Gathering Fire Firewood in Nat. Forest Can Be a Wholesale Family Experience

By Morgan Goodwin

The warming glow from a woodburning fireplace is a tantalizing sight these days as Jack Frost jolts Kentucky with temperatures reminent of that terrible winter of 77. Even during normal times, a hearth fire provides a delightful atmosphere of security and well-being in addition to raising the temperatures from the chilly to comfy level. Just as the enjoyment of a crackling fire at home can be a family experience, so can the chore of providing the wood that fuels the blaze.

Firewood is available on all seven ranger districts of the Daniel Boone National Forest completely free of charge to the public, representing a valuable return to the taxpayer. And there are "hitches" involved but a few requirements are imposed. The wood taken must be for personal use only, not for resale, and it must be cut and transported by the user. Private cutting any wood, it is necessary to obtain a permit from a district ranger who will point out designated areas on the Forest where cutting is permitted. With this in hand, the person waiting wood can go to it. In view of the heavy snowfalls Kentucky has had this winter, it would be wise to cut the rangers as the condition of roads in the Forest before setting out.

The average person can generally recognize trees by species groups. Those who recognize certain trees can put this knowledge to good use by selecting wood that has desirable qualities. Three characteristics of good firewood are high amount of heat given off, ease in burning and low smoke level. Species that are good for all these categories are oak, hickory, dogwood, beech and ash. There are others to be sure, but most tend to rate well in one category while not in another.

A wood cutting trip can be a wholesome family outing that provides all members an opportunity to become familiar with their national Forest, and at a time when there are few tourists about and traffic is light on Forest roads.

After Dad, assisted by Mom and the kids, cuts and loads the firewood into the family vehicle, there might be time to explore one of the hiking trails that are open year-round, enjoy a picnic lunch, catch glimpses of birds and other wildlife or perhaps feast their eyes on a beautiful view from a spectacular overlook. There are many such places on the Daniel Boone National Forest. The district ranger's office also can direct visitors to areas of interest that are open to the public throughout the year.

And what better way is there to top off a day like this than to enjoy the fruits of one's labor by leaning back into a comfortable chair beside a blazing fire? Following are the address and telephone number of ranger offices on the Daniel Boone National Forest:

Berea Ranger District, 204 Center Street, Berea, 986-8434; London Ranger Dist., U.S. Hwy. 25 South, London, 864-1163;

The Impact of External Appeal

The external appearance of your home has an important impact on potential buyers. You will never get a prospect interested unless he stops to look. Don't rely on the inside of your home "selling" it. Your prospect may be "turned off" before he reaches the front door. So look at the exterior with a critical eye.

Give the house a fresh coat of paint if needed. Replace any broken or cracked windows. Replace loose shingles. Fix the fence. Keep the lawn mowed and the shrubs trimmed to give your house that "well-cared-for" look. Make sure your screen or storm door is in top shape and your wooden door is inviting with a fresh coat of paint or varnish. It is not uncommon to see a hundred dollars worth of improvements are some elbow grease increase the value of a house over a thousand dollars.

Put yourself in the buyer's shoes. He is looking for charm, comfort, location and a bargain. Give him the best show for the money.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at Ford Realty & Auction Co., Inc., Mt. Vernon, Phone 256-4454. We're here to help!

In other action, the board renewed their fire insurance policy on city hall with Singleton-Ford Insurance and asked DeAlva Bussell to look into the purchase of a backhoe to help him in his work. Mr. Bussell was also instructed to purchase the purchase of a used backhoe with the price of renting one and to report back to the board.

The board then heard from Brian Bussell, a member of the Brodhead Fire Department, who presented them with a list of 11 buildings in the city limits of Brodhead on which he has received reports of being a fire hazard. There followed a lengthy discussion on this matter and Mr. Cox said that he had contacted these property owners before by letter with no action forthcoming. The council took no action on Mr. Bussell's report.

Bussell also asked the board if $2,600, which had been set aside by the previous council for a siren for the department, could instead be used for a communication system. Bussell said the old siren could be repaired. The council did not take any immediate action except to tell Mr. Bussell to look into the communications system thoroughly. Bussell also asked the council for $400 for supplies and equipment for the fire department and the board voted to take $500 out of revenue sharing funds and transfer it to the fire department's account.

School board meets; discusses make-up days

How Rockcastle County students will make up the 26 days of school they have missed thus far this year hasn't yet been decided. But, the school board did discuss some alternatives at their regular meeting Monday night.

A method for making up the missed school days cannot be decided upon until the state board meets and approves offered alternatives. Charles B. Farsons, school superintendent, said he hoped the school day would not have to be extended as it was last year.

