

Legislative News

By Rep. Harold DeMarcus

The 1978 General Assembly has reached its mid-point. The House of Representatives has introduced 418 bills and passed 43 bills. The Senate has introduced 230 bills and passed 66 bills. To date, there are 4 bills on the governor's desk awaiting action and 2 bills have become law. Although the 1978 legislative session started briskly, it has been painfully slowed by the inclement weather and the huge amount of time that must be spent on budget hearings. I would like to take this opportunity to inform you further about proposed changes in our education systems. Also, I should like to discuss the controversial laetrile bill passed in the House of Representatives last week.

There are certain school subjects that the state requires the school systems teach our children. Some of these subjects are English, mathematics and humanities. The funds allocated for the teaching of these "regular classroom units" arrive from a long established revenue source.

Governor Carroll has proposed to phase out the "bonus unit" program in the next four years. The "bonus unit" program, for those of you who have not been informed, is a funding system for courses taught in the school systems which do not fall within the "regular classroom units" in the aforementioned paragraph. These "bonus unit" courses encompass special education for our exceptional children and vocational education. The governor did state that this type of education will not be omitted, but that he will seek to derive funds for these courses from the bonus unit from other sources. These so called other sources, supposedly, will not come from the increase in teacher's salaries. Presently, it is not known from whence the governor will propose revenue allotment for the special and vocational education programs. However, we will know.

Rockcastle County school system received effects caused by the omission of the bonus unit program: Amount lost by foundation program category thru loss of "bonus unit" - $140,707; percentage of foundation support represented by bonus deduction - 6%; amount gained by foundation program category thru governor's recommended budget - $419,322; and net gain was $278,655.

Laetrile (amygdalin) is an alleged cure for some types of cancer. It is made from apricot pits, a variant of vitamin B17, and has been in use for fifty years.

On Thursday, February 2, 1978, the House of Representatives passed H.Ouse Bill 70 with floor amendment #2. Currently the statute in effect states that laetrile cannot be sold in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. If House Bill 70 becomes law, it would permit, but not require, any physician to prescribe laetrile to a patient who has executed a written informed request from which is set forth in the bill. The executed request forms would be filed with the state board of health and would relieve the physician of liability arising directly from the patient's election to use laetrile as the sole treatment. The Department for Human Resources, hospitals (unless threatened with curtailment of federal funds), and the Board of Pharmacy would be prohibited from making any rule or regulation forbidding the use or sale of laetrile. The Department for Human Resources would be responsible for licensing and regulating the manufacture of laetrile, and interstate dissemination would be prohibited.

The true issue in the laetrile legislation was one of "free choice". By this I mean, if laetrile will not harm a patient, he should then have the choice of using it if he wishes. Some legislators felt the only danger here would be that patients would forsake established treatments of cancer such as chemotherapy and surgery and use laetrile only, and that there would be some unscrupulous people who would take advantage of other people who want laetrile by making too large of a profit from its sale. Floor amendment #2, which passed with House Bill 70 is a safeguard against these two dangerous criteria. Floor amendment #2 permits prescription of laetrile, if in the physician's judgement will not interfere with other treatment or medication he may wish to prescribe, also requiring that not more than 25 percent over the cost of producing laetrile be charged to the patient. The vote in the House of Representatives was 79 votes for House Bill 70, 14 votes against and 7 members not voting.

Taxpayers May Designate

To Presidential Campaign

By Bob Kotel

Just by checking the "Yes" box on their income tax Form 1040 or 1040A, taxpayers can designate a dollar of their tax for the 1978 Presidential Campaign Fund, according to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

As with designations to the 1976 Campaign Fund, when taxpayers earmarked approximately $95 million to eligible Presidential candidates, checking off to the Fund will not increase the amount of tax paid or decrease the amount of refund due, the IRS explained.

The 1980 Presidential Election Campaign Fund is an outgrowth of 1971 legislation permitting taxpayers, with a tax liability of $1 or more to designate $1 of their tax yearly, when filing a return, to such a fund.

On joint returns, where the taxpayers have an income tax liability of $2 or more, both husband and wife may designate $1 to the Fund. Those not wishing to contribute to the Fund can check the "No" box on the same line, the IRS said.

For additional information about the 1980 Campaign Fund and tax deductions and credits for political contributions, taxpayers can fill out the handy coupon in their tax packages for a copy of free IRS Publication 588, "Voluntary Tax Methods to Help Finance Political Campaigns." Or call IRS toll-free: Louisville, 884-1981; Lexington, 253-2333; elsewhere throughout Kentucky, 1-800-292-6570; Hours are 8:15 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. EST.

Q. My wife entered the hospital in mid-December and may be there until the end of January. We've heard that the Medicare hospital insurance deductible was increased for 1978. Does she have to pay the new amount?

