Tips For A Safer Christmas

Majestic fir trees, adorned with twinkling lights and fragile

Willie Griffin, Sr., son of J.M. Griffin of Richmond, Indiana and the late Demia Griffin, formerly of this county, has been called to the pastorate at the First Church of God Sunny Acres at Hartan where he assumed his duties November 2nd. Mr. Griffin has been a minister since 1954, pastoring in Abington and Webster, Indiana and Quincy, Ewart, Mt. Vernon and Harg, Kentucky.

ornaments, have long been Christmas tradition. However, the seasonal cheer they bring can turn into tragic loss if proper precautions are not taken when erecting the family tree and decorating the home.

Stanley Boyd of the state fire marshal's office noted that the month of December is especially susceptible to fires because the colder weather leads to a greater use of heating fuels. Also, he said, the customary trees, gift wrapping and decorations of the holiday season can be potential fire hazards.

Boyd said artificial trees are much safer than real ones since they all are required to be fire retardant. He added that aluminum trees have virtually disappeared from the market after it was discovered that lights touching the tree's surface could cause electrical short-circuiting. Such trees are more safely illuminated with revolving colored floor lights.

While artificial trees are recommended by fire prevention personnel, thousands of families prefer selecting live trees because of the woody scent and the joy of picking out their tree from a lot or forest. For those families, Boyd offers a few precautions.

First, he notes that the shorter period the tree is spent inside the home, the better. A home's heating may provide comfort for its inhabitants but it dries out the tree.

And, as most commercial trees have been cut for several weeks prior to their purchase, Boyd warns customers to cut, about one inch from the bottom of the trunk since the tree's sap may have sealed off all entrances for water. The cut should be angled to provide a better suction and then be immersed in water.

The fire marshal's office also advises that trees be sprayed with fire retardants. This process is often neglected, Boyd said, because several aerosol cans may be required for adequate treatment.

"People will not hesitate to spend several dollars for the ideal tree and then place gifts worth perhaps another couple of hundred dollars under the tree. But then they tend to take shortcuts for protecting their investment," Boyd said.

Placement of the tree is another important factor in protecting one's home and family. An ideal location is a remote one that will not block off exits if a fire should occur. In addition, the tree should not be erected near heater vents, stoves or fireplaces.

Trees are not the only potential fire hazards during the Christmas season. Brightly flashing lights in and around a home may turn that residence into an inferno due to faulty wiring or carelessness. Boyd warns consumers to examine carefully their used lights before placing them on tree or around the home. Be especially wary of worn places, he advises. When buying new light sets, be sure the product carries a "UL" seal of approval certifying that it has met safety standards of the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., an independent testing agency.

Advice is also given to homeowners who enjoy turning their residences into flashing seasons of Christmas cheer through the use of outdoor lighting. Boyd suggests that an electrical be hired for elaborate lighting purposes to ward off possible accidents by the inexperienced homeowner. Moreover, only recommended outdoor lighting should be used. "These precautions may seem too elaborate to some people, but it should be remembered that safety features observed now may save headache later," Boyd emphasized.

"County Agent's Notes" (Cont. From 7)

er record export value of agricultural products for calendar year 1975 and for fiscal year 1976 are very good. Improving economic conditions among the buyers of U.S. agricultural exports should also help to achieve this record. Export level Exports now take the production of 3 out of every 10 acres harvested by U.S. farmers.

I ran across a bit of prose this past week, attributed to Teddy Roosevelt, and it goes like this:

IT'S THE DOERS WHO COUNT

It is not the critic who counts, not the person who points out how the strong man stumbled or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the person who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes up short again and again; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions and spends themselves in a worthy cause; who at best knows in the end of triumph of high achievement; and who at the worst, if one fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that their place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither defeat nor victory.

RICE FLAMENCO

Surprising, rice is about as American a food as you could prepare for your family. Rice may seem oriental to you, but virtually all of the rice eaten in the U.S.A. is grown in the U.S.A. In fact, the United States is one of the largest exporters of rice in the world. American rice is preferred in many foreign countries because of its high quality, uniformity and cleanliness. American homemakers like to use rice for many reasons. It's economical, costing less than four cents for a half-cup serving. It's easy to prepare, cooking in minutes. And it's healthful, containing vitamins, minerals and proteins. But the main thing is, it tastes good. Here is a well seasoned mushroom and rice casserole with a Spanish accent that will cost you less than its rich taste and impressive good looks would lead you to believe.

