

Covering the microphone to block out noise, Tom Hodges listens to see if a bid from a member of the radio audience has been accepted. The four-night auction at Radio Station WRVK raised over $2,000 for the Recreation Council's summer program.

With Mr. Hodges, who is president of the council, are, from left: Mrs. Patay Hopkins, Mrs. Shirley Mullins, Wayne Stewart and Sam Ford.

6 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 bottle liquid pectin
To prepare fruit, wash rhubarb and also that of rhubarb; do not peel. Add 1/2 c. sugar and simmer until rhubarb is tender (about 1 minute).
Sort and wash fully ripe strawberries; remove caps and crush.
To make jam, measure prepared rhubarb and strawberries into a kettle. Add sugar and stir well. Place on high heat and stir, constantly, bring quickly to a full boil with bubbles over the entire surface. Boil hard for 1 minute, stirring constantly.
Remove from heat and stir in pectin. Skim. Fill and seal containers. Process 5 minutes in boiling-water-bath. Makes 7 or 8 half-pints.

A program to help elderly persons have gardens has been expanded to all of the state.

Sponsored by Gov. Julian Carroll, the Elderly Gardening Opportunities program last year served more than 7,000 persons in 88 counties. The program supplies garden seeds, plants, fertilizer, and payment for tillage for low-income Kentuckians 60 years of age and older.

A $112,657.81 grant to the Kentucky Association of Community Action Agencies announced by state resources secretary Peter Conn. will enable the statewide expansion and allow more than 5,000 elderly persons to benefit from the fresh produce grown in individual aid community plots. The program is operated by 21 Kentucky Community Action Agencies and West Kentucky Allied Services.

RHUBARB
Canning Rhubarb
Wash rhubarb and cut into 1/2 inch pieces. Add 1/2 cup sugar to each quart rhubarb and let stand to draw out juice. Bring to boiling. Pack hot into hot standard jars leaving 1/2 inch headspace. Wipe jar rims clean. Adjust lids. Process in boiling-water-bath canner (212 degrees F) for 10 minutes for either quart jars or pint jars.

As soon as you remove jars from canner, complete seals if necessary.
Freezing Rhubarb
Choose firm, tender, well-colored stalks with good flavor and few fibers. Wash, trim, and cut into 1 or 2 inch pieces, or in lengths to fit the package. Add 1 cup water to 1 1/2 quarts rhubarb and boil 2 minutes. Cool and press through a sieve. Mix 1/2 cup sugar with 1 quart puree. Pack into freezer containers, leaving head space. Seal and freeze.
Making Rhubarb Juice
Wash, trim and cut rhubarb into pieces 4 to 6 inches long. Add 1 quart water to 4 quarts rhubarb, and bring just to a boil. Press hot fruit in jelly bag to extract juice. Cool. Sweeten, if desired, using 1/2 cup sugar to a quart of juice. Pour into freezer containers, leaving head space. Seal and freeze.
Rhubarb-Strawberry Jam
1 cup cooked red-stalked rhubarb (about 1 lb. and 1/4 cup water)
2 1/2 cups crushed strawberries

Richard Sweeney in England At Management Meeting

Richard C. Sweeney of the Richard C. Sweeney Agency, is in London, England this week attending a top-level sales management meeting sponsored by the Alexander-Hamilton Life Insurance Company of America, of Farmington Hills, Michigan.

Richard H. Headley, president of Alexander-Hamilton, said Mr. Sweeney was selected from among 800 Hamilton representatives to attend the sessions "because of his leadership in the industry demonstrated by his personal production."

Alexander-Hamilton is the life insurance subsidiary of Household Finance Corporation, licensed in 49 states and in the District of Columbia. Their insurance group has over 2 million insureds and over $1.4 million of life insurance in force.

Marketing executives of the parent company will address the London meeting. The conference will probe the development and planning of marketing strategies and will discuss potential new insurance products in a series of sessions.

Mr. Sweeney has represented Alexander-Hamilton for 8 years and is his fifteenth management meeting. In recognition of his success, he has been named a member of the exclusive "President's Council." He has been a resident of Richmond, Ky. for 9 months.

and is active in the community, and is formerly of Rockcastle Co. He is a member of the Local Shrine Club, the Lexington Association of Life Underwriters and has been a member of the Million Dollar Round Table for the past 4 years.

restrictions associated with preplant application, so avoid trouble by planning ahead.

Tobacco and Corn Insect Control
Insectwise, tobacco and corn are the two crops that are on your mind at present. Tobacco plants have been developing nicely in beds, but this chilly weather has put a damper on growth. During this period of slow growth remember that cutworms, flea beetles and slugs can cause severe damage to young plants.

Be safe instead of sorry. Pull the canvas back and check beds every day or so. If you need to apply chemical controls don't do it through the cotton.

Cutworms can be controlled in a variety of ways: (1) use a hand sprayer to apply toxaphene in a 20 foot swath around beds as a perimeter treatment to block cutworm movement into beds; (2) once cutworms are found in the bed don't use toxaphene. Apply Orthene Tobacco Insect Spray at the rate of 2 tablespoons to 3 gallons of water per bed. It will not burn tender plants or, use either 5% Dylax bait or 5% Sevin bait. Don't mix insecticide sprays with bluestone lime mixtures as this can result in poor insecticide performance.

