

AMBULANCE SERVICE
(Cont. d from front)

You are charged $25.00 for the ambulance to come to your home, and an additional $7.00 to ride to the hospital, bringing the bill to $32.00. If you want to ride back home in the ambulance, you will be charged $7.00.
Medicaid pays only $30.00 per pick-up and 50 cents per mile after the first ten miles. In the above example, the hospital will receive only $20.00 from the Medicaid program.

Mr. Dober said the hospital takes a loss in these cases.

Medicare patients—people over 65 years of age who are enrolled in the government medical assistance program—are charged differently. Medicare pays 80 percent of the bill if the patient has paid his Part 2 deductible charge on his Medicare policy. The patient is billed for the other 20 percent of the bill.

William Leon Mason, Jr., son of William and Vennie Mason of Orlando, was in Mt. Vernon one day last week to display his prize crop of tomatoes. The largest one William, Jr. is holding weighed one and one-half pounds. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. David Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mason, all of Orlando.

If the patient has not paid his Part 2 deductible, he will be billed for the entire ambulance fee.

Mr. Dober said the cost of ambulance service went up in July, 1977. Rockcastle Hospital used guidelines set up by the Boone Regional Emergency Medical Service to determine its fees.

The county now has three ambulances. The service is expensive, but it means two emergency medical technicians to ride on the ambulance run. One drives the vehicle and the other gives emergency care. Mr. Dober said. These technicians must be available on a 24-hour basis.

Moment of Truth

The situation is this. Husband is transferred to a new job a great distance away. The family is faced with the decision of whether to sell the home. If it is not sold prior to the husband's departure, should the wife and children remain behind or accompany him to the new location and try to sell an empty house? Speaking as a REALTOR not a marriage counselor, I must advise that the choice will be a matter of finance versus emotions. Why? Experience shows that an empty house is tougher to sell and brings less money. A house devoid of furniture loses its charm and appearance of livability. Sears and blemishes show up. Empty rooms look smaller without furniture. On the average, an empty house will bring about 5 to 10 percent less in some cases, discounts of up to 10 percent are not unusual. Also, selling time is longer for an empty house despite the parable that the buyer can move in almost immediately.

Randall Adams, vice president; Greg Stephens, president; and Dazzie Singleton, treasurer, are three new officers of Kiwanis Club. Not present was Mike Bryant, secretary. The club plans a Charter Night Banquet in September.

Newly-Formed Kiwanis Club Elects Officers

A chapter of Kiwanis International has been organized in Mt. Vernon, and the new club now has twenty charter members.

Officers were elected Thursday at a noon meeting held at the Rockcastle Steak House.

The Mt. Vernon chapter is being sponsored by the London Kiwanis, which has sent representatives to each of the first three organizational meetings. These men have explained the by-laws and purpose of Kiwanis, and will be attending the weekly meetings for at least a few months.

Kiwanis is a worldwide organization founded in 1915, that now has over 300,000 members. Its stated goals include encouraging the Golden Rule, putting spiritual values over the material ones, promoting high business and social standards, developing citizenship, providing a means of friendship, and maintaining a high idealism.

The word "Kiwanis" comes from an American Indiana word meaning "self expression or making oneself known."

Hospital Explains Fees Charged for Ambulance

Is Rockcastle County Hospital charging different amounts to different people for use of the ambulance?

Luke Dober, executive director, said absolutely not—everyone is charged the same.

"The confusion was caused by Medicare and Medicaid agreements," he said.

Mr. Dober said that Medicaid is a government program that pays medical costs of people receiving government welfare assistance. Medicaid will only pay so much of the costs, however.

An ambulance pick-up costs a flat $25.00, and the patient also pays $1.00 per mile for every mile he rides in the ambulance. There is also a $10.00 charge if the ambulance crew uses red lights and sirens. There is no charge per mile when the ambulance is empty.

The price works out this way: If you live seven miles from the hospital,

Board Buys 'Back-to-School' Supplies, Repairs to High School Roof to Start Soon

By Jane Kundz

At the regular meeting of the Rockcastle County School Board, Monday, members voted to employ personnel and buy supplies necessary for school to start August 14.

