Fiscal Court Meets Tuesday Discusses Garbage and Coal Tax

The Rockcastle County Fiscal Court, at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday, had several important items of business before them.

As the first item of business, the Court opened five bids which had been received for a backboe loader. The bids ranged from a high of $15,200 to a low bid of $7,10,11 for the bids and make their decision at a later date.

Following the opening of bids. County Judge Hubert Thacker introduced a motion which caused considerable discussion among the Magistrates. Following the opening of bids. County Judge Hubert Thacker made a motion that the garbage service be restored in the county as it was before with the county as it was before with the county and the garbage dumping situaion was looking bad.

Judge Thacker's motion counted off considerable discussion with Magistrate W.H. "Bill" Wren stating that he was not for restoring the garbage service as it was but was for putting someone out on the road to catch persons throwing garbage out.

Magistrate Ernest Mason commented, "We could have had our own landfill site open on the Payne property if the papers work, which was sont to your down landfill site open on the Payne property if the papers which will be some the papers had to be month ago, had been sent back in." Judge Thacker answered that the papers had to be reworked by the County Attorney James Lambert stated that he nad not seen the papers.

Magistrate Sherman Sargent seconded Judge Thacker's will be sent to the papers will be papers wi

The same type of thing is beginning to sprout up throughout the country. The interest in accountability and performance measurement of those on the public payroll is something that minds for many years, but it has apparently taken the growing interest in government economy to bring it to flower.

There is every chance there will be at 'least an initial step toward teacher accountability in the upcoming session of the General Assembly.

But what about making the face of the country of the laws which will govern teacher accountability or measure the performance of state employees.

Last year, a special committee ran head on into that

In the private sector, employees get raises and promotions based on the quality of the work they do, and not necessarily just, on the number of years they have been employeed in the sector are subject to small among some of those paid with tax money, about seeing to it that employees in the public sector are subject to similar demands.

what about state employees? What about state employees? In private sector, incompetent or substandard employees are likely to be fired, for employers like to see a good result from the dollars they must pay for an employee. EMPLOYMENT RATE. REMAINS SAME

Eastern Kentucky's unem-ployment rate stayed at 8.3 per cent during November, accord-ing to Department for Human Resources (DHR) statistics. It was the only area in the state which did not register a drop in unemployment from October to November.

This was the third consecuthe month unemployment dropped in the state, according to DRR figures. Powell County, at 18.9 per cent unemployment, and Lee County, with an 18.8 per cent rate, lowest November rate, 3.8 per cent.

Eastern Kentucky's rate is also the highest in the state. The state's November rate is 7.1 per cent.
Rockastle County's unemployment rate for November was 8.6 percent.
