Down on the Farm

By Roy G. Brown
Assistant Vice President,
Cumberland PCA

Today, one of our most valued products is our boys and girls and with the mad, rushing pace of making a living, we, as parents, have neglected the bringing up of our children in the nurture and admonition of Godly living. In the last few years, we have seen on television and read in the newspaper of the violence and crime committed by youths. But, this is only a small percentage that the hungry news media spread across the country. Usually, the good and noble things that 95% or more of our fine boys and girls do goes unnoticed. And, with out fanfare, this gives the impression that all our youth are bad. If most of the boys and girls who commit the violence and crime would have had the love, attention and time devoted to them by a responsible and loving father and mother, their lives probably would have been different. I would urge all parents to give more time, love, attention and set a better example for them to follow. We need to help and encourage them in 4-H Clubs, FFA, FHA, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. Provide clean recreation and parties so we can be in close contact with them. They need to be taught to work and to know work and to know what it is to earn money and the value of it. Above all, don't send them to Church, but take them. These are just a few things we, as parents, can do that will help children to be law abiding citizens. We should practice our responsibility in life so there will be less crime, hatred, unhappiness and broken homes DOWN ON THE FARM.

As part of their program to help others, the FHA Chapter sponsors a 15-year-old girl in the Philippine Islands. The girls donate $15 per month to help Felicia continue in school, purchase supplies, etc. through the Christian Children's Fund. Serena Stewart, above, treasurer of FHA, is responsible for collecting and remitting the money each month. Here she is shown looking over a letter received from Felicia telling the club something about herself and her family.

Marion Gentry, secretary of the FHA Club, is shown beside the club's Honor Roll poster which shows the club's progress toward becoming an Honor Roll club this year. Last year, there were only three Honor Roll clubs in Region 15, one of which was Rockcastle County out of about 30 schools in the Region. Thus far, the club has reached 200 of the needed 225 points to become an Honor Roll Club. In addition to Miss Gentry being secretary of the local club, she is also parliamentarian of the Region 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Barnett visited Mr. and Mrs. Aster VanWinkle recently. Mrs. Pearlie VanWinkle was in Richmond Monday to see an eye specialist. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Philbeck and children of Mt. ## 40-Unit Municipal Housing Project Unofficially Approved for City

The Mt. Vernon City Council held their regular monthly meeting Monday night and received some good news from Tommy Parsons, Executive Director of the Mt. Vernon Municipal Housing Project.

Mr. Parsons told the Council that he had received word from McLooney Architects that a 40-unit housing project had been approved for Mt. Vernon and that construction was expected to begin June 1st of this year. The project is to be located on the backside of Barnett's Subdivision.

Mr. Parsons explained that the units would contain one, two and three bedroom units with 30 percent of the units being set aside for the elderly and the remainder for the persons in the "Moderate Income Range" of $6,000 to $12,000 per year. Mr. Parsons also said that anyone with a larger income than this could rent an apartment in the project with rents for one ranging from $165 per month for a one-bedroom apartment to $240 per month for three bedrooms.

Cox approached the Council concerning the fact that he felt the door for the fire trucks, in the city's new addition, was going to be too short. Mr. Cox said that a one foot door would not accommodate the new fire trucks, which the city will have to acquire in 5 years. This matter was discussed with Preston Collins, contractor for the project, who was present at the meeting and it was decided to add another row of blocks to the top of the walls so that the door could be approximately 10 feet high.

Mr. Cox also told the Council that Fire Chief Department had now complied with all the requirements necessary to get the city's fire rating changed so that the fire insurance rates could be lower, except on and that was attending a school. However, Mr. Cox said that this was not the fire department's fault since they had tried to set-up this school several times but could not get an instructor from the state. Mayor Mullins asked the Council members to try to bring some pressure to bear on state officials so that the school could be held improving Mt. Vernon's chances of a lower fire insurance rate.

The advisability of hiring another full-time policeman, rather than paying the overtime it presently does and the salary for part-time help, was discussed by the Council.

After checking on the amount paid for the regular policeman to work overtime and the amount paid to the part-time policeman, the Council found that it would not cost the city anymore to hire another full-time policeman and they agreed to do so by advertising for applications to be opened next Monday night at a called meeting.

This would also enable Asst. Chief John Grider, who recommended the hiring of another policeman to the Council, and Patrolman Sherman Dean, to have two days off a week.

The Council also decided to advertise for someone to operate the boat dock for the city next summer. The decision followed the opening of a bid from Jerry Miskin of Mt. Vernon to lease the boat dock from the city for a lease of $175 per month for five years.

The Council decided they would rather hire someone to operate the dock for the City and hopefully realize more revenue by this route.