Flea beetles can be controlled by D-Syston 15% G applied at the rate of 3/5 lb. per bed. You may have done this when beds were prepared, however, additional application can be made and watered in. If you want to spray for control use Orthene on small plants. Sevin may be used on beds whose plants average larger than the 7 leaf stage.

Slugs are still best controlled with metaldehyde, sold under trade names such as Sluggo, Snarol, etc.

A lot of corn is already up in Kentucky and insects have not been a problem so far. However, cool temperatures have caused some strange insect problems on corn in the past, for example, moderate to severe damage from occasional pests such as thrips and flea beetles.

Cutworms and armyworms thrive during cool, moist weather. Check fields for signs of leaf feeding, look closely at any plants showing abnormal growth or color. You may be glad you did!

The best things that can happen is warm growing conditions but you have to be ready to help nature along. Remember, Furadan used as an in-furrow treatment at planting is a good investment toward excellent corn yields-it will control a lot of corn insect pests but not cutworms.

Pest News Alert
Be aware that seed corn maggot have been damaging corn, beans, peas, cabbage, beets, radish, etc. in home gardens and pose a threat to field corn and soybeans. The best treatment for damaged stands is probably replanting with treated seed. Alfalfa weevil larvae are continuing to damage alfalfa throughout Kentucky. Growers in southern Kentucky may want to consider harvesting rather than treating fields in which weevil larvae are just now reaching damaging levels. This decision should rest on three factors: (1) the stage and height of the alfalfa, (2) the number of weevil larvae and how rapidly the damage level is increasing, and (3) weather conditions. For example, if alfalfa is nearly to bud stage, the weevil population is not extreme, and the weather forecast is suitable for harvest then the grower should probably cut (being careful to watch the regrowth for signs of weevil feeding and possible need for stubble spray), however, if the alfalfa is still fairly short, damage or weevil numbers are increasing rapidly and/or the weather is forecast to be rainy for several days the grower should consider treating prior to harvest.

Expect problems with slugs and snails feeding on small plants in gardens, flower beds and tobacco beds; Eastern Tent caterpillars as larvae on trees have already completely defoliated wild cherry trees in many parts of the state and now may possibly move to other nearby trees to finish feeding.

Watch for-face fly populations to increase, cutworm, flea and beetle problems in corn and tobacco beds. Armyworm infesting small grains. Colorado potato beetles beginning to damage early potatoes.

Commercial bean growers should take particular note of harvest restrictions noted on pesticide labels. The label is the legal statement of these restrictions. D-Syston and Thimet both have 60 day restrictions following an at-planting-time application. However, Thimet labels only require that you do not feed the foliage of treated beans within 60 days of treatment; whereas D-Syston labels require that you do not harvest treated beans within 60 days of treatment. These differences in the statement of restrictions are important, particularly if you grow early maturing varieties of beans. Tendercrop and Tendercrop bean varieties mature in about 54 days. If you have treated with D-Syston you have to delay harvesting a week after the first beans of these early varieties are ready for harvest. It is easy to forget planting dates and harvest

Accessories give rooms personality.

Grandmother used a few pictures on walls, and crowded tables with accessories. Today, it's the other way around. Walls have mixed arrangements of pictures, and three dimensional accessories. Either way, the function of accessories is to give rooms personality.

We can give you style hints, tips on choosing and arranging pieces. But the important thing is to shop until you see something you just must have, an accessory that seems to belong. Your goal is to build a combination of unusual and beautiful pieces that sets your home apart from any other.

Have fun with accessories. Here is the place to put spice in your room, to give your creative instincts free rein. The guidelines are few, and need not limit your personal taste. Half the fun of decorating is browsing through stores and shops and picking up the accessories that seem right to you.

And whatever you select, don't be afraid to use it in an unconventional way. A herb garden, for example, would be charming in a bay window, on the floor, or on top of a table or dry sink. For an eye-catching difference, try an asymmetrical grouping on the mantle—perhaps two shapely jars at one side and some tall candlesticks on the other. Chinese objects are another nice change—anything from blue-and-white Chinese Export porcelain to an elegant carved or painted screen.

Accessories are the place to let yourself go. Follow your own taste. Mix periods and styles with a free hand. A piece of modern sculpture can be lovely on a traditional console. A mellow antique can provide the counterpoint a contemporary room needs most.

Wall treatments.
Today's trend is towards large arrangements composed of many pieces which don't ordinarily put together. If you have good paintings or prints, use them. Neither frames nor sizes need match. If you have a collection—almost any kind of collection—display it in frames or on brackets or shelves. Look for large, imposing wall pieces in unusual shapes. Show small pieces on wall brackets or shelves. Don't be afraid to assemble some really unusual objects, the more variety the better, in today's decorating.

some hanging suggestions.
To arrange your wall groupings, first establish a level top or base by measuring down from the ceiling or up from the floor. Mark this level with light, short pencil lines. Then measure the rest of the wall space available and duplicate this area on your floor using string laid out to indicate size of wall space.

Next, arrange and rearrange on the floor the wall pieces you have chosen. Add, discard, move until you get a pleasing arrangement. A bird's-eye view from a step ladder will give an even better idea how they will look on the wall.

