

SHORT ROWS

By Neville Shockelford

The theory and practice of growing gourds dates back to the time of the Pharaohs and ancient Egypt and today in this age of arts and crafts, these fruits of the vine are as popular as ever.

Next spring, plant a few gourds along the garden fence and the whole family will enjoy them.

Gourds come in many sizes, shapes, markings and varieties. The real payoff in growing them is limited only by your ingenuity in seeing what you can make of them. To give some examples of what others have made, there are bird houses, baskets, bowls, household containers, toys, next eggs, dippers and a host of ornaments for the whatnot shelves.

The bottle gourd produces bottle shaped fruits which, when dried and emptied of seed, make excellent water canteens because the water remains cool in such vessels for a long time. Travelers in the Orient used bottle gourds while crossing or rambling the deserts. These bottle gourds proved very well by the original thermos bottles.

Another useful species is the dishrag gourd that produces a large cucumber like fruit which has become very popular in the United States. The interior of this thin shelled gourd is fibrous and when removed, dried and properly prepared, makes an excellent dish cloth or bath sponge which is always sweet and clean. The very young gourds of this variety are edible. Other species of gourds include the pipe or calabash gourd, powder horn gourd, and the Hercules type. The Hercules nut seeds are very ready to the construction of miniature antediluvian monsters to serve as conversation pieces.

Gourds can be made to grow in various odd shapes and designs by bending them or tying bands around them when they are young. They can even be grown in bottles and jars which can be carefully broken away just before the gourds mature.

Cure ripe gourds in a cool, airy place. Then, thoroughly wash and scrub them by removing the thin outer skin with steel wool or coarse fine sandpaper. You can then paint, carve or burn designs with a hot soldering iron or electric needle.

After polishing and decorating, treat the gourds with transparent furniture wax or shellac to preserve and give them a glossy finish.

questions and answers

Q. My father, who just had a major operation, is being transferred to a skilled nursing facility next week. He says Medicare won't pay for nursing home. Is a skilled nursing facility the same thing as a nursing home?

A. No. A skilled nursing facility is a specially qualified facility which has the staff and equipment to provide skilled nursing care. It is not a nursing home. Medicare will pay for nursing care in a skilled nursing facility after a 90-day period after a hospital stay. Some times Medicare will pay for nursing care in a nursing home.

nursing facility is just one part of a larger institution, and care elsewhere in the institution may not be covered by Medicare. To make sure his care is covered, your father should ask someone at the facility or call a social security office.

Changing Religions

Many people refuse to obey the gospel because they do not want to say of themselves that they have changed religions. They are afraid of relatives and friends about the way they will be called a "turncoat" or a "traitor." These same people thought a hesitating attitude into business would do good or no harm. This is the way when they think they are following themselves. But the real question is: "What is the difference between a man who is not a Christian and a man who is a Christian?"

change "Repent and turn again." Acts 19: 18. He must change from unbelief and become a penitent sinner. Acts 2: 38. One who has been disobedient must obey the Lord to be acceptable. Heb. 5: 9. 2 Thess. 1: 10. He is not a Christian until he has obeyed Christ. Rom. 6: 14. Gal. 3: 27.

There is just a thin line between a man who is not a Christian and a man who is a Christian. There is also just a thin line between a man who is not a Christian and a man who is a Christian. There is also just a thin line between a man who is not a Christian and a man who is a Christian.

V. NOTICE OF SALE

James L. Burke and wife, Jeannie Burke. Defendants
By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Rockcastle Circuit Court, rendered on the 8th day of December, 1978, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door, Main Street, Mount Vernon, Kentucky, to the highest bidder at public auction on the 29th day of December, 1978, at the hour of 10:00 a.m., local time, or thereabout, the following described real property to satisfy the judgement of this Court, to-wit:

workmer must have enough credit for work covered by social security to be insured, a social security representative said recently.
The amount of credit needed varies with the person's age and the kind of benefits involved. Basically, a person needs credit for one year of work for every 4 years since 1950, or, if later after the year he or she reached age 21.
Using this rule, a person reaching 62 in 1979 would need credit for 7 years of work covered by social security to be eligible for retirement benefits. A person having this much credit is said to be fully insured.
Generally, 10 years of work under social security will be required for retirement benefits. This will be the case for people who reach 62 after 1960. No one will ever need credit for more than 10 years.

The situation is slightly different for survivors' benefits. For survivors' benefits to be paid on the record of a person born before 1930, the worker must have had credit for 7 years of work under social security, assuming he or she dies in 1979.

