

JUNE is DAIRY
MONTH

CONGRATULATIONS to our

DAIRY INDUSTRY

DAIRY MONTH IS A NATURAL
TIME TO SAY
THANK YOU.

The dairy farmers and their families who live and work around our community deserve a great deal of thanks. Their stability helps our community remain stable and healthy. Their insistence on offering only the highest quality milk and dairy products sets an example for us all, and improves the quality of our lives. We congratulate them now, during Dairy Month, and thank them for their contributions.

June is Dairy Month

This month is a good time for all of us to take a closer look at our Dairy Industry. One thing is certain, it has become big business and is getting bigger every day. And our dairy farmers have done an excellent job in increasing production to meet growing demands. They are using the most modern, up-to-date equipment in rigidly controlled modern plants. We salute them for a job well done!

Marsha Lamb To Participate In IFYE Exchange Program

Mrs. Marcia Gail Lamb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lamb of Route 3 Mt. Vernon, has been selected by the International Division of the National 4-H Foundation to participate in an IFYE cross cultural exchange program this summer. Participants were first nominated by 4-H officials on the local level and the qualifications of those who expressed interest in the program were reviewed by the international division. Participants who were selected were notified about two months later. The Participants were chosen for their activities, leadership, and initiative. Marcia has been assigned to Denmark, where she will live with a Danish host family and be expected to serve as a teacher, as well as a learner, and as a leader in setting up programs between her host country and her home area. She will not only be learning about Danish life styles, but also teaching about American life.

promoting youth's participation in social life, developing youth's confidence to contribute to social change, and softening distinctions between groups of people.

The Participants will have five days at the end of their assignment to tour neighboring countries. The group assigned to Denmark plans to attend a festival at Amsterdam in the Netherlands during this time.

The group will leave their homes on June 14 for New York where they will attend an orientation session. The following day June 15, they depart for Copenhagen, Denmark and will return home July 30.

The 4-H program wishes to help increase understanding of groups of culturally different people by teaching and learning on a personal basis. This effort and its participants needs the support of local clubs and businesses. If any local organizations wish to learn about similar clubs in Denmark, and, if possible, exchange items, activities, and ideas with them please notify Marcia as soon as possible. She would also be happy to give more information to organizations interested in such exchange programs. The interest of local organizations and their willingness to share ideas and help promote international understanding can be the beginnings of the initiative and support that help to make such programs as this one more successful and fulfilling for all who are involved. Local organizations can also gain by being a part of a unique learning experience. We are sure Rockcastle County will be responsive to this international effort.

LICENSE CLERKS AIM CANDID CAMERAS

By Jane Hillard

"That's the ugliest thing I ever did see," said the Eastern Kentucky housewife, eyeing her color portrait on her new Kentucky driver's license.

"We take whatever sits down in front of us," the circuit court clerk replied in a matter-of-fact voice.

The comments of those charged with issuing drivers license and since January of this year - making the color photographs which are part of the license are varied. They range from expressions of pleased surprise at the public's acceptance to, "The law says take 'em, and we take 'em."

Carroll County Circuit

Court Clerk Virginia Fothergill says that she, and her friends in front of the camera, are always pleased with what they get. She starts out by telling the applicant, "Come on, let's get this darn thing over with. We all know each other anyway and we're all friends."

Fothergill said she usually manages to draw forth a smile for the photograph by saying, "We want everybody to know that people in Carroll County are the happiest people in the state."

Policy may change from county to county, as does the artistry of the photographer behind the Polaroid Color Pak II. Beyond the equipment, state law does not specify the physical setup the counties must use. That's up to the county; specifically, it's up to the circuit court clerk.

Jackson County Circuit Court Clerk Don Hayes built a small picture taking booth with a friend's help and materials supplied by the fiscal court. "Some people would be embarrassed," said Hayes, "to sit for a picture before an audience."

At Lexington, where they will have as many as 60-70 people at a time in one big room, there is no private booth. But the public seems to like the product, according to Kay Foley, who is in charge of the licensing office there. Foley reports they get upwards of 90 requests for duplicates each week. As in any place where a crowd must queue up, all types of people will be thrown together. Foley remembers one very nice gentleman who came in, not with, but at the same time as a woman in a jury and in a bad mood. The room was already full of applicants. She said the elderly man were being issued their applications simultaneously. She snatched the first one finished (it was his) and hurried back to the clerk at the camera, with the man following her.

When he came back past Foley's desk, he was looking at his new license. "When I came in here I was a 74 year old man; I'm going out as a 46 year old WOMAN!"

He smiled, savoring the joke of his transformation. "And it only cost me four dollars."

Jackson County's Don Hayes tells about two older men who came in wearing hats. Don suggested to the first that he remove his hat for the photograph.

"You make me take my hat off and I won't have my picture taken," he was told. Hayes told him, "Fine, if you want your picture taken with your hat on, why, just leave your hat on." The man then confessed that he was bald and didn't like to admit it.

He may be one of the few license holders wearing headgear in his picture, but if he is ever stopped by a patrolman and needs to identify himself, he will have that hat on him. And in reality - firmly attached. All of which proves that more than one of the clerks has noted men and women are wearing hats when it comes to posing for a picture. They look around for a mirror. They do a bit of quick haircombing and tie straighten their hair.

In Grayson County, Circuit Court Clerk Faye Poteet reports that on the first day the new equipment was used, she filled out the card for applicant number one and told her she would now take her picture.