Since 35 days had to be made up last year, the school day was extended by one hour and fifteen minutes. If that day is lengthened at all this year, the board is considering adding only 30 minutes to the school day. That way, one day could be made up every 2 weeks.

Superintendent parsons also suggested that if it would not put the end of school beyond the first week of June, the day be no longer but the year be lengthened.

The board voted to apply for five calamity days and to accept five disaster days for the year. The days are not yet officially approved but, according to the state board, are virtually certain. This would make the total number of days for the school year 185.

In other business, the board declared a state of emergency so a new boiler can be purchased for Mt. Vernon Elementary School. One of the two boilers at the school cracked recently and one will not heat the building sufficiently in severely cold weather.

The board voted to declare the state of emergency so that bids would not have to be accepted. A boiler was located at Brook McVey in Lexington at a cost of $8,300.

Some complaints have been received about the coal being supplied to the school by Roda Enterprises. Maintenance men at the school have said that there is dirt in the coal which is fouling the heating systems. The board decided to check into the situation more closely.

James A. Ross, a Lexington architect, presented the board with a new roofing process which could alleviate the problems presently being experienced at the county high school.

Ross is going to inspect the roof to see if the new process will work to eliminate leakage problems.

Kentucky Educational Television is donating money to some school systems to install cables in the school and the board voted to advertise for bids to install the cable at the high school. It also voted to accept bids for food for the school's lunchrooms and for a new roof at Brodhead Elementary School.

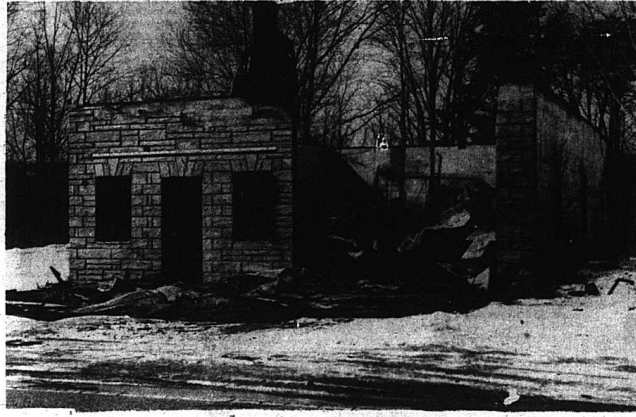

The new school board policy statement for Family Education Rights and Privacy Acts was also adopted by the board.

Sharon Baker was employed as a substitute teacher and William B. McWhorter was employed as a substitute bus driver.

The board also voted to lease its 1117 lbs. tobacco base to Bentley Durham at 50c per pound. The base was acquired with property the school board recently purchased near the high school.

Weather Report

Chance of light snow Thursday with continuing very cold temperatures.

This garage and apartment building on U.S. 150 burned early Sunday morning leaving a family homeless and destroying a great deal of machinery. The structure belonged to Elmer Ponder of Quail.

Deborah's Carley and her four children, ages 17, 15, 14 and 3, were unable to do anything from their upstairs apartment.

Rockcastle gets $271,900 HUD grant for fairgrounds purchase

Rockcastle County has been granted $271,900 in HUD funds under the Community Development Block Grant Program for purchase of the Brodhead Fairgrounds.

The County's Fiscal Court voted Tuesday to authorize County Judge Executive Hubert Thacker to request release of the funds. Money will be immediately available for an environmental review and for administrative costs. The environmental review has been completed.

The grant will be deposited in the Citizens Bank at Brodhead until the purchase is completed.

In other business, the court voted to put the position of Dog Warden into the sheriff's office. The position has been paid $350 per month and the sheriff's office said they would assume the responsibility for $250 a month. Deputy Sheriff Fred Abney was appointed to the position. The change will take effect March 1, 1978.

The court accepted contracts from nine individuals and corporations for emergency snow removed on the county's roads. The county has been paying $28 an hour for grader work, $38 an hour for loaders, and $15 an hour for tractors equipped with scrapers.

A $10,000 grant from the state has been used to pay the extra help.

The county judge and county clerk presented their 1977 settlements to the court. The clerk's settlement was $2513.54 and the judge's was $13,023.84.

Places for voting machines appear to be a premium in the county. Conway, Brown and West Mt. Vernon precincts have no place to put their machines. A redistricting will solve the problem for West Mt. Vernon by placing it in the courthouse, but Brown and Conway are still out in the cold.

First District Magistrate Frank Deborde raised a question before the court concerning the disposition of the ambulance service's funds. He requested a financial statement by the court's next meeting.

Sheriff Henry Lee Abney requested that the court buy a typewriter and a calculator for the sheriff's office. The court approved the request.

