Be Smart From The Start

A homeowner has a big investment. When the time comes to sell that home, it's mighty important that you sell right... to make sure the investment has been a good one.

If pocketing a broker's commission tempts you, ask yourself if you can afford to let an amateur manage a transaction that involves thousands of dollars. Your dollars! When you want a job done well, you call a specialist. This is standard practice for successful businessmen... why not you?

Some people try to sell their own property, fail and then list it with a Realtor. In the meantime, they've let the best prospects slip through their fingers. Believe me. List your home with a Realtor from the start and you'll realize as much if not more profit and fewer problems from the sale than if you try to do it on your own. Statistics have proven this over and over again.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at Ford Realty & Auction Co., Inc., 1500 W. Vernon, Phone 256-4545. We're here to help!

Brown Resigns From Water District Board

Roy G. Brown has resigned from the Western Rockcastle Water District Board, after serving since its beginning, as director and president. Due to his being out of the county all the time Mr. Brown said he feels that it would be better for someone here all the time to take his place on the board. The project was one of the largest for the improvement and progress of Rockcastle and joining areas. About 80 miles of water lines, serving approximately 500 rural members, was laid at a cost of nearly 1 1/2 million dollars.

Mr. Brown stated, "I want to thank all the members of the Association for your trust and confidence in whatever little service I was able to do (without having to be or solicit your vote). Mr. Brown said he realizes that many times while we were trying to get grants and loans for the project as they had to go back and ask for more money (because the price freeze on materials and other things had been lifted) and the cost of construction had almost doubled, causing a long lay before they could get approval for the extra money needed for the project.

Brown said he regretted that they were not able to get water at that time, because of not being feasible to meet FHA and Public Service Commission standards to amortize loan in the time they had to pay it back.

But the Association is still trying to furnish water wherever feasible and they need your help and cooperation.

John Cox with a fire extinguisher and neighbors helped to put out a fire which caught from a trash barrel at the Hobby Haus last Thursday. Lumber and firewood, located near the business on U.S. 25 south of Mt. Vernon, also caught and it was touched and set off by a while. Jimmy Cromer of Mt. Vernon is shown in the above photo helping to extinguish the blaze.

City Council Meets With Several Items on Agenda

Following the first public meeting, the Mt. Vernon City Council held their regular monthly meeting with quite a few items on the agenda.

One of the first persons to approach the council was Raymond McGuire, a property owner in McGuire Subdivision. Last month, a representative of several property owners had approached the council concerning annexation of the subdivision to the city and had presented a petition with several names affixed asking for the annexation.

Mr. McGuire was before the Council to oppose the procedure and with him were several residents of the subdivision also opposed to it. Councilman Chester Hellard said that he had been informed that several residents who had originally signed the petition had now changed their mind. He voiced the opinion that since it was not the city's desire to annex property into the city limits against the wishes of the residents that the matter be dropped for the present time.

Clarence Carter also was before the council to ask for the city to spread blacktop for him in Carter Subdivision. Mr. Carter said he would purchase the blacktop and get the road ready for it if the city would spread it for him and then accept the roads for maintenance. Mr. Carter also asked the city to accept the water line in Evergreens Estate at Spiro. The council agreed to let the street committee look the streets over in Carter Subdivision and make their recommendations to the council and to accept the water line into Evergreen Estates with the provision that Junior Powell be allowed to see the line to be laid before it was covered up.

Tom Welch, a relative newcomer to Mt. Vernon, was before the Council to talk about several items which he felt the city needed to give their attention. Mr. Welch pointed out to the council that there were four places on West Main Street where water was going across the road because of stopping up culverts, that parking problem and the elimination of left turns off Main Street; catwalks on Main Street and bars to help people get down off Main Street; paint for parking meters, the bottle-neck in front of Pain Furniture and the need for a signal at the railroad crossing on 150 at Thrifty Lumber Company.

The council agreed to study Mr. Welch's proposals and told him that a crosswalk had already been planned for in front of the post office but the state, who was responsible for it, had not yet started the project. They also told Mr. Welch that the State was responsible for West Main Street and that a letter requesting the work be done would be sent.