"Goodness gracious I can't do that. I'll have to go out and get my hair done," the woman shrieked. She fled, leaving the completed forms on the desk. She returned perfectly coiffed to complete the process - two weeks later.

In Louisville (where approximately one-fourth of all Kentucky driver licenses are issued), comments have been favorable. There are five licensing locations. Director Eugene Hodges of the Kentucky Division of Driver Licensing said that acceptance of the photographs generally has been positive. Hodges said that after some initial problems with shipment of supplies, the program is going well. The attitude of Mrs. Ruth Johnson, circuit court clerk at Hickman in Fulton County, seems to typify the feelings of circuit court clerks around the state.

Johnson says she and her clerk both take the pictures which go on the licenses and they take the time to do it well as possible because the picture is going to be shown to a lot of people during the two-year license period.

Johnson concluded, "We want people to be pleased with the way it all turns out."

ONLY COUNTY JUDGE CAN APPOINT STATE AGENT

Charles D. Wicklieff, attorney for the Execu...

Department for Finance and Administration, asked if a circuit court judge can appoint a state agent committing a felony. It is the opinion of the Office of the Attorney General that only the county judge of the county in which the felony was committed, or the county judge in case was made, can designate the agent. There is no statute authorizing a circuit judge to perform this duty.

NO HEARING RULED NECESSARY

E.G. Clemens, superintendent of Jackson County schools, inquired as to whether a guidance counselor is entitled to a hearing under the Fair Employment and Housing Act when his position is being eliminated but he is being kept on as a teacher, drawing the same salary as he was when a counselor. It is the Office of the Attorney General's opinion that no such hearing is called for. The reassignment is clearly a lateral transfer since the teacher will not suffer any reduction in rank or pay.

AVOID THESE GARDENING MISTAKES

One of the greatest mistakes a home gardener makes is overlooking the bugs. What is important is looking them over, discovering what pests are doing the infesting and prescribing an effective remedy.

If your garden greenery is looking pale it would be a mistake not to suspect lacebugs, which are about an eighth of an inch in length with delicate antennae and slender bodies, live on the undersides of leaves and cause foliage discoloration by sucking out the juices.

If your plants have curled or distorted leaves, malformed buds, flowers or fruits, and a noticeable lack of vigor, it would be a mistake not to check for aphids, which are rounded or pear-shaped insects which reproduce rapidly in your garden.

And if flower buds fail to open or are deformed, streaked or brownish, it is wrong to overlook the possibility of thrips doing the damage. Thrips are tiny insects with eight legs.

Once you know you have any of these garden pests or any one of numerous other destructive bugs it would be a mistake not to control them with an effective pesticide such as Black Leaf 40, which contains nicotine sulphate, and kills insects with fumes and by contact with legs.

Remember also that Black Leaf 40 can rid you of mites, soil webworms, wireworms and any number of other hungry creatures eating away at your garden.

Home gardeners' big mistake is sometimes a mix of not getting at what's bugging him!

NORTHSIDE BAPTIST CHURCH in Mt. Vernon held their Vacation Bible School last week and it was highly successful as can be seen from these two photos. The top photo is of the younger classes and the bottom of the elder. Bible School Superintendent Harvey Pöensol said that enrollment was 183 with average attendance of 149 and 28 workers.

NOT ALL INFORMATION

In last week's Signal, we ran a story concerning the arrest of Mrs. Rosella Hasty following a raid at her home on Fairground Hill.

Mrs. Hasty was arrested in the raid as reported and the beer and whiskey reported in the story was taken in the raid but not from the home of Mrs. Hasty. According to City Policeman John Grider, the beer and whiskey were taken from the home of George Phillips, across the street from Mrs. Hasty, who was also arrested.

CONSUMER COMMENT

It's not your fault if you don't understand no-fault insurance; it's a complicated subject. But you had better find out about it before July 1, 1975, when Kentucky's no-fault automobile insurance law goes into effect.

In the past, injured consumers waited days, weeks, months and even years to receive compensation. As of July first, under no-fault insurance you will no longer have to prove the other driver is at fault and then try to recover compensation for your injuries from that driver's insurance company.

The new law provides immediate payment of consumers out-of-pocket losses up to $10,000. The benefits will be paid by the company insuring the automobile in which the injured person was riding, no matter whose fault the accident is.

If you are seriously injured (if your medical and rehabilitation expenses exceed $1,000 or if there has been permanent disfigurement or loss of body member or function), you receive your basic no-fault benefits and still have the right to seek additional damages from a negligent driver.

Kentucky's new no-fault law requires you to have and carry basic auto liability protection of $10,000/$20,000 for injuries and $5,000 for property damage, plus a minimum of $10,000 basic no-fault benefits for each person. Get those figures? If you didn't, or if you need a further explanation of no-fault, contact your insurance company or the Kentucky Department of Insurance.

By the way, if you're a pedestrian and think this doesn't apply to you, you're wrong. If you, as a pedestrian, are injured in an automobile accident, the company insuring the automobile makes the payment. If the driver cannot be identified or does not carry insurance, your insurance company will pay.

If you already have an automobile liability policy, it will automatically be changed by your insurance company to include the basic no-fault personal injury coverage.

However, anyone may reject this plan and maintain the present system of injury compensation, including proving fault. If you decide to reject no-fault, your rejection must be in writing and on a form you may obtain from your insurance company.

But if all members of your family do accept no-fault protection, you will receive a 10 per cent reduction in your liability rates.