In the same line, the Council also decided to have a committee from the Council meet to set-up rules and regulations under which the dock will be operated.

The matter of ramps for the handicapped to use along Main Street was also taken up by the Council and was decided that the Council's Street Committee would meet to decide where these ramps should be located and the cost.

Overtime for city employees work longer than 40 hours per week was also discussed by the Council specifically the case of Frank DeBardle whose law requires that he work at the water plant 6 days a week, 8 hours a day.

The Council decided on this matter to have Matt Powell, Water Dept Superintendent, re-schedule all the employees' hours so that Mr. DeBardle will only have to work 40 hours per week.

LEON SMITH of Orlando escaped injury late Tuesday afternoon when his car crashed through a steel rail at Sears on Main Street in Mt. Vernon and landed on the small creek bed in the rear of the store, several feet away. Mr. Smith said that he was coming north through the cut when attempted to stop for a funeral turning toward Elmwood Cemetery. His brakes failed and he chose going through the rail instead of continuing along Main Street without brakes.

Congressman Tim Lee Carter Will Run For Seventh Term

Congressman Tim Lee Carter has announced formally he will seek another term as U. S. Representative from Kentucky's Fifth District.

Carter, a Republican, will be vying for his party's nomination in the May 25 primary to run in the general election this fall.

Word of Carter's decision came at a news conference at his district office in Somerset. Responding to questions from newsmen, Carter said he would run and laid out plans to campaign for the seat in Congress on his record of service to the people of the Fifth District over the past 12 years.

"I believe we have made a great deal of progress, and I am seeking reelection in order to continue to help the people in the Fifth District," Carter said.

"We've seen water systems built building many roads and in providing parks and recreational facilities," the Congressman pointed out.

"While I have been pleased to help get these improvements in our counties and cities for the people who live in them, I also have tried to be of all possible assistance to individuals as well.

"The Social Security Administration has informed me that only one Senator and two Congressmen in the entire Congress have a greater number of people they are trying to help with cases before that agency.

"We've had hospitals and clinics constructed or improved with federal assistance in 17 of our counties to provide better access to medical care for the people. Federal assistance also has been provided for medical programs that benefit all 20 Fifth District counties.

"We've had numerous libraries constructed and, again, many of these would not have been possible without federal help.

"In addition, we've had airports planned and built with federal funds and new industry located here through federal economic development programs.

FRANKFORT WATCHLINE

As the 1976 General Assembly approaches the halfway mark, little significant legislation has come through both houses to reach the governor's desk, and many legislators are predicting a monumental last-minute crunch.

But while the drift of legislation is slow, there has been considerable activity and interplay between Gov. Julian Carroll and coal county legislators seeking severance tax rebates.

What appears to be evolving is a plan which would send some money back to coal counties on the basis of need, rather than strictly on the basis of coal produced, and plow some money into coal roads.

The action is being controlled at this point solely by Carroll, and he appears to have taken a liking to a plan proposed by some coal county senators.

The Mountain Caucus, so effective in 1974 in getting a piece of the coal severance tax, has not, it appears, managed to draw itself together behind a single plan.

Based on reports from coal county senators, the plan Carroll is leaning toward would send money back to coal counties but to county advisory committees, which would be composed of a broader spectrum of the people in the county.

Carroll has expressed strong reservations about the way some of the coal tax revenue has been spent in the past year, and it is the fiscal courts that are being making the decisions.

Other major issues are creeping or sliding in some cases, to floor action.

One of the creepers is the proposal to rescind Kentucky's 1972 approval of the Equal Rights Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

One Western Kentucky senator pointed out last week that if the resolution gets to the floor of either house it will pass overwhelmingly, and indeed that appears to be the sentiment.

However, the mechanics of getting the resolution through are not so simple. Even though the resolution was approved 15-2 by the House Committee on Elections and Constitutional Amendments, there has been some speculation that the House Rules Committee may recommit the measure to another committee for consideration, delaying, if not killing, the chances of it getting to the floor.

Even if it gets through the House, it must still go through the elections and constitutional amendments committee in the Senate, where five of the seven members are committed in support of ERA, and thus against rescission.

A Western Kentucky legislator is circulating a petition even now to get enough Senators to drag the bill out of committee for a floor vote. He needs 20 names and is well short of that goal.

One of the sliders is the governor's bill to outlaw ball bonding for profit in the Commonwealth. Two weeks after it was introduced, the bill passed the House with only eight dissenting votes as a host of the governor's aides watched from the gallery.

The term "gassed" is frequently used around the Capitol for bills a governor has his personal hand, and influence in.

