A Strange March "Critic" Neither Lion Nor Lamb

There was an odd little creature flapping his wings and stirring things up last week - "Nutrition", the American Dietetics Association's cartoon character created as the symbol for National Nutrition Week (March 6-10).

He's expected to keep busy all month, pointing out the importance of a balanced diet in our lives. So, let's listen to him for a few minutes! Let's quickly review the Basic Four food groups and note how many servings our bodies need daily from each one, and why.

Milk-Group Foods

This includes milk and dairy products, foods that are especially rich in calcium. Teeth and mature bones, as well as growing bones, depend on calcium for their strength and soundness. Adults, as well as children under 9, need 2 cups of milk daily. Children from 9 to 12 should have 3 cups of milk a day. Teenagers and pregnant women need 4 cups of milk a day. Some of this can be in the form of cheese, cottage cheese, buttermilk, and other foods made with milk.

Meat-Group Foods

This group includes meat, poultry, fish, dried beans, peanut butter, eggs, and nuts. These foods are extremely important for their protein content. Protein is essential for the growth and repair of body tissue-muscle, organs, blood, skin and hair.

Everyone in the family needs two servings from this group. Two to three ounces of lean cooked meat, poultry, or fish (without bones) count as one serving.

Other foods that may count as one serving are: 4 tablespoons of peanut butter, 1 cup of cooked dried beans or peas and two eggs.

Fruits and Vegetables

Vitamins and minerals make these foods important, and it's good to get as much variety as possible. Vitamins A and C are particularly important.

Vitamin C is essential for strengthening blood vessels and helping the body resist infection, but it can't be stored in the body. So it's necessary to

Girls Lose to

Cawood in Regionals

The Rocket girls played an outstanding game in first round regional action last Wednesday night before falling to favorite Cawood, 58-50. The girls had a shooting percentage of 50% but Cawood's taller team had the rebounding edge.

The girls stayed in contention throughout the game, only down four points, 25-21, at half-time. And, with three minutes to in the fourth quarter, the RCHS girls cut Cawood's lead to one point then missed a layup. Cawood scored and the Rockets had to start fouling to get possession of the ball and this allowed Cawood to increase their lead.

In final round action, Cawood defeated Clay County 51-46 for the 13th regional championship.

Senior Regina Rappe was named to the all-regionals team for her outstanding 25-point performance against Cawood.

Others scoring for the Rockets were: Diana Thacker with 10; Brenda Bullen got 8; Sandy Sturgill, 4; Kim Howard, 2 and Kim Deatherage, 1.

VOLUME 90 - NUMBER 28

Thursday, March 16, 1978

Mount Vernon, Kentucky 40456

RECC Coal Supply Drops to 29 Days

Lee Roy Cole, manager of Jackson County Rural Electric was notified that as of Thursday, March 8, East Kentucky Power Cooperative's coal stockpile had dropped to 39 days supply.

This continued decline is related to a number of factors, including the weather and the coal strike. Coal haul roads have been ice covered and are now mud. Prices are changing daily which tends to excite the market and leaves delivery uncertain.

We are continuing to urge our consumer-members to reduce usage by at least 25%. This is still voluntary but if the coal supply drops to 25 days we will go to a mandatory curtailment program at that time.

Court Assigns Brodhead Option to Impvt. Council; Approves Citizen Participation Plan

At a called meeting of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court last week, the court voted to assign the option the county has on the Brodhead Fair Company land to the Rockcastle County Improvement Association for the sum of $10.

The action came on a motion by J.R. "Booge" Cromer which was seconded by Joe Clark. One member of the court, Sherman Sargent abstained and two magistrates, Frank DeBogge and Amos Burdette, voted no. Judge Hubert Thacker voted with Cromer and Clark for passage of the motion.

In addition to assigning the land, the motion also included authorization for the county judge and court clerk to execute assignment on behalf of the county.

A Plan for Citizen Participation in the project was also approved by the Court.

The plan includes some background information on the $271,900 project which is being financed by a Community Development Block Grant.

The original grant amount covers the initial phase of the project which includes (a) purchasing the 30-acre site (b) design and construction of an elderly center and (c) design recreation improvements such as restrooms, a softball field, picnic area, horse shoe area shuffle board, basketball and multi-purpose court, program areas and access roads, parking, and walkways.

The written plan goes on to state that eventually, over a five-year period, phases II and III will be completed. The plan also includes a list of housing around this recreation area. "This is a good opportunity for the people of Rockcastle County, but also the potential of such a project could be greatly improved with citizen input," the plan further states.

Under the plan for citizen participation, three major areas will be concentrated upon: public hearings, staff reports and newspaper articles. The first hearing will be conducted by the county in early May 1978 to discuss the status of the project, funds expended and to ascertain any public input.