In other business, the council approved annexation ordinances for the Elmer Hale Property, for the area on U.S. 25 south of town, and for Chestnut Hills Subdivision.

The street committee was given the task of coming up with proposals for streets to be repaired under the municipal aid program. The state has allocated Mt. Vernon $6,099 for the work and the city has some monies budgeted for this purpose also. The street committee is to make their proposal at next Monday night's meeting so that a plan can be drawn up.

Two bids for completing the brickwork of city hall were received by the council. The range between the two bids was $10,000 and the council decided to hold off on awarding or rejecting the bids until the next meeting when both bidders will be asked to meet with the council.

The council took no action on a request by Johnny Cornett for $50 additional a month if he were required to sweep the street on U.S. 25 to Sowder Grocery (an area recently annexed by the Council). Also, no action was taken on three applications for a meter maid position and one for city policeman.

City policeman Larry Williams was before the council to ask them to consider several matters. One of these concerned a yellow curb near city hall. Williams said that a wreck Monday night of a moving truck and a parked car did a great deal of damage to the car and that he felt the yellow curb was badly needed. The council reported that they had already requested that this be done and were waiting on the state. Williams also requested that the council buy the policemen summer shirts and hats and they agreed to do this. However, a screen for the police cruiser used by Patrolman Arlos McClure was turned down by the council who felt they intended to wait a while on this expenditure since they had already authorized the purchase of new tires for one of the cruisers.

Phone Service Improvements In Brodhead and Mt. Vernon

Continental Telephone Company of Kentucky officials have announced that construction began March 20, 1978 in the Brodhead and Mt. Vernon areas.

John Wallace Black, Customer Services Manager for the Company said, "The project includes the addition of 210 miles of aerial and buried cable facilities which will enable the Company to provide one and four party service to customers in the Brodhead and Mt. Vernon exchanges." Regarding of customers to one and four party lines will be accomplished as the construction of the new cable facilities are completed.

Continental Telephone Company has awarded contracts to B.E. Davy Construction Company to complete the construction projects at a cost of over $1,137,000. In addition to the outside construction, equipment for buildings expansions are also in progress at a cost of over $266,000.

This service improvement program for both exchanges is scheduled to be completed by December, 1978.

Taylor Produce Truck Damaged

A $500 Reward has been offered by Taylor Produce Company of Brodhead for information leading to the arrest and conviction of person or persons responsible for vandalizing a freighter truck April 7.

The truck was parked at Mink's Garage in Brodhead and entry was gained through a wing glass.

Several items were stolen from the truck including a radio and an fm tape player combination. In addition to stealing the items, the inside of the truck was damaged.

If you have information concerning this, call 758-8522.

GED TEST WILL BE GIVEN AT SOMERSET COLLEGE

The G.E.D. test (General Education Development) will be administered at the Somerset Community College on April 24, 25 and 26 from 8 to 10 p.m. in room M-2. Anyone wishing to take the test on those dates should call the college for an appointment. The test takes two or three evenings to complete. This test is for high school equivalency and consists of a battery of five individual tests covering the following areas: writing skills, social studies, science, reading skills and math.

The test is given to any person seventeen years of age or older who has been out of school or a formal classroom situation for a period of one year before making application, or whose high school class has graduated. Application may be obtained in one's local county or

PROPERTIES SOLD AT AUCTION

A house and lot belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Olen J. Reynolds, Main Street, Eubank, was sold Saturday morning, April 8 at public auction to Mrs. Myraime Tughr, for $27,250.

Also on Saturday, the stock of Farmers Machinery and Salvage Supply at London was liquidated at public auction.

Both sales were handled by Ford Realty and Auction Company.

Public Meeting for Mt. Vernon Held With 30 Persons in Attendance

David Patton with the Tri-County Community Development Agency and Steve Jones from the Cumberland Valley Area Development District were present at Monday night's meeting of the Mt. Vernon City Council which was also the first public hearing required for the city to apply for a block grant from HUD.

Mr. Patton told the council and the approximately 30 citizens present that a Citizen Participation Plan must be formulated before HUD Block Grant can even be applied for and that the obtaining of a grant was a competitive process with $15 million available for small communities. Mr. Patton said that the awarding of a block grant was on a point system and that an application to build elderly housing or improve existing housing would obviously receive the highest point system since 35 of the 40 grants made by HUD last year were for acquiring housing sites or programs to rehabilitate older housing.

