RP FORAGES

The difference between luck and science.

Put your trust in science and not luck by planting genetically superior RP Seeds—Research Proved varieties that improve your chances for getting more meat-and-milk-making forage.

VANGARD variety alfalfa* resists both wilt and anthracnose for top production wherever hot, humid growing conditions threaten summer decline. Leafhopper yellowing tolerance. Topped all varieties in a 77-78 U.K. trial.

APOLLO variety alfalfa* resists Phytophthora root rot (wet foot disease); greater yield potential, less damage from wilt, pea aphids and leafhoppers than other major varieties. Second only to Vanguard in a 77-78 U.K. trial.

REDLAND variety red clover* has greater disease resistance and persistence, for unparalleled extra-season yield potential—up to 40% more than Kenland and Medium. Ideal for grass pasture renovation in Kentucky.

NAPIER variety orchardgrass is later maturing, drought tolerant, for lush grazing straight or in mixtures. Winterhardy; resists leaf disease. Ideal companion with Vanguard Alfalfa.

TORO variety timothy combines extra leafiness and disease resistance with early maturity and quick recovery, for top yields further south than most other timothy varieties. Better than Clair. Ideal companion with Apollo Alfalfa or Redland Clover.

RP Seeds are bred and developed by North American Plant Breeders, Mission, N.C.

*Enhanced with GroZon™ Seed Coating, for extra assurance of establishment and performance of the variety.

'Tax Cut Bill' May Not Actually Lower Your Taxes

By Jane Kundtz

House Bill #44, the "tax cut bill," may not cut your taxes after all, according to Robert Cromer, county tax commissioner.

"People think the laws says you can't pay more than 4 percent of what you paid last year," he said. "So if you paid $100, you only pay $104 this year. But that is not the way it works. The law limits the amount of taxes collected in the county as a whole, not an individual's taxes."

In fact, your taxes may go up if your property increased in value over the last year. And House Bill #44 requires tax commissioners to make more reassessments—half of all property in the county must be physically inspected and assessed this year, under the new rules.

Property is assessed according to "fair market value," meaning the price you, as a willing seller, would take today from a willing buyer.

Mr. Cromer said the new law may lower tax rates over a period of years, but it won't get over the law is only in effect in 1979.

But this year anyway, the total amount of taxes collected last year will be used as a basis to set the "tax rate." For example, if $100,000 was collected in Rockcastle in 1978, then more than $104,000 can be collected this year. After all the property has been valued, the tax rate will be lower or raised so that only $104,000 is collected.

"New property," or that property which has never been taxed before, is an exception to the rule. It will be assessed and then taxed at the rate set in the example above. So in this way, the county and state will really be collecting more than $104,000 with "all growth beyond 4 percent coming from new assessments."

Mr. Cromer said there is a way for a county to get around the rules if it wants to collect more tax money. Ten percent of the voters in the last presidential election can petition for a special election to raise the tax rates.

Rockcastle County tax rates have remained the same for four years. The rates are 13 1/2 cents per $100 to the county general fund; 4 cents, Health Dept.; 1.5 cents, Library; 2 cents, Agriculture ext.; 25 cents, Soil Conservation Service. The state collects 91.5 cents per $100, also. Total tax assessments in the county is about $112 million, Mr. Cromer said.

Attention, Boys!

All boys between the ages of 11 and 18 interested in joining Boy Scouts, there will be a meeting Thursday night at the First Christian Church at 7:00 p.m.

A mangled front end of a Chevrolet station wagon tells the story of the fatal accident which claimed the lives of three Rockcastle teenagers last Thursday night.

State Will Give $316,924 To Repair Rockcastle Roads

Rockcastle County is to receive $316,924 for road improvements and maintenance, the state Department of Transportation announced today.

Transportation Secretary Calvin Grayson said the program for the 1979-80 fiscal year will include blacktop patching for 7.5 miles of Mt. Vernon-Livingston-London Road, and 16.1 miles of KY 1249, Mt. Vernon-San Springs-Billows Road.

These improvements will cost $1,369 of energy road fund allocations, a program financed by coal severance tax revenue. This program was started in 1976, when 60 percent of the allocations were set aside for state-maintained roads, and 40 percent for county roads.

Another $315,555 allocation will provide maintenance along 74.7 miles of rural secondary roads.

The funds will provide maintenance along 74.7 miles of rural secondary roads, Transportation secretary Calvin Grayson said.

Improvement projects include blacktop resurfacing on three miles of KY 1912, Richmond-London Road, and three miles of KY 1249, Mt. Vernon-Sand Springs-Billows Road; and initial blacktop surfacing on 2.7 miles of Three Links Road, known locally as County Line Road.

The rural secondary road program was established in 1948 to help maintain and improve the farm-to-market and other essential rural roads. It is financed with two cents of the nine-cent tax collected on each gallon of motor fuel sold in Kentucky.

Brodhead Fair Set For August 6-11

The Rockcastle County Fair Board has scheduled the Brodhead Fair for the week of August 6 to 11. The Dairy and Beef Shows will be held the Tuesday and Thursday of that week, and exhibits will be open every day from 1 to 10 p.m., starting Tuesday and ending Saturday noon.

The dates will conflict with the State Fair, and 4-H members will not be able to compete at both.

Fair Board members also expressed concern at their first regular meeting February 22, that the current exhibit facility is inadequate.

"The roof leaks," Cheryl Wilt, county extension worker, said, and "people do not want to leave valuable things there."

The Board discussed using the Senior Citizens' Center, which should be built before the Fair, to house the exhibits. The disadvantage of using it, some members said, is that it would be a distance from the Midway.

Fiscal Court representatives told the Board that they could not complete a new grandstand by the

Three Teens Die In Accident, Three More Are Seriously Hurt

Three Rockcastle County teenagers died and three more were seriously injured in an automobile accident on US-150 Thursday night.

Dead are Karen Y. Ellison, Rt. 2, Crab Orchard; David Allen Brown, Rt. 3, Crab Orchard; and Starla Jean Ross, Rt. 1, Brodhead. Each was 18 years old.

