Now in our 19th Year

Keep the seedlings free of weeds and brush the first year. No cultivation is needed the second year, or this Delmas Bullock entertained with a Stanley Party Thursday evening. Everyone had a nice time.

When plants lack vigor or seed yields are low, fertilizer plants in the spring at the rate of 100 pounds of a 0-20-20 or similar analysis per one-eighth (1/8) acre (12 ft. x 400 ft.).

The first years growth may be disappointing, however, do not destroy it. The planting will improve year after year. If you want the best in beauty, you can mow the stems fairly low during the month of March.

Bicolor seeds make a much better quality food for quail than the seed of annual Lespedeza, or the weeds that grow on idle land. Bees use bicolor extensively during August. The honey is light-colored and good flavored.

Growing Bicolor Lespedeza For Wildlife Food

By Harold D. Ballinger

Bicolor Lespedeza is a permanent perennial shrub that grows 5 to 10 feet high. Each spring it leafs out, blooms during the summer with seeds being produced by early fall. Its seed are eaten readily by Bobwhite; the bark and leaves are eaten by rabbits, and the flowers are attractive to honeybees.

Bicolor can be grown on the poorest or best of soils. It may be grown as a game-food strip in an open place in the woods, and hedges across fields, on road fills, terraces and diversions, spoil banks, and even in the backyard.

Bicolor can be established by planting seeds 20 to 30 seeds per foot in shallow furrows spaced about 3 feet apart or transplanting 1-year-old seedlings. Spacing of the plants should be in rows 8 feet apart with plants 18 inches apart in rows. When transplanting, sure all the root system is well covered, with the soil firmly packed around the plants.

It's the 'All-Kentucky City' Award for Mt. Vernon!

WE WON! A great cheer went up from this delegation at the All-Kentucky City Awards Luncheon last Thursday when the judges called Mt. Vernon's name as a winner. Holding the gold plaque are Julie Harris and Ron Cain, co-chairmen of the committee that produced

The City of Mt. Vernon was one of twenty in the state which won the 1978 "All-Kentucky City" Award, presented April 15 in Louisiana. The award is given by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce to cities that demonstrate community development and progress, according to Charles Beach, chairman of the state Chamber of Commerce.

Mt. Vernon, Flemingsburg and Bloomfield were the only three cities to win for the first time. Nine of the winners had been named All-Kentucky City at least four times, and some, like Elizabethtown and Somerset, had won more than eight times.

Mr. Beach said that winning the award brings publicity and new interest in a city, and often new businesses and increased financial growth. Mt. Vernon had tried for the award at least six times, and lost by only one point last year. It was one of the smallest cities to win. Others that won were Paris, Clinton, Hartwood, Bloomfield, Georgetown, Flemingsburg, Monticello, Shelbyville, Elizabethtown, Cumberland, Middlesboro and Moreland.

Seventy-six communities have won since 1968. Mr. Beach said, and about 100 enter annually. This year there were 43 finalists competing in Lexington, where judging was done by people from other states.

A delegation of 12 people from Mt. Vernon went to the awards luncheon, held at the Bluegrass Convention Center in Louisville. They sat through the presentation of 18 awards before Mt. Vernon was named.

Julie Harris, one of the co-chairmen of Mt. Vernon's entry committee, joked she would have gone up and stolen one if the city hadn't been named.

The evening's press conference sponsored by the Rockcastle Improvement Council was held at The Bank of Mt. Vernon, and about 75 people attended. The gold plaque carried home by the Mt. Vernon was presented to Mayor Roland Mullins and county Judge Executive Hubert Thacker.

Bill James, chairman of the Improvement Council, said that the award had been a total community effort, representing years of hard work, and that he considered the award to belong to all the county.

To win the award, Mt. Vernon's committee wrote a report book of some 50 pages with chapter headings like "Industrial Growth," "Recreation Facilities," and "Cultural Activities." High School art students from Barbara Owen's class designed twenty covers for the books, and Mrs. Harris said that one of the covers was saved by the All-Kentucky city judges as an example of outstanding work. The report book counted two-thirds of the judging.

The other third was based on a slide presentation about the town, narrated by Mr. James, Billy Dowell, Mrs. Harris and Nancy Mullins. The program is divided into sections similar to the report book, and includes pictures of the labor survey, ground-breaking at the Rockcastle Multi-County Industrial Park, cleft/Rock Lake Linville, among others. The program can be borrowed by clubs and organizations.

The city is now eligible to purchase highway signs that denote Mt. Vernon as an All-Kentucky City.

CAP leases Lake Linville Property, But Archery Club Says No to City

By Jane Kundtz

The Mt. Vernon City Council signed a one-year lease with the Christian Appalachian Project (CAP) Monday for the boat dock property near Lake Linville. But the city failed to come to an agreement over leasing other city-owned lake property to the Rockcastle County Archery Club. That property may go to the Lions Club instead.

Carl Clontz, city attorney, had drawn up the agreement with CAP, in which CAP agreed to pay $1,000 rent and $1,500 in capital improvements to the city. CAP has the option to renew the lease under the same terms for the next five years. The city is providing insurance for any accidents that happen on the property, and is responsible for major repairs to the sewer system, plumbing, etc. CAP is responsible for other upkeep, agrees to beautify and enhance the area, and will keep the dock open to the public. CAP director Father Ralph Bieting has told the Council that there will be someone on the premises 24 hours a day during its peak session of use.