Now, measure the space between the pieces, adding the distance to the upstretched wire or other hanging device. Transfer these measurements to the wall. And mark pieces with holes, screws or bolts go. If you're lucky, it will be "right" the first time. If not, this system keeps changes to a minimum while you're being creative.

Real Estate

By: Sam Ford

What Is Appraisal?

True, a REALTOR can suggest a selling price for your home if you intend to list it with his office. This is common practice and part of the value of selling through a REALTOR. But his should not be construed as an official appraisal.

An appraisal is the valuation of your property by a qualified Appraiser for a fee. This fee is based solely on the amount of work involved - not the market value of the property. His detailed written instrument will carry its full weight as documentation if used in any official capacity such as for tax or legal problems.

An Appraiser will provide you with a dated document which will cover in detail all the elements which go into the valuation such as: prices of comparable properties that have sold, value of location, construction, age and depreciation of the property, zoning, restrictions and reproduction cost. If it is income property he will capitalize the present and future income potential. Qualified Real Estate Appraisers will probably be members of the American Institute of Appraisers.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at Ford Realty & Auction Co., Inc., Mt. Vernon, Phone 256-4545. We're here to help!

"You Light Up My Life" was the theme of the Junior-Senior Prom held at RCHS last Friday night. Mary Ann Russell holds the ladder for Janice Jones as Diane Thacker puts an "E" in place on the right. Colors of the prom were blue and white with silver stars.

Art teacher Barbara Owens directs John Masters and Randall Robbins in decorating for the prom as Todd Fields and David Pensol put up ceiling wires behind them. About 450 juniors and seniors and their dates attended the prom where music was provided by the Miscellaneous Band.

SMALL BURLEY FARM UNITS TOTAL 97 PCT. OF QUOTAS

By Bennett Roach

Despite major changes in agriculture over recent years, burley tobacco continues its traditional role as a family type crop, produced by hand labor and mainly by small growers. The typical burley farm in the 14-state belt produces 10,000 lbs., or less each crop year. This size farm is by far the most numerous, making up 97.2 percent of the total 296,000 quotas farms in all the burley states. Also this group of 288,808 farms produces 78 percent of all U.S. quota burley.

Next largest group is that producing 5,000 lbs. or less. These total 271,394 farm units or 91.4 percent, and they produce 59.7 percent of the total national poundage quota.

These are part of a quota production study made by the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, Lexington, Ky. The analysis is based on ASCS statistics, U.S. Department of Agriculture, in a report on distribution of quotas by size groups for 1975.

A further breakdown was made in the Burley Association study for the states of Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Missouri, in which the co-op administers the price-support program. In these the following is shown:

Kentucky farms growing 5,000 lbs., and under make up 84.7 percent of the state's quota farms, and produce 46.7 percent of the state's poundage quota.

In Kentucky these grow 86.9 percent of state's poundage quota. Indiana 98.4 percent of state's total burley farms; 92 percent of state's poundage quota. West Virginia 100 percent of state's burley farms 10,000 lbs., or under. Missouri 80.5 percent of state's burley farms, growing 88.9 percent of state's quota poundage.

Farmers Can Apply For Snow Loss Loans

Farmers in Rockcastle Co. today were made eligible for Emergency loans to cover losses caused by snow, ice and severe winter weather during the period of January 8, 1978 to March 15, 1978. Paul R. Jeffries, County Supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) said that the FmHA, State Director had authorized Emergency Loans because of the heavy losses.

Loans up to $250,000 covering actual losses are repayable at a three (3) percent interest rate from the FmHA. Additional financing for production purposes or for making major adjustments in farming operations may be made at a higher interest rate.

Applications must show that credit is not available to them from local commercial lenders. Rockcastle County farmers may file applications at the Farmer's Home Administration office located in Stanford, Ky. in the Farm Bureau Building. Loans for physical losses are authorized until November 1, 1978 and for production losses until May 7, 1979.

Dinner To Explain Social Services*Here

Here's a chance to learn about the different services available in this community.

The Cumberland River Comprehensive Care Center is having a pot luck dinner Friday, May 19, at 6 p.m. at the Catholic Recreation Hall. The public is invited, but everyone who comes is asked to bring a dish for the pot luck dinner.

Representatives from social services will be at the meeting and explain what help they provide and how to get it, according to Mary Singleton, CRCC staff member.

"It will be an exchange of information as well as fellowship," she said.

Among the agencies invited are Social Security, Extension Office, Legal Aid Society, Christian Appalachian Project and many others.

Everyone has a good time but leaves better informed, Ms. Singleton said.

The CRCC is an Kentucky project. The Mt. Vernon office provides help to the mentally retarded and the mentally ill, as well as alcoholics, addicts and others through programs for pre-school through adults.

Bank to Honor Seniors

The Bank of Mt. Vernon will have a Reception honoring the graduating seniors of Rockcastle County High School Sunday, May 21. This Reception will be held in the Community Room of the Bank of Mt. Vernon immediately following the Baccalaureate Service.

C. T. Haffines, president, extends an invitation on behalf of The Bank of Mt. Vernon to all graduating seniors and their parents to attend this Reception.

These gravemarkers were torn out of the ground and piled into a stack. Mr. McNew said they could be sorted back into place.

New Factories Sought by Developers Who Plan County's First Industrial Park

Work on sewer and water lines for the Rockcastle Multi-County Industrial Park should be started sometime in July, according to members of the Rockcastle County Industrial Development Authority who met May 9 at The Bank of Mt. Vernon.