RICE FLAMENCO

- 1 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced or 3 cans (4 ounces each) sliced mushrooms, drained
  - 1/2 cup sliced green onions
  - 1/2 cup chopped celery
  - 3/4 cup grated carrots
  - 1/4 cup oil
  - 1 can (8 ounces) tomato paste
  - 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
  - 2 teaspoons salt
  - 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
  - 1 cup water
  - 4 cups cooked rice (cooked in chicken broth or bouillon)
  - 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- Cook mushrooms, onions, celery, and carrots in oil until tender. Add tomato paste, tomato sauce, salt, pepper, and water. Cover and simmer for 15 minutes. Serve vegetables over beds of fluffy rice. Top with grated cheese. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

IN MEMORY

of our dear Mother, Lela Mae Taylor, who departed on December 19, 1970.
 Dear Mother,
 Years of time goes on but still the vacant chair recalls the love, the voice and smile of Mother, who once sat there. The flowers we lay on your grave will decay but the love we have for you, Dear Mother, will never fade away. Someday we'll meet you in a better land to part never.
 Sadly missed by children and grandchildren.

Who thinks of tea as only a woman's drink? Rough-riding Teddy Roosevelt loved mint tea. John Kennedy liked his tea extra-lemmony and President Garfield's special favorite was spiced tea. The R. C. Bigelow Company blends flavorful teas for men (and women!) of today. Constant Comment, the famous blend with orange and sweet spice, is America's most popular specialty tea. Or try the aromatic Lemon Lift, ready blended with natural lemon, or Plantation Mint, a minty tea that's as fresh and delicate as a spring breeze.

"ROBBERIES"

Upon searching for the victim of the attempted rape, they found money, a gun and other evidence lending credence to the belief that the men may have been involved in the robberies.

McHargue, Burke and Charles M. Clark are all in jail on $10,000 bond for each count of armed robbery. Charles S. Clark is being held in lieu of $5,000 bond and Clifford was released December 10th after filing $500 bond. Burke is also being held for $2,500 bond on the terrorist threatening charge.

McHargue, Burke and Charles S. Clark are all scheduled for a preliminary hearing on December 23rd.

"JAILER INDICTED"

Prisoners kept these weapons as long as desired without confiscation and left the jail in possession of them.

(C) Lack of searches. The Grand Jury heard much evidence that not only were prisoners brought into the jail without being searched for weapons, alcoholic beverages, drugs or anything else, but that visitors come and go from the jail at will without being searched or without being allowed to deposit for safekeeping any item on that person while visiting the jail and that alcoholic beverages were brought into the jail by visitors without interference by the jailer or deputy jailers.

(D) Lack of control over jail keys. The Grand Jury further found that the keys to the Rockcastle County Jail and cells are left unattended in an unlocked drawer of a desk near the open front door and that any bystander, visitor or even prisoners have access to those keys. Prisoners have access to the front office and frequently are found lounging in the opened front office and that a convicted felon had possession of the keys to the jail unattended.

(E) Inadequate protection of prisoners. The Grand Jury heard evidence that the prisoners felt compelled to seek weapons with which to defend themselves from the attacks of other prisoners and other persons and that the prisoners were left unattended for many hours at a time during which there have been attempted robberies of other prisoners, intentional or reckless harming of other prisoners and the general lack of supervision of prisoners.

The report ends with the following statement by the Grand Jury:

"Any of the above problems can be attributed directly to the intoxication of the deputy jailer while on duty during the nighttime hours. Prisoners have told the Grand Jury that there is no reason why they could not escape from the jail during these unguarded hours if they so desired. Another prisoner swore to the Grand Jury that alcoholic beverages and drugs were more readily available in the Rockcastle County Jail than outside.

The Grand Jury takes action regarding the County Jail after the appropriate officials have been warned several times by previous Grand Juries. We expect the security, sufficiency and safety of the Rockcastle County Jail to be restored forthwith and should further proceedings of the Grand Jury find that there are those that are obstructing the restoration of the jail or not taking the action clearly authorized and mandated by law, then further corrective action will be necessary and most assuredly will be taken by this Grand Jury.

We trust that this is the last time the Grand Jury will be required to hear evidence regarding the security and sufficiency of the Rockcastle County Jail.

CHRISTMAS TREES COME FROM OTHER STATES

By: Marvin Gay
About 40,000 Kentucky families will purchase live Christmas trees this year. Most of the trees will come from other states and, except for a small percentage, they will be cut trees that cannot be planted here.

According to the division of Forestry in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, if Kentuckians follow their usual trend, pine, fir, and spruce trees averaging five feet in height will be most popular. About 75 percent of those trees will come from surrounding states—Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania—at a shipping cost of about $5 a tree.

