

Here's what the appellate judges do—

What the new Court of Appeals does

The new Court of Appeals consists of 14 judges who hear cases appealed from the state's circuit courts except: cases involving the death sentence, life sentences, or 20 year imprisonment.

These cases are taken directly from the circuit courts to the highest tribunal in the Commonwealth, the Supreme Court.

All other criminal cases and all-civil cases appealed from the circuit courts go before the Court of Appeals.

The Court of Appeals will be sitting in Panels of Three Judges each on most cases.

The Panels will sit at designated sites in the Third District which are London, Somerset, Campbellsville, and Bardstonsville, and at such other places as will accommodate litigants and their attorneys.

All judges are to serve equally in the work load throughout the state. The panels are selected by computers in such a manner that no three judges will serve on the same panel for two consecutive sittings.

Not more than one judge may sit on a panel in his own district.

Cases are assigned by the Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals to a Panel. The three-judge panel reviews the case and hears oral argument of counsel in the case and then renders the decision with at least two of the three judges concurring. The decisions rendered will be written and entered on alternate Fridays of the Friday on which decisions of the State Supreme Court are rendered. All decisions are rendered at Frankfort.

The Court of Appeals may sit as a body at the discretion of the Chief Judge. The Chief Judge may convene the entire court on cases deemed of significant importance.

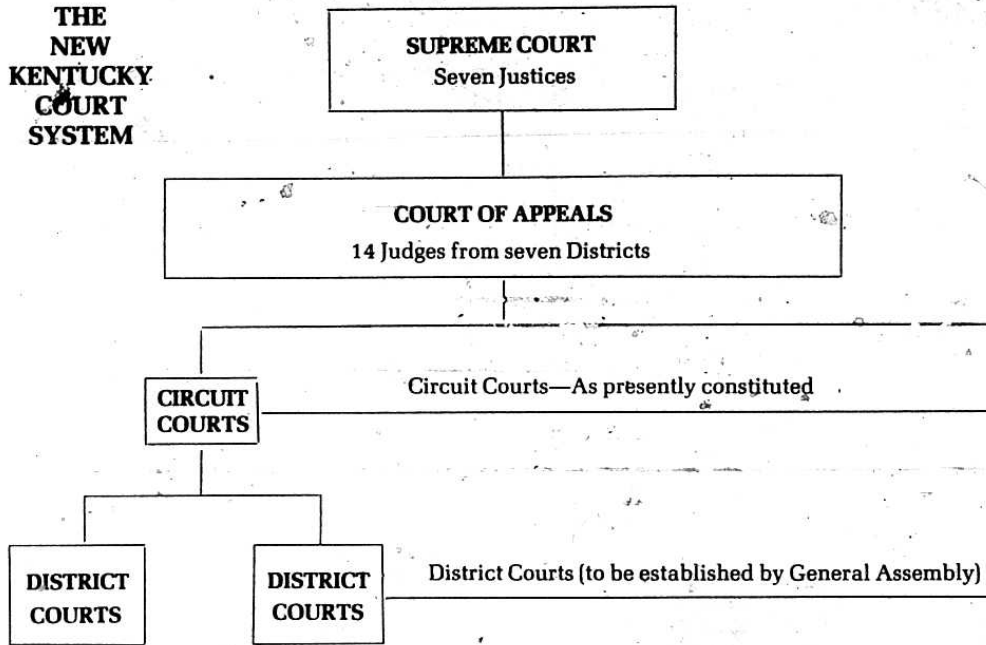

Judges of the Court of Appeals serve eight year terms. This election is to fill out the unexpired term which commenced January 1, 1976.

The new Judges will take office following certification of their election.

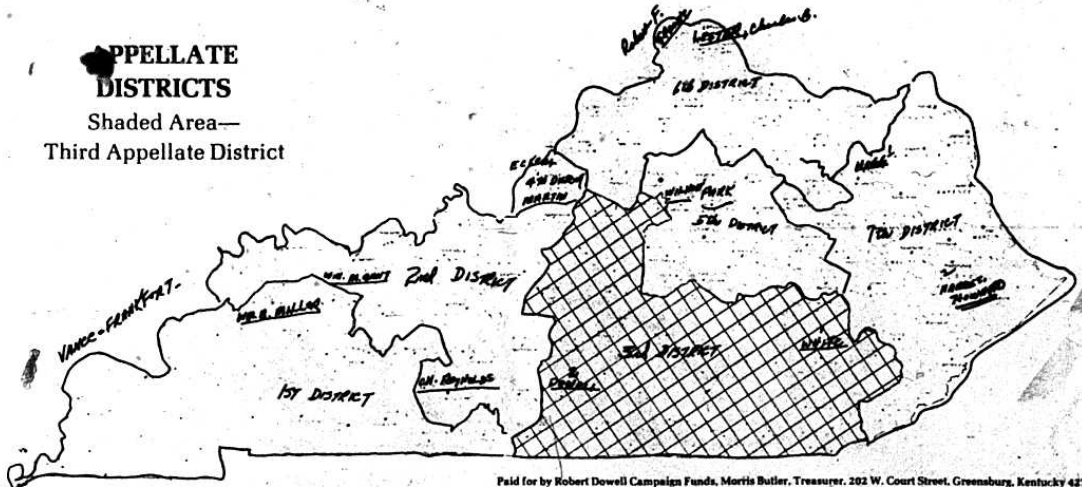

When the Governor considered appointees to this most important court, the qualifications of all those under consideration was reviewed by a thorough screening process conducted by the Judicial Nominating Commission.

Following this review, and interviews by personal representatives of the Governor—the Governor chose the Judges of the Third Appellate District. They are Judge Robert L. Dowell and Judge John D. White.

We need a Christian leader, as well as a top lawyer, for our choice and we need a man who has served his county in other capacities.

Dr. Paul G. Horner, noted Bible teacher, says Judge Dowell should be re-elected

Judge Robert Dowell has been a close, personal friend of mine for approximately twenty years. I have found him to be a man of high moral character, possessing noble ideals, not only for his profession as a lawyer, but in the practice of personal living. His wide understanding of human nature, its foibles and its virtues, is one mark which qualifies him for the high office he is seeking.

He possesses an impressive composure under stress and is largely unaffected by illogical and coercive methods that people often use to prove a point. I have been particularly impressed by his quietude and serenity of manner which speaks most probably an inner peace built upon an unshakable faith in God and in his fellow man.

I believe a judge of any governmental court should be a man who puts principle above expediency, truth above falsehood, and who is devoted to not only the pursuit of knowledge of what is right over wrong, but to the discharge of that knowledge with courage. His decisions in a case, therefore, should be to effect the larger and long-range good for the larger number of people involved. These, among others, I believe would constitute the motives and guidelines which would influence Judge Dowell should he be re-elected to serve on the Court of Appeals.

Doctor Paul G. Horner, Campbellsville, Kentucky, retired from active duty with Campbellsville College in the spring of 1976 after having been associated with the College since 1951. He first served as Director of Extension, and traveled through the state in the field of promotion and student recruitment. He was with the college in its transition from a Junior College to a Senior College in 1957. Doctor Horner was also a part time teacher at the college during that time, and in 1966 became Chairman of the Bible Department and full time instructor in Religious Education.

In addition to his work at the Campbellsville College Doctor Horner has held many church pastorates in Russell Springs, Jamestown, Tompkinsville, Glasgow, Pleasant Valley in Green County, and is presently interim pastor of Green River Memorial Baptist Church near Campbellsville. In his retirement he is serving the College part time as special assistant and liaison between the College and churches of South Central Kentucky, and writing. He expects to write two books on religious education to be published in the future.

Lt. Col. Smith Edwards describes Judge Dowell as a patriotic American and a loyal Kentuckian

I am pleased to offer my endorsement to the candidacy of Judge Robert Dowell for re-election to the office of Judge of Court of Appeals of Kentucky. I have known Judge Dowell all his life and have always found him to be a fine, dedicated Christian gentleman, a patriotic American, and a loyal Kentuckian.

As a veteran of WWII, where he distinguished himself in many campaigns, and as a faithful member of the American Legion, he has shown his devotion to his God and his country. For many years Judge Dowell has given unselfishly of his time and resources in aiding unfortunate and needy veterans.

Judge Dowell is dedicated to the honest dispensing of the law, whether it be as a practicing attorney or from the bench of the justice.

We are proud to have as a fellow Legionnaire and a citizen of Metcalfe County one who has given so much to his country and community, and feel that the state of Kentucky will be greatly benefitted by his election to the office that he seeks.

Lawyers support Judge Dowell

We, the undersigned members of the Green and Metcalfe County Bar Associations, have been engaged in the practice of law during part or all of the past twenty-two years. During this time we, and each of us, have had occasions to be associated in the law practice with Judge Robert L. Dowell; sometimes representing the same client and often times representing opposing parties.

From this association we are acquainted with Judge Dowell's qualifications and characteristics. He is a student of the law and has the ability to ascertain legal principles and make proper application of the law. He brings to the bench much experience in cases in this part of the state, and in addition, he is aware of the practical problems faced by trial lawyers throughout Kentucky and has a special touch with reality from which he will not be separated by bench and robe.

Judge Dowell is a gentleman of good moral and social convictions so as to qualify him for this position, and he is highly qualified to be a Judge of the Court of Appeals. In our sincere opinion he will render a service to the Commonwealth of Kentucky by the performance of his duties, and we highly recommend Judge Dowell.

Judge John D. White of Manchester, First Division Judge of the Third Appellate District, is without opposition

JUDGE JOHN D. WHITE

Judge John D. White of Manchester in Clay County, Kentucky, serving by appointment of Governor Carroll, seeks re-election, without opposition, to that office.

He has enjoyed a great career both as a lawyer and a Presbyterian minister, is a very capable Judge and will serve with distinction on the new appellate court.

Governor Carroll stated at a rally in Somerset, on October 16th that he selected and appointed Judge White and Judge Dowell to the Court of Appeals from the Third Appellate District because they are the finest from each of the parties. He further pointed out that Judge White does not have opposition but is actively engaged in the campaign.

Both Judge White and Judge Dowell are campaigning for their re-election and they will highly appreciate your re-election of them.

—and Judge Dowell's colleagues make him their choice—

We, the Metcalfe County officials, representing both the Democratic and Republican parties, all have known and worked with Judge Robert L. Dowell in some capacity during the last twenty-two years of his law practice in our county. We have had the opportunity to observe his legal ability and understanding of the operation of County and state government.

Judge Dowell has always been ready to render whatever services possible for the citizens of this county and surrounding counties in an efficient and professional manner.

We highly recommend him for re-election to the Court of Appeals, and we each respectively request our respective fellow county officials of the twenty-eight counties of the Third Appellate district to actively support Judge Dowell in the November General election.

John H. Ewing, Jr.

favours Judge Dowell for re-election

It has been my privilege to have known Judge Robert L. Dowell for the past eighteen years as a lawyer, civic leader and farmer. He has a great love for land and cattle and has taken wooded areas of land and converted it to green, lush pastures and stocked them with registered Angus cattle. His farm operation has made a great contribution to the purebred cattle industry in this area. Many of you may have had the opportunity to attend some of his top cattle sales held on his Hideaway Angus Farm near Edmonton, Metcalfe County. People from many sections of the country have bought Angus cattle from him with confidence.

Judge Dowell has made civic contribution wherever possible, having a deep concern for the welfare of people, their communities, schools, churches and job opportunities. I have also observed for many years his untiring dedication to the general practice of law and his capacity for being totally unaffected by position or power. He has a heart of compassion for the common man, having himself been reared in humble circumstances. His humility and dedication to the cause of his fellowman gives him the respect of the young and old alike.