Nine members of the Archery Club led by their president, James Bowman, appeared at the Council meeting to try to settle a lease on nine acres of property off old Broodhead Road across from Ed Hunt's house on Lake Linville. The group sought a long-term lease so that they could put up a permanent clubhouse, trap and skeet shoots, archery ranges, and other improvements.

Mayor Roland Mullins told them that "there were legal questions" involved about the city's ownership of the land, because Rossie Gustafson of Michigan had advertised some claim to the property. Mr. Mullins said, "Some court action may be involved." Objections to a long-term lease were raised by certain councilmen who did not want to commit a majority and council to an agreement they had made earlier.

Chester Hellard said that he had received phone calls from citizens who objected to a skeet shoot.

Mr. Bowman said the club members want the city to pay them back for improvements made to the property, including buildings, should the city break the lease.

Mayor Mullins, after some discussion among the Council members, told the Archery Club representatives that the city could not obligate itself in that way, and that the best it could offer is a one-year lease with a five-year renewable clause, similar to the CAP arrangement. He said there could be no skeet shoot, and no alcoholic beverages served on the property.

The Archery Club members talked among themselves, and then told the Council they were no longer interested, and to go ahead with the Lions Club.

Mayor Mullins had said earlier that the Lions Club was interested in the property, and had first expressed interest some five years ago.

Money Ed Cummins Drops Out

Of State Auditor Primary Race

Money Ed Cummins, Rockcastle County's Circuit Court Clerk, has withdrawn from the race for state auditor, one week after announcing his candidacy. Mr. Cummins said that two more candidates for auditor were added last week, making the primary race much tougher than he had anticipated.

"I always said that I could not run in the primary and the general election in the fall," he said. "I don't have the time or the money for both campaigns. At the time I filed, no one was running and I didn't want to let the nomination go vacant."

City Council Considers Rule for Mobile Homes

Besides deciding on the leases for city-owned lake property, the Mt. Vernon City Council heard some citizens' complaints, talked about passing a rule for mobile homes, and spent some money at their regular meeting Monday night.

Jess Bullock told the Council that Jerry Kerck & Associates is currently negotiating to buy the Cox property, and that it hopes to build 70 units of housing or 300 homes there. Some of the 80 acres are not within city limits. Kerck & Associates wanted a letter that the new houses can be hooked into the city water and sewer system when necessary. Mayor Roland Mullins said he would write a letter that sewer and water service would be available.

Lee Earl Hysinger said that there were two trailer parks and a car lot in his neighborhood near Poplar and Quarry Streets, and that people there were anticipating similar mobile homes. Mr. Hysinger asked that some ordinance be passed regulating trailers, as the neighborhood had become congested.

The Council discussed the matter with city attorney Carl Clontz, who agreed to look into the matter of requiring mobile homes to be placed on a minimum amount of square footage. The rule would probably not apply to existing mobile homes.

The Street Committee reported that Municipal Aid Money should be spent as follows: $4,536 to patch and repair Hunter Street in Barnett Subdivision; $4,294 to patch and repair Williams Street. The Council agreed.

Some $3,000 in coal severance tax money will be spent for a new police cruiser after another vote by the Council.

Mary McClure, who has been working part-time for the city, will become its full-time clerk with Perlina Anderkin hired for part-time.

Jack Noe asked that 10 acres of his property be included in city limits, and the Council agreed to do this if he would pay legal costs. They told him that getting a city sewer line was not always automatic, even though property was in city limits.

Clyde Pittman and Clinton McClure said that "something must be done pretty fast" about a sewer system for their houses in the Fairground Hill neighborhood. Mr. Pittman said his septic tank is running over. Water superintendent Jr. Powell was directed to look into the cheapest way to solve the matter.

Garry Noe said that an open ditch "big enough for a car" should be covered or somehow

State Experts Give Big Plans for Schools, But Neglect to Say How to Finance Them

By Jane Kundtz

(Second of two parts)

When the state Board of Education experts presented their study of the Rockcastle School System to the Rockcastle School Board April 2, they made several recommendations that would cost a lot of money. They suggested "phrasing" in new facilities at Mt. Vernon and Livingston Elementary Schools in a long-range program, and they suggested building a middle school in Mt. Vernon for seventh and eighth graders as top priority for any capital construction plans.

Funding such projects may not be easy. School superintendent Charles Parsons told board members that a proposed "School Building Authority," a bonding agency for districts in need of construction money, became a political football at the special session of the Kentucky Legislature last winter. Thus, a potential source of money for Rockcastle schools was lost.

The Board has been trying to "save" money from the par equalization program, another special state program, for the past three years. Par equalization "equalizes" money spent in each school district by putting all money set aside for schools together and dividing it according to the number of students each district has. This way the rich districts lose the advantage they have over the poor districts.

But par equalization had a Catch 22. While the state provides more money, it also asked that teachers' salaries be raised, so some advantage of par equalization was lost to smaller counties who had been paying teachers less. Even with the provision, however, Rockcastle County has been able to accumulate $250,580 in its construction fund, most of which was possible because of par equalization. (Cont'd to p. 12)

Judge Daniel Venters Asks for Voter Support

Having served the people of Pulaski and Rockcastle Counties as District Judge since my appointment to that office two months ago, I am announcing that I have filed as a candidate for election to that office in the May primary. Since all judicial elections are made without regard to political affiliation, I am asking for the support of all voters, Democrats, Republicans, and Independents.