Mr. Patton said that citizens would be asked to establish first whether it would be more feasible to give priority to what Mt. Vernon needs or to what would mostly likely be funded by HUD. One of the first questions raised by the citizens present was a question of whether or not a grant for sidewalk renovation or building would fare well. Mr. Patton explained that it would probably do no good to make an application of this type since HUD's main concern was for adequate housing for the elderly and low-income and priorities were given very low or no priority.

Under the Citizen Participation Plan, residents of Mt. Vernon will be asked to do four things: (1) Determine priorities, develop community development and housing strategy and the housing assistance plan. (2) Develop both the preproposition and application for community development block grant funds. (3) Involve themselves in amendments, budget revisions and changes to the Community Development Program and the Housing Assistance Plan and (4) Plan, implement and assess the Community Development program and performance, including the development of the grantee performance report and the submission of views and comments to the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Mr. Patton also told the council that a citizen advisory committee should be established which would ensure the ongoing involvement of citizens in the community development process. The committee is to consist of representatives of business, civic groups, low and moderate income persons, minority groups and residents of blighted areas and neighborhoods where community development activities are proposed or ongoing.

As their last item of business, the council prepared a list of citizens for that committee but since they had not been contacted to see if they would accept, the list when it is officially complete will be published at a later date.

Mr. Patton also spoke some about the neighborhood revitalization grants available. Under this program, applications can be made for the remodeling and improvement of houses belonging to low-income persons or rented to them. Mr. Patton said this was usually for a clearly defined area and this would be one of the few areas where monies for sidewalks might be included as a part of the general package. If the grant monies should be approved, the program such as this, the work would be done with the city probably hiring someone to oversee and see that the actual work was completed, and ownership would remain with the original owner. However, Mr. Patton said that it might be advisable in this situation to put a string on the money handed out that if the property should be sold within 3-5 years, a portion of the sale price would be returned to the city for their general fund. This would obstruct somewhat the possibility of a person having their home remodeled and then selling it for a much higher profit and then moving into another home in the same or worse condition as they originally lived in.

The second public meeting will be held Monday night at City Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Local Sanitarian Says Litter Is Still A Problem

Stephen Midkiff, Health Environmentalist for the Rockcastle Co. Health Department would like to announce that the roadside litter problem in Rockcastle County has been solved. "I would like to announce the solution," he says, "but I can't." The truth is that there is a serious and continuing problem.

There are over twenty illegal roadside dumps in Rockcastle County. Each of these is an attraction and breeding place for noxious insects and rodents.

Getting rid of garbage and trash is a problem. In Rockcastle County, solid waste disposal containers are located throughout the county. Trash should be placed in the containers, not on the ground around it. If the container is full, most people have an area at home where they could store trash bags until the containers is emptied.

The second public meeting will be held Monday night at City Hall at 7:30 p.m.

RECC Announces End of Electric Curtailment

Lee Roy Cole, Manager of Jackson County Rural Electric today stated that "our wholesale power supplier, East Kentucky Power, announced the end of the voluntary electric curtailment requirement that had been requested due to the coal shortage, related to the recent strike by coal miners."

Ronald Rainsford, President of East Kentucky Power, thanked the members of Jackson County Rural Electric for their help in conserving energy, and state that "through the cooperation of our understanding membership, we were able to avoid a mandatory curtailment elsewhere in other states."

With the milder spring weather, and the continued shipment of some coal, our stockpile now contains nearly 90 days supply of coal.

Priees for coal have continued to increase and our members may expect slightly higher fuel adjustment charges, which have been brought about by the coal shortage and higher transportation and labor costs.

Lee Roy Cole, Manager of Jackson County Rural Electric, urged the members to continue conserving electricity as a method of reducing costs.

Decorations

By Oscar Fain

Every room has four walls, but only one floor.

Since walls are the biggest surfaces in most rooms, decorating mistakes here are severely penalized. The choice of wall-covering is also wide and growing widely. So make sure this area gets its share of thought and advance planning. Color is the first decision.