I count it an honor to support Judge Dowell in his re-election for Judge of the Court of Appeals and recommend him for this service in the Appellate Court of Kentucky.

s/John H. Ewing, Jr.

JOHN H. EWING, JR.

Mr. Ewing is widely known throughout Kentucky not only for his civic contributions and leadership, but also as a leader in Agricultural Extension Service. He is a former County Agricultural Agent of Grayson County and Green County. From 1969 to 1974 he served as Area Director of the Lake Cumberland Extension Area. Mr. Ewing is Rotary District Governor of District 871, serving 54 clubs in Western Kentucky. He was a charter member of the Leitchfield Rotary Club in 1938. He helped organize and became a charter member of the Greensburg Rotary Club and has been secretary since its organization. He is a lay leader for the Methodist Church in the Campbellsville District.

And newspapers in the district have made Dowell their choice

Dowell is excellent choice for position

Governor Julian Carroll is to be commended for his choice of Robert L. Dowell of Sulphur Well to serve as a judge on the State Court of Appeals representing the Third Judicial District.

Judge Dowell has had a distinguished legal career. His qualifications as a lawyer and as a man of the wisdom needed to be appointed to one of the state's highest judicial positions are without question.

But more than that, Judge Dowell has distinguished himself as a fine Christian gentleman. And this, we think, is the more important consideration.

The fact that Judge Dowell will be on the premiere court speaks even more highly of the importance of the appointment. The new court system, if it is to have the impact on the judicial system the voters desired when they approved the new plan, will have to have men of impeccable character and of untiring dedication to the Law.

In this respect, Judge Dowell is unusual. His is a grassroots story of success. Judge Dowell overcame tremendous obstacles to achieve his right to practice law. Part-time jobs and part-time study, night school and night work were the usual regimen for this ambitious man as he achieved his dream, his high calling, the Right to call himself an Attorney.

We are proud of Judge Dowell, too, because he is carrying on a fine distinction which is peculiarly Metcalfe County's. Perhaps no other county in Kentucky, certainly no other county in this area, has provided the Commonwealth with so many notable leaders in the field of State Government and in the Judiciary than Metcalfe County, unquestionably so when area and population are considered.

Judge Dowell brings a wide experience to the court. His knowledge of business, banking and agriculture will be useful to him as he serves on the Court of Appeals, because good judges need not only fine legal minds, but also Common Sense and Wisdom.

OPINION

Why I favor Judge Dowell

Quite often voters in the presidential years overlook the importance of the other offices being considered.

I hope this is not the case with Wayne County voters when they consider the candidates for judge of the Third Appellate District, Kentucky Court of Appeals.

Although there are three fine candidates running, I feel that the present judge, Judge Robert L. Dowell, has a distinguished legal background which pre-eminently qualifies him to be returned to the bench.

Judge Dowell is a fine Christian man, a Baptist who practices in public and private life the ideals set forth by Our Master.

He is, of course, a lawyer—a lawyer who earned his degree by attending law school while working full time. His was not a silver plate. He worked for his education and I think that has some greater value. Not only has the man learned his profession, but he has also learned the hard economic values which every judge should know.

Judge Dowell has operated businesses, and he knows, from a practical standpoint, the difficulties of the businessman and merchant.

He has been a farmer, a breeder of fine Angus cattle, and he knows the problems of the farmer.

It is important that a judge not only possess great wisdom and a keen judicial mind, which Judge Dowell has, but that he also have the common sense of the great body of the laity.

Judge Dowell rose from rugged rural beginnings to leadership in the legal profession. His record and background indicate that he deserves a return to the high office to which Governor Carroll appointed him.

RE-ELECT JUDGE ROBERT L. DOWELL THIRD APPELLATE DISTRICT Second Division Court of Appeals of Kentucky

I want to share with all voters my deep appreciation for the opportunity to serve you as Judge of the Court of Appeals.

Since filing for re-election to this office, your kindness, consideration and pledged support has been heartwarming. I am also gratified by your acceptance of the judicial ballot as a nonpolitical ballot, and for that reason your readiness to disregard political affiliations and vote your convictions thereby demonstrating your determination to establish a strong appellate court. This, in my opinion, is as it should be. I, therefore, respectfully request your vote and support upon my record and I offer herein the recommendations of persons who have known my life. I assure you that your consideration thereof, along with your vote and influence, will always be highly appreciated and I shall endeavor to do my utmost to merit your confidence.

I use this media as my way of personal contact with you and to acquaint you with my candidacy and my qualifications. I humbly ask that you consider this as my personal appeal for your vote, support and influence in the November election. I will highly appreciate it if you will explain my candidacy to your friends and how to vote for me on the judicial ballot as herein illustrated on a sample ballot.

With deepest gratitude
Judge Robert L. Dowell

County To Receive $382,545 In Rev. Sharing Over Next 4 Years

Fifth District county and local governments should receive an estimated $33,960,385 in federal revenue-sharing payments through September 1980, Congressman Tim Lee Carter has announced.

Carter, who strongly supported the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Amendments of 1976 which continued the revenue-sharing program, said that estimate was released by the Office of Revenue Sharing in Washington.

President Ford signed the revenue-sharing bill into law on October 13, clearing the way for the aid to local governments for the next three and three-quarters years.

Current payment projects are based on data used to allocate funds for Entitlement Period 7. Because the data will be revised for each period between now and September 1980, the figures released October 21 are subject to change, Congressman Carter stressed. Nevertheless, he added, they indicate what local governments can expect to receive.

In his announcement Congressman Carter pointed out that the revenue-sharing program "has been of significant help to our local units of government in the Fifth District, and I was pleased that we were successful in extending the program."

Based on Entitlement Period 7 data, which include population and other factors, the Office of Revenue Sharing estimates that the following amounts can be expected locally over the next almost four years: $382,545 for Rockcastle County's total; $32,216, Brodhead; $4,999, Livingston; and $72,399, Mt. Vernon.

The vaccine will not be given to persons under 18 years of age unless they have a chronic disease such as diabetes, heart trouble, rheumatic fever, etc. If this is the case, then a special vaccine will be administered then.

ROCKETS LOSE CLOSE ONE TO WHITLEY 12-8

The Rockcastles Rockets stayed with seven-game winner Whitley County to the end last Friday night but, despite taking an 8-0 lead into half-time, were defeated 12-8 by the district champs.

The Rockets jumped out in front on a 96 yard run - by Billy Hackworth and a pass from Earl Hammons to Rick Anderkin in the end zone was good for the two extra points. However, in the second half, a fumble played by the Rockets deep in their territory and a blocked punt were responsible for the two extra points. Neither of their extra point attempts were good.

The Rockets played their best first half of football they have played all season. They kept Whitley County off balance. Danny Hunt hitred one of their punts, and they just generally made Whitley County look not quite as tough as they had been touted to be. Whitley had to have this win against the Rockets to clinch the district title - a feat which they did not accomplish last year when they were in the same position and the Rockets beat them on their home ground.

Offensively, the Rockets were led by Billy Hackworth with 136 yards in 11 carries; Earl Hammons picked up 43 yards in 10 tries; David Owens got 14 yards in 9 carries and Tim Whitehead and Steve Mitchell each got 6 yards in 2 and 3 carries, respectively. Owens also picked up 17 yards on kick-off returns and Hammons completed one pass in 5 attempts. Comparatively, the Rockets outgained Whitley in total yards 285 to 240.

Defensively, the Rockets were led by Jeff Carr with 9 tackles and 7 assists; Kyle Miller, Earl Hammons and Walter Browning all were credited with 8 individual tackles; Mark Cummings got 7; David Hunt, Brian Stokes, Mike Barrett and Rick Anderkin each were credited with 6; Billy Hackworth with 6; David Owens, 4; Ty Huffines, 4; and Bo Huffines, Kenny Johnson, Eddie

In making the announcement, Harris said he was very pleased that Clay Colson had agreed to serve in that capacity in Governor Carter's campaign. "As an active farmer and a leader in his community, Clay is familiar with Governor Carter's Farm Program and the importance of his election to the Kentucky farmer. He has already done an excellent job in organizing his county."

Crowded Ballot Faces Voters In Tuesday's Presidential Race

If you've found it hard to make up your mind between the two major party candidates for president, wait until you get inside the voting booth Nov. 2.

You'll find you have nine, not just two, candidates to choose from.

Traditionalists may be pleased to discover that the major party candidates come first as the eye travels from left to right across the top of the ballot.

But, there are seven others - American party candidate Thomas J. Anderson; American Independent party candidate Lester Maddox; Independent party candidate Eugene McCarthy; Communist party candidate Gus Hall; Libertarian party candidate Roger MacBride; Socialist Workers party candidate Peter Camejo and U.S. Labor party candidate Lyndon Larouche, Jr.

Eligible voters in each of the seven congressional districts will be able to make their choice for the U.S. House of Representatives. Sixth district Democrat John Breckinridge is the only unopposed candidate in the house races. In the Fifth District, voters can choose between incumbent Republican Tim Lee Carter or his Democratic challenger Charles C. Smith of Williamsburg or the American party candidate Albert G.J. Cullum, M.D. of Middleboro.

Chief Justice Scott Reed is also unopposed for re-election and is the only justice of the new state Supreme Court up for re-election this year.

However, Kentuckians in every county will be able to vote for the first time for judges on the new Court of Appeals. The court was created under the Judicial Article as a bridge between the circuit courts and the state Sup. Court. The incumbent judges were appointed to the bench last summer by Gov. Julian Carroll.

Four of those men are unopposed, but the other 10 must win the election to retain their seats for the remainder of their eight-year terms.

Judicial elections are non-partisan and a voter in a given judicial district may vote for a judge running in each of the two divisions in the district.

In Rockcastle County, voters will have no choice in the candidate for the first division seat of the Court of Appeals. John D. White of Manchester is unopposed but there are three candidates for the seat in the second divisions: Kenton J. Cooper of Jamestown; Robert L. Dowell of Edmonon and Walter Patrick of Lawrenceburg.

Some voters may find themselves voting in a congressional district numbered differently from their judicial district. The makeup of the districts vary and while some judicial and congressional districts are composed of the same counties, some are not. In the 5th Congressional District, for example, the only encompassment of Rockcastle County a voter will elect a judge to the Court of Appeals from the 3rd District.

Three school board races are on the local ballot but all three: Kenneth Adams, Willie Taylor and Isabel "Cookie" Mason are unopposed.

Time Changes This Sunday-- This Time For Real

By: Perlina M. Anderkin

I have been debating since last Thursday how to handle this story and have finally given up and decided to compose it sitting right here at the typewriting machine - besides, Jim wouldn't let me bury it in "ramblings..." AND I'm mad at him.

Be that as it may, I owe our readers a serious apology for an assumption which I printed as fact last week. You see, I knew that Daylight Savings Time ended on the last Sunday in October and, without consulting the calendar on the wall, decided that the fourth Sunday was that last Sunday in October and informed my readers that they should set their clocks back one hour before retiring Saturday night.

Much to my chagrin, I began finding out early Thursday morning that there were five Sundays in October which nicely killed my theory about when Daylight Savings Time ended and I kept on finding out Friday, Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. (I will probably also find out Wednesday but that's today and so far I haven't seen anybody but members of my family who know better by now than to mention it).

Anyway, when it's all said and done I goofed and I do extend my sincere apologies for any inconvenience I may have caused my readers by doing so. And, now let me unequivocally state that this Sunday morning, at 2 a.m., we revert to Eastern Standard Time so be sure and set your clocks back one hour before retiring Saturday night.