Justice is not a commodity to be dispensed according to political whim and political friendship, like gravel on the road. The people of this District have a right to equality of justice under the law. The only promise I can make to the people is to continue the administration of justice in this District fairly and honestly, without regard to social status, political power or wealth. In the District Court, the people's justice will be done in the open air of the public courtroom for all to see, not behind closed doors.

I ask all citizens who share my goal of equal justice under the law to show their support by voting for me in the May primary, and again in the November general election.

Judge Daniel J. Venters

Mary Craig Resigns After Eleven Years as Mt. Vernon City Clerk

This week Mary Craig left her job as City Clerk of Mt. Vernon after eleven years of service. The Council paid tribute to her "significant contributions to the city and the good job that she did." The sentence that became part of the official minutes of the April 9 City Council meeting.

Mrs. Craig started as a part-time worker under Mayor Clyde Linville, and later served under Mayors Ed Winstead and Roland Mullins. In the first year, she said her desk used to be in "a little room behind the fire trucks," but City Hall was later remodelled to more modern arrangements.

Her job consists of handling complaints, collecting taxes and water bills, and making out the water bills, among other duties.

"I have enjoyed my work with the Council and am very sorry to leave," Mrs. Craig said.

Mrs. Craig and her family will continue to live in Mt. Vernon while she and her husband operate a Western Auto Store on Main Street in London. She has a son, David, who is a student at Somerset Community College, and two married daughters, Margaret Taylor of Broodhead and Debra Fields of Falmouth.

Lambert Says Fuel Adjustment Charge Possibly Illegal -- Should Be Stopped

Joe Lambert, Republican candidate for State Representative, today proposed legislative action to stop the fuel adjustment charge. In making this announcement, Lambert said, "The fuel adjustment charge levied upon electrical utility customers should be repealed by the Legislature. Electrical utilities are legally sanctioned monopolies. As such, they must be strictly regulated by the Public Service Commission. Permitting them to aid to utility bills without supervision from the Public Service Commissioner is wrong and should be stopped."

Lambert added, "Electrical utilities should be required to justify requested rate increases thru the normal application and hearing procedure. They should not be permitted to avoid public exposure by an "add-on" device.

"A law suit is now pending in the Franklin Circuit Court seeking to have the fuel adjustment charge declared unlawful. I strongly support the efforts of the individuals who have brought this suit and wish them success with it. In the event this legal action is unsuccessful, however, the legislature has the authority to eliminate the fuel adjustment charge," Lambert said.

KENTUCKY RATE OF EMPLOYMENT DECREASES

Unemployment in the Eastern Kentucky area decreased from 29,997 people in January to 28,296 in February. The rate of unemployment decreased from 10.0 to 9.6 percent in that time. This decrease was due primarily to fewer persons being laid off in February and to people previously laid off being called back to work.

Election To Be Decided Between Lambert and DeMarcus -- No Democrat Running

On April 4th, the deadline passed for filing papers for State Representative. The only candidates for State Representatives are Republicans Joe Lambert of Mt. Vernon and Harold DeMarcus of Stanford. No other candidates are now allowed by law to file for State Representative.

As no Democratic candidate is running, the winner of the primary election will be your state Representative unless someone wages a successful write-in campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Mink

Nicely-Mink Vows Said

The First Baptist Church was the scene of an early spring wedding. Miss Rhonda Susan Nicely became the bride of Mr. Ronald Edward Mink at 3:00 p.m. on Saturday, March 3, 1979 in a candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Nicely of Rt. 3, Mt. Vernon. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Edward Mink of Rt. 1, Mt. Vernon.

The Rockcastle Chapter DAR is making plans for the dedication of a marker for the grave of a Revolutionary Soldier, John Evans. This grave is located on the farm of Mrs. Logan Debord, near Plato in Pulaski County. The location of the grave was reported to the chapter by Mrs. Bessie M. Noe of Rt. 1, Mt. Vernon, a daughter of Mrs. Debord.

John Evans was born in Maryland, enlisted April 1, 1977, and he served in the Revolutionary War in the New Jersey Continental Line until March 1780, with rank of Sergeant. Orderly Sergeant and Sergeant Major. He engaged in the battle of Germantown and in the siege of Yorktown. He, also, served as a Captain in the War of 1812.

After the war John Evans moved to Pulaski County, Kentucky and served as legislator from his district in the 1st Kentucky Legislature. He brought to Kentucky a number of slaves.

John Evans was married to Eleanor Jones on November 22, 1782. Children born to this union were: Walter Evans, 1783; Martha Evans, 1785; Josiah Evans, 1787; Ann Evans, 1789; John Evans, Jr., 1792; Eleanor Evans, Jr., 1796; Alfred Evans, 1797; Samuel Evans, 1799; Wesley Evans, 1804; Horatia Evans, 1807.

Eleanor Jones Evans is buried beside her husband. Her grave stone is in perfect condition. The stone for John Evans has been broken in two pieces and the top part is missing.

