Ambulance Confused With Rescue Squad; Officials Explain Who To Call For Help

If you are having a heart attack, if you are involved in a car wreck, if you are in any medical emergency and need help quick call the ambulance service, not the Rescue Squad.

That is the advice of people who work with both groups. Paul Hansel, a member of the Squad, handles the Squad's telephone calls at Cox Funeral Home.

"People call us when they should call the ambulance service," he said. "In these cases, I just call the ambulance service myself. It just wastes time when time is important."

Mr. Hansel said the confusion has several causes. For a while, the Rescue Squad operated the ambulance service. The Mt. Vernon Fire Department, the ambulance and the Squad were once at the same telephone number. Some of the men on the Squad work on the ambulance service too. Sometimes at a major emergency the Squad and the ambulance crew work together, and this has confused people as to which one to call.

The Rockcastle County Ambulance Service, Inc., is operated by the county Fiscal Court. It includes nine certified Emergency Medical Technicians, currently paid under the Comprehensive Employment and Education Act (CETA). The service has three ambulances each costing more than $25,000. Two men are on duty 24 hours a day.

According to Luke Dober, Rockcastle County Hospital administrator, the ambulances are equipped with sophisticated equipment. Each has radio communication direct to hospitals and doctors. Complicated electrical equipment such as oxygen units, collapsible splints and stretchers, as well as bandages and some medicines are standard. There are power tools to free people who are pinned down in automobile wrecks.

The Rockcastle County Rescue Squad is made up of 22 men, all volunteers who drill twice a month. Organized in 1974, each member has taken Red Cross training in first aid. Equipment includes four four-wheel drive vehicles, one van and two boats.

Mr. Hansel said the van is equipped with oxygen, but not the extensive equipment the ambulances have.

Mr. Hansel said the squad works mostly in searching for people, dragging rivers and lakes for bodies, or in major disasters such as the tornado of 1974. As a member of the Kentucky Association of Rescue Squads, the Rockcastle group

Bill Henderson, 20, Dies; Victim of Truck Accident

Bill Henderson, age 20, died Wednesday as a result of injuries incurred in an accident October 21, on Interstate 75, eleven miles north of Mt. Vernon. He had been in the Intensive Care Unit at the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington.

David Earl Noe, age 26, was also injured in the same accident. He remains in stable and satisfactory condition at Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington.

The two Mt. Vernon residents had been traveling south in a pick-up truck about 12:30 a.m. when the accident occurred.

Mr. Henderson was born May 7, 1958 in Mt. Vernon, the son of Joe and Ant Laur Henderson of Mt. Vernon. He was a graduate of Rockcastle County High School and attended Somerset Community College. He was a member of the First Christian Church in Mt. Vernon.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Lydia Francis Henderson and Mary Blanche Henderson, both of Mt. Vernon, his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Clyde Henderson of Mt. Vernon and his maternal grandfather, Mr. John

2300 Women To Take Tests For Proposed Garment Factory

Over 2300 women have responded to a survey designed to find out how many women in this area would want to work in a garment factory. The factory's representatives have told members of the Rockcastle County Industrial Authority that they will build a factory near Mt. Vernon if there is enough available labor.

Bill James, chairman of the Authority, said that the responses came by the hundreds during the few days before the October 22nd deadline.

"On Wednesday, October 18, we had about 600," he said, "but by the weekend, we had nearly 2200."

He said that women in all the counties where the Authority advertised answered the survey—those counties are Rockcastle, Madison, Jackson, Laurel, Pulaski, Lincoln and Garrard. The with an eighth grade education or better will be particularly needed for jobs like company requested that the women live within 25 miles of Mt. Vernon.

"We got some responses from women who had moved out of the area, but would come back if they had a job," Mr. James said.

Company representatives will sort out the questionnaires, and conduct interviews next week, Mr. James said. He said that the company representatives were very impressed by the survey's results, and told him that "Rockcastle has a lot going for it."

The company is based in Cincinnati, and rents uniforms. Its owners want to get into the manufacture of uniforms in the future, and are considering locating a plant in Mt. Vernon's industrial park, which would employ about 250 people, women between ages 18 and 45 years.

cutting, sewing, office work and so forth.

Mr. James said that he is very hopeful that the company will build a factory here, and that the results of the survey will help attract other businesses who can now be assured that there is plenty of labor available here.

Officials Get Ready For Tuesday Election

Polls will be open in all fourteen districts from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., next Tuesday, Nov. 7 and Republicans and Democrats alike are urging people to vote.

Harold Rogers, 5th District Republican chairman, said that a large turnout on Rockcastle County would help defeat the Democratic vote in other areas of the state. Democratic Senator Walter Huddleston's forces are organizing a "Get Out the Vote Drive" by phone calls, postcards, bumper stickers, and other publicity measures. Sen. Huddleston said he will have volunteers across the state.

Sen. Huddleston is running for his second term against Louis Guenther, Jr. of Northfield. Mr. Guenther has been a state representative from a Louisville district three times.

Dr. Tim Lee Carter is seeking his eighth term as United States representative and appeared at Rockcastle County high school last week for a local Republican dinner. He is a member of the Foreign Commerce Committee and Small Business Committee in the House of Representatives.

Dr. Carter's opponent is Jesse Ramey of Waynesburg, a businessman who was twice defeated by Harold DeMarcus for state representative.

In a non-partisan race for the Supreme Court, Judge J. Calvin Aker is running against Judge John D. White. Judge Aker is familiar to voters of Rockcastle and Pulaski counties as their District Judge. Judge White is a member of the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

Locally, K.R. Burdette and George Poynter are running unopposed for school board. Candidates for trustee of the city of Brodhead are David Cash, D.A. Robbins, Edward Lamb, and Terrill Chandler. Johnny Wilcox's name will appear on the ballot, but he has withdrawn from the race.

Sparks Vocational School Marks 10th Year

The little house at one electricity lab at Harry Sparks Vocational School has been under construction now for 10 years. Very little progress has been made; it's still a wood frame. And every time the house is wired, teacher Jack Dailoy comes along and pulls out all the wiring so that the next class of students can start wiring it all over again.

