

Duane Brister of the Kentucky Division of Forestry examines a 20 year old pine plantation belonging to Leslie County Free Farmer, Floyd Wells. The trees average over seven inches in diameter and 60 feet tall. With normal thinning for pulpwood and poles, and a final sawtimber harvest when the stand is 50 years old, this plantation represents a potential income of $3,590 for Mr. Wells. For more information on tree planting, or to order seedlings, contact the Kentucky Division of Forestry, P.O. Box 31, Pineville, Kentucky 40977, phone 337-3011.

The entire community is affected by repeated forest fires in the area. Many people depend on logging and sawmills for jobs. When timber is damaged or destroyed, fewer of these jobs are available. Fewer forest products (lumber, paper, etc.) can be manufactured by for our use. Wildlife populations enjoyed by hunters are decreased. Thousands of dollars of tax money, money out of everyone's pocket, is spent to suppress the fires.

Bullen asks that everyone in Rockcastle County help reduce the number of fires this year by being careful, and by reporting fires immediately to him at 256-2967.

Watch For Winter Tetany In Cows

The "rough winter" experienced in Kentucky has not only produced a feed concern for cattlemen - but has also caused an alertness to the possibility of an appearance of tetany in beef herds.

In the early spring, a condition known as grass tetany occurs in brood cows, but a condition described as winter tetany does appear earlier, particularly in winter weather situations like the extremes currently being experienced, according to John Johns, UK extension specialist in beef cattle. He said the condition appears when the forage supply ends and spring pastures are still some time from developing.

The heavy snow cover and extreme cold in recent weeks has brought on a swift depletion of hay stocks. The lack of forages brings on an acute dietary magnesium deficiency and lack of energy in the cows, which is the cause of the potential tetany condition.

The most effective steps in preventing tetany is through feeding proper amounts of energy producing feed that contains protein, calcium, phosphorus and vitamin A and by providing supplemental magnesium, Johns said.

He emphasized that the symptoms of winter tetany are the same as those of grass tetany.

The short supply of hay was noted as being the principle cause of the depletion of energy in the individual animals of the cowherd and that supplemental feeds must be developed in the diet to maintain the energy to help prevent the tetany condition. Johns added that the feeding of the supplemental feed provided the means to introduce the magnesium into the animal's diet.

"Magnesium in the form of magnesium oxide is very unpalatable," John noted. "If fed in salt-mineral mix other source of salt should be available."

He also emphasized there should be a good supply of fresh non-frozen water to insure consumption of the salt-mineral mix - as well as to prevent dehydration in the animals.

John said only about a third of the cow's magnesium need is normally consumed through most mineral mixes.

County Judge Hubert Thacker, seated, signed a Proclamation this week proclaiming the week of February 19-26 as National FFA Week in Rockcastle

treasurer; Donnie Hurst, vice president; Doug Adams, president and Bill Pender, FFA Advisor. The theme of FFA Week is "Agriculture's New Generation."

Forest Fires Burn 421 Acres Last Year

In the midst of the recent cold and snow, few people remember that last spring was entirely different. Warm weather came unusually early, and that, coupled with a lack of rain, made the spring of 1976 one of the worst forest fire seasons in recent years.

According to Steve Bullen, Fire

Ranger for the Kentucky Division of Forestry, there were 33 fires on private land in Rockcastle County last year. In these fires a total of 421 acres were burned over. Fire occurrence began early in February, at least two weeks before the normal official opening of fire season on March 1st. By the time spring fire season had ended in May, more forest acreage had been burned than in the entire previous year. Although full fire season, October 1st to December 15th, was relatively mild, total acreage burned in 1976 was several times greater than usual.

"Dry weather increases fire occurrence," Bullen stated, "but the fact remains that 99% of the forest fires in this area are preventable. If people knew how much damage forest fires cause, perhaps they would be more careful."

It is difficult to assess the damage done to timber by forest fires. Even if the trees are not actually killed, the base of the tree is often scorched by the fires. Insects and disease enter through these scars and damage the quality of lumber in the tree. Small seedlings, which represent future crops of trees, are killed. The protective layer of leaves and small plants on the forest floor is burned up, and severe soil erosion may result.

Rockcastle County Salutes

February 19 - 26

We salute the young men who are working constantly to become better citizens. We are proud of their progress, the things they do, and the way they do them! Each year finds more and more youths participating in this program of vocational education. They are the backbone of our future farming needs, and are fulfilling the primary aim of developing Agricultural Leadership, Cooperation, and Citizenship.

Proclamation

FFA WEEK-1977

WHEREAS, members of the FFA are playing an outstanding role in assuring the future progress and prosperity of our area; and

WHEREAS, the FFA is composed of students who are studying vocational agriculture in the public schools in preparation for a variety of exciting careers in the American agricultural complex. In studying the science of agriculture, FFA members are striving to continuously improve this great industry for the welfare of all citizens; and

WHEREAS, the FFA has performed the valuable service of developing leadership, encouraging cooperation, promoting good citizenship, teaching modern agricultural information, and inspiring patriotism among its members; and the FFA motto—"Learning to do, doing to learn; earning to live, living to serve"—establishes a direction of purpose for the future leaders of our production agriculture and agri-business; and

WHEREAS, these young Americans are Youth With A Purpose; THEREFORE, Hubert D. Baker, Judge of Rockcastle County, do hereby designate the week of February 19-26, 1977 as FFA WEEK

Graydon Cummins Is For The Birds

by Father Ralph Betting

If you have the opportunity sometime to travel down the old U.S. 25 from Mt. Vernon to London, Kentucky, you will pass a small unpretentious house that has a yard full of all kinds of bird houses. Of all sizes, and descriptions, these bird houses are on poles, in trees, and on special little buildings. There is a sign outside that says "Destroy Starlings."