The chapter has received from the War Department a free granite gravestone which will be set by Mr. H.C. McNew as soon as weather permits. The dedication of the marker will probably be held on the last Sunday in April 29th, at 3:00 p.m.

"NICELY-MINK"

Music was presented by Miss Tina Cain who played several instrumental selections, both on piano and organ.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. He was dressed in formal wear. The bride wore a floor length white gown accented with French lace and pearls. The attached chapel length train fell from the waist. Her waist-length veil of nylon illusion was held by a Juliet cap also accented with French lace and pearls. She carried a cascade of flowers made into a spring bouquet of miniature carnations, daisies and baby's breath, with white satin ribbon tied in lover's knots.

The groom, meeting his bride at the altar, was dressed in an ivory tuxedo. Completing his ensemble was a ruffled edge shirt and his boutonniere was a white carnation.

Mrs. Joni Williams, cousin of the bride was matron-of-honor. She wore a blue floor length gown of soft polyester and long sheer sleeves to match the bride. She carried a cascade of blue carnations touched with baby's breath. Misses Tammy Nicely and Kaye Hammons were bridesmaids. They wore gowns made identical to the matron-of-honor, and carried cascades of carnations in pink and green to match the gowns. They were also cousins of the bride.

Miss Christy Nicely, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a long yellow dress with anylon and lace over-skirt and carried a basket of assorted carnations that matched the colors in the bridal bouquet.

Attending the groom as best man was Mr. Eddie Taylor who is with the Air Force, stationed in Germany. Groomsmen were Mr. Keith Mink, brother of the groom and Mr. Robert Scott of Mt. Vernon. The groom's attendants wore ivory tuxedos, trimmed with brown. The shirts of the best man and groomsmen matched the colors of the matron of honor and bridesmaids' dresses. They also wore boutonnieres.

Master Bruce Mink, brother of the groom, was to be ring bearer but was ill and could not attend the ceremony.

Mother of the bride was dressed in an ivory interlock knit dress trimmed in lace. She wore a corsage of two yellow carnations.

Mother of the groom was dressed in a dusty peach interlock celanese knit dress. She wore a corsage of two peach carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bridal table covered with a white table cloth, featured a white three-tiered wedding cake with clusters of spring flowers topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Serving at the bridal table was Mrs. Jennie Nicely, cousin of the bride. She wore a long blue knit dress trimmed in white lace and a blue carnation was worn on her shoulder.

Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Dowell of Mt. Vernon and the late Oagher and Lillie Nicely of Livingston.

Grandparents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd R. Mink of Indiana and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie L. Kirby of Richmond.

After a honeymoon trip in the South, the couple are now living in Berea.

The Lord's Supper on the Lord's Day

For centuries, on the first day of the week, Christians around the world have met together to "break bread."

The Scriptures and leading religious scholars testify to the practice of the early church; that is, the practice of weekly participation around the Lord's table.

(1) Scripture says, "Upon the first day of the week...the disciples came together to break bread" (Acts 20:7)

(2) Mr. Augustus Neander (Lutheran) says, "The celebration of the Lord's Supper was held to constitute an essential part of divine worship every Sunday..." (History of the Christian Religion and Church, Vol. 1, p. 332)

(3) Mr. A.C. Hervey (Episcopalian) said, "This...is an important example of weekly communion as the practice of the first Christians" (Pulpit Commentary).

(4) Mr. Calvin (Reformed) said, "And truly this (non-scriptural) custom, which enjoins communing once a year, is a most wicked contrivance of the devil, by whose instrumentality so ever it may have been determined. Again, 'It ought to have been far otherwise. Every week, at least, the table of the Lord should have been spread for the Christian assemblies.'" (Calvin's Inst. IV, Ch. 18, Sec. 45; VI, Ch. 18, Sect. 56)

(5) Mr. John Wesley (Methodist), "I also advise the elders to administer the Supper of our Lord on every Lord's Day" (Selected Letters of J. Wesley, edited by F.C. Gill, Philosophical Library, 1956).

(6) Mr. Thomas Scott (Presbyterian), "This ordinance (the Lord's Supper) seems to have been constantly administered every Lord's Day; and probably no professed Christians absented themselves..." (Commentary on Acts 20:7). (S.D.A.R., D.M. Carrington, p. 205).

(7) Roman Catholic scholars say, "The first day of the week...had replaced the Sabbath (Saturday) as the day of worship...breaking of bread, the Holy Eucharist was celebrated" (R.C. New Testament Translation, 1947, p. 372).

(8) Mr. P. Doddridge (Congregational), "It is well known the Primitive Christians administered the Eucharist (The Lord's Supper) every Lord's Day" (Notes on Acts 20:7).

(9) Mr. R.A. Torrey (late President of Moody Bible Institute), "I personally believe that the Lord's Supper ought to be partaken of every Lord's Day, and have said so in the church...and in the lecture room" (Quoted by S.M. Martin, Thirty Years on the Firing Line, p. 156).

The Church of Christ always has partaken of the Lord's Supper on the first day of every week - the Lord's Day. Come worship with us, where every practice is "true to the BOOK," and every teaching is Bible based. We have no head but Christ and no doctrine but the Bible. We are not governed nor influenced by any synod, council or association of men. Our headquarters are in Heaven, not on the earth. We enjoy first century Christianity in the twentieth century.