Remember, though, that no-fault insurance applies only to personal injury and not to property damage or collision. Wrecked vehicles will be handled exactly as they are handled today.

If you have a consumer complaint, contact the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection. Kentucky consumers may call toll-free on the consumer hotline by dialing 1-800-372-2960. Consumers should write to: Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection, The Capitol, Room 34, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

FOCUS on FUN

FAMILY FUN ON FILM

Your youngster's everyday activities—a game of catch, a round of table tennis, a bath-time session with rubber duck—are the little things that help make home movies memorable.

Simple-to-use equipment, such as the Kodak XL movie camera that functions in low-light conditions without movie lights, makes it easy to catch those fun-filled moments as they happen. If you keep your loaded camera in a convenient place and film such candid moments, the reels will become treasures later on.

With no movie lights to set up, you just need to master a few basic techniques:

— Get acquainted with your equipment so you'll be able to concentrate on interesting content and eye-catching angles.

— Like a story, a film needs an introduction, a body made up of a logical sequence of interesting events and a conclusion. So think of appropriate scenes to frame the beginning and ending. For example, if baby's bath is the subject, you might begin with Mother placing a few spoonful of food in baby's mouth, then show the child's attempts at self-feeding. It's likely that this will lead to such a scene that bath time falls into logical sequence. The result: a scenario complete with a happy ending.

— Practice timing scenes so you can vary their length from 5 to 15 seconds. To time scenes, just count slowly as you shoot.

— Film only the part of the action that tells the story—exclude the rest. Use long shots—those filled from far away—to set the scene, medium shots to fill in details and close-ups to emphasize subjects. Include many close-ups—they're attention getters.

— Find subjects that move—that's what movie cameras are made for. But hold the camera steady as you shoot.

Home movies can be a precious record of family life.

$219,153.77 1975-76 County Budget Approved By Rockcastle Fiscal Court

At the regular June meeting of the Rockcastle Fiscal Court the budget for fiscal year 1975-76 was presented to the Court for their approval. The budget drew little discussion from the Magistrates and the $219,153.77 budget was approved unanimously and submitted to the Finance Department at Frankfort for their approval. A breakdown of the budget is as follows, with last year's actual expenditures listed in parentheses: General Government, $71,121.00 (73,033.63); Protection to Person and Property, $450 (4417); Hospital, Charities and Corrections, $1,150 ($150). The increase in this category comes from a $500 appropriation for the Civil Defense and a like amount for the Rescue Squad. Debt Service, $43,800 and Miscellaneous General Fund, $13,300 ($13,506) for a total of $129,571.00 for the General Fund.

last year's figures in parentheses: Public Safety, $91,600 ($77,000). This appropriation includes material and supplies and fuel and salary for operation of the jail; Environmental Protection, $1,385.00 ($12,000) - this figure is lower due to the fact that last year's appropriation was a subsidy for the ambulance service; Public Transportation, $30,000 ($30,000) - $10,000 for salaries, wages, etc.; $15,000 for two trucks and $5,000 for maintenance; Health $28,000 ($26,050) - includes $25,000 for garbage disposal and $3,000 for dog warding; Recreation, $3,800 ($10,000) - this figure is down because last year's appropriation because last year's appropriation was used to clear up several thousand dollars of unpaid bills on the new library and for other items - this year's appropriation is budgeted for the development of the library $1,600 ($8,600) - includes $1,000 for fringe benefits, $600 for materials and supplies; Social Services for the Poor or aged, $5,000 ($1,500); Financial Administration $6,850 ($3,250) - this appropriation includes $5,400 in salaries, wages, etc.; $1,200 for misc. bond and advertising expense and $250 for materials and supplies; Capital Construction, Maintenance or Equipment, $15,000 - no appropriation for this category was made last year and this year's appropriation includes $5,000 for courthouse repairs and $8,000 for purchase of the ambulances from Central Ambulance Service by the county.

Carter Lawson, Missing Since Sunday; Still Object of Intense Search

Carter Lawson, 74, of Route 2, Mt. Vernon has been the object of an intense search since Sunday night. Mr. Lawson, who lives on the Rockcastle River just south of Lameron has been missing since Sunday morning when he left his home to hunt Ginseng.

He was last seen by his neighbor, Eliza Himes, at about 9 a.m. Sunday and he told Mr. Himes that he was going Ginseng hunting in the Lonesome Mountain section of Horse Lick in Jackson County. According to his family, Mr. Lawson took lunch with him and told them not to worry if he was late when he returned. He was returned home about noon. The family became alarmed when Mr. Lawson did not return Sunday afternoon and began searching for him.

Other organizations who joined in the search were the Madison County Rescue Squad, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Lexington Metro Canine Force and many, many local volunteers. Some of the searchers found Monday where it was thought Mr. Himes had been digging Ginseng and also where he had lighted the search occurred Tuesday when Mrs. Rachel Himes, 71, who was Mr. Lawson's closest neighbor died of a heart attack. Mr. Himes was with the search party at the time.

City Policeman Sherman Denney Shoots Glen Pittman During Fracas

Glen Pittman of Mt. Vernon was slightly injured last Friday afternoon when he was shot in the fleshy part of the leg by a patrolman in the Lonesome Mountain section of Horse Lick in Jackson County.

Patrolman Denney signed a complaint against Pittman and Pittman was charged with "attempting to cut Sherman Denney with a knife thereby causing substantial danger to his life or physical injury."

After treatment he was taken before City Judge Virgie Sowler where he waived a preliminary hearing to the Grand Jury and filed a $500 bond.