A new lunchroom policy was passed that will bring prices up as follows: elementary school lunch, 50 cents; high school lunch, 55 cents; breakfast, 25 cents; extra milk, 5 cents. Some children are eligible for free or reduced food prices depending on their families' incomes. These income levels are advertised elsewhere in the Signal.

A bid of $51,968 from Pearce-Phelps Roofing, Inc. in Lexington was accepted to install a new roof over the shop of The Rockcastle County High School. The same company will repair the roof over the gymnasium in the high school this fall.

The Board did not accept a bid to replace the gym roof at this time because there is not enough reserve money in the capital fund. Also, Board members voted that it was better to wait and install a "Trocal" roof with a 10-year warranty rather than a cheaper one now. Pearce-Phelps will be installing a Trocal roof over the shop area.

Other bids accepted were: gasoline from Chevron; coal from Roda Enterprises; coal hauling from Ronald McFerron; tires from Southern Belle in Somerset; tires from Cromer's Tire and Appliance in Mt. Vernon, breadstuffs from Kerns Bakery, pest control from Laurel Pest Control in London, garbage pick-up from Multi-County Sanitation in Mt. Vernon, and food supplies from Institutional Distribution, Somerset Foods, Central Kentucky Foods, Uncle Charlie's and Robinson's Sausage. The food supplies are bid every three months.

Other Business

The Board did not accept any of three bids submitted for bleachers for Roundstone School Charles Parsons, superintendent, said he would examine the bleachers carefully to see which was the best for the money and report to the Board at the next meeting.

Dr. Rudolph Burdette requested that the Board take up the problem of the public address system at the high school, saying it should be improved before the next graduation is held.

Personnel

The following coaches were hired: Mr. Vernon, Mark McKinney and Judith Bullock; Brodhead, John Hamm and Gary Scott; Livingston, Preston Parrett and John Hale; Roundstone, Harry Holland and Mrs. Terry Parkey. Salary will be determined at the next Board meeting.

Forty-two cooks and substitute cooks were hired as follows: Mt. Vernon: Martha Carter, Janet Barnett, Bonnie Hysinger, Anna Mae Jackson, Ruth Pease, Nell Reynolds, Marie Robbins, Donna Shepherd; Brodhead: Evelyn Owens, Helen Albright, Geraldine Anglin, Doris Blanton, Betty Sue Holcomb, Edith Neeley; Livingston: Margaret Burdine, Bobbie Jean Gilford, Lena McClure, Anna Mae Newcomb, Ollie Carpenter; Roundstone: Jane VanWinkle, Cuma Abney, Ruth Huff, Faye Mae Taylor, Ada Thacker; Adams: Mae Barron, Nellie Bradley, Mary Bussell, Ruth Hopkins, Dorothy Lovell, Rekel McClure, and Blue Springs, Mary Payne. Substitute cooks hired are: Jean Albright, Margie Barron, Aleda Bond, Mary Belle Johnson, Marjorie Jones, Hester Lawrence, Nona McFerron, Edna Miller, Yolanda Ramsey and Dessie Taylor.

Eighteen additional bus drivers were hired as follows:

Regular drivers—Everett Albright, Raymond Hayes, Ray Joyce, Rebecca Singleton, Billy Medley, Roy McKinney; substitute drivers, Jack Daley, Carol McGuire, Clyde Burdette, Homer Jones, Monroe Ross, Donald Parsons, Johnny Hale, Kenneth E. Roberts, Jimmy Taylor, Wayne Vanzant, Henry Hayes, and Larry Travis.

Barbara Rader, John Graves, Paula Clark, Ona Coffey, Jeannine Cummins, Cola Wilson, Hubert Hunt, Edna Fain and Teresa Cromer were hired as substitute teachers at $30 to $35 per day, depending on qualifications.

Shirley Mullins will be a Title I secretary, replacing Pat Baker, who resignation from the office was accepted at the meeting. Sharon Baker, library aide, Ollie Carpenter, custodian, Edith Raines, aide, and Robert Mink and V. Scott, adult education teachers.