One of the more hazardous sight-ights of the severe weather in Rockcastle county has been the lack of garbage collection. According to Kenneth Cromer and Guy C. Martin, owners of Rockcastle

Sanitation who have the contract for removal of the garbage, trucks have been unable to get to the dumpsters to empty them because of the condition of the roads. County Judge Executive

Hubert Thacker said that as soon as the weather clears sufficiently, backhoes will be brought in to clean up the dump sites.

More snow removal funds

Every county in Kentucky and agencies who have assisted in the recent weather-related emergency will receive a portion of $2 million allocated by the General Assembly for disaster relief.

A joint resolution allocating the money, originally introduced Jan. 26, received its final passage today in the Senate.

Allocations are being made on the basis of a formula used for rural road funds with an additional calculation of 10 cents per capita for total county population. This covers $1,121,851, 40 of the allocation, Sen. Tom Garrett (D) Paducah told the Senate.

The remaining money is to be used to assist charitable organizations which have exhausted their treasuries to help the citizens of the Commonwealth during the emergency.

Allocations to counties will be in addition to the $10,000 already provided by Gov. Julian Carroll to each county in the state to help offset costs of snow removal.

Garrett told his colleagues in the Senate that others, not specifically covered in the legislation should request information from the Governor's office. Questions were raised regarding unincorporated agencies such as the mud-slingers who provided four-wheel drive vehicles in McCracken County and school boards who had to hire equipment to clean snow from school property.

The resolution passed the Senate without a dissenting vote. Allegation for Rockcastle County was $2,216,197.

Two county men get conservation awards

At the January meeting of the Rockcastle Conservation District, Lloyd Cain and Jack Dailey were recognized for ten years of service to the citizens of Rockcastle County and the Rockcastle Conservation District. Lloyd Cain is the Secretary-Treasurer and Jack Dailey is a member of the Rockcastle Conservation District Board of Supervisors.

During the past 10 years these men have actively participated in Conservation District programs and have worked to promote conservation throughout the county. These men live by their word and each have farms which are practical examples of on-the-land conservation. Besides being outstanding Conservationists, each contributes to the development of the county's youth. Lloyd is the Co-ordinator for programs at the Harry Sparks Vocational School and Jack is an Electricity Instructor at the school. Rockcastle County can be proud of these men and the contributions each has made.

If your farm has conservation problems that you need help with contact Lloyd Cain or Jack Dailey, two outstanding members of the Rockcastle Conservation District.

Both were recognized for ten years of service to the citizens of the county and the District.

Brodhead Town Council meets; hires new clerk, discusses curfew

The Brodhead Town Board met for their regular monthly meeting Monday night and hired Mrs. LaJoy Graves as City Clerk over four other applicants.

As the first item of business for the evening, the board considered two applications for the job of streetsweeper. After some discussion, David Brock was hired for this position by a unanimous vote of the board.

Mrs. Mullins then reported on the dumpsters in the city park which Rockcastle Sanitation has been asked to move. Mrs. Mullins said that, to date, the city's request for removal of the dumpsters had not been acted upon.

Mrs. Lillian Collett then made a motion to have the general books from the previous year audited. Mrs. Collett said that she preferred this to be done before the books were accepted by the new town board. The situation was discussed thoroughly with board member Johnny Wilcox stating that if the books were to be audited, he felt the work should be done by a C.P.A. However, after quite a bit of discussion, no action was taken on the motion and Mrs. Collett asked that it be read into the minutes that she would accept no responsibility for any actions or mistakes of the previous boards.

The board then discussed whether or not a road in Frith's Subdivision should be graded by the city since it is located within the city limits. The board members agreed it should be graded and passed a motion to that effect which also included the placement of a culvert in the same road because of a creek running across the road.

A curfew for Brodhead was, then discussed by the board. Mrs. Collett had looked up a city ordinance on this matter and found that a curfew could be imposed from 9:30 p.m. to 5 a.m. for anyone under the age of 18, unless accompanied by a parent or guardian.

This brought on some heated discussion between the members and City Attorney Jerry Cox told the board that he didn't favor nor think such an ordinance could be enforced since it was now illegal to arrest anyone for loitering. Mr. Cox also said that the city already had laws on their books concerning disturbing the peace, etc. and that he felt if these laws were enforced a curfew law would not be necessary. The matter passed without any action.

ERA bill dies in committee

Two weeks ago the Signal conducted a poll among our readers concerning the re-reading of Kentucky's ratification of the proposed Equal Rights Amendment.

At that time, we said a bill had been drafted in the Kentucky Senate to rescind the ratification but the bill was in danger of never reaching the Senate floor.

