

Sept 15-16 Music Festival Was A Year in Planning

"It took a year of planning and enlisting an army of workers to make the Living Water Camp Meeting a reality," stated Don Putnam, Chairman for the upcoming two-day Christian Music Festival at Brohead.

As a result of un-numbered meetings, a total of eleven nationally-known individuals and musical groups have signed to be on the program which will start at the Brohead Fairgrounds on Friday at 6 p.m., September 15 and again on Saturday morning at 9 a.m. with both day's programs to last until midnight.

The event, which is sponsored by the chief Rock Christian Ministries of Mt. Vernon, will be the first of its kind in Rockcastle County and over 1200 young people are expected to attend and hear christian music and to share in the fellowship, Bible studies and teaching.

Mr. Putnam stated the purpose of the meeting is "sharing the love of Christ through music, Bible studies, seminars, teaching and fellowship," and he went on to say that "although the festival is geared for young people in today's contemporary music, the event is open to all ages and all religious denominations."

Musicians and musical groups are coming from all over the United States to appear at the festival, including: Michael Talbot from Indianapolis, Ind.; Genesis, a 16-member group from North Carolina; Hope of Glory from Houston, Texas; the Pat and Terry Group from Mississippi; Brenda and Carl Gustafson from New Jersey; Barbara Ann Chase from Corpus Christi, Texas; a group called, Sarah from Dayton, Ohio; Don Whetstein from Chesapeake, Ohio; Shekinah, a 7-member group from Oregon; Jubal, a 3-member group from Cincinnati, Ohio and Forever His, a group of six from Eastern Kentucky University.

Also in the planning for the Camp Meeting, a special sound equipment has been ordered from Atlanta, Georgia and special lighting equipment from Cincinnati, Ohio. Plans had to be made for overnight camping, first aid, parking, staid room facilities, food, security, stage and various other needed things.

Some of the Rockcastle people involved in the planning and working include, other than Mr. Putnam, Kim Payne, enlisting talent and scheduling performers and publicity; Rockcastle Rescue Squad and Danny Coleman, for parking and security; Bryan Bussell for parking; Ann Taylor for first aid; Pat Cheatham for reservations; Steve Towery as treasurer; Bob Fields for stage; Lee Blivins, camping; Rick Putnam for electrical and many in publicity, including Cathy Baker, Gary Bullen, Floyd and Kizzie Owens, Jean Gentry, Marsha Brown, Julie Lewis Margaret Allen and many others.

Mrs. Eddie Fields, who is in charge of enlisting counselors stated that there will be opportunities for christian men and women to counsel with the participants during the festival. She anticipates a need for 60 counselors who will also serve as prayer partners for the meeting. She stated that the following have volunteered to serve: Rev. Raymond Roaden, Casey Carroll, Elwood and Norma Treon, Kizzie Owens, all from First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon; Bro. Don Labelle and Mrs. Labelle, Lee and Sarah Blivins and Bob and Eddie Fields, from First Baptist Church in London and Margaret Howard from Richmond.

Others involved include Bill Brooks of London, who is in charge of food and concessions. Flat bed trailers, to be used as stages, were donated by Bob Hubbard and Ronald C. Burdette and a group of 12 men from the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship from Somerset have volunteered to help where needed.

Reservations have been coming in from various towns, colleges and schools, including 20 from Frankfort, 11 from Baptist Children's Home (which are being paid and sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Mt. Vernon). Registration fee for the two-day event is $11.00 and includes camping privileges, if desired.

A Crack-Quick Course on the World Three-Day Championships

At the Kentucky Horse Park Sept. 14 and 15, you can judge dressage. On the circle (upper right) the horse's outside, hind hoof should track the inside, front while his body bends to trace the arc of the circle. In the extended trot (upper left) the horse's legs should stretch until they appear almost elastic. On Sept. 16 such fine points will be forgotten in a test of endurance (lower left). If the horse and rider get over the 33 obstacles in the allotted time, they will complete the 4 1/2-mile, cross-country course successfully. On Sept. 17, after shows of Lipizzans and 40 other breeds, stadium jumping will be slower and in a smaller area. All four days a trade fair will offer international foods, merchandise and services.

Do you have sufficient data to price your property realistically? Can you draw proper contracts, recognize insincere offers, inadequate deposits, unreasonable contingencies? Do you have a complete understanding of real estate marketing and are you able to disseminate your property through the widest channels? Do you have expert knowledge of the current mortgage situation... FHA/VA... assumptions... second mortgages? Are you willing to have your wife and children exposed to any and all strangers who knock? Can you handle the natural conflict of interest with the direct buyer... trying to protect your own interest versus your desire to accommodate his?

This is the symbol of cleftRock, an interpreted by a local art student. The hand of God on the right stone encloses two figures. The word "rock" is capitalized for emphasis.

cleftRock Provides Unique Ministry

There is a cleft in the Mountain of Sinai in Israel where Moses hid when he met God. God covered the cleft with His hand as He walked by so that Moses would not be stricken by the majesty of the Deity.

This Bible story gives the Rockcastle community of cleftRock its name. The founder, Rev. Bob Fields, and several of the other families who live there all were former Baptist missionaries in Israel before they returned here to form this unique ministry.

