FHA is very advantageous to the school. It increases school/business relationship, improves attitudes of students toward school, and school activities, involves students in decision making, and carries out the school's purpose of preparing employable citizens.

The community also benefits from FHA. It increases student participation in civic development, prepares young people for jobs, and produces citizens aware of constructive use of leisure time. FHA operates on three levels: national, state and chapter. FHA fulfills its purpose through its many activities on all levels. We, the Rockcastle County Chapter participate in many different activities. Each year we collect money for Unicef and the Heart Fund. We observe National FHA Week, and we go caroling annually around Christy Lane at the Sowers' Nursing Home in

WHAT YOU NEVER KNEW ABOUT FHA
By: Patty Mink

How many times have you heard FHA mentioned but were not quite sure what it is? This article is an effort to inform you, the community, who we are, what we stand for and what we do. FHA (Future Homemakers of America) is a non-profit organization financed by membership dues, donations, grants and fund raising projects. FHA was founded in June of 1945 in Chicago, when a group of national officer candidates from several sub-regions and a group of advisors drew up a temporary constitution.

FHA is working to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living. Our colors are red and white. Red signifies strength while white suggests sincerity. These colors give us the courage and determination to succeed in fulfilling our purposes. The red rose, our flower, represents the search of Future Homemakers of America for beauty in everyday living. "Toward New Horizons," our motto, is a challenge and reminds members that their contribution to home and community will influence the kinds of homes they will have tomorrow, and the world. Our emblem, an eight-sided figure bearing the name of our organization, our motto, and the picture of a house supported by two hands, symbolizes that the future homes of America are in the hands of the youth.

FHA is very valuable to the student or member. Students learn to improve their home and family life, to select a job or career, understand themselves and

Rockets Win Opener In District Play

Bill Henderson drives into close quarters for a score against Oneida Tuesday night at Jackson County in first-round District Tournament play. The Rockets will meet Jackson County Friday night.

An Oneida player is shown fouling Garland Vanhook, No. 52, for the Rockets. Vanhook got his two points anyway and two free throws.

Bill Belcher got loose for an easy lay-up against Oneida Tuesday night.

improvement work on 80 acres of natural hardwood stands.

Since starting on his program of forest management, Bullen has selectively harvested 350,000 board feet of timber from his woodland.

To help protect his woodland from forest fires, he maintains 2 miles of fire access road and plans to develop more in the future.

He also keeps a small fire control available for use in case of a forest fire.

According to Harry Nadler, Director of the Division of Forestry, Mr.

Bullen is an outstanding example for other Kentucky Forest landowners to follow. Nadler said that Kentucky needs many more interested forest landowners like Mr. Bullen. Such forward thinking landowners can do much toward helping meet our future demands for timber.

The Rockets got off to a fine start in District Tournament play at Jackson County Tuesday night by defeating a good Oneida team, 69 to 60.

The Rockets took the lead at the start of the game and led at all the quarter stops.

Oneida went ahead of the Rockets only one time at 21 to 20. Bill Henderson and Garland Vanhook got a lay-up each and the Rockets never looked back. However, in the fourth quarter, the Rockets saw a 19 point lead fade to only 7 points when Bill Henderson had to be taken out due to having been called for four fouls.

Henderson led all scorers with 29 points. Vanhook got 19, Belcher 6, Harmon 2, Nugent 12 and Burdette 3.

Girls Win Also
The Girls team also won Tuesday's opening game by defeating Oneida 32 to 26 and will also play Jackson County Friday at 6:30 p.m. This game will be followed by the Rockets-Jackson County game at 8 p.m.

Jaycees To Erect Monument

Several Rockcastle County Jaycees were on hand at Tuesday's meeting of the Rockcastle Fiscal Court to ask the court's permission to erect a monument on the courthouse lawn to soldiers from Rockcastle County who were recognized by the War Department as having been killed in World War I, World War II, the Korean Conflict and in Vietnam.

Danny Ford showed the Court a picture of the type monument which would be erected and also said that a list of names, which the Jaycees had compiled thus far, was being published in the paper so that anyone knowing of a name omitted from the list would be able to notify the Jaycees.

One suggestion was made by Robert Robinson that casualties from the Spanish-American War be included in the list and Mr. Ford said that the Jaycees would consider adding these names.

The Court gave their permission for the monument to be erected and a list of names to be submitted by the Jaycees as job.

AND SOON IT'S SHAMROCK TIME FOR THE LIKES OF OLD IRELAND

By Helen Price Stacy

"In Down three Saints one grave do fill Brigit, Patrick and Columille."

Patriotic died March 17, 1493 and to choose a final resting place for the crusader of Christian faith in the Emerald Isle, two wild oxen were allowed to pull his bier, stopping where they pleased.

It was in County Down, and the graves of the three Saints today are marked by a single monolith of unknown granite in the churchyard of Downpatrick Cathedral.

