Save Money At Laundry Time

Follow some simple energy-saving tips at laundry time to save money, too! Here's how:

Wash clothes in cold water. There's no noticeable difference in laundering results between hot and cold water washes.

Do only full laundry loads. Several small loads of laundry use more water and electricity than one big load.

Sort clothes according to amount and kind of soil, colorfastness and type of fabric. A regular laundry load will need a full 10-minute wash cycle; lightly soiled items can be cleaned by a shorter wash cycle.

Pretreat extra dirty spots on clothes with Spray 'n Wash - laundry soil and stain remover. Spray it on extra-tough spots and stains, let set for one minute, and launder the item normally with the rest of the wash.

Use an all-temperature detergent.

Don't over-dry laundry. Besides wasting electricity, over-drying wrinkles clothes.

Take full advantage of clear, warm days and hang your wet laundry outdoors to be air-dried.

Save on ironing, too, by folding clothes while they're still warm from the dryer. Wrinkles can be "pressed out" by hand if they don't have time to set.

Miss Marcia Lamb Returns From Denmark

Marcia Gail Lamb returned recently from Denmark where she participated in an international 4-H Youth Exchange Caravan.

Nearly 100 4-H members from across the nation traveled to Scotland, Switzerland, New Zealand, Denmark or the Netherlands to live with host families and learn about youth programs similar to 4-H. The caravan to Denmark had seventeen members. Carvan is sponsored by the National 4-H Foundation in behalf of the Cooperative Extension Service.

While the United States Caravans were abroad, young people from the Netherlands and Sweden were having a similar experience of family living here in the United States.

Marcia said that the most exciting parts of the travel experience were not only to go abroad and tour famous or historical areas within the country, but to actually be able to experience Denmark by living with a family and learn about and share their lives.

families and to accept and return their generosity and warmhearted kindness. Mrs. Gene Horn, who is with the extension service at Watska, Illinois accompanied the group.

Following their stay in Denmark Caravanners also visited Amsterdam.

Marcia is enthusiastic about international activities in 4-H and plans to share her experience as much as possible with other 4-Hers and with various organizations. Returning caravanners want others to know of their unique international experience of fellowship and understanding. Marcia is available for slide presentations and talks concerning her summer experience and the I.F.Y.E. program to any organization, club and business meetings, and special programs. Please contact Marcia at 256-4184 or through the local extension office.

Marcia Gail Lamb is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lamb of Route 3, Mt. Vernon.

Mrs. Cheryl Witt, Mt. Vernon extension office or Mr. Fred Brockman from the state extension office in Lexington can provide information about ways in which young people can participate in future caravans and other 4-H programs.

A vicious wind and hail storm tore through the Hatt and Mareburg sections of the county early Monday afternoon and several tobacco crops in the area suffered extensive damage. In the above photo, Roy Brown, executive vice president of PCA, examines a tobacco leaf which was torn from the stalk on the farm of Walter Durham in the Mareburg Area. Mr. Durham's one-and-one-half acres was severely damaged by hail stones which were, according to reports, as large as nickels. Earl Bullock's crop, across the road from the Durham farm, was also severely damaged as well as those of Francis Thompson and Bert Hopkins in the Mareburg area. The Durham crop was not covered by hail insurance.

School Cooks Workshop Held

A workshop for all school cooks in the county was held Wednesday, August 14, at the Rockcastle County High School cafeteria.

During the workshop, the cooks were informed of their duties and responsibilities and methods of preparing, economical and nutritional meals. They were also addressed by Supt. Charles Parsons, Tony Hopkins of the Rockcastle County Health Dept. and Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Thompson of Somerset.

Mt. Vernon Lions To Sponsor Community Flea Market Aug 30

Several Take Issue With Corridor Proposed For New Hwy. 461

Over 150 persons, mainly from Rockcastle County, attended the Highway Corridor Public Hearing held Tuesday night at the Rockcastle County High School and when statements concerning the route proposed by the Highway Department were taken, there were several differences of opinion voiced as to where the route should be located.

The meeting was opened with a summary of information given at last week's pre-hearing held at the high school and the group was told the purpose of this meeting was to give local people the opportunity to put to record their views and recommendations, pro and con, which they would like to state.