The bill has now been killed in committee by a vote of 3-2 and is, for all practical purposes, dead.

In order for the bill to be reintroduced, 20 of the 36 Senators would have to vote to bring it to the floor of the Senate. This would mean automatic rescission by the Senate because 20 is a simple majority and that is all that is needed.

However, according to State Rep. Harold DeMarcus, such an occurrence is very nearly impossible since most of Kentucky's Senators favor E.R.A.

DeMarcus drew up a bill rescinding the ratification would pass through the Kentucky Senate with a margin would be about 65-35. At this point however, no such bill has been introduced in the House.

More ballots have been received from readers on our poll and the exact figures are 23% in favor of E.R.A. and 77% against.

Bullock hired

Finney transferred

Jess "Frankie" Bullock, 22-year-old native of Rockcastle County, has been named area field service director for the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation.

Frankie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Bullock of Mt. Vernon.

Bullock will work with 12 county Farm Bureaus in southwestern Kentucky. He replaces David Finney, who is transferring to area which includes Lexington and much of the Bluegrass area of Central Kentucky.

A graduate of Mt. Vernon High School, Bullock is currently completing work on a BA degree in business administration. He also attended Somerset Community College.

He has worked previously for the Bank of Mt. Vernon and First Security National Bank. Frank and his wife Judy plan to make their home in the Somerset area.

Finney, 25, has worked with the organization since June 1977. He formerly served as tobacco supervisor for Philip Morris Tobacco Company in Ecuador and the Dominican Republic.

Bullock's 12-county work area includes Clinton, Wayne, McCreary, Whitley, Bell, Knox, Laurel, Pulaski, Russell, Adair, Taylor and Casey counties.

Finney will be working in the following counties: Trimble, Carroll, Gallatin, Henry, Owen, Shelby, Franklin, Scott, Anderson, Woodford, Fayette and Bourbon.

Unemployment

up to 5.3%

Kentucky's unemployment rate rose in December to 5.3 percent, according to figures released last week by the Department for Human Resources.

Robert MacDonald, chief labor analyst for the state, said, "The rate represents a 0.8 percent increase from November and brings the percent of unemployment to the same level as in December of 1976."

According to MacDonald, seasonal layoffs in the construction and service industries were the primary cause of the jump in unemployment rates.

The national rate for the same period was 6.0 percent. The jobless rate in the eastern Kentucky region represented the greatest increase in the commonwealth, 1.2 percent to 6.4 percent of the work force.

While striking workers from the coal mines are not counted as unemployed, others in related fields are affected and are figured in the unemployment rates.

Menifee County had the highest rate of unemployment at 9.5 percent with Elliott County low at 4.2 percent.

Rockcastle County unemployment figure for December stands at 5.9 percent.

Vet counselor

Mr. Spencer G. Meredith, a veteran counselor of the Department of Human Resources, Kentucky Center for Veterans Affairs, will be present February 17 at the Courthouse in Mt. Vernon. Mr. Meredith is a decorated veteran and their dependents with claims for benefits due them as a result of their military service. He will be present from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

The Frankfort Report

By Paul L. Whalen

Last week was another four day work week for the Kentucky General Assembly. The General Assembly did not meet Monday, January 30th in observance of the birthday of President Franklin Roosevelt.

The State House of Representatives passed a bill which would legalize the production and distribution of the controversial drug laetrile for the treatment of cancer in Kentucky. An amendment was added to the bill, that would discourage profiteering on the drug by limiting its sale price to no more than 25% of the cost of its manufacture. The bill, if passed into law would allow Kentucky doctors to prescribe laetrile upon a request made by a patient on a written consent form. Doctors would not be liable for disciplinary action in connection with prescription of the drug; nor for malpractice or negligence when a patient decides to use the drug as the only treatment for cancer. The bill has been sent to the Senate to await further action.

A move to rescind Kentucky's ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) failed its first test last week in the General Assembly. Senate Joint Resolution 4 was defeated by a 3 to 2 vote in the Senate Committee on Elections and Constitutional Amendments.

Senator Walter Baker (R-Glasgow) introduced a bill which would allow all Kentucky women to use their maiden names on their drivers' licenses.

A bill was introduced in the House of Representatives which would require continuing education for nurses in Kentucky. Under the proposed legislation, all licensed nurses in Kentucky would be required to complete five hours of continuing education in 1982. That would increase to 10 hours of additional training in 1983 and 15 hours yearly thereafter. The legislation would also add licensed practical nurse representatives to the state Board of Nursing.

State Representative Jim LeMaster (D-Lexington) has drafted legislation which would require the governor to call a special session of the legislature when two-thirds of the members of each House petition for an extraordinary session.