Saint Patrick, native of Wales at the time of Roman occupation, was a son of a British chieftain and suffered imprisonment and punishment before he was visited by an angel directing him to freedom.

Saint Patrick was revered through the ages by the Irish. Much later when the New World began to open to immigrants, followers of Patrick showed the same courage in embarking on strange seas and alien paths. Who were some of the Irish who for various reasons took passage (or stowed away) on ships bound for America?

William Orr left County Clare in 1780. His son William was born in 1780 in Northumberland County, Pa. and in 1805 married Elizabeth Turner in Bourbon County, Kentucky. She was a daughter of William and Martha Riords Turner in Bourbon County, Kentucky. She was a daughter of William and Margaret Turner who came from England to Maryland, then to Kentucky and was at Bryan's Station during the Indian fighting.

DRIVER KILLED—Hubert G. Norton, 44, of Route 1, Mt. Vernon, driver of this coal truck received fatal injuries Tuesday morning, February 24th on KY 552 six miles south of London

Hubert G. Norton, 44, Killed In Coal Truck-Train Collision

The driver of a coal truck was killed when his vehicle was struck by an L&N train at 10:45 a.m. Tuesday, February 24th, 6.2 miles south of London on KY 552.

Hubert G. Norton, Route 1, Mt. Vernon, died at the Southeastern Kentucky Baptist Hospital in Corbin at 12:23 p.m. Tuesday from injuries sustained in the accident.

Trooper G.A. Tomlinson, investigating officer, said that the L&N Train No. 161 was traveling south on the railroad and that Norton, operating a truck owned by Greer Bros. Coal Company, London, was going east on KY 552.

The engineer of the train, Clarence B. Piper, Covington, told the trooper that as he approached the crossing his speed was 40 mph and that the train's warning whistle and bell were operating. The engineer went on to state that Norton did not look in either direction as his vehicle approached the railroad tracks and that the driver also didn't slow down as he neared the crossing.

Trooper Tomlinson reported that when Norton reached the crossing, he pulled directly into the path of the train. After the impact, the coal truck was carried approximately 180 feet before it came to rest with the train. Trooper Tomlinson said.

The dump bed from the truck was found approximately 78 feet south of the impact point and the motor from the vehicle was carried approximately 90 feet south of the impact and 45 feet east of the rails.

Trooper Tomlinson stated that the railroad crossing affords a clear view of the tracks in both directions. He added that there are no flashing lights or drop arms at the crossing, however, there are railroad crossing signs on both sides of the roadway approaching the track.

Mr. Norton was born April 11, 1931 in Rockcastle County, the son of Rosevelt and Rhoda McKinney Norton of Route 1, Mt. Vernon.

Survivors besides his parents are his wife, Mrs. Georgia Renner Norton; one son, Donnie Norton; one daughter, Marlene Norton, both at home; one brother, Bernard Norton of Route 1, Mt. Vernon and one sister, Mrs. Eva Cromer of Route 1, Mt. Vernon.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the Cox Funeral Home Chapel with Dr. Wayne Creech officiating. Burial was in the McKinney Cemetery.

Fiscal Court Reinstates Garbage Collection System

On a motion by Magistrate J.R. "Boone" Cromer, the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court voted Thursday, in a called meeting, to reinstate the garbage collection system and approved the contract being signed by Judge Thacker and the clerk on behalf of the county.

On the vote, Magistrates Whitaker and Sargent voted with Magistrate Cromer and Magistrate Ernest Mason abstained. Magistrate Bill Wren was not present at the meeting.

The contract is for a two-year period with the contractor, Kenneth Cromer and Guy C. Martin, having the option of continuing for an additional six months, provided however, that the County shall have the right to sooner terminate the contract without obligation to the contractor upon discontinuation of the Federal Revenue Sharing plan.

Under the terms of the agreement, the contractor will provide up to forty containers as needed and empty them once per week for the sum of $32 per month per container. Additional pick-ups above the once a week, will be charged at the rate of $5 per pick-up.

The contractor is responsible for the garbage container sites if he fails to empty any container on schedule when said container is full and, as a result, garbage and refuse is deposited on the site but outside the containers but this provision will not apply if the contractor is prevented from emptying containers because of inclement weather.

If the contractor makes all scheduled pick-ups, but the sites become garbage of insufficient scheduled pick-ups or other causes not attributable to the contractor, he shall not be obligated to clean up the site.

In Tuesday's meeting of the Fiscal Court, Robert Robinson, representing the Rural Development Committee, was present to request that the county cooperate with the committee in cleaning up the illegal dumps which have sprung up over the county since the garbage system was discontinued.

However, none of the Magistrates were willing to obligate themselves to furnish a truck and driver for the clean-up project and no action was taken on Mr. Robinson's request.

