

Dennis McGuire of Alma, Mississippi is shown with his eight-wheeled motor home which he built from two cars - we think Mr. McGuire was in Renfro Valley Shell - and quickly drew a crowd. The motor home was built from two 1962

Buick station wagons, one left whole in the middle and the other cut in two and put on each end - or something like that. Mr. McGuire said he spent about $200 for the steering system and that he didn't really build anything, just "reassembled."

granted her on earth. She was such a delightful person to meet and converse with about most anything. She told me when we met in Knoxville several months ago that she felt fine. She knew she would die from her affliction, but she would never show it in her daily living. She was the happiest person I ever met, and it appeared to be deep down. I must confess that I did not know Helen Corey as well as many of you did. Those last few months would make up for those years that she was only a casual acquaintance. As she passed from life to death, I can truly say, "God loved her - and so did we."

Parents, Teachers - Are You Listening?

Mental Health Matters
Have you ever been talking to someone and get the feeling they are not really "listening" or "caring about what you are saying"? When that happens, we as adults experience a "let-down" - and "depressed" kind of feeling. How do children feel when this happens to them?

It is not uncommon for busy parents, teachers or staff of day care centers and day schools to feel "dear to and not the deserving child." When a child feels he or she has something important to say or to show and gets repeatedly "turned off" by an insensitive or "too busy" adult, the decision is usually made to one of two things.
The child may "give up" and decide "not to try any more," becoming an uncommunicative child. This will stifle his or her growth in mind, personality, and ability and prevent the development of self-confidence. On the other hand, the child may misbehave, to get the attention he cannot get in any other way, being noisy, fussy, or whiny. This behavior will usually get the attention of the adult but may cause the adult to punish the child as well. Neither course of action will be positively useful for child or parent.

A child, a person in his or her own right, deserves to be listened to by sensitive, caring adults.

Boating Report

The top three teams in the Thursday night Rockcastle League at Maroon Lanes in Richmond are the Streakers with 61 wins and 31 losses, the Pin Brokers at 58 1/2 and 35 1/2 and the Aces, Cate at 55 and 37.
Central Body Service took high game and series for last week with an 841 and 2,282.
Individual highs were as follows:
High series, men: David Eaton, 628; David Bales, 620 and Mike Hansel, 636; High game, men: David Eaton, 234; Mike Hansel, 234 and David Bales, 221.

High game, women: Charlene Eaton, 212; Virginia Winstead, 199 and Alice Faulkner, 195.
High series, women: Charlene Eaton, 507; Alice Faulkner, 486 and Cindy Clark, 492.

Many experts on child behavior say that young people are more likely to grow up self-reliant if they spend more time with peers than with parents. Many parents find that sending their children to full-time, private, sleep-away camps is a good way to ensure this.

She was the daughter of the late Daniel Garfield and Rosa B. Bullock and was a member of the First Christian Church of Barbourville.

Funeral services were held Monday, February 13, at the Hoper Funeral Home Chapel in Barbourville with the Rev. Phillip Conley officiating. Burial was in the Barbourville City Cemetery.

[Ed's Note: Reprinted below is a tribute to Mrs. Corey written by her friends and which appeared in the Barbourville paper].

Mrs. Helen Corey of Pine Street died Saturday, February 11, at the University of Tennessee Medical Center in Knoxville after a long illness. With her husband, A.T. Corey, she had lived in Barbourville for more than 30 years and had interested herself in a variety of church and other activities.

Most recently she was working on plans for a new parsonage at the First Christ Church where she had been the first deaconess and the first woman member of the board.
"She was a genuine friend and a real family person," Mrs. Ina Nau said Monday. She served as an assistant leader to Mrs. Frances Marcum in Girl Scout work and was a den mother for the Cub Scouts. She was fond of gardening.
Mrs. Corey helped in the operation of the Herndon Drug Store which her husband owned and found time to work in the PTA as well as serving as president of the Younger Woman's Club in 1955-56.

"Young people liked her," a friend said Monday. A family member said that she was the one to whom her nine brothers and sisters would turn in times of trouble.

Mrs. Corey was a graduate of Mt. Vernon High School and attended Union College briefly where she met her husband. They were married in April, 1946.

Mrs. Helen Corey died last week, and I could not help but marvel her passing with that of Sam, Hubert Humphrey. Mrs. Corey was told several months ago that she had a limited number of days and weeks left to live. At first, she told me, she was despondent, let down, and resorted to feeling sorry for herself. Then she related to me, she got the second lease on life - in the form of wanting to live every minute of it to the fullest. She took a new being in this life - she went about her work and routine with the thought in life that she would not feel sorry, but she would be thankful for every day God the "Free Choice" to use laetrile in situations that will not harm them. In this instance the members of the House of Representatives decided that "Free Choice" in matters where the citizens will receive no harm, is a basic Human Right.

On February 15, 1978, the House of Representatives passed House Concurrent Resolution 7. This resolution petitions Congress to call a Constitutional Convention for the purpose of proposing an amendment to the United States Constitution protecting the right to life of all human beings during every state of biological development.