32 members of the Kentucky House of Representatives have co-sponsored legislative resolution which would appropriate $100,000 to the Legislative Research Commission to study the feasibility of a legislative office building. The building would house offices for members of the General Assembly. Presently there are no offices for members of the General Assembly.

Senator Bert Ed Polittie (D-Harlan) and Representative Roger Noe (D-Harlan) have sponsored legislation which would establish a community flood abatement program in the Department for Natural Resources. The program would assist flood-prone counties and communities in developing flood control projects. The program would be financed with 10% of severance tax revenues.

The House Highways and Traffic Safety Committee approved a bill to raise traffic fines to help guarantee continued state funding of supplemental pay raises for local policemen. The bill would raise the minimum fines for various traffic violations by $15.

State Representative Kenneth Imes (D-Murray) has introduced a measure which would simplify the wording of laws passed by the General Assembly. It states "All bills introduced in the General Assembly after the effective date of this act shall be written in non-technical language and in a clear and coherent manner using words with common and everyday meaning."

A stiffer shoplifting bill has been introduced in the House. It would allow a merchant to detain a suspect for a reasonable period of time until the police arrive to take custody of the suspect.

The Senate has unanimously approved a bill to amend the Kentucky Constitution to permit more than two amendments to be submitted at one time to Kentucky voters.

Legislative News

By Rep. Harold DeMarcus

Today, I would like to speak with you on a subject that I have felt strongly about for some time. When one thinks of all the problems perpetrated on this great Commonwealth, such things as crime, unemployment and the basic adjustments of our children in this society. I ask myself, what is the answer; of course, there are no easy answers, but I feel that education is a very good place to start. In past years, Kentucky has begun to reach a comparative level with other states in the realm of dollars spent to educate each child. However, my main subject today is school teacher salary allotments.

It is my feeling that in the past, Kentucky has fallen short in its responsibility to the citizens when it has come time to secure the very best teachers for our children. By this, I mean Kentucky has not paid its teachers as well as other states; because of this, we are finding it difficult to keep our good teachers in the state. I feel that the very least we could do is set the salaries of Kentucky teachers on a similar scale with that of other states.

The average teacher's salary in Kentucky should increase to the average of the seven surrounding states by fiscal year 1980. The governor's recommended budget includes average salary allotment increases of $1,480 and $1,465 for fiscal years 1979-80, respectively. This increase, accompanied by continued local school district support, will increase the average teacher's salary from approximately $11,700 in the current school year to at least $14,615 in the 1979-80 school year. Assuming six percent annual increases for teachers in the surrounding states, the surrounding state average for 1979-80 will approximate $14,610.

The improvement in teachers' salaries will improve the state salary ranking among all states. Kentucky ranks 38th among all states, according to National Education Association figures. In level of the average teacher's salary for 1976-77. Recommended salary increases will improve this ranking to about 24th nationally in the 1979-80 school year. Kentucky's ranking for 1974-75 was only 46th.

As is always the case, Kentucky's estimated per pupil expenditure level will increase as additional funds are expended for salaries. The 1976-77 ranking of 43rd among all states in per pupil expenditure level should increase dramatically with the recommended salary improvements. The salary increases will also keep Kentucky's state support per pupil among the highest in the country, approximately 11th by 1979-80.

Although, the average salary allotment increase will exceed $1,400 each year of 1978-80, biennium, the minimum salary schedule will not increase in each experience and education category by the average increase. Salary increases will be incorporated in the scheduled for more experienced and better educated teachers, while the less experienced teachers with limited education will realize less than average salary increases.

There are, however, several members of the Appropriations and Revenue committee who feel that the educators with more education will receive too much of a pay increase. These people believe that the teachers with the highest degree are many times in administrative positions within the school system. These educators are not actually in the classroom, in accordance with this line of thought, they believe that the teachers in the classroom deserve an equal pay increase. It is their opinion that this is the way to improve the caliber of teachers and the educational system in Kentucky.

The governor has state plainly in his executive budget that funds for teachers in each rank shall be allotted for 1978-79 as follows:

MA or equivalent plus 90 hr. graduate work with 0-3 years experience, $14,770; 4-9 years experience, $16,767; 10-15 years experience, $18,764; 16-20 years experience, $20,761; 21-25 years experience, $22,758; 26-30 years experience, $24,755; 31-35 years experience, $26,752; 36-40 years experience, $28,749; 41-45 years experience, $30,746; 46-50 years experience, $32,743; 51-55 years experience, $34,740; 56-60 years experience, $36,737; 61-65 years experience, $38,734; 66-70 years experience, $40,731; 71-75 years experience, $42,728; 76-80 years experience, $44,725; 81-85 years experience, $46,722; 86-90 years experience, $48,719; 91-95 years experience, $50,716; 96-100 years experience, $52,713.