The county's first industrial park will be built on 89 acres one mile west of Mt. Vernon along U.S. Highway 150, next to the L&N Railroad. When the work is finished, new factories can be built on tracts of about 12 acres each.

"It will be an ideal location for small and middle-sized factories," Calvin Schneider of Howard K. Bell Engineering Consultants, Lexington, said at the meeting. He said access to major highways and the railroad will attract industry.

The Bell firm is preparing engineering specifications which should be completed in June. Once this report is ready, the Authority can advertise for bids from contractors, and work can begin as early as 30 days later.

Preliminary engineering reports estimate the cost of installing the water and sewerage service to the site at $204,000. A water main already exists along Hwy. 150, so only an extension will be necessary. The sewage pumping station will operate only at night to avoid overloading the system, and eventually an entire new pumping station may be necessary.

The water and sewer facilities should help residential and other development in the area, Mr. Schneider said.

The Kentucky State Highway Department will build an access road to the site once the first industry comes on-line. Also a short side tract to connect the main line of the L&N to the plants will be needed.

The Industrial Authority was created in 1977 to "acquire and develop land for industrial and commercial use." The property was purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Payne for $165,000 in March, 1977.

The Kentucky Industrial Development Finance Authority holds the mortgage on the property. Other funding came through local people, a $139,000 grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission, The Cumberland Valley Area Development District, and other grants.

Thomas Miller, president of the Kentucky Highlands Insurance Corporation said when the Authority was formed that, "Rockcastle County's geographic features, labor force and enthusiasm make it ideal for industrial development. The missing link has been a lack of developed industrialized sites, and we see the completion of yours as being of most importance to solving that problem."

The next nearest industrial site is 27 miles away in Laurel County.

Current members of the Authority are: Bill James, chairman; Clyde Liville, D.A. Robbins, Willard Whitaker, Bill Bailey and Tommy Harold Mink.

Mt. Vernon's New Lady Police Officer Says That She Will Treat Everyone Equally

She may be a lady cop, but you better take her seriously. Bonnie Halcomb, Mount Vernon's first policewoman, packs a 38 Special, tear gas, and black-jack to handle whatever comes her way.

"I believe I could arrest anyone, the same as a policeman," she said. "I have the same authority they do. And I have had to use guns before."

Ms. Halcomb started her job May 9, as a part-time employee, but this week she has been working full-time to replace a man on sick leave.

"So far everyone has been nice and helpful," she said of her first week on the job. "I have no complaints."

Much of her work so far has been checking parking meters and helping children at crosswalks. But Monday,

Vandals damage Elmwood Cemetery; Police Charge Two Small Local Boys

Two local boys appeared before Judge Calvin Aker May 15 on charges of damaging the Elmwood Cemetery.

The damage occurred the weekend of May 7, and will cost $910.00 to repair, according to a police estimate.

The case has been continued to a later date, as Trial Commissioner Robert Robinson may arrange to have the parents of the children involved pay for the damage. There is some possibility that other children took part, according to court officials.

Officer W.A. McClure said he became suspicious of one of the two boys and questioned him. During the session, the boy named his friend as taking part in the vandalism.

The boys are under 10 years of age.

About 40 monuments were disturbed, according to H.C. McNew, who performed the damage estimate for the police. His firm, McNew and Son Monument Bases, has placed many of the gravestones in the cemetery.

Marble and clay vases had been smashed against monuments. Besides replacing the vases, Mr. McNew said that many gravestones themselves had been chipped and also needed repairs.

The vandals had pushed over several headstones, many breaking at the base and others breaking in half. Mr. McNew said the ones broken at the vase could be glued simply, although the necessary glue was very expensive.

Some headstones were over 100 years old.

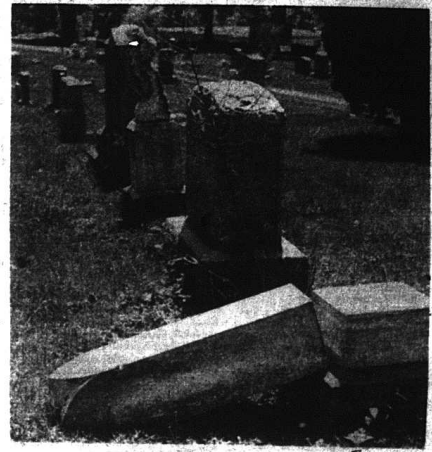

About 20 simple markers had been pulled out of the ground and piled together. Bud Cox, of Cox Funeral Home said he could refer to his records and remark the grave.

Mr. Cox said there had not been a major act of vandalism at the cemetery since 1957, when someone smeared paint on many monuments. Mr. McNew could recall an incident at Brodhead two years ago when as soon as he had repaired damage, vandals came back and did it over again.

The following is the damage estimate:
Virgil Alcorn, $200; Ben Purcell, $100; Lloyd Powell, $40; Leonard

Bullock, $30; Lewis Clifford, $25; Michael Southard, $40; John Clark, $20; Earl Barrow, $40; Sarah Cummins, $20; Bessie McClure, $20; broken marble stones at cost, $250; labor for resetting overturned stones, $100; for a total of $910.