This issue has been brought before the House for at least the last three sessions. It has always failed to pass, because a majority of the representatives felt that a document as sacred as the United States Constitution should not be tampered with for any reason.

Representative Louis DeFalkaise of Ft. Mitchell in a dramatic and moving oration, stated, "The most basic and fundamental doctrine of our Christian heritage is the right to human life at any stage of biological development."

Further, "The right to human life is more sacred than any governmental document could ever be." The Kentucky House of Representatives passed House Concurrent Resolution No. 7 by a vote of 77 to 15.

I am proud to say that I voted yes for House Bill 70, the right of "free choice" and House Concurrent Resolution No. 7, the "Right to Human Life." I believe they are in the very best interest of the citizens of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

White Is Candidate For Justice of State Supreme Court

Our esteemed colleague and my good friend, Justice Pleas Jones, has decided that he will not seek another term as Justice on the Supreme Court of Kentucky. He has represented our Third Supreme Court District since his appointment following the untimely death of Justice Homer Neikirk. I have consulted my fellow judges on the Court of Appeals and number of other friends, and I am today announcing my candidacy for the position of Justice on the Supreme Court of Kentucky from the Third Supreme Court District. I was honored by my appointment by Governor Carroll to the Court of Appeals, to which I was subsequently elected, and have enjoyed my association with that Court. I feel that I can offer more as a Justice on the Supreme Court and feel that I am qualified, based on my service on the Court of Appeals as well as my prior experience. I have served as County Attorney, Assistant Commonwealth Attorney and Public Defender in my practice. I have been encouraged by my fellow judges in making this decision. I believe that the support that I have received from them, as well as the lawyers who have appeared before me, has established my reputation as an appellate judge. It is with a deep sense of humility and dedication to public service that I announce my candidacy for the office of Justice of the Supreme Court of Kentucky.

McKinney Introduces Bill

To Repeal KRS 132.365

Rep. Lloyd McKinney, Republican, McKee said that he and Rep. Elmer Patrick had introduced a bill which would repeal KRS 132.365. Under this bill, the tax on coal would be eliminated. McKinney said that the tax on coal would be done away with. "I think this is the most unfair tax I ever heard of," McKinney complained. "Only the Creator knows what is under the earth."

Mr. McKinney further explained that he had lived in a coal producing county all his life and that he was from a family of long coal miners and that his knowledge of coal veins was like a wave on the ocean even to the point of cropping out. Some farms may have coal while the adjoining farm may be completely without a trace of black diamond.

Rep. McKinney believes that the coal is taxed heavy enough without a tax on unmined coal.

Other legislation, which McKinney said he was proud to help defeat, was the "gun control" bill. I wish I could have voted many more times on killing this bill, he commented.

To take the people's guns away from them, in my opinion, is unconstitutional, McKinney continued, because Article II of the Constitution plainly states that the right of the people to keep and bear arms, shall not be infringed.

This country was founded by God-fearing people and we shall endure as long as the government is a "Government of the people, for the people and by the people," McKinney concluded.

The 58-year-old legislator admitted that he had a deep feeling for education while in Frankfort. He "worked strongly" for a bill allowing teachers to retire with full benefits regardless of age after 30 years of service in Kentucky. This bill won't help me any, but I think the teachers should be allowed to retire

Rep. Lloyd McKinney

Health Dept. Completes Compliance Survey

The Rockcastle County Health Department has just completed a compliance survey in regard to Section 594 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 which prohibits discrimination on the basis of handicap by local health departments in their services and employment.

The survey consisted of a review of the services provided by the health department and the requirements which must be met in providing these services for the handicapped. Due to existing architectural barriers in the present facilities, which are located in the courthouse, that prevents accessibility by the handicapped, services are provided by home visits. Other services, such as group services, provided by the health department will be provided to the handicapped in the one and/or other accessible buildings.

The Rockcastle County Health Department does not discriminate on the basis of handicap in violation of Section 504. The facility is operated in accordance with U.S. Department of Agriculture policy which does not permit discrimination because of race, color or national origin.

RCHS Girls Team Advances to Regionals

The RCHS girls played at Jackson County Tuesday night in the district tournament and came away with a 43-34 win over Oneida.

The team didn't play up to par and were well pleased with the nine-point win.

Regina Ruppe, the only senior starter, led the girls in scoring with 13 points. She was followed closely by Diane Thacker and Sandy Sturgill who got 12 and 11, respectively. The girls will now play the winner of the Clay County, Jackson County game for the district championship Saturday night.

Other scoring in the game were: Kay Hammond and Kim Howard, 2 each; and Brenda Bullen, 3.

GIRLS WIN TWO; LOSE 10 CLAY

The Rockets girls team ended their regular season last Friday night with a 62-32 loss to Clay County. Earlier in the week, the girls had defeated two teams, Garrard County by a score of 54 to 28 and Madison Model in overtime, 50-48.