Simplify your colors by deciding on the general color you prefer. Remember that dark colors and wood tones are restful. But they make small rooms seem smaller, especially if other furnishings are dark too. White and clear tones make rooms look larger. But they can be easily lost in a sunny room.

Bright colors reflect back and forth from wall to wall and appear much brighter in the room than they did in the sample or swatch. Many wise homemakers pick something they like, then go to a color that is both paler and grayer than the sample, counting on reflection to vivify them; the color value they wanted.

Many decorators prefer the neutral, pastel tints of the grayed "nothing" colors like putty, beige or gray, almost mustard, hard-to-define gray-blue-green. They make a good background for small areas of definite color.

How long do you want it to last? "It's grandmother's day," wall coverings were fragile. Styles changed slowly. There was only one answer to that question: "I want the longest lasting wall covering I can afford."

Today, durability has increased many times. Some of the better panels are lifetime investments. The heavier vinyl papers last until a careful family is thoroughly tired of them. Even if you have children, there is now a real question as to whether you should seek maximum durability or select an expensive wall treatment and do it over when married. The choice is yours. And it's wide today.

Painted walls are easily changed. The many different kinds of paint vary in price, durability and ease of application. But all are relatively easy to change if you make a mistake, get tired of a color or find your wall damaged by children's pranks or accidents. Paint is good, too, because you never have to compromise on color. You can have it mixed to the exact shade that goes with other furnishings. On the other hand, paint is more easily damaged than many wall coverings. And it won't hide cracks and wall imperfections.

Today, wallpaper isn't paper any more. Most "papers" are vinyl covered. The more expensive are alkali-vinyl, often with a tough fabric backing that strips off the wall in one piece without staining. The big advantage of roll coverings is the chance to add pattern and texture to otherwise plain rooms. They also conceal imperfect walls.

You pay your money, you take your choice. You can also buy panels finished in light colors and many textures and patterns. Rigid plastic and plastic foam panels in patterns that simulate brick, stone, wood, shingles are excellent choice for the rustic look so popular today.

As a 3rd grader and mature, he passes through vigorous developmental stages. One such experience is the period for children and parents is the age of unreasonable fears—usually appearing around age 3 and sometimes continuing until 4 or 5. Daily, a child experiences new situations, some of which he may only partially understand and may which may frighten him. He may dream about them, wake up suddenly and fearfully with nightmares! It is recommended that the parent comfort the frightened child and explore the child's room in full light to reassure him that indeed there are no lurking animals or other scary things. ## What is FHA?

By Pam Mink

What is F.H.A.? What does it stand for? This article is an effort to inform you, the community who we are, what we stand for and what we do.

F.H.A. is a nonprofit organization designed for Home Economic students throughout the nation. F.H.A. is financed by membership dues, donations and fund raising projects. F.H.A. was founded in Chicago in June of 1945.

The colors of our organization are red and white. Red signifies strength while white suggests sincerity. These colors give us the courage and determination to succeed in fulfilling our purpose. Our flower, the red rose, represents the search of Future Homemakers of America for beauty in everyday living.

Our Motto, Toward New Horizons, is a challenge and reminds members that their contributions to home and community life today will influence the kind of homes we have tomorrow. Our Emblem, an eight sided figure bearing the name of our organization, our motto and the picture of a house supported by two hands symbolizes that the Future Homes of America are in the hands of the youth.

F.H.A. is helpful to the students in many ways, it means an opportunity to be part of something, to gain confidence and leadership ability in an atmosphere where individual growth is fostered and working together is encouraged. F.H.A.'ers learn to accept responsibility to improve relationships and accept their family, more.

F.H.A. is an organization well known for its contributions to the education of Home Economic Students throughout the county, and adequately fulfills its purpose.

Here's a "home loan" bank you may be overlooking.

You don't have to be a farmer to qualify for a rural home loan from the Land Bank. We also make loans to non-farmers who live—or want to live—in rural areas. A Land Bank loan can be used to buy, build, remodel or refinance a home. It features long terms, prepayment privilege without penalty, and reasonable interest.

Stop in... let's talk over your house plans and our loan plans.

