Words cannot be found to express our gratitude and appreciation to those who were so kind during the death of our beloved husband and father, Cecil Bullock. Our heartfelt thanks goes to those who sent flowers and brought food to our home and donations, to Bro. Lowell Mason and Bro. Lester Arnold for their consoling words, the Renner Family for those beautiful songs and to the pallbearers, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Barr and the Home Health service rendered in the time of his illness, the Rockcastle Co. Hospital nurses, Dr. Arvin and a special thanks to Dowell and Martin Funeral Home for the service they rendered in time of our grief.

IN LOVING MEMORY

of Clarence Tussey, who departed this life in 1975.
Darling, the day God called you home my heart still aches with loneliness. God knows how much I need you. Little did we know when awakened that morning, the sorrow that day would bring. The call was such a sudden shock. Sometimes it's hard to understand, but God has planned beyond our power to see. God has given me strength to face it and courage to bear the blow. If I had the time to give, I would give it, ves and more. To ~~be~~ ^{be} your wife and see your smile and greet you at the door. But all I can do dear husband, is to take care of your grave and leave behind my love for your. God knows how much I miss you.
Sadly missed by wife
Eliza Tussey

SHORT ROWS

By Neryl Shackelford
While driving over the country recently checking on wild fruits and enjoying the autumn colors, it appears that this has been a good year for Diospyros virginiana, the delightful American persimmon. It is doubtful that any other product of the wild is more delectable or lends itself to more ways of preparation for the table than this sweet fruit.
When ripe, it is great to pluck and eat fresh from the tree. Although puckery to the taste until it ripens, it is then sweeter than an apricot and about as tart as a paw paw. It is a wonderful ingredient in fruit salads, perfect for preserves and when seeded and mashed into butter can be made into fried pies of almost incredible goodness. The writer's mother was once widely known throughout her neighborhood for the wonderful pies she made from persimmons and for the tangy jelly she made from wild grapes that grew on a rail fence in our back pasture.
Ripe persimmons can be seeded and baked into a pudding similar to that concocted from sweet potatoes. As a matter of fact, persimmon pudding topped with marshmallows is hard to tell from that made from sweet potatoes.

A fine quality, exotic-tasting beer can be brewed from persimmons. A superb brandy can also be distilled from them. A person of acquaintance once was considerable fame because of his persimmon brandy, but unfortunately, along with a host of braggart fanciers who beat a path to his door every fall, there came a couple of "revenuers." After than, persimmon brandy was no more.
Not only people relish the persimmon. Opossums are fond of it, they will risk neck and hide get a bait. In fact and for this reason, the persimmon is often known as "possum fruit." Songbirds, wild turkeys, coons, deer, foxes and about every form of wildlife loves it and once it ripens, makes short work of the crop. Sometimes, though, a few persimmons will hang on the tree until late winter. The longer they hang, the drier and sweeter they become. A persimmon found on a tree in January is about the sweetest, tastiest thing that can be imagined.
The persimmon is generally small, about 1/4 inches in diameter, and because when ripe it is so soft, it is rarely offered commercially. So if you should want some for fried pies, preserves or puddings, chances are you will have to take to the fields and find and gather your own. It will be worth the effort because eating a persimmon in any form can provide a taste thrill unparalleled in the annals of eating, especially the eating of wild fruits.

Manhood is not measured by the size of the chest but by the quality of the heart.

Tax Tips When You Buy Real Estate
When you buy real estate, your tax benefits start immediately. For example, property taxes paid at the settlement are deductible. Usually, these taxes are pro-rated between the buyer and seller so that each pays his respective share. In some localities, where the property taxes are paid during the following calendar year, the buyer's deduction is taking during the year the taxes are actually paid.
The other settlement expenses generally are not deductible, however, most of them can be added to the cost of the real estate when you sell it. The effect will be to reduce the profit subject to income tax. Among these are: lawyers' fees, property surveys, title search and title insurance, transfer taxes and "points".
It should be noted that, what the IRS calls "basis" is quite important to establish. It is the purchase price of the real estate which includes your down payment, mortgages and those non-deductible settlement costs. The basis determines what your profit or loss will be when you sell.

Feeding Cull Cows For Slaughter

Can the cow call man profit from adding weight to his cull cows headed for slaughter? This is an important question that can be answered with a qualified "yes."

"At today's feed prices, cost per pound of gain on a cull cow can vary from 15 to 44 cents, depending on condition and weight of the cow to begin with, plus her gain and length of the feeding period."

"If one study, cull cows fed to a concentrate ration for five to nine weeks averaged 100 pounds of gain for every 510 pounds of feed they ate," Absher says. "Cows fed longer than 15 weeks required 618 pounds of feed per 100 pounds gain, which shows extra feed

The question of how profitably weight can be added to a cull cow depends considerably on her condition or level of fatness to begin with. The farmer can't profit from trying to put weight on a cow, either small or large framed, that is already fleshy. On the other hand, a cow that gets weight from frame size rather than fat may be economical to feed.

Curtis Absher, Extension beef cattle specialist in the UK College of Agriculture, points to short-term feeding as the most profitable way to finish cull cows for slaughter.