Early Saturday Morning Fire Destroys Bussell Family Home In Brodhead

The two-story brick home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bussell of Brodhead was destroyed by fire early Saturday morning. The fire caught in the flue of a downstairs fireplace and was discovered about 3:15 a.m.

The Bussell's three children, Mary, 17, David, 14 and Johnny, 11 were all sleeping upstairs at the time the fire was discovered. They were able to get downstairs and to safety shortly before the stairs, which backed up the flue, collapsed. Two elderly women, being cared for by Mrs. Bussell, were in a downstairs back bedroom and were gotten out of the house unharmed.

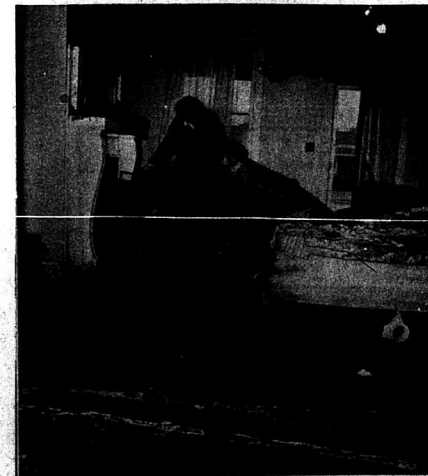

The Bussell home, located on the Conaway Road just out of Brodhead, had been newly remodeled. Mr. Bussell praised the work of the Brodhead Fire Department who answered the call to the blaze.

OTHER FIRES

Two other fires were reported in the county in the last week. Last Saturday night, a fire on Richmond Street in Mt. Vernon destroyed all the personal belongings of City Councilman Dennis Halcomb. Mr. Halcomb was visiting his children in Fort Mitchell at the time of the fire which was extinguished by the Mt. Vernon Fire Department. On Thursday night of last week, a fire completely destroyed a four-room house near the Copper Creek-Bridle Ridge Crossroads belonging to Lewis Coffey of Brindle Ridge. The house was unoccupied at the time and Mr. Coffey said he had no idea what caused the fire.

FRANKFORT WATCHLINE

BY FERRELL WELLMAN

Politicians, editorial writers, and commentators have stayed busy this fall justifying their wages by decriing the apathy of the electorate. Apathy, I believe, is defined as indifference. I don't think apathy is the problem. The voters are concerned, but they are not satisfied with the candidates and they're frustrated. Political observers should not confuse those who don't care with the growing number of voters who are just fed up.

Kentucky's 1976 Congressional races certainly haven't done anything to kindle voter interest. A district by district breakdown:

First District: Ho hum Republican Bob Bersky was quoted earlier this year as saying he was running so the Republicans would be represented on election day. He has challenged Hubbard to a debate, but Hubbard says he has a full schedule and can't find time to discuss issues. Hubbard did find time, though, for a Democratic Party Fish Fry in Shelby County, which is a long way from the first district.

Hubbard has collected an enormous war chest. Bersky has little money and no chance.

Second District: Shades of an interesting race in this sprawling district. In 1972 when Richard Nixon doubled George McGovern's total in the second Congressional William Natcher, a demagogue, received 62 percent of the vote. In 1974, Natcher got 73% but his Republican opponent spent only $21.

Republican State Senator Walter Baker is going to spend more than $21 and he's going to get more than 24% of the vote, but it's not likely Baker will break Natcher's string of 23 years of Congress without missing a roll call vote.

Natcher is running on his record. Baker says Natcher is trying to take credit for everything done in Kentucky in the past three decades. Natcher is a moderate. Baker is a conservative's conservative. While the second district is hardly liberal, Democrats outnumber Republicans three to one and that determines Baker's fate.

There is a hint of thought that Baker is running in 1976 just to get name recognition for 1978 when Natcher may not run. "Not so," says Glasgow attorney. "No one who has ever reflected their law practice for five months would say that. I'm in it to win." Top Republicans in Frankfort admit this even in losing. Baker will have made his mark on the second district.

Third District: Romano Mazzoli's first win could hardly have been considered a mandate. Mazzoli slid by former Louisville Mayor William Cowser by 211 votes. In 1974, Mazzoli captured 70% of the vote. This year, his victory margin will be somewhere in between.

Republican challenger Donzell Ramsey, a high school principal, has tried to paint Mazzoli as a pro-busser and big spender with only moderate success. Mazzoli has said that of 20 votes cast, 17 were against busing.

Fourth District: The race in the fourth district has been distinguished by the high pitch of campaigning on the part of the two candidates, Republican Gene Snyder, who is seeking his seventh term in Washington, has called his democratic opponent Ed Winterberg "a twerp," "a left leaning marshmallow," and "a vacillating fuzball."

Winterberg has responded by calling Snyder "a draft dodger." The only new development to seep from the campaign is the revelation that Snyder has flat feet. Winterberg has been trying to battle Snyder on his home turf in Jefferson County, but reports from Louisville indicate Snyder has an enormous lead.

Fifth District: Republican Tim Lee Carter is heavily favored to repeat. He was first elected to Congress in 1964. Carter is opposed by Charles Smith, a Cumberland College math teacher. Smith is running hard, but the district is so overwhelmingly Republican stronghold in the state and Carter seems unbeatable.

Sixth District: Last Democratic congressman John Breckinridge seemed to be the state's most vulnerable representative. My only, how things change. Most of Breckinridge's possible challengers within his own party are devoted Republican strongholds are greener than those in Washington. Central Kentucky Republicans were apparently counting on Labe Jackson to carry the GOP standard. When Jackson decided not to run, the Republicans were left without even a Bob Bersky.

Seventh District: Representative Carl Perkins, who has been in Congress since 1949, is opposed by family foe, Granville Thomas. Granville seems to get his name on the ballot at least once every two years. Thomas says Perkins has done a good job and is a fine man. Null said. *****

Consumer Comments

By Robert E. Stephens
Attorney General

You may have suspected that your milk carton didn't contain an entire gallon of milk or that the gasoline pump wasn't measuring correctly. If you have a complaint about the advertised weights or measurement of anything you have purchased, there is a Kentucky state agency that will investigate your problem.

The Division of Weights and Measures in the Department of Agriculture is responsible for checking the accuracy of any commercial weighing or measuring device and for inspecting commodities in package form to see whether they contain the amount stated on the label. These inspections include gasoline pumps, supermarket items, and even toothpaste tubes.

The Division carries out this responsibility by sending investigators to businesses throughout the state. When an investigator has tested a weighing or measuring device, he affixes a sticker to the machine stating his findings. If the machine is found to be correct, the sticker will state this, the date of inspection, and the inspectors' names. If the device is not functioning properly, the sticker will reflect this and the company usually has 10 days in which to correct the problem. In some cases, the devices may be condemned and immediately taken out of service. Not only are retail commercial outlets investigated, but also wholesale outlets distributing products made and packaged by national manufacturers.

If you feel that some product is not being weighed or measured accurately, report your complaint to the Department of Agriculture, Division of Weights and Measures, 106 W. Second St., Frankfort, Ky. 40601, or you can call the Division at 502/564-4870. Each complaint will be investigated. If you would like to be notified of the results of the inquiry into your complaint, please state this in your request.

Remember too that companies like to hear directly from their customers when they have questions. Many national firms want to be notified of problems consumers encounter with matters like the weight or measurement of products. Generally, companies are very responsive to these inquiries.

If you have a consumer complaint, write to the Attorney General, Division of Consumer Protection, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. The office has found that it can most effectively deal with written complaints, and encourages you to write when you have a complaint. However, if you have an emergency situation, call the consumer hotline, at 1-800-372-2560.

Kentucky Afield

It won't be long until Kentucky's hunting season get into full swing, and with the number of different opening and closing dates for different game species, it's something hard to keep track of everything.

So here's a rundown of opening and closing dates for the remainder of this season's hunting, courtesy of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources:

October 31 - Last day of frog season; last day of first segment of squirrel and dove seasons.

Nov. 1 - Nov. 17 - with exception of deer archery and hunting for geese, rails and gallinules (see below), all seasons closed, including hunting for species such as grouse for which there is otherwise no closed season.

Nov. 12 - Season opens for geese, Nov. 14 - Last day of first phase of deer archery season.

Nov. 18 - Small game seasons opening: hunting for squirrel, quail, rabbit, grouse and furbearers. Trapping season for furbearers opens.

Nov. 20 - Statewide duck season opens. Dec. 2 - Last day of first phase of split duck season.

Dec. 3 - Small game seasons close for duration of gun deer season; trapping season remains open.

Dec. 4 - Statewide gun deer season opens. Hunters taking a deer during this season must have deer checked by conservation officer or at check station.

Dec. 8 - Last day of gun deer season. Check stations will be open Dec. 9 to check deer taken on Dec. 8.

Dec. 9 - Small game seasons reopen. Dec. 11 - Second phase of duck season opens; dove hunting resumes.

Dec. 18 - Second phase of deer archery season opens. Dec. 19 - Last day of dove season.

Dec. 31 - Last day of statewide deer archery and squirrel seasons. Jan. 16 - Last day of duck season.

Jan. 20 - Last day of quail, rail and gallinule seasons. Feb. 1 - Last day of rabbit and furbearer hunting and trapping seasons.

Feb. 28 - Last day of quail and grouse seasons.

Mar. 1 - Time to start getting ready

Personals

By Mrs. Lella Stokes

Mrs. Jesse Bray has returned home from Loveland, Ohio where she visited with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bray. Mrs. Bray who is in a hospital there, is recovering from recent surgery.

Jess Bray, Jr. of Loveland, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bray and Miss Kim Bray of Cincinnati, Ohio and Mrs. Ruby Wright and son, Todd of Middletown Ohio were here over the week end and attended the funeral of their uncle, Mr. Harve Robbins, Sunday.

recent visitors of Mrs. Julia Burdette. Mrs. Gertrude Holt, who underwent surgery at the St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington last week, is improving nicely and is expected home this week. It has been reported that Mrs. Charles C. Roe is in very ill health at her home in Lexington. Rev. and Mrs. Roe have many friends in Mt. Vernon. He is a former pastor of the First Christian Church in Mt. Vernon. We trust that good health will soon return to Mrs. Roe.

Mrs. Ella Ponder informs me that her son-in-law, Mr. Willie Furnon, formerly of Rockcastle Co. had surgery for a ruptured disc recently at the Ft. Hamilton Hospital in Hamilton, Ohio and is improving satisfactorily. Mrs. Luna Dooly Flee of Dayton, Ohio who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Mayne Phillips in Richmond had dinner with Mrs. Ella Ponder, Monday. Mrs. Mary A. Ponder has returned from a visit with her son and family in Corbin.

Mrs. Effie Kirby, who is convalescing at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mollie Ballinger, from surgery at Pattie A. Clay Hospital in Richmond, is showing much improvement. Mrs. Elizabeth Ziegler of Calloway and Mrs. Dale Renner and son, Ronnie were to see Mrs. Kirby, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Verner Ballinger had as their weekend visitors their son, Wally Ballinger and Timothy Gormican, of Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wagner of Middletown, Ohio spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Verner Ballinger. Mrs. Sadie N. Ramsey is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Tom Ashley and family in Lexington. Mrs. Ashley is recovering from a recent fall.

Bro. Ernie L. Johnson, pastor of the First Christian Church in Mt. Vernon held a Revival at the Climax Christian Church last week, where Rev. Glenn Kelly was the pastor. Mr. Nathan Mullins was song leader for the services.

Bro. Ernie Johnson will be the evangelist this week at the Sand Gap Christian Church in Jackson Co. where Bro. Harold Ballinger is the pastor. Services start at 7:30 p.m. each evening. We invite you to attend these meetings.