Also at the meeting, Judge Hubert Thacker furnished the Court with his report for 1975 which showed $9,600 in salaries collected and $17,110 in fees. The Court accepted the report.

Everett Renner was hired as the county's John Deere grader operator with Magistrate Ernest Mason abstaining on the vote and, in other action, the Magistrates voted to transfer $800 to each Magistrate's account for road work from the sale of two dump trucks which brought $4,350.

WILLIAM K. BULLEN, KENTUCKY'S TREE FARMER OF THE YEAR.

contract was due to expire in about three months and he would appreciate their acting on it at this time.

He expressed his desire to remain as Superintendent and told the Board that in his eight years as Superintendent, he had tried to satisfy but that this was the Board's opportunity, if they wished, to try someone else for the next four years.

Supl. Parsons then left the room while the matter was considered by the Board who, on a motion by Willie Taylor, unanimously voted to rehire Mr. Parsons with a salary increase to $19,000 per year plus foundation program raises.

Two bids for fire insurance for school property were opened at the meeting and the Board voted to accept the low bid which was submitted by Farm Bureau Insurance at a cost of $13,525.21. The policy for one year covers all school buildings with a $100 deductible.

Mr. Parsons pointed out to the Board that the rate was up approximately $5,000 over 1975 but that this was due to the fact that the Board raised their statement of values on the school buildings and that fire insurance rates were up in general about 25%.

The bid for boiler insurance was awarded to the Cox Funeral Home Agency which submitted the low bid of $668.

Bige Towery, principal of Brohead Elementary School, was on hand at Mr. Parsons' request to explain to the Board a recent school bus incident in which a freshman girl was beaten about the face by a sixth-grade boy student from Brohead.

Mr. Parsons said that since the incident had made the news media, in the form of a letter to the editor, he felt the Board might appreciate a first-hand report from Mr. Towery as to what steps were taken by school personnel at the time.

Mr. Towery told the Board that immediately upon his hearing of the incident from the girl's parents, he had talked with Willard Whitaker, Director of Transportation, with Mr. Parsons and

Seventeen Forest Fires Reported Here In Week's Time

Forest Ranger Steve Bullen reported Wednesday that seventeen forest fires had been reported in Rockcastle County from February 24th through March 2nd.

Mr. Bullen said that in his ten-years experience this was the biggest number of fires reported in one week. He attributed the unusual number of fires to the unusually high temperatures in February, the lack of rain, careless burning and in some cases, arson.

Mr. Bullen said that during this time 17 fires were fought and 412 acres burned over. This was in addition to the fire on Green Pond Ridge, between Climax and Duplants, which was fought by Richard Green, assisted by members of the U.S. Forest Service with fire retardant chemicals dumped from an airplane Saturday. This fire was definitely caused by arson, Mr. Bullen said.

Six of the 17 fires were reported on Tuesday in the Pine Hill, East Fork Creek and Cove Branch areas of the county and Mr. Bullen said a total of 171

Wm. K. Bullen Named State Tree Farmer Of Year

Mr. William K. Bullen of Wildie, Kentucky was named Tree Farmer of the Year by the Kentucky Forest Industries Association at the annual meeting in Louisville, February 20, 1976.

Bullen was so honored in recognition of the outstanding work he has done for a number of years in managing his 688 acres of forest land in Rockcastle County. He was selected from among nine district winners. Mr. Bullen was nominated by Richard Green, Senior Forester, Kentucky Division of Forestry Pineville.

A plaque designating him Tree Farm Committee on behalf of the Kentucky Forest Industries Association, the state sponsor. He also received a plaque from the American Forest Institute—the National sponsor of the Tree Farm System. The latter presentation was made by Richard Lewis, Manager, American Tree Farm System, Washington, D.C. Bullen also received a chainsaw from the McCulloch Corporation.

The basic aim of the Tree Farm System is to place woodland under management practices that will bring continuing benefits to the owner, and produce more a better forest, produce and services for the American people. To qualify as a Tree Farm the owner must have demonstrated both his desire and ability not only to manage his woodland, but to protect his trees from fire, insects, disease, and destructive grazing.

Mr. Bullen's early interest was in tree planting. Starting in 1929, he planted regularly each year until he now has 115 acres of planted pine and hardwoods. In 1971 he started thinning and pruning some of his plantations. To date he thinned 16 acres of pine plantations and has done timber stand

FRANKFORT WATCHLINE

Home rule for cities is an idea that has almost unanimous support among legislators, except for one little "Catch 22."

Almost every legislator has a constituent problem with home rule, letting cities govern themselves. The constituents want the cities to have the power to handle things, everything, except taxes.

And there is the rub. Legislators would like nothing better than to get out of the business of effectively legislating taxes for cities, but if they try it, at least for many of them, it's a political suicide vote.

As one legislator recounts one experience he has, it seems he will get a letter from a constituent one day urging him to help get a road built, or a sewer system put in, or a bus route extended. Fine, says the legislator, ready to see what he can do to help.