Less credit is required in the case of a worker who dies at a younger age. The requirement ranges down to as little as 1 1/2 years of work credit for workers who die at age 28 or younger.

Under a special rule, benefits can be paid to the children of a worker and their surviving parent if the worker had credit for 1 1/2 years of work in the 3 years before death, regardless of his or her age.

For a person to be eligible for disability benefits, he or she must have credit for a certain amount of work just before becoming disabled in addition to being fully insured. The amount ranges up to 5 out of the 10 years before disability, depending upon a person's age.

For more information about insured status under social security, people should contact any social security office. The address and telephone number of the nearest social security office can be

Mt. Vernon Attorney, John Allen, Dies in Lexington at Age 54

John P. Allen, a practicing attorney in Mt. Vernon since 1950, died last Wednesday at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington after an illness.

He had been practicing law here since his graduation from the University of Kentucky College of Law, and was a member of the Kentucky Bar Association.

Allen was a 32nd degree Mason. He was a veteran of World War I, serving in the Air Force as a First Lieutenant and a fighter pilot.

He was born in Lincoln County on December 2, 1924, the son of Millard F. and Anna Juler Allen and was a member of the Mt. Vernon Christian Church.

Mr. Allen was Vice-President, member of the board and attorney for the Citizens Bank of Brookhead. He was a member of Brookhead Masonic Lodge Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Allen of Brookhead, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jean Riddle Allen of Mt. Vernon, two daughters, Miss Elizabeth Ann Allen of Lexington and Miss Margaret Lee Allen of Mt. Vernon, one brother, Mr. Millard Allen, Jr. of Lexington and one sister, Mrs. Pauline Wright of Somerset.

Funeral services were held Saturday, December 23, at the Dowell and Martin Funeral Home by Bro. Bob Fields. Burial was in the Elmwood Cemetery.

Burialbearers were Mr. Richard Cheatham, Richard Cheatham, Jr., Harold VanHook, Mark VanHook, D.A. Wright, and John Scott Masters.

Four Family Members Give Blood Thursday

"We just thought we would all come in and give," Teddy Brock of Brookhead said, and that answer explained it all.

Mr. Brock and his wife, Edwina, as well as their two young daughters, Debra and Patricia, all gave blood Thursday at The Bank of Mt. Vernon. The blood drive was sponsored by the Rockcastle County Jaycees, and conducted through the Central Kentucky Blood Center in Lexington.

"We thought it was wonderful the way that family came in together," Marty Lake, staff member said.

She said that the drive went very well—26 pints were collected. It was the second drive in the county this year, and Ms. Lake said there would probably be another next summer.

Rockcastle County had fallen behind other counties in the area in blood donation, but has improved its record within the two blood drives. Christmas is one of the most difficult times for the Blood Center, because of increased number of traffic accidents and because people are less likely to be thinking about giving blood.

For those reasons we were happy with the results we had," Ms. Lake said.

Others who gave blood included Steve Midkiff, chairman of the drive, Norma Mullins, Robert Cromer, John

State Announces Changes In Auto Registration Fees

Kentuckians who bought new cars in 1978 will be renewing their license plates on a staggered basis under the state Transportation Department's new registration system.

The system is being phased in over the next few years to end the long waiting lines at county clerk's offices every February, according to O.B. Arnold, commissioner of vehicle registration. For cars purchased before 1978, the renewal deadline is still February 28.

New cars are registered according to the month of purchase, Arnold said. For example, cars purchased in January 1978 must be registered by Jan. 1, 1979. Those bought in February must be renewed by February 1, and so on.

Arnold advised car owners that they can determine their registration deadline by checking the sticker near the center of the license plate. New stickers for 1979 will also have a renewal

In the past the initial registration fee for a new car was prorated based on the time of year it was purchased. A car entering Kentucky from another state also paid a prorated fee. Under the new system a flat fee of $12.50 is charged and the registration is good for 12 months, Arnold said.

Arnold said that truck and motorcycle registrations will not be staggered. As before, truck licenses must be renewed by April 1, and motorcycle licenses expire Dec. 31 with a two-month grace period.

Irene Bales, clerk of Rockcastle County reminds you to check your license receipt or license plate for an expiration date. If the date is December, you must purchase your license plate before January 1st. Any other month, you may purchase it in January.

Ohio Garment Factory Will Construct Plant In Rockcastle's Park

By Jane Kundt

The garment company that did a labor study of Rockcastle County in November will be building a plant at Mt. Vernon's industrial park.