This unlikely operation is conducted by one Graydon Cummins of Pine Hill, Kentucky. Graydon is a man of many rare good qualities. This past week he was 69 years old. He has been at this Pine Hill location for nearly fifteen years, working on this particular project of his, which is to bring back the "good birds" and to save them from extinction.

He calls them the "hole nesting birds," and such birds as the Redhead Woodpecker, Downy Flicker, Nut Hatch, the Blue Bird and the Wren make their homes in these. These birds serve a tremendously good purpose. For example, as Graydon points out in the letter he sends to different people, when he was growing up as a boy, the apples had very few worms, the various crops in the garden were singularly unaffected by most farm disease. Today that is not true, unless spraying is done constantly. This is the crops that are constantly affected by bugs or plights of one nature or another.

His contention is, that when these hole nesting birds were abundant, they all at these particular harmful forms of insects and thereby allowed the crops to grow as God meant them to grow. His crusade as God meant them to grow. This crusade is to bring back the birds and make them plentiful so that they will not only be able to serve man by their beauty and by their song, but also by the effect of the work they do in getting their own food, which takes away the harmful insects from man.

Graydon has spent most of his life in Rockcastle County where he was born. He has traveled to many other parts of the country, however, and has had many occupations. He feels here at the end of his life that he would like to be of service and one of the ways in which he feels he can be is to help restore the natural balance that God once placed in his creation.

It is pleasant to visit with Graydon. As he goes about the task of building his little birdhouses and constructing them, sometimes from the logs of the forest, sometimes from various woods, you can see him stop all at once, and say, "Did you hear it? That's a Thrasher," or "That's this kind of bird or that kind of bird." Let's watch." And sure enough there comes this little bird, marching down the tree, holding on for dear life, all at once stopping and pecking out a little insect from the tree. "See, they'll save that tree and it won't have any disease on it next year."

You can't help but be impressed with a man who is back to nature, who is doing his very best to be of service to others. I told him that I would write a little article about him for the Soundings and that we would let people know that they can order birdhouses from him. It might not be a bad idea to have the beauty of birds, these good birds as Graydon calls them, in your backyard.

They'll give you beauty by their very plumage, beauty by their song, and if you have a garden and shrubs, they'll keep them healthy and alive by taking away the harmful insects. So, if you can order Graydon, please do so. Additional information and his address is at the end of this story. You'll see also a little ad in various newspapers.

Graydon B Cummins, Rt. 2, Box 99A, Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40406, Phone 606 226-2261.

Graydon Cummins, one of our mountain men who is doing his bit to make it a better place in which to live.

BURLEY QUOTAS—AN EMPHATIC "YES"

Production control and price supports were instituted 34 years ago for burley tobacco. The program is now a way of life for growers of this county, and throughout the eight-state burley belt.

Whether or not you are a burley grower, as a resident of a burley county you are linked with the tobacco economy, and the welfare of the area and its burley producing farmers.

On February 22 to 25, the regular three-year referendum will be held on the question of whether to continue the tobacco program through the next three crops. All burley growers, both tenant and landlord, and in some cases members of their families are eligible to vote. Referendum ballots are to be mailed from county ASC offices to all known producers of burley tobacco.

It is hoped that not a single grower of this county will fail to vote and to register approval of the program that has saved burley farmers from ruinous over-production and catastrophe many times, since it went into operation in 1941.

The Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association is the growers' own organization. Its main job is to administer the price-support program in this and five other states. This organization urges that its grower members see that every eligible vote is cast. Anti-tobacco forces are constantly threatening the program. This year there is need for stronger endorsement than heretofore.

Remember, "Yes" means quotas and price support for the next three years. "No" means unlimited production and no price support.

Soon It's Spring

By Helen Price Stacy

It's entertaining, it's challenging, it's educational—and it's a time for fun and sociability. And for everyone who was disappointed at not being able to take in the winter weekend at Jenny Wiley it's a good time to enjoy the Kentucky Heritage Artist's Art Workshop March 18, 19 and 20, at Rough River State Resort Park.

The location is just far enough south and west of Louisville and Lexington—even Northern Kentucky and Cincinnati—to make easy traveling, and far enough west to make it interesting for Eastern Kentuckians.

The prestigious artist group has prepared a new format to appeal to serious artists as well as those who classify themselves as amateurs. The Saturday program starts at 9:30 a.m. and continues till everyone is ready to stop.

Anyone who has ever wanted to know how to paint weathered brick and stone will have an opportunity to paint with C.G. (Moose) Morehead.

Other Heritage Artist working in oils will be Tony Oswald, demonstrating how he paints a still life; Al Cornett, painting a landscape; Nellie Meadows and Helen Price Stacy, painting flowers, and Don Ensor showing how to paint transparency in glass.

Working simultaneously throughout the day will be Harold Collins, conducting a workshop in charcoal drawing; Doug Adams and Gary Akers, painting with watercolor; Charles Spaulding, painting animals from life; Brett Johnson, demonstrating his polymer techniques; and A.J. May, who will take his group on a field sketching trip.

Saturday night at 7:30 Don Ensor will present a program of slides showing his recent trip to Russia.

Just as interesting as the Saturday workshops will be Friday's sessions starting at 4 p.m. with an oil demonstration by Al Cornett; at 7:30 p.m. a polymer session with Johnson, newest member of Kentucky Heritage Artists and at 9 p.m. a special slide program. Beginning at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, a critique session will allow time for constructive advice to any artist or painter participating in the weekend seminar. This session is purely for instructional purposes.