Remaining in serious condition at the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington is Ruth Bunch, Mareburg, Susan Hammonds and Tammy Fletcher, who lived near Brodhead, remain in intensive care at St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington.

The three who died were sitting in the front seat of Ms. Ellison's Chevrolet station wagon when the accident occurred, according to State Trooper Jack Lawless. The three who were injured were in the back seat.

The accident occurred about 9:00 p.m. when the teenagers' car veered to the left and over the center line of the curved highway about 2 1/2 of a mile from Mt. Vernon.

The exact spot of the accident was at the first right curve in the road after the Pic Pac Store, near the conveyor belt of the Kentucky Sison Company.

The six were headed toward Brodhead when they sideswiped a two-door Chevrolet driven by Ruth Roark, 40, of London. Ms. Roark was treated at the Rockcastle Co. Hospital and released the same night. Her passengers, Della Caudill, 35, of Keavy, and Harold Neeley, 47, of Berea, were not hurt.

After hitting the Roark car, the station wagon continued to travel in the wrong lane until it collided head-on with a 1976 Mack truck driven by Delmus Mink of Livingston. Mr. Mink told Trooper Lawless that he saw the station wagon coming and tried to avoid it by going into the ditch on his side of the road.

The victims were rushed in two ambulances to the Rockcastle County Hospital, which was put on a "disaster schedule," according to Luke Dober, administrator. This meant that all three doctors, and a staff of nurses and technicians were called to treat the injured. Mr. Dober said the three injured women were given emergency care and pain relievers, and then sent to Lexington for further treatment.

Families of victims were notified by the hospital staff.

An emergency blood drive for the three survivors of the accident was held at The Bank of Mt. Vernon Monday.

Lonnie Smith was one of fifty Rockcastle Countians who donated blood to help three local girls, injured in an automobile accident last Thursday night. With him is Martha Lake, a staff member of the Central Kentucky Blood Center.

Improvement Awards Given To County's Fire Departments

The Rockcastle County Improvement Council honored the county's three fire departments Monday night at their Annual Meeting by presenting each with an improvement award.

Accepting the awards were Bobby Wilson, chief of the Livingston Fire Dept., John Cox, chief of the Mt. Vernon Fire Dept., and Bryan Bussell, deputy chief at Brodhead.

Gatloff Craig said, in making the presentation, "We are grateful to you and want to recognize the outstanding job you do. We might not be sitting here if it were not for your efforts."

Mr. Craig was referring to a recent fire next door to the PCA Building, where the Council meets. All three fire departments worked to keep it from spreading down Mt. Vernon's Main Street. In other business, the Council voted to retain its slate of current officers for another year's term. They are Bill James, president; Roy Brown, vice president; Gatloff Craig, secretary; and Clay Colson, treasurer. County Judge-Executive Hubert Thacker is a director-at-large.

Julie Harris and Ron Cain reported that they will be making Mt. Vernon's All-Kentucky City Presentation March 6 in Lexington. The presentation consists of a slide show about the city, which counts 40% of the award, and a book about the city, which counts 60%. High school students designed the covers of the record book.

The Council watched the slide show, which focused on the year 1978 as a one of progress for the city.

Pictures of the July groundbreaking for the Rockcastle Multi-County Industrial Park, the hospital addition, and nine new businesses started in 1978 highlighted the first part of the show. The second part dealt with curfural life and included slides of Kentro Cedar Rapids, Country Club, and the Living Waters Music Festival, among others.

Ms. Harris said that the presentation is available for clubs and other groups or for classroom use.

School Entrance Age Rules Have Changed

Parents that plan to enter their children this fall in first grade or kindergarten should be careful not to overlook the new state law that requires a child to be five years of age by September 1 to enter kindergarten and a child to be six years of age by September 1 to enter the first grade.

If your child will be five years of age between September 1 and December 31, and you wish to enter him in kindergarten or you wish to enter him in the first grade, you may request an application at the office of the county school superintendent on Richmond Street in Mt. Vernon. The application is for a readiness test to determine if your child will qualify for the desired program. (Cont'd to P-10)

Neighbors Help Deathages Put Out Fire Sunday Night

Neighbors of the Deathage family in Barnett Subdivision helped them put out a fire in their home Sunday about 8 p.m. People used fire extinguishers and water hoses, according to John Cox, Mt. Vernon Fire Chief, who said it was over before the Fire Department arrived.

Mr. Cox said it started in the living room, possibly from a cigarette igniting a couch. Furniture in the room was carried out, but the house was smoke-damaged, he said.

The city will install two fire hydrants in Barnett's Subdivision this spring.

Harold Rogers

Harold Rogers Announces For Lieutenant Governor

Harold Rogers, Somerset, formally announced today that he will seek the Republican nomination for Lt. Governor. Rogers made his announcement in press conferences held in Somerset, Lexington and Louisville. In announcing his candidacy, Rogers said, "We have had enough of cronyism, corruption, government waste and politicians who refuse to respond to them with action. We have too much pride in our State and its heritage to allow this to continue. We have the people, the natural resources, and the character to be a great state-wide in holding Kentucky back is a lack of honest, responsive and enlightened leadership. We need a new voice—new leadership, a new direction and a new day for Kentucky. I believe I can fill a vital role in bringing about that new day."

Rogers has served as Commonwealth Attorney for Rockcastle and Pulaski County for the last nine years. Also, Rogers was a founder and first President of the Pulaski County Industrial Roundtable, which was brought thousands of new jobs and hundreds of new businesses to south central Kentucky. This has helped to make Somerset one of the fastest growing cities in the state and one (Cont'd to P-10)

Legislative Report

By Rep. Harold DeMarcus

There are two topics stemming from the recent special session that are worthy of further review. They are: House Bill 40, which will remove the 5% sales tax from most residential utilities as of June 1979 and the unsettling practices of current state government spending.

The 5% sales tax will be removed from most residential utilities, however, this removal will not include residential telephone services.

The Chairman of the House Appropriations and Revenue committee stated that the sales tax on telephone bills should not be removed because the telephone is not a necessity, and that the removal would result in a $12 million loss in state revenue. The Republican response to this was that, in fact, there are a lot of people who depend on their telephone and $12 million is a small sum when you consider that the Department for Human Resources has a $900 million budget.