George Poynter to Run For School Board Post

George Poynter of Livingston has announced his candidacy for school board member from the First Educational District, consisting of West Livingston, East Livingston and South Mt. Vernon precincts.

Mr. Poynter works in the production control department of Kronic at Richmond and is married to the former Iva B. Owens, who is a nutrition assistant in the County Extension Office.

Mr. Poynter has four children: Mark, 17; Greg, 15; Joan, 14 and David, 7.

Mr. Poynter is also a minister of the Pentecostal Holiness Church at Livingston.

He is a candidate for the seat presently held by Billy Burdine.

Fiscal Court Leases Fairgrounds, Food Concessions to D.A. Robbins

At an announced meeting of the Fiscal Court held last Saturday, Judge-Executive Hubert Thacker was voted the power to execute an agreement between the Court and D.A. and Vivian Robbins, operators of the Brodhead Fair.

The agreement concerns the leasing of the Brodhead Fairgrounds, now owned by the county, for the week of the Fair. It allows the Robbins' to continue to operate the hamburger stand on the grounds at a rent of $500 for the next five years. The stand is to be "the only major eating booth for any event with a gate fee." The Robbins have the option to renew at the same rent for an additional five years.

Judge Thacker said the minutes of the Court meeting should read "$500.00 per year" and not "$500 for the five year period."

The Robbins' also agree to lease the Fairgrounds for one week each year for the next three years for rental payments of $2,000 to be paid August 1, 1979 and August 1, 1980. They have the option to lease the Fairgrounds for an additional two years at $2,500 per year.

The County agrees not to hold any conflicting events the week of the Little World's Fair and not to schedule "unreasonable development" that week. The Robbins' agree to maintain liability insurance.

The agreement is being drawn up by Carl Clontz, attorney, Judge Thacker said. County Attorney James Lambert said he was unaware of the Court meeting or the agreement.

The Fiscal Court purchased the Fairgrounds from the Brodhead Fair Company, Inc. for $111,600 in July with part of a $271,900 grant from the federal government. The Court plans to build a recreational center on the ground with a senior citizen center and housing.

Hospital Construction Should Start Soon, Fire Marshall Causes Some Delays

Rockcastle County Hospital's building project is about three months behind schedule, but officials are confident that work will be finished by December 1, 1979, as originally planned.

Luke Dober, the hospital's executive director, said the state Fire Marshall's office was responsible for the delay. The hospital board submitted its plans to the Marshall in early February, but did not receive a reply until May.

The delays have cost the hospital about $100,000 because of inflation, Mr. Dober said.

The hospital board has planned a $1.5 million expansion and modernization program that will add 32 beds to the hospital and upgrade the emergency room and outpatient facilities. Bids submitted for construction were rejected in July because the board felt the bids were too high, Mr. Dober said.

Additional bids were reviewed last week, and negotiations are currently taking place between the Hospital Board and Browning Construction of Pineville, among other companies.

"We changed some of the architectural specifications to cut the bid planned," Mr. Dober said. Changes saved about $300,000, but the Fire Marshall's requirements added costs.

"The Marshall is requiring an emergency power system larger than we have planned," Mr. Dober said.

Besides the larger generator, the hospital will have fire barriers that will contain fires up to four hours. Carpets, floors and ceilings as well as wiring are all being built according to Fire Marshall's requirements, Mr. Dober said.

"This hospital had perfect standards in 1955 for fire safety," he said, "but we now have to meet the 1978 standards."

Mr. Dober said he was hopeful that construction will begin this fall.

Legislative Report

By Rep. Harold DeMarcus

Taxes which are levied upon us by government are becoming more and more of a burden each year. Previous administrations have promised to give tax relief to the citizens of the Commonwealth, however, this has simply not come to pass.

This statement can be proven by the fact of a two-hundred percent budget increase of $5 billion dollars for this biennium over 1968's budget, which clearly indicates that no attempt was made to reduce taxes. Evidenced by the 1968 executive budget of $2.5 billion; the 1970 budget of $3.1 billion; the 1972 budget of $3.5 billion; the 1974 budget of $4.4 billion; the 1976 budget of $5.7 billion and the 1978 budget of $7.5 billion dollars. Further during the 1978 legislative session, not only were one-hundred different fee increase bills introduced but twenty of these were enacted and became law.