The foundation for the building will be laid in January, and construction should be complete by April or May.

The company will employ 50 people in its first six months, and if everything goes right, its work force should grow to 250 within two years.

The announcement came at a meeting between the Rockcastle Multi-County Industrial Authority and representatives of the Kentucky Highlands Investment Association, held Thursday at The Bank of Mt. Vernon.

No one from the garment company was there. The company also would not release its name to the public, because of competitive reasons, according to Bill James, chairman of the industrial authority. He said the company is currently in the uniform rental business and the Mt. Vernon plant will be its first experience with uniform manufacture. The company did not want to put its current business to any disadvantage, he said.

The Kentucky Highlands Investment Corporation (KHIC) is investing about $600,000 in the project, Fred Beste, KHIC vice president said.

The company said this will be a new kind of business venture for KHIC which is a private company financed partly by the government. Its goals include creating more jobs for Eastern Kentucky, and among the businesses it has helped are Rockcastle Steel Corporation in Mt. Vernon and Possum Trotts in McKee.

Mr. Beste said that KHIC does not usually become involved with large companies, but the new Mt. Vernon factory would be an exception. KHIC will be leasing nine acres in the industrial park, and the new building to the garment factory, with an option to buy both in two years. In addition, KHIC will loan the company $300,000.

"It is a two-year trial project," Mr. Beste said, "but we feel confident about it."

The 160 ft. by 175 ft. building will be constructed by A&S Buildings of Corbin, according to Bob Bruce, the general contractor. Employees will be making work shirts only at first.

The meeting was filled with mutual congratulations and thanks to Rockcastle Countians who helped in the project.

Mr. Beste said that the attitude and enthusiasm of local people had been a selling point in securing factory's commitment.

"We at KHIC hadn't seen anything quite like it," Mr. Beste said, "and that was the aspect that excited us the most about the Mt. Vernon project."

Bill James recognized the members of the Fiscal Court and County Judge-Executive Hubert Thacker.

"It was your far-sightedness in setting up the industrial Authority that made this possible," he said. He also acknowledged the volunteers who helped with the labor study, the Harry Sparks Vocation School where the study took place, and all the "small things that people did like the secretaries who stayed overtime."

The company had wanted to determine how many women between the ages of 18 and 45 years in a 25-mile radius of Mt. Vernon might want to work at the sewing company. About 2300 responded to a questionnaire, and 1100 came to the vocational school for sewing tests and interviews.

Mr. James said, "It is encouraging that we have our first industry for the industrial park and the prospects for additional industry are very good."

"Once an industrial park gets a first factory it becomes eligible for government help in building roads and railroad spurs from the park to transportation lines."

The park was dedicated July 7 at ceremonies attended by Sen. Walter Huddleston, U.S. Rep. Tim Lee Carter and Commerce Commissioner Terry McElroy. It is located on U.S. Highway 150 two miles west of Mt. Vernon, and has space for eleven firms. The park has received $125,000 from the Kentucky Industrial Development Finance Authority's $40,000 from the Cumberland Valley Area Development District and $139,000 from the Appalachian Regional Commission.

Water and sewer lines are currently being constructed.

U.S. Census Bureau Begins Mail Survey of Farms Here

Rockcastle farmers will be receiving a form from the United States Bureau of Census this week or soon after Harold Ballinger, county director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service said by filling out the form and returning it to the government farmers here will help compile valuable statistics on the United States economy and farm and ranching operations.

This year's census is the 21st since 1840 with the last one taken in 1974. This year's form is only four or five pages long and much simpler than the last one which contained 22 pages.

A farmer will only need to answer questions that apply to him, and he can skip those questions or sections that deal with crops or livestock not produced.

Mr. Ballinger said that although the form asks for exact numbers, a farmer can use his best estimate if he does not have exact numbers. A farmer can also request copies of information about his county.

Everyone in the survey will be asked amount of farm acreage by type of ownership, land use, acreage, production, sales of crops, inventory, number

Two Men Hired As Mt. Vernon Police

Two men were hired for the Mt. Vernon Police Department at a called meeting of the City Council, December 20.

Paul D. Thomas, a former member of the United States Navy, was hired for full-time work. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Thomas and lives at Disputant.

Tyrie Gray, Jr., a bus driver for the Rockcastle County school system, was hired as a part time policeman. He and his family are residents of Fairground Hill.

George Coleman, who resigned recently from the Mt. Vernon Police, was hired as a Sheriff's Deputy with the Rockcastle County Sheriff's department.