If telephone bills would remain as they are now the situation would not be of such immediate concern. But on February the 16th, the South Central Bell telephone company requested Kentucky's Public Service Commission to grant them a $44.6 million rate increase.

During the special session, the General Assembly appropriated $150,000 to the Attorney General's office, these funds are to be used to pay lawyers to represent the consumer before the Public Service Commission when utility companies attempt to raise their rates. Perhaps the consumer will feel better than he has in the past but one thing for sure, telephone bills will not be reduced.

The General Assembly spent $91 million in the special session and that figure the only real tax cut was the sales tax removal from residential utilities which will cost $55 million. Considering the tax cut, expenses for the session and the expansion of state government, the legislature appropriated an additional $14 million. Since Kentucky's Executive Budget is $7.5 billion, this increased spending is not a step towards fiscal responsibility.

If you will remember, at the beginning of the session the governor stated that there was no surplus in the executive budget and for there to be tax cuts there must also be corresponding spending cuts. The General Assembly did find a healthy surplus and also reviewed the practices of state government to such an extent that they would have been able to make fair and competent budget reductions.

At the last moment, the democrat leadership in the legislature decided to finance the special session's spending with the newly found surplus, thus delaying any budget cuts until 1980. As a result, the state's budget will not be balanced and the state will have almost no surplus funds to soften the loss of federal money caused by the President's new budget.

What the present administration and its legislative allies have done is pass their responsibilities to 1980's governor and general assembly. Even the governor has stated that the next governor will have $130 million less per year to balance his budget. However, if the fiscal responsibility of the Republican Party is brought back to Kentucky, there will be tighter controls on state spending and more relief for the taxpayer.

It has been said many times, there is a lot of waste in Kentucky's state government, and it is a fact. However, the Personal Service Contract Review committee has proven itself to be one legislative entity that is dedicated to finding and stopping this waste.

Lambert Proposes Extending Homestead Exemption to Persons Blind or Disabled

Joe Lambert, 30, Republican candidate for State Representative, today proposed extending the homestead tax exemption of $10,200 to cover persons who are blind or disabled.

In making this announcement, Lambert said, "The homestead amendment for persons 65 or older recognizes that elderly persons are forced to live on a decreased and fixed income. The extension I propose simply recognizes that persons who are blind or disabled also have a decreased earning capacity just because a person has the dreadful misfortune of losing his health or eyesight does not mean that he also fear the possibility of losing his home."

Lambert added, "One of the basic principles of our nation is compassion for unfortunate or disadvantaged persons. We must remember that every person faces the possibility of blindness or severe disability, and we must help those who have met with such

Joe Lambert

On February the 13th, the Personal Service Contract Review committee stripped $250,000 from a Department of Finance contract, the contract is with the Space Utilization Association in Los Angeles. We of the committee forced a $250,000 reduction in this contract during our July meeting, thus making a $500,000 reduction in this personal service contract which was, as you can see, too excessive to begin with.

Also, the committee refused to give its approval to a $200,000 contract with a Lexington lawyer to review the state's investigation of the May 1977 Beverly Hills Supper Club fire, because we felt the cost was too excessive and the contract is not needed because it is merely a duplication of the work done by the Campbell County grand jury.

There is still a lot of work to be done if state government is to properly serve the people, but the Personal Service Contract Review Committee is a gigantic step in the right direction.

FOOD STAMP APPLICATIONS RISE SUBSTANTIALLY

Following a major change in food stamp procedures, new applicants for the coupon program rose substantially in Kentucky in January compared to the previous month, a Department for Human Resources survey reveals.

Gail Huecker, commissioner of the department's Bureau for Social Insurance, said new applications increased 71 percent in the sample of 30 counties. Huecker said the figures suggest that the recent change in the federal program will result in a significant increase in food stamp usage. As of Jan. 1, food stamp recipients are no longer required to purchase a certain amount of coupons each month to get the additional "bonus" stamps which help boost purchasing power. Now, only the "bonus" stamps are given to recipients, at no cost. The 30 counties were chosen to reflect each region of the state. The increase in new applications roe, Pulaski, Russell, Wayne and Rockcastle.

C.B. Owens retired this week after over 40 years of service at the Brodhead Post Office.

C.B. Owens, Postmaster, Retires

C.B. Owens has been working for the Brodhead Post Office for over 40 years and February 28th was his last day on the job.

When he started in the 1930's, he was a mail messenger earning $7.50 a month. Mail at that time was carried by train. Later the "highway post office buses" moved the mail before trucks took over. Mr. Owens says he can remember well the 2e letter and 1c postcard.

He said he has seen the mail service go from "horse and buggy days to computers," and that not all the changes have been for the better.

The frequent criticism that the mail moved faster in the "old days" does not take into consideration that there is much more mail nowadays, he said.

"First class mail is still an excellent service," he said. "You can get second day delivery to most places in the United States."

The Brodhead Post Office was on the corner of Main Street when Mr. Owens started and later moved near the Riddle Store before its present building was completed in 1949. Mr. Owens, who is now Postmaster, worked with the post office all those years except from 1944 to 1946 when he was in the Navy.

Mr. Owens said that he is looking forward to his retirement, and intends to "mow the lawn, play a little golf and fuss with my wife."

CROMER'S CELEBRATE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cromer of Eubank, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary recently in Indiana with their children and many friends and relatives. They enjoyed opening many gifts and cards.

The couple were married on January 11, 1929 at Bloss. They have ten children: six sons, Arnold, Jr., Pretsel, Ralph, Dean, and Delmas Cromer all of Indiana and Mike Cromer of Colorado; four daughters, Pauline Karandas, Christine Pyles, Geneva Waldon, Janetta Sears, all of Indiana. They also have 24 grandchildren and four great grand children.

They feel that working hard, keeping busy and having the love of all their children has made them happy and keep them together and the love for each other.

The couple are now wearing brand new golden wedding rings that their youngest son, Mike, made in Colorado.

Mrs. Cromer also recently underwent surgery at Lake Cumberland Medical Center in Somerset.

Monday with Mrs. Gravelly Burton.