A simple mark at the base will not be hard to fix. Many monuments were split like this one.

Workers in the Rockcastle County Health Department received a nasty shock Monday morning upon entering their offices after the week end. A back office, used by the WIC clerk and for records, had water everywhere from a ceiling leak which had broken through the ceiling. When portions of the ceiling gave, a six foot fluorescent light came with it and blocked safe entry into the office. Two large gaping holes are visible in the top of the photo. Health Department employees and board members say they have complained for the past five years of the heavy leaks in their office, including a trip before the most recent Grand Jury. Certainly something will definitely have to be done to correct the situation now.

Legislative Report

By: Rep. Harold DeMarcus

The Constitution of the Commonwealth of Kentucky sets forth three traditional branches of government: legislative, executive and judicial. However, there is one other branch of Kentucky State Government which is not so clearly defined in our Constitution, the Bureauary. Incidentally, the bureauary vastly outnumbers the other branches with something like 36,000 employees in fold.

A bureauary is a person who is not elected but employed by the Commonwealth to provide services for the citizenry. These state employees are located throughout Kentucky. Their salaries are paid by our tax dollars and funds used in the performance of their jobs also come from tax dollars.

The largest of the Commonwealth's public service agencies or bureauary organizations is the Department for Human Resources (DHR). The DHR was created by Executive Order in 1973 by combining 20 different agencies or parts of agencies. It has been reported to have 18,000 employees. Although, the DHR will expand over two billion tax dollars in the next two fiscal years, they are reluctant to disclose exact information about themselves to the public.

In 1977, a new state building was constructed for $2 million tax dollars to provide working space for 2,100 DHR employees. Also the director of DHR would not move into his spacious new offices until a private building was constructed at a cost of $4,000 tax dollars. One trend of thought is that the DHR is too big, with too many people and too many projects to control for one agency to properly maintain. With so much red tape and so many employees, it is virtually impossible for the people of Kentucky to receive good service. As you know, Kentucky residents pay a lot of taxes and we deserve nothing but the best service from state employees.

The public information officer for the DHR stated that the main purpose of the DHR is to focus on problems derived from people related situations. This may be so, but in addition to overseeing community health services, juvenile rehabilitation, welfare, social security and vital records, the DHR even dabbles in environmental projects such as burial of radioactive material at Maxey Flats.

Also, the DHR has control of several hospitals in the state which has seen fit to decentralize such as the River Region Hospital in Jefferson County. They conduct experiments and research in many areas, one of which is mycology or the study of fungus-related diseases.

Whether it be city neighborhoods or county seats, offices affiliated with the DHR are located across the Commonwealth. A DHR office of some type is located in every one of Kentucky's counties, for large counties such as Jefferson, there are several.

The people of Kentucky deserve all these services, but all bunched together under one agency where the average citizen cannot receive any type of responsible information by telephone from out in the state.

As I have stated, the DHR will spend over two billion dollars in fiscal years 1979-80, 70% of these funds will come from the federal government, but it is important to note that this money comes from your state and federal tax dollars.

In 1973, when Governor Ford combined 20 agencies to form the DHR, his purported aim was to cut bureaucratic waste and make the DHR a cohesive unit. The present state administration has studied the same virtues, however, I am saddened to say with little effectiveness, less service and almost no contact with the working citizen.

When the head of a billion dollar a year state agency has a very large, new and private office but is still not satisfied until a private kitchen is installed at a cost of $5,000 to the taxpayers, I say the Secretary of the Department for Human Resources has to be out of touch with the people's needs.

A few days ago, the Secretary of the Department for Human Resources held a press conference to announce that the DHR was going to start cracking down on welfare cheats. For the DHR to make this pronouncement after being in existence for five years reminds me of the farmer who closed the barn door after his stock was already loose.

I have requested more precise and indepth information about this massive bureauary that gobbles our tax dollars by the millions. However, as yet, I have not received any type of cooperation.

Next time, the Department for Natural Resources.

"The busy has no time for tears." Byron

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Martin of Brodhead wish to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Shari Lynn, to Roger D. Proctor, also of Brodhead. The wedding will be an event of June 24, 1978 at 1:00 p.m. at the Providence Church of Christ, Brodhead, Ky. All friends and relatives are invited.

Holding a piece of broken vase, Mr. McNew writes his damage report at the Elmwood Cemetery following a wave of vandalism last week.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET

Mothers, daughters, adopted mothers, adopted daughters, aunts and nieces made up the thirty seven women and girls who served a scrumptious meal by twelve men and boys in Brodhead Christian Church's Fellowship Hall Saturday afternoon, May 13th, in celebration of Mother's Day.

After the banquet, the women and girls went upstairs for a program while the men and boys cleaned up the kitchen and dining area.

Mrs. Roger Carr planned and led the program consisting of special music, devotional, playlet, and presentation of potted flowers to Mrs. Lois Crawford of Cincinnati, Ohio as she was the mother who came the greatest distance; to three generations Mrs. Ellen Brown, her daughter Mrs. Walter Baldwin and her daughter Melanie; the youngest mother present, Mrs. John C. Newland, Jr., and to the "mother of all," Mrs. Lou Payne. On Sunday, during the Sunday School hour, Mrs. Mae Roberts received a hanging plant for being the oldest mother present, Mrs. Lonnie Petrey received the same for being the youngest mother present, and Mrs. Julia Adams also received a plant for having four generations present. Her daughter, Mrs. Grant Petrey, her son Mr. Lonnie Petrey and his daughter.