A look at a recent Kentucky Department of Highway map will give an indication of the accessibility of Rough River Dam State Resort Park at Falls of Rough. Northern Kentuckians and Cincinnati-area residents may travel Interstate-75 to Lexington and Eastern Kentuckians may travel Bert Combs Mountain Parkway or Interstate 64 to Lexington. From Lexington, an easy route is Blue Grass Parkway to Elizabethtown, then Western Parkway to Leitchfield and a turnoff on Rt. 54 to Rough River.

To add to the economy of the weekend, the Kentucky Department of Parks is offering a special art weekend package rate of $48 per person, double occupancy for two nights lodging and five meals. As an additional bonus, those who use the special art weekend package plan will not be required to pay the three-dollar seminar registration fee.

The park itself offers other interests and park location is in an area to appeal to tourists, historians and conservationists as well as those who enjoy hiking and looking for signs of spring wildflowers.

Room reservations may be made directly through the park or through toll free calls to Central Reservations Service, Kentucky Department of Parks. For further information contact Bob Bates, Department of Parks, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, 40601; phone 502-564-7160.

FLYING HIGH—Of the 1000 largest industrial firms in the U.S., as listed by FORTUNE magazine, 479 own and operate their own airplanes on business. According to the National Business Aircraft Association, although these are less than 48 percent of the total number of companies on the list, the aircraft operators have more than three times the number of employees of the non-operators; more than four times the sales, assets, and stockholder equity, and five-and-a-half times the net income—which is profit.

Mental Health Matters

Child Abuse-Who's Guilty

What is child abuse and who is guilty of it? Child abuse is any act that causes a child needless pain. Sometimes children are considered abused when they are punished, out-of-proportion to what has happened. A young child learning to feed himself or herself, and not yet possessing the coordination of put food or liquids into the mouth without spilling, should not be punished for it. Sometimes a child drops a dish or glass due to anxiety or stress, causing it to break. This does not warrant punishment. Many people place child abuse in a category where only the physical aspects of it are recognized, but there are such conditions as mental or emotional abuse as well. Examples include expecting a child to take the blame and punishment for an act he did not commit, or deliberately denying him love and respect, making him feel worthless! When a child harbors a feeling of not being forgiven by his parents, he or she suffers severe mental torment.

Kentucky Afield

By John Wilson

February is the month when I envy the groundhog - he peeps out of his hole on Groundhog Day, says "Oh, what the heck," and goes back to sleep for six weeks.

February is that sort of month for most outdoorsmen. Quail and grouse hunters can keep themselves entertained during this time, but for the rest of us, particularly the fishermen, it's a month we could easily spend hibernating.

And if fishermen did hibernate during February, what would they dream about? Fishing, of course, and in

REVENUE SHARING FUNDS USE REPORT RELEASED

Gov. Julian Carroll announced today the release of the Commonwealth's Actual Use Report for general revenue sharing funds spent during the period July 1 to December 31, 1976. Total revenue sharing expenditures amounted to $12,664,951, of which $12,397 was spent operating programs and $12,652,554 was spent on capital construction projects. The operating expenditures were made from a revolving trust fund established for orphan land reclamation. The funds spent on construction projects were primarily in the areas of education, economic development, corrections, and health services.

The $12,652,554 in capital construction expenditures represent only a portion of general revenue sharing funds available to capital construction projects during the 1976-78 biennium. Due to the varying planning and construction stages for the projects concerned, only actual expenditures for the period July 1 to December 31, 1976, were reported for construction projects rather than total estimates. The remaining general revenue sharing funds appropriated for such projects should be spent as they approach completion.

In accordance with the federal law which requires that the Actual Use Report be published in a newspaper of general circulation, the report will be published in the Courier-Journal.

their dreams they would probably anticipate the coming of spring when the fishing will really "bust loose."

The first sign of spring for fishermen is not the appearance of migrating robins, but the first reports of white bass showing up in the headwaters of our larger lakes. These first white bass are almost always small males, the products of last year's spawn, who are moved by the slight increase in water temperature to begin congregating at the heads of tributaries for their own first spawning run.

From this point on, things start picking up rapidly. As the water temperature approaches 60 degrees, the larger white bass will begin their runs. By the time the dogwoods are in full bloom, the runs are usually going full blast and fishermen are out in force at such spots as the Dix River and the South Fork of the Cumberland.

Then word will get out that the crappie are moving into the shallows, creating another group of fishermen to the lakes to prowls the shorelines with cane poles and minnows, looking for submerged treposts or brush which they hope will have attracted spawning crappie.

Then, finally, what the bass fishermen have been waiting for-water temperature rising into the mid-60's and the telltale splash of bass feeding on the surface. That means it's time to break out those topwater lures and enjoy the most exciting kind of bass fishing there is.

All the while, fishermen will be keeping careful watch on the weather, knowing that spring can also bring unsettled weather, heavy rains, cold snaps, high and muddy water-for beautiful days when everything is just right and the fish are biting like crazy.

To keep track of spring fishing, the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources will issue its daily fishing report out of hibernation, where it's been since November. Beginning March 14, this rundown of fishing conditions on Kentucky's 15 major lakes will be available on newspapers and radio stations around the state and will, as always, be a feature on the weekly "Kentucky Afield" television program.

governmental agencies, and as secretary for such national organizations as the National Association of Attorneys General, the National Association of State Correction Administrators and the Juvenile Delinquency Program Administrators Association. In addition, Maguire assisted in the editing of various CSC publications, and was responsible for compiling and editing "State Courts Systems", a national survey and resource work regarding composition and authority of state courts throughout the country.

In the fall of 1974, Maguire and John W. Polk formed the law partnership of Maguire and Polk. They now maintain offices at 211 American Innings, Somerset.