According to Harry Nadler, director of the forestry division, Kentuckians generally import Christmas trees because not enough are grown in the state. Said Nadler, "Christmas trees are generally grown specifically to be sold as Christmas trees. That means a market must be developed and the trees must be sold six to ten years after planting. If the owner waits much longer, he will not be able to market them as Christmas trees. As a result, many people hesitate to get into the Christmas tree growing field.

"Other people," continued Nadler, "don't get into the business because they want to see an immediate return on their investment. They don't want to put in six or eight years of work before the first planting of trees goes to market."

Nadler added that some Kentucky tree nurseries were offering live Christmas trees for sale that are suitable for planting after the holidays.

Jailer Indicted by Grand Jury; Mafesance of Office Charged

The Rockcastle County Grand Jury handed down five indictments last week after conducting an extensive investigation of the condition of the jail facilities and the conduct of the jailer and his deputy with regard to the safety of prisoners in the jail.

Named in the indictments were Jailer Ivory Anglin; Deputy Jailer Cletus "White Jack" Anglin; prisoners James Couch and Vernon Graves and Mrs. James (Juanita) Couch.

The indictment against Jailer Anglin charges him with Mafesance or Neglect of Office and charges that "during a period from December 12, 1974 through December 10, 1975, J.L. Anglin, while serving as jailer of Rockcastle County, did commit the offense of mafeasance and/or mafeasance or neglect in the discharge of his official duties, by allowing alcoholic beverages and/or drugs or controlled substances to be carried into and consumed within the jail, or maintaining a jail wherein alcoholic beverages and/or drugs or controlled substances are transferred or consumed, or by employing and leaving in charge of the jail deputy jailers and others who drink alcoholic beverages in jail while on duty or become intoxicated under the influence of the same, and/or by maintaining a jail wherein visitors and/or prisoners enter and leave without being properly searched; wherein prisoners have access to or possession of the keys to the jail, or wherein the possession of items adaptable as weapons is prevalent among the prisoners of the jail.

The indictment against Deputy Cletus Anglin charges him with Drunkenness of an Officer on Duty and specifies that Mr. Anglin, "while holding the public office of Deputy Jailer of Rockcastle County, Kentucky and while in the discharge of his office became intoxicated or unable, incompetent or disqualified to discharge any of the duties of his office by the use of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors.

The other three indictments are concerned with the charge of Traffic in Alcoholic Beverages in Dry Territory and state that Mr. and Mrs. Couch and Mr. Graves "did in a dry territory sell, barter, or transfer alcoholic beverages, to wit, a certain quantity of whiskey in the Rockcastle County Jail in the Rockcastle County Court House, Mt. Vernon, Kentucky. All five indictments set bail for the charges at $500 each. In connection with the above investigation and subsequent indictments, the Grand Jury, in their report, requested Circuit Judge Lawrence Hall to enter an order that all prisoners covered by KRS 441.030 (prisoners under the jurisdiction of the Circuit Court) be transferred from the Rockcastle County Jail to the jail of the nearest county in which the jail is secure and in which the prisoners can be safely kept until the security in the Rockcastle County Jail is restored.

In the Grand Jury's report, it was also noted that "We find that the Rockcastle County Jail is not a 'sufficient jail' within the meaning of that phrase in KRS 87.080 and is unsafe, both for the prisoners and for the citizens of Rockcastle County, and hereby request the Rockcastle Fiscal Court to direct the transfer of all prisoners other than those requested to be transferred by the Circuit Judge, to the jail of the nearest county in which the jail is secure and the prisoners can be safely kept under the authority of the above Statute, which directs the Fiscal Court to 'secure a sufficient jail' for the County."

The report goes on to state that the Grand Jury reminds the Rockcastle County Judges that "KRS 441.010 directs him to prescribe rules for the government and cleanliness of the county jail and the comfort and treatment of prisoners, and that the County Judge shall inspect the jail at least once each month. We request the County Judge to perform these requirements of law."

As to the welfare of prisoners not covered by Circuit Court jurisdiction, the Grand Jury requested that, "Until the Rockcastle County Jail is made sufficient, safe and secure, we request all other Courts, police agencies, or law enforcement officers to likewise transfer prisoners destined for the Rockcastle County Jail to the nearest county wherein the jail is secure and prisoners can be safely kept. This is particularly directed to the mayors and city councils of the municipalities within Rockcastle County of Mt. Vernon, Livingston, and Brodhead; and to the Kentucky State Police and Sheriff of Rockcastle county as well as all other officers with duty in this county.