The second hearing will further explain the project when 50% of engineering designs are completed. Again public comment is welcome.

The third hearing will be held at any time significant modification is made in the project or in amending the budget for any purpose amounting to 10% or more of the total project cost.

Under the staff reports area, each month a member of the staff will attend the fiscal court meeting to report orally and/or written progress of the project. There will be an outline of the past month's work. Reports of expanded funds will be made. These court meetings are open to the public and to the news media.

The plan goes on to say that from time to time, it will be important to publish articles relating to the status of the project, reports on expenditures, job opportunities, environmental considerations, significant changes in the program and these articles will appear in the Mt. Vernon Signal.

The plan stresses the keeping of the people informed and plans to reach the elderly sector through talks to the Rockcastle County Senior Citizens; the youth can be reached, the reporter further says, by talks in the schools made possible by cooperation with the school superintendent and a wide dissemination of people can be reached in the churches. Plans for times and places will be set in the near future for these staff speeches. Plans are to keep the Improvement Council informed of project activities and the council will be looked to for special input and interest in representing low income, handicapped, elderly, females, the underemployed and the unemployed citizens.

The radio media will also be utilized with regular announcements being made to keep the people informed of changes in the project status. The radio will also

City Awards Bid For Metal Storage Building

Bids for a metal building to be constructed in the rear of city hall were opened at Monday night's regular meeting of the city council.

Hoesch America, Inc. of Atlanta, Georgia, was the successful bidder on the building with a $7,014 bid for a 49x80 Quonset type building. Thrifty Lumber Company was the low bidder on the concrete and Kentucky Stone Company was the bid for 50 tons of dense grade rock.

The building will house city and water works equipment. In connection with this project, the council also voted to advertise for bids from contractors for erection of the building and one more bid for materials is necessary before work can begin and that is for the brick for city hall and extending 8 inch block to a footing extending to bottom of the existing wall of city hall. Specifications for this bid can be obtained at city hall.

The Council also cleared up another item of business which has been on the agenda for the past few meetings - that of city policeman Joe Howard.

At last month's meeting, Patrolman Howard handed in his resignation effective March 15. This followed some discussion by the council over actions of Howard while he (Howard) was on duty.

However, following more discussion Monday night and on a motion by Councilman Chester Hellard, Patrolman Howard was placed on 90-day probation to be re-hired at the end of that time if everything is satisfactory. Patrolman Larry Williams, who was present at the meeting, assured the council that Patrolman Howard was interested in staying on.

However, Councilman Hellard's motion did not have clear sailing. Voting with him was Dennis Halcomb with three abstentions by Councilmen Bob Jasper, Conrad Parrett and Elmer Alcorn. One councilman, Oscar Bullock, voted no on the motion.

The possibility of hiring a meter maid to attend to the parking meters in town since Clifford Pittman is ill at present and unable to work, was also discussed. The council had one application, from Bonnie Halcomb, and seemed to favor the idea in their discussion. However, no action was taken on the application.

Estill Hodges, who is building a new home on Williams Street in Mt. Vernon was before the council to ask for help with his problem of a sewer line. City employee Matt Powell, Jr. told the council that due to the lay of the land in this area, ordinary sewer pipe would not suffice and that cast iron pipe would be required because of the nearness of the pipe to the highway at the point it has to cross the road. The council approved the change in the type of pipe to be laid.

he used, the plan further says, to let people know of activities for citizen participation.

"The written plan closes with this statement concerning its purpose: "In essence this plan is a tool to disseminate information to the public. But, on the other hand, it is also a challenge to the people to get involved. It is an opportunity to perpetuate constructive ideas from the people, in order to better serve the people."

Mrs. Gertrude Hillson approached the council to ask for consideration over her water bill for the past two months. Mrs. Hillson told the council that due to the severe weather, her water lines froze and burst and a plumber was unable to fix it immediately thus causing the higher than usual bill. The council reiterated their policy of adjusting the sewer charge in these cases and told Mrs. Hillson that they would make this adjustment for her.

In other business, the council approved a letter for Clarence Carter who is constructing a motel on a hill at the Burr Interchange, which states that city water is available to the site and that Mr. Carter would be

The Frankfort Report

By Paul L. Whalen

With only a day or two left in this regularly scheduled session of the 1978 Kentucky General Assembly you should see the activity in the legislature accelerate to a point where the hands of time are literally turned back or stopped. In previous years the clocks at the capital building have been either stopped or turned back on the last day in order to give the General Assembly enough time to finish their business within the 60 day time limit.