Mrs. Ernie Johnson, Wade and Bucky, Mrs. Roscoe Mullins and Mrs. Lella Stokes attended the annual Homecoming, Sunday afternoon at Climax Christian Church. Many Gospel Singing Groups were present "making joyful noise unto the Lord", with voice and instrumental music after the multitude partook of the bountiful spread of food.

Mr. Roy Green, who had a relapse in health recently was returned to the Berea Hospital in Berea, Kentucky. Mrs. Green remains with him there. Also, Mrs. Pearl Hysinger is seriously ill in the Rockcastle County Hospital.

Let's remember the sick in prayer and with cards of cheer. Mrs. Leola Cramer received word from her sister, Mrs. Ben Craig of Leesville, S.C., who recently underwent surgery in a hospital there is at home and much improved in health. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Craig are former residents of Mr. Vernon.

Several Rockcastle County Shriners and their families returned home Sunday 24th from a Special Plans Tour to Hawaii, offered by the Shriners' Organization. They joined a group from Lexington and Louisville. Their tour included two Islands. All reported a wonderful time.

Paul Renner is back in school after being at home from a busted knee cap. His brother James, who had the misfortune of breaking his ankle and who will be confined at home several weeks, has a special teacher to keep him with his studies. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Renner and grandsons of Mrs. Evelyn McMullins.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leach, Mrs. Fannie Mullins and Mrs. Hazel Cummins attended the Farm Bureau Banquet Friday night at Broad School. Mr. and Mrs. Carter Owens visited with their son, Terrell and family in Williamstown during the week end and Sunday they all went to see Mr. Dahi Ping in Cincinnati, who is very sick.

Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Hansel, on the way to visit their son, Kenneth and family in Lexington, Monday evening stopped at EKU in Richmond for their daughter Joyce, who accompanied them to Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Nicely spent the week end in Ohio with their daughter, Mrs. Bob Taylor and son, and attended Mrs. Nicely's niece's wedding, Lisa Gay Payne, to Charles Fletcher, Saturday night. While in Ohio they visited with Mrs. Taylor and their daughters, Loyce and Lynn, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Masters of Fairview, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Payne of Maude, Ohio.

While in Ohio over the week end, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Nicely visited with Mrs. Magg Doan, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, at the home of her daughter, Pearl.

By Mrs. Geo. Burton. Mrs. Gravelly Burton and Mrs. Noah Brock visited Mrs. Grace Whitehead and Mrs. Betty Owens on evening last week. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Purcell and Johnny were in Richmond Sunday. Mrs. Jim Burdette spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Harris Burton.

ROCKCASTLE CIRCUIT COURT

Civil Action File No. 3156

Deil Ponder and wife, Gwendolyn Rae Ponder Plaintiffs

V. NOTICE OF SALE Raymond Shepherd and unknown wife, if any... Defendants.

By virtue of a judgement and order of sale of the Rockcastle Circuit Court rendered on September 28th, 1976, in the above cause, a partition action, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door on Main Street, in Mt. Vernon, Kentucky, the highest bidder at public auction on the 1st day of November, 1976, at 1:00 p.m. or thereabouts, the following described real property, to wit:

Beginning at a chestnut oak corner standing on east side of Gauley Mountain Road, also a corner to Gauley School House grounds and extending east with the line of Gauley School House line to pine; thence east with the line of Gauley School House line to pine; thence south course to a straight line to a black oak, being a corner also to the F. M. Ponder and Sherman Waddles; thence west to a stone erected on the west side of a road, running out toward the home of F. M. Ponder, also a corner of F. M. Ponder; thence a north course to the beginning corner, containing by estimate five (5) acres more or less.

This is excepted and excluded from the above boundary and not conveyed in this deed that portion of the above conveyed by Russell Hillard and wife, Bernice, to Everett Carpenter, by deed dated April 19, 1948, said to be one (1) acre more or less, recorded in Deed Book 68 page 392.

The property shall be sold to the highest bidder on terms of ten (10) percent of the purchase price in cash at time of sale, the balance in six months, with the purchaser being required to execute bond with surety, to be approved by the Commissioner, to secure the unpaid balance of the purchase price; said bond to bear interest at the rate of (8) percent per annum from date of sale until paid. The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all of the purchase price in cash, or paying said bond before maturity by paying the principal and interest accrued to date of payment. The purchaser shall have possession of the premises after complying with the terms of sale.

By ROY G. BROWN ASSISTANT VICE PRESIDENT CUMBERLAND PCA

Tuesday, November 2, 1976 is election day. We will elect a president, vice-president and congressman to serve in the executive and legislative branch of our government.

We must give this our careful and sincere thought as we need the very best men to lead our country. It is our desire and common sense that will serve all citizens of the country with their very best that we as Americans will have a government of the people, by the people and for the people as our forefathers meant for it to be.

Let us examine the stand of each candidate on the important issues that would affect each of us. Issues such as gun control, school busing, spending taxes, repeal of right to work laws, George Meany and Chevise farm labor control.

Each candidate, no doubt, will expand all the promises as usual of the many things they will do if only we will give them our vote. But, will they do what they promise if elected to office, or will they use the office for political gain and power for they and their friends.

We must urge and exert every voter to go to the polls and cast your vote for the candidate you think will best serve all citizens of this great nation in which we live. Let's hope that in the future we will have the freedom and rights we now have to serve God according to his will. But whoever is elected to head our country, let us unite together to keep America strong and have a good life Down on the Farm.

All in all, it was a good performance by Coach Polly's Rockets. Whitley County had barely defeated Lincoln County, a team which stomped the Rockets earlier in the season.

This Friday night, the Rockets host Mercer County and next week journey to Russell County for their last game of the season.

questions and answers

Q. I just quit a job after 8 years and learned that the private pension plan I was under would not pay me any benefits because at least 10 years was needed to be "vested." I also paid into social security on the job. Have I lost this protection, too?

A. No Social Security is portable. You carry social security and earnings credit from job to job. Since most employment and self-employment is covered by social security, workers and their families have continuous protection. All credit is counted toward future benefits.

The Platform That President Ford Is Running On

★ INFLATION ★

"Protect the integrity of our money" by "putting an end to deficit spending" by the Government that "erodes the purchasing power of the dollar." Oppose wage and price controls that "create only shortages, black markets and higher prices."

★ JOBS ★

Help businesses to expand "to provide more jobs." Oppose "massive, federally funded public-employment programs, such as the Humphrey-Hawkins bill" backed by the Democrats that "will cost billions."

★ TAXES AND SPENDING ★

Advocate "a legislative policy to obtain a balanced federal budget and reduced tax rates."

"When balanced by expenditure reductions, the personal (income tax) exemption should be raised to $1,000."

"Recommend tax credits for college tuition, postsecondary technical training, and child-care expenses incurred by working parents."

★ BUREAUCRATIC OVERREGULATION ★

Reduce "the extent of federal regulation and bureaucratic interference in the lives of the American people."

Require federal programs "to meet strict tests of their usefulness and effectiveness."

★ EDUCATION AND BUSING ★

Oppose "forced busing to achieve racial balance" in public schools. "We believe there are educational advantages for children in attending schools in their own neighborhoods...If Congress continues to fail to act, we would favor consideration of an amendment to the Constitution forbidding the assignment of children to schools on the basis of race."

★ WELFARE ★

Reform the welfare system to: "Provide adequate living standards for the truly needy; end welfare fraud...with emphasis on removing ineligible recipients from the welfare rolls, tightening food-stamp eligibility requirements..."

Oppose federalizing the welfare system.

Oppose "the guaranteed-annual-income concept or any programs that reduce the incentive to work."

★ HEALTH ★

"Support extension of catastrophic-illness protection to all who cannot obtain it."

Republicans call for less Government, less spending.

Elmer H. Anglin

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

On October 9th, Elmer H. Anglin, a former resident of Rockcastle County, celebrated his 92nd birthday. Family members attended a party given in his honor by his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Wilson, at their home in Fort Wayne, Indiana. Mr. and Mrs. Anglin have resided with the Wilsons for the past three years. Other family members present were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anglin, Novi, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Joel Anglin, Dearborn, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Koehr and children, Jim and Jennifer of Springfield, Ohio; Mrs. Mary Bazz and Mrs. John Peterson of Kankakee, Illinois.

In addition to the many birthday greetings from family and friends, Mr. Anglin was especially pleased to receive a birthday card from the President and Mrs. Ford.

Everyone is now looking forward to December, when there will be a combined celebration for Mrs. Anglin's 90th birthday and their 70th Wedding Anniversary. *****

Rev. Ray Dean filled his regular appointment at the Fairview Baptist Church over the week end. Due to sickness and vacations our Sunday School attendance was down to eighty. But, we thank God for that many.

The Rockcastle Association Youth Meeting was held at the Fairview Baptist Church Saturday night, October 16th, with a large number attending. Rev. Jerry Tooley preached a wonderful sermon and we enjoyed so much having all the people from the different churches with us.

The Roundtree Baptist Church had a baptismal service at the Fairview Baptist Church Sunday afternoon October 24th. Several members from Roundstone and the Scaffold Cane Baptist Church were present. We all enjoyed the service and the ones who were baptized along with the one who was baptized. She is such a sweet, wonderful young lady.

Several from the Fairview Church attended and enjoyed the various revivals last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Malone visited Mr. and Mrs. Cleus Peters Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleus Peters spent the past week end vacationing in Cumberland Gap, Tennessee.

Mrs. Willard (Louise) Todd of Scaffold Cane was admitted to the Berea Hospital Monday morning. Her many relatives and friends, who love her, wish her God's blessings and a return home soon.

On October 10th, the Wren Family

Reunion was held at Boonesboro State Park. All nine children of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Wren were present. Attending the get-together were: Mrs. Gladys Kindred and Mr. and Mrs. Yewell Wren and Randy of Winchester, Indiana. Mrs. Dorothy Kincaid of Llanos, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. William Mullins and son, Kirk, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mullins and daughters of Richmond, Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Owens, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Clark, Joey and Nina, of Winchester, Mr. and Mrs. Ikey Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Kenton Davis and Lisa, Mr. and Mrs. Tam Davis, Mrs. Allie Kindred, Kay Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Rader and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rowlette and sons of Berea, Howard Wren and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Wren and daughters, Jerry, Susan and Melora of Fairview, Mrs. Irene Owens of Lexington and Mr. and Mrs. L.C. Cantor of Dayton, Ohio.

Afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dean Wilson and Lory of Nicholasville and Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Moore of Winchester.

They all enjoyed a wonderful day and good time together.

To this family, whom we have all known, been with and loved for many years, we'd like to say "Congratulations on this eventful day and may God grant you many more just like it."

Mr. and Mrs. Boone (Barbara) Meadows of St. Petersburg, Florida returned home October 17th following a visit here with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cleus Peters.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. (Billy) Norris of Augusta, Georgia spent the past week end with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen. We enjoyed having them so much.

Please remember church and Sunday School. Spread a little sunshine along the way and be someone happy. There is a lot of unhappy people today and many who are worried and sad so say a kind word to them and pray for them and you will help them and make yourself a better person, too. God bless you all.

This photo shows the exterior of the house where the fire burned through the roof of the Buswell home in Brodhead early Saturday morning. The home, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Billy A. Buswell, his three children and two elderly ladies being nursed by Mrs. Buswell was completely destroyed by the fire which began in the flue of a downstairs fireplace. The Buswell family had been remodeling the home for some time and it was almost completed at the time of the fire.

It is possible, even in these times, to stretch your budget without skimping on the things you want.

For example, save scraps from making or altering clothes and wash these scraps along with the clothes they match, so that the scraps and clothes will "age" alike. Then patch away. The patches will hardly show.