MA degree or equivalent; 0-3 years experience, $12,800; 4-9 years experience, $14,800; 10 years and over experience, $16,800.

4-yr. college degree or equivalent; 0-3 years exp; $9,200; 4-9 years exp; $11,200; 10 years or over exp; $13,200.

96 to 128 approved college hours; 0-3 years, $7,510; 4-9 years, 7,510; 10 years and over, $7,510.

64 to 96 approved college hours; 0-3 years, $6,630; 4-9 years, $6,630 and 10 years and over, $6,630.

The above scale is given for your information only and I take no stand on the final issue. The scale listed above is in the budget, and, as far as I know, will stay that way. *****

ENGAGEMENT TOLD- Mr. and Mrs. David F. Cash of Brodhead announce the engagement of their daughter, Allison Elaine, to Roger D. Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edd Reynolds, Jr. of Orlando.

The wedding will be an event of March 5, 1978 at 3 p.m. at the Providence Church of Christ. All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend.

Christ Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. Terry Hood of Somerset spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Thompson.
Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Thompson and daughter of Science Hill visited Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Thompson, Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Tex Payne and Mr. and Mrs. William Wisbail all of Hamilton, Ohio attended the funeral of Vietor Todd at Providence Church of Christ last week.
Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Owens of Mason, Ohio spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Burton.
Mrs. Dovie McClure visited Mr. and Mrs. Russell Long recently.
Mrs. Ora Lee Hurst has been confined to her home with the flu. She is improving some and is able to be out.
Mrs. Marie Burton and Janet Burton were in Somerset shopping recently.
Mrs. Cordia Gooch is ill in a Stanford Hospital.
Eugene Shepherd preached at Fairview Church of Christ Sunday.
Russell Long visited Mr. and Mrs. George Todd recently.
Mrs. Ola Burton spent Saturday night with Mrs. Dianne Adams and Kevin Somerset.
Mrs. Ruth Measel remains ill in a hospital in Kettering, Ohio.
Mrs. Anna Wright of Ottawa visited Mrs. Maggie Herrin Saturday.
Celia Thompson visited Mrs. Maggie Herrin recently.
As stated in the news two weeks ago, Janet Burton is not attending Somerset Community College but is a Senior at Eastern Kentucky University and is presently doing a Rehabilitation Counselor's Practicum at the Bureau for Rehabilitation Services in Somerset. Janet is living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Burton.

Eat it along with a glass of cold milk and an apple.
A Hot Breakfast:
For a heating-stove or fireplace breakfast, you might prepare hot cocoa, a cooked cereal, or a breakfast meat and eggs. Use a waffle rack for toasting bread on the stove-top.
If you have just a small cooking surface, cook the cereal, meat or eggs first, then heat the beverage.

Camp Stoves and Grills
Long-handled tools used for camp-out cooking are good for fireplace cookery, too. You could also use a camp stove to cook a hot meal, but you might get pretty cold yourself in the process because you'll need to use it outdoors or in a breezeway where fumes won't enter the house.
Be extra careful with those volatile camp-stove fuels, and don't store them in the house. Never set up a charcoal grill in the house, for those fumes are poisonous, unless you set a small barbecue right in the fireplace where the fumes will go up the chimney.

Main-Dish Suggestions
Split pea soup cooked with a meaty bone from cooked ham; vegetable soup made from your canned or frozen garden vegetables; spaghetti and meat sauce; chili; old-fashioned chicken stew or beef stew; and ground beef casserole.
Desserts
Apples or pears baked in a dutch oven; milk puddings; and hot chocolate sauce to serve over ice cream-if your freezer is still going. Cook-out desserts, such as a Graham cracker and marshmallow sandwich toasted over the coals, are also fun to prepare.

Foods To Have On Hand
When the forecast is for blizzards, heavy snows or sub-zero temperatures, you can be at least partly ready for the weather with a cupboard full of staples: dry milk, evaporated milk, canned juices and soups, crackers and pastas, healthy one-dish meals, canned fruits and vegetables, and canned meats.
Have an emergency supply of 5 or 6 gallons of water, too, just in case.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS
Confident Parenting Promotes Good Mental Health
Every child's birthright should assure "loving and intelligent parenting." It is his courage, confidence and a caring attitude to be an effective parent! Sometimes it demands self-sacrifice and enough maturity to be able to put the infant's or child's needs ahead of our own.

