition to his meanderings over the county during the time he spent exploring this part of Kentucky, we do know definitely of two well-defined, and established routes which he followed across Rockcastle County; one of which he himself created. These were Skaggs Trace and Boone's Trail the only two roads leading from the south through Cumberland Gap and into Central Kentucky.

CONSUMER COMMENTS

By: Ed W. Hancock, Attorney General

Much consumer business is carried out through the mail, and consumers should be aware of the different types of mail and how they should be used.

First class mail consists of handwritten or typewritten matter and bills. It may not be opened for postal inspection, and only airmail is handled before it is. If you're sending a package first class, mark "First Class" on all sides in order to receive the special handling.

Second class mail is usually for magazines and periodicals. Third class mail, sometimes called "advertising mail," is generally used for large mailings. Third class mail has both single and bulk rates. Fourth class mail also is known as "parcel post." Aside from these classes of mail, there are special rates for books, records, materials for the blind, catalogs, and international mailings. Ask your postmaster about these.

For faster delivery of parcels over long distances, use airmail or express mail. As with first class mail, label airmail letters and packages on all sides to receive this quick service. Express mail is a fairly new service; it guarantees overnight delivery.

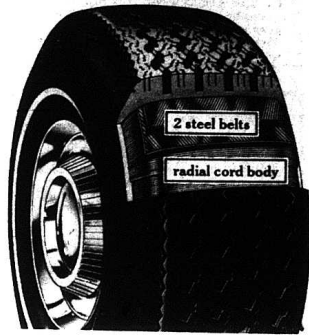

Special delivery mail gets prompt delivery to the destination post office. C.O.D. means "collect on delivery." When merchandise is ordered by a consumer, the price of both the article and postage may be collected from the consumer, as long as the total to be collected isn't over $200.

Registered and certified mail both keep a record of delivery at the destination post office. But registered mail includes extra security or payment for losses and certified mail does not. If you send something by registered mail, you will want to declare the full value of your mailing.

With both registered and certified mail, you may pay an additional fee to obtain a return receipt. This provides you with proof that your letter or package was received and by whom. If you are cancelling a sale made in your home under Kentucky's three-day cooling-off

May 4-10 Proclaimed Ky. Homemaker Week Home Line

BY CHERYL WITT
COUNTY EXTENSION
AGENT FOR HOME
ECONOMICS

May 4-10 is "Extension Homemakers Week" in Kentucky. Proclaimed by Governor Julian Carroll, the observation recognizes the efforts of the Kentucky Extension Homemakers Association (KEHA) to strengthen, develop, coordinate, and extend adult education in home economics.

During the week, nearly 30,000 KEHA members in 1,827 clubs throughout the state are taking part in special programs designed to acquaint the public with Homemakers Club activities.

What do Homemakers Club members do? That depends on the individual club, since club members decide on their own programs and activities.

However, each club offers its members opportunities to receive new information about Home and Lady, community and country, with the development of leadership skills and self-confidence often resulting from these experiences.

Club members receive up-to-date educational information and leadership training through the UK Cooperative Extension Service, with County Extension Agents for Home Economics working with local clubs. In turn, Homemakers Club members share the information gained with others in their communities. Kentucky Homemakers give a total of two million hours each year in volunteer work of this nature.

Who are Homemaker Club members?

In the early days of Extension, most of the members were farm wives. Today, more than half of the members live in town or city. And more than one-fifth live in rural areas but not on farms, while slightly over one-fourth are farm homemakers.

Another fact revealed in the survey answers concerns the working homemaker. More than one-fourth of the membership are employed outside the home, either full or part-time. And Extension Homemaker (Cont. to 12)

MY HOMEMAKING EXPERIENCE

By: JoAnn Mize

I am the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Mize, Route 1, Mt. Vernon, Kentucky.

I am a senior at Rockcastle County High School. After graduation, I plan to attend school at Eastern Kentucky University. I am going to major in Nursing.

I have been an officer in FHA for two years and I have been in home economics for three years. Serving as an officer in FHA and being a student in home economics has really been a rewarding experience for me. It has played an important role in life for me. I wish that every girl would take the opportunity to be in home economics at least one year if possible. I am sure you would find it very rewarding. It is important that a girl learn to be a good homemaker. I am grateful that I had the opportunity to be in home economics.

I am very pleased that I received this honor. I would like to thank everyone who has made this possible and a special thanks to my teachers: Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Dillingham, and Mrs. Cain.

FAIRVIEW

Ninety one persons attended Sunday School at the Fairview Baptist Church May 4.

A Bridal Shower was given for Miss Geraldine Rader of Berea Friday night May 2, at the Liberty Avenue Baptist Church, Berea, by Mrs. Thelma Harding of Macedonia and Mrs. Helein Reppert of Conway.

Among those attending were Mrs. Lucille Reppert and Mrs. Curtis Reppert and daughter Sandy of Berea, Mrs. Cleus Peters of Fairview and Mrs. Florence Reppert, Mrs. Thelma Farthing and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen of Seaford Cane. Miss Rader received many beautiful gifts. Everyone enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Mrs. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen visited Mr. and Mrs. Eli Chasteen of Disputanta and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Reppert of Conway Sunday afternoon.

I wish all you wonderful mothers everywhere a most enjoyable and happy Mother's Day. I had a dear mother, Mrs. Liddie Reppert in my home last year for Mother's Day. She attended worship services with us at Fairview. Bless her heart she always enjoyed herself so much here and we enjoyed having her. But our blessed Lord took her home to Heaven February 6th. I treasure the memories of our long talks and good times together. Only God knows how I miss her.

If you are fortunate enough to have your mother still living, do visit her on Mother's Day. If you can't visit her, call her on the phone; she'd be glad to hear from you. You know all mothers love their children. But I'm sorry to say some children don't seem to love their mother after she gets old. Many are put in nursing homes and forgotten it seems, and that is so pitiful. Bless their hearts they are precious. So be good to your parents. You'll never regret it. God bless you wherever you are.

"THE MAGIC OF MOTHERS"

There's magic in a mother's touch And sunshine in her smile. There's love in everything she does. To make our lives worthwhile. We can find both hope and courage Just by looking in her eyes. Her laughter is a source of joy. Her words are warm and wise. There's kindness and compassion To be found in her embrace. And we see the light of Heaven Shining from a mother's face.