But before he progresses very far there is a letter the next day, or perhaps even a slightly panicky telephone call from the same person.

"Of course, we don't want our taxes raised."

One legislator summed up his consideration on voting on a rollback tax bill that will come up before the General Assembly sometime before the session ends.

"I don't know how I'm going to vote yet. I haven't decided whether I want to run for this job again."

Essentially, he feels like he has to decide the second question first.

The rollback law is at heart of every home rule bill that comes before the General Assembly.

At a recent committee hearing, there was hardly a dissenting voice heard when discussion of the law comes up. Legislators seem very much in favor of returning government closer to home.

But committee philosophy is frequently a far cry from laying it on the line on the floor.

It's strange how "the people back home" trust the judge or the mayor to spend money, but not to raise it.

Despite the call by city officials for a return of taxing authority to the local level, any change in the 1965 rollback law this session appears to be in danger.

The measure currently before the House would allow cities to raise property taxes by no more than 10 per cent each year and would allow for assessment growth. There is even a provision for voters to petition for a referendum on any tax hike.

Almost no even supporters of the bill are not particularly optimistic about the bill.

Meanwhile, the House has no trouble appropriating state funds last week as gov. Julian Carroll's budget passed with little expected, with precious little input from the legislature. Senate action will be quick in coming.

Along with the budget bill, legislators approved Carroll's severance tax package, or economic development package.

Carroll managed to divide the House for long enough to come up with a proposal, and then quickly reunite it when he finally got his package developed.

Almost no one is unhappy with the result, expecting a handful of county judges who were not, and are not, interested in losing the control they had over a big bundle of dollars to come their way from severance tax sharing.

Carroll had a reputation when he was a legislator as a great compromiser and it appears he has not lost his touch. The severance tax package provides for coal haul roads, black lung victims, land their employers, coal operators (through better roads) and even sets up some money which county judges at least have a hand in. The judges also get a voice in the massive coal haul road program, but not the final say.

His methods paid off by avoiding any major rift among the coal county legislators as occurred two years ago when Gov. Weidell Ford made the mistake of ignoring them.

If there were losers among the coal county legislators, they are the ones who refused to compromise and work with the governor, although in dollar terms, there were no losers at all.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

I have been a policeman in Rockcastle County for the past twenty years and until February 24th of this year, I thought the police had as good a chance as the mayor or juvenile hoodlum. But, now I know better. A juvenile can do as they please and get away with it, outside of murder.

As you know, we have very little law in this county, as it is, and when a policeman cannot defend himself without the county issuing a warrant for him, then I think the good people in our county should know about it.

There was an incident which happened in Livingston involving a Constable. I am writing this letter to the editor. I think it is a down right shame for the man to be arrested and fined for doing what the people elected him to do. Our county court tried him and he was found guilty after a man and two grown boys assaulted him. And, when a policeman cannot defend himself than it is time for someone to raise the roof about it.

It could have been me or any other policeman. The same thing would have happened no matter who the officer was. Right is right at all times and I believe me, they were wrong in this incident. The boy had raised Cain, squaled tires and really carried on from 3:30 till 5 o'clock when he was arrested. Then the whole trouble started.

There isn't any way to do anything about a juvenile in this county. The Judge won't put one in jail at all. He says, no way. If there isn't something done about our kids, they are going to take the county. I'm sure all the good people in our county will agree with me so why should we sit still and let them do as they please without correction of any kind. If this Constable will appeal this to Circuit Court, there will be more witnesses to the whole affair. And, I'm sure if the good people will raise an issue about our juveniles and holler loud enough, there will be something done about this. If the law enforcement officers don't have the support of the good people in our county, we would be better off to quit and turn our county over to the outlaws and juveniles who are sure to take over anyway if there isn't something done.

Sincerely,

E. Senter
Livingston Marshall

with the school bus driver involved to determine all the available facts in the matter and also to determine what should be done.

He said that the boy was disciplined and informed that any further incidents of this type would result in the school not being able to provide transportation for him.

Mr. Towery also said that the bus driver reported that the incident, which from all reports lasted only a short time, had gone undetected by him and occurred shortly before both children disembarked at their homes. Mr. Towery said this was the first incident of this type which had been brought to his attention since he had been in the county school system and that afterwards, he and Mr. Whitaker boarded the bus to talk with the children about their conduct on the bus and to work out some seating arrangements for them.

Mr. Parsons also reported to the Board that all school bus drivers had been met with and the Board's transportation policy reviewed at the time and that it had been emphasized that all incidents should be reported immediately to principals so that proper steps could be taken.

Mr. Towery said that both children were again riding the bus and that nothing else had occurred between them.