A. Not for this hospital stay. The 1978 hospital insurance deductible, $144, applies to benefit periods which start on or after January 1978. Since your wife started a benefit period—entered the hospital—in 1977, the 1977 hospital insurance deductible of $124 applies.

County Agent's Notes

Beef Cattle Need Vitamin A Supplement This Winter

A winter deficiency of Vitamin A can steal profits from your beef cattle herd. The green plants your cattle eat at other times of the year are good sources of material they can convert to Vitamin A, but in winter, the opportunity to get enough of that material is reduced.

Forages pass their optimum maturity stage when cut, weather damaged in curing, or stored for long periods may not be good sources of the vitamin.

Vitamin A should be the vitamin of greatest concern to beef producers since it can become deficient more easily than the other vitamins.

Symptoms of Vitamin A deficiency include night blindness, muscle incoordination, convulsions, abortions or the birth of dead, weak or blind calves. Deficient cows also are more likely to have retained placentas than are cows with plenty of vitamin A.

Beef cattle should have at least 30,000 International Units (IU) of vitamin A each day. Massive intramuscular injections or large feedings of a commercial supplement can supply enough of the vitamin for several weeks, since large amounts can be stored in the liver.

If massive doses of a commercial supplement are fed (such as 1,000,000 IU) the supplement should be mixed with a small amount of palatable grain.

A commercial supplement can be mixed with salt for daily feeding. To supply a cow with sufficient vitamin A, mix 1 pound of 10,000 IU per gram supplement, or 1/2 pound of a 30,000 IU per gram supplement, with salt to make 10 total pounds. Cattlemen should not make more than a 7 to 10 day supply of the salt-vitamin mixture, since the vitamin loses activity as it gains moisture.

The Queen of Hay-Alfalfa

Alfalfa is the cheapest and best hay crop known. To get a good stand and keep it producing at a high rate is what all farmers want.

Here is a check list on how to get a good stand: 1) Use the best drained land on the farm; 2) lime and fertilize according to soil test. When heavy amounts of lime are recommended, put the lime on six months to a year ahead of seeding; 3) prepare a firm seedbed well ahead of seeding time; 4) use certified seed of a recommended variety; 5) inoculate the seed the day of seeding; 6) make your seeding at the correct time. In the spring after March 1, in the late summer, before September 10; 7) seed at recommended rates; 8) cover the seed lightly after seeding. A corrugated plastic is ideal if you have one; and 9) on spring seedings be sure and wait until full bloom before you cut the first crop.

Following are the recommended seeding rates: Alfalfa alone - 12 to 15 pounds per acre. Alfalfa with orchard grass-10 to 13 pounds of alfalfa with 4 to 6 pounds of orchard grass per acre. Alfalfa with tall fescue - 10 to 13 pounds of alfalfa with 4 to 6 pounds of tall fescue. 5 to 6 pounds of bluegrass with 10 to 13 pounds of alfalfa per acre. With Clair Timothy-mix 3 to 4 pounds of timothy with 10 to 13 pounds of alfalfa-10 to 13 pounds of alfalfa per acre. With a mix with 10 to 13 pounds of alfalfa per acre.

Now Is The Time To Think of Summer Flowers

Now is the time for all good gardeners to start working on next summer's flower garden. Get out those seed catalogs and order your seeds. If you are going to start flower seeds indoors, make the first plantings this month. For early flowering, sow the following seeds in February: Asters, Begonias (both fibrous and tuberous), Delphinium, Fancies, Impatiens, Petunias, Snaps and Sweet Peas. The earlier they are planted, the more head start they will have next spring.

Try using vermiculite (available at most nurseries and garden supply stores) for starting seeds. It's completely sterile, but remember that if you are going to leave plants in vermiculite for any time after germination, you have to feed them. For transplanted seedlings, several types of peat pots give excellent results.

With a little planning, you can have a complete flower garden just waiting and ready to go under the first good day of spring. *****

City Council meets; discusses construction

At Monday night's meeting of the Mt. Vernon City Council, construction of a new storage building in the rear of City Hall was discussed. Mayor Roland Mullins told the Council that $25,000 in Coal Severance money was available for the construction of the building and for the laying of brick around city hall.

However, Mayor Mullins said that several items still needed to be submitted before the funds could be released and advertisements for bids for the bricklaying, materials and purchase of the pre-fabricated storage building.

Councilman Chester Hellard asked the Council to consider the cutting off of street lights to help with the conservation of electricity. However, other council members did not favor the complete cut out of street lights and, after some discussion, City Attorney Carl Clontz was asked to draft a resolution encouraging all city residents to conserve electricity where possible and to cut back on the use of street lights where feasible.