In the wake of the passage of California's Proposition 13, the spending limitation amendment in Tennessee and also a revitalization of the economic theory which expounds that the present high rate of personal income tax serves to destroy a person's will to work. Specially when they see their hard earned money used to support others who do not choose to work. It becomes obvious that there is a need for a responsible tax relief program, if only for the reason that it is merely what the people of Kentucky deserve.

There is little reason to wonder why a person must work the first six months of each year solely to pay his taxes. When one considers, for example, Kentucky personal income tax which touches even the most meager wage earner has inflated by $200 million dollars more than the 1968 figure received only 10 years ago.

A couple of weeks ago, there were press releases from the Department of Revenue reporting that Kentucky was in a financially stable condition and that Kentuckians have no reason to instigate a tax revolt because we have one of the lowest property taxes in the nation. This may be so, but, in light of the fact that Kentucky has one of the highest gasoline taxes in the nation, comprehensive income taxes and a new coal production (severance) tax which will provide an additional $33.9 million dollars in the next two years, I wonder just how many citizens are satisfied with the Kentucky taxing situation.

On several occasions, I have heard the statement, "Kentuckians don't want reduced taxes because they like all the services provided by state government." State government does provide many worthy services, but do the services warrant the taxes? One thing for certain, government touches everyone's life, if by nothing else at least by taxes. Today it is the opinion of many that more government is not always best.

Many times during the 1978 session, I was quoted as saying the citizens of the Commonwealth deserve a tax cut in comparison to the state level to the $25 billion dollar tax cut proposed by the federal government. I sincerely believe this is needed. However, this proposal has fallen on deaf ears.

It is my intention to commit myself and as many of my fellow legislators as possible to working during the interim and into the 1980 session for the accountable reduction of the heavy burden placed on the people of Kentucky by indiscriminate taxes.

Ky.'s Dove Season To Open Sept. 1

Kentucky's 1978 dove hunting season will open Sept. 1, according to regulations proposed by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Commissioner Carl Kays announced today.

As in the past several years, the season will continue through Oct. 31, with the second phase of the season running from Dec. 9 thru Dec. 17. The limits on doves remain at 12 daily and 24 in possession after two or more days of hunting, Kays said, adding that a hunter in the field may not possess more than the daily limit.

Shooting hours for doves will be from noon until one-half hour before sunset, local prevailing time, and all shot furs used to hunt doves (and all other game except deer) must be plugged to hold no more than three shells.

Other migratory game bird seasons covered by the proposed regulations are woodcock and Wilson snipe, Oct. 6 through Nov. 30 and Dec. 9 through December 17 and an early season on all species of teal, Sept. 2 through Sept. 10.

Test hunters in addition to a valid Kentucky hunting license must also possess a signed federal Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation stamp.

Family Disunity Forum Topic

Bob Fields, director of clerk/rock Retreat Center in Mt. Vernon, recently spoke about Family Disunity at a Community Forum held to discuss the most serious problems facing Rockcastle County. The Forum was sponsored by the Cumberland Disciples Conference, Care Center.

Mr. Fields is an ordained minister and family and youth counselor. Excerpts from his remarks are as follows: Our American lifestyle is consumer-oriented and tends to make man an object of buying power that consequently harms the relationships within the family.

Family cohesiveness, is being destroyed because we are losing the ability to enjoy one another within the family without the use of external stimuli.

Institutions outside that of the family are slowly taking over the role that the family traditionally has maintained and relieving it of some of its responsibilities.

One area of the family that can not be replaced by institutions is that of the emotional support it offers its members.

Family members need to learn to give more of themselves to each other in order to save their family unity.

Present-day events are constantly changing American lifestyles too quickly for man to comprehend. To cope with this the family can not afford to lose its unity and solidarity.

commonly known as a "duck stamp." This stamp is not required for dove, woodcock and snipe hunting.