Maguire is married to the former Jane Ross Williams of Kermit, West Virginia, and Paris, Kentucky, and they have two daughters, Mary Susan, age 6 and Ann Louise, age 4.

The Maguires are members of the First United Methodist Church of Somerset where they teach Sunday School and his is Secretary of the Church's Board of Trustees.

Maguire was admitted to the Bar in 1968, is a member of the American Kentucky State and Pulaski County Bar Associations, and has had special training in juvenile justice at the National College of District Attorneys in Reno, Nevada.

In his announcement, Maguire pointed out that the 28th District will elect, by judges, one from two separate Divisions, noting that there were no geographical provisions for either division.

Maguire will appear on the judicial primary ballot under Division 2, and noting that the race is a nonpartisan one, he urged all of his friends and supporters to take an active interest in the Judicial race in May.

"Like my grandfather, Judge Walter N. Filippin, who served the people of Pulaski and Rockcastle Counties with distinction during almost 25 years of public service, as Commonwealth Attorney and in the State Legislature, it is my sincere hope and desire to be of service to all of our people. As District Judge, I will dedicate myself to the high principles and duties of that office and will endeavor to preside fairly, honestly and wisely in each and every case which should come before me," Maguire said.

Down On The Farm

BY ROY G. BROWN ASSISTANT VICE PRESIDENT CUMBERLAND PCA

I would like to direct this "Down on the Farm" letter to the many good boys and girls who are now in school, please take advantage of all the books and other material you can acquire in your educational field.

Spend your hours in school studying taking part in recreation, 4-H Club, FFA, FHA and other activities. All these will prove to be of great help in later years whether it be a career in business, professional, farming or a homemaker.

Always be honest, fair, and a good sport whether you win or lose, keep a stiff upper lip and smile.

Start to plan now how you can begin a savings account by working in spare time, when not in school, or helping your parents at jobs such as mowing grass, working in a store, or farm work, and set aside a small part in your savings account for college when high school is completed.

Parents can take out of this too, by putting forth just a little extra effort to have something to add to the children's college savings account. You know of the old saying "where there's a will, there's a way."

We could all make a little extra sacrifice from our high standard of living to lay back for a need in later days.

We in PCA can help out today by making an education loan for completing college with most of it being repaid after college is completed and you have started to work.

With the extra effort and cooperation of everybody working together whether it be education or any other good project, it can be done "Down on the Farm."

WITNESS CONVENTION

Berea Community School in Madison County has been chosen as the site for a semi-annual circuit convention of Jehovah's Witness to be held the weekend of February 26 and 27.

Joining the more than 25 South Central Kentucky congregations expected to attend the events will be associates of the congregation here in Mt. Vernon.

About 1,200 persons are expected to be on hand for the two-day meet, according to J.R. Phillips, Kentucky Circuit No. 4 overseer and organizer of the convention.

Phillips said the theme of the meet is "Entering a Large Door Leading to Activity," and he noted that discourses presented during the meet would point to that theme.

The main address, "Follow the Way to Life," will be delivered Sunday at 2 p.m. by Wesley J. Benner, District overseer," Phillips said.

According to the convention program, other talks during the assembly will highlight use of the Bible in personal study and public speaking. In particular the pattern of public teaching and preaching set by Jesus Christ will be detailed at Saturday afternoon's session.

Phillips said the events are designed to help both young and old, male and female to harmonize their lives with Bible standards," Phillips pointed out.

Witnesses are concerned with the unprecedented world events now taking place and are looking to the Bible for answers. We invite the public to join us," Phillips concluded.

Meeting Held to Discuss Planning for Local Industrial Site

A group of Federal and State men representing funding and development agencies spoke very positively here Thursday regarding Rockcastle County's effort to develop its 92 acre industrial site. The men representing the United States Farmers Home Administration, the Appalachian Regional Commission, Kentucky's Department of Commerce, and the Cumberland Valley Area Development District met with County Judge Hubert Thacker and seven members of the Fiscal Court to form plans for the acquisition and development of land currently belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Payne near Mt. Vernon.

Others present for the session were Bill James, President of the Rockcastle Co. Improvement Council, Attorney Carl Clontz and Clyde Thacker.

Judge Thacker informed the group that a total of $668,000.00 has been approved or has tentative approval in developmental monies to be used to build water and sewer lines, access roads and a rail spur to the site. In addition, Judge Thacker also produced a contract whereby the land could be purchased and improved in a period completed within a six year period.

Magistrates Danny Sargent, Boone Cromer, and W.H. Wren quizzed the group extensively on the various projects and any liabilities that the County might incur. Earl Kerrick and Gene Cline of the Department of Commerce advised that the County that he would work in close harmony with the Improvement Council in making the appointments.

He advised that they would be in position to accept this responsibility as soon as the County's engineering firm completed the plans. At this point, Mr. Helm Roberts of the Howard Bell Engineering Firm produced preliminary plans and estimates for the site. Mr. Roberts stated that the completed package of plans would be given to the agency by March 1, 1977. Mr. Pratt stated the County's effort was exactly in keeping with the Development Cabinet and ARC's goal as the situation indicated that within 1 to 3 years as many as 600 new jobs could be made available to Rockcastle Co. Pratt said, "It is what it is all about—creating lasting jobs that will build an economy."

Health Council to Solicit Citizens' Views

Cumberland Valley residents will have a chance to express their concerns about health care services in the area on Thursday, February 24th and Tuesday, March 1st. From a list of problems identified, a priority list will be drawn up.

The meetings will be sponsored by the Cumberland Valley District Health Council and East Kentucky Health Systems Agency. These organizations are responsible for health planning and resources development in the district.