Some of the highlights of the activity during the next to the last week of this session of the General Assembly included;

The House approved a bill which would raise the governor's salary to $50,000 by Dec. 11, 1981. Presently the governor receives $39,500 a year. This bill would also raise the amount the governor receives to $45,000 a year on Dec. 11, 1979.

The Senate passed a House bill which would raise minimum traffic fines in the state by $15. The bill now goes to the governor for final action.

The House is a 78 to 10 vote passed legislation to make it optional for people to have automatic safety inspections for their cars, trucks and other motor vehicles. The bill must now go to the Senate. If it passes there and is signed into law by the governor, a driver can choose whether or not to want his car certified as safe to drive. If he does the bill provides that all drivers who get an inspection sticker will receive a 5% reduction on his automobile insurance.

Surprisingly enough the House of Representatives in a 100-0 vote unanimously approved Governor Carter's $17.5 million budget for the 1978-1980 biennium.

The State Senate approved a measure which would create a state Department of Economic Development. The House passed a bill which would raise the maximum unemployment benefit payment from $94 a week to $121 a week.

A bill was passed in the House which would send 75% of the surplus over the estimated severance tax back to the local counties on energy roads. The other 25% of the surplus would be distributed to the non-coal counties where roads are used to transport coal. The House passed a measure which would allow the state to purchase the world famous Churchill Downs Race Track at Louisville.

The Senate has approved a measure which would allow the state to go into the hotel business. The state would be 40% owner of a 353 room hotel, to be named in Inn Kentucky which will be built on state-owned property near the Capital Plaza in Frankfort.

The House passed a Senate bill permitting the state parks department to transfer possession and maintenance of covered wooden bridges to local government agencies or private non-profit organizations.

The House passed a bill which would increase the expense allowance for members of the General Assembly from $50 a day to $75 a day. This bill would also increase the monthly expense allowance while the General Assembly is not in session from $550 to $750. The bill is now in the Senate awaiting further consideration.

A total of 1,141 bills have been introduced in this session of the General Assembly. This is the fewest since 1972 when only 1,048 were introduced. House Majority Leader Bobby Richardson (D-Glasgow) has introduced the most bills overall in this session of the General Assembly with a total of 84. In the Senate, Senator David Karem (D-Louisville) has introduced the most bills. He is followed by Senate Majority Leader Tom Garrett (D-Paducah) who has introduced 55 bills.

As most people realize there are behind the scenes maneuvering for positions in next year's state-wide races. Last week the Clerk of the Kentucky Supreme Court Martha Layne Collins sent letters to Democratic leaders across the state saying "I have very definitely decided to seek the Democratic nomination for the office of Lieutenant Governor in the May 1979 Primary." However she says she will not make a

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I am writing on behalf of the Somerset Community College Sports Association. The Sports Association is a non-profit organization whose sole purpose is to promote inter-collegiate sports at our Community College. The University of Kentucky does not support inter-collegiate sports, monetarily, and any of their Community Colleges, and therefore organizations like ourselves must give the full financial support if a program is desired.

Our budget for the past year was over $12,000. This money went for scholarships, books, uniforms, housing, transportation, all equipment, and supplementing the coach's salary.

public announcement of her decision to run for Lt. Governor until after the November General Election because of her loyalty to her friends-and-to-the-Democratic Party.

Approximately 95% of this money comes from Somerset and Pulaski County, yet only two players on our recent basketball team are from this area.

The SCC Coedgy Basketball team this year, coached by Terry Mills, had an over-all 18-6 record. They won the Kentucky Jr. College Athletic Conference as well as going to the quarter finals in the Region VII NCAAA Tournament.

Garian Vanhook of Rockcastle County was a member of the SCC basketball team this year.

The Sports Association also supports tennis and golf. We would like to have more sports but are not able to do so, financially.

In conclusion, I am asking for your support. We are in need of money to keep the program going. A full scholarship for tuition is $800.00 per year, but we would appreciate any amount of money that you may feel that you can give. Your contribution is tax deductible. Please make checks payable to the Somerset Community College Sports Association, Box 562, Somerset, Ky. 42501.

Decorations

By: Oscar Fain

How do I decide on a color scheme? Any decorator will tell you that no question is asked more often. Or has an easier answer! If you're sure of your color taste, do your own thing.

Combine any colors that please you. Today, there's a new freedom in decorating. The most admired color schemes are often the ones nobody ever tried before. You don't have to be an expert. Just an individualist who knows what she likes.

On the other hand, most people aren't individualists. We want something "right." We know it when we see it, but by that time, we've wasted a lot of money. Never mind, there's an answer to that problem, too.

You can buy the color advice of the world's foremost artists for only a few dollars.