Bag limits on woodcock are five daily and 10 in possession, eight and 16 for Wilson snipe and four and eight for teal. Snipe and woodcock may be taken from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset, while the shooting hours for teal are from sunrise until sunset, prevailing time.

Applications for deer gun hunting permits at the Higginson-Henry Wildlife Management Area, near Morganfield in Union County, will be accepted only between Aug. 19 and noon, Sept. 9, according to Dept. of Fish and Wildlife Resources regulations.

The gun hunt, scheduled for Nov. 14 and 15, will be limited to 300 hunters chosen in a random drawing. LOCAL SCHOOL FOOD AUTHORITY

The Rockcastle County Board of Education today announced its policy for free and reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served in schools under the National School Lunch Program and/or School Breakfast and/or Special Milk Program. Local school officials have adopted the following family-size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

FAMILY SIZE	FREE MEALS AND FREE MILK		REDUCED PRICE MEALS
	IF family income is with	EXCEPTIVE MEALS	COLLEGE STUDENT	IF family income is
1	0	$ 4,190	0	$ 4,190
2	0	5,500	0	5,500
3	0	6,810	0	10,530
4	0	8,110	0	12,660
5	0	9,310	0	14,830
6	0	10,510	0	16,400
7	0	11,600	0	18,000
8	0	12,650	0	19,570
9	0	13,680	0	21,300
10	0	14,660	0	22,870
11	0	15,620	0	24,390
12	0	16,510	0	25,810

FOR EACH ADDITIONAL FAMILY MEMBER, ADD $920 PER YEAR TO THE INCOME LEVEL FOR FREE MEALS AND $530 TO THE INCOME LEVEL FOR REDUCED PRICE MEALS.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals, an extra one-half pint free milk or reduced price meals. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents. Additional forms are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

To discourage the possibility of misrepresentation, the application forms contain a statement above the space for signature certifying that all information furnished in the application is true and correct. An additional statement is added to warn that the application is being made in connection with the receipt of Federal funds, that school officials may, for cause, verify the information in the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable State and Federal criminal statutes.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

If a family member becomes unemployed or if family's size and income changes during the school year, the family should contact the school to file a new application. Such changes may make the children of the family eligible for reduced price meals, or for additional benefits such as free meals and milk if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy the school official will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis.

If he wishes to make a formal appeal, he may make a request either orally or in writing to:

Charles B. Parsons
 (NAME OF HEARING OFFICIAL)
 Mt. Vernon, Kentucky 40456
 (ADDRESS)

for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy on file in each school and in the Superintendent's office contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

Pat Todd (seated) with Ann Lopez and Beverly Holman comprise the office staff of the Rockcastle County Weatherization Office. The office helps families install insulation and make repairs that will save fuel costs as part of a federal program to conserve energy.

Weatherization Office Is Now In Second Year of Operation

Rockcastle County's own little Department of Energy goes into its second year of operation this year.

The Weatherization Office, located in the Rockcastle Co. Courthouse, now has an office staff of three and twelve workmen whose job it is to repair and insulate certain houses in the county.

The Office was set up as part of the federal program to conserve energy by "weatherizing" private homes.

Pat Todd, executive director, said that people apply to have their homes repaired and insulated, but that not everyone is eligible.

"We follow federal guidelines and help people according to their income level," Ms. Todd said. "The elderly and people with very small children have top priority."

After eligibility is determined, Ann Lopez, the field worker, goes to the home and inspects it. She makes a report about what work should be done.

"I look for spaces where air might come in," Ms. Lopez said. "Broken windows, doors that don't fit, cracks in the walls—all these. If you can see through a hole in the ceiling or floor, you need weatherizing of that area."

Ms. Lopez was trained by Ms. Todd, who has taken a full training course at the main office in Manchester.

After the reports are made, money is authorized for repairs and insulation. There are three different programs—one authorizes money up to $250, another up to $100 and the third up to $600. Insulation, which is most likely a cellulose kind applied with a spray gun, runs up to $300.

The Weatherization Office will also repair and insulate homes of renters, but an agreement with the landlord must be approved first. Part of the agreement is that the landlord will not raise the rent

The Sturgill children in front of their house, which is only partly finished with new siding installed by the Weatherization Office.