A special order was signed by Circuit Judge Lawrence Hall authorizing the removal of prisoners under the jurisdiction of the Circuit Court to the Laurel County Jail and Sheriff Manuel Shepherd was authorized, in the order, to secure the services of two guards to assist him in the removal of the prisoners and their installation in the Laurel County Jail at London.

As their evidence for reaching their conclusion on the condition of the jail, the Grand Jury set-out the following:

(A) Liquor and drugs in jail. The Grand Jury heard evidence of alcoholic beverages being sold, transferred or delivered to prisoners allegedly confined in the county jail; that whiskey bottles were noticed in the cells of the jail and that to escape detection, prisoners were crushing bottles and flushing them down the commodes; that the deputy jailer on duty during the nighttime hours was intoxicated on many occasions while on duty; that marijuana was used by prisoners in jail, without notice by the jailer or deputy jailers; that prisoners used alcoholic beverages almost at will while in jail.

(B) Weapons in jail. The Grand Jury heard evidence that prisoners possessed or had access to different forms of items which could be used as weapons, some deadly in nature.

This included double edged razor blades given to the prisoners by the jailers, a fork bent and sharpened into a deadly weapon and dry cell batteries in socks and broken glass from whiskey bottles. The

Grand Jury Requests and Gets Extension of Term

In an unprecedented move, the Rockcastle County Grand Jury requested, and received, permission from Circuit Judge Lawrence Hall to extend the present term of Rockcastle Circuit Court and to authorize the Grand Jury additional days during which to convene further proceedings over the next several weeks so that the Grand Jury can continue its work on the matters addressed by this report and any other matter which may arise.

A special order was signed by Judge Hall allowing the six regular days of the Grand Jury and an additional nine days if needed with the Grand Jury to terminate its session on the day prior to the March term of Circuit Court. To date, the Grand Jury has met in session 7 days of the 15 days allowed by the special order and in its Report of the Grand Jury, the privilege was reserved of making a further report to the Court at a later time as may be necessary or appropriate.

The special order signed by Judge Hall provides that the Grand Jury's term may be terminated anytime at the discretion of the Circuit Judge.

The Grand Jury's report was divided into three main sections: (I) Death of Kenneth Lovell Fletcher; (II) Public Buildings and (III) Rockcastle County Jail. The third section, concerning the jail is covered in another story found elsewhere on this week's front page of the Signal.

In the first section of the report, dealing with the recent death of Kenneth Lovell Fletcher while a prisoner in the county jail, the report reads as follows:

The Grand Jury heard much evidence regarding the events surrounding the death of Kenneth Lovell Fletcher as he became ill in the Rockcastle County Jail on November 29th, 1975. The Grand Jury feels the evidence heard is insufficient upon which to base an indictment for criminal conduct in regard to the death.

The second section of the report concerns the inspection of the county library and the Rockcastle County Courthouse. This section states:

"We find that the maintenance of the County Library facilities is a model that all other public facilities should follow and we hereby commend the Rockcastle County Library Board and the Librarian, Mrs. Phyllis Davis for their conscientious concern for maintaining this facility in a near perfect manner. The condition of the Rockcastle County Courthouse is basically unchanged from its condition over the past several months and years."

The report was signed in its entirety by all twelve members of the Grand Jury who were as follows:

Ernest Stiney, Carl Lewis, Henry H. Cox, Earl Higgins, Thimon Owens, Jr., Jan I. Stevens, Barney A. Sowder, Self Parkerson, Calvin Morgan, Myrtle F. Smith, Byrds McCall-secretary and R. Paul McVeen, foreman.

THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT at Livingston moved into a new home the first of December when they took possession of the above brick structure, constructed and owned by Sam Ford and Danny Ford. The new building contains 1,066 square feet of floor space and has 79 more post office boxes for customers. In the bottom photo, Arnel Taylor, postmaster at Livingston, is shown standing behind the counter in the new post-office. Mr. Taylor has been postmaster at Livingston for over 20 years.

MRS. BULLOCK INJURED

Mrs. Myrtle Bullock received serious injuries late Monday evening when she was struck by a car on Richmond Street driven by William "Red" Swinney, 34, of Mt. Vernon.

According to State Trooper Danny Coleman, who investigated the accident, Mr. Swinney said he was traveling south on U.S. 25 and was in front of Mullin's Texaco when Mrs. Bullock, who had evidently been across the street from her home to her mailbox, ran back across the street and into the path of the vehicle.

Mrs. Bullock was taken to the Rockcastle County Hospital and later transferred to the Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington where unconfirmed reports indicate that her injuries are two broken legs.

No charges were placed against Mr. Swinney.

CAR STOLEN... BUT NOT FOR LONG

Two Ohio juveniles have been arrested and charged with car theft in connection with what has to be one of the shortest lived car thefts in history.