To make your energy dollar go farther, pull down the shades or close your curtains, assuming you don't need the light—when your air conditioner is on.

Rockcastle Countians Should Vote

Rockcastle Countians have a reputation for not falling in line with national trends and we hope that this reputation is again earned Tuesday, November 2nd, when it is estimated that almost 1/3 of the eligible voters will not go to the polls - instead, they will shrug off their duty of helping to select the leadership for the highest office in our land.

This is a sad situation to us and one which, we feel, could have results detrimental to our lifestyle. You can be certain that everyone attached to a special interest group will be certain to cast their ballot for the candidate whom they think will best reflect their wishes and if this is the major decision in deciding for whom to vote rather than for whom we think will best serve our country in all areas, then it is a sad state of affairs.

We owe it to ourselves, our children, our fellow citizens to participate in choosing who will guide the course of this country for the next four years. One columnist I read recently suggested that it was not apathy that would keep voters away from the polls next Tuesday but rather a feeling of being led up with politics in general and of not liking either of the two major party candidates. There is one I prefer but if there were not then I would have seven other candidates to choose from and, believe me, whether I thought it would do any good or not to vote for a minor party candidate, I would simply because I was brought up to follow my convictions whether or not they agree with what everyone else thinks.

Maybe it is easier for some of us than for others to consider it a duty to vote - in my personal case, my parents were very vocal about this and I was reared with the idea drummed into my head that when Election Day rolled around it was something special - not something to be ignored. I am trying to instill that same sense of obligation into my children and to keep my cynicism to a minor rumble simply so they will not be turned off the electoral process. How well I succeed in this I suppose will not be known until they are adults and I can see for myself the attitude they, have concerning what is the privilege and duty of every freedom-minded citizen of our country.

The upcoming campaign promises to be a close one and a few non-voters in each precinct across the country could have more to do with deciding the outcome than those who do cast ballots.

I do not have a vocabulary strong enough to urge voters to make an extra effort to vote next Tuesday but I hope that every eligible voter will make that extra effort so that we might pass on to our children this heritage - the right to be governed by those whom we ourselves have chosen.

to Bob Wade, president of Kentucky Farm Bureau.

Wade summarized the work of the lawmakers in a recent interview, following Congressional adjournment October 2.

Estate tax reform was a major legislative story for farmers. Wade said, culminating more than two years work to ease the burden of these taxes on farm families.

The final version contained in an omnibus tax change measure accomplished most of Farm Bureau's objectives as contained in the original reform legislation introduced in 1974.

Farm Bureau had sought to increase exemption levels, update the marital deduction and change the appraisal procedures for farmland included in estates.

The grain inspection bill, passed the final day of the Congressional session after four months of deadlock, also closely paralleled Farm Bureau policy on the subject, Wade noted.

The compromise version provides for state or federal inspection of grain at export ports, and retains provisions allowing state or private inspection, under strict standards, at inland terminals and elevators.

Farm Bureau had argued against all-federal grain inspection, saying the cost of such a system would far outweigh its benefits to farmers. However, the changes finally agreed to were necessary to ensure that grain shipped to overseas customers has the same high quality it has when sold by farmers, Wade said.

****

Most Kentucky farmers began a year's exemption from Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA) regulations October 1, following passage of an amendment to a federal appropriations measure.

The exemption, which frees farmers with 10 or fewer employees, applies to all OSHA standards, including tractor rollovers, anhydrous ammonia handling, machinery shielding and pulpwood logging rules.

In addition, the controversy over proposed farm field sanitation standards has probably been rendered moot, at least among small farmers, by the exemption. That OSHA classic would have mandated portable toilets and handwashing facilities within a five-minute walk of farm workers.

The major hitch in the exemption involves its temporary nature. Since it was tacked onto an appropriations bill, the exemption is effective only as long as the parent measure - one year. In addition, a legal question remains as to whether a farmer could be subject of OSHA on days that he employs 10 workers, and exempt from the rules on all other days.

Farm legislative spokesman said an effort to make the exemption permanent is a certainty when Congress reconvenes next year.

Letter To The Editor

Editor,

President Ford was not my first choice for President, Ronald Reagan was. But the choice is now between President Ford and Jimmy Carter.

Because of Carter's conclusions, concepts and platform, I believe that millions of Democrats and most Republicans should and will support President Ford.

Carter's platform is a roadmap to socialism, with more taxes, more controls, and less freedom. The only Federal spending Carter proposes to cut is in the country's defense. His stance on abortion, murder of the unborn, the organization of farm labor, and gun control is quite disturbing to many people.

Carter has sold his political soul to the liberals and to those on the extreme left of the political spectrum, yet he poses as a moderate and sometimes as a conservative while standing on a platform similar to that of George McGovern. In fact, one of McGovern's advisors is now Carter's staff.

Many expert economists believe if Carter's fiscal policies were executed that the country might not be able to fully fund the social security and other social programs. Social security could be cut or the Federal debt greatly expanded which would cause the value of the dollar to fall and the price of goods to rise, creating a heavy burden on workers in the medium and lower income brackets, and particularly in the minority groups.

We now have a liberal spending radical Congress. If we should have a liberal Carter administration each would be committed to rubber-stamp each other excesses to the detriment of the general welfare. Checks and balances should be maintained. This was the intent of our founding fathers.

It is my opinion that Democrats, Republicans and Independents are more concerned in the good of the United States of America than in partisan politics. Knowing this I believe and urge the people of Kentucky and Rockcastle County to support Gerald Ford for President of the United States of America.

KENTUCKY'S TREE IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

The Kentucky Division of Forestry, as part of its Nurseries and Reforestation Section, provides for a program whose aim is to increase the future yield of timber products throughout the Commonwealth by genetic improvement of forest tree species. This unit is the Tree Improvement Program and its primary function is to produce improved growing stock which will produce superior timber stands in coming years.

The Southeastern counties in Kentucky are of special interest to Tree Improvement personnel because of the wide variety of tree species of high quality to be found here. Presently work is underway in this region in plus-tree selection for yellow-poplar (Tulip tree), white oak, black walnut, and Virginia pine and locating land area for future orchards and study sites.

Procedures and techniques used to produce improved stock for forest trees are very similar to those methods used by geneticists who breed special varieties of corn, wheat and soybeans. The difference between forest genetics and breeding agronomic crops lies in the length of time of the final harvest. Field crops produce one, sometimes two, crops per year; whereas, the time requirement for a timber crop may be Several county residents got in the Halloween mood and decorated their homes for the occasion. decades from the time the seedlings are planted to the trees are harvested.

Projects now underway in the Tree Improvement Program include: selection of plus-tree candidates for several forest species across the state (these trees will be used in future seed orchards), establishment of seed orchards for several forest tree species, a state-wide black walnut study to determine where the best walnut trees are located, and several cooperative activities with other agencies.

Hopefully improved seedlings for a few tree species will be available to the citizens of Kentucky within eight to ten years.

With canning, freezing and drying now largely out of the way, now is the time to finish storing away the rest of the surplus produce of the summer garden. This will most likely be the root crops—potatoes, carrots, beets, turnips, radishes, and possibly parsnips. But whatever the crop, says UK Extension home horticulturist Mary Hotze, successful storage requires good products and proper moisture and temperature conditions for the particular vegetable to be stored. Parsnips, for example, can be left right in the patch where they grew and still retain their goodness.

A root cellar is the best place to store most vegetables, but if such a place is unavailable, field storage is the next best choice for most of the vegetables listed above. This may be done by piling the vegetables in a conical mound in a nest of straw. Another layer of straw or similar litter should be placed over the vegetables and covered with a sufficient amount of soil to prevent severe freezing.

This method of field storage is particularly efficient for Irish potatoes, turnips and rutabagas, but it has some disadvantages. Anyone who has ever opened up a "tater" or turnip hole in rainy or zero weather will understand what is meant.

But for those without root cellars who must store root crops outdoors, Hotze recommends the selection of a well-drained site so that surface water cannot collect or stand around the base of the mound. For added protection against excessive winter rainfall, a lot of boards, a fodder shock or a piece of plastic should be placed over the mound. It is better, she says, to make several small mounds rather than one large one. When a mound is opened, it is better to remove the entire contents.

If a home gardener has a basement, it may be possible to make part of it into a satisfactory root cellar. This may be done by partitioning off a room that can be kept cool and fairly moist. A must for this kind of a room, however, is that it have an opening of some kind for outside ventilation. Otherwise, the room most likely will become too warm and dry, and the vegetables or fruits will shrivel and lose their quality.

But wherever stored and whatever the fruit or vegetable, Hotze recommends that only the best specimens be selected for the purpose. The vegetable shouldn't be overripe. It should be free from signs of disease or any form of injury. A diseased or injured fruit or vegetable usually rots in a very short time, spreading decay or deterioration to all the rest of the sorted specimens.

Your county extension agent can provide more detailed information on how to preserve garden surplus for use when the snow flies and garden time is no more.

that doesn't eat them first. Once during a warm spell in January, a chipmunk was personally observed killing and eating an unfortunate and unwary starling frequenting a backyard bird feeder. Usually, though, a chipmunk prefers a vegetable diet.

Favorite habitats of the chipmunk include open woods, stone walls, rocky ledges where copperhead snakes like to hide, and thick patches of underbrush, especially adjoining vegetable gardens where there are patches of sweet corn.

From these latter vantage points, chipmunks that otherwise could add to the attractiveness, interest and enjoyment of the outdoors (often become so numerous as to assume the status of pests. They take up corn and newly-planted bulbs and attack cultivated fruits such as apples, peaches and plums—not to eat the fruit but to get at the seed—and in the meantime, they stop up household drain pipes with stores of acorns and any other nuts that may be available.

These pretty little things can be controlled, that is, if one has the heart. They can be shot, trapped or poisoned as the occasion or circumstances demand. Humans as well as little wild creatures have to live.

Vitamin C And Catfish

Does Vitamin C prevent colds? Do vitamins fight pollution? The answer—for humans—are not complete yet. For fish, the facts are clearer.

Catfish do not catch cold. But new evidence shows Vitamin C does help fish fight the effects of polluted waters. Biologists in Missouri found that catfish in the area developed curvature of the spine that drastically cases, broke their backs. Last year, researchers pinpointed the source of the sickness: the insecticide toxaphene, a pesticide used on cotton crops in the south, which seeps into surrounding waters. Even infinitesimal amounts in the water had disastrous long-term effects on fish.

When the pesticides were deposited in the liver of the fish, the Vitamin C in the fish's system rushed to the liver—in a massive effort to offset the poisonous effects of the pesticide there. As a result, lower amounts of the vitamin were available elsewhere in the fish's system. And without sufficient amounts of the vitamin, fish do not grow properly and do not adapt normally to stress.

Biologists now believe they have found an important clue to offset the chronic effects of one type of pollution, and Vitamin C is being included in many commercially prepared fish foods. What precise effects additional amounts of the vitamin have on people is still under investigation.

Election '76 On Commonwealth Call-In

On the eve of the Presidential election, Monday, Nov. 1, "Commonwealth Call-In," Kentucky Educational Television's (KET) forum for current topics of interest in the state, will feature a special discussion of the 1976 Presidential race at 9 p.m.

Guest host for the program is Al Smith, a Russellville newspaperman and regular host of KET's "Comment On Kentucky."

Appearing with Smith are: Lawrence Forgy, Jr., representing the Republican party; Ed Pritchard, representing the Democratic party; and, Dr. Steve Channing, providing a scholarly point of view of election '76.

The "Call-In" telephone bank is in operation during program, and viewers are urged to participate in the question and answer session. Toll calls are accepted.