Another matter before the Council for discussion concerned an $1100 water bill to Cedar Rapids County Club. A water line broke at the club causing the use of over 2,000,000 gallons of water in one month. The Council had been asked if there was anything they could do about the bill since it was due to a break in a water line. However, the council decided there was nothing except to possibly allow the club to make deferred payments on the bill as they have done in other cases.

Mayor Mullins was asked by the Council to approach members of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court concerning the equal sharing of payments to the jailer for radio dispatching for the policemen. At present, the city is paying $100 per month, the county $50 and Broodhead and Livingston $25 a month each. Mr. Mullins will suggest to the Fiscal Court that it would be more equal for the City to pay $75 a month and the county a like amount.

Matt Powell, Water Superintendent, brought the Council members attention to the fact that the city water plant has been called upon recently to pump as high as 862,000 gallons of water a day as compared to the average of about 750,000 gallons.

Mr. Powell said the plant had a capability of 1,000,000 gallons but that he felt the Council should be considering alternatives if the area began to expand rapidly or were called upon to supply more water to the water districts. The major problem seems to be the size of water line running from the water plant at Reno Valley to the tank. This line will only take a 1,033,000 gallon a day capacity, even though the water plant is capable of pumping more.

Mayor Mullins suggested to the Council that this item be put on the agenda for discussion at Thursday night's called meeting with a representative of the company preparing the 201 facilities survey.

A truck carrying 43,000 lbs. of Trifluralin, a herbicide toxic to animals, wrecked about 10 miles north of Mt. Vernon on I-75 last Thursday. There was some spillage of the chemical into Roundstone Creek. The driver of the truck, Henry Ivey, of Atlanta, Georgia, received back injuries and facial cuts from the accident.

Herbicide truck wrecks on I-75

A truck hauling 43,000 pounds of a potent herbicide wrecked on Interstate 75 about 10 miles north of Mt. Vernon early last Thursday morning.

A small amount of the chemical, Trifluralin spilled into Roundstone Creek when about 15 of the 55-gallon drums ruptured. The creek was dammed to prevent contamination further downstream.

Ernie Pruitt, Field Director for the State Division of Water Quality said the chemical was toxic to humans and cattle but said that there was no danger of it getting into a city water supply. Farmers were warned to keep their cattle away from Roundstone Creek in case there was some contamination.

The driver of the truck, Henry F. Ivey, of Atlanta, Georgia, received back injuries and facial cuts in the accident. He was taken to the Berea Hospital.

The truck was owned by Bowman Trucking Co. and was bound for Charleston, South Carolina when the accident occurred.

State Police said the accident may have been due to a large bump on an Interstate bridge which caused Ivey to lose control of the vehicle.

Cities receive funds for new judicial system

The City of Mt. Vernon will receive $2,852.34, Lexington, $1,042 and Broodhead $432.82 for reimbursement for revenues lost due to implementation of the new statewide court system. The refunds were part of $1.3 million which has been granted to cities and counties across the state. The county is not included for reimbursement since, according to a spokesman from the County Executive's Office of the State Department of Auditing and Finance, showed an operating deficit for the three year period from which the figures were taken.

This is the first of four quarterly payments which will be sent to cities and counties. The payments will total about $52 million this year.

Due to implementation of the Judicial Article, an amendment to the Kentucky Constitution passed by voters in 1975, all courts in the state became state courts. The special 1976 session of the General Assembly provided that no local governments would lose revenues due to implementation of the new court system.

The finance department made a determination of the net revenues (total revenue minus expenses) of local court systems, based on data that city and county officials submitted. This data was then audited by Touche, Ross and Co.

Cities and counties were then given a chance to appeal this decision at hearings held in November through January.

The final determination of net revenues was made after the appeal was heard.

Coal supply in critical shortage says Kentucky Utilities president

The coal supply of Kentucky Utilities Company has reached the critical stage. The inventory at midnight 2:10 was estimated at 39 days at the anticipated rate of burn. In addition, approximately 6 days coal supply is frozen in over 1000 railroad cars and 14 barges at or near the generating stations.

"K.U. will continue its efforts to unload the frozen coal cars and barges and seek additional coal, however," Duncan explained. "We foresee our coal supplies becoming dangerously low, and now is the time for maximum electricity conservation."

In addition to alerting customers to the necessity of conservation, Kentucky Utilities plans to advise Governor Carroll, the Kentucky Public Service Commission and other appropriate government agencies of the critical fuel supply situation and request direction for mandatory curtailment of electricity if it becomes necessary.

Duncan further commented "we still hope mandatory closing of factories and businesses can be averted but it is imperative that everyone cooperate."

USDA Sets New Food Stamp Emergency Application Procedures

Responding to a recent court order, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) food stamp program has modified its emergency application procedures for applicants with little or no income. Assistance Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker Foreman has announced.

USDA regulations permit food stamp applicants to receive stamps for 30 days without prior verification if their net income is so low (less than $30 a month for a family of four) that they would be eligible for free food stamps.