The fracas apparently followed a conflict between the girl and the sixth-grader's smaller brother over a rubber band which the smaller child had apparently been using to flick the girl with. Reportedly, she attempted to take the rubber band from him and his older brother stepped in and struck the girl several times in the face.

In other action, the Board accepted the resignation of Russell Hensley as bus driver for the Disputanta route and employed Mrs. Bealand. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Shirley Mullins as school secretary at Livingston Elementary and employed Vonnie Mink as part-time school nurse under Title I and part-time school secretary. Approved a contract with Lexington Exterminators for treatment of the Administration building for termites at a cost of $175 for the initial treatment and $15 per year for inspection.

Approved the extension of the Alpha I Reading Program into the second grades of the elementary schools at a cost of $8,000. This cost will be taken care of with ESEA funds of approximately $6,000 and the remainder from another federal program.

The Board also heard a report from Supt. Parsons concerning the Board's purchasing four new 66-passenger school buses under the contract. Mr. Parsons told the Board that International was the low bidder this year for the buses at a cost of $11,617.40 each which is only $33 higher than for buses purchased in 1975.

Mildred Kendrick and George Mason, Jr. were approved by the Board as substitute bus drivers.

Mr. Parsons also told the Board that, having any more missed school days, school would be out June 1st with Memorial Day, May 31st, taken as a holiday.

LIONS CLUB REPORT

James Alocorn of Lexington, District Governor of area Lions Club, was guest speaker at the last meeting of the Mt. Vernon Lions Club. Gov. Alocorn spoke on Lionism and their projects in Kentucky. He was introduced by Mt. Vernon Club President, Ed Hunt.

The club voted to continue the Community Flea Markets which were started last summer as fund-raising projects by the club. The markets were very successful for the club and a great deal of interest was shown by local people. Five such markets will be held this summer, one each month, beginning with the first Saturday in May on the grounds of the Mt. Vernon Elementary School.

The club also decided to change the name to Rockcastle Trading Days in the hope of promoting markets into the old-fashioned trading days for county people.

Table space will again be sold by the club for individuals wishing to sell or trade their merchandise in addition to the Lions own table which will be selling donated items.

Lions Club secretary Floyd Owens reported that the club bought four pair of glasses in February for indigent children in the Mt. Vernon area.

In other action, Rev. Marvin Hensley was welcomed by the club as a new member, being sponsored by Charles Barr.

The next meeting of the club will be at the Hen House Restaurant March 4th.

With the Legislature In Frankfort

By Rep. Harold DeMarco

One particular bill which is of extreme importance to me, and which could contribute significantly to politics in Kentucky, is House Bill 151. House Bill 151 will change the Kentucky primary election from May to late in the summer. If this bill passes both chambers and is signed into law by the governor, or is allowed to become law without the governor's signature, or is not vetoed by the governor, I believe that Kentucky voters will be the ultimate beneficiaries of this legislation.

One of the main objections to the primary being held in May has been from the farmers. Since they are in the middle of their planting season and are setting their tobacco, it works a hardship on them to leave their fields to vote in the primaries being held in May. This change would move the primary into the growing season and not work such a hardship on them.

Under our present election system, Kentucky is involved in some local, statewide, or national election every six months of every year. The end result of this system is that Kentucky voters are being called upon continuously for their votes as someone is campaigning for some office every day of the year. This year-round campaigning has created one major set-back for Kentucky voters - that of voter apathy. Kentucky's voters are tired of politicians - they are tired of reading about elections in every issue of their newspaper, hearing about elections on every newscast and talking about elections every day. They want a break and they deserve a break from this merry-go-round type of politics.

Therefore, to lift this unfair and cumbersome method of elections from the backs of Kentucky voters, I introduced House Bill 495 during the 1974 session of the Kentucky General Assembly. The original version of this bill would have moved Kentucky's primary elections from the present first Tuesday after the fourth Monday in May to the last Saturday in July. However, the Elections and Constitutional Amendments committee in the House of Representatives amended my bill to change the primary election date to the last Tuesday in July. Thereafter, the bill had extreme difficulty and never reached the House floor for a vote - it died in committee.

Still maintaining the belief that Kentucky's voters need some relief from this year-round political system, I again introduced legislation during the present (1976) session of the General Assembly, which would change Kentucky's primary election date. In its original form, House Bill 151 would have moved the primary election day from the first Tuesday after the fourth Monday in May to the last Tuesday in August, except in a presidential election year when the Kentucky primary would be held on the last Tuesday in May. The reason for the exception in presidential election years is that the National Conventions are held in July and August of presidential election years and the August primary would not give Kentuckians sufficient time to vote in the presidential primary and still elect state delegates to the national conventions. Once again, legislators began to amend the original bill which I had introduced, with one committee amendment and five floor amendments being offered.