Mr. Charles Parsons, a member of the District Health Council urges you to participate in one of these meetings in order that your opinions might be included in the new health plans. The meetings will be held on Thursday, February 24th at 7:00 p.m. in the Laurel County High School Cafeteria, Hwy. 25 S., London, Kentucky and on Tuesday, March 1st at 7:00 p.m. in the Kentucky Utilities Building, corner of Kentucky Ave and Pine St., Elizaville, Kentucky.

Council Adds Another Cruiser to Patrol; Will Enforce Curfew if Constitutional

Mt. Vernon City Policemen will be operating two cruisers at night and a 1934 curfew ordinance will be enforced in the near future within the city limits in an effort to help combat the growing crime rate locally.

The Mt. Vernon City Council met in special session on Monday night, February 21 to discuss plans and suggestions to curb crime in Mt. Vernon. A group of three businessmen had been appointed at an earlier meeting to meet with Assistant Police Chief John Grider.

The businessmen's group, consisting of John Cox, Oscar Fain and Jimmy Cromer, along with Asst. Chief Grider, met with the City Council and suggested that two cruisers be operated at night in the city. The council accepted the proposal and added that police officers should check doors and windows of business places more carefully than in the past.

A curfew ordinance was adopted on May 1, 1934 by the City of Mt. Vernon. This ordinance has never been rescinded and the group suggested that it be enforced. Grider has written the state attorney general's office for an opinion on the constitutionality of the ordinance.

Rockets Draw Bye In District Tourney

The luck of the draw was with the Rockets this year for the 49th District Basketball Tournament to be held March 1, 3, 4 and 5 at Clay County.

The Rockets drew a bye in the top bracket of preliminary action and will face Annville, who also drew a bye in the top bracket, Thursday night, March 3. The winner of this game will go on to meet the winner out of the lower bracket in the championship game Saturday night, March 5.

In the bottom bracket, Clay County will meet Oneida Tuesday night, March 1 and the winner of this game will play Jackson County, who drew a bye in the lower bracket, on Friday night, March 4th.

The girls district tournament will match up the same teams each night in the preliminary round with the winners advancing on to the finals. All girls games are played first each night at 6:30 p.m. with the boys games scheduled for 8 p.m.

FRANKFORT

WATCHLINE

By Ferrell Wellman

"Don't believe for a moment, that the 1979 Democratic primary for governor isn't under way."

The most recent proof, if any is still needed, came during a mid-February news conference conducted by 1st District Congressman Carroll Hubbard in Lexington. Just the simple fact that a Western Kentucky lawmaker is meeting with reporters in Lexington is enough to wrinkle foreheads, but what Hubbard had to say produced more than a few wrinkles.

Hubbard said Kentucky Democrats, controlled by Governor Julian Carroll, have been pressing strip mine operators for campaign funds to support one of the candidates in Lexington's nonpartisan mayoral race. Congressman Hubbard said the operators had given money because of fear. They were afraid, according to Hubbard, that the Carroll administration could put them out of business.

The governor recently released an order naming 40 people to the Executive Committee of the Citizens Task Force on Education. The names of two of the four state lawmakers on the committee were misspelled in the executive order.

The name of state Sen. Gene Stuart was spelled Stewart. While that may be understandable since Stuart is a Republican, the governor's office also misspelled the name of state Rep. Jody Richards. His name was spelled Jodie. Richards is not only a Democrat, he's chairman of the House Education Committee.

Some people in the Carroll administration think the Governor's public entry into the fray was unfortunate. "he should not have dignified it," is how one Carroll aide described the governor's reaction. Carroll has likely received advice by now not to say anything further about Hubbard's charges.

This wasn't the first time Hubbard has taken the governor to task. Last November Hubbard said he had been the victim of "strong-arm tactics" by Governor Carroll. The governor is pushing state Commerce Commissioner Terry McBrayer for the top job in 1977. Back in 1970 the Congress decided to create within the Department of Labor an agency filled with experts which would improve the safety and health of the country's workplaces. The Occupational Safety and Health Administration was born. The administration is now known to its friends and enemies alike simply as OSHA.

OSHA is easily everyone's whipping boy. Despite whatever good the agency has accomplished it still manages to give its opponents more than enough fuel to keep the fires of discontent blazing. Consider this recent incidence of OSHA nitpicking.

During the bitter cold in January many Eastern Kentucky mines were shut down. icy roads made it impossible to transport coal by truck. Most paths up to the strip mines were impassable. What coal had been mined earlier was frozen in rail cars. There was and still is a shortage of coal. Many Eastern Kentuckians heat their homes with coal and with more freezing temperatures likely their supplies were dangerously low.

One large strip mine in Morgan County had managed to stay open during the cold spell. With local coal supplies diminishing the strippers were permitting the local folks to drive their pickup trucks to the strip job and pick large chunks of coal to heat their homes. A humane gesture? Wrong. It was a no-no said an OSHA inspector. He cited the stripper who was trying to keep people warm during the coldest winter of the century.

A quick call was made to 7th District Congressman Carl Perkins. Perkins is hardly a friend of the strip miner, but this wasn't a case involving mining. It was a case involving the need to keep people warm. Within 15 minutes the citation was voided, but the bureaucrats were disgraced for the public had surfaced again.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I think that it is a shame that our firemen have to work to raise money to pay for their equipment to fight our fires here in Mt. Vernon. I think that we should be willing to at least help these men with our donations, or whatever we can. The least we can do is furnish them with the proper and safe equipment that they need to fight our fires. Someday, it might be your home or more important your family who needs their help.

The Mt. Vernon firemen are on call 24 hours a day no matter how bad the weather is. They meet twice a month to keep their equipment in the proper order. They have fire school to keep them more qualified to do the job and to help keep our home insurance rates down. They get up in the middle of the night and go out in the cold to fight a fire or for a false alarm or just because someone thought that it would be a cute thing to do to set a fire alarm off. They risk their lives every time they fight a fire and what do they get out of it?

"Nothing." I for one think they deserve a great more than safe equipment but that is all they ask for and that is what they are working for.

Mrs. LaVerne Winstead

Sowder Nursing Home

The article printed below was written for the Signal by John Feather, a resident of Sowder Nursing Home since August of 1968. Mr. Feather is 81 years old and wrote for the Corbin paper in the years preceding his blindness.

"God inspires mankind to engage in noble enterprises." The truth of this statement can be assessed by careful consideration of the observations by those who have visited Sowder Nursing Home in Brodhead. This home is not an innovation of the overnight. It is the product of the genius, skill and toil of its founder.

Just when John Sowder conceived the idea of converting his six-room motel into a nursing home is not known; however, the task of the remodeling the original structure and the construction of additional units was completed in early 1907. Because the first patients received very early in the same spring.

Miss Cora Hodge was employed as the first matron and she was succeeded by Shirley Holman, R.N.

Later, as the patient load increased, additional help was employed. In 1965, an additional wing was constructed. The building as it now stands is in the shape of a horseshoe with angular halls running throughout its extent. These halls are equipped with handrails that assist the disabled patient to reach any part of the building. These angular halls are flanked on either side by 29 patient rooms. At present, there are twenty-five full-time and part-time employees engaged in nursing service. This number includes two nurses, Carol DeBorde and Jennie Payne, a social worker, Mrs. Kathy Edwards and Linda Whitt, administrator.

The building has two main entrances which lead one into two reception rooms fully equipped for the care and comfort of the patients. Both reception rooms are equipped with radios and television sets.

To the prospective patient of tomorrow, the home is a beacon of light in the night of uncertainty and a beam of sunlight that dispels and dissipates the darkness of despair.

On Eating Out - More

If you're an average family you'll probably eat out in fast food places more often in the next four years. Fast food franchise firms are expanding - for you. The industry expects to grow steadily through 1980.

Fast Food Businesses - places that sell hamburger, fish and chips or fried chicken - plan to have 46,562 outlets in America by 1980. In 1975, outlets totaled 28,909. Even greater growth is predicted for foreign fast-food outlets. For Better Health - Conserve Nutrients - Three ways to conserve nutrients are to reduce the amount of water used in cooking vegetables, reduce the length of cooking time, and reduce the amount of surface area exposed. Vitamin C dissolved in water becomes weakened by exposure to air and can be destroyed by heat.

Did you know that if you chop cabbage to make a slaw, but leave it standing on the counter for an hour before serving it, much of the original vitamin C is destroyed by the air? So, freshly cut cabbage is better for you than the same amount of cabbage boiled for 2 hours with corned beef. Heat hastens the destruction of vitamin C.

Always use a minimum of water to cook vegetables and serve vegetables as promptly as possible to retain the most nutrients.

Does Your Plant Have The Winter Blah?

That winter down-feeling isn't just with humans; plants are victims of it too according to the National A.S.U.

You should check your plants at this time; the problem may be neglected. If your plant drops its leaves - could be caused by sudden change in temperature, or because you transplanted it and put it in strong sunlight in a dark place. Maybe you watered it too much (that's usually the number one problem). Or - it could be caused by cooking gas.

Are the tops of the leaves browning? Could be caused by too much or too little water. It's also caused by exposure to cold drafts, attack by insects, or even too much fertilizing. If your plant has spotted foliage, check for overwatering or burning from direct sunlight. If you're making your plants sick, stop it! Plants do need tender, loving care.

Remember

Don't forget to register for the Home Landscape Design Course, sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service. Classes will be held Thursdays, March 3, 10, 17 and 31 at 1:00 p.m. at the PCA Building in Mt. Vernon. The course will cover design, selection of plants, outdoor lighting, care of shrubs and lawn, and development of individual landscape plans. The class is open to anyone who is interested and there is no charge. Call 256-2403 to register.

ON DEAN'S LIST - Mrs. Betty Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Taylor of Brodhead, was named to the Dean's List for the Fall Semester, 1976 at the University of Kentucky, College of Arts and Sciences. All full-time students in the College who made a standing of 3.6 or better are on the List.

LEAMAN BURTON COMPLETES BASIC TRAINING

An "Energy Efficient Home" is something special.

One new method of providing space for more insulation is 2" x 6" studding.

An Energy Efficient Home is more than a pretty place - it's a quality-constructed home with many energy-saving features built in. It's a whole new concept that can save the homeowner energy and money.

If you're building a new home, you should consider recommendations for an Energy Efficient Home. Greater use of thermal insulation and installing a heat pump are two crucial parts of Kentucky Utilities' guidelines. Other features are insulated water pipes, less window area, and orientation of the house to the sun.

Initial costs are minimal compared with the long-range savings realized. And, an Energy Efficient Home can make the difference between money "in the bank," or literally "out the window" - the decision is yours.

Contact your local KU office soon for detailed information.

A Living Memorial

News of the sudden death of a loved one or friend can bring complex and painful feelings. A terrible sense of personal loss accompanies the sorrow.

The loss of someone close is difficult to accept especially when the death occurs without warning. We offer words of consolation to the bereaved family, but the thought persists: Why did he have to die? Why so soon?