But, rules issued in Aug. 1974, limited this procedure for certifying applicants pending full verification to one in a six month period. And, before approving applicants pending verification, local food stamp offices were required to get preliminary confirmation of household circumstances, called a collateral contact, from another person with knowledge of the applicant's financial situation.

A U.S. District Court in San Francisco overturned the six month rule and collateral contact requirements on Nov. 30, 1977, on grounds they were not published for public comment in the Federal Register as required by the Administrative Procedures Act.

Assistant Secretary Foreman said that to comply with the court order, new procedures will no longer require a collateral contact before certifying applicants pending verification. However, after their 30-day eligibility runs out these applicants will have to provide full verification before they can be recertified for any additional food stamps.

In addition, applicants will now be allowed to be certified pending verification as often as needed, provided this is not requested for two consecutive months.

On Dec. 1, USDA sent state welfare agencies a telegram outlining these rule changes. The text of that telegram is scheduled to be published in the Federal Register of Jan. 31. Local food stamp offices were to have put the changes into effect by January 1.

Ms. Foreman pointed out that the changes are an interim measure, effective only until new regulations under the Food Stamp Act of 1977 are implemented later in 1978. Proposed regulations to implement the new law are expected to contain provision restoring the collateral contact requirement, she said.

The Frankfort Report

By Paul L. Whalen

The pace of the 1978 General Assembly quickened last week with the clearing of the weather. This year's session reached the halfway point last week with less than 30 of its 60 days left. Legislation has been introduced to increase the number of days in this session in order that the members of the General Assembly could responsibly deal with their heavy workload.

Last week the House Elections and Constitutional Amendments Committee gave a favorable report on a bill which would attempt to reduce the tampering with absentee ballots. This legislation sponsored by Rep. Bill Weinburg (D-Hindman) calls for a penalty of up to $1,000 for tampering with absentee ballots. It also requires that absentee ballots include a notice on perjury which could alert voters to the penalty.

The House unanimously approved a bill sponsored by Rep. Jimmy White (D-Barbourville), which would require the state commissioner of insurance to suspend or revoke an insurer's for insurance company certificate of authority if it is found that the insurance company had knowledge of insurance violations by an agent and failed to report such violations. The bill places liability for an agent's violations with the company.

The House passed a bill 9-10, which forwards reclamation bond forfeiture by strip mine operators to the individual landowners instead of the Department of Natural Resources.

Hearings were held in the Senate last week on a bill sponsored by Senator Joe Preather (D-Vine Grove). The bill would provide a 25% reduction in natural gas and electricity rates for newly persons over the age of 65 and those people who are totally disabled.

By a 5-1 vote, the Senate Labor and Industry Committee reported favorably on a bill that would prohibit companies from recruiting or employing professional strikebreakers.

Members of the General Assembly will be asked to express a resolution that would automatically rescind the state's ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment in the event Congress extends the time other states have for ratifying the amendment. This measure would only take effect if Congress extends the March 24, 1979 deadline - other states have for ratification. Kentucky is one of the 33 other states which has ratified the ERA. Three more states must ratify the ERA amendment by the 1979 deadline if it is to become part of the U.S. Constitution. Kentucky ratified the ERA Amendment six years ago in 1972.

The House Highways and Traffic Safety Committee took a step toward repealing a law which requires motorcycle riders to wear helmets by a 10-4 vote. Committee members favoring repeal of the helmet law argue they thought motorcycleists should have the freedom of choice.

The House Education Committee reported favorably on a bill sponsored by Rep. Bill Weinburg (D-Hindman) which would direct the State Council on High Education to take necessary action to insure fair and equitable distribution of admissions to state-supported dental, medical and law schools. The purpose of the bill is to insure more admission of students from rural and eastern Kentucky to dental, medical, and law school so that areas of Kentucky which need the services of more doctors and dentists will have these services.

Representative Herbie Deskins introduced a bill to eliminate the use of broad form deeds for the purpose of strip-mining. This bill would only apply to surface mining of coal and not to any other minerals.

A bill which would increase from 10 to 60 days the period a purchaser may return a defective motor vehicle and receive a refund of state usage tax was passed by the Senate. Having already been adopted by the House, it awaits the Governor's signature to become law.

State Treasurer Frances Jones Mills announced last week that for the calendar year 1977, more than $44 million was added to Kentucky's income through investment of the state's surplus funds. Surplus funds not immediately needed for the operation of government are invested in U.S. Treasury notes.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:
 Fortunately, we are often reminded that during World War II over six million Jewish people died during the Holocaust. While this tragic loss of life staggered the imagination, we have in this country likewise witnessed the Holocaust of six million unborn children by abortion since 1973. A large percentage of these abortions have been paid for by your tax dollars!