Likewise, there is an engine in the Auto Mechanics lab that has been overhauled 500 times. And students in Ms. Pathegill's class are still doing the books of a fictional company named Wendell Water. Will that audit ever be complete?

Probably not, because that is the way skills are taught at Sparks, which marked its 10th anniversary this year. Students practice and train on real-life equipment in real-life situations. The Auto Mechanics lab looks very much like a large service garage, except neater and cleaner than most. The Model Office is exactly like any one of hundreds in large city buildings.

According to coordinator Lloyd Cain Sparks is training the majority of Rockcastle's high school students. In a typical graduating class of 200, Mr. Cain said that Sparks will train about 125, about half girls.

Every student in the county spends his first two years in general studies at Rockcastle County High School. In his sophomore year, he takes the GATBY test, which measures his abilities and interests. At this point, he decides whether he wants to go to the vocational or "college" route, with help from his test scores and counselors. The decision is not irreversible, however—about 10 to 15% of Sparks' students decide later to go on to college.

Once he has decided on vocational training, he must choose a course of study. All courses are open to boys and girls, but the boys generally take welding, auto mechanics, radio-television repair or electrician's training; and the girls study business and secretarial training. Juniors spend mornings at Rockcastle County High School in courses required by the state and county for graduation, and then afterwards at Sparks, in vocational training. Senior year, it's mornings at Sparks and afternoons next door.

Teachers at the school are college educated, according to Lloyd Cain, principal.

"A lot of people think they can teach here because they know a trade," he said. "It's just not true."

Requirements for business teachers include a bachelor's degree and one year's business experience. For the other courses, teachers must have four years' experience in the trade and an Associate degree or a commitment to earning an Associate Bachelor's degree.

The courses were chosen partly by the students, and partly from the results of a business survey taken in 1968 to

Legislative Report

By Harold DeMarcus

The Personal Service Contract Review subcommittee held its second meeting on October 10th and 11th. During this two day meeting, 203 contracts were reviewed. The committee divided the contracts into two types, routine and non routine.

The routine contracts were those viewed to be above board and not controversial. These 75 contracts were approved in one motion, although any member of the committee could remove any contract off the routine list that he felt deserved closer inspection.

The 128 non routine contracts required the presence of representatives from the state agencies that submitted the contract, in order that they might answer the committee member's questions. The Commissioner of the Department of Personnel, Commissioner of the Racing Commission and the Secretary of the Department of Finance were among those representing bureaucratic agencies.

October's meeting produced two major questions and the committee's first injection of a personal service contract.

The first question results from the fact that Department of Personnel regulations stipulate the maximum hourly wage that the state government may pay for certain professional services. Regulations state that an attorney can be paid no more than $40 per hour for legal services. It came to the committee's attention that the Department of Commerce is paying one lawyer $50 per hour and the Public Service Commission is paying another $60 per hour under a personal service contract. And regulations state that a dentist can be paid no more than $25 per hour, but the Department for Human Resources is paying one dentist $50 per hour and another $30 per hour under contract.

The committee deferred these contracts to the November meeting because their pay scales appear to be a blatant disregard of regulations and the Attorney General's office needs time to prepare an opinion in regard to whether the regulations are binding to personal service contracts.

A fear shared by many is that persons may be paid under a personal service contract and not be doing anything to earn it. The committee sensing this feeling spent a great deal of time questioning agency representatives about what type of services are provided and how many hours are spent doing so by persons being paid under these contracts. In many instances the committee requested that agencies provide documentation of work being done, especially in the case of lawyers, insurance examiners and doctors. Several contracts were deferred for lack of such documentation.

The committee rejected its first contract, which will result in the contract being reviewed by the Joint Committee for Appropriations and Revenue. If they deem it unworthy of the taxpayer's money and unless the contract is cancelled, it will be the first order of business for the 1980 General Assembly.

The contract in question was submitted by the Department of Finance for the Public Employees Benefit Services Corporation of Kentucky, "PEBSCO," which calls for $50,000 to be contracted to provide computerized administrative systems and services for the Kentucky Employees Deferred Compensation Plan.

Committee members felt $50,000 was much too excessive in comparison to similar contracts. Especially since the investing fund management functions provided by PEBSCO have been allowed with discrepancy, due to the fact that 5,000 public employees invest a part of their pay each month with PEBSCO and they rarely receive any information or statements about what is being done with their money.

The situation was compounded when the Director of PEBSCO virtually refused to answer the legislator's questions. Thus, the committee rejected PEBSCO's submitted personal service contract.

When the Personal Service Contract Review subcommittee meets, the procedure will continue to be long and complicated. But when you realize that over $22.5 million was doled out in personal service contracts in fiscal year 1977-78, it becomes evident that this type of review is quite necessary.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor or News Director:

As the runner-up in our May 23 Republican primary election for U.S. Senator, I should take this opportunity to endorse my party's nominee, Rep. Louie Guenther. Louie beat me fair and square in the primary. Since then, I have been working hard on Louie's behalf. I am convinced that Louie Guenther will make us a great Senator.

Informed sources tell me that Gov. Julian Carroll and his pals in Frankfort are spending "piles of money" to re-elect our current Senator, Walter Huddleston. When I was growing up, my parents taught me that "you can judge a man by the company he keeps." Huddleston seems to be "keeping company with Julian Carroll and his cronies, Howard

"Sonny" Hunt (who is currently being investigated by the F.B.I. for more than one charge of corruption). It should be clear to all Kentuckians, Democrats and Republicans, that Huddleston can't have Kentucky's best interests at heart, because we all know that none of the Julian Carroll crowd in Frankfort, especially "Sonny" Hunt, has ever been a friend to most Kentuckians, whether they are Democrats or Republicans.

Louie Guenther is a good man, a family man, and a Christian man. If Kentucky voters send Louie Guenther to the U.S. Senate, he will have a Senator who won't forget where he came from.

Unlike Walter Huddleston, Louie Guenther will not vote to give away our Canal in Panama to a Communist dictator, and what's worse, pay the dictator millions of dollars to take the Canal off our hands. These millions of dollars could have better been spent to help our schools, repair our roads and meet our people's needs. Louie Guenther realizes this; Huddleston doesn't!

As our Senator, Louie Guenther will vote to reduce our federal taxes, particularly for those on low or fixed incomes. Huddleston, on the other hand, has proved that he is a high living, big spender. Maybe that's why Huddleston voted in 1977 to raise his salary from $44,600 to $57,500 a year! If Louie

Guenther had been our Senator in 1977, he would not have voted to raise his own pay by $12,000 in the year. Who among us ordinary working folk or who among our retired senior citizens, living on fixed incomes, ever got a $12,900 pay raise for one single year?

Almost always, Huddleston votes exactly the way Jimmy Carter and Julian Carroll tell him to vote. As our next Senator, Louie Guenther will not listen to any voice except that of his hard working, tax paying constituency.

As our Senator, Louie Guenther will not vote against our veterans. Huddleston voted to cut back our veterans' hospital benefits. Louie Guenther is a veteran himself. Louie Guenther realizes that our veterans deserve everything they get and more! In my opinion, Huddleston, Julian Carroll, and Jimmy Carter seem more interested in seeing "hippie draft dodgers" go free than they are in our veterans! That's a disgrace. Let's do something about it on November 7 by removing Huddleston from office!

Huddleston's supporters are bragging that they can't lose in Kentucky, regardless of Huddleston's voting record, because registered Democrats outnumber registered Republicans in our Commonwealth. But this is where the Huddleston people are "missing the boat." Kentuckians have always been independent and outspoken. Louie Guenther is independent and outspoken.

ken. Like most Kentuckians, Louie Guenther is not controlled by a small group of crooked politicians!

I urge each and every Kentucky voter, Democrat or Republican, to go to the polls on Tuesday, November 7, and help elect Louie Guenther as our next U.S. Senator. If, after reading this letter, anyone still has any doubt about who should be elected our next Senator on November 7, I ask only that the person ask himself or herself the following two questions:

1. "Since Huddleston has been in the United States Senate for almost six years, has my life been any better?"
2. "Do you think that it is a good thing that Huddleston, our senior Senator, sent out at brochure last January, at the taxpayer's expense, in which he incorrectly stated the years when the two worst disasters occurred to Kentuckians during his term as Senator?" (Reference is made here to the fact that Huddleston falsely took credit for helping the 1974 tornado victims in Jefferson County and central Kentucky and assisting the 1977 flood disaster victims in eastern Kentucky; but, in that brochure, sent to practically every household in Kentucky, Huddleston incorrectly stated that the tornadoes occurred in 1973 and that the floods came in 1976).

If anyone answers "yes" to both of

Your Future Planning for Later Years

Retirement as Part of Your Life
Retirement is a traumatic emotional experience for many people only because they have not considered it as a natural part of their life pattern and goals.

You can plan this important part of your life-it's your future! This, for many of us, includes retirement at an earlier age and with an increased life span.

Retirement is that period in life when you can look forward to with great joy and anticipation. We might think of retirement as the Saturday and Sunday of life, the well-earned weekend of a long working career. Successful preparation, however, can never begin too soon.

Eight Vital Questions

Some people work many years before considering what their retirement may bring. Do you know the answers to these vital questions?

How many years must you be employed to qualify for retirement?
What different options are available to you?

What proportion of your salary will you receive during retirement?
Will benefits accrue faster during your later years of employment?

How will your spouse and other dependents benefit?

If both you and your spouse are employed, how do your two retirement plans mesh?

Do you have group life insurance and hospital/medical insurance?
Can you retain your insurance protection after active employment ends?

If so, to what extent can you retain it?

When retirement income is based on a specific job or employment and length of service in the job. This should be considered when contemplating job changes.

Setting the Stage

A successful and happy retirement doesn't just happen. It takes planning, and good planning takes time. How we plan and live our lives in our youth, our young adulthood and our middle years helps set the stage for retirement.

We must learn to view retirement as a natural part of the life cycle, not as the "beginning of the end." Viewed realistically, retirement can be a time for attaining serenity and an immensely satisfying way of life.

Some factors that will greatly assist in attaining such goals include:
1. Have a mortgage-free place to live.

2. Using your present skills to enjoy a developing new skills to add to your income.
3. Developing the ability to enjoy a simple life.

4. Maintaining good health through proper diet, exercise, and regular physical checkups.

5. Providing some health insurance protection.

6. Learning to provide services for yourself and your family, instead of hiring such work.

7. Recognizing and relying on community services that you have helped finance through your taxes.

8. Taking advantage of free government privileges for senior citizens.

9. Producing part of your own food.
10. Remaining active, interested and involved in your community and in world events.

11. Using time or other plentiful resources instead of money, whenever feasible.

12. Maintaining good relationships with your family members and friends.

13. Developing and keeping a happy and positive outlook in life.

14. Accepting that death is part of life and making plans for it.

15. Enjoying young people, their activities and development.
16. Satisfying your need for religious and spiritual life.

17. Keeping up with change and adjusting to the world around you.
18. Maintaining an emergency fund.
19. Providing for at least a modest income.

Since there is no set age or time to begin planning, let's start now! In other words, let's start at wherever you happen to be in your life cycle.

these questions, he or she should feel free to vote for Huddleston and give him another six years to misrepresent us in Washington. If, however, the reader's answer is a ringing "no," as it will be in most cases, then I urge you to take time on Tuesday, November 7, to go to the polls and send Louis Genshner to represent us in the U.S. Senate.

Kentuckians are sick and tired of Huddleston, "Sonny" Hunt, Julian Carroll, Jimmy Carter, the Panamanian dictator Torrijos, and all the rest of that crowd whose every names mean nothing more than bad government. It's time for a change. Kentuckians are ready in 1978 to show Huddleston, Carroll, and their entire crowd that they can no longer continue to dictate election results to our state!

Kentuckians know that Louis Genshner will make them the same good Senator as was the late, great Alben Barkley (Democrat) and the legendary John Sherman Cooper (Republican).

To write the names of those from a distance to attend visitation and funeral of William Henderson, I doubt that a page of the Signal, as large as it is, would contain them.

Where most of us older ones came in contact with Bill was in Church. He grew up in the Mt. Vernon Christian Church and as Bro. Ernie Johnson said at the funeral "He was God's heritage."

His warm personality radiated and his many friends from Somerset College and many other young people were at the funeral Friday to show last respects to the one God had called home.

We express loving and heart-felt sympathy to Dr. and Mrs. Joe Henderson, Lydia and Mary Blanche, Mrs. Clyde Henderson, Mr. John Lair and other close relatives of the family.

The American Association of Retired Persons Club of Mt. Vernon will meet Friday night, November 10 at 7 p.m. at the Rockcastle County Library.

At the October meeting, Mr. and Mrs. William Nicely and Mr. Dyche Ponder were elected as club committee. Mrs. Pearl Whitaker as president, Mrs. Dita Mullins as secretary and Mrs. Marie Pitman as assistant secretary, and Mrs. Payne as treasurer.

All members and prospective members be present on the above date.

Mr. and Mrs. Stazley McNew of Pershing, Indiana were recent visitors of friends and relatives in Mt. Vernon. Mrs. McNew will be remembered as Stella Clark.

How God can cause a tiny fern seed to crack a huge rock and the fern grow to be a beautiful plant in the center of the rock. Mrs. Ernie Johnson, secretary, read the minutes of September's meeting and the treasurer report was read by Mrs. Joe Hansel.

Conventional radiant or convector oven

Exclusive SELECTIVE-USE Oven

Select Convector or Conventional radiant heat at the flip of a switch! It's a conventional radiant heat oven that lets you cook your present recipes without change. Or switch to "Convector" heat and it becomes a convector heat oven to let you prepare foods the way Continental chefs do—in a stream of power-driven heated air that's recirculated within the oven cavity some 20 times a minute!

As a convector oven, your Jenn-Air cooks cooler and faster! (roasts turkeys and hams cook at 50° lower temperature and cooking time is reduced as much as 30%!) Because there's less spatter at these lower temperatures, your oven stays cleaner!

- Oven controls feature Preheat, Radiant Bake, Timed Bake, Convector Oven, Accelerated Clean and Broil.

A Change of Heart

"And a certain woman, named Lydia...heard us, whose heart the Lord opened" (Acts 16:14). This woman experienced a change of heart; she had "open heart surgery" spiritually speaking.

A person's heart is said to be closed when that person is unwilling to hear and obey God's message. The heart is open when the message is received and obeyed. Such was the process in the conversion of Lydia. The order is as follows:

1. She heard the preaching of Paul.
  2. She attended (gave heed) unto those things.
  3. Her heart was opened.
  4. She was baptized.
- Many misunderstand what a change of heart means. Let me illustrate with this example.
- In a certain community a preacher was conducting a series of meetings and a certain man became interested, but held back. The preacher asked him why he did not obey the Lord. He replied, "I'm waiting for a change of heart."
- The preacher asked him these questions: "Do you believe that you must be baptized?"

To each of these questions the man who was "waiting for a change of heart" answered, "Yes."

Then the preacher said, "Well, if you change your heart, you will not believe these things."

He saw the mistake he was making, and was baptized.

Many today are looking for some mysterious change. What they need is a sincere response to God's invitation to be saved (Matt. 11:28-30; Mark 16:16), just like Lydia of old.

Friend, do you need a change of heart? Then attend to those things spoken by the Lord and be saved. "If any man will hear my voice, and open the door (heart), I will come in to him" (Revelation 3:20).

The American Indian knew a lot about the medicinal properties of witchhazel. The inner bark pounded into a poultice was used for external application to cure sore eyes, the smoky tresses or wigs in which the Indians lived being conducive to eye irritations. The use of this shrub was taught to the early settlers who used it extensively in the manufacture of home remedies.

The witchhazel (Hamamelis virginiana) is known in Canada as "Devil's Coffee." It is native throughout the United States east of the Mississippi River. It is the last flower shrub or small tree to bloom in the fall. Beginning in October, it blooms over an extended period and a few flowers may still be hanging on in December. The flowers are yellow, ribbonlike, and are often more than an inch long. As it takes a whole year for the seed capsules to develop, both flowers and seed capsules are often found on the shrub at the same time.

When the seed capsules mature and dry out, they open and expel the shiny black seed with such force that they are often ejected as many as 20 feet from the plant. Bring the ripe seed capsules into the house in autumn and you may hear seed popping against the wall in the dead of night.

Man is not the only critter to benefit from witchhazel. Rabbits and deer find its bark and twigs excellent winter fare. Ruffed grouse, doves, quail and numerous songbirds also love its seed. All in all, witchhazel is indeed a good plant to have around.

Dale Brock, 18, Struck by Train

ARMY-NEEDS TANK AND ARMOR SPECIALISTS

The Army is seeking high school graduates and qualified non graduates to be trained to operate its tanks, armored personnel carriers, and other armored vehicles, according to Sergeant Herb Wall of the Richmond Army Recruiting Station.

To be a successful Armor Specialist," Sergeant Wall said, "You've got to like teamwork, be a quick thinker, and be good at solving technical problems. You should like to work outdoors, enjoy adventure, and challenge and have a strong mechanical interests."

Sergeant Wall said the modern tanks operated by the Armor Specialist contain highly sophisticated electronic and mechanical systems and "can be the single most effective factor in a fight."

Sergeant Wall asks those interested in Army opportunities to contact him at the Richmond Army Recruiting Station.

DID YOU KNOW

... that baseball's first World Series with a million dollar prize was in 1923 when the New York Giants battled the New York Yankees? The record attendance of 301,430 marked the first series played at the huge new Yankee Stadium. Despite two home runs by the Giants' Casey Stengel, who later as manager piloted the Yankees to six World Series championships, the Yankees won the series in six games.

... that The Gillette Company is celebrating the 40th year of its association with baseball's fall classic by presenting a $1 million World Series Bonus Offer for baseball fans and other consumers?

... that consumers can participate in the Bonus Offer by bringing the game piece from early fall issues of sports magazines to a participating store where a Gillette World Series display, sporting a home plate-shaped "unscramble," reveals which prize they may have won? Prizes include 10 AMC Concord D11 automobiles, 25 $1000 cash awards and 5000 Gillette promax compact hair dryers.

... that in that first million-dollar series of 1923, Babe Ruth hit a grand slam three homers, walked eight times and batted .387?

HAUNTED HOUSE

The Jaycees' annual Haunted House was a success, according to Keith Smith, chairman of the event.

"We had about 700 people over the three days," he said.

Last year almost 900 went through the Haunted House, actually the former residence of Mrs. Norma Lyons. But Mr. Smith said last year's event lasted four days instead of three.

Proceeds from the Haunted House go to the Jaycees' annual Christmas party for needy children, held at Renfro Valley. Mr. Smith said the club would like to thank Mrs. Lyons, the members of Future Business Leaders of America and Burger Queen staff for their help.

EMPLOYMENT RATE

Unemployment increased slightly in the Eastern Kentucky area from 21.185 persons in August to 21,647 in September. The rate of unemployment increased 0.2 percentage points to 7.1 percent.

Statewide, the unemployment rate for September was 4.8 percent while it was 5.7 percent nationally.

"VOCATIONAL SCHOOL"

determine the county's employment needs. Mr. Cain said that the courses have stayed the same, and he would like to continue them as well as add wood-working and auto body repair.

Because equipment at Sparks is up to date and expensive, (a new auto body machine costs $2,000), it is expensive to train students. Yet anyone at any age can attend the school for a modest yearly fee of $100. Grants up to $1500 for living expenses are available to needy adults through the federal Basic Education Opportunity grant. Sparks has some adult students in the day, and some evening courses exclusively for adults.

Sparks is also part of a standardized state system of vocational schools. A student from Rockcastle could study business's training in London, and students from there can come here for auto mechanics, under this system. All schools are certified by the Veteran's Administration, and GIs are eligible under the GI Bill of Rights.

Sparks students are evaluated by their teachers, who will not recommend them for employment if they loaf in school, Mr. Cain said. Follow-up is done with businesses who hire students—Mr. Cain checks if the student is working out, if the training was adequate and so forth.

If Sparks has any problem at all, it is that its students have special training that cannot be used in Rockcastle County.

Very, very few of our students are able to find jobs in the county," Mr. Cain said. "Some of our welding students are hired at Rockcastle Steel in Brookhead, but most of the others must go somewhere else to find a job."

It is usually no trouble to find jobs in nearby cities such as London, Richmond, Berea and so forth, but Mr. Cain is optimistic that factories will be locating here soon, and is cooperating with the Rockcastle Multi-County Industrial Authority in their projects. A new course can be devised at Sparks if the factory will employ 10 graduates every year, Mr. Cain said.

The school is also willing to provide space for the factory to train its own employees.

"We would like to see the students stay in this county," Mr. Cain said. "We think we have something special in this county, and we want to keep it."

Mike Arnold takes a handoff from Rick Anderkin in Friday night's Rockets-Mercer game which the Rockets lost 14-12. Thompson, 24.

Two Mercer pass defenders "do a job" on pass receiver Eddie Thompson in Friday night's game. Mercer was called for two pass interference calls while the Rockets coughed up 75 yards in pass interference yardage.

Mike Arnold, senior, goes for two air-borne during Friday night's Rockets-Mercer encounter. The Rockets face Knox Central in their last game of the season Friday night.

Rockets Lose to Mercer 14-12

The Rocketeers took a 6-0 lead in the dressing room at half-time Friday night against Mercer County but the Scotties came back to avenge last year's loss to the Rockets by a score of 14-12.

The Rockets' first score of the game came early in the first quarter. They won the loss and elected to receive and began their first series backed up to their six yard line. Steve Mitchell carried twice for 7 yards and an offside penalty against Mercer gave the Rockets a first down on their own 20. A loss of a yard on the next play and a holding penalty on the next backed the Rockets up to their own 9 yard line where it was 2:26 before Rick Anderkin unleashed a long one to Mike Arnold who hauled it in on the 50 yard line. Arnold then picked up good yardage and a first down to Mercer's 35 yard line. Bobby Hammons got 2 and then Mercer was called for pass interference on a short pass from David Riddle to Eddie Thompson. The Rockets then had the ball 1:10 on Mercer's 18. Arnold got three yards on the next play but two clipping penalties on the same play pushed the Rockets back to near the mid-field stripe. Two plays later, Hammons picked up about 20 yards and then Anderkin found Hammons with a pass which Thompson ran in from the 5. The Rockets' kick for the extra point was no good but the Rockets were ahead 6-0 with 5:29 remaining in the first quarter.

On the Scotties' first possession of the game, they were unable to come up with a serious offense and had to punt the ball away to the Rockets and they began their series from their own 32. Three plays later, Anderkin had to punt the ball away and the short kick only carried to Mercer's 40. Mercer then proceeded to pick up a first down to the 50. They then lost 11 yards on the next play and then gained four, and on a 3:17 situation, a pass was deflected off the hands of pass defender Rick Anderkin into the hands of a Scottie and it was 1:10 for the Scotties on the Rockets' 30. Mercer picked up another first down to the 20 and then saw their quarterback sacked by Matt Poynter for an 8 yard loss. However, on the next play, the first of five pass interference calls in the game against the Rockets was whistled against Anderkin and the Scotties had the ball 1:10 on the Rockets' 12 yard line. Then, Lady Luck stepped in finally and the Rockets recovered a Mercer fumble on their 22 yard line. The Rockets had to punt the ball away however and Mercer began another serious effort from their own 42. The Mercer then picked up 13 yards and then the Rockets were called for a face mask penalty which brought the ball all the way to the Rockets' 28 yard line. Five plays later, a second pass interference (highly disputed by Rockets players and fans) was called against Anderkin and it was 1:10 Scotties on the 9 yard line. Mercer then picked up 9 yards in the next three plays but on fourth and inches, the Rockets defense came through and held. The half ended with the Rockets ahead 6-0.

Early in the second half, Rocket fans could tell it was going to be a long ball game. Mercer took the opening kick-off on the 15 and returned it to their 38. They then picked up 10 to first down to the 47 and two more first down putting them on the Rockets' 24 yard line. The Scotties continued their drive and scored with 3:54 remaining in the third quarter. Their extra point attempt failed and the score was knotted at 6-6.

Mercer then kicked on sides to the Rockets who recovered on their own 38 yard-line. Arnold was caught in the backfield for a five yard loss but Anderkin then hit Eddie Thompson with a 15 and a first down to the Rockets' 49 yard line. Mitchell picked up two and then pass interference was called against Mercer, giving the Rockets the first down on Mercer's 34 yard line. Arnold then got 2 and Mitchell got 7 and Anderkin hit Walter Browning for a pass taking the Rockets to the 5 yard line. But, an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty against the Rockets brought the ball back to Mercer's 20 where it was 1 and goal from the 20. Anderkin was then thrown for a 6 yard loss and then came back to hit Arnold for a 21 yard gain to Mercer's five yard line on the last play of the third quarter. With 11:59 remaining in the fourth quarter, Anderkin found Thompson all over it for 42 yards for the Rockets. Anderkin was sacked on the two-point pass play attempt but the Rockets were ahead 12-8.

Following a short Rockets kick to Mercer's 37 yard line, the Scotties were once again threatening (with the help of another pass interference call against the Rockets) on the Rockets' 31 yard line. Robert Owen's stopped the runner on the next play for a one yard gain and Mercer then picked up 6 yards but defensive holding was called against the Rockets and this gave Mercer the ball 1:10 on the Rockets' 11 yard line. The Scotties then found themselves, three plays later, in a 4-3 on the Rockets' three yard line. The Rockets' defense was equal to the task and held the Scotties.

With the turnover, the Rockets were backed up to their own three yard line and were able to generate only two yards offensively in three plays. However, Anderkin got off an extraordinarily good punt which went all the way to Mercer's 40 yard line.

The Rockets then picked up their fourth pass interference call against the Rockets gave them the Scotties a first down on the Rockets' 20 yard line and Mercer then picked up six yards and went in for the touchdown on the next play tying the score at 12-12. Their pass for the two extra points was good and they were ahead 14-12. The Rockets valiantly tried to come back and managed to bring the ball all the way to the Scotties 15 yard line where, with 44 seconds left in the game, Anderkin hit Browning in the end zone but Browning was out-of-bounds. The Rockets then tried a field goal which was blocked.

This Friday night, the Rockets played Knox Central in their last game of the season at Knox Central with the time of the game set for 7 p.m.

Jay Eubank Wants to Stage Another Boston Tea Party

By Jane Kundtz

Jay Eubank rested his ponies outside Fort Sequoyah, and sat down to talk about his mission. Like his personal friends, Roy Rogers and John Wayne, Jay Eubank is an American cowboy with a mission. He wants to clean up Mt. Vernon, Whitley County, Lexington-in-fact, the whole US of A. He is riding his lonely way from California to Boston, with nobody with him but Hobo and Big

C. The small ponies who pull his wooden covered wagon decorated with the graffiti of people he met along the way. "There's plenty wrong and someone has to do something about it," he said. "People have told me-I'd do what you are doing, I agree with you, but...I can't take that risk. I have to think of my security! They don't have any more security than I do. (Reform) has to start when you yourself feel something is wrong."

What's wrong with this country is high taxes and majority rule. "The majority rules, all right," he said. "The majority of the Senate and the Congress. But not the people." The one-man Protest Movement is making its way to the Boston Harbour, where Mr. Eubank intends to re-enact the Boston Tea Party on Dec. 14th, its 205th anniversary. He has about 25,000 tea bags, signed by people all over the United States. He intends to gather about 50,000 more and dump them all in the harbour as a protest against taxation without representation. Kevin White, the mayor of Boston, intends to arrest Mr. Eubank for polluting the harbour if he carries out his plan, and warns he will have to serve 10 days in jail. "I told Mayor White that was good. I need the rest," Mr. Eubank said. "How about six months? I need a good rest." The trip has been wearing on the 62-year-old ex-butcher from Bryan, Texas. He receives $218 per month disability insurance, because he has had several heart attacks, and suffers from phlebitis and diabetes. He covers about 25 miles per day, camping in the wagon and cooking out. He left California Nov. 26, and the pace finally got to him in Rockcastle County. For the first time in his journey of 11,000 miles, Mr. Eubank asked for a truck to haul him and his wagon to Cincinnati and Lexington. "I'll make Boston one way or the other," he said. "But I think I need to be hauled part-way." He went on Renfro Valley radio last Wednesday with Pete Stamper to make an appeal, but continued in the wagon when no one volunteered. Staying with the Carliotis family at Fort Sequoyah and at Mr. Stamper's KOA campground another night, Mr. Eubank said Friday he intended to continue one way or the other. As a child, Mr. Eubank's dream was to be a cowboy, and the idea for a cross-country, covered wagon trip came to him during the American Bicentennial. He hitched his wagon to the taxation issue, after working eight months with Howard Jarvis to pass Proposition 13, the referendum that cut California property taxes in half. He finds that people from all walks of life agree with his 12 statements of policy, which include, among other

BIBLE LESSON

"For ye have the poor always with you, but me ye have not always."—Matthew 26:11

Poverty is not a new development in the world today. Centuries ago Jesus Christ acknowledged this fact with the above words. Sad to say that millions of men, women and children live in poverty.

Commenting on poverty in the United States, the late Senator Hubert H. Humphrey observed in his book "War on Poverty" that "one out of every five Americans live in poverty, shame, misery and degradation."

Men have turned to human governments in an effort to be relieved of this problem. But the Bible tells us this one hard fact that "there is a time wherein one man ruleth over another to his own hurt."—Ecclesiastes 8:9.

The sad fact is that even men who would sincerely like to wipe out poverty find that they are opposed or just do not know the way to go about it. The Bible tells us, "It is not in man that walketh to direct his steps."—Jeremiah 10:23.

The undeniable truth is that no human government has ever been able to provide complete relief for the afflicted. Does this mean that the poor people of the world are to remain in removal of poverty? There is one higher than man who is both willing and able to do so. He is the Creator of man. Of Him the Bible tells us, "Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire to every living thing."—Psalm 145:16.

The Bible tells us also that this will come through God's government. His kingdom, of Jesus Christ as its ruler. Of Jesus' attitude toward the oppressed the Bible tells us, "He... was moved with compassion toward them."—Matthew 14:14.

Contained within your Bible is the information as to when all this will come about. It tells you how you can see the day when poverty and all other afflictions of man will be things of the past.

Address any questions you may have to Your Weekly Bible Lesson, Raymond J. Schneider, P.O. Box 705, Mt. Vernon, Kentucky 40456 things that the president's salary should be cut in half. He has received the keys to 29 cities, and stayed two weeks at Roy Rogers' ranch and ten days with John Wayne. He also had dinner with Queen Elizabeth and President Gerald Ford. He has appeared on national prime-time news, the Johnny Carson Show, Mike Douglas, and Good Morning America.

Mr. Eubank has a refreshing way of seeing celebrities like anyone else, and is not afraid to tell you what they are like. Gerald Ford was great—embarrassed by all the attention given to him. Dale Evans does all her own cooking and housekeeping. Johnny Carson is conceited and arrogant. Queen Elizabeth is very natural and easy to talk to.

But then, Jay Eubank seems as interested in common people as big shots. He sat listening to a woman from Michigan complain about insurance rip-offs.

Afterwards, he said, "People know what they are mad about, but they don't take any action. They let the politicians run over them. The country is the way it is today because the people are afraid. They want someone to lead them."

Mr. Eubank is not likely to be an elected leader, however. He has little use for politicians "they lie to you, you elect them. They come back and lie again. You re-elect them" and no intention of becoming one himself.

He wants to make it to Boston December 14, and after that, he wants to volunteer himself in another way. He is concerned about the many unhappy children he has met on the journey—not just poor kids, but any kid who is deprived.

"I've seen so many unhappy children," he said. "Some can have a lot of money, but they really are unhappy. They are deprived of love."

Mr. Eubank is not just a speaker—he has the knowledge and ability to help gleamed from his unusual trip. He would like to visit the children, let them ride on the wagon with Big C and Hobo, and learn about this country.

"I've been accused of trying to overthrow the government," he said. "That's not true. I love this country. That's why I'm doing what I do. I think people want to believe that there is someone willing to face hardships to stand up for what he believes in. I think that's why this trip has caught on. I'd like to help these children, and keep this thing going." *****

Spring Flowering Bulbs Can Still Be Planted
It's not too late to plant many of the familiar spring-flowering bulbs—but get them in the ground as soon as possible.

Ornamental onion, hyacinth, lily-of-the-valley, lilies, narcissus, summer-hyacinth, grape-hyacinth, daffodils, tulips, squill, snowdrops and crocus all can be set out now.

The planting site should consist of well-drained soil with a high organic content. Basic fertilizer and organic content of the soil.

Bulbs do well in neutral or very slightly acid conditions (pH 6.5 to 7.0). Acid soil may need some lime added to bring it to the proper pH level for bulbs.

You can find out if your soil needs lime or fertilizer by bringing a soil sample to the Rockcastle County Extension office in Mt. Vernon for a soil test. Using the test results, we can tell you what, if anything, you would need to grow bulbs successfully. A fee of $1.00 is charged to cover costs of testing the soil. If you have any questions on collecting soil for testing, call us at 256-2403.

Planting depth for bulbs depends on bulb size. Dig holes for large bulbs, such as daffodils, tulips and lilies, 6 to 8 inches deep. The smaller bulbs, such as crocus, snowdrop, grape hyacinth, squill, onions, lily-of-the-valley, and iris, can be planted at a depth of 4 inches. All bulbs should be well watered before covering them with soil.

Farm Income Tax Schools Scheduled

December 12-13, Maysville and Owensboro.

December 14-15, Florence and Rough River State Park.

Advance registration is required, including enrollment fee of $20 to cover cost of materials.

Those interested in attending the tax schools should contact the Department of Agricultural Economics, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky. 40506. Letters of invitations have been mailed to those who have attended previous tax schools sponsored by the Extension Service.

Halloween

The last fling of the year for witches and hobgoblins is fast approaching. Halloween, as we know it, is a mixture of superstition and religion, dating back to the pagan Druids of Britain. Their "New Year's Day" was November 1. With the coming of Christianity, it came to be known as "All Saints Day," and the evening preceding "All Hallow's Eve."

According to Scottish beliefs, Halloween meant black cats, witches on flying broomsticks and turnips for Jack-O-Lanterns. "Trick or treat" began with the Irish. Early seventeenth

BEREA COLLEGE OFFERS FOLK DANCE COURSE

A course in folk dancing begins November 4, as part of the Berea College continuing education program.

Cost of participation has been set at $15 for those not currently enrolled at Berea College and $10 for students enrolled for fall term.

The course is under the direction of Shylly Clark, English folk dance authority, who is working in this country under the sponsorship of Berea College and the Kentucky Arts Commission.

Designed for participants who work with all age groups, classes will include all necessary preparations for a dance event, programs for different occasions and practice in presentation and calling. At least one community dance event will be arranged for students to observe.

The registration deadline is November 4. Applications should be sent to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, CPO 2315, Berea College, Berea, Ky. 40404.

NRCWD BILL WILL BE LATE

Bills for the Northern Rockcastle County Water District, normally sent out on the 1st of the month, will not be sent out for November until about the 7th.

MOUNT VERNON, KENTUCKY 40456

VOLUME 90 - NUMBER 9

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1978

Mt. Vernon Fire Department Chief John Cox (center) accepts a check from Rockcastle County Ranger Steve Bullen (left) and Unit Ranger Boyd Robinson of the Kentucky Division of Forestry.

Fire Dept. Receives $300 Grant

Mt. Vernon Fire Department recently received a check for $300.00 from the Kentucky Division of Forestry. The check was presented to Fire Chief, John Cox by Boyd Robinson, London Unit Ranger.

The check was in payment of a matching fund grant made available through a federal rural development project. The funds are distributed by the U.S. Forest Service to the Division of Forestry, which in turn makes the grants available to local fire departments. The grants required the recipients to match them dollar for dollar and to use the funds to purchase needed equipment.

The check was accompanied by a letter from Bureau of Natural Resources Commissioner, Bernard T. Carter, reading in part, "We take a great deal of pride in the realization that our Rural Community Fire Protection Program is assisting the rural and community fire departments and, in return, the fire departments are rendering like assistance to our Division of Forestry by their fire protection surveillance and other very worthwhile activities in suppressing forest fires."

The matching funds programs hopes to identify needs and solutions to problems faced by rural communities in conducting a fire protection program. The program is limited to rural communities of 10,000 population or less. Robinson said that the funds were distributed on the basis of need. Special consideration was given to present protection levels, ability of the community to help itself, values protected, and past fire protection.

According to Robinson, the Mt. Vernon Fire Department often assists the Division of Forestry by controlling small grass and forest fires before they become major blazes.

The results of the tests will help the county and state school boards

Combine the season with an arts and craft show and sale and you have two days of entertainment: days of color inside the activities building and days of color outside. No artist will tell you he or she is competing with nature, for man-made pigment, even when combined with outstanding talent can't bring of such a claim.

The annual Autumn Arts and Craft Show is scheduled at the park, located just off Mountain Parkway in Powell County, November 4 and 5. Park Supt. Don Glass together with Mrs. Glass is a supporter of art, and at the August show on Hoodown Island even had the new addition to the family viewing the works. "Our artists and craftspeople can't be beat," said Glass, "and the department of parks is happy to provide a showcase for their talents. We're partial to the autumn event for the biggest show in the trees are bright with different colors."

Hours for the two-day event are from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Sunday. The dining room in nearby Herlock Lodge is noted for delicious food and hospital service.

Also open in the new Nature Center in the activities building, making something to do and see for the entire family. What could be more education for children than viewing beautiful paintings created by Kentucky's artists, spending some time in the Nature Center learning about the history of the region, walking Nature's path, hiking rugged trails to Natural Bridge and

First Gospel Sing Contest Held at Southern $ Termed Success

A large crowd attended a Gospel Talent Contest, Sunday afternoon, October 29, at the Southern Dollar Store.

A $1,000 booking contract to perform in S-Mart Discount Centers in Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia was offered as the grand prize of the event.

Judges of the contest said choosing the winners was a tough decision because all fourteen contestants were excellent gospel singers. First place for the grand prize was shared by the Cash Quartet and Jack Robinson's Kentucky Bluegrass. Each received a $500 booking contract. Placing second were the Glee Mediate singers who received a $300 contract. Five-year-old Haley Swinney won third place and received a nice doll and play dishes. All entrants received a fruit cake from Southern Dollar Store for participating in the contest.

Beverly Smith, manager of the Southern Dollar Store said she felt the event was very successful, and it was enjoyed so much that she plans another gospel talent contest in the near future.

Dober to help with survey

Luke Dober, Rockcastle County Hospital administrator, is helping the East Kentucky Health Systems Agency conduct a survey on long-term health care in this area.

As one of the many volunteers, he will be doing face-to-face interviews with clients, complete client observation forms, and conduct telephone interviews with persons designated as responsible for the client.

The objective of the study is to develop information on long term health care needs in this area. Long term health care includes nursing home patients, developmentally disabled and the chronically mentally ill.

THANKS, MR. ROBINSON

The athletic department and the administration of Rockcastle County High School would like to say thank you to Mr. Robert Robinson for announcing our home football games for the past three seasons. Mr. Robinson has always been a faithful supporter of all athletic programs at Rockcastle County High School.

Again we say thank you Mr. Robinson for your time, effort, and continued support which you donate each week. We look forward to having you again in the 1978-79 season.

viewing the magnificent scenery. Crafts at the autumn show include pottery, jewelry, baskets, dolls, hand painted china, lacework, weavings and various other handwork. Among those artists who are scheduled to display and demonstrate their talent are Al Cornett, Don Ennor, Russell May, Robert Powell, Gary Akers, Brett Johnson, Tom Armstrong, Bill Granstaff, Glen Wilson, Dan Short, Iva Daniels, Nellie Meadows and Helen

Prize Stary, handwork artists include potters and weavers from Haze Green Academy, Red River Crafts, Triangle Crafts, Georgia Faibs, Ann Tryon, Norma Campbell, and artisans from Fort Booneborough State Park. Included in the offerings will be folk art, Kentucky cardinal plates, bowls, jewelry, wind chimes of various materials, unusual laces and novelties, plus gift items from park gift shops. The show will provide items for Christmas shoppers who want to give the gift that is not only lovely, but handmade and original. Carolie Bush, manager of the park gift shop, together with Eva White, Darlene Gay and other park personnel are working to make a pleasant weekend. "Everyone here at the park is helping," said Mrs. Bush, "and it takes cooperation all the way around. We have a beautiful park and love to show it off." Mrs. Bush and her husband Scott collect art and enjoy working with people who create. "Nothing brings a home alive like handwork," commented Mrs. Bush. "And what would better decorate a room than an original painting on the wall, a plate with a Kentucky cardinal on a plate shelf, a bit of lace on a table and a woven rug on the floor?"

Items that provide warmth and a hospitable personality to a home will be available. Eva White, as enthused as other park personnel about the show, said she does holiday gift buying but has a hard time deciding among so many lovely gifts and then trying to decide what to give and what to keep. An art and crafts show, a beautiful park and magnificent scenery plus warmth and friendliness await you at Natural Bridge.