That's right. Look for a picture, possibly an inexpensive print, from a good artist. Select an accent rug, a beautiful plate, a piece of ceramics. Buy a little gels. You don't have to be an expert. Just an individualist who knows what she likes.

Then, let that one lovely piece set the color scheme for your whole room.

Pick up a pale tone for the walls, more dominant shades for the upholstery and draperies, possibly a neutral shade for the carpet or several accent rugs.

Just remember to use the brighter color sparingly - for an occasional accent. Colors that are beautiful in a small piece can overwhelm you in a whole room. In most cases, you can use a paler, grayer shade of the color you've chosen without disturbing the basic color scheme.

When in doubt, come see us.

We have a good deal of experience with all kinds of decorating problems. We won't try to push you into a room that reflects our taste, instead of yours. But, we are glad to offer personalized decorating advice without cost or obligation. So, come in soon. And be sure to watch for more "Decorations," with answers to common questions.

Consumer Comments

By Robert F. Stephens
Attorney General

Fuel Adjustment Clause

There has been a great deal of confusion on the part of consumers regarding the fuel adjustment clause which appears on their monthly utility bills. Many consumers do not understand what these charges include.

The fuel adjustment clause is an invention of the Public Service Commission (PSC), a state regulatory agency that constantly supervises the business practices of public utility companies in Kentucky. The formula for this adjustment charge is established by the PSC following administrative hearings with both the utility companies and attorneys of the Consumer Protection Division who represent the consumers of the state.

The fuel adjustment clause allows utility companies to automatically pass to consumers any additional costs incurred by utility companies for procurement of fossil fuel, which in Kentucky consists mainly of coal. When the cost of fuel increases, this additional cost is billed to the utility companies by the providers of the fuel and is added to your utility bill in the form of the fuel adjustment clause. Presently, increased costs for handling, transportation and purchasing of these fossil fuels are also added to your bill within the fuel adjustment clause. However, the PSC is holding further hearings on whether the costs of handling, transporting and purchasing should be included as a part of the fuel adjustment.

Many consumers do not realize that the fuel adjustment clause can sometimes work to their advantage because of the constantly fluctuating price of coal. Without the clause, there would be two costly alternatives for consumers.

1) At the beginning of the year, utility companies would have to file a rate application with the PSC and "guess" how much the cost of coal will increase over the next year. This "guess estimation" would be automatically billed to the consumer even if the price of coal was, in fact, a smaller amount, or

2) For every increase in coal, utility companies would have to request full rate hearings before the PSC. This would involve additional time and expense in preparing and holding the hearing which would in turn be passed on to the consumer as business expenses.

If the clause was not included on utility bills, the bill would be the same, if not a little higher. At least when the costs are itemized on your bill, you realize the amount you are paying for the base rate of the service and how much the cost of the fuel is increasing each month to provide you with those services.

Another misconception regarding the fuel adjustment clause is that consumers believe the utility company is allowed to keep this additional money collected. This is false. The money is passed directly to the utility company's suppliers, which in most cases, would be the coal companies. The utility companies do not retain any of the money in the "fuel adjustment" charge.

If you have a consumer complaint regarding another problem, contact the Office of the Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, 279 S. Clair Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601. Our office has found that it can most effectively deal with written complaints and encourages you to write when you have a complaint. However, if you have an emergency situation or just need some information, you can call the toll-free consumer hotline at 1-800-372-2960.

Gun Deer Season

Approved by Commission

A gun deer season which wildlife officials describe as "biologically sound and necessarily complicated," was passed yesterday by the state Fish and Wildlife Commission.

Basically, the 1978 gun deer hunting season will be for bucks only, with at least one forked antler, and will be split into two sections—November 11 through November 13 and December 2 through December 4 but that "basic" season will apply only to 74 of Kentucky's 120 counties.

Four counties—Ballard, McCracken, Livingston and Crittenden—will be open for either sex deer December 2 with bucks only hunting the other five days of the gun season. Edmonson County will be open for either sex deer Nov. 11-13 and Dec. 2-4; portions of Barren and Hart counties will be open for either sex deer Nov. 11-13 and Dec. 2-4 with bucks only hunting allowed in the remainder of those counties; 24 counties (see list below) will be open only Nov. 11-Nov. 13 for bucks with at least one forked antler, and 15 counties (see below) will be closed to all deer hunting—both gun and archery. The bag and possession limit of one year per hunter, whether by gun or bow, remains unchanged.

The 24 counties open only Nov. 11 through Nov. 13 are Kenton, Greenup, Bourbon, Woodford, Fayette, Montgomery, Mercer, Garrard, Lincoln, Madison, Breathitt, Pike, Letcher, Bell, Knox, Laurel, Whitley, Morgan, Rockcastle, Adair, Metcalfe, Jefferson, Hardinand, Jessamine. Counties closed to all deer hunting are Estill, Jackson, Owsley, Clay, Powell, Harlan, Leslie, Wolfe, Clark, Johnson, Perry, Knott, Martin, Floyd and Maguffin.

Additionally, the following wildlife management areas are closed to all hunting, including deer hunting: Grayson, Beaver Creek, Robinson Forest, Redbird, Dewey Lake and Cane Creek. The Yellowbank Area closed to deer gun and archery hunting only.

Further details concerning the gun deer hunting seasons, including lists of deer check stations, which will be mandatory again this year, will be available from the Department of Fish and Wildlife resources in Frankfort as soon as the regulations amendment procedure is completed—usually 60 to 90 days—and literature for distribution can be printed.

Good Forage Management...

probably represents the easiest way for you to more efficiently produce milk or meat. Here's why: feed costs represent the single largest cost of production. For example, take a look at your purchased feed bill and figure what percent of your production cost it represents.

High quality forages can be your least expensive source of nutrients. So, doing a better job managing the forages you grow could be the best opportunity for you to get more milk or meat per acre. And, to cut your purchased feed bill!

Getting more production per acre and reducing feed costs can mean bigger profits from the same animals and acres. And, it can be done through better forage management. That's why you're invited to attend a meeting covering:

Selecting Forages for More Feed Value

Managing Forages for Efficient Production - from field to feeding

No reservations are necessary to attend these meetings being held at:

Rockcastle Steak House, Monday, March 20 at 8 p.m.

Legislative News

By Rep. Wm. Harold DeMareus

Perhaps, you may ask when a law is enacted by Kentucky's General Assembly, when does it take effect? If a bill passes in both the House of Representatives and the Senate and the governor does not veto the bill, it will take effect 90 days following adjournment of the legislature. Unless a specific date for its effect is included in the bill in which case, the law will take effect immediately following its passage through the governor's office.

With only a few days remaining in the 1978 session, I feel it is fitting and proper to discuss some of the bills that have made progress in the legislative system.

The House passed legislation which creates a "bill of rights" for residents of nursing homes and other long term care homes. House Bill 217, which spells out 24 basic privileges for the residents, passed by a vote of 90-0, and will now be considered by the Senate. Among the rights set out in the bill, nursing home residents would be guaranteed confidentiality of their medical and personal records, freedom to control the use of their own money, and freedom to lodge complaints about improper care without fear of retaliation from the nursing home staff.

Also, the House passed a bill which proposes splitting the Public Service Commission (PSC) into two agencies to regulate utilities. House Bill 547 sets up two three-member commissions, one a full-time body to regulate gas and electric utilities, and a part-time group to regulate telephone, water and sewer utilities. The PSC now has five members who serve part-time. Several groups which have studied the PSC have recommended that its members become full-time state employees with no other business interests.

In other action at the Capitol, the Senate Public Utilities and Transportation committee sent to the Senate two bills which are aimed at offering help to people who can't afford rising utility bills. The committee approved Senate Bill 279, which would give financial assistance on utility bills to low-income and elderly people. In addition, the committee sent a somewhat similar bill to the Senate Floor without making a recommendation. That measure, Senate Bill 73, would provide reduced electric bills for the aged and disabled through a process known as "lifeline utility rates." Both bills will now be considered in the Senate chamber.

Another bill passed by the House is House Bill 445, which would prohibit insurance companies from basing their rates on the age or sex of a driver unless that driver had an accident or a conviction for a moving traffic violation in the previous two years. Supporters of the bill say having money at stake will provide an incentive for young people to drive safely and for parents to insist on safe driving habits. The bill passed the House by a vote of 74-9 and will now be considered by the Senate.

The House narrowly approved a bill that will allow thoroughbred racing on Sunday in Kentucky. The legislation would amend state law to allow thoroughbred and Appaloosa racing at racing meets on Sundays if the race track so desires. Supporters of the bill say it will generate an additional $2 million in revenue for the state.

And finally, the Senate Highways and Traffic Safety committee defeated a move to repeal Kentucky's motorcycle helmet law. The bill, which would allow motorcyclists to decide when they should wear the helmet, was defeated in the committee when it received only two of the four votes necessary for approval.

In conclusion, I think it is very important to note that the present state administration which is headed by Governor Carroll exerts a very strong and dominant influence on the outcome of a great body of legislation considered by Kentucky's General Assembly. If some of the laws that are passed or not passed do not suit you, one very excellent way to change this situation is to let your opinion be known.

Farmers Advised

Use Set-Aside, Grain Reserve Programs

Cynthia Duncan, Chairperson of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, said the new farm law has two important tools for farmers: set-aside and reserve programs. If farmers use the feed grain and wheat set-aside programs and participate in the grain reserve, they can reduce the 1978 grain crop and remove at least one billion bushels of grain from the market-place.

The ASC official said that if enough farmers participate in these programs, farm prices will go up. The programs are voluntary; no one is forced to participate. "But farmers must understand clearly that if they decide not to participate in the set-aside program, they will not be eligible for price support loans; they will not be eligible for deficiency payments if any are made, and they will not be eligible for low-yield disaster protection," Mrs. Duncan said.

ASCs began accepting application for the set-aside programs on March 1, and at the same time, began placing 1977 crops of wheat, barley and oats into the reserve without waiting for price support loans to mature. Early entry of corn and sorghum will be allowed at a later date.

Mrs. Duncan said the programs work hand-in-hand. "Without a cut-back in production, the supplies of grain will continue to depress the market even with the reserve. And without a reserve, acreage reductions alone cannot quickly reduce the supply available to the market and relieve the low price."

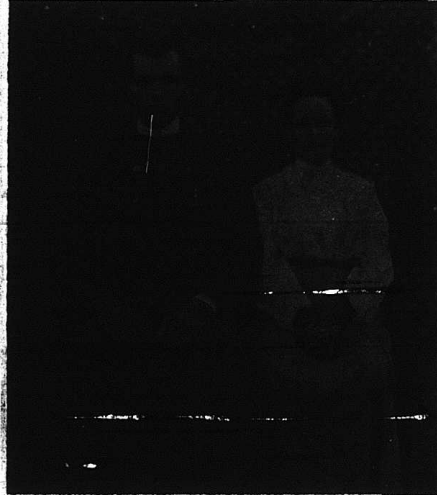

Rockcastle County farmers are encouraged to make full use of the loan program, participate in the set-aside programs to cut production and lower input costs, and put as much of their 1976 and 1977 grain into the reserve as possible to isolate it from the marketplace.

Pool Receipts Gain As Burley Sales Near End

By Bennett Roach
Burley Tobacco Growers Coop Assoc.

Tobacco markets in the closing days of the 1977-78 auctions have placed a slightly higher percentage of lead under loan, through the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association.

Last season the markets sold through April and into May. This season at mid-March all markets except Lexington have closed, and the total pool consignment stand at 7.9 percent, as compared with 5.96 percent the previous season.

For the week ending March 3 the 1977 crop total under loan had reached 36,357,678 pounds, or 7.79 percent, it was announced by Alvin R. Beckley, executive secretary-treasurer, at the monthly meeting of the Burley co-op's board of directors.

The figures are for the five-state area of Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Missouri in which the Burley Association administers the price support program.

The final reports for the season will be issued at the conclusion of sales at Lexington, where clean-up sales operations are planned late this month. Most of the other markets would up sales before March 1.

Burley leaders who have reviewed the season just concluded regard it as a successful and orderly one, and a credit to the production control and price support program. The price held up well from beginning to end.

Gross sales for the season through the first week of March have totaled 639,292,896 pounds, averaging $119.97, according to the Federal-State market news service. The price support average was $1.17 for the 1977-78 market.

There is speculation as to the amount of unsold leaf, in view of the USDA's latest estimate of 643.2 million pounds marketable this season. Excess and resale tobacco are not included in the gross total.

A national marketing quota which is 3.3 percent less than last season has been declared for the 1978 crop. When adjustments for under and over-marketings have been made the effective farm quotas for 1978 will total an estimated 651 million pounds, compared with 638 million for 1977.

11 Days Added to Season for Bow Hunters of Deer

Kentucky's bow hunters will have 11 extra days of deer hunting this fall, may use crossbows for a two-week period, and must check all deer through an official check station according to regulations approved by the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Commission at its quarterly meeting yesterday.

The archery deer season will open Oct. 1, 1978 and run through Nov. 8 with the second phase of the season opening Nov. 18 and continuing through Nov. 30. The season will reopen on Dec. 9 and run through Dec. 31, for a total of 75 days of hunting.

Crossbows may be used in all open counties from Oct. 1 through Oct. 14 only. Crossbows must have a minimum pull of 80 pounds.

The check station procedure will be similar to the one required of gun hunters for the past two seasons. Its purpose is to allow biologists to get a quick and accurate count of the total number of deer taken. A list of check stations will be available in late summer, before the season opens.

Fifteen counties will be closed to both gun and bow hunting.

Other archery regulations remain essentially the same as in recent years, according to Fish and Wildlife Commissioner Arnold L. Mitchell, who added that the extra days of hunting are not expected to add significantly to the total deer harvest.

Bow hunters may take either sex deer in all open counties, but specially managed wildlife areas may have differing regulations to be announced in the future, Mitchell said.

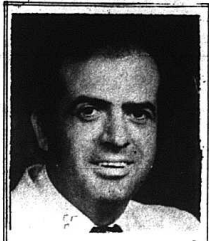

In other action, the fish and wildlife commission approved a black bass study offering cash rewards from $1 to $1,000. Over 4,000 bass in various lakes, streams and a portion of the Ohio River will be tagged, with each tag carrying a monetary value assigned by random selection. When an angler catches a tagged bass, he returns the numbered tag and will be notified of the cash value of the tag, which ranges from $1 to $1,000.

The purpose of the cash awards is to encourage anglers to return the tags. "Without the cash reward as an incentive, tag returns would not reflect an accurate percentage of legal sized bass harvested," according to Fisheries Director Charlie Bowers, who adds that an accurate harvest estimate is necessary to properly evaluate the impact of the new 12-inch size limit.

Additional information about the project will be released as final details are worked out, Bowers says.

Fairview

Rev. Harvey Pensol filled his regular appointment at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend with good attendance. Sunday School attendance was ninety eight. Maybe before long the weather will open up and springtime will be here, then more of our people can get out to church services. The snow is nearly all gone now but the ground is so soft and muddy. Our roads everywhere are in very bad condition. But we are thankful that the good Lord has blessed and cared for us like He has.

Rev. Ray Dean remains a patient in the Berea Hospital. Bless his heart.

We congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Gabbard and wish them many more happy years together. They have meant much to all of us around here and to our church. Mr. Gabbard has been a faithful worker and Deacon at Fairview for many years. We love them and pray God's richest blessings upon them. Mr.

Gabgard is 84 years old and Mrs. Gabbard is 83.

State's 1978-79 Small Game Season

Will be Virtually Unchanged

Kentucky's 1978-79 small game hunting seasons will be virtually unchanged from last year's, according to Fish and Wildlife Commissioner Arnold Mitchell, with the squirrel season opening on the traditional third Saturday in August (Aug. 19) and the seasons for rabbits, quail, grouse, and furbearers opening the third Thursday in November (Nov. 16).

Closing dates for the above season, as set by the Fish and Wildlife Commission, will be Oct. 31 for the first phase of the squirrel season which will reopen November 16 and continue through December 31; January 31 for rabbits and furbearers, and February 28 for quail and grouse. The falconry season, also unchanged from last year, will open November 1 and continue through the last hunting date for the species hunted.

Bag and possession limits, according to Mitchell, are: squirrel, 6 and 12; rabbits, 6 and 12; quail, 10 and 20; and grouse, 4 and 8. There is no limit on furbearers taken by trapping but hunters taking raccoons by other methods are limited to one per hunter, or no more than 3 per party of 5 or more hunters while in the field.

All small game hunting seasons, including those for furbearers, will be closed during the second phase of the gun deer hunt, December 2 through 4.

The Adolescent Need Family Solidarity

Mental Health Matters

What are some normal behaviors of the 14-16 year old age group? At this state of development, the adolescent may have an almost unlimited admiration of some adult whom he considers to be outstanding. Appetites are keen yet the nutritional state may be poor. There is comprehension of the nature of disease by this age group as well as an understanding and use of first aid. There may be emotional instability while the adolescent strives to understand social relationships. Many in this age range lack sex information and guidance. Sexual delinquency may result from a feeling of non-belonging in the home and a desire for other ties. The 14-16 year old needs adult guidance that does not infringe on his developing sense of maturity and independence. Parents need to be sensitive to their child's need for a balance between security and freedom. Family solidarity is most important as a kind of back-up and support when the teen-ager is trying to sort out issues that may be confusing to him or her.

Fortunately, schools provide outlets for the adolescent's high energy drives through organized sports and for their social needs through dancing, school meetings and clubs.

Here's a recipe using a 3-to-5 pound canned ham that's sure to make a hit at your family's Easter dinner:

Glaze: 1 cup dark corn syrup
1 teaspoon orange rind
1 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard

Cook a 5-pound ham about one hour at 300° F. Meanwhile, mix corn syrup, orange rind and mustard. Remove ham from oven and score, cutting 1/8 inch deep. Brush with glaze and cook 40 minutes, basting frequently.

The Pre-Owned Home

"Pre-owned" is a euphemism for a home you acquire second-hand or fifth (or even tenth-in the case of a heritage house). According to the National Association of Realtors, Americans purchase approximately 3 million homes annually. Of these, some 2 1/2 million are pre-owned homes. What accounts for their popularity?

The older home offers a wider choice of selection-there are approximately two to three times as many existing dwellings as new homes on the market today. However, you should take a careful look at basic systems, such as plumbing, heating and electricity to be sure they are up to current standards.

Beyond the very practical advantages offered by older homes, they exert an emotional appeal as well. Charm is a major factor; so too are individuality, and privacy resulting from hedges and full grown trees. In addition to these intangibles, the older home offers a wider choice of selection-there are approximately two to three times as many existing dwellings as new homes on the market today. However, you should take a careful look at basic systems, such as plumbing, heating and electricity to be sure they are up to current standards.

County Agent's Notes

County Extension Agent

Controlling Broomsedge Through Management

Millions of Kentucky acres are infested with "broomsedge" or "sage-grass". Most of this acreage has a cool season grass such as fescue present also. During the vegetative stage, broomsedge is grazed well by cattle, but later toward maturity it is not grazed at all. It should be controlled since it occupies space which could be occupied by more palatable and productive plants. But how?

Broomsedge is an Indicator

Just as a fever in man indicates a problem, broomsedge indicates a problem in the soil. And just as the doctor can't diagnose illness in a man by only knowing his temperature, the problem in soil cannot be diagnosed without additional information on the field where broomsedge is growing. The problem is always either a deficiency in lime (low pH), nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium or combinations of these deficiencies.

Soil Test is Important

To determine which of these deficiencies exist, a representative soil sample from the field should be taken to your county agent for testing. He will then recommend only what you need to apply. High phosphate soils sometimes have broomsedge. Adding more phosphate does not solve the broomsedge problem on these soils. Likewise adding lime or potash where they aren't needed doesn't help either. Nitrogen is almost always deficient in pure grass fields in Kentucky but the nitrogen level isn't determined in the routine soil test. It is well accepted that unfertilized pure grass stands are nitrogen deficient in most of our pasture and hay fields. Nitrogen can be supplied to grass fields either as fertilizer nitrogen or by seeding legumes.

Fertilizer Nitrogen VS Legume Nitrogen

Nitrogen from fertilizer or from legumes helps control broomsedge, but it is not recommended that nitrogen be applied to fields which have stands or which will be seeded to legumes. Nitrogen fertilizer applied in late winter, will cause grasses to begin growth either in the spring. Also, nitrogen may be applied to bluegrass and fescue in late summer for accumulating grass growth to graze during winter. Nitrogen fertilizer price increases make legumes look even more attractive than they have in the past.

Red clover is one of the best legumes to use in renovating a field infested with broomsedge. Properly inoculated red clover seeds produce vigorous seedlings which grow fast and compete strongly with all weeds.

Summary

To rid a field of broomsedge: 1) test the soil; 2) apply lime, phosphate and/or potash now according to soil test; 3) apply nitrogen fertilizer in late February; 4) apply pure grass stand; 5) if early spring growth is needed; 6) apply nitrogen fertilizer in August to pure grass stands, if continued grazing is desired; and/or 7) renovate seed red clover in fields which do not receive nitrogen fertilizer. Be sure and utilize the additional feed which will be produced by either grazing or harvesting growth as hay or silage. If grazing is the method of harvest, clipping may be needed to control unpalatable plants.

Tobacco Price Support...

It Doesn't Cost - It Pays

By Bennett Roach

Isn't it astonishing how dollars by the millions get batted about on the air waves and in print?

Take for instance the tobacco price support program. News stories accompanying HEW Secretary Joseph Califano's anti-tobacco drive have listed the government's "costs" in the tobacco program at various figures. They run all the way from $60 million upwards to over $100 million, per year.

They are all wrong. The government doesn't hand out money to tobacco farmers. It lends them funds, with their tobacco as collateral. These loans are advanced through such organizations as the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association. The loans are payable with interest.

Califano's crusade against smoking would cost the government $23 million in taxpayer money, plus $6 in advertising.

But, says a big city eastern newspaper (in a non-tobacco growing state) that would amount to only about one-fourth of what the national government pays out every year "in subsidies to tobacco growers."

How careless with figures can one get? How wrong about the facts, and still get into print?

The cost of the entire tobacco price support program from 1933 to date totals $52.1 million. Not per year, but for the entire period.

That is about 1/10 of 1 percent of the cost of all government farm programs since 1933.

In the case of the farmer-owned, farmer-controlled Burley Co-ops, every cent borrowed from the government has been repaid, plus interest, through the 37 crop years that the burley price support program has been operating.

The tobacco program has been the most economical, the most successful of all the government's farm commodity operations. It has been a bulwark in the farm families depend upon their tobacco crop.

And now, while the news stories about the Califano crusade are busy juggling the millions, let it not be forgotten that tobacco brings $8 1/2 billion annually into the federal, state and local treasuries in tax money.