Miss Holt Named Winner of 4-H Award of Excellence

Miss Brenda Holt of Madisonville, Kentucky was one of the winners in the annual 4-H Awards of Excellence Program sponsored by the Courier Journal and the Louisville Times.

She was one of the ten finalists who received a $500 U.S. Savings Bond and were guests of honor, along with their parents and 4-H Youth Agents, at the Annual Farm Awards Luncheon in Louisville on March 18, where they received their awards.

Brenda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holt of Madisonville and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.F. Holt of Mt. Vernon. She is a freshman at Johnson Bible College in Knoxville, Tennessee, where she is a music and education major. Through her 4-H work, Brenda has been awarded many honors including being named the Kentucky winner in Home Furnishings Demonstration, Foods-Nutrition Project and the Fashion Revue. She has been a delegate to the Fontana Resource Development Conference, the National 4-H Congress, the Youth Power Food Conference and the National Older Youth's Conference. Brenda was valedictorian of her class at Madisonville North Hopkins High School with a 4.0 average for four years.

Jack Dempsey fought only 138 minutes as world champion. During that time he made $2,137,000—or $15,000 per minute.

Winter + Coal Strike = Higher Electric Bills

Because of the cold weather, you may have noticed that your electric bill is higher this month. Unfortunately, that's because utilities have had to use more coal and it costs more than ever.

Because of higher coal costs and a national strike, you, the consumer, must ultimately feel the pinch. Or your co-op would go bankrupt.

That's why your monthly "fuel adjustment charge" is higher, because your co-op must "pass on" the higher costs or cease to operate.

And that's also why we're asking you to conserve energy whenever possible, and we beg your forgiveness for the inconvenience.

But remember, conservation will mean lower electric bills all the time.

Rockcastle Chapter DAR Meets in Berea

The Rockcastle Chapter DAR met on the evening of April 4th in the log house of Mrs. Raymond Layne in Berea, with Mr. Layne giving for the program, the history of the house. A fire in the large stone fireplace warmed the log house which is furnished with primitive antiques of the period when the cabin was built. It was built about 1825 on Dark Road ten miles east of Berea near the Estill County line by Fontaine Shifflet. An old deed in Madison County court records records the sale of the log house after his death by his fifteen children. It had stood close to the old Dark Road School House, where in 1886 Mr. Layne's father had started to school and where Mr. Layne himself had attended first grade for a few weeks.

The log house had been purchased by Mr. Layne three years ago, dismantled with each log and beam being carefully marked and then it was moved to Berea and reconstructed. When Mr. Layne purchased the house it had been weather boarded which had preserved the logs. It had been built upon big flat rocks which had prevented termites from getting into the logs.

The Shifflet heirs had sold the log house to a man by the name of Combs who in turn sold it to Tom and Maizing Dubin. One of their sons lived in this log house from the time he was seven years old until he was ninety. When the house was dismantled it was found to have twelve layers of newspapers and wall paper pasted on the walls (with flour paste). It had had seven layers of linoleum on the floor. The house originally had no loft but now has one which rests on wooden pins driven into the log.

The loft is furnished as a one room school house with old school desks, an old phonics pictorial reading chart, a collection of old maps and an excellent collection of early textbooks.

At the conclusion of his program, which was enlivened by many amusing anecdotes, Mr. Layne played "the three tunes he knew" on a dulcimer which he had made. He has made 385 dulcimers. Among his other hobbies are froom making, woodcraft, bee keeping and genealogy.

spring picnics. Along with those picnics goes added danger of food poisoning.

The Health Department defines a potentially hazardous food or food which may become poisonous as "any food of milk, or milk products, eggs, meat, poultry, fish, shellfish, or other ingredients including synthetic ingredients capable of supporting rapid and progressive growth of infectious or toxic microorganisms.

If you take potentially hazardous foods on a picnic or even have them in your house. Remember that after that food is out of commercially sealed containers, bacteria can grow and be dangerous. To be safe, keep food refrigerated or on ice.

