In Remembrance of Margeen Coffey, who passed away five years ago.

Memories are treasures no one can steal. This is a headache no one can heal. Some have forgotten, now that you are gone. But we will always remember no matter how long. This month comes with deep regret, it brings a day we'll never forget.

Sadly Missed by her Mother, Ethel Mason and all who loved her

In Loving Memory of Bobby Ray Howard

We shall never forget you dear one as long as time and memory last. We remember all the good times we've had in the past. God saw how weary you had grown and called you to your rest. There was no time to say Good-bye, perhaps this was the best. It broke our heart to lose you and we miss you more each day. For part of us went with you the day you went away.

Jerry Pensol, No. 39, who has been sidelined for several games this season due to various injuries, was back in the line-up last Friday night at Trimble County. During the game, Pensol accounted for 107 yards on 19 carries plus 23 yards on 2 kick-off returns. Also gaining yardage for the Rockets was quarterback Earl Hammons who got 9 yards in 9 carries and David Owens who picked up 18 yards in 6 carries.

Shane Bullock pretty much made the Trimble County ball carriers' lives miserable when they attempted to come around his end. In the above photo, he goes for another one. In other sports action in the county, the Rockets Jayvees downed Clark-Moore 20-0 in a game last Thursday night with David Pensol getting five touchdowns and two extra points. However two of the touchdowns were called back. On Thursday night the Jayvees take on Lily while the Rockets meet

Shane Bullock, No. 20 for the Rockets, goes for the Trimble ball carrier in last Friday night game. The Rockets lost the game 8-0 but played what was probably their best offensive game of the season. Larry Welch, who got 5 individual tackles plus a Trimble County fumble; No. 88, David Whitehead, credit with 4 tackles; Billy Hackworth, No. 27, who got 6 tackles and No. 67 Bobby Boreing, credited with 3 individual tackles. COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES
By H. Lee Durham

EVERGREENS AS ORNAMENTAL PLANTS

Evergreens may be transplanted, starting about the middle of September and continuing until the soil is frozen, and again in March through the middle of May. Setting an evergreen is rather exacting, and whether the plant lives or dies will be determined very largely by the way it is set. If you are considering planting any evergreen, get Ky. Coop. Ext. Serv. Leaflet, 198, "Planting Evergreens," from your County Extension Office. It contains information and drawings on just how to plant evergreens.

Another word of caution to those considering buying evergreens is to be sure they are dug fresh out of the nursery. These plants are peculiar in that they can be dug with a ball or earth around the roots, loaded on a truck and hauled around the country for a week or 10 days and will still look fairly good. Actually, plants subjected to such treatment are almost dead when you buy them, and they seldom withstand transplanting.

Evergreens are like most other plants - you get just what you pay for. The better ones cost more, but they live longer and have less trouble than the so-called cheap ones. Do not waste time or money on cheap evergreens.

After setting evergreens be sure to give them plenty of water since they hold their foliage all the time. They must have enough water, but not too much until they have established themselves in their new location. This usually means two growing seasons. Also, during winter, it is good to water the plants thoroughly once a month when the temperature is above freezing. Pour water slowly around the trunk of the plant, letting it soak into the soil around the roots.

While we do not claim that evergreens are the only plants to use in the planting, we do say that a few carefully selected and correctly located evergreens will usually add value to any planting.

LOOK OUT FOR LICE
Winter is the time to be on the look out for lice build up on beef cattle. Unthrifty, poor-looking animals with rough looking coats should be checked for lice. If your cattle are doing a lot of rubbing against posts, etc., they probably have a lice infestation. In severe cases, cattle will rub off patches of hair and injure their skin.

Good animal management is the first step in lice control.

Wetting cattle down with sprays during the weather increases their susceptibility to pneumonia. Back rubbers also aid in lice control.

For information on specific chemicals, check with your County Agent and Extension publications ENT 4, 11, 12, and 23.