City Council Meets; Discusses 1975-76 Budget

The Mt. Vernon City Council met in regular session Tuesday night "with" mainly routine items of business on the agenda. During the meeting, the Council did approve the Revenue Sharing Budget for 1975-76 with one minor change and discussed the general budget. The Revenue Sharing Budget shows a total income of $17,008 from revenue sharing funds and $7,000 from State of Kentucky, Gasoline tax for a total income in special funds of $24,008.

The proposed general budget for 1975-76 shows estimated receipts in the amount of $50,000 with appropriations broken down as follows: streets, $4,500; payroll, $18,000; fringe, $2,300; fire department, $1,000; emergency $1,000; building maintenance, $500; police car operating expense, $3,000; utilities, $5,000; telephone, $500; jailer, $4,000; office supplies, $500; postage, $200; printing, $700; planning, $800; insurance, $2,500; miscellaneous, $300; furniture and equipment, $2,000 and a fund fund, $3,600.

The Council also voted to establish a separate account for trucks earmarked for a new fire truck. In last week's Signal, we ran a story concerning the arrest of Mrs. Bonella Hasty following a raid at her home on Fairground Hill.

NEWS IN BRIEF

ISING UNEMPLOYMENT IN KENTUCKY

Unemployment in Kentucky is on the upswing, rising two tenths of a per cent per month. According to Robert MacDonald, labor market analyst for the Department for Human Resources (DHR), most Commonwealth counties reflect continued high unemployment, with 71 showing unemployment rates above the 7.5 state average.

fort indicate that no-fault insurance coverage is being welcomed by Kentuckians. The Department of Insurance had estimated at least 30 per cent of the state's inhabitants would have to accept no-fault insurance for the system to work well. As many as 90 to 98 per cent may opt for this coverage.

NOT ALL INFORMATION
In last week's Signal, we ran a story concerning the arrest of Mrs. Bonella Hasty following a raid at her home on Fairground Hill.

Richard H. Lewis, former state representative from the sixth district, was sworn in recently as Gov. Julian M. Carroll's chief executive officer. Lewis is replacing W. Terry McBrayer, who resigned in order to return to his law practice.

NEW BOATING REGULATIONS IN EFFECT

New regulations governing water sports in Kentucky will be in effect this summer. A number of regulations have been revised and some new ones went into effect as of May 16, according to Director of Water Enforcement Doug Shoulters. Most of the changes affect water skiing, water skiing, and scuba diving. Important changes include the mandatory usage of approved life jackets for skiing and kiting, as well as the participation of a third person to act as an observer in these two sports.

Frankfort Watchline

It came Sen. Joe Graves has his way, the next time a legislator is buttonholed in the Capitol corridors by someone peddling the latest special interest legislation, at least the lawmaker will be able look at the badge and find out who the buttonholer is working for.

Not only that, but the buttonholer would have to report the coffee he buys for the legislator or even the stronger potables in those rare occasions when legislators drink something stronger than coffee.

Even further, Graves would eliminate the time-honored practice of former legislators earning a living by peddling somebody's interests to their former compatriots, at least for a respectable period of seclusion after leaving office.

Surely, such things couldn't happen in Kentucky. Surely a voice will rise up in protest of these dastardly changes that could corrupt our present system.

Surely, at least, it penalties for abuse can be lessened. Surely, backcracking cannot be made a felony.

Well, the red herring has already been raised. The complaints and concerns are already being aired. And there is little doubt that any really stiff measure such as Graves has proposed, would be likely to die in the next General Assembly.

The probable course of the attacks on the stricter proposals will be that the legislature would be limiting the rights of citizens at large to promote or defeat new laws.

This way the legislature can brush off any serious attempt to control the now uncontrolled lobbying in this state by deeming it to be in the best interests of the citizenry.

Considering what the legislators are used to, it is quite true that any lobbying legislation short of wiping the current law off the books without replacing it would be far stronger than what the politicians are now used to.

The current law is outdated, vague, and so poorly enforced that if it did not exist few would miss it. In years past, it has taken the most conscientious lobbyist just to figure out what he law requires.

Thus far, Republican gubernatorial candidate Robert has declined to discuss the mysterious $100,000 that supposedly was delivered out of Watergate-ridden Washington to the campaign of then senatorial candidate Tom Conover.

Yet, the issue refuses to die, and while Sen. Wendell Ford may have some tall explaining yet to do on the alleged fund raising that went on in Wise, West Virginia, in his campaign for governor, Ford is substantially out of the political arena for a while.

Gable, on the other hand, is facing a 100% uphill battle against Gov. Julian Carroll and considering the legislative discussions of last week, it appears Gable may be forced to address the issue to establish credibility.

Meanwhile, Gable is busy running a name recognition campaign, something he feels is necessary since there was virtually no primary campaign publicity on the GOP side of the ticket.

It seems strange to think that a man with Gable's background would need an intensive campaign for name recognition, and even more strange that the chief candidate of a major party would need to seek such simple recognition.

However, it is the first time in more than 20 years a candidate has had to face an incumbent governor running for governor and even in Kentucky, were less of a Democratic state that alone would place the "other" candidate at a disadvantage.

Two ROCKCASTLE COUNTY 4-HERS TOMBETRY STATE 4-H FASHION REVUE AT UK

4-H Fashion - It's Where You're At - is the theme of the 1975 Kentucky 4-H Fashion Revue, June 11 at the University of Kentucky in Lexington. And at the 4-H Revue is where Tarina Morris and Carolyn Lamb will be as they represent Rockcastle County at this state event.

