Kentucky Telephone To Seek Increased Rates

Kentucky Telephone Company filed a rate proposal with the Kentucky Public Service Commission on May 7th, 1976, as announced by Mr. E.E. Morris, president of the company.

Morris said that the company's last rate increase request was made in the spring of 1974 and was based on year-end 1973 financial information. The company was granted about 85 percent of its 1974 request about seven months later.

"Kentucky Telephone employees have worked hard over the last several years to maintain and improve service," said Morris. "For example, in 1975 we completed installation of a $1.7 million long distance switching center in London which brought better direct distance dialing to our customers in Mt. Vernon and eight other exchanges. We have continued our upgrading program throughout the state, and today 72 percent of our customers have four-party service or better.

"Kentucky Telephone spent over

$6,000,000 in 1975 alone to meet our customers' demands for improved service. We want to continue that pace in the future, but our ability to do so depends upon our level of earnings." Morris said that plans for future improvements include continuation of the company's program to completely eliminate multi-party service and additions to and improvements in toll and local service facilities in anticipation of growth in the future.

"Improvement projects all take money," said Morris. "Because of the tremendous amounts of capital needed to finance improvement programs, we must go to outside investors for a substantial portion of our budget. If we had to internally generate our capital, our budget would be too small to continue our service improvement program. Investors gauge our company's financial health by our earnings—if we're not making enough to give the investor a return of his (Cont. to 13)

He is presently president of the Cynthiana Rotary Club and a past secretary of that organization; a director and treasurer of the Harrison County Mental Health Service; treasurer of the West Side Elementary PTA and trustee and secretary-treasurer of the First United Methodist Church.

Council Passes Ordinance; Hear Lake Lease Proposal

John Lair left a specially called meeting of the Mt. Vernon City Council last Thursday night empty handed after an attempt to secure a lease from the Council of the city's facilities on Lake Leno.

Mr. Lair approached the Council with an offer of $1,000 per year for a ten year lease plus a promise of $1,000 more per year in improvements to the area over this ten year period.

The proposal sparked off a discussion among the Councilmen as to what the city should get for the facilities and Mayor Roland Mullins asked the councilmen for counter proposals.

Councilman Chester Holland stated that he felt a lease of $3,200 per year would be fair while Councilman Oscar Bullock settled on $3,000 per year. However, Councilmen Conrad Parrett and Dennis Halcomb agreed on a sum of $2,500 per year and this amount was finally agreed upon by a majority of the Council. However, Mr. Lair refused the offer and the matter was deferred until a later date.

During the discussion, Mr. Lair asked a series of questions concerning the city's former operation of the boat dock and other facilities at Lake Leno. Such questions as garbage and sewer disposal were discussed but they were referred to an agent for the state sanitary inspection service. Mr. Lair expressed to the Council his concern over the perpetual dampness of the land.

He also told the Council that he would not expect to operate above a deficit for the first three years, if he should lease the facilities, and was therefore forced to make a somewhat less than add such improvements as additional trailer hook-ups, small amusements and a sand beach, all of which would become the property of the city after the ten-year lease period.

The Council also discussed whether or not they could make a binding contract beyond their present term of office and this question was referred to the city attorney for study.

In other business, the Council passed a city ordinance defining the new regulations under which Lake Leno will be operated and setting forth fines connected with violation of these (Cont. to 1b)

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I would greatly appreciate your putting this article in the next issue of your paper.
I want to thank those concerned citizens of Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle Co., Berea and other places who voiced their concern over leaving Lake Linville open to power boats the same as it has been for 3 years. We cried but lost out to a few of the city council who would be so selfish as to want it closed or as a meager compromise, have it open for 3 months. I have been and am concerned because I own land and had hopes of putting up a nice cottage.
If any of our citizens who care enough to even drive up to the boat dock, will take one trip, it won't take 5 minutes to see the effect our councils brilliant decisions have had in property owners. Today, May 12, 1976, I drove up and saw a permanently installed trailer home being taken out. I trailer home for sale. I cabin for sale and many vacant lake lots which wouldn't even bring a bid if auctioned off.
The people selling out didn't come here to see, they came to enjoy the beautiful life, the peace and the lake has to offer. Now you are seeing the beginning of the end of the greatest asset Rockcastle has to offer. Go look, don't read this article as hot air. Who wants to invest in property where decisions by the council are as permanent and long as the next meeting and as unpredictable as the weather. And allowed 3 months to boat when we have a lot of money available.
Go up and look at what lake. That's real progress and I truly think those numbers who voted as they did should go up and stand there and take a good hard look at what they have done with property which belongs to Rockcastle County, Mt. Vernon and the people, not the city council. If I were one of those I would truly be ashamed to face the public.