Before the Kentucky General Assembly is a resolution asking the United States Congress to call a Constitutional Convention for the purpose of proposing an amendment to the U.S. Constitution that would protect the life of all human beings, including unborn children, at every stage of their biological development.

Article V of the Constitution allows 2/3 of the state legislators to call a Constitutional Convention to propose an amendment. Nine states voted overwhelmingly in favor of this measure during 1976 and 1977. Kentucky has passed previous resolutions on slavery, taxation, direct election of Senators, apportionment, and against forced busing, so this is not a new approach.

If you wish to help stop this wholesale slaughter of the unborn, please call toll free 1-800-372-2976 to the Legislative Message Center and ask your state Senator to vote for Senate Resolution #11.

The life you save may be the nation's.

Sincerely,
 /s/ Steve Maloney

Dear Editor:
 Enclosed is a poem written by one of my schoolmates, Jessie Chandler, in 1927.

Mrs. Billy Ramsey is her daughter and may have this copy of her mother's handwriting if she wants to pick it up there at the Signal Office. You may put it in your paper if you like.

Sincerely,

The Last Game
 By Jessie Chandler

Oh, the games we have played in the days gone by.
 Oh, the games in the days to come.
 Let us think of the great game we all must play to reach our Heavenly Home.

There are games in life that are like new wine.
 There are games in life like old,

We must all play the game of the Spirit's side Before we reach our goal.
 Our goal we know, is not earthly. And man is not able to see.
 But the court of our game is Heaven, And God is our referee.

Dear Editor:
 I notice Mr. Lair plans to phase out his Recollections as his book nears publication date. I have enjoyed the column so much. I also very much appreciate the occasional historical contributions of Mr. Opp Bussell, Jr. In wonder if there is a chance of a genealogy column in the future? I have corresponded with many genealogy buffs from several states who like myself can find no printed records from Rockcastle County. A column such as that would do us all definite service and perhaps even stimulate enough interest among the Rockcastle Citizens to cause the formation of a combination Historical and Genealogical Society. I would love to see something like that happen. I want to be a Charter member. I'm sure one of the columns were introduced, you would receive contributions of materials to keep it going.

Sincerely,
 Mrs. Nina B. Cash

Mental Health Matters

Is Your Child Involved In Too Many Activities?

Can a child or adolescent over-extend himself-join too many clubs or groups-be involved in too many activities? Mental health professionals think the answer is "yes!"

Sometimes parents try to live through their children. They take such pride in their children's achievements that they pressure them into getting the highest grades, studying music against their wills, excelling in athletics or other forms of competition and achievement. When this type of pressure gets too great, the child or adolescent may show signs of emotional or behavioral disturbances. He or she may sleep poorly, not take time to eat a balanced diet, may develop a nervous habit such as biting the fingernails, twisting strands of hair, picking the nose or may break out in a rash. When this happens, an over-pressed child may be made to feel more comfortable through the parent "backing off" and "letting demands." Worthwhile achievement can still be obtained by the child in a more comfortable manner and at a slower pace. Children should have time to be children!

Time To Plan Spring Tree Planting

One way to relieve winter dull-draws and cabin fever is to make plans for spring planting season. The thought of planting trees should help take some of the bite out of winter winds.

There are hundreds of acres of land throughout Southeastern Kentucky needing planting in trees. Land which should be considered for tree planting includes abandoned pasture-lands, old fields, strip mines, and land needing wildlife habitat improvement. Trees help prevent soil erosion, control noise, keep streams and rivers clear, increase land values, and improve the aesthetics of the land. Any currently unproductive land could be raising a cash crop of trees for the landowner.

The Kentucky Division of Forestry will be accepting tree orders through the middle of April for spring planting. There are fourteen species of trees available this year. Price varies depending on species and number ordered. The Division's nurseries will begin lifting trees soon for delivery in March. Professional Foresters are available to give free advice on tree planting. To order trees, or for more information, interested persons should contact the Kentucky Division of Forestry, P.O. Box 31, Pineville, Kentucky 40377. Ph. 337-3011.

CPAs Tell What's New In 1977 Tax Picture

As income tax time rolls around again taxpayers ask the familiar questions, what's new for this year? And for many taxpayers the big news, according to the Kentucky Society of Certified Public Accountants, is that Uncle Sam has simplified the tax forms, making it easier for persons who finances are uncomplicated to prepare their own returns. Other highlights of the tax picture this year include:

- A new way of handling alimony payments.

- More generous deductions for job-related moving costs.

- A new standard deduction, now also called "zero bracket amount".

- Continuation of the general tax credit that was to expire

- A new holding period for long-term capital gains or losses and a doubling of the amount of ordinary income that can be offset by net capital losses.

- Greater protection against the capital gains tax for the elderly when they sell their homes.

- Increased minimum income required for filing a return.