However, this bill had better fortunes than the bill which I had introduced in 1974. It was reported out of the Elections and Constitutional Amendments Committee to the House floor for a vote with the majority of the committee members expressing the opinion that the bill should pass. Before the roll call vote was taken in the House, factions from both sides debated over the feasibility of this bill. In the final analysis, House Bill 151 was passed by the House by a vote of 49-41. The final version of the bill would change Kentucky's primary election date to the first Tuesday in August, except in presidential election years, when the primary would be held in May as the law now states.

House Bill 151 now must go to the Senate for their consideration and action.

At first glance, it might appear that there is very little significance to House Bill 151, since it merely changes the primary election date and does not actually affect the November general election at all.

However, by setting forth the currently debated arguments for and against the change, I believe Kentucky voters can see why this bill is so popular or unpopular as the case may be. First of all, the proponents of House Bill 151 favor the bill primarily because it shortens the campaign for office. By moving the primary to August, it shortens the campaign for office by at least 3 months - candidates will campaign for an August election and not for a May primary. This change will also relieve the voter of the campaign-hungry candidates for this same period of time. This change would also save the candidate money as the shorter campaign and the primary being close to one continuous campaign, and not for two separate drawn-out campaigns.

However, the opponents of this change would like to see the present democrat control in Frankfort. As one democrat legislator states, the democrats have "terrible primary battles," compared to the Republicans, and he said that the democrats need all of the six months that is now between elections to heal the wounds. This longer campaign also enables the candidates to raise larger and larger campaign war chests. As it appears, the only fear of the opponents of this proposed change is that it may create a more efficient system for electing public officials - an efficient system which would relieve Kentuckians of year-round elections. Statements by democrats such as "the change would hurt democrat candidates," "vote against the bill to preserve your own personal job," "I have nothing against the two-party system...I'd just like to see the democrats on top," all of these reasons by democrat legislators set forth the real reason (democrat) legislators oppose this bill - they're not really concerned about the Kentucky voters, all they're interested in is the Kentuckians' votes.

Furthermore, up until several years ago, Kentucky's primary was held in August, but was changed to May at the insistence of a former governor who "didn't like to campaign during the hot days of summer." The truth of the matter was that they had such a despicable primary that year that they just didn't have time to heal their wounds - to kiss and make up before the November election, so they changed the law.

I feel strongly that Kentucky voters need a break from this continuous political campaigning that candidates engage in year-round - and they deserve that break.

Both political parties have endorsed this bill. The governor says "it has merit." However, the fate of House Bill 151 is now with the Senate.

LIVINGSTON LIONS PROVIDE SUPPORT

At the regular meeting of the Livingston Lions Club, Thursday, February 26, the members voted to provide the Rockcastle County High School Band with 3 new uniforms. The uniforms were requested to meet the needs of a growing and more active band.

Other actions of the club at recent meetings include the purchase of a pair of eyeglasses and a $100 donation to the Livingston Scout organizations. The $100 donation was divided evenly among the Brownies, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, and Boy Scouts. Members C.F. Mullins, Russell Mullins, Bobby Webb, Robert Jerry Mink, Robt. Wilson, Bill Raines, Charles Parsons, and John Hale were presented Lion's vests for attending 8 meetings.

The membership drive for the Lions continues through the month of March. Two new members, Eugene Sanders and George (Buzzy) Carlafitis, were recently added to the Livingston Lions Club. Lion Willard Whitaker won a prize of $3.30 at the last regular meeting but was not present to accept the award. Persistence can lead to profit.

If, after any pole has once been erected, the Board of Trustees shall order the removal of said pole to another location, the City shall pay the cost of making such relocation, unless due to widening, repaving or reconstruction of the street or highway, in which case the purchaser will relocate at its expense. In any extensions of the present distribution system, additional poles shall be placed under the supervision of the Board of Trustees.

SECTION 2. The purchaser shall indemnify, and save harmless the City from any and all damages, judgments, decrees, costs and expenses, including a reasonable attorney's fee, which the City may legally suffer or incur or which may be legally obtained against the City for or by reason of the use and occupation of any street, avenue, alley or other public place in the City by the purchaser, pursuant to the terms of this franchise, or legally resulting from the exercise by the purchaser of any of the privileges herein granted; and, if any claim shall be made or suit brought against the City for damages alleged to have been sustained by reason of the occupation of any street, avenue, alley or other public place or the exercise of any privileges herein granted, by the purchaser, the City shall immediately notify the purchaser in writing thereof, and the purchaser is hereby given the right and privilege to defend or assist in defending such suit in the name of the City.

SECTION 3. The purchaser may furnish electricity for light, heat, power and any other purpose to any person or persons residing along or near the streets, avenues, alleys and public places, and may make such lawful contracts for the use thereof as may be agreed upon between the purchaser and the said person or persons.

SECTION 4. The purchaser shall extend its electric light or power lines and install additional equipment whenever there is assured to it from additional business to be derived therefrom a reasonable return upon the investment required to install such extension.