Thank you,
Alfred Cummins

A farm pond can offer many hours of pleasant "backyard" fishing but it takes some attention to make sure the pond remains a good fish producer. The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources offers free stocking of bass, bluegill and channel catfish as well as technical advice and assistance to pond owners.

Although the deadline for stocking applications is Oct. 1, now is a good time to start working on getting fish in your pond, says Pete Pfeiffer, assistant director of the department's fisheries division.

For one thing, most folks are thinking about fishing now and are more likely to remember that their ponds need some attention. In September, most outdoorsmen are getting ready for hunting seasons and may forget about that until after the deadline has passed.

Previously stocked ponds which offer poor fishing may need extensive and time-consuming work before they can be restocked, Pfeiffer says. So it's a good idea to get in touch with the local conservation officer now to see what work your pond needs before it can be restocked this fall.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources is happy to offer assistance to pond owners and make recommendations about pond fertilization, weed and algae control or how to restore or maintain the proper balance between bass and bluegill in the pond.

If you are catching only small bluegill and bass, chances are your pond is out of balance, Pfeiffer says. Often the only solution, particularly for a pond of one-half acre or less, is to complete the pond by removing all the existing fish and starting over.

If your pond does have a good balance between bass and bluegill populations it is important to catch enough bluegill to keep it that way. Pfeiffer recommends that five to seven pounds of bluegill be harvested for each pound of bass.

This means that for every 13-inch bass removed from the pond, between 50 and 75 five-inch bluegill should also be caught. If this ratio is not maintained, the bluegill will often overpopulate and become stunted because of insufficient food.

The man to see for stocking applications or about pond problems is the conservation officer in your county. He can answer your questions himself, or he may request that a fisheries biologist visit your pond for further investigation.

If you don't know your conservation officer, call the county court clerk or the local sheriff's office and ask for his name and phone number.

One final note - having your pond stocked by the Department of Fish and Wildlife does not obligate you to open the pond for public fishing or in any other way interfere with your right to control access to your land. As a pond owner, you may also place more restrictive size and creel limits on your pond than those in public water.

UNEMPLOYMENT RATE FALLS IN APRIL

Kentucky's unemployment rate fell 1.5 per cent in April and now stands at 5.9 per cent, according to figures released today by the Department for Human Resources.

Robert MacDonald, chief labor market analyst for the department, says, "The April rate was the lowest since December, 1974, when the rate was 5.6 per cent. The national rate was 7.4 per cent in April."

"Increased job opportunities in the construction, service and agricultural industries were responsible for the lower rate of unemployment," MacDonald also reports that an estimated 82,100 Kentuckians are currently unemployed, a drop of 21,800 from the March estimate of 103,900.

MOTHER AND FATHER'S DAY, 1976

Mother and Father's Day is here. We wish you good luck and good cheer. You grow more each year after year. Down life's way you have muddled. Guided and cared for me all the way, because you pray.

Anytime someone needs a friend. On you they can always depend. You are the most wonderful and best Parents in the world I know. Because God told me so.

We could never thank you enough for all that you have done.

And you are always so much fun. Always you know the right words to say, anytime of day.

You taught us the Christian way was right. Telling us to church day and night. Because you taught us right. We have a Christian home, and never want to roam.

Our burdens are lifted because Jesus our helper made us gifted. Words can never tell how much we love you. And you want to help in everything you do.

Wishing you happiness, good health. We honor, obey and cherish you always. The Lord's blessings be upon you forever. And wishing you many, many more greater ones.

Written by Virginia Holt for (parents) Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Fisher.

If you have a large, well-shaped nose, some believe, it is a sign that you are noble, generous and friendly!

GRAND OLE OPRY STARTS "THE FOUR GUYS" TOBE AT TOMSTONE JUNCTION ON SUNDAY, MAY 23.

Even if you've never heard of "The Four Guys" you should come to Tomstone Junction on Sunday, May 23 to see them. Once you've heard these super-talented young men—you'll never forget them!

"The Four Guys" first started out on Wheeling, W. Va.'s JAMBOREE U.S.A. They decided to move to Nashville and within three months of that move they became the first group in the history of the Grand Ole Opry to become regular members without having a string of hit records—or even a recording contract.