It began Monday afternoon when two juveniles went into Bullock's Shoe Store on Main Street in Mt. Vernon and looked around for a while. They then went outside the store, got into Mr. Bullock's white Chevrolet station wagon, sitting in front of the store, and left town on U.S. 25.

Mrs. Bullock noticed the car's disappearance after a few moments, informed Mr. Bullock and they notified State Policeman Danny Coleman.

However, Trooper Coleman's call was not really necessary, since the boys, who were traveling north on U.S. 25 noticed State Policeman Greg Ennis, sitting in his cruiser at the Standard Oil station at Ranfro Valley, evidently concluded that the call had already gone out on them and parked the car at the Kiwi Drive-In and took off on foot. Trooper Ennis received word shortly after that of the car theft and took possession of the car.

Shortly after that, Trooper Coleman and Mr. Bullock arrived on the scene and Mr. Bullock, using an extra set of keys, recovered his car. Later on that night, the two youths were found hiding in a car parked at the Shell Station at Ranfro Valley which they had stolen in Ohio.

They are presently being held pending a juvenile hearing Friday.

City Council Sets Priorities For Grant Pre-Application

The Mt. Vernon City Council has decided on its priorities for the pre-application for a HUD block grant.

After studying several areas in which funds might have been requested, the City chose the following projects in the priorities listed:

Housing, Cherry Hill Housing Project, 730' 8" sewer main, 730' 6" water main and 730' curb and gutter.

Sewer Extension in Mt. Vernon, 5,000' on Terry Street, 7,000' on Paul Street, 600' on Sand Springs Road and 1600' on Greenwood Drive.

Third priority is recreation at Lake Linville.

Fourth listed was sidewalks in Mt. Vernon: 1900' Williams Street, 960' Lovell Lane, 1365' Maple Drive, 800' from U.S. 25 to library, 300' extension to cemetery on right side, 300' extension to Sears Store, 200' sidewalk extension and renovation for Livingston and 2900' sidewalks, curb and gutter to Rockcastle County High School.

The last priority established was a 201 planning facility at Mt. Vernon.

The Council decided not to include in the pre-application a request for funds for an industrial site due to the fact that there are no options and prices available.

The pre-application work is now in process with the project being handled by Mayes, Suddarth and Eshenwege, Inc. in Lexington. The Council also decided to work with the CVADD through the pre-application process and agreed to enter into a contract with them through the final application after the pre-application is approved.

The deadline for filing the pre-application is January 13, 1976 and the total funds requested in the pre-application for the projects will be between $380,000 and $396,000.

Local Men Charged In Lexington Robberies

Three Rockcastle men were arrested Wednesday, December 10th in Lexington and charged in connection with armed robberies of shoppers in the Nicholas Road area of Lexington.

Charged with three counts of first degree robbery are: Charles McLargus, 21, of Mt. Vernon and James Burke, 25, of Mt. Vernon and Charles S. Clark, 21, of Mt. Vernon was charged with criminal facilitation to first degree robbery. Also charged in the robberies was Charles M. Clark with one count of armed robbery. In addition to the armed robbery charge, Burke was also charged with terroristic threatening.

Arrested with the men was Dale Clifford, 22, of Mt. Vernon, who was charged with endangering the welfare of a minor.

According to a story in the Thursday morning Lexington

Herald, the robberies occurred between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. Tuesday in the parking lots of stores on Zandale Drive and Fayette Mall.

After the initial investigation, no suspects were found. Detective Jerry Wright said, but in all three robberies, the victims gave the same description of one of the robbers.

At 12:40 a.m. Wednesday, Patrolman Joe Harp and Randy Black were "tagged down," according to Harp, by a girl on Zandale Drive asking for help in preventing the rape of her friend in an apartment at 133 Zandale Drive.

When the officers reached the apartment, four of the men attempted to leave, but were detained when Harp and Black observed that they fit the description of the armed robbers.

FRANKFORT WATCHLINE

In Massachusetts, Gov. Michael Dukakis rides to work via public transit.
In California, young Gov. Jerry Brown drives his own Plymouth to work, from his $250 a month bachelor apartment.
Going even farther, Brown turned down a raise for himself, refused to move into the Governor's Mansion, and sliced salaries for his own staff.
Kentuckians have yet to see any such changes by its governor in reducing the trappings of power. Gov. Julian Carroll is an avid user of state airplanes, state automobiles and state troopers; he is using the Governor's mansion to the hilt; and salaries for state employees, especially those in high positions on the governor's staff, are on the rise.

