Property Tax Loses at Poll

According to recent survey by Opinion Research Corporation for the U.S. Government on the average citizen's opinion on taxes, it will come as no surprise that the results showed that the least popular tax of all was the property tax. The purpose of the survey was to find out attitudes on the proposed value-added tax, property tax, income tax, and sales tax. Although no particular tax received a resounding approval, it was a clear-cut message that American's major complaint with our fiscal system lies with the property tax. When queried as to which tax was the "least fair", 65 percent selected the property tax, the federal income tax placed a far second with a 19 percent disapproval. On the subject of raising more state revenue, 71 percent preferred increasing taxes on sales or income. On rising more federal funds, 70 percent of those polled indicated the best method would be to eliminate tax loopholes. If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at Ford Realty & Auction Co., Inc., Mt. Vernon, Ph. 256-4545. We're here to help!

Thanksgiving Dinner - Serve It Safely

By Cheryl Witt
County Extension Agent
For Home Economics

The dining room table may seat only 6 or 8, but someone usually finds ways to stretch the food and table time at Thanksgiving. That's part of the tradition.

Reheating a large family gathering is fun, but it needs to be done safely, too. Roast turkey, the favorite Thanksgiving centerpiece is a perishable food. Always thaw a frozen turkey in the refrigerator. If you must thaw it more quickly, put it in a waterproof plastic bag, seal tightly and defrost in cold water. Thawing frozen poultry at room temperature gives bacteria a chance to grow. This is especially true with large frozen turkeys because of the long time it takes them to thaw completely. Cook turkeys thoroughly. To an internal temperature of 180-190 degrees. Never partially cook it and finish cooking later. Bacteria can survive in partially cooked poultry.

Cool turkey stuffing completely. It's safest to cook it separately from the turkey, because stuffing inside a warm turkey, because stuffing inside a warm turkey, because stuffing inside a warm turkey...

It's also easier to serve a crowd when the stuffing is cooked separately. If you must cook stuffing inside the turkey, cook until the meat thermometer inserted into the stuffing reaches at least 165 degrees. Never stuff turkey the night before cooking.

Refrigerate turkey leftovers immediately. Remove all stuffing; store separately.

Can you prepare and serve the food to avoid food borne illness? Your family may enjoy meals every day without problems, but on holidays when large groups get together, the types and larger quantities of foods present different problems. You may not have enough refrigerator space.

Bacteria can cause food poisoning. All they need to grow is the right combination of time, temperature and moisture.

Foodborne illness can cause diarrhea, vomiting, stomach cramps, and other unpleasant symptoms which can last for several hours or even days. With young children and elderly people, the results can be more severe. Often, people mistake foodborne illness for a simple "bug" or virus. The real cause may be food that was not properly handled, prepared, or served. This can be prevented.

Can perishable foods such as cream pies, seafoods, and sandwiches made with eggs, fish, meat, and poultry be kept COLD (below 40 degrees)? Bacteria grow best in lukewarm foods. Do not let these foods stand at room temperature more than 2 hours.

Can perishable foods such as seafood, poultry, and cooked meats be kept HOT (above 140 degrees). Never let these foods stand at room temperature more than 2 hours.

Old-Fashioned Roast Turkey
Select a 12-14 pound turkey. Remove giblets, and rinse turkey thoroughly with cold water; pat dry. Sprinkle inside cavity with salt. The ends of legs to fall with cord or string, or tack them under flap of skin around neck; lift wings up and over back so they are tucked under bird.

Brush entire bird with melted butter or margarine placed on roasting rack, breast side up. Insert meat thermometer in breast or meaty part of thigh, making sure it does not touch bone. Bake at 325 degrees until meat thermometer reaches 190 degrees (about 5 to 6 hours. If turkey starts to get too brown, cover lightly with aluminum foil.

When turkey is two-thirds done, cut the cord or band of skin holding the drumstick ends to the tail. This will insure that the inside of the thigh is cooked. Turkey is done when drumstick are easy to move up and down. Garnish with sliced cranberries and parsley.

Yield: 20 to 24 servings.

Cornbread Dressing
2-6 ounce pkgs. cornbread mix
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped green onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
turkey giblets
1-10 oz. can chicken broth

8 eggs, slightly beaten
1/4 tsp. salt
Crushed red pepper to taste

Prepare cornbread mix according to package directions; cool. Crumble cornbread into a large bowl, and set aside. Sauté celery, onion, green pepper, in butter, until soft. Stir into cornbread, and set aside.

Put giblets in a saucepan; cover with water, and bring to a boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer until tender. Chop liver; add to cornbread mixture along with 1/2 cup stock. Reserve remaining giblets for gravy. Stir into cornbread mixture. Add remaining ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Spoon into a greased 2 quart casserole. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. Yield: about 8 servings.