Jack R. Craig of Mt. Vernon was one of a group of men who visited the Edwards family in Florida this week. Pilot of the plane was Terry Leach of Bristol, Tenn.

Renee and Calvin Creech spent the weekend with their father, Bill Creech of Goshen, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hasty and Connie and Renee Creech visited Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hasty and Melissa of London.

Becky Griffin of Livingston spent Sat. night with Misses Renita and Denise Creech.

By Leila Stokes

Tommy Nicely while working on a job in Milwaukee, Wis., being sent there by his employer in Lexington, was seriously injured when a furnace he was checking exploded. He was hospitalized there for several days.

Lewis D. Nicely, upon receiving word immediately left for Milwaukee. At this report Tommy is back at home in Lexington with his family, still in a painful condition but thankful to be home and shows improvement.

Mrs. Katie Fund and Mrs. Lucinda Thacker received word February 16, that their sister, Mrs. Emma Gill passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Bowling in Hamilton, Ohio. Her body was brought to the Bowling Funeral Home in London, for visitation on Friday evening and funeral Saturday evening with burial in the Edwards Cemetery in Laurel County. Survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Thacker and Mrs. Fund; one brother, Willie Philpot of East Bernstadt; four sons and three daughters. Mr. Katie Fund attended the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stokes have returned home from a visit with their daughter, Mrs. and Mrs. Anthony Hunt and son, Andrew Lee, in Charlottesville, Va., their sons and families, Doug Stokes, Orlando, Fla., Jerry Stokes in Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Owens in Dayton Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Thomas Sams, her grandson on his wife, visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Millard J. Talant in Mt. Vernon last week. They were enroute from Florida to Ohio where they are moving.

From the Wildlife Messenger: Bill and Sadie Stewart observed 56 years of marriage together on February 23rd. Our sincere wishes of the day.

At the Sweetheart Banquet on Feb. 10th, Patti Towery was selected as queen and received half dozen red roses. Its remarkable that 21 attend the banquet considering the severity of the weather. Congratulations, Patti.

Mr. and Mrs. Vermer Ballinger received word recently from Mr. and Ms. Dewey Kirby from Lake Havasu, Ariz., where they have been going for several years for the winter, that this winter was the first cold weather and snow that they have seen there.

We appreciate hearing from Mr. and Mrs. Brossart through Mr. and Mrs. William Kinser of Livingston, who visited the Brossarts last fall, at El Rancho Village, Bradenton, Fla., Elmer and Ruth are formerly of this county, and have been living in Florida for several years, where Mr. Brossart is improving wonderfully in health.

Mrs. J. D. McFerron flew home last week in Ft. Myers and tried to participate in the wedding of her great niece, Shirley Raye Riddle, to Steven Lee Caperton on Feb. 17th at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Riddle.

A radiant Christian lady is Mrs. Minnie Anderkin (aunt Minnie to many). She celebrated her 86th birthday Feb. 5th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Laura Haskins and granddaughter, Terri. With both legs amputated, she gets around marvelously in her wheelchair. I think this poem applies to her. "You don't have to tell how you live every day, you don't have to say if you're gray. A wind barometer serves in its place. However you live, it will show in your face. The sweet light of peace and contentment in whatever circumstance this dear one is in is immediately noticeable in her countenance."

Sympathy is extended to Norma Mullins upon the death of her brother, Harold Coffey. Bro. Coffey passed away this week in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ball of London visited Mrs. Lydia Howard Saturday.

Rick L. Owens of Ft. Wayne, Ind., an R.N., who is in the Coronary Care unit of Lutheran Hospital, after graduating from Detroit, Mich. Nursing Center, spent the weekend with his grandmother, Mrs. Zelma Bullock.

Mr. and Mrs. Revell Pike and son, Wade are residing in the vicinity of Los Angeles, California since Mr. Pike has returned from Iran. He has resumed the same job he was in charge of there. They arrived in the USA safely.

Mrs. Becky Jones is visiting her sister, Mrs. Joseph Slemp and Mrs. Slemp this week and attended the Senior Citizens program. Mr. and Mrs. John Bray of Cincinnati, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cole of Richmond, Ind. recently visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Brown in Mt. Vernon.

Mrs. Shirley Coker of Miami Beach, Florida was with her mother, Mrs. Hazel Owens at the St. Joseph Hospital while visiting her brother, Paul Owens and family in Lexington during the weekend.

Miss Kathy Baker of EKU, Richmond, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Baker on Newcomb Avenue over the weekend.

Mrs. W. L. Kinser has been making frequent visits to Lexington to be with her mother, Mrs. Clara Bustle, who has been critically ill at the Central Baptist Hospital.

Mr. Jimmy Whittaker was taken from the Rockcastle Co. Hospital Tuesday to the Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington for further treatment.

Mrs. Clarice Tallant is a home from a recent visit with her son and family in Renton, Washington.

Mrs. Fannie Thompson was taken to the Berea Hospital last week suffering from pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Renner, Teresa, Tony, Missie, and Johnathan Scott visited Mrs. Leila Stokes Monday. I was surprised to see handsome little Johnathan Scott growing up so fast.

Cumberland Falls State Resort Park Plans Ky. Hills Week End

Are you "ready" to lose weight?

If you are, I have something important to tell you.

At Weight Watchers, we understand how miserable it is to be fat . . . . .

And I say, "There's no need to be fat anymore."

On our Weight Watchers Program, we teach you how to eat to lose weight without being irritable and hungry and also how to keep it off.

Kentucky Afield

By John Wilson

An increasing number of fishermen know that angling success can sometimes depend as much on a good map as on the right lure. Particularly among bass fishermen, the ability to locate "structure" areas in deep water is an important skill as accurate casting.

The emphasis today is on pinpoint fishing because of fairly recent angling theories that bass tend to concentrate in certain areas of the lake and that they remain in the "holding areas" except for infrequent feeding forays along the shoreline.

Ninety percent of the bass will generally be grouped in about 10 percent of the lake. So it's obvious that the angler who can locate that 10 percent is way ahead of the fisherman who blindly casts the shoreline, hoping to find the bass there.