"The Four Guys" really know how to please an audience! They receive standing ovations everywhere they go whether it's in Las Vegas or at a State Fair. They even hold the "ENCORE" record at the Grand Ole Opry—having 33 consecutive "standing ovation" appearances there.

Tomstone Junction is truly Kentucky's largest entertainment complex. Besides enjoying the atmosphere of the Old West, you can watch a variety of shows. Drop into the Red Garter Saloon for a "drink" and see the Amazing Whit and his Magic Show. Showdowns occur each and every hour in the streets of Tomstone. See the brand new Dugger's Medicine Show at the Medicine Wagon and if you like music, you'll certainly enjoy hearing South Sound, a new and exciting group at Tomstone Junction.

Tomstone Junction is open on weekends. It is located one mile west of Cumberland Falls State Park on Kentucky Highway 90. Showtimes for "The Four Guys" are at 1:00, 3:15 and 5:30 p. m. EDT.

TEEN-AGE DRINKING

By Mark Stephens

There are many reports of a growing epidemic of teenage alcoholics. They suggest that all the kids are switching from drugs to alcohol. Actually, there is some debate as to whether adolescent alcoholism is a growing problem or a problem in growing. I personally believe both of these statements are true. Alcoholism among teen-agers is, in almost every case, a reflection of their emotional problems, feelings of frustration, failure and unimportance. In addition, most get into so much trouble

THANKS EXTENDED

Coleman House, Consultant for Exceptional Children, would like to thank all who have helped in the location of the handicapped children of Region 13, which is comprised of the following counties: Bell, Clay, Harlan, Jackson, Knox, Laurel, Rockcastle and Whitley. So far, several hundred children with problems that keep them from progressing in school or with problems that keep them from progressing in school or that have prevented them from attending school have been located and many of them have been placed in existing programs. Plans are underway for those for which suitable programs do not exist. If you would like to join this Child Find activity, Mr. House invites you to send him the name of any child that may have physical, mental, emotional or other disabilities so that he may begin work with the child's school district to find an appropriate educational program for this and other children. Send the child's name, address and other information that might help to Coleman House, KEDR-13, Box 145, Barbourville, Ky. 40906.

Obviously, the teen-agers who have a readily diagnosable drinking problem need professional help and counseling, but what about those who are just experimenting or trying it as a part of growing up? Preventive education may hold the solution to this problem. Preventive education should begin early and begin at home. For this reason, parents must have a clear understanding of their roles. Schools should have as part of their regular curriculum preventive education programs beginning in the grade school years. Education should be geared to help the children make a decision and not just to tell them what they should do, because in the end they will have to make the final decision as to what they will or will not do.

The question is not whether adolescent alcoholism is a growing problem or a problem in growing, the question is what treatment and preventive education is needed to minimize the problem.

The Cumberland River Comprehensive Care Center encourages you to learn more about the effects of alcohol abuse on the family unit.

TIME TO PUT UP STRAWBERRIES

Pickers are busy in Kentucky berry patches these days. They're filling up quart after quart box with strawberries for fresh eating, for freezing, and for putting up jams and preserves.

That's about the only time, that tedious snipping-off of little green caps will all be worth it when you tuck containers of strawberries into the freezer and admire your jars of colorful homemade preserves.

County Extension agent for home economics, Cheryl Witt, gives the following directions for freezing strawberries and making preserves. Stop by her office at the Mt. Vernon Courthouse for your free copy of Circular 626, "Home Freezing of Fruits and Vegetables."

How to freeze strawberries: Strawberries can be frozen with sugar, with syrup or just frequently. Or a new plant being built without assurance of a reliable source of electric power.

To maintain jobs for today's workers, a dependable supply of electricity for industrial plants and commercial establishments is vital.

To create jobs for tomorrow's workers requires attracting new industry and encouraging our present industries to expand. And our assurance that more electricity will be available when needed. And that requires huge investments in generation and transmission facilities.

Job security for you. For your children. For their children. The one essential is ample, reliable electric power. That's our job... and we do our best to deliver that electric power.

same general steps for other berries and fruit packed in sugar. Ascorbic acid is added to help keep the fresh, natural color of the fruit and to hold the flavor. Freeze strawberries without sugar.

Strawberry Preserves: Select large, firm, tart strawberries—about 2 quart boxes full. Wash and drain berries. Remove caps. Measure out 6 cups of strawberries and 4½ cups of sugar.

Combine berries and sugar in alternant layers and let stand for 8 to 10 hours or overnight in the refrigerator of other cool place. Next, heat the berry and juice mixture to boiling, stirring gently. Boil rapidly, stirring to prevent sticking.