Giblet Gravy
Giblets from turkey
turkey neck
2 cups chicken broth
1 medium onion, chopped
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup turkey seasoning
1/4 cup cornbread dressing
salt and pepper to taste

Add onions, celery, poultry seasoning, and dressing to broth mixture; cook until vegetables are tender. Stir in salt, pepper and egg slices. If chicken gravy is desired, add more dressing. ## Fish & Game Club Wins State Award

The Rockcastle Fish and Game Club has been named the "Conservation Organizer of the Year" by the Kentucky Wildlife Federation Foundation and the League of Kentucky Sportsmen. Estill McBee, who has been president of the club for over 25 years, accepted the award at the state's Conservation Achievement Banquet, Nov. 4, in Lexington.

The club was the only organization to win an award. Nine other awards were presented to individuals under categories of "Forest conservationist of the Year," "Soil Conservationist of the Year," etc.

The club won through its restocking program of game and quail, land-reseeding programs, and educational efforts.

Mr. McBee said that the club worked for many years to bring deer into the county, though he never thought he would live to see the day when the deer were here. But through the national park system, the deer was trapped and brought to the county where it has proper food and cover.

The Fish and Game Club also developed a quail-raising program. Chickens were purchased and raised by local people, who were paid by the club. The quail was then distributed to areas where it now thrives.

The club has also planted more than six miles of utility right-of-way in wildlife food and cover, and re-seeded land for food plants.

Mr. McBee called the award "unexpected" and said the dinner was "quite an affair." Awards were presented by David Herbst, Great Lakes Regional Executive, and there were professional entertainers.

Mr. McBee said the club once had over 250 members, but now has about fifty.

Estill McBee holds the trophy he accepted on behalf of the Rockcastle Fish and Wildlife Club which was named the top conservation club in the state recently.

Mt. Vernon Violates EPA Standards When Sewage System Clogs With Oil

By Jane Kemdt

Someone is dumping barrels of oil into the city of Mt. Vernon's sewage system, an engineer told the City Council at its regular meeting Monday night. The oil is putting the city in violation of the United States Environmental Protection Agency's EPA rules for sewage plants. Fines for the city could add up to $10,000 per day unless the situation improves.

"I suggest you locate and prosecute whoever is dumping the oil," Richard W. Moore, technical vice president of Schimpeler-Corradino Associates of Louisville said. He suggested the person be fined, perhaps $1,000 per violation.

Mr. Moore's firm designed the "cannet" system as well as a $1,000,000 $1 million plant to be completed in June, 1979. He said that the existing plant was built in 1965—even years before strict federal laws governing water quality were passed.

"There's no way the current system could ever pass the EPA standards," he said, "even if the oil dumping was stopped." However, Mr. Moore said that if the city took the following three measures, the EPA would probably not take the city to court.

"The new plant will solve the problem," he said, "and the EPA is aware that it is being built."

The three measures that the Council agreed to are as follows:

1. Stop the oil dumping.
2. Five gallons of oil is enough to tear the plant to pieces," Mr. Moore said. "But when 25 gallons are dumped into a sewer, the plant shuts down and that much oil is being dumped twice a month."
3. He said the oil interferes with bacterial action necessary to process the sewage.

4. Disconnect the sewage plant to components connected to the old system.

5. Allow the city water superintendent more time to operate the plant itself.

The city should also do more testing of the water quality, rather than contract for this testing.

The violations, according to the EPA report, occurred between January 1 and June 30, 1978, but the plant is still "testing badly," according to Mr. Moore. He said oil, pesticides or any strong chemical could cause bad tests, and that a plastic bottle or anything besides domestic sewage could "tear up the delicate mechanical equipment" in the plant.

Other Business

Bill James, chairman of the Industrial Authority, asked the Council to consider putting up a sewage pump station at the industrial park facility. He said that bids received on the pump station were twice the engineer's estimate, and that if city workers could not assemble the station, perhaps the Council could sub-contract the work for the Authority. Mayor Roland Mullins said they would consider the matter further.

Highway Department Gives Plans For Clearing Local Roads of Snow

Priorities for snow and ice removal on state-maintained roads are outlined for the first time on individual county maps prepared and distributed by the state's Bureau of Highways.

Following two unusually harsh winters, Gov. Julian Carroll requested that the transportation department prepare individual county maps showing priorities for snow and ice removal. This information was previously available only on a state-wide map.

State Transportation Secretary Calvin Grayson explained that with over 25,000 miles of state maintained roads a priority system for clearing those roads is necessary.

"Limited manpower and equipment requires that we clear the most heavily traveled roads first," Grayson said. "The new county map was developed to inform Kentucky residents of which roads are scheduled to be cleared first in their own county."

Grayson said the system is divided into four categories:

- Priority One - Interstate highways, toll roads, and any state-maintained road that carries an equivalent traffic volume. Priority Two - State primary roads (such as US 60, US 27); expressways, by-passes and other state maintained roads with equivalent traffic volume.

Priority Three - State secondary roads such as Ky. 580 and other roads of equal importance.

Priority Four - All state-maintained roads not included in one of the first three priorities.

According to Russell Romine, assistant state highway engineer, roads classified priority one, two and three are to be maintained in a safe and passable condition by plowing, salting or sanding, and partially salted when all other roads are cleared.

"If the district engineer or county foreman feels that it is necessary to give any road additional attention in times of emergency, they may authorize whatever work is needed to improve the road condition," Romine said.

Priority four roads and city streets not part of the state-maintained system are not included in the snow and ice removal plan.