With the movement of the ball bond bill through the House and the very next day being reported favorably out of a Senate committee has given the term "gassed" new meaning.

The governor's people are expecting about as much trouble getting the bill through the Senate as they did the House—none at all. In fact, chances are good that by the time this column is published, Carroll will have already signed the bill.

It might also be added that many legislators who voted for the bill did so grudgingly, leaving no doubt about their feelings during and after the session.

Much of the governor's consumer package has yet to get much action thus far. Some of it, in fact, has yet to be introduced nearly three weeks Carroll announced it.

It is also expected that even with the full weight of the governor behind them, there is going to be even more dissent from legislators.

Intense lobbying is under way on many of the bills and it is too early to tell just how strongly Carroll will push for his package.

THE BICENTENNIAL

The way it was in Rockcastle County 200 years ago:

A few years before the Revolutionary War, there were wilderness trails cut across Rockcastle County, from the South to the North, leading to two settlements.

In the Bluegrass Region, to the North of the County, the gateway to these trails was Cumberland Gap. The first one was cut by Daniel Boone, from Thomas Walker's block house on the Cumberland River near Boonesboro to Boonesboro on the Kentucky River.

The second Trail was cut through the County by Colonel Skeggs and was finished on to James Harrod's settlement, which was known as Harrodsburg.

Along these trails the pioneers came by horseback, by wagons and on carts drawn by horse and oxen. Some of these pioneers found an incentive to stop and make their homes along these trails while the land was fertile and timber and building purposes was theirs for the taking, hunting was good in the land of the turkey, bear and deer. These pioneers helped populate Kentucky in 17 years with enough people to qualify Kentucky to become a state.

So this is the way it was 200 years ago.

By David G. Singleton

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY [The Fifteenth Star]

The Commonwealth of Kentucky's Constitutional Convention met in 1790 to frame a Constitution in preparation for statehood. If its instrument had been accepted, it would have been signified as the 14th Star in Old Glory but it failed to meet the standards set forth in the Federal Constitution. Nevertheless, the Constitutional framers met again in 1792 and came up with a State Constitution that was acceptable by the Union of States of the Federal Government and was adopted the same year, making Kentucky the 15th State of the Federal Union. The state of Vermont, becoming the 14th state in the meantime.

PARTICIPATION RATED EXCELLENT IN SOUTHEASTERN KENTUCKY BUSINESS BUILDING PROGRAM

Twenty-three Southeastern Kentucky business people attended the third Entrepreneurial Development Workshop that Job Start Corporation has held to provide various kinds of assistance for new or expanding businesses in its ten counties. The workshop was held the week end of January 29-February 1 at the Ramada Inn in London. Job Start is a community development corporation, serving Clay, Clinton, Harlan, Jackson, Knott, McCreary, Rockcastle, Wayne and Whitley Counties.

According to Joe Frye, Deputy Director of Job Start and also the person responsible for developing them, a total of 67 people have taken advantage of the workshops to examine both their business ideas and their personal abilities to manage them. Mr. Frye noted that Job Start had held workshops identical to the most recent one in September and December of 1975.

Out of the 67 people who have attended the three workshops, 22 were attending a series of New Enterprise Development Workshops. Mr. Frye said that these were people with ideas for new business plans and financial proposals. He said that Job Start would probably participate in the financing of at least some of them. These workshops will be held one each in March, April, and May of this year. Frye said that these counseling relationships were maintained as long as the participants felt the counseling was beneficial by them. The participants felt they were being benefited by them.

Mr. Frye said that although Job Start will not be holding any other Entrepreneurial Development Workshops this Spring, it did plan to begin recruiting efforts, probably in May, for another series of workshops like the recent ones that will be held from mid-Summer through Autumn of this year. Both the workshops and the counseling relationships are free of charge to the participants and will continue to be so when they are resumed this summer.

Frye said that Job Start was very pleased with the amount of participation in the workshops, and grateful for the assistance and support that many community leaders and business people have given it. He said that it would have been impossible to identify and recruit the workshop participants without their help.

Rockets Upset Lincoln Co. But Lose two on the Road

By Rick Anderson

Tuesday night, the Rockets took the floor to play what - as probably one of their best games of the season against a fine Lincoln County team.

In the first quarter, the Rockets came out fired up and hit most of their shots. Garlan Vanhook and Bill Henderson, who both played an excellent game, had an exceptionally good first quarter.

Coach Riddle, who has started Larry Harmon the last two games, was no doubt, glad he did so Tuesday night particularly as Harmon hit the boards well, had some clutch steals and hit about 75 percent of his shots.

Another high point for the Rockets was their defense, Jeff Burdette, one of the Rockets' guards, played an outstanding defensive game.