- An increase in the amount of income on which some taxpayers can defer taxes by making payments into an Individual Retirement Account, and extension to February 14, 1978, of the time for making IRA payments on 1977 income.

The CPA Society says the many new rules result from provisions of the 1976 Tax Reform Act that became effective in 1977, as well as the 1977 Tax Reduction and Simplification Act.

Taking up the changes in more detail, the CPAs advise that for those who prepare their own returns, both Form 1040 and the short form, 1040A, have been simplified. 1040A, formerly filled both sides of half a sheet of paper, now it's one side of a full sheet, but several questions have been deleted.

Form 1040 has been made "linear", which means it proceeds in a straight line, without interruptions to consult page two or schedule B moving logically right up through income, adjustments, deductions and exemptions, tax computation, credits and tax payments, to the amount you may still owe or the refund you possibly have coming.

Alimony paid is no longer an itemized tax deduction. Now it is treated as an adjustment, so it no longer matters to alimony payers whether they itemize or take the standard deduction.

The liberalizing of job-related moving cost deductions includes a provision that you can claim them if your new job is at least 35 miles from your former home that your old job was. It used to be 50 miles. Like alimony, the moving costs may be taken even if you don't itemize.

The standard deduction is no longer a percentage of income. Now it's a flat $2,200 for individuals filing singly, $3,200 on joint returns. That's a $200 decrease from the maximum for individuals, a $400 increase on joint returns. But if your deductible expenses are anywhere near the standard deduction you'll still want to figure your taxes both ways to see which is better. A study has shown that for individuals with incomes of $14,000 and up and most married taxpayers, if deductions are about average, itemizing usually is preferable.

The general tax credit—the greater of $30 for each personal and dependency exemption or two percent of the first $3,000 of taxable income—has been extended at least through 1978. If your taxable income was $9,000 or more and you have fewer than six exemptions, you'll want to take the two percent.

On 1977 income the new holding period that spells the difference between short-term and long-term capital gains or losses is nine months, not six as formerly. Gains on losses on assets held nine months or less are short-term, which means they are taxed as ordinary income. If the asset was held more than nine months, the gain or loss is long-term. This year (1978), an asset will have to be held more than 12 months to make the sale long-term.

Another change in connection with capital losses is that the maximum amount of net capital loss that can be used to offset ordinary income in 1977 has been doubled—to $2,000. In 1978 it goes to $3,000.

On the sale of a home by the elderly (for couples, only one spouse has to be 65 or older) there is no tax on the capital gain on the first $35,000 of adjusted sales price, a jump of $15,000 in the amount protected. If the house sold for more than $35,000 a pro-rated amount of the gain is tax exempt. The home must have been the principal place of residence for 5 of the previous 8 years.

The amount of income you must have before being required to file a tax return has been raised to $2,350. However, anyone relieved of the need to file will do so anyway if taxes have been withheld from paychecks; that's the only way to get a refund. Also, a child with unearned income of $750 or more who can be claimed as a dependent by his parents still must file a return.

Persons having IRA-authorized Individual Retirement Accounts—or who are eligible to establish one by virtue of not actively participating in a conventional pension or profit-sharing plan—can set aside, tax-deferred, as much as 15 percent of 1977 income up to $1,500. And if your spouse is not employed, you can put in an extra $250 for both of you, as long as it does not push you beyond the 15 percent maximum. If you both work and are eligible you can establish two IRAs, with total yearly tax-protected contributions of up to $3,000.

In general, the CPAs say, while the Tax Reform Act may not have reformed much and the Tax Simplification Act didn't really simplify, the two laws did ease the burden of the average taxpayer.

Thompson, 2.

The Rockets then bounced back on Friday night and defeated Anville by 58 points, 96-38.

Center led the scoring in the game with 17; Browning got 15; Pensol, 12; Harmon, 11; Thompson, Floyd Fletcher, and David Biddle, 8 each; Frank Phillips, David Mullins and Warren Cash, 4 each and Tim Arvin, 2.

Rockcastle then won their second game in a row by defeating Model Tuesday night at home 63-56.

Scoring for the Rockets went as follows: Center, 20; Harmon, 16; Pensol, 12; Farnham, 5; Cash and Jeff Hammonds, 4 each and Phillips, 2.

GIRLS LOSE TO LINCOLN CO.

The Rockets' Girls team lost in their last outing to Lincoln County 48-45. After a four-point lead at the end of the first quarter, the girls fell behind in the second quarter for a half-time score of 22-16. They came back in the third quarter to outscore Lincoln County 15 to 8 but in the fourth quarter, Lincoln County rallied for the win.