The group was told that everything that was said at the meeting would be recorded and later reviewed by state and federal officials.

D.J. Garland, planning engineer for District 3, then summarized for the group the six alternatives that were originally considered by the Department of Highways for location of the new 461. He also stated that the route proposed by the department at present was only of general alignment and could be shifted considerably within the corridor approved for construction.

Right-of-way acquisition was explained by Ray Wells who said that this consisted mainly of four items: (1) Title Search; (2) Appraisal; (3) Negotiations; and (4) Closing the Deal when price is agreeable.

Following more discussion, statements from the audience were called for and Raymond Rickles of Columbus, Ohio was the first to respond. Mr. Rickles had a list of questions concerning the effect the new road would have on the development of land owned by Mr. Rickles on the Old Road, Alternate 1, the route proposed by the highway department, will go directly through the land owned by Mr. Rickles.

Following Mr. Rickles, two gentlemen from Somerset read statements into the record urging the construction of this road as quickly as possible. They emphasized that they were in no way trying to tell Rockcastle

Countians how the road should go but only that they desired to see the road planned and under construction as quickly as possible to facilitate Somerset and Pulaski County's access to Interstate-75.

Gatloff Craig next made a statement and Mr. Craig told the group that he although he felt sure the highway department had good reasons for choosing Alternate 1 over the other alternates, he would not sure of these reasons, and felt that the western route would better serve the opening up of land in the county to industrial development.

See three residents of Rockcastle County spoke out Tuesday night at the Highway 461 Corridor Public Hearing held at the high school. Gatloff Craig, executive director of the Cumberland Valley Area Development District, for left, went on record as supporting the western route over the

In case you have been wondering why your auto insurance premium bill doesn't reflect that 10 per cent decrease set up in the legislation, it is because something else is created.

The decrease, stuck in the bill to make it more palatable to both legislators and the public, concerned only liability insurance premiums.

It had no effect whatsoever on the property damage premiums, and those are rising, enough already in some cases, to erase any possible savings in the total premium because of the no fault liability.

Most people, however, seem not to have been fully apprised of the difference, and have been left with the feeling that they were sold a bill of goods instead of a lower bill.

Insurance Commissioner Harold McGuffey reads innocent to this, saying that he has always tried to establish the difference in discussions.

But he admits that despite the publicity, many people just don't understand.

He also thinks that another factor is the inability of anyone, lawmakers included, to have foreseen 18 months ago the rise in property damage insurance rates taking place right now. McGuffey said that in 1974 insurance companies nationwide suffered $2.5 billion in losses, four times the previous record set in 1969. Estimates for this year, according to McGuffey, place losses at five times the 1974 figure.

Because of this, McGuffey says nearly all companies have raised or are in the process of raising their rates.

Inflation and record high claims are also taking their toll among insurance companies, themselves.

"There is the real possibi-

Mr. Brown and Teddy Brock, also in the Brindle Ridge section, are shown holding up one of the stalks of tobacco which was blown flat by wind Monday afternoon. No real damage was reported on the Brock farm but the entire crop was leveled by the wind. Other farms in the Brindle Ridge section reporting damage were those of Vergil Abney, John Laswell, Tommy Harold Mink, Floyd Gabbard and Deart McKinney.

ity of a number of insolvencies this year," McGuffey said.

One "big ten" firm has stopped writing new auto policies and another major firm has ceased writing new home owners' policies, the commissioner pointed out.

Gov. Julian Carroll has informed legislators of his view on collective bargaining, at least in a roundabout way.

The legislative subcommittee that has been conducting public hearings on the controversial subject asked last month for Carroll or his designee to apprise the committee of the governor's views.

Carroll had been on record as saying that the issue was a matter of public policy that would be decided by the General Assembly.

As noted in this column recently, that might have left the legislature completely in the dark, only to come up with a bill the governor would veto.

So Carroll has listed three specific things he would "unequivocally" veto a bill on. The most significant clarifies, finally, Carroll's view that he will veto any legislation that would permit public employes to strike.

That meshes with the stand his opponent, Bob Gable, has taken.

However, at this point, his own objections to collective bargaining legislation are not completely clear.