LOVE of parents for each other and LOVE for their child will ease this business of making necessary sacrifices.
Confident parenting promotes good mental health and can be achieved by working cooperatively with the obstetrician, pediatrician, family physician and visiting nurse-to name a few of the helping people.
Joining a parent group such as the LaMaze group (which prepares women for the childbirth experience) or the neighborhood coffee break group is useful.

COFFEE DAY RESULTS
In spite of inclement weather "Coffee Day" in Rockcastle County was a success. The total collected was $192.47, only a few dollars less than last year's.

Emergency Meals
When the gas fuel for your range runs low or the electricity is cut off, you can still prepare hearty, hot meals for your family.
One-dish meals cooked in heavy aluminum or cast iron over a coal- or wood-burning heating stove, or a makeshift cooking grate in your fireplace, can come to your rescue.
You could simmer a pot roast for hours on a wood or coal stove that is burning low, adding the vegetables during the last half hour.

Fireplace Cookery
In your fireplace, stop up the grate with some bricks, flat stones, or concrete blocks. You could use a screen, cake rack or a grate from a charcoal grille.
Wait until your wood or coal fire has burned down to glowing embers and choose a meat that cooks fairly quickly.
For a snacking treat, pop corn in a heavy cooking pot or oblong-fashioned wire-basket pepper with a long handle.

It Was The Safest January on Record

Last month was the safest January on record for Kentucky motorists according to Kentucky State Police statistics.

The 24 traffic fatalities registered last month make this year's first month the safest January since the State Police started keeping records in 1947, Justice Secretary John L. Smith said. He said the low fatality rate can be attributed to the bad weather the Commonwealth is experiencing.

"First of all, there were few motorists out on the highways most of the month because of the hazardous conditions. Most Kentuckians heeded Gov. Carroll's ban on unnecessary travel," Smith said. "Secondly, those motorists who were forced to venture out onto the highways drove with extreme caution, for the most part."

Smith said the State Police highway fatality records usually parallel the weather conditions, indicating that Kentucky experienced the worst weather this January than in any January since 1947.

"When the weather is as bad as it has been, few people venture out of their homes," Smith said. "This we have fewer accidents." Under adverse conditions, most people stay off the roads; or if they have to be out on the roads, drive with good, common sense.

BEEA STUDENTS DO RESEARCH IN TRACING ANCESTORS

Most of us believe that one of our ancestors was somebody special, and would like to know more about our backgrounds, our "roots." But how do you go about finding out?

That is the problem 19 students at Berea College are tackling in a month-long class in "Techniques of Genealogical Research" taught by Dr. Richard Sears, associate professor of English.

And once you start it can become a life-long hobby.

"It's like detective work," says Dr. Sears. "You are continually hunting for clues."

It is also good training in research techniques for prospective scholars. He knows by studying documents in Scotland and England he has traced his Sears ancestors as far back as the late 1500's. The first Sears in America, also named Richard, settled in Plymouth Colony in 1820.

"This sort of research is fun," he says. "And I think here is a lot of satisfaction from the historical perspective you gain on your own life. Genealogy should not be an exercise in egotism. I'm against snob appeal—just trying to turn up royalty. You are not better or worse for the actions of your ancestors."

Unless your forefathers were important people, your research will probably stop in the early 1500's, because that is when parish priests first began keeping birth records of the common people.

One student in the class discovered, from a book a distant relative wrote years ago, that a kinsman, married the daughter of an English prince. With such information, Dr. Sears said, it may even be possible to trace that branch of the family back 1100 years to the time of Charlemagne.

But you have to be prepared for the bad things, too; the same student found that another relative murdered two of his wives.

If you want to do research yourself, here's how the students started.

First, they constructed a family history chart, listing themselves at the top, then father and mother, their parents and so on as far back as they could. They got this information from grandparents, oldest living relatives and family Bibles.

With this the students proceeded to work out their genealogy charts, adding brothers and sisters and additional marriages in each generation. They then began investigating public records to fill in the gaps with more names, places, and dates of births and deaths. But they needed to have some information first, before looking at the records.

Tomstones usually show birth and death dates; some large cemeteries also keep records that can be helpful.

County courthouses will let you look at land deeds, wills and marriage records if you know what years you want to investigate.

Early census records in the Kentucky Historical Society can be of great help also. They sometimes explain relationships, list full names, give birth dates. You can also help for people with your surname and check to see if they are relatives, perhaps tracing the family history even further. The society also has tax rolls, county histories and other information. The Mountain Collection in Lexington has many records and histories of Appalachian counties in eight states.

A helpful text on genealogical research is a paperback book, "Searching for Your Ancestors" by Gilbert H. Doane.