Indispensable to the "structure" fisherman is a detailed map which shows the contours of the lake bottom. With such a map, the experienced angler can have a fairly good idea of where he wants to fish before he even gets to the lake.

Once on the water, he'll probably use his map in conjunction with a depth finder, to locate such "structures" as old road beds, creek channels, submerged timber, drop offs and other areas of the lake bottom that are potential bass hot spots. And after a day's fishing, a good map can sometimes come in really handy for finding the way back to the door.

However, finding good contour maps of lakes can be difficult. The best maps for just about any outdoor pursuit are the U.S. Geological Survey's 7 1/2 minute quadrange maps. These maps have a large scale (one inch represents 2,000 feet) and are extremely detailed.

But the fisherman who shoots off an order for these maps may be disappointed. Instead of showing underwater contours for his favorite lake, the map may indicate the body of water only in blue outline form. Up until fairly recently, the USGS revised its maps soon after the impoundment of man-made lakes, taking out the contours of the lake bottom.

Now, however, the maps are being re-revised to show underwater contours, but the process is a slow one. To find out what is currently available for Kentucky write to the Map Sales Section, Department of Commerce, 133 Holmes Street, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. The folks there will furnish you a list showing the map status of 25 lakes in the state, along with prices and ordering information.

If current maps do not show contours for your favorite lake, it's sometimes possible to make your own. The USGS can sometimes furnish copies of out of print maps—old editions made before the lake was impounded.

With one of these maps, it's fairly easy (although time consuming) to trace the lake outline at the proper elevation. Just find out the height of the water above sea level and run a pencil around the contour line nearest that level and there's your fishing map, complete with old road beds, building sites and other potential fish holding structures not found on newer maps.

The Map Information Office, U.S. Geological Survey National Center, Sunrise Valley Drive, Reston, Virginia, 22092 is the source for these out of print maps. Tell them the name of the lake you're interested in and the state and counties where it's located. Be sure to specify your interest in bottom contour maps.

The USGS will tell you if the maps you need are available and what the charges are for reproducing them for you. The cost will probably be higher than the $1.25 charge for current maps.

BIBLE LESSON

"Your word is a lamp to my foot, and a light to my roadway." Psalm 119:105.

That is how the Bible palamist described God's Word, and appropriately so, because the Bible serves as a light to our path. The way God wants them to go. Surely such a book as this-the Creator's Guide for all mankind-deserves careful study. Not only should all lovers of God's word be well acquainted with its contents, but they also ought to know how it was produced. Why it can be said that it is "inspired of God." -2 Tim. 3:16.

Bible writing dates back to the year 1513 BCE when Moses was directed to begin the record. It was late in the first century CE when the apostle John finished his writing, thus bringing Bible writing to an end, after about 18 centures. No other book took so long to complete as the Bible.

Originally written in Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek, the Bible, as we know it, has sixty-six books. The books remained as separate rolls long after the Bible writing closed. What is most important, though, is what the books contained.

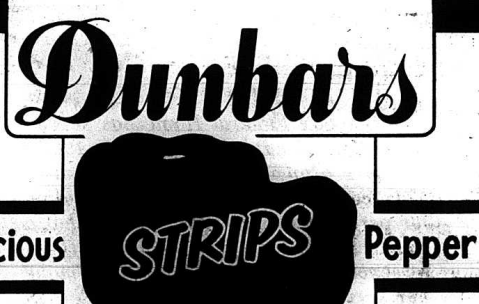

It was not a mere heightening of the intellect and emotions on the part of the one who wrote scripture. God caused his own spirit to become operative on these men. That is why Peter could declare: "Prophecy was at no time brought by man's will, but men spoke from God as they were being moved by holy spirit." -2 Peter 1:21. In at least one case, however, the information was supplied in written form by God himself. This was the set of Ten Commandments, God giving it to Moses on two "tablets of stone written on by God's finger." -Exodus 31:18.

For the above reasons Christians should, above all, be keenly concerned about investigating this book that is authored by the one who created us. This is not a "secular" truth. "John 17:17. The more you become familiar with the sixty-six books of the Bible the more you will be convinced that it is indeed the Creator's Guide for all mankind.

A date in April will be announced for the test to be given in each of the elementary schools. A child that is currently enrolled in either kindergarten or first grade will need not be concerned about this regulation, because they are exempt from the state law.

Children who are six years of age by September 1 must now go to school, instead of seven as it was in the past. These children may go to kindergarten if their parents give their consent. If this approval the child must be placed in the first grade.

of the bright spots in the nation's Appalachian region.

Rogers said the time has come to put the Lt. Governor's Office to better use. As an example of how he would expand the Lt. Governor's duties, he said it was his intention to spearhead an industrial development effort for Kentucky. Citing his record of promoting industrial growth in Somerset, Rogers stated "Many of the people's frustrations can be solved by the creation of more and better jobs."

He stated the Lt. Governor's duties are too few and those duties that are assigned the office had been ignored by its recent occupants. As an example, Rogers pointed to the ombudsman duties of the Lt. Governor's Office. "I want to be the people's voice in Frankfort," said Rogers. "I will make the Lt. Governor the People's Advocate. I will schedule regular community meetings to talk face to face with the citizens of Kentucky, to listen to their problems and their frustrations, but more importantly, to take their message back to Frankfort, and help make the government respond to the people's real needs. In addition, I will establish a toll-free number in the Lt. Governor's Office for those to call who are having problems in dealing with Frankfort's bureaucracies."

Service.. FROM OUR FAMILY FOR YOUR FAMILY

The Cox Funeral Home has served Rockcastle County families since 1907. We have grown along with the county. Yet, we have never lost our reputation for personal service. We believe that a Funeral Director's first duty is to those he serves. Our continued duty is to make our service flexible, and reasonable. In this way, we are able to consult and advise so that everything is done according to the wishes of the family. Help....from one family to another.

Restaurant Computers
The Rockcastle County Health Department will be using a state-wide computer system in its restaurant inspections, Steve Midkiff, a health environmentalist said today.

Scores on cleanliness and food due dates and other points of inspection will be put into the computer to help the health department keep better records and improve analysis of inspection results.

Mr. Midkiff said that the computer system will eventually include food store inspections.