"In one study, cull cows fed to a concentrate ration for five to nine weeks averaged 100 pounds of gain for every 510 pounds of feed they ate," Absher says. "Cows fed longer than 15 weeks required 618 pounds of feed per 100 pounds gain, which shows extra feed cost for the cows held longer, not to mention other maintenance expense."

If cows are used to graze fescue pastures or clean corn fields, cost of keeping them around for longer periods may be less, providing the forage would otherwise go to waste.

Culling open cows and replacing them with heifers makes good sense. It's going to be two years down the road before either a replacement heifer or an open cow has the chance to produce a calf. But with a mature, open cow, you're just feeding to maintain body weight, while with a heifer you're feeding for growth. And the replacement heifer is much more likely to produce a calf at the end of that two-year period than the cow is.

When to Plant Fruits

Both late fall and early spring are satisfactory times to plant fruit trees. The weather often decides which time is best. Fall conditions are frequently ideal for planting, but, if exceptionally cold or dry winter weather occurs, fall may not turn out to be the best time. However, fall is preferred in most instances for several reasons. Frequently there is so much moisture in the spring that it is impossible to plant until late spring. This delayed planting oftentimes results in poor growth or even the death of the trees if any growth has occurred before planting.

Trees planted in the fall and early winter become established and ready for growth in the spring. The tops are in a dormant condition, but the roots will grow some during favorable conditions. This results in earlier growth in the following spring. This is desirable unless the soil is poorly drained. In these cases there may be extensive damage or even death of the tree due to smothering of the roots by excessive water. A sandy or well drained soil will not usually have this problem.

One disadvantage to fall planting is that some nurseries do not dig or ship in the fall. The biggest drawback to spring planting is find a time when the soil is dry enough while the tree is still dormant.

Small fruits such as strawberries and the brambles should not be fall planted. In areas this far north the soil is subjected to alternate freezing and thawing, and shallow-rooted plants may be injured seriously by having their roots heave loose from the soil.

Workshops for Tax Return Preparers
Two day workshops will be held at 12 locations in the state this fall for persons who help others prepare federal and state income tax returns. The tax schools are being sponsored by the UK Cooperative Extension Service in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service and the Kentucky Department of Revenue.

Instruction will emphasize the preparation of farm tax returns, but also will include general tax returns information. At two of the schools, in Ashland and Pikeville, instruction will include income from coal and disaster (flood) losses.

Locations and dates of the tax workshops are: Ashland, November 29-30; Shelbyville, November 29-30;

Owensboro, December 1-2; Pikeville, December 1-2; Somerset, December 6-7; Hopkinsville, December 6-7; Lexington, December 8-9; Lake State Park, December 8-9; Maysville, December 13-14; Barren River State Park, December 13-14; Florence, December 13-14; and Rough River State Park, December 15-16.

Advance enrollment is required for each workshop. Deadlines, and enrollment cards are available at County Extension offices. A fee of $15 will be charged for each person attending.

What To Do In November

- *Rake leaves often to prevent grass from freezing and killing.
- *Plant deciduous trees and shrubs - mulching will reduce winter freezing and thawing and thus keep the plants from "heaving".
- *Plant tulips.
- *Spray roses for the last time - cut plants back to 30 inches and tie the tops to help protect plants from wind damage. Destroy all blackspot infected leaves.
- *Water evergreens and lawn if they need it.
- *Wrap newly planted trees to help prevent winter burn and bark splitting.
- *Winterize power equipment - clean all garden tools and oil.

ASCS to Announce Farm Program Details Soon

"Due to the number and complexity of changes in farm programs triggered by the new farm act (The Food and Agriculture Act of 1977), some of the details of the new programs will not be available as soon as we and area farmers would like. But we do expect to be making an announcement concerning proposed farm program rules very soon," so states Cynthia Duncan, Chairperson, Kentucky Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee - a agency within the U.S. Department of Agriculture charged with administering federal farm programs.

"Farmers are quite naturally interested in getting program details resulting from the new farm act as soon as possible, since some of the changes will also affect some crops planted and harvested in 1977, so well as crops covered during the four-year life of the new law," Ms. Duncan said. "We are currently gearing up to make wheat deficiency payments, which were generally increased by 43 cents per bushel for 1977 crop wheat by a provision of the new law. The process can only just get started with so many changes, and we hope farmers will be patient with use for the short time it will take from the signing of the law until the new regulations are developed," Ms. Duncan added.

"The law has some new wrinkles that have to be ironed out," she said. "For example, the law requires us to establish the 1977 acreage on each farm which is normally used for the production of crops-Normal Crop Acreage (NCA)-a term farmers will be hearing a lot. County and State ASC Committee members are very much a part of the process being used to determine program rules on NCA. This is one reason it's important that farmers report their 1977 crop acreage to their ASC county office, if they have not already done so," Ms. Duncan stated.

"While the details of the 1978 Agricultural Conservation Program have just been announced, practices in addition to the wide range of national practices may also be developed at the local level to meet specific pollution or conservation problems. This is another indication that farm programs will be based more on local situations and on solving local problems," she said.