This monument stood for 100 years before vandals shattered it into pieces May 7th.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Mullins were her sister, Mrs. Paul Ford of Buffalo, N.Y., Mrs. Bill McKinney of Chattanooga, Tenn. and Mrs. Cecil Ramsey and Mr. Ramsey of Frankfort.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Webb visited his aunt, Mrs. Elbert Taylor and his mother in Corbin, Saturday.

To the Voters of the 3rd Supreme Court District:

I am asking for your vote and support in the coming election on Tuesday, May 23, 1978. For the last 25 years I have been continuously engaged in the practice of law.

I feel that my experience as a practicing attorney fully qualifies me for the position I am seeking as Judge of the Supreme Court of Kentucky. I have practiced law in the State Courts of Kentucky and the Federal Courts of Kentucky and I have more experience as a trial lawyer than the combined experience of both my opponents.

One of my opponents, Judge White was appointed and elected without opposition to his present position as Judge of the Court of Appeals. He has approximately 8 1/2 years to serve in that position at a salary of $37,500, per year plus certain expenses. My other opponent, Judge Calvin Akor, was appointed and elected without opposition as District Judge of the 26th Judicial District. He has approximately 3 years to serve in that position at a salary in excess of $27,500 per year plus certain expenses. After seeking the appointment and election of their respective offices both of my opponents now seek to abandon the jobs and seek the position that I am seeking. The voters have no assurance that either of my opponents would continue as Judge of the Supreme Court if either of them should be elected. I strongly feel that each of my opponents should complete the terms of office they now hold to which they were elected and keep and fulfill their commitment to the citizens and voters who elected them to their respective positions. I can assure you that if elected, I will not abandon the office and seek to enhance political ambitions by seeking other offices. I feel the office of Judge of the Supreme Court of Kentucky should be held by a man who is fully qualified and experienced and by a man whose only purpose is to serve in that capacity and not to use it as a political stepping stone.

Due to the size of the 3rd Supreme Court District and the limited amount of time, it has been impossible to make personal contact with all the voters. But at the same time I have not discontinued my work as a practicing attorney. I do so somewhat at disadvantage in that each of my opponents have been fit to take time off from the jobs to which they were elected and for which they are being paid a substantial salary by the taxpayers to conduct their campaigns.

Both my opponents have seen fit not to raise the issue of qualifications and experience and are depending upon other issues.

I am a lifetime resident of Laurel County, Kentucky, and am 53 years of age. I was educated in the public schools of Laurel County, Kentucky, Sue Bennett College, London, Kentucky Berea College, Berea, Kentucky and graduated from the University of Kentucky College of Law with a L.L.B. degree in 1951. Since that time I have been continuously engaged in the practice of law as a trial attorney. I have been admitted to and practiced before the State Courts of Kentucky, the United States District Court for the Eastern and Western District of Kentucky, the United States Court of Appeals for the 6th Circuit and the United States Supreme Court. I served in the United States Marine Corp from 1942 to 1946 with overseas duty in the Pacific Theatre operations. I am married and I am a member of the Methodist Church, Masonic Lodge, American Legion and Veteran of Foreign Wars.

Your Vote and Support Will Be Appreciated

Sincerely,

BOYD F. TAYLOR

It Works!

Karen and Jimmie Davis built an energy efficient home in 1976, and it works for them... saving money and energy. Their average monthly electric bill during the past year was $47.66, including taxes, and their highest bill was $71.33, last February. Many of Kentucky Utilities' suggested guidelines for an energy efficient home were used in the Davis' 1900-square foot home, such as special construction designed for added insulation, a heat pump, and minimum glass area. This house, near Elizabethtown, is one of several in our area built to use electricity to maximum efficiency, but we call on some things to help save energy.

Former Sheriff Shepherd Asked to File Report

Former County Sheriff Manuel Shepherd has failed to file his financial status report with the Department for Local Governments, according to a report released today.

Such reports have been required from all county officials since the establishment of county accounting systems through an act of the 1974 legislature.

Officials are further required to file such reports with the fiscal court or be subject to a fine.

Reporting to the state is necessary to verify that counties are complying with the accounting system as established by the statutes.

March 15 was the deadline for filing annual reports. All delinquent officials have been notified, according to Bob Purdon, state-local finance officer for the Department for Local Government.

GOD'S GREAT HELPER
Written on Mother's Day
By Mrs. John [Cepha] Kinser

Mother's are in cooperation with God. They help Him fashion an immortal soul. They guide little feet, wherever they tread. They help form these little wonders to behold.

Mothers are there at the beginning of life. Mothers help to start their growth. Mothers are there in the beginning of strife. When they begin to blossom forth.

As little ones grow along life's way. They're depending on their Mothers. She's there to watch them every day. And help overcome life's many struggles.

"NEW POLICE OFFICER"

police work very much so far, especially being out among people and being outdoors.

Ms. Halcomb said that working had changed her views of women's liberation.

I used to disagree all along the line with women's lib," she said. "But when I had to support my children myself for a while, I changed. I think women should get the same as men if they do the same work."

Ms. Halcomb was asked about policemen's wives who become jealous of policewomen.

"It's strictly business with me" she answered. "Besides, nowadays, in every job you take, there are men working with women. I don't see how you could get around that."

Ms. Halcomb is married and has two children, Lana, age 19, attends Eastern Kentucky University, and Denny, age 14, is a sophomore at Rockcastle County High School.

Ms. Halcomb said the children think her new job is "just great."

I want to do things right for everyone," she said. "I am a member of a Christian church, and I believe in the teaching that all are equal. Police get criticized for getting this one out of a ticket, or not being fair. I intend to treat everyone the same."

In early America men who kept order in the streets were known as watchmen. A town's citizens were drafted for service just as soldiers were drafted for military duty. Watchmen worked only at night; they spent their days at other employment to support their families. During the daytime there was no protection of any kind for citizens or their property.

Does Everyone Have A Right to His Own Religion?

One of the liberties guaranteed to every American by our Bill of Rights is freedom of religion. Were it not for that document, we would either be lawbreakers or tossed to and fro with the whims of the political incumbents of the day. Thus we appreciate the wisdom and foresight of our founding fathers in recognizing that (1) few political officials agree, even among themselves, in religious matters and (2) no body of men should have authority to impose their own religious opinions on their fellow creatures. God also gives man the freedom of choice. He could have created a race of robots, but He chose to give man the liberty to choose between right and wrong. However, unlike a body of mere men, He is omniscient and the Creator of all things. Therefore he could and did establish a system of religion which He has revealed in His word for all accountable mankind to observe. He has also warned that all other systems of religion are based upon the doctrines and commandments of men and are therefore vain (Matthew 15:9). Because of the fact that He has initiated only ONE FAITH (Ephesians 4:5), and has clearly outlined that one faith in the Bible, there should be no confusion or controversy about it. When there is only ONE of a thing, the only choice one has is to accept or reject it. For example, there is only ONE speed limit nationwide. We do not have a choice of speed limits; we can only choose to obey the one or disregard it and pay the consequences. So it is with THE faith (Jude 3). God did not give man a choice of religions, but He did give him the freedom of choice to obey that one or disregard it. He may obey it and go to heaven, or disobey it and go to hell (Matthew 7:21). Yes, man may choose a religion other than that which is specified by Deity, but he has no God-given right to do so. To please God, one must do RIGHT; not merely exercise his freedom of choice. We plead with man to choose God's way, not his own.

By Austin Mobley, Minister Providence Church of Christ

Guild Fair at Berea

Is May 18 - 21

The 12th annual Kentucky Guild Fair at Berea's Indian Foot Theatre will be held Thursday, May 18, through Sunday, May 21.

The fair will feature more than 100 artists and craftsmen exhibiting, making and selling paintings, sculptures, wood-crafts, ceramics, candles, quilts and traditional mountain toys and gifts.

There will also be entertainment by puppeteers, singers and instrumentalists during the fair.

At the top of the exhibit area-it's one the same grounds as the summer play, Wilderness Road-will be a gallery display called Member's Exhibit, which will feature works of exceptional and unique techniques.

Also available during the fair will be a large picnic area and the hiking trails of Indian Fort Mountain.

Fair hours will be noon-8 p.m. Thursday, May 18; Friday and Saturday, 10-6, and 10-4, respectively.

Admission per day will be $2 for adults and $1 for children.

handle it takes to hand him, and this will give you a good idea of how far down the whites are schooling.

If you have anchored over an area containing submerged brush, you'll probably catch crappie as well as (or instead of) white bass. And in several lakes, such as Herrington, Barren and Cumberland, don't be surprised if you tie into a rockfish while night fishing. These salt-water transplants are becoming more and more numerous around Kentucky, so if something tries to take your rod and reel away from you, that's probably what it is.

Besides lights and fishing gear, be sure to take along a jacket and plenty of coffee-it can get pretty cold and sleepy out on the lake, even in the middle of the summer.

Night fishing will remain productive through the summer months and well into the fall. Particularly in July and August, fishing at night is an excellent way to avoid the crowds of pleasure boaters and other fishermen who are out in force every weekend.

The limit on white bass is 60 per day and 60 in possession (48 more days for night) of fishing. The same limits apply to crappie and there are no size limits on either fish. But 60 fish is a lot of cleaning after an all-night session, so you might want to stop before you reach the legal limit if you don't feel like you're up to a several hour session with the filleting knife.

Kentucky Afield

By John Wilson

The reports from several lakes around Kentucky show that anglers are beginning to catch white bass at night. This indicates that at these lakes and probably at others, most of the whites have completed their spawning runs and have moved from the headwaters back into the main lake.

If this strange spring weather kept you from fishing the white bass runs and if you don't mind losing a little sleep, you might try some night fishing this spring or summer. This angling method is often more consistently productive than fishing for white bass during the spawning runs.

The basic techniques of night fishing are simple. Anchor the boat securely at the bow and the stern to hold it in place, shine the rays of a lantern or an electric light from a 12-volt battery into the water, bait several lines with minnows and wait.

The first creatures to be attracted to the light are several species of plankton. If you look closely into clear water, you can see these tiny organisms as they gather under the lights. They in turn will attract small shad and other species of minnows, which will eventually draw in a school of roving white bass.