Regina Ruppe was high scorer for the Rockets with 17; Diana Thacker got 14; Brenda Bullen and Sandy Sturgill got 6 each and Nim Howard got 2.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

The 5-7 Year-Old

To insure normal physical and emotional development of children in the 5-7 year age range, parents and teachers will do well to keep some of their most important needs in focus. Such children will enjoy active boisterous games with unrestrained running and jumping. An opportunity to play in mud, made in puddles, fall in snow, be allowed to climb, use a balance board, and walk on all fours which develop back and abdomen muscles, are all important. Also recommended are the use of scooters, wagons, and bicycles to develop leg muscles and fulfill their need for speed.

This age group (5-7) needs to organize simple dramatic play and dance in small groups, to have dramatic and rhythmic activities and to have fairly short play periods.

A withdrawn child may need gentle encouragement to join in group activities. He or she may also need recognition by the teacher or parent for well-meaning, but sometimes rather feeble attempts to carry out responsibilities in the home or to achieve in school work.

Most 5-7 year olds love and respect their teachers. By age 7 they reach what we sometimes term the "crisis" age—staying for some degree of perfection in their tasks.

All good things must come to an end.

How To Salvage Canned Foods That Freeze

When home-canned foods freeze, what should you do? Look them over carefully right away and you may find you can salvage most of the food. don't put off this chore. When food freezes in either a home-canning jar or commercial can, it put extra stress on the container. This can result in food poisoning if you eat these foods. That's why you need to go into action before the foods thaw completely. If there is no sign that the seal has broken, the food should be fine.
Danger Signs: To help you decide whether or not your accidentally-frozen canned foods are safe to eat, check for the following, some of which may not be evident until the foods start to thaw: 1) signs of leakage, 2) broken seals on jars, 3) cracked or broken jars (throw away food), 4) spurting liquid, froids or off odors (throw away food), 5) bulging cans, and 6) split seams in cans.

What To Do: If jar seals leak and cans seams have split, the foods can usually be salvaged if they are still icy cold. Refrigerate them immediately and eat them up within a few days. If there is a large number of broken seals, but you still consider the foods safe, you could repack them immediately in a freezer containers and store them in your home freezer. Label them clearly. "Frozen canned beans," for instance, so as not to confuse them with your other freezer foods.

When you're ready to use these frozen canned foods: boil vegetables and meats for 10 minutes before eating or eating them. Boil corn and spinach for 20 minutes. This is a precaution against botulism poisoning, and it's a recommentation for all home-canned foods. If your jars or cans of accidentally-frozen foods show no damage, thaw them at room temperature. If any cans remain bulged after thawing, discard them.

Safer Storage Needed

Find a better storage place for all your canned foods, where they won't be subjected to freezing and thawing again. Each time they freeze, they will deteriorate some in quality and texture. There will also be more danger of the seals breaking next time.

When the mercury dips, the electricity goes off, or fuel supplies are curtailed, your canned foods may need further protection with blankets or layers of newspaper.

It might be a good idea to put a thermometer among your canned foods so that you can keep track of the temperature there. If it gets down below 40 degrees F., you'd better move these jars and cans to a warmer place.

February 12 - 18 Designated as National Vocational Education Week

February 12-18 has been designated as National Vocational Education Week. Rockcastle County has been served with a Vocational School since August, 1969, offering Programs in Industrial Electricity, Auto Mechanics, Radio and TV Repair, Welding, and Business and Office.

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot be found to express our gratitude and appreciation to those who were so kind during the sickness and death of our beloved Daddy, James Thomas Kirby. Our heartfelt thanks goes to those who sent food and flowers and to those who visited with us just to speak kind words and prayers. Also a special thanks to the Berea Hospital staff and nurses and also Dr. Jack Lewis for his time spent with him, Cox Funeral Home for their kindness and thoughtfulness, Bro. Zade McClure for his consoling words and also his visit to the home and for having prayer with him. We thank the singers for the beautiful songs and the pallbearers. May God bless each one of you.

The Children and Grandchildren

During the first year of operation there was an enrollment of 202 students in the day classes. We are now serving over 300 students in our daytime programs. Last school year over 240,000 persons were enrolled in Kentucky's Vocational Education Programs. These programs are offered at more than 300 high schools, over 60 Area Vocational Education Centers, at 15 State Vocational-Technical Schools and at state colleges and universities. Over 60 different vocational education programs are offered in Kentucky for students at the secondary, postsecondary and adult levels.

The Vocational Education System endeavors to uphold and meet the following objectives:

- 1) Assist students in discovering their interests and abilities so they can make the best possible choice for future vocation.
 - 2) Prepare individuals for gainful employment in various occupations.
 - 3) To contribute to the development and growth of the students technical knowledge in getting a job.
 - 4) To contribute to the development of desirable personal qualities, cooperative work habits and social skills.
- The Rockcastle County Area Vocational Center serves High School students in the day classes and adult students at night. When day classes are not filled by secondary students from the participating high schools, post-secondary students wishing to obtain gainful employment may enroll in these vacancies.