It appears that he may oppose any bill that would bind elected public officials to contracts that would raise taxes.

economical growth in the county. He also mentioned safety as a factor in selecting the western route saying that school children would have to cross alternate one twice a day if it were chosen alternate one runs behind the new county high school and intersects Old Brodhead Road there. Mr. Brown also felt that land acquisition costs would be much less outside of Mt. Vernon and he too mentioned the opening up of the industrial site on which there is now an option.

Mr. Brown presented statements of support for the Western route from the City of Monticello, the Rockcastle County Homemakers, Tri-City Rescue Squad and the Somerset-Pulaski County Chamber of Commerce for the record.

Wade Hopkins, owner of Hopkins Machine Shop on Hwy. 150, then spoke in support of Alternate 1. Mr. Hopkins said that he felt that there would be less pollution to the water system by this route and that the Western route would destroy more farm land than the one proposed by the Highway Department.

Melvin "Snooky" Taylor of Mt. Vernon next spoke and told the group that he had worked in Lexington for 20 years and commuted there each day. He said he didn't mind this because he would rather commute to a factory in Lexington than to have industry in Rockcastle County and the social and economical problems it would bring.

Ray Brown then posed a question to the Highway department representatives if the drainage from both Alternates 1 and the Western route wouldn't go the same way. The highway department was unable to answer the question completely except to say that they had been concerned with drainage from the Western route while it was under construction and its harm to Lake Linville and our water system.

Verla Scott of Route 3, Crab Orchard (in Rockcastle County), a teacher in the county school system for a number of years, spoke to the group and told them that it was "a dream come true for residents between Mt. Vernon and Somerset, and tourists." Mrs. Scott urged the residents of Rockcastle County to stay together on a route and get the project built.

While favoring no specific route, Mrs. Scott told the group that Rockcastle County did need industry badly so that our boys and girls could stay at home and work rather than "receiving their diploma one day and leaving the area the next to find work."

Clay Colson was the last speaker during the meeting and Mr. Colson too urged that the Western alternate be selected.

He said that this area needs room to expand and this route would provide this; and, that the building of the route along Alternate 1 would cause congestion in Mt. Vernon since any gathering at the school would cause traffic to have to get on or cross alternate 1.

The noise created by traffic moving too closely to the school was also mentioned by Mr. Colson who said that he lived within a mile of Interstate-75 and that quite often he was unable to sleep by the noise generated from that road.

Stating that while he felt that any route selected would be of benefit to the county, he felt that the western route would open up the county to recreational and industrial development thereby benefiting the county economically.

That Department of Highways will accept written statements concerning the proposed route until August 29th. Statements may be sent to District Eight Office, P.O. Box 11127, Lexington, Kentucky 40511.

Mainly, we felt that the expense for this service ($28,496.16 in fiscal year 1974-75) as too great for a system which we did not feel met the needs of the people of Rockcastle County besides creating a health menace because of the condition of the areas around the containers.

Rockcastle Recollections

By: John Lair

For Baptist living in the Ottawa section of Rockcastle County in 1890 the nearest church of their faith was at Brodhead, Kentucky. In spite of the distance many people made the long ride, weather and roads permitting. Among these was Josiah Johnson, a man of deep religious convictions who prayed and read his Bible daily and was concerned for the salvation of his neighbors as well as his own.

Mr. Johnson by hard work and industry had acquired a good farm and in addition to the income derived from it drew a Government pension for injuries received during his services in the Civil War. He became very anxious to see a place of worship erected in his home community and frequently discussed his ideas with such neighbors as James Wallen, Nathan Harris, Charles Johnson and James Albright, all substantial community leaders at the time. The decision was soon reached to build and Mr. Johnson gave the ground for the church house and the original cemetery in connection with it.

The people all helped in any way that they could and soon a building thirty by twenty, with three windows on each side and one at the end was completed, using rough green lumber throughout. Owing to the contour of the land the back end of the church was around four feet above the ground, furnishing the neighbor's hogs with a sheltered place for sleeping and fighting, since there were no stock laws at that time and all farm animals were allowed to run at large. As the green lumber seasoned out white cracks appeared in the timber and would then take the congregation. But this did not discourage attendance and the congregation turned out regularly to listen to the inspired sermons of Brother Jim Cummins, Brother Dock Gooch, Brother Phelps and others.