At the half, the Rockets were ahead by 38-35 and had picked up a little more steam to be ahead 55-52 at the end of the third quarter. The fourth quarter was a hectic one with the Rockets getting down by as many as 11 points at one time only to come roly back.

Coach Riddle called time out and rearranged his offense. John Nugent came on to hit four in a roll. Garlan Vanhook hit several must free throws. Bill Henderson and Frankie Durham both hit several long outside shots and all this resulted in the Rockets' upset win over Lincoln County 75-76.

The Rockcastle Rockets went on the road last week and dropped both games, one to Anville and the other to Monticello.

Last Tuesday night at Anville, the Rockets suffered a 66-64 upset. Even though the Rockets have not been playing real good ball this year, this was classed as an upset because in the first meeting between the two teams, the Rockets had destroyed Anville 84-57.

However, it was a different story this time. In this game, Bill Henderson led all scorers with 18 points, followed by Garlan Vanhook with 16, Larry Harmon, Jeff Burdette, John Nugent and Bill Belcher each had 6, Durham got 4 and David Roe 2.

On Friday night, the Rockets journeyed to Monticello and as has been the case most of the season, they lost the game in the second half.

At the end of the first quarter, the score was knotted at 14 all. But, at the end of the first half, the Rockets were ahead 29-25.

Then, in the third quarter, the Rockets were outscored by 11 points and, even though they closed the margin somewhat in the fourth quarter, it was not as novel as Monticello came out ahead 61 to 55.

Vanhook led all Rockets in scoring with 21 points; Henderson garnered 9; Nugent and Harmon had 8 apiece and Jeff Burdette and David Roe got 4 each.

The Rockets' B-Team rostered in Anville in their game with the Rockets' same night as the Rockets' A-Team game, 66 to 25.

Leading scorer for the Rockets was Tim Arvin with 16; David Owens got 12; Bill Hackworth 10; Frankie Durham 8; Earl Hammons 7; Larry Harmon and Dusty Carlolis 6 each and David Craig 1.

But, the B-Team suffered the same fate as the A-Team at Monticello, being downed 37-29.

This time, Durham led all scorers with 10; Owens got 7; Hackworth an Hammons 4 each; and Arvin an Centers, 2 each.

Come out and support the Rocket. They are not on the with them, play the year but show promise from a promising young bench.

In addition, just a few weeks ago the Veterans Administration notified me that the number of cases I had taken up with that agency in 1970 alone was almost a thousand and that this was higher than any of the other eight members of the Kentucky delegation.

Many times our people are unable to get through the red tape of federal programs, and it has been my pleasure to do what I can to help. As representative of the people, I consider this my job. It has been a full-time job, and I have devoted myself fully to it.

I have received the endorsement of the county chairmen and chairwomen in all 29 Fifth District counties for another term. I consider this a mandate and will do my best to fulfill it; "The Congressman added.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

You are aware that our Court has voted to re-instate our garbage disposal service for Rockcastle County. As you also know, I supported this as I thought it was the thing to do. Once the contract is re-written, we will be publishing regulations governing the service.

I am asking you to help communicate with all of Rockcastle's people in urging them to cooperate.

Once the service is re-instated, there will be no excuse for people to dispose of garbage or litter illegally. Again, I am asking the people to assist in enforcement of the law by reporting those who dump garbage illegally and in turn I will make every effort to prosecute the offenders.

Sincerely,

Haberl Thacker

Rockcastle Recollections

By: John Lair

Judge Hubert Thacker, present judge of Rockcastle County, has just come up with what I think is a very good idea. Judge Thacker suggests that an attempt be made to secure likenesses of all Rockcastle County judges to date, to be displayed on the walls of the county court room, to be currently added to and preserved for future generations. He has talked with me about the idea and asked my help in locating pictures of the various judges. I am willingly engaging in the task, largely because I think such a collection of photographs would add much to our history of the county.

Personally, I can recall having seen pictures of only a few of our past judges, but many of them are still living and would, I'm sure, feel honored to furnish us with a likeness of themselves. The descendants of those who have passed on should be more than willing to locate for us photographs that would preserve for posterity their relatives who were honored by being elected to the important position of County Judge. If readers will bring or send such pictures to me, at Renfro Valley, I will keep them locked in a safe place so that nothing can possibly happen to them. I will want to have them photographed for the book and will then turn them over to Judge Thacker for installation in the court room. I do not know just how it will be handled, but I assume that he would either make copies for hanging in the court room and return the originals to me to give back to the senders, or else hand the originals, and have copies of them made for those who sent them in. Such details can be worked out as will be mutually satisfactory to the contributors of such pictures.