They will join 150 other senior 4-H'ers (ages 14-19) from throughout Kentucky, modeling ensembles made in their 4-H clothing or knitting project work. All participants have won top honors in county 4-H Fashion Revues to become eligible for state competitions, according to Cheryl Witt, County Extension Agent for 4-H.

Tarina Morris, 17, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Morris, Johnetta, will be competing in the Mix-Match unit with her Blue Denim Skirt and Jacket; Carolyn Lamb, 15, will be wearing her flowered knit dress in special occasion unit.

Other units represented in the Fashion Revue will be dress, advanced dress, outer wear, knitting (combined fabric and knitting), and creative clothing (where the 4-H'ers has designed the outfit or made special changes in a bought pattern).

Thirty-five semi-finalists will be chosen from all Fashion Revue participants and, from this group, 10 finalists will be named.

This year's Fashion Revue is being held in conjunction with the annual Kentucky 4-H Week, which is expected to attract some 1,000 4-H'ers and will focus on teen leadership. Fashion Revue participants will join 4-H Week delegates from some of their sessions, and all those attending 4-H Week will see the Fashion Revue itself on Wednesday night.

Rockcastle County's 4-H'ers accompanied by Cheryl Witt, will leave for Lexington Tuesday, June 10. After an orientation program and a Fashion Revue, respectively that afternoon, they will attend a session on grooming, make-up, modeling, and pots, conducted by the fashion department of Lexington's Sears department store. Monday night's program, with the 4-H Week delegates, is a sock-hop and pizza party.

Wednesday is devoted to rehearsal for the Fashion Revue and judging of the participants and their outfits, and the Fashion Revue is scheduled for 7:30 that night at the UK Coliseum.

On Thursday afternoon, special seminars will be held for Fashion Revue participants. Topics include fusible fabrics, zippers, recycling clothing, baggies, merchandising careers, time-saving sewing, and sewing for the home. They will join the 4-H Week delegates for Thursday assemblies and for a banquet and dance, which closes the event that night.

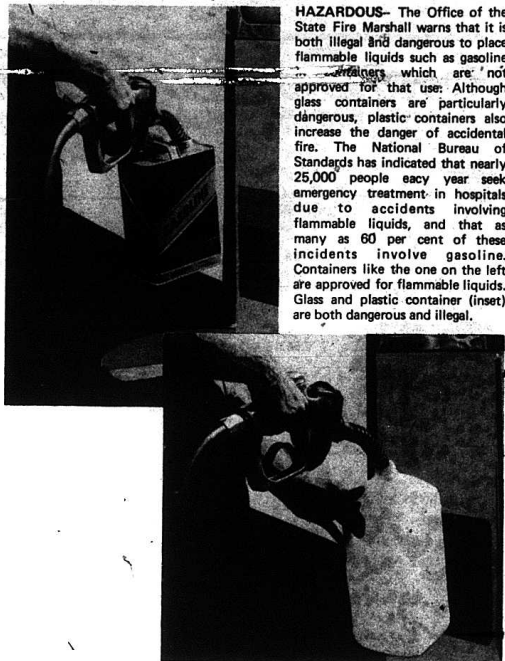

In selecting 4-H Fashion Revue winners, the judges consider such points as: Is the 4-H'er poised and well-groomed? Does she have good posture and outfit fit well and is it becoming to her? Is the garment's color, fabric, texture, line, and design suitable to the 4-H'er and to the occasions on which she intends to wear it? How well has she selected her accessories?

HAZARDOUS- The Office of the State Fire Marshall warns that it is both illegal and dangerous to place flammable liquids such as gasoline in plastic jugs, which are not approved for that use. Although glass containers are particularly dangerous, plastic containers also increase the danger of accidental fire. The National Bureau of Standards has indicated that nearly 25,000 people each year seek emergency treatment in hospitals due to accidents involving flammable liquids, and that as many as 60 per cent of these incidents involve gasoline. Containers like the one on the left are approved for flammable liquids. Glass and plastic container (inset) are both dangerous and illegal.

EER. AN AIR CONDITIONER'S HIDDEN COST TAG.

Not all air conditioners are the same. Some use 40% to 50% less electricity than others to do the same amount of cooling.

To make sure the air conditioner you buy will cost less to operate you need to determine its Energy Efficiency Ratio... the EER. The higher the EER, the better.

Some manufacturers attach a special EER tag to their units. Look for the unit with the highest number on its tag. But, if there is no tag, you can easily calculate the EER from the information on the name plate attached to the back of every air conditioner.

To figure the EER, divide the number of watts into the number of BTU's. The EER of an 8700 BTU unit having a metal plate like the one illustrated here would look like this:

$$\frac{925 \text{ WATTS}}{8,700 \text{ BTU'S}} = 9.4 \text{ EER}$$

EER. The bigger the number, the less need for electricity. We recommend an EER of 8 or more. A higher EER will help you beat the heat while you save valuable electricity. And that's a cool way to conserve energy and save money.

Electricity... use it wisely.

KENTUCKY HOMEMAKERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING AT UK

Homemakers Club members all over Kentucky are getting for a trip to Lexington June 4-6 to attend the Kentucky Extension Homemakers Association annual meeting. Held in March in previous years, the KEHA meeting is expected to attract some 1,800 Homemakers this year.