Tobacco Prices Expected To Be High As Markets Open Throughout Area

Tobacco markets are opening this week in Somerset, Richmond, and other areas and according to many reports, tobacco will sell higher this year. The average government support price is now over seven cents from $117 per hundredweight last season to $124.70 for the approaching markets. Averages should run about $51.30 per pound.

Flue-cured tobacco in the Carolinas has sold for better than $1.30 per pound. Tobacco is late going to market because of the weather, according to Lee Durham county extension agent. The summer weather lately has kept tobacco too dry and brittle to strip, he said.

According to the official schedule of loan values by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, rates range from a low of 83 percent to a high of 91.25. Averages are 7.4 cents per pound above 1977 levels. Loan rates for eligible tobacco packed in bales will be the same as rates for tobacco tied in hands.

Some loan rates from the official schedule are as follows: KILL, $137; K5L, $128; L1L, $138; N2G, $82; N2L, $96; B1F, $138; B1R, $134; CSF, $127.

No loans will be available on tobacco graded non-grade, wet, unsound, or scrap. Marketings of these grades will be charged against the quotas for the farms on which they were produced.

This year's tobacco crop is five percent larger than last season, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Favorable weather helped bring the crop to 2.01 billion pounds.

The Crop Reporting Board said yield improved from 1917 pounds per acre in 1977 to an average of 2071 pounds. Average yields for all types of tobacco were pegged at 2118 pounds compared to 1997 last season.

With sales of flue-cured tobacco almost complete by Nov. 1, production was put at 1.22 billion pounds, an 8 percent increase. Burley production was placed at 823 million pounds, up one percent from last year.

Industrial Authority Talks With Mays on Water Bids

The Rockcastle Multi-County Industrial Authority is negotiating a contract with Mays Construction for a water and sewage system for the industrial park. Bill James, chairman of the Authority, announced today.

Mays, which is based in Williamsburg, was the second lowest bidder of five construction companies on the contract. Mays bid $248,557, which was about $1,300 more than the lowest bidder. The contract includes materials and labor for water mains and a sewage system for the park, which is almost 90 acres and has room for eleven factory sites.

Mr. James said that the Authority has the option of rejecting all or part of the bid. He said one specification of the contract is that the work must be finished by March, 1979, so that other construction work can be completed on schedule.

Mays Construction built the Harry Sparks Vocational School in 1968.

The 1978 season will open on the first working day of Thanksgiving week, Monday, Nov. 20, as is traditional. The first day tobacco can be officially weighed is Friday, Nov. 10.

Loose leaf baled burley tobacco can be marketed on the state's 30 markets on these days: Nov. 24, Dec. 7, Dec. 14, Jan. 5 and Jan. 25.

Tobacco may be late going to market because of the weather, according to Lee Durham, county extension agent. The summer weather lately has kept tobacco too dry and brittle to strip, he said.

About 1500 farmers in Rockcastle County produce 3,245,000 pounds per year, worth over $4 million, he said.

Mr. Lair's Ponies Killed

Two ponies owned by John Lair of Renfro Valley were killed by automobiles on U.S. 25 Saturday about 6:30 p.m. One was a rare breed of bluish color that Mr. Lair said he had owned for some time, according to State Trooper Paul Blevins. The pony was killed by a hit-and-run driver.

The other was run over by Fred Kendrick of Salem, Indiana. The ponies accidentally came out on the road, Officer Blevins said.

Brodhead Announces Ruling on Plumbing

Brodhead's City Council is giving notice to residents that they have until June 1, 1979 to connect into the city's sanitary sewer system, and that they must remove outdoor toilets.

Mayor Elizabeth Mullins said the outdoor facilities are causing a health hazard. The Council voted to advertise this ruling at their regular November meeting.

The council also voted to take ten people to court who have unpaid taxes. The taxes involve five dwellings and five vehicles.

Mayor Mullins reported that Charles Brooking, an aide to the governor, has confirmed that as mayor of the county's second largest city, she should be a member of the Coal Severance Tax Board, which controls the coal tax money.

The Council again turned down Doug Brock's request to lease a building at 21st and Main.

Farmers, Businessmen Annual Banquet

Farmers are the hosts at the annual Farmers-Businessmen's Banquet, this Friday evening at Rockcastle County High School.

The dinner, which has been held for a number of years, is organized through the Rockcastle County Soil Conservation District. The program will feature a half-hour film narrated by Missouri Congressman Jerry Litan, entitled "Food Progress Compared to What?" Rep. Litan was killed in an airplane accident the day after he won a landslide election in a race for the United States Senate.

Speakers for the program include Roy Brown, John Houston, W.E. Proctor, Keith Smith and Ray Scoggins. The banquet is by invitation only. It is held in honor of National Farm-City Week.

Get News in Early Because of the Thanksgiving holidays, the Signal will be printed one day early next week.

Rabies Shots for Dogs Offered At Reduced Prices November 27

The Rockcastle County Health Department is sponsoring a Rabies Clinic the week of November 27. People can bring their dogs to the locations listed below and have them vaccinated for $3.00 per animal, according to Steve Midkiff, county environmentalist.