According to my files, the following men have held office as County Judge of Rockcastle County since the erection of the new courthouse in 1778:

- J. M. Fish
- G.W. McClure
- J. B. Lair
- P.D. Colyer
- D.P. Bethurum
- R.G. Williams
- S.D. Lewis
- L.W. Bethurum
- G.M. Ballard
- Cam Mullins
- Felix Bowman
- S.P. Caudill
- Charles Carter
- J.H. Lambert
- Walter Williams
- Walter Sowder
- Money Ed Cummins
- Wayne VanHook
- and Hubert Thacker.

Of the above, those elected for two separate terms were:

- G.W. McClure
- J.B. Lair
- L.W. Bethurum
- Felix Bowman

Charles Carter was the one most often elected, having served five terms. Only he and J.W. Bethurum were elected to succeed themselves in office.

As photographs or likenesses of these men are received we will report them through this column so that readers may know how the work is progressing. Many of them will, of course, be in large frames and rather bulky and if you have no way of sending them in, notify me and we will pick them up at your home and guarantee safe handling and keeping.

FIFTH BIRTHDAY—Angela Ann Collins celebrated her 5th birthday, January 14th, 1976. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. James E. Collins of Bryan, Ohio. Grandparents are Arvilla E. Ball of Mt. Vernon, Ky, and Maggie Collins of Hicksville, Ohio. Also helping Angela celebrate is her nine month old sister, Jessica Gail. Mrs. Collins is the former Donna Gail Ball.

Our big problem, of course, will be in finding pictures of those who held the office of county judge before 1878. In fact, we have found it quite a problem to find even the names of many of them. The period from the beginning of the county, in 1810, to the burning of the courthouse, covers sixty three years. This means that about fifteen four-year terms are involved, calling for fifteen judges, unless some of them served more than one term. It is readily apparent that the unknown list could be almost as long as the one we have identified.

We are not even sure who was the first county judge, but have been told it was either Col. William Fish, his father, Thomas Fish, Sr. or his brother, Thomas Fish, Jr. Jesse Fish, a younger brother of Col. William Fish also served as county judge, but the dates of his service are not now known. Billy McClure, father of Judge G.W. McClure, also served at least one four year term as county judge. Thomas Napier was occupying the office of county judge in 1857. B.J. Bethurum followed him for a four year term.

Since beginning this history, someone, whose name I do not remember, has mentioned knowing where there is a picture of Judge McClure or Judge Colyer. If this comes to the notice of that person, I would like very grateful if they would contact me again. If it can be found, it is quite likely to be the only one located covering the period from 1810 to 1873.

I think it is quite important that we locate as many of these photographs and likenesses as possible. No attempt to do so has ever been made before, and it is very likely that another will ever be made at any time in the future. I you are of the family of any of these men, you should take pride in seeing their picture enshrined in county records in the courthouse and especially in seeing them preserved on the printed pages of a book, which will for all time to come record them for posterity.

If you have any recollection of having seen a picture of any of the older judges, or know anyone who may have such a picture, please contact me. No clue is too small to set us on the trail of any such likeness and no effort is too much for us to spend on such a search. Remember that as these pictures are located announcement will be made in this column of the Signal so that readers will be able to keep up with the search and see how we are progressing with it.

If you prefer to contact Judge Thacker, or either of our local newspapers, I am sure they will see to it that the pictures get to me and after they are in my hands I will undertake to be personally responsible for their safe handling and return, either in the original or as a copy.

One more suggestion. It might suit you to have the picture you submit hung in the courthouse and left there for the future, rather than to keep it in your own home and risk it being lost or moved around among many relatives when you are gone. It would also be a good way to make it available to all members of the family, instead of restricting it to the ownership of one person. That, of course, is a matter for you to decide. We will be glad to abide by your decision in all instances.

To meet your needs takes money to pay the inflated costs of materials, fuel, labor and environmental controls. We can't pay today's and tomorrow's

U.S. HIGHWAY 25 NORTH MT. VERNON

With the Legislature In Frankfort

By Rep. Harold DeMarcus

According to the Kentucky Revised Statutes 45.030, the governor, with the advice and assistance of the Executive Department for Finance and Administration, must prepare and submit to each regular session of the General Assembly a budget report for consideration and adoption by the General Assembly. The statutes also require that this budget present a complete financial plan for each of the next two fiscal years.