Due to the rate of inflation climbing each day, We at Pic Pac feel that we should do everything possible to cut Prices to the consumer. For the last 2 1/2 years we have been in the trading stamp program, which costs lots of money to give away. We feel that the only people that are benefiting from the program are the stamp companies. The stamp company would make around 40% profit if every single stamp was redeemed, but only about 40% of the stamps are redeemed so the stamp company makes about 80% profit. Why should we give all the money to the stamp companies, when you, the customer, makes our business. Therefore, we at Pic Pac want to pass that money on to you, our customers, in lower prices, and say Thanks.

WE AT PIC-PAC WISH ALL OF YOU AND YOUR FAMILIES A VERY HAPPY EASTER HOLIDAY!

Illegal Garbage Dump Cleaned Up

An illegal garbage dump once pictured in the Mt. Vernon Signal has been cleaned and covered, thanks to Berea College.

Steve Midkiff, county environmentalist with the Rockcastle County Health Department, said that he and Jim Benton, a state officer, investigated the dump at Hammond Fork Road (also called Clear Creek Road) one-fourth of a mile from Madison County. They discovered it was owned by Berea College, and worked with Jim Hatcher, Berea College's security officer, about cleaning it up.

Workers hired by Berea cleaned the area and covered it with two feet of dirt. As owners of the land, Berea College was legally responsible for the dump, Mr. Midkiff said, even though the college did not cause the problem.

The dump, pictured on the front page of the Signal on Sept. 7, 1978, was the largest illegal one in the county. There are many others.

DREAM Sent in by Christine Ruth Girt, Roselle, N.J.

"One night I had a dream. I dreamed I was walking along the beach with the Lord. Across the sky flashed scenes from my life. For each scene, I noticed two sets of footprints in the sand. One belonged to me, and one belonged to the Lord.

When the last scene had flashed before me, I looked back at the footprints and noticed that many times along the path, there was only one set of footprints in the sand. I also noticed that this happened during the lowest and saddest times in my life. This really bothered me and I questioned the Lord.

"Lord, you said that once I decided to follow you, you would never leave me, and that you would walk all the way with me. But, I noticed that during the troublesome times of my life, there was only one set of footprints. I don't understand why. When I needed you the most, you deserted me."

The Lord replied, "My precious, precious child, I love you and I will never leave you. During your times of trial and suffering, when you see only one set of footprints, it was then that I carried you."

"CITY COUNCIL" (Cont'd from front) marked on Lovell Street. The Council agreed to place signs there warning about the ditch.

Tyree Gray asked that some gravel be placed on Fair Street. Mr. Powell will assess the situation.

Bert Gentry asked that the city take over a street light in front of his house near old Mt. Vernon and Brothead Roads, and the Council agreed to do so.

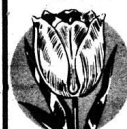

The city will go about securing easements for fire hydrants to be placed in Barnett Subdivision from Lloyd Cain and Dr. G.W. Griffith.

The REACT Club, which monitors the highways through CB radio, asked to use the caution light intersection in Mt. Vernon for fund-raising road blocks. No action was taken.

Police officer Frank DeBorde presented the city police report.

County Agent's Notes

By H. Lee Durham

Check Alfalfa Fields

Regularly For Weevil Damage
Doing the right thing at the right time can save your alfalfa crop from serious alfalfa damage. Alfalfa fields should be checked at least once a week and, as soon as weevil build-up reaches the danger level, use insecticides-or, if necessary cut the crop early.

The alfalfa weevil is the major insect pest of the first cutting of alfalfa, with most of the damage caused by the larger weevil larvae (those 1/4 to 3/8 inch long). The larvae hatch from eggs about the same time that the alfalfa plant begins to grow in the spring and feed in the growing tips of the plant. The larger larva is green with a white stripe down the middle of its back; the stripe, however, may not show up on a smaller larva.

Heavy infestations can ruin the first cutting of alfalfa, which the larvae generally attack. Serious damage usually begins, in April, but with the warm spring this year, weevil problems started in March in some parts of the state.

Patty Mink has been inducted into Eastern Kentucky University's chapter of Lambda Sigma. Lambda Sigma is a sophomore honor society whose purpose is to better leadership, scholarship, fellowship and service. Members are selected on the basis of these qualifications and in addition must have at least a 3.3 grade point average. Patty has also been elected to the Office of Secretary of Lambda Sigma. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmo Mink of Rt. 1, Mt. Vernon.

I recommend going into alfalfa fields at least once a week and taking stem samples at different locations in the field-about 30 samples in all. Then examine the growing tips of the plants for feeding damage and the presence of larvae. When you find an average of two large larvae per stem-or when seven or more of the stems selected show feeding damage, it's time to begin control measures. Proper timing of insecticide application is vital if maximum yields are to be produced. If insecticides are applied too early (before the larval population reaches a peak), many larvae will not yet have hatched and thus will not be killed. However, if you wait too long after the larval population peaks, alfalfa yields will drop because of damage from feeding larvae.

Insecticides that can be used against the weevil include Furadan, Methyl Parathion, Sufpradice, Guthion, Malathion, Methoxychlor, Imidan, Lamate, Nudrin. When selecting an insecticide to use for weevil control, be sure to check harvest restrictions and figure how long it will be until you harvest the alfalfa. Depending on the length of time until harvest choose an insecticide that will not leave residues on the harvested crop.