Practically all the congregation attended on horseback and Brother Lige Wallen is remembered as the gallant who would be there to help the ladies, in their long black riding skirts, alight from their horses on the timber and would then take their mounts and hitch them in the shady grove nearby. Brother Wallen was also a mighty singer, but sometimes held his hymnbook upside-down, lending further support to the belief that he could not read a word in it.

The congregation was constituted as Union Ridge Baptist Church. In the year of its dedication (1901) Mrs. Dolly Braley and Mrs. Alba Hamm were among the first to be added by baptism. The first funeral conducted in the church was that of Mary Ann Johnson, wife of the founder of the church, Brother Josiah Johnson. Brother Johnson himself survived until 1918, when he too was called to his reward. During these years the church had continued to grow and in 1918 it was decided to erect another church building. The site selected for it was a small tract of land across from the original building and was bought from Isaac and Dollie Johnson for the sum of seventeen dollars.

The size of the new building was enlarged to thirty-two by fifty feet. Henry and Willie Lawless and W.L. Cash sawed the lumber from trees given by people in the community. Head carpenters were Sy Owens and Gaither Metcalf. With the unstinted help of the people church Number Two was soon completed. The last pastor of the old church was Brother Hughie Ponder, the first pastor in church Number Two was Brother Fred Jones.

The church continued to grow and prosper. In 1951 Sunday School started with twenty-five scholars. In 1954 a well-appointed parsonage was erected by E.B. Lawrence and Ambrose Albright, with Mode Hamm as overseer. That same year the church purchased a bus. In 1965 under A.L. French and R.H. Hamm as a Hospital Committee, the church gave one thousand dollars to the hospital fund at Mt. Vernon, Kentucky.

By 1960 the need for a bigger church building was being felt and plans got under way for church Number Three. Completed in time for the first services held there February thirtieth, 1963, this is one of the most beautiful and well-kept churches anywhere in Rockcastle County. Starting out as Union Ridge Baptist Church in 1901, with a very limited membership and a primitive building, it had progressed in sixty-two years to Ottawa Missionary Baptist Church, with an enrollment of three hundred and forty six, housed in a thoroughly modern and efficient building.

During this period the following ministers were included among those who labored to bring about the growth and well-being of this model church community:

- | | |
|------------------|---------------|
| James Cummins | Doc Gooch |
| Fred Jones | A.J. Pike |
| R.H. Hillard | David Burris |
| Walter G. Karnes | Charles Brown |
| Sears | George Leigh |
| Francis Cordey | J.B. Allen |
| Phelps | Hughie Ponder |
| David Asher | C.C. Metcalf |
| Furman Jones | G.G. Colwell |
| Garlan Singleton | C.H. Philbeck |
| Paul Payne | Ralph Galyon |
| W.L. Randall | R.C. Flynn |

Information on which this account of the Ottawa Missionary Baptist Church is based was taken from the minutes of the church as published in a pamphlet dated 1963. I do not know its author or the copy which I consulted was brought to me by R.H. Hamm who has been faithful and tireless worker in the affairs of the church, as have so many others whose names must be omitted by reason of lack of space.

It was the original intention to include in the county history only such churches as are located in Rockcastle County but the temptation is great to write of the old Baptist Church, located only a few yards over the line in Pulaski County and largely attended by residents of Rockcastle. This church has long been a member of the Rockcastle Missionary Baptist Association which seems to furnish further reason for including it. I have recently visited its cemetery in search of older grave markers and am impressed with the size of its City of the Dead, which is remarkable for a small country church. It has been told that its annual Memorial Day attendance frequently reaches a thousand. It enjoys a certain fame as the burial place of a Rockcastle Revolutionary War Veteran, Elijah Denny, who lived to be one hundred and ten, the oldest and next to last surviving American soldier of the war.

STATE UNEMPLOYMENT RATE DROPS Kentucky's unemployment rate has dropped to 6.9 per cent, the lowest figure since December, 1974 when unemployment was 5.9 per cent. Currently, 101,700 persons are estimated to be out of work.