Ida Abney Recalls Her First Year of Teaching At Bummer's One-Room School Some 40 Years Ago

Ida McKinney Abney was a young girl in the early 1920's when she had her first year of teaching at Bummer, Ky. She subsequently taught 43 years in the Rockcastle County School System. The following is an excerpt of a tape recording Mrs. Abney made for the Kentucky Oral History Project, through the Rockcastle Library.

I had to take any school I could get, so when I heard there was an opening at Bummer School, my brother and I saddled up our mules to see the trustees. We went to see a Mr. Drew, one of the trustees, and after talking with him, I was accepted as the new teacher, and it was decided that I could board with the Drews, who lived near the school.

What stands out most in my mind about that trip was how tired my brother and I were. It was 28 miles, and in those days, women were supposed to ride side-saddle. That made it very uncomfortable.

I hated to leave home, but when it was time, my brother and I packed up a trunk for me and loaded up the Jolt Wagon, to make our journey again. There were more than a few tears when I left, but I was eager to make my own money and wanted to be a teacher.

The weather-boarded school was in terrible shape. There was bad language written all over the walls, and I swept and dusted to make it presentable to the children. I had all eight grades in one room. When the children came, I learned their names and asked them to take out their books. To my great sorrow, not one of the children had books. (Mrs.

Abney explains that in 1928, the Kentucky Governor helped pass a law that each child must have three textbooks.)

In the morning, we had reading, spelling and arithmetic. The children sat on a "Recitation Bench" and took turns reading their lessons. Then we had recess, and we played many games. We loved baseball in the spring.

When it came to arithmetic, the children had very little paper for the calculations. Some had slates made of black stone, and they had to have special pencils to write on.

School started in July in those days, and as the school year progressed, maybe one-half of the children stopped coming. In those days, they had no warm clothes and there weren't any second-hand shops available. But we were lucky to have coal and a pot-belly stove.

I didn't know how to start a fire, and one girl let me pay her 5 cents to start it every day. Later I learned she was using pine knots, which is the part of the tree left after the rest of the tree rots. The children showed me how to find the pine knots to start the fire.

sometimes rode my mule home to see my family on the weekends. Once Renfro Creek had overflowed because of some heavy rains, and I was in a predicament. I was six miles from home, and eight miles from the Drews, where I boarded. But I had by this time built up some faith in my old mule, and I knew that mules could swim. So I put my feet up and we went into the creek. The water was not deep enough for the mule to swim, and we made it safely across.

Later I learned that a Mr. Taylor had been watching us to make sure we were safe, and he and I became friends after this.

It was so uncomfortable to ride side-saddle, I began to change to the man's style after I got away from the Drews. When I got near my parent's home, I would change back to side-saddle so that they would think I had ridden all that way in the lady's fashion. When I look back, I know they were not fooled, and I imagine they never said anything because they thought it was safer and more comfortable for me to ride that way.

On the last day of school I gave each child a bag of stick candy. I remember how their little eyes lit up, and how sad we were to be leaving each other.

But my brother came for me again in the Jolt Wagon, and we packed up my things to go home. I had had a wonderful year. The money I was so eager to make was less than $50 for the entire term.

Stone Made Available For Pulaski

The following is an excerpt from the Tuesday, February 13, 1979 (page 12) issue of The Commonwealth Journal.

Three thousand and twenty-five tons of stone will soon be available for use in the repair of some 22 ailing county roads, through the action of local Representative Harold DeMarcus.

DeMarcus said that he was very happy to obtain the approval of this allotment for the traffic bound roads in his district of northern Pulaski.

Furthermore, DeMarcus said he was still working on getting some aid for blacktop roads in the Eubank, Estersburg, Goodhope, Hazledale, and Catron areas.

In information sent to The Commonwealth Journal the representative also emphasized that money for the state came from Frankfort and will not affect county road aid funds.

Mrs. Abney as a young teacher. She retired in 1967, after almost four decades of service to the Rockcastle County Schools.

The students above comprised the entire student body of the school, and grades 1 to 8 were taught in one room.

COLLEGE AWARENESS WEEKEND

Kentucky high school juniors and seniors are invited to participate in "college awareness weekend" Friday and Saturday, March 2 and 3, at Fayette Mall on Nicholasville Road in Lexington.

Sponsored by the Kentucky Association for Promotion of College Admissions (KAPCA), the program opens at 1 p.m. March 2 and closes at 8:30 p.m. March 3.

Representatives from 30 Kentucky colleges and universities and the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA) will be available to answer questions, distribute information literature, and help students fill out forms for financial aid and admissions.

Participating colleges include: Centre, Berea, Midway, Asbury, Alice Lloyd, St. Catharine, Kentucky Wesleyan, Lindsey Wilson, Thomas More, Lees Junior, Union, Cumberland, Bellarmine, Spalding, Sue Bennett, Georgetown, Southeastern Christian, Campbellsville, Brescia, Pikeville and Lexington Technical Institute.

The participating universities are UK, Eastern, University of Louisville, Western, Kentucky State, Transylvania, Murray and Morehead.

For further information, contact Dan Seaver, Room 706, Gillis Building, University of Kentucky, Lexington, phone 606-257-1606.

Meeting Scheduled

Two experts from the University of Kentucky will lead a meeting about growing vegetables and fruits for roadside marketing on Friday, March 9.

The experts are Dr. David L. Hensley and Dr. John L. Strang. They will discuss topics like suitable varieties, soils, fertilizers, disease, insects, weed control measures, seed sources, planting, harvesting and marketing. Home gardeners may also want to attend the free session.

Dr. Hensley has a Ph.D. from Purdue University in horticulture, and he is director of educational programs in horticulture for the Eastern Kentucky region of UK's extension program.

Dr. Strang has a Ph.D. in Pomology (study of fruits) from Oregon State University. He develops UK's educational programs related to fruits and vegetables with emphasis on roadside marketing.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. at the PCA Building (across from the courthouse in Mt. Vernon).

Projected Population Figures for County Show Increase to 16,000 by 2010

Two University of Kentucky geographers are predicting that the population of Rockcastle County will grow from 12,900 in 1975 to 16,437 by 2010. The professors also say that employment will increase from 4525 in 1975 to 6908 by 2010.