"The economic and environmental impacts of the new farm program rules must also be determined as a part of the process of making the rules. Local input and public scrutiny may tend to slow the process of getting out final rules and regulations, but will help assure ASCS and the farmers we serve of having solid, meaningful programs for American agriculture," Ms. Duncan concluded.

have power to dispose of and make all needed rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States."

"The President does not have the legal authority to negotiate such an agreement without the consent of Congress and the Senate. The President has the power to dispose of U.S. property or territory."

Dawson Springs Schools Has 100% Immunization

While school officials across the Commonwealth are pushing parents and students to comply with the state law requiring immunization, one district boasts of a 100 percent immunization of the student body.

"We are probably the only school district to accomplish this major feat," said John Ray, superintendent of the Dawson Springs Independent Schools.

Ray explained that the feat was the result of a policy enacted by the Dawson Springs Board of Education on May 9, 1977 which stated: "No pupil may attend the schools of Dawson Springs unless he or she is in compliance with KRS 158.035, the statute that requires immunization of all school age children and proof of that immunization."

"Our citizens were informed of this policy by a letter to each family. Compliance was demanded by school officials, and parents were informed that their children would not be allowed to attend classes until their immunizations were up to date," said Ray. The letter also stated that three days' absence would constitute truancy and would be dealt with as such.

"Our only judge expressed his desire to cooperate, but all of our parents were willing to do as they were asked, and his involvement was unnecessary," said Ray.

Agnes Hopper-Uitt, Director of the school Social Work and School Health Services Programs in the Kentucky Department of Education, said there has been a decline in immunization of school age children in the last several years. Thus there has been a drive in the state by both school officials and state health officials to have parents update immunizations.

Members of Congress Introduce Resolution Against Treaty

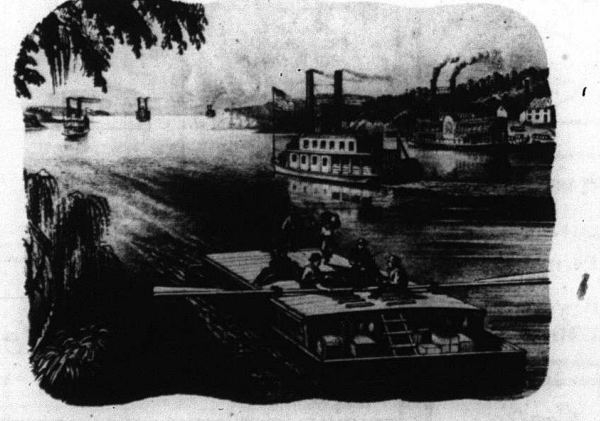

Twenty-nine Members of Congress including House Associate Whip Carroll Hubbard (D-Ky), introduced a resolution last Thursday which seeks to declare the recent agreements and proposed Panama Canal Treaty null and void.

The 29 co-sponsors of House Concurrent Resolution 378 include both Democrats and Republicans from all over the country.

Commenting on H. Con. Res. 378, Hubbard said, "This resolution prohibits the President from conveying, ceding, relinquishing, or otherwise transferring any sovereign rights of the United States in the Panama Canal Zone without specific authority enacted into law by the House and Senate."

In 1803, America found herself up the river. The Mississippi that is valuable goods were being produced in the Midwest and the mighty Mississippi was our only link to the sea. But the outlet in New Orleans belonged to France.

So President Jefferson sent agents to Paris to negotiate for the addition of New Orleans. Surprisingly, Napoleon offered to sell the entire Louisiana Territory for only $15,000,000. And that included what is today Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Louisiana, Oklahoma, most of Minnesota, and parts of Wyoming and Colorado.

FROM ELEGANT TO SENTIMENTAL-Almost any item of historical interest which is now hidden away in an attic, garage or basement could be restored, displayed and preserved forever by the Kentucky Historical Society. Something which no longer fits into your home could be the one thing the society is looking for to go in one of the six new rooms to be added to the history museum.

"The recently completed Victorian Room is an example of how changing the exhibits will better utilize the museum's collections," explained Bill Long, curator. "We are planning an Empire Room, a country store, a room with Kentucky-made furniture, one with folk arts and other objects."

Long registers and helps catalog the museum's incoming donations, such as the sketches shown on his desk, which were done in the late 19th century. Some other recent acquisitions include a six-piece sterling silver tea service owned by Gov. J. Proctor Knott (1883-1887) and a clappboard doorway made around the turn of the century by Henry Clay Epply of Dayton. If you have something to contribute to the museum project, contact Long at (502) 564-3016.

Rockcastle Recollection

By John Lair

Another Mt. Vernon landmark - one of its older, larger residences, has just been turned over to the wrecking crew and will be gone in a few days. The Miller Home will be gone, with all the pleasant memories and associations of those who have lived in it over the many years of its existence.

Unfortunately, we are unable to learn just exactly when and by whom it was built, but we are able to form some fairly reasonable conclusions by assembling such facts and dates as are at hand. Mason Compton Miller was the first of the name to come to Rockcastle County. He was born in 1800 and came here from Jessamine County in 1823. In 1824 he was married to Elizabeth Jane Stigall, of the family of Stigalls, who came from Green County, Virginia, and were prominent in the early history of Rockcastle County. It is believed that they lived first in the Leach house, on old Main Street, probably now the oldest residence in Mt. Vernon.

James Maret stated in his list of Mt. Vernon "firsts" that Mason Compton Miller was the first merchant. His store stood a few doors south of the corner where the old Miller home is being wrecked. Mason Compton later took a number of slaves to the south, in opposition to the wishes of his wife, to whom they belonged, and never came back to Mt. Vernon.

Milton Jefferson Miller, a son of Mason Compton and Elizabeth Jane Stigall Miller, was born in Mt. Vernon in 1827. He married Mary Middleton Smith, daughter of Major Alfred Smith and granddaughter of General William Smith in 1850. It is believed that he was the elder brother of the Miller house in question, although a son, M.J. Miller, Jr., did considerable work on it from time to time. Many of the present members of the Miller family have often been told by some of the older members that a two-room log house once occupied the site of the old home and was located in the later structure, but since logs have so far been encountered in demolishing the building it is assumed that the log rooms were torn down and being included in the later building. The men who are tearing down the old house was struck with the quality the lumber used in erecting it. They say they have noted that it is all yellow pine, of a grade not available any more.

Milton Jefferson Miller and Mary Middleton Smith Miller were parents of Mr. Hugh, Mae, Martha, Milton J., Mitti Jr., Sally and Harry. This mercantile family and many of their relatives lived lives that centered around the old Miller House, appearing one big happy family. Both Milton Jefferson Miller and his son, M.J., Jr. were outstandingly successful business men and occupied positions of considerable prominence on the local scene. Others of the clan were successful in business and politics, among Compton Miller, Jr. (Uncle Dick) copying county office for most of the maining years of his life after closing a successful career as an officer in the Union Army during the War Between the States.

Milton Jefferson Miller, Sr., by his firmness and generosity early won respect and esteem of citizens of Rockcastle County. My mother's father, Thomas Jefferson Coffey, never ceased to be grateful to him for the help he voluntarily afforded him soon after his coming to this county from the state of Tennessee. Coffey arrived here with a young wife, a baby, a big black iron kettle, a yoke of oxen and a high-wheeled cart. He rented a small farm and both he and his wife went to work with such a will that they came to the attention of Mr. Miller. Meeting young Coffey on the streets of Mt. Vernon one day he complimented him upon his industry and told him he should buy a good farm and give his ambition free rein. When Coffey told him he didn't have money to buy a farm Miller told him to go out and find the one he wanted to buy and come to him for the money to do it with. With this kind of a start Coffey was able at the time of his death to leave a good farm to each of his five children and he never forgot Mr. Miller's kindness in making it all possible. This was by no means the only instance in which he used his own wealth to help a deserving young man get a start in life.

The Miller family by intermarrying with other substantial families in earlier days of Rockcastle's history were able to establish a closely related group, most of whose members have since left the substantial corpse of good citizenship which was a credit to the county. Although none of them have lived in the streets of Mt. Vernon since it was echoed in the past with good cheer and good fellowship and family loyalty that they may never know again, but can never forget.

Within the past few years, Mt. Vernon has lost much of its charm in losing some of its oldest and most substantial homes. Among the first to go during this period was the only real colonial type I remember seeing, the old "Mummy Fish" home built years ago by one of the more substantial members of the Fish family. The loss of the old McFerron-Stephen Langford House was a serious and unnecessary loss that cannot be overestimated. The old house built by Rev. McCall and later lived in by D.N. Williams and Tip Langford. The twin of the old Miller House - the Clara Williams-Henderson. Nesbitt place long occupied by the Casper Williams family - survives through the efforts and attention lavished upon it by Dr. and Mrs. Jack Henderson. The Bill Sparks home is in excellent condition as a result of it's being taken over by Cox Funeral Home; the old Jack Adams-Ab Sparks house has had the same attention from the Dowell & Martin Funeral Home and these three seem to have given a new lease on life that should carry them well into future generations. Incidentally, we also hated to see the old Richards house go down. While not so old as some of the others, it was of a gracious style of architecture that was a little different from most others and added a note of interest to its street.

Also through the years the countryside has suffered noticeable loss in the passing of many of the old log houses now forever. Disappeared, the old Gustafson house, built by Devil Bill Adams for one of his sons was a prime example of this, as was the old tavern once lived by Devil Bill, later known as the Tom Nob house, many substantial old log houses in the Skaggs Creek area are now gone. The old Langford place, formerly a tavern on Rockcastle River, was destroyed in the tornado a few years ago. The old Polly Hiatt House - oldest in Rentfro Valley and one of the oldest in the county, has been restored and the Bennett Hiatt, almost as old, is still visible but in a bad state of repair, in only a few more years, Rockcastle can not show an original old log house, such as was once the only kind to be seen within its borders.

Kentucky Afield

By John Wilson

With Kentucky's small game and fur-bearing seasons opening Nov. 17 (the traditional third Thursday in November) now is an appropriate time to review some of the rules and regulations which, if not understood, sometimes cause hunters to get up on the wrong side of the law.

Kentucky's conservation officers write more citations for hunting without licenses or with improper licenses than for any other infraction. The commonwealth has required resident hunting licenses since 1913, but there are apparently still a lot of slow learners around.

All residents not hunting on their own lands or lands where they reside as tenants must have a license if they are under age 65. Up to age 16, a junior license is available and is issued only with parental approval. Kentucky residents 65 or older should pick up a free card certifying age and residency at any county clerk's office. Once obtained, this card does not have to be renewed.

The immediate families of landowners and tenants may hunt without licenses on their own or rented lands. But if your second cousin twice removed owns or rents some land out in the country, you'd better have a license before you go hunting there.

Licenses are required for non-residents of any age. Out-of-staters have a choice of a year-round license ($27.50) or a three-day license ($10.00). Non-residents wanting to hunt deer must purchase the year-round license and, like residents, must also have a $10.50 deer permit.

Once equipped with the proper license, the next step is to ask permission if you are to hunt on private lands. Ignoring this common courtesy is not only illegal, but is also one of the most common reasons for the proliferations of posted signs in rural areas. Only those hunting deer with a 240 caliber or larger rifle need written permits from landowners; oral permission is all that is required by law for other hunters.

Except for raccoon and opossum hunters, who may hunt any time of the day or night, small game hunters must confine their activities to one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset, local prevailing time. Dove and waterfowl hunters work under different shooting hour rules, so be sure to check the complete regulations.

Squirrel hunters can't use breech-loading rifles of 240 caliber or larger, but there are few other firearms restrictions on small game hunters, who may use either breech or muzzle-loading rifles, shotguns or handguns (again, check the deer and waterfowl regulations for specific requirements for hunting these species). Small game hunters may use archery equipment, and there are some bow and arrow experts who are quite good small game hunters.

Shotguns must be plugged to hold no more than three shells (two in the magazine and one in the chamber). The only species which may be hunted with unplugged guns is deer, and if you remove your plug for the Nov. 12-14 deer gun season, be sure to put it back before taking to the woods on the 17th.

Small game hunters cannot legally carry buckshot or slugs in the field while hunting. This regulation was adopted because a few irresponsible individuals couldn't resist taking a little deer ammo along, just in case.

Remember too that all wildlife (with the exceptions of English sparrows, starting groundhog and gray fox) is protected unless a specific open season is established. All hawks and owls are under its protection of both state and federal laws and may not be taken at any time. So don't take "pot-shots" - know which species are legal and confine yourself to them.

For complete details on hunting in Kentucky, write in Division of Public Relations, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601 for a free "hunter's Packet."

Pumpkin seeds make a good and nutritious snack, so don't throw them out. Save them for roasting, say nutritionists with the Cooperative Extension Service of UK's College of Agriculture. Wash the seeds, salt them lightly while still damp and roast them in the oven at about 350 degrees. Watch them carefully so they don't burn.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
I would appreciate it very much if you would print my letter, unsigned, because of obvious reasons. I can assure you that I am not a crack-pot or a weirdo trying to attract attention. My only intention is to bring up a very serious problem and hopefully my letter will bring about some changes for the better.
We live in the northern part of Rockcastle County, about four miles from Berea. There is so little police protection around here that it is a joke! We don't expect constant patrolling of this area but why won't they come when they are called on legitimate business. Calls have been made more than once and they absolutely never came. There are bootleggers operating all around, resulting in drunken drivers on the highway. They never are raided, much less arrested. Coal trucks speed by all the time and cars pass the school bus. There are several bad places in US 25 going towards Madison County and the road department just ignores calls to fix them. One recent accident was directly caused by the road conditions. It was a near collision and went un-reported. They say lucky, but will the next one be?

When we pay our taxes most everyone feels cheated. What services are you offering us besides schools for the children and a monthly visit by a bookmobile? If our fire protection is like our police protection, we better be fast runners.

I could go on and on but I think I have made my point. If it takes an increase in taxes to get out of the Dark Ages it can be done. Most people are reasonable and want safety and security for their families more than anything else. Just ask around if you don't think I'm right. We all live here together and share the same problems to a certain point and we can solve most of them if we really try. Why not give the people of Rockcastle County a chance to help get things moving?

Seeing my letter in your paper will be greatly appreciated; but it is only the first step. If I don't see it in the paper I will be let down but I won't give up. Someone must take it from here. Remember that we will not get to heaven because we go to church every Sunday morning. Our actions on the other six days are what really counts.

A Concerned Citizen

Down On The Farm

By Danny McKinney
Branch Manager
Cumberland PCA

We are taking much of the hard work out of farming with new tractors, cultivators, sprayers, combines, cotton pickers, tobacco harvesters, grain elevators, and even airplanes. We have new gas and liquid fertilizers, and better soil fertilizers. We get new varieties of disease-resistant, high-yielding crops almost every year. We are conquering weeds, insects and diseases. New and improved labor-saving machinery appears on the market every year. Irrigation gives us more protection against drought. We are conserving soil and water by grassland farming, strip-cropping, contouring and terracing. All of this makes it possible for fewer and fewer farmers to produce our food and fiber. This has resulted in a constant decline in agricultural workers in the United States. In 1850 about 65% of all workers were in agricultural work and by 1950 this had dropped to 6%. Many of the displaced farm workers are serving as doctors, teachers, business men, military personnel, scientists, and workers in other professions. They are busy building better houses, automobiles, refrigerators, and the hundreds of other things that give us all-including farmers—a higher standard of living.

And this is not the end. From the test tube, laboratory, and greenhouse, men of science are working to bring even greater miracles to your farm. Wide-awake farmers are quickly adapting these new discoveries to their farms.

Eternal Truth

IN OUR CHANGING WORLD

By Austin Mobley, Minister of Providence Church of Christ

What is the Church of Christ?

To answer the question, it might be wise to state what the church of Christ is NOT. The Church of Christ is not to be confused with "The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints" or any "Church of Christ, Scientist" group - for we abide totally by the Bible alone, rejecting any "latter-day revelation". God has spoken by His Son (Heb. 1:1, 2).

We are not a part of the "United Church of Christ," itself the product of a merger of different denominations. Neither are we connected with any "Holiness" group, nor are we affiliated with the ultra-liberal National Council of Churches.

The Church of Christ is a unique body of Christians. There is no earthly headquarters and no hierarchy. Each congregation is independent, subject only to Christ and His will. We can best answer the question by stating what the Church of Christ at Providence is, for some "Churches of Christ" have the sign over the door, but have departed from the simple truth.

The Bible says that Jesus would build His church (Matt. 16:18). He was not speaking of the Catholic Church or of a "Mystical Church" made up of members of all denominations, but an actual church that existed some 1900 years ago (Acts 2:47), and still exists today (Heb. 12:28).

The Church of Christ at Providence is nothing but a church. We believe that it is all God wants the church to be! We are not interested in meeting to discuss the political and social problems of the world, but in saving souls-our own, and others (1 Tim. 4:16).

We believe that the church is a spiritual institution and not for "meat and drink" (Rom. 14:17). It is not a place to stop off for a hamburger or some recreation, for these are social functions. Thus, we come together only to worship God and study His word. That is what Christians did in New Testament times (Heb. 10:25; Acts 2:42); that is what we do at the Providence Church of Christ.

In this day where many churches are glorified social clubs, and have replaced the Bible with modernism and skepticism, it should be refreshing to find a church that is nothing but a church. Such a church, the Lord's church, does exist. Come to the Providence Church of Christ and see. (Eph. 3:21).

Nutrition Assistants To Help Families in Rockcastle County

The Cooperative Extension Service of Rockcastle County has hired two paraprofessionals, Beverly Smith of Orlando and Margaret Owens of Mt. Vernon who will be contacting families in this county. These nutrition assistants will be visiting homes and helping homemakers with preparing foods, helping families have more nutritious meals, budgeting, stretching food stamps, management in the home and better health practices.

The assistants will be helping families with limited resources by working with homemakers in their homes. The purpose of the Expanded Foods and Nutrition Program is to teach families or help them to help themselves, not to provide money or personal services for the families.

If anyone would like more information, please contact Cheryl Witt, County Extension Agent for Home Economics.

The College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, is an equal opportunity organization to provide research, educational information and other services only to individuals and institutions that function without regard to race, color, sex, or national origin.

New Series for Older Americans On KET

"To us, getting older is part of the natural continuity of life and, for most of us, it can be a time of learning, fulfillment and human achievements. That's what 'Over Easy' is all about," says Producer Julius Power.

"Over Easy," a Monday-through-Friday series designed for Americans over 55, premieres Monday, November 14, at 6:30 p.m. (ET), 5:30 (CT) on KET. Hosted by Hugh Downs, the magazine format show features outstanding guests from the entertainment field, government, sports and the arts.

"Over Easy" includes news, information, features and entertainment especially of use and enjoyment to older audiences. The weeknight program also deals with such important topics as health, income, consumerism, housing, transportation and other concerns of the target audience.

Regular features are "Lifestyle" portraits of Americans who have found imaginative ways to cope and thrive in their later years; and "In Person," interviews with well-known personalities. "Mir Lillian" Carter and comedian Redd Foxx are among those scheduled to appear during the premiere week.

"Because 'Over Easy' combines a high degree of entertainment with an equally high degree of useful information, we would expect to reach a broad spectrum of the television audience," continues Power.

"America is getting older, and there is an increasing interest among all of us in the needs, concerns and aspirations of the older person. 'Over Easy' should be of interest not only to those over 55, but to all who are concerned with the quality of life in the years ahead."

"Over Easy" is aired weeknights at 6:30 p.m. (ET), 5:30 p.m. (CT), beginning Monday, November 4, on KET, The Kentucky Network.

The referee seems to be prematurely signaling a touchdown for the Rockets in the above photo as it appears that Rick Anderkin is just receiving the pass from Hammons. This was not the case however as Anderkin had already come up with the pass in the end zone between the two Panther defenders on the ground. This was the first touchdown of the overtime period. Anderkin also scored one of the Rockets' extra-point conversions. Other Rockets identifiable in the photo are, from left: Brian Stokes, No. 74; Robert Owens, No. 51; Tony Saylor, No. 61 and Billy Hackworth, No.