The procedure by which this budget is drafted is two-fold. First, an estimate of expected receipts by the state is made by the Department of Revenue along with the Executive Department for Finance and Administration. These revenue estimates will comprise the total amount of funds available for expenditures by the state for the next two fiscal years. The second phase of drafting is the submission by each agency of state government of a budget request which sets forth the estimate and request of funds necessary to operate for the next two years. Upon receipt of the revenue estimates and the budget request, the budget is then drafted from the standpoint of funds available, agency requests and the priorities established by the governor and his staff. The final document is the governor's proposed executive budget for the next biennium. This budget is presented to a joint session of the General Assembly by the governor as his recommendation. The budget is then introduced into the House of Representatives, as required by statute (all appropriation bills must originate in the House), and upon its passage by the House, is sent to the Senate for their consideration. Once the budget has passed both the House and the Senate and has been signed by the governor, it becomes the budget by which the state will operate for the next biennium, which will begin on July 1.

The governor's 1976-78 Executive Budget, which was presented to the General Assembly on January 28, 1976 proposes a $5.7 billion total financial plan for the Commonwealth during the next two fiscal years. The governor has promised a "prudent fiscal posture" in regard to state expenditures during the coming biennium. His budget is an "essential services budget with emphasis on providing only those services that are backed by strong program rationale." He has promised time and time again to cut down on the bureaucracy in Frankfort, but this budget does not justify his statements.

Over the last 12 months, more state employees have been hired than in any other 12-month period in the history of the Commonwealth. In December, 1974, there were 32,932 permanent full-time and part-time employees and by December, 1976, the number of employees had grown to 38,198 permanent full and part-time employees, an increase of 5,266 employees and an annual growth rate of 11.9 percent. In December, 1974, the monthly payroll was $24,832,501.00 and in November, 1976, the monthly payroll was $28,023,498.00, for an annual growth rate of 22 percent. This governor has increased the state payroll more than any other governor in the Commonwealth's history.

The Executive Budgets presented to the General Assembly over the last eight years will give the best comparison of how state government is growing. In 1968, the budget was $2.5 billion; in 1970, the budget was $3.1 billion; in 1972, the budget was $3.5 billion; in 1974, the budget was $4.4 billion; and in 1976, the budget is $5.7 billion.

There are 3.2 million persons in Kentucky and this will mean that it will cost every man, woman, and child in Kentucky approximately $1,781.00 over the next two years to finance the agency budget requests.

As these figures indicate, this is the largest increase recommended in our state's budget by any governor in the last ten years. And still the governor says the state government is growing. It is based on "Common sense for the common good."

State agencies requested more than $6.4 billion in the budget proposals. However, after study of these proposals and the assessment of the state's needs and priorities and in light of the estimated revenue of 7 billion (which are the figures available to the legislature at this writing), more than $900 million was trimmed from the agency budget requests.

One item of extreme interest to all Kentuckians is the governor's proposal relating to elementary and secondary education.

The budget for 1976-78 provides elementary and secondary education with approximately $147 million for new services and expanded programs. The state's general fund support of elementary and secondary education will increase by 23.2 percent in 1976-77 over the present 1975-76 appropriated level and by another 12.4 percent in 1977-78. Elementary and secondary education related functions will receive in excess of $500 million of the state's general fund monies for both years of the biennium.

Although per pupil expenditures in Kentucky's public schools have consistently been low and a point of public criticism, Kentucky's state support of elementary and secondary education remains relatively high. According to information available through the National Education Association, Kentucky ranks higher than six of the seven surrounding states in state support of public schools on a per pupil in average daily attendance basis.

In 1974-75, Kentucky ranked approximately 23rd among the states in state support per pupil in average daily attendance.

Kentucky also compares favorably with the seven surrounding states in benefits provided the teacher by the state. The state provides employer contributions to Teacher's Retirement rather than having the expense borne by local districts. The new comprehensive medical insurance that will cover certified and non-certified personnel in Kentucky's school districts is another example of state supported fringe benefits. The value of this benefit in gross income per teacher is approximately $300 annually.

The average teacher's salary is a result of combined state and local efforts. For that reason the average salary is higher than the average unit allotment under the Foundation Program. In those districts that rely entirely on the Foundation Program for support, salary increases for some teachers will not meet the increases in the unit allotment, $1,200 and $800, due to the larger number of teachers, predicted by education officials, filling the higher paid ranks as compared to 1976. In those districts, salary increases for some teachers will be $1,073 in 1976-77 and $705 in 1977-78.

In addition, the budget for 1976-78 presented to the legislature includes approximately $7.8 million to purchase textbooks for all of Kentucky's high school students.

The budget also includes a recommendation for $10,000,000 to fund the "lower equalization" concept in 1977-78 at a level five cents higher than the 30 cent per $100 of assessed property that now is written into the Minimum Foundation Program. House Bill 4 was prefilled by the Appropriations and Revenue Committee and proposed that the first 20 cents above the 30 cents required level be equalized. By equalizing at a 20 cents level, it was felt that this would bring Kentucky to a level comparable to that of surrounding states. However, the governor has chosen to only allocate funds for 5 cents instead of the 20 cents.