In the Garrard County game, Diane Thacker was high with 12 points; Gina Ruppe and Brenda Bullen got 9 each; Tammy Shepherd scored 8; Kim Howard and Sheila Deatherage, 6 each and Kim Deatherage and China Osborne, 2 each.

The girls had to fight hard for their victory over Model as they were behind at all of the first three quarter stops - 13 at 1/4, 30-17 at 1/2.

However, they fought back in the fourth quarter to tie the game at 44 all and outscored Madison in overtime for the two-point victory.

Gina Ruppe put 19 points through for the Rockets; Thacker matched her output against Garrard with 12; Bullen and Sandy Sturgill got 6 each; Tammy Shepherd, 3 and Kim Howard, 2.

In the Clay County-Rockets game, Thacker again got 12 points to lead the scoring; Sturgill and Ruppe got 6 each; Bullen scored 4 and Kim Howard and Sheila Deatherage got 2 each.

The girls end their very successful season with a 13 and 6 record.

Only 19 Rockcastle Countians Respond As Blood Mobile Unit Visits Mt. Vernon

Only 19 Rockcastle Countians responded to the call for blood donors Friday at a clinic set up at the Bank of Mt. Vernon by the Central Kentucky Blood Center.

Harry Alheid, donor service representative for Southern Kentucky, said this might be attributed to a lack of knowledge about the program by the county's residents and to the extremely severe weather we have been experiencing.

All nineteen persons, by their donation of one pint of blood, insured the blood needs for one year of themselves, their husband or wife, their children, their parents and their husband or wife's parents.

Every citizen in the county could have their blood needs guaranteed free of charge for one year if 486 donors had responded. This is amount arrived at for Rockcastle County by a formula involving the usage of the county compared to population against a 2% variable. Of course, this goal was far from reached but Mr. Alheid said the mobile blood unit will be returning to Mt. Vernon within the next few months at which time it is hoped that, with a little more advance publicity, the response will be greater.

Mr. Alheid said it would take at least 50 to 60 pints of blood donated to make the drawing feasible. He also said that 486 pints per year was no hard and fast figure that if the community showed it was trying to make its goal then a response of around 300 donors would guarantee the same as a full quota.

Who Can Donate?

Almost everyone from 18 to 65. If you are seventeen and wish to donate, parental consent is required - if you are over 65, then a doctor's consent is needed. You must also weigh a minimum of 110 lbs. to be a donor.

The entire process takes only about 40 minutes. Mr. Alheid said with the actual drawing only a matter of 5 or 6 minutes. A person can donate a pint of blood every 56 days and Mr. Alheid said the blood could be given in someone else's name who couldn't be a donor or as gifts for weddings, birthdays, etc.

Donors are given a mini-physical at the time which includes a blood pressure check, their blood typed and a red cell count. Afterwards, the donor is served refreshments.

The main thing to remember is that one pint of blood donated each year insured the blood needs, free of charge, to your immediate family and if you have ever had to pay the price for this you know it's a valuable item.

Energy Crisis Intervention Program Now Available

A new program, known as the Energy Crisis Intervention Program, is now available to residents of Rockcastle County.

The program is designed for low-income families who find themselves without sufficient funds for heating bills, food, etc.

Under the program, a family of four can make up to $6,875 for a non-farm family and $5,850 for a farm family, and qualify for 100 gallon of fuel oil, a ton of coal or payment of an overdue electric bill. They may also, if they have been turned down by the Food Stamp office or if there has been a delay in obtaining their food stamp card, qualify for emergency money for food.

To find out if you qualify, you should go to the Home Weatherization Office on the second floor of the courthouse and fill out an application. The office is open five days a week, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Applications are also still being taken for insulation materials and installation at the same office. This is also a program designed for low-income families and you must qualify under the guidelines before receiving the aid.

Schedule Changed for Mail Leaving County

The mail will be leaving Mt. Vernon earlier in the day because of the energy emergency in Southern Indiana and Kentucky, according to a recent announcement by the Director of Mail Processing in Lexington.

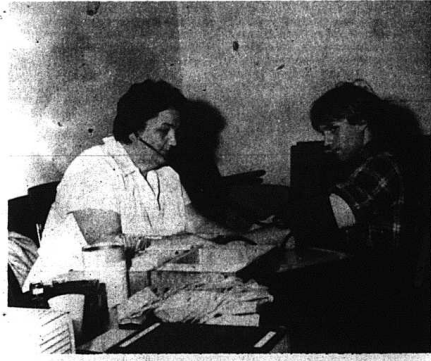

Mail which has been leaving town at 4:30 in the afternoon will now leave at 4 p.m. and, if you want your mail to go out that day, you should have it in the post office by 3:30 p.m., local Postmaster James O. Smith said.

These measures are temporary ones designed to effect a 25 to 50% reduction in electricity consumption by all postal installations in the area.

To donate blood is a three-step process and Mrs. June Stevens and Bill Jack Parsons are shown completing the first step - that of registering. Sue Serwint, receptionist, is shown getting the needed information from the donors.