Even if you find little sign of weevil damage now, continue checking alfalfa fields until the first cutting. In some cases, the peak of larval population may be reached only a short time before you plan to harvest the crop. When this happens, you may want to consider early cutting rather than treating with an insecticide.

Use Bluestone-Lime on Tobacco Plant Beds

Bluestone-lime mixture applied one or more times to the soil surface of the tobacco bed when the plants have just begun to grow or are the size of a dime will improve plant production. The problems eliminated by using Bluestone-Lime are as follows: algae, moss, slug, snails, liverwort and leaf spot diseases.

To prepare Bluestone-lime mixture, follow these directions exactly: (1) Fill a clean 50-gallon barrel or oil drum 1/4 full of water strained through a cloth. (2) In one container thoroughly mix 4 pounds of fresh commercial hydrated lime in 4 gallons of clean water. (3) In another container dissolve 3 pounds of powdered bluestone in about 4 gallons of clean water. (4) Pour the lime paste into the barrel of water and stir vigorously. While stirring, add the bluestone solution slowly. (5) Add water to make 50 gallons.

Apply without removing the tobacco bed cover. Use an ordinary sprinkling can or a power spray that is available on most farms. Stir each time the sprinkling can is filled, or stir constantly when using a power spray. Apply the Bluestone-Lime mixture so as to cover the entire plant bed as well as the plowed area on each side and on the ends for a distance of 2 to 3 feet beyond the bed. The bed should be cleaned before making the application of bluestone-lime, the weeds cut instead of pulled, and insects controlled. Ditch around the bed to keep surface water from flowing over it.

Caution: Bluestone-Lime does not injure plants, so don't wash it off. Don't mix nitrate of soda or any other compound with Bluestone-Lime.

Don't Overlook State Assistance In Search for Job Opportunity

school buildings; 2. Special voted general taxes; 3. Utility special tax; 4. Occupational license taxes; 5. Excise tax for schools.

The School Board has not yet levied any of these in 1978 or 1979.

The Board will try to reach some decisions on the recommendations of the Facilities Study at its June meeting. But it is safe to assume that cost and sources of money will play key roles in any decisions that the Board makes.

The chart that follows this article is from the 1979 School Facilities Survey of Rockcastle County Schools.

In the rush for jobs, as thousands of high school and college graduates flood area employment agencies and scan newspapers, an all-too-often overlooked option for the job seeker is the Job Service, said J.E. DeShazer, commissioner of the Bureau for Manpower Services, Department for Human Resources.

Run by state employment security agencies, under direction of the Labor Department's U.S. Employment Service, 2,300 centers throughout the country offer services to all who seek employment. All services are provided without fee charges.

Kentucky has 24 full time Job Service local offices with branch offices open on a limited schedule in most counties or in the state capital.

"The aim of the Job Service is to bring people and jobs together. A number of Job Service programs are designed to do just that," DeShazer said.

Each year, local Job Service offices conduct a Summer Youth Employment Program to provide full- and part-time summer jobs for youth ages 14 thru 21. The program, which is designed for disadvantaged youth, arranged for jobs in schools, libraries, community service organizations, hospitals and private non-profit agencies.

Upon entering a state Job Service office, an applicant is interviewed to determine the type of work for which he or she indicates interest and aptitude. The interviewer also determines if the applicant is "job ready" or if counseling and/or testing services are needed.

Many offices have a self-service Job Bank, computerized listing of public and private sector job openings which is updated daily. Applicants can examine a Job Bank book or microfilm viewer and select job openings of interest to them.

The applicant then sees an interviewer who provides a more detailed description of the job and arranged for an interview with the prospective employer, usually that same day. Referrals are based on qualifications for the job requirements, DeShazer said.

Job Service offices also assist job seekers uncertain about their qualifications and the types of jobs they desire. Most offices are staffed with a specialist furnishing complete counseling and testing services. Counselors help job seekers choose and prepare for an occupation based on their job potentials.

The testing program uses a variety of tests to determine an applicant's skills. The tests measure occupational aptitudes, clerical literary skills and occupational interests. Testing and counseling prior to job referral insures a better match between applicant and job, said DeShazer.

The Job Service refers applicants to jobs and training opportunities under the Comprehensive Act of our soil we cannot afford to lose any top soil, as that "soil" is forever gone down stream. As we plan our crops this spring we should keep in mind that all crops and cultivation should be done on the contour if the land has any grade at all.

No-till farming has been a wonderful soil conservation measure as the soil is left intact with mulch to protect from water runoff and no-till will absorb more of the rainfall into the soil, making a higher yield while conserving the soil from washing off.

No-till also is a more economical way of raising crops. With the ever increasing cost of fuel, the fewer times we go over the land with tractor and equipment, the less cost we will have in production and more profit when crops and livestock are marketed.

Your Rockcastle County Soil Conservation Service is ready at all times to help in your conservation needs. Just call 256-2541 and ask for Greg Stephens, District Conservationist.

DEER POACHING PENALTIES.

Warren District Judge Henry J. Potter today levied what Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources officials are calling the severest penalties for deer poaching in state history.