One of the three crews of workmen who are making repairs on homes. Here Russell Blackburn, Ellis Kirby and Larry Hensel work on siding for a house near Livingston.

for a certain length of time after the free repairs have been made.

Each work crew has a supervisor and two workers. The men are full-time employees who are in training through the Kentucky Association of Community Action Agencies. So far, about 80 houses and trailers have been "weatherized" in Rockcastle County this year.

Besides fixing houses, the Weatherization Office gives emergency help when families have weather-related problems. Last winter, vouchers for fuel oil and coal were issued through the office. Also, some fuel bills were paid when financial need was shown. The Weatherization Office is also starting an old-newspaper drive to recycle paper.

Middle-class families who may not be eligible for the services of the Weatherization Office's work crews can receive information about insulating their homes and conserving energy at the Extension Office also in the Courthouse.

Good Homemade Pickles

If you're after a perfect pickle, start with fresh, firm fruits and vegetables. Above that, most pickling problems can be overcome if you use a tested recipe and pay attention to proper procedure, quantity and recommended ingredients.

Heat Treatment

Q. Why must jars of pickles or relish always be heat processed?

A. Even though they are prepared in a vinegar brine, and even though many old-time recipes do not mention processing, heat treatment is the only way to ensure destruction of organisms that cause spoilage. It also inactivates enzymes that can cause changes in flavor, color and texture.

Process in boiling water-bath canner for the time recommended in a reliable recipe.

Which Vinegar?

Q. Does it matter what kind of vinegar you use for pickling?

A. Yes. Use only a high-grade cider vinegar or white distilled vinegar with an acidity of from 4 to 6 percent. Check the label for this information. Don't use homemade vinegar, since the acidity varies. If the vinegar is too weak, the pickles will spoil.

White vinegar gives a light-colored product. Use it for such things as pickled pears, onions and cauliflower.

Use Coarse Salt

Q. What kind of salt should I use?

A. Use coarse pickling, dairy or kosher salt. Don't use plain table salt, because it contains an anti-caking additive that can cause clouding of the pickling liquid. Iodized salt would darken your pickles, too.

Q. Can dill seed be substituted for dill weed?

A. You can substitute 1 tablespoon of dill seed per quart jar. One tablespoon of seed is approximately equal to three heads of dill weed. Buy fresh spices for the best flavor.

If the dill from your garden is ready before your cucumbers are, you can keep it fresh by freezing it.

Q. My pickles are too sour. Can I adjust them to my taste by using less vinegar?

A. Do not dilute vinegar unless the recipe says to. Add sugar rather than decreasing the vinegar. There is a finely-balanced relationship between acidity and keeping quality—don't disturb it!

Q. Is alum an essential ingredient in pickling?

A. Some older recipes call for alum. This ingredient is not necessary for a crisp pickle. It can cause digestive upset if used in excess.

Q. I have been told that my hard well water will cause a problem. What can I do about this?

A. If soft water is not available, you can soften your well water by boiling it for 15 minutes and then letting it stand for 24 hours. A scum will appear on the top, and you should carefully skim it off. Then ladle the water from the container without disturbing the sediment on the bottom.

Add 1 tablespoon of vinegar per gallon of boiled water before using. (Distilled water is suitable, but would be too expensive to substitute).

Soft water is recommended for pickling because the minerals in hard water will darken the pickles.

Bread and Butter Pickles

1 gallon sliced cucumbers
8 small white onions, sliced
2 green peppers shredded
5 cups sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons turmeric
1/4 teaspoon cloves
2 teaspoons mustard seed
2 teaspoon celery seed
5 cups vinegar
1/2 cup coarse salt

Mix sliced cucumbers, onions, shredded pepper, and salt. Cover with cold water (ice water, if possible) and let stand 3 hours. Drain well.

Bring vegetables and spices to boiling. Add vegetables, reduce flame, and simmer for a few minutes, but not until cucumbers are soft.

Place in hot jars, leaving 1/2 inch headspace. Adjust jar lids. Process 5 minutes in boiling water-bath canner. Makes 7 pints.