The amount payable to the City for each full calendar year during which this franchise is in effect, shall be computed on the basis of revenue received between January 1st and December 31st of such year, and payment shall be made on or prior to March 1st next following such December 31st, the amount which may be payable to the City for a portion of a calendar year at the commencement or termination of the term of this franchise shall be computed on the basis of revenue received during such portion of a calendar year, and shall be payable not more than 90 days after the termination of the period for which payment is made. Gaily in the streets laughter, customs and (perhaps the thought) even glutinous mark the height of the carnival season in New Orleans. Mardi Gras, which means literally, "Fat Tuesday" in French, describes the festival that anticipates the self-imposed deprivation of Lent.

A proper commencement for the season is a party. King's Cake or our version, Carnival Cake, is hard by all participants. Our Carnival Cake traces its kinship to the French yeast cake, "Gâteau des Rois" quickly made with enriched self-rising flour, into which baking powder for leavening and salt for flavor have been pre-blended at the mill.

One pecan half is added to the batter, and whoever finds it, is declared king or queen of the celebration. For a finishing touch, the cake is decorated with carnival-colored frosting: purple, yellow and green. If you prefer, instead of a pecan half, you can add a coin or an antique or even an imitation doubloon. These are worthless or priceless treasures tossed at carnival spectators by participants on floats. Carnival Cake, complete with doubloon or pecan, may also add a touch of elegance to a Mardi Gras buffet.

CARNIVAL CAKE

3 cups enriched self-rising flour
1 teaspoon fresh lemon peel
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 carton (4 oz.)
candied citron or lemon peel
1/2 cup butter
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 egg yolks
1 egg
1 1/2 cups milk
1 pecan half
Fluffy Frosting

Sift together flour and seasonings. Dust candied fruit with 2 tablespoons of the flour mixture. Cream butter and sugar. Add egg yolks and whole egg; beat until well blended. Add flour mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with the flour. Stir in citron and pecan half, pour into a greased and floured 12-cup ring mold. Bake in preheated 350 oven 45 to 50 minutes. Frost with Fluffy Frosting.

FLUFFY FROSTING

6 tablespoons hot water
1 cup sugar
2 egg whites
1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
Food coloring

In a small saucepan, stir together water and sugar. Bring to a boil and rapidly until the mixture reaches the softball stage (238 degrees), about 5 to 6 minutes. Combine egg whites with cream of tartar; beat egg whites until stiff but not dry peaks form. Pour sugar syrup slowly into egg whites, beating at high speed. Add lemon extract and continue beating until frosting reaches spreading consistency. Add food coloring to make green, purple and yellow frosting. spread colors alternately on cake.

IN CHICKEN CREOLE CREPPES, New Orleans tradition couples with another, typically French. If chicken is not to be your taste, these delicate pancakes may be filled with a choice of mixtures that make them delectable for any course. With a meat or seafood filling, they can be either an entree or appetizer. But fill them with a mixture of sweet butter, confecturer's sugar and orange and serve a superb dessert. What Mardi Gras party would be complete without them?

Vendors on Canal Street hawk another Calais-Calas, a rice cake or doughnut rolled in powdered sugar. Or on an early morning stroll through the Vieux Carré (old French-Spanish quarter), you may confront an enterprising lady balancing a covered bowl of dainty Calas on her head. These sweet morsels are a terrific way to use leftover rice. They are best when served fresh.

HOME GARDENER: Dr. C. R. Roberts, Extension Vegetable Specialist and Dr. John R. Hartman, Extension specialist in Plant Pathology will be at the Rockcastle County High School (Vocational Agriculture Room) on Monday, March 8, 1976 at 7:30 p.m. to bring you up to date on all phases of home gardening.

Dr. Roberts will discuss such topics as soil preparation, fertilizing the home garden, planting your garden, recommended vegetable varieties, weed and insect control. Dr. Hartman will show slides of various diseases that can affect your garden plants and recommended controls.

UK publications containing information on gardening, disease control, insect control, cultural practices, etc. will be handed out at the meeting.

We hope you will take advantage of this opportunity to participate in an outstanding program that has been planned for you. GRASS TETANY. Grass tetany, sometimes referred to as grass staggers, is a non-infectious disorder of cattle and sheep which occurs when the blood magnesium drops to an abnormally low level. This condition usually occurs in adult, lactating cows grazing grass pastures in late winter and early spring. Young cows, non-lactating cows and cows with calves over two months old are seldom affected.

Symptoms: initially, an affected animal may appear over-alert with pricked ears, head held high and staring eyes. The gait is stiff and the animal may stagger. Muscles, especially those around the face and ears may tremble. As the condition progresses, the animal becomes dull in appearance and may separate herself from the herd. Within a few hours, or up to several days following onset of symptoms, extreme excitement and convulsions may develop. Following a convulsion, the animal may lie flat on its back with only occasional movement of the forelegs and jaws. If treatment is delayed or is ineffective, death will usually occur.