Ann Lane, screener and medical technician, performs the next step - that of administering a mini-physical to donors. George Murphy, III of Mt. Vernon is shown preparing to donate a pint of blood.

After completing the first two steps the most important one is last - that of actually drawing the blood from the donor. Bud Cox of Mt. Vernon is shown donating a pint of blood which will guarantee the blood needs of his family, free of charge, for one year. Phyllis Hardin, RN, is the phlebotomist for the mobile unit.

The Frankfort Report

By Paul L. Whalen

With the final days of the 1978 General Assembly now upon us, we are seeing one of the busiest groups of 138 Representatives on earth. In these final days the Kentucky General Assembly will have to make the final decisions on over half of the over 1,000 bills introduced.

A bill eliminating discrimination against rural Kentuckians in professional (medical, law, dental) school admissions passed the House of Representatives on a 55-23 vote. It requires that admissions be tied proportionally to each congressional district's population.

The House voted 50-43, passing a bill which would allow riders of motorcycles to go without helmets. This bill was passed despite threats from Gov. Carroll to veto the bill if it passed in the Senate.

The house defeated a bill which would increase the penalties for carrying a concealed deadly weapon. A bill has been introduced by Representative J.R. Gray (D-Benton) which would give Vietnam Veterans a bonus in the form of an income tax credit over the next five years.

The House Health and Welfare Committee has approved a "bill of rights" for residents of nursing homes and other long-term care facilities.

The Senate has passed a bill which would automatically place certain youthful offenders in adult court. Senate Bill 143 calls for youths 14 and older to be sent to adult court if they are arrested after being convicted twice for crimes in juvenile court.

Anti-ERA forces fell one vote short last Thursday of moving a rescission resolution to the floor of the Senate for a vote. Anti-ERA leader, Senator Richard Weisenberger (D-Mayfield) said he would try for another vote to move the resolution out of committee. The resolution is Senate Joint Resolution 4, which would rescind Kentucky's 1972 ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. The wording of the ERA is as follows: "Equality of rights under law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any state on account of sex." Senators favoring the ERA have kept the resolution in the Senate Elections and Constitutional Amendments Committee. It takes 20 votes to take the resolution from the committee and to the floor of the Senate for a vote. Last week's vote to take the resolution out of committee was 19-17.

The House of Representatives approved a bill sponsored by Representative Claudia Riner (D-Louisville) which requires that a copy of the Ten Commandments be posted in every courtroom and public school classroom in Kentucky.

The Senate has passed legislation placing control of inter-scholastic athletics under the state board of education. Presently interscholastic athletics is under the complete control of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association.

State Representative Bob Benson (D-Louisville) has introduced legislation which would "direct" the University of Kentucky and the University of Louisville to schedule basketball and football games between their respective teams at the earliest possible date. However, the bill was tabled by the House Education Committee.

The Senate voted unanimously to pass Senate Bill 145 which requires all employers to pay women wages equal to their male counterparts.

BREEDING CATTLE FOR YOUR NEXT GENERATION

On August 8, 1878 Charles married Mattie Oder, daughter of Gabriel Oder and they lived in Garrard County. Their children were: Lee-1899 and possibly Alice-about 1892. I assume Mattie died at Garrard County between 1881 and 1884.

On November 29, 1884 Charles married Margaret Elizabeth (Rogers) Powell at Garrard County and they had four children: Clarence-1886, Arch-1888 or 1890, Mayme-1892, Gibson-1896. Elizabeth, known as Lizzie, was born in 1885 in Madison County, daughter of Feliz Irving Rogers.

From 1888 they lived in Somerset until she died about 1900 of small pox and he died about 1904. He was supposedly a stagecoach driver at Somerset.

Elizabeth (Rogers) married first Flatt Powell (I think his father was Ransom Powell) and they had a son, Abbie, before Flatt died.

I would be glad to hear from anyone who knows about any of the people listed here. Would there be newspaper obituaries for death records?

Sincerely,
Mrs. Lewis Neill

Dear Editor:

Kentuckians put $91,641,383 into U.S. Savings Bonds during 1977, bringing total National Bond holdings to more than $76 billion. That is an impressive amount of financial security accumulated; a substantial backlog of future buying power.

And newspapers in Kentucky have helped make it possible through generous public service advertising support of the Bond Program.

With this success to build on, the Treasury Department asks for your continuing cooperation in promoting Savings Bonds, which not only offer a means for building personal savings, but provide a non-inflationary method of financing the public debt.

The enclosed brochure offers a preview of the advertising for the coming year. I think you will agree that these ads continue the same fine already on your mailing list to receive these ads. If you do not wish to receive this material, please let me know.

For the Advertising Council, the Treasury Department and all of our Kentucky Savings Bonds Volunteers, I thank you for the support you have been able to give the Bond Program during 1977. We are counting on your continuing help during 1978.

Sincerely,
Jack Metrice

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Would you please publish the following letter?

I would like to locate descendants or information about my Kentucky great grandparents, Charles and Lizzie Carson.