NEWS AND VIEWS FROM THE ROCKCASTLE COUNTY LIBRARY

Sometimes when you wake up in the morning—even before you open your eyes—you see if it is sunny or rainy—you know that the day is special. Today's a holiday!

Most holidays are days that are set aside for rest or play, to help remember something important that happened, or to honor some great person. Other holidays are days that used to have real meaning in our lives but that have been almost forgotten. Often we still celebrate the traditions that are connected with them.

Many of our most important holidays are religious holidays. The holiday that Americans observe most often is a religious one, the Sabbath. It is a holy day that is set aside as a day of worship and rest. Christians keep the Sabbath on Sunday and Jews celebrate it on Saturday.

National holidays are days that all the people in a country want to remember. The Congress of the United States has set aside certain legal holidays for national observance.

Regional holidays are days that are celebrated in a particular part of the country. In this state, the day of Columbus, the third Monday in April is a holiday—Patriots' Day. The Revolutionary War patriots are especially honored in these two New England states.

Another kind of holiday is a family holiday. These are personal occasions such as birthdays or anniversaries. To find out the history of these and other holidays, visit the public library. There are books on the history of all holidays.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals, free milk or reduced-price meals. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with hardship conditions due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are available at the principal's office in each school for families who wish to apply for free or reduced-price meals or free milk for their children.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wish to apply for such meals and milk for them, they should contact the school.

If a family member becomes unemployed or if family's size and income changes, the family should contact the school to file a new application. Such changes may make the children of the family eligible for reduced price meals, or for additional benefits such as free meals and milk if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provision of the policy the school principal will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official he may make a request either orally or in writing to

Charles B. Parsons whose address is Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456

(NAME OF SUPERINTENDENT) for a hearing to appeal the decision.

The hearing procedures are outlined in the policy.

A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the office of the District Superintendent where it may be reviewed by any interested party.

BEANS FAVORITE OF THE HOUSE

A good place for beans is in the house, and in the Senate. The Senate and House dining rooms on Washington, Capitol Hill serve bean soup every day. The people who eat there know a good thing when they taste it. The time for soup tasting is right now, especially bean soup every day. The people who eat there know a good thing when they taste it. Just as there are devoted followers of bean soup, other bean connoisseurs prefer hot, spicy Mexican dishes—for which the red beans are more frequently used. Especially good news for these people is the colored bean crop—pintos, pinks, small reds, kidneys, Garbanzo—all up between 10 and 39 per cent over last year.

Dry beans of any class are not only delicious, they also carry a powerful protein punch. Another good thing about beans—they have a long shelf life if stored properly. Once a package has been opened, place the beans in a container with a tight-fitting lid and keep in a cool, dry place.

For hearty appetites, beans make good eating in a lot of different ways. BEAN SOUP
1 lb. white beans
3 pts. water
1/2 cup cooked mashed potatoes
1 ham bone
3 medium size onions, diced
1 bunch celery, chopped

from the Rockcastle High School and Berea Community. When classes are not filled by secondary students from the participating high schools, post-secondary students wishing to obtain gainful employment may enroll in these vacancies.

The Rockcastle Vocational School has a local advisory committee consisting of knowledgeable persons from each of the fields offered in the Vocational Programs. They provided advice to the local vocational school in many areas where lay advice can lead to the overall improvement of programs and programming for the school. They also serve as public relations unit between the school and community.

The Rockcastle Vocational School has been having various projects going this week in observation of National Vocational Week.

GRAPEFRUIT COMPLEXIONS

Grapefruit is available these days in colors ranging from white to rosy red. It can add magic to your meal, color to your table and a lot of zing to faltering winter menus.

Whatever the color, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) says grapefruit is on the market in large numbers. It peaks at just the time when winter appetites need a fresh challenge. To help you give the white, pink and red grapefruit an equal chance to vie for the top spot at your table, here are two sure-hit recipes:

BAKED GRAPEFRUIT

2 cups crushed corn flakes
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 grapefruit
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 cup melted butter

Combine corn flakes, sugar, cinnamon and butter. Halve grapefruits. Core and loosen sections. Top with cornflake mixture. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 10 to 15 minutes. Serve immediately.