Theme of the meeting is "Homemakers Grow and Share", emphasizing how Homemakers grow through learning experiences in their clubs and at meetings such as these and then share what they have gained with others. Highlighting the meeting are speakers and "learning sessions" on topics of special interest to Homemakers.

"Learning sessions" are planned for Thursday afternoon, with Homemakers choosing which to attend according to (Cont. to 9)

Mrs. Kizzie Ponder Cummins celebrated her 88th birthday Sunday at the home of her grandson, Robert W. Fields at Pongo. Approximately 70 guests were present for the occasion and enjoyed a post-lunch. Mrs. Cummins Celebrates 88th Birthday Sunday

Listening to Mrs. Kizzie Ponder Cummins reminisce about early school-teaching days in Rockcastle County was a highlight for her friends and relatives who gathered Sunday at the home of her grandson, Robert W. Fields at Pongo, for an 88th birthday celebration for Mrs. Cummins.

Mrs. Cummins, who was born in Clay County in 1887, had dreamed of nursing as a profession but was discouraged by her mother who thought that this task was not proper for a young lady. Mrs. Cummins kept to the goal of teaching and was happy when her family moved to Berea where she studied for the two-year diploma. She also attended Eastern Normal in Richmond.

Several of Mrs. Cummins' former students from 1910 claimed that there were few discipline problems but Mrs. Cummins remembers that at Flat Rock some of the children chewed and spit tobacco on the floor. Mrs. Cummins recalls that after the floor was cleaned she riding her mother's horse and carrying her own kindling wood for the fire. She taught grades one through five in the same room. "Everyone studied their lesson while I worked with a group", Mrs. Cummins said. "I took each class in turn and would give the littlest ones a rest out of doors." Scaffold Cane school was reached by train and the last school at which she taught, Flatrock, was close to her home, so she walked.

Rockcastle Recollections

By John Lee

James O'Mara tells a story handed down through the Teague family living along Rockcastle River on what is now Route 80, their old home being on the right side of the road, just after you cross the river going toward Bomcorse. The elderly Mrs. Teague said that when she was a child, in the eighties hundreds, three strange men came to their home asking for supper and a night's lodging. They stayed around the neighborhood for several days, searching for what they described as a big cliff with a white oak tree growing on the top of it. They said, they would have a long limb sticking out towards the river and trimmed of its branches, as an identifying sign.

It finally got out that they had a crude map and were trying to locate this cliff and tree because it marked the spot where a large amount of silver had been hidden by a group of early settlers, trying to escape from a party of Indians who were closely pursuing them.

Those three men being so secretive in their movements naturally caused residents of the community to spy on them to see what was going on. One of the watchers reported that he had seen them locate the spot, dig up the money and bury it again, no doubt expecting to come back for it later, under cover of darkness. He said that he had followed them a short distance and had seen one of them kill his two companions and cover their bodies with brush and leaves and then burn the map, following which he disappeared from the community. A short time later a landslide occurred carrying the tree and a large amount of dirt on top of the second burial place so that it could never be located and reached again. Unless the surviving member of the original search party had slipped in and unearthed the treasure before the landslide occurred, the money is still there.

I recall, as a small boy, that every time we raised corn on a certain hillside above a spring on my grandfather Lair's farm we would turn up, sometime during its cultivation that summer, three or four old coins. We at first figured we were striking the edge of a big deposit of such coins, but since the supply soon ceased we became satisfied that our findings must have been the contents of an old purse or bag lost by some person, it having later rotted and allowed the coins to escape and wash down the hillside. That theory was made more probable by the fact that an old log house had once stood on the hill above and had been occupied by a pioneer family, many years past. An interesting find of several very old coins was reported only a few years ago in the yard around the old Gustafson place at the head of Little Rocker Creek. These, also, had probably been lost from somebody's pocket rather than being a part of a treasure cache.

Back in 1938, when the basement was being dug for the Renfro Valley Lodge, a couple of old Mexican silver coins were turned up, which caused something of a stir among the usual onlookers generally in attendance at such activities, but interest did not reach a peak until a large iron key of ancient pattern came to light. The conclusion that it might have belonged to a money chest still unopened was instant and unanimous and all bystanders who could get hold of a pick or shovel immediately joined the digging crew. No treasure chest was found, but we did get our basement dug in record time and at a minimum expense.

Many Rockcastle County folks can remember the old log house that stood above the railroad tunnel at Burr. This was the Liberty Langford house and was for many years operated as a roadside stand, or tavern, in the early history of the county and was also the Langford stronghold under attack by the KKK in the beginning of The Battle of Sand Hill. Liberty was accounted a man of means in the community and was said to keep a substantial amount of cash on hands for livestock and slave dealings. Soon after the Sand Hill fight he is said to have converted much of his property into cash.

and buried it under a rocky ledge near this house, suring the family that the hiding place would be revealed before his death. Somewhat later he suffered a serious illness, which finally affected his mind so that he himself could not remember where he had buried his money. He continued to search for it as long as he was able to get about, but could never find it and could never remember to tell the family where to look for it.

Betty French, now eighty and living with her daughter in Hamilton, Ohio was a former resident of Rockcastle County, the wife of Rollie French, now deceased. She writes that her husband used to talk about a large amount of money buried on White Oak Branch by a Union Army paymaster during the Civil War. He was carrying a considerable amount of gold with which to pay off a number of soldiers temporarily stationed near here. His horse died and the money bags were so heavy that he could not carry them, so he buried them under a large oak tree and marked the place with a triangular-shaped rock, until he could go to camp and get another horse to use. He was supposed to have been murdered before reaching camp by Confederate guerrillas who were prowling the woods and who knew nothing of his having ever had payroll money in custody. According to Mrs. French, her husband's friends and neighbors spent many days looking for this money but were never able to find it.