Charles C. Carson was born about 1840 in Lincoln County, Ky. About 1865 he married Ellen (don't know maiden name). They had 3 children: William-1868, Cynthia-1869 and James-1875. They lived in Rockcastle County. Apparently Ellen died between 1875 and 1878.

DeMarcus Speaks

By Representative Harold DeMarcus

169 years ago, Abraham Lincoln (1809-1865) was born in Hodgenville, Kentucky. At that time, Kentucky had been a state for only 17 years and the adoption of our present state constitution would not take place for another 82 years.

Our pioneer fore-fathers suffered many hardships due mainly from the hostilities of nature and the inability to co-exist with the natives of this land. Today we have our fair share of difficulties, just look at current events, the coal strike, the continuing search for peace in the Middle East, and the issue of whether or not to relinquish our Panama Canal to an unstable government.

When speaking of Lincoln, we think of America's darkest hour, the War Between the States. Yet in the most trying of times, President Lincoln believed that the most important thing he could do was preserve our democratic form of government, and even a war among our own people could not destroy it. The most basic extension of our system of government is the provision and protection of human rights. When America was on the verge of destroying herself, Abraham Lincoln had the will to stand up for the basic human freedoms, the ones that are written in the United States Constitution and the Holy Bible.

recent debates held in the House floor which will amplify the subject to which I allude.
On February 2, 1978, the House of Representatives passed House Bill 70, which legalizes the sale of laetrile in Kentucky to patients if they file with the proper boards showing proper cause for use, and if the physician of concern feels that its use will not interfere with more successful and established modes of treatment.

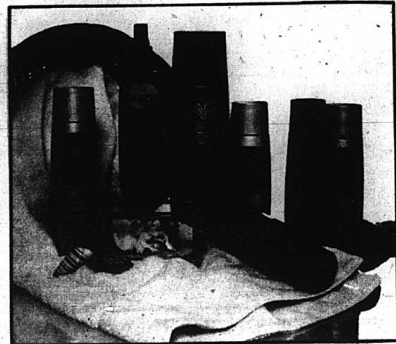

Superficially the question of laetrile would seem to be, does laetrile have any medical value? However, this was not the question, the true issue here is-should the people of Kentucky have

Mr. and Mrs. David L. King

Brown - King Vows Said At First Baptist Church

The wedding vows of Miss Karen K. Brown and Mr. David L. King were solemnized on the evening of November 19, 1977 at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church of Mt. Vernon. The wedding was officiated by Rev. Raymond Roaden.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown by French designer, Joelle. The gown was candlelight Quiana with Venise lace at the neckline and inserts on sleeves and bodice. An eight-foot train was attached to the traditional empire wastline. The bride chose an attached hood trimmed with matching Venise lace. The bride carried a cascade of garnet roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Holly Faulkner Bake, Monroe, Ohio, attended the bride as matron of honor. Mrs. Bake was attired in a dusty green gown of Quiana. The gown was an A-line style with accordion cape sleeves. The bodice was centered by a rose. She carried a cascade of dusty rose and garnet carnations.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Sharon Brown Hughes, sister of the bride, London, Ky. Thea Pennington, Lexington, Carol Bowling Davis, London. The bridesmaids' gowns were identical to the matron of honor except garnet in color. Cascades of dusty rose carnations were carried by the bridesmaids.

The junior bridesmaid was Tammy Harper of Brodhead. Miss Harper's gown was dusty rose and garnet floral print. She carried a cascade of dusty rose and garnet carnations. She wore baby's breath in her hair.

The flower girl was Sissy Bruin, Somerset. She wore a pinafore of dusty rose over a garnet dress with a matching cap.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Faye Noe, wore a gown of mint green with silver accessories.

The mother of the groom, Mrs. Imogene King, was attired in a gown of light blue with black accessories.

The groom chose Gary King, brother of the groom, Byrdstown, Tennessee, as his best man.

The groomsmen wore a tuxedo identical to the groom's. They were Roger King, brother of the groom, Byrdstown, Tennessee; Wayne Huddleston, Byrdstown, Tennessee; Jim Whitaker, Mt. Vernon. The junior groomsmen was Mark Bruin, Somerset.

The bride's train was carried by Gregory Allan Brown, brother of the bride, Brodhead. The ringbearer was Douglas Hughes, nephew of the bride, London.

The theme of the wedding was carried throughout the wedding. Two bridal baskets of garnet mums and dusty rose carnations with baby's breath graced the church. Two candelabras with dusty rose candles and garnet ribbons were also used. The lighting of one candle was observed as Karen and David became as one.

Betsy and Owen of Richmond provided the special music. The songs were "If You Are My Special One", "Moon River", "The Wedding Song", and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Melanie Hamm, Danville, presided over the bridal guest book.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Cedar Rapids County Club. The hostesses were Mrs. Bev Weidman, Cincinnati, Ohio; Jenny Singleton, London, Pat King and Barb Mitchell, sisters of the groom, both of Byrdstown, Tennessee. The barkeepers for the reception were Kay Karstensen, Cincinnati, Ohio and Sammy Adams of London.