BROILED FISH WITH GRAPEFRUIT

2 lb. fish prepared for broiling
3 slices of grapefruit (unpeeled)
2 tsp. chopped parsley
2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 lb. butter
1 cup grapefruit juice
salt and pepper

Put fish in shallow baking pan. Place grapefruit slices on it. Salt and pepper well. Sprinkle with parsley. Dot with butter and place in oven (350 degrees) for about 25 minutes. As fish bakes, add one-third cup of grapefruit juice. When fish is well cooked, place under the broiler flame and brown. Remove to platter. Pour remaining grapefruit juice in fish pan. Add Worcestershire sauce and bring to a boil on top of the stove. Strain over the fish and sprinkle with paprika. Garnish platter with grapefruit moons.

County Agent's Notes

BY H. LEE DURHAM

SOILS, FERTILIZER, CROPS MEETING

Dr. Kenneth Wells, Extension Soils Specialist, will be at the Rockcastle County High School (ag. room) Monday, February 16, 1976 at 7:30 p.m. for a very important meeting on soils and crops. Dr. Wells will discuss such topics as: Managing Nitrogen Use for Crops, Micronutrient Requirements by Crops, Soil Testing, Land use and Cropping Systems.

CONTROLLING BROOMSEDGE THROUGH MANAGEMENT

Millions of Kentucky acres are infested with "broomsedge" or "sage-grass." Most of this acreage has a cool season such as fescue present also. During the vegetative stage, broomsedge is grazed well by cattle, but later toward maturity it is not grazed at all. It should be controlled since it occupies space which could be occupied by more palatable and productive plants. But how?

BROOMSEDGE IS AN INDICATOR

Just as a fever in man indicates a problem, broomsedge indicates a problem in the soil. And just as the doctor can diagnose illness in a man by only knowing his temperature, the problem in soil cannot be diagnosed without additional information on the field where broomsedge is growing. The problem is always either a deficiency in lime (low pH), nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium or combinations of these deficiencies.

SOIL TEST IS IMPORTANT

To determine which of these deficiencies exist, a representative soil sample from the field should be taken to your county agent for testing. He will then recommend only what you need to apply. High phosphate soils sometimes have broomsedge. Adding more phosphate does not solve the broomsedge problem on these soils. Likewise adding lime or potash where they aren't needed doesn't help either. Nitrogen is almost always deficient in pure grass fields in Kentucky but the nitrogen level is not determined in the routine soil test. It is well accepted that unfertilized pure grass stands are nitrogen deficient in most of our pasture and hay fields. Nitrogen can be supplied to grass fields either as fertilizer nitrogen or by seeding legumes.

FERTILIZER NITROGEN VS LEGUME NITROGEN

Nitrogen from fertilizer or from legumes helps control broomsedge, but it is not recommended that nitrogen be applied to fields which have stands or which will be seeded to legumes. Nitrogen fertilizer applied in late winter, will cause grasses to begin growth earlier in the spring. Also, nitrogen may be applied to bluegrass and fescue in late summer for accumulating grass growth to graze during winter. Nitrogen fertilizer price increases make legumes look even more attractive than they have in the past.

Red clover is one of the best legumes to use in renovating fields infested with broomsedge. Properly inoculated red clover will produce vigorous seedlings which grow fast and compete strongly with all weeds.

SUMMARY

To rid a field of broomsedge: (1) test the soil; (2) apply lime, phosphate and/or potash now according to soil test; (3) apply nitrogen fertilizer in late February to pure grass stands if early spring growth is needed; (4) apply nitrogen fertilizer in August to pure grass stands, if accumulated grain is desired; and/or (5) renovate seed red clover in fields which do not receive nitrogen fertilizer. Be sure and utilize the additional feed which will be produced by either grazing or harvesting growth as hay or silage. If grazing is the method of harvest, clipping may be needed to control unpalatable plants.

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY TOURISM INDUSTRY BEING PROMOTED BY COLOR BROCHURE

The Rockcastle County Tourism Industry is being promoted by a beautiful 40-page color brochure which is being prepared by the eight-county area by the Cumberland Valley Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) Council, according to Sammy Ford, project Chairman for Rockcastle County.

The brochure will contain several pages of information using local pictures to explain the natural, historical, and scenic areas, plus the recreation facilities available in our county.

Mr. Sammy Ford, along with several other members of the RC&D Council, are selling local advertisements to pay for the brochure.

The RC&D Council believes that our area has a very good potential for attracting tourists to enjoy our beautiful lakes, streams, parks, and the many other attractions we have to offer. The Council also believes the brochure will greatly improve the general economy of the area.

Mr. Ford and Council members will be contacting our key businesses to give them an opportunity to place their ads in the brochure which will be circulated throughout Kentucky and several other states.

With community cooperation, the RC&D Council hopes to help make the Cumberland Valley a little better place for all of us through the Recreation Tourism Brochure promotion project.