Most night fishermen get on the lake before nightfall and plan on staying out until daylight the next morning. The most productive spots are generally along steep, vertical banks that drop off quickly into deep waters. If you're not familiar with a lake, just drive around the shoreline one night and look for concentrations of lights, then set up the same general area.

Don't make the common mistake of fishing until about 11 p.m. then deciding to go in and watch the movie on TV-most action takes place well after midnight and an ideal time can be just at the first light of dawn.

To find the correct depth to fish, lower the baited hook to the bottom and slowly reel it back up. When a fish hits, count the number of turns of the reel

Fire Destroys House

Fire destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Barron of Old Brodhead Road last Sunday evening, May 14. Mr. Barron was hospitalized and treated for injuries, but has since been released. Mrs. Barron was uninjured.

According to neighbors, Mr. Barron was building a fire in a stove when the stove blew up. The frame house was completely destroyed, and the Barrons lost everything they owned.

The couple has no children, but Mrs. Barron is seven months pregnant.

Any household items or furniture can be donated to the couple by calling 758-9706 or leaving the items at the home of Thurman Barron on Highway Road. Maternity clothing, size 14, and men's shirts, size 15-15½, and men's pants, size 33-34, are also very much needed.

Seventy-one youngsters rode bicycles through a brisk wind and light rain Saturday to raise money for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

The Bike-A-Thon lasted about two hours and was part of a statewide fund-raising effort to combat the children's lung disease. The children rode in a mile-long circle around the Mount Vernon Elementary School.

Chairman Tommy Hodges said that the exact amount of money raised and the children who won prizes for their efforts will be announced at a later date. Each child was sponsored by an individual or organization willing to pay so much a mile to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. There will be three winners for most miles ridden, most sponsors, and most money raised. Children participating ranged from 5 years to 13. Each participant received a free sundae or milkshake, and a free T-Shirt decal with the Cystic Fibrosis insignia.

Other adults who helped in the project were: Rachel James, Nancy Mullins, Diane Dober, Mary Fonder, Carol Pybas, Laverne Winstead, Sandy Dowell and Julie Harris.

Parenting Techniques

Mental Health Matters

Adolescents abound in energy, enthusiasm, and a yearning to be independent. Adults abound in experience, advice and a seemingly overwhelming desire to protect their teen-ager from making mistakes. It is truly hard to stand by after offering helpful suggestions to a teenager, and watch as they gibbly toss them aside. The parent knows the hurt and heartache that will result, yet the teen-ager's message is "allow me to experience it for myself". Many of life's most worthwhile lessons can only be fully appreciated through personal experience. Over-protection by well meaning parents sometimes robs a teen-ager of his desire to reach out to others, to be innovative.

NOTICE

Citizens Bank of Brodhead will be closed Monday, May 29 in observance of Memorial Day and Saturday, June 3, in observance of Confederate Memorial Day.

to taste success or defeat.

It is useful for parents to frequently "talk things over" with teen-agers, to offer constructive suggestions and then calmly to trust their young adults to make their own decisions. Teen-agers should be aware of family rules and expectations. Even if parents can't accompany their children through each new experience, the set of values they give their children from the earliest days will stand them in good stead in their daily lives.

High School Chorus Wins Superior Rating

The Rockcastle High School Chorus won a superior rating May 6, in regional competition at Eastern Kentucky University.

The 53 singers, under the direction of Margie Wilcox, performed an eleven-minute program of songs from their recent spring concert. The chorus was one of eleven from local counties in the competition.

Rockcastle went to Statewide Competition in March, where five chorus members were all-state winners, two with perfect scores.

"This superior was not our first, but it's the sweetest," Ms. Wilcox said. "It was their spirit of oneness and the shine of each one doing his best that really made the event great."

This year's annual Crafts Day Camp for Homemakers will be held Thursday, June 8, at 10 a.m. in London. Homemakers will have the chance to learn any of ten crafts including photography, crocheting and others.

Crafts day will take place at the 4-H camp across from Levi Jackson State Park. To register, contact the county Extension Agent Cheryl Witt. The event is expected to last until 2 p.m., and participants should bring a bag lunch.

A workshop in "Food Preservation and Canning" will be held at the Rockcastle Co. Library June 20 at 1 p.m. Ms. Witt will demonstrate how to can beans and tomatoes using a pressure cooker, as well as how to freeze vegetables. Anyone may attend.

Ms. Witt said that many people are canning vegetables without using pressure, and this can sometimes lead to dangerous food poisoning. A day camp for children in the Expanded Foods and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP) will be held June 16 at Lake Linville. Nutrition Aides will be teaching what foods to eat and why to the children. A cook-out and recreation is also planned.

Nutrition Aides work with the County Homemaker Agent in giving out information about proper eating habits. Anyone can sign up for the lessons, which are usually given in your home.

Two officers of the Rockcastle County Homemakers Clubs will attend the Annual Meeting of the Kentucky Homemakers Association in Lexington May 17-19.

President Norietta Thompson of the Quail Club, and vice president Rachel Griffith of the Town and Country Club will be representing Rockcastle Co. at the conference held on UK campus.

The conference will feature workshops on energy, health, the metric system, and homemaking. A best-selling writer, Letitia Baldrige, is the keynote speaker, and her topic is "Coping." About 1200 women will attend the conference.