However, these personal symbols aside, Gov. Julian Carroll is talking, and easing toward acting on, some of the some substantive things that Brown and Dukakis and a host of other governors across the country are doing.

It is becoming more and more apparent that the battle cry of the governors of the second half of this decade is: "Less is more."

Less government, that is. Almost without fail, every significant speech delivered by Julian Carroll in the last few weeks, right up through last week's inaugural address, has been aimed at telling the people that government has gotten too big, that government can't solve all the problems, that government shouldn't even be in the business of trying to solve some problems.

The one major step Carroll has already ordered is a hold-the-line policy for state agencies in preparing budget requests for the next biennium. Whether, and how, Carroll accomplishes that will likely not be seen until his budget reaches the General Assembly next year.

But every indication is that Carroll is shooting for what he philosophizes about in his speeches.

The larger questions may be: "Is this what the people really want?"

Even though Carroll won his race for a full term as governor by the largest margin in history, the voters had little concrete action with respect to Carroll's tirades against big government on which to judge him.

In fact, one could scarcely believe that that philosophy was what elected him. After all, no one cried louder that his opponent against the evils of big government.

It is such a new trend among Democrats that, in fact, the voters have not yet had a chance to judge actions at the polls.

Yet, at the Gallup kind of poll, the most recent figures show that arch-enemy of big government, Ronald Reagan, leading moderate-enemy-of-big-government Gerald Ford, by a substantial margin.

If there is a trend toward conservative politics and conservative government in this country, it is at least becoming apparent that Democratic governors are rising to the occasion along with a good portion of the current crop of Democratic presidential contenders.

Judicial salaries under the state's new system of justice through the courts have the appearance of being the hardest point of all to settle.

Justices of the state's new supreme court would receive $45,000 a year, if the recommendation of the current court of appeals is accepted.

But there appears to be some opposition to pushing them that high.

H. LEE DURHAM ATTENDS SEMINAR

H. Lee Durham, Rockcastle County Agent, represented Rockcastle County at a "Developing Kentucky Communities" seminar on Thursday, December 4 at the Ramada Inn in London. The Cumberland

Valley Area Development District was represented by John Bruner. Larry G. Townsend, Commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Commerce, was the keynote speaker at the event sponsored by the department. The Commerce staff was assisted by representatives from the Department of Transportation, Bureau of Highways; Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, and the Development Cabinet.

The potential for industrial development in the Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle County area is very favorable. The geographical location and transportation facilities are chief assets. Proximity to Interstate 75 and rail service to the area offer definite advantages.

The following recommendations were made:

1. Every effort should be made to involve the entire community in striving for necessary services and community attractiveness in order to be a more desirable community in which an industry would like to locate.
2. Construction of new Kentucky 461 will greatly improve the potential of the Mt. Vernon site. Plans should be made for extension and financing of sewer and water lines to the site for implementation at such time as the highway is constructed.

General recommendations presented to all seminar participants concerned site development, access roads, water and sewer services, and financing.

Frankie Durham and Larry Harmon are shown in the above photo hustling as they did most of the night for the Rockets B Team. Kim Payne and Beverly Deatherage hustle to get the ball for the Rockets against Laurel County last Friday night. The girls were defeated badly by Laurel County and were also defeated Monday by Clay County. (Photo by Rick Anderkin)

In the above photo, Garlan Vanhook, No. 52 for the Rockets, goes for two. Vanhook, who missed several inside shots, did not have his usual good game. Also in the photo is No. 44, Bill Belcher. The Rockets were defeated 58-41 by Laurel after leading Laurel most of the game. Tuesday night, the Rockets journeyed to Knox Central and were defeated 93-57 in spite of forward Bill Henderson getting his high point total for the season of 25.

REMEMBER FOREST FIRE TOWERS?
BY: MARVA GAY

An era ending as forest fire towers are being replaced by small airplanes. The result—so far—is a savings of money, plus more accurate spotting of forest fires.

Four years ago, 150 watch towers throughout the state were used by fire spotters during fall and spring forest fire seasons. Today, 80 of those towers are still used to spot fires. In two or three years—if things go according to plan—all will be replaced by airplanes.

Today, the abandoned towers are still there, being up in case they are needed someday. Some may be dismantled in the future. A few in each of the state's nine forestry districts will be maintained with two-way radios for communications purposes.

Small airplanes now are flown when weather conditions indicate the likelihood of fire. Last year, the division of forestry in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection used four small airplanes to detect fires in four forestry districts. Two planes were under contract and two were state-owned. The planes oversee the western and northeastern forestry districts, plus half of the central and south central districts.