The bride is the daughter of Leroy M. Brown and Mrs. Faye Noe, Mason, Ohio, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Sarah Cash and Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Brown all of Brodhead and is employed by Texas Pioneer Coal Company.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold King of Byrdstown, Tennessee and is the owner-manager of King's Pic Pac.

The couple have made their home in Mt. Vernon, and a honeymoon was taken to Hawaii in February.

Pressure-Cooked Meals Save Energy

A pressure saucepan is a real miser when it comes to using gas or electricity, and every bit of energy saved makes a difference these days.

It's a wonderful time-saver. It can conserve food nutrients, too. Try planning a week's menus around this kitchen helper and you'll be convinced of its usefulness—both to your family and to the state energy department in its current conservation campaign.

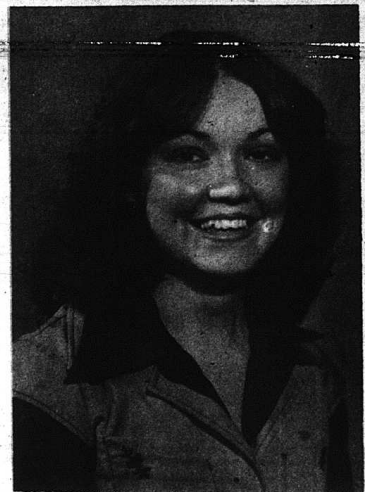

Don't limit your pressure saucepan to quick-cooking vegetables or a pot roast. You can also prepare gourmet dinners and stews with it, as well as cereals, breads, and even desserts.

Advantages

Using a small amount of water keeps down the loss of vitamins and minerals that might otherwise dissolve in the cooking liquid and be "lost."

Once the pressure saucepan heats up to cooking temperature, the heat is turned down to the lowest level at which it can maintain the necessary pressure.

Rockets Beat Casey Co. 73-60

By: Rick Anderkin

The Rockcastle County Rockets traveled to Casey County last Friday night to play their last regular season game and came away with an easy victory.

There was never any doubt as to the outcome of the game as it belonged to the Rockets all the way.

David Penso led the scoring with 18 points in what was probably his best outing of the season.

The Rockets, as a team, shot over 50 percent in the game and outscored the bigger Casey County team.

Larry Harmon turned in another fine performance, garnering 14 points on the night and picking off several rebounds. Steve Center had his usual good scoring game getting 17. The rest of the scoring went as follows: Jeff Hammond and Walter Browning, 8 each; Jack Farthing, 6 and Eddie Thompson, David Mullins and Tim Arvin, 2 each.

County Agent's Notes

By H. Lee Durham
County Extension Agent
For Agriculture

Farm Safety Survey

Rockcastle County is one of thirty counties randomly selected to participate in a statewide farm safety survey. The survey is being conducted by the UK College of Agriculture and the Cooperative Extension Service to find out what the accident situation is on Kentucky farms. The results of the survey will be used to develop educational programs that will be more effective in helping farm families prevent costly accidents that occur

National statistics indicate that farming is one of the most hazardous occupations in the nation.

Farm families in the county will be randomly selected as part of the statewide representative sample. They will be interviewed by local volunteers trained in procedures necessary to get valid information. All information obtained from each farm family in the survey will be kept confidential.

The survey will take 12 months to complete, with interviews conducted each quarter of the year. Interviews of farm families will begin April 1. Information obtained will include the ages of family members injured, how and where the accidents happened factors involved, seriousness of the injuries, time lost from work, medical and hospital costs.

We urge rural families in the survey sample to cooperate with interviewers when they begin their work. The information you supply can help someone avoid the cost and suffering of accidents in the future.

Economists Expect Higher Food Prices in 1978

Consumers can expect to pay 4-6% higher prices for food this year, despite large supplies of farm products and depressed prices received by farmers. This outlook follows a 6% increase in food prices during 1977.

Rising wages of food processing and marketing employees and increasing costs of other inputs will put upward pressure on food prices in 1978, says Larry Jones, Extension specialist in consumer economics in the UK College of Agriculture.

He points out that major collective bargaining agreements at the retail food level will expire this year. This, plus a higher minimum wage and increased social security contributions, will force labor costs even higher.

The overall food outlook for 1978 is dominated by large supplies, increases in marketing costs and uncertainty over weather, energy and the impact of the new federal farm legislation.

Jones says that surpluses of U.S. grain prices and dampening effect on the rising retail food prices. It is anticipated that the large grain supplies will stimulate increases in production of pork, grain-fed beef, poultry, eggs and dairy products.

In summarizing the outlook for 1978, Jones says that most of the 4-6% increase in food prices will come from the food marketing sector. Farm value of food products will remain low and continue to retard, but not stop, the rise in retail food prices.

Ice-Clogged Gutters Can Lead To Home Insulation Damage

Rain gutters clogged with ice and snow can cause more damage to homes, than most people realize.

Snow and ice that dam up gutters can make rooftop water back up into shingles rather than allowing it to run off. This can force water into a home's attic and possibly into wall and ceiling insulation. A number of Kentucky homes are experiencing such problems during this year's icy winter.