Your Ingredients

For homemade pickles you can be proud of, use coarse salt (not table salt), granulated white sugar, soft water, fresh whole spices, and a 4 to 6 percent cider vinegar or white distilled vinegar. The spices up loosely in a piece of clean cheesecloth and remove them when the pickles are ready for canning.

If you have hard water, boil it for 15 minutes, and let it stand a day before using. Remove scum from top and ladle out the water so that sediment is left in the bottom. Add 1 tablespoon of vinegar for each gallon of boiled water.

George Burton is shown with his son, Bennett's horse, which was one of two stabbed Saturday night. The horse required 50 stitches to close one of the wounds. Three men have been charged in the incident under Kentucky law dealing with cruelty to animals.

Three Men Charged In Injuries To Two Horses

Three men are being held in Rockcastle County Jail in connection with the torture of two horses owned by George and Bennet Burton, of Mt. Vernon.

George Burton said the horses were tied and cut with knives the night of August 5.

The men charged are Billy Joe Pruitt, Rt. 4, Mt. Vernon, Walter Sweeney and Roger Dean Mink, no addresses given. They were arrested by State Trooper G.L. Ennis under Kentucky law $25,130 dealing with cruelty to animals.

George Burton said one wound on his son Bennett's horse required 50 stitches. He said the veterinarian told them that the horses should heal if infections did not develop in the wounds.

Mr. Burton said that he figured the incident occurred about midnight. The horses, both 10 years old, were kept in an open barn. His horse was stabbed four times.

"I'd rather it had been me," Mr. Burton said.

County Agent's Notes

Establishing stands of Forage Crops

Now (August and early September) is the best time to establish stands of grasses such as orchardgrass, timothy, bluegrass, bromegrass, regrass and tall fescue. Clovers and alfalfa can also be seeded now, but the hazards are a little greater with legumes than with grasses. Thus, it is usually best to seed the grasses now and legumes in late winter or early spring. It costs you time and money to make new seedings. Most farmers can't afford to waste either of these. Also, if you get a stand which you feel is too good to tear up and re-seed, you may be stuck with lowered yields and/or a weedy field for several years. Successful stand establishment is important.

There is no guarantee for success. We will discuss here some things which will increase the probability of success. Some are based on research at the University of Kentucky. Others are based on literally dozens of failures which we have seen when certain practices are or are not followed.

Supply proper fertility

Prior to establishing a new stand, lime, phosphorus, and potassium should be applied as the soil test indicates they are needed. When the cropping history of a field indicates a need of nitrogen, it is usually recommended at the rate of 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre on grass-legume mixtures and 50 pounds per acre on straight grasses.

It is best to apply needed limestone 6 months or more ahead of seeding. If the pH is below 6.0, early application becomes more important as does mixing the lime with the soil to speed up the reaction. If the pH is below 6.0 and legumes are to be used, molybdenum may be deficient. In this case 1 lb. per acre of sodium molybdate mixed in water, sprayed on the soil surface and disked in will increase nodulation of the legumes.

Boron should be used at the rate of 1.5-2.0 lb/A of elemental boron if the legume is to be clover (from which seed is to be harvested or alfalfa.

All lime and fertilizers must be uniformly distributed over the field. We see a lot of cases each year where good and poor stands are in alternate strips through the field. This is usually the result of poor distribution of lime, fertilizer and/or seed.

Use high quality seed and a proven seeding method

Obviously seed which is adapted to a species and variety which is designed to your field. You should also get seed with high purity and germination and low weed content. Read the seed tag and if it isn't high quality, don't buy it! Boron on seed are seldom a true bargain. Certified seed provides another insurance of high quality.

Any seeding method can be successful. You must have uniform distribution of the seed. It is always important to cover the seed, but it is more critical when the soil is dry, and you don't want too much cover. About 1/8" for legumes and 1/4-1/2" for grasses. If the seedbed is freshly prepared and "fluffy" it is a good practice to cultivate, distribute the seed, and cultivate again. This firms the soil so the seed don't go too deeply and insures good seed soil contact. Have you noticed that sometimes your best stand is in your tractor tracks? This is partially due to better moisture absorption by the seed where the seed and soil are in better contact.