Rev. Fields had the idea of a retreat from church members, who, after the experience, would strengthen their congregation through the practical lessons learned on that special weekend away. He acquired the land a wilderness of 500 acres about 12 miles from Mt. Vernon in 1972. He lived there in a tent until he was able to build the first cabin there for his family of five.

cleftRock now has three other families: Lee and Sarah Rivins, Larry and Kitty Keaton, and Don and Nora Lee Putnam, all of who occupy large rustic wooden homes secluded by woods. The Keatons and Rivins were also missionaries in Israel.

The other homes there are owned by other missionaries still abroad who use them on home leaves and as possible retirement homes.

Rev. Fields uses these usually empty cabins as places where retreatants stay on weekends. Up to 40 come at a time for three days of study, prayer and spiritual renewal.

"Some church retreats create 'super Christians' who become a clique in the congregation," Rev. Fields said. My idea was to create a group that would strengthen the church by teaching the others what they learned at cleftRock. It is like the leaven in bread."

The four families have a real community experience together. Thursday evenings they eat dinner together in a sometimes serious, other times merry mood. They pray and read scripture each morning. Mr. Keaton and Mr. Putnam both are employed in outside jobs and Mr. Rivins intends to farm full time when he completes his home.

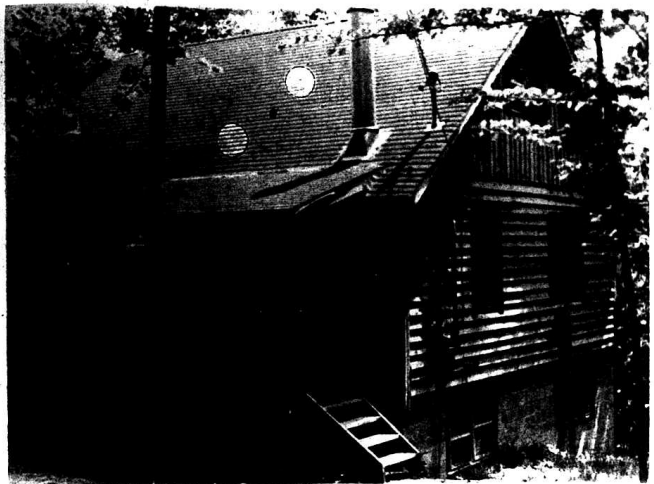

Still it is the intention of the community to become economically self sufficient. They have set out gardens and orchards and laid the foundation for a root cellar. They have an independent water system, built by Rev. Fields. Rural Electric provided lines to the homes.

Rev. Fields' work is in the management of the weekend retreats, and also with "MK's" or "missionary kids."

"They have special problems," he said. "They think like foreigners but they are Americans."

Rev. Fields helps the MK's when they come back on home leaves, or when they are ready for college. He said MK's are required to study in the States, by the way the Baptist Church is established.

cleftRock this year expanded its youth program by operating "Living Waters," a Christian music festival to be held each mid-September. This year's is scheduled for the 15.16th, at Broghead Fairgrounds. Rev. Fields and his wife are helping the young organizers, Kim Payne, Don Putnam and Pat Cheatham, with publicity and arrangements.

Log homes like these are owned by Baptist missionaries who allow cleftRock to use them to house retreatants on weekends. The homes are modern and newly built.

Rev. Fields would like to see Living Waters have a permanent office in a youth center in Mt. Vernon. The center would have recreation facilities, perhaps an ice cream bar or coke shop, and a 24-hour staff of counselors.

He would also like to build a swimming pool and greenhouse for cleftRock and a large communal dining hall. He is working with the Forest Service to develop nature trails in the area.

"But I don't want it to grow too big," he said. "We'd like a full calendar, of course, but the retreats must be kept small."

Indeed, it's a friendly spot, but its seriousness of purpose is evident, too. The impressive stone carving of cleftRock done by a student sums up the purpose: A strong figure caresses a weak one within the hand of God.

Fiscal Court Passes Garbage Bag Rule

Fiscal Court passed a motion at their meeting Tuesday that all garbage in county dumpsters must be household garbage only, and wrapped in plastic bags. James Lambert, County Attorney, said that he would issue warrants to people who break this rule.

"The county collectors are required to pick up only bagged household garbage," County Judge Executive Hubert Thacker said. He said they are not required to pick up items placed outside dumpsters, or big items like furniture, clothing, mattresses and so on.

These items must be taken to the county landfill in Pine Hill.

State officials throughout Kentucky have been emphasizing better garbage disposal lately, and the beautification of the state. Tourism is now one of the state's highest industries, and amounts to $927 million and 4,500 jobs in the Cumberland area, which includes Rockcastle and seven other eastern Kentucky counties.

"Tourists are the best industry," Judge Thacker said. "You don't have to provide them schools or other services. We want to keep them coming here."

Other Business

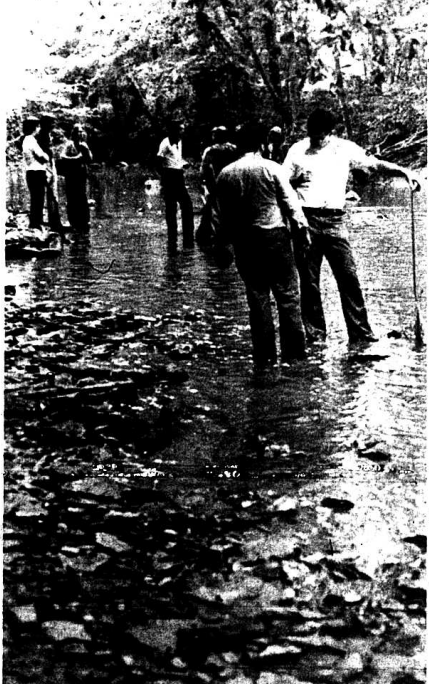

The Court gave Judge Thacker the authority to purchase insurance for ambulance services after he said that he might be able to get rates about $3,000 less than current rates. The Court also gave Judge Thacker the authority to carry out policy on public lands and public buildings at the Broadhead Farmgrounds, now owned by the county.

Financial surplus revenues sharing funds will be spent as follows: $1,200 for diets for juveniles in jail; and $4500 in miscellaneous, ambulance expenses.

About $8,850 in truck license fees will be divided among the six magistrates for road improvements in their districts.

James F. York was appointed dog warden at a salary of $250 per month.

An abandoned road on Ken Norton's property will no longer be taken care of by the county. Proper advertisements appeared, according to law.

Ron George, a state highway engineer, biologists, highway engineers and journalists stand in Buck Creek last week looking for examples of the endangered Cumberland pearly bean mussel. The mussel lives in riffles, a part of the creek where shallow water runs freely and rapidly over rocks.

Biologists Find Living Specimens Of Endangered Species in Creek

The Cumberland pearly-shelled bean mussel that is causing all the commotion at Buck Creek is the most ordinary-looking clam you'd ever see. You might even have picked up one yesterday on a log and never suspected that it was an endangered species causing highway engineers to change plans for the Buck Creek Bridge at a cost of $180,000.

Its shell is about the size of a half dollar, but longer and narrower than most clam shells. It is the usual creek brown color with mother-of-pearl underneath. So why all the fuss?

According to the Congressional Act passed in 1976 that preserves such endangered species, any animal or plant that is one of a kind may be of a one-of-a-kind benefit to mankind. Bread mold gave man penicillin, for example.

Another reason behind the law is the moral question of whether mankind has the right to wipe out another species totally from earth. So every endangered species (from the tiger to the mussel) is now protected under strict rules.

The rules are so strict that the three living mussels found by a team of biologists and engineers last Wednesday in Buck Creek could not be removed—even for scientific study.

The law is so strict that the planned Ky. 461 bridge probably will be moved about 500 feet downstream, so that the dirt stirred up by builders will not bother the mussels.

surviving anymore. Dr. Williams said that he said chemical pollution or other disruptions at Buck Creek most likely are the reasons why the mussel are dying out.

Dr. Williams said that biologists know the mussel is dying out because fewer and fewer specimens are being collected.

"Twenty years ago, we might find many brown mussels when we take samples from this creek," he said. "Now we can hardly find any."

He said it was one of about 75 mussels native to Kentucky, and its only breeding grounds were Buck Creek and the Cumberland River.

Because the three living specimens were identified last Thursday, the biologists with the U.S. Department of Fish and Wildlife do not need to carry out any more studies of the Creek, although final federal approval of the altered bridge plans may take up to six months.

Teachers' Pay Raises Increase School Budget by $210,000

By Jane Kundtz

The Rockcastle County School Board passed a $3.43 million budget for the 1978 school year at their regular meeting Monday evening. The budget will be submitted to the State Board of Education in Frankfort, for approval.

Last year's budget totaled $2.91 million. Most of the increase comes in salaries for teachers and principals. Last year this part of the budget was $1.88 million this year it amounts to $2.09.

Charles Parsons, school superintendent, said that teachers receive increases depending on their education and experience. Starting teachers this year earn $9,330 per year last year it was $9,018 per year. Teachers with Master's degrees and ten years experience earn $13,500 per year; last year that figure was $11,465.

The budget allows a $100,000 surplus, which Mr. Parsons said would be "saved" for the building of a new school. Last year approximately the same amount was "saved." Mr. Parsons said that the State Board is currently conducting a routine examination of Rockcastle schools, when they recommend the building of another facility. He said this report should be completed sometime in December.

The budget allows $100,000 payment on Rockcastle County High School, which was financed through bonds. Other expenses are $60,000 for administration, $470,000 for pupil transportation, $287,500 for maintenance and operation of buildings, $192,000 in fixed charges such as social security.

Sources of money for schools include $2.38 million in state aid, $73,250 in county taxes, $25,000 interest from

Government Facts On Small Farmers

The Food and Agriculture Act of 1977 defines "small farmers" as those who market agricultural products worth less than $20,000 a year.

According to the 1974 Census of Agriculture, our 1.5 million small farmers operate nearly 29 percent of our farmland, and control about a third of all farm assets. Yet, they only account for just a tenth of the Nation's farm sales, about $5,470 per farm in 1974.

On the average, small farms netted only $700 and farms in some sales classes below $20,000 operated in the red according to the 1974 Census of Agriculture. In order to round out their income, these farmers keep a hand in farming and non farm jobs, making their average income up to $15,000 in the year 1976.

Most likely to be small by farm type were: tobacco, fruit and tree nut, and field crop operations in that order.

Small farmers operate cash grain farms in 4 out of 10 according to the 1974 Census of Agriculture.

Nationally, the South has almost half of all small farm units. About 40 percent are located in the North Central region, and only 5 percent in the Northeast.

Hadden Film Company of $5,746 for bleachers for Roundstone School. The bleachers will seat up to 200.

Additional substitute teachers employed were Diane Meade, Lois Cameron, Claretta Hodges and Flora Joan Mason.

The Rockcastle Multi-County Industrial Authority was given permission to do some construction work near Rockcastle County High School, as the Authority has promised to restore everything to its original condition after laving water and sewer lines there.

Banks holding school money, and $11,054 in corporation taxes.

Other Business

The Board approved a bid from

Consolidated Electronics System of Knoxville, Tenn. will be looking over the high school's public address system sometime this month to make suggestions for improvement.

Fund-raising projects were approved: concessions at ball games, advertisements for year books; magazine sales to sponsor the high school year prom; and three days of fund-raising at Mt. Vernon Elementary for the 7th and 8th grade banquet and trip. Under a new School Board policy, each fund-raising project must have prior approval.

A 36x12 ft. storage room for automobile parts costing $3,000 will be built on the back of the garage on Richmond Street.

An old metal trunk, a car door and piles of trash litter this road for about one-half mile near the county line. The trash attracts rats, insects and other undesirable creatures and dumps such as this are illegal.

Health Officers Investigate Illegal Litter at County Line

Hurricane School Road comes in near the boundary lines of Jackson, Lincoln and Rockcastle counties. It turns onto a gravel road hidden in a forest, where one of the worst garbage dumps in the county can be seen along the road.

Piles of tin cans, used Pampers, boxes, mattresses—all forms of debris have been dumped 30 ft. deep along a half mile of this gravel road. The mess attracts rats and insects, creating a health hazard for people in the area.

"The first bag of trash draws another," said Steve Midkiff, County environmentalist with the Rockcastle Health Department. "Pretty soon you have a full-sized illegal dump."

The Multi-County Sanitation Service, under contract with the county to empty dumpsters, is not required to clean up such illegal dumps. Some county workers, paid under the Comprehensive Education and Training Act (CETA) of Congress, have done some of the work in the past, but there are not enough of them to do the complete job.

"If you have a secluded dirt road, pretty soon you have a dump," Mr. Midkiff said.

He said John Winterberg, a state field inspector with the Dept. of Hazardous Substances, have been inspecting such dumps throughout the county this week. If they can find concrete evidence against persons using the dumps, they intend to seek penalties.

Fines for allowing a dump like Hurricane Road on your property can be $1000 a day. Fines for littering are $200 a day.

Household garbage should be bagged and placed inside county dumpsters. The Sanitation Service is not required to clean up or pick up bags of garbage placed outside dumpsters.

Commercial operations must hire private garbage collections. Persons with large items such as furniture must dispose of these at the county landfill at a cost of $5 per load and up. Drive trucks on Hwy. 25 to the 8-mile marker. Turn left (almost a U-turn) down a gravel road to reach the landfill.

Unemployment Rate

The unemployment rate for Rockcastle County was 6.5% in July. This compares with the state rate of 5.9 percent for the same month.

Unemployment in Kentucky increased by 5 percent over the June rate because of seasonal lay offs, according to Robert MacDonald, chief labor market analyst for the Dept. of Human Resources. Total employment in the state climbed to 84,100 in July, passing the 80,000 mark for the first time this year. The national rate was 6.3.

Nearby counties' rates were: Jackson, 11%; Pulaski, 4%; and Madison, 4.7%.

Electric Bills to be 'Rearranged' Soon

A regulation has been adopted by the Public Service Commission of Kentucky which will require electric utility companies to roll a large part of the Fuel Adjustment Charge into the base rate. The legal notice for Jackson County R.E.C. to comply with this regulation is published on Page 15 of this week's Signal.

The actual cost of power will not be affected after the order is issued by the Commission, however, there will be a rearrangement of some of the items which make up the electric bill. It is expected that members of the Cooperative will receive the first bills under the new arrangement in November 1978 for October service.

Annual Reunion

The Mt. Vernon High School Reunion Association will hold the annual dinner meeting on September 16, 1978 at 6:30 p.m. at the Rockcastle County High School.

The meeting includes the classes from 1914 thru 1944. If you do not receive a card by Sept. 1, send your reservations to Mrs. Helen Cox, secretary.

U. S. Rep. Hubbard's Survey Shows Most People Want Lowered Taxes

A survey of 32,892 Kentuckians in the first congressional district showed that "reduced federal taxes" was their number one concern. A majority of 80% wanted taxes reduced.

The survey was conducted by U.S. Rep. Carroll Hubbard.

The people rated Congress's overall performance as "fair to poor" by 78%. President Carter got mediocre ratings by 78% of the respondents.

Government spending, inflation and taxes were the respondents' top concerns. On controversial issues, the

- results were:
- 83% favor stiff penalties for gun crimes, rather than gun legislation;
 - 84% oppose government funding of abortions;
 - 65% oppose the equal rights amendment extension;
 - 67% favor the 55-mph speed limit;
 - 62% oppose the national health plan;
 - 59% oppose government's regulation of substances like saccharin;
 - 62% oppose economic relief through government support for farmers.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:
 Teachers do have a choice! They may put professionalism and dedication in their rightful places.

For many years Kentucky teachers belonged to what they considered a professional organization. As times change so have organizations such as the KEA, an organization now supporting unionization rather than their former emphasis on teacher and student benefits. As a result of these changes, we searched for and found an organization with child-oriented priorities.

In 1973, we found an alternative to the KEA-National Association of Professional Educators a group which believes: 1) that the final decision-making authority must remain with the local people, 2) that students must have the right to an uninterfered education, 3) that teacher/educators should never be required to pay tribute to a third party as a condition of employment.

If you agree with these beliefs and are interested in knowing more about Professional Educators, I cordially invite you to contact me.

Dear Editor:

I have to drive at least six miles to find the nearest garbage receptacle in which to put my garbage. Some citizens of this county have to drive much farther. Usually the containers are full and overflowing. Garbage is scattered all around. It doesn't look good and it is unsanitary. So what do the fine, upstanding, intelligent members of that group of people composed to the purpose of deciding matters to the best interest of the people of Rockcastle County decide to do? They decide to impose a fine on those who leave their garbage on the ground. That way somebody gets wealthier and the problem is solved, it's a lot easier and cheaper than emptying the receptacles more often, right? They figure the tax payers of this county will stупidly pay fines while somebody gets rich and the maggot infested garbage rots around the dumpsters. Well one solution to the whole thing is what I saw written on the side of one of the dumpsters. It read "When dumpster is full, take garbage to William K. Bullen." Now, whoever wrote that isn't so stupid. It's the best idea I've heard yet.

Legislative Report

By Rep. Harold DeMarcus

The fact is, the American farmer has been the main pillar of the world's food basket for many years. Not only is their role essential to society, but the farmer is truly indicative of the American way of life.

Several measures designed to help Kentucky's farmers were approved by the 1978 legislature, including:

House Bill 12, will exempt from the sales and use tax any on-farm facilities used for farm grain or soybean handling, drying, processing, or storing. The Senate amended the bill to also exempt gasoline, special fuels and liquefied petroleum gas used to operate stationer engines or tractors for agricultural purposes.

House Bill 406 requires that rebates be offered to all tobacco growers if a tobacco warehouse offers any such incentives to its growers. The Senate added an amendment that also makes a warehouseman liable to the tobacco owner for damages to his product in storage due to negligence by the warehouse.

House Bill 517 will loosen the truck licensing requirements for farmers hauling their own products to market by repealing the state law which prohibits a farmer from getting a reduced truck registration fee if he operates his farm truck more than 50 miles from his farm.

Farmers will be able to haul their products anywhere in the state without having commercial license tags for their trucks.

Senate Bill 84 permits the filing of a complaint within 72 hours, rather than immediately, with the Department of Agriculture for reimbursement for damage to livestock caused by dogs.

Senate Bill 101 includes purebred Santa Gertrudis and Beefalo cattle among those purebreds eligible for state funding for proportional shows and sales. Also, House Bill 285, includes purebred Limousin cattle to be eligible for similar funding.

Senate Bill 135 brings Kentucky into conformity with the Federal Environmental Pesticides Control Act by setting forth the provisions for fair packaging and labeling in regards to pesticide chemicals, food and color additives and raw agricultural commodities. This piece of legislation will primarily benefit the consumer, but it should be of no hindrance to the farmer.

House Resolution 21 declares the 1978 General Assembly's support for the "American Farm Movement."

These agricultural measures, although few in number will give some relief to Kentucky farmers. Even though the American farmer is a vital force in the subsistence for a majority of the world, he is saddled with more than his share of burden caused by our inflationary times. This in addition to Kentucky problem is even more a national problem. It is disheartening but true, the American farmer is in constant struggle with the forces of nature and must now reckon with big business "middlemen" and an ever-expanding government.

Berea College Offers Folk Dancing Class

Applications for a one-day Berea College course in folk dancing, designed for elementary school teachers, will be accepted through September 8.

The workshop, to be conducted by English folk dance authority Sibyl Clark, is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 9, in the Activities Room of the Alumni Building at Berea College.

Designed for teachers and recreation leaders who work with children ages 7-12, the mini-course will include suggestions on integrating dances, games, music and other traditional customs into the school curriculum.

A second course is planned for September 16 for recreation leaders who work with young adults, families and senior citizens. The cost of attending each course is $10 per person.

Miss Clark is the author of several folk-dancing books which are regarded as standard works on the subject by teachers in England. She is visiting here under the sponsorship of Berea College and the Kentucky Arts Commission.

Those wishing to attend either one-day course should notify Project D.A.N.C.E., Recreation Department, CPO 353, Berea College.

Farm pond owners—your time is running out. The deadline date is getting closer and closer for 1978-79 farm pond stocking applications, which must be received at the Frankfort office of the department of fish and wildlife by October 1.

Those who miss the deadline will have to wait another year until next October for bluegill and channel catfish and until the following spring for largemouth bass.

This once-a-year deadline is necessary, according to Assistant Fisheries Director Pete Pfeiffer, because forage fish (the bluegill) should be stocked first, in order to give the bass something to feed upon. But the fish themselves don't cooperate.

Bass spawn first, usually in April, but bluegill spawn later in the summer. To stock both bass and bluegill in the spring, it is necessary to hold the bluegill over the winter and through the bass spawning period, in the following spring, taking up valuable hatchery space which would be used for other purposes.

So the bluegill are stocked in October, along with the catfish (another summer spawner) and the bass are delivered the following spring. Since no bluegill are available in April when the bass are stocked, and since the bass need bluegill for food, only those ponds which have been stocked with bluegill in the fall can receive bass the following spring.

But so much for the biology lesson and now down to the immediate details: If you have a pond you want stocked, contact your county fish and wildlife conservation officer. He must inspect the pond and make recommendations about the number of fish needed, and any pre-stocking treatments the pond might require.

Only ponds without existing fish populations can be stocked—either new ponds or those in which the existing fish have been eradicated. This is necessary because stocking fry or fingerlings into a pond with larger fish only accomplishes one thing: it feeds the larger fish for a few days.

If you have a pond that's been stocked in the past but which is offering poor fishing, the CO might recommend that you eliminate the fish in the pond and start over. This is often the easiest and fastest way to improve fishing in a pond that's producing poorly.

The CO can give you advice on this or on other pond management techniques when he inspects your pond. There is still time, if you act now, to renovate an old pond before the stocking deadline for this year.

Pond owners who receive fish from the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources are under no obligation to open their ponds to the public and they may place creel or size restrictions more limiting than statewide regulations on their ponds. Pond owners who have requested fish will be notified when and where to pick up their fish, which are packed in plastic-lined boxes containing stocking instructions. No further action on the pond owner's part is necessary for him to receive bass in following spring, when he will again be notified of delivery dates.

So if you've been putting off getting that pond stocked, start tracking down your county conservation officer. If you don't know his name, a call to the county court clerk's office should provide you with that information or contact the Division of Law Enforcement, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, 592 East Main, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601, ph. 502-564-4336.

AND IRON HOWARD "BETTY DUST"

Sept. 14 - 17th

The British are coming

As are the Germans, Australians, Brazilians, Japanese, Irish, Canadians and more.

They're all coming to the new Kentucky Horse Park, in Lexington, to compete in the 1978 World 3-Day Championships, the ultimate test for horse and rider. This is the first time the World Championships, which are held every four years, have been held in the United States.

What is 3-Day Eventing?

Three-Day Eventing is to equestrian sports what the decathlon is to track—a combination of different competitions which test all-round athletic ability.

The first test is Dressage. Horse and rider perform an intricate series of movements in the arena. Tests are scored on each movement and on the overall impressions much like figure skating competitions.

The second test is the exciting one—the Endurance test. Horse and rider gallop over natural terrain, negotiating a variety of substantial obstacles which the horse is seeing for the first time. Banks, ditches, water, drops, and combinations of fences—all must be dealt with.

The final test is Stadium Jumping over fences in an arena and is designed to prove that the horse has retained sufficient stamina and fitness to continue after the Cross-Country phase.

General Admission Tickets

General admission tickets for each day of the World Championships will be available at the Gate, and are available now at:

Northern Kentucky
Northern Kentucky Convention
& Visitors Bureau
3033 Dole Highway
Ft. Mitchell, Kentucky

221 River City Mall
Louisville, Kentucky

Lexington
Ticket Office
Lexington Civic Center
Lexington, Kentucky

Tickets are also available at Kentucky's Resort State Parks.

The Cross-Country phase on Saturday is the heart of the competition. The Cross-Country course is 4 1/2 miles long with 23 jumps and obstacles well spaced, providing plenty of room for everyone to enjoy. It's a great and exciting day in the country for the entire family.

The "Paddock Potpourri" an international trade fair of 125 shops, will open each day of the competition with unusual foods and things to buy and see. Plan some time to stop in and browse.

The World 3-Day Championships is a great time to visit the new Kentucky Horse Park—a unique new theme park dedicated to man's love of horses, opening September 7.

Dressage—Thursday & Friday—$9/day
Endurance (Cross Country)—Saturday—$6
Stadium Jumping—Sunday—$10

Eternal Truth

IN OUR CHANGING WORLD

By Austin Mobley, Minister Providence Church of Christ

Eagles, Beagles, Babies-

There Ought To Be A Law

The following quotations are reprints from a newspaper article. "Don't steal an eagle egg. If you do, it can cost you $5,000, or a year in the clink, or both. Eagles are protected by federal law against harm or harassment by the citizenry. The penalty for so much as stealing an egg from a nest has been stipulated by Congress.

"Don't gas a beagle. Senator Humphrey abhorred the idea of using dogs in any tests of chemical, biological or radioactive warfare materials. His amendment banning use of appropriated funds for such purpose was overwhelmingly approved in the Senate and accepted by the House of Representatives.

"But babies you can kill." According to our U.S. Supreme Court, the word 'person' as used in the Fourteenth Amendment does not include the unborn. Last year in these United States, more than 1,000,000 unborn babies were terminated through 'Abortion on Demand.' Terminated means killed. Killed without penalty.

"What kind of society do you want? People get exactly the kind of government they deserve. If you don't mind a society in which unborn humans can be killed on whim, just keep sitting there. But don't complain if some court decides old folks are sorta troublesome, too. Or cripples, or redheads, or southpaws. After all, the principle is the same.

"There really ought to be a law! What this country needs right now is a constitutional amendment-one that starts a return to respect for the rights of life on which our nation-founded. One that makes it illegal to kill unborn babies or humans at any other stage of life as well as eagles and beagles. It's a choice of that or a continuing trend toward a dehumanized society."

We agree wholeheartedly with the above article, and would like to point out that an unborn infant is either a HUMAN life, or it is not life at all. If it is not alive, then it cannot be killed. If, on the other hand, it is alive (and, certainly it is), and since there are only two kinds of life (plant or animal), each having its own peculiar genus and species, then it can only be classified as human life. Therefore, man (be it the Supreme Court, or any other group of men) has absolutely no right to permit that which God has forbidden. God has forbidden the taking of an innocent human life, and that should settle the matter for everyone. We need no further instruction on any matter upon which God has already legislated. Our Supreme Court would do well to learn that while they are the highest civil court in our land, there is One infinitely higher than they to whom they, and all mankind, will someday give account.

Rockets Drop Second Game By 7-6 Score

The Rockcastle Rockets received their second loss of the season at the hands of the Lincoln County Patriots last Friday night by the same score as their first loss of the season, to Berea, 7-6.

The Rockets defense played well the first quarter, refusing the Patriots a single first down. However, the offense couldn't get anything going either and the first quarter ended scoreless.

In the second quarter, the patriots intercepted a Rockets pass on the Rockets 23 yard line and five plays later went over for the score from the six yard line. The kick was good for the extra point and the Patriots were ahead 7-0.

The Rockets were moving the ball in the second quarter, but two illegal motion penalties stymied the Rockets drive and forced them to give up the ball on 4-5. The half ended with the Patriots ahead 7-0.

The third quarter was no great display of talent for either side as neither team could move the ball offensively. The Rockets defense rallied to hold the Patriots when they were first and 10 on the Rocket's 27 yard line. However, in the fourth quarter, the Rockets put together a drive from their own 19 yard line which ended with a touchdown pass from Rick Anderkin to Keith Russell from the Patriots 12. The Rockets try for two extra points was no good.

Todd Fields, the Rockets' kicker, tried an onside kick which Lincoln County managed to handle, but, after three tries, they were forced to punt the ball away.

The Rockets took the punt on their own 23 yard line with 31 seconds showing on the clock.

Anderkin completed a 23 yard pass to Keith Russell then went to Denzil Chasteen for a 6-yard screen pass. Chasteen managed to get out of bounds with 1 second showing on the clock and the hat play of the game was an incomplete pass to Eddie Thompson. The Rockets defense played very well and the offense looked especially good in the fourth quarter-in fact, their best offensive quarter of the season. This Friday afternoon, the Rocket journey to Clay County for a game.

Keith Russell, No. 91, tries to make a stop on a Lincoln Co. defensive back after, Rick Anderkin threw an interception last in the first half of Friday night's game. The interception set up the Patriots only score of the game.

Denzil Chasteen, No. 14, goes for good yardage in the Rockcastle-Lincoln game last Friday night. Chasteen was the leading yard gainer for the Rockets with 56 on the ground and the main spark for the Rockets in their 88 yard scoring drive which ended with a 12 yard touchdown pass to Keith Russell last in the fourth quarter.

Mike Arnold, No. 18, a senior defensive back comes up to make a stop on a

the game. Ready to help in No. 10. That's Eddie Thompson, No. 24, and Anderkin, No. 10.

Quarterback Rick Anderkin, No. 10, goes for yardage in the Rockets 7-6 loss to Lincoln County last Friday night. The Rockets fell by the same one point deficit a week ago to Berea. The run was made of the game. Ready to kick a winner end on the Rockets drive for their only score

County Agent's Notes

By H. Lee Durham
County Extension Agent
For Agriculture

Caterpillars

We are now getting into the season of caterpillars that attack shade trees and ornamentals. Some of these caterpillars may have been present earlier in the season, but have gone unnoticed because of their small size. Also, as small caterpillars, the rate at which they defoliate shrubs and trees was much slower. About 90% of the food intake of many caterpillars is done in their last stage. Quite often homeowners are surprised to find a tree seemingly defoliated overnight by hordes of well developed caterpillars, when only a few days previously, the tree appeared to be infested. Sometimes a good section of a tree will be defoliated by only a few of the giant silk moth caterpillars. Examples of giant silk moths are the cecropia, royal walnut moth, hickory horned devil, polyphemus and luna. Usually the homeowner has already effected a control by handpicking these large caterpillars. When large numbers of small caterpillar types are causing damage, handpicking is not feasible so chemical sprays of methoxychlor, Sevin, Diox, Orthene, Durban or Thuricide can be considered. On large trees that cannot be adequately sprayed by the homeowner, letting the caterpillars have their way may be a best choice rather than footing the expense of having a professional do the work. Although defoliation at this time will cause some loss of tree growth, this may not be of much concern to the owner of a well established tree. Because the leaves have performed most of their function for the season, defoliation now does not seriously weaken the tree so that it is susceptible to attack by borers or diseases. An exception to this concern conifers which do not survive defoliation very well. The peculiar caterpillar, the bagworm, is very prevalent this year after being almost inconsequential last year. Bagworm also readily attacks apple, honeysuckle, sycamore, roses and other woody ornamentals, but its damage is not so serious to these plants. Conifers can be killed by a single defoliation by bagworms. Applications of one of the previously listed insecticides is advised even if a few of the bags can be handpicked. The bagworm can migrate in from nearby infested trees and cause considerable damage when you cannot stand guard constantly.

Plan Now for Spring Renovation

Later summer-early fall is a good time to locate grass fields where clover stands are bad and plan to renovate them next spring. This will enable you to get a soil test on these fields and apply the necessary lime and fertilizer this fall. Graze the grass in these fields close during fall and winter. After the grass is grazed, fields can be disked anytime during late fall or winter, that migrate in from nearby infested trees and cause considerable damage when you cannot stand guard constantly.