A major cause of premature death in this country is heart and blood vessel diseases. In 1977, it will claim the lives of about 950,000 Americans. Chief among these are heart attack, stroke and hypertensive disease. High blood pressure—a major contributor to these killer diseases—affects over 24 million Americans.

It's difficult to relate to statistics that escalate into the millions. Likewise, on a personal level, the words of sympathy in a letter of condolence seem inadequate at best.

Through a memorial gift to your Heart Association, you can establish a living tribute to one who has died and at the same time assist the effort to reduce the frightening toll from heart and blood vessel diseases.

When you make a memorial gift, the Heart Association sends an appropriate message to the family stating that a gift has been made. The amount always remains confidential, but the family knows you cared enough to create a living memorial in honor of their loved one.

Heart and blood vessel diseases can strike anyone, anywhere, any time.

Through a memorial gift to your Heart Association, you make a gift to those who are fighting for your life.

Send your memorial gift to the Memorial Gifts Chairman, Mrs. Arletta Norton, Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456.

William Starr Carter Dies

Early Saturday Morning

William Starr Carter, son of Congressman and Mrs. Tim Lee Carter, died at 6 a.m. Saturday morning at Vanderbilt Hospital in Nashville of acute undifferentiated leukemia.

The disease was diagnosed at Vanderbilt on May 10, 1973. Starr was treated at the M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institution in Houston and was in remission from 1973 until September 10, 1976, and from shortly thereafter until his death. He was taken from his home in Tompkinsville, Ky. and hospitalized at Vanderbilt, Friday, February 18th.

His father is author of the National Cancer Act of 1971 and one of the strongest supporters in Congress of cancer research and treatment.

Funeral services were conducted Monday, February 21, at 2 p.m. at the First Methodist Church in Tompkinsville. Burial was in the Carter Family plot in the Evans' Oak Hill Cemetery there.

A student at Western Kentucky University, Starr was born August 12, 1954 at Glasgow, Kentucky. He was a graduate of Culver Military Academy at Culver, Indiana, where he was a member of the Black Horse Troop.

In addition to his studies at Western, Starr farmed in Monroe County and was a director of People's Bank of Tompkinsville. He was the youngest bank director in the state of Kentucky.

In addition to his mother and father, Starr is survived by his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Cloe Bradshaw of Tompkinsville; and by two aunts and two uncles; Mrs. Mae Carter Taylor, Circu Court Judge J. C. Carter, Jr. and Monroe County Attorney Abe Carter, all of Tompkinsville, and his cousin, Art Hayes of Louisville.

Expressions of sympathy are asked in the form of contributions to the American Cancer Society.

IN MEMORY
of my sister, Louise Phiback,
Written by Dixie Henderson

Sadly, the stars are shining upon a perfect grave.
Beneath lies the one we loved so dear,
But could not save.
God came to call our loved one home,
Even though we feel so left alone,
But the things He does are for the best,
And we know you're at rest.
Our hearts ache with sadness, we have shed many tears,
Your memory is our keeping, with which

The Mt. Vernon Signal Thursday, February 24, 1977 P-7

we'll never part.
God has you in His Keeping, we have you in our hearts.
Although your smiles are missing, and we cannot touch your hands,
God has promised one tomorrow, He will help us understand.
He is our source of comfort, and for that great day we'll wait,
When we'll meet beyond the heavens
Just inside the pearly gates,
A new star was added to the heavens the day you passed away,
And though you're gone Louise, and we're alone, in our hearts you'll always stay.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Louise Phiback, who passed away February 25, 1976.

Thinking of you on this day - We remember a verse to a song you wrote:

O, Hallelujah, I'm going home to be with Jesus in my new home.
I'll sing with the angels and all the best, I'll be with Jesus at perfect rest.

IN MEMORY

of a darling wife and mother, Othia Mason, who passed away one year ago, February 26.

Dear God, please forgive a selfish tear,
A selfish wish that you were here,
There are other's that we know,
But she was ours, we loved her so,
It broke our hearts to lose her,
But she did not go alone.

For part of us went with her, the night God called her home,
Our hearts still ache with loneliness,
Our eyes shed many tears,
And God you know how much we miss her,
At the close of a sad year.

Sincere, Personal Service - Backed By Years Of Experience

Every hour of every day, we strive to give the people of Rockcastle County the most competent service that a funeral home can offer. The personal consideration of each family we serve is an individual responsibility backed by years of experience.

As Funeral Directors, we realize that we are working with feelings of great importance and not just people of the public. Therefore, our pledge of sincere and personal service is more than a motto, it is a dedicated way of life handed down from three generations of the Cox Family.

Unseen Factors

When you consider buying a home in a new locality, you'll want to know as much about the town and neighborhood as possible. Much of this information you can get from "eyeballing" the area, but there are important factors which the eye cannot see.

For example, local property taxes, public services, public transportation, hospitals, churches, community facilities. What are the zoning restrictions? Are there any unusual deed restrictions common to the area on how you might use, alter, or expand your property? What are the future prospects for the neighborhood?

A good, local Realtor can be a quarry of such information. He should have a feeling born of the familiarity for the specific neighborhoods in his territory. Level with him at the outset about what you want and he'll help his customers to help you find it. That's what he's there for.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at Ford Realty & Auction Co., Inc., Mt. Vernon, Ph. 256-4646. We're here to help!

The wild birds fly.

But soon the weather will change its tune.

And everywhere the flowers will bloom.

The robins then will fly and sing.

For once again it will be spring.

And oh how happy our hearts will be.

Far every flower and blooming tree.

As day by day winter goes by.

Our hearts are lighter as spring draws nigh.

Larry "Mr. Consistent" Harmon had ten points against Corbin and 16 against Jackson County. Here he is shown going for two in the Corbin game. In Harmon's last five out of six games, he has scored ten or more points. (Photo by Rick Anderkin).