Kentucky law requires that all dogs over four months old be vaccinated against rabies. If your dog bites someone and is not vaccinated, you are responsible for the cost of treating the bitten person as cost up to $400.

A Rockcastle County man is currently undergoing rabies treatment—a series of twenty-one painful shots—because his own dog became rabid in November after being bitten by a skunk. Mr. Midkiff said. Mr. Midkiff said while any domestic animal might become rabid if bitten by an infected wild animal, cattle are particularly susceptible. The Rabies Clinics are as follows: Mon., Nov. 27, Mt. Vernon Elem. School in the Old Industrial Arts Bldg., Dr. Burdette, Vet., from 4 to 6 p.m.

Tues., Nov. 28, Brodhead Elem. School, Dr. Adams, Vet., 4 to 6 p.m.

Wed., Nov. 29, Conway Post Office, Dr. Burdette, 4 to 6 p.m.

Thurs., Nov. 30, Thompson Gro. Parking Lot, Willalls, Dr. Adams, 4 to 6 p.m.

Thurs., Nov. 30, Livingston Elem. School, Dr. Burdette, 4 to 6 p.m.

Fri., Dec. 1, Mt. Vernon Elem. School, Dr. Adams, 4 to 6 p.m.

For those who cannot get to the clinics at the times listed, animals will also be vaccinated at Dr. Adam's office and Dr. Burdette's offices during the week of November 26 to Dec. 1, 1978 for the same $3.00 per animal fee.

Legislative Report

By Harold DeMarcus

During this interim, legislators have taken occasion to make several field trips. The purpose of these field trips is to gather first hand knowledge on situations that are of concern to the Commonwealth.

In August a committee of state legislators conducted a workshop in Western Kentucky to study several environmental problems and possible solutions to those problems.

Seventeen legislators on the Joint Committee on Agriculture and Natural Resources began their workshop by touring abandoned strip mine areas near Madisonville, Kentucky. According to a spokesman for the state's Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, Kentucky will be receiving about $25 million a year in federal funds for the operation of a new program to reclaim abandoned strip mines.

The committee visited a 5,000 acre "orphan land" site which was recently purchased by the state and is being developed into a wildlife habitat.

From the coal-mining areas, the legislators went to Hopkinsville where they visited a newspaper recycling operation which is manufacturing home insulation from old newspapers.

While in Hopkinsville, the committee also toured the city's water treatment plant and Murray State University's Veterinary Diagnostic and Research Center.

At the Land Between the Lakes Area, the legislators visited three demonstration projects operated by the Tennessee Valley Authority. The committee visited TVA's air pollution monitoring station, sewage disposal oxidation pond, and sanitary landfill.

This workshop should prove beneficial because it will give the legislature an understanding of what type of environmental problems exist in Kentucky. Of special concern will be orphan land reclamation, which the state will be involved with for many years to come.

Another legislative committee, meeting at the Kentucky Center for Energy Research near Lexington, passed a resolution urging that a proposed Scott County coal gasification plant be relocated in eastern Kentucky.

The Joint Committee on Public Utilities and Transportation adopted the resolution urging the U.S. Department of Energy, the Kentucky Department of Energy, and Irvin Industries (proposed developers of the project) to give consideration to relocating the Georgetown-Scott County coal gasification plant to eastern Kentucky, if Scott County does not agree to accept the project.

The reasoning behind this action professes that locating the coal gasification plant in eastern Kentucky would be logical to help ease employment in that area. Initially, the plant will provide 600 jobs and eventually 1,200 jobs; also it would be cheaper to operate the plant in eastern Kentucky because of the availability of coal.

On October 3rd and 4th, a seminar was held in Lexington for members of the Program Review and Investigations Committee. This seminar was conducted by the Eagleton Institute of Politics from Rutgers University. The objective of this seminar assumes that if the legislature devotes more time and sustains effort to their program review responsibilities, by attending to problems of administration, considering implementation, taking into account the delivery of services and the satisfaction of clients, it would increase the effectiveness of state programs.

By traveling throughout the Commonwealth, members of the General Assembly are expressing their desire to become more aware of problems suffered by Kentuckians. It is well known that before a problem can be solved, it must be recognized.

Rockets Blast-Off Next Tuesday

By Rick Anderson

The R.C.H.S. Rockets, 1978-79 edition, will open their basketball season next Tuesday night when they venture to Clay County for a game with the Tigers.

The Rockets, coached by Bill Riddle, will be returning six lettermen four of whom were starters last year.

This past Tuesday night, the Rockets had a scrimmage game with Eubank and the Rockets dominated the game from start to finish. They looked very good as they continuously put points in the basket and did it very hard for Eubank to do likewise.

The four returning starters are Jack Farthing and David Penol at the guard positions, Steve Canten will return at forward, along with Walter Browning at the pivot and Eddie Thompson should finish out the rest of the starting line-up.

The Rockets will also have returning seniors Jeff Hammonds and Frank Phillips and they have a strong corp of juniors to help out when needed from the bench.

Following the Rockets away game with Clay County, the Rockets first home game will be during the Thanksgiving Tournament on November 24 and 25. They will meet Lynn County in the 8:30 game on the 24 and Model and Lane Jack will open the tournament on the same night at 7 p.m. The championship game will be the following night at 8:30 p.m.