For complete figures, see accompanying chart.

Dr. P.P. Karan and Dr. Wilford Bladen are specialists in urban and regional planning and have served as consultants to local and state governmental agencies in the U.S. and overseas.

They did not take into consideration the Rockcastle Multi-County Industrial Park, which is expected to employ more than 700 in the next ten years or so. Dr. Karan said that industrial growth was projected using only those businesses and conditions that existed in 1975. The industrial park may make a difference in the county's growth, Dr. Karan said.

The figures will be sent to official planning agencies, he said.

Dr. Karan and Bladen are predicting that more Kentuckians will be working in the future and unemployment will fall over the next 30 years.

Agriculture employment is expected to decrease from 6.11 percent of the total labor force in 1980 to 3.41 in 2000, and 3.00 in 2010. Service jobs will rise from 14.76 in 1980 to 16.61 in 1990. Mining equipment is projected to change from 3.49 percent of the total employment in 1980 to 3.87 in 2010. Wholesale and retail jobs will make up 17.20 of Kentucky's labor force in 1980 and 18.27 in 2010.

How Rockcastle Will Grow

YEAR	POPULATION	NUMBER OF EMPLOYED PERSONS
1975*	12,900	4,525
1980	13,146	5,698
1985	13,553	5,874
1990	14,000	5,921
1995	14,525	6,339
2000	15,108	6,583
2005	15,725	6,825
2010	16,437	6,908

Changes in Food Stamp Program

On March 1, the Department for Human Resources will begin implementing major changes in the federal food stamp program, including a revision in eligibility standards, Bureau for Social Insurance Commissioner Gail Huecker said today.

Under the new rules, income limits used to determine eligibility will be lowered to federal poverty guidelines set by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget. Formerly, the limits were established by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Some families with higher incomes no longer will qualify for food stamps and others will receive less benefits. Some lower income families will receive increased benefits, Huecker said.

At the same time, more lower-income families are expected to apply for food stamps because of a recent program change. As of Jan. 1, recipients were no longer required to buy food stamps each month to receive the "bonus"

Kim Howard scored 8 points in the girls game which saw the Rocket girls take command early and keep it. Diane Thacker was leading scorer with 13.

Heart Sunday is March 4th

Sunday, March 4th, is Heart Sunday. The Rockcastle Co. Heart School FHA Chapter, under the leadership of president Teresa Gllovak, will be canvassing communities in the county between the hours of 2:00 and 4:00 p.m. Sunday, March 4. The drive was postponed from an earlier date due to inclement weather.

TAX RETURN DUE SOON FOR FARMER, FISHERMEN

March 1, 1979, is the deadline for some farmers and commercial fishermen to file their 1978 federal income tax return and pay any tax due, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Persons who earned at least two-thirds of their 1978 gross income from farming or fishing and did not file a declaration of estimated federal individual income tax by January 15, 1979, or pay any amount of estimated tax by this date, must file their return and pay all tax due by March 1, 1979, to avoid a penalty.

Dean's List

U of K

Henry Casey Hines, of Rt. 3, Mt. Vernon, has made the Dean's list at the University of Kentucky for the 1978 fall semester. A student must attain a high academic standing based on a 4.0 grading system to be honored by the dean.

Berea

Three Rockcastle County High School graduates have been named to the Dean's honor list at Berea College for the fall term. They are Lynn Bivins, Alicia Dick and Darla Reams.

To be eligible, a student must receive a grade of B or better in all of four or more courses.

Ms. Dick, a sophomore nursing major, is the daughter of Glenis E. Dick of Rt. 4, Mt. Vernon.

Ms. Bivins, a sophomore biology major is the daughter of Glenis E. Dick of Route 1, Mt. Vernon.

Ms. Reams, a senior physical education major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Reams of Orlando.

Berea is a non-denominational private liberal arts college which also offers degrees in agriculture, business administration, home economics, industrial arts and nursing. Each student works at least 10 hours a week in a college-related job to help meet expenses.

Cumberland

According to Dr. E.C. Masden, Cumberland College Academic Dean, 339 students were named to the Dean's List for the first semester of the 1978-79 school year.

Students who carry 12 hours or more and attain a minimum scholastic standing of 3.25 quality points and have a cumulative average of 3.00 on all previous work are eligible for this honor.

Dale Whitaker, Livingston, was among the students making the Dean's List at Cumberland College for the first semester. Dale was deleted from the list by mistake.

Rocket Girls and Boys Romp; Advance to 49th District Finals

Both the Rockcastle boys and girls teams advanced to the finals of the 49th District Tournament with, at times, dazzling displays of how to play the game of basketball.

The girls opened the tournament against the Oneida Mountaineers and immediately took a commanding lead and kept it all the way for their final 69-30 win.

Leading scorer in the Rockets' well-balanced attack, which saw every girl on the squad in the action and all, except one, scoring, was Diane Thacker with 13. Sandy Sturgill got 12, Kim Howard, Brenda Parsons, Tracy Mulberry and Donna Faulkner got 6 each, Kaye Hammonds and Tammy Shepherd got 4 each and Sheila Deatherage, Patricia Faulkner and Donna Clark, 2 each.

The girls will play the first game Saturday night against the winner of the Clay County Jackson County game and will be followed by the Rockets and the winner of the game between the same two teams to determine the championships of the district.

BOYS PLAY SUPERBLY

The Rockcastle boys, out to avenge a recent three-point loss to Oneida and to reach the finals of the district tournament, did just that Tuesday night as they put on a superb performance of crisp ball handling, beautiful inside and outside shooting and excellent defense on Oneida's highly-touted Ben Franklin.

The Mountaineers jumped out on top 4-0 and then again at 7-6 but that was the last time the Rockets were to trail as they took a 37-22 lead into the dressing room at half-time and, except for one flat period when their lead was cut to 13, steadily added to their margin in the second half for their final 77-55 victory.