Stay healthy this summer.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETINGS

There will be a series of Public Meetings conducted by the City of Mt. Vernon and the City Council in order to begin formulation of a Citizens' Participation Plan and to obtain maximum citizen input into the preparation of a possible Pre-Application for Block Grant Funds through the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The purpose of the meetings will be to evaluate and recommend one or more projects for submission.

The first Public Meeting will be held on April 10, 1978 at 7:30 p.m. at the Mt. Vernon City Hall to develop a Citizen Participation Plan and to plan and prioritize activities that are eligible for Community Development Block Grant funding.

The second Public Meeting will be held on April 17, 1978, 7:30 p.m., also at the Mt. Vernon City Hall, for the citizens to decide what project to submit.

The third Public Meeting will be held on April 24, 1978, 7:30 p.m. at the Mt. Vernon City Hall and will relate to obtaining views of the citizens on the proposed application prior to submission of the application to A-95 Clearinghouses. The public is urged to attend these meetings.

All About Crepes

Crepes can be appetizer, main dish or vegetable or dessert. Crepe-making isn't difficult, either. All it takes are some directions and a little practice.

First of all, you must have the proper pan. There are many different types on the market. If you don't have a regular crepe pan, any 6 1/2 x 10 inch slope-side skillet will work just fine. The next time you're having a friend over for lunch, practice your crepe-making technique. Have a delicious main dish called Crepes Marquis.

Crepes Marquis for Lunch
3 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
6-8 slices bacon
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 1/2 ounce jar sliced mushrooms, drained
2 cups shredded sharp cheese
1 1/2 ounce can tomato sauce

combine eggs, flour, salt and milk; beat until smooth. Let stand 30 minutes. For each crepe, pour 1/4 cup of batter into hot, lightly-greased skillet. Cook on one side only.

Fry bacon until crisp. Drain, reserving 2 tablespoons fat. Crumble bacon. Cook onion and green pepper until tender. Add bacon and mushrooms and 1 1/2 cups cheese. Mix lightly.

Fill each crepe with about 1/4 cup cheese mixture and roll them up. Place crepes in 1 1/4 x 7 1/2 inch baking dish. Top with tomato sauce.

Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Sprinkle with remaining cheese.

Continue baking until cheese melts.

To prepare ahead of time, make the crepes and roll them up with the cheese mixture. Refrigerate, and add the tomato sauce just before baking.

Brick Up Your Bathroom

For a New Look
A small bathroom can take on a new personality with a wall covering that has the look and feel of brick. Do-it-yourself simulated masonry paneling is an economical wall treatment.

For a country look, team the old-brick texture with a deep-pile carpeting, gingham curtains and a wicker clothes hamper.

Marlite fiberglass reinforced "brick" is 1/2 weight less than 2 pounds and come in a 12-brick self-sparring and self-align.

ing section. You can install them with ordinary hand tools. Use a caulking gun to add mortar between the bricks for that "authentic" detailing.

The non-porous surface is easy to clean with a damp cloth and never needs painting. Don't use these panels in a shower stall, however, and it's best not to use them around the tub.

Your kitchen is another place this wall treatment could be charming.

County Agent's Notes

By H. Lee Durham
County Extension Agent
For Agriculture

Fruit and Vegetable Pest Control Publications Available

Four publications containing recommendations for controlling pests in fruits and vegetables are available for the taking at the County Extension Office. A new publication, "Commercial Tree Fruit Spray Schedule-1978" combines information from the "Apple Spray Schedule" and "Stone Fruit Spray Schedule" published in past years.

The new publication contains effectiveness charts for fungicides and insecticides, pesticide compatibility tables, suggestions for the safe handling of pesticides and information on low volume spraying. It also includes a recommendation for controlling cork spot or bitter pit problems in apples.

Another new publication, "Commercial Vegetable Crop Recommendations-1978", includes weed, insect and disease control recommendations for a wide variety of vegetables. It also includes information on planting, cultural practices, fertilization and harvesting.

"Grape Insect and Disease Control-1978" is a new publication listing expected pest problems, suggested pesticides to use and rates and timing of pesticide application.

"Strawberry Insect and Disease Control-1978" is a revised publication. It covers fungicide and insecticide sprays for controlling various fungal diseases and insects, including information on rates and timing of applications.

All of the publications are available free of charge to Rockcastle County residents.

Control of Insects
For Tobacco and Corn

Furadan 4 flowable formulation has been granted a 24 (e)-registration in Kentucky for use on Burley Tobacco.

The product is recommended for the control of flea beetles. It should be used in the following manner: Apply Furadan 4-F at 1 gallon per acre in 20-40 gallons of water; apply as a broadcast spray over the soil surface and incorporate into the top three inches of soil.

Corn planting is just around the corner - and, you will make a decision whether or not to use an "at-planting" application of a soil insecticide.

If you are a similar to 99% of other Kentucky corn growers your application equipment is probably designed to drop granular insecticides in furrow. If so, you have two choices, since you will use Furadan and Counter are register for this use.

Furadan 10% G is registered for use at 7.5 to 30 lbs. per acre (40' row spacing), depending on the insect or complex of insects you are trying to protect against. Our research has indicated that the 10 lbs. per acre rate is the minimum level for consistently acceptable results. The maximum recommended rate is 20 lbs. per acre - growers exceeding this will not realize economic returns. If you put two and two together, it is apparent that the 15 lbs. per acre rate is approaching optimum in Kentucky for Furadan.

Counter 15% G is recommended for use a 6.5 lbs. per acre (40' rows) or 8 oz. per 1,000 feet of row for any row spacing.

Either of these insecticides will perform well as in-furrow treatments on corn.

Kentucky Afield

By John Wilson

Though the fishing season has just begun, Kentucky already has a new state record - and it's a whopper!

Porter Hash, of Edmonton, was trolling a deep running lure in Dale Hollow Lake March 13 when he hooked and landed a muskellunge that tipped the scales at an even 43 pounds, one pound more than the old record.

Apparently good weather is the time to catch big muskies. The 42-pounder which held the record since 1973 was taken in February, and the one before that (39 lbs., 14 ozs.) was caught in January 1969.

It's also interesting that Hash's fish is the first state record musky to come from Lake, the two previous record muskies came from the Green River and the Licking River. But lake fishing for muskellunge is getting more and more attention these days, particularly at Cave Run Lake, which is becoming known nationwide as one of the best musky waters anywhere.

And the new state record will probably make trophy musky fishermen take another look at Dale Hollow. At least one other large musky has been landed from this lake in recent months, a 30-pounder caught by Chuck Eiche, Louisville, in December, 1977.

At 43 pounds, Hash's musky is the sixth largest fish on the state record list. The leader is a 100-pound blue catfish (caught below Kentucky Dam), followed by a 97-pound flathead catfish, a 72-pound spoonbill, a 54-pound, 14 ounce carp and a 44 pound, 4 ounce rockfish.

Kentucky can boast one world record fish, the 11-pound, 15 ounce smallmouth bass that David L. Hayes, Letchfield, caught in 1965 and this fish also came from Dale Hollow.

The commonwealth's largest largemouth came from a small lake, Greenbo, in Greenup County. Only 12 states can boast of heavier record largemouth bass, while two states, Mississippi and Texas, are tied with Kentucky's official state record of 13 pounds, 8 ounces.

If you catch an extra-large fish of any species, it's worth checking to see if you might have a new state record. The first step is to have the fish weighed on an "official" scale - that is, a scale certified legal for trade. Usually a nearby grocery store is the best place to find such a scale.

Have the weighing witnessed by at least three people and get their signatures. Record the length and girth, then contact the local conservation officer or write the Department of Fish and Wildlife, Frankfort, Ky. 40601 for an official entry blank. Have a photograph made of the fish and keep it intact in a freezer if there is any possibility of confusion with a similar species (largemouth bass and Kentucky bass, for example) in case it becomes necessary for a biologist to make a positive identification.

Even if it turns out that the fish isn't a state record, you still might be eligible for one or more awards from various outdoor organizations. Following the procedure outlined about will establish the veracity of your catch for such awards programs.

meeting with Mrs. Nellie Blackburn, their leader.

The meeting was called to order and the club said the pledge. After this, Beth Baker and Jennifer Cox sang duet entitled "Is There Anything Better Than a Man" which was written by the club in a game of Switch.

Mrs. Cheryl Witt, Home Demonstration Agent, was present to talk about the demonstration contest and gave the club some pointers on how to prepare demonstrations. The Demonstration Contest will be held April 25th at 7 p.m. at the Vocational School. The meeting was then adjourned.

Sheehan Requests Expression That Stovall

Overstepped Authority

Sen. Gus Sheehan (D-Covington) today asked the Legislative Research Commission (LRC) to make an expression that Lt. Gov. Thomas Stovall overstepped her authority with her veto of House Joint Resolution (HJR) 20, the rescission of the state's 1972 approval of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

Sheehan said Stovall's action was not in accord with Article V of the U.S. Constitution and Section 56 of the state Constitution. Article V grants state legislatures the authority over matters of amending the federal Constitution; Section 56 excludes amendments and resolutions of adjournment of the General Assembly from the Governor's approval and veto powers.

The northern Kentucky senator told the LRC at its first meeting since the 1978 session of the legislature that the legality of the General Assembly's rescission of ERA is a matter for either Congress or the federal Judiciary to decide. He said a state executive could not make such a decision.

However, the LRC eventually adjourned its meeting without making the expression requested by Sheehan.

Mr. and Mrs. C.F. Mullins, left, and Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Mounts were honored on the occasion of their wedding anniversaries by the Livingston Order of Eastern Star 153 last Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Mullins were celebrating their 53rd anniversary and Mr. and Mrs. Mounts their 56th.

Consumer Comments

By Robert F. Stephens
Attorney General

Automobile Insurance

Questions commonly asked the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office concern the rising cost of automobile liability insurance. Many consumers do not understand why their insurance rates continue to rise while their driving record remains clear of any violations. The Kentucky Department of Insurance explains that the rising cost of automobile insurance relates directly to the high cost of medical, hospital and doctor bills. However, insurance companies are not granted rate increases automatically upon request. The Department of Insurance requires insurance companies to submit data covering the previous three years of business, documenting their reasons for requesting the rate increase. This date must include the amount of premiums and the paid or incurred losses experienced over the three year period. Then the insurance company must appear before an open hearing and justify their request for a rate increase, proving that their current rates are inadequate.

One problem often posed before the Consumer Protection Division involves whether an insurance company can raise the rates on a policy for reasons that were known before the policy was originally issued. For example, a consumer explained to the insurance company prior to applying for liability insurance, that he had received a speeding ticket. At the time of the application the company had no problem or questions regarding the speeding ticket and issued a policy to this consumer. When the policy was up for renewal, the consumer was notified that his rates would be raised due to the previous speeding ticket.

If this type of situation arises from an error on the part of the insurance agent or insurance company, the consumer should correct the error and make any necessary adjustment in the insured rates. However, if an insurance company uses this situation as standard procedure to attract clients, the Attorney General's Office would consider such business practice as a possible violation of the Consumer Protection Act.

Automobile insurance companies have an assigned risk category, often referred to as the "high-risk" category. Individuals with excessive traffic violations or previous accidents on their insurance record are usually grouped together in the assigned risk category. If insurance companies did not separate the assigned risk individuals from other insured individuals, insurance rates would likely increase for everyone to cover the cost of insuring the "high-risk" individuals. Insurance companies isolate the "high risk" individuals so drivers with clear driving records are not penalized.

When consumers' insurance rates increase because of a traffic violation or accident, the consumer is either forced to pay higher insurance rates or have his policy terminated. Once a consumer's policy is terminated with one company, he is placed on an unwritten "non-renewal" list. Even though there is no written non-renewal list, information on consumers whose policies have been terminated is available to other insurance companies through independent reporting companies. Individuals who have had policies terminated find it extremely difficult to get insurance from another company at a reasonable rate.

Anyone having a problem or question with regard to automobile insurance should contact the Kentucky Department of Insurance, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. A toll-free number is available at 1-800-372-2967.

If you have a consumer problem or complaint, contact the Office of the Attorney General, consumer Protection Division, 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. The office has found that it can most effectively handle written complaints and encourages you to write if you have a consumer complaint. However, in an emergency situation or if you just need some information call the toll-free consumer hotline at 1-800-372-2960.