How about mixing seed with fertilizer?

This is becoming a common practice and it is convenient. There can be problems with seed distribution, killing the seed, and killing the inoculum on legumes. Many times seed distribution is poor, resulting in good and poor strips.

It can be avoided by mixing the spreader at 1/2 the rate you want to distribute and then overlapping the swath by 50% each time. Going over the field a second time at right angles to the first run accomplishes the same thing.

Some grasses and small grain seed are killed by long exposure to certain kinds of fertilizer. Legume seed germination isn't usually reduced, but the bacterial inoculum on the seed surface may be killed. It is best to seed grasses as quickly as possible after mixing them with fertilizer. It is best to not use this seeding method for legumes.

How about nurse crops?

Wheat, barley, oats, and rye are sometimes seeded in late summer or fall along with the perennial forage grasses. These are not "nurse" crops, but competing crops and it is usually best to not use them. If you have an erosion problem, the small grains help control it. Also, they provide a little insulation against winter kill and heaving. If your main objective is to establish the perennial grass, and you feel you need some quick cover, use a low seeding rate (15 pecks per acre) of the small grain to they will not compete too strongly with the grass which you seed now, and legumes which you may seed into them next spring.

Inoculate legume seed properly

The most frequent problem which we see on new alfalfa seedlings is poor nodulation. There are several possible reasons for this: Low soil pH, low molybdenum, the wrong kind of inoculum, dead bacteria and/or improper application of the bacteria to the seed to name a few.

You should always inoculate legume seed with the proper bacteria just prior to seeding. Be sure the legume you are using is listed on the inoculum container. Although there is no way to look at inoculum, be sure the bacteria are living, there are some things which you should avoid.

Don't buy inoculum which is out of date or in a bag which has the seal broken. Look at where the inoculum is stored. It should be in a cool, dry place. Its storage is in the refrigerator.

The inoculated seed in a bag has been on the seed by the company) which has been turned over to you, probably should be re-inoculated before seeding.

To ensure that inoculum is stuck to each seed, use an appropriate commercial adhesive or sugar solution. Satisfaction results are obtained when a small amount of sugar solution is first added to seed and thoroughly mixed to get all seed moist wet. Then add the inoculum and mix again. If done properly the peat on the inoculum mixture will absorb excess moisture and seed will flow well through the seeder.

Saved By Faith, Or Grace, Or Works?

Some churches stress the great importance of faith and the grace of God. They will emphasize faith to such an extent that they seem to overlook almost everything else the Bible teaches. Men will teach that faith only or faith alone is all that is required for salvation. Although the Bible certainly teaches the importance of faith, it does not teach faith alone. For by grace are ye saved through faith, and that not of works, lest any man should boast. (Eph. 2:8-9). Man could not command and perform any works that would earn or merit the grace of God; it was given freely, motivated by His supreme love (See John 3:16).

So obedience to God's commands and the doing of good works is not prompted by the earning motive, but by the love for God, for his abundant grace extended to us. Jesus said, "If ye love me, ye will keep my commandments" (John 14:15), and James said, "I will show thee my faith by my works" (James 2:18). Real faith is expressed in obedience. When we hear men claim that certain of God's commands are non-essential, we immediately know that they do not have faith. Our obedience proves two things: the reality of our faith, and the reality of our love.

The true relationship of faith, works, and love is given in the phrase, "faith working through love" (Galatians 5:6). Faith is the great primary essential, demonstrating its reality by work (obedience), through the motive of love. Men classify faith as "intellectual faith" or "saving faith" but the Bible speaks of working faith.

Here is the test for the person seeking salvation. Jesus said, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" (Mark 16:16). Peter said, "Repent and be baptized for the remission of sins." (Acts 2:38), then "walk in newness of life," said Paul (Romans 6:4). Do you have real faith in Christ? If so, you will gladly obey these commandments, because you love Him.

Yes, we are saved by faith, and grace, and works which God, not man, has ordained.