Meted the maximum fine of $5,000 were Larry Wholbrock of Rt. 5, and Harvey Bryson, 1626 Curd St., both of Bowling Green, and Lonnie McMillar of Maryville, Tennessee. In addition, 24 deer fines, each man was ordered to pay $333.33 in replacement costs for the five deer found in their possession and court costs of $27.50.

Judge Potter also sentenced each man to a total of 450 days in jail, but probated the sentence provided the men sacrifice their hunting rights for the next five years and pay the entire fine.

"It is encouraging to see deer poaching, which is a serious problem in Kentucky, being taken seriously by the state judiciary," remarked Director R.W. Garrison of the department's Division of Law Enforcement. Garrison added that this is one of several cases where maximum poaching fines have been levied since the fine was raised to $1,000 for each offense.

The three men were arrested on December 9, 1978, by Warren Co. Conservation Officer James Taylor and Second Wildlife District Supervisor Wayne Riley shortly after 10 p.m. The officers found five dead deer, a spotlight, three knives and some ammunition in the suspects' possession. The men pled guilty to charges of illegal possession of deer.

Commissioner Carl Kays of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources reacted with praise for the state judiciary. "Law enforcement and the prevention of poaching, vital parts of wildlife management, are possible only with cooperation from the public and the judiciary in branding poachers for the outlaws that they are."

GOOD CENTS

Use standard measuring cups and spoons and follow recipes carefully so as not to waste ingredients. For instance, when you roll biscuits or flour nests, don't use so much flour that a lot will be thrown away.

Rockcastle County Soil Conservation News

By Roy G. Brown, Supervisor

We have come out of another winter with a late spring and much planned pasture renovation and other spring work has been delayed or left undone.

With the heavy rains the last week, it shows very plainly the great need for grass or cover crops on every acre of soil that was left bare the past winter (which were cropped last year). With the cost of fertilizer and improving ferti-

SECOND SECTION
THE MT. VERNON SIGNAL
 Thursday, April 12, 1979

Tammi Sue Howard, 11, of Rockcastle County, left, Livingston Elementary School, was among 129 children chosen to represent their county during the "We Love You Kentucky" luncheon March 31. Tammi is seated next to Charlann and Ely Carol, the governor's wife and daughter in the Governor's Mansion.

Eleven-Year-Old Livingston Girl Visits Governor's Mansion

An eleven year old sixth grader from Livingston was one of 129 children at a special luncheon March 31 at the Governor's Mansion in Frankfort. The event was in honor of National Library Week.

Tammi Sue Howard, daughter of Denver and Beverly Howard of Livingston, said that the luncheon was in "one big room" in the Mansion, and dinner was Kentucky Fried Chicken served in the red and white boxes.

"Most of the children sat on the floor," she said, "but I did have a chair."

She met Mrs. Julian Carroll and her two daughters. "Mrs. Carroll was nice, and she had brownish-gray hair," Tammi said.

There was a program with a folk singer, and Wildcat player Chuck Verderber and Coach Joe Hall signed autographs. A story teller told a story about a mouse stealing cheese, and some people walked around dressed as a horse.

Brodhead City Council Votes Appropriations for Expenditures

The Brodhead City Council voted to spend some money as follows, at their regular meeting April 2:

- $5,000 in municipal aid money will be used to fix roads that already exist rather than blacktop new ones;
- $3,000 from coal severance funds will become the down payment on a maintenance truck for the city water department;
- $500 will go to the city's Fire Department from revenue-sharing funds.

The Council accepted the county's offer to grade and haul gravel paid for by the city of Brodhead to improve the railroad parking lot. The Council also discussed selling the "Fuzzy, Duck" property.

Easter Services Scheduled At First Christian Church

The public is cordially invited to attend the following Easter services to be presented by the First Christian Church.

A Good Friday service will be held on April 13th at 7:00 p.m. at the church with Bro. Charles Steele of the Westside Christian Church in Richmond delivering the message. Special music will be presented by the choir and a communion service will be observed.

At 6:30 a.m. the annual Sunrise Service will be held in the field adjacent Elmwood Cemetery. The senior high youth group of the church is in charge of this service. Donuts and coffee will be served following the program.

NOW IS CHRIST RISEN! an Easter cantata will be presented by the choir during the 11:00 a.m. worship hour. The performance of this cantata may well be the climax to your Easter worship; a deeply moving religious experience in which performers and listeners alike can re-affirm their deep-seated conviction that "Now is Christ Risen!" The choir is under the direction of Mrs. Rachel James.

Tammi said, "Tammi's mother, sister and brother-in-law drove her to Frankfort for the luncheon, which lasted from 11:30 to 2:30 p.m. Tammi took home a book, a record called "The Ballad of Col. Sanders," a certificate and some candy."

She had been chosen to represent the county at a drawing sponsored by the county libraries.

When asked if she was surprised that her name had been drawn, Tammi said, "Well, it was more than that. I was really shocked."

Several citizens appeared at the meeting to complain about noise and dust from a nearby coal tippie. Mayor Elizabeth Mullins has contacted health authorities to investigate the matter.

Rural Development Comm. Meets

The most pressing needs of rural areas are more planning, better housing, day care centers, water and sewer systems, and garbage disposal, Harold Ballinger, told the Rockcastle County Rural Development Committee at its regular meeting Monday. Mr. Ballinger, reading from a list compiled through the Agricultural Stabilization program, also mentioned stream and flood control, services for aged and low income people, agricultural market outlets, and increased employment opportunities as needs that government experts think are most important.