A phenomenon that seems to be sweeping the college campus today is a drink called, "Swampwater." It's made with 5 ounces of unsweetened pineapple juice, 1 1/2 ounces of Chartreuse French Liqueur and a 1/4 lime. Interestingly, it's sipped from a mason jar!

The greatest number of schools attended by a student is 265 by Wilma Williams, now Mrs. R. J. Horton, from 1933 to 1945 when her parents were in show business in the United States.

75 Attend Council Meeting

Lake Linville Motion Struck Down By City Council on Mayor's Vote

About 75 residents of the county were on hand at Monday night's regular meeting of the Mt. Vernon City Council to express agreement or disagreement with the Council's action last month in banning gasoline motors from Lake Linville.

Following the reading of last month's minutes by City Clerk Ercel Cromer, Mayor Roland Mullins recognized those present and the Council decided the best way to handle the meeting would be to let each person wishing to do so, to express their opinion on the subject. Mayor Mullins noted to the group that he appreciated the interest shown and said that it was this type of interest by the citizens that helped our community to progress.

Wade Hopkins, a resident of Highway 150, and a proponent of banning gasoline motors from the lake, led off by presenting the Council with a petition in support of their (the Council's) action signed by approximately 200 persons. Hopkins asserted that the city's water supply was being damaged by the gasoline motors and this pollution was a health hazard to persons swimming in the lake, caused the water to be so heavily chlorinated that it smelled when it came out of the faucet.

David Fredericks of Chestnut Ridge then asked the Council if there has ever been a had report received by the city from a test on the lake by the State Department of Health. Junior Powell, a city employee, was asked when it came to this question by the Council and Mr. Powell said that this far water has met standards.

Cromer then spoke to the Council and stated his opinion that if the water should be unfit for consumption that the Council should take whatever steps were necessary to guarantee a safe water supply but this should be proven by tests by persons who are qualified in this field. However, Mr. Cromer said that something as important to the city and county as Lake Linville is should not be arbitrarily closed to recreation other than fishing. Mr. Cromer also brought to the Council's attention a story in last week's Signal which stated periodically on the City's old water reservoir a gasoline motor would have to be put on the lake in order to keep out the heavy growth and Mr. Cromer said that he felt that if motors were taken off Lake Linville that in a short time it would be just like any farm pond.

Monroe Woodall, representing the Rockcastle County Bass Club, told the Council that he was present representing the Club and that the Club members had voted on this issue in their last meeting. Mr. Woodall said that the vote was almost unanimous in support of the Council's action last month.

Several others disagreeing with the Council's action spoke and the general sentiment of the meeting, of those disagreeing, seemed to be that the Council acted too rashly in making this decision without proper proven basis and that while action should be taken to guarantee a quality water supply that when this was done, recreation should be allowed on the lake.

Alfred Cummins, a local businessman, told the Council that Lake Linville was about the only thing the county had going for it and that water coming from it untreated was probably causing the water quality to be poor. Mr. Cummins said that the Lake operation should be handled so that everyone who wishes to can enjoy it.

Jack Craig, former Water Superintendent of Mt. Vernon, told the Council that fishermen in the county got the lake three-fourths of the time from the lake.

Jack Craig, former Water Superintendent of Mt. Vernon, told the Council that fishermen in the county got the lake three-fourths of the time from the lake.

anyway and he also said that "the dirtiest I have seen that lake is in the Spring and late in the Fall when water temperature changes."

Bentley Cummins, a property owner on the lake and a resident of Berea, told the Council that Rockcastle County has in the past had the reputation for running every thing out and it looked like the lake might take up some of the slack and benefit the county. He also said that when money is being brought into the county because of the lake that the Council shouldn't "chase it out."

Several others present expressed disagreement with the Council's action but Hank Mullins, a member of the local bass club told the Council that the State Fish and Wildlife Department ran a test on the lake to determine whether or not the Bass were reproducing. However, Councilmembers Bob Japer, Dennis Hatcomb and Robinson voted to and it was up to Mayor Mullins to break the tie which he quickly did with a no vote. Thus the previous motion was struck down.