Ruby Mounce Dies in Fire

Ruby Mounce, age 65, died Monday morning in a fire in her house on U.S. 25 in Livingston. Fire chief Bobby Wilson said that the report to the Livingston Fire Department, was turned in by Calvin Webb.

Allen Mounce, her husband, was visiting their daughter, who lives nearby. He had been gone about a half hour, when he and his daughter saw the fire and went to the Mounce residence. Mrs. Mounce was standing on the porch when they arrived, according to Mr. Martin, but ran back into the house.

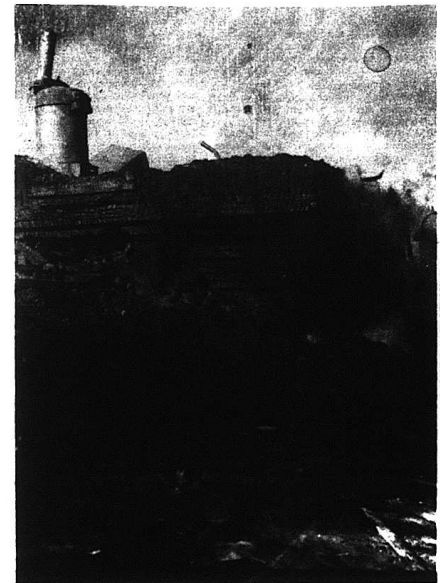

The fire occurred about 10:45 a.m.

Chief Wilson said that anyone who needs to report a fire should phone the Livingston Fire Department at 453-3141 or 453-4301.

Mrs. Mounce was born in Rockcastle Co. on March 8, 1913, the daughter of the late Bill and Alabama Smith Owens and was a member of the Sand Hill Baptist church.

She is survived by her husband, Mr. Henry Mounce of Livingston; one daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Overbay of Livingston; one brother, Johnny Owens of London and one sister, Mrs. Lula Holt of Fairmount; two grandchildren, Bobby Allen Overbay and Lisa Ann Overbay.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday December 27 at the Dowell & Martin Funeral Home by Bro. Carl Moore. Burial will be in the Moore Cemetery at Livingston.

Rubble and a metal stove were all that remained of the Mounce residence Livingston after a fire Monday that claimed one life.

Legislative Report

By Rep. Harold DeMarcus

We are embarking upon the 1978 holiday season, a time of Thanksgiving and brotherhood. While there are numerous matters of concern for Kentuckians, there are also many things that we may take pride in. For each of life's situations there is a positive aspect and it is to our betterment if we look towards the good.

Our state must contain some of the most beautiful areas in America. Although the strip mine process has served to mar landscapes, new state and federal regulations require the coal companies to restore the land to its original contour.

Kentucky ranks very low in the amount of money spent on school systems by local communities, but we have raised ourselves to a level of respectability in the amount of state funds allotted for teacher salaries and the educational system as a whole. Of note is the fact that the state will provide all textbooks to students attending public schools.

Not one cent of your tax dollars will be spent on abortions in Kentucky unless it becomes a medical necessity to save a life of the mother. And over $24 million will be spent in the next two years to provide health care for your children, before and after they are born.

Residents of nursing homes now have a bill of rights that should serve to curb previous abuse. A new law was enacted to include residential areas among those in which new and reconstructed curbs must contain wheelchair ramps at crosswalks.

Probably the most vital staple in our area is the business of agriculture. It is well known that most farmers work harder than anyone. The state legislature can do nothing about the weather and very little about the federal government.

However, we were able to remove the sales and use tax from fuels used to operate stationary engines or tractors used for agricultural purposes. And a law passed that makes tobacco warehouse operators more responsible for your crop when you enlist their services.

As a gesture of respect the Kentucky House of Representatives passed a vote of 92-0 a resolution declaring their support for the American Farm Movement.

The problem of pollution is something that must be dealt with in regards to the present and the future. New laws dealing with the disposal of solid and hazardous wastes were enacted to bring the state into compliance with the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976. One requires counties to have solid waste management collections and sanitary landfills in many areas where they do not now exist. Another provides for strict state regulations of hazardous wastes, such as radioactive materials and dangerous chemicals.

A newly created legislative committee is preparing to review state government spending, program by program and agency by agency. The 16-member Program Review and Investigations Committee's main purpose is to ensure that your tax dollar is being used in the most efficient manner possible.

In a similar vein the Personal Service Contract Review subcommittee will serve notice that the legislature intends to fulfill their most vital role. That being to represent the people and it is the workings of every aspect of personal service contract abuse.