The Committee will use this list as a guideline for future programs of rural development.

In other business, the Committee has written to Peter Conn, state director of the Department of Human Resources, in support of a building for the county Health Department.

Members discussed how wild-life can be preserved or increased in the county by providing more cover for it.

The possibility of starting a recycling center for aluminum cans was also considered.

4-H Demonstration Contest To Be Held at BES April 24

4-H members will be demonstrating their skills and competing for awards Tuesday, April 24, at Brodhead School. The annual competition will have 4-H'ers demonstrating such abilities as how to make bread, how to photograph people, and how to make a dress within a 15 minute time limit.

County champions will go on to compete regionally, at a competition held May 5 at Rockcastle County High School.

The county competition is for Juniors (ages 9-13) and Seniors (ages 14-19) and will begin at 4 p.m. The following categories can be used:

- Animal science, agronomy, agricultural engineering, clothing, creative crafts, electric tools, electric (girls), entomology, general health, home management, home environment, horticulture, photography, safety, small engine, horse, breadmaking, dairy foods, other foods.

Larry Williams Named Cystic Fibrosis Chairman

Mr. Larry Williams has been named Mt. Vernon Chairman for the "Breath of Spring" Bike-A-Thon for Cystic Fibrosis. According to Mr. Charles Thayer, Bluegrass Chapter president of the CF Foundation, Mr. Williams will coordinate this year's Bike-A-Thon to raise funds for research and care programs for children affected by Cystic Fibrosis and other lung-damaging diseases.

The Bike-a-Thon will be held during the month of May. Riders will soon be out seeking sponsors. In order to continue the fight against CF, everyone's help will be needed. "So please give generously of your time and money when you are contacted," said Mr. Thayer.

Cystic Fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children, occurring in one of every 1,500 births. An inherited, incurable disease, CF destroys lungs and it destroys life.

Little more than a decade ago, most CF babies died in pre-school age. Thanks to improved therapy and expanded research, increasing numbers of individuals with CF are surviving into adolescence and adulthood with the ability to lead more active lives than ever before.

Even with this progress, Cystic Fibrosis and other lung damaging diseases still threaten the lives of millions of helpless children. Your participation in Mt. Vernon's Bike-a-Thon will help them all breathe a little easier.

Spring Fashions Bring Changes
Slim and colorful are the best ways to describe clothing and accessory fashions for spring 1979. Coupled with form-fitting fabrics, the fashion-conscious woman needs to be fit to carry off the new looks.

The layered look is still popular, vests are being worn long or short and layered over dresses, blouses and tunics. But the look is slimmer with more fitted pants and pants often worn with cinched waistline. Tapered hemlines, slits and wrap-around designs are often features of a dress, skirt or suit. Above the waist, look for more emphasis on the shoulder.

The biggest change for most women will be narrow pants, which will make wide leg pants look obsolete. Narrow skirts will do the same to the big looks of last year.

Skirts are shorter but pants are shown in every length imaginable, from pedal pushers to ankle length to below the ankle.

Retra Accessories

If some of these fashions looks remind you of the 40's and 50's, your perceptions are correct. Retro is today's word used to describe the look. You'll see clothing and accessories with styling features from both decades.

The wide or skinny belt is probably the most important accessory for spring. Look for the cinch belt of the 50's in elasticized belts, western belts and heavy toolled belts continue in popularity. Soft crush belts and obi sashes are abundant.

Jewelry is carved or plastic with flowers, shell and moon motifs. You'll see every sized earrings and pins.

Look for textured, white and pastel shades in hosiery. Socks have returned, too. Socks in natural-looking fibers either rolled down around the ankle or in the conventional fold are popular.

Hats are available in pill box, rolled brim, and sailor styles. You'll see scarf-wrapped heads; a popular look in the 50's and snoods from the 40's.

Handbags are offered in a great number of choices. A fishing bag is lacquered straw with a shoulder strap, a small clutch bag in leather or straw, or a larger shoulder bag are all possibilities.

In footwear, ankle straps that tie or buckle emphasize the ankle. The jazz oxford, ballet flats and dancer heels with straps are shown. Heel heights are from flat-flat to high-high, and the shape of toes are slightly rounded to a touch of the pointed toe.

Colors and Fabrics

Colors have changed too. Sharp, bright, festive colors are replacing the neutral tones of the last few seasons. Don't be surprised by the color combinations you might see.

Popular tones are scarlet, magenta, hot pink, marigold, cobalt blue, jade and purple. Red, rose and mauve are increasingly popular with the new berries and wines. Red is combined with white and with black.

Luster is another trend this spring. Silk-like fabrics such as chiffons, charmeuse and damasks accompany polishing chintz in lightweight solids and prints.

Other popular fabrics include weight and clean-looking fabric like viole, gauze, linen and shantung. Sheer fabrics include crepe de chine, open mesh, dotted swiss, polyester georgette, handkerchiefed linen and nylon boucle.

Texture is important, achieved by using homespun, chenille, velour and carved or plain terries.

And you'll see wallpaper florals-ranging from tiny prints to the larger prints-alone or as accents to solids.