Two Broadhead students are member of this class. They are Deborah Brock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Brock and Janetta Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Reynolds.

Rocket's Defeat Monticello; Lose to Oneida, Lincoln Co.

By: Rick Amberlin

The Rockcastle Rockets traveled to Monticello last Friday night and came away with a 62-55 decision. The Rockets' scoring punch came from where it had been lacking - the guard position. Jack Farthing and David Pensol combined for 30 of the 62 points. Steve Center, who is in a slump, scored only 9 points - a big change from his usual 16 or so an outing.

The scoring was split up from then on with Walter Browning coming off the bench for 6 but grabbing a devastating 12 rebounds. Browning was aided on the boards by Larry Harmon and Center who got 5 and 7, respectively.

Harmon, who usually has a good game on the boards and in the scoring column, has been getting into early foul trouble of late and having to watch a lot of the action from the sidelines. He, along with Eddie Thompson, scored 4 points on the night. Warren Cash came off the bench to get 5 points and Frank Phillips got 4.

Rockcastle then ventured to Oneida Saturday night, expecting to come away with an easy victory, but it wasn't to be as Oneida handed the Rockets a 2-point defeat 49-51.

The Rockets came out playing sluggishly and could never break the trend. They did fight back in the second half to take the lead in the late going but couldn't hold on as they lost the contest on a 44st second dunk by Oneida's Ben Franklin a sophomore who gave Rockcastle fits all night. Franklin finally ended up with 23 points for his efforts.

The game was marred by several conflicts among the players - one such incident resulted in a technical on Oneida's Franklin. Following Eddie Thompson with a flying elbow.

The Rockets were a much better team but just couldn't put it together. Actually, it was felt by those who attended the game that the officials didn't help the situation any and they did do a poor job of calling the game. But, this shouldn't have made that big a difference because Rockcastle was the much better team and were just not playing the caliber of ball they are capable of playing.

The Rockets were led in scoring once again by guard Jack Farthing who picked up 13 on the night. Center added 12 while Pensol got 10, Harmon 8, Thompson 4 and Cash 2.

The Rockets hosted Lincoln County Tuesday night and suffered their second loss in their last three outings, 74 to 58.

Ahead by 6 points at half-time, the Rockets blew the lead and watched Lincoln County reel off 10 unanswered in the final minutes.

Leading scorer for the Rockets was Thompson with 14, Harmon and Center got 12 each. Cash 10, Fensol 6 and Hammond and Browning, 2 each.

Eternal Truth

IN OUR

Faith Healers or Fake Healers?

Many sincere people are deceived by religious racketeers claiming the power to miraculously heal. These so-called "faith healers" should be exposed as "fake healers". They may effect certain psychosomatic "cures" in some cases, but they cannot miraculously heal the sick and raise the dead as the apostles of Christ did in the New Testament. Their healings (miracles) were divinely performed, not for personal gain or notoriety, or as a gimmick for drawing crowds.

Those who claim to work miracles of healing today ignore the state PURPOSE of Bible miracles. The Bible teaches that miracles performed to CONFORM the spoken word. Before the New Testament was initiated to permanent written form, the apostles performed miracles to confirm the oral revelation (Heb. 2:3-4; Mk. 16:20; Acts 14:3). Since the completion and confirmation of the New Testament in the first century A.D., genuine miracles of healing have ceased (I Cor. 13:8-10, 13).

Fake healers today attempt to cover up their failures by saying that the disappointed subject had insufficient faith to be healed. This "dogma" will not work because Bible miracles did not always require faith on the part of the subject. Consider the wicked man named Elyman who was blinded in Acts 19:35. Elyman had no faith, but he was still blinded. Let the "workers of miracles" today miraculously blind their opponents as Paul did here. Such demonstrations are conspicuously absent in these confrontations with opponents of their deceptions. You may ask, "But what about the testimonials of those who are supposedly miraculously healed?" Comparable "testimonials" are offered by users of Geritol, Carter's Liver Pills, Alka-Seltzer and Excedrin!

A contrast between the real miraculous healing in the New Testament and the fakery of modern "healers" is enlightening. In the Bible (1) ALL MANNER of disease was healed; not merely unseen, internal ailments; (2) no failures occurred; (3) healing was NOT necessarily conditioned on the faith of the one to be healed; (4) healing was instantaneous, not gradual; (5) healing was complete, never partial; (6) healing was permanent, not temporary; (7) miracles were undeniable, and above propaganda campaign; (8) NO CONTRIBUTION was taken in connection with Biblical healings. Modern faith healers strike out on every count!

The Bible says, "Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because several have gone out into the world" (I John 4:1).