Prevention: Preventive measures are primarily aimed at increasing magnesium content of susceptible animals during danger periods. Magnesium is available in blocks, cubes, powder and liquid. Analysis and palatability vary greatly so careful consideration must be given to desired intake when a formulation is chosen. When a "high" risk is anticipated, intake for mature cows should approximate two ounces daily of magnesium oxide equivalent. To achieve this level of intake will require hand feeding magnesium oxide in a palatable carrier. In a "mild" risk situation, only 1/3 to 1/2 the amount is required. Where magnesium supplementation is less critical, mineral mixes containing magnesium may suffice. Mineral containers should be placed in several locations convenient to the cattle and checked often.

For more detailed information on grass tetany, stop by your County Extension Agent's office and obtain a copy of ASC-16 for assistance in determining your "tetany risk" and prescribed supplementation program.

CANNING LID SUPPLY

ALMOST DOUBLES
The supply of home canning lids for 1976 will be almost double the amount produced last year.
Harold Ballinger, Director of ASCS Office, said word recently arriving from Washington D.C. notes that a majority of the canning lid manufacturers supplied figures indicating that more than 4 billion replacement lids will be available for the 1976 home canning season. This compares with just over 2 billion produced last year.

Lids are shipped into southern states first and moved northward as the canning season approaches. However, some manufacturers will ship to all sections routinely, with heavier concentration of shipments when actual canning is underway.

The total number of lids for this year will include nearly 3 billion regular size lids, more than one-third billion wide mouth lids, well over one-half billion regular caps (lids and rings sold together), and nearly 150 million wide mouth caps available during the 1976 home canning season.

The increase for 1976 is due to additional lines placed into production by the traditional canning lid manufacturers, plus the entry of new manufacturers in the market.

Miss Reese Participates In Communication Class

The punctuating gesture is part of everybody's language, but how many can get along with gesture alone? Berea College students learned how in a special Short Term Class on communication with the deaf. Letting her fingers do the talking is Patty Reese (center), the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Reese of Route 3, Mt. Vernon and a Berea College Junior.

Proving that gesture can be as eloquent as tone of voice, the class learned to "Sing" along with records, recite poetry and hold silent conversations, and tested their sign recognition skills with weekly Bingo games at Dr. Paul Power's house.

CONSUMER COMMENT

By Robert F. Stephens, Attorney General

Kentucky residents often see advertisements concerning buying beef in bulk. When you investigate this method of meat buying, be sure to refer to the following checklist to make the wisest buying decision:

1. Check for the USDA wholesomeness inspection mark, assuring safe, clean meat.
2. Know the types of meat. "Prime" is the top quality. "Choice" is the next highest grade of meat and is most often found in retail markets. "Good" is the third highest grade of meat, followed by "Standard" and then "Commercial." Names such as "fancy," "Grade A" or "supreme" mean nothing.
3. Learn about yields, which tell you the amount of usable meat on a carcass. Yield 1 is the highest, yielding about 80 percent edible meat. The higher the yield number, the higher the percentage of waste. Yield 4 should yield from 68 percent to 70 percent edible meat.
4. Know how much storage space you have available.

5. Study a meat-cuts chart to learn the various cuts and how they are prepared.
6. Consider the different kinds of cuts your family prefers, and buy the type of meat that will give you these cuts. For example, a hindquarter of beef will yield more steaks and roasts. The forequarter has more of the less-tender cuts, but also contains the rib roast.
7. Don't be misled by the hanging weight—that means the untrimmed weight. The actual take-home weight will be less. Find out how much less.
8. Inquire if the cutting and wrapping cost is included in the price per pound.

9. Above all, beware of bait and switch tactics. This office has had complaints that such tactics have been used by some Kentucky beef bulk dealers. The bait took the form of an advertisement, offering meat at very low prices. A consumer who responded to the ad was shown fat, wasty, unattractive meat. The salesperson tried to discourage the consumer from buying the advertised meat, and attempted to switch the consumer to much more expensive meat hanging nearby.

If you suspect a company of bait and switch tactics, write the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, The Capitol, Room 34, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

CHOOSE A CAR LIKE MOTOR TREND'S EXPERTS. CHOOSE DODGE ASPEN.

Why did Motor Trend magazine choose Dodge Aspen and Plymouth Volare over AMC Pacer, Chevy Chevette, and Cadillac Seville?

...the bodies were designed with the aid of computers and extensive wind tunnel testing... the feel and response of a small car with the comfort of a much larger vehicle. visibility and ease of entry and exit were the motivations for the interior... taken as a complete package... one of the highest overall rankings we have ever seen, and certainly the highest this year.

These are some good reasons why Aspen beat the competition. And some good reasons why you should have a good look at the unbelievable Dodge Aspen.