Following this, the Council, on a motion by Chester Hellard and seconded by Dennis Hatcomb, voted unanimously to look into the possibility of whether or not swimming and boating are actually polluting the lake before any positive action is taken by the Council and to try to get a representative of EPA or some other agency to make a study and give the Council documented evidence as to water quality.

Only one boat dock lease bid was submitted to the Council and this was rejected since it was obviously a long-in-the-tooth bid by David Fredericks of $1.00 for a ten-year lease for the facility.

Councilman Chester Hellard, who originally brought the matter before the Council, said that what had not been mentioned concerning the story in last week's Signal was that the report was funded by manufacturers of gasoline engines.

Cong. Tim Lee Carter To Be Here Today

Congressman Tim Lee Carter will be in Mt. Vernon on Thursday, October 16, to hold a public, nonpartisan meeting with Rockcastle County residents.

The meeting will be scheduled for 10 a.m. at the Rockcastle County Courthouse.

"I look forward to being in Rockcastle County to meet with the people," Carter said in his announcement of this visit.

"If anyone has a problem which falls within federal jurisdiction, I would especially welcome the opportunity to meet with them to do what I can to help."

"I try to formally visit with the people in each county every year. I find these meetings invaluable for staying in touch with what the people are thinking so that I can better represent the Fifth District in Congress," Carter added.

The Congressman's visit to Rockcastle County is one of 20 items has scheduled during the congressional recess for observing Columbus and Veterans' days.

"I feel that meeting with the people is the best way that I can see these breaks in our legislative schedule," Carter explained.

Meetings for nine counties in the southeastern part of the district were held in June and July. The visits to Rockcastle and 19 other counties will complete Carter's meetings for this year.

Body of Clarence Tussey Found After Five-Week Search

The body of Clarence Tussey, 68, of Livingston, who had been missing from his home since September 9th, was found about 6 p.m. Tuesday afternoon about one mile from the area in which his clothes had been found Monday afternoon. All of his clothes were found, quite a distance behind the home of Casper Mullins at Mullins Station, by two men Ginseng hunting. It was theorized that Mr. Tussey's clothes got wet and he removed them to dry and then wandered off.

The Rockcastle Tri-City Rescue Squad began searching for Mr. Tussey the day of his disappearance and maintained a heavy search for nine days. Rescue Squad Director Paul Hansel told the Signal Wednesday that after that the search could not be conducted extensively because there were not enough men available. However, Mr. Hansel said that the search did continue and was resumed heavily after Mr. Tussey's clothes were found Monday.

Mr. Tussey's body, which was decomposed, was found by Bentley Furman in the area of his home at Red Hill by Mr. Furman and members of the Rescue Squad. Coroner Bill Dowell said Wednesday that Mr. Tussey had been dead over a month but he has not ruled out the cause of death.

Mr. Tussey was born in Jackson County July 15, 1907, the son of the late Jake and Jennie Cole Tussey. Survivors include his wife, Eliza Tussey of Livingston and six sisters.

He was a member of the Free Pentecostal Church. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday, October 16th (today) at 1 p.m. at the Lee Cemetery in Jackson County with Bro. Harrison Clark officiating.

Dowell and Martin Furman are in charge of arrangements. *****

"Education Most Pressing Problem" DeMarcus Says

Education is the most pressing problem facing Kentucky, in the opinion of state Representative Harold DeMarcus.

"The legislature has neglected education," says the Stanford businessman, "and it's about time that we (legislators) live up to our duty to provide quality education for the citizens for the commonwealth."

According to DeMarcus, funding primary and secondary education should be the state's first priority.

"The money needed to substantially improve our educational system is available, but is simply being diverted into other areas," he declares. "Further, this money is available from our present sources of revenue, so there is no need to increase taxes."