On large trees that cannot be adequately sprayed by the homeowner, letting the caterpillars have their way may be a best choice rather than footing the expense of having a professional do the work. Although defoliation at this time will cause some loss of tree growth, this may not be of much concern to the owner of a well established tree. Because the leaves have performed most of their function for the season, defoliation now does not seriously weaken the tree so that it is susceptible to attack by borers or diseases. An exception to this concern conifers which do not survive defoliation very well. The peculiar caterpillar, the bagworm, is very prevalent this year after being almost inconsequential last year. Bagworm also readily attacks apple, honeysuckle, sycamore, roses and other woody ornamentals, but its damage is not so serious to these plants. Conifers can be killed by a single defoliation by bagworms. Applications of one of the previously listed insecticides is advised even if a few of the bags can be handpicked. The bagworm can migrate in from nearby infested trees and cause considerable damage when you cannot stand guard constantly.

"Mental Retardation"

(The following material was presented at an in-service meeting on Wednesday, August 9, 1978 at the Rockcastle Steak House in Mt. Vernon. The speaker was Mr. Arnold Morgan, staff psychologist for the Cumberland River Comprehensive Care Center in Mt. Vernon.)

People have some basic misconceptions of mental retardation that have "infected" their understanding of the situation. Some of these misconceptions and responses to them are as follows:

- 1) Being born mentally retarded is the equivalent of living a sad and unhappy life.
- The mentally retarded have the capacity to be happy and enjoy life. It is the stigma and negative feedback coming from "normal" people that encourages unhappiness and low self-esteem.
- 2) Having a mentally retarded baby leaves a scar on the family name and proves to all that the "bloodline" is poor.
- The cause of mental retardation attributed to genetics represent a small percentage.
- 3) All mentally retarded persons must be taken care of completely and are a burden to bear.
- Some live alone and with a minimum of assistance and help.
- 4) The mentally retarded do not understand what you talk about, therefore it is right to talk about them in front of them.

The pickup on attitudes toward them even if they do not exactly understand the content.

Mental retardation is contagious. Mental retardation is not a disease and therefore cannot be transmitted as such.

Caution Farmers

The state pesticides agency is cautioning farmers to beware of chemical dealers who sell unfamiliar products by telephone.

According to pesticides chief Fred Waters, farmers should be particularly suspicious of a herbicide called Con-Kill which is being sold by the Alpine Chemical Co. of New York.

Waters said that Alpine Chemical promotes its herbicide by claiming that it is comparable to and yet cheaper than a Monsanto product known as Round-up. But he said that he seriously doubts that these claims are accurate, and said the illegal herbicide is probably heavily diluted with diesel fuel or mineral spirits.

"This company has no holding in the state of Kentucky, and if farmers buy this herbicide they'll probably waste their money. By the same token, we (the Division of Hazardous Materials and Waste Management) must find a place for farmers to dispose of this product once they find out it is useless, which is virtually impossible," said Waters.

Waters is urging farmers who receive telephone calls from any pesticide or herbicide dealer to contact their county pesticide agencies before purchasing this type of product.

MATTHEW 18: 15-17

Moreover, if th y brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother.

But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.

And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican.

JEREMIAH 23: 1-5

Woe be unto the pastors that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture, said the Lord God of Israel against the pastors that feed my people. Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away and have not visited them, and ye have not gathered the remnant of my flock, said the Lord.

And I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds and they shall be fruitful and increase.

And I will set up shepherds over them which shall feed them; and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall they be lacking, said the Lord.

Nonfat Dry Milk for Dessert Magic

You've struck it rich, right in your own kitchen. That box, (or jar) on the shelf labeled "nonfat dry milk" contains a gold mine of taste and nutrition that's mighty low in calories. So stake your claim now to scrumptious mealtime fare featuring nonfat dry milk.

Nonfat dry milk, the powdered form of skim milk, is convenient to store on the pantry shelf, safe to carry on warm weather outings, easy to use at a moment's notice and usually economical by price.

When reconstituted with water, it can be used in place of whole milk. Or, the powder may be added to a recipe along with the other dry ingredients, while the water is added with the other liquid ingredients.

Stock up on nonfat dry milk for the summer months while milk and dairy products are plentiful and treat your family to tasty desserts like Banana Cream Pie or Fruit Sherbet.

Banana Cream Pie

- 2 cups water or fluid milk
- 1/2 cup nonfat dry milk
- 5 tablespoons flour
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 egg yolks, beaten

- 2 tablespoons fat
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 large bananas, sliced
- 1 baked, 9-inch pie shell

Put liquid into pan. Add milk powder, flour, sugar and salt. Beat until smooth. Cook over low heat or boiling water until thickened, stirring to prevent lumping.

Pour part of the hot mixture into beaten egg yolks, then pour all back into pan and cook 2 minutes longer. Add fat and vanilla. Cool.

Pour part of mixture into the pie shell, add sliced bananas and cover with remaining filling. Top with meringue. Bake in a moderate oven (325) until lightly browned, about 15 m. until.

Meringue

- 2 egg whites
 - pinch salt
 - 1/4 cup sugar
- Beat egg whites and salt until stiff,

but not dry and add sugar gradually. Continue beating until stiff and glossy.

Fruit Sherbet

- 1 pkg. fruit gelatin dessert powder
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 3 cups water
- 1 cup nonfat dry milk

Mix dessert powder and sugar. Add boiling water and stir until dissolved. Cool. Add the lemon juice and rind. Put the 3 cups of water into a large bowl. Add milk powder and beat until smooth. Stir in the cooled gelatin mixture. Freeze. Makes 12 servings.

Note: For added milk value, use 2 cups milk powder instead of the amount given above.