During the 1979 interim period the 138 members of Kentucky's General Assembly will be conducting the most extensive amount of committee work in history. Not only will we be formulating new legislation and reviewing old legislation, but we will study and review the workings of every aspect of Kentucky state government. The purpose of which is to upgrade the standard of living for all Kentuckians.

KU Granted $12.4

Million Rate Increase

The Kentucky Public Service Commission (PSC) has granted a $12.4 million rate increase to Kentucky Utilities Co., but the adjustment is less than half that sought by KU.

"Because the ruling grants an increase nearly equal to the previous emergency rate increase there will be no effect on consumer bills," said Perry Robert White, Jr., PSC executive director.

In the December 21 decision, the PSC rejected the $25.9 million overall rate increase.

rejected the $12.5 million emergency rate increase and established a $12.4 million rate increase.

KU originally sought an overall increase of $25.9 million. That request filed June 29, sought $12.3 million of the $25.9 million on an emergency basis. The emergency increase was granted by the PSC September 1.

CHANGE IN SCHOOL BOARD

The Rockcastle County School Board will meet Tuesday, Jan. 2, at 7 p.m. instead of Monday, because of the holiday.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

On Your Own

Would you, the older person, like to continue to live in your own home or apartment, but find that some of the maintenance chores are a bit heavy? You may do well caring for the flowers, the family cat or dog, and some general household tasks, but cannot mow the lawn, do the gardening or shovel the driveway. Perhaps you can't presently cook your own meals. You may want to make use of voluntary or purchased services. A call to the Voluntary Action Center at 256-3102 will put you in touch with a source for needed services.

Frequently, young people welcome an opportunity to earn spending money by doing maintenance chores. Seeking out and using the help of friends, relatives or purchase services, may allow you to remain at home.

Burley Growers Co-Op To

Favor '78 Quota Kept

By Bennett Roach

As the 1978-79 burley market approaches an early windup in January, the growers are again seeing the effectiveness of strict controls in the tobacco program. A surprise cut of 3.6% last February in the 1978 quota apparently has offset higher yields that would have put supplies out of balance.

Growers and the trade generally were against a cut for 1978, but the USDA applied its rigid formula and lowered the national marketing allowance. As it has turned out, the cut was needed. This year's crop is up 1 percent. Acreage is down, but yield per acre (2,402 pounds) is up 104 pounds from 1977.

The Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association is planning to request that the national marketing quota remain the same for 1979, when the quota hearing is held January 9 to 10 a.m. at Memorial Hall, University of Kentucky in Lexington.

Present stocks of U.S. burley are equal to 3 years' use, or slightly above the recommended 2.8 years formula, and the current crop and carryover are estimated at slightly above year-go-go levels.

The national burley quota for the 1979-80 marketing year must be announced by February 1.

This year's crop, now around 70 percent sold, is estimated at 622.7 pounds, up 1 percent since the market opened, and up 5 million pounds above the 1977 crop of 617 million pounds.

Cherishing news for growers came in this month's USDA figures on burley exports, now expected to reach 120 million pounds in the year ending October 1, 1979. The present year's burley exports were 117 million pounds. Export burley now amounts to about one

DAIRY FARMERS CELEBRATE TENTH ANNUAL MEETING

Dairy farmer-members of Dairy-men, Inc. celebrated their 10th annual meeting in Atlanta, Georgia, December 8-9, and reviewed the regional milk marketing cooperative's achievements for the past decade.

Board president P.L. Robinson of Jonesboro, Tennessee told those in attendance, "Ten years ago, marketing conditions were chaotic."

He went on to say what arose out of the chaos was a marketing organization "second to none," which was formed by dedicated dairy farmers needing a secure market for their product.

Ben F. Morgan, Jr., Executive Vice President and General Manager of Dairy-men, Inc., proudly pointed out that sales of milk during the past decade have grown three and a half times to a total of $662 million in 1978.

"During that period, your cooperative's total assets have increased from $12 million in 1969 to $136 million in 1978," he said to the membership.

"Fiscal year 1978 will go into the records as the year we have withstood economic shocks associated with the dairy industry and maintained our financial stability, while serving our membership well," reported James E. Mueller, Vice President of Finance.

The cooperative's growth is centered around a membership of 6800 dairy farmer members located in 13 southern states. The secure market has allowed those member-owners to keep pace with inflation and protect their average $350,000 on-the-farm investment.

Bible Lesson

"All scripture is inspired of God." - 2 Timothy 3:16, New World Translation.