According to an article in the Mt. Vernon Signal for November first, 1904, there was considerable interest in possible treasures hidden by man's nature rather than by man. There had been previous accounts of discoveries of gold ore in the Big Hill section, where two companies from Richmond with the aid of chemists and other professionals, were reported to have found ore assayed to produce from $17.00 to $250.00 per ton. D.N. Williams and W.S. Stewart are reported as having visited the site of the operations to determine the truth of such claims.

These two gentlemen returned with the report that they had found a beech tree with the word "gold" carved on it, together with a date of 1711. They located this tree as standing on Beechmount, wherever that was. They seriously weakened the credibility of their find, however, when they stated that the tree was about twenty inches in diameter, the consensus of opinion being that a beech tree large enough for such an inscription in 1711 would be more than twenty inches in diameter one hundred and ninety three years later.

At any rate, there was sufficient interest to cause these gentlemen and several other Rockcastle County business men to form a stock company for the purpose of carrying on gold mining operations. What the outcome was and whatever happened to the goldmining business in this or surrounding counties, we have not taken the trouble to learn, being inclined to the opinion that the whole thing from beginning to end was the brain child of some slick promoter.

WHAT TO DO IN JUNE

June is a month of undiminished activity both in nature and in the garden. During its long days, trees and shrubs reach their leafy best flowers become most plentiful and richest in color, and usually there are more days of sunshine than in any other month.

Butterflies hover over roadside flowers and mother birds, with nests full of young, work unceasingly throughout

PCA Advisory Council Holds Annual Meeting

"DOWN ON THE FARM" By Roy G. Brown Assistant Vice President Cumberland Production Credit Association

The PCA Advisory Council held their annual meeting recently down on the farm of Roy and Flora Mae Brown with a delicious dinner served prior to the business meeting.

Members of the council attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Houston, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Durham, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Norton, and Bill's mother, Mrs. Alice Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Ford, Kenneth York, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy H. Mink, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cox and sons, Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. Jess F. Bullock, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hanes and son and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Edwards and daughter. Special guests from London were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cornelius. Special guests from Somerset were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Durham and son, Mr. and Mrs. Barkley Colson, Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Sherman and Mrs. Sherman's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Leemon Colyer.

After enjoying the dinner, the Council discussed how PCA could better serve farmers. It was agreed by all that some form of record keeping would be a must on most farms of any size if we as farmers want to keep up-to-date on ways costs could be cut and also give more time to things that make the most return on our investment.

Sometimes, those little things we may not think much about at the time in a year or two become a large item. Another thing we as farmers fail to get done in time is planning for disposal of our estate at death. There are ways we can save the estate many dollars if a will and deeds were properly prepared. Why work a life time and give the largest part in taxes and court costs? PCA plans on having meetings with someone to explain what we, as farmers, can do to protect our estate and loved ones from unnecessary expense. Other things discussed were closer work with 4-H, FFA and young farmers because they will be farmers tomorrow. TOWN ON THE FARM.

the days to keep them well fed. Bees hurry from flower to flower gathering nectar for the hive and, without being aware of their good deeds, carry on the very necessary task of pollination so that both flowers and vegetables can be more plentiful.

According to Extension garden specialists at the University of Kentucky, the most important thing to do in the garden in June is cultivate. Cultivation helps disrupt the activities of ants and other garden insects. It conserves moisture in the soil and, more importantly, keeps weeds and crabgrass from taking over. Don't, however, cultivate too deep. Otherwise, plant roots that are shallow will be pulled and the plants stunted.

A lot of effort at weed control can be saved by mulching. Properly applied, mulches reduce weed growth, maintain good soil structure, and conserve moisture. For the best results work organic mulches, spread to a depth of two inches or more.

For thicker evergreens, prune back as much as two-thirds of the new growth in early June. UK horticulturists recommend flowering trees and shrubs, such as azaleas, gladiolus, weigela, and broom lilac, should be pruned as their blooms are gone.

And cut off the flower heads of delphiniums after they bloom. When chrysanthemums reach a height of 8 inches, pinch back the tips lower to help make the plants grow and bushier. Continuing into early July, new branches should be pinched when they reach a length of about 4 inches.

Start looking for signs of insect damage and disease early in June and take appropriate action. Precautions taken now may save an epidemic both later in the season. Your county Extension agent can give you helpful advice on these and other garden problems.

Spray ants with chlordane if they are throwing up hills on the lawn. Also give the spray treatment to the foundation if they start coming in the house.

Use traps to control moles. If their runs and hills start disfiguring the lawn, trap or roll down and then set mole traps in the reopened runs.

START FLY CONTROL EARLY

Starting fly control programs early will make for better control the entire summer. The horn fly and face fly are the two major pests of the beef cow herd. Both breed in fresh manure. Good control measures for these flies will also help control other flies such as the housefly and stable fly.

The horn fly is a small blood sucking insect and strays on the animal most of the time, usually on the back and shoulders. Properly charged backrubbers are very effective for controlling the horn fly. The backrubbers should be located close to the water source and mineral feeder or across gate openings where cattle have to pass thru.

Backrubbers placed in the shade will not have to be re-charged as often as one exposed to the elements.