Ag Commissioner Goes Looking For Railroad Cars

Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner Tom Harris announced at a press conference in Louisville today that he will meet Friday morning in Washington with officials of the Interstate Commerce Commission in an effort to overcome the shortage of rail cars in Kentucky during the harvest season.

Harris said that Kentucky farmers have produced a record 128 million bushels of corn this year, and storage facilities are inadequate to handle the crop.

Harris said that in some cases corn is being stored outside, thus increasing the chances of loss and spoilage.

"I discussed the need for rail cars with both Gov. Julian Carroll and U.S. Sen. Walter Huddleston. Sen. Huddleston's office has been most helpful in individual cases, getting rail cars to some facilities that were completely without cars. But the problem is too big to handle on a case-by-case basis. So, after talking with Gov. Carroll we agreed that I should go to the Interstate Commerce Commission, meet with them in person, and try to make them fully aware of the situation."

Harris said that if something isn't done, millions of bushels of Kentucky's corn crop could be lost. At current prices, such a loss could total about 274 million.

"It simply is a case of transportation," Harris said. "The Kentucky farmer has produced. The markets, both foreign and domestic, are there. Now we need to get the grain from the farmer to the barges."

Rossini Opera To Be Shown Live On KET

The artistic director of the Opera Company of Boston, Sarah Caldwell, and American's ranking soprano, Beverly Sills, perform "The Barber of Seville" live from Lincoln Center in New York, Wednesday, November 3 at 8 p.m. on Kentucky Educational Television (KET).

The production, hosted by Dick Cavett, marks the first time Ms. Sills has sung the title role of Rosina in New York. She made her debut in the role in June, 1974, with Opera Company of Boston.

Ms. Caldwell, a child prodigy in mathematics and music, attended the New England Conservatory and served on the opera department faculties of Tanglewood and Boston University before founding the Boston Opera Group in 1957 with $5,000 and the interest and help of a small group of local citizens.

The little animal sitting on a log in the above logo, or "standing head" which is the trademark of this column, is a chipmunk, one of the smaller members of the squirrel family. This attractive little wild critter with a "rally stripe" is primarily a ground dweller. Under certain circumstances, however, like when in search of dogwood berries or hazelnuts for food or when chased by a cat, it can skin up a tree with considerable skill. But usually it prefers to stay on the ground where, if danger threatens, it can scamper in a hole or under a rockpile. While chipmunks do not go into complete hibernation like the groundhog or skunk, they usually disappear in late October into deep burrows for a period of sleep that borders on that of hibernation. About the only difference between chipmunks and other hibernators is that chipmunks awake at frequent intervals, especially during warm spells of winter, and sally forth in search of food. Normally seed and grain eaters, mid-winter emerging chipmunks will eat anything

Tried and tested President and Congressman.

... EXPERIENCE ... We know we can trust his careful decisions to keep peace. A strong and stable leader.

... GOOD JUDGMENT ... A good and decent man of exemplary moral leadership.

... DECENCY ... Not afraid to face the tough decisions. A man of principles in the mold of Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower.

... COURAGE ... An open, straightforward man — the same thing to all people.

JIMMY CARTER

No experience in national or world affairs.

... TRUST ... Required to apologize to Billy Graham, George Wallace, widow of President Johnson. Poor judgment with pornographic magazine interview.

... DECENCY ... Moral leadership by a President is important. His indecent language in a porno magazine is a disgrace to America.

... COURAGE ... Views America through the tunnel of politics. Says what he thinks the crowd wants to hear. Tries to be all things to all people.

... TRUST ... We never know where he stands for sure. He changes position from day to day, i.e., busting tax increase, abortion, de-terms of America, farm policies.

EKU MARCHING MAROONS BAND INCLUDES LOCAL MEMBERSHIP

When the 180 member Eastern Kentucky University marching band takes the field for the halftime program at football games it contains two members from Mt. Vernon.

One of the Marching Maroons' major shows each year is presented at the halftime of the Homecoming Day game on Hanger Field, which this year Eastern scheduled with Murray State University.

The band, directed by Robert Hartwell, includes two fourth twirlers, 10 majorettes, a 16-member flag squad, and two drum majors. Eighty-nine of the band members are music majors in the EKU Department of Music, while the other members are majors in 39 academic fields. Forty-two percent of the band members are freshmen.

The band's halftimes shows vary in style, with precision drill, formations, concert selections and other special features. Many types of music are performed, from modern rock to the classics.

The marching Maroons come from more than 120 high schools. Students interested in becoming members of the band when they enroll at Eastern should contact Hartwell in the Music Department.

The members of the band from Mt. Vernon are: Teresa Parrett and Laura Durham. *****

The Bible is not a brief for a courtroom; it is a love letter. The Bible is not a series of formal statements about God; it is a personal message from Him to us. The Bible is not a detective story in which man with a cluster of clues tracks down an elusive Creator. No, here God comes down to us.

The Bible stresses that the entire creation still depends on its Creator to keep it going. To put it another way, subtract the world from God and God would still be God. But the world minus God would be nothing.

To better understand the living God today, you can read a booklet entitled, "Is God Out of Date?" To receive it, send your name and address and 25c to International Lutheran Laymen's League, 2185 Hampton Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri 63139.

GE BROADCAST CONTROLLED COLOR TELEVISION
YOU'VE GOT TO SEE IT TO BELIEVE IT!

Many TV programs are now transmitted with a special color reference signal called VIR. When the VIR signal is present, new sophisticated computer-type circuitry, in selected General Electric color models, uses this signal to automatically adjust the color and tint of the television picture; this means you won't have to fiddle with those color control settings; instead, this truly automatic VIR system makes the adjustments for you.

GE's Broadcast Controlled Color system consistently gives you color and tint automatically adjusted by the VIR signal from the broadcasters themselves.

Come in for a demonstration . . . ask us to show you to the extent to which VIR is available in this area.

Holiday Job? Apply for Social Security Number without Delay

Some employers won't hire people unless they have a social security number, so students and others planning to get holiday jobs should apply for a number without delay if they don't already have one, according to social security officials here.

"When you don't recall having had a social security number before," a spokesman said, "your application is screened against central files in Baltimore to make sure a second number isn't issued to you—and screening takes time."

"You should apply for your social security number at least several weeks before you need it for a job," he said. "You can get information about applying by calling or writing any social security office."

People build disability, survivors, retirement, and Medicare protection by work and earnings credited to their social security number. Workers get credit if they're paid $50 or more in a 3-month calendar quarter for work covered by social security.

More than nine out of 10 jobs are covered by social security. "Your social security number is yours alone and remains the same for life," the spokesman said. "When you get a job covered by social security, be sure your employer copies your name and number correctly from your social security card to his record."

People applying for a social security number for the first time may be asked to prove their age, identity, and citizenship, he said.

The Social Security Administration is an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

questions and answers

Q. I'm 68 and have a chance to earn about $600 in December as a department store Santa. But since I already earned $1,400 the first 6 months of 1976, how would this second job affect my social security benefits?

A. You can earn as much as $2,760 for 1976 and still get your full social security benefit (over $2,760, $1 in benefits is deducted for each $2 earned). If you took the Santa job, your earnings for the year would be $1,000 and the deduction from your social security benefits would be $120 (half of your earnings over $2,760).

Q. I retired from a State government job at 55 and have been paying income tax on my pension ever since I got back what I paid into the pension fund. Now I'm 62 and will soon be applying for social security. When do I start paying income tax on social security benefits?

A. Social security benefits are tax-free.

Q. I'm getting SSI and will move in with a nephew. Will this affect my payments?

A. Supplemental security income (SSI) payments may be affected by a change in living arrangements. Check with a social security office if you decide to move.

Q. My three young children and I have been getting social security survivors benefits since my husband died 3 years ago. Would the checks stop if I remarried?

A. The children's benefits would continue, but you would no longer be eligible for payments on your late husband's record. However, total family payments would remain unchanged since the maximum amount payable is the same for three beneficiaries as it is for more than three.

AUCTION

Of
Mr. W. S. Stewart's and Mr. Kenneth Stewart's

85 HEAD HOLSTEIN DAIRY HERD

SAT., OCTOBER 30, 1976, 10:30 A.M.

Wildie, Rockcastle Co., Ky.

8 Miles South of Beres, 7 miles north of Mt. Vernon. Turn East off U.S. 25 at Parsons' Gas and Appliance onto 1786. Follow 1786 approximately one mile to the sale - following the auction signs.

Due to Mr. W. S. Stewart's retirement and his son, Kenneth's, other business interests, they have decided to sell, by auction, this truly fine Grade A herd of Holsteins. The Stewarts have a highly respected reputation for their dairying operation, having been milking for over 25 years. All of these cows have been raised right on the farm and are sired from some of the best bulls in the artificial breeding service. Incidentally, the Stewarts have only used artificial breeding during their 25 years of operation. There are presently 68 cows in full flow of milk with 17 dry cows - some of which are due to freshen in the very near future.

THE FOLLOWING IS A LIST OF THE COWS TO BE SOLD

- |                         |                         |                        |
|-------------------------|-------------------------|------------------------|
| 12 30 month old Heifers | 10 4 year old Holsteins | 6 7 year old Holsteins |
| 7 32 month old Heifers  | 23 5 year old Holsteins | 8 8 year old Holsteins |
| 3 34 month old Heifers  | 11 6 year old Holsteins | 8 9 year old Holsteins |

These cows, on the last annual test, averaged approximately 13,000 lbs. There are several cows producing 70 lbs. plus at the present. All of the cows have been tested and have necessary health papers.

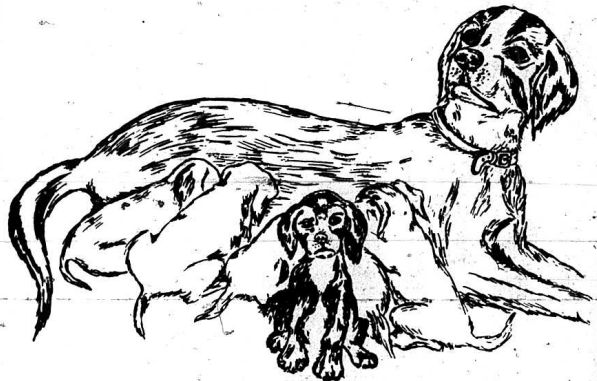

If you're in the market for some excellent cows to add to your herd or some replacements - be sure to attend this important sale.

We Understand

... the simple principles of supply and demand. We're planning to serve you and your children wherever, whenever, however, and in whatever quantity you want electricity.

To do this, we must plan today for tomorrow's increased demands. And, that means building and expanding power plants and substations and upgrading miles of transmission lines—even though construction costs and interest rates are higher than ever before.

We know we'll have a lot more customers to serve in the years ahead. We don't want a single one to "do without"—ever.

Electricity... use it wisely.

Loss in a Weep or Keep it and reap

By Greg Stephens,
Soil Conservation Service
Acting Conservator

Soil erosion is the movement of soil particles. Few people realize that soil particles, transported in water (sediment), are the number one pollutants of our nation's streams. Can we afford to let our soils be washed into our streams and eventually into the Gulf of Mexico? If it sounds far fetched don't laugh too hard because it's happening everyday. When it rained last Wednesday how many clear running streams did you see? How many did you see rolling along, muddy and murky? Next time it rains, notice! As landowners, landusers, and farmers it's our responsibility to use land wisely.

Today there seems to be two extreme opinions about land use. One is, make as much money off the land as possible and not worry about what we do to it. Thank goodness there aren't many at this end either. If we are all going to grow and prosper in a healthy, clean and lasting world there has to be compromise on both sides. It is possible to use and preserve our soil and land resources all at the same time if wise landuse practices are used.