One game not on the Rockets' schedule is Cumberland on January 5. They were picked up to replace Anville who was ganged by the state scheduled for November 17th was cancelled. The Cumberland game will be at home.

If you want to see any high school basketball, you had better see while the seeing is good because the next time you look around - there will probably be a foot of snow on the ground.

THANK YOU

Both the administration and athletic department of RCHS would like to say Thank You to Howard Saylor, Johnny Saylor and Larry LaFavers for their assistance in our football program.

For the past 7 seasons, these men have kept the clock and scoreboard for each home game.

Again, we say thank you to each of you for your time.

The fastest speed at which a giant tortoise can crawl is about five yards a minute. If it could travel five times as fast, it would be going at almost one mile per hour.

Work Being Completed on All-Kentucky City Entry

The Mt. Vernon All-Kentucky City committee is putting the finishing touches on its entry in the All-Kentucky City Contest, Julia Harris, co-chairperson of the group said.

She said that the group is finishing its scrapbook and slide show to present to the judges in the next few weeks. Students from Barbara Owen's art classes at Rockcastle County High School have designed covers for the scrapbooks, she said.

Senior Citizens Receive Flu Shots

About 100 senior citizens took advantage of the Rockcastle County Health Department's Flu Clinic this week, and were vaccinated against influenza.

The vaccinations are provided to citizens over 65 years, but is for those who have chronic diseases.

According to Health Department literature, this winter may bring the Russian, Hong Kong or "New flu" varieties. Most healthy people can get over the fever, chills, headache, coughs and muscle aches that influenza brings within a week or so. But the elderly or those with chronic diseases may have serious complications from simple influenza.

Last year, Mt. Vernon lost its bid in the All-Kentucky City Contest by one point, and Mrs. Harris said that chances are good to win this year.

"We hope that after the contest is over, clubs and other groups may want to show the slides and use the scrapbooks for the club programs," Mrs. Harris said.

She said that the contest is "an on-going thing," and once the award is won, the city must keep its entry up-to-date each year.

Among those on the committee are: Robin, co-chairperson; Luke Dober; Lee Durham; Gatliff Gray; Roy Brown; Bill and Rachel James and Ed Adams.

ASK US ABOUT MEDICARE

By Anita Webb

(Ms. Webb is a professional relations consultant at Metropolitan Life. Metropolitan administers the Medicare Part B Program for the State of Kentucky.)

"Why can't I get faster payment from Medicare" is a question frequently asked by those on Medicare. We, at Medicare agree that prompt payment is one of the most important concerns to those who file claims. Yet, it is a fact that the majority of properly filed claims can be paid within two weeks.

A claim with only one bill is processed faster than a claim with many bills. For this reason, be sure filing claim when you have enough expense to meet the $60.00 deductible and after that file a bill each time you receive medical services. Holding your bills until the end of the year may result in failure to file a claim because the bill may become ineligible if you may simply not remember that you had expenses to file. Also, year-end filings are not paid as quickly because the reasonable backlog of claims delays payments.

Special Concert To Be Presented At High School Monday Evening

The voices of 200 high school students from three counties will combine in choral music during a special concert Monday evening at 8 p.m. at the Rockcastle County High School. Tickets costing $1.00 will be sold at the door or by contacting any member of the chorus.

The concert is the last of three days of singing and recording for 71 Rockcastle students, working with students from Boyle and Lincoln counties. The three choirs are performing Friday, Nov. 17 in Boyle County, after one full day of rehearsals there. On Sunday, in Lincoln County, the choirs will perform again, and cut a record of their music that will be sold by students.

Margorie Wilcox, director of the Rockcastle chorus, said that the local students are participating in the three events, which are known as the Second Tri-County Choral Concert. A similar concert series was held in 1976, she said, but not last year.

The numbers that will be performed include everything from spirituals to Charleston. Mrs. Wilcox will be directing four selections—Rhythm of Life, a fast number with hand motions; Hallelujah, Praise the Lord by Thyngerson; Every Valley by Beck; With a Voice of Singing by Shaw. Other selections are The Best of the Beach Boys; Rainy Days and Mondays; Charleston; Flappers and Razz-A-Ma-Taz, among others. These will be led by Boyle County director, Jack Vaught and Stuart Underwood from Lincoln County.

Proceeds from the concert and the record will go to buy equipment for the music department, Mrs. Wilcox said.

Last year the department purchased a spotlight.

Morehead Chorus Festival

Fourteen members of the Rockcastle County High School Chorus, accompanied by Mrs. Margie Wilcox, attended the nineteenth annual Choral Festival which was held at Morehead State University November 6 and 7. Students from 46 high schools participated in the two-day festival, where they rehearsed 5 to 6 hours each day. The festival's concert, was given Tuesday evening, Nov. 6, directed by Vasile Venetozzi, Resident conductor at Morehead University. A concert given by the University Chorus and a dance were also enjoyed by the students.

The R.C.H.S. students that attended were: Sandra Sweeney, Linda Jackson and Jo Anne Riddle, seniors; Becky Eldridge, Audrey Morgan, Michele Dick, Theresa Glovak, Debbie Burton, juniors; Mona Bivens, Lisa Parsons, Tammy Coffey, Roy Cummins and Ricky Phelps, sophomores. Several

All-State Chorus Try-Outs

The annual All State Chorus tryouts were held Saturday, November 11, at Boyle County High School. Those trying out from Rockcastle County High School Chorus were seven members from the advance choral group. Try-outs consist of quartets, individual solos which are sung a cappella. These young people must devote much time and practice to accomplish this task. Those who receive a high enough score out of the state will go to Louisville to work and perform with the best Choral students from all over the state.

CITY COUNCIL

Lela Saylor asked that sewer lines be extended to Fairground Hill area. The Council accepted water lines to three homes on Chestnut Ridge from Russell Corner. Floyd Owens asked that water and sewage be extended to property on Joyce Street.

Jim Bullock requested that a loading zone for trucks be marked off on one side of main street. The Council turned the request down.

Dr. George Griffith and Jerry Hamm presented an engineer's report from Jasper and Associates of Somerset in behalf of the Cedar Rapids Country Club. The report said that the Club could not have incurred a $1200 water bill last winter, because it was impossible for that much water to flow from a 1 1/2 inch pipe. When the pipe was repaired, Mr. Hamm said, the water stopped leaking. Water superintendent Matt Powell, Jr. defended the city's meter reading. The Council took no action on the Club's bill, which means the Club will continue to pay 150 per month on the until the amount is settled. More discussion took place about putting sidewalks near Rockcastle County High School. Mr. Hamm said that it is hard for motorists to see the students, who sometimes walk on the road itself. Mayor Roland Mullins said he would try to locate state and federal money for the sidewalks, and contact the county School Board about putting the walks on school property.

Johnny Helton, owner of a poolroom on Main Street, appeared at the request of Larry Williams, chief of the Mt. Vernon police. Mr. Helton said that he would cooperate with the Council and police to insure that the newly opened poolroom would not become a nuisance.

Mr. Williams presented the police report and suggested that some money might be saved by having each policeman take out liability insurance rather than the city taking out a policy.

The Council gave Mr. Williams the authority to look for sales on a police cruiser.

(CONSERVATION AWARD)

"We have not been just for hunting and fishing all these years," Mr. McBea said. "We have been involved in some tough legislative battles, and we try to conserve wildlife and nature for the future. There is a bad trend nowadays that destroys some of these resources, but we have for years been on the other side."

Burley's Pay Day...

the buck starts here!

It's rapid fire—glibberish to the uninitiated... the traditional chant of the tobacco auctioneer.

But for the farmers who grow Burley tobacco—Kentucky's Golden Leaf—it means pay day.

Amid the chaos, the bids, the din of constant motion, the auction warehouse floor is the conversion point of commodity to cash.

In mere seconds, hundreds of pounds of Burley translate to hundreds of dollars in cash.

Within days, it becomes millions; within weeks, hundreds of millions of dollars which flow through the economy, creating incredible purchasing power.

The more than $500 million value of Burley produced by Kentucky's growers multiplies five times in the economy before it dissipates—creating a powerful dollar flow of $2.5 billion each year—from which you also benefit.

Experiment With Contour Stripcropping

Have you thought lately about contour stripcropping? As a farmer if you must grow row crops like corn or tobacco and grass crops like hay the possibilities are exciting.

The type of agriculture we have in Rockcastle County would lend itself well to contour stripcropping. With dairy and beef cattle operations hay must be cut every year. These same operations must also grow corn and tobacco. So how can contour stripcropping benefit these farmers? There are several ways. In tobacco contour stripcropping will create more feet of field borders which can mean more pounds per acre. If corn is grown between grass strips after corn harvest cattle can be used to clean up missed corn and extend your grazing season and they will graze the grass also. Contour stripcropping is also beneficial to wildlife by creating a variety of plant covers within a small area. This conservation practice also helps to conserve moisture by allowing water to soak into the soil instead of running off. This will reduce soil erosion and help keep our streams running clear. In fact, contour stripcropping will cut soil loss to 1/4 of what it would be for up-and-down the hill farming. Another big advantage of contour stripcropping is that it is an expensive conservation tool to use. The only expense may be to realign a few fences and cost-share assistance is available to help with this.

There are some of the advantages of the contour stripcropping. Now, use your imagination and common sense to think of how this conservation "tool" could fit into your farming operation.

The Rockcastle Conservation District has the professional people available to help you layout and install this conservation practice. If you are at all interested call the Soil Conservation Service office, 254-2541 and ask for Greg Stephens.

Contour stripcropping, which alternates strips of row crops with strips of sod crops, offers exciting possibilities for beef and dairy farmers in Rockcastle County. If you are interested, contact the Soil Conservation Office.

County Agent's Notes

Grassland Renovating Time is Here

By H. Lee Durham
County Extension Agent
For Agriculture

If you are planning to renovate some grassfields, November is the best time to start. Here is the process: grass fields you plan to renovate now while the grass is tasty. Sugars are still high in the grasses and will stay high for several weeks. Keep livestock confined to small areas so they can eat the top growth quickly. Five to ten head of cattle per acre will graze a heavy growth fairly clean in a week to 10 days.

Take a soil test, and apply needed lime, phosphate and potash. Fall and early winter liming and fertilizing is easier than that in the spring, and is just as productive as spring applications. Besides, you will likely be too busy to get to this job next spring.

Tear out half or more of a good sod by using a field tiller, cultivator, or disk. On rolling land, till on the contour. Leave the ground rough. Till to explode 40 to 60 percent of the soil surface.

If these three steps are done now, the odds of succeeding with early spring seedings are greatly increased, because: (1) the grass was removed when it was in prime nutritional quality, (2) fertilizer and lime was applied when it was easiest and most convenient to do, and (3) tillage was done when the grass was in a dormant stage.

Farm and Home Week

In farming and agrribusiness, profit is the name of the game. And helping you put bigger black figures on the bottom line of your financial statement is what Kentucky Farm and Home Week will be all about.

That's the way the program is shaping up for the "farm" part of the week-long education event scheduled on the University of Kentucky campus in Lexington January 8-12.

To be presented by the UK College of Agriculture and the Cooperative Extension Service, the upcoming Farm and Home Week is a revival of an event that was a long-time tradition among Rockcastle County farm families through the early 1960's.

As it was before, the 1979 event will be a family affair featuring programs of interest and value to men, women and youth.

Theme of Farm and Home Week is "Bottom-Line-79". That's where your profit will show up when you put into use back home what you learn by attending the event.

Topics will span a wide range of specific interests every day of Farm and Home Week for farmers, agrribusinessmen and farm and city homemakers. Many workshops, programs, speeches and exhibits will be presented to help you solve problems, make sound decisions, plan for the future and stimulate your thinking.

You can pick and choose what you want from the "Cafeteria" of information offered. Although there will be something for just about everybody every day of the week-long event, special programs will emphasize specific phases of farming and homemaking each day.

Monday-January 8-tobacco production and the future of one of Kentucky's foremost money crops. Exhibits will be open daily, including a tobacco harvester, manure injector, pasture renovator and large round hay bale transporter developed by UK Agriculture engineers.

Tuesday-Markets and marketing alternatives for getting better prices for farm products, and credit needs for farmers.

Wednesday-Application of solar energy from the sun on the farm and in the home, and energy conservation, including ways you can get more out of the fuel you use. Interpretation of the federal farm program and compliance by farmers also is on this day's schedule.

Thursday- Grain crops and livestock.

Friday- Forage crops and livestock.

Homemakers Plan Pumpkin Bake Sale

Homemade pumpkin treats will go on sale in front of The Bank of Mt. Vernon, Saturday, November 18, between 9 a.m. and noon. The sale is sponsored by the Town and Country Homemakers Club and benefits the Rockcastle County Hospital's proposed Pediatrics Room.

Members of the club have made pumpkin pies, breads, cakes and even pumpkin cheesecakes. Diane Dober, president said.

The club sponsored a sale of general baked goods two weeks ago, and most things were sold by about 10:00 a.m. Mrs. Dober said the club raised $185 at that sale.

The Homemakers are trying to raise $1800 to outfit a room at the hospital for the exclusive use of children. Mrs. Dober said that the room would have furnishings designed for children, as well as special equipment.

children in the Multiple Sclerosis Read-A-Thon. Registration has ended for the program aimed at increasing reading among elementary and junior high school students in the area.

Following the lead of school systems throughout the country, over 850 students from Rockcastle County schools are participating in the program.

Each child who registered received an MS READ-A-thon kit. The child now reads books of his choice at or above his reading level and obtains pledges from his family, friends, and neighbors.

The child reads as many books as he cares to and gets as many pledges as he wishes. At the end of the four-week program, a drawing will be held to award prizes to the children who complete the program and their participating schools.

Steve Caubren, the Kentucky jockey who aboard Affirmed was the winner of horseracing's Triple Crown, serves as the Eastern Kentucky MS Read-A-thon Chairman.

Going Out of Business

The Homepun Shop in Mt. Vernon is going out of business. Nancy Mullins, owner, announced today.

The shop was opened some years ago and adjusting her home at the corner of Williams and Lovell Streets, Mrs. Mullins said a dwindling business and other demands on her time have forced her to close the shop.

The shop handles crafts supplies, gift items, and prints. Some of the crafts items were made by local people, Mrs. Mullins said. The shop was open in the afternoons only, and at one time handled antiques.

Mrs. Mullins said that there will be a one-day sale Saturday, November 18, of the inventory.

Decision to be Made on County's CETA Program by December 31

The money to fund the Comprehensive Employment and Educational Program (CETA) has arrived in Frankfort from Washington, but local CETA employees won't know until December 31, whether they still have jobs.

Hubert Cox, CETA director in Frankfort, said that allocations for fiscal 1979 were received November 13, and that since Congress has trimmed the budget for CETA, there will cuts in the Kentucky program.

"We do not know where the cuts will be on the county level," Mr. Cox said. "There are a number of unanswered questions we are working on. We have to study the formula that were used to determine the public service jobs, and try to apply the same formulas that the Department of Labor uses."