The face fly is larger, about the size of a house fly, and more difficult to control. They are generally found around the head feeding near the eyes and nostrils. Face flies are not blood suckers but cause irritation and a nuisance to the animal and are believed to be a primary factor in the incidence of pink eye in the herd.

Dust bags or "butt bags" are one of the best control for face flies. They need to be located in much the same manner as backrubbers, where cattle will use them as they enter and kept charged with a recommended insecticide.

Frequent spraying is a good control for all flies but cattle have to be gotten up to do so. This requires additional labor and is more time consuming. Extension publication ENT-11 by C.M. Christensen, Extension Entomologist, lists the recommended insecticides to be used on beef animals and is available from your county Extension agent.

Contrary to popular belief, Colonel James Bowie did not invent the bowie knife. His brother Rezin Pleasant Bowie did.

told the class, "Now we'll have no more of this..." and she didn't.

The children walked to school and the only way school was called off if the teacher couldn't ride across the creek due to high water.

"Children used to honor and respect their teacher - now I'm not sure they do. Her great-grandson, Lee Browning of Hamilton, Ohio, who was present and had been listening agreed but hurriedly added that he respected most of his teachers but a lot of kids didn't."

Mrs. Cummins related that the children carried water to the school and she brought the kindling to start the fire every day. "We just took these jobs for granted," Mrs. Cummins said. Willie Cummins and together they reared a family of three fine children. They also have eight grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren. The Cummins owned and operated grocery stores in Mt. Vernon and Livingston. In addition to living and working in Hamilton, Ohio, Church work and helping out in the community where they lived brought much pleasure. In Covington, they opened their home for a prayer group which later became a church. When asked her opinion about America today, Mrs. Cummins commented, "It seems as though almost everyone has turned away from God. I've known Him and tried to serve Him since I was 12 and I'm happy for all these years."

TIME TO PUT UP STRAWBERRIES

Pickers are busy in Kentucky berry patches these days. They're filling up quart after quart box with strawberries for fresh eating, for freezing, and for putting up jams and preserves.

That sunburn, that aching back, the tedious snipping-off of little green caps will all be worth it when you tuck containers of strawberries into the freezer and admire your jars of colorful homemade preserves.

County Extension agent for home economics Cheryl Witt, gives the following directions for freezing strawberries and making preserves. (Stop by her office at Mt. Vernon Court House for a free copy of Circular 626, "Home Freezing of Fruits and Vegetables.")

HOW TO FREEZE STRAWBERRIES

Strawberries can be frozen with sugar, with syrup or just plain. The sugar and syrup packs, however, make a better-quality frozen product. Directions given here are for the sugar pack. Follow the same general steps for other berries and fruits packed in sugar. Ascorbic acid is added to help keep the fresh, natural color of the fruit and to hold the flavor. Freeze strawberries without sugar if you plan to use them for preserves and jam later on. (See illustrations.)

STRAWBERRY PRESERVES

Select large, firm, tart strawberries—about 2 quart boxes full. Wash and drain berries. Remove caps. Measure out 6 cups of strawberries and 4 1/2 cups of sugar. Combine berries and sugar in alternate layers and let stand for 8 to 10 hours or overnight in the refrigerator or other cool place. Next, heat the berry and juice mixture to boiling, stirring gently. Boil rapidly, stirring to prevent sticking. Cook to 9 degrees F. above the boiling point of water, or until the syrup is somewhat thick. Remove from heat, and skim off the foamy liquid on top. Fill hot, clean half-pint canning jars and seal according to direction that came with the type of jar you are using. Put filled jars into boiling-water-bath canner. Add hot water to bring water an inch or two over tops of jars. Bring water to a rolling boil and boil gently for 5 minutes. Remove jars from canner after processing. Cool away from drafts before storing.

Jellies are recommended only for jellies says Cheryl. For safe keeping, process all other jams and preserves in your boiling-water-bath canner.

UNCOOKED STRAWBERRY JAM

Here is Cheryl's recipe for a delicious uncooked jam that you can store in your refrigerator or freezer. It will keep for several months in a refrigerator and about a year in a freezer. Once a container is opened, however, you should use the jam up within a few days.

This calls for 3 cups of crushed strawberries (or blackberries, raspberries, or blueberries), 5 cups of sugar, 1 package of powdered pectin, add 1 cup of water.

Sort and wash fully-ripened berries. Drain. Remove caps and stems. Crush berries (grind blueberries).

Measure 3 cups of crushed berries into a large mixing bowl. Add sugar, mix well, and let stand for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Dissolve the pectin in the water, bring to a boil for 1 minute. Add pectin solution to the fruit-and-sugar mixture and stir for 2 minutes.

Ladle the jam into jelly glasses or into suitable freezer containers, leaving 1/2-inch space at the top. Cover the containers and let stand for 24 to 48 hours, or until the jam has set. Then cover with 1/8-inch layer of hot paraffin. This makes about nine 6-ounce glasses.

If the jam is too firm, it can be softened by stirring. If it tends to separate, stirring will blend it again. If it is too soft, bring the jam to a boil and it will thicken as it cools.

The annual meeting closes with a luncheon which will feature recognition of women who have been Homemakers Club members for 50 years and a fashion show entitled "Sew in the Spirit of '76," by Mason

County Homemakers

Attending from Rockcastle are Joyce Cray and Carol Martin. Quail Homemakers Club and Emily Crawford and Ella Mae Martin of Brodehead Williams Workers. Accompanying the Homemakers are Cheryl Witt, County Extension Agent for Home Economics and Susann Duckett, Extension Intern.