In fact, DeMarcus says, "we must have a tax reduction if the money that is now available is not used for education."

On a related matter, DeMarcus believes the governor should not be allowed to spend state surplus funds without specific approval of the General Assembly.

"It's completely illegal to use surplus funds without legislative enactment," he asserts.

During the last session of the General Assembly, the legislature granted the governor power to alter the state budget if necessary. Thus, when surplus funds became available, they were allocated at the governor's discretion.

"We'll be more careful next time," DeMarcus says.

DeMarcus would like to see a state constitutional amendment to abolish the office of lieutenant governor, as some other states have recently done.

"The lieutenant governor has no real duties," says the

ROAD IMPROVEMENT PROJECT ANNOUNCED

A $28,862 contract for a road improvement project in Rockcastle County has been announced by the state's Department of Transportation. State Transportation Secretary John C. Roberts said that the project calls for blacktopping of Hurricane School Road for a distance of nearly one mile, beginning at KY 1506 and extending northwest to Copper Creek-Grovenow Road (CR 1589).

Low bidder for the contract was Allen Co., Inc. at Winchester.

Civil Suit Filed Against School Personnel

A civil suit has been filed in Rockcastle Circuit Court naming Mary Alice Hunt and Buford Parkerson as defendants by Velma Stewart, Next friend of Betty Stewart, an infant under 14 years of age.

The suit stems from a spanking administered by Miss Hunt, a former teacher at Mt. Vernon Elementary School, on March 28th of this year to the Stewart child and from an alleged second spanking given the child in the presence of Mr. Parkerson, principal of the school.

Following an investigation of the matter, Miss Hunt was transferred from her teaching position to one with the schools food service, a capacity in which she is still employed.

The suit asks $20,585 in joint damages from Miss Hunt and Mr. Parkerson for medical expenses, future medical expenses, pain and suffering and future pain and mental anguish and loss of educational and employment opportunities. It also asks $10,000 from each defendant separately in punitive damages plus all costs expended in the action.

FRANKFORT WATCHLINE

Besides the obvious disparity in registration, perhaps the most obvious difference between the two political parties in Kentucky is money.

It is a telling difference, for now more than ever political campaigns must be well-greased with money for the expenses of air travel and television advertising.

While the Democrats dwell in their modern headquarters building nestled along Interstate 64 East of here, Republicans have managed to find themselves a permanent home, too.

The Democrats home is half paid for but still mortgaged for $40,000, or more. The GOP managed to find a prime location for $65,000.

By all accounts, the location is about all they got for their money. The aging house just off Capitol Avenue a few blocks from the Capitol Building is marked by falling plaster, a leaky roof, peeling yellowing wallpaper, and cramped quarters for even the executive director.

In their own way, the Republicans seem to enjoy having a headquarters that looks more like what one would expect "the party of the people" to be in.

Only half a dozen of the campaign workers are on the campaign payroll, those including a full-time consultant, Steve Blackwell, out of Nashville.

The rest, including Larry Van Hoose, who is generally running the campaign, are on the central committee payroll.

The Democrats, on the other hand, have skeletonized the permanent party staff and have quite a few on the campaign payroll, headed by William Curlin, Frankfort attorney and close friend of Carroll.

Gov. Julian Carroll is also the first candidate to acquire a special campaign airplane.

The reason for the difference is apparent from the first fund raising reports in covering the period since June.

The Democrats have raised and spent money at better than three times the rate of the Republicans.

But even at that, Curlin says his team figures to spend a quarter of a million dollars less on the general election, for all nine candidates, than was spent on Carroll's primary victory.

Carroll spent upwards of a million dollars to defeat Jefferson County Judge Todd Hollenback by a huge margin in the primary.

Why so much less? Do the Democrats consider Robert Gable that weak?

Curlin says no. He attributes the lower budget to the shorter campaign, basically only a month for the general election.

"It's just a different ballgame in the general election," said Curlin.