Matt Poynter and Brian Stokes got to the next play when he recovered the ball, which had been knocked loose from running back Steve Mitchell and took it into the end zone. A try by Hackworth for the two extra points was no good and, at the end of the first quarter, the score was again knotted 14-14.

On Knox Central's first possession of the second quarter, Dusty Carlifios was injured and the Rockets lost his services for the remainder of the game. The Panthers drove to the Rockets' nine yard line where it was four and five but an offside penalty against the Rockets gave the Panthers their first down and Knox Central scored on the next play from the four yard line. Their try for two extra points was good and once again, the Panthers led 22-14.

On the Rockets next series of play, they were forced to punt for the first time in the game and the punt traveled 53 yards - to the Knox Central 10-yard-line where it was 1-10 for the Panthers.

The Panthers then drove to their own 37 yard line where it was 3-8. They were penalized for holding on the next play making it 3 and 23 and a completed pass by the Panthers was not long enough for the first down as, for the first time in the game, the Panthers were also forced to punt. The punt was taken by the Rockets on their own 38 yard line where it was first and 10. On their first play from scrimmage, a 41-yard pass from Hammons to Anderkin put the ball on the Panthers 27 yard line and a pass from Hammons to Hackworth at the 16 was good for a Rockets' TD as Hackworth carried the ball into the end zone. Hammons went to Thompson for the two extra points but the pass was incomplete and the score was 22-30 in favor of Knox Central.

Central's 21 and returned to the Panthers' 40 where it was fumbled and recovered by David Owens. On the next play, Owens was thrown for a five yard loss and then a Hammons to Anderkin pass was good for 14 yards to the 31 yard line where it was 3 and 1. Hammons then connected with Hackworth who went in for the score with 1:32 left in the half and the conversion for two extra points was good as Hammons found Anderkin in the end zone and the Rockets, for the first time, took the lead 28-22.

The Panthers last drive of the first half was halted at the 29 yard line where, following two incomplete passes, Walter Browning and Danny Hunt were responsible for two consecutive sacks of the quarterback, forcing the Panthers to turn the ball over to the Rockets with 7 seconds remaining in the half and a 28-22 bulge for the Rockets.

On the Rockets' opening drive of the second half, they were forced again to punt and there was no return by the Panthers as Walter Browning caught the ball carrier in his tracks on the 38 yard line of Knox Central where it was first and 10.

Once again, an offside penalty against the Rockets proved costly as the Panthers' first down on the Rockets' 14 and with 3:58 remaining in the third quarter, the Panthers went over for the score. Mark Holbrook got to the quarterback on the extra point attempt and the score was tied again at 28-28.

An interception on the next Rockets' series, on a pass from Anderkin intended for Eddie Thompson, gave the ball back to Knox Central on their own 44 yard line.

Eight plays later, the Panthers scored with 11:57 to play in the game. The extra point attempt was no good and the Panthers led 34-28.

The Rockets again wasted no time in retaliating as, added by two fifteen yard penalties against the Panthers, David Owens took the ball across for the score from 25 yards out with 5:18 remaining to be played. The extra point attempt by Owens was no good and the game ended all even steven at 40-40.

In high school ball, a flip of the coin gives the ball to a team who begins their series on the 10-yard line. If they score, they get to try for the extra points and then the ball is turned over to the opposing team who also gets to try to score from the ten yard line. If the first team scores and the opposing team doesn't, then it's all over but - and this is what happened in the first overtime, Friday night, if both teams score an equal amount of points, then you keep having overtimes until something gives - and this is also what happened Friday night.

Knox Central won the toss and, on their first play from scrimmage, they called for offside which put the ball back to the 10-yard line on a 1-15. Four plays later, the Panthers went in for the touchdown. However, their extra point attempts were no good and the Rockets had an edge because if they could score a touchdown and make their extra points, they would win.

On the Rockets second play from scrimmage, a pass from Hammons to Anderkin in the end zone (which everyone, including me who was about 5 yards from the play, thought had been intercepted in the end zone) was good for a touchdown. But, a run by David Owens for the extra points was no good and at the end of the first overtime it was 46-46.

In the second overtime, Knox Central's quarterback went with a pass to the end zone which was good and the extra points were also good.

The Rockets managed their last score of the game on a keeper by Walter Hammons up the middle but an extra point attempt by Hackworth failed and the game ended at 54-52 after almost three solid hours of play.

Mike VanWinkle On Extended Deployment

Navy electrician's Mate Third Class Michael D. VanWinkle, son of Alleen M. VanWinkle of Mt. Vernon, is currently on an extended deployment in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is serving as a crewmember aboard the salvage ship USS Opportune, homeported at the Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base, Norfolk, Va. His ship is operating as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

Thus far in the cruise, he and his shipmates have participated in training exercises with other Sixth Fleet units and ships of allied nations, including the major NATO Exercise "National Week XXIII." During the remainder of the cruise, his ship will continue training operations and visit several Mediterranean coastal cities.