When you're ahead in a ball game and there is only a short time left to play - Jeff Burdette, No. 12 for the Rockets, demonstrates what you do. Jeff is stalling the ball in the Corbin game, a game in which he had 18 points with 5 of these coming from the foul line. (Photo by Rick Anderkin).

Jack Farthing, No. 22, David Riddle, No. 10 and Walter Browning (and he is there although not really visible) are shown going for a rebound in Saturday night's game against Corbin which the Rockets B team won. (Photo by Rick Anderkin).

Browning, No. 52, is also a member of the Rockets' A team and here goes for a rebound in the A team game against Corbin, a game which the Rockets also won. Also in the picture is number 16, Steve Centers. Centers got 8 points in the game against Corbin and 14 the night before at Jackson Co. (Photo by Rick Anderkin).

Rockets Beat Corbin 53-46 As Guards Shine, Combine for 31

By: Rick Anderkin

Jeff Burdette, the Rockets fine senior guard had 18 points and sophomore David Pensol accounted for 13 as the Rockets rolled over Corbin 53-46 in action last Saturday night. The Rockets, who were defeated earlier in the year by Corbin by 26 points, played tenacious defense to turn the tables this time.

The Rockets took the game to the Bulldogs from the very start and, as a result, they were ahead by 8 at the end of the first quarter. However, the usual second quarter slump caught up with the Rockets and they scored only 7 points, while Corbin fought back to pick up 16.

Warren Cash, No. 11, puts in a layup for the Rockets against Corbin in the B team game, at a crucial time. Cash got 6 points on the night for the B team. (Photo by Rick Anderkin).

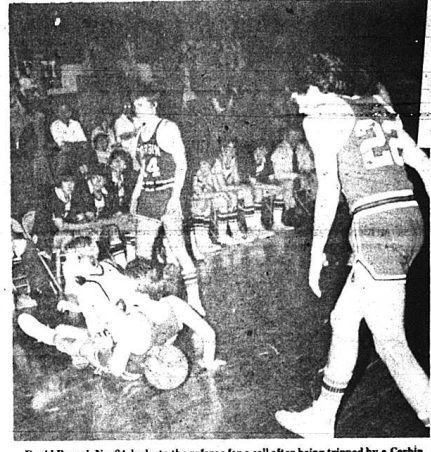

But, the Rockets came out ready to play in the second half and, at the end of the third quarter, once again had the lead - a lead they were never to lose.

In the fourth quarter, the Rockets widened their lead to as much as 9 and, with about a minute to go, Coach Riddle instructed his team to go into a stall fo preserve the win. One of the big factors in the Rockets win was their over-50% shooting percentage as opposed to Corbin's 29%.

Leading scorer for the Rockets was Jeff Burdette with 18, two rebounds and David Pensol, No. 24, looks to the referee for a call after being tripped by a Corbin player - he got one - walking against him, not one of his or the crowd's favorite decisions of the night. However, Pensol had a good night against Corbin with 13 points. (Photo by Rick Anderkin).

ROCKETS SQUEAK BY JACKSON

The Rockcastle County Rockets defeated Jackson County last Friday night 45-44 after being behind by 10 points at half-time.
After losing Jackson County in the third quarter at 36-36, the lead switched back and forth and, with four seconds to go, Jackson County ahead by 1 point and the Rockets with the ball, Larry Harmon was fouled and went to the free-throw line for one and one situation. Harmon calmly sunk both free throws to give the Rockets the game.

Harmon was also leading scorer on the night with 18; Centers got 14; Frankie Durham, 7 and Jeff Burdette and David Penno, 4 each.

B Team Wins Again and Again

The Rocket B Team won two ball games last week, defeating both Jackson County and Corbin. The Jackson County score was 38-19 with Jack Farthing leading the scoring with 13. Browning got 6; Warren Cash, 5; Frank Phillips, 4; David Riddle, 3 and Marty Henstay, 2.
The Corbin score was 42-38 with Frank Phillips getting 10 points in that game; Jack Farthing, 8; David Riddle, 7; Warren Cash, 6; Eddie Thompson, 6 and Walter Browning, 5.

Girls Beat Whitley; Lose to Jackson Co.

The RCHS Girls basketball team racked up another win this past week over Whitley County 50-38 extending their season record to 11 wins and 3 losses.
The girls also lost one, their third of the season against 11 wins, to Jackson County 41-37.

Scoring in the Whitley County game for the Rockets were: Gina Ruppe, Diane Thacker and Nancy French, 10 each; Barbara Bullen and Sandy Sturgill, 8 each and Sharon Farthing and Tammy Shepherd, 2 each.

Scoring in the Jackson County game were: Ruppe with 9; Thacker and Bullen, 7 each; French, 8; Sturgill, 4 and Sheila Deaherage, 2.

The girls will close out their regular season play this Thursday afternoon with a home game at 1:30 against Madison Model.

REMEMBER
The Rockets homecoming is this Friday night with Casey Co. This will end regular season play.

25TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Thank God for our wonderful years together. It is 1977, and we are closer to Heaven. We enjoy our home and never want to roam, many miles we travel each day, never forgetting to pray. Even if we are ill, at work our duties we fulfill.

We are just, also true and happy because we do.
Trusting the Lord, having faith. And counting our blessings every day. Because he showed us a better way.

Any deed, great or small, we do our best for all. Anytime, visit us, we love you very much.

We love each other more every day.

The Mt. Vernon Signal Thursday, February 24, 1977 P-11

That is what everyone should say. On us you can depend, we will help you to the end.
Hoping the praying we will have many more happy years together.