These words of the Apostle Paul identify the Author of the Bible. Yes, it is the true God who has supplied us with this marvelous book. Jesus, the Son of God, set the highest value on God's word, declaring, "your word is truth." When John received inspired scripture he was instructed to, "write," because these words are faithful and true. "The Bible that we have in our homes is the product of God wanting to give mankind help in coming to a knowledge of His will and purpose.

But just how did the Bible come to us after it was written down? (John 17:17; Rev. 21:3.)

God communicated with some forty human secretaries over a period of 1610 years in producing the Bible. Today these words of the original writings of the Holy Scriptures are known to exist. However, God saw to it that copies were made to replace aging originals. Extraordinary efforts were made by professional copyists to see that accuracy was attained in their handwritten manuscripts. Today there are thousands of these Bible manuscripts.

The first printed Bible came off Gutenberg's press about the middle of the 15th century. During this time and after opposition to having the Bible read by the common people was encountered. Thousands of Bible lovers lost their lives and thousands of copies of the Bible were committed to the flames. One of the victims of the Bible's fight to live was translator William Tyndale, who once declared, "If God gives me life, ere many years the ploughboys shall know more of the Scriptures than the clergy."

Today we have many good Bible translations to consult.

All credit and thanksgiving for the Bible's survival is due to the true God. We, therefore, do well to pay "attention to it as to a lamp shining in a dark place" in this twentieth century. (2 Peter 1:19).

Kentucky Afield

By John Wilson

Since 1978 hunting and fishing licenses expire Dec. 31, many of Kentucky's hunters and anglers are taking a little time in the midst of their holiday shopping to buy their 1979 licenses.

In a sense, that license can also be considered a Christmas present a gift to wildlife conservation. The money sportsmen pay for licenses makes up approximately 80 percent of the department of fish and wildlife's financing.

And you might not know it, but any hunting or fishing equipment on your shopping list is also a present to conservation. Through an 11 percent federal excise tax on such goods, money is provided for Kentucky and the other states to conduct essential wildlife research and to acquire lands for wildlife.

Although you don't have any choice about paying that excise tax, and although the law requires that you have a license to hunt or fish, it's still possible to call these monies "gifts." For like all presents, they are given voluntarily. It was the sportsmen themselves who asked that laws be passed to tax themselves on state and federal levels to support fish and wildlife conservation.

To a non-hunter it must seem strange to think of a shotgun and a box of ammunition, along with a license to put them to use in the field, as a present to wildlife. But those familiar with modern wildlife management know that the hunter is actually the best friend wildlife has.

The money hunters provide pays the salaries of those who enforce fish and wildlife laws and of wildlife biologists who conduct scientific studies and carry out management practices. Sportsmen's money buys land for wildlife, land safe from urban sprawl and other habitat destroying practices which represent the most serious threats to wildlife today.

Sportsmen's money is not used on game species alone. Wildlife management areas or scientifically designed wildlife plantings on private lands provide homes for a wide variety of wildlife species among them: songbirds, insect eating birds and rodent controlling birds of prey.

Money from fishing licenses and from the federal tax on angling equipment helps build lakes and provides access points to rivers and streams. It pays for the construction and operation of hatcheries and finances fisheries research projects. It funds environmental investigations which help keep our waters clean and pollution free.

The licenses buying sportsman is also giving a present to his fellow citizens who do not hunt or fish, since he is relieving them of an additional tax burden. Without the sportsman, the costs of wildlife conservation would have to come from general revenue funds, but under a system like Kentucky's the total costs of operating the fish and wildlife department come from hunters and fishermen, with no general tax monies involved at all.

Those new licenses, by the way, are now available at all county court clerk's offices and at many sporting goods stores, tackle shops or similar establishments and finally from all of us here at the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. Happy New Year.

THANKS

The family of Alva Falin would like to express our appreciation for all the help and kindness we received during the loss of our beloved "papa". A special thanks to those who brought food, for the lovely flowers, Bro. Paul Burton and Bro. Raymond Offutt, the ones who provided the music and songs, Dowell and Martin Funeral Home, members of the Bible Baptist church and to all who visited and prayed for us. Your kindness and sympathy meant so much to the family. May God bless each of you.
Wife, children and grandchildren

Some people once had the "great" idea that the best way to cure a toothache was to eat a mouse.

Angie McClure, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie McClure, won the giant Christmas Stocking given by the Bank of Mt. Vernon. Shown with Angie is Bill James, cashier of the Bank.