Meanwhile, the Democrats are concentrating on what they want and need more than money-voters at the polls.

"If we can get our people out, we'll kill them," Curlin said, referring to the massive registration margin the Democrats hold.

Don Uley, special projects director for the Carroll campaign, has helped establish some 30 special committees, including such groups as veterans, farmers, optometrists and lawyers, to work for Carroll's election.

"You'd be misunderstanding if you thought all these are for fund raising," said Uley. Some are soliciting members of their groups across party lines for money, with a handy envelope enclosed for Democrats United.

But other communications are simply letters encouraging their fellows to get out and vote. Curlin also said that his campaign has set a limit of $3000 from any individual to Democrats United, to avoid any possibility that someone would give $3000 per candidate, a possible circumvent... of the law suggested when the combined committee was committed was formed.

Cordoba.
 The small Chrysler.
 So very luxurious so surprisingly affordable. And every bit a Chrysler. Chrysler Cordoba for '76. See it now.

Chrysler New Yorker.
 It's the talk of the town.
 Here is a car with elegant styling and comfort. A car backed by a long heritage of Chrysler engineering excellence. All at a New Yorker price.

Feather Duster.
 Light on gas. Large on room.
 In E.P.A. tests, Feather Duster with optional Overdrive-4 transmission got 24 mpg in the city and a remarkable 36 mpg on the highway! E.P.A. results are estimates; your actual mileage may differ depending on how and where you drive, the condition of your car and its optional equipment. But one thing is sure. Feather Duster is light on gas! Yet it has room for 3 people, too!

REAR-WINDOW GUN RACKS for pickups can be handy, but they can also encourage theft, shorten the life of firearms and perhaps even cause a brush with the law. The best policy is to use these racks only while transporting rifles and shotguns to and from the hunting field or firing range.

Fury.
 Not too large, not too small. It's just right for '76.
 The '76 Fury gives you the economy of a mid-size car. But it seats six, like a full-size car, without the full-size car price. Beautiful!

4-H SLOGANS CHALLENGE ADULTS AS WELL AS KIDS

The two 4-H slogans now being used around Kentucky—4-H-76, "Spirit of Tomorrow" and "4-H—It's Where You're At"—are meant to challenge adults as well as kids.

The "Spirit of Tomorrow" theme was chosen for 1975's National 4-H Week observation and will be used nationally this coming year as a part of the Bicentennial celebration. It invites you to invest in tomorrow by helping kids today as a 4-H leader.

"4-H—It's Where you're At," the theme adopted for Kentucky's leader-member recruitment campaign now in progress, says that 4-H is where you are, whatever your age, and that adults can be a part of 4-H by serving as 4-H volunteer leaders.

Goal of the Kentucky 4-H recruitment campaign is 45,000 leaders and 250,000 4-H'ers by 1978. Present participation figures in Kentucky are 157,000 4-H'ers and 17,000 adult and teen leaders.

Rockcastle County now has 1,120 young people enrolled in 4-H and 70 adults serving as leaders. In addition, teens in this county work with younger 4-H'ers in leader roles.

4-H has a strong heritage in Rockcastle County starting here about 1920 and many adults who grew up in a rural area have fond memories of their own 4-H Club days. However, these former 4-H'ers may not realize that they can still be a part of 4-H as a leader, whether they live on a farm or in town, because 4-H now offers projects and activities for all young people, no matter where they live. In fact, only 30 percent of Rockcastle County's 4-H'ers now live on farms.

And 4-H leaders also come from both town and country. They're mechanics, homemakers, farmers, teachers, electricians, photographers, and salesmen, to list a few of their occupations. And they are all ages, too: retired, retired people, young parents, older teens—all are 4-H leaders. They have one thing in common—a desire to help kids!

To offer the fun and learning experience of 4-H to more Rockcastle County young people, more leaders are needed. We urge you to make 4-H a part of your tomorrow. Volunteer to be a leader by contacting the Rockcastle County Extension Office at 256-2403.