The Rockcastle Vocational School has a local Advisory Committee consisting of knowledgeable persons from each of the fields offered in the Vocational Programs. They provide advice to the local vocational school in many areas where lay advice can lead to the overall improvement of programs and programming for the school. They also serve as a public relations unit between the school and community.

The Rockcastle Vocational School is participating in various projects this week in observation of National Vocational Week.

Kentucky has strict laws for forest fire prevention

Forest fires are a serious threat to the health of Kentucky's forests. Almost 80 percent of the state is covered by commercial forest land. These forests provide jobs for tens of thousands of workers, and yield millions of dollars in forest products annually. The State of Kentucky has many laws designed to protect this valuable resource from destructive fires.

The most important law concerning forest fire prevention is the 4:30 burning law. This law prohibits burning any refuse, brush, leaves or other flammable material within 150 feet of any woodland, except between the hours of 4:30 p.m. and midnight. This law is in effect only during the fire hazard seasons in the spring and fall. The 4:30 burning law goes into effect on March 1st and stays in effect until May 15th.

Another state law prohibits persons from setting fire to any flammable material, whether it be brush, grass or forest, on their own property, without first notifying adjacent landowners and taking precautions to assure that the fire does not escape. Campfires and hunting fires are also restricted. Anyone building a campfire or warming fire without first clearing flammable material away from it is in violation of the law. Leaving a fire unattended when it's dead out is also illegal. Setting fire in the woods for the purpose of smoking out game is also a violation of the law.

The most serious offense against forestry laws is arson, the intentional setting of fires to the lands of another. Arson can be a felony offense, and carries a prison term up to 2 years, and $1,000 fine.

All of the forest prevention laws carry a fine or imprisonment penalty. It should be noted that these laws are designed to prevent forest fires. Even if a person violates, keep their fire under control, they can be fined for not obeying the laws. If the fire does escape, regardless of the precautions taken, the person responsible is subject to pay a fine plus the cost of suppressing the fire. Officials of the Division of Forestry ask that everyone learn and obey the forest fire prevention laws, and use extra care during the spring fire season starting March 1st. More information on these laws can be obtained by contacting the London Ranger Station, phone 864-6996 or writing the Kentucky Division of Forestry, P.O. Box 31, Pineville, Ky. 40977, Phone 437-3011.

Poet's Corner

Whatever He Saith Unto You, Do It [John 2:3]

Whatever He bids you, do it,
Though you may not understand,
Yield to Him complete obedience,
Then you'll see His mighty hand,
Fill the water pots with water,
Fill them to the very brim,
He will honor all your trusting,
Leave the miracle to Him!

Bind your feet to the olive tree,
Bind him there with manna a cord,
Oh, my brother, do not falter,
He has been named Jeremy Lane,
He is He who waters our land,
Though your path may oft be dim,
He will bring new life to Isaac,
Leave the miracle to Him!

Face to face with hosts of Midian,
Gideon's men are sifted out,
Forth this go, these chosen heroes,
With no sword the foe to rout,
Do you wonder if they victory,
Can be gained by hand so stout?

See! Jehovah's sword is gleaming,
Leave the miracle to Him!

Watch the scene on plains of Durra,
See that Hebrew martyr band,
Firmly standing for Jehovah,
Trusting in His mighty hand,
He is mighty to deliver.

From the power of death so grim,
Firey furnace cannot harm them—
Leave the miracle to Him!

Oh, ye Christians, learn the lesson,
Are you struggling all the way,
Cease your trying, cease to trusting,
Then you'll triumph every day,
Whatever He bids you, do it,
Fill the water pots to the brim,
But remember, 'tis His battle,
Leave the miracle to Him!

STRETCHING YOUR FOOD DOLLAR

Root vegetables that are stored without canning may freeze in extra cold weather in basements or cellars, according to food specialists with UR's Cooperative Extension Service. Potatoes and onions freeze at about 30 degrees. Once they're frozen, they spoil quickly and must be thrown out if not cooked at once.

REDUCE TAXABLE SALE PROFIT

If you sell your home and make a profit, Uncle Sam will expect to get a share of that profit in the form of income taxes. That is, unless you revalue your proceeds in another home or are over 65.

Therefore, those who profit from a home sale, put the check in the bank and rent an apartment, should not overlook any legitimate expenses which would reduce the size of the taxable gain.

Expenses such as the Realtor's commissions, deed preparation, legal and appraisal fees, and any escrow fees, can be taken off the top. So-called "fix-up" expenses also can lead to tax savings. This "fix-up" work must be done during the 90 day period before the sale and payment must be made no later than 30 days after the sale.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at Ford Realty & Auction Co., Inc., Mt. Vernon, Phone 256-4545. We're here to help!