There are many conservation tools and wise land use practices which are practical from an economic as well as implementation point of view. Examples are no-till cultivation or minimum tillage, crop and grassland rotations, cover crops, waterways, and diversion ditches, contour and strip crop farming, name a few. Every field is different, and calls for different solutions to control soil erosion and produce useful products.

If you have any questions, problems, or have something you want me to know about, land use and conservation, come by the Soil Conservation Service Office on the 2nd floor of the Rockcastle County Courthouse or call me, Greg Stephens, at 256-2541 and we'll talk it over.

An old copy of the Legislative Acts of Kentucky, published at Frankfort, Kentucky, 1810, by William Gerard, printer to the state, is in the possession of the heirs of Mrs. Daisy Miller, deceased, of Mt. Vernon, Kentucky. It contains, among other things the following:

AN ACT
Erecting a County out of the Counties of Lincoln, Pulaski, Madison and Knox—approved January 8, 1810.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly, that from and after the 1st day of April next, so much of the Counties of Lincoln, Pulaski, Madison and Knox, as are included in the following bounds, to wit:

Beginning at the mouth of the Horse Lick Ford, and running down Rockcastle to the same; thence with that road to include John Pease's, at Hazel Patch; thence direct line to where the reserved line crosses Rockcastle; thence with the reserved line to where the Crab Orchard Road crosses the Bee Lick Branch; thence a direct line to the mouth of Noah's Creek, about 1/2 mile above English's Old Station; thence a direct line to the nearest part of the Garrard line, to Edward Mason's; thence with Garrard Line, to Copper Creek; thence up the same to the head; thence a direct line to the Roundstone Lick; thence a direct line to Moses Battsman's; from thence a direct line to Thomas Hotter's, so as to have them in Madison County; thence a direct line to a point on Horse Lick Creek, 1/2 mile below the double lick, on said creek, and thence down Horse Lick creek to the beginning; shall be one district County, called and known by the name of Rockcastle.

SECTION 2. The Justices of the Peace for the County of Rockcastle, shall meet at the dwelling house of Stephen Bangford, on the 1st Monday in April next, and after taking the necessary oaths of office, and qualifying their sheriff agreeable to the constitution for the United States and this state, and as required by law, they shall proceed to elect a clerk, to whose permanent appointment it shall be necessary for a majority of all the justices in commission, for said County to concur; but if such majority cannot be obtained in favor of anyone, then the Court shall appoint a clerk pro tempore.

SECTION 3. The County Court in Rockcastle, shall commence on the 1st Monday in each month, except in the months in which the Circuit Court for Rockcastle shall commence on the 1st Monday in August and February; and may, if necessary, continue to set six days.

The County of Rockcastle shall form a part of the 9th District, and the Circuit Judge assigned to the district shall attend and preside in the Circuit Court for Rockcastle, as by law he is directed in other Circuit Courts.

SECTION 4. The Circuit and County Courts and Justices of the Peace, in their respective counties, from which the County of Rockcastle is taken, shall have jurisdiction over all matters instituted prior to the commencement of this account and brought before them, as if this law had not passed.

SECTION 5. It shall be law, for the sheriffs, constables, and collectors, in their respective counties, from which Rockcastle County is taken, to collect all fees and money, to execute all process, writs and executions, as of law directs, shall put into their hands for collection or execution, previous to the commencement of this account, and shall be the same as if it had not passed.

SECTION 6. The County Court of Lincoln shall appoint a Commissioner of the Tax, in Rockcastle County, for the year of 1810, who shall execute the duties and be governed by, and subject to the laws regulating Commissioners of the Tax in this State; and the clerk of Rockcastle County, shall in like manner, perform his duties of relation thereto.

SECTION 7. The Justices of the Peace, and assistant Judges for the County of Rockcastle, shall fix on a place for the permanent seat of Justice in said County; but a majority of the whole number of them shall be necessary to concur therein—paying a just regard to the most central, convenient, and eligible spot in the County, for that purpose, and the County Court of Rockcastle shall, as soon as may be possible, cause the necessary public buildings to be erected—and in every respect lay off, and to what may be necessary, or required by law, in the general establishment of towns. The Courts in said County, shall be holden at said Langford's, until the place for the seat of justice shall be fixed on.

SECTION 8. The County of Rockcastle shall be an election precinct of Lincoln County and the votes taken therein, shall be compared at Stanford, on the 6th day from the commencement of the election, by the sheriff of Lincoln and Rockcastle, and in case of electing a senator, then by the sheriffs of Lincoln, Casey, and Rockcastle, who in either case shall certify in favor of the person for the greatest number of votes, as required by law. The County Court of Rockcastle shall appoint a clerk and judges of election, as is required by law, regulating that subject throughout the state. This act shall be in force from its passage.

CROP RESIDUE FOR BEEF CATTLE

Many Kentucky farmers can take advantage of various crop residues which are left in the field following grain crop harvest. These residues provided a low cost source of winter feed for beef cattle. Remnants have the unique ability to utilize residue materials such as grain, leaves, stalks, shucks, and cobs remaining after grain harvest. These residues should be considered primarily for their energy value since most are low in protein, vitamins and some essential minerals. Dry, mature, pregnant beef cows can usually make best use of crop residues since their nutrient requirements are considered lower than the requirements for other classes of beef cattle.

Although residues from either corn, soybeans, or sorghum may be used, the major source of crop residue in Kentucky is from the corn crop following grain harvest. The corn plant has over 50 percent of its weight in stalks, leaves, shucks and cobs. Considerable grain may be used from the field after combining. Even with conservative combining techniques 4 to 6 bushels per acre may remain. This missed grain can be used effectively by swine. It will also be used effectively by cattle. A crop with a 100 bushel grain yield will normally yield from 2-3 tons of residue. With this large amount of dry matter potentially available, careful considerations should be given to methods of feeding.

Feeding methods may range from "Whole field" grazing, to restricted grazing, to mechanized harvesting and feeding. Obviously restricting animals or machine harvesting will probably result in less available feed. "Whole field" grazing, but less feed will be wasted. You will want to use the method which best suits your particular situation. If you have small fields you may want to graze them one at a time. If you have large fields you may want to strip graze or machine harvest in order to get more complete utilization of the feed.

Grazing: Permitting animals to graze stalk fields is the most common way of harvesting since it is usually the cheapest and requires less labor and equipment inputs. Whole field grazing limits the degree of utilization, as animals waste a large amount of residues available through selective grazing, trampling, and overconsumption. Restricted grazing through the use of temporary electric fence will result in more complete utilization. Allowing animals access to only a two or three week feed supply through the use of an electric fence will force animals to utilize a larger amount of the dry matter thus wasting less.

Another grazing technique which can be used effectively is to allow those animals with the higher nutrient demands (such as young growing animals) to have first access to a stalk field. Follow them with dry cows. This system allows the better quality material to be selected by the first grazers and forces the lower nutrient requiring dry cows to clean up the remains. Caution: There have been cases where too much grain left in the field resulted in animals over-eating and foundering.

Big Package Harvesting: In recent years many farmers have been using big hay balers and stackers for harvesting crop residue. This increase the cost of the feed but may result in less waste than whole field grazing. This method requires labor at both harvesting and feeding time.

Miss Marita Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stewart, Wildie, is shown receiving from Mr. Frank Carpenter, Manager of the American Dairy Association of Kentucky, Marita was selected as alternate District Eight Dairy Princess.

Residue stored in big packages should be fed such that losses are minimized. Feeding on a well-drained site with some type of rack, will keep losses small. You probably should feed residue bales or stacks before you begin feeding hay since they may absorb more water and lose quality faster than hay.

WHAT TO DO NOW

Mow the lawn and keep it leaf free to encourage bluegrass to fill in empty spots.

Plant broadleaf and needle evergreens.

Plant tulips and other spring flowering bulbs.

Plant deciduous plants when they start losing their leaves during the last part of October.

At the end of October cut roses back to 30 inches, and tie the tops to prevent wind damage.

Dig summer bulbs before the ground begins to freeze.

Check the branching on weak-limbed trees such as Siberian Elm and Water Maple; tie and reinforce weak limbs.

Water deeply and mulch any plants likely to suffer from winds and drought. Wrap tree trunks to prevent sun scald.

Apply rodent control measures for fruits and ornamental plants. Check Irish potatoes dug earlier in the summer, and discard any showing rot signs.

Work garden after harvest to help reduce weeds next season.

Harvest pumpkins in a squaw with a piece of the stem attached. Store in a shady, dry, frost-free place.

When liming, allow 10 to 12 pounds of ground limestone per 100 square feet for every point change needed (as 5.5 to 6.5 pH).

FOR HOME ECONOMICS

READ THE PRODUCT LABEL
The supermarket of 1976 is very different from the general store of the early 1900's. Back then shopping was easy. Just about everything could be bought at one store; ranging from food to farming equipment.

A list of desired items would be given to the clerk. He would fill your bag—two dozen cooking apples, one pound of string beans, one bag of flour, etc. Then he'd add up your check. "That comes to $21.83, Mrs. Adams."

Sound easy? Well it was — back then. It's not quite the same in 1976. Shopping is a lot more complicated now.

The general store has been replaced by the supermarket filled with aisles and aisles of assorted food products. Homemakers today have a much wider selection. If you are looking for chicken stew, you may have to choose between four or five brand-name products. You name it. It is there on your grocery shelf.

To get the most of your food dollar you've got to be selective. Be a wise food shopper. Everything you need to be a wise food shopper is written right on the product label. So, read the labels and read them carefully. Compare products. Then, buy the best product for your family's needs.

The following information should be clearly displayed on all labels:

The name of the product. The name on the label must accurately describe what is inside the container. It cannot be misleading. The first ingredient which appears in the name of the product, the consumer which ingredient is present in the greatest quantity. A product labeled "Beef with Gravy" must contain more beef than gravy. On the other hand, you can be sure that a product which is labeled "Gravy with Beef" has more gravy than beef.

Pay close attention to the picture. If there is a picture on the label, it must accurately represent the contents inside. For example, if eight slices of meat are shown on the label, there must be at least eight slices of meat in the container.

The term, "Serving Suggestion" appears on the label if a product is shown as a serving dish or with garnishes and other food products that are not in the package.

List of ingredients. Your family may like chicken stew with onions. How do you decide which brand to buy. Read the label. The information is right there — under ingredients. All ingredients used to make the product must be listed on the label beginning with the item weighing the most, and continuing to the item weighing the least. Natural spices may be listed simply as "spices." Flavors do not have to be identified by name — just as either "Natural" or "artificial" flavor.

The net weight statement gives you the weight of your food item in pounds and ounces. Use these weights to get the most for your money. Compare products and prices.

If you're not sure how to store your food products or how to prepare them, check the label. When necessary, special handling instructions may be given such as "Keep Frozen" or "Refrigerate After Opening."

If a date is stamped anywhere on the food product — don't overlook it. The date helps the consumer determine the freshness of the food product. It can represent: (a) "The Pack Date" — when the product was packaged, (b) "The Full Date" — the last day the retailer can sell the product as fresh, (c) "The Quality Assurance Date" — how long the processor thinks the product will be at peak quality, or (d) "The Expiration Date" — the day that the product should be consumed. Each date which appears on a product must be accompanied by a statement which explains the meaning of that date. Consumers can count on a high quality product if properly handled and used on or before the date indicated.

Consumers may find something new on labels — nutrition labeling. It is a voluntary program which is becoming more and more popular among food processors. So, check for it on your food labels. Nutrition labeling can help stretch your food dollar. The consumer can use the information provided to compare the nutritive values of food and buy products which best meet family needs.