 Located on Burr Hill
 (Formerly at Main and Williams)

In regard to the number of questions as to what we believe:

ASSEMBLIES OF GOD

WE BELIEVE . . .
 . . . the Bible is the inspired and only infallible and authoritative Word of God.
 . . . there is one God, eternally existent in three persons: God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost.
 . . . in the deity of our Lord Jesus Christ, in His virgin birth, in His sinless life, in His miracles, in His vicarious and atoning death, in His bodily resurrection, in His ascension to the right hand of the Father, in His personal future return to this earth in power and glory to rule a thousand years.
 . . . in the Blessed Hope—the rapture of the Church at Christ's coming.
 . . . the only means of being cleansed from sin is through repentance and faith in the precious blood of Christ.
 . . . regeneration by the Holy Spirit is absolutely essential for personal salvation.
 . . . the redemptive work of Christ on the cross provides healing of the human body in answer to believing prayer.
 . . . the baptism of the Holy Spirit, according to Acts 2:4, is given to believers who ask for it.
 . . . in the sanctifying power of the Holy Spirit by whose indwelling the Christian is enabled to live a holy life.
 . . . in the resurrection of both the saved and the lost, the one to everlasting life and the other to everlasting damnation.

So many times in our daily busy life we don't take the time to stop and pray for our friends and neighbors, to give our Heavenly Father praise for the many blessings of God. But we do stop wanting and desiring the wonderful gifts of God. We are so selfish in many respects. God wants us to be a loving people, a kind people who can share our blessings with one another. But look around you and see how many people today that want everything for themselves. Oh, that we could have once again the hard working, truthful, decent, honest, responsible, God-loving people in America like we used to have. Maybe we Will never see that time again, but I thank God for the ones that are standing today for the good things of life. We still have so many wonderful Christian people, don't ever forget it. Please remember Church and Sunday School. God bless you all.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I have a word to say about this jail report. I have been a prisoner for six months in the jail and have never seen Jack Anglin, Cleudus Anglin or Ivory Anglin give whiskey to any prisoner. If they had, I sure would have seen them but they never did.

Now some way, the Cameron boy who was in here had some but the Anglins never gave it to him. The Cameron boy sold his car to someone from Corbin, there were four or five of them came together. Ivory Anglin had to take Mr. Cameron upstairs to make a Bill of Sale to those people. Mr. Cameron's wife visited him also.

Ask Mr. Miller, he has been here for thirty days and is a religious man.

Harold Durham

Dear Editor,

In regard to last week's Signal about the jail, I have this to say, I was in jail for thirty days in Mt. Vernon and can truthfully say there wasn't any whiskey there while I was there. I am a Christian man and have been for years and believe in law enforcement and I know that Ivory Anglin or his son never gave to or offered anyone strong drink of any kind while I was here for thirty days.

The people may say why was I in jail, let me tell you why. My son had trouble with a man so I run in, took up for my son as I thought to save his life. I had a trial over it. They called my case and it was about half over with or more before I got in the courtroom and I got thirty days, that is why.

Carlo Mills and Lonnie Mills, Son

Dear Editor,

I had the pleasure of being in Renfro Valley at the Barn Dance Saturday night with a group of 18 from Lexington. Our Club is called "Parents Alone," and consists of people from ages 21 to 60. I was expecting to see one face I knew especially, John Lair, as he was my teacher in grade school prior to going to the services in World War I. Being back in the Valley brought many fond memories. First I remembered was being baptized in Renfro Valley Creek.

I'm a native of Mt. Vernon although Lexington has been my home since 1948, which have been very happy years. But Mt. Vernon holds many happy memories of my childhood.

Since I don't get to Mt. Vernon very often, I look forward to your Signal each week as I enjoy it very much.

My parents were the late Attorney James Ashley and Nannie Dowell Owens.

Best wishes to you and your staff.