"The decrease of 20,500 unemployed persons in July was due to two main factors," says Robert MacDonald, chief statistician of the Department for Human Resources (DHR) Bureau for Manpower Services. Over 11,000 in-school youths dropped out of the labor force and the number of unemployment insurance claims decreased.

Kentucky's manufacturing employment increased 3,400 in July, according to MacDonald, reflecting the increase in unemployment.

unadjusted rate of 8.7 per cent. Kentucky's unemployment rate remains 1.8 per cent below the national rate.

Kentucky's labor force was 1,482,600 in July, a drop of 23,800 since June. According to MacDonald, this decrease in the labor force was due to the summer youths dropping out of the labor force plus a drop in the number of seasonal workers in the agricultural industry.

TRUST

By: Mrs. George Burton

We do not see,
 It was not meant for you and me
 To look beyond the near, dim west, Dividing the present from the rest,
 From the to come.

Just one by one
 The steps we take
 One step by one
 The glories wake,
 Or temptest break,
 We go nearer and nearer to the setting sun and know
 But this, what ever is, is best,
 Sweetest of words confessed by love's warm breath
 In life or death.

We go, lead by his shielding hand and know
 He will not make,
 Except for love's sweet sake
 A single day shadowed along life's bitter way
 When it is night, we rest in this,
 He leadeth toward the light.

Consumer Comment

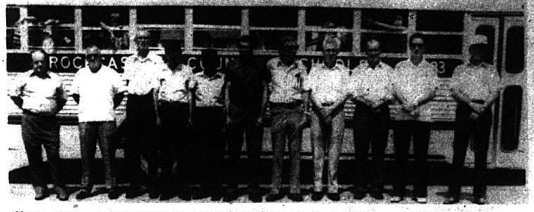

By Ed W. Hancock

If you're thinking of catching a bargain by buying a swimming pool at the end of the season, watch out for sharks - not in the pool, but in fly-by-night companies trying to cash in on swimming pool sales. Beware of bait and switch, where an ad for a low cost pool prompts you to call a salesperson who tells you what poor filters, liners and guarantees you would be buying. The salesperson then tries to switch you to a higher priced pool. Don't fall for the bait or the switch.

Watch out for referral selling, where salespersons offer you a discount if you supply them with the names of your friends who would buy a pool themselves. Referral selling is illegal in Kentucky.

Another tactic to watch for is the model home pitch, where the salesperson offers you a "special price" if your pool may be used as a demonstrator model. The salesperson may say they are looking for a "level lot" and yours qualifies. In most cases, the pool is never shown to anyone and the special price is the price regularly charged to all purchasers.

One tactic mentioned by officials in a nearby state involves a so-called sympathetic salesperson. The salesperson is so fond of the consumer that he or she calls the home office for permission to sell the pool at less than the regular price. Permission is usually given, but the "reduced" price is actually more than the regular price. Permission is usually given, but the "reduced" price is actually more than that charged by other companies.

To avoid these schemes, consumers should deal with local, well-established companies. Obtain estimates from three different contractors and ask for the names of previous customers. Then call those customers to find out if they're satisfied. Get all estimates and guarantees in writing and know what's covered by them. Also, find out who will make repairs if they are needed.

Down On The Farm

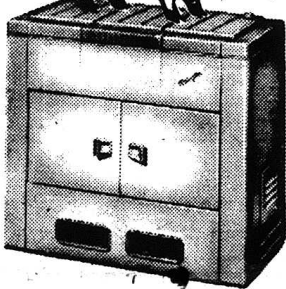

By Roy G. Brown Assistant Vice President Cumberland P.C.A.

The Rockcastle County Agriculture Fair held jointly with the "Little World's Fair" at Brodhead last week is now over. We had many exhibits on display of farm products and crafts along with the dairy and beef cattle show. We on the fair board appreciate the cooperation and exhibits of each and every one. But to make a real successful agriculture fair, we need many more exhibitors and exhibits from 4-H, FFA and farmers. We also need a lot more dairy and beef animals to make a better show.

Start now in making plans for next year for boys and girls in 4-H and FFA for the dairy and beef show. It will be a good experience and education in training and grooming animals to show and help extra money DOWN ON THE FARM.

Kentucky state parks had 847,828 guests in camping areas from April through October, 1974.