Cook to 9 degrees F. above the boiling point of water, or until the sirup is somewhat thick. Remove from heat, and skim off the foamy liquid on top.

Fill hot, clean half-pint canning jars and seal according to direction that came with the type of jar lid you are using.

Put filled jars into boiling water bath canner. Add hot water to bring water an inch or two over tops of jars. Bring water to a rolling boil and boil gently for 5 minutes. Remove jars from canner after processing. Cool away from drafts before storing.

Paraffin seal is recommended only for jellies. For safe keeping, process all other jams and preserves in your boiling water bath canner.

Uncooked Strawberry Jam: Here is a recipe for a delicious uncooked jam that you can store in your refrigerator or freezer. It will keep for several months in a refrigerator and about a year in a freezer. Once a container is opened, however, you should use the jam up within a few days.

This calls for 3 cups of crushed strawberries or blackberries, raspberries, or blueberries, 5 cups of sugar, 1 package of powdered pectin, and 1 cup of water.

Sort and wash fully ripened berries. Drain. Remove caps and stems. Crush berries (grind blueberries).

Measure 3 cups of crushed berries into a large mixing bowl. Add sugar, mix well and let stand for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Dissolve the pectin in the water, bring to a boil for a minute. Add pectin solution to the fruit and sugar mixture and stir for 2 minutes.

Ladle the jam into jelly glasses or into suitable freezer containers, leaving ½ inch space at the top. Cover the containers and let stand for 24 to 48 hours, or until the jam has set. Then cover jam with 1/8 inch layer of hot paraffin. This makes about nine 6-ounce glasses.

If the jam is too firm, it can be softened by stirring. If it tends to separate, stirring will blend it again. If it is too soft, bring the jam to a boil and it will thicken as it cools.

County Agent's Notes

BY H. LEE DURHAM
COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT
FOR AGRICULTURE

WHAT TO DO IN MAY

When April steps aside for May, as the poet said, in comes one of the most interesting and pleasant months of the year. The chilly days of early spring are largely gone, the heat of summer not yet begun and the vegetation is at its lushest, freshest best. Fish bite best in May. "Like diamonds all the raindrops glisten, fresh wildflowers open every day, and to some new bird each hour we listen."

The derivation of the name for this month has been the source of controversy among calendar scholars and chroniclers of history. The consensus, however, is that it was named in honor of Maia, the Roman goddess of spring and increase.

Other authorities hold out the theory that 30 day period was sacred to "majores," or old men, and it was from this source that the month got its name. But at this late date, this is neither here nor there. It doesn't make much difference either that the month's flower is the hawthorn and its special gem is the emerald. What does make a great difference is that, in May, the winter is over and gone, and it is high time to get out and plant and sow and to enjoy the many festivities that are a part of the month.

From the very earliest times, the first of May has been a time for outdoor festivities and activities. In ancient Rome, it fell within the period which was sacred to Flora, goddess of flowers, and historians tell us that along with throwing Christians to the lions, the Romans staged great flower-bedecked processions almost every day. In Medieval and early modern times, the English started the custom of the May Pole and the May Queen, which is still a common event in many educational institutions where the music and the dances of the early days of the festival are reproduced.

As indicated before, May is the month when the larger part of vegetables are planted. By the middle of the month it is reasonably safe to plant the more tender vegetables such as cucumbers, squash, melons, beans and eggplants in the open ground. In the old tradition, every Saturday in May is supposed to be a fine time to plant watermelons and muskmelons, but nothing will be gained if the ground is still cold. Melons will mature if planted late in the month.

If a sweet potato patch is planned this year, get the slips set out by May 10, and to have tomatoes by early July, get the plants set out by early May. Frosts sometimes occur in May, but early tomato plants can be protected by covering them over with paper boxes or something similar if a frost threatens.

Flea beetles, cucumber beetles, bagworms, cutworms, and other pests start feeding to beat the band in May, and insecticides should be ready to do battle. Sevin and malathion will take care of most garden insect problems, but if they don't, better check with your county Extension agent. The same advice is in order if some plant diseases are noted.

Bagworm feeding on ornamental evergreens and other shrubs start in May. Eggs that have overwintered in gray cases swinging from twigs on shrubbery, hatch out, and the larvae start eating. It is at this active stage that sevin or malathion should be applied. And for what it may be worth, some say that bagworms make the finest sunfish bait in the county—even better than field crickets.