"This winter we're getting more snow and warmer temperatures than last year," says Bob Fehr, Extension engineer in the UK College of Agriculture. These conditions increase chances that snow on rooftops will melt partially, making this type of water problem more likely.

Anytime icicles form against the side of your house, water should just as well be in your insulation, icicles hanging from the rain gutter do not indicate this problem.

Fehr recommends two ways to prevent water from damming up and backing under the shingles. The most obvious is to chip the ice out of your rain gutter, so roof water can escape a slippery and dangerous tactic when all is ice over.

A number of people have been hurt badly by slipping off icy step-ladders and roofs, so be careful. Another method that may provide relief is to drill holes in the soffit board along the underside of the roof overhang. Water that has entered under the shingles might drain out these holes before it backs up into wall and ceiling insulation.

"Neither alternative is easy," notes Fehr. "One method is easier than replacing your plaster and wall insulation later."

Homes with inadequate attic insulation are especially prone to have the partial melting problem associated with roof water buildup. Home heat escaping into the attic sometimes melt enough snow to cause this problem in such cases.

This means that a high heat setting is needed for only a few minutes, and foods cook in one fourth or less of the usual time.

Need A New Gasket?

If you haven't used your pressure cooker for a while, be sure the rubber gasket hasn't deteriorated. It should be smooth and sound and snug-fitting, so that it will not leak steam or lower the pot's efficiency.

Many hardware stores stock gaskets for various sizes and brands of pressure saucapans. Don't try to "make do" with an old gasket that has lost its elasticity.

Study Your Recipe Book

Study the recipe book and manual that came with your saucapan. If you've lost it, send it to the manufacturer for a replacement. You'll need it for instructions on using your saucapan, for recipes, and for exact processing times and pressure settings.

Pot Roasts and Steaks

Pressure cooking quickly seasons

and tenderizes budget-priced meat cuts that usually need hours of simmering.

Potatoes and other vegetables can be added during the last few minutes.

Soups and stews are particularly quick and easy to prepare with a pressure saucapan. You can quickly thaw and partially cook a stewing beef, for instance. Then cook it and bone it, put the meat back in the cooker, add vegetables and seasoning, and cook it a little longer. Serve it with crisp crackers and a salad.

Breads and Desserts

You can make bread puddings, Boston brown bread, dumplings, custards, steamed puddings and all sorts of fruit desserts with your pressure cooker.

Use it to reconstitute and cook dried fruits and vegetables, too.

Cooked Cereals and Pastas

It will cook breakfast cereals such as oatmeal, cornmeal, barley and grits in from 2 to 25 minutes. It's quick way to prepare rice and pasta, too.

When you cook cereals, rice and pasta, never allow the pressure cooker to be more than one-half full.

Safety Precautions

There are other safety rules you should know, too. It is important to study your instruction manual carefully. For example, here are some of the rules to learn:

- Never remove the pressure-indicator weight until the steam returns to the "Down" or no-pressure position.
- Never take the cover off without first removing the pressure-indicator weight.

Never put the pressure-indicator weight in water. This could cause it to corrode. Live steam from the vent pipe in the cooker lid will keep it clean and sterile.

Never force the cover off. If it doesn't unlock easily, there is still pressure inside the cooker.

For more ideas on saving energy all over the house, stop by the Extension Office in the Rockcastle County Courthouse, or call me at 256-2408.

Although it still looks a lot like winter, spring-and spring fishing is just around the corner. March, April and May are usually our most productive months of the year, since most popular game fish spawn in Kentucky during this period.

While the fish are concentrated in their spawning areas (usually in shallow water) they are much easier to locate and catch than they will be later in the summer, when they are deeper and more scattered.

Many anglers try to plan weekend trips or even long vacations to coincide with the spawning activities of their favorite fish. But predicting when a spawn will take place is difficult, if not downright impossible.

The difficult arises because it is necessary first to predict the weather, since weather determines water temperatures, which in turn triggers spawning activity.

But it's not only temperature alone, but also the rate at which the water temperature rises that governs when a spawn will occur. It takes time for eggs and milk to develop in the fish's body to a rapid rise to spawning temperature may find the fish not yet ready to start spawning, even though water temperatures may be "just right."

So what follows should be taken as only the most general of guides, subject to a variety of environmental factors—which is just another way of saying it's not our fault if the fish aren't biting when we say they're supposed to.

Walleye usually spawn first, at water temperatures of around 50 to 55 degrees Fahrenheit (10-12 degrees Celsius). White bass start spawning when the water temperatures reaches 55 to 60 degrees. Since both these fish "run" up tributary streams or into the headwaters of lakes to spawn, it isn't unusual to catch a mixed string of white bass and walleyes in areas where both fish exist.

As water temperatures continue to rise, the crappie start moving from their deep water winter homes toward shallow water spawning areas. They spawn at water temperatures between 60 and 65 degrees, in water from three to ten feet deep with some kind of brush, weeds or sunken tree tops for protection. These fish are communal spawners, with large numbers concentrating in the same area.