Post Office Begins Belt-Tightening Program

The Postal Service has implemented a national belt-tightening program necessitated by the service's serious financial problems. Postmaster James O. Smith said yesterday.

"The Postmaster General wants us to cut postal expenditures as close to the bone as possible."

Severe inflation and "an inordinately slow rate-making process have teamed up to drive the four-year old U.S. Postal Service "into a grave financial situation," Postmaster Smith explained. "The result was a deficit last fiscal year of nearly $1 billion."

He said that even with the rate increase in December, the Postal Service's finances for the present fiscal year are in perilous state. But the Postal Service has launched a series of cost reduction moves that include:

-Implementing nationally a program to equalize the work load of letter carriers.

-A strict limitation on outside hiring to fill postal job vacancies.

-A lid on all but the "most essential overtime work, unless it is directly connected with the distribution and delivery of mail.

Involuntary transfer of excess employees to post offices where they can be used more efficiently.

-A closer look at small post offices that are uneconomical to operate. Closing such offices may be increased if alternative methods can provide an equivalent or improved level of service.

In regard to closing small post offices, Postmaster Smith pointed out the General Accounting Office, the investigative arm of Congress, issued a report last June that said the Postal Service could close 18,000 small offices and save $100 million a year without a decline in service.

The postmaster defended the postal rates and the services performance of the $12 billion-a-year system that employs 700,000. "In fiscal year 1971, it took 1.63 days for the average first class letter to reach its destination. In the fiscal year ended last June, it took 1.56 days," he said.

"When you think about it, it is astounding that the overwhelming majority of the nearly 90 billion pieces of mail we handle each year gets through on time, without incident."

Leftover egg whites can be used in cakes, meringues and souffles.

Got Plenty Of Candles ? Without Electricity, You'd Need Them ! !

Evenings are your family's together times at home. Mom cooks a special dinner. Dad watches the evening news on TV. The children reluctantly do their homework. Everyone does something different and yet you all have a togetherness feeling.

Without enough electricity to go around, you could forget about your family's after-dark activities. Just get the candles out and think about what you could be doing if there was enough light.

Electricity keeps your family going, and it keeps the world going. Our plan is to keep electricity going to your house and to your neighbor's. And not just today, but tomorrow and many more tomorrows.

We can't do it alone, though. You've got to help by understanding that your inflation is our Inflation. Poles, coal, wire, trucks, labor, environmental equipment, and everything else have increased in price. We've got to charge more, because we have to pay more. We don't like it, but we can't help it. Our only goal is to keep your lights on and your candles out.

BOATERS SHOULD TAKE PRECAUTIONS DURING COLD WEATHER OUTINGS
By Jane Hillard

Gov. Julian Carroll has urged boaters to be wary of special hazards which colder weather brings to Kentucky's lakes and rivers.

The fatality rate on our waterways already is higher than last year, with 157 deaths as of October 31, compared to 139 for all of 1974. This must be stemmed.

Lower temperatures account for some of the problem, said Doug Shouiders, director of the division of water enforcement in the Kentucky Department of Transportation.

The extra weight of winter clothing worn by boaters now could mean disaster for even good swimmers, he said.

Hypothermia—the lowering of the body temperature when exposed to the chilling effect of cold water—is another danger.

"In a climate as warm as ours, we don't normally think of the cold as being a factor in safety," Shouiders said, but hypothermia can and does cause deaths in Kentucky every year.

One good rule to follow in trying to prevent capsizing or falling overboard is "to expect the unexpected," Shouiders said.

"Right now, for example, water levels are dropping and that favorite summer sport might have become a death trap because obstacles lying just above or below the surface could sink a boat or catapult you out of it," he said.

To prevent an outing from turning into a tragedy, Shouiders said that boaters should exercise the same good sense that got them through the summer without an accident.

"FPD's (life-jackets) should be worn at all times," he said. "Carry bailing equipment and never assume that danger in the form of a tree limb or some other solid object isn't lurking just below the surface simply because you can't see it."

It's also a good idea, especially at this time of the year, to have a companion in the boat with you, he added.

"Experience tells us that we are going to have some more deaths before the year is over, because summer boating takes the proper precautions. Carelessness causes accidents, but it can be avoided."

tickets may be ordered by mail. Checks or money orders should be made payable to Girls' State Tournaments Ticket Sales. Mail orders will be accepted on or after February 2. Tickets for individual sessions may be purchased at the tournament site any time during the tournament.

DOWN ON THE FARM

By Roy G. Brown
Assistant Vice President
Cumberland PCA

Well, most tobacco will soon be on the market and I believe the price of this year's crop has been a costly lesson. We can not grow and put it up just any way to get it on the market and receive top money. We must grow better quality and grade it out to satisfy the buyers to get the most in return for our labor.