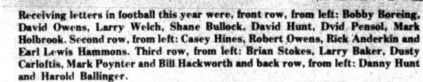

Some other things do in May besides dancing around the maypole.

going fishing and planting vegetables include mowing the grass when it needs it and pruning Deutzia, Spirea, Forsythia, Weigela and other spring blooming shrubs (take out one-fifth of the old stems at ground level is the advice of horticulturists). Also set out bulbs and tubers like dahlias, canna lilies and gladioli. Sow seeds of marigold, cosmos, zinnia, cosmos and annual phlox.

May is a great and good month, don't fail to enjoy it.

SHORT DAIRY FACTS

1. Heifers need grain until they are 12 months old, and after that unless forage is excellent.
2. Proper balance of nutrients in a dairy cow ration, enables the cow to better utilize each individual nutrient.
3. A comfortable cow will produce more milk. This includes a dry shady place to lie down, enough room for exercise and relaxed conditions at milking.

DR. HAZEL NOBLE ATTENDS STATE MEETING

Dr. Hazel Noble, D.C. attended a two-day educational meeting conducted on the campus of Bellarmine College in Louisville, Kentucky, that was sponsored by the Kentucky Chiropractic Society.

Dr. James Cox, author of the publication, "An Innovative Approach to the Diagnosis and Treatment of Lumbar Disc Herniation" and President of the Council on Chiropractic Research, was the keynote speaker.

Association, was one of the key speakers. Dr. Cox has done extensive research into low back conditions. Low back conditions are on the rise and are rapidly becoming a major concern for Doctors of Chiropractic. A High percentage of these back conditions may be helped if the individual receives service before too great an amount of degenerative change has developed. Meetings of this nature help to keep the doctor abreast of new research and advancements in the field of Chiropractic.

All Doctors of Chiropractic are required to attend a two-day educational for annual license renewal.

The future looks bright for Chiropractic since all States and H.E.W. recognize the profession.

Worship services were well attended at Fairview on Mother's Day and the Sunday School attendance was one hundred fifteen. We enjoyed having Mr. Joe Clark of Renfro Valley with us and invite him back any time. You're always welcome at Fairview.

Hope all you wonderful mothers had a real happy Mother's Day as I did. It's so good to have precious children that love you and you love them. But after you have raised them the best you could, it is sad to be neglected by them. But we all can see that we need a lot more love in the world today by everyone, and a lot more respect and concern for each other. And more important, little children need to be taught these things, and brought up in the way they should go. Parents are responsible for the upbringing of their children. They need to be brought up in the nurture and admonitions of the Lord."

WILL 1976 BURLEY CROP BE REPEAT OF LAST YEAR?

A near repeat might be expected, judging by the planting prospects announced in mid-April by the USDA crop reporting service.

and marketing and to confirm the adage that "No two tobacco crops are ever alike."

Rockcastle county growers last year produced and marketed 3,159,371 pounds, which brought $3,377,683.54, on the basis of the beltwide average of $108.08.

Prospective plantings in Kentucky counties are reported by the State ASCS as only 1% below 1975 acreage harvest totals, listing 185,000 acres this year compared with 187,000 last year, and 176, for 1974.

Kentucky's indicated 1976 planting coincides with that of the eight-state burley belt as a whole—99% of the 1975 acreage. This State produces 65% percent of the burley grown in the U.S.

The proposed loan rate announced this month for the 1976 crop provides for $109.30 average per hundredweight, as compared with last year's support average of $96.10. Last year's crop sold mostly at $12 to $18 above the support price.

Although a 5 percent marketing quota was set for 1976, bringing the crop 40 million below last year's, the effective farm quotas are expected to total about 727 million pounds, due to carryover. Since marketings usually are some 15 percent under effective farm quotas, this year's burley would be near the 638 million pound 1975 crop.

The Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, which manages the price-support program in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Missouri, now has 27,667,313 pounds in loan stocks. The association took 27,521,752 pounds from the 1975 crop.

Alvin R. Beckley, executive secretary-treasurer, announced this week the sale of 255,292 pounds.

regulations. Fines for these violations were set at a minimum of $25 and a maximum of $400 for each offense. (See ordinance printed elsewhere in this week's Signal).
The Council also voted to install two street lights in the Homer Hale area and new water culverts behind the recently constructed Pie-Pee Supermarket to ease flooding problems.
The Council then adjourned.

There are more than 100 colleges in Pennsylvania. That's more than in Italy and Spain combined!

To aid Pennsylvania business and industry there's a state Department of Commerce service-called PennTAP—that businessmen called 1,600 times last year for special information. Few of the questions went unanswered.