Although nutrition labeling is voluntary, if a nutrient is added to a product or if a product makes a nutrition claim, such as "fortified" or "nutritious," full nutrition labeling is required. When nutrition information is used on a product label, it must follow a standard format. It must provide the consumer with the following information: (1) the serving size, (2) the number of servings per container, (3) the number of calories per serving, and (4) the number of proteins, carbohydrates and fats per serving.

The Recommended Daily Allowances (RDA) establish the amount of nutrients that a person needs each day to maintain good health. Read the nutrition label carefully. The consumer can find out what percentage of these essential nutrients is obtained from each serving of the product. Seven important vitamins and minerals are generally listed: Vitamin A, Vitamin C, thiamine, riboflavin, niacin, calcium and iron.

Most homemakers want to get the most for their grocery money. By reading the product label and comparing products — YOU CAN!

Pingston, Rhonda Barnett and Shirley Martin - leader. Not present when picture was taken were: Lorrice Cash, Kevin Robbins, Steve Zupancic and Kathy Hamm.

Quail 4-H Club Re-Organizes

The Quail Teen Club, made up of R.C.H.S. students, reorganized this fall and added several new members. Officers were recently elected and they are: Lorrice Cash, president; Paula Proctor, vice president; Shari Martin, secretary; Dana Craig and Kim Bullock, co-reporters and Kathy Hamm, recreation leader.

The club has two new leaders this year. Mrs. Shirley Martin and Mrs. Barlene Cameron and meets every other week at the Broadhead Elementary School.

The club has planned a very active year with a special community-pride project on its agenda. This is the first time a club within Rockcastle County has done a community-pride project and the Quail Teen Club chose visiting the patients at the Sowder Nursing Home once a week, when possible, for theirs. Their first visit was October 18th and the patients were surprised and pleased to see the young people. The club has many events planned for the coming year.

Fishing Report

As fishing activity begins to slow on the state's major lakes, crappie and black bass angling is now generally slow to fair. The lake-by-lake rundown, as compiled by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife:

Dale Hollow: White bass good at night still fishing minnows off rocky points and deep banks; black bass fair on medium runners and artificial night-crawlers along shallow banks and over-drop-offs; clear, falling slowly, three feet below winter pool and 61 degrees.

Kentucky: Black bass good on surface and medium runners along gravel points and stump beds and over-drop-offs; crappie fair; over submerged cover; in tailwaters, crappie and sauger slow and improving; clear to murky, stable at winter pool and 59 degrees.

Barley: Crappie slow and improving; stable at winter pool and 59 degrees. Green: Bluegill fair to good off shallow gravel points and banks; black bass fair casting and trolling deep runners along gravel banks; in tailwaters, trout fair; clear to murky, falling, seven feet above winter pool and 60 degrees.

Cumberland: Black bass fair on medium to deep baits in inlets and bays; crappie fair over submerged cover; clear to murky, falling slowly, 42 feet below the timberline and 61 degrees.

REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF ROCKCASTLE COUNTY

The election between Jerry Ford and Jimmy Carter is one week away and, according to all independent pollsters, is a toss-up and can go either way. This is the most important election the people of our nation, state and county will ever experience for the following reasons:

JIMMY CARTER has said he will get all the guns out of the American homes within the first 100 days of his administration. He says nothing about getting them out of the hands of the criminals.

JERRY FORD says just the opposite. He wants to get the guns out of the criminals' hands and not out of the homes of our citizens.

JIMMY CARTER has said he is in favor of no prayer in public schools.

PRESIDENT FORD has said he wants to bring God back into the teachings of our children in the public schools.

JIMMY CARTER'S PLATFORM says he is for the unlimited killing of unborn babies.

PRESIDENT FORD says this is a crime and should be punished as such.

JIMMY CARTER says he will raise everyone's taxes above a certain level, even to placing taxes on churches.

JERRY FORD supports a tax cut for everyone and no tax on churches.

These things and many more will affect our lives and the lives of those coming after us for generations to come. It is therefore imperative that all the good Republican voters get out on election day and cast their vote for the President of this great nation

There's a CRITICAL CHOICE to make this year to insure the promotion of a fair, workable state court system—

Judge Dowell rose from modest beginnings to leadership in law, government, civic, church work

Judge Robert L. Dowell was born on March 3, 1922, in Metcalfe County, Kentucky.

His parents, Allen and Leva Oakes Dowell were tenant farmers.

The family enjoyed only meager circumstances in those days, as was the lot of most of their neighbors. But they gave their son a drive to attain a fuller life through education.

Young Robert Dowell attended a one-room school at Sulphur Well for the first seven grades, then transferred to the county-seat school to finish the eighth grade and then high school, at Edmonton.

While still a student at Edmonton High, he took night classes in electricity, auto mechanics, welding, and woodworking. A man might make good with formal education, his father told him, but basic knowledge needed by the laboring man would always be good insurance against want.

After graduating from high school, Dowell entered Western Kentucky College (now a state university) in 1941. Wendell Butler, a teacher of Dowell's at Sulphur Well, who was then Metcalfe County School Superintendent at Edmonton and who was later to reach positions in the highest levels of government in Kentucky, arranged for Dowell to register, buy books, and obtain meals at Western, on credit. Butler also helped Dowell to obtain a job on the campus in construction and maintenance. This job paid Dowell $30 per month income—a princely sum which seemed like a fortune in those days.

But even with the college courses and the extra work, the young man still found time to take a three-hour machine shop course from 6:00 to 9:00 at night.

After that first year at Western, Dowell worked approximately three months at Westinghouse Tool & Die gun plant in Louisville, then enlisted in the Navy.

His Naval career took him to basic training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center, then to an assignment at Farragut, Idaho Navigation School, and then to an assignment aboard the Ship USS Belle Grove.

Dowell spent 27 months in the Pacific and participated in eight major battles. He participated in a number of amphibious invasions and operations. His ship served as a PT boat carrier, and participated in PT boat attacks. He was discharged from the Navy in November of 1945.

Still determined to obtain a law degree, he enrolled at Campbellsville College, a fine church related school, for his second year. Campbellsville at that time was a junior college, and Dowell transferred to the University of Kentucky where he received his A.B. degree.

"I really like U of K", Dowell says, "but I transferred to the University of Louisville because I could find work easier there and because it was closer to home." Dowell received his law degree from the University of Louisville.

He was admitted to the bar and commenced general law practice in April of 1954. He has maintained practices in Edmonton and Greensburg since that time.

Dowell is single, and has provided a home for his widowed mother from 1949, following the death of his father, until Mrs. Dowell's death in July, 1975.

He has served the public interest in various capacities. He was City Attorney for Edmonton from 1954 until 1956. He served as County Judge pro-tem during 1957 and was Metcalfe County Tax Commissioner from 1957-1961.

He became Metcalfe County Attorney in 1967 and was re-elected to that office in 1969 for a four-year term.

He was appointed a member of the Kentucky State Personnel Board in January, 1973, and served until he was appointed Judge of the Court of Appeals on August 17, 1976.

Dowell has one brother, Lonzo Dowell, who resides at Sulphur Well, where he and Judge Dowell operate Hideaway Angus Farm.

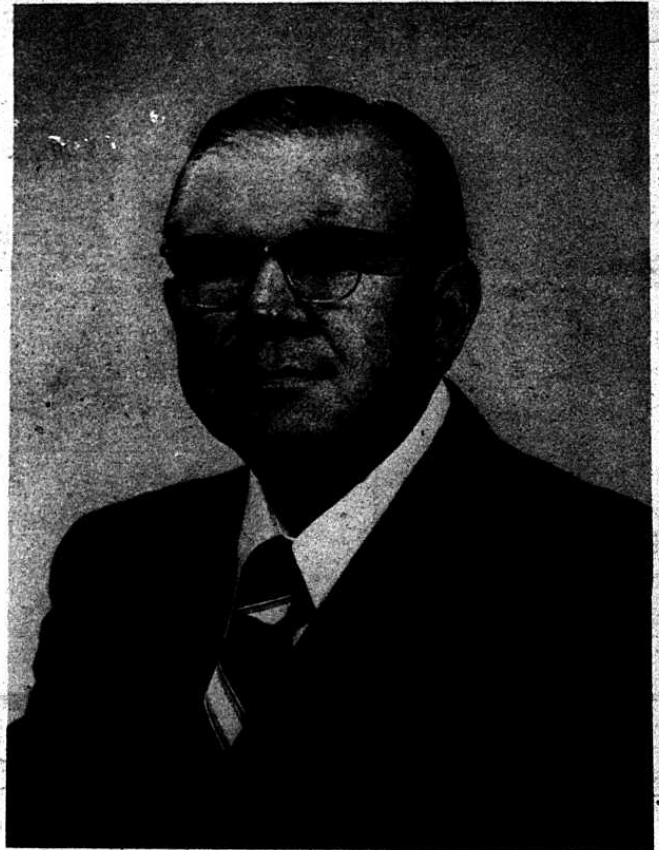

As a lawyer he had participated in trial of cases as far north as Chicago and south as far as Miami, Florida.

Judge Dowell has been active in church work since his conversion in 1939. Since that time, he has served as a Sunday School teacher. He is now a Deacon, Sunday School director, teacher of the adult class, and is church treasurer at Pink Ridge Baptist Church. He makes public appearances frequently as a Baptist lay speaker.

Over the years he has sponsored ministerial students at Campbellsville College.

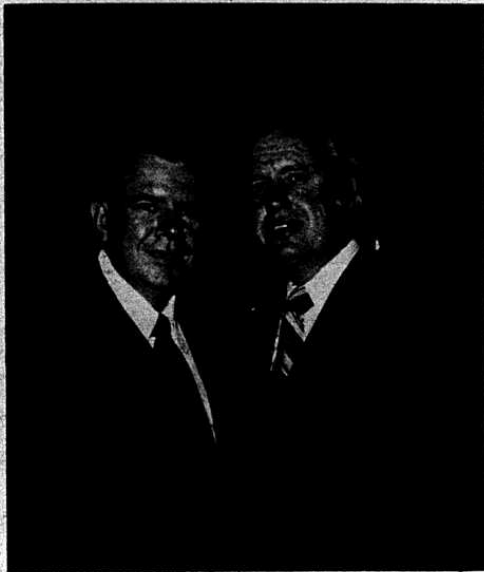

His friends know that out of deep respect and appreciation for ministers and the Lord's work he has given freely of his professional services to ministers and has provided secretarial services out of his law office to churches and church associations.

Judge Dowell is highly respected by leaders of his community and by the people with whom he lives. "You know a man by what his neighbors think of him," his old friend Wendell Butler says of Dowell, "and on this score Robert L. Dowell is a sure winner."

Wendell P. Butler,
Secretary of Education, recommends
Judge Robert Dowell
for re-election

I am personally acquainted with Judge Robert L. Dowell, who is now seeking re-election to the office of Judge of the Court of Appeals from the Third Appellate District. Judge Dowell was born and reared in my native county of Metcalfe. From a humble beginning, he made his way up the ladder of success by perseverance and hard work.

It has been my good fortune to be closely associated with Judge Dowell for many years. I know him as a student, as a public official, as a practicing attorney, as a member of the State Personnel Board and as Judge of the Court of Appeals. His record in all of the above categories speaks for itself. He has the reputation of being honest, upright, and of good moral character. He is a dedicated community leader.

In recommending Judge Dowell for re-election, I give top priority to his competency as a jurist and his dedication to the principle of justice. I know of no person who is more highly respected in the courts where he has practiced law than Judge Dowell.

I take great pleasure in recommending him for re-election as Judge of the Court of Appeals.