He said that under Title 6 of the CETA law, half of the public service jobs must come under a community-based agency with a specific project to be completed in a specific period. For example, the Weatherization Office is funded only a specific time. He said that staff members working for a county judge-executive have indefinite assignments and do not come under the "Title 6" rule of funding.

Mr. Cox said that that rule may help those who work in community-based agencies.

Mr. Cox said his office report must be completed by December 31. He said all CETA employees will be paid until that time.

Factory Decision to be Made Today

The community will be told sometime today whether or not a Cincinnati-based garment factory is building a manufacturing plant at the Rockcastle County Industrial Park. Bill James, chairman of the Rockcastle Multi-county Industrial Authority announced this week.

Mr. James said that Unified Management Consultants of Atlanta has completed their study of the Mt. Vernon area, and is now going over the information they collected in order to reach a decision for the company.

They intend to start building the factory this month and he is opened in March, Mr. James said, "if they decide to build here."

Unified Management consultants conducted tests and interviews of 1100 women last week at Sparks Vocational School to determine if there are enough people in the area qualified for jobs at the new factory. Mr. James said that over 2500 women answered questionnaire expressing interest in working at the factory, 1100 responded by coming in for interviews; and 800 of these were tested for sewing skills. The ones who were not tested for sewing had indicated that they did not want to do that kind of work.

About 70% of the 800 taking the sewing tests passed, according to officials of Unified Management Consultants.

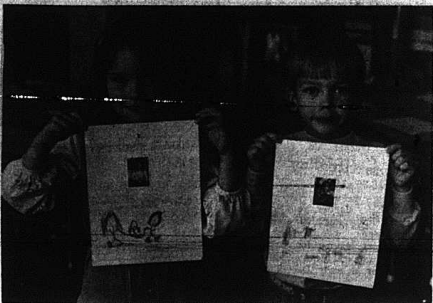

The factory would employ over 250 people in the manufacturing of garments. Among the jobs that would be open are office work, inspecting, cutting, sewing, and supervisory work.

Many volunteers helped at the vocational school during last week's interviews, working without pay under somewhat difficult circumstances, according to Julie Harris, volunteer co-ordinator. She said some of their names were omitted from last week's Signal, including: Cynthia Cox, Muriel Dees, Louise Bailey, Beulah Ridge, Jim Anderkin, Bob Bullock, Bernice Leigh, Maggie Kidwell, Eldon Cildron, Will Chestnut, Mabel Chandler and Chuck Machal.

What is a Parent?

First graders at Brodhead School were asked to answer the question: "What is a Parent?" They illustrated their answers in posters that were put up in the halls for "Parents Visitation Day, November 15."

"A parent is someone who gives us clothes to wear." Cynthia Wolfe, Angela Sussett, who Karen Blainstot said: "But Marly Bussell's parents can sew and make my clothes." Aaron Purcell said "is someone who will help you get dressed."

"Once dressed, the children saw the parent as someone who "keeps food for you to eat." (Hokanna Gray). "Someone who cooks the food you eat." (Jason, Rose) and "someone who feeds us to keep us well." (Wanda Hayes).

"A parent is someone who will take care of you." (Kannah Meade). "Someone who watches while I go to the store myself." (Roman Brummet) and "someone who watches while I play outside." (Toni Jones).

And a parent can be "someone who will play with you, (Angela McKinney), but more often a parent is someone who lets you play with your toys or bike." (Wanona Elkins, Shanda Middleton), and "someone who will fix your broken toys." (John Adams). A parent "helps you with your school work" (Angela Davilan, Janet Barnett), and is "someone who will sit and listen to you read." (Travis Durham).

"A parent is someone who will take you visiting." (Hubert McKinney) and "someone who will take you to the doctor when you are sick." (Emily Owens).

Finally, a parent is "someone who will tuck you into bed (Detrina Leece), and is "someone to love you" (Vicki Miller).

Michael McKinney's entry into the Soil Conservation Poster Contest, held annually in Rockcastle County, shows a fish eating people to keep his water clean. The Conservation Service runs the contest and students are asked to submit essays as well as posters.

Blue Cross Blue Shield Delta Dental

Eat. Drink. And be wary.

We're not going to suggest that people stop drinking. But let's face it. Drinking too much, like eating too much, is bad for your health. What's more, it can lead to an alcoholic dependency. And that's bad news for you, your family, and everybody around.

Here are some tips for sensible drinking. Eat something first to slow alcoholic absorption. Dilute high proof drinks with water or fruit juice to slow the rush to the brain. Sip your drink; don't gulp.

Remember, moderation in food and drink will help you lead a longer, healthier life. Staying healthy is the best kind of health care - and the least expensive.

You can help by taking care of yourself. At Blue Cross and Blue Shield and Delta Dental of Kentucky, we're concerned about rising health care costs. That's why we're working with consumer dentists, physicians and hospitals to find ways to share costs down.

Write us for information on enrolling in quality health care preventative plans. Blue Cross and Blue Shield and Delta Dental of Kentucky, 9901 Linn Station Road, Louisville, KY 40223.