His ship is 213 feet long, displaces 4,900 tons and carries a crew of 85 officers and enlisted men. She is designed to conduct salvage, towing, firefighting and diving operations in support of the Fleet.

A 1974 graduate of Rockcastle County High School, he joined the Navy in September 1974. VanWinkle is married to the former Sandra Mason.

4-H MEMBERS TO SELL CANDY

The Rockcastle County 4-H Council is sponsoring a fund raising activity beginning next week. Any 4-H members in the county may participate in the candy sale campaign.

The funds obtained through this program are used to sponsor various 4-H activities throughout the year, provide ribbons and trophies, support the 4-H Recognition Banquet and help support 4-H camping.

The candy is provided by Madison Enterprises and will include Gourmet Delights, Peanut Butter Royals, Peanut Crunch and White Coconut Crowns which sell for $1.50 per box or can.

Prizes will be awarded to the youth who sell the most candy:

First prize is a 12" black and white portable TV.

Second prize - am/fm cassette player and radio.

Third prize - 8 track tape player.

Fourth Prize - polgrid camera.

In addition, each youth who sells two cases of candy will receive his or her choice of a stuffed animal or sports target game.

If a youth sells four cases, he may have his choice of a basketball, volleyball, or pocket radio. Every time a person sells two cases, he or she will have chance in the drawing for a 10-speed bicycle.

The sales campaign will begin on November 15, 1977 and will conclude on November 30. The youth will be contacted through their clubs. Each youth who sells candy must have permission from his or her parents to do so.

The 4-H Council is asking everyone's support in making this campaign a successful one. All proceeds will be used for Rockcastle County youth.

Fairview

By Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Weekend services were conducted at the Fairview Baptist Church with good attendance. 92 persons attended Sunday School.

Our pastor, Rev. Ray Dean, suffered a paralytic stroke Friday night, October 14th and has been confined to the Berea Hospital since that time. Bro. Dean is 79 years old and very weak at this writing. We all pray, if it's God's will, he will recover soon.

Since Bro. Dean's illness, billing in for him has been Bro. Kenny Fely, Bro. Mike McCoy and Bro. Francis Batson.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Alice Meadows of Berea who passed away last Monday night at the Berea Hospital. We pray God will comfort the loved ones in this time of sorrow. Mrs. Meadows was the mother-in-law of Mrs. Barbara Ann (Noland) Meadows.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen visited Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ponder Sunday, October 23rd. The Ponders, who now live in New Brockton, Alabama, spent a few days here on their farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Peters vacationed near Gatlinburg, Tennessee recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pickle of Fairview recently met Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Henley of Virginia, in Knoxville, Tennessee, where they spent some time together and also visited Oryland. They enjoyed the occasion very much.

Misses Dorothy Lambert and Mary Lou Reynolds of Augusta, Ga., were recent guests of Mrs. Delia Lambert and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander and daughter, Jewell and Mrs. Irene Alexander spent Sunday, October 23rd in the Smokies.

Mr. John Vaughn recently visited relatives here, Mr. and Mrs. Tip Repper, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen, also his sister, Mrs. Ann Linville near Berea, and spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander and family.

Visiting her mother, Mrs. Christine Napier of Evans, over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen attended Revival services Saturday night, October 29 at the Conway Baptist Church. We enjoyed so much the warm fellowship shown us by those good people and the wonderful spiritual sermon by Rev. Lewis Jennings.

Buddy Meadows and his sister, Mrs.

Teresa Pearson visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Peters, Friday. They were here from St. Petersburg, Florida, attending the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. Alice Meadows.

All five of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen's sons and daughters and their families visited them last Sunday.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Church and daughters were Mrs. Cletus Peters and Mrs. Beverly (Peter) Brock and son Brian.

Recent weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander and family were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Powell and daughters of Spring Valley, Ohio; William Alexander of Orlando, and Miss Sharon Deaton of Jackson.

Mr. Carl Hubbard of Rural Retreat, Virginia visited his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pickle a few days recently.

Please remember church and Sunday School. God is giving us such pretty warm weather at this time for which I am so very thankful. Love and pray for each other. God bless you all.

Home Line

Makes a Warm Shawl in Thirty Minutes
Grandma's warm and colorful shawl is back in style. A great place to shop for one is your local yard goods store.

You can turn a length of fabric into a stylish fringed shawl in about 30 minutes.

Don't worry about your sewing ability. If you can stitch a straight line and fold a square into a triangle, you're already halfway there.

Here are the instructions: Choose a warm, cozy fabric in colors that go with your fall and winter wardrobe. It should be loosely woven for easy fringing. Buy 1 1/4 yards of 45-inch material, or 1 1/2 yards of 54-inch material. The fabric needs to be as long as it is wide, because the finished shawl will be a square.

Machine stitch around all four sides about 1 inch or more from the edge, depending on how long you want the fringe to be. Then fringe the edges and fold fabric in half to form a triangle. That is your finished shawl.

Variations
You could make two shawls just alike out of the square of fringed fabric, one for yourself and one for a friend or relative who lives in another town. Just cut on the folded line and hem the edge of both triangles.