Now is a good time to put our farm equipment in the dry if it hasn't already been done. It should be oiled and greased when putting away for the winter and checked for loose broken parts and bolts. These can be repaired while the weather is bad. Sometimes parts have to be ordered and shipments are delayed, therefore causing several days of delay when we need to be in the fields working to get our crops out at the right time. Most of the time a few days delay in some crops will reduce yield, which we cannot afford with prices for our farm products as they are "Down on the Farm."

HOLIDAY MEALS THAT ARE SAFE

Holiday meals are just around the corner. Entertaining a large family gathering is fun, and it needs to be done safely, too.

Roast turkey, the favorite for the holidays, is a perishable food. Always thaw a turkey in the refrigerator. If you must thaw it quicker that that, put it in a waterproof plastic bag, seal tightly, and defrost in cold water.

When you thaw frozen turkey at room temperature, bacteria has a chance to grow. This is especially true of large birds, because of the time it takes to thaw. Cook turkey thoroughly to an internal temperature of 180-190 degrees F. Never partially cook turkey and finish cooking later, because bacteria can live in partially cooked poultry.

Cook turkey dressing thoroughly. It is safest to cook it separately from the turkey. Dressing inside a warm turkey is a breeding place for bacteria.

If you must cook dressing inside the turkey, cook it until the meat thermometer inserted in the dressing reaches at least 165 degrees F. Never stuff the turkey until you are ready to cook it. do not thaw commercially frozen stuffed turkey before baking. Place the stuffed poultry directly into the oven.

Refrigerate turkey left overs at once. Remove all dressing and store separately.

It is easy to take these precautions and keep perishable foods safe. keep you holidays happy!

SAFE FOOD

Many holiday food favorites are highly perishable. You can, however, prepare and serve the food to avoid food-borne illness. Your family may enjoy food every-day without problems, but on holidays when large groups get together, the types and larger quantities of foods present different problems. You may not have enough refrigeration space. Bacteria can cause food poisoning. All they need to grow is the right temperature, combination of time, and moisture.

Holiday meals are fun, but need special planning. How many people can safely serve? How much time will it take to prepare the food? Don't try to feed more people than you can handle.

Pay particular attention to perishable foods such as cream pies, seafoods and dishes made with eggs, fish, meat and poultry. These dishes should be kept below 40 degrees. Do not let these foods stand at room temperature more than two hours.

Keep perishable foods such as seafood, poultry, and cooked meats hot, above 140 degrees. Bacteria grow best in lukewarm foods. Never let these foods stand at room temperature more than two hours.

Scalloped oysters, another favorite around holidays, are also highly perishable. Keep them refrigerated until just before cooking. Keep them hot, above 140 degrees. Serve quickly, refrigerate leftovers at once.

LESS SUGAR FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Many people are concerned about the high cost of sugar and the approaching holiday season. Most people like to do extra baking around the holidays, more than any other time of the year.

There is really no substitute for granulated sugar as far as the per cup cost. Brown sugar, confectioners' sugar, syrups, honey and sorghum are all more expensive per cup than granulated sugar.

At the present time, corn syrup is just slightly more expensive than sugar, but both honey and sorghum are about twice as high as sugar.

What can be done about our holiday baking? If you have to have your own sorghum or honey, then you will find many recipes using these sweeteners.

Look for recipes using the smaller amounts of sugar. We have grown accustomed to richer cakes, cookies and other desserts. However, there are delicious recipes using smaller amounts of sugar. It would be better to look for standard recipes rather than experimenting too much with your favorite cake recipes. Sugar does not affect volume and tenderness in cakes. So there is no limit to how much you can cut down.

There is one bright spot about sugar, perhaps all of us will get fewer calories this Christmas and keep our teeth healthier. *****

KENTUCKY'S UNEMPLOYMENT RATE CONTINUES TO DROP
Kentucky's unemployment rate continued to drop in November for the third consecutive month, reaching 7.1 percent of the labor force, according to Department for Human Resources (DHR) statistics.

This represented a drop of 6,200 unemployed persons since October, according to Robert McDonald, labor market analyst for DHR.

In November there were an estimated 108,100 persons out of work. This is the lowest number of unemployed persons in Kentucky since February, 1975 when there were 108,400 persons seeking jobs.

Compared to the national unemployment rate of 7.8 percent in November, the state rate remains 0.7 of one percent below the national rate.

This continued downward trend in unemployment is due primarily to increased hiring throughout the state, said MacDonald. *****