After the crappie have just about completed their spawn, the largemouth bass begin. Like crappie, bass prefer water from three to ten feet deep, but they like open water over a sand, gravel or hard clay bottom. Although bass are not commonly the angler will often find several beds in the same general area because suitable bottom conditions exist there. Bass guard their nests and will attack all intruders, including artificial lures.

Bluegill wait until water temperatures reach or exceed 80 degrees before spawning. These fish build nests in water one to three feet deep, often in areas where there are overhanging tree or bushes. Live worms or small artificial lures are productive over bluegill beds as long as the angler doesn't spook the fish into deeper water.

And here's a final note to whet your appetite: after a long cold winter, fish are more likely to have very intense, active spawns, according to Kentucky's Director of Fisheries, Charlie Bowers, who says this could be an excellent year for fishermen throughout the commonwealth. After a winter like this one, we need some compensation, so get ready for some fine spring fishing.

Contour Strip Cropping

By Greg Stephens
Soil Conservation Service
Rockcastle County

Have you ever thought how contour strip cropping would fit into your farming operation? If you are planting hilly ground in crops and have cattle, it could fit quite well.

Contour strip cropping is the rotation of alternate strips of row crops and grass. An example four year rotation could be corn or tobacco the first year, corn or tobacco the second year, row crops and legumes after the fall harvest and cut hay for the next two years and go back to row crops. As one strip was in grass, the two strips on either side would be in row crops. Now I'm sure most farmers know that and you're asking yourself how can this method of farming help me? There is several ways. Using alternate strips creates more feet of field borders. In tobacco this can mean more pounds per acre. Do you turn cattle into corn fields to clean up missed corn? If you do, this is a way to extend the grazing season and cattle will graze grass as well as corn. Do you like to hunt or bird watch? Strip cropping is beneficial to wildlife by creating a variety of plant cover on a small area. Besides the advantage already mentioned strip cropping helps conserve moisture by allowing water to soak into the ground instead of running off. This will reduce erosion of topsoil and help keep our streams running clear. Strips should be set up to accommodate the type of equipment used. The grass on the strip between row crops can be cut for hay. A legume like red clover which only lives two years could be incorporated into a year crop, 2 year grass rotation quite well.

Contour strip cropping is one of the "tools" available to farmers to help control erosion and use their land within its capabilities. Soil erosion is a terrible waste of our most precious and valuable natural resource, SOIL!

These are some advantages of contour strip cropping and you could probably use your imagination to think of a way to fit this conservation practice into your farming operation. This year there will be cost-sharing assistance available to help farmers set up contour strip cropping system, I would be glad to come to your farm to talk with you personally about this system could be fitted into your operation and the federal cost-sharing assistance available to install them. Call Greg Stephens at 256-2541 or stop by the Soil Conservation Service office in the Courthouse.

POETRY CORNER

Give Now

Sent in by Madine Creech

I would rather have one little rose

From the garden of a friend,

Than to have the choicest flowers,

When my stay on earth must end.

I would rather have on pleasant word,

In kindness said to me,

Than flattery when my heart is still,

And life has ceased to be.

I would rather have a loving smile,

From friends I know are true,

Than tears shed 'round my casket,

When this world I bid adieu,

Blossoms bring to me today,

Whether pink or white or red,

I'd rather have one blossom now,

Than a truckload when I'm dead.

God knows how much we miss her. Never shall her memory fade. But we pray we will all be together. On that Great Homecoming Day. Sadly missed by the families

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Flornie Brown would like to express our appreciation for all the kindness shown in the death of our Mother. We deeply appreciate those who came to the funeral home and the church through the snow and over icy roads, to keep their last respects to her. We thank Watson's Funeral Home for their kindness to us, those who sang the lovely songs at her funeral and our brother-in-Christ, Thad Eubanks, whom Mother loved so dearly, for coming to preach her funeral.

Friends are like flowers. Each has a beauty. And Fragrance all their own. How wonderful to always. Have a lovely bouquet of them.

Her loving children, grandchildren and great grandchildren

Watch Those Statistics

You see the headlines in the newspaper quite often. "Home prices up 6%...Home prices up 10%." The situation looks discouraging for potential home buyers. But before you shake your head and say you can't afford those prices, dig a little deeper and see what's behind those statistics.

The prices that are quoted in the papers are usually MEDIAN prices. The median price is the middle price. Remember this when you read the real estate news. If the headline says "Median Price of Homes in West Northville Reaches $52,500" it simply means that half the homes sold went for more than that figure, and half went for less. Bear in mind that the median price figure only gives a rough idea of home prices. The only real way to know what's available and at what price is to find out. Remember that statistics view the whole picture, surveying a group of homes and arriving at a median figure. You are only interested in one home! There might be one out there just for you at the price you want to pay. Come in and talk to us about it. You might be able to laugh at those statistics as you move into your own home!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at Ford Realty & Auction Co., Inc., Mt. Vernon, Phone 256-4545. We're here to help!