The Mountaineer's big center, Ben Franklin, was held in check the entire game by the Rockets 1-2-2 zone and the Rockets could do no wrong as far as their shooting performance was concerned. As in the girls game, the boys' scoring was well-balanced with three Rockets in double-figures. Walter Eddie Thompson, No. 44, has a shot rejected by Oneida's big man Ben Franklin. Franklin rejected several Rockets' shots but was held in check offensively as the Rockets rolled over Oneida 77-55.

Browning got 19 and Steve Center and Eddie Thompson got 20 each. Others scoring was Jack Farthing with 9; David Riddle got 4; Frank Phillips and Matt Poynter, 2 each and Jeff Hammonds, 1.

The Rockets warmed up for their win tonight with a 70-58 victory over Williamsburg last Friday night.

Center was high scorer with 21 points; Browning and Riddle got 13 each; Thompson, 11; Hammonds, 8 and Farthing, 4.

The girls game Saturday night begins at 6:30 p.m. and the boys game will begin 25 minutes after completion of the girls game.

Thanks

The Rockcastle Co. Heart Association would like to thank the participating restaurants for the success of Coffee Day. A total of $261.22 was received, with Rockcastle Steakhouse, Red Top Restaurant, Mt. Vernon Restaurant and the Holiday Family Steakhouse, having the highest donations.

Steve Center, who shared scoring honors in the game with Eddie Thompson at 20 each, goes high for a shot against Oneida's Richardson.

Walter Browning, No. 52, played exceptionally well both offensively and defensively and scored 19 points in the Rockets' win. Other Rockets in the photo are Eddie Thompson and Steve Center.

Patricia Faulkner, with the ball, prepares to take a shot against the girls from Oneida Tuesday night. Coming up to help out if needed is Donna Faulkner. Every girl on the Rockets A-Team got to play in the 69-30 rout with all but one scoring.

The crowd was ecstatic Tuesday night as they watched the Rockets, boys and girls, advance to the finals of the 49th District Tournament with wins over Oneida.

The girls absolutely squashed their opponents while the boys avenged an earlier 3-point loss to the Mountaineers with their 77-55 win.

Pest News Alert

One of the first signs of spring is the "buzzing" of attic flies. These are the cluster, face and blow flies that have been overwintering in walls, attics, and window frames. As temperatures begin to rise in the spring these flies again become active and begin looking for their way back outdoors. The buzzing and mere presence to these flies around sunlit windows is often very annoying to housewives. For the present they can be controlled using aerosol insecticide sprays, insecticide impregnated strips or mechanical controls such as fly swatters or in some cases a vacuum cleaner. Future problems can be prevented by sealing all access routes to possible overwintering sites.

Cattle Grubs and Lice

Cattle grubs should be apparent in the backs of cattle that were not treated with systemic insecticides last summer or fall. These large fly maggots finish the last two or three months of the larval stage under the hide on the back. After reaching this area they cut a breathing hole in the hide and begin to grow rapidly. They are eventually an inch long and a half inch in diameter. These large fly maggots are covered with tiny spines and are quite irritating to the host animal.

Cattle grub larvae under the hide are very damaging to cattle being finished for slaughter. There is a very large pus pocket that forms around each grub and this necrotic material damages the meat in that area. The butcher has to trim the carcass wherever a grub has been and that lowers its value especially when you consider that it is the loin area that is being trimmed. What can you do now? Well, you can go ahead and treat cattle with systemic pour-ons and spot-ons for lice control with little effect on the animal. The grubs will be killed but the animal will be able to resorb them. It is of course too late to stop the damage the grubs have caused but don't be afraid to use systemics for lice control at this time just because your cattle are grubby.

Speaking of lice-if your livestock are doing a lot of rubbing and scratching check them for lice before you treat them. Remember, just because they're scratching doesn't mean that they're lousy. Look for lice around the muzzle, tail head, in the ears (on hogs), on the brisket or around the udder. If you fine lice treat the whole herd. You don't want untreated animals reinfesting the rest of the herd. Sometimes you've got sick animals that can't be treated. Quarantine these beasts until they can be treated. Use the lice treatment that is most convenient for your operation. Sprays, pour-ons, spot-ons, and dusts are all effective if used according to label directions.

Make Some Seeding Now

Ereocli, cabbage, head lettuce and begonia seeds should be started now. Consider seeding some Oriental vegetables for your garden-like Chinese cabbage and bokchoy.

If you can work the soil this month, spade up a portion of your garden and start lettuce, spinach and radishes a little later in the month. Cover with hoops and plastic (like miniature plastic quonset greenhouses). Keep the ends open for ventilation.

Some people plant edible pod and sallit peas now.

Hot Soups Warm Up Winter

In the midst of the cold blustery days of winter everybody wants a good nourishing soup to warm up cold family members after a day outside. Whether it's coming in from shoveling snow, ice skating, sledding or working, soups are the best winter warm-up around.

Homemade soups are simple. Try Old Fashion Vegetable Soup for a quick lunch suited to warm even the coldest body. Or, a Vegetable Cheese Soup which adds new flavor and color to a dinner menu. Whatever your mood, try a new soup to heat up the whole family.

Old Fashioned Vegetable Soup

Filter, very moist in the nutrition light, is usually found in coarse foods like whole grains and seeds. But it is also available in fruits and vegetables. Each cup of this hearty Old Fashioned Vegetable Soup contains 1.4 grams of crude fiber. The soup is an exciting combination of whole kernel corn, diagonal-cut green beans, potatoes, celery, tomatoes and small early peas combined with ground beef in rich broth.

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup diced raw potatoes
- 1 cup sliced carrots
- 1 cup sliced celery
- two 16-oz. cans whole tomatoes, cut coarsely
- 5 cups water
- 1 tablespoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon basil, crushed
- ¼ teaspoon thyme, crushed
- 1 bay leaf
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoon instant beef bouillon
- 1 can corn, undrained
- 1 can green beans, undrained
- 1 can small sweet peas, undrained smooth texture of the soup is a jar of processed cheese spread.

1-10 oz. pkg. mixed vegetables (frozen)

¼ cup butter or margarine

¼ cup chopped onion

¼ cup flour

¼ cup milk

¼ teaspoon salt

1/8 teaspoon pepper

1-1 1/2 oz. can chicken broth

1-8 oz. jar processed cheese spread

1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard
